PIG CLUB IN WASHINGTON COUNTY

Pig clubs have been started in practically every county in the state. Washington County hasn't done anything along this line. We have devoted most of our time towards the improvement of our dairy herds, and have neglected our hog herds. With the exception of about a dozen herds, our hog herds do not come up to the standard of our dairy cattle. There never was a bigger demand for registered hogs than at the present time.

Our plan at the present time is merely to get the club work started this year. All we want this spring is about 25 good active young boys to raise enough pigs for us for the big club work which we intend to take care of next year.

Some of our wide awake bankers realize the importance of better live stock and they are giving us their earnest support. They have agreed to loan a certain amount of money to the boys for a whole year without interest.

The plan is as follows:

1. Any boy or girl between the ages of 10 and 18 is eligible. (They do not have to be school children).
2. The pigs registered pure bred females (Duroc, Chester White, Berkshire and Poland China). Age from 8 to 12 weeks. The boys may select their own breed. Pigs will be taken from Washington County breeders.
3. The bankers will loan the money to the boys for one year without interest. The boy signs the note (also one of the parents). The price of the pigs will vary from $15 to $20.
4. The pigs must be bred to a registered boar of the same breed, and at least one litter must be raised from the pig.
5. The county Agent and the breeders will assist the boys in disposing of their surplus breeding stock.
6. Applications for pigs must be made to the County Agent. All applications must be in by May 15, 1919.
7. Pigs can be shown at the County Fair. The boys show in a separate class. Prizes for each breed are as follows: 1st—$6.00, 2nd—$5.00, 3rd—$4.00, 4th—$3.00, 5th—$2.00. No entry fee will be charged.

This certainly is a splendid opportunity for any boy to get started with pure bred hogs. A year from now, we will try to get several hundred boys started. The pigs at that time will be taken from this year's club members, if possible. In order to give all the boys an equal chance, the first 25 applications will be accepted.

Washington county, the past week has been doing nicely in the Victory Loan campaign, $733,500 of the $750,400 has been subscribed. It was hoped that the county would reach its full allotment voluntarily, but subscriptions came in so slow the latter part of last week that it was necessary to send out solicitors into towns whose subscriptions were no where near to their allotments. TWO MORE KEWASKUM HEROES BACK

With hearty handshakes, the citizens of this village have this week welcomed home two more of their world war veterans, who are now enjoying home comforts with those who have returned before them, namely Emerson Olwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Olwin and Adolph Rosenheimer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Rosenheimer, Sr.

Supply Sergeant Emerson Olwin arrived here last week Saturday evening from Camp Kearney, Cal., where he was honorably discharged from further military service on April 26th. Sergeant Olwin at the outbreak of the war enlisted in the month of April 1917, leaving here on May 3rd of the same year for Jefferson Barracks, Mo. where shortly afterwards he was transferred to New Galus, Ariz., then to Yuma, Ariz., from where he was again transferred to Van Couver Barracks, Wash. When in the month of September 1917, the national army was formed, he was assigned to the Headquarters Company of the 364th Inf. at Camp Lewis, Wash. On July 12th, 1918, he was sent overseas. After a few weeks of preliminary training in France, he entered the front line trenches, where he took part in the offensive at St. Mihiel, Argonne Forest and Ypres Lyes, going over the top on all fronts, advancing many kilometers and capturing a large number of prisoners and machine guns. When the armistice was signed, he was stationed with his company at Audenode near the Rhine.

On March 24th, 1919, he was sent back to the States, arriving at New York March 31st. Shortly after his arrival on American soil he was transferred to Camp Kearney, Cal., to be mustered out of service. Mr. Olwin states that his company had a heavy loss in the battles in which they took part and thinks himself mighty lucky to escape without a scratch, or not even being sick once during his life in the army. He left Monday for Milwaukee where he has again resumed his former position as brakeman on a passenger train running on the Chicago & North Western Railway.

Sergeant Rosenheimer, returned to his home on Monday evening, from Camp Grant, where he received his honorable discharge on May 5th. Sergeant Rosenheimer also enlisted at the outbreak of the war in Co. E, old National Guard of Fond du Lac on April 20th, 1917, and was later transferred to the 107th Signal Battalion. On July 10th he left for Camp Douglas, and on September 18, was sent to Camp MacArthur, Waco, Texas, where the 32nd Division was organized and of which he became a member, and remained there until January 22, 1918 when he left for Camp Merritt, Va., from where he was soon afterwards sent to France. After four months training he entered the front lines in Alsace, a quiet Sector for preliminary training. From here he was later transferred to a Signal school for four weeks at Gondcourt. After completing his course he was assigned to the 32nd Regiment and left with this outfit for Italy in the month of July, where he was advanced in ranks to signal instructor. After being in Italy for four weeks he again entered the front lines at Pive, where he remained for seven weeks, when he took part in the final offensive in the battle of Veturia. After the armistice was signed he served in the army of occupation at Cormons, Austria until Feb. 1919, when he was transferred to Treviso, Italy and later to Genoa, where he remained until the month of March when he embarked for the States landing at New York on April 14th. Shortly after his arrival he was transferred to Camp Grant to be mustered out of service.

Sergeant Rosenheimer has many interesting stories to tell of his experience in Italy, and states that he has traveled considerably while there, visiting a number of the most important and largest cities, was on board a ship which scouted along the Mediterranean Sea during which time he was given the opportunity of seeing the Straits of Gibraltar.

Mr. Rauch had been in ill health for the past two years with heart trouble, he was one of the town of Ashford's oldest and most estimable citizens. He was born in Armstadt, Germany on June 14th, 1837. When he was six years old he immigrated with his parents to America, and settled in the town of Franklin, Milwaukee County, in July 1842. In 1844 he came to his present home. When the call came for men to fight the battles for the preservation of the Union he answered and enlisted on October 10, 1861, and for three years bore arms for his adopted country, taking part in all of the great battles of the Civil War. On October 10th, 1864 he was honorably discharged at Point Lookout, Md. and returned to his home soon afterwards. He was a man sincere in character. To him it was but natural to do right, he had no room for the petty thoughts and things of life, and those traits which have made him a man beloved by the community remained with him until he was finally mustered out of life's service. Mr. Rauch was always interested and a great lover of music and art and at one time a number of years ago was a member of the Rauch family band of Elmore, which will be remembered by a number of our old citizens. He leaves to mourn his demise, Mrs. Christ Haessly, a niece, of the town of Ashford and three grand nieces, Mrs. Louis Hess of this village, Mrs. George Seefeld of the town of Eden and Mrs. Richard Larson of Milwaukee.

CARD OF THANKS
We, the undersigned wish to express our sincere thanks to all our friends and relatives, who so willingly assisted us in our late bereavement the death of our uncle, George Rauch, to the pall bearers, to the Rev. Mohme for his kind words of consolation and to all those who showed their respect by attending the funeral.

Christian Haessly and Relatives.

On Sunday morning at 5:30 o'clock, death took away from the town of Wayne one of that communities' popular citizens namely, Theresa Marie Hawig, aged forty years, two months and 2 days. Deceased had been confined to her bed for nine weeks, following an operation. She was born on March 2nd, 1879, in the town of Wayne, where she resided up to the time of her death, and where through her kind disposition she won countless friends, who will feel her absence most keenly. She is survived by her grief stricken mother, Mrs. Simon Hawig, Katie (Mrs. Steve Lang) of Newburg; Elizabeth (Mrs. James Biechmann) of Burlington; Mary, (Mrs. Chas. Hentz) of Newburg; Anton of Mayville; Margaret, Jake and Adam at home.

Deceased was employed as a maid for Mrs. Frank Wietor at Wayne for four years, and at Chas. Walter's at West Bend for three years. She was an ideal housekeeper, very ambitious. While at the hospital she received the very best of care, her sister Margaret faithfully cared for her until life was extinct. Everything was done to save her life, but God's will was not our will. We extend our sincere sympathy to the bereaved ones.

The funeral was held on Thursday May 8th, 1919 with services in the St. Bridget's church, Rev. Vogt of this village officiated. Burial took place in the congregation's cemetery.

The pall bearers were Carl Westerman, Peter Schield, George Murphy, John Suckawaty, John Schmidt and Wm. Duffrin.

The funeral of George Rauch, who passed away in death at his home in the town of Ashford on Friday morning, May 2nd, 1919, was held on Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock with services at the house. Burial was made in the Rauch cemetery in the town of Ashford. Rev. Mohme of this village officiated.

