He said that he knew all the members of every farmer's family within his trade district; that he had visited every house and he made it a practice to do so at frequent intervals.

Merchants like this man make the home town the most valuable asset in the community. A good home town enhances the value of every acre of land in the vicinity; t makes every farm a more desirable place to live. The home town is the best investment a farming community can have and it only requires the good will and co-operation of the business men and the farmers to make it pay big dividends, socially and financially to every family in the com-munity, both town and country.

PRESIDENT URGES UNITED ACTION II WAR FOR LIBERTY

Wilson Issues Personal Appeal to the Nation.

ASKS THE FARMERS TO AID

Chief Executive Tells Them That They Hold the Fate of Nations and Asks Every Effort to Supply Food -Save the Supreme Test Has Arrived.

Washington, April 17.-In a personal appeal addressed on Sunday night to his fellow countrymen President Wilson calls upon every American citizen -man, woman and child-to join together to make the nation a unit for the preservation of its ideals and for triumph of democracy in the world war. The supreme test of the nation has come," says the address. "We must all speak, act and serve together."

Putting the navy on a war footing and raising a great army are the simplest parts of the great task ahead, the president declares, and he urges all the people, with particular emphasis on his words to the farmers, to concentrate their energies, practice economy, prove unselfishness and demonstrate efficiency.

Text of Address. The address follows:

"My fellow countrymen: "The entrance of our own beloved country into the grim and terrible war for democracy and human rights which has shaken the world creates so many problems of national life and action which call for immediate consideration and settlement that I hope you will permit me to address to you a few words of earnest counsel and appeal with regard to them. "We are rapidly putting our navy upon an effective war footing and are about to create and equip a great army, but these are the simplest parts of the great task to which we have addressed ourselves.

"There is not a single selfish element, so far as I can see, in the cause we are fighting for. We are fighting for what we believe and wish to be the rights of mankind and for the future peace and security of the world.

Devote Selves to Service.

To do this great thing worthily and successfully we must devote ourselves to the service without regard to profit or material advantage and with an energy and intelligence that will rise to the level of the enterprise itself.

"These, then, are the things we must do and do well, besides fightingthe things without which mere fighting would be fruitless:

We must supply abundant food for seamen not only, but also for a large now made common cause, in whose support and by whose sides we shall be fighting.

Must Supply Ships.

"We must supply ships by the hundreds out of our shipyards to carry to the other side of the sea, submarines or no submarines, what will every day be needed there, and abundant materials out of our fields and our mines and our factories with which not only to clothe and equip our own forces on land and sea but also to clothe and support our people for whom the gallant fellows under arms can no longer work, to help clothe and equip the armies with which we are co-operating in Europe, and to keep the looms and manufactories there in raw materials; coal to keep the fires going in ships at sea and in the furnaces across the sea; steel out of which to make arms and ammunition both here and there: rails for wornout railroads back of the fighting fronts: locomotives and rolling stock to take the place of those every day going to pieces; mules, horses, cattle for labor and for military service: everything with which the people of England and France and Italy and Russia have usually supplied themselves, but cannot now afford the men, the materials or the machinery to Need Greater Efficiency.

"It is evident to every thinking man that our industries, in farms, in shippards, in the mines, in the factories, must be made more prolific and more efficient than ever, and that they must be more economically managed and better adapted to the particular requirements of our task than they have been; and what I want to say is that the men and the women who devote their thought and their energy to these things will be serving the country and conducting the fight for peace and free all editors and publishers everywhere dom just as truly and just as effective- will give as prominent publication and ly as the men on the battlefield or in as wide circulation as possible to this

Appeal to Farmers.

"Thousands, nay, hundreds of thousands of men otherwise liable to military service, will of right and of necessity be excused from that service and assigned to the fundamental, sustaining work of the fields and factories and mines, and they will be as much part of the great patriotic forces of the nation as the men under fire.

"I take the liberty, therefore, of addressing this word to the farmers of the country and to all who work | serve together. on the farms: The supreme need of our own nation and of the national with which we are co-operating is an abundance of supplies, and especially our own nation and of the nations of foodstuffs. The importance of an adequate food supply, especially for the present year, is superlative.

"Without abundant food, alike for he armies and the peoples now at war, the whole great enterprise upon which we have embarked will break down and fall

Hold Fate of Nations.

