MORE DRIVERS FOR THE RED CROSS

Major H. P. Harding, Commander of Camp Scott, Chicago, the official training camp for Red Cross drivers, states that due to increased facilities at the barracks they will enlist 1050 more men for duties overseas in France and Italy.

This section is open to men under eighteen years, or over forty-five years of age, also to men in deferred classifications. It is necessary that the applicant have at least one year's driving experience.

A course of training lasting four weeks is given, consisting of mechanical training and military discipline. The training is intensive. Military discipline is upheld always. Actual work in constructing and reassembling automobiles is given. Demonstrations of all possible accidents and breakdowns are shown with the quickest method of repairing.

A driving course, which has as rough as the roughest spots in No Man's Land, adjoins the barracks, and the driver is required to cover this course under all conditions, at certain speeds and with certain loads.

Forty dollars a month and maintenance, including equipment, is paid after sailing; while in training, half pay and maintenance.

BRASS THIEF GOES TO PRISON

Three years in prison at Waupun was the sentence meted out to Ernst Jaeger by Judge Lueck at the opening day of circuit court in this city on October 21. Jaeger, it will be remembered, is the man who stole a quantity of brass at Thiensville last spring. He was later apprehended and taken to the Ozaukee county jail to await trial in circuit court. Through a clever ruse he made his get-away and although the officers were hot on his trail he was not retaken until a few weeks ago, when Detective Niederkorn of the Milwaukee police force espied him in a saloon at Seventh and Harmon streets at Milwaukee. Jaeger is an old offender and has served a three and one-half year term at Waupun before getting in bad at Thiensville and Port Washington. He desired to plead guilty and consequently was brought to West Bend by Sheriff Peter Watry, Jr., on Oct. 21 to appear before Judge Lueck. Jaeger was taken to Waupun by Sheriff Watry and his deputies on the following day—West Bend Pilot.

CHILDREN WILL HAVE TOYS

That the children of America are no longer dependent on Germany for toys is pleasing news that is coming to us at the opening of the holiday trade season. The children of America will have Made-in-America gifts the coming Christmas. In an interview a Milwaukee manufacturer states that millions of toys have been made the past year and will soon be on sale. A surplus is also ready for export. Toys of a military design will predominate, and there is a big assortment of battleships, soldiers, cannon and airplanes coming on. Germany will never again be permitted to supply American children with toys but on the contrary Milwaukee will probably be the toy town of the world.

HOW TO FLY THE FLAG

Raises at sunrise or after, not before. The flag must be lowered at sunset. The flag should not be left flying at night or during storms.

When flying the flag at half mast it should be raised to the top of the pole then lowered to half mast. When lowering flag from half mast it should be raised to top of pole then lowered.

In hanging the flag against the wall, the blue field should always be at the upper left hand corner when stripes are horizontal and at the upper right hand corner when the stripes are vertical.

In hoisting or lowering a flag it should never touch the ground.

Hang bunting with red at the top. A flag raised with the blue field down is a sign of distress—a call for help.

AMUSEMENT

Sunday, Nov. 10—Grand opening dance in the Opera House, Kewaskum Music by the Biel Girls' orchestra of Beaver Dam. Let everyone attend and have a good time.

ANOTHER HOME IN SADNESS

A wave of sadness prevailed in this community last Wednesday evening, when it was learned that Mrs. John Oppenorth, living two miles northwest of the village, had passed away at her home at about 4:30 o'clock. Death being due to drowning.

Mrs. Oppenorth had been in ill health for some time, and at various times had spells of melancholy, and during one of these attacks Wednesday afternoon wandered from the house. Upon her failure to return, her laughter and husband began a search of the premises to see what was keeping her, but their search was futile as she could not be found. They called their youngest son Louis from the field, where he was engaged in plowing, and he too joined in the search. Finally the daughter noticed that the cover to the cistern, which is located outside the house, had been removed which was unusual, she notified her brother who let himself down into the cistern, which contained about one and one-half feet of water, to investigate. The cistern is about eighteen feet long and upon arriving at the further end he saw his mother lying face down in the water. He managed to carry her to the opening where, by the assistance of the husband and daughter, they managed to draw them up out of the cistern. They immediately took her to the house where they administered artificial respiration in the hope that she was still alive, but their efforts were in vain, as she was undoubtedly dead before being taken from the cistern. The doctor arrived shortly after only to pronounce her dead.

The funeral will be held Monday forenoon at 10 o'clock from the Holy Trinity church. An appropriate obituary will appear in this paper next week.

LETTER FROM FRANCE

Miss Malinda Marquardt is in receipt of the following letter from Julius Stern who is stationed "somewhere in France":

Somewhere in France, Oct. 11, 1918

Dear Friend:— I must answer your kind letter which I received about a month ago. I was glad to hear from you. I am well and hope these few lines will find you the same. I am somewhere in France now. You ought to see the country out here. You would be surprised. Most of the work is done with oxen. There are many grapes around here—this is certainly a wine country. How is everybody around your way anyway? How is my uncle Theo Stern? Say Malinda we boys are quite a way from home now, but we will be home for Christmas the way things are going on now.

Best regards to you and the rest of the folks at home.

Julius Stern, Co. F, 241st Inf. Am. E. F. A. P. O. 916

DEATH RATE IN ARMY LOW

During the Mexican war the annual death rate from disease among our troops was 100 men out of every thousand. During our Civil war the rate was as high as 60 out of every thousand. During our Spanish-American war it was 25 out of every thousand. Now the surgeon general's office reports that among our troops at home and abroad the annual death rate from disease fluctuates from less than 2 per thousand to slightly more than 3 per thousand.

LETTER FROM SUNNY ITALY

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Rosenheimer received the following letter from their son Sergeant Adolph Rosenheimer, who is stationed some where in the front line trenches in Italy: Somewhere in Italy, Sept. 26, 1918

Dear Mother:—

After many months over here I finally managed to get a three day pass. Spent the three days in a large neighboring city. Left camp at 9:30 p. m., to go to the station which was seven miles away. It was a nice moonlight night and not too warm so the walking was fine. Stopped at a road house about half way and had a big feed, consisting of six fried eggs, fried potatoes, string beans with the strings, bread and a bottle of beer. Some meal I'll say. Cost us about $2.00 apiece but it was worth it. Another fellow instructor was with me, and judging by his appetite he enjoyed it fully as much as I did. After leaving the roadhouse we were fortunate enough to be picked up by an Italian driving a big Fiat car. He hit her up to about sixty per cent of the way to town. Same enjoyed the ride as it was the first I had since I left the States; my traveling being confined mostly to box cars and trucks. Arrived at the station in time to catch the 11:30 train; changed cars again at 1:30 and arrived at our destination at 5:30 A. M. Had no sleep but started immediately on our sight seeing tour. It took us nearly an hour to find our way out of the depot. Finally got out and hit a restaurant for a light breakfast. A large number of bats furnished the amusement for the guests. I have eaten to the tune of canaries but bats, never and never again.

The first place of interest we hit was a large cathedral and it certainly was wonderful. About 2000 statues were in it; the most beautiful carved statues I have ever seen. The door of the cathedral was of solid bronze and weighed sixteen tons. Some door, I'll say and the hinges sure looked able to support it, judging by their size and appearance. The roof of the building is supported by 51 pillars. I do not know the height of the pillars but one looked like a pigmy along side of them. Wonderful paintings by old masters and practically priceless, hang here and there on the walls. Wonderful statues of silver, ivory, marble and bronze stood on pedestals in every corner. Saw one cross of man's height, nearly six feet I should judge, made of solid gold, according to the priest. Looked at a Tomb of St. Charles made of solid silver, I believe. Everything around the tomb was of the same material. Worth some fortune, I imagine. Perhaps you visited the same cathedral on your visit over here mother, and remember some of the interesting things there.

Among other things we saw an old Arena, seating capacity about 30,000. The Arena was not in as good a state as some I have seen but nevertheless gave one an unforgettable impression. Old castles, churches and arches occupied the rest of our first day in the city and we went to a hotel about 11 P. M. The hotel was the best in the city and cost us three per night but the bed alone was worth it. Sank into four feet of mattress and went to sleep and slept until 12 o'clock the next noon. This was the first bed I had since I left the States, all my sleeping being on the ground, so you can imagine how I enjoyed the bed.

