NUMBER 32

ROAD SCHOOL WAS WELL ATTENDED

The first Road School held in the city of West Bend last week Friday was well attended. People from all over the county interested in the construction of trunk highways were present to take part in the doings.

The morning session was opened by acting division engineer of the state highway commission C. R. Weymouth who gave an explanation of the highway laws. At the last session of Congress $200,000,000 were appropriated for aid on Federal trunk highways. Washington county's share of this amount will be $75,000.

The West Bend News has the following to say on the work done at the meeting:

"In regard to the concrete pavement of the three-mile stretch of the Trunk highway in the town of Germantown, Mr. Weymouth announced that the bids opened last week were found too high, the lowest of about $71,000 being about $7,000 higher than the money available. He said that there may be a re-advertisement for bids in the hope that the contractors come down, but that at any rate an attempt will be made to grade the stretch. It was hoped that, the war being over, the work could be done cheaper now. But these bids are from 10 to 25 per cent higher than they would have been last year. The bids include the grading. Mr. Weymouth believed that, if the contractors go to exorbitant prices, it might pay the county to buy its own concrete outfit, hire labor and build its own roads. The contract price for grading was 79 cents per cubic yard, but Highway Commissioner Johnson thinks that the county can do the work for 40 cents per cubic yard.

In the afternoon session the bond issue discussion which was begun in the morning was continued. A bond issue of $1,000,000 to hurry up permanent road construction in the county was proposed a few years ago, but the war halted any further progress in the matter. The sum represents 2 1/2 per cent of the assessed valuation of the county. The advantage of hard roads at the time were very thoroughly discussed in the county papers, and the effects were still very visible in last Friday's meeting, for every one called upon, expressed himself still in favor of the bond issue. This question would have to be submitted to the voters, after the County Board has passed a respective resolution, or the voters have petitioned for an election. It should be voted on at a special election, to keep it out of petty politics. All bond issues over $100,000 must be voted on in this county, according to law. The discussion ended by unanimously carrying a motion to revive the Washington County Good Roads association. A three months' campaign is planned, after the next Victory Loan drive, and a meeting is to be arranged, in which a competent speaker is to explain the bond issue.

If Washington county had issued a million dollars in bonds for concrete road construction when the bonding was agitated, a few years ago, it would now have realized one hundred per cent on the investment, in other words, the county today would be worth a million dollars more. This is no fancy, but a fact.

Mr. Weymouth then spoke of road maintenance and the best methods to be employed. He said that the State Highway commission practically did forbid the construction of more stone macadam roads. They in fact have come back to the old town methods of building gravel roads. These are the cheapest and most satisfactory to maintain, until permanent roads can be built, which in spite of their initial high cost are the cheapest after all. On clay soil a 4-inch layer of gravel will make a good road, gravel should not be over one inch in size. On such roads very light oil can be used as a dust layer. A poor 9-inch macadam road can be improved by spreading three inches of gravel over it, fifteen feet wide. The building of these feather-edge gravel roads makes detours unnecessary, for traffic can go over them while they are constructed. Hauling gravel for road building in winter will save money, for bigger loads can be hauled. All this gravel road construction comes under patrol maintenance. The speaker also stated that more of our side roads this year will get maintenance work, as $41,000 will be expended on this type of road. The towns have been authorized to spend their macadam money (about $30,000 in back money) on this work.

Mr. Weymouth finally explained the duties of the patrolmen. The State Highway commission this year is much stricter on patrolmen than formerly. Many questions were asked on the different subjects brought before the meeting, and all were answered satisfactorily, either by Mr. Weymouth, or County Highway Commissioner Johnson, or by John N. Peters who presided over the meeting.

COUNTY DEFENSE COUNCIL MEETS

The Washington County Council of Defense, together with a number of invited friends, held a meeting at the Commercial Club Hall at West Bend last Saturday, to make arrangements for the fifth or "Victory Loan" drive. The following officers were elected:

It was agreed at this meeting to have the Victory Loan drive carried on in such a manner as to avoid objectionable features. Every person will be notified of the amount which is allotted him. Nobody, however will be unduly forced to subscribe their full allotment, although all are expected to take their just share.

DEATH OF MRS. WM. KOENEN

On last week Saturday afternoon, April 5th, 1919, at four o'clock, a cloud of sorrow spread over the home of William Koenen, residing a quarter of a mile east of this village, when death summoned to its Heavenly home his beloved wife, Mrs. Mary Koenen at the age of 47 years and 29 days. Deceased had been in ill health for three months with cerebral tumor, which is attributed as the cause of her death.

Miss Mary Martenar was born on Mar. 8th, 1872, in the town of Barton, where she attended the parochial and public schools, and where she lived until she was united in marriage to William Koenen on July 16th, 1903, when she came to her present home, where she lived until the time of her death. She was the mother of three pair of twins, all of whom together with their father survive. The names of the children are: Frances and Angela, John and Elenore, Jacob and Regina. The oldest twins are 13 years of age and the youngest 5 years.

Mrs. Koenen was a kind and loving wife and mother, one who sought well after the interest and comforts of her family, in an effort to make life worth living for those who were nearest to her. She was a devoted christian and well liked by all who knew her.

The funeral was held on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock with services in the Holy Trinity Catholic church. Rev. Vogt officiated and interment was made in the congregation's cemetery.

SERGEANT O. A. BRAUN ARRIVES HOME

Sergeant Otto A. Braun, of Calvary, Wis., and who for a number of years was employed at Campbellsport, being well known in this village, arrived at Milwaukee Monday from overseas duty, enroute for his home. Sergeant Braun was a member of the 32nd division, and was formerly a member of Co. M, of Fond du Lac. He was one of the men picked by General Glenn out of 100,000 soldiers to be a member of President Wilson's guards during his visit in France. Of the 250 men chosen twelve were appointed sergeants, Mr. Braun being one of them.

The Milwaukee Sentinel of Tuesday has the following to say of Mr. Braun when interviewed by the Sentinel's reporter: "We guarded both the Hotel Crillon, in Paris, and the private home where the president stayed," he said. "When he went out on the street, he never had any of us with him. I suppose secret service men took care of him there."

"It's great to be the guard of the world's foremost man, and it's great to have tea with the president and his wife," Sergeant Braun confided to the Sentinel reporter. "But, O boy! it's wonderful to be back home."

The photographer "shot" him, when he proudly presented "my twin sister" who had come to meet the returning hero, and together they rushed off to catch the train for home.

Sergeant Braun returned with the President after his first visit to France.

UNCLE SAM TELLS WHAT SOLDIERS MAY KEEP

Soldiers who have already turned in their equipment are authorized to redraw them by applying to the director of storage in Milwaukee.

The department on Saturday called attention to the fact that it is unlawful for a discharged man to wear the regulation uniform without the red chevrons, which show that his connection with the military establishment has been terminated, according to law.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Judge Samuel S. Barney of the United States court of claims, it was announced on Thursday, has resigned, effective April 15. Judge Barney now is at his home in West Bend and no reason for his resignation was stated. From 1895 to 1903 Judge Barney served in congress from the Fifth Wisconsin district and was appointed in 1906 to the court of claims.

DEATH OF FRED MARQUARDT

Fred Marquardt, Sr., residing two miles east of this village, passed away in death at his home on Thursday evening, after a lingering illness of several months duration. Deceased had attained the age of 84 years. The funeral will be held on Monday afternoon, April 14, at one p. m. with services in the Ev. Luth. St. Lucas church, Rev. F. Greve will officiate. CITY TEAM LOSES CHAMPIONSHIP

In what proved to be one of the fastest and most thrilling games of basket ball so far witnessed on the home floor, was played here last week Saturday evening. The city team being defeated by the strong A. C. five of Schleisingerville by a score of 24 to 32. After a few minutes of play the locals were first to score in getting a free throw. The visitors, however, came back strong and through brilliant team work and basket shooting took the lead. And although keeping the lead, neither side was sure of victory until the final whistle blew, for the local quintette were holding their own at every stage of the game, and but for hard luck in basket shooting, would have won by a wide margin.

