PREMIER LLOYD GEORGE OF ENGLAND MAKES STATEMENT AT MASS MEETING

RUSS DELAY ALLIED VICTORY

Declares Military Collapse Prevents Triumph This Year-Entente Working in the Greatest Harmony.

London, Oct. 24.-"I have scanned the horizon intently," Premier Lloyd George stated, 'and can see no terms In sight which will lead to enduring peace. The only terms now possible would mean an armed truce ending in an even more frightful struggle."

The prime minister was addressing an enthusiastic mass meeting of 10,-000 persons in Albert hall, called to inaugurate a nation-wide campaign of economy.

The premier said he had hoped the enemy's terrible power might be broken this year, but that the temporary collapse of the Russian military power had postponed this hope. Time, however, was on the sale of the allies, he added. Time once was neutral, but two things had changed this-namely. the advent of America, whose manpower was the best fighting material in the world, and the increasing failure of the German submarine war.

The allies were working in the greatest harmony, Mr. Lloyd-George continued. He said they were on the eve of the most important inter-ailied conference ever held, at which for the first time representatives of America and of the Russian democracy would be present. He stated that the con-

CHANGE DRAFT PLAN

NEW REGULATIONS FIX STATUS OF ALL MEN WHO HAVE REGISTERED.

DIVIDED INTO FIVE CLASSES

Men Without Dependents Will Be Called First Unless Vital to War Industry-Date for Next Increment to Be Jan. 1.

Washington, Oct. 23.-New draft regulations, postponing the physical examination of the remaining 7,000,000 draft registrants until they are called for military service, and assigning the men to five classes, thus determining the order of their call to the colors were announced on Saturday by Provost Marshal General Crowder. It was indicated that January 1 will be the date of the next call. Under the new regulations It will be possible for a registrant to determine whether he will be called in the first 500,000 additional men to be summoned, the second 500,000, or later contingents.

The changed system will reduce the labors of local boards by 80 per cent by reversing the present process of first conducting physical examinations and then hearing exemption claims. Hereafter all economic questions will be settled before the physical examination is held. Here is the new system in a nut-

CHAPTER II.

The train pulled out, amid a din of voices from the left-behind that nearly drowned the panting of the overloaded engine. Hyde all but stripped himself and drew on striped pajamas. King was content to lie in shirt sleeves on the other berth, with knees raised, so -there's no limit for you! Com- that Hyde could not overlook the general's papers. At his ease he studied sinuated himself into the carriage them one by one, memorizing a string of names, with details as to their owners' antecedents and probable present whereabouts. There were several photographs in the packet, and he studied them very carefully indeed.

But much most carefully of all he examined Yas:nini's portrait, returning to it again and again. He reached the conclusion in the end that when it was taken she had been cunningly disguised.

"This was intended for purpose of identification at a given time and place," he told himself. "Were you muttering at me?" asked

After more interminable hours night shut down on them, red-hot, black-dark, King dived into an inner pocket and mesmerically subdivided into seconds strangely without kicking off his shoes, drew a sheet up over his shoulders. On the opposite borth Hyde covered his from the gas lamp in the roof. He might almost have been waiting to be shaved. Long after midnight his vigil was rewarded by a slight sound manded Hyde, beginning to dress himat the door. From that instant his eyes were on the watch, under dark closed lashes; but his even breathing was that of the seventh stage of sleep that knows no dreams.

A click of the door-latch heralded the appearance of a hand. With skill, of the sort that only special training can develop, a man in native dress in-King moved in his sleep, rather noisily, and the movement knocked a book to the floor from the foot of his "By telegram, sir. My brother had herth. King sat up and rubbed his eyes. The native drew the knife, and-believing himself in command of the situation—hesitated for one priceless second. He saw his error and darted for the door too late. With a movement unbelievably swift King was there ahead of him; and with another movement not so swift, but much more disconcerting, he threw his sheet as the retiarius used to throw a net in ancient Rome. It wrapped round the native's head and arms, and the two went together to the floor in a twisted stranglehold.

In another half-minute the native was groaning, for King had his knifewrist in two hands and was bending it stomach with his knees.

