LETTERS FROM OUR SOLDIERS

That American soldier boys are not looking for safe, soft jobs when they go to France, is evidenced in a letter written by Adolph Rosenheimer, a Kewaskum boy, to his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. John Rosenheimer Sr., of Schleisingerville.

Received your letter some time ago and was more than glad to hear from you. The picture on the envelope got my eye at once, for I can never forget the happy days at the lake.

I have traveled considerably since your letter reached me, having left France and crossed into Italy, where I am at present.

Have seen some beautiful scenery enroute, from snow capped mountains to beautiful green valleys below.

Am stationed here with another company as instructor in signal work. Nice work and keeps me busy.

The following letter was received by Dr. and Mrs. Henry Driessel from their son Capt. Sylvester Driessel who is with the American Expeditionary Forces in France:

Regimental Infirmary, 111th Engineers, A. E. F. France Aug. 26th, 1918. My Dear Mother, Daddy and Sisters: France is a country of beauty as much as I have seen of it.

Just a few lines to let you know that I am in the best of health and hope the same of you, I haven't heard from home for about three weeks, am anxious to get a letter from home again.

OUR LIBERTY LOAN QUOTA

Kewaskum Will Back Our Boys With More Than $30,600.00 That Has Been Assigned Us.

The quota for Kewaskum for the fourth Liberty Loan has been fixed at $30,600.00. That is the amount our people are to buy of the total which must be sold if the government is to successfully finance, during the next few months, our part in the terrible conflict the Kaiser and his hordes have brought upon the world.

Kewaskum people are going at this bond-buying proposition in just the same way that our Kewaskum boys are going at the Heines in France. We are not going to wait until the fight is over before we get into it, and we are not going to stop at the fixed objective of $30,600.00 any more than our boys stop when they reach the first German trench or German machine gun nest.

WHY WE SHOULD SUPPORT OUR BOYS

We want to tell the people of Kewaskum and vicinity why they should subscribe to the full quota of the Fourth Liberty Loan assigned to them. Kewaskum and the country immediately surrounding and tributary has sent over 70 soldiers into the service of the United States. They are in the army, navy and marine corps. They are fighting the battles of this country; of this community. Kewaskum has a vital interest in winning this war; the same vital interest that every other part of the country has in preserving the honor and integrity of America and safe guarding humanity for all time.

DEATH OF MRS. MENGER

Mrs. Henry Menger of Allenton was called to the land beyond Saturday morning, September 21st at seven o'clock, attaining the age of forty-six years.

The cause of her death was ulceration of the stomach. She had been in failing health ever since last spring August 1st, 1899. Their union was blessed with three children, Erwin, Louisa and Adelia, when a year old Adelia passed out to the higher life.

For 12 years they lived on a farm near Wayne and in 1913 they moved to Allenton.

The deceased will be greatly missed by the family as she was what people call a "home maker". No one could have been more devoted to her home and family.

Those who mourn her are her husband and two children, Erwin at present studying for the ministry and Louisa at home, also two brothers, Frank of Lomira and Albert of Wausau.

"ALL RIGHT"

By Damon Runyon HE'S back on a leave of absence, And his face seems drawn and gray It's hard to realize it's been A year since he went away.

"THEY'RE all right, over there, all right; There's nothing at all that's wrong. Sam, Joe and Bill—I saw them all And I left them well and strong. They told me to tell you all hello, 'And to tell you to have no fear But that they're all right, over there, all right, If YOU'RE all right, over here!"

"YES there's lots of mud in the trenches, But they're making the best of it. The cooties are not much overdrawn, Or none of the rest of it. It's a big new kind of business— A business that's sad, and queer. But they're all right, over there, all right— Are YOU all right, over here?"

"THEY'RE all right, over there, all right; Yes, it's true about those rains. It's true about the hardships, too. And that never a man complains. It's true that there's quite a task at hand, And that death is ever near— But they're all right, over there, all right— Are YOU all right, over here?"

"IF YOU'RE all right, over here," he said, "And leaving no job undone, They'll be all right, over there, all right, Till they've ended the thing, and won IF YOU'VE done YOUR share the best YOU can, And YOUR conscience is sound and clear, They'll be all right, over there, all right, And YOU all right, over here!"

HE'S back on a leave of absence, And his face seems drawn and gray It's hard, indeed, to realize It's a year that he's been away. Grave he is in his manner, But his voice has the old-time cheer: They're all right, over there, all right— Are YOU all right, over here?"

—Grand dance at the South Side Park hall on Sunday evening, October 13th. Music will be furnished by the celebrated Biel Girls' orchestra of Beaver Dam. Everybody is invited. ED. KOTH, Proprietor, Geo. F. Brandt, Auctioneer.

DONATE KITCHEN TRAILER.

The Juneau Chapter of the Red Cross donated a fully equipped kitchen trailer, for the personal comforts of the soldier boys at the front. It is one of those cabinets on wheels attached to the war motor trains, and used to serve hot coffee and lunches behind the firing line. The outfit costs $800, and is suitably lettered and inscribed so that those who partake of its refreshments can read of the interest that the citizens of Juneau are taking in backing up the boys at the front.—Juneau Independent.

ALLIES CAPTURE CHIEF BASE OF BULGARIAN ARMY

Town of Prilep Captured by French Cavalry.

FOE IS FACING ANNIHILATION

Tanks Are Playing Important Part in Great Drive in Macedonia—Entente Forces Heading for Strumnitza, Important City in Bulgaria.

London, Sept. 25.—French cavalry operating to the northeast of Monastir, in Macedonia, have captured the town of Prilep, according to an official statement.

