Joe Heppie Resigns as City Clerk

Joseph J. Heppie, city clerk for the past year, tendered his resignation to the council Tuesday evening. The council took no action on the resignation, but the matter will probably be taken up at the next meeting. The resignation is to take effect June 1st, which will give the council time to look around for some person who is qualified to fill the office. The vacancy will be filled by appointment.
Mr. Heppie states as his reason for resigning that his duties in the office of the Jos. Schwartz Brewing company occupy his time that he is unable to give the necessary attention to the city business, which has not only grown considerably since his election to the office, but is constantly increasing. The office now requires the exclusive attention of the city clerk, and also of two assistants, who are in the office at regular hours.
Mr. Heppie is experienced in book work and makes a very competent city clerk, but, as he says, rather than enter into the office filling the office longer.—Hartford Press.

Mr. Heppie was formerly employed here at the H. J. Lumby yards and is a brother of our fellow townsman, Frank Heppie.

QUAAS-LIEPERT

A pretty wedding took place in the German Methodist church Saturday, May 12, at 7 o'clock in the evening, when Walter Liepert and Miss Martha Quaes were united in holy matrimony. While the wedding march from "Lohengrin" was played by Mrs. Charles Blaser, the bridal party led by the pastor marched up the aisle of the church and stopped between a profusion of palms. The ring ceremony was performed by Rev. A. H. Otter, after which the choir sang an appropriate song.

The pastor gave a short and spicy address and the choir sang another song after which the benediction was pronounced and the bridal party departed. The bride was dressed in a beautiful gown of white crepe de chine trimmed with lace and pearls. She wore a veil and carried bride's roses and white sweet peas. In the afternoon he was again hauled into police court charged with using abusive language and being a repeater. He will be given a hearing Wednesday.

Attorney F. Ryan Duffy preferred the latter charge against Block, as the defendant is said to have used considerable profane language when in the attorney's office. As Block has been arraigned in court many times during the past several years a "repeater charge" is now standing over him.—Fond du Lac Commonwealth.

WE DON'T APPRECIATE THE HOME TOWN

WALTER ENGLEMAN.

Old as it may be, the remark is frequently made, "If you want to hear the news about your own town, go away from home."

We become so familiar with our surroundings, so accustomed to conditions as they exist at home that we fail to see any new advantages or opportunities in them. They are too commonplace. Frequently a stranger comes into our community and avails himself of certain advantages we overlooked year after year.

For instance, we fail to appreciate the worth of our home town and the service rendered by the merchants therein, who really make the town. Why? Because we go to town every week, meet and converse with friends, find out about general market conditions, sell what we have to sell, visit various stores, examine goods make comparisons, pick up a lot of information, but our requirements come home, and never give one thought to the tremendous advantage of such an opportunity.

Having a town located near enough so these visits can be made once or twice a week in place of once or twice a year is taken as a matter of course. The privilege seems of no special value.

During a recent automobile trip through seven states, many small towns were visited. The real worth of such towns to the communities surrounding them is apparent to a stranger, because a stranger is free from prejudice of a resident. Local opportunities and advantages appeal to the outsider because they have not grown commonplace by reason of long association.

Some of the people in the automobile party remembered the time when life on the average farm had few attractions, because the people living there were in a great measure, cut off from communication with the outside world. They were in truth, and fact, living alone. And be it remembered, farm land in those days was not very valuable nor were buyers numerous or eager. Later towns sprung up, here and there, and by reason of the small town folks began to enjoy the privileges. Conditions have steadily improved. Today, farm life possesses many attractions that appeal to everybody and many advantages that cannot be obtained except on the farm. And still we do not fully appreciate the home town. We are inclined to think it pokey, behind the times and a thing for which we should apologize. It is time to wake up and give credit where credit is due.

On this automobile trip, even the small towns visited astonished the travelers by the real service the merchants were prepared to render the community. For instance, in a small town, a town typical of hundreds of others, the best grade of California fruits could be obtained, and at a price from 20 to 30 per cent cheaper than the city man pays. To be specific, a basket of choice California fruit, in prime condition, was purchased in this small town for the retail price of sixty cents. Identically the same kind and quantity of fruit had been purchased three days before in an Illinois city and cost eighty-five cents. Two days later, in Omaha, the price was ninety cents.

A really prime beefsteak was obtained at the butcher shop in this little town for forty cents, and there isn't any big city in the country where you can get enough beefsteak for forty cents to "treat the millet."

"One of the ladies of the party bought an automobile veil in the dry-goods store of this village for less than half the price she paid for the same thing in Denver two weeks later.

The grocery store stock was a point of variety to any ordinary demand. You could buy at this store anything that could be obtained from the average grocery store in a city of ten thousand inhabitants. And, mind you, at prices most favorable when compared with city prices.

The local baker offered bread as good as could be obtained anywhere, and the pastry displayed was liberal variety and of a quality quite unexcelled.

Articles were obtained at the hardware store that had been searched for and not found in the larger establishments of one city visited on the trip. A hand axe of standard make was purchased to replace one lost, and for twelve cents less than the first one cost in Chicago a few weeks before.

All this talk of having to send away for articles because local goods are not of style, too high in price, or not good enough in quality, is nonsense. Local stores will do carry anything for which there is a demand. There is nothing in the threadbare, antiquated notion that goods only reach a small town after they have gone out of style in the cities.

In touring through seven states, the ladies of the party gave close attention to the clothing, millinery and ladies' furnishings displayed in the shop windows of the

Proper Food for Weak Stomachs

The proper food for one man may be all wrong for another. Everyone should adopt a diet suited to his age and occupation. Those who have weak stomachs need to be especially careful and should eat slowly and masticate their food thoroughly. It is also important that they keep their bowels regular. When they become constipated or when they feel dull and stupid after eating, they should take Chamberlain's Tablets to strengthen the stomach and move the bowels. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect.

"Nothing in this act contained shall be construed to require or compel another person to serve in any of the forces herein provided for who is found to be a member of any well-recognized religious sect or organization at present organized and existing and whose existing creed or principles forbid its members to participate in war in any form and whose religious convictions are against war or participation therein in accordance with the creed or principles of said religious organization; but no person so exempted shall be exempted from service in any capacity that the president shall declare to be noncombatant.

Certain Classes to Be Excused.

How Exemptions Are Determined. The machinery created for determining of exemptions is thus described by the bill:

"The president is hereby authorized, in his discretion, to create and establish throughout the several states and subdivisions thereof and in the territories and the District of Columbia local boards, and where, in his discretion, practicable and desirable, there shall be created and established one such board in each county or similar subdivision in each state, and one for approximately each 30,000 of population in each city of 30,000 population or over, according to the last census taken or estimates furnished by the bureau of census of the department of commerce. "The decisions of such district boards shall be final except that in accordance with such rules and regulations as the president may prescribe, he may affirm, modify, or reverse any such decision."

All persons subject to registration must have attained their twenty-first but not their thirty-first birthday, and such persons as fail to register will be subject to imprisonment for not more than one year. Persons temporarily absent from their legal residence may register by mail under presidential regulations.

Provisions for Volunteers.

The provisions governing voluntary enlistment in the regular army and National Guard follow:

"That the qualifications and conditions for voluntary enlistment as herein provided shall be the same as those prescribed by existing law for enlistments in the regular army, except that recruits must be between the ages of eighteen and forty, both inclusive, at the time of their enlistment, and such enlistment, and such enlistments, shall be for the period of the emergency unless sooner discharged.

Plan Grouping by States.

