KEWASKUM GUARDS WIN FROM MAYVILLE

In a very interesting game of basketball the local home guard team easily defeated the Mayville five on the home floor Friday evening. After a few seconds of play M. Rosenheimer copped a basket on the run and the scoring from there on was continued throughout the game. The local forwards had been playing in hard luck in both the Campbellsport games, but through some hard practicing the past few weeks this was overcome which was shown in the Mayville game. The local team has an all star bunch and it is the duty of every fan to turn out and help the team along and support them in any way possible. It will be a long time before Kewaskum will ever have a team like they have this year. Spatz Miller and M. Rosenheimer scored most of the points for the home team. This is the first time that the locals showed their ability in passing and they sure were there in handling the ball. Bilgo also played a snappy game and the guards Ralph and Harry Schaefer did some very good guarding, as is shown by the visitors low score.

The crack Fond du Lac All Stars team led by Eddie Karst will be the attraction at the Opera House to-night (Saturday). The Fondy team will be made up of soldiers who represented the 131st Regimental team of whom Spatz Miller was playing center. The team will be composed of the following players: Harry Rice, Eddie Karst, Pete Ellison, Nick Marion and John Fitzgerald.

The lineup of last week's game was as follows:

MAN owes his growth, his energy, chiefly to that striving of the will that conflicts with difficulty, which we call effort. Easy, pleasant work does not make robust minds, does not give men a consciousness of their powers, does not train them to endurance, to perseverance, to steady force of will, that force without which all other acquisitions avail nothing.—William Ellery Channing.

$60.00 BONUS TO BE PAID TO SOLDIERS DISCHARGED SINCE APRIL 6, 1917.

Section 1406 of the Revenue Act approved February 24, 1919, authorizes the payment of a bonus of $60.00 to officers, soldiers, field clerks and nurses of the army upon honorable separation from active service by discharge, resignation or otherwise. This bonus is not payable to the heirs or representatives of any deceased soldier.

Those who are discharged hereafter will receive this bonus on the same roll or voucher upon which they are paid their final pay.

Those who have been discharged and have received their final pay without the $60.00 bonus, should write a letter to the Zone Finance Officer, Lemon Building, Washington, D. C., stating their service since April 6, 1917, the date of last discharge and their present address to which they desire their bonus checks to be sent and enclosing with this letter discharge certificate or military order for discharge and both if both were issued.

Upon the receipt by the Zone Finance Officer, Washington, D. C., of this information and the soldier's discharge certificate, this officer will cause checks to be drawn and mailed to the claimants in the order in which their claims were received by him. The discharge certificate will be returned to the soldier with the check.

It is estimated that at least one million and a quarter persons have been discharged from the service who are entitled to the benefits of this Act and while payments will be made as expeditiously as practicable, it will manifestly take considerable time to write and mail this many checks.

END DRAFT ARMIES, IS PLAN OF MEET

United States Hopes to Abolish Levy in All Nations.

TREATY IS READY FOR HUNS

Lloyd George Announces Document is Finished and Will Be Signed by April—Dotted Line Awaits Signature of Germans.

London, March 12.—Premier Lloyd George and Foreign Secretary Balfour have sent word to their colleagues here that the peace conference has nearly completed its work, the Evening News says it understands.

The draft of the peace treaty already has been finished and will be signed before the end of March. When the Germans are summoned to Paris, the News adds, the treaty will be read to them and they will be invited to sign it.

There will be no discussion with a view to alterations of the principal articles of the treaty. If it is thought necessary, questions involving the adjustment of details will be referred to a special commission.

Paris, March 12.—An investigation of German-Austrian and Hungarian intrigues against the new state of Czechoslovakia, as soon as documentary evidence is received, was decided upon at the meeting of the supreme council.

The official statement issued after the meeting reads:

"The supreme council considered communications from the armistice commission regarding the situation in Poland. At the request of the Czechoslovak republic concerning German-Hungarian intrigues against the new state, the council considered the reports and decided to investigate them as soon as documentary evidence is received.

"The council then discussed the conditions under which the powers with special interests and the states in process of formation should participate in the discussions with the great powers respecting their frontiers."

The decisions of the various boundary commissions are being framed in accordance with the instructions of the supreme council for speedy action by the conference, and it is expected all the reports will be completed by the end of the week.

The commissions have been told that when they could not agree they should submit the reports of various viewpoints, leaving it to the council to make a decision.

The American members of the commission, it is reported, have been coldly judicial and without favoritism, thereby incurring criticisms from partisan claimants almost daily.

American members of the supreme council, it is understood, permitted the military experts to exercise their judgment regarding the proper size and character of the future German army.

In order to have a basis of discussion, the Americans, it is reported, suggested an army of 400,000 men, but only because that was the number mentioned in the first armistice proposal.

The decision of the council to limit Germany to a volunteer 12-year army is regarded by the Americans as likely to lead to consideration by the league of nations when it takes up the subject of the limitation of armaments or the policy of a general prohibition of conscript armies in all nations.

This is on the theory that the great expense of regular long-term armies will be such as automatically to keep down militarism.

The supreme council, in accordance with the decision reached yesterday, today closed the question of the representation of the small nations on the economic and financial commissions by making the following appointments:

Economic Commission.—Representatives of Belgium, Brazil, China, Poland, Portugal, Roumania and Serbia. Financial Commission.—Representatives of Belgium, Greece, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Roumania, Serbia, and one country to be named.

NEW GUN OUTCLASSES "155"

Weapon Known as the 194 is Larger and Shoots Farther—Order Is Placed.

Troy, N. Y., March 12.—The United States government has placed an order with the Watervliet arsenal for a gun to supersede the famous 155-millimeter gun.

The new gun is larger, shoots farther and does more damage. It is called a 194 and two guns were ordered as an experiment.

The gun is eight inches in diameter, 21 feet, 6 inches long, weighs 12 tons, has a range of ten miles and the projectile weighs 175 pounds. It is the most powerful weapon of its size in existence.

Deny Germans Captured Riga. Copenhagen, March 12.—The recently reported capture by Germans of Riga on the Baltic coast is denied in a Berlin dispatch here. The German troops, it is stated, are still a considerable distance from Riga.

REDS TELL OF PLOT

BOLSHEVIKI PLANNED TO SEIZE U. S. ON MAY 1.

Details Given by 15 Russians Arrested at Norfolk—Suspects Held Under Heavy Bail.

Norfolk, Va., March 12.—Fifteen foreigners were arraigned before the United States commissioner here, charged with unlawful agitation. Mike Yensa testified that the leaders of the group, Vacilla Trinitoff and James Lago, came from New York recently to form a Russian colony here and were the organizers of a meeting held Sunday at which speakers urged a gigantic country-wide strike on May day as a beginning toward the overthrow of the United States government.

Alex Selen identified an inflammatory pamphlet, dealing with the proposed strike, which he said he had purchased at the meeting Sunday. Trinitoff and Lago were held in $2,500 bail when the hearing was adjourned until Thursday, being unable to furnish bond. The others were released on bonds of $50 each.

U. S. SOLVES RAIL TANGLE

Hines Says Federal Warrants Will Be Issued to Meet Their Present Needs.

Washington, March 12.—Issuance of federal warrants for amounts due railroad corporations probably will be the method employed by the railroad administration to meet the situation caused by the failure of congress to pass the railroad appropriation bill. Director General Hines stated after a conference with railroad executives and government officials that he was considering this plan. Such warrants would serve as collateral for railroad corporations desiring to make loans through banks and would be taken up by the railroad administration when congress made the appropriation needed.

It was estimated that $701,697,602 would be needed by the railroad administration up to June 30, 1919.

HIGH COST HINDERS BUILDING

Wages Not Expected to Fall Until General Prices Drop, Says Statement.

Washington, March 12.—High prices of materials and high wages remain as the two most important factors in preventing increased building activities, the department of labor said after compiling the answers to questionnaires from 74 cities.

Fifty-seven of the cities reporting showed a pressing demand for buildings. Most of these emphasize the shortage of dwellings and apartment houses.

The conclusion of building industry organizations, the statement says, is that no decrease in wages can be expected until the general level of prices drops.

WOMEN HELP IN BUTCHERY

German Fight Like Wild Beasts—No Quarter Given by Either Side.

