

Read the Ads in This Issue as They will be of Interest to You

Kewaskum Statesman.

Subscribe for This Paper and Get all the News $1.50 per Year

VOLUME XXIII

KEWASKUM, WIS., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1917

NUMBER 11

HUMANE MEETING TO BE HELD

The adjourned Humane Meeting is to be held at the School Hall in the city of West Bend, on Tuesday, November 20th, at 8 P. M. The annual meeting has heretofore been held in July, but owing to the small attendance at these mid-summer meetings, it was decided to henceforth hold the meeting during the time the County Board of Supervisors is in session.

The County Board each year makes an appropriation for Humane work; it is therefore considered advisable to demonstrate the kind and character of the work done by the society and its agents.

The following program will be carried out:

1. Meeting called to order by the President.
2. Poem by Miss Leona Ludwig
3. Short Address by the District Attorney, Bucklin, Mayor Lieven of Hartford and County Superintendent of Schools.
4. Stereopticon Lecture by Dr. A. M. Benson.
5. Address by Rev. E. A. Kuhn, subject, Review of the Humane Societies' work during the past four years, including a statement of income and expenditures.
6. Questions and General discussion of Humane Work.

A cordial invitation is extended to the members of the County Board and the general public. We desire your co-operation in this great work.

Rev. E. A. Kuhn, Sec'y.

SOUTH EDEN

Emmet Ryan is hulling clover this week.

Miss Elsie Seefeld spent Sunday evening with Miss Ida Baumhardt.

Edw. Baumhardt and wife were callers at Fond du Lac Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Edw. C. Baumhardt spent Sunday with relatives at Sand Lake.

Willie Fett of Fond du Lac was a Sunday visitor with Herman Rehst and mother.

Mr. and Mrs. August Lade of Auburn spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lade and family.

Edw. and Johnnie Baumhardt were business callers at Campbellsport last Saturday and Monday.

Charles Baumhardt returned to his home in Fond du Lac, after spending a few days at the home of his son.

Mr. and Mrs. Edw. C. Baumhardt, Ida and "Happy" Baumhardt attended a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Al. Behnk in the town of Fond du Lac Saturday evening.

NOTICE

The legislature of 1917 has enacted further to bring about more rigid enforcement of the regulations regarding the licensing of automobiles and motorcycles.

Under the law, as construed by the Attorney General, dealers may use their star number license plates only for demonstration purposes, and not for private or livery service. Dealers using cars for private or livery purposes are required to pay the regular form of auto license plate. Therefore I demand all my Deputy Sheriffs and Chief of Police of each city in the County of Washington in this State, to round up those who are seeking to evade license fee payments.

Frank Schoenbeck,
Sheriff of Washington County

Sometimes women's complaints are imaginary; again they are a form of dreadful disease. In any event, Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea has helped thousands of women. It has relieved their constipation. Women swear by it.—Edw. C. Miller.

DUCK and GOOSE TOURNAMENT

Mrs. Chas. Koch's Place
BEECHWOOD, WIS.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON,
November 18th

Warm Lunch and Refreshments of all Kinds
Everybody Invited

DEATH'S TOLL FOR THE WEEK

MRS. NIC. UELMEN

Mrs. Nicholas Uelmen (Miss Susan Schlosser), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Schlosser, residing in the town of Auburn, near New Fane, passed away to the realms of heavenly reward, in the prime of her life at her home near New Fane, Fond du Lac County, on Tuesday morning, November 13th, 1917, at 11 o'clock.

She had been ill five days with blood poisoning in her face, caused by a pimple. Her condition was at first not thought to be one of a serious nature, but after a few days' illness she commenced to grow weaker and weaker until the final summons came as a great relief from her suffering.

Deceased was born on June 8, 1891, in the town of Auburn, residing with her parents until she was united in bonds of matrimony to Mr. Nicholas Uelmen on November 22nd, 1910. Shortly after their marriage they made their home on a farm near New Fane, where she lived until her passing away into the field of Eternity.

Their union was blessed with five children, all of whom, together with their grief stricken father survive, and who are: Raymond, aged six years; Celesta, aged five years; Marcella, aged four years; Franklin, aged three years and Elroy, aged seven months. Besides these she leaves to mourn her early demise, her parents, four sisters and six brothers, namely: Anton and John of West Bend; Joseph of Camp Grant, Rockford, Ill.; George, Tina, Anna, Jacob and Michael at home; Rose of Jackson and Helen, (Mrs. Joseph Hornek) of Milwaukee.

Mrs. Uelmen was a devoted Christian, and a prominent member of the St. Michaels Married Ladies Sodality. She was a woman, sincere in character and always extended a cordial greeting that lent a ray of light to brighten the pathway of those she had the pleasure of meeting. Although she was held in high esteem and respect by her countless friends, none knew the true worth as did those to whom she was wife and mother. She was devoted to her family and household duties, and always sought to cheer and encourage her husband when trouble seemed to creep into the pages of his daily life. To help those in need, was a great pleasure to her, and her loss will be keenly felt by all her relatives and friends in years to come.

The funeral was held on Friday forenoon, November 16, 1917, at 9:30 o'clock from the family residence with services in the St. Michaels Catholic church, Rev. Father Beyer officiating. Interment was made in the adjoining cemetery.

The Statesman together with its many readers extend heartfelt sympathy to the surviving relatives in this their hour of deep sorrow.

In Memory

We have lost our darling mother, She has bid us all adieu; She has gone to live in heaven, And her form is lost to view. Oh that dear one, how we loved her! Oh, how hard to give her up! But an angel came down for her And removed her from our flock.

PAUL FEUERHAMMER

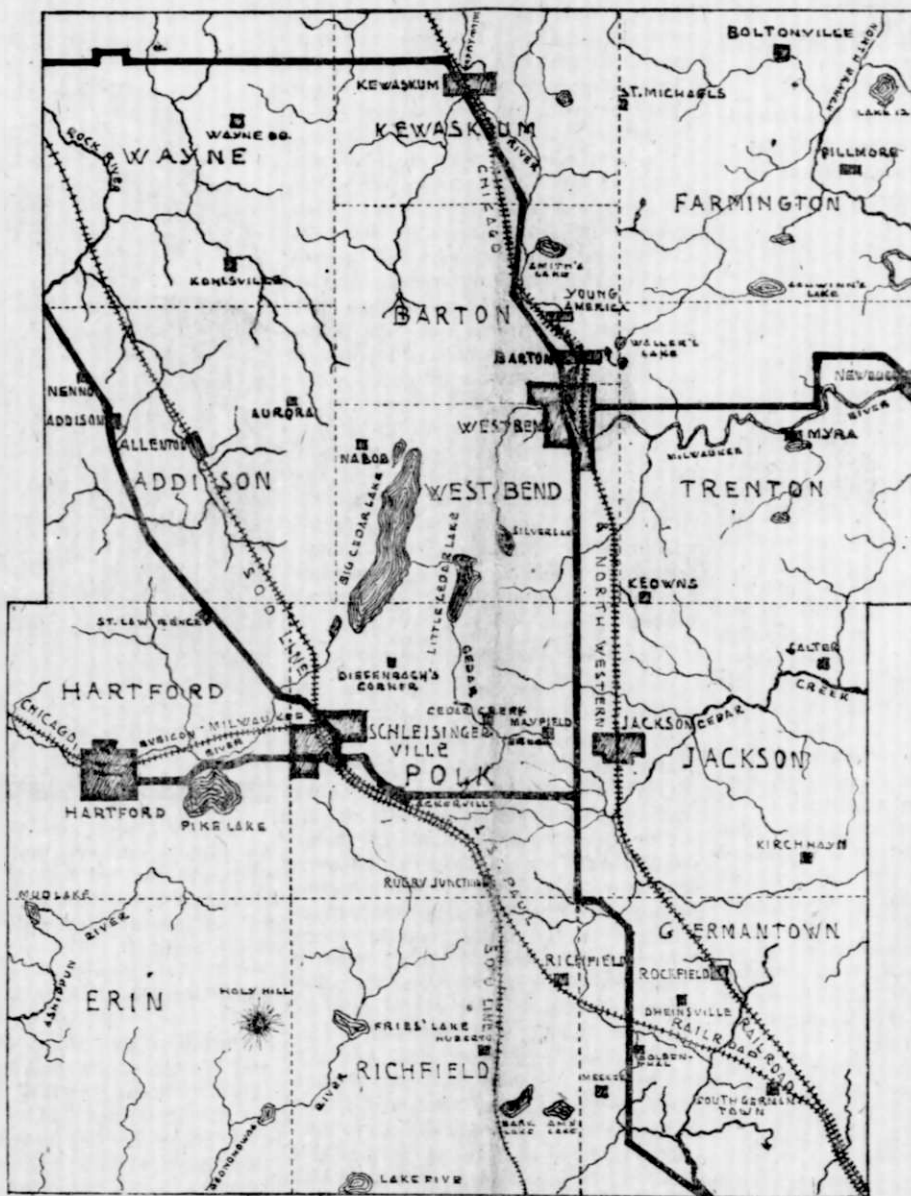

After suffering for several years from goiter, Paul Feuerhammer, son of Ferdinand Feuerhammer of the town of Auburn, passed away in death at his home on Tuesday, November 13th, 1917, at the age of 29 years, 2 months and 28 days.

Deceased was born in the town of Auburn on August 15th, 1888, where he spent his entire life. He is survived by his father, and four brothers and four sisters, namely: August of Oxford, Wis.; Henry and John of Elmore, town of Ashford; Arthur at home; Emma, (Mrs. Wm. Paskey) of Waupun; Mary (Mrs. Ollie Johnson) of Ringwood, Ill.; Ida (Mrs. Louis Buetner) of Unity, Wis. and Lena at home.

Paul was a young man in the prime of life, his kindly disposition had won for him many warm friends, who will miss him at all times from their midst.

The funeral was held on Thursday afternoon at one o'clock, with services in the St. John's Luth. church at New Fane. Interment was made in the adjoining cemetery. Rev. Gutekunst officiating.

The Statesman extends its heartfelt sympathy to the surviving relatives.

Official Outline of the Washington County Trunk Highway System
Courtesy of the West Bend News

KOHLVILLE

Miss Anna Basler is visiting relatives at Lomira at present.

Mrs. John Brown and son of West Bend are visiting relatives here for a week.

Erwin Endlich and sisters visited with Mr. and Mrs. Lee Dalano on Sunday.

A few relatives gathered at the home of Henry Becker on Tuesday in honor of his birthday.

Some of our young people attended the dance at West Bend on Sunday evening. All had a good time.

A large number of relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weitzling on Saturday, in honor of Mrs. Zemrow's birthday anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hose of Milwaukee visited at the former's home here on Sunday. Oscar returned home the same day, while his wife remained here for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gutjahr and son Elmer, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Friedmann and August and Walter Brinkmann visited with the boys at Camp Grant, Rockford, Ill. on Saturday and Sunday.

The St. John's church, one mile south of here will be dedicated on Sunday, November 18. Three services will be held. At 10 o'clock in the morning; 2 o'clock in the afternoon and 7:30 in the evening. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

DEATH OF CHRIST BECKER

Christ Becker, aged 69 years, died at his home on a farm near Campbellsport, at 8:15 o'clock Thursday morning, after an illness of one week's duration with pneumonia. Mr. Becker was born in Ashford, August 28, 1854. As he had lived on his farm near Campbellsport for a number of years.

The funeral will be held Monday at 9:30 a. m., from the St. Matthew's Catholic Church at Campbellsport. Rev. B. July will officiate. Interment will take place in the Union cemetery. A complete obituary will appear in our next week's issue.

CARD OF THANKS

We, the undersigned, desire to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to all those who so kindly and willingly assisted us in our recent bereavement, the illness, death and burial of our beloved wife and mother, Mrs. Nicholas Uelmen. For the many beautiful floral tributes, to the pall bearers, and especially to Rev. Father Beyer for his kind words of consolation. And to all those who showed their last respect by attending the funeral.

Nicholas Uelmen and Children.

The following students spent the week-end at their homes: Manilla Kressig, Dorothy Driessel, Leo Marx, Elmo Rosenheimer.

The Old Oaken Bucket

A rural drama in Four Acts given by Kirsch Bros. in Kirsch Brothers Hall, St. Kilian, Wisconsin Friday Evening, Nov. 23rd
Dance After The Play

Doors Open at 8 o'clock Admission 25 and 15 cents

Cast of Characters

Reuben Hardacre, (A Square, Honest Old Farmer)..... Geo. Coulter
Tom, his son, (A Chip of the old Block)..... Adolph Batzler
Arthur Ames, (True Blue)..... John Coulter
Mark Hayward, (A Wolf in Sheep's Clothing)..... David Coulter
Jake Tompkins, (In Love with Teddy wisely but not too well) Arthur Byrnes
Mr. G. Whillikins, (A Neighbor)..... David Coulter
Esry Babbs, (Postmaster)..... James Coulter
Rev. Mason, (Peace Maker)..... Oscar Ensenbach
Martha Hardacre, (Reuben's Wife)..... Mary Darmody
Lizzie Lawrence, (The Light of Uncle Reuben's Eyes)..... Ella Byrnes
Emily Lawrence, (Otherwise known as Teddy, Sunshine of the household)..... Ruth Cull
Sapphira Scriggens, (Village Gossip)..... Agnes Darmody
Mrs. G. Whillikins, (Very Proper but not Charitable)..... Esther Coulter
Mary Jones, (Village Belle)..... Mildred Coulter
Good music will be furnished for the dance.
William Kirsch, Committee Man.

WAYNE

George Petri transacted business at Milwaukee Thursday.

Louis Ensenbach of Theresa called here on business Monday.

Wm. Kippenhan transacted business at Kewaskum last week Friday.

Wm. Darmody is spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. Darmody.

Wendel Petri spent several days this week at Milwaukee, Fond du Lac and Kewaskum.

Wm. Foerster and Frank Wietor spent from last week Thursday until Sunday at Beaver Dam.

Math. Wietor of Milwaukee spent the forepart of the week with his brother Frank and family.

The local cheese factory received a consignment of cheese boxes from Campbellsport on Thursday.

Christ Strubing and wife and son Charles and wife of Elmore called here on business Thursday.

Michael Byrnes and sister Kate spent last week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Byrnes.

Arthur Byrnes and sister Ellen and Ruth Cull, all of St. Kilian spent Saturday and Sunday at Milwaukee.

Alma Hembel of Kewaskum spent last week Saturday with the George Petri and John Guenther families.

Sam Hawig and family and Albert Abel visited with relatives and friends at Richfield and Germantown Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Roos and mother and sister Ella visited with the Dettman family north of Beechwood last Sunday.

And Martin Sr., spent Wednesday at Milwaukee, West Bend and Kewaskum on business and also visited with relatives and friends while there.

GRAMMAR ROOM NOTES

Seventh Grade is studying Asia at present.

The following have been neither absent nor tardy the past two months: Walter Buss, Aleda Mertes, Raymond Quade, Norma Bunkelman, Ella Guth, Edward Brandt, Florence Greve, Nathan Quandt, Lorinda Meinecke, Lloyd Bartelt and Norbert Becker.

The Eighth Grade is studying soil and how to retain fertility.

Sixth Grade Arithmetic is reviewing multiplication of fractions and mixed numbers.

The Grammar Room Basket Ball team have received a challenge from the Fillmore Orioles, and have accepted the challenge. The game will be played on the Fillmore floor next Sunday.

LIBRARY NOTES

If you find that you have not the time to read books, why not come to the library and read the magazines and learn about the new inventions that are made? "The Popular Mechanics" will tell you all about them. The "Atlantic Monthly" has some of the ablest writers, telling you all about our great war, "Harpers" is another good magazine with good articles and you cannot afford to miss this magazine, also publishes many short stories of merit. Other magazines that can be found in the library are: "The Geographic," "Current Opinion," "The Saturday Evening Post," "The Ladies Home Journal," "Pictorial Review," "The Etude," and the Youth's Companion.

The following teachers spent the week-end with homes folks: The Misses Olive and Olga Haug, Elsie Somers, and Laura Brandstetter.

POPULAR YOUNG PEOPLE MARRIED

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in the town of Auburn, on Thursday, November 15th, 1917, at high noon; when Miss Viola M. Ferber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Ferber, was united in bonds of matrimony with Mr. Edward G. Terlinden, Rev. William Zenk of Campbellsport tying the nuptial knot. The day of the wedding also marked the 29th anniversary of the marriage of the bride's parents.

The bride, who was handsomely dressed in a midnight blue broadcloth suit with hat to match, and wearing a corsage bouquet of ophelia roses, was attended by Miss Dahlia Ferber, sister of the bride, and Miss Eunice Terlinden, sister of the groom, as bridesmaids. Miss Ferber was dressed in a cadet blue tulle gown and Miss Terlinden was attired in a brown satin dress, both wearing corsage bouquets of sweet peas.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride where a wedding dinner was served to only immediate relatives. Covers were laid for twenty guests.

The color scheme at the home was green and white.

The young married couple are two of the town of Auburn's most popular and highly respected citizens. They left the same day on a wedding trip to parts unknown, and will be at home on the groom's farm in the town of Auburn, after January 1st, 1918.

The Statesman joins their many friends in wishing them an abundance of success in their married life.

One of the prettiest fall weddings seen in Campbellsport in a long time took place Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock at St. Matthew's Church when Miss Margaret Grace Schill of Elmore became the bride of John T. Gales of Wayne. Rev. E. July performed the ceremony.

The bride was beautifully attired in a gown of white crepe de meteor trimmed with silver lace. She wore a bridal veil, caught with lilies of the valley, and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. Miss Florence Schill, a sister of the bride, attended the bride. She was attired in a pink taffeta gown trimmed in gold lace and carried pink roses. The groom was attended by Wm. Schill, a brother of the bride. Two sisters of the groom, the Misses Martha and Mae Gales acted as flower girls. They were dressed in pink taffeta and carried baskets of pink sweet peas.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Bauers Hotel at Campbellsport for the immediate relatives of the young couple. A wedding dinner was served at noon.

