Without such guarantees treaties of ment, covenants to set up arbitration in the place of force, territorial adjustments, reconstitutions of small nations, if made with the German government, no man, no nation could now depend on. We must await some new evidence of the purposes of the great peoples of the central powers. God grant it may be given soon and in a way to restore the confidence of all people everywhere in the faith of nations.

"To deal with such a power by way of peace upon the plan proposed by his holiness, the pope, would, so far as we can see, involve a recuperation of its strength and a renewal of its policy: would make it necessary to create a permanent hostile comblnation of nations against the German people, who are its instruments; and would result in abandoning the newborn Russla to the intrigues, the manifold subtle interference, and the certain counter-revolution which would be attempted by all the malign influences to which the German government has of late accustomed the world. Can peace be based upon a restitution honor it could pledge in a treaty of settlement and accommodation?

"Responsible statesmen must now everywhere see, if they never saw hefore, that no peace can rest securely upon political or economic restrictions meant to benefit some nations and cripple or embarass others, upon vindicative action of any sort, or any The American people have suffered inman people, who have themselves suffered all things in this war, which stitute Washington's first quota. they did not choose. The prince followed John into the little sitting room. He was dressed, as usual, with scrupulous care. His tie was fastened with a wonderful pearl, and his fingers were perhaps a trifle overmanicured. He wore a bunch of Parma violets in his buttonhole, and he carried with him a very faint but unusual perfume, which seemed to John like the odor of delicate green tea.

It was just these details, and the slowness of his speech, which alone accentuated his foreign origin.

"It occurred to me," he said, as he seated himself in an easy chair, "that if you are really intending to make this experiment in town life of which Miss Maurel spoke, I might be of some assistance to you. There are certain matters, quite unimportant in themselves, concerning which a little advice in the beginning may save you trouble."

At half past one they were shown into Louise's little drawing room. There were three or four men already present, standing

"Come," she invited, "prove to me that you are a thought reader !" He sank back in his corner. His hands, with their short, stubby fingers, were clasped in front of him. His eyes, wide open and alert, seemed fixed upon her with the ingenuous inquisitlyeness of a child.

"To begin, then, I find our friend, the prince of Seyre, a most interesting, I might almost say fascinating, study." Louise did not reply. After a moment's pause, he continued.

The government figures at the mines, long tons, are: Egg coal, $4.45; stove coal, $4.70; pea coal, $4, where mines are owned by the railroads which haul direct to big consumers.

To Wisconsin users of coal the following figures can be added per ton. according to data compiled by the council of defense: From the mines to Buffalo, $1.75; docking at Buffalo, 25 cents; boat to Milwaukee, 50 cents; overhead in handling about, $1.50; profit, 50 cents, or a total of $4.60. This would allow stove coal to sell in Milwaukee at $9.30.

> The state board of public affairs is now conducting an investigation of the cost of handling coal in Wisconsin. Secretary A. H. Melville, of the Wisconsin Council of Defense, says that in no case should overhead rates exceed $1.50 per ton. The preliminary investigation made by the board of public affairs showed an overhead of from $1.10 to $1.50. The question of what is a reasonable profit on coal has not yet been determined. In some of the investigations made by the federal and state government this profit was found to be as high as $1 a ton and above. Men connected with the Council of Defense, however, think that 50 cents a ton or below would be a reasonable profit. One coal dealer in Madison handles 40,000 tons of coal a year. This would give him a profit of $$20,000 above his overhead expenses. Some time ago Gov. They turned round and spun once more into the network of moving vehicles and streaming pedestrians. John was slient, and his companion, for a little while, humored him. Soon, however, she touched him on the arm. A queer gravity had come into her dainty Ittle face.

"Are you really in love with Louise?" she inquired, with something of his own directness.

He answered her with perfect seriotsness.

"I be'teve so," he admitted, "but I should not like to say that I am absointely certain. I have come here to find out."

Expect Much Legislation.