London, March 12.—Fighting is still going on in Berlin with great fury, according to unaltered reports received in Copenhagen. Witnesses of the fighting say that both the Spartacists and government soldiers acted like wild beasts.

Hostilities continue in the northern and northeastern sections of Berlin, and the government troops are killing all prisoners who fall into their hands. Women, the reports add, participated in the cruelties with as much desperation as the men.

RAPS MILITANT SUFFRAGISTS

Kentuckians Swat Women Who Create Furor, and Praise Wilson for His Stand.

Louisville, Ky., March 12.—Resolutions denouncing the attitude of militant suffragists as "fatuous, unwomanly and reprehensible" were adopted at the annual convention of the Kentucky Equal Rights association here. Another resolution praised President Wilson for his "unswerving loyalty to the cause of the enfranchisement of women" and for bringing the nation safely through the war "to the dawn of a new day of peace founded on mercy, justice and good will."

BAKER, DANIELS, PERSHING AND SIMS TO MEET AIDS

Secretary of Navy Will Confer With Experts and Decide on Best Type of Fighting Craft.

Washington, March 10.—President Wilson probably will be able to meet in Paris early in April with Secretaries Daniels and Baker, civilian heads of the navy and army, respectively; Vice Admiral Sims, commander of the overseas naval forces, and Gen. Pershing, commander of the American expeditionary forces. While so far as known no plans have been made for such unprecedented meeting, officials pointed out in connection with the announcement that Secretary Baker expects to visit France soon after April 1, that such a conference could be held.

The Alexander square still looks as battered as a front line in a bloody section of the western front. The police prefecture has been almost completely wrecked by explosives.

The latest casualty figures of the revolt are: Killed, 300; wounded, 500. The American missions are safe.

Copenhagen, March 10.—Gas was used effectively in the attack, according to the German Gazette of Berlin, by which the government troops raised the siege of police headquarters and cleared Alexanderplatz of Spartacist strikers.

Fighting has ceased in the center of the city, but continues in the Moabit section. The government troops suffered slight losses and captured many prisoners.

To relieve the garrison of the police headquarters the government troops turned their heavy artillery against the houses near by. Three shells hit a house used as insurgent headquarters.

The labor federation at a meeting decided to call off the general strike, effective at once.

Mr. Hines also explained that every effort would be made to continue operations as usual, to avoid laying off employees and to finance the railroads through private loans or through advances from the war finance corporation.

Although the railroad administration's program of capital expenditures for extensions, improvements and new buildings may be modified, the government will try to continue the projects planned through the next few months.

VESSEL IS SAVED BY TUGS

Lost Her Course a Score of Times Also the Steering Gear—Men Call Experience Worse Than Battle.

Newport News, March 11.—More than 1,000 Yanks, including many Illinois men, disembarked from the transport Buford, which was conveyed into port by tugs which rescued her in a terrific gale off Cape Henry.

After floundering in heavy seas for 21 days, losing her course a score of times, she lost her steering gear, and when she sent an S. O. S. call she was being steered by hand, an almost impossible task in the sort of weather she met out there.

This is said to have been the worst trip she ever made. Trouble cropped up when she had been out of Bordeaux only a few days. An officer who returned last week on another boat stated that two days out of port his vessel got a wireless from the Buford, asking them to give her her bearings, as she had lost her direction in the heavy seas.

Officers returning declared the experiences in the fighting zones were tame compared to the battle with the heavy waves they had just gone through without relief for three weeks.

For many days the vessel had been approaching the coast, they said, while they didn't know exactly where they were, or whether they would be able to reach land. Fuel was almost exhausted, and the tax on the strength of the crew and the passengers was said to be terrific.

The Buford brought ten casual companies, representing nearly every state and in the crowd were men who had seen service in every big fight during the closing months of the war.

The units aboard included a detachment of the Sixth coast artillery for Fort Logan, Colo.; a detachment of the Sixth heavy mobile ordnance repair shop for Camp Grant, and another for Columbus (O.) barracks; casual companies for Arkansas, Illinois, Minnesota, Tennessee and Texas; part of Company M, Three Hundred and Forty-fifth infantry, Eighty-seventh (Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas) division; a negro casual company for Virginia, and scattered casuals for Illinois and Ohio.

He added that the questions of the disposition of the vessels would be considered further on his return to Paris.

A Single Remedy Often Cures Many Diseases

BY VALENTINE MOTT, M. D.

It is almost impossible to give a list of the endless diseases that follow indigestion. Perhaps a whole column in this newspaper would be required to print them all. You eat to keep alive—to supply blood and flesh and bone and muscle and brain. It is easy to see that if your food is not digested and taken up by the delicate organs and distributed where it is needed, a disease of some sort is sure to come. Dyspepsia is a common symptom, and so are liver complaint, loss of flesh, nervousness, bad memory, dizziness, sleeplessness, no appetite. Many times, when neglected, indigestion results in coughs, throat diseases, catarrh, bronchitis and even more dangerous things. And all these disorders arise because the food is not properly digested for the stomach. It is plain even to a child that relief and cure are to be had only by setting up a healthy condition in the stomach. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes an amazing total of thousands.

I know of no advice better than this: Begin a home treatment today with this good vegetable medicine. It will show you better than I can tell you what it will do. When taking Golden Medical Discovery, you can rest assured of one very important thing—it contains neither alcohol nor opiates. There is nothing in it but standard roots and herbs that possess curative properties of a high order. A safe medicine is the only kind you can afford to take.

THE LIGHT IN THE CLEARING A TALE OF THE NORTH COUNTRY IN THE TIME OF SILAS WRIGHT

By IRVING BACHELLER

AUTHOR OF EBEN HOLDEN, DRI AND I, DARREL OF THE BLESSED ISLES, KEEPING UP WITH LIZZIE, ETC., ETC.

BART HEARS SOME STARTLING NEWS ABOUT THE SON OF THE MONEY LENDER.

Synopsis.—Barton Baynes, an orphan, goes to live with his uncle, Peabody Baynes, and his Aunt Deel on a farm on Rattleroad, in a neighborhood called Lickitysplit, about the year 1828. He meets Sally Dunkelberg, about his own age, but socially of a class above the Bayneses, and is fascinated by her pretty face and fine clothes. Barton also meets Roving Kate, known in the neighborhood as the "Silent Woman." Amos Grimshaw, a young son of the richest man in the township, is a visitor at the Baynes home and Roving Kate tells the boys' fortunes, predicting a bright future for Bartoa and death on the gallows for Amos. Barton meets Silas Wright, Jr., a man prominent in public affairs, who evinces much interest in the boy. Barton learns of the power of money when Mr. Grimshaw threatens to take the Baynes farm unless a note which he holds is paid. Now in his sixteenth year, Barton, on his way to the post office at Canton, meets a stranger and they ride together. They encounter a highwayman, who shoots and kills the stranger. Barton's horse throws him and runs away. As the murderer bends over the stranger Barton throws a stone, which he observes wounds the thief, who makes off at once. A few weeks later Bart leaves home to enter Michael Hackett's school at Canton.

"There comes Colonel Hand," said Mrs. Hackett as she looked out of the window. "The poor lonely Whig! He has nothing to do these days but sit around the tavern."

Colonel Hand was a surly-looking man beyond middle age, with large eyes that showed signs of dissipation. He had a small, dark tuft beneath his lower lip and thin, black, untidy hair.

"What do you think has happened?" he asked as he looked down upon us as we asked a majestic movement of his hand. "The son o' that old Bucktail, Ben Grimshaw, has been arrested and brought to jail for murder."

"For murder?" asked Mr. and Mrs. Hackett in one breath.

"For bloody murder, sir," the colonel went on. "It was the shooting of that man in the town o' Ballybeen a few weeks ago. Things have come to a pretty pass in this country, I should say. Talk about law and order; we don't know what it means here and why should we? The party in power is avowedly opposed to it—yes, sir. It has fattened upon bribery and corruption. Do you think that the son o' Ben Grimshaw will receive punishment even if he is proved guilty? Not at all. He will be protected—you mark my words."

He bowed and left us. When the door had closed behind him Mr. Hackett said:

"Another victim horned by the Snadragon! If a man were to be slain by a bear back in the woods Colonel Hand would look for guilt in the opposition party. Michael Henry, whatever the truth may be regarding the poor boy in jail, we are in no way responsible. Away with sadness! What is that?"