"Provided, that all persons enlisted or drafted under any of the provisions of this act shall as far as practicable be grouped into units by states and the political subdivisions of the same; provided, further, that all persons who have enlisted since April 1, 1917, either in the regular army or in the National Guard, and all persons who have enlisted in the National Guard since June 3, 1916, upon their application, shall be discharged upon the termination of the existing emergency.

"The president may provide for the discharge of any or all enlisted men whose status with respect to dependents renders such discharge advisable, and he may also authorize the employment on any active duty of retired enlisted men of the regular army, either with their rank on the retired list or in higher enlisted grades, and such retired enlisted men shall receive the full pay and allowances of the grades in which they are actively employed."

Provision for Increased Pay.

The army pay increases are set forth in the following provisions:

"That all officers and enlisted men of the forces herein provided for other than the regular army shall be in all respects on the same footing as to pay, allowances, and pensions as officers and enlisted men of corresponding grades and length of service in the regular army; and commencing June 1, 1917, and continuing until the termination of the emergency, all enlisted men of the army of the United States in active service whose base pay does not exceed $24 per month shall receive an increase of $10 per month; those whose base pay is $24, an increase of $8 per month; those whose base pay is $30, $36, or $40, an increase of $6 per month, and those whose base pay is $45 or more, an increase of $5 per month; provided that the increases of pay herein authorized shall not enter into the computation of continuous service pay."

President's Powers Broadened.

An entirely new provision of the bill as drafted is:

"That the president is authorized to increase or decrease the number of organizations prescribed for the typical brigades, divisions, or army corps of the regular army, and to prescribe such new and different organizations and personnel for army corps, divisions, brigades, regiments, battalions, squadrons, companies, troops, and batteries as the efficiency of the service may require; provided further that the number of organizations in a regiment shall not be increased nor shall the number of regiments be decreased.

The president will officer the regular army and National Guard under existing law, and for the conscript force he is empowered:

"To provide the necessary officers, line and staff, for said force and for organizations of the other forces hereby authorized, or by combining organizations of said other forces, by ordering members of the officers' reserve corps to temporary duty in accordance with the provisions of section 38 of the national defense act approved June 3, 1916; by appointment from the regular army, the officers' reserve corps, from those duly qualified and registered pursuant to section 23 of the act of congress approved January 21, 1903 (thirty-second statutes at large, page 775), from the members of the National Guard drafted into the service of the United States who have been graduated from educational institutions at which military instruction is compulsory or from those who have had honorable service in the regular army, the National Guard, or the volunteer forces or from the country at large; by assigning retired officers of the regular army to active duty with such force with their rank in the retired list and the full pay and allowances of their grade; or by the appointment of retired officers and enlisted men, active or retired, of the regular army as commissioned officers in such forces."

13 U-BOATS ARE SUNK BRITISH PUSHING ON

ITALY ANNOUNCES DESTRUCTION OF NUMBER OF SUBMARINES.

Secretary of German Navy Tells Reichstag Certain Number Have Been Destroyed.

Washington, May 14.—Steadily increasing efficiency of the allies in combating the submarine menace has brought a marked improvement in the situation.

Official advices received on Friday reveal that improved means of destruction devised by the allies have dispatched a considerable number of the underwater craft to join some of their numerous victims at the bottom of the sea.

Not only have a large number of both German and Austrian submarines been lost, as well as their commanders, but official trade reports show that British imports increased nearly $45,000,000, grain, meats and nondurable food $55,000,000 and cotton $10,000,000 during April.

The advices concerning the checking of the U-boat menace come from German as well as allied sources.

Official accounts of a speech by the German secretary of the navy in the Reichstag May 9 report that functioning as saying that "while the submarine warfare had achieved far greater results than was expected, a certain number of submarines have been lost recently."

Advices to the Italian embassy here say 13 Austrian submarines have been sunk in the Adriatic by Italian patrols during the last week.

TO FINE DRAFT VIOLATORS

Provost Marshal General Crowder Issues Statement to Registration Officials.

Washington, May 12.—To dispose of fear that county and city registration boards will exercise favoritism in enrolling soldiers under the selective draft act, Provost Marshal General Crowder issued a statement on Thursday declaring such practices would be virtually impossible because of the explicit terms in which the act is drawn.

He warned registration officials that favoritism easily could be detected and would be punished.

"Every man within the age limits fixed by the selective service act must register, and the penalty of the law for evasion of registration will fall not only on the man who fails to appear but on any member of a registration board who may be shown to be in collusion with the person who attempts to escape his duty."

"The law provides the penalty of imprisonment, with not alternative of a fine, for any official or any registered man who shall make a false return or connive at such a practice."

SPY BILL IS PASSED

PRESS CENSORSHIP AND PROHIBITION STRICKEN FROM MEASURE BY SENATORS.

WOULD HANG FOOD GAMBLER

Unrestrained Wrath Is Poured Out as Action Is Urged to Shut All Exchanges — Food-Control Bill Will Carry Drastic Action.

Washington, May 16.—Carrying no press censorship nor war prohibition clauses the senate passed the administration espionage bill on Monday by a vote of 77 to 6. Important sections curbing activities of enemy spies remain in the bill.

Those who voted against the measure were: Borah, France, La Follette, Gronna, Sherman and Vardaman.

The senate voted to insist upon its amendments being accepted when the bill goes to conference with house members.

The amendment forbidding the use of cereals and grains for the manufacture of intoxicants was stricken from the bill by a vote of 47 to 37.

The unrestrained wrath of the senate was poured down upon food gamblers and speculators in one of the most remarkable scenes in the history of the chamber.

"Robbers and pirates" were terms frequently applied to those who profit by speculations in food in the hour of the nation's need. The likelihood of food speculators being hanged to lamp-posts was hinted at.

The storm broke when Senator Thomas, Democrat, of Colorado, proposed as an amendment to the administration espionage bill a provision to suspend for the duration of the war all boards of trade, stock exchanges or chambers of commerce which permit speculation in futures in food. The amendment was rejected, 49 to 24.

Two new food-control bills, one authorizing the president to appoint a controller general of supplies during the war, and another designed to prevent slaughter of immature live stock, were introduced by Senator Gore.

WHEAT GAMBLING IS BARRED

All Trades in Futures to Be Abolished — Six Boards of Trade to Act at Once.

Chicago, May 16.—Delegates from six boards of trade met in Chicago to stop speculation in wheat futures and to curb wild fluctuation in all grain markets of the United States.

Minneapolis, Duluth, Kansas City, St. Louis and Toledo followed the example of Chicago in curtailing tradings in futures in July and September wheat.

Following is a summary of the announcements made after meeting of the delegates, and other developments of the day:

1. All trading in future deliveries of wheat, including July and September, was forbidden for two days.

2. A special committee fixed the maximum price for July wheat at $2.75 and for September at $2.45. May futures have been similarly controlled.

3. Prices of contract grades of corn and oats for May delivery, in Chicago were set at $1.61½ a bushel and the true commercial value of oats for May delivery in Chicago was determined at 72½ cents.

HEART OF THE SUNSET By REX BEACH

"Heaven knows! Out in the barn or under the house." Taking advantage of the dressmaker's momentary absence from the room, Paloma continued in a whisper: "I wish you'd talk to dad and see what you make of him. He's absolutely queer. Mrs. Strange seems to have a peculiar effect on him. Why, it's almost as if—" harbor crude superstitions, and yet there was no mistaking his earnestness when he said: "I ain't sure whether she's to blame, or her husband, but misfortune has folded me to herself."