Prilep was the chief base of one of the Bulgarian armies and military men here declared that this enemy army may now be in peril of complete annihilation.

The entire Bulgar-German forces are fleeing now in rout. Tanks, operating in the most mountainous and rough country which they have ever been called upon to tackle, are playing an important part in the drive.

It is reported that allied troops have crossed the Bulgarian frontier.

Anglo-Greeks Advance Ten Miles.

The Anglo-Greek forces in the Doiran region have effected a juncture with the Franco-Greek forces to the west, and continue to pursue the retreating Bulgarians, says the British official statement.

The Anglo-Greeks have reached Smokvitsa, marking an advance of ten miles up the Vardar, and are at Bezari, three miles north of Lake Doiran.

British troops are reported to have captured the important town of Doiran, on the southern shore of Lake Doiran.

Serbs Close to Istib.

Italian troops operating on the left flank of the British and Greeks in the Vardar valley have advanced ten miles during the day, according to another dispatch.

Serbian troops have crossed the Vardar river on a front of 15 miles. The enemy's line of communication along the Vardar on this front is now definitely in the hands of the allies.

The Serbians are now within striking distance of the road running from Koprivnica to Istib, on which the bulk of the Bulgarian forces are retreating. It is believed this road will be cut soon.

The Serbians alone have taken 12,000 prisoners and 140 guns so far, it is reported.

Strumnitza Now in Peril.

Allied cavalry is heading toward Strumnitza, the important Bulgarian city 20 miles north of Doiran and ten miles within the Bulgarian border, according to one dispatch.

The Serbian official report covering Sunday's operations was received here today. It says:

"On the 22nd (Sunday) our troops continued to cross the Vardar, where they are in contact with the enemy."

"Toward Prilep Serbian troops have reached the very steep massif of the Drenska mountain range and at several points are on the Gradska-Prilep road."

"The enemy continues to burn villages and his own stores. Despite this, however, great quantities of war material have fallen into our hands. On the Vardar railway line, Eskub to Saloniki, we captured several trains."

Threaten Bulgar Armies.

"The whole line is in rapid movement on a front of a hundred miles," says the Daily Telegraph, "while the wedge separating the two Bulgar armies threatens their destruction."

"SITUATION IS GRAVE"

HERTLING SAYS "WE HAVE NO CAUSE TO BE FAINT HEARTED."

Chancellor in Address to Reichstag Says "Deep Discontent Has Seized the Population."

London, Sept. 25.—Count Von Hertling, the German imperial chancellor, addressing the main committee of the reichstag, declared that the public discontent in Germany was not justified by the military situation on the western front, according to a dispatch from Berlin.

The chancellor opened with the promise to meet the desire of the reichstag for information as far as possible. He proceeded to allude to the "deep discontent which has seized wide circles of the population," and said that the principal reason was the pressure of the terrible four years of war, with all the deprivations and sufferings brought in its wake, and the sacrifices imposed on all classes, all families and, more or less, on every individual.

"I have no intention of trying to diminish this pressure by words," he continued, "but, gentlemen, if this discontent is influenced by our present military situation, by the events on the western front, I must, without desiring to anticipate a statement which we may expect from a representative of the war ministry, declare most emphatically that it far exceeds justifiable limits."

Count Von Hertling admitted that the last German offensive was unsuccessful and that it had been necessary to withdraw to the Siegfried line. "The situation is grave," he added, "but we have no cause to be faint-hearted. We have already had to pass through harder times."

The chancellor instanced the failure of the Verdun offensive, the Somme battles and Brusiloff's mass assaults, bringing in their train the well-remembered unfavorable reaction on the Austro-Italian front. Then came Romania's entry into the war. "We never lost courage," he said, "but showed our enemies what a resolute will to victory could do."

"How do things stand now? We have peace with Russia and Roumania and even though conditions in Russia are not yet clear and the future appears uncertain, nevertheless the former menace from two sides has disappeared and a considerable part of our men of the Eastern army can be employed in the West."

C. S. MELLEN IN DIVORCE SUIT

Former Rail Head Testifies in Court Wife Struck Him with a Marble Egg.

Pittsfield, Mass., Sept. 25.—Charles S. Mellen of Stockbridge, former president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad company, testified in probate court that his wife, Mrs. Katherine Mellen, struck him twice with a marble egg when he spoke to her about the condition of the home, and that when she attempted to strike him again he warded off the blow with his open hand and caused her nose to bleed. Mr. Mellen brought action in probate court to get a decree to the effect that he is justified in living apart from Mrs. Mellen, whom he claims deserted him.

A stack of about thirty photographic copies of letters which Mr. Mellen received from Mrs. Margaret B. Brown of New York, the wife of P. Douglas Brown, assistant manager of the Vanderbilt hotel, New York, revealing the alleged infatuation of Mrs. Mellen for Mr. Brown and the relations between Mrs. Mellen and Mr. Brown were presented as evidence.

SIX BILLION SET AS MINIMUM FOR 4TH LIBERTY LOAN

McAdoo Gives Figures in Address at New York.

TO BEAR 4 1-4 INTEREST

Quota for Seventh District Is $870,000,000—Secretary Says "We Cannot Lick the Kaiser Without This Vast Sum."

New York, Sept. 25.—Six billion dollars is the minimum amount which the people of the United States are asked to subscribe for the fourth Liberty loan, according to an announcement by William G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, in an address here outlining the government's plan for the campaign, which starts next Saturday.

The share allotted to the New York federal reserve district is $1,800,000,000, or 30 per cent of the loan. The share allotted to the Chicago district is 14 1/2 per cent, or $870,000,000. The Boston and Philadelphia quotas are $500,000,000 each and Cleveland is to raise $600,000,000.