"The world's food reserves are low. Not only during the present emergency but for some time after peace shall have some both our own people and a large proportion of the people of Europe must rely on the harvests in

"Upon the farmers of this country, therefore, in large measure, rests the fate of the war and the fate of the nations. May the nation not count upon them to omit no step that will increase the production of their land or that will bring about the most effectual co-operation in the sale and distribution of their products?

"The time is short. It is of the most imperative importance that everything possible be done and done immediatey to make sure of large barvests. I call upon young men and old alike and upon the able-bodied boys of the land to accept and act upon this duty-to turn in hosts to the farms and make certain that no pains and no labor is lacking in this great matter.

Special Appeal to South.

"I particularly appeal to the farmers of the South to plant abundant foodstuffs as well as cotton.

"The government of the United States and the governments of the several states stand rendy to co-operate. They will do everything possible to assist farmers in securing an adequate supply of seed, an adequate force of laborers when they are most needed at harvest time, and the means of expediting shipments of fertilizers and farm muchinery as well as of the crops themselves when harvested.

"The course of trade shall be as unhampered as it is possible to make it. and there shall be no unwarranted manipulation of the nation's food supply by those who handle it on its way to the consumer.

"This let me say to the middlemen of every sort, whether they are handling our foodstuffs or our raw mateterials of manufacture or the products of our mills and factories: The eyes of the country will be especially upon you. This is your opportunity for signal service, efficient and disinterested. The country expects you, as it expects all others, to forego unusual profits, to organize and expedite shipments of supplies of every kind, but especially of food, with an eye to the service you are rendering and in the spirit of those who enlist in the ranks, for their peo ple, not for themselves. "I shall confidently expect you to deserve and win the confidence of peopie of every sort and station.

Efficiency on Railroads.

"To the men who run the railways of the country, whether they be managers or operative employees, let me say that the railways are the arteries of the nation's life, and that upon them rests the immense responsibility of ourselves and for our armies and our seeing to it that those arteries suffer no obstruction of any kind, no inetticiency or slackened power.

"To the merchant let me suggest the motto, 'Small profits and quick service,' and to the shipbuilder the thought that the life of the war depends upon him. The food and the war supplies must be carried across the seas no matter how many ships are sent to the bottom. The places of those that go down must be supplied at ouce. "To the miner let me say that he stands where the farmer does: The work of the world waits on him. If he slackens or fails, armles and statesmen are helpless. He also is enlisted in the great Service army. "The manufacturer does not need to be told, I hope, that the nation looks to him to speed and perfect every process; and I want only to remind his employees that their service is absolutely indispensible and is counted on and its liberties. Every Garden Helps.

"Let me suggest also that every one who creates or cultivates a garden helps, and helps greatly, to solve the problem of the feeding of the nations: and that every housewife who practices strict economy puts herself in the ranks of those who serve the na-

Cultivation of Every Available Foot of Soil Defined as Patriotic Duty of Citizens-Governor Says

Food Situation of Nation le Serious.

Madison-Appealing to the good ense and foresight of the people, which he considers the foundation of all real patriotism, Gov. Emanuel L. Philipp has issued a proclamation to citizens of Wisconsin, urging economic preparedness which will be furthered by the new state council for defense. The man who toils with the hoe is called a patriot no less than the man who fights at the front by the governor in an epigrammatic sentence which is characteristic of the document, the first state paper dealing with war since 1898.

The present high prices of food is nentioned as a condition which will continue, and ways and means to meet this situation are suggested. The working force of the state department of agriculture is tendered to farmers of the state to bring about increased production, to the end that Wisconsin shall add as much as possible to the nation's supply of food.

The governor says that it will be a moral wrong if the state fails to do this. Planting of vegetable crops on vacant lots is urged, and the people are admonished to save their food sup-

The proclamation follows:

In so much as our country is now engaged in a war with the central powers of Europe, the possible magnitude of which we must not under-estimate, I feel it my duty to call the attention of the people of the state of Wisconsin to the sacrifices that we must make and the responsibilities that we must assume in order that we may fully co-operate with the national government in upholding the arms of our nation. Whatever disagreement there may have been about the necessity or advisability of engaging in the war is now a thing of the past. War is upon us and I call upon every citizen of the state of Wisconsin to aid in the preparations that must be made to meet every emergency and to enable our state to do its share in the support of our government.

Military preparation must of necessity be controlled by the United States vernment. We shall be called upor I feel confident that Wisconsin's sons will respond to the call of the president of the United States willingly and promptly and with the same spirit of patriotism that has characterized our soldiers in the wars of former years.