Mrs. Gales is the daughter of Mrs. Helen Schill of Elmore and is well known in this village.

Mr. Gales is a prominent young farmer of Wayne and the son of John Gales of Kohlville.

Mr. and Mrs. Schill will be at home to their many friends after January 1 on the groom's farm in Wayne.

LAKE SEVEN

Mrs. F. Bartelt had a goose picking bee Tuesday.

Mrs. Willie Engelman visited Sunday with her brother at Camp Grant.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Ludwig spent Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. F. Schultz.

Frank Schultz and William Siegfried transacted business at Kewaskum Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gatzke attended the funeral of Ralph Hagner at West Bend Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Henry Dettman returned home Sunday after spending the past week at her mother's home in the town of Barton.

Frank Schultz and sisters Adelia and Frieda and Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Schultz and son Carl were to Plymouth on business Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Siegfried and son Herbert and Mrs. C. F. Schultz visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. H. Bartelt and family at Waucousta.

BOWLING ALLEYS TO OPEN

Tonight, Saturday, November 17th, the Eberle Buffet bowling alleys will be opened to the public for the coming season. Both alleys have been renovated and put in excellent shape. Mrs. Eberle will also serve chili con carne on the opening night. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

YOUNG MAN SHOT WHILE HUNTING

Herman Draeger Jr., of Sheboygan was accidentally shot in the left leg while hunting ducks on the Pigeon river near Sheboygan. The young man in company with his brother Richard and Emil Neese, were standing by the river bank, when suddenly a flock of ducks started to fly away on the opposite side of the stream. Herman took aim and fired, killing some of the feathery tribe. He in company with his brother started to go for a boat to gather in the game, and while walking through thick brush, and carrying the gun in his hand by the barrel, the weapon discharged, the full charge entering the young man's left leg and splintering the thigh bone to the length of six inches. His companions at once rushed him to a hospital in Sheboygan, where an operation was performed in the hopes of saving the man's life, but the loss of blood, together with blood poisoning, which had set in, the patient died on the operating table.

Deceased was born on October 11, 1899, at Sheboygan, and leaves to mourn his untimely death his grief stricken parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Draeger, two younger brothers, Arnold and Helmut, and five sisters, Mrs. Sederis of Chicago; Mrs. L. E. Delano of the town of Kewaskum, residing on the Mrs. John Schuppel farm; Mrs. William Morgan of Chicago, Mrs. Stewart Edwards of Waukegan, Ill.; and Miss Adela a younger sister at home. The deceased was very well liked by all his companions. He attended the First Ward school and the parochial school and was confirmed. He was well and favorably thought of by all who knew him.

The funeral was held on Saturday, November 10, 1917, at 1:30 P. M. with services in the Trinity Luth. church at Sheboygan. Rev. O. P. Schultz officiating. Interment was made in the Wildwood cemetery.

The following resolution was unanimously passed by the State Council of Defence Nov. 6th, 1917, enforcement of the law against gambling carried on in this manner in all sorts of public places.

Whereas, there is a great scarcity of sugar in this country and urgent need of the saving of sugar and a reduction in the use of candy. Whereas, there has grown up in parts of this county of Washington, a custom of forcing the sale of candy by gambling device known by the name of "punch-boards", by dice, and other illegal means, Therefore I demand all my Deputy Sheriffs and the Mayor and Chief of Police of each city in the County of Washington and State of Wisconsin to suppress instantly the use of all such devices.

Frank Schoenbeck
Sheriff of Washington County.

Amusements

Saturday, Nov. 17—Hard Time Party and Dance at the Opera House, Kewaskum for the Soldiers Benefit Fund.

Thursday, Nov. 29—Grand Thanksgiving dance at the Opera House, Kewaskum. Music will be furnished by the Kewaskum Quintette. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

Monday, Nov. 26—Grand dance in Wm. Hess' hall, New Fane. Music by Al. Gabler's Harp orchestra of Sheboygan. Everybody invited.

Wednesday evening, Nov. 28—Grand Foultry tournament at the former Mrs. John Guth saloon in this village. A fine lot of poultry will be disposed of at this tournament some of which are dressed. Everybody is invited.

Help Our Soldier Boys Enjoy A MERRY XMAS by attending the HARD TIME DANCE at the KEWASKUM OPERA HOUSE To-Night, Nov. 17th

Music by Kewaskum Quintett

The entire proceeds of this evening of fun will go to the making up of Christmas boxes for our Soldier Boys at the various training camps and at the front.

Admission 50c per couple
Single Admission 25c

PRESIDENT ASKS HELP OF LABOR TO PUSH WAR

Most Critical Time World Has Ever Known, He Tells Delegates.

MENACE TO WORLD BY KAISER

Executive Shows How Germany, With "Place in Sun," Yearned for Conquest—Would Like to See All Critics Exported—Has Contempt for the Pacifists.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 13.—Get together and enter the world fight for peace? These were the chief demands of President Wilson in his address before the American Federation of Labor in convention here.

He praised the general trend of the American labor movement and declared for improving in every way the conditions of labor, but he warned against obstruction of energy by strikes during the war and the futility of the pacifists and the wiles of Germany.

"This is a great privilege and a great honor," said the president. "I gladly accepted the invitation because it seems to me that it was a welcome opportunity to speak to you some of the thoughts which have been gathering in my mind for the past few months. I would be glad if you regard me, not as the president, but as a man seeking counsel."

Causes of War.

"I think that in order to realize of just what moment this counsel is, it would be well to remind ourselves just how and why this war came about."

"The war was started by Germany. Her authors deny it, but I am willing to await the verdict of history. Why did Germany start the war? Remember the position of Germany in the world. The whole world stood in admiration of her intelligence and material achievements."

"As a university man I have been surrounded by men trained in Germany. Nowhere else could they get such training. Her industries were perhaps the most competent in the world. She had access to all markets in the world, but men in those markets feared Germany because of her almost irresistible competition."

"Her industries were perhaps the best in the world. Her labor, made in Germany, was a guarantee of good workmanship. She had a place in the sun. Why was she not satisfied?"

What Did She Want?

"What more did she want? There was nothing in a world of peace she did not have, yet she was not satisfied."

"There is no important industry in Germany upon which government has not laid its hand to direct and, if necessary, to control it."

"They were the same kind of combinations that we have tried to prevent by law. The conditions of competition were thus controlled by the German government."

"A political control which would enable to control all labor and industry of the world was behind it all."

"Look at the map of Europe—Germany, in thrusting again her peace proposals upon us, talks of Belgium, northern France, Alsace-Lorraine. These are deeply interesting, but they are not talking about the heart of the matter."

Vast Dominion.

"Look at the map of Germany's dominion. I saw a map the other day appropriately printed in black, and the black stretched all the way from Hamburg to Bagdad."

"If she can keep that, her power can disturb the world, always provided she expects the present influences in the country and the government can still control."

"Germany is determined that political power of the world shall belong to her. There have been such ambitions before; they have been real. But never before were they based on such an exact and scientific plan of domination."

Power of Freedom.

"Power cannot be used against free peoples, if it is used by free peoples."

"What I am opposed to is not the feeling of the pacifist, but their stupidity. My heart is with them, but my mind has contempt for them."

"Any people that compounds with the present German government is compounding for its own destruction."

"I want peace, but I know how to get it and they don't."

"A great cheer went up as the president spoke these words."

"You will notice I sent a friend of mine, Colonel House, to Europe, who is as great a lover of peace as there is in the world, but I didn't send him on a peace mission. I sent him on a mission to find out how the war can be won."

"He knows, as I know, that the way to get peace as you want it takes more than a few moments."

Raise U. S. Power.

"If we are true friends of freedom, we will see that the power of this country and the producing activity of the country shall be raised to the highest degree, and nobody should be allowed to stand in its way."

"Our duty if we are to do this great thing and believe that America is the hope of the world, we must stand together night and day.

"But while we are fighting for freedom, we must see that labor is free. And that means a number of things. We must see that the conditions of labor are rendered not more onerous during war, but see that the instruments through which labor conditions are improved must not be checked."

Praises Gompers.

The president eulogized President Gompers.

"I like to place my mind along side a mind that knows how to pull in harness," he said.

"The horses that klick over the traces will have to be put in a corral."

He continued: "To stand together means nobody must interrupt the progress of our energy; interruption can be avoided without invasion of freedom."

"Nobody has the right to stop progress of labor until all processes of council have been stopped."

"I might as well say right here that I am not talking to you alone. You do sometimes stop the forces of labor, but there are others who do the same."

"You are more reasonable in a larger number of cases than capitalists. I haven't said these things to them personally, because I haven't had a chance."

"Everybody has got to transact business. I would like to see all of the critics exported. A settlement is hard to avoid when parties are brought face to face."

"We must insist in every instance the parties must come into each other's presence."

"My counsel to you is this: 'Let us show ourselves Americans by not going off into separate camps, but by co-operating in releasing the world from bondage. We are all of the same clay and spirit, and we can get together if we want to.'

"I would be willing to set that up as a final test of an American. I have been very much distressed by the mob spirit that displays itself here and there in the country."

Lawlessness Unjustified.

"I have no sympathy with men who take punishment into their own hands. I want to utter my earnest protest against lawlessness in any cause or anywhere. Democracy means first of all we can govern ourselves."

"The man who takes the law into his own hands is not the right man to co-operate in the development of free institutions. Some of the processes that capital and labor take are very near to what I have described. We must accept and obey common counsel."

"Some instrumentality of co-operation must be devised between labor and capital."

"The reason I came from Washington is that I sometimes get lonely there. There are so many people in Washington that know things that aren't so and so few people that know what the rest of the city is thinking about."

"I wanted to talk to men who are up against the real thing and say to them: 'I'm with you if you're with me.'"

"The thing to do is not to think about me personally, but the power and dignity of the things I represent."

SLANG TOO MUCH FOR SPIES

American Ambulance Driver Succeeds in Passing Along Some Information to Friend.

At a gathering of Princeton graduates and undergraduates in New York one of the snappiest little stories of the war was related by a Princeton graduate just returned from ambulance service in France. It had to do with the difficulty in outwitting German espionage in Belgium, and how it was managed through the medium of unrecognized language.

Four months ago, the narrator said, the system of espionage had been about seven strata deep. Spies watched the Belgians, spies in the ranks watched the German officers, spies watched the spies who were watching anybody and it became apparent that anyone who might sneeze would be duly reported in Berlin.

Just at this time one Princeton ambulance driver heard from what seemed to be a reliable source that a German had attempted the life of President Wilson in Washington. It was by a rumor, and he did not mention it to anyone or have any desire to discuss it until he happened to encounter another Princeton man whom he had long known. When they met the driver who had heard the rumor looked about and saw that the spy was not set for their conversation. He talked casually with his friend and wondered as he talked what language he might use to impart his information.

"I know a little of the Italian tongue and thought of using that. But as he glanced about him there seemed a face for every language. To head his friend off to a secluded place would excite suspicion and so he finally decided to tell him the news in American slang. He spoke as follows:

"Don't let the glittering delicatessen fall for this noise. I'm itching to ease you some dope and don't care to be heaped or zipped into the Hoosier for turning it. When it's across can the chirp chatter and remain a dumb issue. I have been heaped that upstairs over Dixie a pretzel birdie has tried to Czolgoz the former papa of Old Nassau."

For a moment his friend looked at him with knit brows and then, even as the spies stood with ears out at acute angles, the listener answered:

"Tu right in your pocket, Steeve."

When a man's face is broken it doesn't break into smiles.

UNITED STATES IN WAR CONFERENCE

Participates for the First Time in Allies' Council in Paris.

HOUSE HEAD OF COMMISSION

Board Now in Europe Is Expected to Urge Adoption of Policy of Greater Unity in Prosecution of Hostilities.

Washington.—The United States is ready to participate for the first time in a military conference to be held by all the allies. An American commission, headed by Col. E. M. House, chief unofficial adviser of President Wilson, is already in Europe, clothed with authority to commit the United States government to any agreement that may be reached by the Paris conference.

Colonel House and his associates are expected to urge the adoption of a policy of greater unity in the prosecution of the war.

One of the possibilities is the creation of a joint war council with supreme power to direct the disposition of troops, to supervise military strategy and to apportion munitions and other economic resources among the allies.

Makeup of Commission.

The American war commission consists of the following members:

Col. E. M. House, chairman, who will act as the spokesman of President Wilson on questions pertaining to the general policies of the conduct of the war.

Admiral W. S. Benson, chief of naval operations, U. S. N., who will participate in the formulation of plans for the employment of the combined naval forces of the allies.

Gen. Tasker H. Bliss, chief of staff, U. S. A., who will give detailed information on the extent of military support the United States will be able to give next year.

Oscar T. Crosby, assistant secretary of the treasury, who will speak for the United States on questions of international war financing.

Vance C. McCormick, chairman of the war trade board, who will assist in planning a uniform policy in administering embargoes on exports and provisions against trading with the enemy.

Shainbridge Colby, member of the shipping board, who will report the amount of tonnage building and the amount that can be turned out next year.

Dr. Alonzo E. Taylor, who, as a representative of Food Administrator Hoover, will co-operate with the commissioners of the allies in working out a uniform policy of food conservation and apportionment of American supplies to the European belligerents.

Thomas Nelson Perkins of the priority board, who will negotiate an agreement on a plan of giving preference to the shipment of vital necessities to the allies of the United States.

Gordon Archibald, son-in-law of Colonel House and assistant to Commander Park of the state department, who will serve as chief secretary of the commission.

May Talk Peace Terms.

Although it is to be exclusively a war conference, dealing with the present and future military situation, it is possible that the question of peace will claim the attention of all the belligerents. It is expected here that Germany will make a new move toward peace at the conclusion of the campaign in Italy.

If Germany should manifest a disposition to forego conquests, the allies might consent to an armistice pending a discussion of peace terms. However, there is small belief that such a situation will arise at this time, nor is there any confidence in the story reaching Washington that all the European belligerents are preparing for a peace parley in Switzerland in February.

In the event of a peace discussion developing President Wilson would have his peace commissioner already on the scene, for that official is none other than Colonel House. The president designated Colonel House several weeks ago to begin the collection of data for the use of the American delegates to the eventual peace conference.

Realize Lack of Unity.

Secretary Lansing's statement regarding the mission indicates conclusively that the nations fighting Germany realize that a lack of team work accounts for the reverses they have sustained and for the failure to co-operate effectively at all times with the well-organized German military machine.

Until the combined resources of the allies can be employed against Germany by a single directing agency, it is contended, there will continue to be waste of human lives and material, reverses at weak points and other misfortunes, all serving to postpone a decisive victory over the enemy.

Mr. Lansing stresses the fact that the conference is to be a war and not a peace conference. He does not wish anyone to get the impression that the United States is thinking of peace while preparing to exert its utmost to defeat Germany on the field of battle.

The secretary's anxiety on this score is due to the speculation aroused by the announcement before American troops reached the firing line that Colonel House had been selected to prepare for the peace conference. Immediately reports gained circulation that President Wilson was expecting peace this winter and that he did not intend to send the American troops into action until all hope of a suspension of hostilities had disappeared.

The need of a better co-ordination of military activities on the part of the allies has been practically demonstrated by the Italian reverses, it is pointed out. Italy was clamoring for support for months. The cry was not heeded by England and the United States.

Secretary Lansing's Statement.

Secretary Lansing's statement regarding the conference is as follows:

"The government of the United States will participate in the approaching conference of the powers waging war against the German empire."

"The conference is essentially a 'war conference,' with the object of perfecting a more complete co-ordination of the activities of the various nations engaged in the conflict and a more comprehensive understanding of their respective needs in order that the joint efforts of the co-belligerents may attain the highest war efficiency."

"While a definite program has not been adopted, it may be assumed that the subjects to be discussed will embrace not only those pertaining to military and naval operations but also the financial, commercial, economic, and other phases of the present situation which are of vital importance to the successful prosecution of the war."

"There undoubtedly will be an effort to avoid any conflict of interests among the participants, and there is every reason to believe that the result will be a fuller co-operation, and consequently a much higher efficiency and a more vigorous prosecution of the war."

"The United States, in the employment of its man power and material resources, desires to use them to the greatest advantage against Germany. It has been no easy problem to determine how they can be used most effectively, since the independent presentation of requirements by the allied governments have been more or less conflicting on account of each government's appreciation of its own wants, which are naturally given greater importance than the wants of other governments."

"By a general survey of the whole situation and a free discussion of the needs of all, the approaching conference will undoubtedly be able to give to the demands of the several governments their true perspective and proper place in the general plan for the conduct of the war."

Limit to Resources.

"Though the resources of this country are vast and though there is every purpose to devote them all, if need be, to winning the war, they are not without limit. But even if they were greater they should be used to the highest advantage in attaining the supreme object for which we are fighting. This can only be done by a full and frank discussion of the plans and needs of the various belligerents."

"It is the earnest wish of this government to employ its military and naval forces and its resources and energies where they will give the greatest returns in advancing the common cause. The exchange of views which will take place at the conference and the conclusions which will be reached will be of the highest value in preventing waste of energy, and in bringing into harmony the activities of the nations which have been unavoidably acting in a measure independently."

"In looking forward to the assembling of this conference it cannot be too strongly emphasized that it is a war conference and nothing else, devoted to devising ways and means to intensify the efforts of the belligerents against Germany by complete co-operation under a general plan and thus bring the conflict to a speedy and satisfactory conclusion."

An Official Story Teller.

In several of the public libraries of Canada story telling to children has for some years been a special feature. Each Saturday morning from fifty to one hundred children assemble at the library in a room set apart for the purpose and called the "children's room." The ages of the children vary from six to fourteen years. At St. John, N. B., story telling has been continued now for three years. This year it has been found advisable to divide the children according to age and to hold two classes of half an hour each. The work has steadily grown in interest, and the demand for books of a less trivial type justifies the work of the committee in charge. During the summer, when opportunity offers and a story teller of note is a guest of the city, notice is given to the library, and it is often possible to have a special session.

Presents That Will Please

BEDROOM FINERY.