The loan, which will bear 4 1/4 per cent interest, will run for 20 years, maturing October 15, 1938, unless the government should exercise its reserved right to redeem the bonds on or after October 15, 1933.

Needed to Lick Kaiser.

Asserting that, without the vast sum "we cannot lick the kaiser," Mr. McAdoo made a special appeal for the subscriptions of corporations and wealthy individuals, as returns from the third Liberty loan indicated that large means had not responded "commensurately with their abilities to help."

He pointed out that of the 18,000,000 Americans who subscribed for the last loan, only 22,500, including corporations, bought bonds in excess of $10,000.

"It would be preposterous," he said, "to say that there are only 22,500 men, women and corporations in America able to lend more than $10,000 each to their government in Liberty bonds."

Condemns Bond Swindlers.

Mr. McAdoo also condemned the practice of "swindlers and unscrupulous and unpatriotic people, who, contrary to the request of the treasury department, had induced holders of Liberty bonds to exchange them for stocks or investments of doubtful value."

Applauded by a crowd which filled Carnegie hall, Mr. McAdoo said, in part:

"The treasury of the United States asks the American people to subscribe to the fourth Liberty loan, $6,000,000,000. This money is needed to carry on the war. We cannot lick the kaiser without it. We cannot restore peace to the world and re-establish liberty and democracy without it.

"We are building a great merchant marine. Upon completion it will be the largest, most efficient and modern merchant fleet in the world. The money used for this purpose is an investment of immeasurable value to the American people."

All Should Buy Bonds.

Asserting that "everybody should buy bonds," Mr. McAdoo continued: "I was asked not long ago what arguments could be made for the fourth Liberty loan. I replied immediately, 'Pershing and our heroes in France.' No other argument is necessary."

"What we must do in America is to keep the pressure high. Now that we have the kaiser and his brutal hordes on the run, let us not relax effort but intensify effort. Keep hitting hard and smashing harder. That is the way to win surely and quickly. That is the way to open an American parade on Unter den Linden.

None Can Shirk Duty.

"No man can shirk his duty without incurring the just reprobation of public opinion. The acid test will be applied and the shirker, whether from military service or in the field of labor or in the ranks of the wealthy, will be unable to withstand the finger of scorn which will be unerringly pointed at him."

General March Tells House Committee of Enlarged Military Program—Opens Navy to Registrants.

Washington, Sept. 20.—An army of 4,800,000 by next July after all deductions have been made for casualties and rejections, is what the enlarged American military program calls for. General March explained this to the house appropriations committee in discussing the new seven-billion-dollar army estimates.

There are now about 3,200,000 men under arms, General March said, and the plan is to call 2,750,000 of the new draft registrants to the colors between now and July.

General March said that cash appropriations for the whole $7,000,000,000 would be necessary as practically all of the additional money would be expended in the next year.

BRITISH WIPE OUT TWO TURK ARMIES; 40,000 ARE TRAPPED

25,000 Prisoners and 260 Guns Captured in Palestine.

BIG VICTORY FOR ALLENBY

London War Office Announcement Says the Seventh and Eighth Ottoman Armies Have Ceased to Exist.

London, Sept. 24.—Reports from the Palestine front indicate that none of the Turkish force of at least 40,000 men trapped by the British through the seizure of the last of the passages of the Jordan can possibly get away.

Virtually the entire Turkish force is or will be accounted for in killed, wounded and prisoners. Hundred of stragglers are being found wandering about in the mountainous country aimlessly, without a leader or a purpose.

25,000 Taken Prisoner.

The Turks had seven divisions south of Nazareth and west of the Jordan, but the exact total cannot be determined owing to the weakness of some of the Turkish divisions, the totals of the different units varying.

Twenty-five thousand Turkish counted up to yesterday evening by General Allenby's forces pushing northward through Palestine, according to an official statement issued by the war office.

Two Armies Wiped Out.

The war office announcement says that the Seventh and Eighth Turkish armies virtually have ceased to exist. The entire transport of these two armies was captured by the British.

Seizure by the British of the crossings of the Jordan at Jisr-ed-Dameer on Sunday morning shut the last avenue of escape to the Turks west of the Jordan.

The total of 25,000 prisoners reported, however, is believed to be far less than the final count will show, as at last reports prisoners were still being brought in.

The clean-up effected by General Allenby, which is pointed to here as the quickest and most complete of the entire war, is counted as having definitely deprived the Turks of Palestine. In addition, besides the personnel of their army, the defeat has cost them an immense amount of war material.

So far as is known the Turks on this front only had four airplanes, and these four have been captured.

The astounding victory of General Allenby apparently will necessitate the rapid formation of new Turkish armies to oppose the British advance northward.

Turkish Empire Menaced.

The victory of General Allenby in Palestine is hailed here as a model in conception and execution, his consummate use of cavalry being especially praised by the military critics.

The Turkish disaster, it is pointed out, is bound to have the most profound reaction in Constantinople and Sofia and likewise to compromise the situation of the Turks in Mesopotamia. It seems probable also that it will terminate the Turkish adventures in Persia and the Caucasus.

The Daily Telegraph, which declares the existence of the Ottoman empire is imperiled by one of the master strokes of the war, points out that General Allenby struck unexpectedly early, and has all the campaigning still before him. The Morning Post urges that a diplomatic effort be made to detach Turkey from the central powers.

FRENCH TAKE 100 IN ITALY

Attack Austrians on Asiago Plateau and Destroy Defensive Systems.

