REGULATIONS FOR COAL USERS

Rule 1. ANTHRACITE COAL TO MANUFACTURING PLANTS: Our attention has been called to the fact that many manufacturers are asking for shipments of domestic anthracite coal, namely, grate (or broken) to pea inclusive, who in the past have used either in whole or in part other fuel. In order that this coal be conserved for the householders and the regular users of this fuel, this office desires that all requests for domestic anthracite for purely manufacturing purposes be referred here as to whether or not shipment shall be made. If it is found that such manufacturers have been regular users of this fuel in the year 1916 or prior to that year, for purely manufacturing purposes, and cannot now under any circumstances use bituminous coal instead, permission will be granted, but in no case will a manufacturer be entitled to this fuel for a quantity greater than was delivered to such manufacturer in the coal year of 1916. Dealers are hereby instructed not to sell anthracite coal to manufacturers without written permission from this office.

Rule 2. The provisions of Rule 1 also apply to all school houses, public buildings, store buildings, apartment houses and institutions of every description. No person, firm, association or corporation shall sell or deliver anthracite coal to any consumer listed in this paragraph without the written permission of the State Fuel Administrator.

Rule 3. RESTRICTED DELIVERIES OF ANTHRACITE COAL TO DOMESTIC CONSUMERS. Paragraph one of the "Retail Distribution Plan for year 1918", our Form No. 59, reads in part as follows:

"When all consumers, who are willing to accept it, have received two-thirds of their normal annual requirements, the dealers may proceed to fill the balance of such orders up to normal annual requirements of each consumer."

This provision is hereby modified. From the effective date hereof dealers shall not in any case deliver the remaining one-third to a consumer until instructed to do so by this office. (Deliveries of a consumer's normal annual requirements up to six tons may be made in full.)

Rule 4. Chestnut size anthracite must be reserved for self-feeding magazine stoves and dealers are hereby instructed not to sell this size for any other purpose unless permission is given.

Rule 5. Anthracite coal shall not be delivered to any domestic consumer who can use bituminous coal. If the dealer is in doubt after ascertaining from the description given on the consumer's application blank as to whether or not bituminous coal can be used, the local fuel administrator shall be called upon to make final decision.

Rule 6. Residences whose normal annual requirements exceed thirty tons, shall not be supplied with more than twenty tons on the first delivery. Unless the situation clears up materially, large residences must close off certain rooms in the interests of conservation.

Rule 7. Consumers of bituminous coal for threshing purposes only are not required to fill out blank form No. 60 before securing coal needed. However, a record of such sale shall be kept by the dealer and reported semi-monthly.

Rule 8. All sales and deliveries of more than one-half ton must be reported in detail semi-monthly. All sales and deliveries of one-half ton and less can be totalled at the end of each day and reported as one delivery. The various kinds and sizes must be reported separately, however, and the selling price stated.

Rule 9. Deliveries to domestic consumers must be made consecutively in the order of the receipt of their application blanks.

The above rules are effective on and after June 12th, 1918, until further notice.

WORKED A CLEVER RUSE

Two men, strangers in this city, worked a clever ruse upon one of the local doctors last Monday night, when they stepped into the office of the physician and one of them asked to be given an examination. He was asked to step into the doctor's private office, the other party remaining in the waiting room. While the one was undergoing an examination the other slipped into the small room where the medicines and drugs are kept, taking all of the cocaine and other drugs that could be found. The drugs were missed and nothing was thought of the visit of the men until one of the doctors looked for the cocaine and could not find it.

Whoever the men were that had taken the drug had evidently left the city as they could not be found. It is probable that this stunt has been pulled off on several other physicians by the dope fiends, who work in pairs so as to be able to accomplish their mission without being detected.—Hartford Times.

PETER J. HAUG WRITES INTERESTING LETTER FROM LAREDA, TEXAS

The following letter was received by one of the members of the Statesman force this week from Peter J. Haug, who is now stationed at Laredo, Texas. The letter reads as follows:

"Dear Friend Art:— Today is Sunday, so I thought I would write a few lines to my 'dear old Pal Art.' It is raining, which gives me a little spare time to write you a few lines, describing our trip and our camp. We left Camp Grant on a Saturday morning at ten o'clock and got here on the following Tuesday morning at eleven o'clock. We were on the road three days and nights. It sure was a tiresome trip, only had two hours of sleep coming down, so you can imagine how tired I was when I got here. We crossed the Mississippi river at Dubuque, Iowa, before crossing same we passed through a tunnel about half a mile long, some of the boys were playing cards, but they forgot all about the same when we got into the tunnel, for it was so dark that one could not see anything, had all the windows open and we nearly choked from the gas and smoke from the engine. I saw all kinds of mountains and rocks on our way. The first stop we made was in Oelwein, Iowa, the reason they stopp'd there was to get some coal and water, we all got out and had a parade around the city, but were not allowed to fall out of ranks. We crossed the Missouri river in St. Joseph, followed down the river until we got to Kansas City, Missouri, here we stopp'd again and had another parade, it sure was a hot one, passed through the state of Kansas on Sunday. Passed through the oil fields for about thirty miles, the oil wells were just as thick as bee hives thought we never would get to the end of them. In the evening we landed in Arkansas City, Kansas. We were allowed to fall out for thirty minutes to take in the city. There were six hundred soldiers in the train so you can imagine what excitement there was when we all were turned loose for the first time. The people here at first did not know what had happened, they acted as though they were taken prisoners. From here we passed through the state of Oklahoma that same night, the next morning we were in the state of Texas, where the farmers had all their grain out. The wheat crop looked good, but oats were poor. Our train was about two hours ahead of time so we stopp'd on the road before we got to Temple, Texas, and were allowed to fall out and take a swim in the river, the water was fine. Got to Temple at six o'clock, where we stopp'd and had our mess near the depot. I am sure you know what mess means for you had a taste of it by the way I heard. Our next stop was at San Antonio, at three o'clock the next morning here we were not allowed to step out, and at day break we were in the desert, all we could see while traveling through the desert was cactus and weeds, no farm house for about three hundred miles, the roads were drifted with sand like snow drifts in Wisconsin in winter time. Arrived at Laredo at eleven o'clock. Just in time for mess, shortly after our arrival we were quarantined again for two weeks. Laredo is a city of about fifteen thousand population, mostly Mexicans. The streets are as wide as a common alley, they have no horses, all mules and donkeys hitched to a two-wheeled cart, the wheels are about six feet high, and the cart is as wide as the street, the side walks are about two feet wide. Our camp is on the outskirts of the city and about two hundred feet from the border. The Rio Grande river is several hundred feet wide and the water is very dirty. We can look right into Mexico. The city of Laredo, Mexico is a small town, and a very dirty looking outfit at that. The people here live in 10 x 20 foot huts, they have no doors or windows in their huts, when eating their meals they sit outside on a sand pile. I like it down here, the officers are very nice to us boys. If it wouldn't be for the heat and water, I would like it much better. One day this week it was 119 degrees in the shade, 80 men fell out on the drill grounds. I am in a good bunch, am with Jos. Reichert, Ed. Muenck of West Bend, Louis Frederckson, Albert and Peter Esser of Hartford, Arthur Laatsch and Rob Little of Kewaskum. We have not been assigned to any company as yet, and do not know where we will go next, or what else may happen. Hoping that everybody is well at home, with best wishes to you, and give my regards to all, I remain as ever