PROMINENT YOUNG PEOPLE MARRIED
BASLER-SCHIED
A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the Zion's church at Kohlsville on Wednesday, May 7th, when Miss Erna Basler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Basler became the bride of Mr. Charles Schied, son of Mrs. Dan Scheid of the town of Ashford. Rev. Treber performed the ceremony. The bride was becomingly dressed in a white silk messaline gown, trimmed with Georgette crepe and beads and wore a corsage bouquet, was attended by Miss Flora Basler, sister of the bride as maid of honor, and Miss Anna Bremser, a cousin was bridesmaid. The groom was attended by Herbert Jung as best man, and Erwin Basler as usher. The maid of honor wore a white silk messaline dress and corsage bouquet of pink sweet peas and maiden hair ferns while the bridesmaid was gowned in a gas light green marquisette dress and wore a corsage bouquet of pink sweet peas and maiden hair ferns. After the ceremony the bridal party together with a few invited friends and relatives repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where a reception was held. The house was decorated in pink and white crepe paper. The newly married couple will be at home to their many friends after June 1st, 1919 on the groom's farm in the town of Ashford.

LIGHTNING DOES MUCH DAMAGE
During the severe electrical storm, which swept over this section of the state on Tuesday afternoon, lightning struck the barn on the Fred Zimmerman farm, formerly known as the Wm. Schmidt farm located about one and one-half miles northeast of this village and was totally destroyed by fire, together with the silo, two working horses, three calves, all his farm machinery and a number of tons of hay. The total loss is estimated at $3,500, with only a small amount of insurance to cover same. At the time lightning struck the barn, Mr. Zimmerman and his family were in this village attending the Victory Loan meeting. The blow to Mr. Zimmerman is a hard one as he is a young married man with a family and had only purchased the farm of Rosenheimer & Day about five weeks ago. He is an honest, upright and industrious young man, and felt perfectly content in the thought that he had finally located a farm which he liked, and upon which he was confident of prospering and being able to provide for the comforts of his family. It is rumored that his neighbors as well as a large number of citizens of this village have already volunteered to do all they can in assisting the unfortunate man in every way possible to gain a new start.

MANY PEOPLE SEE WAR TROPHIES
In spite of a heavy rain and thunder shower on Tuesday afternoon a large number of people from far and near came to this village to witness the war exhibition train, which arrived here at 2:45. Two speeches were given at the Opera House where the school children aided in the community singing. After the Jackey band had played two selections at the train Lieut. Weichelt of the recruiting station at Milwaukee gave a short address, speaking a word of praise for the citizens of Kewaskum and community in the manner they so loyally responded to the Victory Loan, having voluntarily subscribed 175 per cent of the quota, and still going up. It is expected that Kewaskum will have two hundred per cent subscribed before the drive closes. All present, however, were very much disappointed when the commanding officer of the train would not allow the whippet tank to be taken off the flat car and put into operation so as to give them a chance to see how the machine worked. Village President B. H. Rosenheimer and several others tried to persuade the officer to do so, but with no results. We believe that Kewaskum was justly entitled to have this tank put into action and furthermore the excuse given by the officer made the citizens of this village feel that they had not been given a square deal.

LETTER FROM LEO GULDAN

Wendel Guldán received the following letter from his son Leo from France:
Lux Codador, France.
Dear Father:
Received your letter this evening, and was glad to hear from you. So you like your new home, am glad of that. So you thought I was gone from here, no danger, for we are not finished taking care of horses as yet. About 500 were turned out yesterday which were replaced by other ones today. We have fine weather here now, Everybody calls this sunny France, I fail to see where the sunny part comes in. For about two weeks it was cold, but no snow, we can't tell one day from another what the weather will be. Rubber boots and raincoats are in daily use. Am sending you a post card of our horses that did not survive, others died on the operating table. The French are most all done seeding. They sure are some farmers doing their seeding by hand. We are making a garden of our own, which reminds us of how we do things in the States. If you have a map of France you maybe can find where I am stationed. The nearest big town is Dyon. Don't think you can pick me out on that post card. I must ring off for this time, with best wishes from Leo.

SECURITY ON RHINE HELD INADEQUATE

Marshal Foch Wants Permanent Occupation of All Bridges.

CHINA AND PORTUGAL BALK

Protestations by Various Delegations Not Considered Serious—Peace-Signing Ceremonies Open to Press—Wilson Wins Fight.

Paris, May 7.—The clause regarding responsibilities, which was not acted on at a previous session of the plenary council, it is understood, has been incorporated in the final draft of the treaty. This provides for the trial of the former German emperor for "a supreme offense against international morality and the sanctity of treaties" by a tribunal composed of representatives of the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan.

Paris, May 7.—The peace treaty was presented to the minor powers at a secret plenary session which adjourned at 5:15 o'clock. The draft of the treaty is considered now as having passed the final stage before being presented to the Germans.

Marshal Foch in a speech at the plenary session asserted the security given France was inadequate from a military point of view and said it was his personal conviction that the treaty should not be signed.

The marshal emphasized the necessity of France holding the bridgeheads along the Rhine and said that occupation limited to 15 years was not sufficient.

China and Portugal Protest. The Chinese delegates presented a brief, formal and dignified protest concerning the disposition of Kiaochow. The Portuguese delegates expressed dissatisfaction regarding the treatment accorded Portugal.

The protestations made by the various delegations are not regarded as serious as no definite reservations were made by the protestants.

Italy was represented at the session by Signor Crispi.

The final meeting of the council of three before the presentation of the treaty was held Tuesday morning. It is understood that the last details of the treaty presentation ceremony were discussed as well as the arrangements for the afternoon's plenary session of the conference.

Also under discussion were the time and method of making public the digest of the peace treaty, now in its final stages of preparation, which will be cabled all over the world before the ceremony at Versailles.

Wilson Forces "Open Door."

President Wilson, in addition to attending the meeting of the council of three Monday and going to Versailles to look over the arrangements for the meeting with the Germans there on Wednesday, visited the Hotel de Crillon and held conferences with the American delegation.

The president also saw Herbert C. Hoover, Admiral Benson and other experts and disposed of many minor problems, solution of which had been delayed.

President Wilson was prompted to go to Versailles, it appears, chiefly because during the conference of the council of three in the morning Premier Lloyd George and Clemenceau held that newspaper men could not be admitted to the session with the Germans on Wednesday because of lack of space.

President Wilson was not convinced that this was the case and insisted upon going to Versailles with the two premiers.

It was after their visit that the announcement was made that the American and British journalists had won their fight for representation and that a total of 45 journalists would be permitted to attend the Versailles ceremony. America will have five correspondents and England, France, Italy, Japan and Germany each will have a like number. The remainder will come from the British colonies and minor powers.

China Asks Representation.

The Chinese delegation has appealed to President Wilson to intercede with the conference officials to have China included among the powers permitted to attend the presentation of the treaty. China is not on the list of 13 states so privileged.

The official list of the countries to be represented is:

The United States, Great Britain and her dominions, France, Italy, Japan, Belgium, Brazil, Serbia, Greece, Poland, Portugal, Roumania and Czechoslovakia.

It will be noted that China and Siam are omitted, as likewise are seven of the Latin-American states which declared war upon Germany.

The list was drawn on the theory that only those of the powers which had rendered efficient aid in prosecuting the war were to attend the ceremony.

Denies Princess Will Wed Earl.

London, May 7.—Official denial was made here of a report published by the Express that Princess Mary, only daughter of King George and Queen Mary, is engaged to the Earl of Dalkeith, 25, a lieutenant in the Grenadier guards.

CELEBRATE AT MUNICH

REPUBLICAN TROOPS ACCLAIMED FOR BEATING REDS.

Captured Spartacides Are Hooted as They Pass—Bands Play National Airs.

Munich, May 7.—All Munich celebrated the victory over the soviet government.

The streets were crowded with people, who cheered the passing troops or gave them refreshments. Captured Spartacides were hooted as they passed, bands played national airs outside the captured palace, and the crowds sang patriotic anthems.

The presence of armed peasants was noticeable in the streets and 800 Austrians who fought with the German government troops to regain the city were heartily cheered. The citizens were busy during the day tearing down placards vilifying the Prussians. This they did more willingly because General Moehl, the Bavarian commander, stated that it was the north Germans who assisted largely in freeing the city.

The Bavarian war ministry will be transferred from Bamberg to Munich and a resolution dissolving the Bavarian army will be adopted by the cabinet because of the poor work done during the troubles in this city.

COST OF LIVING IS SOARING

Government Investigators Find That It Requires $2,500 a Year to Keep Average Family.

Washington, May 7.—It requires $2,500 a year to keep the average American family, government investigators have found. Furthermore, the cost of living throughout the United States still is soaring.

Of those who depend upon a $2,500 yearly income few families are able to show a surplus of $100 at the year's end; some can save as much as $50, while a large number have nothing to show but a deficit. Forty per cent of the income of the average family goes for food—the largest single item on the list. Clothing calls for 15 per cent, rent about 14 per cent and light 5 per cent, with expenditures for furnishings about the same. These figures were announced by the department of labor, which has made a year's survey of living conditions in the United States.

LANDIS' RULING IS REVERSED

Supreme Court Issues Order Permitting Postmaster General to Collect Increased Tolls.

Washington, May 7.—Postmaster General Burleson was given authority in an order issued by the Supreme court to continue to collect increased telegraph rates in Illinois until final determination of appeals brought by the government from federal court decrees enjoining him from putting his new rate order into effect in that state.