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

Again the Government comes to the people of the country with the request that they lend their money, and lend it upon a more liberal scale than ever before, in order that the great war for the rights of America and the liberation of the world may be prosecuted with ever increasing vigor to a victorious conclusion. And it makes the appeal with the greatest confidence because it knows that every day it is becoming clearer and clearer to thinking men throughout the nation that the winning of the war is an essential movement. The money that is held back now will be of little use or value if the war is not won and the selfish masters of Germany are permitted to dictate what America may and may not do. Men in America, besides, have from the first until now dedicated both their lives and their fortunes to the vindication and maintenance of the great principles and objects for which our Government was set up. They will not fail now to show the world for what their wealth was intended.

France, Aug. 22, 1913.
Dear Sister and Brother:—

At present I am enjoying a rest back of the lines where everything is nice and quiet. For five and one-half months we have been on the front blazing away. The last few weeks have been the hardest driving the Germans back across the Marne and beyond. It sure was some scrap of open warfare and open warfare must be much worse nowadays than it used to be on account of the aeroplanes, and so much artillery. The aviators on both sides are getting so they can manage their machines with great accuracy attacking groups of men and shooting at them with machine guns. More than once have I hugged the trunk of a tree and followed it around like a fox squirrel, if the target is large enough why they will drop a few bombs on it. There is nothing worse than to get caught in an artillery barrage. One day when the Germans were making a stand on a hill, I was sent back to the ammunition dump for some ammunition. I had to pass through a street of a village and how the shells were falling in this town and smashing it to pieces was something awful. I got down to where the ammunition was alright but the artillery fire grew to be so intense that we laid down in a ditch until they let up, but it is ever going through that is so safe is something to think about. But that is only one of the many things a fellow experiences in a scrap like that. Tonight I am going to have a good feed at a private French home, she did my washing yesterday, she even wanted to sew up a hole in my pants without taking them off, it sure makes a fellow think of mother when you see an old lady act kind like that. Will have to close for this time hoping that business and health is good with you, love and best wishes to all, Leo, Co. B, 150th M. G. Ba., Am. E. F.

Miss Elizabeth German returned on Wednesday after spending a few weeks with the Walter Endlich family.

August Hose and family and Mrs. John Hose autored to Milwaukee on Saturday and returned home on Monday.

Miss Olive Gutjahr of Kewaskum and Miss Olive Kirchner from east of here spent Sunday afternoon with Miss Amanda Gutjahr.

TO THOSE WHO FAIL TO GRASP WAR'S MEANING

By ELIHU ROOT,
 Honorary President of the National Security League.

There are doubtless some who do not understand what this struggle really is. Some who were born here resent interference with their comfort and prosperity and the demands for sacrifice, which seem to them unnecessary, and they fail to see that the time has come when, if Americans are to keep the independence and liberty which their fathers won by suffering and sacrifice, they in their turn must fight again for the preservation of that independence and liberty.

There are some born abroad who have come to this land for a greater freedom and broader opportunities and have sought and received the privileges of American citizenship who are awayed by dislike for some ally or by the sympathies of German kinship and fall to see that the time has come for them to make good the obligations of their sworn oaths of naturalization.

This is the oath that the applicant for citizenship makes:

That he will support the Constitution of the United States and that he absolutely and entirely renounces all allegiance and fidelity to any foreign prince, potentate or sovereignty; that he will support and defend the Constitution and laws of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic, and bear true faith and allegiance to the same.

"False to Their Oaths."

All those naturalized citizens who are taking part in obstruction to our government in the conduct of the war are false to their oaths, are forfeiting their rights of citizenship, are repudiating their honorable obligations, are recouping by evil the good that has been done them in the generous and unstinted hospitality with which the people of the United States have welcomed them to the liberty and the opportunities of this free land. We must believe that in many cases this is done because of failure to understand what this war really is.

This is a war of defense. It is perfectly described in the words of the Constitution which established this nation, "To provide for the common defense" and "To secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity."

The national defense demands not merely force, but intelligence. It requires foresight, consideration of the policies and purposes of other nations, understanding of the inevitable or probable consequences of the acts of other nations, judgment as to the time when successful defense may be made, and when it will be too late, and prompt action before it is too late.

By entering this war the United States availed itself of the very last opportunity to defend itself.

DEPEW GOES "OVER THE TOP" AND GETS HIS FIRST GERMAN IN BAYONET FIGHT.

Synopsis.—Albert N. Depew, author of the story, tells of his service in the United States navy, during which he attained the rank of chief petty officer, first-class gunner. The world war starts soon after he receives his honorable discharge from the navy, and he leaves for France with a determination to enlist. He joins the Foreign Legion and is assigned to the dreadnaught Cassard, where his marksmanship wins him high honors. Later he is transferred to the land forces and sent to the Flanders front. He gets his first experience in a front line trench at Dixmude. Legionaries vow vengeance when Germans hide behind Belgian women and children.

The lieutenant came back with the stretcher bearers and he asked one of them, so the boy could not hear him, if the boy would live.

The stretcher bearer said: "I don't think so. One through his chest and right leg broken."

The boy had kept quiet for a while, but all of a sudden he yelled, "Give me a cigarette!" I handed him a cigarette but that I had found in the dugout. We were all out of cigarettes.

So they lit it for him and he kept quiet. As soon as they could they got around the corner of the fire bay with him and through a communication trench to a field hospital. The lieutenant and I walked a little way with him and he began to thank us, and he told the lieutenant, "Old man, you have been a father and a mother to me."

And the lieutenant said to him: "You have done well, old boy. You have done more than your share."