The Door of a Harness Closet Opened, and Out of the Blackness Peered Paloma's Father.

"Probably it was nicotine poison!" that killed twenty acres of my cotton, too; and maybe if I'd cut out tobacco I'd have floated that bond issue on the irrigation ditch. But I was wedded to cigarettes, so my banks are closing down on me. Sure! That's what a man gets for smokin'."

Now that the speaker had dropped all pretense, he answered Dave's questions without evasion and told what he knew. It was not much, to Dave's way of thinking, but it was enough to give cause for thought, and when the men finally parted it was with the understanding that Strange would promptly communicate any further intelligence on this subject that came his way.

"Over Her Head Floats a Skeleton—" pleasant responsibility. Chancing to meet Dave Law one day, he determined to relieve himself of at least one troublesome burden. But Dave was not easily approachable. He met the medium's allusions to the occult with contemptuous amusement, nor would he consent to a private "reading." Strange grew almost desperate enough to speak the unguarded truth.

All the same, I'm sure Jose and I carry no epitaph for you. From what I've dug out of loss, he's acting for a third party—somebody with pull and a lot of coin—but who it is I don't know. Anyhow, he's cooking trouble for the Austins, and I want to stand from under."

On the following day Dave's duties called him to Brownsville, where court was in session. He had planned to leave by the morning train; but as he continued to meditate over Strange's words, he decided that, before going, he ought to advise Alaire of the fellow's suspicious in order that she might discharge Jose Sanchez and in other ways protect herself against his possible spite. Since the matter was one that could not well be talked over by telephone, Dave determined to go in person to Las Palmas that evening.

At no time since meeting Alaire had Dave Law been more certain of his moral strength than on this evening; at no time had his grip upon himself seemed firmer. Nor had Alaire the least reason to doubt her self-control. Dave, to be sure, had appealed to her fancy and her interests; in fact, he had dominated her thoughts; but the imaginary creature whom she called her dream-husband had gradually taken on his physical likeness. But the idea that she was in any way enamored of him had never entered his mind. In such wise do the Fates amuse themselves.

Alaire had gone to her favorite after-dinner refuge, a nook on one of the side galleries, where there was a wide, swinging wicker couch; and there, in a restless obscurity fragrant with flowers, she had prepared to spend the evening with her dreams. She did not hear Dave's automobile arrive. Her first intimation of his presence came with the sound of his heel upon the porch. When he appeared, it was almost like the materialization of her uppermost thought—quite as if a figure from her fancy had stepped forth full-blown.

Dave took her hand and looked down at her, framing a commonplace reply. But for some reason the words lay unspoken upon his tongue. Alaire's informal greeting, her parted lips, the welcoming light in her eyes, had sent him flying. It seemed to him that the dim half-light which illumined this nook emanated from her face and her person, that the fragrance which came to his nostrils was the perfume of her breath, and at the prompting of these thoughts all his smothered longings rose as if at a signal. As mutinous prisoners in a jail delivery overpower their guards, so did Dave's long-repressed emotions gain the upper hand of his now, and so swift was their uprising that he could not summon more than a feeble, palsied resistance.

The awkwardness of the pause which followed Alaire's inquiry strengthened the rebellious impulses within him, and quite unconsciously his friendly grasp upon her fingers tightened. For her part, as she saw this sudden change sweep over him, her own face altered and she felt something within her breast leap into life. No woman could have failed to read the meaning of his sudden agitation, and, strange to say, it worked a similar state of feeling in Alaire. She strove to control herself and to draw away, but instead found that her hand had answered his, and that her eyes were flashing recognition of his look. All in an instant she realized how deathly tired of her own struggle she had become, and experienced a reckless impulse to cast away all restraint and blindly meet his first advance. She had no time to question her yearnings; she seemed to understand only that this man offered her rest and security; that in his arms lay sanctuary.

To both it seemed that they stood there silently, hand in hand, for a very long time, though in reality there was scarcely a moment of hesitation on the part of either. A drunken, breathless instant of uncertainty, then Alaire was on Dave's breast, and his strength, his ardor, his desire, was throbbing through her. Her bare arms were about his neck; a sigh, the token of utter surrender, fluttered from her throat. She raised her face to his and their lips met together.

Among the numerous superstitions of the Cossacks there is a belief that they will enter heaven in a better state of moral purity if they are personally clean when killed in battle. "Now some scientific sharp says there are styles in emotions." "I believe it. I know some women who always wear their dignity ruffled."

CRISIS IN RUSSIA

MINISTER OF JUSTICE PRESENTS ALARMING DIAGNOSIS OF INTERNAL SITUATION. NEW LIBERTY NOW A MENACE Unless There is an Infusion of New Spirit in Army, Russia Will Not Long Be Able to Go on With War.

Petrograd, via London, May 16.—The council of soldiers' and workmen's deputies has issued an appeal to the army in which it declares that German imperialism is seeking to destroy revolutionary Russia and enslave the Russian people. It appeals to the soldiers to defend Russia with all their power, and declares that a separate peace is impossible. The appeal says that the only solution of the war must be a general peace among all nations by common agreement. The manifesto concludes with begging the soldiers not to renounce their offensive, and warns against fraternizing with the enemy, which it says cannot end the war.

In an impassioned appeal to delegates from the front at a meeting in Petrograd, A. F. Kerensky, minister of justice, made the most alarming diagnosis of Russia's internal situation that has come from any official since the revolution. The minister of justice, who heretofore had made only the most optimistic and reassuring declarations, confessed that his confidence had left him and that he feared disaster. "I came to you," he said, "because my strength is at an end. I no longer feel my former courage nor have I my former conviction that we are conscientious citizens, not slaves in revolt."

"As affairs are going now, it will be impossible to save the country. Perhaps the time is near when we will have to tell you that we can no longer give you the amount of bread you expect or other supplies on which you have a right to count. The process of change from slavery to freedom is not going on properly. We have tasted freedom and are slightly intoxicated; what we need is sobriety and discipline."

M. Kerensky's declaration represents to a large extent the public opinion in Petrograd. Unless there is a quick infusion of a new spirit in the army and a new understanding of freedom among the masses, and unless the energy which now is being used to bring about peace is transformed into energy working for the defense of the country, it is feared that Russia will not long be able to go on with the war.

WILL TAX COFFEE AND TEA

Revenue Bill Reported to the House Contains Important Addition to Lists. Washington, May 14.—The war revenue bill introduced in the house on Wednesday contained one important addition to the list of revenue-producing provisions, a consumption tax on coffee and tea. Coffee will be taxed 1 cent per pound for the entire visible supply of the United States as of May 10, 1917, and tea 2 cents per pound. Only the supplies of retailers now on hand and of private persons are exempt. By a unanimous vote of the committee added this amendment to the bill: Section 1001.—That upon all coffee or tea heretofore imported into the United States, which are held on May 10, 1917, or any day between such date and the day succeeding the day this act is passed, by any person, corporation, partnership or association (except a retailer who does not sell coffee or tea at wholesale) and intended for sale, there shall be levied, assessed, collected and paid a tax of 1 cent per pound in the case of coffee and 2 cents per pound in the case of tea.

Twisted Sox.

"I suppose you have heard," said the fat plumber, "that stockings should be selected to match the eyes of the wearer?" "No; I'm not up on styles," the thin carpenter confessed. "Yep. That's the way it goes awright." "Fashions do beat all." "Yep." "Imagine going into a store and asking for some blue stockings to match your wife's eyes." "Yes, or trying to pick out a shade to match some guy with pink eyes." "Or buying half a pair of stockings for a one-eyed man?" "Or watered silk for a man with a cataract." "Or black and blue ones for a gink who has been in a fight." "I can think of a situation that beats any we have suggested." "What is it?" "Think of going into a store and asking for a pair of twisted sox for a cross-eyed person." "You win!"