Every Christmas is greeted with dainty new boudoir caps and jackets, sometimes designed for wear only in the bedroom and sometimes meeting the requirements of the breakfast table. Here is a pretty jacket made of wide pink ribbon and lace which may be slipped on over the nightdress or petticoat, for bedroom wear. The cap is merely a band of wide ribbon with frill of lace at each edge headed by a fancy braid.

HOMEMADE CHARACTER DOLLS.

Carl and Pat along with Gretchen and Hortense, are making eyes at us this Christmas, inviting us to inquire into their merits. They belong to a new order of the beloved rag dolls that have always held the warmest corner of little folks' hearts. These dolls are made of discarded socks or stockings and stuffed with cotton. White socks are used for the heads and colored ones for the bodies. Fancy stitching with heavy mercerized cotton or yarn, outlines the jackets, makes ties and garters and represents buttons. The eyes, nose and mouth are outlined also in black and red.

Two-toned silk socks, usually in a bright color on the wrong side are much sought after by the makers of these jolly looking character dolls.

SOLDIER'S PORTFOLIO.

A small, neat portfolio to carry stationery, pen and pencil for the soldier is one of the gifts that can be made for him at home. It is a simple affair, of substantial brown denim, and requires nothing else but thread and snip fasteners, to make a very complete and handy writing case.

As shown in the picture, the case is about ten inches wide and sixteen inches long. One side of it holds three blotters that make a good support for the writing tablet in cramped quarters where there is no table. On the other side are compartments for paper, envelopes, post cards and stamps. A narrow strap of the denim, is sewed down at the center to carry pen and pencil. Ink can be carried in solid form now. It comes in small sticks that dissolve in water. The case fasteners with strong snap fasteners as indicated in the picture.

It is a good idea to embroider the initials on belongings made for the boys in the service because so many kits and portfolios are alike in all details. Besides it is another evidence of thoughtfulness on the part of the donor.

REMEMBER THE BABY.

Even the baby is to have a patriotic bent given to his affections, by means of toys this year. Uncle Sam appears among the clever, home-made Christmas dolls, that reveal a rubber ball somewhere in their anatomy. They have limp bodies, stuffed with a little cotton and are dressed in cotton fa-rics, as cotton flannel, elderdown or percale.

In the Uncle Sam doll the ball is used for the head—but in the other dressed in blue elderdown and has a row of the tiniest pearl buttons down its round tummy. When the ball is punched the doll squeals—much to the surprise and delight of his babyship.

WISHBONE THIMBLE CASE.

A pretty thimble case, made of a wishbone saved from the wreck of the Thanksgiving turkey, is something new. Heavy silk or mercerized cotton is used for crocheted lace to make a wide border about the wishbone. It is crocheted with a heading to carry baby ribbon that is run through it and made into three little bows as shown in the picture. A tiny bag, to hold the thimble, is suspended between the ends of the bone and the pretty gift is suspended by ribbon hangers.

WORK BASKET OF PAPER ROPE.

No gifts are quite so much appreciated as those which show the painstaking work of the giver. The pretty work basket, pictured above, is such a token of warm friendship as every woman might wish to give to someone near and dear to her.

It is made of paper rope in gray and lined with rose-colored silk. It is an achievement to be proud of and a gift to cherish. Little pockets, set about the lining of the basket at the sides will carry all the tools for sewing. They are made of the rose-colored silk.

NOVEL COAT HANGER.

Another of those pretty novelties made of painted wood appears in the coat hanger shown above. These hangers are shown in the stores, painted white with the figure outlined on them in black, ready to paint in any colors one may choose. This one pictures a girl in smart riding hat and black collar with white stock. The face and arms of the hanger are to be painted according to individual fancy.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

Sooner or later your good work or your bad work will find you out, and you will either get promoted or be given a seat on the toboggan.

NUT OMELET.

Put through a meat grinder, nuts to make a half cupful when ground. Beat three eggs very light, season to taste with salt and pepper and add three tablespoonfuls of cold water, add the nut meats and mix well. Put a little butter in the omelet pan and pour in the omelet mixture, lift the edges until it is firm all over, being careful not to scorch it, then fold and send to the table on a hot dish.

Unusual Cabbage Salad.

Shave or shred very fine one small firm head of cabbage, add a half cupful of chopped almonds that have been blanched, four or five ripe bananas also finely cut, mix with a cupful of sour cream, salt, pepper, and a dash of vinegar, if the cream is not sufficiently acid. Serve with crackers and cheese.

Different Dried Beef.

Put three tablespoonfuls of bacon fat on a frying pan, and add a half pound of dried beef picked in small pieces or cut in shreds with the scissors. Fry for three minutes. Then put the beef on a hot platter. Place three bananas cut in halves crosswise and in quarters lengthwise, let them stand over the heat long enough to become thoroughly hot, five minutes will be sufficient time. Arrange around the beef and serve all piping hot.

Chili Con Carne.

Take all the seeds from two pods of chili pepper. Soak the pods in warm water until soft, then scrape the pulp from the skins, discarding the skins, saving the pulp and the water. Cut two pounds of round steak into small pieces and cook them in the frying pan in melted butter or sweet drippings until brown, and four tablespoonfuls of flour and stir until the flour is brown, add a clove of garlic in which two gushes have been cut, then the chili pulp and water, of which there should be a pint. Let simmer until the meat is tender, adding more water if needed. Season well. Soak a cupful of kidney or Mexican beans in soft water overnight. Let simmer until tender, drain, and add to the meat, or they may be heated in a little hot fat and served in a dish apart from the meat.

The character of all work depends upon the intelligence of the person who performs it.

POPULAR DISHES.

The following dishes never lose their prestige, as they are choice and deserve their popularity:

Chop Suey.

Cut tender, lean pork and chicken, one or both, into very thin pieces an inch and a half in length and a half inch wide. Sauté these in fresh pork fat, have ready an equal amount of celery, cut fine, an onion cut in bits, add the vegetables to the meat, cover the whole with chicken, veal broth or boiling water and simmer until tender. Then add a few peeled mushrooms, as few or many as taste or convenience pleases, which should be cooked in a little fat before adding to the mixture. For a quart of the mixture stir in a tablespoonful of corn starch mixed with cold water, then add to the hot mixture. Continue stirring until the mixture boils, then add one or two tablespoonfuls of dark molasses, a teaspoonful of salt and a tablespoonful of china soy. The soy gives it the color and characteristic flavor. A substitute may be made for it by using a tablespoonful of kitchen bouquet and a little Worcestershire sauce.

Nesselrode Pudding.

Cook twenty large chestnuts or double the number of the smaller ones, in sugar syrup until tender. Cut six of the nuts in small pieces, the rest put through a sieve. Cook two tablespoonfuls each of currants and sultana raisins in the syrup until tender, then add the same amount of preserved pineapple and cherries or other fruit, to the pieces of chestnut and let them cool in the syrup. Cook the beaten yolks of four eggs, mixed with three-fourths of a cup of sugar in a pint of thin cream, cook until the mixture coats the spoon. Add the sifted chestnuts and pass the whole through a fine sieve. Cool and partly freeze, then add a cupful of whipped cream and finish freezing, add the fruit and nuts drained from the syrup and pack in a mold. Press the cover in place over a piece of wrapping paper and let stand in ice and salt an hour. Serve with whipped cream sweetened and flavored with fruit juice or with the following:

Pudding Sauce for Nesselrode Pudding.

Beat the yolks of three eggs until thick. Add three tablespoonfuls of sugar and beat again. Stir over the fire in a double boiler until the mixture thickens a little, then pour into a cold dish and beat until cold, light and creamy. Flavor to taste and then mix lightly with a cupful and a half of cream whipped stiff. For deliciousness this pudding is hard to equal, but the fruit combination must be carefully blended.

Put through a meat grinder, nuts to make a half cupful when ground. Beat three eggs very light, season to taste with salt and pepper and add three tablespoonfuls of cold water, add the nut meats and mix well. Put a little butter in the omelet pan and pour in the omelet mixture, lift the edges until it is firm all over, being careful not to scorch it, then fold and send to the table on a hot dish.

Unusual Cabbage Salad. Shave or shred very fine one small firm head of cabbage, add a half cupful of chopped almonds that have been blanched, four or five ripe bananas also finely cut, mix with a cupful of sour cream, salt, pepper, and a dash of vinegar, if the cream is not sufficiently acid. Serve with crackers and cheese.

Different Dried Beef. Put three tablespoonfuls of bacon fat on a frying pan, and add a half pound of dried beef picked in small pieces or cut in shreds with the scissors. Fry for three minutes. Then put the beef on a hot platter. Place three bananas cut in halves crosswise and in quarters lengthwise, let them stand over the heat long enough to become thoroughly hot, five minutes will be sufficient time. Arrange around the beef and serve all piping hot.

Chili Con Carne. Take all the seeds from two pods of chili pepper. Soak the pods in warm water until soft, then scrape the pulp from the skins, discarding the skins, saving the pulp and the water. Cut two pounds of round steak into small pieces and cook them in the frying pan in melted butter or sweet drippings until brown, and four tablespoonfuls of flour and stir until the flour is brown, add a clove of garlic in which two gushes have been cut, then the chili pulp and water, of which there should be a pint. Let simmer until the meat is tender, adding more water if needed. Season well. Soak a cupful of kidney or Mexican beans in soft water overnight. Let simmer until tender, drain, and add to the meat, or they may be heated in a little hot fat and served in a dish apart from the meat.

The character of all work depends upon the intelligence of the person who performs it.

POPULAR DISHES.

The following dishes never lose their prestige, as they are choice and deserve their popularity:

Chop Suey.

Cut tender, lean pork and chicken, one or both, into very thin pieces an inch and a half in length and a half inch wide. Sauté these in fresh pork fat, have ready an equal amount of celery, cut fine, an onion cut in bits, add the vegetables to the meat, cover the whole with chicken, veal broth or boiling water and simmer until tender. Then add a few peeled mushrooms, as few or many as taste or convenience pleases, which should be cooked in a little fat before adding to the mixture. For a quart of the mixture stir in a tablespoonful of corn starch mixed with cold water, then add to the hot mixture. Continue stirring until the mixture boils, then add one or two tablespoonfuls of dark molasses, a teaspoonful of salt and a tablespoonful of china soy. The soy gives it the color and characteristic flavor. A substitute may be made for it by using a tablespoonful of kitchen bouquet and a little Worcestershire sauce.

Nesselrode Pudding.

Cook twenty large chestnuts or double the number of the smaller ones, in sugar syrup until tender. Cut six of the nuts in small pieces, the rest put through a sieve. Cook two tablespoonfuls each of currants and sultana raisins in the syrup until tender, then add the same amount of preserved pineapple and cherries or other fruit, to the pieces of chestnut and let them cool in the syrup. Cook the beaten yolks of four eggs, mixed with three-fourths of a cup of sugar in a pint of thin cream, cook until the mixture coats the spoon. Add the sifted chestnuts and pass the whole through a fine sieve. Cool and partly freeze, then add a cupful of whipped cream and finish freezing, add the fruit and nuts drained from the syrup and pack in a mold. Press the cover in place over a piece of wrapping paper and let stand in ice and salt an hour. Serve with whipped cream sweetened and flavored with fruit juice or with the following:

Pudding Sauce for Nesselrode Pudding.

Beat the yolks of three eggs until thick. Add three tablespoonfuls of sugar and beat again. Stir over the fire in a double boiler until the mixture thickens a little, then pour into a cold dish and beat until cold, light and creamy. Flavor to taste and then mix lightly with a cupful and a half of cream whipped stiff. For deliciousness this pudding is hard to equal, but the fruit combination must be carefully blended.

Nellie Maxwell

ALMOST HELPLESS

Mr. Reuter Went Through a Terrible Siege of Kidney Trouble. Doan's Brought Back His Health.

"After an injury I was in terrible shape from kidney trouble," says D. Reuter, North St., West Chicago, Ill.

"Hearing about Doan's Kidney Pills I used them and four boxes cured me."

STOCK OWNERS! PREVENT UNNECESSARY EXPENSE! Read and Study Dr. David Roberts' Practical Home Veterinary

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM A hair preparation of merit. Helps to eradicate dandruff.

Would Like To, Though. Teacher—Name a bird besides the ostrich that doesn't fly.

Important to Mothers. Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, that famous old remedy for infants and children, and see that it bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Fletcherson Pigskin Is Wasted. Pigskin's value for a number of purposes is well recognized. And it is employed to a limited extent, but not as a staple leather.

Apple Full of Gold. Gold coins were found in an apple by a minister in Albany, Ore., a short time ago.

"In most cases of Dyspepsia Coffee Does Not Agree"—says a well known authority. Many who use coffee—not knowing that it aggravates stomach troubles—could still enjoy a delicious hot table beverage and escape coffee's effects by a change to the wholesome, pure cereal drink—POSTUM "There's a Reason"

BADGER STATE NEWS

MOST IMPORTANT HAPPENINGS OF THE PAST WEEK TOLD IN A FEW LINES.

FOUR ARE COAL GAS VICTIMS

Aged Ripon Couple and Their Twin Grandsons Are Found Asphyxiated in Their Home — All Were in the Same Room.

Ripon—Four persons, Mr. and Mrs. John Buelow, and their twin grandsons, Albert and Alfred Buelow, were found dead in their home here.

Gets Letter from Russia. Neenah—Henry Napuk, local junk dealer, has received a letter from his 87-year-old father, who lived on a farm outside the fortified city of Riga in Russia.

May Adopt Pigs. Neenah—Menasha society women will adopt pigs if a suggestion made by a newspaper there is followed.

Fall May Prove Fatal to Child. La Crosse—The seven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Track is near death from the effects of a fall which occurred at his home near this city.

Petty Gambling Must Go. La Crosse—Dist. Atty. Schlabach has issued an order effective Nov. 15, barring all slot machines, punch boards, baseball and football pools and every other form of gambling existing here in cigar stores, saloons and confectionery stores.

Steal Fur from Police Station. Neenah—Crime is being brought close to police circles here. A valuable fur muff, lost during a recent fish sale and later found, was stolen from the police station, where it had been placed awaiting a claimant.

Many Ducks Being Shot. Neenah—Ducks are being shot in unprecedented numbers along the shores of Lake Winnebago. Old hunters say they can never remember a time when the birds were more plentiful.

Inventor Goes East. Neenah—Dr. Thomas Jespersen of this city, inventor of a de-inking process in print paper manufacture, has gone east to aid in further organization of the newly created firm which will finance production of the paper.

Rat Causes Excitement. Neenah—Chorus girls screamed, one fainted, and the audience thinking it a part of the show, applauded, when a rat ran across the stage in the midst of a song hit number of a musical comedy showing here.

Indians Buy Bonds. Ashland—Chippewa Indians on the Bad River reservation are doing their bit for democracy by generously subscribing to the Liberty Loan. Up to the present time they have purchased $210,000 worth.

Leaves Legacy to Church. Oshkosh—Through the will of M. Edward Rhyner, old resident of Oshkosh, who died Aug. 12, the First Baptist temple of this city will receive about $8,000. All the property of the decedent is left to the church.

Two Injured by Shredder. Manitowish—Father and son were crippled for life in a corn shredder accident when Victor Santy lost his right arm at the elbow and his 11-year-old boy's left hand was cut off.

Fish Sales Are Heavy. Neenah—Fish sales have become so popular here that the Council of Defense has found it necessary to increase the semi-weekly supply.

Robbers Visit Dentists. Fond du Lac—Burglars entered offices of five dentists here and escaped with gold leaf and fillings valued at $150.

Woman Runs Elevator. La Crosse—The first woman elevator operator made her appearance here. She is Miss Annie Arneson.

Letter from Boy "Over There." Chippewa Falls—Sidney Boyden has a letter from Merle Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ada Wilson, who has arrived in France with the American expeditionary force. He enlisted with the artillery, but later became bugler.

Fire Damages Zinc Mines. Dodgeville—The mill at the Lucky Five zinc and lead mine was completely destroyed by fire. It is thought the fire was of incendiary origin.

New Reservoirs Attract Ducks. Portage—Ducks and water fowl have been attracted in unusual numbers to the Wisconsin river by the creation of several lakes, due to the building of dams and numerous reservoirs by the Wisconsin Valley Improvement company.

Photographer Loses Hand. Wyeville—William Peack, a photographer of this village, was badly injured while attempting to take a flashlight picture of members at the Camp Douglas club recently. The machine exploded and hurt his hand so severely that it had to be amputated above the wrist.

Is Given Honorable Discharge. Hartford—Roger J. Fullan is home from the hospital visiting his parents. The report that he was wounded in destroyer service was erroneous. He has been laid up with bronchial trouble, and was discharged honorably from the navy because of physical disability.

Gets State Certificate. Madison—The United Producing and Refining company at Bartlesville, Okla., secured a certificate from the secretary of state authorizing it to do business in Wisconsin. The capital stock of the company is $330,000, of which $25,000 is invested in property in Wisconsin.

Will Leave for South Africa. Sheboygan—Charles J. Pizar, who recently returned from Buenos Aires, Argentina, where he was American vice-consul, will leave in a few days for Cape Town, South Africa, where he will be first vice-consul in the United States legation.

School Buys Dental Chair. Eau Claire—Two innovations for this city were made known when the school board appropriated $300 for a dental chair and equipment to be installed in the school nurse's office. The other is the institution of milk lunches in the Seventh ward school.

No Residence District. Neenah—This city is without a bona-fide "exclusive residence" district. The city attorney has decided that all ordinances proposed and now in force setting off sections for residences only are illegal under city charter and state statutes.

U. S. Begins New Camp. Kenosha—The construction of a military camp near the Nash Motors company was begun by the government. The buildings are to be used for housing university men in the ordnance department of the army.

GEN. HAIG MAY BE RELIEVED. Army Faces Big Shake-up—Quarrel With Premier Hinted—Asquith Attacks Lloyd-George.

Paris, Nov. 14.—The ministry of Premier Painleve resigned.