THE FIRST COW TESTING ASSOCIATION

Another important step in the advancement of the dairy interests of Washington county was taken at West Bend last Saturday morning when at a meeting of the Agricultural Advisory Board the West Bend Cow Testing Association was organized. A large share of the credit for this latest and most desirable development in the dairy line, one that will make for cow efficiency of the highest order, is due to Wm. Grubbe of the town of Farmington, the chairman of the cow testing committee of the Advisory Board.

The following officers were elected: President—Chas. Richter. Vice-President—Wm. Melusckke. Secretary-Treasurer—A. G. Gottselben.

Additional Directors—John Homrigh Milo Salter, Ed. Fickler, G. A. Blank. —W. S. S.—

KEWASKUM HAS TRAFFIC COP

On Monday of this week, a traffic cop was placed on the corner of Main street and Fond du Lac avenue, by our village fathers, for protection against accidents from automobilists and other motor driven vehicles in turning the corner. The new traffic cop is made of iron, painted white with red letters printed upon as follows, "Drive Slowly" and "Go to the Right". During the day a red flag is placed upon it while at night a red lantern, to warn against danger. For the benefit of all those who are not familiar with a traffic cop, it is well to state that all motorists when approaching the corner, must drive slowly, and keep to the right in turning same. If this law is not followed, all drivers not only place themselves liable to arrest, but are responsible for accidents which may occur to them.

The Village Board certainly deserves high compliment on the good work they have done, and the placing of a traffic cop ought to be a great help toward safety from all motorists.

Notice is hereby given that prosecution will be begun immediately against any person who has a dog that is not tied or muzzled, which is prohibited by law, this statute provides that for such a violation the person shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty dollars nor more than two hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not less than thirty days nor more than one year or by both such fine and imprisonment.

City and village councils and town boards, within the quarantined area, are hereby asked to instruct their officers, police constables and if necessary I will deputize officers to assist in enforcing this order. It is the duty of every citizen to assist officers in the enforcement of this order. Lives have been lost and livestock valued at thousands of dollars have been sacrificed as a consequence of dogs running at large.

VIEWS OF THE BEAUTIFUL FOREST LAKE SUMMER RESORT

NOT the least of the delights of an outing at Forest Lake is the drive of eight miles from the village of Kewaskum. The hard gravel road is kept in excellent repair and winds among the hills with an ever-changing panorama of beautiful scenery. Off to the east is the ridge in the midst of which Mount Prospect stands like a sentinel, while on every side are the cultivated fields of well-to-do farmers. Mount Prospect is said to be the highest point in Wisconsin, and from its summit can be seen on a clear day the green waters and ships of Lake Michigan, twenty miles away. The road for part of the distance is in sight of the Milwaukee river. The last part of the journey is through the primeval forest, and is the most interesting part of the trip. The great oaks, maples and elms still stand as they have for centuries, untouched by the ax of the woodman. At the summit of a rather steep hill we pass into the grounds of Forest Lake Resort.

Next to the aggregate number of subscribers, perhaps the most striking feature of the third Liberty loan was the support given it by the farming and rural populations of the country, according to a statement by the Treasury Department. Not only did the farmers purchase liberally of the bonds, but the rural communities as a rule were more prompt in completing their quotas of the loan than the larger cities. More than 20,000 communities in the United States subscribed or oversubscribed their quotas, many of them on the first day of the campaign. The majority of these were not cities, but country districts.

FOURTH THIS YEAR MEANS MUCH

The Nation approaches another birthday. The Fourth of July in 1918 will be the most glorious day of celebration the United States of America has ever known. It will mark the end of a year of great decisions, of a great patriotic awakening, of country-wide response to the call of Liberty, a year of achievement unparalleled in the history of the world, a year in which American ideals have been spread throughout the civilized world. The whole country marches with the flag.

A single thought controls the nation's activities—Fight to Victory! The President has called the nation to service—to apply its force without stint or limit. He has given noble expression to its aims; the American people are a unit behind him. The American army, rapidly growing in numbers and power, has met the foe upon foreign soil, and fighting side by side with the gallant armies of the free peoples of the world, has sealed the doom of the powers of darkness. The American navy scouts the seas and drives to cover or destroys the pirate boats of the enemy. The American Red Cross, Y. M. C. A. and Knights of Columbus perform with characteristic sacrifice their deeds of mercy in many lands. The Stars and Stripes are the symbol of hope to hundreds of millions throughout the world.

On the Fourth of July America will celebrate its glorious participation in the war for Democracy. The President, spokesman for all who love liberty, has asked that the day be celebrated in fitting form. Let the flags wave, the bands play, the fireworks light the sky!

Fireworks have long been, equally with the flag, the Fourth of July symbol of America's joy in its freedom and pride in its power. Nothing equals fireworks for stimulating patriotic fervor. They write in letters of flame the American faith that all the world shall be free. The fireworks have been manufactured for this year's celebration. Their use for the heightening of patriotism interferes not in the slightest degree with the inunctioning of the American army and navy. Use them to light the sky on the night of Freedom's anniversary.

SUGAR SHORTAGE

BUY AND CONSUME LESS SUGAR.

Our sugar situation has developed during the last few days so as to require more conservation.

By order of Herbert Hoover, sugar sales hereafter must be limited to town and city consumers to two pounds, and sales to rural consumers to five pounds.

No householder can buy more than twenty-five pounds of sugar on certificate plan for canning purposes except on special permit from local Food Administrator. Sugar for canning must not be purchased unless it is for actual consumption at the time purchased. Persons will not be permitted to procure supplies for future use. Retailers are held responsible along with consumers for violation of this ruling.