The A. C. players are certainly a good team and are entitled to high praise in their excellent work as basket ball artists. They were accompanied by a large number of enthusiastic fans, who can well feel proud of their team. The game last Saturday evening decided the championship of Washington county. This is the third season that the A. C. team have been successful in holding the honors of first place. They are a 100 per cent team, winning seven out of seven games played this season.

Much credit is due the local quintette, for their splendid work done this season, and for the rapid progress they made in rounding themselves into shape. It must be borne in mind that the Kewaskum team was the last one to be organized in this community during the year. Had they been given the opportunity of starting earlier in the year, there would have been no doubt in our minds who would have been the 1919 Washington county champions. It is the home team that has given the A. C. five the hardest rub of any aggregation they met this season, and it was the locals who caused the Slinger basket ball shooters the most worry as to who would really be the winners in the deciding game. This alone speaks well for the team which will represent this village next year.

WAR EXHIBIT TRAIN HERE MAY 6th

The citizens of this village and community will have an opportunity to see a war exhibition on wheels in Kewaskum on Tuesday afternoon, May 6th. The exhibition will remain here for four hours and will be similar to the one held in Milwaukee a few weeks ago. The war exhibition train which will tour the state of Wisconsin for the next few weeks, is run under the management of the government as an advertising medium for the "Victory Loan" drive.

Some of the most important trophies to be shown on that day are German machine guns, an American whippet or baby tank of the French Renault, that was used with deadly effect against the Boche, a wrecked-captured German airplane of the Fokker type, Anti-aircraft guns, German 77c, French 75's, howitzers, trench mortars, grenade throwers and grenades, torpedoes, helmets, gas masks, mines, bombs, shells, in fact all instruments of warfare used by the allies and central powers.

The train will stop about four hours at every place, so all may have a chance to see the exhibition, which will be a good education for everyone, in getting an idea of what machinery has been used to carry on modern warfare, and what was bought with the large sum of money appropriated, and which the next liberty loan will help pay.

Capt. C. W. Otjen of Milwaukee will be one of the speakers in the War Train Exhibit which comes here on May 6th. Capt. Otjen has a fine war record. He joined the Officers' Training Camp in Fort Sheridan in May, 1917, and won a first Lieutenant's commission. In August 1917, he went to France and was with the first English army. In September of that year he went with the Sixteenth Infantry, First Brigade—the first division in the American Expeditionary Forces, and in the line on October 17. He was with the first troops in the line of the Luneville sector, and spent October and November there. In January and February, 1918, he was in the Toul sector in front of St. Mihiel, then marched to Flanders, acting as Company Commander, and into the Mt. Didier sector in May. His troops were with those who captured Cognigni. Capt. Otjen returned home just ahead of Chateau Thierry. He has spoken effectively in Racine and Milwaukee in the interest of the Fourth Liberty Loan in October 1918, and also toured Georgia for that Loan last October.

The schedule for the war exhibition train is as follows:
Arrives at Menomonee Falls on Saturday, April 12, at 7 a. m., leaves at 11 a. m.
Arrives at Schleisingerville on Saturday, April 12, at 11:45 a. m., leaves at 4 p. m.

CLEAN UP AND PAINT UP TIME

Health, safety from fire and beauty of surroundings all demand that each spring the winter's accumulation of waste, rubbish, filth and dirt be cleaned up and removed from all premises.

Clean streets, alleys, yards and houses prevent fires and disease, and are always a source of civic pride, while dirt and filth speak ill of citizenship and home pride.

NOW is the time to clean up all waste and rubbish, wherever found, in basements, attics, closets, yards, alleys, area-ways, sheds and barns. Cleanliness is inexpensive, filth and dirt are costly.

Spring clean-ups in past years have brought good results. Mayors, health officers, firemen, women's clubs and civic societies co-operated to make Clean-Up-Week a success, and we hope their efforts will be redoubled this year.

We urge mayors to designate and proclaim the week of May 5th to May 10th as Clean-Up-Week.

We call the attention of city councils and village boards to Section 927P which makes provisions for the removal of rubbish and ashes at public expense.

Let the city health officer and a sufficient number of firemen be designated to make the rounds to see that the cleaning up is done thoroughly.

Let women's clubs and civic bodies aid in planning and carrying out this clean-up movement.

Let the school children be organized as a clean-up squad.

Let fire chiefs inspect all schools and other public buildings to make sure that all fire and life hazards are corrected.

Let the merchant and shop keeper clean up his basement and back yard. Let each good housekeeper have the most thorough housecleaning she ever had.

Let everybody work and boost for a clean, beautiful and healthful city.

When Clean-Up-Week is gone, let every day be a clean-up day.

We must caution against burning rubbish on windy days or near buildings or leaving rubbish fires unattended. Children must be watched, as their cotton dresses catch fire easily. Repairing that moss-covered dangerous shingle roof, the ragged chimney top, closing up wall openings, applying the paint brush liberally, and tilling and beautifying your home grounds will help to make a city beautiful and safe.

We appeal to the pride of each citizen of this state.

GERMANY IN GRIP OF GREAT STRIKES

State of War Proclaimed in City of Nuremberg.

BAN ON DEMONSTRATIONS

Public Forbidden to Appear on Streets at Night—Spartan Leaders at Hamburg Plot to Form Soviet Government.

Berlin, April 10.—A "state of war" exists in Nuremberg, northern Bavaria, according to placards posted there.

Doctor Muehlen and Professor Jaffe have declined to accept portfolios of foreign affairs and national economics, respectively, in the new Bavarian government.

The central revolutionary council in Munich closed all the banks in Bavaria to permit their reorganization under the new regime.

At a session of the soviet congress in Berlin, independent socialists presented two resolutions extending greetings to the Bavarian and the Hungarian soviet republics.

There was a lively discussion, especially regarding Bavaria. The independent socialists wished the congress to express the hope that the Bavarian proletariat might overcome opposition and that the rest of Germany might follow its example.

The greeting to Hungary was accepted in spite of recent threatening predictions.

Berlin is quiet, being strongly patrolled by government troops with artillery. Wilhelmstrasse was commanded by machine guns from the chancellery. No strikes were reported up to noon.

Urges Troops for Hamburg. Spartan leaders at Hamburg are plotting to proclaim a soviet republic in that city, according to Gustav am Mittag, which calls upon Zetung Noske, the minister of war, to send troops there to prevent this action.

The threat of railroad employees to add to Germany's troubles by striking has brought a sharp reply from the government, in which such action is denounced as "a crime against the entire people."

Assurance is given the would-be strikers that a strike "will be regarded as a breach of contract and will be punished accordingly."

The government statement appeals to railroad men to "remember it spent billions of them at the expense of less fortunate employees," and declares that the government would be "conscienceless were it to permit railroaders to injure the people by stopping transportation in these days of shortage of food and raw materials and hunger."

It is pointed out that a stoppage of the entire industry of the country would be inevitable and that the employees would not only endanger their own position but that of their wives and children.

Make Appeal to Loyalty. The statement concludes with a surmise that the majority of the railroaders share these views and will do all in their power to prevent a strike, thereby "proving their loyalty to the fatherland in times of hardest trial and need, by refraining from a ruinous struggle against the entire people."

The employees of the Bank of Trade and Industry, better known as the Darmstadter bank, went on strike and a half dozen banks, including the Deutsche Dresdener and Disconto, went to the aid of the Darmstadter bank by opening thirty of their branches to its customers until the strike is over.

The employees of the Darmstadter bank demanded an increase in pay, which the bank could not see its way to grant without endangering the safety of the institution. The employees handed in an ultimatum that they would strike on April 8 if the demands were not satisfied.

The Zeitung am Mittag and the Vossische Zeitung make the point that the Munich coup vitally affects all the empire. By refusing to cooperate with the national government and by seeking an individual alliance with Russia and Hungary, the newspapers say, the new Munich government jeopardizes national unity and threatens the progress of peace negotiations, which may consequently be interrupted for months, involving grave suffering and the physical and industrial ruin of the whole nation.