Had dinner at a swell cafe. The dinner consisted of squab, mashed potatoes, vegetables, bread and beer and fruit for dessert. This was the first now out I had since I landed here nine months ago and it was a real one. Came at the same time as my birthday so had a good celebration. Spent the second day looking at the beautiful Italian work in the windows and in the shops. Did not buy anything but we looked at everything in every shop. Couldn't savvy Italian but that made no difference. Went back to bed again at 10:30 and had another wonderful night's sleep. Left for camp again at 1 p. m., arrived at the first station at 6:30 p. m. A seven mile walk lay ahead of us but we were fortunate again. Our lieutenant happened to be in town and he ordered a truck so we drove back with him.

Some wonderful three days and you and father made it possible by sending me the badly needed money. I am entitled to a seven day furlough and will put in for same later on. Doubt very much whether I will get it but will try. Will spend it in South-

Italy if possible.

Get back at work again in the regular routine of army life. Passes like the one I had certainly help break the monotony of Army life. I suppose you have closed the cottage at the lake. LOCAL STORE COMING TO THE FRONT

Kewaskum shoppers need no longer go to the additional expense of paying railroad fare to a city to do their fancy shopping for the L. Rosenheimer store has responded to the desire of its patrons and has remodeled the second floor of its spacious store building into a ladies'-ready-to-wear department, where they carry a complete and strictly up-to-date line of wearing apparel for ladies, misses, children and babies.

In connection with this department they have furnished a rest room for the ladies which is modernly equipped with hot and cold water and a lavatory. This room is especially installed for the benefit of the farmers, and the management urges the ladies to take advantage of this accommodation whenever they come to the village.

The L. Rosenheimer store is one of the leading stores in the county and it spares no money or pains to accommodate its patrons. We trust the public will take advantage of the accommodation the management has offered them and visit the rest room whether for are shopping or not.

MISS FLORENCE GROESCHEL ADDED TO STATESMAN STAFF

Miss Florence Groeschel of this village, has been added to the reportorial staff of the Statesman, and we have no doubt that she will attend to her duties to the very best of her ability, which has been demonstrated the past week. Miss Groeschel is wide awake and a hustler. She also has what the newspaper fraternity terms "a nose for news". We would consider it a great favor for the citizens of this village to kindly hand her all the items of news they have, thus helping her in her work, and greatly assisting us in getting out one of the newest home papers in the county.

THE PRESIDENTIAL SUCCESSION

In case of the removal, death, resignation or disability of both the President or Vice-President, then the Secretary of State shall act as President until the disability of the President, or Vice-President is removed or a President is elected. If there be no Secretary of State, then the Secretary of Treasury will act, and the remainder of the order of succession is: The Secretary of War, Attorney General, Postmaster General, Secretary of Navy, Secretary of the Interior and Secretary of Commerce. The acting President must upon, taking office, convene Congress, if not in session at the time, giving twenty days' notice.

LOCAL BOARD ITEMS.

The Local Board has received notice that 15,302 men will be called from the State of Wisconsin during the five day period, beginning Nov. 11.

There is also a call for 46 colored men to be sent from the State during the five day period beginning Nov. 9.

The quota of Washington county men who are to leave in the above calls have not yet been received.

Physical examinations will be conducted at the court house on Wednesday and Thursday.

BANKS RECEIVE CERTIFICATES OF DISTINGUISHED FINANCIAL SERVICE

The Bank of Kewaskum and the Farmers & Merchants State Bank of this village received certificates for Distinguished Financial Service from the United States Treasury Department for subscribing 100 per cent of their quotas on the series of Treasury Certificates of the Fourth Liberty Loan.

GREATLY BENEFITED BY CHAMBERLAIN'S TABLETS.

"I am thankful for the good I have received by using Chamberlain's Tablets. About two years ago when I began taking them I was suffering a great deal from distress after eating, and from headache and a tired, languid feeling due to indigestion and a torpid liver. Chamberlain's Tablets corrected these disorders in a short time, and since taking two bottles of them my health has been good." writes Mrs. M. P. Harwood, Auburn, N. Y.

OVER THE TOP IN WHEAT PRODUCTION

Washington County farmers are to be congratulated, for they have again demonstrated their patriotism and loyalty to their country, in the production of an unusually large wheat crop. Actual figures show that the farmers in this county have produced 202,977 bushels of wheat. Early in spring the State Council of Defense asked us to increase our wheat acreage from 3250 to 4550 acres. However the farmers increased the acreage to 8120, which is quite a little more than double the acreage of 1917. The average yield was 25 bushels per acre. We must, however, remember that a considerable portion of the fall wheat was winter killed. This accounts to a large extent for the low average yield. The average for spring wheat alone is better than 20 bushels to an acre, and in a good many instances the farmers reported an actual yield of over 40 bushels per acre. Practically all of the high yielding wheat fields were sown to Marquis wheat. This ought to be quite an inducement for the farmers in Washington County to obtain some of this seed. There is enough of this wheat in the county for next spring's planting. Farmers, who have some pure Marquis wheat are requested to send a small sample to their County Agent, stating also the number of bushels they have for sale.

Our aim in the spring of 1918 was to grow wheat on every farm. For 1919, let our motto be, "Double the acreage of 1918—not with common wheat, but with the high yielding Marquis variety."

MITCHELL. MRS. ANTON UMHOEFER DIES AT COLBY, WIS. Was Well Known Here Having Numerous Friends and Relatives in Mitchell.

At her home in Colby, Wis., Mrs. Anton Umhoefer (nee Mary Lyons), passed away in death on Monday evening, October 21st, at the age of 41 years, and 24 days. The cause of her death being neuritis of the heart. Seldom has it been our duty to record as sudden a death as the one we are called upon to chronicle. A dark gloom spread over this community when word was received on Monday that one of Nature's noblewomen had been summoned home. Mary Lyons was born at Appleton on September 27, 1887 and at the age of 8 years she moved with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Lyons to Colby, where she made her home ever since. Only a few short years ago, September 9th, 1913, she was married to Anton Umhoefer of that place whom she leaves to mourn with three small children, namely twin boys, Paul and James one daughter, Mary. Mrs. Umhoefer's illness was of brief duration, little less than two weeks. Seemingly with us today active in life's round of duty and love but gone tomorrow, "But the deeply felt sorrow in her passing is not wholly confined to the family circle and relatives. Friends here who have enjoyed pleasant associations with her feel her death as a personal loss, her virtues, usefulness and self sacrifice were to them like an open book, she has concluded her life's work tho' seemingly all too soon yet in the sphere of her usefulness it was work well accomplished. The depth of sorrow of the heavily stricken husband and parents can not be fully realized, we know their hearts are heavy with grief. Do not disturb this sweet sleep by too violent grief, God's Angels will watch over her until she will come forth again to greet you with her charming smile and join with us in never ending bliss and everlasting happiness and lead us to the throne of our Father. The funeral services were held on Thursday at 10 A. M., from St. Mary's Catholic church, Father Wm. Reding, of Grand Rapids, a former priest of the local parish, delivered the sermon. Interment was made in the congregation's cemetery. Mrs. Umhoefer has always been an earnest church worker, was president of the Christian Mothers society and also a member of the E. F. U.

AUSTRIA ON KNEES; BEGS WILSON FOR IMMEDIATE PEACE

Andrassy Sends Separate Note to Secretary Lansing.

WANTS ARMISTICE AT ONCE

Copenhagen Says Turkey Has Asked for Separate Peace—Athens Reports Rioting in Constantinople—Rebel Germans in Austria Ask for Own Peace.

Berne, Oct. 30.—Count Andrassy, the Austrian foreign minister, supplementing his note to President Wilson, has sent a special note to Secretary of State Lansing. It is unofficially reported.

In this note the count begs Mr. Lansing to prevail upon President Wilson to arrange an immediate armistice.

The text of the note has been sent to all allied governments, according to Vienna dispatches.

Austria Explains Action. Basel, Oct. 30.—A semi-official note issued at Vienna on Austria's reply to President Wilson says:

"Austria was obliged to conform to the methods of President Wilson, who had successfully replied to three members of the triple alliance, and act apart from her allies.