Upon the government's motion the court ordered that temporary injunctions restraining Illinois authorities from interfering with orders increasing intrastate rates remain effective and that decrees issued by Federal District Judge Landis dissolving those injunctions and restraining Mr. Burleson from increasing the rates remain temporarily inoperative.

CAPTIVES SLAY 2 OFFICERS

Motorcar Bandits Trick Missouri Sheriff and Aids—Escape in His Car.

St. Louis, May 7.—The bodies of Joseph C. Tolbert, sheriff of Lafayette county, and John McDonald, his deputy, were found by a posse seven miles southeast of Lexington, Mo., in a wheat field. The men had been shot and beaten. James C. Stapleton, another deputy, was found a few feet away with bullet wounds. He is in a critical condition in a hospital here.

The sheriff and his deputies were the victims of three motorcar bandits, whom they were taking from Marshall, Mo., to Lexington. The bandits killed the officers with their own revolvers and escaped in the sheriff's car.

El Paso, Tex., May 7.—Continued rumors of fighting between government troops and Villa rebels at Jimenez continued to be received here. American mining men consider it probable that a small engagement occurred there. The execution of six Chinese at Parral by Villa has been confirmed. Mayor Jose de la Luz Herrera, when ordered executed, denounced Villa to his face, declaring him the worst enemy Mexico ever had. He and his two sons were then shot.

WILL CALL CONGRESS REDS RIOT MAY DAY

WILSON TO SUMMON LAWMAKERS ON OR BEFORE JUNE 1.

President's Plans Depend Wholly Upon Developments in Paris—Will Issue Call by Cable.

Washington, May 5.—That it is President Wilson's intention to be back in Washington by June 1 was admitted at the White House. Barring unforeseen developments the president for sometime, it was stated, has counted upon being in America again on that date. Also, it was learned, it is the president's present plan to call the new congress into extraordinary session on or about that date. If no contingency arises, he has decided to issue the call from Paris as soon as he is certain of the date of his arrival in the United States and then in Washington in time to appear before a joint session of the lawmakers. These plans, of course, are entirely tentative and depend wholly upon developments in Paris, White House officials pointed out.

REDS ROUTED IN GARY, IND.

Police and Returned Soldiers Battle Thousands of Foreigners and Force Them to Flee.

Gary, Ind., May 6.—Seven thousand bewhiskered, red-necked professional anarchists gathered in Gary to make good their promise of staging a parade and street demonstration. There was no parade; there was nothing so dignified as a "demonstration." There was, however, a free-for-all street fight, climaxed with 40 of the anarchists in jail and the remaining 6,900 neckless, even collarless and in some instances shirtless.

Fifty police armed with riot guns, 25 deputy sheriffs with automatic pistols, several hundred returned soldiers restless for a fight and a volunteer organization of Gary citizens met the radicals and almost literally chewed them up.

The police, soldiers and citizens who flung themselves into the fray came out of the affair with no wounds showing. Many of the "reds" were badly beaten.

After the two engagements the anarchists—few of whom could speak a word of English—scattered in search of liniments and bandages.

Boston, Mass., May 5.—That a permanent state commission be appointed to regulate the prices of the necessities of life and that the lease of the state fish pier be broken if it is found that any of the lessees were responsible for the formation of the alleged fish trust were two recommendations made by a special investigating committee to the legislature. The commission has been investigating the fish industry and living conditions generally for 18 months.

It cleared the first gate of the lower lock chamber, but struck the second gate, upsetting and throwing the three men into the water.

TANKS AID POLICE IN FIGHTING AT CLEVELAND.

Eleven Officers Wounded and 100 Persons Injured During Demonstration—200 Arrested.

Cleveland, O., May 8.—An unidentified man was killed by a detective's bullet, 11 policemen were shot or badly beaten and about 100 persons wounded, many seriously, in general rioting which brought a dramatic finale to a Socialist May day demonstration of 20,000 reds here.

About thirty persons, seriously injured, are in hospitals, while scores of others, including women, were trampled by rioters and clubbed by police.

Socialists and sympathizers in East Ninth street and at Public Square were ridden down by mounted policemen and by soldiers in army tanks and trucks.

Socialist headquarters were totally wrecked by angry civilians bent on putting an end to the demonstration. The rioting was general in Public Square, East Ninth street, Huron road, Prospect avenue, Superior avenue, Bolivar avenue and other thoroughfares.

The one fatality occurred at Central and Woodland avenues, when a mob said to have been composed of Socialists and sympathizers rushed Detective Woodring and other officers. Woodring drew his revolver to save his own life, fired into the alleged leader of the mob, the bullet passing through the man's neck, killing him instantly.

Over 200 rioters were arrested. A score were found to have weapons on them, police say.

New York, May 3.—Rioting followed the celebration by the New York Call, the Socialist daily newspaper, of its occupation of new offices on Fourth avenue and the display outside of what some soldiers called "boishevist posters."

SUPREME COURT HEARS PROTESTS

Arguments on Rail Control Heard Before the High Tribunal.

ILLINOIS CASE IS CITED

Intrastate Adjustments of Wire Tariff Are Defended—Owing to Importance of Controversy an Early Decision Promised.

Washington, May 7.—Arguments were heard in the Supreme court in proceedings involving the right of the federal government to interfere with intrastate freight and passenger rates and telegraph and telephone tolls under the joint congressional resolutions and presidential proclamations authorizing federal control of the railroads and wire systems of the country.

While the cases heard came from five states—North Dakota, South Dakota, Kansas, Illinois and Massachusetts—proceedings attacking the government's authority had been instituted in about twenty-five states, with the result that in some the government's contention was upheld while in others decisions favorable to the state authorities were rendered.

Owing to the importance of the question, court officials said final determination of the suits might be made before the Supreme court adjourns next month.

Solicitor General King, in opening the telephone cases, urged dismissal of the proceedings on the ground that they were suits brought by the states against the government without its consent.

He noted, however, that the appeal from Illinois resulted from a suit brought by the postmaster general to restrain the Illinois authorities from interfering with his orders.

"Do you think that Mr. Burleson had a right to bring that suit?" asked Justice Kenna.

"Yes," replied the solicitor general. "It is a suit against the state authorities to protect the service and his employees."

"They are not his employees, but those of the United States," interjected Justice Kenna.

"Yes, but it's for the protection of the employees and to prevent the state authorities from interfering," the solicitor general said. "I'd rather not go into the matter as to his right to bring the suit at this time, however."

Federal court decrees dismissing injunction proceedings brought to enforce interstate commerce orders of December 30, 1918, increasing iron and steel freight rates from Pittsburgh, Pa., and other Eastern territory points to the Seattle (Wash.) district were upheld by the Supreme court.

Conviction in Ohio of Dennis Kelley, president, and three other officials of the Capital City Dairy company, on charges of defrauding the government out of $1,000,000 in taxes on oleomargarine manufactured by the company was sustained in effect. The court denied petitions filed by the defendants seeking to have their cases reviewed.

Brussels, May 6.—The Belgian government has decided to sign the treaty of peace, which was discussed at a crown council held here Sunday, it is announced.

Paris, May 6.—It is now certain, according to the French press, that the treaty of peace will be solemnly handed to Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, the German foreign minister, by Premier Clemenceau at Versailles on Wednesday afternoon.

President Wilson, Premier Clemenceau and Premier Lloyd George, composing the council of three, sent a communication to the Italian government inviting it to resume its place at the peace conference.

The council of three considered the Italian situation in its deliberations during the last two days, and finally determined upon an initiative of the friendliest nature. The terms of the communication to the Italian government have not been disclosed, but it is believed they seek to remove the personal element of the controversy and to pave the way for a territorial adjustment when the relations are resumed.

The Light in the Clearing

A Tale of the North Country in the Time of Silas Wright

By IRVING BACHELLER
Author of "Eben Holden," "Dad and I," "Dad of the Blessed Isles," "Keeping Up With Lissie," Etc., Etc.

(Copyright, by Irving Bacheller)

My heart beat fast when I saw the house and my uncle and Purvis coming in from the twenty-acre lot with a load of hay. Aunt Deel stood on the front steps looking down the road. Now and then her waving handkerchief went to her eyes. Uncle Peabody came down the standard off his load and walked toward me.

"Say, stranger, have you seen anything of a feller by the name of Bart Baynes?" he demanded.

"Have you?" I asked.

"No, sir, I ain't. Gosh a'mighty! Say! what have ye done with that boy of our'n?"

"What have ye done to our house?" I asked again.

"Bull on an addition."

"That's what I've done to your boy," I answered.

"Thunder an' lightning! How you've raised the roof!" he exclaimed as he grabbed my satchel. Dressed like a statesman an' bigger'n a bullmoose. I can't rattle with you no more. But, say, I'll run ye a race. I can beat ye an' carry the satchel, too."

We ran pell-mell up the lane to the steps like a pair of children.