Police Kill Many When Spartans Attack Their Headquarters—Strikers Seize Krupp Works.

London, April 10.—The Spartans in Magdeburg, capital of Prussian Saxony, have occupied the railway, telegraph and postoffices there, an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen reports.

In the attack on the police headquarters a very large number of persons are said to have been killed or wounded.

Paris, April 10.—A general strike has been proclaimed in Berlin and there is a lull in Berlin, advises received here by Herr Noske, the minister of defense, is reported to have concentrated 30,000 loyal troops at the gates of Berlin for use in case of trouble.

At the latest session of the German cabinet council the government considered the eventuality of making an appeal to the allied armies to interest in the German in the interest of the whole of Europe, the Zurich correspondent of Le Journal reports.

The newspaper L'Eclair understands that General Humbert, former commander of the French Third army, will be appointed "commander of the allied troops in central Europe."

Copenhagen, April 10.—German government troops are marching on Esbjerg, where a collision has occurred between strikers and the Christian workers' organization, the members of which desire to continue their employment. The strikers have occupied the Krupp munitions plant.

It has been officially announced in Munich that Ritter Panger, the Bavarian envoy at Berlin, has been recalled. The commissary for foreign affairs in giving his reasons for this step declares that the new German constitution can never become binding upon Bavaria, as Bavaria's special rights had been surrendered in the drawing up of that document.

The Wurttemberg government, as well as the Baden and Hesse governments, according to a Stuttgart dispatch, still regards the Bavarian government under Premier Hoffmann as the sole legitimate government for Bavaria.

Under the original schedule the Thirty-third was to return some time in May.

Paris, April 10.—The cable message giving directions for the steamer George Washington to be sent to France was held up in London for two days for "some unaccountable reason," it was announced in American quarters here.

This fact was discovered, it was stated, when the American mission made an investigation because of the printing here in Washington of dispatches declaring that the George Washington had not been ordered to France.

GREATEST WHEAT CROP FOR THE U. S.

Department of Agriculture Estimates Yield This Year at 837,000,000 Bushels.

VALUED AT $1,891,620,000

Condition of Grain on April 1 Was 99.8 Per Cent of Normal—This Year's Crop Will Be 1914-1900 Bu. More Than 1914.

Washington, April 10.—The largest crop of winter wheat ever grown was forecast for this year by the department of agriculture, basing its estimate on conditions existing April 1. The enormous yield of 837,000,000 bushels was announced, which, at the government's guaranteed price of $2.23 a bushel, places the crop's value at $1,891,620,000.

The estimate on the condition of the crop April 1 was 99.8 per cent of normal.

This year's winter wheat crop, if no unfavorable conditions develop between now and time of harvest, will be 152,000,000 bushels larger than the previous record crop produced in 1914, and 248,000,000 bushels more than was grown last year.

Production of winter wheat last year was 538,449,000 bushels and in 1917 it was 412,901,000 bushels, while the record crop of 834,060,000 bushels was produced in 1914.

The condition of the crop on April 1, last year, was 78.6 per cent of a normal, while in 1917 it was 63.4, and the average of the last ten years was 72.3.

There was an increase in condition from December 1, last year, to April 1, this year, of 1.2 points, compared with an average decline in those last ten years of 5.9 points between those dates.

The forecast of production of winter wheat this year is based on the assumption of average abundance of acreage and average influences on the crop to harvest.

The average condition of rye on April 1 was 80.6 per cent of a normal, against 85.8 on April 1, last year, 86 in 1917, and 88.6, the average condition for the last ten years on April 1.

TEN MILLION PAY TAXES

Five Million Americans Contribute to the Income List, According to Returns.

Washington, April 10.—Five million Americans will pay income taxes this year. This is nearly two million more than last year. More than 10,000,000 persons will pay federal taxes of all kinds under the collections now being made.

These totals are indicated by returns already received by the bureau of internal revenue, Commissioner Daniel C. Roper stated. He said the total amount to be collected under the new revenue law would be considerably higher than the estimate of $6,000,000,000 made at the time congress enacted the law.

CRY WIN MICHIGAN

RETURNS INDICATE REPUBLICAN TICKET SUCCESSFUL.

Amendment to Constitution Permitting Sale and Manufacture of Beer and Wine Rejected.

Detroit, April 8.—Returns from the biennial election in Michigan indicate that the entire Republican ticket has been successful, an amendment to the constitution permitting the sale and manufacture of beer and wine has been rejected and a bond issue of $50,000,000 for construction of a hard rock system has carried.

In Detroit chief interest centered on a proposal to purchase the street railway system. Available returns show the vote to be close, 65 precincts giving 7,793 for and 7,586 against.

Grant M. Hudson, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, in a statement, claimed the drys would win the fight against the constitutional amendment permitting the sale and use of light wine and beer by a majority of approximately 150,000 votes.

"Scattering reports received at this time from different parts of the state indicate clearly that the dry majority will be double that of 1916, when we carried the state by 69,000," Mr. Hudson said.

"Some of the places we have heard from include the city of Grand Traverse, dry by 2,000; Marquette, 700; Ishpeming, 403, and Wexford county, 2,300. Reports from other parts of the state show the same gains."

The indications are that Detroit voted wet by 3 to 1. The vote in the rural districts was heavy for prohibition, 85 precincts registering 3,900 for the amendment and 20,115 against it.

The largest vote ever cast in Michigan was given in many sections the women outvoted the men. This was the first time women have been privileged to vote, and they made the most of it.

DEMANDS HELD MODERATE

German's Not Dissatisfied Over America's Claim for War Indemnity.

Berlin, April 8.—America's demands for an indemnity were much more moderate than Belgium's, France's or Britain's, according to the North German Gazette, Germany could not possibly pay $15,000,000,000, the newspaper states, adding that Germany is already exposed to bolshevism and starvation because of the allied blockade.

BIG FOUR HOLD KAISER FOR TRIAL

Belgians Probably Will Conduct the Legal Proceedings.

REPARATION ALSO DECIDED

Threat of Wilson to Quit Conference Starts Real Action—Envoys Unmoved by "Blackmail" Accusation of Paris Newspapers.

Paris, April 10.—The responsibility of the German emperor for the war and the means for bringing him to trial by one of the allied governments, probably Belgium, have been definitely determined upon by the council of four.

This follows the definite decision on the terms of reparations for war damages, whereby $5,000,000,000 must be paid within the next two years and an interallied commission assess the remaining damage for a period of 30 years, beginning May 1, 1921.

Wilson's Threat Wane. Thus, two of the great obstacles which stood in the path of the rapid attainment of peace have been removed within the last 24 hours, and the period of extreme tension over the inaction and the failure to secure tangible results is succeeded by revived confidence over the great advance made toward a permanent settlement.

How far these results are due to the intimations conveyed by the summing to France of the United States transport George Washington by President Wilson is at least conjectural. But it is at least a coincidence that the main difficulties began to dissolve from the time that this decision became known.

New Difficulties Secret.

The exact nature of these difficulties are not disclosed. Friends of the president maintain that they were largely of minor character, not involving large principles, though the president's adherence to his "fourteen points" as the rigid limit of the scope of action appears to have run all through the deliberations during the tense period of the last few days.

While the tension has been greatly reduced, it is not entirely removed, as much depends on the continuation of progress with respect to the remaining obstacles, notably the Sarre valley, the Rhine frontier, the Adriatic issue and a number of lesser issues which are still short of final agreement.

U. S. Envoys Mysterious.

"Talking cannot go on forever," and similar cryptic replies are the most definite information on the peace situation obtainable from the members of the American peace delegation, who decline to clear up the mystery which involves the proceedings of the big four.

When asked why it was necessary for the traveling plans of the American delegation to be dependent upon the steamer George Washington and why it could not go home on the Leviathan or on other ships sailing on an earlier date for the United States, one of the American delegates replied that he did not think it was necessary to make hurried plans.