Mr. Hackett inclined his ear and then added: "Michael Henry says that he may be innocent and that we had better go and see if we can help him. Now I hadn't thought o' that. Had you, Mary?"

"No," the girl answered.

"We must be letting Mike go ahead of us always," said her father. "You saw the crime, I believe," turning to me.

I told them all I knew of it.

"Upon my word, I like you, my brave lad," said the schoolmaster. "I heard of all this and decided that you would be a help to Michael Henry and a creditable student. Come, let us go and pay our compliments to the senator."

The schoolmaster and I went over to Mr. Wright's house—a white, frame building which had often been pointed out to me.

Mrs. Wright, a fine-looking lady who met us at the door, said that the senator had gone over to the mill with his wheelbarrow.

"We've plenty of time and we'll wait for him," said the schoolmaster.

"I see him!" said little John as he and Ruth ran to the gate and down the rough plank walk to meet him.

We saw him coming a little way down the street in his shirt-sleeves with his bow in front of him. He stopped and lifted little John in his arms, and after a moment put him down and embraced Ruth.

"Well, I see you still love the tender embrace of the wheelbarrow," said Mr. Hackett as we approached the senator.

"My embrace is the tenderer of the two," the latter laughed with a look at his hands.

He recognized me and seized my two hands and shook them as he said: "Upon my word, here is my friend Bart. I was not looking for you here."

He put his hand on my head, now higher than his shoulder, and said: "I was not looking for you here."

He asked about my aunt and uncle and expressed joy at learning that I was now under Mr. Hackett.

"I shall be here for a number of weeks," he said, "and I shall want to see you often. Maybe we'll go hunting some Saturday."

We bade him good morning and he went on with his wheelbarrow, which was loaded, I remember, with stout sacks of meal and flour.

We went to the school at half past eight. What a thrilling place it was with its 78 children and its three rooms. How noisy they were as they waited in the schoolyard for the bell to ring!

I stood by the doorknob looking very foolish, I dare say, for I knew not what to do with myself. My legs encased in the tow breeches felt as if they were on fire. I saw that most of the village boys wore boughten clothes and fine boots. I looked down at my own leather and was a tower of shame on a foundation of greased cowhide. Sally Dunkelberg came in with some other girls and pretended not to see me. That was the hardest blow I suffered.

Among the handsome, well-dressed boys of the village was Henry Willis—the boy who had stolen my watermelon. I had never forgiven him for that or for the killing of my little hen.

The bell rang and we marched into the big room, while a fat girl with crinkly hair played on a melodeon. Henry and another boy tried to shove me out of line and a big paper wall struck the side of my head as we were marching in and after we were seated a cross-eyed, freckled girl in a red dress made a face at me.

It was, on the whole, the unhappiest day of my life. During recess I slipped a boy's face for calling me a rabbit and the two others who came

"Hello, Grimshaw," he said sternly. "Step out here."

It all went to my heart—the manners of the sheriff so like the cold iron of his keys and doors—the dim candle light, the pale, frightened youth who walked toward us. We shook his hand and he said that he was glad to see us. I saw the scar under his left ear and reaching out upon his cheek, which my stone had made, and knew that he bore the mark of Cain.

He asked if he could see me alone and the sheriff shook his head and said sternly:

"Against the rules."

"Amos, I've a boy o' my own an' I feel for ye," said the schoolmaster. "I'm going to come here, now and then, to cheer ye up and bring ye some books to read. If there's any word of advice I can give ye—let me know. Have ye a lawyer?"

"There's one coming tomorrow."

"Don't say a word about the case, boy, to anyone but your lawyer—mind that."

We left him and went to our home and beds. I to spend half the night thinking of my discovery, since which, for some reason, I had no doubt of the guilt of Amos, but I spoke not of it to anyone and the secret worried me.

Next morning on my way to school I passed a scene more strange and memorable than any in my long experience. I saw the shabby figure of old Benjamin Grimshaw walking in the side path. His hands were in his pockets, his eyes bent upon the ground, his lips moving as if he were in deep thought. Roving Kate, the ragged, silent woman who, for the fortune of Amos, had drawn a gibbet, the shadow of which was now upon him, walked slowly behind the money lender pointing at him with her bony forefinger. Her stern eyes watched him as the cat watches when its prey is near it. She did not notice me. Silently, her feet wrapped in rags, she walked behind the man, always pointing at him. When he stopped she stopped. When he resumed his slow progress she followed. It thrilled me, partly because I had begun to believe in the weird, mysterious power of the Silent Woman. I had twenty minutes to spare and so I turned into the main street behind and close by them. I saw him stop and buy some crackers and an apple and a piece of cheese. Meanwhile she stood pointing at him. He saw, but gave no heed to her. He walked along the street in front of the stores, she following as before. How patiently she followed!

I started for the big schoolhouse and a number of boys joined me with pleasant words.

Sally ran past us with that lowly Willis boy, who carried her books for her. His father had gone into the grocery business and Henry's to help him went away full of fear and astonishment, for I had the strength of a young moose in me those days. After that they began to make friends with me.

In the noon hour a man came to me in the schoolyard with a subpoena for the examination of Amos Grimshaw and explained its meaning.

While I was talking with this man Sally passed me walking with another girl and said:

"Hello, Bart!"

I observed that Henry Willis joined them and walked down the street at the side of Sally. I got my first pang of jealousy then.

When school was out that afternoon Mr. Hackett said I could have an hour to see the sights of the village, so I set out, feeling much depressed. I walked toward the house of Mr. Wright and saw him digging potatoes in the garden and went in. I knew that he was my friend.

"Well, Bart, how do you like school?" he asked. "Not very well," I answered. "Of course not! It's new to you now, and you miss your aunt and uncle. Stuck to it. You'll make friends and get interested before long."

"I want to go home," I declared. "Now let's look at the compass," he suggested. "You're lost for a minute, and like all lost people you're heading the wrong way. Don't be misled by selfishness. Forget what you want to do and think of what we want you to do. We want you to make a man of yourself. You must do it for the sake of those dear people who have done so much for you. The needle points toward the schoolhouse yonder."

He went on with his work, and as I walked away I understood that the needle he referred to was my conscience.

I went about my chores. There was to be no more wavering in my conduct. At the supper table Mr. Hackett kept us laughing with songs and jests and stories. The boy John, having been reproved for rapid eating, hurried his spoon upon the floor.

"Those in favor of his punishment will please say aye?" said the schoolmaster.

I remember that we had a divided house on that important question.

The schoolmaster said: "Michael Henry wishes him to be forgiven on promise of better conduct, but for the next offense he shall ride the badger."

This meant lying for a painful moment across his father's knee.

The promise was given and our merry-making resumed. The district attorney, whom I had met before, came to see me after supper and asked more questions and advised me to talk with no one about the shooting without his consent. Soon he went away, and after I had learned my lessons Mr. Hackett said:

"Let us walk up to the jail and spend a few minutes with Amos."

We hurried to the jail. The sheriff, a stout-built, stern-faced man, admitted us.

"Can we see the Grimshaw boy?" Mr. Hackett inquired.

"I guess so," he answered as he lazily rose from his chair and took down a bunch of large keys which had been hanging on the wall. "His father has just left."

He spoke in a low, solemn tone which impressed me deeply as he put a lighted candle in the hand of the schoolmaster. He led us through a door into a narrow corridor. He thrust a big key into the lock of a heavy iron grating and threw it open and bade us step in. We entered an ill-smelling stone-floored room with a number of cells against its rear wall. He locked the door behind us. I saw a face and figure in the dim candle light, behind the grated door of one of these cells. How lonely and dejected and helpless was the expression of that figure! The sheriff went to the door and unlocked it.

"Hello, Grimshaw," he said sternly. "Step out here."

It all went to my heart—the manners of the sheriff so like the cold iron of his keys and doors—the dim candle light, the pale, frightened youth who walked toward us. We shook his hand and he said that he was glad to see us. I saw the scar under his left ear and reaching out upon his cheek, which my stone had made, and knew that he bore the mark of Cain.

He asked if he could see me alone and the sheriff shook his head and said sternly:

"Against the rules."

