Dear Cousin Art.

"Am trying to write to all the fellows and other friends and let them know that we are still all there.

I imagine some excitement was caused in town when the report came out that our unit was supposed to have been on the torpedoed boat. I cread all about it in the Racine Juornal which a fellow received from home. This is the first time I have mentioned anything about this sinking as it has been officially announced by the U. S. Government.

It would be too long a story to tell you all about it. We were on deck when the torpedoed boat sent up rockets of distress. The boat was lit up and at first we thought it was some town on the coast as we had seen land in the afternoon. The boat was only a few hundred feet back of us when truck and to say that we were lucky, is putting it in a mild way.

Although we were in extreme danger ourselves everybody behaved in a most orderly manner. We didn't stop to pick up any life boats but put on full steam ahead. Drive Losing Momentum. London, March 27.-After six days of terrific fighting the German offensive in France is beginning to show signs of losing its momentum.

The progress of the enemy has materially slackened and the form of the dent made in the allied line west of Cambral has begun to resemble the familiar wedgelike salient instead of the broad, straight movement of an offensive winch carries all before it. Apex Beyond Albert. .

At its apex this wedge has gone beyond Albert, to the south of that place. and is to the westward of the old allied line as it stood a year ago when Von Hindenburg began his "strategic retreat."

From this point the line runs off to the northeast at a gentle angle, with the line to the south running back until it reaches the Olse river. In spite of tremendous exertions and terrible losses, the German efforts to widen the tip of this salient were defeated on Tuesday. The British lines have stood firm to the north and have forced the Germans to turn southward toward the point of least resistance.

Observers at the front say that the German losses have been frightful, and that the enemy has lost from 10 to 20 per cent of his men, by the most conservative estimates.

British Army Headquarters in France, March 27.—There is reason to believe important events will be recorded within the next few hours which may lead to a betterment of the position of the armies which are stemming the German onslaught. The enemy is fighting desperately hard against time. On the first day his reserves were reduced to 52 divisions. At the end of the second day some 40 divisions from the reserves had been put in. Berlin Asserts That Iron Monsters Aided in Demolishing Defense of Haig's Men.

Berlin, March 27.-German tanks, reinforced by captured British tanks, says a semiofficial statement today or Sunday's fighting in the West, "took a leading part in breaking the brave enemy resistance."

Tanks attached to the German division fighting below St. Quentin stood and their mobility was universally praised. All the tanks which took part in the fighting are said to have returned undamaged. Perhaps there is no more striking illustration than this of the power of an inherited belief to live on in spite of the testimony of all experience against it. In some places, apparently as an alternative for giving up the belief wholly, it was held that in order to witness these three leans one must look, not at the sun itself, but at the reflection of it in a pool of clear water. As a last resort, to save the belief, the sun might be made to dance. Brand could recall that when he was a boy he had seen "a vessel full of water set In the open air, in which the reflected sun seemed to dance, from the tremulous motion of the water." Portuguese Statesman May Not Have Been Flattered, but at Least He Won One Vote.

Senhor Costa, the Portuguese prime unister, is excusing himself from making a speech on the ground that he was no orator, told an amusing anecdote at a function party given in his honor during his recent visit to London. It appears that when he first put up for the Portuguese national council he prefaced his opening address to the electors by alluding frankly to his lack of oratorical gifts. After he had finished a man pushed forward, grasped his hand warmly, and said:

"Senhor, I've been a lifelong oppoent of yours, but at the coming election I shall vote for you."

"Thank you," said Costa, much gratified. "May I ask the particular reason for your change of views?"

"Because you are the first speaker on either side that I have heard tell the truth." was the reply. "You said when you began that you couldn't make much of a speech, and by heavens, Senhor, you can't."

22 Million Families in the United States

4 CUPS OF WHEAT FLOUR TO THE POUND

If each family used 4 cups of flour less per week, the saving would be 22 million pounds or 112,244 barrels every week.