Each retailer must keep a sugar book for the Food Administrator inspection in which all sales of sugar of every kind with name of buyer must be recorded.

Henry Rolfs, Sr. County Federal Food Administrator West Bend Wisconsin.

FARM LABOR IS BIG PROBLEM THIS YEAR

War Emergency Calls for Great Efforts to Produce Food.

Both Country and City People Must Sacrifice Comfort to Furnish Power to Cultivate and Harvest Necessary Crops.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.) In a statement issued by Clarence Ousley, assistant secretary of agriculture, attention is called to the fact that both country and city people must sacrifice something of their comfort to furnish the necessary man power to cultivate and harvest crops necessary this year to carry on the war.

The principal difficulty in farming operations for 1918 is the problem of labor. That is serious, but it is not insuperable. The department of agriculture has farm-labor offices in nearly all of the states working in co-operation with the agricultural colleges, the county agents and other state activities, and the department of labor has employment offices in nearly all the centers of population.

WORK GARDENS ALL SUMMER

Plan to Have Succession of Crops as Many Plantings May Be Matured Before Autumn.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.) Garden planting should not stop when the seed and plants are set out in the ground, but other crops should be planted during the summer—as many plantings as can be matured before the killing frosts in the fall—so as to have a succession of vegetables.

The gardener who is content with but one crop does not get the maximum benefit from his land and labor. When Jack Frost is likely to appear in the fall, and as to how far in advance of its appearance the last crops should be planted, can find information on these points in "The Farm Garden in the North," Farmers' Bulletin 937, issued for free distribution by the United States department of agriculture.

CIVILIANS AID HARVEST

If soldiers are willing to serve in the trenches, to dig ditches, build railroads and risk their lives, many civilians can well afford to spare a part of their time to serve in the furrows and in the harvest fields.—Secretary of Agriculture.

Success With Poultry

Most of the people who are making a success of the poultry business today made their beginning in a small way.

ATTENTION TO FRUIT TREES

Must Send Out Branches Every Year for Proper Formation and Development of Buds.

To have a fruit crop, trees must grow every year. Old trees, such as the peach, apple, pear, cherry and plum, must send out branches every year, so fruit buds may be formed and properly developed. Unless the tree is in a growing condition, has sufficient soil fertility to supply plant food and moisture to dissolve it, it cannot grow, nor can it bear regularly.

Aphids Injure Vegetables.

One of the most common aphids that bother growing vegetables is the garden aphid. It is bright green in color and smooth and is commonly known as a plant louse.

Guard Young Chickens.

To keep cats, rats, hawks and other enemies away from young chickens, especially for the first few weeks, use frames made of half-inch boards.

Willing to Pay for His Fun.

Robert had been forbidden to go out of the yard alone, but one day he was missing, and after quite a search his father found him running with a crowd to a fire.

Indians on the Prairies.

That the prairies of the West were not peopled by Indians until after the coming of the white man was the theme of an article by Dr. F. H. Stearns in the Scientific American. He makes out his case by pointing out that the tribes of the plains lived by buffalo hunting; buffalo hunting was not possible without horses; there were no horses in America until the conquistadors brought them from Spain. Hence, the Indians could not have lived on the prairies.

tasks so that the men who have farm experience may be available for farm needs. In many cases women can do light work on the farm, such as dairying, cultivating vegetables and gathering fruit. The details must be worked out by each community. It is not possible to devise a general system, because conditions vary on every farm and in each neighborhood.

In many of the industrial centers wages are so high that a large number of men are content to work only a part of the time. Either by public sentiment or industrial regulations—if need be by vagrancy laws—there must be a full utilization of man power. It is not possible for the national government to compel or even to direct such readjustments. There is not wisdom enough in this congress or in any congress that could be assembled to solve all these local and regional problems. States, communities and individuals of influence must take responsibility. Washington cannot create labor and should not compel employment. Local initiative and local responsibility must be exercised to the fullest extent.

The farmers will do their full duty in planting. The governmental agencies will do all that they can do and we may reasonably expect a normal season. If the people of the communities, especially of the cities, will assume their part of the burden, there need be no doubt of the result, but if the cities persist in plunging for profit and in enjoying their ease, expecting the government and the farmers to work miracles, then those who are neither fighters nor producers may suffer some privation.

There is nothing for it but to knit and knit and then knit some more and carry on.

There is nothing for it but to knit and knit and then knit some more and carry on. She who does not must be forever explaining why not. It's an obligation and all that we have to show that our hearts are in the right place are knitting needles, knitting bags and such things.

The three hundredth pair of socks may prove just a little monotonous, but there are new knitting bags to add the spice of variety to our daily lives. At the ribbon counters they are showing some immensely clever ones along with other work bags and "catch-alls." Those who spend their time thinking of new things in bags have grown to be such adepts that life at the ribbon counter promises to become one continual round of joyous new bags—from now until the end of the year. Then—unless the war is over—they will begin all over again with 1919 knitting bags.

A new arrival that charms everyone is a knitting bag that looks like a little umbrella. It is made of silk or strips of ribbon, sewed together and cut into a circle. The circle is cut out in six scallops at the circumference and the points of these scallops are sewed to the ends of the narrow strip that forms the handle—three scallops at each end of the strip. Then the handle is slipped through a small slide made of the ribbon and when it is drawn through the bag falls in the form of an umbrella. The tassel is sewed at the center of the circle of silk.

Work bags that will serve for knitting as well as other kinds of work are made of strips of plain and broadened ribbon sewed together lengthwise like that shown at the right of the umbrella bag. The top is cut in scallops and draws up on narrow satin ribbons that run through a casing sewed along the base of the scallops in the plain ribbon. Small rings sewed at the sides of the broadened ribbon are covered with crocheted silk and the narrow ribbon hangers pass from the casing through them.

Below this bag a smaller working bag is gathered over large glass rings. It is made of plain satin ribbon joined with shirtings over cord and finished with silk tassels. The bag at the right is made of narrow strips of ribbon feather stitched together. Its mouth is a small embroidery hoop so it is always open and ready to catch what may be dropped into it. It hangs from four cords of silk and is finished with a tassel.

Silk Street Suits

Some time before the days of midsummer have really arrived, merchants assemble stocks of silk street suits, ready to be presented when the first hot day comes. These midsummer suits are almost untrammelled, but are carefully designed and distinguished by smart style-touches and niceties of finish that place them close to the formal, suit class. Clever women sometimes take their graceful but plain suits and tone them up with a little effective hand work, but even without that, they are equal to almost any demand.