The knife fell to the floor, and the thief made a gallant effort to recover it, but King was too strong for him. in his own bosom and resumed his hold before the native guessed what he was after. The train screamed itself to a standstill at a wayside station, and a man with a lantern began to chant the station's name. The instant the train's motion altogether ceased the heat shut in on them as if the lid of Tophet had been slammed. The prickly heat burst out all over Hyde's skin and King's too.

There was plenty of excuse for relaxing hold, and King made full use of it. A second later he gave a very good pretense of pain in his finger ends as the thief hurst free. The native made a dive at his bosom for the knife, but he frustrated that. Then he made a prodigious effort, just too late, to clutch the man again, and he did succeed in tearing loose a piece of shirt; but the fleeing robber must have wondered, as he holted into the blacker shadows of the station building, why such an iron-fingered, wide-awake sahih should have made such a truly feeble showing at the end.

"Hang it !- couldn't you hold him? Were you afraid of him, or what?" deself. Instead of answering, King leaned out into the lamp-lit gloom, and in a minute he caught sight of a sergeant of native infantry passing down the train. He made a sign that brought the man to him on the run.

"Did you see that runaway?" he asked. "Ha, sahib. I saw one running. Shall

I follow?" "No. This piece of his shirt will identify him. Take it. Hide it! When a man with a torn shirt, into which that piece fits, makes for the telegraph office after this train has gone on, see that he is allowed to send any telegrams he wants to! Only, have copies of every one of them wired to Captain King, care of the stationmaster, Delhi. Have you understood?"

"Ha, sahib." "Grab him, and lock him up tight afterward-but not until he has sent his telegrams!"

"Atcha, sahib." "Make yourself scarce, then!" Major Hyde was dressed, having perormed that military evolution in something less than record time. "Who was that you were talking to?" he demanded. But King did not seem to understand until the native. sergeant had quite vanished into the shadows.

The engine shricked of death and torment; the heat relaxed as the engine moved—loosened—let go—lifted at last, and a trainload of hot passengers sighed thanks.

"What are you looking at?" Hyde demanded at last, sitting on King's

"Only a knife," said King. He was standing under the dim gas lamp that helped make the darkness more unhearable. He stowed the knife away in his bosom, and the major crossed to his own side.

In Delhi, King meets Rewa Gunga, Yasmini's man, who tells him she has already gone north. In Yasmini's house the captain is given his first test of charac-

State Taxes Higher.

State tuxes, aids for educational purposes, and mill taxes for the supgate total is $4,797,945. Last year it was $4,430,736.

These taxes are levied annually in october and collected in January and state tax proper for the support of the through study." state government was fixed by the legaccording to the value of the property in that county and Secretary Hull will ortify these amounts to the county cierks of the state this week. The $4,797,945.80 to be collected this year is for the following purposes:

The amounts which go to the university and normals are on the basis of mill taxes based on the value of the property. The seven-tenth mill tax for the support of the common schools, the $175,000 for the free high school and the $200,000 for the graded schools is redistricted back to the districts, the state acting merely as an agency for collection. Because of a change in the highway law at the 1915 session of the legislagure no direct taxes are levied for that purpose. This money for highways comes out of the general fund. In 1942 the sum of $350,000; In 1913 the sum of $1,650,000, and in 1914 the sum of $1,000,000 was levied as state highway aid. This is no longer necessary because of the change in the law. During the last three years there has been no state tax for the building of the state capitol. Students Enroll for Wire Course.

More than fifty men and twenty women enrolled during the first few days in the special war course for telegraphers, which has opened at the University of Wisconsin. More are enrolling daily, for students may enroll nt any time. A large percentage of those enrolled in the course are reguinr students at the university, although the work is open to outsiders free of millon. Some of the students expect to be included in the draft soon and destre to get into the signal corps.

"What the college woman can do as her share in the war," was the theme ary 5, 1918. Applicants may be either of a mass meeting of all woman students at the university, held October 18, under the direction of the Woman Students' war council, which was organized this fall.