Aunt Deel did not speak. She just put her arms around me and laid her dear old head upon my breast. Uncle Peabody turned away. Then what a silence! Off in the edge of the woodland I heard the fairy flute of a woodthrush.

"Purvis, you drive that load on the floor an' put up the horses," Uncle Peabody shouted in a moment. "If you don't like it you can hire another man. I won't do no more till after dinner. This slave business is played out."

"All right," Purvis answered.

"You bet it's all right. I'm fer abolition an' I've stood your dominicera, nigger-driver ways long enough fer one mornin'. If you don't like it you can look for another man."

Aunt Deel and I began to laugh at this good-natured, make-believe scolding of Uncle Peabody and the emotional strain was over. They led me into the house, where a delightful surprise awaited me, for the rooms had been decorated with balsam boughs and sweet ferns. A glowing mass of violets, framed in moss, occupied the center of the table. The house was filled with the odors of the forest, which, as they knew, were dear to me. I had written that they might expect me some time before noon, but I begged them not to meet me in Canton, as I wished to walk home after my long ride. So they were ready for me.

I remember how they felt the cloth on my back and how proudly they surveyed it.

"Couldn't buy them goods 'round these parts," said Uncle Peabody. "Nor nothin' like 'em—no, sir."

"Feels a little bit like the butternut trousers," said Aunt Deel as she felt my coat.

"Ayes, but them butternut trousers ain't what they used to be when they was young and lumber," Uncle Peabody remarked. "Seems so 'tween us gettin' kind o' wrinkled an' baldheaded-like, 'specially where I set down."

"Ayes! Wal I guess a man can't grow old without his pants growin' old, too—ayes!" said Aunt Deel.

"If yer legs are in 'em ev'ry Sunday they ketch it of ye," my uncle answered. "Long sermons are hard on pants, seems to me."

"An' the longer the legs the harder the sermons—in them little seats over 't the schoolhouse—ayes!" Aunt Deel added by way of justifying his complaint. "There wouldn't be so much wear in a ten-mile walk—no!"

"The chicken pie was baking and the strawberries were ready for the short-cake."

"I've been wallerin' since the dew was off gittin' them berries an' v'lets—ayes!" said Aunt Deel, now busy with her work at the stove.

"Aunt, you look as young as ever," I remarked.

She slapped my arm and said with mock severity:

"Stop that! W'y! You know better—ayes!"

"How vigorously she stirred the fire then."

"I can't return the compliment—my soul! how you've changed—ayes!" she remarked.

"I hope you ain't fit no more, Bart. I can't bear to think of you flyin' at folks an' poundin' 'em. Don't seem right—no, it don't!"

"Why, Aunt Deel, what in the world do you mean?" I asked.

as soon as they see ye comin' an' that you pull the trees up by the roots to git at 'em."

"A certain amount of such deviltry is necessary to the comfort of Mr. Purvis," I remarked. "If there is nobody else to take the responsibility for it he assumes it himself. His imagination has an intense craving for blood and violence. It's that type of American who, egged on by the slave power, is hurrying us into trouble with Mexico."

Purvis came in presently with a look in his face which betrayed his knowledge of the fact that all the cobwebs spun by his fancy were now to be brushed away. Still he enjoyed them while they lasted and there was a kind of tact claim in his manner that they were subjects regarding which no honest man could be expected to tell the truth.

As we ate our dinner they told me that an escaped slave had come into a neighboring county and excited the people with stories of the auction block and of negroes driven like yoked oxen on plantations in South Carolina, whence he had escaped on a steamboat.

"I b'lieve I'm goin' to vote for abolition," said Uncle Peabody. "I wonder what Silas Wright will say to that."

"He'll probably advise against it; the time isn't ripe for so great a change," was my answer. "He thinks that the whole matter should be left to the glacial action of time's forces."

Indeed I had spoken the view of the sounder men of the North. The subject filled them with dread alarm. But the attitude of Uncle Peabody was significant. The sentiment in favor of a change was growing. It was now to be reckoned with, for the abolition party was said to hold the balance of power in New York and New England and was behaving itself like a bull in a china shop.

After dinner I tried to put on some of my old clothes, but found that my nakedness had so expanded that they would not cover it, so I hitched my white mare on the spring wagon and drove to the village for my trunk.

Every week day after that I worked in the fields until the senator arrived in Canton about the middle of August. On one of those happy days I received a letter from old Kate, dated, to my surprise, in Saratoga. It said:

"Dear Barton Baynes: I thought I would let you know that my father is dead. I have come here to rest and have found some work to do. I am better now. Have seen Sally. She is very beautiful and kind. She does not know that I am the old witch, I have changed so. The others do not know—it is better that way. I think it was the Lord that brought me here. He has a way of taking care of some people, my boy. Do you remember when I began to call you my boy—you were very little. It is long, long ago since I first saw you in your father's dooryard—you said you were going to mill on a butterfly's back. You looked just as I thought my boy would look. You gave me a kiss. What a wonderful gift it was to me then! I began to love you. I have no one else to think of now. I hope you won't mind my thinking so much of you."

"God bless you,"

"KATE FULLERTON."

I understood now why the strong will and singular insight of this woman had so often exercised themselves in my behalf. I could not remember the far day and the happy circumstance of which she spoke, but I wrote her a letter which must have warmed her heart I am sure.

Silas Wright arrived in Canton and drove up to our home. He reached our door at eight in the morning with his hand and rifle. He had aged rapidly since I had seen him last. His hair was almost white. There were many new lines in his face. He seemed more grave and dignified. He did not lapse into the dialect of his fathers when he spoke of the ancient pastimes of hunting and fishing as he had been wont to do.

"Bart," he said when the greetings were over, "let's you and me go and spend a day in the woods. I'll leave my man here to help your uncle while you're gone."

We went by driving south a few miles and trapping in to the foot of the stillwater on our river—a trail long familiar to me. The dog left us soon after we took it and began to range over thick wooded hills. We sat down among small, spriglike spruces at the river's edge with a long stretch of water in sight while the music of the honnd's voice came faintly to our ears from the distant forest.

"Oh, I've been dreaming of this for a long time," said the senator as he leered back against a tree and filled his lungs and looked out upon the water, green with lily pads along the edge and flecked with the last of the white blossoms. "I believe you want to leave this lovely country."

"I am waiting for the call to go,"

"Well, I'm inclined to think you are the kind of man who ought to go," he answered almost sadly. "You are needed. I have been waiting until we should meet to congratulate you on your behavior at Cobleskill. I think you have the right spirit—that is the all-important matter. You will encounter strange company in the game of politics. Let me tell you a story."

He told me many stories of his life in Washington, interrupted by a sound like that of approaching footsteps. We ceased talking and presently a flock of partridges came near us, pacing along over the mat of leaves in a leisurely fashion. We sat perfectly still. A young cock bird with his beautiful ruff standing out, like the hair on the back of a frightened dog, strode toward us with a comic threat in his manner. It seemed as if he were of half a mind to knock us into the river.

But we sat as still as stumps and he spared us and went on with the others. The baying of the honnd was nearer now. Suddenly we saw a big buck come down on the shore of the cove near us and on our side of the stream. He looked to right and left. Then he made a long leap into the water and waded slowly until it covered him. He raised his nose and laid his antlers back over his shoulders and swam quietly downstream, his nose just showing above the water. His antlers were like a bit of driftwood. If we had not seen him take the water his antlers might easily have passed for a bunch of dead sticks. Soon the buck slowly lifted his head and turned his neck and looked at both shores. Then very deliberately he resumed his place under water and went on. We watched him as he took the farther shore below us and made off in the woods again.

"I couldn't shoot at him, it was such a beautiful bit of politics," said the senator.

Soon the honnd reached the cove's edge and swam the river and ranged up and down the bank for half an hour before he found the buck's trail again.

"I've seen many a rascal, driven to water by the honnds, go swimming away as slyly as that buck, with their horns in the air, looking as innocent as a bit of driftwood. They come in from both shores—the Whig and the Democrat—and they are always shot at from one bank or the other."

I remember it surprised me a little to hear him say that they came in from both shores.

"Just what do you want to do?" he asked presently.

"I should like to go down to Washington with you and help you in any way that I can."

"All right, partner—we'll try it," he answered gravely. "I hope that I don't forget and work you as hard as I work myself. It wouldn't be decent. I have a great many letters to write. I'll try thinking out loud while you take them down in sound-hand. Then you can draft them neatly and I'll sign them. You have tact and good manners and can do many of my errands for me and save me from those who have no good reason for taking up my time."

"You will meet the best people and the worst. There's just a chance that it may come to something worth while—who knows? You are young yet. It will be good training and you will witness the making of some history now and then."

What elation I felt!

Again the voice of the honnd, which had been ringing in the distant hills, was coming nearer.

"We must keep watch—another deer is comin'," said the senator.

We had only a moment's watch before a fine yearling buck came down to the opposite shore and stood looking across the river. The senator raised his rifle and fired. The buck fell in the edge of the water.

"How shall we get him?" my friend asked.