There are many pretty suits of heavy tulleffs and of gros-de-londre in the displays. One of the new tulleffs suits is shown in the picture and it is remarkably good style. The coat opens to the bust line, differing from earlier styles which were open to the waist line. It has a short, flaring skirt portion with three plaits at each side and a little dip in front, all very crisp and spirited. Flat, white pearl buttons fasten it. They invite the addition of a white blouse vestee and color and white cuffs. Altogether they make this suit irresistibly cool looking, and that is the charm of charms in midsummer. White pumps and stockings might be worn with it to the best advantage.

Among these new silk suits there is one having a coat with three flounces set in across the back that is very pretty. It has narrow pockets set on at each side with rows of small buttons, and a belt of the silk. These belts, in many silk suits, extend around the waist in the most straightforward and matter-of-fact manner, which is another point of departure from style in cloth suits. The most popular colors are navy, taupe and black, but light colors, as sand gray or white have a daintiness that compensates for their being shorter lived.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

PIGEON AND DOVE.

"We are as fine as people," said Miss Pigeon. "Are you, indeed?" asked Miss Dove. "We are," said Miss Pigeon. "Coo—oo—oo," said Miss Dove. "And aren't we as fine as people, too?" "You are," said Miss Pigeon. "Yes, you are. Coo—oo—oo, you're very fine, too."

"Do tell me all about it," said Miss Dove, "for I'm very anxious to hear. Can't you pay me a call? I'm at home this afternoon. And it would be far nicer to sit and have a little talk than it would be to take a fly. It's such a warm day."

"It is warm," agreed Miss Pigeon. "Well, I'll come back and see you after I have my afternoon bath. I need a little refreshing water." "It's nice here—in my eaves," said Miss Dove. "Ah," said Miss Pigeon, "that's very gracious of you. Well, I'd be delighted to accept your hospitality."

"I haven't got any of that," said Miss Dove sadly. "Oh, yes you have," said Miss Pigeon. "No, really; I am extremely sorry, but I haven't any at all." "My dear Miss Dove," said Miss Pigeon, "you really don't know what the word means."

"That's true," said Miss Dove. "But then if I had any of it I'd know the word, wouldn't I?" "I don't know that you would," said Miss Pigeon. "Sounds strange and a little confusing," said Miss Dove. "I'll explain it to you, my dear," said Miss Pigeon. "Hospitality means something like entertainment. It means that you are generous and glad to give me entertainment and offer me what you have. It's very fine indeed to be hospitable."

THE DREAM GIRL

By LOUISE OLIVER.

When the car gave a lurch which sent Jack with great force against some one behind him, and he turned to apologize, he almost lost his breath with surprise. For there smiling with amusement was the girl he had been dreaming about.

Jack was no sentimentalist. He was not given to dreaming at all—much. Only this girl had got into his head some way, how, he couldn't have told, and he took to dreaming about her.

One night at training camp he had awakened suddenly in the barracks to find a dozen fellows bending over him "listening in."

"Sweetheart!" One grinning soul had mocked. "Dee—ar little sweetheart! Oh, mamma!" "Don't worry, darling. How can I get killed when you're waiting for me," sang another, waving his arms and dancing around on one leg.

"You devils!" cried Jack, springing up. Of the dozen men in his barracks, he was probably the only one who didn't have a real sweetheart. So now was it any wonder that he was too paralyzed with amazement to make the apology he had begun, and colored like a girl under his tan? His eyes held hers for quite several seconds before he remembered. "I beg your pardon," he said, his hand to his cap. "I hope I didn't hurt you."

THE MAKING OF A FAMOUS MEDICINE

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Is Prepared For Woman's Use.

A visit to the laboratory where this successful remedy is made impresses even the casual looker-on with the reliability, accuracy, skill and cleanliness which attends the making of this great medicine for woman's ills. Over 350,000 pounds of various herbs are used annually and all have to be gathered at the season of the year when their natural juices and medicinal substances are at their best.

Every utensil and tank that comes in contact with the medicine is sterilized and as a final precaution in cleanliness the medicine is pasteurized and sealed in sterile bottles. It is the wonderful combination of roots and herbs, together with the skill and care used in its preparation which has made this famous medicine so successful in the treatment of female ills.

The letters from women who have been restored to health by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which we are continually publishing attest to its virtue.

Grooving Machine Building Ships.
Revival of the wooden shipbuilding industry has brought into the limelight a number of labor-saving appliances among which is a grooving and planing machine, capable, it is claimed, of doing as much work as 15 or 20 men equipped with manual tools. The device, which is illustrated in the Popular Mechanics Magazine, weighs about 35 pounds and may be driven either by compressed air or electricity.

No Wonder They Die.
Natives of New Guinea are the shortest lived people in the world, which is attributed to their diet of larvae of certain beetles and their drinking sea water.

HAPPENINGS OF THE WEEK IN WISCONSIN

Sheboygan—Four horses, a full blooded Holstein cow, two calves and a bull were burned to death in a fire of unknown origin that destroyed two of the best equipped barns in Sheboygan county, owned by Adolph Weinhold, near Adel. The loss was $8,000. Besides the live stock, all of Mr. Weinhold's farm machinery which included milking machines and other devices of the most improved type were destroyed.

Appleton—A concrete block silo, fitted with a heating apparatus, is being erected on the John Buss farm, town of Grand Center, Outagamie county. A heating stove and pipes to convey the heat are being built into the walls of the silo. During cold weather a small fire will suffice to keep the silage from freezing and the feed will be in better condition and more accessible than in the ordinary silos.

Madison—Adjutant General Orlando Holway has received a call for 257 men, graduates of grammar schools, having special aptitude for mechanics. These men from Wisconsin will report July 1 at the old south side high school at Chicago. The period of voluntary enlistment will expire June 21. Milwaukee will supply 35 men, Madison 5, Racine 4, Oshkosh 4, Green Bay 4 and La Crosse 4.

Portage—The wool clip is about one in Columbia county and the markets are being rushed with the product. The price this year is 65 cents. One of the largest flocks of sheep in the county is on the Richards & Sons farm in Arlington. They have about 100 head. The wool this year is up to standard, the best in the entire county.

Menasha—"Dogtown," the traditional name applied to the west end of this city, has been changed to "Libertyville." At the dedication of the west side's service flag, Mayor Remmel officially rechristened the section. Twenty of "Libertyville" young men are now in the service and two of them have already been wounded in action.