London, Nov. 14.—Newspaper rumors that Field Marshal Haig and General Robertson, chief of the British general staff, are soon to retire appeared on the heels of the publication of yesterday's speech by Premier Lloyd-George in Paris, in which he declared an interallied military staff to be the sole hope of the allies.

Will Give Benefit for Red Cross. Waukesha—Dates of the benefit musical performance to be given for the local Red Cross have been changed to Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, Dec. 4 and 5.

Young Hunter Loses Arm. Portage—Emil Herwitz, aged 14, accidentally shot himself in the arm while hunting. Surgeons amputated the arm, the charge having torn the flesh away from the wrist to the elbow.

Rainbow Division in France. Neenah—Letters have been received here by parents of Neenah boys, members of Co. G, Appleton, of the Rainbow division, which state that they have arrived safely in France.

Bank Is Authorized. Poskin—The Farmers' State bank of this city, with a capitalization of $100,000, was authorized. F. E. Hull is president, and G. G. Dennewith, cashier.

Miss Rankin Gives Talk. La Crosse—Miss Jeanette Rankin, congresswoman from Montana, delivered an address on suffrage to the Social Service workers at the Y. W. C. A. here.

Farmer Kills Bald Eagle. Marshfield—A bald eagle, measuring 7 feet from tip to tip of wings, was killed recently by a farmer in the town of Lammary.

Dane County Has New Coroner. Madison—William E. Campbell, a real estate man, has been appointed coroner of Dane county to succeed Henry Noll, resigned.

Celebrates 100th Birthday. Jamesville—Martin Ryder, a resident of this city, observed his 100th birthday on Nov. 10.

Idlers Given Sentences. Chas. Severson, Frank Wagner and Geo. Bortle were brought before Judge McElbin in municipal court, charged with being idlers in the meaning of the Huber law, and were sentenced to ninety days of labor under the supervision of the sheriff.

RULES FOR BAKERIES

FOOD ADMINISTRATION TELLS NEW REGULATIONS.

Bread Must Be Made and Sold Only in Specified Weights—Tells How to Mix Dough.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Following the issuance of the general orders licensing all bakeries, the food administration made public the rules and regulations under which bakeries will operate. The most important provide that the licensees must not: Buy, contract for, sell, store or otherwise handle or seal in any food commodities to unreasonably increase the price or restrict supply or attempt to locally or generally monopolize commodities; destroy any bakery products; waste or willfully permit deterioration of products; accept returns of bread or other bakery products, make cash payments or allow credit to any retailer for any unsold bread or other bakery products "or exchange any of them for other bread or bakery products which he has sold."

Bread must be made and sold only in the specified weights or multiples of 16-ounce units which must not run over 17 ounces and 24-ounce units which must not run over 25 1/2 ounces, in both cases net weights, unwrapped, 12 hours after baking. Each unit of two or multiple loaves must conform to these weight requirements. Rolls must be in units weighing from one to three ounces, but no rolls manufactured or offered for sale shall weigh, unwrapped, 12 hours after baking, less than one ounce or more than three ounces. These standards are to be determined by averaging weights of 25 loaves or five dozen rolls of each unit.

In mixing dough for bread or rolls on the unit basis of 166 pounds of any flour, meal or mixture, bakers must not use more than three pounds of cane or beet sugar, or in lieu of them, six pounds of fresh milk from which butter fats have been extracted; nor use any shortening except not exceeding two pounds of compounds containing not more than 15 per cent of animal fats, or, instead, not more than two pounds of vegetable fats. Where sweetened condensed milk is used, its added sugar content shall be deducted from the net sugar allowed. Sugars or fats are not to be added to the dough during the making process or to the bread or rolls, when baked.

HEAL BABY RASHES. That Itch, Burn and Torture With Cuticura—Trial Free.

A hot Cuticura Soap bath is soothing to irritated skins when followed by a gentle application of Cuticura Ointment. Use Cuticura for every-day toilet preparations to prevent such troubles. After this treatment baby sleeps mother rests and health follows.

HEAL BABY RASHES. That Itch, Burn and Torture With Cuticura—Trial Free.

HEAL BABY RASHES. That Itch, Burn and Torture With Cuticura—Trial Free.

HEAL BABY RASHES. That Itch, Burn and Torture With Cuticura—Trial Free.

HEAL BABY RASHES. That Itch, Burn and Torture With Cuticura—Trial Free.

HEAL BABY RASHES. That Itch, Burn and Torture With Cuticura—Trial Free.

HEAL BABY RASHES. That Itch, Burn and Torture With Cuticura—Trial Free.

HEAL BABY RASHES. That Itch, Burn and Torture With Cuticura—Trial Free.

HEAL BABY RASHES. That Itch, Burn and Torture With Cuticura—Trial Free.

HEAL BABY RASHES. That Itch, Burn and Torture With Cuticura—Trial Free.

HEAL BABY RASHES. That Itch, Burn and Torture With Cuticura—Trial Free.

HEAL BABY RASHES. That Itch, Burn and Torture With Cuticura—Trial Free.

EAT SKINNER'S THE BEST MACARONI. INCITING AN EXHORTATION. "What was the idea of you men getting out with firearms and using harsh language last night?"

Inciting an Exhortation. "What was the idea of you men getting out with firearms and using harsh language last night?"

SWAMP-ROOT FOR KIDNEY AILMENTS. There is only one medicine that really stands out pre-eminent as a medicine for curable ailments of the kidneys, liver and bladder.

SWAMP-ROOT FOR KIDNEY AILMENTS. There is only one medicine that really stands out pre-eminent as a medicine for curable ailments of the kidneys, liver and bladder.

SWAMP-ROOT FOR KIDNEY AILMENTS. There is only one medicine that really stands out pre-eminent as a medicine for curable ailments of the kidneys, liver and bladder.

SWAMP-ROOT FOR KIDNEY AILMENTS. There is only one medicine that really stands out pre-eminent as a medicine for curable ailments of the kidneys, liver and bladder.

SWAMP-ROOT FOR KIDNEY AILMENTS. There is only one medicine that really stands out pre-eminent as a medicine for curable ailments of the kidneys, liver and bladder.

SWAMP-ROOT FOR KIDNEY AILMENTS. There is only one medicine that really stands out pre-eminent as a medicine for curable ailments of the kidneys, liver and bladder.

SWAMP-ROOT FOR KIDNEY AILMENTS. There is only one medicine that really stands out pre-eminent as a medicine for curable ailments of the kidneys, liver and bladder.

SWAMP-ROOT FOR KIDNEY AILMENTS. There is only one medicine that really stands out pre-eminent as a medicine for curable ailments of the kidneys, liver and bladder.

SWAMP-ROOT FOR KIDNEY AILMENTS. There is only one medicine that really stands out pre-eminent as a medicine for curable ailments of the kidneys, liver and bladder.

SWAMP-ROOT FOR KIDNEY AILMENTS. There is only one medicine that really stands out pre-eminent as a medicine for curable ailments of the kidneys, liver and bladder.

Hoarding New Bread. Old Fatwaste was a food boy. He went from shop to shop buying pounds of this and packets of that, and stored these ill gotten gains in his larder "for a rainy day."

BOSCHEE'S GERMAN SYRUP. will quiet your cough, soothe the inflammation of a sore throat and lungs, stop irritation in the bronchial tubes, insuring a good night's rest, free from coughing and with easy expectoration in the morning.

SWAMP-ROOT FOR KIDNEY AILMENTS. There is only one medicine that really stands out pre-eminent as a medicine for curable ailments of the kidneys, liver and bladder.

SWAMP-ROOT FOR KIDNEY AILMENTS. There is only one medicine that really stands out pre-eminent as a medicine for curable ailments of the kidneys, liver and bladder.

ACID POISONING! The most eminent physicians recognize that uric acid stored up in the system is the cause of gout and rheumatism, that this uric acid poison is present in the joints, muscles, or nerves.

ACID POISONING! The most eminent physicians recognize that uric acid stored up in the system is the cause of gout and rheumatism, that this uric acid poison is present in the joints, muscles, or nerves.

ACID POISONING! The most eminent physicians recognize that uric acid stored up in the system is the cause of gout and rheumatism, that this uric acid poison is present in the joints, muscles, or nerves.

ACID POISONING! The most eminent physicians recognize that uric acid stored up in the system is the cause of gout and rheumatism, that this uric acid poison is present in the joints, muscles, or nerves.

ACID POISONING! The most eminent physicians recognize that uric acid stored up in the system is the cause of gout and rheumatism, that this uric acid poison is present in the joints, muscles, or nerves.

ACID POISONING! The most eminent physicians recognize that uric acid stored up in the system is the cause of gout and rheumatism, that this uric acid poison is present in the joints, muscles, or nerves.

ACID POISONING! The most eminent physicians recognize that uric acid stored up in the system is the cause of gout and rheumatism, that this uric acid poison is present in the joints, muscles, or nerves.

ACID POISONING! The most eminent physicians recognize that uric acid stored up in the system is the cause of gout and rheumatism, that this uric acid poison is present in the joints, muscles, or nerves.

37% More For Your Money. Get the Genuine. CASCARA QUININE. No advance in price for this 20-year-old remedy—25c for 24 tablets—Some cold tablets now 30c for 24 tablets—Figured on proportionate cost per tablet, you save 9% when you buy Hill's—Cures Cold in 24 hours—75c in 3 days—Money back if it fails. 24 Tablets for 25c. At any Drug Store.

Carter's Little Liver Pills. For Constipation. Carter's Little Liver Pills will set you right over night. Purely Vegetable. Small Pill, Small Dose, Small Price. Will restore color to the faces of those who lack iron in the blood, as most pale-faced people do.

THIS WOMAN WAS WEAK, THIN, COULDN'T EAT. Milwaukee, Wis.—"I am giving this testimonial in the hope that some suffering woman will see it and receive as much benefit from the use of Dr. Pierce's Remedies as I have. Some years ago I was afflicted with woman's weakness. I suffered for several years. Was weak, thin, could not eat, and was ready to give up until I learned of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription; it gave relief at once, and four bottles, with the 'Pleasant Pellets,' completely cured me. I have been healthy and strong ever since."—MRS. MINNIE MEYER, 287 Washington St.—Adv.

HORSE SALE DISTEMPER. You know that when you sell or buy through the sales you have about one chance in fifty to escape SALE STABLE DISTEMPER. "SPOHN'S" is your true protection, your only safeguard, for as sure as you treat all your horses with it, you will soon be rid of the disease. It acts as a sure preventive, no matter how they are "exposed." 50 cents and 41 a bottle; 35 and 30 dozen bottles, at all good druggists, horse goods houses, or delivered by the manufacturers. SPOHN MEDICAL CO., Manufacturers, Goshen, Ind., U.S.A.

Notice to Sick Women. The Experience of These Women Prove That There is a Remedy for Your Illness. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored more sick women to health than any other remedy. At Your Druggists. LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. LYNN, MASS.

Our Fifth Anniversary Sale

Commences Wednesday, November 21
Ending Saturday Evening, December 1

We wish to extend a Special Invitation to every reader of the Statesman, to visit this Big Annual Event. You will find the largest stock of Fall and Winter Merchandise ever shown here, at prices that will mean a saving in every department. Look over the big Sale Poster for Bargains. We give Merchandise Bonds with every purchase.

The Poull Mercantile Co. West Bend Wisconsin
HOME OF HART SCHAFFNER & MARX CLOTHES

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

THINK FORD PRICES

	1917	1914
Touring Car	$360	$490
Runabout	345	440
Coupelet	560	750
Sedan	695	975

Can you think of any other article that has been reduced in price since the war began?

You can't get greater value for a dollar anywhere on earth today.

BUY NOW—TODAY

WEST BEND MOTOR CO.
Kewaskum, Wisconsin

ATTEND THE MOVIES

Opera House, Kewaskum,
Sunday, November 18

DUSTIN FARNUM

IN "BEN BLAIR"

Cartoon Comics
and Travelogues

Seven Reel Program

SHOW STARTS AT 8 O'CLOCK P. M.

Don't Miss This Big Show!

Lorena.
The following were very pleasantly entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bartel in honor of the former's 46th birthday anniversary, Saturday evening: Mr. and Mrs. Jul. Glander, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Siegfried and son Herbert, Mrs. Chas. Schultz and son Frank, Mr. and Mrs. John Gatzke and family, Hy. Dettman, Mr. and Mrs. Art. Engelman, Dan Warden, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Janssen and son Wilmar, John Brandenburg and family, Aug. Arndt and family, Wm. Dickeliver and family, Chas. Trapp, Mr. and Mrs. Jac. Zengelman, Frank Vetter and family, Al. Krueger and family and Levi Melius.

The following attended the 15th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Backhaus on last week Thursday evening: Mr. and Mrs. Aug. Heise, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Heise, Mr. and Mrs. Chris. Klein, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Lubach, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Glander, Mr. and Mrs. John Pesch, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Gessner, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Henry Backhaus, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Stahl, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dubin and daughter Veronica, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hicken and Carol, Mr. and Mrs. Hy. Hicken and son Carol, Mr. and Mrs. Hy. Kraemer and son Roland, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Heinemann and daughter Helen, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Wilke and daughter Aloda, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schroeter and daughter Elda, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Backhaus and daughter Meta, Mrs. Wm. Backhaus and son Wilmar of Campbellsport, Mrs. Emil Gessner Jr., and daughters Edna and Ella and son Wm. of New Fane, Miss Anna Schultz, Miss Mary Schultz of New Fane, Miss Norma Rubenthal, Misses Rosa and Minnie Gessner, Miss Jennie Backhaus, Miss Adeline Stahl, Misses Francis, Lena and Mamie Aupperle, Hy. Schultz, Oscar Kurt, Richard Teschendorf, Rob Zinkgraf, Herman, Frank and Jul. Gessner, Jas. Aupperle, Arno Backhaus, Arno, Raymond and Monroe Stahl, Oscar, Clarence and Elmer Stange, and Leo. Marquardt.

NENNO

John Young was a caller here last Monday.

Ray Starr called on friends at Theresa Monday.

Ed. Mies called on friends at Byron Friday evening.

L. P. Newburg transacted business at Milwaukee Tuesday.

Geo. Cavanaugh and Frank Jeffords of Hartford were Nenko callers Thursday.

Albert Schellinger went to Minneapolis Tuesday to attend the funeral of a relative.

A large number of people attended the poultry tournament at L. P. Newburg's Sunday.

The members of the St. Peters and Pauls' choir spent a very enjoyable evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Math. Berg Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Ruplinger, Mr. and Mrs. M. Gehl and daughter Lillian, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Seitz, Dr. and Mrs. Lynch, Mr. and Mrs. J. Grace of Milwaukee spent Sunday with L. P. Newburg and family.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts through the blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Medicine fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

BOLTONVILLE

George Michels of Newburg was a caller here Sunday.

Aug. Becker and Walter Geib spent Sunday with relatives at Glenbeulah.

George Michels left on Tuesday for Milwaukee where he will be employed.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gatzke and family, Mr. and Mrs. Hy. Schultz and baby, Mr. and Mrs. Hy. Hicken and son and Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Lubach and daughter attended the funeral of Rudolph Hagner at West Bend Sunday.

Wm. Dickliver and son Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Krueger and daughter Ruth, Martha Siegfried, Peter Fellenz, Ella Dickliver, Levi Melius, Oscar and Elva Bartel spent Wednesday evening with Frank Vetter and family.

The following guests were pleasantly entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Krahn last Sunday Mrs. Emil Wilke and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Schmidt and sons Art. and Harvey, Mrs. Willie Backhaus of Kewaskum, Mr. and Mrs. Hy. Becker and daughter Renetta, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Glass, Mr. and Mrs. William Krueger and daughters Anetta and Interesting Items in Neckwear.

Organdie Collars in the pretty new Fall styles, roll or flat shape 30c and 59c	Satin Collars Rich and attractive, in different designs $1.15	Organdie Collar and cuff sets , neatly hem-stitched, very desirable 65c a set
---	---	---

A SPECIAL GLOVE BARGAIN

We are offering a large quantity of long chamoisette and lisle gloves in black, white and chamois. The quality is excellent, a regular $1.00 glove for 59c.

Boudoir Caps in all the dainty colors, prettily trimmed with lace and ribbons, specially priced at 29c.	Silk Petticoats Made of soft taffeta, with fancy ruffles. In all the new colors. Offered at $2.50 each.
Dress Gingham One lot of short lengths. 36 inches wide. Regularly 25c, now 19c per yard.	Black Sateen Petticoats Several different styles, with plain and scalloped ruffles. Made of good quality sateen at $1.25 each.

Wonderful Values in Millinery

Pick Brothers Company

West Bend, Wisconsin

FOR SALE—Registered Holstein Friesian bulls from 6 to 10 months old—Chas. Backhaus, R. 3, Box 4 Kewaskum, Wis. Phone No. 147.

Certain Cure for Croup.

Mrs. Rose Middleton, of Greenville, Ill., has had experience in the treatment of this disease. She says, "When my children were small my son had croup frequently. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy always broke up these attacks immediately, and I was never without it in the house. I have taken it myself for coughs and colds with good results."

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

State of Wisconsin, Washington County Court, In Probate.
In the matter of the estate of Herman Knuepfer, deceased.
Letters of administration on said estate having been granted to George Bruesewitz and an order allowing and limiting the time for creditors to present their claims against said estate, and fixing the time and place for examining and adjusting the same having been entered:
Notice is hereby given, that creditors are allowed until the first Tuesday in March, 1918, to present their claims against said deceased to this court for examination and allowance, and that said court will on the third Tuesday of March, A. D. 1918, at the probate office in the city of West Bend, in said county, examine and adjust all claims so presented against the said Herman Knuepfer, deceased.
Dated October 25th, 1917.
By order of the Court,
Bucklin & Geil, P. O'NEARA, Attorneys, County Judge
(First publication Nov. 3, 1917)

A bank that does all for its customers that a good bank should do.

FARMERS & MERCHANTS STATE BANK

KEWASKUM, WISCONSIN

"The Bank of the People and For All The People"

This Store is Headquarters for Xmas Gifts

The large, well selected assortment of goods suitable for Xmas Gifts assembled at this store affords a splendid opportunity to choose appropriate gifts, among this is especially Jewelry. Make this a Jewelry Xmas and buy it at this store.