Soldiers alone cannot carry on a war successfully. Battles cannot be won with empty commissaries. Troops must be equipped. Armies must be fed. No soldier can endure the hardships of a campaign unless he is properly nourished. It is with a view of awakening our civilian population to guard said: a full realization of their duty in the complaint in our industrial centers able stocks of food have been gradpractically without any surplus in our seems to exist all over Europe. The price of some commodities, because of this shortage, has risen so high as to place them out of reach of the masses of the people.

To add to the seriousness of the duce a similar shortage of labor in ent. our agricultural districts.

I regard this as a serious situation. particularly in view of the fact that for their own support. What the country will need most are these plain articles of food: Meat, potatoes and cereals for bread.

I urge every farmer in the state of Wisconsin who has suitable land, to plant enough wheat to produce the flour necessary for his own use, and a surplus if possible. I urge that he plant sufficient acreage of corn and, if possible increase his herd of swine, to produce pork for the market. I particularly urge that the acreage of potatoes be increased. Every farmer should plant enough of this vegetable Destroyer Smith Reports Attack Proclamation by the President for his own use, and wherever the soil is suitable he should make his potato field as large as he is able to cultivate.

I urge our farmers, as a matter of patriotic duty, to cultivate every foot of their soil, none of it is too poor to raise something. White navy beans and buckwheat will be in demandinfact, anything that is food for man or beast will be a contribution to the pressing needs of our country. Our farmers should require no greater inducement than the present high prices of all farm produce to encourage them in the cultivation of every foot of tillable soil. The fact that no large stocks of food will this year be carried over is in itself an assurance that the price of farm produce will be high for another year, even if peace were immediately declared.

It is reported that in some sections there exists a shortage of seed, particularly potatoes. The department of agriculture of the state of Wisconsin stands ready to act as a clearing house in the matter of seed supply. and all who have a surplus of seed of any kind should so advise C. P. Norgord, commissioner of agriculture, Madison, Wis., and all who are short of seed of any kind should address the same official, who stands ready with his department to co-operate with the farmers of the state to the fullest extent in the matter of securing suitable seeds to plant the crop.

in order that we may conserve la bor for agriculture and the necessary industries I recommend that public work, so far as it is possible, be deferred until such a time as labor shall not be so urgently needed for these purposes as it is at present.

I wish to again impress upon the people of this state that the food situation is so serious that we will commit a moral wrong against our government if we in any way unnecessarily interfere with the production and successful harvesting of our agricultural products.

I ask that all bankers, business men, farmers, societies, agricultural associations, labor organizations and, so far as possible, the schools of the state, interest themselves in the matter of increasing our agricultural products.

I urge that the bankers of the state give aid in the form of loans, in reasonable sume to farmers who may need assistance either in the purchase of seed or in the cubivation of crops. I recommend to the people of the cities towns and villages that they plant liberal crops of vegetables on the vacant property, in order that they may supply themselves and thereby be protected against high prices of steps to meet aggressive acts were at of treason and shall be imprisoned I also recommend that the citizens

Presence of Enemy Divers in American Waters Indicates Campaign Against Atlantic Ports Has Begun - Torpedo Missed Vessel by Thirty Yards.

Washington, April 18 .- American patrol ships are sweeping the north Atlantic coast of the United States in an effort to locate and destroy the German submarine which fired a torpedo at the United States destroyer Smith. The presence of enemy submersibles in American waters indicates that the

First information of the encounter came to the navy department in a roundabout way from the Boston navy yard, which picked up the Smith's report, saying it had been fired upon

Some American officials were disinclined to credit the report, but the entente diplomatic corps here believed in it and predicted that Germany would soon carry the submarine campaign to this side of the Atlantic, principally for the purpose of scaring neutral shipping away from American harbors and to raid the great squadrons of merchant ships which are moving food and supplies to America's allies on the

Some officials are inclined to believe that the lack of a declaration of a prohibited zone in American waters may be due to the crippled condition of communications with Germany since the United States entered the war. The captain tried to sell the cargo at once to New York parties, claiming that the war had prevented his delivering it to the consignees, but a suit was brought against him to prevent his doing so. The case dragged along in court until the other day, when it was decided in the captain's favor and he was allowed to sell the nitrates. It brought $1,000,000 cash-that is the point. It was worth $100,000 when he started across the ocean with it. He tried to sell it for $75,000 when he reached New York and when he was stopped by the law suit. So the captain finds himself more than $900,000 ahead of the game, through no efforts of his own, or despite his efforts.