"Amos, I've a boy o' my own an' I feel for ye," said the schoolmaster. "I'm going to come here, now and then, to cheer ye up and bring ye some books to read. If there's any word of advice I can give ye—let me know. Have ye a lawyer?"

"There's one coming tomorrow."

"Don't say a word about the case, boy, to anyone but your lawyer—mind that."

We left him and went to our home and beds. I to spend half the night thinking of my discovery, since which, for some reason, I had no doubt of the guilt of Amos, but I spoke not of it to anyone and the secret worried me.

Next morning on my way to school I passed a scene more strange and memorable than any in my long experience. I saw the shabby figure of old Benjamin Grimshaw walking in the side path. His hands were in his pockets, his eyes bent upon the ground, his lips moving as if he were in deep thought. Roving Kate, the ragged, silent woman who, for the fortune of Amos, had drawn a gibbet, the shadow of which was now upon him, walked slowly behind the money lender pointing at him with her bony forefinger. Her stern eyes watched him as the cat watches when its prey is near it. She did not notice me. Silently, her feet wrapped in rags, she walked behind the man, always pointing at him. When he stopped she stopped. When he resumed his slow progress she followed. It thrilled me, partly because I had begun to believe in the weird, mysterious power of the Silent Woman. I had twenty minutes to spare and so I turned into the main street behind and close by them. I saw him stop and buy some crackers and an apple and a piece of cheese. Meanwhile she stood pointing at him. He saw, but gave no heed to her. He walked along the street in front of the stores, she following as before. How patiently she followed!

I started for the big schoolhouse and a number of boys joined me with pleasant words.

Sally ran past us with that lowly Willis boy, who carried her books for her. His father had gone into the grocery business and Henry's to help him went away full of fear and astonishment, for I had the strength of a young moose in me those days. After that they began to make friends with me.

In the noon hour a man came to me in the schoolyard with a subpoena for the examination of Amos Grimshaw and explained its meaning.

While I was talking with this man Sally passed me walking with another girl and said:

"Hello, Bart!"

I observed that Henry Willis joined them and walked down the street at the side of Sally. I got my first pang of jealousy then.

When school was out that afternoon Mr. Hackett said I could have an hour to see the sights of the village, so I set out, feeling much depressed. I walked toward the house of Mr. Wright and saw him digging potatoes in the garden and went in. I knew that he was my friend.

boughten clothes. I couldn't tell Sally how mean he was. I was angry and decided not to speak to her until she spoke to me. I got along better in school, although there was some tittering when I recited, probably because I had a broader dialect and bigger boots than the boys in the village.

CHAPTER IX.

I Meet President Van Buren and Am Cross-Examined by Mr. Grimshaw.

The days went easier after that. The boys took me into their play and some of them were most friendly. I had a swift foot and a good eye as well as a strong arm, and could hold my own at three old cat—a kind of baseball which we played in the schoolyard. Saturday came. As we were sitting down at the table that morning the younger children clung to the knees of Mr. Hackett and begged him to take them up the river in a boat.

"Good Lord! What wilt thou give me when I grow childless?" he exclaimed with his arms around them. "That was the question of Abraham, and it often comes to me. Of course we shall go. But hark! Let us hear what the green chair has to say."

There was a moment of silence and then he went on with a merry laugh. "Right ye are, Michael Henry! You are always right, my boy—God bless your soul! We shall take Bart with us an' doughnuts an' cheese an' cookies an' dried meat for all."

From that moment I date the beginning of my love for the occupant of the green chair in the home of Michael Hackett. Those good people were Catholics and I a Protestant and yet this Michael Henry always insisted upon the most delicate consideration for my faith and feelings.

"I promised to spend the morning in the field with Mr. Wright, if I may have your consent, sir," I said.

"Then we shall console ourselves, knowing that you are in better company," said Mr. Hackett.

Mr. Dunkelberg called at the house in Ashery lane to see me after breakfast.

"Bart, if you will come with me I should like to order some store clothes and boots for you," he said in his squeaky voice.

For a moment I knew not how to answer him. Nettled as I had been by Sally's treatment of me, the offer was like rubbing ashes on the soreness of my spirit.

I blushed and surveyed my garments and said:

"I guess I look pretty bad, don't I?"

"You look all right, but I thought maybe you would feel better in softer raiment, especially if you care to go around much with the young people. I am an old friend of the family and I guess it would be proper for me to buy the clothes for you. When you are older you can buy a suit for me, some time, if you care to."

It should be understood that well-to-do people in the towns were more particular about their dress those days than now.

"I'll ask my aunt and uncle about it," I proposed.

"That's all right," he answered. "I'm going to drive to your house this afternoon and your uncle wishes you to go with me. We are all to have a talk with Mr. Grimshaw."

He left me and I went over to Mr. Wright's.

They told me that he was cutting corn in the back lot, where I found him.

"Mr. Dunkelberg came this morning and wanted to buy me some new clothes and boots," I said.

The senator stopped work and stood looking at me with his hands upon his hips.

"I wouldn't let him do it if I were you," he said thoughtfully.

Just then I saw a young man come running toward us in the distant field. Mr. Wright took out his compass.

"Look here," he said, "you see the needle points due north."

He took a lodestone out of his pocket, and holding it near the compass moved it back and forth. The needle followed it.

The young man came up to us breathing deeply. Perspiration was rolling off his face. He was much excited and spoke with some difficulty.

"Senator Wright," he gasped, "Mrs. Wright sent me down to tell you that President Van Buren is at the house."

I remember vividly the look of mild amusement in the senator's face and the serene calmness with which he looked at the young man and said to him:

"Tell Mrs. Wright to make him comfortable in our easiest chair and to say to the president that I shall be up directly."

Grimshaw seeks by an offer of a bribe to Uncle Peabody to prevent Bart from telling what he knows about the guilt of Amos. How Uncle Peabody and Bart received this offer is told in the next installment.

WORK is a PLEASURE

with a Colt Cooking and Lighting Plant, one that will give you a bright light in every room in the house and barn, and a stove and iron in the kitchen, to make house work a pleasure without the use of high speed machinery or noises around your buildings. There are hundreds of thousands in use all over the United States, and are on the permitted list of the National Board of Fire Underwriters under Class A and are also endorsed by a good many responsible old line insurance companies as a safe light and the gas is non-poisonous and no one will be over-come from it.

All lights are equipped to turn on without matches, while the gas range is operated exactly as are similar ranges in city homes everywhere. This is unquestionably the most desirable, practical and economical lighting and cooking service available for country home use—a claim amply attested by the fact that the Carbide Plant always has and still does out-sell all rival "light systems" after fifteen years of strenuous competition.

These plants are sold direct from the factory to you by a field representative; by this you save the dealer's profits and the cost of a plant complete with stove, iron and fixtures and installed ready for use, is very low. Liberty Bonds accepted at par.

FRANTIC WITH PAIN Long Suffering From Kidney Trouble More Than Words Can Describe. Doan's Brought Health and Happiness.

Mrs. Anna Thorsen, 290 South St., Stamford, Conn., says: "I hadn't any more strength than a child, and after sweeping my back hurt me more and more. My head aches were so bad it seemed as though my head would fall off. My back was being torn into shreds and I would finally lose track of everything and lie in a stupor for hours. I felt I had to keep going or lose my mind and I kept up often when I trembled all over with weakness. My feet were swollen and every bone in my body seemed to ache. My fingers got almost as rigid as pieces of wood and the knuckles swelled. The kidney secretions were dark colored, scanty and terribly burning. I suffered more than words can describe. I finally began using Doan's Kidney Pills. I believe with all my heart that they kept me out of the grave. I am well, and happy after going through enough pain to drive me frantic. Doan's saved my life. After coming to me this 13th day of Sept., 1915.

ICE MACHINES For making ice and refrigeration for all purposes. Manufactured by BAKER ICE MACHINE CO. 1911 Nicholas St. Omaha, Neb.