Sheboygan—Jacob M. Jansen, who arrived recently in America from Holland, his native land, told the Sheboygan Rotarians that the majority of the people in Holland are with the allies and America in this war, and that any attempt by Germany to invade Holland would result in the mobilization of 1,000,000 Dutch soldiers.

Kenosha—One of the four stars in the service flag of Ludwig Semler at Twin Lakes in Kenosha county was turned from blue to gold, when he received a telegram announcing that his son, Fred Semler, had been killed while fighting with the American army in France. Three brothers of the young man are now in the army.

Appleton—H. Nabfeld has hatched out over 5,000 chicks with fifteen incubators so far this season, and expects to increase that number to 7,000 before the middle of next month. He has no trouble in selling them as fast as they are hatched and at present he has less than 200 on hand.

La Crosse—Elisey A. Sloane has completed twenty-eight years of duty as stamp clerk at the local postoffice and resigned because of his advanced age. He lost a leg in the civil war, in which he served three years, six months of which were in a Confederate prison at Cahokia, Ala.

Madison—State Treasurer Henry Johnson is checking up reports of justices of the peace and county courts, the former on fines and the latter on inheritance taxes. The checking has disclosed that thousands of dollars coming to the state have never been paid over.

Stevens Point—A year to a day from the time fire caused heavy loss to the McKinley public school, the building was again in flames. As was the case a year ago, the fire was the result of the burning out of the dry toilet system of the school. The loss was not serious.

Ossau—"Aunt" Nancy O'Brien celebrated her one hundredth birthday on June 13 and entertained about fifty guests, most of them related to her. It was a gala occasion and she was in receipt of many congratulations.

Neenah—The fresh air camp for tubercular children opened at a farm, a few miles from this city, with fifteen children in attendance. The camp is in charge of the school nurse.

Antigo—The Citizens Brewery is being converted into a potash factory, the first in the state.

Sheboygan—Many Wisconsin railroad men attended the funeral here of Emmel Halock, widely known employee of the North-Western road, who died at Milwaukee. The remains were buried in Willowood cemetery after prayer by Rev. Paul E. Hinkamp.

Winegar—Twenty-five men employed in the mill of the Vilas County Lumber company here have enlisted in the service of Uncle Sam. Fully twenty women have been recruited so far to take their places in various work around the mill and yards.

Madison—Enforcement of the Crowder work-or-fight rule is sought by the state council of defense in an order issued to county councils to co-operate with draft officials in rounding up idlers. It is requested that citizens generally interest themselves in reporting to local draft boards registrants who are idlers, engaged in serving food and drink, elevator operators, door men, ushers, attendants, sales clerks, store employes, or employed in domestic service.

Madison—George C. Humphrey of the University of Wisconsin has been placed on the official list of judges of Holsteins for American fairs and dairy cattle expositions of 1918. Three of the other nominees are W. L. Carlyle of Canada, formerly connected with the Wisconsin agricultural college; W. A. McKerrow, St. Paul, Minn., formerly of Waukesha county; G. E. Morton of the Colorado agricultural college, formerly a resident of Rock county.

Madison—County boards of supervisors are to be urged by the Women's committee of county councils of defense to proceed at once to establish sanatoria for the care of tubercular soldiers. Already 434 enlisted men have been returned to Wisconsin with tubercular infection and the women urge that steps be taken at once, not only to effect a cure of these men but to prevent them from being sources of infection to others.

Racine—One hundred delegates to the annual convention of the Wisconsin Federation of Women's Catholic clubs here adopted a resolution which provides that only the English language shall be taught in schools and that a movement to introduce the 6 o'clock Angelus in all American homes and silent prayer for peace be carried out.

Neenah—With the drafting of Albert McMahon, city engineer, Neenah is giving quite a few of its officials to be country's service. City Attorney C. C. Fenn is now a captain at Camp Custer; City Physician C. C. DeMarcelle is with the boys in France, while Mayor C. B. Clark is a member of the state guards.

Burlington—Democrats of the First congressional district will assemble in Burlington on July 8, to recommend a candidate for representative in congress to succeed Henry Allen Cooper, who is bitterly opposed for the republican nomination by a faction of his own party that named Judge Clifford Randall, Kenosha, as their choice.

Marinette—Searching the waters of the Little Sturgeon in Door county at night for illegal nets, Conservation Wardens Kabrandt and Cranston were fired upon by persons unknown on shore, but escaped unhurt. Automobile lamps were used to illuminate the bay and disclose the position of the wardens. They seized several nets.

Ashland—Joseph Hoof, who runs a summer resort near Cable, planned a venison dinner for some Chicago friends, but the game wardens got there first. It cost Hoof $90.13 in fines and costs for forty pounds of venison in his possession and the wardens would not even leave him a piece of the meat after he had paid up.

Madison—While the weather this spring has been very favorable for the pea crop, in the older sections of the state and on soil that has been planted to successive crops of peas or which has been given improper applications of old pea vines infected with the pea blight organism, the blight has appeared.

Madison—Birth registration again proved its value when it became necessary to prove kinship of a Wisconsin soldier killed in action in France. His sister, adopted by another family, and assuming a new name, was able to prove her right to his insurance money.

Appleton—The city of Appleton will finance the industrial school during the special course in industrial pursuits essential to the war. This was brought about because the state and the industrial school board of the city did not have any finances to carry on the work.

Fond du Lac—The 2,000 persons enlisted in the service of the county council of defense received notice to turn in names of all persons not usefully at work. "They'll go to work or to jail," said Chairman Frank J. Wolf.

Madison—One of the charges that more than 30 per cent of its normal amount of sugar has been used, the White Rock Springs plant at Waukesha was closed by order of Food Administrator Magnus Swenson.

Madison—The $1,781,000 working budget submitted by the regents of the University of Wisconsin for the next year was approved by the state board of education.

Marinette—When Milo Welch, Milwaukee barber, arrived here, the first news of his brother's death reached him at the railway station, where a casket enclosing the body of Lennie Welch was awaiting shipment to Dirnamwood for burial.

Wausau—Joseph Chapp, a resident of the town of Knowlton, recently remarked that "Liberty bonds were no good," according to charges filed in Justice Riley's court. Chapp was quickly summoned and is now bound over to the Circuit Court.

Lives 200 Years!

For more than 200 years, Haarlem Oil, the famous national remedy of Holland, has been recognized as an infallible relief from all forms of kidney and bladder disorders. Its very age is proof that it must have unusual merit.