MRS. K. ENDLICH
Jeweler & Optometrist
KEWASKUM, WISCONSIN

FUNERAL PARLOR FRANK A. ZWASKA UNDERTAKER LADY ASSISTANT

AUTO AND CARRIAGE SERVICE
OPEN DAY AND NIGHT
Especially Equipped to Ship Bodies From Hospital
2201 Center Street, Corner 22nd, Milwaukee, Wis.
Phone Kilbourn 1318

Mrs. P. O. Stuchell Tells How She Cured Her Son of a Cold

"When my son Ellis was sick with a cold last winter I gave him Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It helped him at once and quickly broke up his cold," writes Mrs. P. O. Stuchell, Homer, City, Pa. This remedy has been in use for many years. Its good qualities have been fully proven by many thousands of people. It is pleasant and safe to take.

FOR SALE—One Pennsylvanian Range, good as new.—Dr. N. E. Hateman

HIGHEST PRICES PAID IN CASH

For Scrap Iron, Bones and Everything You Want to Sell by

S. MOSES, Kewaskum, Wis.
Telephone 1091

A Letter From Washington

The Food Administrator Writes Us:

"The use of baking powder breads made of corn and other coarse flours instead of patent wheat flour is recommended by the Conservation Division of the Food Administration. The wheat needed for export is thus conserved, and at the same time healthful food for our own people is provided. The circulation of recipes providing for these uses would be of assistance in carrying out our plans."

The following recipes for Corn Bread and Rye Rolls save wheat flour and make attractive and wholesome food for every day when made with

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

CORN BREAD

1 1/2 cups corn meal
1/2 cup flour
4 level teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups milk
2 tablespoons shortening

Mix thoroughly. Add ingredients; add milk and melted shortening; beat well; pour into well greased pan and bake in hot oven about 25 minutes.

Our red, white and blue booklet "Best War Time Recipes" containing additional similar recipes sent free on request. Address Royal Baking Powder Company, Dept. H, 135 William Street, New York.

RYE ROLLS

2 cups rye flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 level teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup shortening

Sift dry ingredients together, add milk and melted shortening. Knead on floured board; shape into rolls, put into greased pans and allow to stand in warm place 20 to 25 minutes. Bake in moderate oven 25 to 30 minutes.

—Conrad Bier Sr., visited at Jackson last Sunday.
—Mrs. H. J. Lay was a Milwaukee visitor Wednesday.
—Mrs. Al. Schaefer was a Milwaukee visitor Monday.
—John Brunner Jr., was an Oshkosh visitor Monday.
—Rudy Hirsig transacted business at Jackson Thursday.
—Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bath were at Waucousta Saturday.
—John Marx left Tuesday on a business trip to Antigo.
—Mrs. A. L. Simon was a West Bend visitor Saturday.
—Frank Peters of Milwaukee spent Sunday with home folks.
—Mrs. Herman Kneuppel was a West Bend caller Tuesday.
—Wm. Kirsch of St. Kilian was a village caller Wednesday.
—Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bath were West Bend visitors Sunday.
—Mrs. Leo. Kaas was a West Bend visitor Thursday afternoon.
—William Schaub was a business caller at Milwaukee Wednesday.
—F. C. Gottsleben and wife visited West Bend relatives Tuesday.
—Dr. Wm. Hausmann of West Bend was a village caller Tuesday.
—N. W. Rosenheimer was a business caller at Milwaukee Tuesday.
—Jos. Honeck of Milwaukee was an over Sunday visitor in the village.
—Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Romaine were New Prospect visitors Sunday.
—Attorney C. E. Robinson of West Bend was a village caller Saturday.
—Miss M. A. Schmidt transacted business in the Cream City Tuesday.
—Mrs. Jos. Schmidt and daughter Edna were Milwaukee visitors Monday.
—Bryant Cameron of West Bend spent Sunday with Nic Haug Sr., and family.
—David Rosenheimer and family were guests of Milwaukee relatives Sunday.
—J. M. Schroeder of West Bend was a business caller in the village Thursday.
—Mr. and Mrs. Hy. Martin spent Sunday with Peter Boegel and wife at Elmore.
—Fred Belger and family of Boltonville spent Sunday with the Meilahn family.
—Mrs. Herman Krahn and granddaughter were West Bend visitors on Wednesday.
—Born to Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Remmel a baby boy last Saturday. Congratulations.
—Miss Theresa Raether spent last Thursday evening with friends at Fond du Lac.
—Ed. Heise and wife attended the funeral of Ralph Hagner at West Bend Sunday.
—Miss Theresa Raether and Ethel Pollnow spent Saturday and Sunday at Milwaukee.
—Miss Lazetta Schaefer spent the latter part of last week with relatives at Milwaukee.
—Mrs. Ed. Seip and son Earl of Milwaukee spent Sunday with the Koch families.
—Mr. and Mrs. John Tiss were guests of Campbellsport relatives and friends Sunday.
—Mrs. James Murphy spent Wednesday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ferd. Raether.
—Mrs. Ferd. Raether visited a few days with her mother, Mrs. Louis Bartel at Beechwood.
—Judge Backus and family of Milwaukee were guests of the Hausmann families Sunday.
—Mrs. Arthur Koch spent a few days the forepart of the week with relatives at Milwaukee.
—Second hand coal stove for sale cheap, base burner. Inquire of Val. Peters, Kewaskum, Wis.
—Clarence Hoffman of Milwaukee visited with the Hy. Backhaus family Saturday and Sunday.
—Geo. Rau of Chicago visited with Mr. and Mrs. Hy. Backhaus and family Saturday and Sunday.

—Mr. and Mrs. William Binder of Fillmore visited with the Charles Groeschel family Sunday.
—L. P. Rosenheimer and Gerhard Fellenz attended County Board meeting at West Bend Tuesday.
—Edw. Wussow returned to Edgar Tuesday after a few week's visit with relatives in this vicinity.
—Mrs. Gust Klug returned home from Milwaukee Monday after a few days' stay with her children.
—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Buslaff and family left Tuesday for a few days' visit with relatives in Minnesota.
—Mrs. Louis Backhaus visited a few days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kibbel at Campbellsport.
—Edward Lieppert and wife of West Bend spent Sunday with home folks in the town of Farmington.
—R. L. Davies and wife, Oscar Koerble and family and Miss Tillie Mayer autoed to Batavia Sunday.
—Gladys, Chester and Evelyn Perschbacher and Miss Manilla Groeschel spent Sunday at Wayne.
—Mr. and Mrs. Emil Backhaus returned home last week Saturday, after a few days' stay at Milwaukee.
—Mr. and Mrs. Peter Becker and family of Campbellsport spent Sunday with Mrs. Chas. Trost and family.
—Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Schmidt Jr., of Milwaukee spent a few days this week with the Jos. Schmidt Sr., family.
—The infant child, born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bruesewitz on Wednesday, November 14th, died the same day.
—Aug. Kirehner and mother were to Fond du Lac Wednesday to visit Mrs. Wm. Guth at the St. Agnes hospital.
—Mrs. John Guth moved her household furniture into her residence in the L. Rosenheimer addition this week.
—Mrs. Margaret Hoinig of Fond du Lac arrived here last Saturday for a visit with the Edw. C. Miller family.
—Mrs. Henry Morgenroth of Oshkosh spent from last week Thursday to Friday with the E. L. Morgenroth family.
—N. J. Braun and family and Miss Rose Ockenfels of Jefferson spent Sunday with the J. M. Ockenfels family.
—Dr. Carl Hausmann moved his household goods into the former Wm. Hausmann residence on Fond du Lac Ave.
—Miss Luella Schnurr, who teaches school at Mt. Calvary, spent Saturday with her mother, Mrs. Henry Schnurr.
—Mrs. Jos. Hermann and son Raymond returned home last Friday, after an extended stay at Evansville, Indiana.
—Mrs. John Theusch returned to Campbellsport Tuesday after an extended visit here with her son Joseph and family.
—John Schoofs visited with his daughter, Mrs. Gustav Hausmann and family at Waupun from Sunday until Wednesday.
—Dr. Gustave Hausmann and family of Waupun visited with the Hausmann and John Schoofs families last Sunday.
—Mrs. John Harter and son Jake motored to Schleisingerville Sunday where they spent the day visiting with relatives.
—Jacob Schaefer and gentleman friend of West Bend visited with relatives and friends in the village last week Saturday.
—Mrs. Walter Krueger and son Henry of Milwaukee spent from Friday until Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ben. Backhaus.
—Herman Gottsleben of Kimberly was an over Sunday visitor with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Gottsleben and family.
—LOST—A Gold Locket with initials "S. S." upon it, somewhere between Boltonville and Kewaskum. Honest finder please return same to this office.

—Mrs. William Schmidt and daughter spent Sunday with her sister Frieda, at the St. Agnes hospital at Fond du Lac.
—Mr. and Mrs. Math. Dickey and Mrs. Gerhard Peters of Milwaukee spent Saturday and Sunday with Val Peters and family.
—S. C. Wollensak and wife attended the funeral of the former's brother-in-law, Charles Farley, at Columbus, Wis., last week.
—Raymond Buss left last week Thursday for West Bend, where he underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Columbia hospital.
—Private Carl Westerman of Camp Grant, Rockford, Ill., visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Westerman and family here last Sunday.
—FOR SALE—Brand new No. 5 West Bend feed cutter at half price if taken at once—Call on or write to Kilian Honeck, West Bend, R. D. 7.
—LOST—A good horse hide robe in this village about three weeks ago. Honest finder please leave same at this office and receive reward. 2v.
—Peter J. Haug, Arthur Schaefer Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Simon autoed to Cascade, Plymouth, Sheboygan and other places of interest last Sunday.
—Mr. and Mrs. Herman Meilahn and Carl Meilahn and wife motored to Milwaukee last Sunday where they spent the day with relatives and friends.
—Albert Buss was to West Bend Tuesday to visit his son who was operated on for appendicitis at the Columbia Hospital at the County Seat.
—The following young men have been discharged from military service: Edward Kitzger of Ausouson and Math. H. Herriges of the town of Kewaskum.
—Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Rosenheimer returned home from Scotland, South Dakota, where they visited with their daughter, Mrs. Gust Landmann and family, on Wednesday.
—Henry Scholler, who for the past several years was in the employ of the Campbellsport News, at Campbellsport, has accepted a position with the Statesman. He commenced his new duties on Monday.
—Paul Hausmann, son of Dr. and Mrs. William Hausmann of West Bend, was taken to the St. Agnes hospital, Fond du Lac on Wednesday, where he underwent an operation on one of his ears. The patient is doing as well as can be expected at the present writing.
—Fill the body with warm, glowing vitality, make the nerves strong, increase circulation, restore natural vigor, feel like one born again. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea—nature's gift of wondrous herbs, pure, harmless, so scientifically blended, results guaranteed or money back.—Edw. C. Miller.
—Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fischer, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Streblov and Miss Shinkelhauser of Woodland, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Streblov and sons of Mayville, Mr. and Mrs. Lane Schaefer and children, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Backhaus of Kewaskum spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Backhaus in the town of Kewaskum.
—A birthday party was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Math. Kohn's 33rd birthday anniversary last Sunday. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Bartholm Becker, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Kohn, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schieff, Mr. and Mrs. John Andrae, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Backhaus, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Eichstedt, Mr. and Mrs. John Kohn, Mrs. Frank Kohn, Mrs. August Buss, Mr. and Mrs. John Ficks, Wm. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Jac. Knoebel, Miles Muckerheide and John Petermann. A turkey lunch was served by Mrs. Math. Kohn and Mrs. Jac. Knoebel. The occasion also being Mrs. Knoebel's birthday anniversary. When the guests departed for their respective homes, they wished them many more such happy birthdays.

—Miss Mae Raether, who is attending the Milwaukee Normal school visited with her parents over Saturday and Sunday.
—The card party given last Tuesday evening by the Women's Club in the Temperance Hall, was fairly well attended and a good time was had by all present. Prizes were awarded as follows: 1st gents' prize in 500, Geo. H. Schmidt; Consolation prize, Elwyn Romaine; 1st ladies' prize, Mrs. R. L. Davies; Consolation, Mrs. Edw. C. Miller; 1st prize in cinch, Mrs. Jos. Gritner and consolation, Mrs. J. M. Ockenfels.
—ROUND LAKE
John Bohlman was a Dundee caller Thursday.
Louis Ewald is spending a month at his home here.
Miss Cristina Luben visited friends at Plymouth Sunday.
Mr. Engelman of Beechwood called on Ira Stanton Friday.
Miss Corall Romaine was a caller at M. Calvey's Thursday.
William Bauman spent Tuesday with A. Plautz at Cascade.
Mr. Larson of Sheboygan was a business caller here Friday.
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ramthun were callers at Kewaskum Monday.
Edith Braun spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents here.
Clemens Braun was a business caller at Campbellsport Monday.
Earl Hennings spent Sunday with his brother Ray at Random Lake.
Gust Schielbe of Sheboygan Falls is spending some time with his sister here.
John Schenk and Alvin Newton called on friends here one day last week.
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beggan and son spent Sunday at the home of A. Braun.
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hofferman visited with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rahn Sunday.
Miss Siegfried of Beechwood spent Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. Ira Stanton.
Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Skelton and family spent Sunday with Dan Calvey and family.
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beggan and Miss Mable Braun spent Tuesday at Fond du Lac.
Mr. and Mrs. Otto Krueger and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. M. Calvey.
A. Radtke, the drayman of Cascade was a business caller at M. Calvey's Thursday.
Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ramthun attended an auction sale east of Kewaskum Tuesday.
Mr. and Mrs. Otto Gohman of Fond du Lac spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mielke.
Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rosenbaum and family spent Sunday with Julius Delieg and family.
Henry and Wilbur Wittenberg spent Sunday with their brother Clarence at Dundee.
Mr. and Mrs. Otto Smith spent Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wittenberg.
Mrs. Herman Wickman and Mrs. Martin Deny spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. M. Calvey.
Mr. and Mrs. William Hennings spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Simon Thomas at Cascade.
Mr. and Mrs. William Elison left for Plymouth Thursday, where they will make their future home.
Clem. Braun and sisters Mable and Edith spent Friday evening with Misses Cecelia and Dalia Calvey.
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Habeck of Mayville spent Saturday with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Hennings.
Mr. and Mrs. Herman Wickman and family and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Deny of Sheboygan spent Sunday at the Ira Stanton home.
Joseph and Clement Braun and sister Edith, Misses Cecelia and Dalia Calvey and brother Vincent spent Sunday afternoon at the Darsneck home in Mitchell.
Mr. and Mrs. George Towig and family of Armstrong, Hugh Murphy and Arnold Garriety of Nasbro were among those who spent Sunday at the A. Braun home.
Mr. and Mrs. Herman Stern and family of Farmington, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ramthun and family and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Giese were entertained at the Louis Ramthun home Sunday.
—CEDAR LAWN
John L. Gudex was at the County Seat last week Saturday.
N. Kraemer made a business trip to Fond du Lac last Saturday.
William Bieme of North Eden was a pleasant caller here last Monday.
The A. S. of E. shipped several cars of stock from Campbellsport on Wednesday.
Mrs. Johanna Majerus of North Osceola was a pleasant caller here last Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. Anton Bertram and children of Ashford spent last Sunday with the George Gudex family.
Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gudex and daughter Viola and son Leonard of North Osceola called here last Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Krae er and daughter Estella in company with Mr. and Mrs. Jake Scheid autoed to Knowles last Sunday.

LADIES' COATS

More New Coats Received
Come while the stock is still large
Special Bargains

Men's and Boys' Overcoats & Suits

Big assortment to select from

$3.00 to $25.00

Mackinaw Coats $5.00 to $9.50

L. ROSENHEIMER

Kewaskum, Wisconsin

LOCAL MARKET REPORT

Barley	$1.25 to $1.30
Wheat	$1.75 to $2.10
Red Winter	$1.75 to $2.10
Rye No. 1	$1.65 to $1.85
Oats	55c to 60c
Timothy Seed, per cwt.	$5.00 to $7.00
Red Clover Seed, per 100 lbs	$20 to $25
Alsike Clover Seed, per 100 lbs	$17 to $20
White Clover Seed, per 100 lbs	$25 to $40
Butter	40c to 42c
Eggs	41c
Unwashed Wool	60c to 64c
Beans, bu.	$7.50 to $8.50
Hides (calf skin)	25c
Cow Hides	17c to 18c
Horse Hides	$6.00 to $7.00
Honey, lb.	15c
Potatoes, new, assorted well	95c-$1.05
Live Poultry
Spring Chickens	16c
Old Chickens	13c to 14c
Roosters	13c
Geese	16c
Ducks	17c
Dressed Poultry
Spring Chickens	17c to 18c
Geese	20c
Ducks	21c to 22c

Dairy Market

SEEBOYGAN
Sheboygan, Wis., Nov. 12—11 factories offered 429 cases of longhorns on the call board today and all sold as follows: 97 at 24 1/2c and 332 at 24 1/2c.

PLYMOUTH

Plymouth, Wis., Nov. 12—18 factories offered 1,168 boxes of cheese on the call board today and all sold as follows: 55 boxes of twins at 23 1/2c, 10 cases young Americas at 24 1/2c, 125 daisies at 24 1/2c, 250 at 24 1/2c, 40 cases longhorns at 24 1/2c, 398 at 24 1/2c, 110 boxes square prints at 26 1/2c, and 180 at 26c.

—Editor Sullivan and family and T. F. Flanagan and family of Campbellsport were guests of the Chas. Westerman family Sunday.

Our Business is Banking Banking is Our Business

The sign "Bank" does not make a bank and is often misleading. It requires time, energy, close attention to business, a substantial capital and surplus and ripe experience in banking to make a bank.

We claim all the essentials necessary to make our business that of banking, and tender our patrons a service thoroughly seasoned by years of experience, backed by a substantial capital and a large surplus.