"Yes. Montrose and Montrosa are their names. The horse is mine, the mare is yours." Seeing that Dave did not comprehend the full import of her words, she added: "Yours to keep, I mean. You must make another Bessle Belle out of her."

"Mine? Oh-ma'am!" Law turned his eyes from Alaire to the mare, then back again. "You're too kind. I can't take her."

"You must."

Dave made as if to say something, but was too deeply embarrassed. Unable to tear himself away from the mare's side, he continued to stroke her shining coat while she turned an intelligent face to him, showing a solitary white star in the center of her forehead.

"See! She is nearly the same color as Bessie Belle."

"Yes'm! I-I want her, ma'am; I'm just sick from wanting her, but-won't you let me buy her?"

"Oh, I wouldn't sell her." Then, as Dave continued to yearn over the animal like a small boy tempted beyond his strength. Alaire laughed. "I owe you something, Mr. Law, and a horse more or less means very little to me." He yielded: he could not possibly continue his resistance, and in his happy face Alaire took her reward.

The mare meanwhile was doubtfully nosing her new master, deciding fied. Now he sat as erect in his saidle asleep. Then he fired a builet into his whether or not she liked him; but when he offered her a cube of sugar, her uncertainties disappeared, and they became friends then and there. He talked to her, too, in a way that would have won any female heart, and it was plain to anyone who knew horses that she began to consider him wholly delightful.

"You do speak their language," Alaire said, after she had watched to the utmost, for as the stronger memthem for a few minutes. "You have bewitched the creature." Dave nodded silently, and his face was young. Then, half to herself, the woman murmured, "Yes, you have a heart."

He laughed, he hummed snatches of songs, he kept up a chatter addressed as much to the mare as mas shortly after the lunch hour, for to his compenion, and under it Montrosa romped like a tomboy. It was gratifying to meet with such appreciation as this; Alaire felt warm and not refer to her husband in any way, friendly to the whole world, and decided that out of her abundance she must do more for other people.

Of course Dave had to tell of Don Ricardo's thoughtful gift, and conclud-up a store of it today." Benito and his men had rounded up perhaps three thousand head of cattle when Alaire and her companion appeared, and they were in process of "cutting out." It was an animated scene, one fitted to rouse enthusiasin in any plainsman, for the stock was fat and healthy; there were many calves, and the incessant, rumbling complaint of the herd was blood-stirring. The Las Palmas cowboys rode like centaurs: the air was drumming to swift hoofbeats, and over all was the hoarse. unceasing undertone from countless bovine throats. Out near the grub wagon the remuda was grazing, and thither at intervals came the perspiring horsemen to change their mounts.

The Time Has Come to Unfurl Old Glory It is Time to Hang Up the Flag

If You Haven't Got One, Get One

I Would you like to get a good sized American flag all made up in first-class shape and have it on hand so that you can bring the flag out and hang it up on the days where a flag should be dis-

I The flag is a thing that a fellow feels he should have at least a dozen times each year: when Fourth of July comes, Decoration Day, Flag Day, or the day the soldier boys come marching home, Most men don't say much as to what their feelings are with regard to these patriotic things, but down in every one's heart is a decent desire to declare himself in a respectful way, and on proper occasion, an American and a loyal citizen of the UNITED STATES, and the American flag unfurled in front of the house is a declaration of many things we can feel better than we can put words. A good sized flag and a Bible containing the family record of births, marriages and deaths, are really the most prized possessions, when we come to think of it, that a man has about the house other than his wife and children.

A Now we just started out to say that we have connections with a reputable manufacturing concern who are to supply us with flags as we order them, and we are making it our patriotic duty to see that every subscriber of The Statesman has an opportunity to possess a good sized flag. If you haven't a flag, send us $3.00 and we will send you the flag described above, size 3 ft. by 5 ft., and credit your subscription one year from the time you are now paid, and also send you the farm paper, "Farm, Stock & Home" for one year.

Food distressed her and there was a feeling like a heavy weight pressing on her stomach and chest. She did not rest well at night, and felt worn out a good part of the time. # Fewer Eggs are required with

In many recipes the number of eggs may be reduced with excellent results by using an additional quantity of Royal Baking Powder, about a teaspoon, for each egg omitted. The following recipe is a practical example:

Chocolate Sponge Roll

1½ cups flour tenspoon sait 1 cup sugar 2 eggs 2 squares melted chocolate

The old method called for 4 eggs and no baking powder

DIRECTIONS-Sift flour, baking powder and salt together three times. Beat whose eggs. Add slowly sugar, then boiling water slowly; add next vanilla, melted chocolate and melted shortening, without beating. Sift in dry ingredients, and fold in as lightly as possible. Pour into large baking pan lined with oiled paper, and bake in slow oven twenty minutes. When done, turn out on a damp, hot cloth, spread with white icing and roll.