"It will not be difficult," I answered as I began to undress. Nothing was difficult those days.

I swam the river and towed the buck across with a beech with in his gambrel joints. The honnd joined me before I was half across with my burden and nosed the carcass and swam on ahead yelping with delight.

We dressed the deer and then I had the great joy of carrying him on my back two miles across the country to the wagon. The senator wished to send a guide for the deer, but I insisted that the carrying was my privilege.

"Well, I guess your big thighs and broad shoulders can stand it," said he.

"My uncle has always said that no man could be called a hunter until he can go into the woods without a guide and kill a deer and bring it out on his back. I want to be able to testify that I am at least partly qualified."

"Your uncle didn't say anything about fetching the deer across a deep river without a boat, did he?" Mr. Wright asked me with a smile.

Leaves of the beeches, maples and basswoods—yellowed by frost—hung like tiny lanterns, glowing with noontide light, above the dim forest aisle which we traversed.

The sun was down when we got to the clearing.

"What a day it has been!" said Mr. Wright when we were seated in the wagon.

"One of the best in my life," I answered with a joy in my heart like that of which I have rarely known. In these many years that have come to me, I rode on in silence with the calls of the swamp robin and the hermit thrush ringing in our ears as the night fell.

"It's a good time to think, and there we take different roads," said my friend. "You will turn into the future and I into the past."

"I've been thinking about your uncle," he said by and by. "He is one of the greatest men I have ever known. You knew of that foolish gossip about him—didn't you?"

"Yes," I answered.

"Well, now, he's gone about his business the same as ever and showed by his life that it couldn't be true. Not a word out of him! But Dave Ramsey fell sick—down on the flat last winter. By and by his children were crying for bread and the postmaster was going to take charge of them. Well, you should turn up there, just in the nick of time, but Della and Peabody Baynes. They fed those children all winter and kept them in clothes so that they could go to school. The strange thing about it is this: It was Dave Ramsey who really started that night. He got up in church the other night and confessed his crime. His conscience wouldn't let him keep it."

Victim of Popular Song.

Lawrence Kellie tells of an amusing experience he had over the song, "Douglas Gordon." He was introduced one evening to a gentleman whose name he did not catch. "I have no desire to meet you, Mr. Kellie," said the stranger. Kellie naturally looked a little astonished, but said nothing. "In fact," the other went on, "I hate the very sound of your name. For months past my mother has been worried by the receipt of telegrams and letters of condolence on my behalf, and the thing is beginning to get monotonous." "I'm sorry," said Kellie, "but what's that got to do with me?" "Well, I'll tell you," said the other. "My name's Douglas Gordon, and everybody imagines that your confounded song refers to me." And with that he turned on his heel and went.

Much Buzz; Little Honey.

"Many a man dat's as busy as a bee," said Uncle Eben, "uses up all his time buzzin' an' don't make no honey."

He said that he had not seen Peabody Baynes on that road the day the money was lost but had only heard that he was there. He knew now that he couldn't have been there. Gosh 'a'mighty! as your uncle used to say when there was nothing else to be said."

It touched me to the soul—this long-delayed vindication of my beloved Uncle Peabody.

The senator ate supper with us and sent his hired man out for his horse and buggy. When he had put on his overcoat and was about to go he turned to my uncle and said:

"Peabody Baynes, if I have had any success in the world it is because I have had the exalted honor and consciousness that I represented men like you."

He left us and we sat down by the glowing candles. Soon I told them what Ramsey had done. There was a moment of silence. Uncle Peabody rose and went to the water pail for a drink.

"Bart, I believe I'll plant corn on that ten-acre lot next spring—damned if I don't," he said as he returned to his chair.

None of us ever spoke of the matter again, to my knowledge.

CHAPTER XVIII.

On the Summit.

My mental assets would give me a poor rating, I presume, in the commerce of modern scholarship when I went to Washington that autumn with Senator and Mrs. Wright. Still it was no smattering that I had, but rather a few broad areas of knowledge which were firmly in my possession. My best asset was not mental but spiritual, if I may be allowed to say it, in all modesty, for therein I claim no special advantage, saving, possibly, an unusual strength of character in my aunt and uncle. Those days the candles were lighting the best trails of knowledge all over the land. Never has the general spirit of this republic been so high and admirable as then and a little later. It was to speak, presently, in the immortal voices of Whittier, Emerson, Whitman, Greeley and Lincoln. The dim glow of the candles had entered their souls and out of them came a light that filled the land and was seen of all men.

The railroads on which we traveled from Utica, the great cities through which we passed, were a wonder and an inspiration to me. I was awed by the grandeur of Washington itself. I took lodgings with the senator and his wife.

"Now, Bart," said he, when we had arrived, "I'm going to turn you loose here for a little while before I put harness on you. Go about for a week or so and get the lay of the land and the feel of it. Mrs. Wright will be your guide until the general situation has worked its way into your consciousness."

It seemed to me that there was not room enough in my consciousness for the great public buildings and the pictures and the statues and the vast machinery of the government. Beauty and magnitude have a wonderful effect when they spring fresh upon the vision of a youth out of the back country. I sang of the look of them in my letters and soon I began to think about them and imperfectly to understand them. They had their epic, lyric and dramatic stages in my consciousness.

One afternoon we went to hear Senator Wright speak. He was to answer Calhoun on a detail of the banking laws. The floor and galleries were filled. With what emotion I saw him rise and begin his argument as all ears bent to hear him! He aimed not at popular sentiments in highly finished rhetoric, as did Webster, to be quoted in the school books and repeated on every platform. But no words of mine—and I have used many in the effort—are able to convey a notion of the masterful ease and charm of his manner on the floor of the senate or of the singular modesty, courtesy, aptness and simplicity of his words as they fell from his lips. There were the thunderous Webster, the grandeur of whose sentences no American has equaled; the agile-minded Clay, whose voice was like a silver clarion; the far-seeing, fiery Calhoun, of "the swift sword"—most formidable in debate—but I was soon to learn that neither nor all of these men—gifted of heaven so highly—could cope with the suave, incisive, conversational sentences of Wright, going straight to the heart of the subject and laying it bare to his hearers. That was what people were saying as we left the senate chamber, late in the evening; that, indeed, was what they were always saying after they had heard him answer an adversary.

PERKINS TELLS OF "Y" WORK IN EUROPE

Reasons for the Unfavorable Criticism Are Explained.

DIFFICULT TO GET GOOD MEN

New York, May 7.—George W. Perkins of New York, chairman of the finance committee of the war work council of the Y. M. C. A., has just returned from Europe, where he spent over four months in making a thorough investigation of the work done by the Y. M. C. A. His report was made public today, and in large part is an answer to the unfavorable criticism of the organization so often heard of late.

First explaining the difficulty of securing efficient workers and the care exercised in the selection of the 11,229 persons who were sent abroad, Mr. Perkins says:

"Much has been said about the inefficiency of some of these workers, and, without doubt, a number of them were inefficient. In any form of organization in civilian life, whether it be public schools, chain stores or corporations, if 90 per cent of those originally employed make good, the result is regarded as highly satisfactory. If 10 per cent of the 11,229 people operating in France for the Y. M. C. A. were inefficient it would mean that there were 1,122 men and women who were more or less of a failure. I do not believe that anything like this number of people were unsuccessful; but if under the close scrutiny which the soldiers give these welfare workers even 5 per cent of them were failures, it would have put a large amount of criticism in circulation, and the work of the 95 per cent who were successful would be forgotten in the publicity given to the 5 per cent who were unsuccessful.

"That the workers as a whole were brave and unselfish is shown by the fact that 14 Y. M. C. A. secretaries were killed and 126 others were wounded."

Why Canteen Prices Varied.

The report relates the troubles and expenses met by the Y. M. C. A. after it undertook the management of the General canteens at the request of General Pershing and the confused conditions that made it impossible to arrive at an average cost price of the goods sold to the soldiers. It continues:

"The Y. M. C. A. never solicited money for the purpose of giving away its canteen supplies. If the Y. M. C. A. had given away canteen supplies in France on the scale of its sales, it would have spent in this activity alone at least as much money as its entire expenditures in France for all its activities. The constant policy of the Y. M. C. A. was to sell canteen supplies at as nearly cost as possible, and to bend every effort, when fighting was in progress, to furnish the men at the front with supplies free of charge where it was at all possible to get the goods to them.

"Some have criticized the Y. M. C. A. for not giving away more articles, such as cigarettes, chocolate, etc. Its policy has been not to give away generally, but only in special and needy cases. From June, 1918, to April, 1919, the Y. M. C. A. handled in France alone upward of 2,000,000,000 packages of cigarettes, 32,000,000 bars of chocolate, 18,000,000 cans of smoking tobacco, 50,000,000 cigars, 60,000,000 cans of jam, 29,000,000 packages of chewing gum, and 10,000,000 packages of candy. These are only a few of the items handled, but the size of these figures should convince anyone that it would be financially impossible for the Y. M. C. A. to give its supplies away generally. Furthermore, the army does not favor any such policy. It thinks that it is far better for the men to spend their money on such articles as these than to spend it in other ways. For the most part the men hold the same view."