Blackmail, Paris View.

The harsh denunciation of the French press and charges that the ordering of the transport George Washington to come to Brest before its regular time is nothing short of blackmail have not affected the American delegates, who apparently are not surprised at the newspaper repeated reaffirm their belief that considerable progress has been made in the last three days, one member remarked:

"It is not a bad idea to have the ship at Brest ready for the return."

Matin Resents Attitude.

"We do not accuse our allies of forgetting what France has done," says the Matin. "but nevertheless we witnessed a curious thing yesterday. American propagandists or newspaper men, knowing that President Wilson had summoned to Brest the ship which is to take him back to America, saw in this natural order an opportunity for blackmail."

"They made—with the disapproval of all Americans who are friends of France—a bold-faced attempt at intimidation. If you want all over accommodating 'they' will return the city saying, 'our president will return home and you can extort yourself from your difficulties by yourself.'"

Health Was Shattered

Mrs. Hayes Was Discouraged Until Doan's Made Her Well.

"I was in awful shape from kidney trouble," says Mrs. Frank Hayes, 42 Dover St., Boston, Mass. "When I got up out of a chair, I felt as though someone had stuck a knife into the small of my back and it fairly took my breath away."

"The kidney secretions passed often and only a little at a time. They were so scalding I would scream so I believe I could be heard a block away. They deposited brick-dust-like sediment and their odor was something awful. My complexion became sallow and I had large puffs under my eyes."

"I was troubled with spells of gasping for breath and had such dizzy attacks I often fell right over. Spots floated before my eyes and I got so nervous I couldn't stand any noise. I cried over nothing at all, became irritable and imagined all sorts of things. My health was shattered and I became discouraged."

"I continued to grow worse in spite of any treatment and came pretty near dying several times. After several months of this horror, I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills. I used a dozen boxes of Doan's and was cured. I was entirely well and have enjoyed good health ever since."

The Light in the Clearing

A TALE OF THE NORTH COUNTRY IN THE TIME OF SILAS WRIGHT

By IRVING BACHELLER

Author of Eben Holden, D'ri and I, Darrel of the Blessed Isles, Keeping Up With Lizzie, Etc., Etc.

Copyright by Irving Bacheller

"Your fellow townsman, Silas Wright, is now the largest figure in Washington. We were all worried by the resolution of Henry Clay until it began to crumble under the irresistible attack of Mr. Wright. On the 18th he submitted a report upon it which for lucid and accurate statements presented in the most unpretending manner won universal admiration and will be remembered alike for its intrinsic excellence and for having achieved one of the most memorable victories ever gained in the United States senate. After a long debate Clay himself, compelled by the irresistible force of argument in the report of Mr. Wright, was obliged to retire from his position, his resolution having been rejected by a vote of 44 to 1."

"With what pride and joy I heard of this great thing that my friend had accomplished!

Going out with the crowd that evening, I met Sally and Mr. and Mrs. Dunkelberg. The latter did not speak to me and when I asked Sally if I could walk home with her she answered curtly, "No, thank you."

I have got a bit ahead of my history. Soon after the opening of the new year—ten days or so later it may have been—I had begun to feel myself encompassed by a new and subtle force. It was a thing as intangible as heat but as real as fire and more terrible, it seemed to me. I felt it first in the attitude of my play fellows. They denied me the confidence and intimacy which I had enjoyed before. They whispered together in my presence. In all this I had not failed to observe that Henry Willis had taken a leading part. The invisible, inaudible, mysterious thing wrought a great change in me. It followed me through the day and lay down with me at night. I wondered what I had done. I carefully surveyed my clothes. They looked all right to me. My character was certainly no worse than it had been. How it preyed upon my peace and rest and happiness—that mysterious hidden thing!

One day Uncle Peabody came down to see me and I walked through the village with him. We met Mr. Dunkelberg, who merely nodded and hurried along. Mr. Bridges, the merchant, did not greet him warmly and chat with him as he had been wont to do. I saw that The Thing—as I had come to think of it—was following him also. How it darkened his face! Even now I can feel the aching of the deep, bloodless wounds of that day. I could bear it better alone. We were trying to hide our pain from each other when we said good-by. How quickly my uncle turned away and walked toward the sheds! He came rarely to the village of Canton after that.

May had returned—a warm bright May. I had entered my seventeenth year and the work of the term was finished.

Having nothing to do one afternoon, I walked out on the road toward Ogdensburg for a look at the woods and fields. Soon I thought that I heard the sound of galloping hoofs behind me. I looked back and I saw Sally rounding the turn by the river and coming toward me at full speed, the mane of her pony flying back to her face. She pulled up beside me just as I had imagined she would do.

"Bart, I hate somebody terribly," said she.

"Whom?"
"A man who is coming to our house on the stage today. Granny Barnes is trying to get up a match between us. Father says he is rich and hopes he will want to marry me. I got mad about it. He is four years older than I am. Isn't that awful? I am going to be just as mean and hateful to him as I can."

"I guess they're only fooling you," I said.

"No, they mean it. I have heard them talking it over."

"He cannot marry you."

"Why?"

"It seemed to me that the time had come for me to speak out, and with burning cheeks I said:

"Because I think that God has married you to me already. Do you remember when we kissed each other by the wheat field one day last summer?"

"Yes."

"We had faced about and were walking back toward Canton, I close by the pony's side."

"May I kiss you again?"

She stopped the pony and leaned toward me and our lips met in a kiss the thought of which makes me lay down my pen and how my head a moment while I think with reverence of that pure, sweet spring of memory in whose waters I love to wash my spirit.

"I guess God has married us again," I declared.

"I knew that you were walking on this road and I had to see you," said she. "People have been saying such terrible things."

"What?"

"They say your uncle found the pocketbook that was lost and kept the money. They say he was the first man that went up the road after it was lost."

"It's a lie—my uncle never saw the pocketbook. Some money was left to him by a relative in Vermont. That's how it happened that he bought a farm instead of going to the poorhouse when Grimshaw put the screws to him."

"I knew that your uncle didn't do it," she went on. "Father and mother couldn't tell you. So I had to."

"Why couldn't your father and mother tell me?"

"They didn't dare. Mr. Grimshaw made them promise that they would not speak to you or to any of your family. I heard them say that you and your uncle did right. Father told mother that he never knew a man so honest as your Uncle Peabody."

Just then we came upon the Silent Woman sitting among the dandelions by the roadside. She held a cup in her hand with some honey on its bottom and covered with a piece of glass.

"She is hunting bees," I said as we stopped beside her.

She rose and patted my shoulder with a smile and threw a kiss to Sally. Suddenly her face grew stern. She pointed toward the village and then at Sally.

"She means that there is some danger ahead of you," I said.

The Silent Woman picked a long blade of grass and tipped its end in the honey at the bottom of the cup. She came close to Sally with the blade of grass between her thumb and finger.

"She is fixing a charm," I said.

She smiled and nodded as she put a drop of honey on Sally's upper lip.

She held up her hands while her lips moved as if she were blessing us.

"I suppose it will not save me if I brush it off," said Sally.

"We went on and in a moment a bee lighted on the honey. Nervously she struck at it and then cried out with pain.

"The bee has stung you," I said.

She covered her face with her handkerchief and made no answer.

"Wait a minute—I'll get some clay," I said as I ran to the river bank.

I found some clay and moistened it with the water and returned.

"There, look at me!" she groaned.

"The bee hit my nose."

She uncovered her face, now deformed almost beyond recognition, her nose having swollen to one of great size and redness.

"You look like Rodney Barnes," I said with a laugh as I applied the clay to her afflicted nose.

"And I feel like the old boy. I think my nose is trying to jump off and run away."

We were nearing the village. She wiped the mud from her prodigious nose and I wet her handkerchief in a pool of water and helped her to wash it. Soon we saw two men approaching us in the road. In a moment I observed that one was Mr. Horace Dunkelberg; the other a stranger and a remarkably handsome young man he was, about twenty-two years of age and dressed in the height of fashion. I remember so well his tall, athletic figure, his gray eyes, his small dark mustache and his admirable manners. Both were appalled at the look of Sally.