When they started into the communication trench the boy began to scream again. And the lieutenant acted like a wild man. He took out his cigarette case, but there were no cigarettes in it, and then he swore and put it back again. But in a few minutes he had the case out again and was swearing worse than ever and talking to himself.

"The boy isn't dying like a gentleman," he said. "Why couldn't he keep quiet?" I do not think he meant it. He was all nervous and excited and kept taking out his cigarette case and putting it back again.

The other officer had gone on to inspect the sentries when the boy rolled into the trench and a polli came up to tell us that the officer had been hit. We walked back to where I had been and there was the officer. If I had been there I would have got it too, I guess. He was an awful mess. The veins were sticking out of his neck and one side of him was blown off. Also, his foot was wounded. That is what shrapnel does to you. As I crawled past him I happened to touch his foot and he cursed me all over the place. But when I tried to say I was sorry I could not, for then he apologized and died a moment later.

There was a silver cigarette case sticking out of the rags where his side had been blown away and the lieutenant crossed himself and reached in and took out the case. But when he pried open the case he found that it had been bent and cracked and all the cigarettes were soaked with blood. He swore worse than ever, then, and threw his own case away, putting the other officer's case in his pocket.

At this point our own artillery began shelling and we received the order to stand to with fixed bayonets. When we got the order to advance some of the men were already over the parapet and the whole bunch after them, and, believe me, I was as pale as a sheet, just scared to death. I think every man is when he goes over for the first time—every time for that matter. But I was glad we were going to get some action, because it is hard to sit around in a trench under fire and have nothing to do. I had all I could do to hold my rifle.

We ran across No Man's Land. I cannot remember much about it. But when we got to the German trench I fell on top of a young fellow and my bayonet went right through him. It was a crime to get him, at that. He was as delicate as a pencil.

When I got back to our trenches after my first charge I could not sleep for a long time afterward, for remembering what that fellow looked like and how my bayonet slipped into him and how he screamed when he fell. He had his legs and his neck twisted under him after he got it. I thought about it a lot and it got to be almost a habit that whenever I was going to sleep I would think about him and then all hope of sleeping was gone.

Our company took a German trench that time and along with another company four hundred prisoners. We had to retire because the men on our sides did not get through and we were being flanked. But we lost a lot of men doing it.

When we returned to our trenches our outfit was simply all in and we were lying around in the front line, like a bunch of old rags in a narrow alley. None of us showed any signs of life except a working party that was digging with picks and shovels at some holes that had been frozen into the mud of the trench.

I used to think all the Germans were big and fat and strong, and, of course, some of the grenadier regiments are, but lots of the Boches I saw were little and weak like this fellow I "got" in my first charge.

It was a good piece of work to take the prisoners and a novelty for me to look them in the face—the fellows I had been fighting. Because, when you look a Hun in the face, you can see the yellow streak. Even if you are their prisoner you can tell that the Huns are yellow.

Maybe you have heard pigs being butchered. It sounded like that when we got to them. When they attacked us they yelled to beat the band. I guess they thought they could scare us. But you cannot scare machine guns nor the foreign legion either. So when they could not scare us they were up against it and had to fight. I will admit, though, that the first time Fritz came over and began yelling I thought the whole German army was after me, at that, and Kaiser Bill playing the drum. And how they hate a bayonet! They would much rather sit in a ditch and pot you.

I admit I am not crazy about bayonet fighting myself, as a general proposition, but I will say that there have been times when I was serving a gun behind the front lines when I wished for a rifle and a bayonet in my hands and a chance at Fritz man to man.

It was in this charge that our chaplain was put out of commission. As we were lined up, waiting to climb on to the fire step and then over the parapet, this chaplain came down the line speaking to each man as he went. He would not say much, but just a few words, and then make the sign of the cross. He was in a black cassock.

He was just one man from me as we got the word and stood up on the fire step. He was not armed with as much as a pin, but he jumped up on the step and stuck his head over the parapet and got it square, landing right beside me. I thought he was killed, but when we got back we found he was only wounded. The men who saw it were over the parapet before the order was given and then the whole bunch after them, because they, too, thought he was killed and figured he never would know how they came out about their vows. All the men in the company were glad when they found he was only wounded.

While half of us were on the firing step throughout the day or night the other half would be in the dugouts or sitting around in the bottom of the trench, playing little games, or mending clothes or sleeping or cooking or doing a thousand and one things. The men were always in good humor at such times and it seemed to me even more so when the enemy fire was heavy.

If a man was slightly wounded down would come the rifles to order arms, and some polli was sure to shout, "Right this way. One franc." It was a standing joke and they always did it. The polli who did it most was a Swiss and he was always playing a joke on somebody or imitating some one of us or making faces.

We were all sorry when this Swiss "went west," as the Lameys say, and we tried to keep up his jokes and say the same things and so forth. But they did not go very well after he was dead. He got his in the same charge in which the chaplain was wounded. He was one of the bunch that charged before the order was given, when the chaplain got it, and was running pretty near me until we got to the Boche wire. I had to stop to get through, though most of it was cut up by artillery fire, but he must have jumped it, for when I looked up he was twenty or thirty paces ahead of me. We got to the Germans about that time and I was pretty busy for a while. But soon I saw him again. He was pulling his bayonet out of a Boche when another made a jab at him and stuck him in the arm. Then the Boche made a swing at him with his rifle, but the Swiss dropped on one knee and dodged it. He kept defending himself with his rifle, but there was another German on him by this time and he could not get up. The corporal of our squad came up just about that time, but he was too late, because one of the Boches got to the Swiss with his bayonet. He did not have time to withdraw it before our corporal stuck him. The other German made a pass at the corporal, but he was too late. The corporal beat him to it and felled him with a terrific blow from his rifle butt. The Huns were pretty thick around there just as another fellow and myself came up. A Boche swung his rifle at the corporal and when he dodged it the Boche almost got me. The swing took him off his feet and then the corporal did as pretty a bit of work as I ever saw. He jumped for the Boche, who had fallen, landed on his face with both feet and gave it to the next one with his bayonet all at the same time. He was the quickest man I ever saw.