The greatest help housekeepers can give to win the war is to make this saving and it can be done by using this recipe in place of white flour bread.

Barley or Oat Muffins

2 cups barley or oat flour 3 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder 1 teaspoon salt 2 tablespoons melted shortening

2 tablespoons sugar or corn syrup a cup milk

Sift dry ingredients; add melted shortening, corn syrap, milk and well beaten egg; beat well and put in well greased muffin pans and bake about 25 to 30 minutes in hot oven.

Our new Red, White and Blue booklet, "Best War Time Recipes," containing many other recipes for making delicious and wholesome wheat saving foods, mailed free - address ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., Dept.W., 135 William Street, New York

MADE-IN-GERMANY LIES CIRCULATED IN CANADA

Canada is also having trouble with Made-in-Germany lies calculated to binder Canadian food conservation cording to an official statement ceived from the Canadian food controller by the United States food

The stories bothering Canada of the same general character as those the United States food administration tor recently denounced in this course try, such as the ridiculous sait and blueing famine fakes and the repe that the government would sel housewives' stocks of home can

The Canadian food controller estimates that when the people listen his and pass on such stories, each can has the power of destruction that the in a battallon of soldiers.

"Stories without even a vestige foundation have been scattered broadcast," said the Canadian statement.
"Nor have they come to life casualts. They have started simultaneously different parts of the country and each instance have been calculated w arouse public indignation.

"They are insidious, subtle, persist ent. Bit by bit they dissipate public trust, the great essential in the work of food control.

"It lies with every individual to tubear from criticism; to refrain from passing on the vagrant and harmon story, and thus the more effective to co-operate in work which is gel to mean more than the majority people yet realize."

THE UNITED STATES FOOD ADMINISTRATION SAYS

There is no royal road to food conservation. We can only ascomplish this by the voluntary action of our whole people, each element in proportion to its means. It is a matter of equality of busden: a matter of minute saving and substitution at every point in the 20,000,000 kitchens, on the 20,-000,000 dinner tables, and in the 2.000,000 manufacturing, wholesale and retail establishments the country.

CONSERVE SUGAR

"If we send the ships to Javan for 250,000 tons of sugar next year we will have necessitated the cmployment of eleven extra ables for one year. These ships-if used in transporting troops-would take 150,000 to 200,000 men to France."

Reason for World Shortage. As Mr. Hoover pointed out, the United States. Canada and England were sugar importing countries before the war, while France and Italy week very nearly self supporting. The main sources of the world's sugar supple was Germany and neighboring powers the West Indies and the East Indies. as it is used entirely in Germana which also absorbs sugar of surround

England can no longer buy 1,400,000 long tons of sugar each year from Germany. The French sugar product tion has dropped from 750 000 to 270-000 tons. The Italian production have upon East and West Indian sources

Because of the world's shippin shortage the allied nations started the number of ships, since the vear was the pre-war demand. The allies had drawn from Java 400,000 "In spite of these shipments," MI

Hoover stated the other day, "the English government in August reduced of 24 pounds per annum per capital And in September the French govern ment reduced their household rations to 13 2-10 nounds a year, or a bit over the French government it was four early in the fall. America was the asked for 100,000 tons of sugar at hold consumption was then at least t ered the duty of maintaining the Prench morale made our course clear.

Foday the sugar situation may be summarized by stating that America will reduce its sugar comsumption 10 to 15 per cent, this nation will be able to send 200,000 more soldiers to France.

Sugar today sells at seaboard me fineries at $7.25 a bundred pound The wholesale grocer has agreed limit his profit to 25 cents a hundred plus freight, and the retail grocer supposed to take no more than 50 cess a hundred pounds profit. This resi lation was made by the food adminio tration, which now asks the housewill to reduce sugar consumption as me as possible, using other sweetens and also reminds her that she should pay no more than 9 cents a pound in