We Came Upon the Silent Woman Sitting Among the Dandelions by the Roadside.

"Why, father, what has happened to you?" her father asked.

Then I saw what a playful soul was Sally's. The girl was a born actress.

"Been riding in the country," said she. "Is this Mr. Latour?"

"This is Mr. Latour, Sally," said her father.

They shook hands.

"I am glad to see you," said the stranger.

"They say I am worth seeing," said Sally. "This is my friend, Mr. Bédynes. When you are tired of seeing me, look at him."

I shook the hand he offered me.

"Of course, we can't all be good looking," Sally remarked with a sigh, as if her misfortune were permanent.

Mr. Horace Dunkelberg and I laughed heartily—for I had told him in a whisper what had happened to Sally—while Mr. Latour looked a little embarrassed.

"My face is not beautiful, but they say that I have a good heart," Sally assured the stranger.

They started on. I excused myself and took a trail through the woods to another road. Just there, with Sally waving her hand to me as I stood for a moment in the edge of the woods, the curtain falls on this highly romantic period of my life.

Uncle Peabody came for me that evening. It was about the middle of the next week that I received this letter from Sally:

"Dear Bart: Mr. Latour gave up and drove to Potsdam in the evening. Said he had to meet Mr. Parish. I think that he had seen enough of me. I began to hope he would stay—he was so good looking, but mother is very glad that he went, and so am I, for our minister told us that he is one of the wickedest young men in the state. He is very rich and very bad, they say. I wonder if old Kate knew about him. Her charm worked well anyway—didn't it? My nose was all right in the morning. Sorry that I can't meet you Saturday. Mother and I are packing up to go away for the summer. Don't forget me. I shall be thinking every day of those lovely things you said to me. I don't know what they will try to do with me, and I don't care. I really think as you do, Bart, that God has married us to each other."

"Yours forever,
"SALLY DUNKELBERG."

How often I read those words—so like all the careless words of the young!

CHAPTER XIII.

The Bolt Falls.

Three times that winter I had seen Benjamin Grimshaw followed by the Silent Woman clothed in rags and pointing with her finger.

The trial of Amos came on. He had had "blood on his feet," as they used to say, all the way from Lickitysplit to Lewis county in his flight, having attacked and slightly wounded two men with a bowie knife who had tried to detain him at Rainy Lake. He had also shot at an officer in the vicinity of Lowville, where his arrest was effected. He had been identified by all these men, and so his character as a desperate man had been established. This in connection with the scar on his face and the tracks, which the boots of Amos fitted, and the broken gun stock convinced the jury of his guilt.

I remember well the look of the venerable Judge Cady as he pronounced the sentence of death upon Amos Grimshaw. A ray of sunlight slanting through a window in the late afternoon fell upon his gracious countenance, shining also, with the softer light of his spirit. Slowly, solemnly, kindly, he spoke the words of doom. It was his way of saying them that first made me feel the dignity and majesty of the law. The kind and fatherly tone of his voice put me in mind of that supreme court which is above all question and which is swiftly to enter judgment in this matter and in others related to it.

Slowly the crowd moved out of the courtroom. Benjamin Grimshaw rose and calmly whispered to his lawyer. He had not spoken to his son or seemed to notice him since the trial had begun, nor did he now. Many had shed tears that day, but not he. Mr. Grimshaw never showed but one emotion—that of anger. He was angry now. His face was hard and stern. He muttered as he walked out of the courtroom, his cane briskly beating the floor.

The Silent Woman—as ragged as ever—was waiting on the steps. Out went her bony finger as he came down. He turned and struck at her with his cane and shouted in a shrill voice that rang out like a trumpet in his frenzy:

"Go away from me. Take her away, somebody. I can't stan' it. She's killin' me. Take her away. Take her away. Take her away."

His face turned purple and then white. He reeled and fell headlong, like a tree severed from its roots, and lay still on the hard, stone pavement. It seemed as if snow were falling on his face—it grew so white. The Silent Woman stood as still as he, pointing at him with her finger, her look unchanged. People came running toward us. I lifted the head of Mr. Grimshaw and laid it on my knee. It felt like the head of the stranger in Rattleroad. Old Kate bent over and looked at the eyelids of the man which fluttered faintly and were still.

"Dead!" she muttered.

Then, as if her work were finished, she turned and made her way through the crowd and walked slowly down the street. Men stood aside to let her pass, as if they felt the power of her spirit and feared the touch of her garments.

Two or three men had run to the house of the nearest doctor. The crowd thickened. As I sat looking down at the dead face in my lap, a lawyer who had come out of the courtroom pressed near me and bent over and looked at the set eyes of Benjamin Grimshaw and said:

"She floored him at last. I knew she would. He tried not to see her, but I tell ye that bony old finger of hers burnt a hole in him. He couldn't stand it. I knew he'd blow up some day under the strain. She got him at last."

"Who got him?" another asked.

"Rovin' Kate. She killed him pointin' her finger at him—so."

"She's got an evil eye. Everybody's afraid of the crazy ol' trollope."

"Nonsense! She isn't half as crazy as the most of us," said the lawyer. "In my opinion she had a good reason for pointin' her finger at that man. She came from the same town he did over in Vermont. Ye don't know what happened there."

The doctor arrived. The crowd made way for him. He knelt beside the still figure and made the tests. He rose and shook his head, saying:

"Go 'Way From Me. Take Her Away."

"It's all over. Let one of these boys go under and bring the undertaker."

Benjamin Grimshaw, the richest man in the township, was dead, and I have yet to hear of any mourners.

Three days later I saw his body lowered into its grave. The little, broken-spirited wife stood there with the same sad smile on her face that I had noted when I first saw her in the hills.

Rovin' Kate was there in the clothes she had worn Christmas day. She was greatly changed. Her hair was neatly combed. The wild look had left her eyes. She was like one whose back is relieved of a heavy burden. Her lips moved as she scattered little red squares of paper into the grave. I suppose they thought it a crazy whim of hers—that they who saw her do it.

"The scarlet sins of his youth are lying down with him in the dust," Hackett whispered as we walked away together.

BOOK THREE

Which Is the Story of the Chosen Ways.

CHAPTER XIV.

Uncle Peabody's Way and Mine.

It is a bad thing to be under a heavy obligation to one's self of which, thank God, I am now acquitted. I have known men who were their own worst creditors. Everything they earned went swiftly to satisfy the demands of vanity or pride or appetite. I have seen them literally put out of house and home, thrown neck and crop into the street, as it were, by one of the other of these heartless creditors—each a grasping usurer with unjust claims.

I remember that Rodney Barnes called for my chest and me that fine morning in early June when I was to go back to the hills, my year's work in school being ended. I elected to walk, and the schoolmaster went with me five miles or more across the flats to the slope of the high country.

"Soon the senator will be coming," he remarked. "I have a long letter from him and he asks about you and your aunt and uncle. I think that he's fond of you, boy."

"I wish you would let me know when he comes," I said.

"I am sure he will let you know, and by the way, I have heard from another friend of yours, my lad. 'Tis a lucky one to have so many friends—sure ye are. Here, I'll show ye the letter. There's no reason why I shouldn't. Ye will know its writer, probably. I do not."

MEN OF SCIENCE PUZZLED RANKS WITH WORLD'S GREAT

Find It Hard to Account for the Erratic Movements of Deep-Water Fish. Achievements of Sir Isaac Newton Give Him an Assured Place Among Immortals.