Bank of Kewaskum

Kewaskum, Wisconsin

Stockholders' Individual Resources
Over Two Million Dollars

Columbia Sweaters

The Very Latest Styles.

Every Garment Guaranteed

Our purchases of both Ladies' and Gents' SWEATERS were never so large as this year, nor the range of selection so wide. We are prepared to meet almost any requirement in these lines.

Prices to Suit the Customer

Our complete new line of Fall and Winter Dress Goods and Gents' Furnishings is now ready for your inspection

A. G. KOCH KEWASKUM, WISCONSIN.

King of the Khyber Rifles

A Romance of Adventure

By TALBOT MUNDY
Copyright by the Bobbe-Merrill Company

THE MYSTERIOUS RANGAR DESERTS CAPT. KING AND HIS CUTTHROAT ESCORT IN A DANGEROUS PART OF KHYBER PASS AND ADVENTURES COME RAPIDLY.

Synopsis.—At the beginning of the world war Capt. Athelstan King of the British Indian army and of its secret service, is ordered to Delhi to meet Yasmini, a dancer, and go with her to Khinjan to quiet the outlaws there who are said by spies to be preparing for a jihad or holy war. On his way to Delhi King quietly foils a plan to assassinate him and gets evidence that Yasmini is after him. He meets Rewa Gunga, Yasmini's man, who says she has already gone north, and at her town house witnesses queer dances. Ismail, an Afridi, becomes his body servant and protector. He rescues some of Yasmini's hillmen and takes them north with him, tricking the Rangar into going ahead.

CHAPTER VI—Continued.

It was not a long journey, nor a very slow one, for there was nothing to block the way except occasional men with flasks, who guarded culverts and little bridges. It was low tide under the Himalayas. The flood that was draining India of her armed men had left Jamrud high and dry with a little nondescript force stranded there, as it were, under a British major and some native officers. Frowning over Jamrud were the lean "Hills," peopled by the fiercest fighting men on earth, and the clouds that hung over the Khyber's course were an accent to the savagery.

cheerful, and with hands clasped behind him strolled over to the fort to interview Courtenay, the officer commanding.

It so happened that Courtenay had gone up the pass that morning with his shotgun after quail. He came back into view, followed by his little ten-man escort just as King left the fort, and King timed his approach so as to meet him. The men of the escort were heavily burdened; he could see that from a distance.

"Hello," he said by the fort gate, cheerily, after he had saluted and the salute had been returned.

"Oh, hello, King! Glad to see you. Heard you were coming, of course.

He drew out his wondrous cigarette case and offered it open to Courtenay, who hesitated, and then helped himself. King refused.

"Major Courtenay has just told me," said King, "that nobody resembling Yasmini has gone up the pass recently. Can you explain?"

"Do you mean, can I explain why the major failed to see her? For my soul, King sahib, d'you want me to insult the man? Yasmini is too jolly clever for me, or for any other man I ever met; and the major's a man, isn't he? He may pack the Khyber so full of men that there's only standing room and still she'll go up without his leave if she chooses! There is nobody like Yasmini in all the world!"

The Rangar was looking past him, facing the great gorge that lets the north of Asia trickle down into India and back again when weather and the tribes permit. His eyes had become interested in the distance. King wondered why—and looked—and saw. Courtenay saw, too.

"Hail that man and bring him here!" he ordered.

Ismail, keeping his distance with ears and eyes peeled, heard instantly and hurried off. Fifteen minutes later an Afridi stood scowling in front of them with a little rifle in a cleft stick in his hand. He held it out and Courtenay took it and sniffed.

"Well—I'll be blessed! A note—sniff—sniff—"on scented paper!" Sniff—sniff! "Carried down the Khyber in a split stick! Take it, King—it's addressed to you."

King obeyed and sniffed too. It smelt of something far more subtle than musk. He recognized the same strange scent that had been wafted from behind Yasmini's silken hangings in her room in Delhi. As he unfolded the note—it was not sealed—he found time for a swift glance at Rewa Gunga's face. The Rangar seemed interested and amused. The note, in English ran:

"Dear Captain King: Kindly be quick to follow me, because there is much talk of a lashkar getting ready for a raid. I shall wait for you in Khinjan, whither my messenger shall show the way. Please let him keep his rifle. Trust him, and Rewa Gunga and my thirty whom you brought with you. The messenger's name is Darya Khan. Your servant, Yasmini."

He passed the note to Courtenay, who read it and passed it back.

"I'll find out," the major muttered, "how she got up the pass without my knowing it. Somebody's tail shall be twisted for this!"

But he did not find out until King told him, and that was many days later, when a terrible cloud no longer threatened India from the north.

CHAPTER VII.

"I think I envy you!" said Courtenay.

They were seated in Courtenay's tent, face to face across the low table, with guttering lights between and Ismail outside the tent handing plates and things to Courtenay's servant inside.

"You're about the first who has admitted it," said King.

"Not far from them a head of pack-camels grunted and bubbled after the evening meal. The evening breeze brought the smoke of dung fires down to them, and an Afghani—one of the little crowd of traders who had come down with the camels three hours ago—sang a wailing song about his lady-love. Overhead the sky was like black velvet, pierced with silver holes.

"You see, you can't call our end of his business war—it's sport," said Courtenay. "Two battalions of Khyber rifles, hired to hold the pass against their own relations. Against them a couple of hundred thousand tribesmen, very hungry for loot, armed with up-to-date rifles, thanks to Russia yesterday and Germany today, and all perfectly well aware that a world war is in progress. That's sport, you know—not the 'image and likeness of war' that Jorrocks called it, but the real red root. And you've got a mystery thrown in to give it piquancy. I haven't found out yet how Yasmini got up the pass without my knowledge. I thought it was a trick. Didn't believe she'd gone. Yet all my men swear they know she has gone, and not one of them will own to having seen her go! What d'you think of that?"

For a while, as he ate Courtenay's broiled quail, King did not answer. But the merry smile had left his eyes and he seemed for once to be letting his mind dwell on conditions as they concerned himself.

"How many men have you at the fort?" he asked at last.

"Two hundred—all natives."

"Like 'em?"

"What's the use of talking?" answered Courtenay. "You know what it means when men of an alien race stand up to you and grin when they salute. They're my own."

King nodded. "Die with you, eh?"

"To the last man," said Courtenay quietly with that conviction that can only be arrived at in one way, and that not the easiest.

"I'd die alone," said King. "It'll be lonely to the 'Hills.' Got any more quail?"

And that was all he ever did say on that subject, then or at any other time.

"What shall you do first after you get up the pass? Call on your brother at All Masjid? He's likely to know a lot by the time you get there."

"Not sure," said King. "May and may not. I'd like to see him. Haven't seen the old chap in a donkey's age. How is he?"

"Well two days ago," said Courtenay.

"Here's wishing you luck!" said King. "It's time to go, sir."

He rose, and Courtenay walked with him to where his party waited in the dark, chilled by the cold wind whistling down the Khyber. Rewa Gunga sat, mounted, at their head, and close to him his personal servant rode another horse. Behind them were the mules, and then in a cluster, each with a load of some sort on his head, were the thirty prisoners, and Ismail took charge of them officiously. Darya Khan, the man who had brought the letter down the pass, kept close to Ismail.

King mounted, and Courtenay shook hands; then he went to Rewa Gunga's side and shook hands with him, too.

"Forward! March!" King ordered, and the little procession started.

"Oh, men of the 'Hills,' ye look like ghosts—like graveyard ghosts!" jeered Courtenay, as they all filed past him. "Ye look like dead men, going to be judged!"

Nobody answered. They strode behind the horses, with the swift, silent strides of men who are going home to the "Hills," but even they, the flame burned brighter and steadier and began to move and to grow.

"Halt!" King thundered; and his voice was sharp and unexpected as a pistol crack. This was something tangible, that a man could tackle—a perfect antidote for nerves.

The blue light continued on a zig-zag course, as if a man were running among bowlders with an unusual sort of torch; and as there was no answer King drew his pistol, took about thirty seconds' aim and fired. He fired straight at the blue light.

It vanished instantly, into measureless black silence.

"Now you've jolly well done it, haven't you?" the Rangar laughed in his ear. "That was her blue light—Yasmini's!"

It was a minute before King answered, for both animals were all but frantic with their sense of their riders' state of mind; it needed horsemanship to get them back under control.

"How do you know whose light it was?" King demanded, when the horse and mare were head to head again.

"It was prearranged. She promised me a signal at the point where I am to leave the track!"

King drew both spurs home, and set his unwilling horse to scrambling downward at an angle he could not guess, into blackness he could feel, trusting the animal to find a footing where his own eyes could make out nothing.

To his disgust he heard the Rangar immediately. To his even greater disgust the black mare overtook him. And even then, with his own mount stumbling and nearly pitching him headforemost at each lurch, he was forced to admire the mare's goatlike agility, for she descended into the gorge in running leaps, never setting a wrong foot. When he and his horse reached the bottom at last he found the Rangar waiting for him.

"This way, sahib!"

The next he knew sparks from the black mare's heels were kicking up in front of him, and a wild ride had begun such as he had never yet dreamed of. There was no catching up, for the black mare could gallop two to his horse's one; but he set his teeth and followed into solid night, trusting ear, eye, guesswork and the god of the secret service men, who loves the reckless.

Once in every two minutes he caught sight for a second of the same blue siren light that had started the race. He suspected that there were many torches placed at intervals.

His own horse developed a speed and stamina he had not suspected, and probably the Rangar did not dare extend the mare to her limit in the dark; at all events, for ten, perhaps fifteen, minutes of breathless galloping he almost made a race of it, keeping the Rangar either within sight or sound.

But then the mare swerved suddenly behind a bowlder and was gone. He spurred round the same great rock a minute later, and was faced by a blank wall of shale that brought his horse up all standing. It led steep up for a thousand feet to the skyline. There was not so much as a goat-track to show in which direction the mare had gone, nor a sound of any kind to guide him.

He dismounted and stumbled about on foot for about ten minutes with his eyes two feet from the earth, trying to find some trace of hoof. Then he listened, with his ear to the ground. There was no result.

He knew better than to shout. After some thought he mounted and began to hunt the way back, remembering turns and twists with a gift for direction that natives might well have envied him. He found his way back to the foot of the road at a trot, where ninety-nine men out of almost any hundred would have been lost hopelessly; and close to the road he overtook Darya Khan, hugging his rifle and staring about like a scorpion at bay.

"Did you expect that blue light, and this galloping away?" he asked.

"Nay, sahib; I knew nothing of it! I was told to lead the way to Khinjan."

"Come on, then!"

On the level road above King stared about him and felt in his pockets for a fresh cheroot. He struck a match and watched it to be sure his hand did not shake before he spoke. A man must command himself before trying it on others.

"Where are the others?" he asked, when he was certain of himself.

"Gone!" boomed Ismail.

King took a dozen pulls at the cheroot and stared about again. In the middle of the road stood his second horse, and three mules with his baggage, including the unmarked medicine chest. Close to them were three men, including the party now only six all told, including Darya Khan, himself and Ismail.

"Gone whither?" Ismail's voice was clogged with shocked surprise. "They followed! Was it then thy baggage on the other mules? Were they thy men? They led the mules and went!"

"Who ordered them?"

"Allah! Need the night be ordered to follow the day?"

"And thou?"

"I am thy man! She bade me be thy man!"

"And these?"

"Try them!"

King rebought him of his wrist, that was heavy with the weight of gold on it. He drew back his sleeve and held it up.

"May God be with thee!" boomed all five men at once, and the Khyber night gave back their voices, like the echoing of a sea.

King took his reins and mounted.

After a time King urged his horse to a jog-trot, and they trotted forward until the bed of the Khyber began to grow very narrow, and All Masjid fort could not be much more than a mile away, at the widest guess. Then King drew rein and dismounted, for he would have been challenged had he ridden much farther. A challenge in the Khyber after dark consists invariably of a volley at short range, with the mere words afterward, and the wise man takes precautions.

"Off with the mules' packs!" he ordered, and the men stood round and stared. Darya Khan, leaning on the only rifle in the party, grinned like a post-office letter box.

"Truly," growled Ismail, forgetting past expressions of a different opinion, "this man is as mad as all the other Englishmen."

"Were you ever bitten by one?" wondered King aloud.

"God forbid!"

"Then off with the packs—and hurry!"

Ismail began to obey.

"Thou! Lord of the Rivers! (For that is what Darya Khan means). What is thy calling?"

"Badragga" (guide), he answered. "Did she not send me back down the pass to be a guide? If she says I am badragga, shall any say she lies?"

"I say thou art unpacker of mules' burdens!" answered King. "Begin!"

For answer the fellow grinned from ear to ear and thrust the rifle barrel forward insolently. King, with the movement of determination that a man makes when about to force conclusions, drew up his sleeves above the wrists. At that instant the moon shone through the mist and the gold bracelet glittered in the moonlight.

"May God be with thee!" said "Lord of the Rivers" at once. And without another word he laid down his rifle and went to help off-load the mules.

King stepped aside and cursed softly. But for a vein of wisdom that underlay his pride he would have pocketed born in the "Hills" and knowing them as a wolf-pack knows its hunting ground, were awed by the gloom of Khyber mouth ahead. King's voice was the first to break the silence, and he did not speak until Courtenay was out of gunshot. Then:

He Fired Straight at the Blue Light.

"Men of the 'Hills!' he called. "Kuch dar nabin hai!"

"Nahin hai! Haha!" shouted Ismail. "So speaks a man! Hear that, ye mountain folk! He says, 'There is no such thing as fear!'"

In his place in the lead, King whistled softly to himself; but he drew an automatic pistol from its place beneath his armpit and transferred it to a ready position.

Fear or no fear, Khyber mouth is haunted after dark by the men whose blood fends are too reeking raw to let them dare go home and for whom the British bangman very likely waits a mile or two farther south. It is one of the few places in the world where a pistol is better than a stick stick.

Boulder, crag and loose rock faded into gloom behind; in front on both hands ranged hillsides were beginning to close in; and the wind, whose home is in Allah's refuse heap, whistled as it searched busily among the black ravines. Then presently the shadow of the thousand-foot-high Khyber walls began to cover them.

After a while King's cheroot went out, and he threw it away. A little later Rewa Gunga threw away his cigarette. After that, the veriest five-year-old among the Zakkas Khels, watching sleepless over the rim of some stone watch tower, could have taken oath that the Khyber's unburied dead were prowling in search of empty graves. Probably their uncanny silence was their best protection; but Rewa Gunga chose to break it after a time.

"King sahib!" he called softly, repeating it louder and more loudly until King heard him. "Slowly! Not so fast! There are men among those bowlders, and to go too fast is to make them think you are afraid! To seem afraid is to invite attack! Can we defend ourselves, with three firearms between us? Look! What is that?"

They were at the point where the road begins to lead uphill, westward, leaving the bed of a ravine and ascending to join the highway built by British engineers. Below, to left and right, was pit-mouth gloom, shadows amid shadows, full of eerie whistlings, and King felt the short hair on his neck begin to rise. He urged his horse forward. The Rangar followed him, close up, and both horse and man showed some excitement.

"Look, sahib!"

After a second or two he caught a glimpse of bluish flame that flashed suddenly and died again, somewhere below to the right. Then all at once

"What now?" asked Ismail, peering up the leather bag that he regarded as his own particular charge.

"Forward!" said King. "Come along!"

He began to set a fairly fast pace. Ismail leading the spare horse and the others towing the mules along. Except for King, who was modern and out of the picture, they looked like Old Testament patriarchs, hurrying off to Egypt, as depicted in the illustrated Bibles of a generation ago—all leaning forward—each man carrying a staff—and none looking to the right or left.

"Forward?" growled Ismail. "With this man it is ever 'forward!' Is there neither rest nor fear? Has she bewitched him? Hail! Ye lazy ones! Ho! Sons of sloth! Urge the mules faster! Beat the led horse!"

So in weird, wan moonlight, King led them forward, straight up the narrowing gorge, between cliffs that seemed to fray the very bosom of the sky. He smoked a cigar and stared at the view, as if he were off to the mountains for a month's sport with dependable shikarris whom he knew. Nobody could have looked at him and guessed he was not enjoying himself.

"That man," mumbled Ismail behind him, "is not as other sahibs I have known. He is a man, this one! He will do unexpected things!"

"Forward!" King called to them, thinking they were grumbling. "Forward, men of the 'Hills!'"

CHAPTER VIII.

After a time King urged his horse to a jog-trot, and they trotted forward until the bed of the Khyber began to grow very narrow, and All Masjid fort could not be much more than a mile away, at the widest guess. Then King drew rein and dismounted, for he would have been challenged had he ridden much farther. A challenge in the Khyber after dark consists invariably of a volley at short range, with the mere words afterward, and the wise man takes precautions.

"Off with the mules' packs!" he ordered, and the men stood round and stared. Darya Khan, leaning on the only rifle in the party, grinned like a post-office letter box.

"Truly," growled Ismail, forgetting past expressions of a different opinion, "this man is as mad as all the other Englishmen."

"Were you ever bitten by one?" wondered King aloud.

"God forbid!"

"Then off with the packs—and hurry!"

Ismail began to obey.

"Thou! Lord of the Rivers! (For that is what Darya Khan means). What is thy calling?"

"Badragga" (guide), he answered. "Did she not send me back down the pass to be a guide? If she says I am badragga, shall any say she lies?"

"I say thou art unpacker of mules' burdens!" answered King. "Begin!"

For answer the fellow grinned from ear to ear and thrust the rifle barrel forward insolently. King, with the movement of determination that a man makes when about to force conclusions, drew up his sleeves above the wrists. At that instant the moon shone through the mist and the gold bracelet glittered in the moonlight.

"May God be with thee!" said "Lord of the Rivers" at once. And without another word he laid down his rifle and went to help off-load the mules.

King stepped aside and cursed softly. But for a vein of wisdom that underlay his pride he would have pocketed

CHAPTER VIII.