There were a couple of well-known savate men in the next company and I saw one of them get under Fritz's guard with his foot and, believe me, there was some force in that kick. He must have driven the German's chin clear through the back of his neck.

We thought it was pretty tough luck to lose both the chaplain and the village wit in the same charge, along with half of our officers, and then have to give up the trench. Every man in the bunch was sore as a ball when we got back.

CHAPTER VII.

Stopping the Huns at Dixmude.

I was standing in a communication trench that connected one of our front-line trenches with a crater caused by the explosion of a mine. All around me men of the third line were coming up, climbing around, digging, hammering, shifting planks, moving sandbags up and down, bringing up new timbers, reels of barbed wire, ladders, cases of ammunition, machine guns, trench mortars—all the things that make an army look like a general store on legs.

The noise of the guns was just deafening. Our own shells passed not far above our heads, so close were the enemy trenches, and close were the shells so near and so violent that when you rested your rifle butt on something solid, like a rock, you could feel it shake and hum every time a shell landed.

Our first line was just on the outskirts of the town, in trenches that had been won and lost by both sides many times. Our second line was in the streets and the third line was almost at the south end of the town. The Huns were hard at it, shelling the battered remains of Dixmude, and to the right stretcher bearers were working in lines so close that they looked like two parades passing each other. But the bearers from the company near me had not returned from the emergency dressing station and the wounded were piling up, waiting for them.

A company of the 2me Legion Etrangere had just come up to take their stations in the crater, under the parapet of sandbags. A shell landed among them just before they entered the crater and sent almost a whole squad west, besides wounding several others.

Almost before they occupied the crater the wires were laid and reached back to us, and the order came for us to remain where we were until further orders.

Then we got the complete orders. We were to make no noise but were all to be ready in ten minutes. We put on goggles and respirators. In ten minutes the bombers were to leave the trench. Three mines were to explode and then we were to take and hold a certain portion of the enemy trenches not far off. We were all ready to start up the ladders when they moved Nig's section over to ours and he sneaked up to me and whispered behind his hand, "Be a sport, Doc; make it fifty-fifty and gimme a chance."

I did not have any idea what he meant and he had to get back to his squad. Then the bombers came up to the ladders, masked and with loaded sacks on their left arms. "One minute now," said the officers, getting on their own ladders and drawing their revolvers—though most of the officers of the Legion charged with rifle and bayonet like their men.

Then—Boom! Slam! Bang!—and the mines went off.

"Allez!" and then the parapet was filled with bayonets and men scrambling and crawling and falling and getting up again. The smoke drifted back on us, and then our own machine guns began ahead of us.

Up toward the front the bombers were fishing in their bags and throwing, just like boys after a rat along the docks. The black smoke from the "Jack Johnsons" rolled over us and probably there was gas, too, but you could not tell.

The front lines had taken their trenches and gone on and you could see them, when you stood on a parapet, running about like hounds through the enemy communication trenches, bombing out dugouts, disarming prisoners—very scary-looking in their masks and goggles. The wounded were coming back slowly. Then we got busy with our work in the dugouts and communication trenches and fire bays, with bayonets and bombs, digging the Boches out and sending them "west." And every once in a while a Fritz on one side would step out and yell "Kamerad," while, like as not, on the other side, his pal would pot you with a revolver when you started to pick him up, thinking he was wounded.

Then we stood aside at the entrance to a dugout and some Boches came out in single file, shouting "Kamerad" for all they were worth. One of them had his mask and face blown off; yet he was trying to talk, with the tears rolling down over the raw flesh. He died five minutes later.

The Bombers Were Fishing in Their Bag and Throwing.

One night, while I was lying back in the trench trying not to think of anything and go to sleep the bombs began to get pretty thick around there, and when I could not stand it any longer I rushed out into the bay of the fire trench and right up against the parapet, where it was safer.

Hundreds of star shells were being sent up by both sides and the field and the trenches were as bright as day. All up and down the trenches our men were dodging about, keeping out of the way of the bombs that were being thrown in our faces. It did not seem as if there was any place where it was possible to get cover. Most of the time I was picking dirt out of my eyes that explosions had driven into them.

If you went into a dugout the men already in there would shout, "Don't stick in a bunch—spread out!" While you were in a dugout you kept expecting to be buried alive and when you went outside you thought the Boches were aiming at you direct—and there was no place at all where you felt safe.

But the fire bay looked better than the other places to me. I had not been there more than a few minutes when a big one dropped in and that bay was just one mess. Out of the 24 men in the bay only eight escaped.

When the stretcher bearers got there they did not have much to do in the way of rescue—it was more palbearers' work.

A stretcher bearer was picking up one of the boys, when a grenade landed alongside of him and you could not find a fragment of either of them. That made two that landed within twelve feet of me; yet I was not even scratched.

When I got so that I could move I went over to where the captain was standing, looking through a periscope over the parapet. I was very nervous and excited and was afraid to speak to him, but somehow I thought I ought to ask for orders. But I could not say a word. Finally a shell whizzed over our heads—just missed us, it seemed like, and I broke out: "What did you see? What's all the news?" and so on. I guess I chattered like a monkey.