The erratic movements of fish are a constant source of worry to scientists, who, try as they will, can never account for the vagaries of these sea-dwellers. Here is a case in point: In May, 1879, the fishing schooner Hutchings, sailing from Gloucester, Mass., was under the command of Captain Kirby, trawling for cod off Nantucket. A strange fish came up in the nets, a large creature covered with yellow spots. The men caught over two tons and brought them to land, where they were found to be an entirely new family. Scientists named them "tile fish." For three years, till 1882, the fish were caught in huge numbers, then the "bankers" reported that they were no longer to be seen. The news came that the sea was covered with dead tile fish. Six thousand square miles of sea were almost hidden by the dead bodies. Authorities said that there must have been a volcanic disturbance or else some deadly disease had killed off the fish. In 1915 a schooner working in the same waters, caught the tile fish in abundance, and to this day the fish are there in millions.

According to a legend, which, however, is seriously considered by certain authorities, in the year 1665, the fall of an apple as Newton sat in his garden suggested the most magnificent of his subsequent discoveries—the law of universal gravitation. On his first attempt to explain the lunar and planetary motions, he employed an estimate then in use of the radius of the earth which, based on the value of a degree of latitude then prevalent, was so erroneous as to produce a discrepancy between the real force of gravity and that required by theory to explain the motions and indicated only an approximate verification of his theory. Accordingly, he abandoned for a number of years the hypothesis that a homogeneous attracting sphere behaved as if all matter was concentrated at its center, and took up other studies, consisting chiefly of investigations of the nature of light and the construction of telescopes. He also propounded new theories on light and color. Newton died March 20, 1727 (old style), and his remains were interred in Westminster abbey.

Whiskers Reappearing.
A noticeable feature in masculine appearance is the increasing fashion of whiskers. At present they are only small affairs of the Albert variety, made popular by the prince consort. The whisker is no longer than two fingers' breadth, but there is no telling what dimensions these side products of the war may assume.
It is an army fashion, just as beards were an after-growth of the Crimea. The present whisker originated among officers whose right arm, stiff or impaired through wounds, cannot be raised easily to the level of the ear, and so prevents a clean shave to the top of the cheek.—London Chronicle.

The Proper Star.
"Men," shouted the tall, gaunt, feminine lecturer who felt herself delegated to superintend the reconstruction of the world. "You must construct, you must build, you must have something to show for the work of your hands. Don't depend on the product of the other man's handiwork."
"We don't, lady," called out the chap with the shoulder braid and the limp. "A lot of us fellows roll our own."—Annapolis News.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Drug-gists, 75c.

PLAN HEARING ON PROHIBITION BILL

Bennett Measure Before Legislature This Week.

THE PROVISIONS ARE DRASTIC

Provides for Commissioner and Places Fund of $25,000 at His Disposal to See That Law is Enforced.

Madison.—One of the big hearings of the legislature this week will be over the Bennett bill to enforce the dry amendment throughout the state. This measure provides for a prohibition commissioner and places $25,000 at his disposal for enforcing the law.

The vote in some cities of the state on the wet and dry issue last week has startled some of the legislators and it is intimated here that a bill is being drafted to declare prohibition in the state on July 1, and not wait for the federal prohibition amendment next January to go into effect.

"The unwritten law of the Anti-Saloon league of America is that no salaried employee, no officer and no one connected with the league shall seek or accept office, either by election or appointment," said Mr. Hutton. A letter is being sent to all of the Anti-Saloon league forces advising them of this decision.

Several bills giving municipalities greater power in the acquisition of public utility plants will be given a hearing this week by the senate committee on corporations.

Two large measures before the legislature which promise to take much of the time of committees in redrafting are the marketing bills and the measures to enforce prohibition.

With the return of the members of the legislature for work this week scores of important propositions are now before them for consideration and long calendars of bills face them at every session.

Also this week the senate will probably give final consideration to the Olson whey butter bill. This measure was practically killed by the senate ten days ago, but a substitute amendment was offered changing the name of "whey butter" to "whey cream-butter."

Final action is expected from the senate on the pending Nolan bill to submit to a vote of the people at the November election in 1920 the right of giving suffrage to women.

The Nolan bill has already passed the lower house with only the vote of Assemblyman Killa in opposition. Concurrence is expected in the senate after which the measure will then go to the governor for approval.

Close friends of Governor Philipp say he will sign the bill. The Buckley bill prohibiting the desecration of the American flag comes up for senate concurrence.

Governor Scofield 77 Years Old. As has been his custom for many years, former Gov. Edward Scofield went to Oconto last week to celebrate his birthday, this being the seventy-seventh.

Holds Up Appropriation Measure. A change in the policy of making appropriations to the state dairy and food department has been held up by Assemblyman Axel Johnson. Folk county, to give him an opportunity to investigate the matter.

Heavy Demand for Farm Workers. The 25 free employment offices in Wisconsin had demands on April 1 for more than 800 more farm hands at from $40 to $75 per month, room and board, than could be secured, according to information received at the state clearance office.

"Flu" Ban Lifted in Madison. The influenza ban, which a short time ago threatened to stop the proceedings of the Wisconsin legislature, many of the members having been attacked by the disease, has been lifted in the state capital, by action of the city board of health.

History of Fairs in Wisconsin.

The county fair has been a great educational factor in the development of the state of Wisconsin. The idea was recognized by the first state legislature in 1848, and, while the county fair law has been changed and extended at many sessions, there has never been a curtailment of the state encouragement.

Almost every session of the legislature considers county fair bills, but the result has always been that the financial aid has been increased. Probably no single institution, unless it is the college of agriculture and the farmers' institutes, has had such a stimulating effect on better agriculture and the adoption of approved methods of farming as the county fair. This latter opinion is expressed by G. W. Vergeron, who has spent years studying the problem.

In Wisconsin the greater number of county fairs owe their existence to acts granting aids to societies of an agricultural nature. Probably the first movement in favor of agricultural aid was the introduction of a bill in the first state legislature, on July 31, 1848. The result of this step was that a constitution for a state agricultural society was drawn up and finally adopted on March 7, 1849. The society was established and held the first state fair at Janesville, on October 1, 1851. Later the organization was incorporated.

Many Wisconsin county fairs were organized and held exhibitions before they received state aid," says G. W. Vergeron, in a thesis which he recently prepared on the subject.

"The Kenosha Agricultural society held the first county fair held in Wisconsin at Bristol, on October 10, 1850. The next week the farmers of Walworth county held a fair at East Troy. Nine other associations held county exhibitions before the act for the encouragement and promotion of agriculture" was passed in 1856; Columbia, Fond du Lac, Grant, Jefferson, Sauk, Sheboygan, Washington and Waukesha Agricultural societies were the pioneers.

The Neenah office has been closed permanently.

Neillsville.—Frank and Leslie Krueger were found guilty of murder in the first degree for killing Harry Jensen, station agent at Withee, Wis., by a jury in Judge James J. O'Neill's court. Mrs. Caroline Krueger, mother of the two men, and who with them faced trial on a charge of first degree murder, was adjudged not guilty. Immediately upon leaving the courtroom, Mrs. Krueger was re-arrested by Assistant United States Marshal Gantz on a charge of inciting resistance to the draft law. She was again lodged in the county jail. The three Kruegers were placed on trial as a result of the killing of Jensen, who lost his life while a member of a posse, which came to the Krueger farm to arrest the Krueger boys for failing to register.

He attended Sheboygan high school and was graduated from Lawrence college, Appleton. He was town chairman of Elkhart Lake from 1886 to 1906, and from 1886 to 1906 was chairman of the county board. Eleventh-hour agitation in favor of waiting for cheaper cement and other materials is said to have turned the scale in what was a very close contest.

Kenosha.—Final checking of the Liberty bonds taken from the office of the American Brass Co. show the amount taken to be $33,000. R. McPerson in the case of Elmer Anderson, who was charged with operating a bootlegging plant. He was fined $100 or thirty days in the workhouse.

Roenberry spent $4,040.39, less an unexpended balance of $194, and J. T. Dithmar spent $1,256.26. Judge E. E. Belden, Racine, spent nothing on his campaign.

Two Simple Questions. The Rev. Dr. Phillips sat in his study one Sunday morning going over the heads for his forenoon sermon. Suddenly his five-year-old granddaughter entered with an air of importance.