Window Box Gardens.

Now that potatoes are scarce every bit of available space is being used in growing them. Already the women of the nation have worked out a scheme of growing seed potatoes in window boxes, thereby adding several dollars to the family income. When the housewife prepares her potatoes for the evening meal she cuts a piece from the "rose" end of the potato off before peeling and plants it in the sitting room window box, which contains either leaf mold, coconut fiber or sand. Each piece, says one potato planter, should weigh not less than one and a half ounces, and the box should be kept in the window of a cool—but not too cool—room until the sprouts are from one-half to an inch high. Thus the housewife has a supply of seed potatoes, which are daily increasing in value.

Women always think they mean what they say at the time they say it.

Many a man has money to burn simply because he doesn't burn it.

Village Takes Stock

Dr. I. F. Thompson, Deputy State Health Officer, and Dr. H. B. Beeson, local health officer, have completed an eye-opening inventory of health conditions for the village of Cornell, Wis., and set forth their findings in an attractively printed pamphlet for the information of the citizens. In so doing, they have set an example which could be followed with profit by every other community, large or small in the state. While they have pointed out objectionable characteristics of the village from the point of view of the sanitarian, they have done so with tactful consideration. One gets the impression after reading the report, that Cornell must be a pretty good sort of place to live in, now, and that it intends to be a better one. A community which has the courage and energy to look its ugly spots straight in the face is going to have the courage to clean them up.

The following paragraph on flies delighted me particularly, for the sound, scientific and common sense which characterizes it: "FLIES—Last Summer members of the Cornell Woman's Club requested me, as health officer of the village, to do something to reduce the great numbers of flies in the community. I think the ladies were somewhat disappointed that I did not undertake the task, but I do not think they fully understood the reasons why. I did not, for, at that time, I had no figures to show them. Now that I have the figures, I propose to show why I balked at the task, and I also propose to show that flies can be eliminated from Cornell if the task is properly gone about, but it is no one-man job, it is a job for the community. The time to attack a fly is before it is born; it is well enough to reduce a healthy fly to a mangled corpse, with a swatter, but if the fly is never born, the necessity for exerting this effort is entirely obviated. Flies breed in manure piles, decaying garbage and unscreened privies. Remove these, and there are no places left for flies to breed in, and consequently no flies are born. Sounds simple, but this survey has disclosed that there are 20 manure piles in Cornell, some of them large ones. There are 1233 families whose garbage is thrown on the ground, and 172 outside toilets which are not flytight. Thus there is a total of upwards of 312 breeding places for flies in the community."

The doctor goes on to say that if the people will make the manure piles and other breeding places flytight, "flies will become a thing of the past in Cornell."
Unhappy in Friendship.
 Many people expect too much from their friends. They may themselves be so thoroughly genuine and sincere that they expect all their friends to be the same, and when they discover little faults in their idols they feel the disappointment most acutely. Do not pitch your standard too high, then you are less likely to have your idol shattered. Try to remember that friends will never disappoint us if we observe two simple rules: (1) to find out what they are; (2) to expect them to be just that.

No Joke.
 Appearances are deceitful. The plate on the outside of many a Big Gun's private office says: "Push." But if you want to know why the Big Gun occupies his position, you will have to look at the plate on the inside of the door. It says: "Pull."

Fingernail Statistics.

Agricultural Problem Solved.

A close study of soils and crops shows that the relation is purely natural, in that crops showing a preference for a certain soil is due entirely to the demands of these crops for a definite amount of water and warmth. Plant food is a secondary consideration and as this can easily be supplied by man the problem is solved.

GREATEST WAR BUDGET REPORTED

Senate Body Votes $3,390,946,000 for Conflict.

$750,000,000 FOR SHIPPING

Conferees on Army Bill Finally Agree to Report Measure Authorizing Wilson to Form Roosevelt's Volunteer Division.

Washington, May 16.—All appropriation records of congress were broken when the senate appropriations committee reported the war, army and navy deficiency bill, carrying a total of $3,390,946,000, including $400,000,000 for construction and purchase of an American merchant marine.

The committee added $563,392,000 to the house bill. Among the senate increases were $500,000 for the council of national defense, $1,000,000 for detention of interned Germans, $26,000,000 for army machine guns and $35,000,000 for heavy army ordnance.

$400,000,000 for Trade Ships.
For the new American merchant fleet they directed immediate appropriation of $400,000,000 and authorized $350,000,000 more for use later as an "emergency shipping fund."

The bill authorizes the government to commandeer shipyards, factories or the products of such factories and to take over existing shipbuilding contracts of private individuals or foreign governments. Construction facilities taken over are to be paid for at a reasonable price. Persons refusing to deliver regulated factories or establishments would be penalized.

Other Provisions of Bill.

Other provisions were:
For army conscription, $2,658,000; army subsistence, $50,928,000; army transportation, $61,980,000; Panama canal fortifications, $1,788,000; schools for naval recruits, $2,500,000; naval ordnance stores, $2,000,000; naval reserve ordnance, $10,000,000; Hampton Roads naval base, $3,000,000; naval hospital construction, $3,500,000, and construction and repair of naval vessels, $3,000,000; eastern marine corps post, $2,500,000.

Reductions of $79,000,000 were made in the house, mostly for army ordnance and fortifications, and $20,000,000 for manufacture of smokeless powder for the navy.

T. R. Army Plan Accepted.

Senate and house conferees on the army bill agreed to report the measure with the provision authorizing the president to raise the volunteer division Colonel Roosevelt desires to lead to France. No other changes in the bill were made by the conferees.

The conferees accepted without change the house provision for the Roosevelt volunteers. As the senate by a large vote previously approved the volunteer force, its final adoption by both houses is regarded as certain. The full force of the administration is against it.

Whether Colonel Roosevelt and a volunteer force go abroad, however, remains for the president to decide, as the provision agreed to by the conferees makes it optional and not mandatory upon the president. Conferees decided not to reopen other questions. The conscription age remains from twenty-one to thirty years inclusive. Before the week ends the conferees hope to have the bill finally adopted by both houses and sent to the president.

Many senators are dissatisfied with the proposed increase of the maximum conscription age of thirty years and an effort to reduce it to the original senate figure of twenty-seven was anticipated.

The senate section barring liquor from military camps and otherwise protecting morals of the new army promised some house opposition, but it was believed the clause would be retained.

GERMANS MAKE NEW GAINS

Troops of Crown Prince Capture Farm on the Aisne Front, Says Berlin.

Berlin, May 16.—Troops of the German crown prince have captured the farm of Sainte Berthe, east of Fort de Malmouin on the Aisne front, the army headquarters' statement announced.

London, May 16.—Germany launched a concerted counter-attack on both the French and British fronts of such force as to suggest almost a general counter-offensive movement.

In the northern part of the village of Bullecourt the British commander in chief stated British advanced posts had been "forced back a short distance."

The night official report, giving further details, says there were three German attacks in all, the first being delivered at four o'clock in the morning. Aside from the small advantage above described the German thrusts were unsuccessful.

New York Hearse Drivers Strike.

New York, May 16.—Getting buried in New York now is about as difficult as meeting the high cost of living. It's all because $90 union hearse drivers to Queens and Kings counties have struck for a $2 raise in wages. The hearsemen refuse to increase the pay from $14 to $16 a week. Scores of funerals have been postponed.