If you are troubled with pains or aches in the back, feel tired in the morning, headache, indigestion, insomnia, painful or too frequent passage of urine, irritation or stinging in the bladder, you will almost certainly find relief in GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. This is the good old remedy that has stood the test for hundreds of years, prepared in the proper quantity and convenient form to take. It is imported direct from Holland laboratories, and you can get it at any drug store. It is a standard, old-time home remedy and needs no introduction. Each capsule contains one dose of five drops and is pleasant and easy to take. They will quickly relieve those stiffened joints, that backache, rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, gall stones, gravel, "brick dust," etc. Your money promptly refunded if they do not relieve you. But be sure to get the genuine GOLD MEDAL brand. In boxes, three sizes—Adv.

New Compact Fire Escape.
One of the boys aboard our navy's fleet has invented a fire escape which is similar to the rope ladders used aboard ships. His principal object was to provide a collapsible fire escape which could be compacted and conveniently arranged at the window of a dwelling. It consists of a container hinged to the sill in such a manner that by opening the window and folding the container on its hinges the metal ladder may be unfolded and dropped. When this operation is gone through, a means is automatically provided whereby the ladder is held at a distance from the walls of the building. The advantage of such precaution is obvious.

Knew the Answer.
"Say, pa!" "Yes, my son?"
"Are you too busy readin' to explain somethin' to me?"
"No, my son. Your father is never too busy to give his children the benefit of his information."
"Well, in this story it says 'the ship weighed anchor.' Why does a ship have to weigh its anchor before it starts out?"
"Ah, yes. To be sure. You've always noticed that in your readings haven't you? Well, this is the reason. You see, when a ship stays a long time in a harbor it accumulates a lot of—er—binnettes. And these binnettes cling to the anchor in such numbers that they increase its weight. So they have to weigh it. Do you see?"

The Old Man's Call to Duty.
J. H. Snowdon, a retired farmer and capitalist, told a Seattle reporter that he is on his way back from southern California to his old home at Calgary, Can., to go back to the fields. He supposed that he had earned a rest for the remainder of his days, but now sees that he was mistaken. "I am now fifty-five years of age," he said, "and have not done any manual labor for eight years, but I am going to hire out this summer and fall to help my former neighbors to harvest their crops. I figure that as long as I am too old for military duty, I can help win the war by helping produce crops." Thousands of Americans as well as Canadians will see their patriotic duty and take similar action before the war is over. The call to the colors is by no means confined to men and youths under thirty-two.—Nebraska State Journal.

A Discouraging Precedent.
There is nothing original about Marshall Von Hindenburg's boast that he would drive the English into the sea. In the Peninsular War Soult made the same remark about the British under Wellington that Von Hindenburg has now uttered about the British under Haig. Wellington did retire perilously near to the sea, just as Haig has. But Soult looked at the position and changed his mind. Is Von Hindenburg, in apparently still planning to give battle, going to show less sense than his renowned French predecessor?—Christian Science Monitor.

The Call to Worship.
To inform women of the neighborhood of the hour for worship is one of the objects of a vigilance committee in certain Lutheran mission stations in India, a land where clocks are few.

Doan's Kidney Pills Effected Wonderful Recovery After Other Medicines Had Failed.
"I don't believe I would be alive to give this testimony if it weren't for Doan's Kidney Pills," says Mrs. Julia A. Thomas, 1125-A Missouri Ave., East St. Louis, Ill. "I was in a serious condition with kidney trouble; my feet and ankles were terribly swollen and the kidney secretions caused agony in passage. I had terrible rheumatic pains and often got so dizzy I dared not walk for fear of falling. I felt as if I would go frantic. I grew weak as a baby and often had to grasp something to keep from falling. My nerves were all unstrung and the least noise startled me. Nothing benefited me and I was discouraged. A neighbor happened to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills and I began using them. The swellings and pains were soon eased up and it was but a short time before my kidneys were in good shape again. They have never bothered me since, nor have I had any backache or other kidney trouble. I have gained 55 pounds since I was cured and can do all my own work without suffering."

Farmers! Watch Your Stomachs In Hot Weather

We and Our Allies Are Depending Upon Your Strength To Supply Our Armies With Food.

You men who work long hours in the fields under a blazing sun—you've got to be big eaters, because your food is your strength, and now, more than ever, your strength is badly needed. So guard your health. Be sure and watch your stomach, for in the summer time nearly all illness can be traced to stomach and bowel complaint. You, yourself, know how liable a man is to sunstroke if he goes in the hot sun too soon after eating a hearty mid-day meal, and also how liable he is to sudden attacks of stomachic miseries. So cool off in the shade before going back to work. Don't take chances.

Take care of your stomach, friend. You know you can't work well with your stomach out of fix. "Safety first," must be your motto, so send to your druggist and get a big box of EATONIC, enough for yourself and family, yes, and the hired folks, too. It's the wonderful new compound for the quick relief of stomach and bowel miseries. It was originated by H. L. Kramer, the man who made millions of people happy with his first great remedy, Cascarats.
Now, all you need do is to take a tablet or two of EATONIC after your meals. It's good—just like eating candy. Enjoy the quick, sure relief it brings—how almost instantly it relieves indigestion, heartburn, food-

This is a mild form of indigestion. It is usually brought on by eating too rapidly or too much, or of food not suited to your digestive organs. If you will eat slowly, masticate your food thoroughly, eat but little meat and none at all for supper, you will more than likely avoid the sour stomach without taking any medicine whatever. When you have sour stomach take one of Chamberlain's Tablets.

Read what an American correspondent writes about one of our boys who had been doing his duty: "In a little field hospital west of Montdidier I stopped at the bedside of an American boy, one of those victims of the German mustard gas, with which the Huns are making their present gains. His eyes were matted with yellow pus and he could not see. His face was terribly burned. His lips were swollen and purple. His whole body had been turned the color of an Indian, and portions of it looked like melted flesh, as though it had been liquefied. "The fighting had been renewed all along the American lines, and German wounded had begun coming into our hospitals. I said to this soldier: "The boys are getting their revenge for you fellows to-night." He smiled through his seared lips, and in a voice so faint that I had to bend down to listen, he gasped, "God! I wish I was back there with 'em!" Do you still think your life a hard one? Help support that boy and the hundreds of thousands of others doing their duty. ITALIANS HOLD AUSTRIANS ON PIAVE RIVER

1,500 More Prisoners Taken in Big Battle.

ENEMY LOSSES ARE HEAVY

Official Rome Statement Says Thousands of Austrian Corpses Are Strung Along Battlefield—Small Gains by Foe.