The monarchy, which has formally adopted President Wilson's line of action, shares his opinion, as was shown by the emperor's manifesto to the peoples, which, in proclaiming the federalization of the monarchy, exceeded President Wilson's program.

Reforms Await Armistice. "However, the complete reorganization of Austria can only be carried out after an armistice.

"If Austria-Hungary has declared herself ready to enter into negotiations for an armistice and for peace, without awaiting the result of negotiations with other states, that does not necessarily signify an offer of separate peace.

"It means that she is ready to act separately in the interests of the re-establishment of peace."

Turks Want Peace. Copenhagen, Oct. 30.—Turkey, according to apparently reliable dispatches, has made a separate offer to the entente for a separate peace.

Rioting in Constantinople. Athens, Oct. 30.—Rioting has broken out at Constantinople and Smyrna, according to a dispatch from Mytilene, Island of Lesbos, to the Paris. At both cities, the dispatch adds, Germans were attacked.

Asks Own Peace. London, Oct. 30.—The executive of the German parties in Austria has formed a provisional government, according to a dispatch from Vienna, and has decided to send a separate note to President Wilson.

The Arbeiter Zeitung of Vienna declares that Germany and Austria-Hungary will capitulate without delay.

Program Is Adopted. Basel dispatches announce that Count Michael Karolyi, president of the Hungarian Independent party, with the radical Socialist leaders has decided upon the separate and national autonomy of Hungary and agreed on the following program:

"Abolition of the present parliamentary system.

"The establishment of guarantees for a free political Hungary.

"The recall of the Hungarian troops to their homes and termination of the war without hopes of safeguards for the interests of Hungary at the conclusion of peace.

Abandon German Alliance. "The abandonment of the German alliance.

"The dissolution of the Hungarian lower house with subsequent elections by the direct and secret ballot of both male and female voters.

"Suppression of the censorship and the establishment of the freedom of speech, the press and public meetings.

100,000 in Demonstrations. "Recognition of the new states of Ukraine, Poland, Czechoslovakia, the south Slavs and German Austria."

Hungarian socialists to the number of 100,000 held a huge demonstration Sunday in the streets of Budapest, according to Bern dispatches. Count Karolyi and his followers addressed the crowds on behalf of a democratic Hungary. There were no disturbances.

Copenhagen dispatches say the new Hungarian state is of an entirely independent and anti-ferocious character, and was formed by Count Karolyi in agreement with the Czechs and south Slavians.

In a speech at Budapest Karolyi declared he had presented his program to Emperor Charles, who refused to accept it. Karolyi thereupon put into effect his plan for an independent state.

Country Clubs to Get Coal. Washington, Oct. 30.—Country clubs are allowed to use bituminous or steam anthracite coal whenever in the opinion of the state fuel administrator there is a surplus of this fuel for the purpose, under an order by Fuel Administrator Garfield. They will not be permitted to use domestic sizes of anthracite coal for cooking or heating.

AMERICAN PLANES O. K.

U. S. FLYING MACHINES ARE PROVING THEIR WORTH.

Liberty Motors and De Havilland Airplanes Called Sensation of the Western Front.

Washington, Oct. 30.—Now that all the aircraft investigations have ceased and all the official and unofficial reports have been or shortly will have been made public, it is possible to describe the present status of the American aircraft program—not its alleged failures of six months ago, but its results today.

First it may be a surprising statement to make, but it is nevertheless supported by an examination of records from the western front as well as production charts in the United States, the Liberty motor and the De Havilland airplane are the sensation of the year. When the history of the war comes to be written it will be made that the engine and battleplane made by the United States came in the nick of time and, should the war be prolonged another year, the contribution from American aircraft will rank high among our military achievements.

Early predictions which foolishly promised tens of thousands of battle planes have, of course, not been borne out. All discussion of airplanes must be in the light of knowledge that on July 1 of this year there were not more than 10,000 machines of all kinds on both sides of the western front and the allied supremacy in the air is now being maintained with a proportion of that number which for military reasons cannot be disclosed, but it is not above 10,000.

American officers on the western front prefer DeHavillands built in America. They go out to make photographs and observe enemy operations in DeHavillands, which are superior to every other kind of observation planes, because if they encounter the enemy they can take care of themselves with their machine guns and bombs. In other words, America concentrated on a good two-seated fighting plane, useful for bombing, observing and fighting, and on an engine that can be fitted into practically every plane of foreign make in Europe and America.

$3,200,000,000 IN PROFIT TAX

Senate Committee Increases Total by Extending Terms of Provision—Will Touch Individuals.

Washington, Oct. 30.—War excess profits taxes imposed only upon corporations in the war revenue bill as it passed the house were extended by the senate finance committee to individuals and partnerships in trade or business.

Under the committee's plans individuals and partnerships, such as lawyers, doctors and other professional men, would not be subject to the war excess profits taxes, made applicable only to those actually engaged in trade or business. The amendment, it was stated, will restore estimated revenue returns from war excess profits to about $3,200,000,000, the sum proposed in the house bill but reduced by finance committee revision.

PNEUMONIA CASES INCREASE

But Few New Victims of Spanish Influenza Reported by Washington Bureau.

Washington, Oct. 30.—Although the new cases of Spanish influenza in the army camps for the past 24 hours showed a negligible increase, the number of new pneumonia cases was marked.

The new influenza cases were 2,860 against 2,831 for the previous day. The additional pneumonia cases reported were 619 against 431 for the previous day, an increase of 183 new cases. Deaths from all causes totaled 198, against 184 for the day previous.

Total influenza cases are 310,429 and pneumonia 50,770. The number of deaths from all causes since the epidemic opened is 17,389.

FLIES TO HIS SICK FATHER

Son of Rail Official Covers 228 Miles in an Hour and 45 Minutes in De Havilland Battle Plane.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 30.—Flying at an average speed of more than two miles a minute, James M. Schoonmaker, Jr., son of the vice president of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, covered the 228 miles from the Wright flying field at Dayton, O., to Pittsburgh in one hour and forty-five minutes. Schoonmaker, who was piloted by Howard Ruebhart, made the flight, which is believed to be a record, when he learned that his father was seriously ill, following an operation at his home here. The flight was made in a De Havilland "D" battle plane.

FRANCE PREPARES REPRISALS

Warns Huns of Action if Deported Civilians Are Not Returned at Once.

Paris, Oct. 30.—The French government has protested to Germany concerning the carrying away by force of civilian residents of Loon, and has informed Germany that the repatriation of German civilians from France will be stopped unless the Loon civilians are returned immediately to the keeping of the French government.

COL. E. M. HOUSE NOW IN FRANCE

Admiral Benson, General Bliss and Wilson's Friend to Consult Allies.

TO DISCUSS TRUCE TERMS

Texas Authorized to Represent President Wilson—Berlin Crowds Demand that the Kaiser Abdicate—Hungarians Die in Revolt.

Washington, Oct. 28.—Col. E. M. House, President Wilson's closest political adviser, accompanied by Admiral W. S. Benson, has arrived in France. Colonel House will represent President Wilson in all diplomatic matters growing out of the existing situation. Admiral Benson will represent the navy in the various conferences which are to deal with the armistice request of Germany which has been referred to the entente by President Wilson.

In all conferences that may be held Colonel House will deal with matters purely political; Gen. T. H. Bliss will handle the purely military matters, and Admiral Benson will deal with naval questions. Admiral Benson's presence will insure that the navy has adequate representation by a full ranking officer, as he is the ranking admiral of the navy.

SLASH TAX ON SPIRITS

RADICAL CHANGE MADE IN PROVISIONS OF REVENUE BILL.

Military Deficiency Measure, Carrying $6,345,523,688, Reported to Senate.

Washington, Oct. 26.—In lieu of the taxes on estates proposed in the house revenue bill, the senate finance committee in its revision adopted a plan of taxing inheritances of $10,000 and more, at rates to be fixed later. The committee also decided to reduce to $2.20 per gallon the tax on distilled spirits used for industrial, medicinal and other nonbeverage purposes.

The new tax proposes that inheritances received by heirs, instead of estates left by deceased persons, shall be the subjects of federal taxation, after state inheritance taxes are imposed.

The revenue of the government probably will be half of the $110,000,000 levy on estates proposed in the house bill. Returns from life insurance policies under $25,000 would not be taxed under the committee's plan.