After a time King urged his horse to a jog-trot, and they trotted forward until the bed of the Khyber began to grow very narrow, and All Masjid fort could not be much more than a mile away, at the widest guess. Then King drew rein and dismounted, for he would have been challenged had he ridden much farther. A challenge in the Khyber after dark consists invariably of a volley at short range, with the mere words afterward, and the wise man takes precautions.

"Off with the mules' packs!" he ordered, and the men stood round and stared. Darya Khan, leaning on the only rifle in the party, grinned like a post-office letter box.

"Truly," growled Ismail, forgetting past expressions of a different opinion, "this man is as mad as all the other Englishmen."

"Were you ever bitten by one?" wondered King aloud.

"God forbid!"

"Then off with the packs—and hurry!"

Ismail began to obey.

"Thou! Lord of the Rivers! (For that is what Darya Khan means). What is thy calling?"

"Badragga" (guide), he answered. "Did she not send me back down the pass to be a guide? If she says I am badragga, shall any say she lies?"

"I say thou art unpacker of mules' burdens!" answered King. "Begin!"

For answer the fellow grinned from ear to ear and thrust the rifle barrel forward insolently. King, with the movement of determination that a man makes when about to force conclusions, drew up his sleeves above the wrists. At that instant the moon shone through the mist and the gold bracelet glittered in the moonlight.

"May God be with thee!" said "Lord of the Rivers" at once. And without another word he laid down his rifle and went to help off-load the mules.

King stepped aside and cursed softly. But for a vein of wisdom that underlay his pride he would have pocketed

CHAPTER VIII.

After a time King urged his horse to a jog-trot, and they trotted forward until the bed of the Khyber began to grow very narrow, and All Masjid fort could not be much more than a mile away, at the widest guess. Then King drew rein and dismounted, for he would have been challenged had he ridden much farther. A challenge in the Khyber after dark consists invariably of a volley at short range, with the mere words afterward, and the wise man takes precautions.

"Off with the mules' packs!" he ordered, and the men stood round and stared. Darya Khan, leaning on the only rifle in the party, grinned like a post-office letter box.

"Truly," growled Ismail, forgetting past expressions of a different opinion, "this man is as mad as all the other Englishmen."

"Were you ever bitten by one?" wondered King aloud.

"God forbid!"

"Then off with the packs—and hurry!"

Ismail began to obey.

"Thou! Lord of the Rivers! (For that is what Darya Khan means). What is thy calling?"

"Badragga" (guide), he answered. "Did she not send me back down the pass to be a guide? If she says I am badragga, shall any say she lies?"

"I say thou art unpacker of mules' burdens!" answered King. "Begin!"

For answer the fellow grinned from ear to ear and thrust the rifle barrel forward insolently. King, with the movement of determination that a man makes when about to force conclusions, drew up his sleeves above the wrists. At that instant the moon shone through the mist and the gold bracelet glittered in the moonlight.

"May God be with thee!" said "Lord of the Rivers" at once. And without another word he laid down his rifle and went to help off-load the mules.

King stepped aside and cursed softly. But for a vein of wisdom that underlay his pride he would have pocketed

CHAPTER VIII.

After a time King urged his horse to a jog-trot, and they trotted forward until the bed of the Khyber began to grow very narrow, and All Masjid fort could not be much more than a mile away, at the widest guess. Then King drew rein and dismounted, for he would have been challenged had he ridden much farther. A challenge in the Khyber after dark consists invariably of a volley at short range, with the mere words afterward, and the wise man takes precautions.

"Off with the mules' packs!" he ordered, and the men stood round and stared. Darya Khan, leaning on the only rifle in the party, grinned like a post-office letter box.

"Truly," growled Ismail, forgetting past expressions of a different opinion, "this man is as mad as all the other Englishmen."

"Were you ever bitten by one?" wondered King aloud.

"God forbid!"

"Then off with the packs—and hurry!"

Ismail began to obey.

"Thou! Lord of the Rivers! (For that is what Darya Khan means). What is thy calling?"

"Badragga" (guide), he answered. "Did she not send me back down the pass to be a guide? If she says I am badragga, shall any say she lies?"

"I say thou art unpacker of mules' burdens!" answered King. "Begin!"

For answer the fellow grinned from ear to ear and thrust the rifle barrel forward insolently. King, with the movement of determination that a man makes when about to force conclusions, drew up his sleeves above the wrists. At that instant the moon shone through the mist and the gold bracelet glittered in the moonlight.

"May God be with thee!" said "Lord of the Rivers" at once. And without another word he laid down his rifle and went to help off-load the mules.

King stepped aside and cursed softly. But for a vein of wisdom that underlay his pride he would have pocketed

CHAPTER VIII.

After a time King urged his horse to a jog-trot, and they trotted forward until the bed of the Khyber began to grow very narrow, and All Masjid fort could not be much more than a mile away, at the widest guess. Then King drew rein and dismounted, for he would have been challenged had he ridden much farther. A challenge in the Khyber after dark consists invariably of a volley at short range, with the mere words afterward, and the wise man takes precautions.

"Off with the mules' packs!" he ordered, and the men stood round and stared. Darya Khan, leaning on the only rifle in the party, grinned like a post-office letter box.

"Truly," growled Ismail, forgetting past expressions of a different opinion, "this man is as mad as all the other Englishmen."

"Were you ever bitten by one?" wondered King aloud.

"God forbid!"

"Then off with the packs—and hurry!"

Ismail began to obey.

"Thou! Lord of the Rivers! (For that is what Darya Khan means). What is thy calling?"

"Badragga" (guide), he answered. "Did she not send me back down the pass to be a guide? If she says I am badragga, shall any say she lies?"

"I say thou art unpacker of mules' burdens!" answered King. "Begin!"

For answer the fellow grinned from ear to ear and thrust the rifle barrel forward insolently. King, with the movement of determination that a man makes when about to force conclusions, drew up his sleeves above the wrists. At that instant the moon shone through the mist and the gold bracelet glittered in the moonlight.

"May God be with thee!" said "Lord of the Rivers" at once. And without another word he laid down his rifle and went to help off-load the mules.

King stepped aside and cursed softly. But for a vein of wisdom that underlay his pride he would have pocketed

CHAPTER VIII.

After a time King urged his horse to a jog-trot, and they trotted forward until the bed of the Khyber began to grow very narrow, and All Masjid fort could not be much more than a mile away, at the widest guess. Then King drew rein and dismounted, for he would have been challenged had he ridden much farther. A challenge in the Khyber after dark consists invariably of a volley at short range, with the mere words afterward, and the wise man takes precautions.

"Off with the mules' packs!" he ordered, and the men stood round and stared. Darya Khan, leaning on the only rifle in the party, grinned like a post-office letter box.

"Truly," growled Ismail, forgetting past expressions of a different opinion, "this man is as mad as all the other Englishmen."

"Were you ever bitten by one?" wondered King aloud.

"God forbid!"

"Then off with the packs—and hurry!"

Ismail began to obey.

"Thou! Lord of the Rivers! (For that is what Darya Khan means). What is thy calling?"

"Badragga" (guide), he answered. "Did she not send me back down the pass to be a guide? If she says I am badragga, shall any say she lies?"

"I say thou art unpacker of mules' burdens!" answered King. "Begin!"

For answer the fellow grinned from ear to ear and thrust the rifle barrel forward insolently. King, with the movement of determination that a man makes when about to force conclusions, drew up his sleeves above the wrists. At that instant the moon shone through the mist and the gold bracelet glittered in the moonlight.

"May God be with thee!" said "Lord of the Rivers" at once. And without another word he laid down his rifle and went to help off-load the mules.

King stepped aside and cursed softly. But for a vein of wisdom that underlay his pride he would have pocketed

CHAPTER VIII.

After a time King urged his horse to a jog-trot, and they trotted forward until the bed of the Khyber began to grow very narrow, and All Masjid fort could not be much more than a mile away, at the widest guess. Then King drew rein and dismounted, for he would have been challenged had he ridden much farther. A challenge in the Khyber after dark consists invariably of a volley at short range, with the mere words afterward, and the wise man takes precautions.

"Off with the mules' packs!" he ordered, and the men stood round and stared. Darya Khan, leaning on the only rifle in the party, grinned like a post-office letter box.

"Truly," growled Ismail, forgetting past expressions of a different opinion, "this man is as mad as all the other Englishmen."

"Were you ever bitten by one?" wondered King aloud.

"God forbid!"

"Then off with the packs—and hurry!"

Ismail began to obey.

"Thou! Lord of the Rivers! (For that is what Darya Khan means). What is thy calling?"

"Badragga" (guide), he answered. "Did she not send me back down the pass to be a guide? If she says I am badragga, shall any say she lies?"

"I say thou art unpacker of mules' burdens!" answered King. "Begin!"

For answer the fellow grinned from ear to ear and thrust the rifle barrel forward insolently. King, with the movement of determination that a man makes when about to force conclusions, drew up his sleeves above the wrists. At that instant the moon shone through the mist and the gold bracelet glittered in the moonlight.

"May God be with thee!" said "Lord of the Rivers" at once. And without another word he laid down his rifle and went to help off-load the mules.

King stepped aside and cursed softly. But for a vein of wisdom that underlay his pride he would have pocketed

CHAPTER VIII.

After a time King urged his horse to a jog-trot, and they trotted forward until the bed of the Khyber began to grow very narrow, and All Masjid fort could not be much more than a mile away, at the widest guess. Then King drew rein and dismounted, for he would have been challenged had he ridden much farther. A challenge in the Khyber after dark consists invariably of a volley at short range, with the mere words afterward, and the wise man takes precautions.

"Off with the mules' packs!" he ordered, and the men stood round and stared. Darya Khan, leaning on the only rifle in the party, grinned like a post-office letter box.

"Truly," growled Ismail, forgetting past expressions of a different opinion, "this man is as mad as all the other Englishmen."

"Were you ever bitten by one?" wondered King aloud.

"God forbid!"

"Then off with the packs—and hurry!"

Ismail began to obey.

"Thou! Lord of the Rivers! (For that is what Darya Khan means). What is thy calling?"

"Badragga" (guide), he answered. "Did she not send me back down the pass to be a guide? If she says I am badragga, shall any say she lies?"

"I say thou art unpacker of mules' burdens!" answered King. "Begin!"

For answer the fellow grinned from ear to ear and thrust the rifle barrel forward insolently. King, with the movement of determination that a man makes when about to force conclusions, drew up his sleeves above the wrists. At that instant the moon shone through the mist and the gold bracelet glittered in the moonlight.

"May God be with thee!" said "Lord of the Rivers" at once. And without another word he laid down his rifle and went to help off-load the mules.

King stepped aside and cursed softly. But for a vein of wisdom that underlay his pride he would have pocketed

CHAPTER VIII.

After a time King urged his horse to a jog-trot, and they trotted forward until the bed of the Khyber began to grow very narrow, and All Masjid fort could not be much more than a mile away, at the widest guess. Then King drew rein and dismounted, for he would have been challenged had he ridden much farther. A challenge in the Khyber after dark consists invariably of a volley at short range, with the mere words afterward, and the wise man takes precautions.

"Off with the mules' packs!" he ordered, and the men stood round and stared. Darya Khan, leaning on the only rifle in the party, grinned like a post-office letter box.

"Truly," growled Ismail, forgetting past expressions of a different opinion, "this man is as mad as all the other Englishmen."

"Were you ever bitten by one?" wondered King aloud.

"God forbid!"

"Then off with the packs—and hurry!"

Ismail began to obey.

"Thou! Lord of the Rivers! (For that is what Darya Khan means). What is thy calling?"

"Badragga" (guide), he answered. "Did she not send me back down the pass to be a guide? If she says I am badragga, shall any say she lies?"

"I say thou art unpacker of mules' burdens!" answered King. "Begin!"

For answer the fellow grinned from ear to ear and thrust the rifle barrel forward insolently. King, with the movement of determination that a man makes when about to force conclusions, drew up his sleeves above the wrists. At that instant the moon shone through the mist and the gold bracelet glittered in the moonlight.

"May God be with thee!" said "Lord of the Rivers" at once. And without another word he laid down his rifle and went to help off-load the mules.

King stepped aside and cursed softly. But for a vein of wisdom that underlay his pride he would have pocketed

CHAPTER VIII.

After a time King urged his horse to a jog-trot, and they trotted forward until the bed of the Khyber began to grow very narrow, and All Masjid fort could not be much more than a mile away, at the widest guess. Then King drew rein and dismounted, for he would have been challenged had he ridden much farther. A challenge in the Khyber after dark consists invariably of a volley at short range, with the mere words afterward, and the wise man takes precautions.

"Off with the mules' packs!" he ordered, and the men stood round and stared. Darya Khan, leaning on the only rifle in the party, grinned like a post-office letter box.

"Truly," growled Ismail, forgetting past expressions of a different opinion, "this man is as mad as all the other Englishmen."

"Were you ever bitten by one?" wondered King aloud.

"God forbid!"

"Then off with the packs—and hurry!"

Ismail began to obey.

"Thou! Lord of the Rivers! (For that is what Darya Khan means). What is thy calling?"

"Badragga" (guide), he answered. "Did she not send me back down the pass to be a guide? If she says I am badragga, shall any say she lies?"

"I say thou art unpacker of mules' burdens!" answered King. "Begin!"

For answer the fellow grinned from ear to ear and thrust the rifle barrel forward insolently. King, with the movement of determination that a man makes when about to force conclusions, drew up his sleeves above the wrists. At that instant the moon shone through the mist and the gold bracelet glittered in the moonlight.

"May God be with thee!" said "Lord of the Rivers" at once. And without another word he laid down his rifle and went to help off-load the mules.

King stepped aside and cursed softly. But for a vein of wisdom that underlay his pride he would have pocketed

CHAPTER VIII.

After a time King urged his horse to a jog-trot, and they trotted forward until the bed of the Khyber began to grow very narrow, and All Masjid fort could not be much more than a mile away, at the widest guess. Then King drew rein and dismounted, for he would have been challenged had he ridden much farther. A challenge in the Khyber after dark consists invariably of a volley at short range, with the mere words afterward, and the wise man takes precautions.

"Off with the mules' packs!" he ordered, and the men stood round and stared. Darya Khan, leaning on the only rifle in the party, grinned like a post-office letter box.

"Truly," growled Ismail, forgetting past expressions of a different opinion, "this man is as mad as all the other Englishmen."

"Were you ever bitten by one?" wondered King aloud.

"God forbid!"

"Then off with the packs—and hurry!"

Ismail began to obey.

"Thou! Lord of the Rivers! (For that is what Darya Khan means). What is thy calling?"

"Badragga" (guide), he answered. "Did she not send me back down the pass to be a guide? If she says I am badragga, shall any say she lies?"

"I say thou art unpacker of mules' burdens!" answered King. "Begin!"

For answer the fellow grinned from ear to ear and thrust the rifle barrel forward insolently. King, with the movement of determination that a man makes when about to force conclusions, drew up his sleeves above the wrists. At that instant the moon shone through the mist and the gold bracelet glittered in the moonlight.

"May God be with thee!" said "Lord of the Rivers" at once. And without another word he laid down his rifle and went to help off-load the mules.

King stepped aside and cursed softly. But for a vein of wisdom that underlay his pride he would have pocketed

CHAPTER VIII.

After a time King urged his horse to a jog-trot, and they trotted forward until the bed of the Khyber began to grow very narrow, and All Masjid fort could not be much more than a mile away, at the widest guess. Then King drew rein and dismounted, for he would have been challenged had he ridden much farther. A challenge in the Khyber after dark consists invariably of a volley at short range, with the mere words afterward, and the wise man takes precautions.

"Off with the mules' packs!" he ordered, and the men stood round and stared. Darya Khan, leaning on the only rifle in the party, grinned like a post-office letter box.

"Truly," growled Ismail, forgetting past expressions of a different opinion, "this man is as mad as all the other Englishmen."

"Were you ever bitten by one?" wondered King aloud.

"God forbid!"

"Then off with the packs—and hurry!"

Ismail began to obey.

"Thou! Lord of the Rivers! (For that is what Darya Khan means). What is thy calling?"

"Badragga" (guide), he answered. "Did she not send me back down the pass to be a guide? If she says I am badragga, shall any say she lies?"

"I say thou art unpacker of mules' burdens!" answered King. "Begin!"

For answer the fellow grinned from ear to ear and thrust the rifle barrel forward insolently. King, with the movement of determination that a man makes when about to force conclusions, drew up his sleeves above the wrists. At that instant the moon shone through the mist and the gold bracelet glittered in the moonlight.

"May God be with thee!" said "Lord of the Rivers" at once. And without another word he laid down his rifle and went to help off-load the mules.

King stepped aside and cursed softly. But for a vein of wisdom that underlay his pride he would have pocketed

CHAPTER VIII.

After a time King urged his horse to a jog-trot, and they trotted forward until the bed of the Khyber began to grow very narrow, and All Masjid fort could not be much more than a mile away, at the widest guess. Then King drew rein and dismounted, for he would have been challenged had he ridden much farther. A challenge in the Khyber after dark consists invariably of a volley at short range, with the mere words afterward, and the wise man takes precautions.

"Off with the mules' packs!" he ordered, and the men stood round and stared. Darya Khan, leaning on the only rifle in the party, grinned like a post-office letter box.

"Truly," growled Ismail, forgetting past expressions of a different opinion, "this man is as mad as all the other Englishmen."

"Were you ever bitten by one?" wondered King aloud.

"God forbid!"

"Then off with the packs—and hurry!"

Ismail began to obey.

"Thou! Lord of the Rivers! (For that is what Darya Khan means). What is thy calling?"

"Badragga" (guide), he answered. "Did she not send me back down the pass to be a guide? If she says I am badragga, shall any say she lies?"

"I say thou art unpacker of mules' burdens!" answered King. "Begin!"

For answer the fellow grinned from ear to ear and thrust the rifle barrel forward insolently. King, with the movement of determination that a man makes when about to force conclusions, drew up his sleeves above the wrists. At that instant the moon shone through the mist and the gold bracelet glittered in the moonlight.

"May God be with thee!" said "Lord of the Rivers" at once. And without another word he laid down his rifle and went to help off-load the mules.