Rome, June 19.—The Italians have taken 1,500 additional prisoners on the Piave, between Fossalta and Camo Sile, where the Austrians are being held, the war office announced.

North of Montello the Italians strengthened their occupation of the river line as far as Casa Serena.

On the eastern portion of the Asiago plateau, the Italians retook the Razeo and Pizzo heights and captured 300 prisoners.

Gain Along Piave.

London, June 19.—With their second line penetrated in the crucial battle along the Piave river, the Italian armies stemmed the Austrian rush in this sector.

At all other points along the 100-mile front of attack they either had launched counter-offensives or had fought the invaders to a standstill.

The Austrian losses are described as terrific.

An official Italian statement says thousands of Austrian corpses are strewn along the Piave battlefield.

Checked and chagrined by the repulse of the Austrians, Von Hindenburg has ordered the Austrians to throw their last reserve into the battle along the Piave, according to late dispatches.

Piave Vital Point.

It is along this line, held by Italian, French and British troops, that the final fate of Emperor Karl's ambitious attempt to put Italy out of the war will be decided.

In the earlier fighting during the day the Austrians drove forward at the extreme ends of the Piave line and menaced both Italian flanks in the river region.

At Montello the enemy advanced four miles and occupied two-thirds of the high ground.

The occupation of the crest of the mountain, which was the Austrian objective, would have turned the whole Piave line. The Italian successes reported have eliminated this danger.

Venice Menace Averted.

In the marsh land of the lower Piave the Austrians advanced on the 15-mile front between Zenson and the sea to the depth of three miles at several points, reaching the Italian second line. This thrust, a direct move upon Venice, apparently has been definitely checked.

From captured documents and the statements of prisoners there is no doubt the enemy command sent its troops into the offensive with the promise of booty.

Cannon and trench mortars were furnished the Austrians in large numbers by the Germans.

In return, according to prisoners, the Austrians have permitted a German "requisition" battalion to operate on the Italian front, in order to secure a portion of the anticipated loot.

Foe Bridges Piave.

The Austrians, according to the Evening Standard, now occupy the west bank of the Piave from the Conegliano railway to the Zenson bend, a distance of a mile and a half. They have thrown 14 bridges across the river. These, however, are under the Italian fire.

The Austrian forces, the correspondent says, are attempting to establish two bridgeheads on the right bank of the Piave for future operations. The Italians have sufficient reserves to avoid any danger on the Piave.

Drive Fails in Mountains.

The failure of the Austrian offensive in the mountains, the most critical sector, is shown in Italian official statements.

It is believed that the Italians have every prospect of restoring the positions on the Piave.

SINK SUBS OFF U. S.

TWO GERMAN U-BOATS SENT TO BOTTOM.

One Destroyed by Gunners on American Steamer and Another by U. S. Submarine.

An Atlantic Port, June 19.—Members of the crew of an American steamship arriving here reported an engagement with a German submarine off the Virginia capes, in which the ship's naval gunners made a clean hit and either sunk the undersea craft or disabled it. The American vessel was not damaged.

Three naval airmen who left here Sunday to scout for German submarines off the coast and who had been missing since, today reported to naval headquarters here that they were forced to land because of engine trouble. The aviators announced that their machine was unharmed and that they had suffered no injury.

An Atlantic Port, June 19.—A German submarine with its entire crew was destroyed by the Virginia coast several days ago, according to a report brought here by passengers aboard an American steamship.

Officers of the vessel claimed to have been told the story of the submarine combat by members of the victorious American undersea boat's crew.

The American liner had put into the mouth of Chesapeake bay for shelter in response to submarine warnings and there anchored near an American submarine tender alongside which was moored the undersea craft taking on provisions and fuel, officers of the vessel stated. An interchange of wireless messages followed in which the submarine crew is reported to have told of its victory.

The U-boat was sighted while the American craft was patrolling with only its periscope visible, according to the story the American skipper is alleged to have told. When within range a torpedo was released and 20 seconds later microphones recorded a terrific explosion. Rising to the surface the American submarine circled about on the lookout for survivors, but oil coming to the surface was the only trace found of the vanquished raider.

Washington, June 19.—No word had reached the navy department of the destruction of an enemy U-boat by an American submarine as reported by passengers arriving on a steamer at an American port. Constant firing of patrol boats and armed merchant men at any suspicious object on the water has given rise to many such reports during the last three weeks.

More Men for the Navy.

House Agrees to Increase Personnel to 131,485—Refuses Promotion to Marine Commander.

Washington, June 19.—As a result of the urgent representations of Admirals Palmer and Benson that the American navy, particularly forces abroad, is under-manned and insufficiently officered for battle service, the house of representatives agreed to the senate amendment increasing the navy personnel to 131,485 officers and enlisted men. The house, however, after an arduous debate replete with personalities, sent the navy appropriation bill back to the conference committee of the two houses for elimination of the senate amendment proposing to confer upon Maj. Gen. Barnett, commander of the marine corps, a rank equivalent to that of lieutenant general in the army. The house rejected the Barnett amendment by a vote of 94 to 73.

Dirigible's Crew All Safe.

Men From Naval Station Were Picked Up by Vessel Which Had No Wireless Outfit.

Cape May, N. Y., June 19.—The crew of the dirigible balloon which sailed from the naval station here Saturday morning and was reported missing, are safe.

The pilot reported to headquarters that his engine became disabled Saturday afternoon and caused the airship to fall into the sea. A vessel was near at hand and picked up the crew, but was not equipped with wireless, and aviators were unable to make their whereabouts known until they were put ashore at Rockaway.

Soldiers Hurt in Wreck.

U. S. INDICTS FOUR IN CONTRACT PLOT

Department of Justice Makes Serious Charges Against Men.

CLAIM TO HAVE INFLUENCE

Alleged to Have Offered to Obtain Government Work Provided Firm Split Profits—Federal Agents Raid Many Concerns.

Washington, June 19.—Sensational disclosures of alleged graft conspiracy in connection with government contracts were made on Monday by the department of justice in announcing the indictment in Philadelphia of John Fleming, John T. Cavanaugh, Eugene Sullivan and Joseph Kohr.

These men are charged with having offered to obtain for the Quaker City Raincoat company, Philadelphia, a contract for 100,000 army raincoats, provided the concern split profits for the use of their "influence."

The department severely scored the practices of "contingent fee contractors," and promised to round up numbers of these men in Washington, New York and other cities.

Late Monday agents of the department and officers of the military and naval intelligence spread a net over all sections of the country. Private papers of hundreds of corporations having contractual relations with the government were examined.