END GRAIN GAMBLING

BOARDS OF TRADE TAKE DRAMATIC ACTION AT CHICAGO.

Committee to Appeal to U. S. Officials Not to Act—Prices on July and September Crops Set.

Chicago, May 16.—Agreement to spread the ban on wheat buying over the United States and Canada was reached in Chicago at a conference of representatives of leading grain exchanges of this country and of the Winnipeg mart.

At the conference a committee of three was named to go to Washington at once and appeal to the department of agriculture to have the federal authorities leave the matter of adjustment of the wheat situation to the several boards of trade of the country.

The men named were J. H. McMillan, Minneapolis; N. L. Moffitt, St. Louis, and C. B. Pierce of Chicago.

The plan adopted by the Chicago board of trade to curb wheat prices and keep down the cost of flour was endorsed at the session which was held in the board of trade building. An indefinite ban on trading in futures was agreed on and the only new buying allowed will be that to close existing contracts.

The Chicago prices—$2.75 for July wheat, $2.45 for September wheat, May corn $1.61 1/2 and May oats 73 1/2 cents—probably will be adopted as the standard.

The following statement was given out:

"The delegates assembled in Chicago May 15, 1917, comprising representative millers from the southwest, the northwest and the middle West, as well as prominent grain merchants from other sections of the country, have approved of what was done by the different exchanges in fixing maximum prices, and have decided to recommend to the various exchanges which they represent that such prices be continued and the buying restricted to the closing of existing contracts until further notice.

"The action which has been taken, we believe, has been very beneficial to the public in stabilizing prices and counteracting the hysteria that has prevailed in this country for some time past.

"The exchanges represented are: Minneapolis chamber of commerce, St. Louis merchants' exchange, Kansas City board of trade, Omaha grain exchange, New York produce exchange, Duluth board of trade, Toledo produce exchange, Winnipeg grain exchange.

"JOHN R. MAUFF, Chairman; Vice President Chicago Board of Trade.

"E. C. ANDREWS, Vice President St. Louis Merchants' Exchange.

"G. S. CARKEKER, President Kansas City Board of Trade."

July wheat opened in Chicago at $2.55 and closed at $2.52, 17 cents less than the closing price on Monday, September opened at $2.26, sold down to $2.15 and closed at $2.21, a loss of 7 to 8 cents under Monday.

Best brands of flour dropped at wholesale from $17.80 to $17.

Directors of the Chicago board adopted a resolution extending the ban on futures trading which would have expired today.

TO RUSH FOOD LEGISLATION

Senators and Representatives Confer With the President at the White House.

Washington, May 16.—Thirty-seven senators and representatives, members of the agricultural committees of the house and senate; Secretary Houston and Herbert C. Hoover are in consultation with President Wilson at the White House on plans for rushing food legislation.

A bill drawn by the administration granting the president the greatest powers ever given an executive of the United States was introduced into the house.

The president is given dictatorial powers over railroad and steamship lines and can stop transportation of all products other than munitions of war or food intended for the allies.

PEOPLE TO VOTE ON PROHIBITION

Senate Passes Evjue Bill Without Adopting Any of the Proposed Amendments.

NOW GOES TO THE GOVERNOR

Issue Will Be Decided at Spring Election Next Year—Three Military Measures Win in the House.

Madison.—The people of Wisconsin will have up before them for decision at the spring election in 1918 the important question of prohibition, the Evjue bill having passed the senate without any amendment. The half-dozen attempts to change the bill were voted down and the measure came through in its original form. The bill has already been through the assembly and was only put through the senate after a hard fight. It now goes to the governor, and it is believed that it will have his approval.

Amendments to compensate the brewery workers in case the state went dry, to prohibit the sale of drugs containing alcohol were voted down. The vote on passage was 21 to 11. The crucial test on the bill came on the Burke amendment to fix the date of holding the election in April, 1920. This was defeated by a vote of 17 to 15.

By a 46 to 18 vote, on motion of Assemblyman W. L. Smith of Milwaukee, the house tabled the Wilcox bill appropriating $50,000 annually in the building of armories. Assemblyman E. A. Everett said that the state might be called upon to build barracks and for that reason he was against the armory bill appropriation.

Seed for Prison Farm.
The Carl Hansen resolution to adjourn the legislature sine die June 9 was tabled. Under a suspension of the rules a bill appropriating $8,000 to buy seed and machinery to operate the new prison farm at Waupun was passed. There was no opposition to the passage of the Everett bill, creating a board to be composed of the insurance commissioner, a member of the state industrial commission and a third to be appointed by the governor, with power to regulate workmen's compensation rates, and classifications in this state. This bill is a part of the administration program and now goes to the senate for further consideration. The Donnelly bill for the regulation of cold storage plants was passed with only one vote in opposition. A bill appropriating $64,000 for deficits in the Wisconsin state prison and the Wisconsin state hospital for the insane was passed. By a vote of 40 to 21, the house passed the Ohi bill providing for the payment of wages of state employees semi-monthly.

To Establish Tuberculosis Sanitarium.
By unanimous vote the joint committee on finance has recommended for passage the Baxter bill providing for the establishment of a tuberculosis sanitarium in northern Wisconsin. The board of control is empowered to make the selection of the site for the institution. Appearing before the finance committee was Otto F. Bradley of the Wisconsin anti-tuberculosis society. He favored the passage of the bill, declaring that such an institution was necessary in northern Wisconsin and pointing out the advantages of such an institution in that section of the state.

The joint finance committee of the legislature has also recommended for passage a bill giving the state council of defense power to take charge of the food situation in case of emergency. The bill provides that whenever the council of defense shall find and determine that a scarcity of food, fuel, seeds or other personal property, necessary for the common defense, or for the general public welfare, exists or threatens while the nation is at war, that the state council of defense shall have power to take charge of the situation. The bill further provides that whenever the prices are excessive, extortionate or prohibitive that the council is empowered to take possession of such amounts of any or all property as it may deem necessary and shall pay just compensation for the same. The bill gives the council of defense the right to take charge of the storage warehouses and all storage facilities and to compensate the owners by a reasonable price.

Plan Extensive Bean Crops.
Hundreds of acres of land in Wisconsin's sandstone belt will be planted to beans this season. Besides being a prearranged measure this, it is believed, will be especially profitable for the crop promises to bring high prices.

It is not improbable that banks and commercial organizations in the bean-growing districts will get behind a movement to secure seed for those who cannot obtain it locally.

Tax Only Property.
The assembly engrossed a bill providing that hereafter assessments of the property of light and power companies extending into two or more districts shall be on the basis of property and not on the basis of business and property. The latter bill is designed to circumvent in a measure a recent decision of the Wisconsin supreme court. By a vote of 21 to 45, the assembly killed the Grell bill, providing for the manufacture and branding of skinned milk cheese in Wisconsin. A similar bill was defeated in the assembly two years ago.

Cut Normal School Appropriation.

The joint finance committee has reduced the requested appropriations of the nine state normal schools $125,000. The regents of the normal schools will make an effort to have this amount restored to the normal school appropriation bill. Over the vigorous objections by Senator Fred A. Baxter, speaking for the finance committee, the senate has adopted a motion to hear arguments on the normal school appropriation bill before the senate sitting as a committee of the whole. Senator Baxter declared that the motion virtually undid everything the finance committee has accomplished within the last three months.