Its Varied Activities.

In considerable detail Mr. Perkins relates the varied and extraordinarily extensive activities of the Y. M. C. A. abroad, including the manufacture of much of its supplies, the establishment of many hundreds of huts, with athletics, moving pictures, and various other forms of entertainment; the management of sight-seeing tours for soldiers on leave; the immense work of the educational and religious departments and the distribution of reading matter. In conclusion Mr. Perkins says:

"The Y. M. C. A. undoubtedly made mistakes, but what it tried to do was to respond to every call that the army made on it. It never hesitated to tackle any job it was asked to undertake; it did not sidestep any task it was asked to perform. It took the position that it was in Europe to do all it could, as best it could; that when it was called on to render service of any kind, its duty was to respond in the same kind of spirit that the soldiers did and not hold back because adverse circumstances might make it impossible to meet with maximum success. Surely every contributor of money will approve the Y. M. C. A.'s course in this respect."

WOMEN NEED SWAMP-ROOT

Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it. Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased. Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are often times symptoms of kidney trouble.

BIG BILLS AHEAD OF STATE SOLONS

Present Week to Be Most Important of Session.

LIQUOR AND MARKETING ACTS

Vital Measures Scheduled for Disposition—Fierce Clash Anticipated Over Dry Enforcement—Speedy Action Is Necessary.

Madison.—Hope of an adjournment of the legislature by June 1 is slipping fast, as postponements during the last few weeks of many important questions have thrown the burden of work upon the concluding days of the session.

Lieut. Gov. E. F. Dithmar, presiding officer of the senate, and Speaker Riley Young made the prediction some time ago that work would be finished by June 1, and they are making every effort to fulfill their promise.

But with the prohibition enforcement, the recall of appointive officials, the teaching of foreign languages in the public schools, the soldier bonuses, the marketing commission, the minimum wages, the eight-hour day, the other of the most important questions placed before the present session still undisposed of, the legislature will have to break all records for speed if it is to complete its work within four weeks.

To date less than half of the bills before the two houses have been acted upon. Almost 2,000 bills have been introduced and final action taken on less than 600.

A large part of Senator Wilcox's reconstruction program remains to be acted upon, and these bills probably will take up more time than any other matters still pending.

Perhaps the biggest and longest legislative battle yet to be concluded this session is that over the enforcement of the national prohibition amendment.

The amendment will further provide for a basic eight-hour day and will permit an employer to work his men longer than eight hours a day provided he pays them time and one-half for time worked over that period.

The high cost of living is not worrying the state of Wisconsin. It is more prosperous today than it has ever been this time of the year, while the average householder is obliged to pay higher rents as well as coal bills accumulated during the winter.

The treasury contains $8,062,164.55, of which the general fund contains $5,873,452.93. Other funds are: Teachers' insurance and retirement, $21,767.77; university, $16,342.63; university fund income, $1,221,115.86; normal schools, $130,016.85; normal fund income, $34,882.64; state insurance, $118,963.82; state life insurance, $1,220.78; university trust, $20,874.94; university trust fund income, $2,921.48; forest reserve, $30,547.22; schools, $30,241.92; school fund income, $367,434.55; agricultural college, $4,360.79; agricultural college fund income, $9,580.23; Menominee Indian reservation, $9,458.10; drainage, $1,183.81; delinquent tax, $220.13; indemnity, $1,400.74; benevolent fund income, $189.37.

Gov. E. L. Philipp's statement in favor of 3 per cent beer has greatly strengthened the position of the wets, but the prohibition forces have replied with a flood of printed petitions, addressed to Assemblyman Axel Johnson, coming from all sections of the state, and bearing the following plea:

"I urge defeat of all bills to legalize sale of beer of any per cent of alcoholic strength."

Too many of these petitions, which were printed on postcards, have been received to crowd into Mr. Johnson's mail box, and so they have been divided up and delivered to the member representing the particular district from which they came.

The big fight, therefore, has resolved itself into what shall be the definition of an intoxicating liquor in Wisconsin, and it is not likely that the present session will adjourn until some sort of law has been enacted.

On the same day that the next vote will be taken on the prohibition question the assembly will act on the marketing problem. Thursday has been set for action on the substitute to the committee marketing bill, which has passed the senate and which provides for the creation of a commissioner of markets within the department of agriculture.

The senate committee on education and public welfare pulled a surprise when it reported for indefinite postponement Senator Bird's bill providing that a candidate nominated by two parties in their primary by a plurality in each primary may run on both tickets.

Senate Bills Passed. Bills passed in the upper branch of the legislature the past week include Senator Bentley's bill relating to printing by the state department of military historical matter, and concurred in the finance committee's appropriation for the normal schools; Mr. Donnelly's on powers of Milwaukee in fixing salaries; Mr. Hood's, authorizing consecutive election of city officers; Mr. Kurtenacker's, authorizing the appointment of a county auditor; Mr. Metenifer's, empowering issue of bonds to build public markets.

Many Oppose "Movie" Bill.

A flood of petitions and remonstrances against the Oakes bill, providing for a state board of censors for moving picture films greeted the assembly state affairs committee when it began hearing arguments on it.

For the past several days the petitions were so numerous they were not even read, but were merely ordered printed by title in the assembly journal and referred to the committee.

Among the cities besides Milwaukee, which had over 2,230 signers, that sent petitions and the number of signers are: Washburn, 96; Livingston, 45; Appleton, 47; Sharon, 119; Harbort, 47; Kaukauna, 143; Kenosha, 109; Milton, 36; De Pere, 63; Mineral Point, 53; Mayville, 47; Columbus, 127; Reedsville, 44; New Glarus, 33; Price county, 30; Red Granite, 51; Madison, 640; Pewaukee, 48; Brownsville, 59.

Among the petitions in favor of the bill, about a dozen, were from the Bethany Free church, Madison; Milwaukee Principals' association; Woman's Civic League and Twentieth Century club, Racine, and the Waterloo Woman's club.

That there is no need of a censor and that the passage of the bill would practically put the little movie houses out of business, is the claim made by the opponents.

The state affairs committee of the assembly voted 5 to 1, to recommend for indefinite postponement the Oakes bill for a censorship board of three members with power to review all film pictures to be exhibited in Wisconsin.

Remove Teeth From Eight-Hour Bill. The Marcus E. Johnson eight-hour bill will be minus many of its rigid provisions when next it appears in the assembly.

Following a hearing on the bill and the nine amendments which were presented when the measure came up in the lower house a week ago, the assembly labor committee decided to draft a substitute amendment and report it for passage.

This amendment will probably exempt from inaugurating an eight-hour day the following: Canneries, logging and lumbering industries, farming, nurses, butter and cheese factories, milk and cream depots and distributors, firemen and policemen and men engaged in work on highways outside of cities.

The amendment will further provide for a basic eight-hour day and will permit an employer to work his men longer than eight hours a day provided he pays them time and one-half for time worked over that period.

State Coffers Are Well Filled. The high cost of living is not worrying the state of Wisconsin. It is more prosperous today than it has ever been this time of the year, while the average householder is obliged to pay higher rents as well as coal bills accumulated during the winter.

The treasury contains $8,062,164.55, of which the general fund contains $5,873,452.93. Wisconsin Soldiers Welcomed. Thirty-two officers and 606 men of the Thirty-second division (former National Guard of Wisconsin and Michigan) arrived in New York this week on the steamship Cap Fleister from Brest.

Gov. E. L. Philipp of Wisconsin and Gov. Albert E. Sleeper of Michigan were present to welcome these soldiers: Sixty-fourth Infantry brigade headquarters, including Brig. Gen. Edward B. Winans, the brigade commander; and the One Hundred and Twenty-seventh Infantry's field and staff, headquarters company, medical detachment Company A, and a detachment of Company B. They are assigned mostly to Camps Sherman, Custer, Grant, Shelby and Dodge.

Former Legislator Dead. Frank M. Clark, president of the Wild Rose State bank and prominent citizen of Waushara county, died at his home in Wild Rose last week. Mr. Clark was a member of the legislature in 1917, representing that county. His father, John Clark, is a well-known resident of Wautoma.

Daily Sessions Being Held. In an effort to speed up legislation that adjournment may be taken early in June, both houses will hold daily sessions, except on Sunday, until May 16.

Pass Public Health Nurse Bill. The assembly passed the Coe bill providing that within two years after July 1, 1919, every county in the state shall have hired a public health nurse. The discussion of the bill brought out the information that many counties already had nurses, but that the Coe bill would make the matter compulsory.

An amendment by Chilsen to change the board which will control the nurses' activities was killed 39 to 45. This is the nurse bill backed by the women of the state from whom many appeals had been received.

The KITCHEN CABINET

GOOD MEALS FROM LEFTOVERS.