Badger State Happenings

Appleton—That Outagamie county did her bit to help win the war is shown by the fact that 2,123 boys were contributed to the American army. Of these 354 were volunteers in the Army, 88 volunteers in the navy, 4 were marines, and 1,653 helped to fill up the ranks in the national army. Ten women are in the American Red Cross service in European hospitals, while three are on duty in hospitals in cantonments. Twenty-six women enrolled in the student nurse reserve, twelve of whom were called into service and are now training in hospitals in this country. Twenty-two of the men who left their homes in this country to fight died in action, 12 were reported missing, 109 were wounded, and 23 died of disease and other causes.

Superior—Workmen who are not American nor desire to become American citizens are being discharged at Superior Shipbuilding Co.'s yard, to give room for Americans or declarants. Soldiers especially are given preference. The Americanization census has so far shown that 500 men employed were neither citizens nor declarants and seventy refused to become American citizens. Men are applying in large numbers at the clerk of court's office. A similar census is to be taken at the Globe and Whitney Brothers' yard.

Merrill—A joint committee, three appointed by Mayor D. B. Reinhardt, and three by Joe A. Childsen, chairman of the county council of defense, are making arrangements for celebrating the return of soldiers from the war. Definite plans for the celebrations have not been made, but it is thought that the first celebration will be held on Memorial day, another on July 4, and another during the early fall, when practically every Lincoln county soldier will have returned to his home.

Rhineland—Star Lake, Vilas county, one of northern Wisconsin's abandoned mill towns, is soon to hum again with activity. The Stange lumber company is to build a sawmill there and will convert into lumber what is said to be the largest tract of white pine timber left in Wisconsin. The company will also operate many miles of logging railroads. From fifteen to twenty-five years will be required to saw the timber.

Fond du Lac—Mr. and Mrs. Martin Kaeding, Marblehead, pioneer celebrants of Fond du Lac county, residents there, golden wedding anniversary with six of their eight children present, besides grandchildren and friends, Miss Milly Kaeding, a daughter, is serving with the American forces in France; Albert, a son, is in government service in Seattle.

Green Bay—A fourth paper mill is to be built in Green Bay next spring, it was announced by A. E. Coffrin, who is to be general manager of the Fort Howard Paper company. The capacity will be fifteen tons a day. About 100 people will be employed. When the new mill is in operation the total value of the product of the four mills will be about $4,000,000.

Prairie du Chien—Nine gold stars appear among the 242 on this city's service flag, which has just been raised with appropriate ceremonies. The stars include two for women who died in the service. They were Miss Nettie Erdenberger, Janet Nurse at Camp Dodge, and Miss Janet Marner, lieutenant in a Red Cross hospital in France.

Appleton—Four of her fifteen grandsons acted as pallbearers at the funeral of Mrs. Mary Turner. They are Roy, Louis, Earl and Lester Heller. Twenty-four great grandchildren, two sons and two daughters also survive. Mrs. Turner died following a fourth paralytic stroke.

La Crosse—The county will spend about $152,000 on roads this summer planning to complete the highways connecting this city with Sparta on the transcontinental run, and also to Galesville and Virouqua.

Rhineland—The Eagle River Telephone company has been authorized by the railroad commission to increase the rentals on telephones.

Marinette—B. E. Bliss and his son Everett B. Bliss, graduate of the col. Wisconsin, have opened a creamery at Florence. Both are Marinette men.

Rhineland—Wenzel Kopp lost his right eye by the bursting of a water glass at the Merrill Woodenware company's plant.

Rhineland—Oneida county farmers last year grew 585 acres of spring wheat as compared with 125 acres in 1917.

Neenah—The Hotel Neenah, the first hostelry ever established here, and which has an interesting history, will close its doors on April 1. The property was recently purchased by a Neenah hardware firm and the building is to be remodeled and made into a house furnishing store.

Shawano—W. A. Loughlin, first supervisor teacher of Shawano county, died at Ashland, after an operation. His body was shipped to Appleton where the funeral was held.

Madison—That the total production of barley in Wisconsin in 1918 was the largest in the history of the state is shown by the statistics which will be ready for distribution within the month by the Wisconsin Co-operative Crop Reporting Service. The acreage of barley was 710,000 acres compared to 600,000 in 1917. The acreage in 1918 was, however, less than any year from 1906 to 1913. The total production was 25,383,000 bushels, compared with 19,200,000 bushels in 1917.

Sparta—About 150 men are now at work at Camp Robinson, constructing buildings to house the explosives to be stored here. Sixty portable ware-houses will be put up, twenty feet wide and sixty feet long. These will be located in the hills, about four miles from camp. They will be set about eighty yards apart. When completed they will be enclosed by a fence twelve miles long, and this portion of the camp grounds will be closely guarded.

Sturgeon Bay—When the ice broke up on Green Bay fishermen in the southern part of the county had some exciting experiences. Harry Sawdo and William Schneider of Little Sturgeon were carried across Green bay on an ice floe and had a narrow escape from death. After spending nearly twenty-four hours on the floe they landed near Marinette. Several thousand dollars' worth of nets were lost when the ice broke up.

Janesville—Howard Jones, a Camp Grant soldier, caused a near riot in this city when he begged for a fight. Anxious to keep the soldier in good humor, a 16-year-old youth decided to accommodate him and proceeded to give the soldier a masterful trimming. Not satisfied, the soldier decided to "lick" a "cop," and as a result was meekly led to a cell in the police station, where he was given a chance to sober up.

Shawano—Wayne Hagen has arrived home from overseas. Late in August he was struck by a bullet. In his pocket was a screwdriver and a large French coin. The bullet hit his side, but the fact that the pieces were there saved his life. He has the bent screwdriver and coin now to show how close a call he had.

West Bend—County Agent George A. Blank, in co-operation with the Washington County Holstein Breeders' association, conducted a pure bred bull sale at West Bend. Sixteen pure bred bulls were sold. Arrangements are under way for a similar sale to be held at Hartford at the later date, and for a battle against the scrub throughout the entire county.

Rhineland—While the parents were away from home Amelia Lybovitz, 4 years old, was accidentally shot to death by her 6-year-old brother. The tragedy occurred on the Lybovitz farm in the town of Sugar Camp. The boy found the revolver in a bureau drawer, playfully pointed it at his sister and fired.

Marinette—Marinette county has a four cornered race for probate judge this spring. The candidates are Judge A. E. Davis, Attorney C. C. Daily and Attorney John Franke. Mrs. Gertrude Schwittay has no opposition for the office of county superintendent of schools.

Antigo—Because of the mild weather the city waterworks pumped 11,656,550 gallons less water in the last three months than in the corresponding months one year ago. In extreme cold weather there is great wastage because taps are left open to prevent pipes from freezing.

Neenah—After having been gassed in action over there, Harry Stroetz, private in the first division, has arrived home to remain, having received an honorable discharge. Although he was gassed in one of the early battles Private Stroetz says that he still feels the effect of the burns.

Rhineland—The Eagle River Telephone company has been authorized by the railroad commission to increase the rentals on telephones.

Marinette—B. E. Bliss and his son Everett B. Bliss, graduate of the col. Wisconsin, have opened a creamery at Florence. Both are Marinette men.

Rhineland—Wenzel Kopp lost his right eye by the bursting of a water glass at the Merrill Woodenware company's plant.

Rhineland—Oneida county farmers last year grew 585 acres of spring wheat as compared with 125 acres in 1917.

Neenah—The Hotel Neenah, the first hostelry ever established here, and which has an interesting history, will close its doors on April 1. The property was recently purchased by a Neenah hardware firm and the building is to be remodeled and made into a house furnishing store.

ASSEMBLY KILLS HANSON MEASURE

Asked Repeal of Personal Property Offset Income Tax.

HEEDS PLEA OF BUSINESS

New Bill Is Being Drafted by Senator Severson Which Will Permit Inspection of Public Officials.

Madison—The Wisconsin assembly killed the Hanson bill to repeal the personal property offset to the income tax, by a vote of 53 to 31. The bill was killed at the insistence of the business interests of the state, which declared it would double the already heavy burden of a state income tax in competition with rivals from outside the state. Meanwhile the senate is thoroughly stirred and almost evenly divided over the question of repealing the present law requiring that state income tax records be kept secret. After sharp words and a hot fight the senate has sent back to the committee the bill to repeal the secrecy clause.

It is understood that a new bill will be drafted by Senator Severson which will permit the inspection of public officials, but will prohibit idle curiosity seekers from examining them.

