IMPORTANT BILLS PASSED IN SESSION

Here are the most important measures passed by congress at the special war session:

Declaration of war against Germany on April 6. War bond issues aggregating $15,538,000,000. War appropriations and contract authorizations totalling $14,390,000,000.

War loans aggregating $7.-000,000,000 to the allies. The selective draft bill, making 10,000,000 men liable to mili-

As a part of the scheme of meeting these enormous expenditures congress passed the $2,535,000,000 war revenue bill, the largest taxation bill in Amerdcan history, levying directly or indirectly upon every man, women and child in the United States. Something more than a billion dollars of this amount will be taken from war profits. All incomes more than $1,000 for single men and more than $2,000 for married men are made subject to taxation.

Where New Taxes Fall. Here are some things upon which the average citizen will pay taxes under the new war tax bill: Approximately 2 per cent increase on incomes of $5,000 or less. Letter postage, except local letters, increased to 3 cents and postcards to to insure vessels and their cargoes and 2 cents, beginning November 3. One cent for each 10 cents paid for

The only important appointment held up was that of Col. Carl Reichmann, to be a brigadier general. Action was blocked until the December session because it was charged he uttered pro-German sentiments.

An unprecedented feature of the session was the reception of the special missions sent to the United States special representatives of Great Britain, France, Belgium, Italy, Russia and Japan addressed both houses. Invitations of the British and French governments to have the United States send a congressional mission across the Atlantic to see war conditions and co-operate with the interparliamentary congress were rejected.

SAVE FOOD AND LEND MONEY

Big Drive Throughout Nation Coming Week of October 21-28-How All Must Unite to Whip Kaiser and Bring Peace Again.

Washington.-The food pledge campaign is projected upon broad lines. but it is very simple and very plain. The food administration will marshal its whole force of half a million campaigners organized for food-pledge week, to promote the second Liberty loan. The week of October 21 to 28 has been set for the hig drive the food administration has planned to enroll all American families for food conservation. The Liberty loan campaign will be at its height at the same time. Herbert Hoover, the food ad ministrator, in a message to the fec eral food administrators, and canpaign managers of the food enrollment campaign, instructing them to exert every effort to promote the Liberty loan, called this a fortunate coincidence, since both are aimed at the same end and each will supplement the other. The Liberty loan, he says, will enable the government to lend money to the allies, and the food pledge campaign is designed to make certain that there shall be food available to pur-

So simple and so plain that they have been stated in the compass of a card-a card that it is proposed to hang in every home of the land-a card that is the "war creed of the kitchen," because, so closely are the people in this country linked to the world war, that one of the phases of the struggle must be fought out in the American kitchen.

If soldiers are to fight, they must be fed. For the past three years, one by one, our allies across the sea have been taking the men from the farm and from the factory and sending them to the firing line. Each man sent to the firing line meant one less whe could be relled upon to help produce the food that "will win the war."

If the laborer is worthy of his hire, surely the fighter is worthy of his food. That is a principle universally accepted by the American public However, it is not every product that can be sent across the sea. Corn will not serve the need; our allies have never used it as a food; they have no mills to grind it; turn it into meal in this country and it would spoil before it could reach a European port. There experts say, that we must send to our allies if our duty to them is to be discharged; they need meat, wheat, sugar and delay verifies. and dairy products. We can conserve our wheat by increasing our consumption of other grains. We can conserve our meat by making a greater demand upon the resources of the $12.00@15.00. fish market. All of these are expedients known to the American house-

If the United States were an autocratic country there would be no popular appeal for the conservation of food. There would be an autocratic food control. The mailed fist would rule in the kitchen. Imperial food decrees would be enforced at the point of the bayonet. But ours is not an autocratic country. Food control is in the hands of the people themselves, and it is to the people that the food administration has appealed in the food pledge card campaign. Herbert Hoover has termed this appeal an "unprecedented adventure in prices unchanged. democracy"-an adventure that will determine whether or not a democratic form of government is, after all, fitted to engage in a death grapple with autocracy. The food pledge week campaign resolves itself into an effort to secure as a result of voluntary agreement pledges insuring the general support for the well defined program of food conservation. The food pledge camas many of the American homes as Our wheat reserves can be conserved if everybody helps. Our meat republic co-operates. The American people are asked to join together in a common conservation policy. As evidence that they are supporting this policy they are asked to hang a card denoting membership in the United States food administration in their window. In order that Swann. the conservation policy may be understood, the reason for it made plain and the manner of observing it rendered certain, instruction cards-"The War Creed of the Kitchen"-are to be for aircraft purposes.