"Grand-daddy," she said, "I want to ask you sump'n."

"Honey," said the clergyman, "grand-daddy is very busy. Run away now and come back this afternoon."

"But it'll only take you a minute to tell me," persisted the little one.

"Well," he said, knowing from past experiences that she was not to be dissuaded from her purposes, "if it will take only a minute, go ahead. What is it you wish me to tell you?"

"I want," said the child, "to know about condensed milk and the Immaculate Conception."

Preliminaries. "I want to enlist your interest in this enterprise," "The first thing I must recruit my health."

An unbridled passion sometimes leads to the halter.

WHO'S WHO WAR REGISTER of WISCONSIN

Wants the Picture of Every Boy Who Has Been in the Service From This County

It is the duty of every friend or relative to see that every individual who gave his services in our war with Germany should be listed and recorded in the War Register, whose representatives will soon be in your county.

The War Register will present an authentic record showing photographs and biographies of all "the boys" and others who so brilliantly represented their country and the State of Wisconsin in this great war. This work is to be done free, and a quick response is your patriotic duty.

This state has given generously of its manhood, some of whom will never return. Let every citizen co-operate in every way to compile a record that will stand as a monument of credit to the patriotism of this state, a tribute to each individual soldier, an honor to which we can point with pride.

The pictures and biographies will be recorded in the Congressional Library at Washington, State Historical Library at Madison and at other public buildings in the principal cities in Wisconsin.

We also need the pictures of women who have been associated with the Red Cross work from each county, nurses, men connected with Liberty Loan committees and other war work for this book. Send pictures in as quickly as possible and you will have a record to be treasured by your families and handed down from one generation to another.

Don't delay a day. If you have no picture, get one. Your photo will be returned without damage. Fill coupon and send with picture. Address all letters and pictures to—

TASTY DISHES.

Now that fresh eggs are becoming more plentiful, we may indulge in various egg dishes, which add to the variety of the menu.

Baked Eggs.—To two cupsful of hot cooked rice add two tablespoonfuls of butter, one third of a cupful of milk, one-half teaspoonful of salt. Beat vigorously three minutes, add one and one-half canned pizzas, force through a strainer, and continue beating until the mixture is well blended. Pile on a buttered baking dish and make six cavities. In each cavity drop a raw egg and bake until the eggs are set.

Allerton Potatoes.—Cut two cupfuls of cold boiled potatoes into cubes. Separate the yolks and whites of four hard-cooked eggs. Chop the whites and force the yolks through a potato ricer or strainer. Add potato cubes and chopped whites to one and one-half cupfuls of white sauce, and turn on a hot serving dish. Sprinkle with yolks and garnish with parsley.

Macaroni With Eggs.—Break into inch lengths one cupful of macaroni. Put to cook in boiling salted water; when full and tender, drain and put a layer into a buttered baking dish, cover with half a cupful of good white sauce, two sliced hard-cooked eggs, a teaspoonful of scraped onion, then repeat, using the rest of the macaroni and two more eggs with another half cupful of white sauce. A half cupful of cheese may be added for flavor, and it will also add to the food value of the dish.

Boiled Fish With Egg Sauce.—Steam a firm whitefish until tender, and serve with a white sauce to which has been added two chopped hard-cooked eggs and a finely minced sour pickle.

Escalloped Egg and Rice.—Put three tablespoonfuls of rice in a frying pan and brown in a tablespoonful of hot fat; when a light yellow, add enough water to cook it until tender, then while hot stir in two or three eggs, seasoning with salt and pepper. When the eggs are cooked serve at once. This dish will serve four or five people, and will taste nearly as well as if it were composed entirely of eggs.

Sometimes we love the vision bright That leads us on through dark the night, But life's ahead what'er befall And come what may, we're comrades all.

FOOD FOR THE FAMILY.

When there are two cupfuls of well-seasoned mashed potato left add two eggs, slightly beaten, two tablespoonfuls of pimento puree and salt and pepper; mix well and set away to chill. Later set the croquettes in egg and crumbs, and when time to serve are fried in deep fat until delicately browned.

Creamed Fish in Scallop Shells.—Melt three tablespoonfuls of butter, add three tablespoonfuls of flour and when well mixed add one cupful of milk which has been scalded, with one slice of onion, a sprig of parsley and a bit of bay leaf. Bring to the boiling point; add one and three-quarters cupfuls of faked fish and season with salt and pepper. Fill buttered scallop shells with the mixture, cover with cracker crumbs and bake until brown.

Baked Lobster in Shell.—Remove the meat from a two-pound lobster and cut in cubes. Heat in one and one-half cupfuls of white sauce and add salt, cayenne and two teaspoonfuls of lemon juice. Reheat the body and tail shells, cover with buttered crumbs and brown. To prevent the lobster from curling over while baking, insert small wooden skewers of the right length to keep the shell in its original shape.

Onion Purée.—Cook onions until tender; drain, dry and force through a sieve; there should be two cupfuls. Melt two and one-half tablespoonfuls of butter; add two tablespoonfuls of flour and stir until well blended, then pour on one-half cupful of milk. Bring to the boiling point; add the onion purée and season with salt and cayenne.

Creamed Mushrooms on Toast.—Clean and peel one pound of mushrooms; cut in slices. Melt five tablespoonfuls of butter, add the mushrooms, sprinkle with salt and pepper and dredge with one and one-half tablespoonfuls of flour; pour over a half cupful of thin cream and cook five minutes. Serve on oblong pieces of buttered toast and garnish with toast points and parsley.

If You Need a Medicine You Should Have the Best

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it. A prominent druggist says "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder ailments; corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism. You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcel Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention this paper. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.—Adv.

In a Fix. "What are you puzzling over, John?" asked his wife. "Why, that Mrs. Newrich we gave the St. Bernard pup to writes asking if it should be fed on meat or dog biscuit."

"Well, on biscuit, shouldn't it?" "Yes, but she spells biscuit with a 'k' and if I spell it the word right it might hurt her feelings." "Oh, say meat, then." "But she spells meat with two 'e's.'"

BOSCHEE'S SYRUP

Why use ordinary cough remedies when Boschee's Syrup has been used so successfully for fifty-one years in all parts of the United States for coughs, bronchitis, colds settled in the throat, especially lung troubles? It gives the patient a good night's rest, free from coughing, with easy expectoration in the morning, gives nature a chance to soothe the inflamed parts, throw off the disease, helping the patient to regain his health. Made in America and sold for more than half a century.—Adv.

THIS LIFE MERE PATCHWORK

Pleasant to Think That in the By-and-By All Things Will Have Full Completion.

Life at best seems only a patchwork. By the time the artist learns to paint a picture which is considered worth while, his hand has become shaky, nervous or palsied and he cannot paint the thing in his heart for which, all his life, he had been preparing. By the time the business man has earned enough money to keep him in comfort for the rest of his days he has often lost the capacity to enjoy the fruits of his labor. When the mother has raised her boy to manhood her offspring leaves her for the sake of someone he loves better, and by the time the man learns to really appreciate his mother she is taken from him. Nothing seems ever quite finished, quite mature, quite as it should be in this world. Perhaps in the by-and-by on another planet we shall all find that every incomplete thought and work of our lives has been fitted into the completed temple of life which we may then inhabit forever.—Los Angeles Times.

Quicksilver Output. The domestic output of quicksilver in 1918, according to the United States geological survey department of the Interior, was 33,432 flasks of seventy-five pounds each, valued at about $3,942,301. Compared with the output of 1917, this shows a decrease in quantity.

Triumph Over Necessity. Manhood begins when we have in any way made truce with Necessity; begins even when we have surrendered to Necessity, as the most part only do; but begins joyfully and hopefully only when we have reconciled ourselves to Necessity; and thus in reality triumphed over it, and felt that in Necessity we are free.—Carlyle (Essays).