Then he yelled: "You're the gunner officer. You're just in time—I've located their mortar batteries."

Depew has an exciting experience in a Zeppelin raid, as told in next installment.

HOUSE PASSES REVENUE BILL

$8,000,000,000 Measure Now Goes to Senate for Final Action.

IS LARGEST IN HISTORY

Designed to Raise by Taxation $8,182,000,000 of $24,000,000,000 or More Needed for Current Year.

Washington, Sept. 23.—By unanimous vote, the house on Friday passed the $8,182,000,000 revenue bill, the greatest tax measure in history. The roll call showed 350 members voting for the bill and not one against it.

The unanimous approval given this bill, which constitutes one of the major features of the government's program for winning the war next year, is regarded as further evidence that the American people are united and never before in the determination to spurn all compromise with the Hun and go through to a decisive victory over Prussian militarism, no matter how great the national sacrifice.

In bringing debate on the revenue bill to an end, Representative Longworth of Ohio declared that the $8,000,000,000 revenue bill was the best answer yet to "Austria's whining peace plea."

"This will be good news for the allies and cold comfort for the kaiser," Mr. Longworth said. "It will show the Hohenzollerns and the Hapsburgs that henceforth we will deal with the head instead of the tail of the German dash."

The tax bill will be laid before the senate formally Monday.

It was the general consensus of opinion that the final passage of the bill would not take place before November 1. Some senators regarded the dual system of war profits and excess profits taxation provided in the house bill as unconstitutional and this will be a source of discussion.

The passage of the bill by the house was preceded by two weeks of debate, in which partisanship was conspicuously absent as a rule. Criticism of the bill was confined to minor details, while the measure as a whole met with almost universal commendation. The measure as framed by the ways and means committee was not amended materially.

The tax scheme of the revenue bill dips into the pocketbook of every man, woman and child in the country. It was framed, according to its authors, upon the principle of levying taxes upon those best able to bear them, with the result that the bulk of the $8,000,000,000 will come from large incomes and war profits.

Oskaloosa, Iowa.—"For years I was simply in misery from a weakness and awful pains—and nothing seemed to do me any good. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and got relief right away. I can certainly recommend this valuable medicine to other women who suffer, for it has done such good work for me and I know it will help others if they will give it a fair trial."

—Mrs. LIZZIE COURTNEY, 168 8th Ave., West, Oskaloosa, Iowa.

Why will women drag along from day to day, year in and year out, suffering such misery as did Mrs. Courtney, when such letters as this are continually being published? Every woman who suffers from displacements, irregularities, inflammation, ulceration, backache, nervousness, or who is passing through the Change of Life should give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial. For special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of its long experience is at your service.

SHOWED HUNTER NEW TRICK

Wily Fox Climbed Tree to Elude Enemies, and Finally Made His Escape Uninjured.

One of the slyest foxes that has been liberated by the Speckman hunt in many years led Pennsylvania's chase recently. The fox kept the huntmen going for half an hour, when they suddenly lost him. They found a tree under which the hounds were baying and cowering, but despite a diligent search being made, no trace could be found of the fox. The huntmen were about to turn back when one of their number happened to cast his eyes up in the tree, and there on one of the limbs sat the wily fox. Recovering from their amazement, straws were drawn to determine who should climb the tree. It fell to the lot of William Speckman. Being an expert climber Speckman was soon out on the branches, and giving the limb a vigorous shake, Reynard tumbled off. Although he fell a distance of 30 feet he was not injured in the least. He gave the dogs another lively chase as far as Thomas farm, where he saved his brush by holing.—Philadelphia Record.

Kenosha—The common council of Kenosha refused to sanction the "skip-stop" plan of the railway company. The council held that the lines of the company were too short and it was just as important to assist the war workers in getting them to their places of employment as saving fuel, which in this case would not be much.

Madison—According to a telegram received from Food Administrator Hoover by the Wisconsin Food Administration, the maximum price for wet beet pulp direct from the factory is to be 80 cents a ton, for wet pulp out of the silo the maximum may be $1.25 a ton, and for dry pulp $4.0 a ton f. o. b. factory.

BANANA AS FOOD. BANANAS are a most wholesome, nourishing food. Being deficient in flavor itself, the banana absorbs flavors readily and presents a good medium by which such flavors may be brought into notice, thus affording a great variety of combinations. Because of the lack of acid in its composition it should be a popular breakfast fruit. The cooked banana, even slightly cooked, is more easily digested than the raw fruit. Simply covering the ripe, thinly sliced fruit with hot cereal will cook it sufficiently.

Banana Croquettes With Lamb Chops.—Remove the peeling and coarse threads from five firm bananas; cut the fruit in halves crosswise, trim off the ends to make the halves symmetrical at the ends; roll in egg which has been beaten with a tablespoonful of water, then roll in sifted crumbs and fry in deep fat until brown. Drain on soft paper. Two minutes will be long enough for cooking. Serve with broiled lamb chops.

Orange Sirup.—Roll a cupful of the juice and pulp of orange, the juice of half a lemon, one cupful of sugar and one-quarter of a cupful of water six minutes or until slightly thickened.

Baked Bananas.—Pull down a section of the skin of each banana, loosen the pulp, remove the coarse threads and return the pulp to the skin, lay the fruit thus prepared in a saucetpan and bake in a hot oven until the skins are blackened. Remove the pulp from the skins, beat in a half circle and place on a serving dish. Sprinkle with powdered sugar and chopped nuts as a dessert; or pour over a jelly sauce. Melt half a cupful of currant cook five minutes, then stir in a teaspoonful of cornstarch, make smooth with a little water; cook five minutes and add a tablespoonful of butter and a teaspoonful of lemon juice.