The assembly has engrossed a bill changing the apportionment of street railway taxes. Under the present law 85 per cent of these taxes are distributed among the localities through which the interurban operates and 15 per cent goes to the state for making the assessment. The bill as engrossed in the assembly provides that 15 per cent of the taxes shall go to the state, 65 per cent to the towns and 20 per cent to the counties in which these lines operate.

Check on High Prices.

A bill to check abnormally high prices by giving the attorney general additional powers to prosecute combinations and conspiracies to raise prices has been offered in the lower house of the Wisconsin legislature by Speaker L. C. Whitte. The bill is the outgrowth of an attempt in the city of Madison and other sections of the state to raise milk prices and prices on other articles of food. In a statement to newspaper correspondents a few days ago Attorney General Owen outlined his plan of campaign against combinations which are formed for the purpose of boosting prices, and declared that such combinations would be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. He pointed out, however, that there were some drawbacks in the Wisconsin statutes which should be corrected.

Acting upon the suggestion of Attorney General Owen, Speaker L. C. Whitte has drafted a bill which defines conspiracies and combinations formed for the purpose of boosting prices. It makes such combinations unlawful and not only gives the attorney general of the state power to prosecute these combinations, but clothes this officer with power to make full investigation of suspected combinations.

Food Emergency Agents.
Assistant food emergency agents have been appointed in several counties. They will aid the agricultural representatives of these counties and act in co-operation with the state and county Councils of Defense.

Gus Seil, agricultural instructor in the Oromo High school, will assist in the Winnebago county Defense Council for which Reid F. Murray is the emergency food agent. L. J. Martell, superintendent of Brown county schools, has been secured to aid the local committees in food production at Green Bay, under the leadership of E. A. Carncross, agricultural representative.

R. E. Brasure, principal of the Cranston high school, will help Agricultural Representative Schwendart in his campaign in Forest county. J. E. Phillips, county superintendent of Taylor county schools, has responded to the call and will join forces with farmers and business men working in conjunction with R. A. Kolb, county agricultural agent.

Sauk county's farm defense program for this season will be placed in immediate charge of George W. Davies, county superintendent of schools, working in co-operation with field men from the College of Agriculture.

Announcements of other appointments in the emergency service will be made from time to time, following definite action by local authorities.

Sowing Crops and Silage.
"Plan now for sowing crops and silage to save hay and grain and to supplement the scant pastures of mid-summer."

This foresighted policy is being considered by dairy and cattle farmers in many parts of Wisconsin, and a strong appeal along this line is being voiced by G. C. Humphrey, animal husbandry department, College of Agriculture.

In view of the immediate need for Wisconsin farmers to secure a maximum production this season as an essential defense measure, the points emphasized by Mr. Humphrey regarding summer live stock feeding are highly important. In brief, they are: "Supplementing pastures, and saving hay and grain with succulent feeds such as silage and molasses crops; these permit a larger herd to be kept throughout the year, the normal production more evenly maintained, and cows will be in better shape to enter the winter."

"By planning for a series of sowing crops, starting early in the spring, using clover, alfalfa, peas, sweet corn and 'succotash,' which can be placed in the silo between June 15 and July 1, if necessary, farmers are insured against loss."

Railroad Taxes Pouring In.
Over $2,500,000 of railroad taxes have been paid into the state treasury during the past two days. Railroads pay their taxes in May and November, one-half each time. The total tax assessed against all of the railroads of Wisconsin for collection during the present year is $5,328,476.69. To date the railroads have paid $2,064,238, the largest check coming from the Northwestern line, $896,455.60. The "Soo" line sent a check for $95,130.51; the Omaha, $294,783.22; the Wisconsin Central, $311,509.06; the St. Paul, $747,023.20.

Many farmers throughout the potato sections of the north especially are disinfecting their seed stock in the proper manner. Officials of the State Agricultural college at work here are advocating the use of corrosive sublimate this year in place of formaldehyde because of the prevalence of black scurf, which cannot be controlled by the latter.

PREPARE MORE LAND - GROW MORE FOOD

"Seed and Feed" the Slogan of the Year.

The papers are filled with the appeal for soldiers, sailors and farmers, and all are timely, all are necessary. The sailor is needed to man the ships that protect the shores, police the seas and clear the ocean of tormenting and meddlesome masked buccaners to give help to the allies, to make more efficient the present fighting units that are keeping free the seaplanes and ocean routes. The soldier is required to keep alive and intact the unity of the world, to protect the lives of its citizens from incursions without and raids within, to guard the honor and preserve the dignity of the great United States, to render not only sentimental but practical assistance to those who for two and a half years on the battlefields of Flanders and the steppes of the East have been fighting for the freedom of the world against a dominant autocratic and militarist Prussianism, which were it to become successful, would mean autocracy, militarism and Prussianism, and a "get-off-the-side-walkism" over the entire world. The allies are proud to welcome these new accessions to the fighting forces, which mean an earlier termination of the war and the dawn of an era that will be historic, one that we will all be proud that we lived in. Throughout all Canada, Great Britain, France, and all the allied countries, when the news was received that the United States had entered the war, a thrill went up and down the nation's sides, and the pulses throbbed with a new life, keenly appreciative of the practical sentiment that had brought to their sides an ally of the strength and virility of the United States.

But the soldier and the sailor need to be fed, and therefore the cry for agricultural enlistment, the strength of the fighting man must be maintained. In his absence from the field there comes the necessity for provision to take his place. The appeal for farm help is well timed, opportune and important. There are vacant lands aplenty in the United States that, given a fair opportunity under competent advisement and reasonable help, will produce abundantly. Western Canada also provides an excellent field for the prosecution of an excellent field for the production of wheat in growing wheat and other grains, and while it is not the desire of the Canadian Government to draw from the resources of the United States, believing that it is the duty of every patriotic citizen to do all he possibly can to build up the stores of depleted foods and making use of every energy at home, the wish is to lay before the public the fact that Canada has millions of acres of excellent land capable of producing wonderful crops. If for any reason the reader, having patriotism and a love of his country in his heart, and a desire to forward the cause of the allies, cannot avail himself of the opportunities afforded in the United States, Western Canada will be glad to render him any assistance it can in locating him on its vacant areas, where large crops can be grown at minimum cost. Let us grow the grain, raise the cattle, produce the food to feed our soldiers, our sailors and provide food for our allies, no matter whether it is done to the North or to the South of the boundary line that in the object in view should not be known as a boundary. Let us keep up the spirit of patriotism, whether it be growing grain in the United States or in Canada, but Canada, fully alive to the necessity, joins in the appeal of its allies—the United States—for more food and more food.—Advertisement.

Something Promised.
"Of course you expect to reduce the cost of living with that little two by four garden of yours," sneered the cynical person.

"Not materially," replied the suburban optimist. "But I've given away several cans of angleworms dug up in the course of my agricultural labors. If there is such a thing as luck in fishing and gratitude in the human heart, I may have some fish for breakfast."

THE 3 D'S IN DODD'S

Mr. Robert W. Ferguson, Hingham, Mass., writes: I suffered from kidney disorder for years. Had incessant backache and trouble. Nearly died from it at one time while in Vancouver, but overcame it by a persistent use of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Finally I was completely cured. I occasionally use the remedy now in order to keep the kidneys regulated. I have the highest praise for Dodd's. Be sure to get "DODD'S," the name with the three D's for deranged, disordered, diseased kidneys, just as Mr. Ferguson did. No similar named article will do.—Adv.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

The one requisite to good health, good looks, sweet temper, prosperity in business and general success in life is sleep.

—Gail Hamilton.

SAVORY DISHES.