"The most efficient exponent of pres ent civilization she said, "has become the enemy of humanity, and has demonstrated the futility of cultivating the intellect at the expense of the finer things of the heart. Civilization, whose foundation is found only in efficiency, is unstable. We women of America must aim for the harmony of life among men, and we must enter with enthusiasm upon a new spirit of service."

Wisconsin Men Now Eligible.

Wisconsin men, contrary to popular belief, will be admitted to the third series of military training camps. This information was received by the university military department from central department headquarters in Chi-

The camps open work on Japuary and continue until April 5. A total of 2.490 men will be admitted, drawn from the graduate and undergraduate students of a selected list of schools numbering 40 in all.

Drop in Rating No Bar.

"The fact that Wisconsin has been information," said Maj. Arthur R. Kerwin. "As has been made clear before, we lost the 'distinguished' rating simply because there was no R. O. T. C. unit here last year. The unit has now been established and there is no reason in the world why the government should not give us full privileges on such a matter as this."

Qualifications Are Liberal.

Graduates of the university and undergraduates who have taken the required course of military instruction are eligible to apply for admission to the camps if they are between twentyone and thirty-one years old on Janumarried or unmarried, but preference will be given to the unmarried men No graduate or undergraduate who has not taken the full course of required work here is eligible to apply.

La Follette Is War Burden. In a proclamation calling upon the people of Wisconsin to "speed up" in the Liberty loan campaign, Governor Philipp took a slap at Senator La Fol-"In spite of misrepresentation patriotism."

Oatmeal Muffins.-Melt four tablespoonfuls of butter in a cupful of warm, cocked oatmeal, sift together a fourth of a cupful of sugar, a cupful of flour, four teaspoonfuls of baking powder and a teaspoonful of salt, add the oatmeal, one egg beaten light, and a half cupful of milk. Mix thoroughly and bake in hot well-buttered iron gem pans for 25 minutes. Orange Jelly .- Cut two oranges and one lemon in quarters, then cut each quarter into thin slices, there will be a pint of fruit, over this pour three pints of water and let stand over night. The next day let it cook until the peel is very tender, then drip through a jelly bag, pressing out all the juice. Add two and a half cupfuls of hot sugar and cook until a jelly is formed. This will make three glasses. Add the peeling to one and a half cupfuls of sugar and a fourth of a cupful of water, simmer until all the sugar is absorbed. This may be used for various puddings and as a garnish as well as a flavor for cake.

ARE NOT TAXED

Western Canada Does Not Tax Stock or Improvements but Collects an Additional Tax From Land Speculators.

Owners of uncultivated lands to Western Canada are loud in their protests against an extra tax on their lands because they are not under cultivation. Western Canada, through its provincial governments, is endeavoring to force the speculative land owner to either sell his land to a settler or to cultivate it himself. At present a surtax of a few cents an acre is levied against all wild land, so that the owner of land held in its natural state. without improvements, is contributing more taxes to the government than the owner of a farm that is cultivated and even improved with buildings and stock to the value of thousands of dollars. In order to encourage the farmer to improve and to go into stock raising, he is not charged one cent of taxes on any of his improvements, implements or stock of any kind.

As a result of this surtax on uncultivated or speculatively held lands. the owners are now trying to sell them to actual settlers, and, in nearly every instance, have been offering on very easy terms of payment, usually a quarter down, and the balance extending over a term of years at prices much lower than their productive value would warrant. A world-wide shortage in farm stuffs has given a new value to all agricultural products and the margin of profit today is greater than ever in the past. It is true labor and implements have increased in price, but it is now possible to secure 50% profit in farming. and higher. Possibly not on the $100 to $200 an acre farm lands but on land that can now, under existing conditions, be purchased at from $15 to $30 per acre. Western Canadian farm lands are as productive as any in the world and can be as economicany farmed. Wheat yields of from 30 to 50 bushels per acre have been common in Western Canada during the past few years, and the farmers have been too busy farming all they can so as to sell as much wheat as possible at $2.00 a bushel, that they have not had time to do any talking or writing. It is doubtful if there ever was such an opportunity to make hig profits in farming. The value of each year's crop has been in hundreds of cases more than the market value of the land it was grown on. It is unreasonable to suppose such a condition will last long, as the land new being forced onto the market by surax on speculative owners will soon become absorbed by those who have earned of these highly profitable wheat lands. The news is spreading gradually throughout the high priced land districts in the United States. where there is a renewed awakening to the realization that the maximum profit in farming is not being obtained when it is possible to secure from forty to seventy per cent return on the investment in Western Canada. Time to Fight Mice.