The Fee. There is an old saying that "Nature cures, the doctor takes the fee." but as everyone knows you thereby enable it to effect a cure in much less time than is usually required. This is particularly true of colds. ### SEASONABLE DISHES

Variety is the aim of most cooks, toether with economy and palatability; we have three very important points to consider. The foilowing dishes may > prove suggestive: Flaked Fish and Vegetable Hash .beets, carrots and quarter of a cupful of cream, season with a teaspoonful of worcestershire sauce and turn into a heated frying pan which has been greased with a tablespoonful of bacon fat. Stir the hash rapidly until well heated, roll and let brown, turn on to a hot platter as an omelet.

Eggs Scrambled With Dried Beef .boiling water, let stand ten minutes, and drain; if not too salty this is not necessary; shred in small pieces. Beat two eggs slightly, add three tablespoonfuls of milk, and the beef. Malt two tablespoonfuls of butter in a saucepan, add the egg mixture and stir until of a house fire. creamy consistency.

Baked Rice With Cheese,-Put a cupful of rice into a quart of hoiling water with 11/2 teaspoonfuls of salt, cook for an hour or until soft. Melt three tablespoonfuls of butter, add three of flour, and when smooth add two cupfuls of hot milk; cook until smooth and thick, then add one cupful of finely cut cheese and mix lightly with the rice. Put into a buttered baking dish and cover with buttered crumbs. Brown and serve piping hot.

Pear Salad .-- Place baives of canned pears on head lettuce served with the following: Two tablespoonfuls of olive oil, one teaspoonful of vinegar, salt, pepper and a bit of French mustard to taste. Roquefort cheese may be added, a tablespoonful or two mixed with the dressing, and the pears may be cut in strips and served on crisp watercress

Vesuvius Eggs. - Toast slices of bread cut three-quarters of an inch thick. Butter them after trimming in squares. Heap high on each the stiffly beaten white of an egg and slip an unbroken yolk into the depression. Put Into a hot oven and cook until the egg is set. Garnish with parsley and

Nut Sauce .- Melt one tablespoonful of butter, add one tablespoonful of browned flour, one and one-half cupfuls of milk, salt, pepper and a teaspoonful of lemon juice, then add a fourth of a cupful of finely-crushed nut meats.

An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, but it is just as well to be provided with both.

GOOD THINGS FOR THE TABLE.

Watercress is found in so many springs that it should be more widely used. As a spring tonle it has no equal in the vegetable line, served with French dressing or eaten with a sprinkling of salt with a lamb chop, it is an ideal salad and garnish. Cream of Watercress Soup .- Pick over and wash two quarts, or four bunches, of cress, boll it in a quart of water for five minutes, drain and save the water. Pound the cress with two tablespoonfuls of butter. In a saucepan mix four tablespoonfuls of flour and three of butter, when well blended add the cress water and two quarts of yeal broth, cook 15 minutes. Skim, add the cress, strain, and return to a saucepan and thicken with the yolks of four eggs heaten with a cupful of thin cream. Pour very hot into a tureen and serve with croutons. Curry of Chicken .- Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter, add one teaspoon ful of finely chopped onions and half a chopped apple. Fry them together, then add a tablespoonful of grated coconut, one quarter of a spoonful of English mustard, one tablespoonful each of curry and flour. Mix all together and cook two minutes, then moisten with a cupful of chicken stock. When boiling add the meat of half a fowl torn in shreds and let simmer for ten minutes, add three tablespoonfuls of cream and season with salt and pepper. Serve with fresh boiled rice. Crispettes.-Beat two eggs and stir into them a cupful of white and brown sugar mixed, add four tablespoonfuls of flour, a pinch of salt and a teaspoonful of vanilla. Beat thoroughly, add a cupful of walnuts chopped fine, Drop the dough by teaspoonfuls into buttered pans, allowing three inches for the cakes to spread. Serve with fruit for dessert or with afternoon tea. They should be baked until crisp and brown. Ginger Mousse.—Dissolve a tablespoonful of gelatin in a fourth of a cupful of water, add a plach of salt and three-fourths of a cupful of granulated sugar. Stir into this a pint of whipped cream flavored with two tablespoonfuls of the ginger, sirup and one tablespoonful of lemon juice. Add one cupful of Canton ginger (chopped) just before freezing.