Back to the Ranks. At one of the officers' training schools a young candidate for shoulder bars had a company of new men out drilling. After calling some easy squad formations he suddenly yelled for a company maneuver and in executing it threw the men out of formation. After vainly trying to straighten them out he finally shouted, "As you were ten minutes ago." And he wondered why he failed to get his commission.

The Real Trouble. The other day two cousins were on their way to the store to do some shopping. The little boy was complaining of not having any time to play. Florence said: "You know, Edward, the days are very short." "Oh," said Edward, "the days are not so short, but the errands are too long."

Starving in the Midst of Plenty

Acid-Stomach Steals Strength and Good Feelings From Millions

One of the worst features of acid-stomach is that very often it literally starves its victims in the midst of plenty. And the strange thing about it is that the people with acid-stomachs seldom know what their trouble really is. No matter how good or wholesome the food may be, or how much they eat, they do not gain in strength. This is clearly explained by the fact that an acid-stomach cannot properly digest food. Instead of healthy, normal digestion, the excess acid causes the food to sour and ferment. Then when this mass of sour, fermented food, charged with excess acid, passes into the intestines, it becomes the breeding place for all kinds of germs and toxic poisons which in turn are absorbed into the blood and in this way distributed throughout the entire body. And that is exactly why it is that so many thousands of people eat and eat and keep on eating and yet are literally starving in the midst of plenty. Their acid-stomachs make it absolutely impossible for them to get the full measure of nourishment out of their food. And it doesn't take long for this poor nourishment to show its ill effects in a weakened, emaciated body. You may say: "My stomach doesn't hurt me." That may be true because many victims of acid-stomach do not actually suffer stomach pains. Then again, there are millions who do suffer all kinds of aches and pains—head-aches, rheumatic twinges, gout, lumbago, pains around the heart and in the chest—who never dream that an acid-stomach is the real cause of the trouble. Naturally, the sensible thing to do is to strike right at the very cause of this trouble and clean the excess acid out of the stomach. There is a quick, easy way to do this. A wonderful new remedy quickly removes the excess acid without the slightest discomfort. It is EATONIC. Made in the form of tablets—they are good to eat—just like a bit of candy. They literally absorb the injurious excess acid and carry it away through the intestines. They also drive the blast out of the body—in fact you can fairly feel it work. Make a test of EATONIC in your own case today. Get a big box of EATONIC from your druggist. See for yourself how surely it brings quick relief in those painful attacks of indigestion, bitter heartburn, belching, disgusting food repeating, that awful bloated, lumpy feeling after eating and other stomach miseries. Banish all your stomach troubles so completely that you forget you have a stomach. Then you can eat what you like and digest your food in comfort without fear of distressing after effects. If EATONIC does not relieve you, it will not cost you one penny. You can return it to your druggist and get your money back. So if you have the slightest question about your health—if you feel you are not getting all the strength out of your food—if you are not feeling tip-top, ready for your work, full of vim and vigor—do give EATONIC a fair trial this very day and see how much better you will feel.

within the scope of the pipeless method, but we have other methods of heating with furnaces, four of them; and one of the four is the best one for you. It is desirable that a study should be made of each house before deciding which of these methods to use. For this reason, we ask our friends to send us a simple sketch showing the sizes and arrangement of their rooms. We will then say which is the best and most economical method, and what type of furnace we would recommend. We will, also, make a drawing, to scale, showing just how we would place the heater and its connections, and will tell you what it will cost, delivered at your station, or installed ready for a fire. For this service, our charge is absolutely nothing. If it meets your approval, we will be glad to have your order and will guarantee complete success.

We will also give you a free test of the furnace as follows: You may place the purchase price in the hands of your own local banker, who will hold it 'till January 1, 1920. We will deliver the heating equipment at once, and you may test it for the balance of this year. If it pleases you, the banker will send us the money; if not, return the heater at our expense and the banker will return the money to you. That's safe, isn't it?

PIPELESS PREFERRED

Many householders write for advice in heating their homes, and tell us they desire to heat with furnaces, and very often wind up with the words, "PIPELESS PREFERRED."

Many houses, there are, which can be heated perfectly with the pipeless method; one register warms all the rooms and draws the cold air off the floors, making the rooms comfortable, and circulating heat to the farthest corners.

There are, however, many houses where the pipeless method is not the best method. Rooms that are detached and away from the main rooms, having more than ordinary exposure, and in which more than ordinary heating is required, are not within the scope of the pipeless method, but we have other methods of heating with furnaces, four of them; and one of the four is the best one for you. It is desirable that a study should be made of each house before deciding which of these methods to use. WORK is a PLEASURE with a Colt Cooking and Lighting Plant, one that will give you a bright light in every room in the house and barn, and a stove and iron in the kitchen, to make house work a pleasure without the use of high speed machinery or noises around your buildings. There are hundreds of thousands in use all over the United States, and are on the permitted list of the National Board of Fire Underwriters under Class A and are also endorsed by a good many responsible old line insurance companies as a safe light and the gas is non-poisonous and no one will be over-come from it.

All lights are equipped to turn on without matches, while the gas range is operated exactly as are similar ranges in city homes everywhere. This is unquestionably the most desirable, practical and economical lighting and cooking service available for country home use—a claim amply attested by the fact that the Carbide Plant always has and still does out-sell all rival "light systems" after fifteen years of strenuous competition.

These plants are sold direct from the factory to you by a field representative; by this you save the dealer's profits and the cost of a plant complete with stove, iron and fixtures and installed ready for use, is very low. Liberty Bonds accepted at par.

DOINGS OF OUR COUNTY SCHOOLS

The inter-school Spelling, Arithmetic and Writing Contests conducted by Supt. Alva Groth in every town in the county the last two weeks in March proved a great success so far as school representation and co-operation from pupils and teachers is concerned. A great deal of interest was shown by the large crowds of parents and friends which were present at the various meetings. The teachers throughout the county deserve a great deal of credit for the splendid work, which were prepared and presented at the various town meetings.

The work done by the various schools in spelling showed considerable improvement since last year. Of the 114 children who participated 54 received a standing of 90 per cent or above. Only a few fell below the 80 mark.

In the Arithmetic contest, the children fell down on the speed test; many could have received much better standings had they done their work a little slower, thus avoiding careless errors.

In a few cases, there was a tie in the highest averages for the various towns, and so the town will be represented by more than one person in the county contest. The winners for each town are as follows:

Kewaskum, Pauline Theusch, District No. 1, Average 91 per cent; Barton, Mae Techtman, District No. 1, 88 per cent; Germantown, Walter Kaun, District No. 5, 85 per cent; West Bend, Richard Peters, Oak Knoll School, 84 per cent; Trenton, Lydia Erdman, Myra School, 83 per cent; Jackson, Lucile Lorenz, District No. 5, 83 per cent; Addison, Raymond Guth, Allenton School, 79 per cent; Polk, Myrtle Lenz, Cedar Creek School, 78 per cent; Wayne, Viola Klumb, District No. 8, 77 per cent; Richfield, Hannah Kuenzi and Edna Schatz, Districts No. 6 and 8, both 76 per cent; Hartford, Adele Weyer, District No. 6, 76 per cent; Erin, Clarie Guilfoile, District No. 2, 73 per cent; Farmington, Arthur Peters, Edna Klehn and Evelyn Geib, District No. 1, 2 and 3, each 86 per cent.

The papers of the various contestants are on file at the office of the county superintendent, and those who wish to know their standings may come to this office at any time. It was thought best not to publish all of them in these columns.

The Diploma Examinations for rural school graduates will be held the second and third Saturdays in May. Following is the schedule:

Oak Knoll School Notes.

An exhibition of work in Manual Training and Sewing was given on March 31.

A great many of our pupils have done the required amount of Reading Circle Work; Edna Wickert Gladys Riesch, Almor Peters, and Raymond Schneider will receive special honor seals; Almor Peters and Raymond Schneider have read and reported on fifteen books each.

At the Town Contest on Monday evening, Richard Peters of our school took first place for the best all around pupil for the town. The program given by the teachers of the town was very interesting and enjoyed by all present.