By a vote of 52 to 25 the assembly engrossed the Cooe bill which will require foreign corporations to pay $1 per $100 on their authorized capital. This places them on the same footing as domestic corporations. The judiciary committee had unfavorably recommended the bill. This measure was introduced by Assemblyman C. C. Cooe at the request of Secretary of State Hull, after the supreme court had held the present law limited the state to charge only on "issued" capital.

Governor Phillip sent to the senate the renomination of Carl D. Jenkinson to succeed himself as railroad commissioner. Under the new rule of the senate, according to which the governor's nominations are laid over for ten days and then considered in committee as a whole, the senate will not be able to act on the nomination until the coming week. The term for which Jenkinson is appointed ends the first Monday of February, 1925.

The assembly took another unusual step when it refused to print, despite Socialist pleas, a petition of 1,000 residents of South Kaukauna asking that the legislature pass laws allowing the organization of trades unions, an eight-hour day and removal of the injunction weapon against strikes.

In the senate the time lately was devoted to Milwaukee legislation, but the passage of a bill to make the teachers' salary minimum $800 for that city is of state-wide interest as creating a new standard of salary for the state to follow. Senator Bennett introduced a resolution asking that income tax figures be given in confidence to the committee on corporations in aid of the proposal to run down profiteers in Wisconsin war contracts.

Senator Jenning introduced a bill to change the eugenic marriage law by requiring women to file affidavit of hygienic condition. Men must, under this bill, provide a physician's certificate of fitness to marry as hitherto.

There will be no immediate decision by the legislative committee on Attorney C. Cochems, Milwaukee, who appeared for Congressman-elect Victor F. Berger in the trial of the five Socialists sentenced by Federal Judge K. M. Landis to 20 years' imprisonment for violation of the espionage law, committed before the assembly judiciary committee for the Ehlman joint resolution memorializing congress to extend amnesty to political prisoners.

"The political law should not remain on the statute books one minute longer," declared Mr. Cochems. "All the convictions under it were not honest convictions. Some of them were the fruits of bitter passion. Men, law-abiding and men who loved the country and its flag as surely as you men of this committee do, were written down with degrees of sentences meted out to the foulest criminals."

"The treatment of some of these men after their conviction has become acknowledged to be scandalous in the var department, recognized by President Wilson and Secretary of War Baker. Today the public dare not think. The press does not dare to speak. Cowards shrink in fear and brave men hesitate to tell the truth."

Frank G. Smith, representing the Association of Commerce, Milwaukee, spoke against the resolution. No report will be made by the committee for a month, it was announced.

Two hundred representatives of Wisconsin organized labor conferred in Madison three days this week on matters pertaining to federated labor unions. The conference opened Monday with a meeting of delegates from 30 carpenters' unions to organize a state council of carpenters. The State Federation of Labor and Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners are asked to co-operate. The conference, in addition to discussing pending legislation, will hear and review the reconstruction program.

Appropriations Cannot Be Made.

Several proposed appropriations, in bills up for hearings before assembly and senate finance committees, are unconstitutional, according to an opinion rendered by Attorney General J. J. Blaine to B. A. Kiehefer, secretary of the state board of public affairs.

The list of invalid appropriations includes that to the family of Bill Purdy, the attorney general ruling that appropriations can be voted by the legislature only for purposes of common interest as taxpayers can be required to pay taxes for such purposes. The Purdy interest is private and therefore illegal, it is held.

The proposed increases in salaries for M. E. Blumenfeld, superintendent of public property, and for George W. Weigle, dairy and food commissioner, are invalid because such increases can not be granted during term of office. Thus it implies increase can be granted to take effect should Mr. Weigle be reappointed, or for his successor.

Another important appropriation bill which would be illegal, according to the attorney general, is that by Senator Buck, appropriating $34,500 for such increased salaries for teachers as may be authorized by normal school regents. These teachers already are under contract, entered into for the school year, and the constitution does not permit increases for services after services shall have been rendered or contract entered into, it is held.

Proposed increases for court reporters are upheld, as they are appointed under a special section and the appointing judges or successors may remove them at pleasure.

The Perry bill for increases for legislative employees is upheld, as they are not classified as officers, but increases must affect services rendered after act goes into effect.

Funds Rushed to Budgeters.

The unusual circumstances of action being taken on a bill, leaving details to be introduced, and introducing a bill and enacting it into a law to sanction such action, occurred at the capitol.

An appeal directed to Governor Phillip, recently came from the Wisconsin Society of New York, asking that money be rushed there to aid in caring for returning Wisconsin soldiers. The telegram said Wisconsin men were returning so rapidly and there was so much pressing work, that quarters were required, for which the society had not sufficient funds.

Governor Phillip got in touch with Carl Kurtenacker, chairman of the assembly finance committee, and prompt assurance was given that a bill would be introduced to appropriate for the emergency fund.

The sum of $5,000 was obtained in the nature of a loan, and telegraphed to New York with assurances that more would be forthcoming if necessary.

Both houses of the legislature later passed a bill appropriating $5,000 to conduct headquarters in New York to take care of Wisconsin soldiers.

County Fair Managers Meet.

The Association of Wisconsin Fairs, composed of county fair secretaries, re-elected M. M. Parkinson, Madison, president, and C. M. Harte, Watertown, secretary-treasurer. C. W. Harvey, Beaver Dam, was named vice president. A new executive and legislative committee consists of the officers and Secretaries C. A. Ingram Durand, and Oscar Roessler, Jefferson.

The 1920 meeting will be at Wausau. The secretaries will work for legislative action to authorize county boards contributing to $10,000 to support fairs, instead of $2,500, present maximum. Plans for efficient advertising, for lessening obligations of horsemen and for more educational features were taken up.

"Fairs have prospered by means of comparisons and premiums," said Oliver E. Remy, secretary of the state fair. "The future is brighter with the government's wartime recognition of fairs' value."

Warn Farmers of Stock Plague.

Dane county seems to be one of the centers, according to veterinarians, for hemorrhagic septicemia, of which 107 distinct outbreaks in Wisconsin last year were reported to the state-veterinarian.

The new infection, attended with high mortality, has appeared on several farms close to Madison and it is especially dangerous to cattle, sheep and swine. Poultry also is susceptible. The disease is sometimes termed stockyard fever in cattle, cholera in poultry, sylvine plague in hogs, and in acute form, is fatal in a few hours. It is a blood poisoning but first symptoms are similar to bowel trouble.

May Settle Indian Land Problem.

The legislature is going to take up the question of reimbursing Indians of Wisconsin for the use of the "school lands" and "swamp lands" and the timber which was cut from those lands on reservations.

Bar Quiz on Objectors.

By a vote of 44 to 30 the assembly tabled a communication from the Protestant ministerial conference of Milwaukee, asking for an investigation of the alleged inhuman treatment of conscientious objectors in the various prison camps.

School Farm Is Advocated.

The committee on finance sent to revision a bill appropriating $20,000 for purchase of a farm for the School for the Deaf at Delavan and machinery to equip it.

Testimonials for Tuxedo tobacco. "Your boy has proved a wonderfully industrious chap." "Yes," replied Farmer Corntosel. "He never would let us have our own way. Now that his mother would be perfectly willing to have him do nothing but visit an' tell stories, he insists on bein' out where the real work is goin' on." "A Natural Question." "When I was a little lad," self-satisfiedly said the portly plutocrat, "my good mother used often to say to me, 'Gyrrus, be honest and save your money.'" "Ah, yes!" returned old Festus Peeter. "And which did you do?"—Kansas City Star.

"Your Nose Knows"

All smoking tobaccos use some flavoring. The Encyclopaedia Britannica says about the manufacture of smoking tobacco, "... on the Continent and in America certain 'sauces' are employed... the use of the 'sauces' is to improve the flavour and burning qualities of the leaves."

Tuxedo uses chocolate—the purest, most wholesome and delicious of all flavorings! Everybody likes chocolate—we all know that chocolate added to anything as a flavoring always makes that thing still more enjoyable. That is why a dash of chocolate, added to the most carefully selected and properly aged burley tobacco, makes Tuxedo more enjoyable—

Try This Test: Rub a little Tuxedo briskly in the palm of your hand to bring out its full aroma. Then smell it deep—its delicious, pure fragrance will convince you. Try this test with any other tobacco and we will let Tuxedo stand or fall on your judgment—

Who Benefits By High Prices?