King stepped aside and cursed softly. But for a vein of wisdom that underlay his pride he would have pocketed

CHAPTER VIII.

After a time King urged his horse to a jog-trot, and they trotted forward until the bed of the Khyber began to grow very narrow, and All Masjid fort

I WONDER WHY THEY ARE TELLING MEN WHAT EVERYBODY HAS KNOWN FOR 85 YEARS!

THE POINT IS: NOW YOU CAN GET THE GENUINE GRAVELY AROUND HERE!

GRAVELY'S CELEBRATED Chewing Plug

BEFORE THE INVENTION OF OUR PATENT AIR-PROOF POUCH GRAVELY PLUG TOBACCO MADE STRICTLY FOR ITS CHEWING QUALITY WOULD NOT KEEP FRESH IN THIS SECTION NOW THE PATENT POUCH KEEPS IT FRESH AND CLEAN AND GOOD A LITTLE CHEW OF GRAVELY IS ENOUGH AND LASTS LONGER THAN A BIG CHEW OF ORDINARY PLUG.

EVERYBODY IS FALLING INTO STEP - BILL POSTERS! BILLBOARDS ARE BEING READ!

Spend the Winter In California or on the Florida Coast

Get away a little while this winter from the disagreeable cold and dearth of outdoor enjoyment.

Low round trip fares to California, Florida and the Gulf Coast are now in effect.

Tell us what trip you would like to take; let us submit itinerary showing the best way to go, cost, etc., and send descriptive literature.

Any ticket agent of the Chicago & North Western Ry. will take pleasure in giving you the desired information.

Or, if more convenient, write to CHICAGO & NORTH WESTERN RY.

C. A. CAIRNS
General Passenger & Ticket Agent
226 West Jackson St., Chicago, Ill.

THE LAST WEEK OF THE TONEAL MAN

Free Concerts to Close Tuesday Night—Toneal Treatment Proves Phenomenal Success in Kewaskum

Never in the history of Kewaskum has a man created so much comment as the Doctor who accompanied Daly and who has been demonstrating the Toneal treatment for the past week at his headquarters at the Opera House. Many benefits bordering upon the miraculous have been accomplished upon prominent citizens who vouch for the doctor. People who were so sick that they had given up all hope of ever getting relief, at last found it in the Toneal treatment. Men, women and children speak very highly and recommend the doctor. The names and addresses of these people have been published in the columns of this paper and they will verify the facts in each case. They are citizens who would not allow their names to be used if it was not for an honest purpose. This is positively the last week to see the doctor as his engagement here closes next Tuesday night. People who are sick should take advantage and call one day this week if they wish to consult this famous spec-alist. His office hours are 10 to 12 mornings and 2 to 4 afternoons every day this week at the Opera House. Free Concert Every Night This Week Except Friday and Tuesday. The daily free concerts and lecture will be given every night this week excepting Friday and Tuesday. Saturday Daly will give no show on account of the dance but on Monday night the show will be free and on Friday (tonight) and Tuesday 15 cents will be charged. Friday night the big Millinery contest will be given a present of a beautiful hat will be given to the lady it looks the better on, and Tuesday the 47 piece silver set will be presented to the most popular lady in the voting contest. All are invited to attend. The Toneal man announces he will give away his family medicine chest free to each person buying a bottle of his stomach remedy. Toneal remedies for sale at the Miller Drug Store.—Adv.

CAMPBELLSPORT

Henry Krueger was a pleasant caller here Friday.
H. Loomis was a Milwaukee business caller Thursday.
L. Herbert was a business caller at Fond du Lac Monday.
M. Polzean was a business caller at Kewaskum Thursday.
John Tunn was the guest of friends at Milwaukee Thursday.
John Tripp was a pleasant caller on friends here Monday.
Mrs. R. B. Ellis called on friends at Fond du Lac Tuesday.
Chas. Van de Zande was a business caller at Milwaukee Tuesday.
Mrs. H. Perine was the guest of friends at Milwaukee Thursday.
Mr. and Mrs. A. Polaske called on friends at Fond du Lac Saturday.
Mrs. J. Frye visited with relatives and friends at Fond du Lac Thursday.
A. Schwanit was a business caller at Fond du Lac the forepart of the week.
Miss Lydia Vetsch of Milwaukee called on her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Vetsch over Sunday.
Miss A. Cole, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Odekirk were guests of Fond du Lac relatives and friends Thursday.
Peter Schrooten, Mrs. Chas. Van de Zande, John Wenzel, A. Jewson, Mrs.

S. Bonesho and Mrs. Mary Haessly were County Seat visitors last week Friday.
Mr. and Mrs. C. McCally, Thos. Curran, J. Kleinhans, Jos. Calhoun and Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Walters were weekend business callers at Fond du Lac, and also visited with relatives and friends while there.
The following transacted business at the County Seat Wednesday: N. Klotz, L. Schimmelpennig, Miss E. McCullough, Sheldon Tuttle, J. Braun, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Powers and Mrs. M. Salter.

DUNDEE

P. H. Murphy of Parnell transacted business here Tuesday.
H. W. Krueger spent Sunday with friends at New Prospect.
M. T. Becking of Mayville spent the week-end at the Al. Wenton home.
Mr. and Mrs. A. Koehn Sundayed with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hagermann Sr.
Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wittenberg transacted business at Fond du Lac Friday.
Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Koehn and family spent Sunday with relatives at Kewaskum.
Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hennings and son Earl motored to Random Lake Sunday.
J. M. Naughton of Waukesha returned home Tuesday after a few days' visit here.

A. Roethke of Cascade passed through the village Monday enroute to Fond du Lac.
Atty. and Mrs. T. L. Doyle and family of Fond du Lac called on relatives in the village Saturday.
Mrs. John Van Blarcom and son John of Beechwood were pleasantly entertained at the E. W. Bowen home Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hagermann were pleasantly entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rahn at Waucoasta Sunday.

NEW PROSPECT

Fred Manske of New Fane was a village caller Saturday.
Frank Bowen had a corn husking bee Saturday evening.
Miss Coral Romaine motored to Campbellsport Friday.
Harry Hicken of Beechwood was a village caller Thursday.
R. J. Romaine motored to Fond du Lac Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. John Tunn was to Campbellsport Thursday afternoon.
Joe. Smith of Campbellsport called on village friends Thursday.
H. Baumann and J. P. Uelmen autoted to Campbellsport Friday.

Glen Hill of Campbellsport was a pleasant village caller Thursday.
Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Bartelt of Waucoasta were village callers Sunday.
John Gatzke, Wm. Gasser and Chas. Worden were pleasant callers here Friday.

Paul Bremser of near Beechwood was a business caller in the village Friday.
Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Uelmen spent Saturday evening with relatives at Cascade.

John Rinzel motored to Young America and West Bend on business Saturday.
Mrs. Hill of Fond du Lac was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Jan-dre Sunday.

Quite a few from here attended the dance and raffle at New Fane Friday evening.
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Buettner of Auburn were pleasant callers in the village Thursday.

M. T. Kohn and family motored to Fond du Lac Sunday to spend the day with relatives.

Joe. Weasler of Dundee and John Furlong of Four Corners were here on business Thursday.
Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Baumhardt of Eden were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Aug. Bartelt Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hinn and children of Scott spent Sunday with Lewis Butzke and family.
Miss Eva Romaine of Fond du Lac spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Romaine.

P. G. Van Blarcom of Fond du Lac spent the latter part of last week with relatives and friends here.
Miss Anna Lade and little brother Alvin of Four Corners called on Mrs. John Tunn Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Meyer spent Monday with the later's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Uelmen at Campbellsport.
Herman Baumann received his new Ford Friday, which he purchased recently from Glen Hill of Campbellsport.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Wunder of Lake Fifteen visited with Herman Molkenhine and family Sunday afternoon.
Elwyn Romaine and wife of Kewaskum were over Sunday visitors with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Romaine.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Uelmen, accompanied by Mrs. Wm. Bartelt motored to Campbellsport and Kewaskum Tuesday.
Mr. and Mrs. Herman Molkenhine Mrs. Wm. Bartelt and daughter Cor-dell autoted to Silver Creek and Boltonville Sunday.

Mrs. Clarence Hill of Fond du Lac spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Romaine and other relatives here.
Herman Baumann and family attended the 10th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John Feuerhammer near Elmore Friday evening.

Mrs. Elvir Rauch and daughter, Mrs. Wm. Edwards of Five Corners called on the former's sister, Mrs. J. P. Uelmen Monday afternoon.

The following spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. John Tunn: Mr. and Mrs. Jake Schladweiler and children of St. Michaels, Mr. and Mrs. John Polzean and Gust Flitter of Waucoasta.

LAKE FIFTEEN

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Krueger were to Kewaskum Friday.
Henry and Walter Scholtz autoted to New Prospect Sunday.

Al. Harrington and daughter were Kewaskum callers Saturday.
Mr. and Mrs. Al. Harrington were callers at Kewaskum Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Al. Kumrow and daughter were Fond du Lac business callers Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Krueger and children spent Sunday afternoon with the M. Calvey family.
Mrs. William Wunder returned to her home, after spending a week with Milwaukee relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Al. Kumrow and family visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Otto Krueger and children.

The following attended a goose picking bee at Mrs. Al. Kumrow's on Wednesday: Mrs. Wm. Wunder, Mrs. John Scholtz, Mrs. Chas. Krueger and Mrs. Otto Krueger.

Mr. and Mrs. John Scholtz were pleasantly surprised Sunday evening by neighbors and friends. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Al. Kumrow and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gust. Lawrence and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Firks, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Krueger and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jaeger and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wunder and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Krueger and children, Chas. Bleck and sons Rudy and Pauly, John Wunder, Herman Lawrence, Matt. Oppermann. The evening was spent in dancing until the wee hours of the morning. At midnight a lunch was served by Mrs. John Scholtz, Mrs. Al. Kumrow and Mrs. Wm. Wunder.

ELMORE

Mike Gantenbein Jr., autoted to Dundee Sunday.
Edward Kibbel spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Geidel and family.

Kilian Flasch and family of St. Kilian spent Monday at the Christ Beecher home.
Mr. and Mrs. Julius Kloke spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Ernst Rusch and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Backhaus spent Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kibbel in North Ashford.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Diels and daughter Viola of Lomira spent Sunday evening with Wm. Geidel and family.
Mr. and Mrs. Herman Wilke and Robert Zinkgraf of Boltonville spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Backhaus.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Diels and daughter Viola, Nora and Ella Geidel spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Julius Kloke and family.

ASHFORD

Joe. Schill returned from Milwaukee.
J. Berg finished filling silos this week.

Barthol Serwe returned home from Dakota.
John Sturm returned home from Milwaukee.

Mr. and Mrs. Weis of Lomira spent Thursday here.
Nic. Mauel of Milwaukee spent Sunday at home.

Mrs. Raffenstein was a Fond du Lac caller Monday.
Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Berg spent Wednesday at Fond du Lac.

Henry Strobel of St. Kilian spent a few days with friends here.
Mrs. Lightler of Chicago is visiting with Mrs. Math. Thelen.

Mrs. Anton Driekosen and children spent one day this week at Brownsville.
Mr. and Mrs. Raffenstein of West Bend are visiting their son, L. Raffenstein.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mauel and daughter Eleanor of Colby are visiting relatives here.
Mrs. Josephine Hurt and daughter of Granville spent the past two weeks with friends here.

Mrs. Alexia Mauel is home on a two weeks' vacation from her duties at St. Joseph's hospital.
Mike Thelen and daughter Leona of Campbellsport spent a few days this week at A. Krudwig.

Mr. and Mrs. Barthol Serwe and daughter of Neno spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Mat. Serwe.
Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Reimer of Milwaukee returned home after spending six weeks with their son Peter.

Privates Anton Hilbert and Ernest McVoy of Camp Grant, Rockford, Ill., spent Sunday with home folks.
Rev. Bertram of Campbellsport and Rev. Falbisoner of St. Kilian assisted Rev. Theo. Toeller at the Kirmiss, held here Nov. 11.

Mrs. Wm. Mauel entertained at a family reunion Sunday in honor of her daughter Alexia and sons Henry and Nick, who were home for the Kirmess.

The Kirmess dance was one of the largest ever held in this village. Everyone present enjoyed themselves very much. The music furnished by the Max Eckes orchestra of Chilton was good and full of life and pep.

VALLEY VIEW

Wm. Schultz was a Campbellsport caller Tuesday.
Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Baumhardt spent Thursday evening here.

John Ludwig and John Ford were callers in this vicinity Sunday.
Edward and John Ford spent Sunday evening with Albert Schultz.

Wm. Kahn and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Martin Tunn.
Miss Bernece Johnson was a business caller at Campbellsport Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Bartelt visited last Friday evening with their parents here.
Glenn Hill of Fond du Lac transacted business at G. H. Johnson's on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bartelt spent Tuesday with their daughter at Forest Lake.
Albert Schroeder of Fond du Lac was a business caller in this vicinity Saturday.

William Giese of Fond du Lac spent a few days of last week with his parents here.
Miss Bernece Johnson spent Tuesday with the B. P. Jaeger family in Campbellsport.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Norton and son Louis and daughter Ethel motored to Mayville.
Frank Welsh of North Ashford spent Sunday afternoon at the G. H. Johnson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Tuttle spent Saturday with friends and relatives in Fond du Lac.
Mr. and Mrs. William Brietzke and family spent Sunday evening with South Eden friends.

Miss Mayme Kinney of Fond du Lac spent Saturday and Sunday with Miss Blanche Murray.
Mrs. William Katen of North Ashford spent Sunday as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Murray.

Misses Blanche Murray and Mae Kinney spent Saturday evening at the Francis Mc Namara home.
Messrs. Anton Kaehne, Lee Norton Alvin Seefeld and Charles Dreichimmer were Sunday callers at West Eden.

Mr. and Mrs. August Brietzke and son Hugo, and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Knickel autoted to Fond du Lac last Thursday.
Mr. and Mrs. H. Bartel and daughters Elsie and Viola spent Sunday evening with the Buslaff sisters at Waucoasta.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Siegfried and son Herbert and Mrs. C. Schultz of Beechwood visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. H. Bartel.
Mrs. August Brietzke and Miss Theresa Schommer spent Tuesday afternoon with the John Mullen family in North Ashford.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hughes and son John and Miss Ruth Scheid spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Mary Airthart in Oseola.
Ethel Norton entertained at a kitchen shower Wednesday, a number of relatives and friends in honor of Miss Marie Koehne, a bride-to-be in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Bartel and family, Mr. and Mrs. F. Burnett and family were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Dunn at Waucoasta Sunday.
The following attended a husking bee at Walter Bartelt's place on Thursday evening: W. Schultz and son Albert, Frank Burnett, Edward and John Ford. At ten o'clock a lunch was served by Mrs. W. Bartelt.

Miss Theresa Schommer entertained the "Hikers" at a miscellaneous shower for the Misses Marie Koehne and Marie Ketter Sunday afternoon. The afternoon was spent in playing games and contests. Honors going to Miss Agnes Hughes. At five o'clock a chicken supper was served by the hostess assisted by Miss Blanche Murray.

An Old Man's Stomach.

As we grow older and less active, and less food is required to meet the demands of our bodies. If too much is habitually taken, the stomach will rebel. When a man reaches the advanced age of 85 or 90, you will find that he is a light eater. Be as careful as you will, however, you will occasionally eat more than you should and will feel the need of Chamberlain's Tablets to correct the disorder. These tablets do not contain poison, but strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. They also cause a gentle movement of the bowels.

—Ben. H. Mertes and wife of Newburg spent Sunday with the Mertes and Bilgo families. Mrs. Mertes remained for a few days stay.

Choice Groceries

JOHN MARX
KEWASKUM, WISCONSIN

Flour and Feed

PROTECT YOUR BEST FRIEND.

Every horse deserves a Good Blanket; it is not a difficult matter to satisfy him if you look over my stock of Blankets at $3.50 and up to $12.00 per pair.

Gloves and Mittens

I carry a large stock of Canvas Gloves and Mittens to be sure that you are getting the right article at the right price—Buy at Val. Peters' Harness Shop

VAL. PETERS, Kewaskum, Wis

ST. MICHAELS

Mr. Johnson of Milwaukee spent Sunday with the H. Herriges family.
Gregor Hilmes of Camp Grant, Rockford, Ill., spent Sunday at his home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Math. Stockhausen and the Misses Mae and Eleanor Stellpflug autoted to Port Washington Sunday.
The approaching marriage of Miss Agnes Schneider to Albert Schladweiler was announced at the local church Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Schiltz and sons Jacob, John and Joseph, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Roden, Julius Royson and Miss Emma Garber spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Roden.
The death of Mrs. Nic Uelmen, living north of St. Michaels, occurred Tuesday morning, following a short illness with blood poisoning of the face. A more complete obituary of the deceased appears on the front page of this issue.

For a Weak Stomach.

As a general rule all you need to do is to adopt a diet suited to your age and occupation and to keep your bowels regular. When you feel that you have eaten too much and when constipation take one of Chamberlain's Tablets.

WAUCOUSTA

H. Dognert called on relatives here Thursday.
Frank Mielke of Forest was a caller here Friday.

A. C. Buslaff went to Campbellsport Wednesday.
A. C. Buslaff made a business trip to Fond du Lac Friday.

Mrs. Mary Airthart of Mitchell called on friends here Saturday.
Ben Stein of Milwaukee was a business caller here Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Wachs and Mrs. A. Wachs went to Campbellsport on Tuesday.
Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Ketter of Campbellsport spent Sunday with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben. Thompson of Fond du Lac spent Sunday with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Thompson.

—The following were guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Schultz last Sunday: Mrs. Kane and daughter, Mrs. Mary Lou of Beusecola, Florida; Mrs. H. Michelson and son Harley, E. F. B. Rummel and daughter Anna, E. W. Langhoff and wife, E. F. Rummel and wife, Earl Rummel, Fred Kibler and wife and daughter Edna, A. J. Langhoff and wife and daughter Anita, all of Milwaukee.