Take the leftover mashed potato and form it into cakes or croquettes, adding an egg yolk for food value; season with salt and place in a pan to bake. Just before putting into the oven, brush with a beaten egg white, which will brown with a good color. Serve hot for a supper dish.

Oriental Stew.—Simmer gently together two cupfuls each of cooked mutton cut in cubes and cooked potatoes diced, one cupful of water, two tablespoonfuls of fat, one chopped onion, one cupful of cooked peas or cooked string beans; season with salt, pepper and a very little curry powder. While the stew is cooking cook a half-cupful of rice. When it is tender, place on a hot vegetable dish, and in the center turn the stew.

Put thinly sliced stale cake together sandwich fashion with any preserve or jelly, then serve with whipped cream or a fruit sauce, if preferred.

With Bananas.—Peel, scrape and wash three bananas; add a few drops of lemon juice and sugar to taste, with a pinch of salt. Stir this fruit into one cupful of nicely cooked rice and serve with cream and sugar.

Beef Brains.—Brains when nicely cooked and served make a most dainty and digestible dish. Beef brains are firmer than those of a young animal, but any kind from any animal will do. Blanch the brains as one does sweetbreads, adding a tablespoonful of vinegar to a quart of water and salt to taste. Parboil 20 minutes with a blade of mace, a bay leaf, or any desired seasoning; drain and plunge into cold water; wash and remove all membrane and set on ice to chill. Serve cut in dice in a brown or white sauce. They may be served as one does sweetbreads and they are very similar in appearance.

Salmon Canape.—Remove the bones from a moderate-sized can of salmon; pound in a mortar with two hard-cooked eggs, a teaspoonful of mustard, two teaspoonfuls of lemon juice, and a dash of cayenne. Just before spreading on hot slices of toast add a salt-spoon of horseradish and set in the oven to heat. Serve with finely minced celery on the top of each.

They are as sick who surfeit with too much, as they that starve with nothing.—Shakespeare.

PRACTICAL IDEAS FOR MAKING HOUSEKEEPING EASIER.

If there are those in the home who persist in using the woodwork for scratching matches smear a little vaseline over the spot generally used. After a few attempts to scratch a match on the greasy surface, even the most persistent offender will desist.

Two holders fastened together with a tape long enough to be thrown around the neck will always be handy when a holder is needed.

A pocket on the inside of the apron will not catch on anything and tear. Put a piece of camphor gum or a stick of camphor ice in the silver drawer; it will keep the silver from tarnishing.

A clothespin bag hung from a coat hanger may be pushed along on the clothesline as needed.

A nut cracker makes a good wrench for small bottles with screw tops. Old wall paper of heavy oatmeal or of light tints may be tinted cheaply with a special tint for use on walls.

The lower stair of the back stairs put on hinges makes a fine place to keep rubbers, overshoes and other things which are so apt to be mislaid.

When putting a patch on wall paper to cover a spot, tear the edges, as they are much less visible than if evenly cut.

When stirring in a small dish use a clothespin to steady it on the hot stove. A dried-out half of egg shell with a hole broken in the end will serve as a funnel for filling small bottles.

IT'S NO SECRET where she got her color. Many women, perhaps your neighbor, will tell you that she got her wonderful color, her vivacious spirits, her strength and health by taking a "temperance" tonic, known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Probably no man in America was ever better qualified to successfully treat the disease peculiar to women than Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. The cases that come to him run into many thousands, giving him an experience that rarely comes to any one man. Dr. Pierce found that in nearly every case there were certain vegetable growths which rarely failed to give prompt relief in those feminine disorders from which so many women suffer. He combined these roots and herbs into a temperance medicine that he called Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This medicine is sold in both liquid and tablet form by druggists everywhere. A weakly, sickly, backache, headache, nervous, despondent woman, with regular or irregular pains—with feminine disorders that come in youth or middle age—is pretty sure to find in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the exact remedy that her condition calls for. WAS IN MISERY

Mrs. Jobs Was in Serious Condition From Dropsy. Doan's Made Her Well.

"I don't think many have gone through such misery as I," says Mrs. C. Jobs, 139 Federal St., Burlington, N. J. "That awful pain in my back felt as though my spine were crushed. My head ached and I had reeling and falling sensations when everything would turn black. Though the kidney secretions passed ten or fifteen times in an hour, only a few drops came at a time and they felt like boiling water. I soon found I had dropsy. I bloated all over. My face was so swollen I could hardly see out of my eyes. My ankles and feet felt as though they would burst. I put any weight on them. My night clothes became wringing wet with sweat and I would get chilly and shake all over. Doan's Kidney Pills soon had me feeling like a different woman. My kidneys were regulated and all the ailing went away. The aches and pains left me and after I had finished my eighth box of Doan's, I was as well as ever. My kidneys have never bothered me since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me."

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Nitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and hollowing the chest and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness. Thinness and weakness are usually due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as Nitro-Phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, Nitro-Phosphate quickly produces a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing. This increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, soon disappear. Dull eyes become bright, and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health. CAUTION:—Although Nitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh-growing properties, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

FINE CROPS SURE

Outlook in Western Canada Never More Favorable.

Perfect Weather Conditions Enabled Early Seeding and Wheat Has Long Been Above Ground in the Land of Opportunity.

The greatest optimism prevails throughout every district in Western Canada. From the eastern boundary of Manitoba to the slopes of the Rocky Mountains the farmers have been busy for three weeks in seeding operations. Last fall, even for Western Canada, was an exceptional one. Threshing was completed at an early date and the amount of fall plowing made ready for crop from fifteen to twenty-five per cent more acreage than in any year in the brief history of the country. Therefore there was ready for seeding this spring an acreage away beyond anything ever before experienced in that country.

On April 20 Calgary (Alta.) reported that in south country points there was a notable spirit of optimism amongst the farmers there. Moisture and weather conditions were good, while land in most places was in the best possible condition. More tractors were being put into operation than in any previous year. In some parts of the south country, however, there was a marked shortage of labor, but in the consideration of the country as a whole the labor outlook was bright.

Seeding operations were well under way in every part of Western Canada by the fifteenth of April. The practice of the farmers in that country is to commence as soon as the frost is out of the ground enough to allow the few inch seed bed to be worked up well. Beneath this the ground may still be frozen, but from this frost the young and tender wheat roots get the moisture at first so necessary to its existence. The warm days of spring and the long hours of sunlight that are ushered in with it thaw the frost out day by day and pay to the growing plant the moisture as it is needed. Nature's way of producing moisture to the young wheat plant is one of the chief reasons why Western Canada has become world famous as a wheat-producing country. What may be said of wheat can as truly be said of oats and barley, and yes, in fact, corn, too. Rapid and strong growth is stimulated in this manner. Heavy spring rains usually occur after seeding is over and the grain well above ground. Already a report has been received, dated April 20, that a farmer near Carleton Place, Saskatchewan, had 180 acres of wheat showing above the ground.

A good, strong and sturdy wheat plant is necessary when it is expected that there will be produced a forty-bushel-to-the-acre crop of wheat of a quality that will weigh out its sixty-five pounds to the measured bushel.

These spring wheat conditions represent but one of the reasons why Western Canada has been able to produce, with so little effort, world's record grain crops, wheat and oats that have carried off all championship awards at America's largest exhibitions.

Western Canada has this spring shipped ten thousand bushels of Marquis wheat, the variety that holds most of the world's championships, to Australia, where it is to be tried out. Seventy-five thousand bushels of the same variety has been sent to France to be used for seed.

The wheat lands of Western Canada are probably the most undervalued of any on the continent.

A comparatively small acreage of Western Canada's lands has been sold as high as $60 an acre. The greater portion of the best farming land in its unimproved state may be purchased at $25 an acre. The comparison between these prices and an annual revenue derived from grain-growing alone, with big yields and present prices, can but more firmly impress one with the certainty of a rapid increase within the next few years.—Advertisement.

Badger State Happenings

Elkhorn—A Walworth county Holstein cow, Walcovic Ollie Mooie, owned by Nathan Dickinson & Son, Lake Geneva, has the world's record. She is the youngest of any breed to make a record of more than 1,000 pounds of butter in a year, and in fact the fourth junior two-year-old of the breed to enter the 1,000-pound list. Figures on this cow, as sent out from the advanced registry office at Delavan, records made at two years twenty days of age, follow: Butter, 7 days, 27.37 pounds; milk, 7 days, 563.5 pounds; butter, 30 days, 106.9 pounds; milk, 30 days, 2,229.8 pounds; butter, 365 days, 1,010.63 pounds; milk, 365 days, 21,569.7 pounds.

Sturgeon Bay—Two large steel boats, each 250 feet long, 42 feet across the beam and with a hold depth of 19 feet will be constructed at the Universal Shipbuilding yards here. The craft will be propelled by semi-Diesel engines and are intended for ocean service, to be used in the mahogany lumber trade with South Africa. Three large wooden tugs for the government are nearing completion at the yards and will be launched soon. The tugs, which are 150 feet in length, are for ocean service, it being understood they are to be used in government service in the Panama canal zone.