Reduction of the rate on nonbeverage distilled spirits and alcohol ordered by the committee was said to be in response to interests urging it in order to stimulate production of spirits needed for munitions and also to reduce the cost of medicines. The house had fixed the tax at $4.40 per gallon. Recently the senate committee reduced that to $3.20 and today to $2.20 per gallon, which is the rate under present law.

House and senate conferees on the emergency agricultural appropriation bill with its amendments for national wartime prohibition, failed to break their deadlock in the rent profiteering section and decided to report a disagreement.

The military deficiency bill, carrying $6,345,523,688, only a slight decrease from the original house draft, was reported to the senate today by the appropriations committee. Anticipating speedy passage of the bill by the senate, the house interrupted its three-day recess program and adjourned until tomorrow so that no delay might result in sending the measure to conference.

WAR REVENUE BILL HELD UP

AURORA BOREALIS.

"I am going to tell you a story tonight," said Daddy, "about the aurora borealis."

He paused for a moment and Nick and Nancy looked at each other first, then at him.

"What in the world—" began Nancy. "Goodness!" exclaimed Nick.

"Let's not say anything," whispered Nancy, "until we know."

So both children kept very still and after a moment or two Daddy said: "In the first place I think I will tell you what an aurora borealis is."

Both the children chuckled, then they laughed aloud.

"We were pretending we knew," said Nancy.

"That is, we thought if we kept very quiet you wouldn't know that we didn't understand," said Nick, "and that you'd tell us anyway."

Daddy laughed and said, "I thought as much."

And Nick and Nancy laughed again and said, "That's what we thought."

"The aurora borealis," commenced Daddy, "consists of lights in the sky which are very, very brilliant. They are supposed to be a mixture of electricity in the air high above us."

"Usually they are to be found up north where the weather is colder than

Children Were Allowed to Get Out of Bed.

EDITORIAL

THE PARAMOUNT ISSUE.

Good Americans will indorse outright the program of the National Security League to prevent the election or re-election of any members of Congress this year who are not known to be vigorous proponents of the war or who can be lured to support any specious efforts at an inconclusive peace. The country needs such a nonpartisan organization as the league to lead the fight against the milk fed officeholders and office seekers who, in many parts of the country are catering to the hopes of the people that the war may be ended, even though it is not ended right. The league can come to Colorado, for instance, and build fires under two or three politicians who probably will seek re-election here and, without its motives being questioned, can expose the rank pacifism which has featured their political careers.

Just how the war will terminate will depend mostly upon the United States. Just what the United States will do depends in a great measure upon Congress. If there is a strong sentiment for premature peace in its membership the task of putting through our war program until our institutions are absolutely safe will be complicated. We are pledged now to go through with the war by force, "without stint or limit," and we must support that pledge by electing men to Congress who will "stay put" on the issue until victory is won.

For that matter, Americans should be careful about electing anybody to any office now who is not clear-cut on the war. Men of no particular force in private life have much weight added to their opinions when they are clothed with the authority of office. We cannot afford to have any such backing the pacifists in the dark days of the war that are to come. We must make this a poor season for "yellow dog" office seekers of whatever grade or party or politics.—Colorado Springs Gazette.

PUBLICITY AND CRITICISM

"Congress shall make no law . . . abridging the freedom of speech or of the press," so reads a clause in our Constitution.

This is a wise provision. The citizens of a democracy should at all times know of and be able to criticize the management of their affairs. Investigation and criticism in the present war have been of great benefit in hastening our preparation by pointing out errors that have been made. There is no doubt whatever that the great safeguards to the conduct of the war are almost unlimited publicity and the right of criticism.

We are told that constructive criticism is always welcome, but who is to decide what is constructive? Why not criticism without the adjective? Most citizens believe that Universal Military Training as a corrective of our unpreparedness would have been constructive, and yet it was not adopted. Who can tell, if it had been accepted when first proposed, what the result would have been on this war?

If we had had more publicity upon the production of aeroplanes, shipping and ordnance, the suggestions of thinking men would unquestionably have stimulated the rapidly with which these articles were being produced, and the delays that have occurred might have been avoided.

There are things the Government cannot make public, and these the people do not ask to know. But in the main full information concerning the progress of preparation can safely be given to the people. It is the people's war; it is a war supported by the people, financially and physically, and suggestions by them should be sought and considered.

Learning From Birds.

Many wise suggestions come to one who observes the ways and traits of birds. Study of birds well repays the effort it demands. Respect for animal life and bird life humanizes us. The greatest and best of mankind have been tender and loving to animal life. The more we become friends of the birds the more we shall feel the force of the text, "Not one sparrow shall fall to the ground without your Father. Fear ye not, therefore, ye are of more value than many sparrows."—Milwaukee Journal.

Master of the Fiddle Bow.

A newspaper, under the headline, "Some Fiddler," reported a violin recital as follows: "Then Mr. McB presented 'To a Wild Rose,' by McDowell and a 'Spanish Dance,' by Granados. In these selections the artist displayed a wonderful command of the bow, changing its position with such skill and rapidity as not to interrupt the melody."

Why Ammonia Cleans Clothes.

Ammonia, the great spot remover of the American people, is really a gas dissolved in water. It belongs to the alkali family, and on account of its mineral origin is the foe of all oils and greases, which explains the easy way it disposes of spots that soap and water cannot affect. Bath ammonia is a fine cleanser.

Earth and Moon.

Fifty moons would equal the earth in volume, although it would take 81 times the mass of the moon to equal the mass of our planet as the lunar density is only six-tenths that of the earth. The entire surface of the moon about equals North and South America in area, though about 40 per cent of this surface we can never see, since our satellite always turns the same face toward us.

FARMERS & MERCHANTS STATE BANK
KEWASKUM, WISCONSIN

"The Bank of the People and for all the People"

"Spokes"—and the Swift "Wheel"

What would you consumers think of a wheel without spokes?

What would you think of a man who would take any or all of the spokes out of a wheel to make it run better?

Swift & Company's business of getting fresh meat to you is a wheel, of which the packing plant is only the hub. Retail dealers are the rim—and Swift & Company Branch Houses are the spokes.

The hub wouldn't do the wheel much good and you wouldn't have much use for hub or rim if it weren't for the spokes that fit them all together to make a wheel of it.

Swift & Company Branch Houses are placed, after thorough investigation, in centers where they can be successfully operated and do the most good for the most people at the least possible cost.

Each "spoke" is in charge of a man who knows that he is there to keep you supplied at all times with meat, sweet and fresh; and who knows that if he doesn't do it, his competitor will.

How much good would the hub and the rim of the Swift "wheel" do you if the spokes were done away with?

Swift & Company, U. S. A.

—At a meeting of the Badger State Volunteer Firemen's association held at the Republican House, Milwaukee last Sunday, no city was named in which the 1919 firemen's tournament is to be held, due to the war and the uncertainty of the liquor question. A special meeting will be held at Milwaukee some time in the near future when definite arrangements will be made. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Geo. Kuehlthau, West Bend; Vice-President, Gustav Dankow, North Milwaukee; Secretary-Treasurer, John Arnbruster, Cedarburg.

—Frank Heppel present efficient clerk of the circuit court, spent Wednesday in Hartford calling upon his many former friends and acquaintances. Mr. Heppel is up for re-election to the office of clerk of the circuit court and the least that voters can do is to return him to office. During the past two years he has attended to his duties with thoroughness and care and in every way has proven himself a very efficient official, one who is ready at all times to do all that is in his power in his office. Mr. Heppel is a former Hartford boy and a son of Engelbert Heppel of that city. It is expected that Hartford as well as people from this vicinity will give him a splendid endorsement at the polls on November 5th.