You feel that retail meat prices are too high. Your retailer says he has to pay higher prices to the packers.

Swift & Company prove that out of every dollar the retailer pays to the packers for meat, 2 cents is for packers' profit, 13 cents is for operating expenses, and 85 cents goes to the stock raiser; and that the prices of live stock and meat move up and down together.

The live-stock raiser points to rising costs of raising live stock.

Labor reminds us that higher wages must go hand in hand with the new cost of living.

No one, apparently, is responsible. No one, apparently, is benefited by higher prices and higher income.

We are all living on a high-priced scale. One trouble is, that the number of dollars has multiplied faster than the quantity of goods, so that each dollar buys less than formerly.

Swift & Company, U. S. A.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

Would you throw away a diamond because it pricked you? One good friend is not to be weighed against the jewels of the earth. If there is coolness or unkindness between us, let us come face to face and have it out. Quick, before love grows cold.—Robert Smith.

TASTY TIT-BITS.

A most delicious and economical accompaniment to roast beef is

Richmond Corn Cakes.—To three-fourths of a cupful of canned corn add one-half cupful of milk, one-half tablespoonful of sugar and two eggs well beaten. Mix and with seven-eighths of a cupful of flour, one teaspoonful of salt, one tablespoonful of baking powder. Combine mixtures and drop by spoonfuls in buttered muffin rings; set in a buttered dripping pan; bake in moderate oven.

Cadillac Chicken.—Wipe a chicken dressed as for broiling; sprinkle with salt and pepper; place in a well-greased broiler and broil over a clear fire for eight minutes. Remove to a pan and rub over with the following mixture: Cream four tablespoonfuls of butter, add one teaspoonful of mustard, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of vinegar and one-half teaspoonful of paprika. Sprinkle with three-fourths of a cupful of buttered crumbs and bake until the chicken is tender.

Swedish Halibut.—Wipe a slice of halibut weighing one pound. Place in a shallow earthen baking dish; sprinkle with salt, pepper and brush with melted butter. Drain canned tomatoes and add three-fourths of a cupful of pulp; add a teaspoonful of powdered sugar and spread over the fish. Cover with one-half sliced onion. Bake 20 minutes; pour over one-third of a cupful of heavy cream, and bake ten minutes. Remove the onion and garnish with parsley.

Jellied Prunes.—Pick over, wash and soak one-third of a pound of prunes in two cupfuls of cold water; cook in the same water until soft. To the prune water add enough water to make two cupfuls. Soak two and one-half tablespoonfuls of gelatin in half a cupful of cold water; dissolve in the hot liquid and add one cupful of sugar, one-fourth of a cupful of lemon juice; add prunes and chill. Stir twice while cooling to keep the prunes from settling.

Why this longing, this forever sighing, For the far off, unattained and dim? While the beautiful, all around thee lying, Offers its low, perpetual hymn.—Harriet Winslow.

SEASONABLE DISHES.

We may still indulge in the favorite shell fish. Try this recipe:

Norfolk Oysters.—Cover the bottom of a baking dish with three-fourths of a cupful of hot boiled rice; cover the rice with one-half a pint of oysters; pour over one-half cupful of white sauce, dot with butter and sprinkle with salt and pepper; repeat, using the same amount of ingredients. Cover with buttered crumbs and bake in a hot oven 30 minutes.

Barbecued Ham.—Soak two thin slices of ham in lukewarm water 25 minutes. Drain, wipe, cook in a hot frying pan until delicately browned, and remove to a hot platter. To the fat in the pan add two tablespoonfuls of vinegar, one teaspoonful of mustard, one-eighth of a teaspoonful of paprika and one-half teaspoonful of sugar. When thoroughly heated pour over ham and serve at once.

Cracker Plum Pudding.—Pour four cupfuls of scalded milk over one and one-fourth cupfuls of rolled cracker crumbs and let stand until cool; add one cupful of sugar, four beaten eggs, one-half a grated nutmeg, one teaspoonful of salt and one-third of a cupful of melted butter. Parboil one and one-half cupfuls of raisins in boiling water, cover, add to the mixture. Turn into a buttered baking dish and bake slowly two and one-half hours, stirring the first half hour. Serve with any preferred sauce.

Fruit Cream.—Soak a tablespoonful of granulated gelatin in one-fourth of a cupful of cold water, dissolve in one-fourth of a cupful of scalded milk and add one-half a cupful of sugar and one teaspoonful of lemon juice. Strain into dish and set into ice water, stirring constantly, and when the mixture begins to thicken add the whites of two eggs beaten stiff and one cup of heavy cream beaten stiff, one-third of a cupful of stewed prunes cut in bits, three figs chopped and two tablespoonfuls of blanched and chopped almonds. Mold and chill.

Nellie Maxwell

Concerning Mirrors.
In the early part of the sixteenth century mirrors first became articles of household furniture and decoration. Previous to that time—from the twelfth to the end of the fifteenth century—pocket mirrors or small hand mirrors, carried at the girdle, were adjuncts to ladies' toilets. The pocket mirrors consisted of small circular plaques of polished metal fixed in a shallow circular box covered with a lid.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected.

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview of the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease. It is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

A Meek and Lowly Follower.

Much to her chagrin the lady speaker had inadvertently and continually used the expression "Do you follow me?" A meek little man in the front row added to her annoyance by signifying each time that he did.

The lady speaker was exceedingly annoyed—exceedingly. Finally she beckoned to the house policeman.

"Officer," she ordered, "I wish you would take this offensive male brute into custody. He has persisted in following me all evening."

FREE INFORMATION FOR HOMESEKERS.

The U. S. Railroad Administration has assembled information regarding farm opportunities in the several states, and will furnish it to homeseekers free on request. The work will be done through the newly established homeseekers' bureau, headquarters in Washington.

"We are receiving about 1,000 letters a week from persons who wish to engage in farming," said J. L. Edwards, manager of the Agricultural Section of the U. S. Railroad Administration. "The inquiries come from every state, asking about agricultural advantages in undeveloped territory. We furnish dependable data, and through our service many investors have been able to find just what they were looking for."

"Our information is put out in form of illustrated booklets, at such rates to those sufficiently interested to write and tell us what kind of a farm project they have in mind, and naming the state the opportunity in which they desire to investigate. Homeseekers can find in the United States productive land at reasonable prices and on liberal terms, first-class markets, excellent transportation facilities, a satisfactory climate, and ideal living conditions. Now that the war is over, I look for a revival of farm development beyond that of any pre-war period." Correspondence from homeseekers is solicited. Address, Room 2000, Homeseekers' Bureau, U. S. Railroad Administration, Washington, D. C.—Adv.

Or Going Therefrom.

"Brethren and sisters," remarked the visiting presiding elder, "looking at the evolution that has taken place among us, considering the social upheaval that we see on every side, taking note of the turmoil that exists on every hand, I ask, brethren and sisters, what is this world coming to?" "I don't know," responded the regular minister, "but a large part of it is not coming to this church."

Proof that Some Women do Avoid Operations

Mrs. Etta Dorion, of Ogdensburg, Wis., says:
"I suffered from female troubles which caused piercing pains like a knife through my back and side. I finally lost all my strength so I had to go to bed. The doctor advised an operation but I would not listen to it. I thought of what I had read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and tried it. The first bottle brought great relief and six bottles have entirely cured me. All women who have female trouble of any kind should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

How Mrs. Boyd Avoided an Operation.

Canton, Ohio.—"I suffered from a female trouble which caused me much suffering, and two doctors decided that I would have to go through an operation before I could get well. My mother, who had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, advised me to try it before submitting to an operation. It relieved me from my troubles so I can do my house work without any difficulty. I advise any woman who is afflicted with female troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and it will do as much for them."—Mrs. MARIE BOYD, 1421 6th St., N. E., Canton, Ohio.

Western Canada's "Horn of Plenty" Offers You Health & Wealth

Western Canada for years has helped to feed the world—the same responsibility of production still rests upon her. While high prices for Grain, Cattle and Sheep are sure to remain, price of land is much below its value.

Land capable of yielding 20 to 45 bushels of wheat to the acre can be had on easy terms at from $15 to $30 per acre—good grazing land at much less.