Fruit Cocktails.—To six tablespoonfuls of fruit juice add two tablespoonfuls of honey, the pulp of two oranges, three dried bananas, and four ripe peaches, sliced. Divide into cocktail glasses and serve. This may be used also as a dessert.

"TIS PICKLIN' TIME." O GREAT is the variety of relishes that she is indeed hard to suit who cannot find some which her family can enjoy.

Sliced Cucumber and Onion Pickle.—Take three dozen large cucumbers, peel and slice thin and cover with a sprinkling of salt overnight. Peel and slice one dozen small onions and treat in the same way, but do not mix them. The next day drain and squeeze dry. Scald the vegetables in a pint each of water and vinegar, then drain dry again. Now take a quart of vinegar, one cup of sugar, one ounce of celery seed, three teaspoonfuls of mustard seed, two teaspoonfuls of white pepper; when boiling hot put in the vegetables. Just let them scald, but do not cook, then seal in jars white hot.

Chutney.—Chop one dozen apples, two green peppers, one onion and one cup of raisins; add two cups of vinegar, one cup of sugar, the juice of one lemon and a half tablespoonful each of ginger and salt. Cook all together two hours.

Marion Harland's Relish.—Cut the corn from twelve cobs; break into flour, corn or head of cauliflower, cut into half-inch lengths one bunch of celery, seed and chop fine two green peppers, add three tablespoonfuls of salt, one and one-half pounds of brown sugar and three pounds of vinegar. Add the sugar to the vinegar and when scalding hot pour over the vegetables. Now cover closely and cook ten minutes. Add a tablespoonful of mustard and seal in jar. Wrap in papers to keep the mixture a good color.

Tomato Conserve.—Cook until thick five pounds of ripe tomatoes, three lemons, juice, pulp and rind; two pounds of sugar, one cup of shredded citron; when thick add one and one-half cupfuls of seeded raisins and one cupful of walnut meats.

Ripe Cucumber Chowder.—Grate twelve large, ripe cucumbers and three onions; press the pulp dry, then add one chopped red pepper; salt and pepper to taste, with vinegar to make the mixture as thick as prepared horseradish. Seal for winter use.

ON A SUB CHASER

The following is a copy of a letter from Seaman Ernest W. Kloke to his sister, Miss Frieda Kloke of Campbellsport. He is aboard the Pueblo, one of the sub-chasers or destroyers.

"On Board U. S. S. Pueblo, Sept. 8th, 1918, in New York Harbor.—Dear Sister Frieda: Well this is Sunday morning and I just got through eating a good hearty dinner. I looked at the order book this morning and all it said was that everybody should go to church so I think I will have a Sunday for myself once. It will be the first one I had that I didn't have to work since I am aboard this ship. We have a new skipper, or in other words a new captain, on our ship since Saturday noon and there is quite a change already. I will give you a menu the skipper put up this morning for our Sunday dinner: Soup, mashed potatoes, fried chicken, sliced tomatoes, apple pie and brick ice cream. Believe me I ate some. Well I never told you about the church we have on ship. Well it is one great big compartment, on the ceiling there is a big American flag, the biggest I have ever seen, and the bulkheads, or side walls, are covered with the flags of our allies. It looks very pretty. They have upholstered chairs for the officers and benches for us. The pulpit where the chaplain is in is also canopied with an American flag. I guess I am out of luck for a furlough as I was planning on as I heard that we are to sail soon. We are not going to stay here in New York as long as I expected. We are going to have a show here on ship sometime next week and so everyone is expected to get in the play that can do something. Some signed up for a boxing match some for singing, etc., and when it came to me I couldn't sing so the band master came around and handed me a piece of music entitled "That Old Sweet Heart of Mine" that I have to practice and give a concert solo. Well I suppose you can just imagine what it will be like, as I can feel myself getting shaky when I get up on the stage.

"The division that I am rated in has 48 hours liberty commencing Saturday, but I sold my chance to a fellow that didn't rate for liberty. I didn't care about going to New York as the only thing that I saw that I took a liking to was Broadway. That sure is some place. I got $2 for my liberty card and for staying on board in place of the other fellow. I don't blame him any for wanting to go, for I would want to do the same if I lived in New York. We have lots of amusements on ship, movies every night, and they pick certain players out of the day band and make an orchestra which plays during the movies. They also have a Victrola in each compartment and the records they have in this compartment make me feel a little homesick as they are the same as we had at home. When the war is over it will take me a month to tell you all the things I know and the way things are around here. Virginia is some "hole" as about only 2 per cent of the people are whites. That is where we coaled up for about a week and it was where our white uniforms shined. After we sail I won't see land again for 18 or 20 long days, and nothing else except whales, sharks, water and sky and once in a while a submarine (and I hope to see one again). It is sure fun and excitement when all the big guns tear loose and the old coward of a sub is afraid to come above water, but just turn and go for all that is in them and all you can see is the periscope and a streak in the water. You know a good marksman can shoot a periscope off a sub nearly every time and we all know that these marines are marksmen.

A sub usually has three periscopes and she takes no chances but beats it as fast as she can when she knows we are after her. I went through one of our submarines the other day but I am not allowed to tell you anything about that as that must be kept a secret, but I can say that it sure is some piece of machinery. I also saw a pretty sight yesterday when about 500 of our seaplanes flew over New York in the formation of the letters U. S. and it seemed that they weren't an inch out of line as the letters seemed to be perfect."

Experience the Best Teacher.

It is generally admitted that experience is the best teacher, but should we not make use of the experience of others as well as our own?