WAR WORK

American women nurses are installed eight miles in the rear of the fighting lines "over there." Right here at home many women should learn nursing to take care of the sick, or, in emergencies, the wounded. You can learn a great deal by obtaining the "Medical Adviser," a book of one thousand pages, bound in cloth, containing chapters on First Aid, Bandaging, Anatomy, Hygiene, Sex Problems, Mother and Babe, 200 prescriptions for acute and chronic diseases; profusely illustrated by wood cuts and colored plates. Ask your druggist or send 50c to Publisher, 603 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

If a woman is nervous or has dizzy spells, suffers from awful pains at regular or irregular intervals she should turn to a tonic made up of herbs, and without alcohol, which makes weak women strong and sick women well. It is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Then, for the liver and bowels nothing is so good as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

Stanwood, Mich.—"I have taken Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and find no other medicine has done me so much good. I was a total wreck, was not able to do any work and my nerves were in such condition that if anyone suddenly spoke to me I would jump and scream. It seemed I could not live much longer. Finally, my sister advised me to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which I did. I have never taken such wonderful medicine before. The first bottle made me feel like a new person. I have taken five bottles and am feeling fine, can do all of my housework and feel first class. I owe all this to the 'Prescription.' I shall never forget to praise Dr. Pierce's medicine. Give it a trial and you will never be without it!"—Mrs. Vina Olin.

STAMP GIRL WON HER POINT

Saleswoman Bravely Matched Her Bob at War With Sour-Faced Woman's Husband at Home.

She was a very pretty young woman and she was selling Thrift stamps in the corner booth. A charitable-looking man approached. So intent was the little stamp seller on making a sale to him that she did not notice the sour-looking woman who was near him. "Won't you please buy at least one stamp?" she asked him, using her sweetest smile to help the sale.

Before the man could answer the sour-looking woman who was his wife, took up the conversation. "You women make me tired," she stormed, her face more sour than ever. "You'd better be at home taking care of your own husbands and houses instead of running after other women's husbands on the streets."

The pretty young woman was startled, but not for long. "I haven't any husband," she answered sweetly. "I sent him across because I married him. And now I'm asking your husband to buy a few Thrift stamps so that he can stay at home and be happy and peaceful here while my Bob is at war over there."

Synopsis.—Albert N. Depew, author of the story, tells of his service in the United States navy, during which he attained the rank of chief petty officer, first-class gunner. The world war starts soon after he receives his honorable discharge from the navy, and he leaves for France with a determination to enlist. He joins the Foreign Legion and is assigned to the dreadnaught Cassard, where his marksmanship wins him high honors. Later he is transferred to the land forces and sent to the Flanders front. He gets his first experience in a front line trench at Dixmude. He goes "over the top" and gets his first German in a bayonet fight. While on runner service, Depew is caught in a Zeppelin raid and has an exciting experience. In a fierce fight with the Germans he is wounded and sent to a hospital. After recovering he is ordered back to sea duty and sails on the Cassard for the Dardanelles. There he sees the wonderful work of the British and French in the Gallipoli campaign.

During our eighth trick off Cape Helles I was amidsthips in the galley when I heard our two 14-pounders go off almost at the same time. Everybody ran for his station. Going up the main deck to my turret a man told me it was a sub on the port bow, but I only caught a glimpse of the little whirlpool where her periscope submerged. I do not know why she did not let loose a torpedo at us. The officers said she was trying to make the entrance to the Dardanelles and came up blind among our ships and was scared off by our guns, but I thought we had just escaped by the skin of our teeth. Later on our destroyers claimed to have sighted her off Gaba Tepe.

At noon we were at mess when one of the boys yelled, "She's hit," and we all rushed on deck. There was the British ship, Triumph, torpedoed and listing away over to starboard. She was ready to turn over in a few minutes. One battleship is not supposed to go to the assistance of another one that has been torpedoed, because the chances are the sub is still in the neighborhood laying for the second ship with another torpedo. But one of the British trawlers went to the assistance of the Triumph to pick up the crew.

We could see the crew jumping into the water. Then we breezed out toward the horizon, full speed ahead. All about the Triumph was a cloud of black smoke, but when we looked through the glass we could see she was going down. Then our guns began to bombard the Turkish positions and I had to get busy. When I saw the Triumph again she was bottom up. She must have floated upside down for almost half an hour, then she went down as though there was somebody on the bottom pulling her.

When she went our Old Man banged his telephone on the bridge rail and swore at the Huns and Turks and broke his telescope lens to bits. About fifty from the Triumph were lost.

It was decided that the place was too hot for us with that sub running loose, and when they reported that afternoon that she was making her way south from Gaba Tepe to Cape Helles all of the fleet but the Majestic got under way, and the Majestic was the only ship left off the cape.

They said the Majestic was then the oldest of the ships in that campaign, but she was the pride of the British fleet just the same. She was torpedoed off Cape Helles later on, when there were a number of men-of-war off the cape. The sea was crowded with men swimming and drowning. I saw a lifeboat crowded with men and other men in the water hanging onto her, and there were so many hanging on that they started to pull her under. Of their own accord the men in the water let go to save those in the boat. Most of them were drowned.

The Majestic listed so that the men could not stand on deck, and the sides were covered with men hanging on to ropes and not knowing whether to jump into the sea or not. We lowered all our lifeboats and steam launches, and so did the other ships. We picked up a number of the crew and were pretty close to the Majestic when she went down like a rock. As she went down she turned over and a garby ran along her side to the ram at her bow and got on it without even being wet. A boat picked him up off the ram, which stuck out of the water after the ship had ceased to settle.

She had torpedo nets on her sides, and many of the crew were unable to get clear of the nets and went down with her. Quite a lot were caught below decks and had no possible chance to escape. There was a big explosion as she went under—probably the boilers bursting. Thousands of troops on shore and thousands of sailors on the ships saw the final plunge, and it was a sight to remember. When the ship started to go, the Old Man rushed back to his cabin, got the signal book and destroyed it. Also, he saved the lives of two of his men.

We gave dry clothes and brandy and coffee to the Lineas we rescued, and though they had just come through something pretty tough, they were calm and cool and started talking right away about what ship they would probably be assigned to next.

CHAPTER XII.

A Pal Crucified.

When we got to "V" Beach on my next trip the weather was really fine, but it did not please us much, for as soon as we got in range the enemy batteries opened up on us and the shell fire was heavier than any we had been in before, though not more effective. We dived in on a bright morning, about half past five or six, with our convoy, the troopship Champagne, ahead of us and going slowly, sounding all the way.

At this part of the shore there is a duck about a mile and a half long, running back into the country and terminating in a road. The Champagne was making for this dock, sounding as she went. Suddenly, when she was within 500 yards of the shore, I saw her swing around and steer in a crazy fashion. We began asking each other what was the matter with her, but we learned afterwards that her rudder had been torn off, though we never found out how, nor do I think anyone ever knew.

Then she went aground, with her stern toward the shore and listed over to port. You could see different articles rolling out and down the side. Then her back broke. The quarter-deck was crowded with men half dressed, with life belts on, jumping over the side or climbing down. There was an explosion and a cloud of black smoke broke over us, and for a while I thought I was blinded.

All the time the shells were raining in on us and on the Champagne. When I could see again I saw the men on the Champagne climbing down the starboard or shore side. One chap was going down hand over hand along a stanchion, when another fellow above him let go and slid right down on him. The first man fell about thirty feet, landing in the water with his neck doubled under him. Our lifeboats and launches were out picking up survivors.

Those who got safely over the side started to swim ashore, but when they had gone only a little way they found they could wade in. When the water was only up to their waists they came upon barbed wire entanglements and not a man got ashore that way but was scratched and clawed and mangled horribly. Some of them that I saw afterwards were just shredded along the sides of their bodies like coconuts. A great many of them, though, were killed by shrapnel while they were in the water.

On board the Cassard our guns had been busy all the time, and it was not long before we put one enemy battery out of commission. We had suffered a bit, too, but not enough to worry us. There were about 3,000 men on the Champagne, I think, and at least a third were killed or drowned, and the casualties must have been almost two-thirds. The ship was just a mass of wreckage.

They called for a landing party from the Cassard, and officers asked for volunteers for trench duty. I was not very keen about going, because I had been in trenches at Dixmude, and I knew how pleasant they were—not, but I volunteered, and so did Murray. We went ashore in our boats under a heavy fire. There were 12 men killed in the lifeboat in which I was. I escaped without a scratch.

We were mustered up on shore and volunteers were called for, for sentry duty. Murray volunteered. If he had only gone on with the rest of us he might have come through. After a short wait we were given the order to advance. The firing became heavier about this time, so we went at the double. We had not got very far before we had a fine little surprise party handed us.

The front line was running over what appeared to be good, solid ground, when they broke through and fell into trenches 30 to 40 feet deep. These trenches had been dug, covered over with 1/2-inch boards and then with dirt, and were regular man-traps. Sharp stakes were sticking out of the parapet and paradocs, and at the bottom were more stakes and rocks and barbed wire.