The four men arrested fell into a trap set by the government. B. A. Bittan, president of the raincoat company, having disclosed to the government the improper proposals, the four men were induced to come to Washington to draw up with Bittan a formal contract under which a commission was to be paid.

The sum of $500 in cash was to be exacted of Bittan for "the benefit of an officer in the quartermaster's corps," who, the four men assured the raincoat manufacturer, "had to be fixed."

Bittan paid over the $500, it was stated, and the money was declared to have been found on Fleming. Kohr was arrested at Boston.

They were all indicted by the grand jury for conspiracy to commit an offense against the United States.

In addition to the announcement that search is being made of the records of all manufacturers with contractual relations with the government the statement adds:

"There is no intention to interfere with legitimate relationship between manufacturers and various departments of the government over contracts, but the manufacturer must deal directly with the department and not through a middleman or agents employed on a contingent fee basis."

Wilson Tells President of France That Forces of Freedom Must Win Triumph.

Washington, June 17.—The purpose of the United States to send men and materials to France until "any temporary inequality of force is entirely overcome" was reiterated by President Wilson in replying to a message from President Poincare on the anniversary of the landing of the first American troops in Europe.

The president's cablegram, made public by the state department, said:

"Your telegram was certainly conceived in the highest and most generous spirit of friendship, and I am sure that I am expressing the feeling of the people of the United States as well as my own when I say that it is with increasing pride and gratification that they have seen their forces under General Pershing more and more actively co-operating with the forces of liberation on French soil."

"It is their fixed and unalterable purpose to send men and materials in steadily increasing volume until any temporary inequality of force is entirely overcome and the forces of freedom made overwhelming, for they are convinced that it is only by victory that peace can be achieved and the world's affairs settled upon a basis of enduring justice and right."

FOURTH LOAN FOR 6 BILLIONS

McAdoo Says Certificates of Indebtedness Will Precede Liberty Loan.

WILL BEAR 4 1-2 PER CENT

Secretary of the Treasury Announces Program for the Next Four Months—Banks Asked to Aid.

Washington, June 18.—The government's financial program for the next four months was disclosed on Sunday night by Secretary McAdoo's announcement that in preparation for the fourth Liberty loan, to be floated probably in October, about $6,000,000,000 certificates of indebtedness will be issued.

They will be offered in blocks of $750,000,000 each every two weeks beginning June 25.

Every national bank and trust company is asked to assist the government by subscribing 5 per cent of its gross resources monthly.

The certificates will bear 4 1/2 per cent interest, like those preceding the third Liberty loan, and will have varying maturity periods, not exceeding four months.

The announcement of this program indicates that the fourth Liberty loan will be for at least $6,000,000,000, the exact amount depending on government expenditures in the next four months.

The treasury already has estimated these roughly at about $12,000,000,000 between July 1 and next January 1.

The sale of certificates under the plan in effect during the last year amounts virtually to borrowing in advance from banks on projected popular war loans or tax collections, and periodically refunding these short-term obligations in long-term Liberty bonds.

Depository banks make 2 1/2 per cent net, the difference between the 4 1/2 per cent interest paid by the government and the 2 per cent from the deposits.

It now goes to the senate. The measure carries a total of $2,015,000,000, of which more than $2,000,000,000 was added by the house, including the funds for the president and the information committee and $100,000,000 for Mississippi river flood control.

Support for Provost Marshal General Crowder's proposal to extend the army draft to men between eighteen and forty-five years, was given by Senator Chamberlain of Oregon, chairman of the senate military committee, at hearings on the $12,000,000,000 army appropriation bill.

"I have always advocated having it apply to men of those ages," said Senator Chamberlain. "and think we will yet come to it. There are lots of men over thirty who really are doing nothing and ought to be reached."

FAVORS WORK LAW

WILSON APPROVES MARYLAND'S COMPULSORY REGULATION.

President Urges Nation-Wide Movement to Supplement Marshal Crowder's Order.

Washington, June 15.—President Wilson has approved a nation-wide compulsory work movement to supplement Provost Marshal General Crowder's "work or fight" regulations.

In a letter to Governor Harrington of Maryland, made public here Thursday night, the president endorsed adoption by other states of the Maryland compulsory work law, under which the "work or fight" principle is made applicable to all men between the ages of eighteen and fifty.

The president's letter to Governor Harrington follows:

"Your letter of May 21 calls my attention to the proposal for a nation-wide movement based upon the principles embodied in the Maryland compulsory work law.

"I can say without hesitation that I am heartily in accord with any movement intended to bring every citizen to a full realization of his responsibilities as a participant in this war.

"Upon our entrance into the war, I called upon our citizens to mobilize their energies for its prosecution in every way that was possible.

"The response has been exceedingly gratifying. The slogan 'work or fight' has everywhere been taken up as a satisfactory expression of the spirit of the people.

"The instances of failure to appreciate its force and significance have been few.

"It is only natural, however, that those few cases should excite the feeling that the spirit of the community should in some way be enforced by law upon those not willing to co-operate of their own initiative.

"The memorandum which you have prepared points out how wisely Maryland has acted in this matter. I particularly admire the care the Maryland legislature has taken to be just in the provisions of the law, which protect the honest workman in his rights and privileges.

"I assume the safeguards of this legislation against the possibility of abuse include the maintenance of those standards and working conditions which the council of national defense and the national war labor board have set up as indispensable to the nation's full productive efficiency.

"I hope that it will be possible to duplicate the action and experience of Maryland in other states."

Mrs. Charles Enyeart, Huntington, Ind., writes: "During the summer of 1911 two of my children were taken sick with cholera morbus. Take Care of Your Tires

America's greatest need is for ships—more ships. Every available vessel is being utilized in government service.

Many ships that have been carrying rubber from Sumatra and Brazil have been taken for active transport duty.

This will necessarily force a temporary curtailment of tire production.

So, make the most of the tires you have. Use good tires.

Take good care of them. Keep them in perfect repair. See that they are properly inflated.

Increase their mileage by careful driving. Keep out of car tracks and away from bumps. Don't scrape the curb or apply brakes too suddenly.

Get every mile your tires have in them. Only in that way can you be assured of your car's continuous service.

Greater Mistake can be made than imagining it is economy to buy the cheapest Harness and Collars, because the price seems to be low. The shoddy character of cheap goods takes away all apparent saving and always concludes to dissatisfaction. I make special point on the character of my goods. I positively deal only of reliable workmanship and A 1 material. The lowest prices consistent with market conditions. I invite inspection of goods and prices.