More and more it is apparent that a great deal of legislation is to be asked at the special session here late in the fall. The definite demands on the govhigh ernor for legislation are coming in daily and there are at least ten or twelve subjects now about which requests have been made for legislation.

One of the questions which will be asked at the legislature will be for a decided amendment of the Sunday labor law. Cheap Carnivals Hit by Council.

The state council of defense has gone after the cheup carnival. The following statement by Secretary A. H. Melville has just been sent to all county councils and the campaign is on against immoral shows:

"There is always some criticism of traveling shows of a doubtful character, but this year it is especially vigorous. In view of the state and national campaigns for economy, it is absurd to encourage these wasteful organizations merely for the sake of the amusement which they furnish.

"Heulthful amusement and wholesome entertainment, if economically handled, should be encouraged. Caralvals carefully planned by local committees are usually of this type. These the state council of defense has no disposition to criticize, but it wishes emphatically to place its stamp of disapproval upon the floating carnival of low character, which visits towns only to 'bleed' them as much as possible.

Girl Drives Delivery Car. Watertown-Other Wisconsin cities may lay claim to the honor of employ ing women in lumber vards, factories or as messenger girls, but Watertown is the first city, so far it is believed, to have the distinction of having the first delivery girl on account of the war. She is Miss Edna Ellrich and is driving a delivery motor car for a meat dealer.

Two Drown From Rocking Bost. Ladysmith - Laura Schleau and Rachel Stewart, in company with a member of the Rice Lake militia company, while boating on Rice Lake, rocked the boat so it capsized. Both girls drowned. Their companion is in a hospital after a desperate effort to save the girls.

Wausau Has Company.

Wausau-A Wausau company of the Wisconsin National guard has been mustered into service with fifty-three members. The officers are Cyrus C. Yawkey, captain: Fred C. Becker, first lieutenant; A. P. Woodson, second lieutenant. Thirteen names are on the roll and will be mustered later.

Autoists Have Close Call.

Wausau -- An automobile driven by Henry Kruse of Mosinee, carrying four passengers, broke through the barriers and plunged down a forty-foot embankment to the edge of the Wisconsin river at Kronenwetter. The machine was demolished but the occupants escaped with slight injuries.

Chippewa Gets New Depot.

Chippewa Falls - The Wisconsin Construction company of this city was awarded the contract for the construct tion of the Soo passenger depot on East Canal street. The approximate cost of the depot will be around $20,-000. It will be 103 feet long and constructed of brick and stone.

Dairies Average Good.

That Wisconsin dairy conditions are in excellent shape is the claim of State Dairy and Food Commissioner George J. Weigle, who made public the results of a state-wide investigation.

"For the year ending June 30, 1917. the various inspectors and members of the dairy and food department have visited 210 cities for the purpose of collecting samples of milk and cream offered for sale," says Commissioner Weigle. "At the same time inspection has been made of the places where the milk was produced and handled. "In these 210 cities, 691 samples of milk were collected from nearly as many dealers or persons selling milk. In a few cases duplicate samples were collected from the same dealer if more than one wagon was used. LIMBS MADE OF CARDBOARD Artificial Leg. Invented by Danish Doctor, Enables Wearer to Walk Soon

After Amputation.

A Danish doctor at a hospital in Paris has invented a cardboard leg which enables the wearer to go about without crutches two days after his limb has been amputated.

The materials used are two sheets of cardboard about three-sixteenth of said: an inch thick, and bandages soaked in a starch solution. After careful measurements have been taken the cardboard is cut into what looks like two peg-tops, which after being soaked in the bath fold round each other and are secured with bandages.

The principle is that of an egg in a cup, and the patient can wear the leg long before the wound is completely healed. He can thus get air and exercise, which it is usually impossible to obtain at this phase of his convalescence; also he has to suffer none of the inconveniences of crutches, a stick sufficing for his needs. The leg. properly treated, lasts from six months to a year, by which time a permanent artificial limb is ready to be fitted.

"As the tramp, bowing and scraping started off, the restaurateur called him back and said:

"There may be some change. In that event, take another bath."