We were advancing with bayonets fixed and arms at the carry, so when the first line fell, and some of the second, the boys of the third line came running up, and in the scramble that followed many of the chaps in the first few lines were bayoneted by their comrades. I was in the third line, but I was lucky enough to pull up in time and did not fall in. You could not look down into that trench after you had seen it once, it was too sickening. Our casualties were sent back to the ship. One boat was sunk by a shell and all the men lost.

We remained where we were, scratching out shallow trenches for ourselves, finding what natural cover there was and otherwise getting ready for the night, which was near. It began to rain and we could hardly keep any fires going, because we had to shelter them from the shore side, so the enemy could not spot us, and the wind was from the sea. It was certainly miserable that night.

Every once in a while we would stand by to repel an attack, whether it was a real one or not, and we were under fire all the time. It seemed as if morning would never come. The sand was full of fleas—great big boys—and they were as bad as any cooties I had ever had at Dixmude.

The morning came at last, and I was detailed with a fatigue party to the beach where we had landed stores. When we got down to the docks I missed Murray and asked where he was. They said he had been missing from his post not more than an hour from the time we left.

I left my fatigue party, without orders, and joined in the hunt for Murray. There were men searching all along the docks and on the shore to each side. Finally I saw a bunch of men collect around a storehouse at the farther end of the docks on the shore side. I ran up to them.

There was poor old Murray. They were just taking him down. He had been crucified against the wall of the storehouse. There was a bayonet through each arm, one through each foot and one through his stomach. One of the garbics fainted when he had to pull one of the bayonets out. They had hacked off his right hand at the wrist and taken his identification disc. I lay this to the German officers more than the Turks.

I do not know just what I did after this. But it changed me all around and I was not like my usual self during the rest of the time.

It was still raining when we started on our way to the front line. Along the road were numbers of troops scuffling and among them Indian troops on sentry duty. They looked like a bunch of frozen turkeys, cool and uncomfortable. We were close enough to make the roar of the cannonading seem intolerably loud and could see the bursting shells, particularly those from the British ships.

Then we came across some Turkish prisoners who were sheltering in an old barn. I guess it was, and we stopped for shelter and rest. They told us that their troops were very tired from long fighting, but that they had plenty of men. They said a couple of shells had dropped about a hundred yards from the barn just before we came, so we knew the batteries were trying to get our range and we did not stay any longer, but went away from there and on our road.

About 500 yards farther on we came to ruins, and when we went inside we found 50 or 60 of our boys cooking and sleeping and not giving a thought to the shells or shrapnel. The miles outside were banging away at the hay, as though there never had been a war in the world. There was no shell made that could badge them away from that hay unless it hit them.

Then along came a cart making a lot of racket. One of the fellows in it had half of his face shot away and was all bandaged up, but he was trying to sing and laugh just the same as the rest were doing. They were Anzacs, and were pretty badly shot up.

The word "Anzac," as you probably know, is made from the initials of the Australian and New Zealand army corps. They had a regular town, called Anzac, on the peninsula. At Suvia bay and around Gaba Tepe the Anzacs got further into the Turkish lines than any other unit in the allied armies. They were wonderful fighters.

By this time the Turks were making an attack, and all you could see to the front was one long line of smoke and spouting earth. Then our guns started and the noise was deafening. It was worse than in the turrets aboard ship during an engagement. My head rang for days after we left the Dardanelles.

The Turks were getting a better idea of our range now and the shells were falling pretty close to us, but finally we tore in with the 14-inch navals and tipped up three of their batteries. In the fall that followed we made good time and reached our front line positions at Sedd-el-Bahr during the afternoon.

The next morning we made our first attack. I had had a bad night of it, thinking about Murray, and when the time came there never was a chap more glad to charge and get a chance at the enemy with the bayonet than I was.

We attacked according to a program. Time cards were issued to the officer of each section, so that we would work exactly with the barrage. To be ahead of, or behind the time card, would mean walking into our own barrage. The time of attack is called zero—that is, the minute when you leave the trench. Some of the Anzacs said it meant when your feet got the coldest, but I do not think they suffered very much with trouble in the feet—not when they were advancing, anyway.

The time card might read something like this: First wave, zero, advance, take first trench, 0:20; second wave, same as the first, pass first trench, 0:25; take second trench, 0:35. The third wave is ordered to take the third trench, and so on, for as many lines as the enemy is entrenched. The other waves might be instructed to occupy Hill 7, 12:08, or dig in behind rock 12:45. Here, zero is understood, the first figures standing for minutes and the others for seconds. It might take several hours to carry out the program, but everything is laid out to an exact schedule.

I was in the sixth line of the third wave of attack and zero was 4:30 a. m. Whistles were to be the signal for zero and we were to walk to the first line Turkish trench. As we came out our barrage fire would be bursting 50 yards ahead of us and would lift 25 yards every 10 seconds. Our stunt was to take advantage of it without walking into it.

Depew goes over the top in an attack on the Turkish trenches and has some close calls before he gets back to his own lines. Don't miss reading about it in the next installment.

City Dweller and the Tin Can. "Here is an astonishing fact," writes Harry S. Stabler in Everybody's, "which the proper authorities will verify for you:

"Thirty per cent of the business of the wholesale grocers of the entire country is in canned goods. In the wholesale houses of New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and other large cities, foods make up 40 per cent of the business.

"The fact is that, if you were to take the tin cans out of any city of the first or second class, the inhabitants would begin to starve almost at once. That means, of course, that those cities could not have grown so large without food conserved in tins."

THE KITCHEN CABINET

Home is the resort of love, of joy, of peace, and plenty, where supporting and supported, polished friends and dear relations mingle into bliss.—Thompson.

TOMATO WAYS.

WHEN canning select tomatoes that are ripe, but not over-ripe, and free from blemishes. Scald them for two minutes, then dip in cold water and remove the skins and the green core with a sharp knife. Pack into sterile jars whole for the cold pack method, fill each jar with boiling hot tomato juice, add a teaspoonful of salt to a quart jar and, if liked, one to three teaspoonfuls of sugar. Cook 25 minutes in a hot-water bath.

Tomato Puree.—This may be made from small or broken tomatoes. Cut and cook them until the tomatoes are soft, then press the pulp through a sieve, discarding the seeds and skins. Add one medium-sized onion, two tablespoonfuls of chopped sweet peppers and a teaspoonful of sugar and a half teaspoonful of salt. Cook all together until the mixture is of the consistency of catsup, stirring often to keep from burning. Pour it into jars and sterilize for 20 minutes in a hot-water bath.

Dried Tomato Paste.—Prepare the tomatoes as for canning. Put to cook with no water in an enamel kettle; when tender put through a sieve and cook the pulp until it is very thick, then place it over hot water in a slow oven, where it may dry out without danger of scorching. It may be then sealed in hot sterile jars or further dried on plates, cut in squares and stored in moisture-proof containers. This paste may be used for soups, sauces or scalloped dishes. One teaspoonful of the paste will make a dish of soup.

Spanish Pickles.—Slice thin one peck of green tomatoes, four onions, and chop four green peppers. Let the onions and tomatoes stand over night in a cupful of salt. In the morning drain them and put them into the preserving kettle. Add the pepper, one-half ounce each of allspice, cloves, and peppercorns, one-half cupful of brown mustard seed, one pound of brown sugar, and enough vinegar to cover the mixture. Heat gradually to the boiling point and boil one-half hour. Pour into scalded jars and seal.

The sweetest music is not in the oratorio, but in the human voice when it speaks from its instant life, tones of tenderness, truth or courage.

CHICKEN SOUPS.

FOLLOWING are a few chicken soups a little out of the ordinary:

Vermont Chicken Soup.—Reheat six cupfuls of chicken stock, seasoning with salt and pepper and a grated onion. Add one head of lettuce, shredded, and one cupful of green peas. Simmer until the peas and lettuce are done. Beat an egg, add enough stale bread crumbs to make a paste and shape into small balls. Drop these into the boiling soup and simmer ten minutes, then serve.