LIFT YOUR CORNS OFF WITH FINGERS

How to loosen a tender corn or callus so it lifts out without pain. Let folks step on your feet bereafter;

wear shoes a size smaller if you like,

for corns will never again send electric sparks of pain through you, according to this Cincinnati authority. He says that a few drops of a drug called freezone, applied directly upon a tender, aching corn, instantly relieves soreness, and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts right out. This drug dries at once and simply shrivels up the corn or callus without even irritating the surrounding skin.

A small bottle of freezone obtained at any drug store will cost very little but will positively remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. If your druggist hasn't stocked this new drug yet, tell him to get a small bottle of freezone for you from his wholesale drug house.-adv.

Washington, April 18,-There is no longer concealment in official circles of the apprehension felt over the progress of events in Russia.

Disquieting news has been reaching the state department from Petrograd for some days. It backs up the judgment of expert military and naval officers of all the Russian allies that the great country, with its vast resources of men and material, cannot be a real contender against the central powers in the near future.

The duma government lacks the elements of strength which are absolutely essential for the effective supply of large armies. Officers no longer have the control of the men which they pos sessed under the empire.

The socialists are conducting an active propaganda, and in this are aided and abetted by the German socialists. There is need of food for the people "You guarantee that she will give and the army, munitions for the army, and, above all, transportation.

Clean Up Week

The good results obtained in past years through clean-up movements, induces us to ask, that the week beginning May 7th... 1917, be observed and used in all cities and villages of the state as CLEAN-UP-WEEK.

During this week, if not earlier, each citizen should clean up his premises—basement, attic, closets yards, area-ways, sheds and barns -and remove or destroy all rubbish and waste.

In burning rubbish we caution against having such fires on windy days, or near buildings, and dy days, or hear buildings, and against leaving them unattended or burning at night.

In going over your premises you may find not only rubbish but also paint rags, oily rags and waste, defective stove and furnace pipes, cracked and unclean chimneys, gas-cracked and unclean chimneys, gasoline and other oils caralessly stored, and poor shingle roofs ready for the first chimney spark. All these fire hazards need your attention NOW.

The reasons for this cleaning-up are plain. Rubbish breeds fires and conflagrations. It also breeds disease germs, and flies to carry these germs. About one third the number of deaths of persons under forty are caused by unclean conditions. conditions.

Health officers and fire chiefs

The Farmer The value of the rural press is not realized by one farmer in a hundred. By this I mean that the farmer is slow to take advantage of the profits which the publicity of the press place at his command in the disposal of blooded stock and exchange of animals and the disposal of seed grain. There's no reason why the farmer should not avail himself of the advertis-ing columns of the paper as well as the village merchant. By us-ing printer's ink there are many instances where the products of the farm might be sold without loss of time incidental to taking the same to market and there disposing of it at a price named by the other fellow. This is ec-pecially true in the sale of blood-ed stock, as by advertising, buyers are attracted from long distance. The posting of a notice on the fence corners may have its virtues but few people have the incline but few people have the inclination to get out of their automobiles or tie up their teams to read a poorly written ad tacked up on a fence post. The same notice, perhaps at a cost not to exceed 25 cents, might be placed before a thousand farmers who would be permitted to read while spending the evening around the parlor ta-ble. But advertising is a study in which business men have learned but the rudiments, so it should not be expected that the farmer will have taken any advance

Sow Wheat; America Needs It Last year the United States consumed more wheat than she raised. The government reports indicate that this year's crop is 52, 000,000 bushels short of last year's which was much below normal. South America has just harvested less than half a crop. Argentina the greatest wheat producing country in South America, has already forbidden the exportation of wheat. America must have bread and it is the opportunity as well as the patriotic duty of Wisconsistance of the state of the patriotic duty of Wisconsistance of the state of t consin farmers to produce more spring wheat this year. Prices are bound to be high.

Wisconsin can yet sow spring wheat, In the western and southern states it is too late. Tens of thousands of acres of winter wheat in Kansas and Nebraska are being plowed up this spring because of winterkilling. Every acre of spring wheat that Wisconsin can sow will help.

Wisconsin was once the second wheat producing state in the Union. Rotation crops and the liberal use of barnyard manuals. liberal use of barnyard manura have again made it possible for us to grow good crops of wheat Spring wheat does best in eastern and northwestern portions of the state. It can be grown however, on any good clay loam soil, but does poorly on light sandy soil.