Oshkosh—That the "reds" would not find this city to their liking is to be judged from the position taken by Mayor A. C. McHenry, head of the commission form of government here. That organized expression of bolshevism, I. W. W. or any other form of lawlessness would be met with all the force of opposition at his command, should it seek to develop in Oshkosh, is the assurance given by Mr. McHenry.

Sheboygan—The civics committee of the Woman's club is conducting a baby clinic in the school houses. The mothers are responding better than last year, when the "Better Babies" campaign was a tremendous success. All the city's physicians have been called into service and they are giving the mothers practical suggestions on how to care for children. The physicians are being aided by two nurses.

Janesville—David F. Sayre, aged 97, probably the oldest member of the Psi Upsilon fraternity in the country, died at his home in the town of Porter, near here. He was admitted to the bar at Waterson, N. J., in 1844, coming to Wisconsin five years later. He held many Rock county positions and was elected representative in the state legislature in 1873. He rode on the first train driven from Detroit to Chicago.

Stevens Point—A patriotic ambition which Forrest Houtenhan of this city has cherished during nearly two years of army service has been fulfilled in France, in his recent promotion from sergeant to the rank of second lieutenant. Rejected as an officer candidate at Fort Sheridan, he enlisted in the national guard as a private, and after many months of service overseas has won his commission.

Janesville—Special arrangements for accommodating discharged soldiers going from Camp Grant to their homes in Wisconsin and Minnesota have been established by the Y. M. C. A. A lounging room is provided together with writing materials. Cots have been placed in a separate room. During the last four weeks more than 100 soldiers have spent the night at the "Y."

Marinette—Lieut. John Culnan, former Marinette newspaper man, who was awarded the distinguished service cross for heroism fighting with the marines at Chateau Thierry, is on his way home. While in Germany, Lieut. Culnan was in charge of a troop called "The Marine Troubadours" who gave performances for soldiers, presenting one of his own plays.

Kenosha—Dr. W. E. Nelson, city food and dairy inspector, refused to grant licenses to a proprietor of a butcher shop and a milk dealer, and held up applications of fourteen other dealers of foodstuffs. Dr. Nelson had warned purveyors of food who were careless in handling products, that their licenses would be rejected.

Sheboygan—The Kohler company has announced that it will pay every one of its employees 10 per cent of the total wages and salaries earned in 1918, as a Victory bonus. A special bonus will be paid those men who were in the service.

La Crosse—An intensive campaign for the organization of all machinists and shopworkers has been inaugurated by the Trades and Labor council.

Green Bay—The Fort Howard Paper Co., Green Bay's newest paper mill, has obtained a river frontage site on Fox river near the southern limits of the city. A plant, costing about $250,000, will be built immediately. The completed plant will employ about 200 men.

La Crosse—More than 300 delegates came here to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the Odd Fellows. A. Wehausen was the oldest member in attendance having joined in 1852.

Tomah—County Agricultural Agent David Davidson has begun a strenuous campaign among farmers of Monroe county for the planting of leguminous crops, making an appeal for increased acreage of soy beans. He is particularly showing the great value of this crop as a forage plant and for soil building. During recent years, our farming classes have not done much with the soy bean, but his appeals for this crop are receiving a great deal of encouragement, and, as there is no doubt of the distinct advantage to the farmers of this valuable plant, it is expected that a considerably increased acreage will result from Mr. Davidson's efforts this season.

Phillips—A prominent Price county Guernsey breeder is going to give a purebred bull calf to the first school that can report 100 per cent purebred sires in its district. Everyone here is actively backing the Better Wisconsin campaign. A newspaper is to run a special "bull" column. Price county is rapidly forging to the front in the raid on the scrub sire. Incomplete reports from school teachers show that Price county has 29 per cent purebred bulls.

Green Bay—Brown county acquired 480 acres May 1, valued at $225,000, in the village of Pulaski, Shawano and Oconto counties. The property became part of Brown county by act of the legislature. The major portion of the business district of Pulaski is included, as a part was in Brown, a part in Shawano, and a part in Oconto county. In no other spot in the state did such a condition exist.

Green Bay—Daisy Minihan, 39, member of a prominent Green Bay family died in Los Angeles, Cal., where she had gone for her health. Miss Minihan, who was one of the survivors of the Titanic, had never recovered from her experiences while floating on a raft in mid-ocean. She is survived by Drs. J. R. and R. B. Minihan, Green Bay, and Capt. V. I. Minihan, who is with the forces in France.

La Crosse—The La Crosse & South-eastern railroad, from this city to Viroqua, forty miles, is the first road in the state to adopt gasoline propelled cars for passenger service. A car which carries forty passengers, driven by an automobile engine, had its trial trip. It attained forty miles an hour, and easily climbed a 3 per cent grade where two engines are required on heavy trains.

Manitowoc—A Knights of Columbus council was organized at Two Rivers, when a class of sixty-two received three degrees, conferred by Manitowoc and Green Bay teams. Thirty-five knights of Two Rivers, who have been members of Manitowoc council, will be transferred, which will give the new council a membership of nearly a hundred. A banquet follows the initiation.

Ladysmith—Edward Richardson, American tank driver, has returned from France. During the fighting in the Cambrai sector his tank was put out of commission by a direct hit. All but two of the occupants were killed. The projectile tore its way through the lieutenant in command, sitting beside Richardson on the same seat.

Sheboygan—The First Congregational church, which was destroyed by fire in January, will be rebuilt, subscriptions in excess of $25,000 having been obtained. The edifice is planned to be one of this city's most beautiful churches. An organ to cost upwards of $10,000 will be donated by E. A. Zundel, wealthy philanthropist.

Maiden Rock—Jay Tuttle, operator at the Burlington depot, was away from the station when he heard a train coming. Running to the depot he collided in the dark with a railing which guards some sewer excavating work. Several ribs were broken and he sustained internal injuries that may prove fatal.

Sheboygan—After serving overseas and escaping all the perils to which he had been subjected, and after having almost completed his duties in the army, Private Henry A. Pregel, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Pregel, Sheboygan, died at Fort Leavenworth after a brief illness.

Appleton—At a meeting of contractors of Appleton, Oshkosh, Green Bay, Neenah, Menasha and Fond du Lac, held here, it was decided to give the carpenters 65 cents an hour to avoid a probable strike. First 60 cents was offered, but was refused.

Sheboygan—An attempt to rob the Waldo State bank was frustrated when an automatic apparatus which turns on electric gongs in neighboring residences, frightened the burglars.

Oconomowoc—The Rev. E. Malmberg of Liberty, Mo., has accepted the call to the pastorate of the Baptist church at Oconomowoc and will assume his duties here on June 1.

Madison—Assemblyman L. W. Gibson of Medford dropped dead while reading a newspaper in his room here. He was 46 years old and a republican. Death was due to a sudden attack of heart trouble. Mr. Gibson was president of the First National bank of Medford and was regarded as one of the prominent members of the house. Besides his wife he is survived by a daughter, Catherine, and two sons, Stanley, who is at home, and Stewart, who is with the American army in France.

Criticism.

Billy Sunday tells with gusto of the subtle criticism a pretty Philadelphia girl once passed on his informal preaching methods. The revivalist halted at the end of an impassioned Philadelphia harangue, rolled down his sleeves, put on his coat and said: "And now, dear friends, are there any questions?" "All the congregation was silent except the pretty girl. She asked from her front pew: "May I smoke?"

Indigestion, Gas and Bloat From Acid-Stomach

An acid-stomach cannot digest food properly. Instead, the food sours and ferments, and, passing into the intestines, becomes a breeding place for countless millions of deadly germs—these toxic poisons they are called. These poisons are absorbed into the system and cause untold misery. So, you see, it is just acid-stomach, nothing else—that makes so many people weak, listless and unfit; saps their strength and energy; robs them of their vigor and vitality. Biliousness, bad liver, nervousness, indigestion, splitting headaches, rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica—these and many other still more serious ailments often are traced to the common source—an acid-stomach. Take EATONIC and get rid quickly of the pains of indigestion, heartburn, that horrible, lumpy, bloated feeling after eating; disgusting, belching, food-repeating; sour, gassy stomach. These stomach miseries are caused by what doctors call "Hyperacidity." It's just ACID-STOMACH. And in addition to the pains and miseries it causes, ACID-STOMACH is the starter of a long train of ailments that most people never dreamed are so any way connected with the stomach. Pleasant tasting EATONIC TABLETS that you eat like a bit of candy, quickly put an end to your stomach troubles. They act as an absorbent—literally wipe up the excess harmful acid and make the stomach pure, sweet and strong. Help digestion so that you get all the power and energy from your food. I had been treated by a physician without results, so decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial, and felt better right away. I am keeping house since last April and doing all my housework, where before I was unable to do any work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is certainly the best medicine a woman can take when in this condition. I give you permission to publish this letter."—Mrs. E. R. CRUMMING, R. No. 1, Hellam, Pa.