The time to fight mice is when your house is still rid of them. First make a hard and fast rule that not a crumb of food is left exposed in kitchen. pantry or cupboard. See also that in the bedrooms of your home no wafers or other tasty bits are left where a mouse might get them and thus find encouragement to take up his permanent abode there.

The next thing to do is to cut off the means of entrance to your home, and this is done by seeing that there are no loose passageways into the cellar or open cavities in the wall or loose woodwork. As a final resource you will perhaps have to choose between a mouse trap and a cat. It all depends on your affinity for the feline pet which you will do. But remember that, whereas permitting mice to lodge in your house was formerly only an act of slothful neglect, it is now one of the crimes of wastefulness, of which no patriotic woman should be guilty.-Exchange.

PREVENT POTATO WASTAGE, IS PLEA

Growers Urged to Reduce Loss Resulting From Use of Bad Storage Methods.

EXPERT MAKES SUGGESTIONS

Head of Food Administration Division Tells How Many Causes of Damage Can Be Elim-

Washington.-In order that the country may benefit from the large potato crop which was raised during the past season, the United States food administration is appealing to small growers throughout the country to take every precaution to prevent damage to the surplus crop during the coming winter through improper storage methods. In a statement just issued, Lou D. Sweet, head of the potato division of the food administration, calls attention to the chief causes of wastage and outlines the best storage methods. The statement follows:

"It is of great importance that all the potatoes raised this year should be stored under proper conditions, Even when every precaution is taken the wastage of potatoes during the winter is considerable; under bad conditions of storage it is very great indeed.

"In order that the best methods may be adopted by the small growers, those who have not had the experience in the storage of potatoes, should know the chief causes of the wastage. These causes are:

"1. Sweating, heating and consequent rot; often due to insufficient ventilation.

"2. Rotting, due to potatoes getting wer at the time of putting them in storage. "3. Injury from frost.

"4. Decay, owing to disease in the tubers at the time of storage. "5. Sprouting of tubers in the spring.

Losses May Be Reduced.

"It is not possible to prevent altogether losses from these causes, but by using the best methods of storage, It is possible to reduce them very materialiy.

"This may be done by taking care to guard against losses from each of these causes: "Sweating and heating occur if the freshly dug potatoes are piled in too and sunburn.

"I had 30 running sores on my leg for culate between the tubers. The risk of loss from this cause is greatest in the fall, immediately after the tubers have been dug, and it is therefore, implication was advised. Skin grafting was tried. nor kept in an ill-ventilated room. your potatoes dry before storing.

"Potatoes are easily damaged by frost. If they become frozen, there market value is destroyed. Therefore, take precaution to protect the tubers from frost before and after digging. Eliminate Diseased Tubers.

"There are several diseases of the potato which destroy the tuber, and if diseased tubers are mixed with the sound ones, the disease spreads rapidly; therefore, it is necessary to sort the potatoes carefully, eliminating all of the disease, the cuts, culls, and dirt before placing them into permanent storage for the winter. All of the cuts, culls, misshapen and diseased tubers should be fed to the poultry and live stock, but should be steamed or boiled before being fed, as in this way you increase the food value, and also destroy the germs of the disease, so

War Declared on Rats by U. S. Gov't.

The government at Washington is preparing a campaign that should be effective in killing the rats that are so destructive both to lives and property. A conservative estimate places the loss of food-stuffs from rats at over two hundred million dollars annually, and in the present scarcity of food, this less must be prevented. The most efficient way to "Kill the Rat" is by the use of Stearns' Paste, and thousands of dollars worth have been bought by the government. Every house-keeper troubled with rats, mice, roaches or waterbugs should buy a small box of this reliable externinator for thirty-five cents, and stop further loss of food in her home. Adv.
