was $1,783,887. The third annual report on workmen's compensation insurance was issued by the industrial commission.

Sixty-six per cent of the total was carried by stock companies, 28 per cent by Wisconsin mutuals, 4 per cent in inter-insurance exchanges, and 2 per cent by foreign mutuals.

Insurance companies paid out for accidents in 1916, $1,289,673, or 74 per cent of the premiums earned. The man-ARE TO BE TWO-DAY AFFAIRS agement expenses totaled $6,608,811, or 35 per cent of the earned premiums. This would indicate that the insurance companies writing compensation insurance in Wisconsin lost 9 per cent on their business in 1916.

Farmer Near New London Gets 151 Bushels from One and Three-fourths Acres, or at an Average of Eighty-six Bushels Per Acre.

New London-What is probably the largest yield of wheat ever secured in Wisconsin was produced on the farm of George Cuff near this city. The wheat was of the Turkey Red variety and yielded 151 bushels on one and three-fourths acres or at the rate of eighty-six bushels per acre. The wheat was raised on an old alfalfa field which probably explains the yield.

SIFTING OUT THE SLACKERS

dospital Assistant, Threatening to Cook Alive One Patient to Obtain Grease, Reduces Sick Call.

Stories of how to outwit impostors who report sick in order to loaf in hospitals are among the oldest traditions of the medical branches of all airies, says a writer in a medical journal. A fourteenth-century collection of anecdotes shows that the malignerer was known in those days and Cardinal de Bari, who had a hospital at Verceil, found its resources were being exhausted by men of this type. He sent one of his subordinates to investigate. This man, Petrillo by name, who was something of a humorist, dressed himself in the robes of a physician and assembled all the patients for an exumination of their wounds. Then he gravely said: "There is clearly but one remedy needed for the cure of ulcers of this character, and that is an cintment made of human grease. This very day I intend, in consequence, to draw by lot one from among you, who will be plunged alive into boiling water and cooked for the salvation of all." Seized by fear, all the patients made haste to report themselves fully recovered from their ulcers, and consequently there was room in the hospital for those who really needed

FISHING A MECHANICAL ART

Outfit Consists of Net. Rope and Pulley-All Operator Need Do Is to Turn Crank.

Most operations nowadays can be performed by machinery. Time was when the best sport in angling was obtained by the use of a rope, with patience at one end and a suitable bait at the other. The Wide World Magazine gives a revised edition of this plan. Here it is in all its sim-

You hang an immense four-corner ed net on a rope which passes over a pulley, turn a handle, and drop the net into the sea. After a time, which may vary according to the mood you are in and the quality of the tobacco you are smoking, you wind up the net and look into it. If it is empty, you contains any fish you draw it and bag them. In this way you reduce fishing to a mechanical art. When you haul up this huge net from the briny deep and find by the aid of a telescope that it contains one tiny, solitary fishas was our case-after many unsuccessful "casts," you rejoice with joy unspeakable and call in your neighbors to the feast.

KING FACES THE BIGGEST ADVENTURE OF HIS CAREER SO FAR WHEN HE COMES TO THE ENTRANCE OF KHINJAN CAVES AND PROVES HIM-SELF A MURDERER.

Synopsis.-At the beginning of the world war Capt. Athelstan King of the British Indian army and of its secret service, is ordered to Delhi to meet Yasmini, a dancer, and go with her to Kinjan to meet the outlaws there who are said by spics to be preparing for a jihad or holy war. On his way to Delhi King quietly foils a plan to assassinate him and gets evidence that Yasmini is after him. He meets Rewa Gunga, Yasmini's man, who says she has already gone north, and at her town house witnesses queer dances. Ismail, an Afridi, becomes his body servant and protector. He rescues some of Yasmini's hillmen and takes them north with him, tricking the Rangar into going ahead. The Rangar deserts him at a dangerous time. He meets his brother at Ali Masjid fort. The disguise he assumes there fools even the sharp-eyed cutthroats composing his guard.