Mayonnaise dressing may be varied by adding different chopped vegetables, stirring them into the dressing before adding the whipped cream. A fourth of a cupful of pimento washed and put through a sieve with a wooden spoon; add to a cupful of mayonnaise dressing and serve it with fish.

Louis Salad.—Cut canned or fresh pineapple in strips an inch long and a fourth of an inch wide and thick; cut two apples in the same manner and squeeze over them the juice of half a lemon. Cut heart stalks of celery in the same way and have an equal quantity of each ingredient. Mix with mayonnaise and serve in heart leaves of lettuce.

Mayonnaise with chopped pickle and capers with some onion and parsley is another good fish sauce.

Onions Stuffed With Rice.—Parboil the onions, rinse in cold water and remove the centers. Fill with rice that has been cooked tender in broth or milk and water; season with salt, curry powder and tomato catchup. Cover with a buttered paper, add broth to the dish and let the onions cook until tender. Use the liquid in the dish to make a sauce to serve with the onions.

Chocolate Pie.—Scald two cupfuls of milk, mix together a half-cupful of sugar and a fourth of a cupful of cornstarch and a pinch of salt; stir into the hot milk, cook 15 minutes, then add two squares of melted chocolate; beat the yolks of two eggs, add a fourth of a cupful of sugar to them, and turn into the mixture. Fill a baked shell with the chocolate mixture and cover with a meringue made of the whites of the eggs, two tablespoonfuls of sugar and a half-teaspoonful of vanilla. Set in the oven until it has browned to a pale amber shade.

Cheese sauce prepared by making a white sauce, using two tablespoonfuls of butter and two of flour; cook together, then add a cupful of rich milk, and when smooth and free from lumps, add a half-cupful of grated cheese. Serve this with poached eggs, after seasoning well.

He who has a thousand friends has not one friend to spare, and he who has an enemy will meet him everywhere.

A DAY OF DATES.

Dates are so well liked and are not costly fruit, which should make them more commonly used. A few stuffed dates, stuffed with peanuts or any other nut meats well liked, then rolled in sugar, will furnish a most wholesome and economical dessert and one which need not be refused to the small people.

Cream Dates.—Spread a cupful of dates which has been stoned, washed, dried and cut in quarters on a plate, and sprinkle with lemon juice. Prepare two cupfuls of sweetened whipped cream, fold in the beaten whites of two eggs and stir in the dates. Pile lightly in a glass dish and keep very cold until time to serve. Serve with a delicate nut cake or a sponge cake.

Date Blanc Manger.—Flavor a quart of thin custard with vanilla, stir in two cupfuls of chopped dates, pour into a mold, and set on ice. When cold, turn out and cover with whipped cream, or stiffly beaten whites of two eggs, sweetened.

Date Bread.—Make a sponge with a quart of lukewarm water, half a compressed yeastcake, a teaspoonful of salt, 1½ pints of flour, set to rise in a warm place. When light and spongy, add a half-cupful each of sugar and molasses and sufficient flour to make a dough. Work in four tablespoonfuls of chopped dates, knead and set to rise again. When light, mold into loaves, and when well risen bake three-quarters of an hour in a moderate oven.

A most delicious mixture for cream puffs is made by filling them with chopped dates mixed with sweetened and flavored whipped cream.

Bread, buttered and placed in a baking dish, sprinkled with chopped dates and over all is poured a custard; bake and serve cold.

Date Gems.—Sift together five cupfuls of flour and two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, a teaspoonful of cinnamon and two teaspoonfuls of butter over the fire in a saucepan, when the butter is soft, stir and beat for ten minutes, adding one cupful of milk. Add the dry ingredients and a half-cupful of well-flouring dates. Bake in buttered gem pans.

Quality Frosting.—Mix together three-fourths of a cupful of granulated sugar and five-eighths of a cupful of brown sugar, add a fourth of a cupful of water and boil until it threads, then pour over an egg-white beaten stiff, flavor with vanilla and beat until it is stiff. Warm over hot water and spread.

Fads And Fancies Of Fashion

Warlike makes us pause to think twice before indulging ourselves in new furbelows. We have looked to them heretofore, to provide that variety which is the spice of apparel, but now a sense of economy and fitness make some retrenchment the order of the day. But far be it from the American woman to allow her appearance to become favorless for lack of something new.

Her resource lies in and on her own head. Now is the time to experiment with coiffures and blossom out in a new hair dress every once in a while. Few women realize what magic lies in the coiffure and how wholly the appearance may be changed by changing its style. Now that every woman is expected to do her bit by making herself useful in some direction she will have occasion to think up the best way of doing her hair for work and for play. We are about to get into thoroughly modern and up-to-date gardening clothes and to do real gardening and with khaki for other sorts of service.

(whichever is more becoming), and brought down over the ears and forehead. Small invisible pins fasten it to place at the sides. The ends are curled in small, soft, flat coils and pinned close to the head—one coil at each side of the back. They do not interfere with its contour.

When midsummer comes women take to simple decorative ideas on their hats and gowns and get away from many furbelows. The sheer dresses that delight those who have a cultivated sense of clothes must be about as cool and crisp looking as an article. Or they must be of soft, fascinating fabrics that look no more burdensome than a cloud, like the dress of white crepe shown in the picture.

If you know of a sweet girl graduate that hasn't settled upon the style of her frock for the great day, or a bride who is casting about for something beyond criticism for her bridesmaids, call her attention to this pretty model for a midsummer gown. It might be

Apostle of Poverty.
 Eaton La Rue Moses, who died recently in Jamestown, N. Y., at the age of eighty years, was an apostle of poverty. Highly educated, of pleasing address and manners and the father of a family, he habitually dressed like a tramp, maintained no regular home and wandered about a wide district. Graduate of Cornell, classmate of Andrew D. White, welcomed for his conversion in the homes of many well-to-do friends, he despised money and property, accumulated none and died practically penniless as he desired.

YES! MAGICALLY! CORNS LIFT OUT WITH FINGERS

You say to the drug store man, "Give me a small bottle of freezeone." This will cost very little but will positively remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet.

A few drops of this new ether compound applied directly upon a tender, aching corn relieves the soreness instantly, and soon the entire corn or callus, root and all, dries up and can be lifted off with the fingers.

This new way to rid one's feet of corns was introduced by a Cincinnati man, who says that freezeone dries in a moment, and simply shrivels up the corn or callus without irritating the surrounding skin.

If your druggist hasn't any freezeone tell him to order a small bottle from his wholesale drug house for you.—adv

AN OPERATION AVERTED

Philadelphia, Pa.—"One year ago I was very sick and I suffered with pains in my side and back until I nearly went crazy. I went to different doctors and they all said I had female trouble and would not get any relief until I would be operated on. I had suffered for four years before this time, but I kept getting worse the more medicine I took. Every month since I was a young girl I had suffered with cramps in my sides at periods and was never regular. I saw your advertisement in the newspaper and the picture of a woman who had been saved from an operation and this picture was impressed on my mind. The doctor had given me only two more days to make up my mind so I sent my husband to the drug store at once for a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and believe me, I soon noticed a change and when I had finished the third bottle I was cured and never felt better. I grant you the privilege to publish my letter and am only too glad to let other women know of my cure."—Mrs. THOS. MCGONIGAL, 3432 Hartville Street, Phila., Pa.

Although obviously suffering an agony of nervousness, he managed to say some bitter things about the Irish members.

Whereupon one of the Nationalists started to punctuate his remarks with jeers, thereby intensifying the youthful member's nervousness to an almost pitiable degree. Redmond turned on his follower in fury.