And that is what the national food pledge week campaign is all about.

and let it stand aside to cool. A tablespoonful of ginger mixed with three of sugar stirred into a piut of iced water makes a fine drink.

Boston Cream .- Take three quarts of boiling water, one and a half pounds of sugar, two teaspoonfuls of lemon extract, two ounces of tartaric acid and the whites of two eggs. Boil the water and allow it to get cold, then stir in the other ingredients, beating the whites until stiff. Mix well and pour into bottles and keep in the ice chest. When serving, put a pinch of soda in a glass and half fill the tumbler with ice, pour in enough of the cream to fill the glass and drink immediately.

Chocolate Sirup. - Take three squares of chocolate, one ounce of cocoa, one and a half pounds of sugar and a pint of water, one and a half teaspoonfuls of vanilla. Boil the cocoa in a double boiler ten minutes with a halfcupful of water; grate the chocolate and mix it with one-third of its measure in sugar; add this to the boiling cocoa, stirring constantly, then add the remainder of the sugar and boil for ten minutes. Remove from the fire. strain, cool and add the vanilla. This will keep in the icechest until it is used. A tablespoonful of the sirup added to cold milk or icewater topped with a marshmallow or whipped cream makes a most inviting drink.

Survivors of the Campaign of the Civil War to Be Carried to the Reunion October 16-19 at Vicksburg Free.

Madison.-In an address on the "Government Meat Inspection and the Conservation of Our Ment Supply," oefore the Rotary club in Milwaukee, Dr. J. H. Behnke, in charge of the bureau of animal industry, declared that the hog paid more mortgages, paid for more farms, sent more young people to college, made more bank accounts, paid more bills, built more homes and churches, paid more freight on the railroads, satisfied the hunger of more people, tickled the palates of more rich people than any one industry in our

"Every farmer," he said, "can do his olt by raising more hogs and raising two litters each year. The hog furnishes the most meat for a given amount of food in the quickest time, and much of the food can be used which would otherwise be wasted." Nine establishments are operating under government inspection in the city of Milwaukee, said Doctor Behnke. Continuing, he said:

"In addition to this several substations in different parts of the state are under supervision of the Milwaukee office. The packing industry of Milwaukee is of considerable importance, particularly as it applies to the slaughter of hogs. In the calendar year, 1915, in round numbers, over a million and a half hogs were slaughtered at official establishments in Milwaukee and approximately 85,000 cattle. At the present prices of live stock, 1,500,000 of hogs would represent an outlay of $50,000,000 to the farmers and shippers.

"The department estimates that an unce of meat wasted daily in each American home will mean approximately the loss of 450,000,000 pounds in a year. The office of markets has issued statements showing that our stock of cured meats, i. e., sweet pickle and dry salt as of September 1. 1916, and September 1, 1917, are apparently the same, i. e., there has been a decrease of less than 1 per cent and there has been a slight increase in the stock of lard. The price of the dressed carcasses on the other hand has increased in the last year on beef 22 per cent, mutton 57 per cent, veal 25 per cent, hogs 62 per cent. These figures speak for themselves."

A school of telegraphy to train some of the 25,000 telegraphers needed by the United States army has just been established by the University of Wisconsin as a part of its special war work, according to action just taken by the regents. It is also reported that probably 90 per cent of the toast used to garnish eggs, bacon and ham is not eaten by the Submarine Improvements. Since April 1 German submarines have been equipped with four new devices which increase their destructiveness, and render it more difficult for chasers to discover their whereabouts. Formerly the U-bonts, to remain in one spot, had to come to the surface, or anchor themselves to the bottom; but four small pumps are now used which enable them to remain stationary while submerged. This not only conserves fuel, but prevents its enemies from hearing the throb of the submarine's propellers. Telescopic periscopes give further assistance to the submarine in concealing its position. A mixture of oxygen and strained gas is now used In the engines, and the exhaust is washed free of smoke and broken into small bubbles, which do not leave a wake. Nation's Food Supply

In this time of high cost of living, everybody should use all possible means to prevent waste and to help save food. No one means can be more effective than a vigorous campaign to exterminate rars which destroy over two hundred million dollars worth of foodstuffs annually. Keep garbage in rat-proof cans, stop up their holes, and above all exterminate them with Stearns' Paste, which can be bought for a few cents at any store. A two ounce box will usually rid a house or barn of every rat. It destroys mice, cockroaches