Many farms paid for from a single year's crop. Raising cattle, sheep and hogs brings equal success. The Government encourages farming and stock raising. in a heater is not always an economy. In the case of stove heating, the labor—the muss and dirt,—the imperfect distribution of heat,—much more than offset any possible saving in first cost; but

Against a day of rain?

Bar "Stamp Shark" Advertisements.
Newspapers throughout the country gradually are banishing from their columns all advertisements inserted by unscrupulous persons who conduct a business of purchasing War Savings Stamps and Liberty Bonds at a discount.

HER FIRST REAL MONEY

"This card represents my first real money," recently said a farmer's wife, with an odd look of mingled pride, deprecation and something very like triumph.

"At home, as a girl, I had no money. Mother bought things for us children with whatever money father gave her. Since I've been married it's been much the same. I've got things at the town stores and Jim's paid for them. Even my egg and butter money has gone, as a rule, to help with the household upkeep—turned in on the grocery bill, usually. I've never seemed able to hold on to a penny.

"But when the War Savings Stamps came along I said to myself, 'Here's your chance, Mary!' And now I buy War Savings Stamps regularly, take 'em in change as regularly as I sell chickens or cash the creamery check at the bank. I've filled several cards already, and I can tell you I glow over 'em! When those War Savings Stamps mature I'll have real money of my own."

CAPITALIZE YOURSELF

Hold On to Your Stamps.
Do not sell your War Savings Stamps. The government borrowed the money for a specific purpose. If the securities are not retained your purchase will have been of no permanent benefit to the government. The men who buy and save, who follow the principles of thrift, are the people who will shape the destiny of the nation.

WASHINGTON COUNTY SCHOOL COLUMN

Town Spelling, Arithmetic and Writing Contests.

Inter-school contests which were planned some time ago and which are to be held in every town in the county the last two weeks in March are to commence on Monday, March 17. Contests in Arithmetic, Spelling and Writing will be held. The two best pupils from every one and two room school district should represent that district in the town contest and fifty per cent of all the schools of each town must be represented. Thus far, reports have been received containing the names of their school representatives from fifty per cent of all the teachers in all towns except Addison, Barton, Hartford, Richfield and Erin. Generally speaking, there is a greater interest shown in this work this year than last and since eight towns have already reported favorably, we are certain that we will get a county representative this year. But to the teachers who have not reported I wish to say you are not doing the fair thing, for other schools in your town will not be included in the final contest if 50 per cent of the schools are not represented. To illustrate: In the town of Richfield there are seven school districts; two districts have reported but two more will have to report in order to have a 50 per cent representation in that town. We hope to hear from those whom we have not heard from in a few days. All meetings will start at eight o'clock. A program arranged by the teachers and pupils of the respective towns will be given. Supt. of schools Alva Haug will be present at every meeting. Miss Groth will conduct the contests. Everybody who is interested is invited to attend. The schedule for the contests follows:

Polk, March 17, Dist. No. 1, Cedar Creek school; Hartford, March 18, North Side Grades, Hartford City; Erin, March 19, Dist. No. 3, Thompson School; Richfield, March 20, Dist. No. 2, Richfield State Graded School; Germantown, March 21, Dist. No. 5, South Germantown State Graded School; Jackson, March 22, Dist. No. 9, Town Hall School; Trenton, March 24, Dist. CORN AND SOY BEANS FOR SILAGE

"Corn and soy beans for silage". Practically all the leading farmers in Washington County will try this combination the coming season. About 75 farmers planted soy beans with corn for silage last year for the first time. At least 95 per cent of these men were more than satisfied—the few failures were due to the fact that they did not have the right variety of beans.

The soy bean, like clover, is a legume. It gathers nitrogen from the air and thus tends to build up the soil. In general appearance it resembles ordinary navy bean, at least in the early stages. The plant is erect, bushy and well branching, growing to a height, ranging from 18 inches to 5 feet, depending largely on the variety. Soy beans will grow on all classes of ordinary soil. They do best on lighter soils, but will also attain a good growth on heavy clay soil. They will grow on soils which are too acid to grow clover or alfalfa.

The feeding value of soy beans compares very favorably with that of alfalfa hay, which is an exceptionally high protein feed. Corn as every farmer knows, is rich in carbohydrates. Then by planting these two crops together and ensiling them, we will have practically a balanced ration in our silos. Mr. Ludy Frey's (Hartford) experience with soy beans is as follows: "Up to two weeks ago I had been feeding corn and soy bean silage. Then the supply ran out and I fed corn silage alone. My cows dropped from 8 to 10 pounds a day." Mr. John Homrig, Supt. of the County Asylum Farm says, "I am planning on planting 50 acres of corn this year and I will plant soy beans with every bit of it. Soy beans and corn are a wonderful combination for milk producing silage."

Soy beans in corn do not have a tendency to check the growth of the corn. As a matter of fact, they will increase the growth of the corn if any thing. Wm. Grubbe of Farmington says, "Soy beans and corn produced one third more feed on my farm than corn alone." Not a single farmer reported that he had any difficulty in cutting his corn with a binder.

The method is as follows: Use one third soy beans and two thirds corn and plant at the same time. Stir the mixture well at every end, because the beans are round and will work to the bottom of the hopper. Use only the tall growing varieties, the Mammoth Yellow will give the best results. Any dealer will be able to supply you with the weed. This variety can be about $4 a bushel which will plant about 10 acres with corn. If soy beans have never been grown before, they must be by all means be inoculated. If your dealer cannot supply the inoculation, your County Agent will be able to get it for you (the College of Agriculture sells it at cost price, 25 cents is enough to treat a bushel).

With the present high prices of mill feeds every farmer ought to grow the equivalent of these feeds on his own farm. There isn't a farmer in Washington County who can afford not to try soy beans with corn for silage.

News Notes.

Director Thomas Jordan visited our school during the past week and gave a very interesting and instructive address on citizenship.

Supervising teacher Olga Haug visited our school recently and took a test in reading. She obtained good results in both departments.

Treasurer Wm. Gadow visited the school recently and inspected the equipment, and made changes where he deemed it necessary.

The attendance has been fairly good considering the illness we have had in Barton.

The eighth grade are working on their maps of school district and have completed booklets on silos.

Both departments have completed their examinations for this term.

Dist. No. 4, Barton, Miss Ethel Weiss, teacher. A box social will be held at the Golden Oak School, Dist. No. 4, Barton, on Wednesday evening, March 19, 1919. The following letter was received last week from our French Orphan, Jeanne Dutruch:

Dear Godmother:
It is with much pleasure that I received the 45 Francs from the American Committee. How much I thank you and above all my mamma thanks you and thinks of you so often. She is so happy that she has a little money to buy clothes for me.

My dear Godmother, I hope you will like your little orphan whom you are helping, who also has given her dear papa for France. We also thank the grand Americans who have come to save us and fought the battles in our behalf and aided our dear fatherland to win the war.

Also, dear Godmother, we thank your little pupils for having chosen me for their god-mother and hope that they apply themselves to their school work just as I do.

I shall send you some views each week to make you and your pupils more acquainted with our country.

I close with acknowledgement, and much love and tender kisses of your god-daughter.

Jeanne Dutruch,
The Spelling, Arithmetic and Writing contests for Town West Bend will be held at our school on March 21. Every school in the town will send two representatives. Everybody is invited to be present. A short program consisting of dialogues, stories, songs, folk dances, and finger plays has been arranged by our teacher, Miss Groth, to which all teachers of the town will contribute.

FORGOT WHAT HE NEEDED

From the Republican, Mt. Gillad, Ohio: The editor had an interesting experience some time ago, when a young gentleman came to this office and asked for a copy of the Morrow County Republican. He scrutinized it carefully when a copy was handed him, and then said: "Now I know!" "What is it you are looking for," we inquired. "My wife sent me after a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and I forgot the name. I went to several stores and the clerks named over everything in the line on the shelf except 'Chamberlain's'. I'll try again, and I'll never go home without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy." The Republican would suggest to the proprietors of stores, that they post their clerks, and never let them substitute. Customers lose faith in stores where substituting is permitted, to say nothing of the injustice to makers of good goods and the disappointment of customers.