"Give the lad a chance!" he snapped. The jeers ceased.

And the Girl Screamed.
 One of the best stories related by Samuel I. Levin concerns a couple of stage gymnasts, one of whom hung by his feet from a lofty trapeze, holding in his teeth a gag attached to a swivel, which carried his partner by the belt. The lower man, in a horizontal position, face downward, swung round and round, but became so indifferent to his circumstances that his eye wandered over the hall.

"Bill," he thoughtlessly remarked to his bearer, "your girl's here."

As thoughtlessly Bill said, "Where?" and as he opened his mouth lost hold of the gag, precipitating his unhappy comrade many feet to the boards below.

small towns. Invariably, they pronounced these articles seasonable, up to date, and the prices in favor of the small town dealers—very much so.

The facts are, any unprejudiced investigation will show that the country towns today can and do render to the community it serves a high-grade, up-to-date service—a service always a little better than the patronage the town really warrants. Goods of the latest design are offered at prices that cannot be duplicated, taken in the main, by any city merchant, and the farmer who lives within a few miles of his home town is offering his family about all the really desirable advantages that can be obtained by ordinary means. The merchants keep for inspection and purchase, at the farmer's very door, about all of the good things the country affords. All everyday requirements can be taken care of at a moment's notice.

Schools and churches, places of country town society and all the advantages of community life, come with the home town. Life under such conditions is very much worth while, and that is the reason why farm land close to town is by far more valuable than identical property in the city and remote from these advantages. We should honor the bridge that carries us safely over the stream. We should appreciate advantages that add to our enjoyment of life and increase the value of our earthly possessions.

Nothing in our present day existence has done more to bring about the desirable conditions we now enjoy than the country town in which we really are community stockholders, because the prosperity of the town depends upon the individuals who support it and the town, if well supported, returns to those individuals mighty big dividends on the investment.

Farmer's "Locals" Are Rallying

More than 300 active rural clubs and many social centers will be enlisted in recruiting "Wisconsin's army of the commissary" for the production of larger and better crops this season.

These organizations the state must look for aid in the mobilization of local agencies in food production declared C. J. Galpin, secretary of the Wisconsin County life conference.

Instead of dropping the club movement at this time as naturally happens when spring comes, more effort than ever should be exerted to hold the members together. Special meetings of every club, Grange, Society of Equity, and social center in the state would help mightily in the national cause at present.

Until a thorough plan is developed by the State Council of Defense, the local farmers' organizations can speed things along by appointing committees and keeping in touch with all forces to increase production and better marketing.

Seven counties of Wisconsin where farmers' clubs have federated possess additional advantages at this time for rendering splendid service. These are Marinette, Walworth, Buffalo, Pepin, Polk, Sauk, Oconto, and Eau Claire. Several other counties have strong centers and county school superintendents will be able to help in the cause by calling special meetings at country schools.

Fertile Eggs Cost The Farmer $15,000,000 a Year

Farmers lose $15,000,000 annually from bad methods of producing and handling eggs. One third of this loss is preventable, because it is due to the partial hatching of fertile eggs which have been allowed to become warm enough to begin to incubate.

You can save the $15,000,000 now lost from blood rings by keeping the male bird from your flock after the hatching season is over.

The rooster does not help the hens lay. He merely fertilizes the germ of the egg. The fertile germ in hot weather quickly becomes a blood ring which spoils the egg for food and market. Summer heat has the same effect on fertile eggs as the hen or incubator.

After the hatching season cook, sell or pen your rooster. Your hens not running with a male bird will produce infertile eggs—quality eggs that keep best and market best.

Heat is the great enemy of eggs; not fertile and infertile. Farmers are urged to follow these simple rules, which cost nothing but time and thought and will add dollars to the poultry yard returns:

1. Keep the nests clean; provide one nest for every four hens.
2. Gather the eggs twice daily.
3. Keep the eggs in a cool dry room or cellar.
4. Mark the eggs at least twice a week.
5. Sell, kill or confine all male birds as soon as the hatching season is over.

CLEAR AWAY THE WASTE

Bowel regularity is the secret of good health, bright eyes, clear complexion, and Dr. King's New Life Pills are a mild and gentle laxative that regulates the bowels and relieves the congested intestines by removing the accumulated wastes without griping. Take a pill before retiring and that heavy head, that dull spring fever feeling disappears. Get Dr. King's New Life Pills at your druggist, 25c.

Sour stomach, clogged up bowels, pimples, blackheads, foul breath are evils of constipation. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea regulates the bowels, improves the blood, cleans the stomach—a medicine the whole family should take. —Edw. C. Miller.

BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

BOY SCOUTS AND WAR

In an official statement just issued, telling what the boy scouts will do in case of war, the national council of the Boy Scouts of America makes it clear that no distinctive or definite part will be taken by the scouts in any military operations, and that no local organizations will have authority to involve scouts in such service. It is stated that it will be the privilege and pleasure of each member to volunteer his services for co-operation with the local civic authorities, and that the training which scouts have had will make them efficient and dependable in doing such work as—

- Rendering first aid to the sick or injured.
- Sending messages by wire, wireless, or semaphore.
- Co-operating in the protection of property by accepting definite assignments for the purpose of giving alarm in the case of danger.
- Acting as messengers and co-operating with agencies organized for relief work.

TAMING OF "HOOLIGANS."

Emergency station conducted by Scouts at Confederate reunion in Birmingham, Ala.

The English "Hooligan" corresponds to the American rough neck. He is the fellow who drapes himself about the corner saloon, spits tobacco juice on the pavement and makes obnoxious remarks about passers-by.

Gen. Sir Robert Baden Powell has long devoted a part of his time to the taming of young "Hooligans." The taming of lions, tigers and other large pussy cats would be easier but he feels that it would be less profitable from the standpoint of the nation.

His recipe for doing the job is: First, catch your Hooligan; second, make him an associate member of a scout troop; third, let him become a scout as soon as he qualifies, which in 90 per cent of the cases has been found to be about a week or two.

Many of them have already been rewarded for public service. It is a pathetic sight to see a real Hooligan who has been a "bobby baltter" suddenly turn into an orderly for the police—a "copper's companion," as one of them called himself.

NOTES OF THE SCOUTS.

A scout! He enjoys a hike through the woods more than he does a walk over the city's streets. He can talk north or south or east or west by the "signs." He can tie a knot that will hold, he can climb a tree which seems impossible to others, he can swim a river, he can pitch a tent, he can mend a tear in his trousers, he can tell you which fruits and seeds are poisonous and which are not, he can sight numbering trees at a distance; if living near ocean or lake he can reef a sail or take his trick at the wheel, and if near any body of water at all he can pull an oar or use paddles and sculls; in the woods he knows the names of birds and animals; in the water he tells you the different varieties of fish.

The Boy Scouts of Ruston, La., have written Dr. Oscar Dowling, president of the state board of health, saying that they have secured the state mosquito survey of their town and propose to eradicate mosquitoes and flies. With this object in view, they have requested the state board of health to detail an inspector to assist them in starting the work.

It is stated that Iowa is the home of at least 354 different varieties of birds. The Boy Scouts of that state claim that there are at least 370 varieties of birds in the state and intend to prove their statement. They will make notes on all birds that they see and send these to some central office where they will be carefully studied and arranged.

Boy Scouts of Waycross, Ga., have induced one of the local papers to allow them to get out a Scout edition. The boys are furnishing the news and will see to it that their own edition has a large circulation.