New Jersey Chicken Soup.—Reheat three quarts of chicken soup. Simmer one cupful of rice until it is tender in the stock, rub through a sieve, season and reheat. Thicken with one tablespoonful of cornstarch, rubbed smooth in a little cold milk. Add a cupful of boiling cream and one-half cupful of chopped cooked chicken; serve with croutons.

Chicken Soup With Dumplings.—Chop fine two ounces of suet, add half a cupful of flour and salt and pepper to season. Add enough cold water to make a paste and shape into balls. Reheat six cupfuls of stock, drop in the balls and simmer 15 minutes. Season to taste and serve.

Chicken Soup Hollandaise.—Cut into dice two cucumbers, two carrots and two turnips; cover with a quart of chicken stock and cook until the vegetables are tender. Season to taste, add a tablespoonful of butter and thicken with the yolks of four eggs beaten smooth with a cupful of cream. Pour into the tureen and add half a cupful each of cooked green peas and French beans.

New Orleans Chicken Gumbo. Cut up a chicken, dredge the pieces with flour and fry brown with a sliced onion and four slices of salt pork. Add four quarts of water and cook until the chicken is nearly tender. Add two slices of boiled ham cut in bits, a pod of red pepper, two quarts of sliced okra and half a can of tomatoes. Simmer until the chicken is done, season with salt and pepper and add one teaspoonful of powdered sassafras.

Peaches With Marshmallows.—Take halves of peaches, arrange in serving dishes and pour over a sauce made of the juice thickened with cornstarch and a bit of butter added, then place a marshmallow in the center of each peach and pour the sauce over, chill and serve cold.

A small bottle of "Danderine" keeps hair thick, strong, beautiful.

Girls! Try this! Doubles beauty of your hair in a few moments.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp. A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine for a few cents at any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.—Adv.

Using "Cut-Over" Lands. Agricultural possibilities of "cut over" lands in Louisiana have been once more demonstrated by Ed Strain, a farmer living a mile and a half north of St. Benedict, producing a bale of cotton an acre on cut-over land broken and prepared in the fall and planted in cotton in the spring of the next year. The fact that Mr. Strain is a blacksmith by trade and has taken to farming only recently renders the agricultural feat the more remarkable.

SPANISH INFLUENZA—WHAT IT IS AND HOW IT SHOULD BE TREATED

Nothing New—Simply the Old Grip or La Grippe That Was Epidemic in 1889-90, Only Then It Came From Russia by Way of France and This Time by Way of Spain

Go to Bed and Stay Quiet—Take a Laxative—Eat Plenty of Nourishing Food—Keep Up Your Strength—Nature is the Only "Cure"

ALWAYS CALL A DOCTOR

NO OCCASION FOR PANIC

Spanish influenza, which appeared in Spain in May, has all the appearances of grip, or la grippe, which has swept over the world in numerous epidemics as far back as history runs. Hippocrates refers to an epidemic in 412 B. C., which is regarded by many to have had influenza. Every century has had its attacks. Beginning with 1831 this country has had five epidemics, the last in 1889-90.

There is no occasion for panic—Influenza itself has a very low percentage of fatalities—not over one death out of every 400 cases, according to the N. C. board of health. The chief danger lies in complications arising, attacks of pneumonia, bronchitis, and sometimes meningitis, especially in run-down condition—those who don't go to bed soon enough or those who get up too early.

THE SYMPTOMS

Grip, or influenza, as it is now called, usually begins with a chill, followed by aching, feverishness, and sometimes nausea and dizziness, and a general feeling of weakness and depression. The temperature is from 100 to 104, and the fever usually lasts from three to five days. The germs attack the mucous membrane or lining of the air passages, nose, throat and bronchial tubes; there is usually a hard cough, especially bad at night; oftentimes a sore throat or tonsillitis, and frequently all the appearances of a severe head cold.

THE TREATMENT

Go to bed at the first symptoms, not only for your sake, but to avoid spreading the disease to others—take a purgative, eat plenty of nourishing food, remain perfectly quiet and don't worry. Quinine, aspirin or Dover's Powders, etc., may be administered by the physician's directions to relieve the aching. But there is no cure or specific for influenza—the disease must run its course. Nature herself will throw off the attack if only you keep up your strength. The chief danger lies in the complications which may arise. Influenza so weakens the bodily resistance that there is danger of pneumonia or bronchitis developing, and sometimes inflammation of the middle ear, or heart affections. For these reasons it is very important that the patient remain in bed until his strength returns—stay in bed at least two days or more after the fever has left you, or if you are over 50 or not strong stay in bed four days or more according to the severity of the attack.

EXTERNAL APPLICATIONS

In order to stimulate the lining of the air passages to throw off the germs, to aid in loosening the phlegm and keeping the air passages open, thus making the breathing easier, Vick's VapoRub will be found effective. Hot, wet towels should be applied over the throat, chest and back between the shoulder blades to open the pores. Then VapoRub should be rubbed in over the parts until the skin is red, spread on thickly and cover with two thicknesses of hot flannel cloths. Leave the clothing loose around the neck, as the heat of the body liberates the ingredients in the form of vapors. These vapors, inhaled with each breath, carry the medication directly to the parts affected. At the same time VapoRub is absorbed through and stimulates the skin, attracting the blood to the surface, and thus aids in relieving the congestion within.

HOW TO AVOID THE DISEASE

Evidence seems to prove that this is a germ disease, spread principally by human contact, chiefly through coughing, sneezing or spitting. So avoid persons having colds—which means avoiding crowds—common drinking cups, roller towels, etc. Keep up your bodily strength by plenty of exercise in the open air, and good food. Above all, avoid colds, as colds irritate the lining of the air passages and render them much better breeding places for the germs.

KEEP FREE FROM COLDS

Use Vick's VapoRub at the very first sign of a cold. For a head cold, melt a little VapoRub in a spoon and inhale the vapors, or better still, use VapoRub in a benzoin steam kettle. If this is not available, use an ordinary tea-kettle. Fill half-full of boiling water, put in half a teaspoon of VapoRub from time to time—keep the kettle just slowly boiling and inhale the steam arising.

Note—Vick's VapoRub is the discovery of a North Carolina druggist, who found how to combine, in salve form, Menthol and Camphor with such volatile oils as Eucalyptus, Thyme, Cinnamon, etc., so that when the salve is applied to the body heat, these ingredients are liberated in the form of vapors.

VapoRub is comparatively new in New York State and New England and a few Western states where it is just now being introduced, but in other sections of the country it is the standard home remedy in more than a million homes for all forms of cold troubles. Over six million jars were sold last year. VapoRub can be had in three sizes at all druggists. It is particularly recommended for children's croup and colds, since it is externally applied and therefore can be used as freely as desired without the slightest harmful effects.

Spencer Haven in an opinion held that under the soldiers' voting laws, the secretary of state is not empowered to provide messengers to collect these votes. Forty messengers will be appointed to collect the votes of Wisconsin soldiers in camps outside of the state.

Superior—William Davis, believed the oldest man in the northwest, died here at the age of 196. Born in Wales in 1812, he came to the United States while still young. He worked in Pennsylvania coal mines and after service in the civil war, was a Mississippi river steamer captain. He came to this county from St. Paul after his wife died there at the age of 80 in 1912.

Madison—A slight decrease in the insane population of the state is recorded in the monthly population statement of the state board of control. In September there were 8,268 insane patients under public care in Wisconsin. The latest report gives 8,234. The reports of the board show that a large number of persons are on parole from the different institutions at this time.

Green Bay—Organization of the White Cross, an association which will serve the Polish army in the same manner as the Red Cross serves other armies of the allied forces, has been completed in Green Bay. Work on supplies and garments is being done now in homes, while public meetings are under the ban due to Spanish influenza.

Madison—Michael A. Lucide, former attendant at the Mendota hospital for the insane, was sentenced to twenty years at Waupun prison for killing Erhard Pfisterer, an inmate. Lucide killed Pfisterer when the latter refused to obey his orders at a time when the patient was being given a bath. The patient was slow in carrying out orders and Lucide struck him.

Madison—That Wisconsin farmers have gone over the top in one more drive for war production is the statement made by J. G. Halpin, secretary of the state poultrymen, throughout the state. The dealers find that there has been an increase in the number of chickens and eggs, in spite of the talk last spring that the farmers were selling off all their chickens.

Green Bay—Wounded when a fragment of bursting "wzibzang" struck him in the back, Lieut. Donald Vaughan, Green Bay officer, crawled five miles along a road and through open country under constant shell fire, it was learned in a letter received from France. Exhausted, he reached a point where an ambulance was discovered.

Madison—Northern Wisconsin is making a fight to win the war by the production of more foods. Data compiled by William F. Callendar of the United States department of agriculture, Wisconsin branch show that in ten counties the acreage in northern Wisconsin was increased 24,175 acres.

Madison—Wisconsin received a call for 440 civilians between 18 and 45 to go to Camp Fremont, Cal., Dec. 1. The camp will accommodate 20,000 men. They must have high school education or the equivalent.

Fond du Lac—Official returns in the Sixth district special primary election, from Fond du Lac, give Husting, democrat, 1,319; Luppert, republican, 659; and Thompson, socialist, 164.

Madison—Twenty-two creameries and cheese factories in Vernon county alone have been invited by the United States food administration for Wisconsin to contribute $25 to their local Red Cross chapters for failure to obtain licenses.

Racine—The indebtedness of the local Y. M. C. A., amounting to $20,000, was wiped out when William Horlick, Sr., presented his personal check for that amount, and notes and mortgages were burned in the office of the association.

LOOK AT CHILD'S TONGUE IF SICK, CROSS, FEVERISH

HURRY, MOTHER! REMOVE POISONS FROM LITTLE STOMACH, LIVER, BOWELS.

GIVE CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS AT ONCE IF BILIOUS OR CONSTIPATED.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of the little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative"; they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.—Adv.

The Chief Interest.
At an official reception a congressman talked in a windy and grandiloquent way about our war aims, appealing every minute or two to Secretary Baker. Secretary Baker nodded good-humoredly until the sixth or seventh appeal, when he lost patience. "Congressman," he said, "it's not our aims that interest me. It's our hits."

WOMEN SUFFERERS MAY NEED SWAMP-ROOT

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased. Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are often times symptoms of kidney trouble.

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Get a medium or large size bottle immediately from any drug store. However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

Wanted—More Geese.
Geese hold a sector in the line of the poultry army that makes war against waste. When the facts are taken into consideration that the demand for geese is strong, steady, and extends over practically the whole year, that geese excel all other kinds of poultry as producers of fat, a thing of which the world stands at present in dire need, and that their value as egg producers is considerable, the importance of the poultry scheme becomes apparent. Geese take their living in large part from grasses of the pasture and from otherwise helpless refuse.

HAARLEM OIL CAPSULES IF YOUR BACK ACHES

Do you feel tired and "worn-out"? Are you nervous and irritable? Don't sleep well at night? Have a "dragged out" unrested feeling when you get up in the morning? Dizzy spells? Biliousness? Bad taste in the mouth, backache, pain or soreness in the loins, and abdomen? Severe distress when urinating, bloody, cloudy urine or sediment? All these indicate gravel or stone in the bladder, or that the poisonous microbes, which are always in your system, have attacked your kidneys.

You should use GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules immediately. The oil soaks gently into the walls and lining of the kidneys, and the little poisonous animal germs, which are causing the inflammation, are immediately attacked and chased out of your system without inconvenience or pain.

Do not delay a minute. Go to your druggist and insist on his supplying you with a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. In 24 hours you will feel renewed health and vigor. After you have cured yourself, continue to take one or two Capsules each day so as to keep in first-class condition, and ward off the danger of future attacks. Money refunded if they do not help you. Ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand, and thus be sure of getting the genuine.—Adv.

It's Acid-Stomach That Makes Millions Sick and Suffer
Life is dark—not worth much to the man or woman with an acid-stomach. Acid-stomach kills Hope, Ambition, Energy, Courage, the strength of the blood—causes untold suffering—makes millions weak, sad and brings on premature old age.
You know what acid-stomach does to teeth and gums—how the acid literally eats through the hard enamel, causing the teeth to decay. It is the same with the stomach. Millions of people are weak and miserable all the time, in one way or another, from superacidity or acid-stomach. They don't seem dangerously sick. Just ailing. Going through life weak, listless, dragging one foot after another. "Nervous and irritable," lack power and punch, frequently have severe attacks of indigestion, splitting headaches, subject to fits of melancholia and mental depression. And nearly always their stomachs are out of order, even though many experience no actual stomach pain.—"I don't seem to get any better anywhere near the full strength of my food. So, you see, it's just this acid-stomach that is holding me up. I need something—something to get the strength they should get from their food—taking away their vigor and vitality—leaving them weak and inefficient."
Get rid of the excess acid. That's the secret of getting back into the only way to obtain good digestion and assimilation. In the right way to be well and keep strong. Quinine tonics won't do any lasting good. The best they can do is to sour up your appetite. When the stimulating effects wear off, you are worse off than ever.
Begin using EATONIC right now—today—and get on the road to bounding, vigorous, robust health. Thousands upon thousands of people who have used EATONIC are enthusiastic in its praise. They say they never dreamed that anything could bring them such quick relief.
EATONIC is absolutely guaranteed so get a big 50c box from your druggist. If it does not help you your money will be refunded. If you do not get your EATONIC, send your name and address to the Eatononic Company, 1018 S. Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill., and they will at once mail you a 50c box and you can send them the money for it after you receive it.

NOTICE OF GENERAL ELECTION

TO THE ELECTORS OF WASHINGTON COUNTY:—

Notice is hereby given that a general election is to be held in the several towns, wards, villages, and election precincts in the county of Washington, on the 5th day of November, 1918, at which the officers named below are to be chosen. The names of the candidates for each office for each office to be voted for, whose nominations have been certified to or filed in this office, are given under the title of the office and under the appropriate party or other designation, each in its proper column, together with the question submitted to a vote, in the sample ballot below.

OFFICE OF COUNTY CLERK, WEST BEND, WIS., OCTOBER 28, 1918.

INFORMATION TO VOTERS

The following instructions are given for the information and guidance of voters:

A voter upon entering the polling place and giving his name and residence, will receive a ballot from the ballot clerk which must have indorsed thereon the names or initials of both ballot clerks, and no other ballot can be used. Upon receiving his ballot, the voter must retire alone to a booth or compartment and prepare the same for voting. A ballot clerk may inform the voter as to the proper manner of marking a ballot, but he must not advise or indicate in any manner whom to vote for.

If a voter wishes to vote for all the candidates nominated by any party he shall make a cross or other mark under the party designation printed at the top of the ballot in the circle made for that purpose. A ballot so marked and having no other mark will be counted for all the candidates of that party in the column underneath, unless the names of some of the candidates of the party have been erased or a name shall be written in or a cross mark be placed in the square at the right of the name or names of candidates in another column. If the voter does not wish to vote for all the candidates nominated by one party, he shall mark his ballot by making a cross or mark in the square at the right of the name of the candidate for whom he intends to vote, or by inserting or writing in the name of the candidate.

The ballot should not be marked in any other manner. If the ballot be spoiled, it must be returned to the ballot clerk, who must issue another in its stead, but not more than three in all shall be issued to any one voter. Five minutes' time is allowed in booth to mark ballot. Unofficial ballots or memorandums to assist the voter in marking his ballot can be taken into the booth, and may be used to copy from. The ballot must not be shown so that any person can see how it has been marked by the voter.

After it is marked it should be folded so that the inside cannot be seen, but so that the printed indorsements and signatures of the ballot clerks on the outside may be seen. Then the voter should pass out of the booth or compartment, give his name to the inspector in charge of the ballot box, hand him his ballot to be placed in the box, and pass out of the voting place.

A voter, who declares to the presiding officer that he is unable to read, or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot, can have assistance of one or two election officers in marking same, to be chosen by the voter; and if he declares that he is totally blind, he may be assisted by any person chosen by him from among the legal voters of the county. The presiding officer may administer an oath in his discretion, as to such person's disability.

The following is a facsimile of the official ballot:

Fac-Simile of Official Ballot

If you desire to vote an entire party ticket for state, congressional, legislative and county offices make a cross (X) or other mark in the circle (O) under the party designation at the head of the ballot. If you desire to vote for particular persons without regard to party, mark in the square at the right of the name of the candidate for whom you desire to vote if it be there, or write any name that you wish to vote for, in the proper place.
