MR. AND MRS. QUANDT TENDERED A SURPRISE

A most agreeable surprise party was held in Wm. Hess' hall last Friday evening, which was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Quandt, it being their China wedding anniversary, 175 guests were present. The party was kept a secret until the evening of the celebration, and after the guests had assembled at the hall, Mr. and Mrs. Quandt were given notice and escorted from their home to the hall, where they found the hall beautifully decorated with a China wreath and bouquets at the entrance of the hall. Congratulations were showered upon them from all sides, after which a grand march was held. Following the march dancing and singing was commenced. Much praise is due Robert Falk for his kind address delivered to the couple in behalf of their 20th anniversary and for the grand song sung by him in which all of the guests later joined in singing. At 12 o'clock a most delicious lunch was served. Roden's orchestra furnished the music. Mr. and Mrs. Quandt wish to thank all who attended and assisted in making the event a grand success and also for the beautiful and valuable gifts presented them.

MISS AGNES COLE BECOMES A BRIDE

On Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock, at the St. Matthew's parsonage, occurred the marriage of Miss Agnes Cole, daughter of Mrs. Barbara Cole, and one of the village of Campbellsport's most popular and well known young ladies, to Ray J. Wenzel, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wenzel of Milwaukee. Rev. B. July officiated. The bride was dressed in a pretty brown suede velvet suit with picture hat to match and wore a corsage bouquet of yellow rosebuds. Her attendant, Miss Gladys Wenzel, was attired in a dark blue wool velvet suit, a beautiful Martin stole and a corsage bouquet of pink rosebuds. She wore a picture hat to match her suit. Charles Cole, a brother of the bride attended the groom. After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's mother, with only near relatives present. The home was prettily decorated with green and white. The table was decorated with amilax. The young couple left the same day for a week's wedding trip to St. Charles, Tracy and Minneapolis, Minn. Upon their return they will make their home at Campbellsport, where the groom is employed as signal man for the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad.

DYER BILL BECOMES LAW

The Dyer bill providing a $5,000 fine or five year imprisonment or both, for taking stolen cars or trucks from one state to another, has become a federal law, says W. L. Kissel of the Kissel Motor Car Co. "That this law will materially lessen the evil of interstate traffic in stolen cars, is a foregone conclusion, provided automobile dealers and owners co-operate not only with each other but with officers of the law as well as the judges before whom the criminals are tried.

"It won't take many imprisonments of offenders to show that the public is in earnest and that stealing a motor car is as bad a crime as stealing any other article, necessary or otherwise." -Hartford Times.

THE WEEKLY DEATH TOLL

FRANK DAY

Frank Day, of West Bend, one of the widest known citizens and real estate men of Washington county passed away into Eternal sleep at the St. Agnes hospital, Fond du Lac, at about 11 o'clock Wednesday morning. Blood poisoning and pneumonia is attributed as the cause of his death. Several weeks ago Mr. Day complained of a very sore pimple on his neck in which infection had set in. Blood poisoning developed, and Mr. Day at once left for the St. Agnes hospital to receive treatment. But all the medical aid and attention given proved of no avail, his condition kept growing worse until he finally lapsed into unconsciousness last Sunday, when the family, who were at his bedside realized that his death was only a matter of hours away. Deceased was born in the town of Rubicon, Dodge county on Oct. 13, 1870. On Nov. 26, 1890 he was married to Miss Mary Gould of Hartford. Shortly after their marriage they made their home at Hartford, where they resided until 1909 when Mr. Day and family moved to West Bend where he lived until the time of his early death, and where he was engaged in the real estate business in which vocation he became widely known, working hard and faithfully from early morning until late at night. Mr. Day leaves to mourn, his widow and the following children: Mrs. Walter Schmidt, Mrs. Edward Ott, John, Walter, Frank, Jr., and Juanita. Besides these he is survived by his aged mother at Hartford, and the following brothers and sisters: George and Bert Day of Fond du Lac; James B. Day of Hartford; Fred of Oconomowoc, Jasper Day of Billings, Mont.; Walter Day of Horicon; Mrs. George Baker of New Mexico; and Miss Caroline Day of Hartford. The funeral was held on Friday morning at 9:30 o'clock at which time the remains were taken to Hartford for burial.

LOUELLA KELLER

The grim reaper, death, again saddened the home of Mrs. Hubert Keller, when it called from the family circle her daughter, Louella, aged 16 years, who after a lingering illness of several years' duration, passed away last week Friday, November 14. This is the second death occurring in this family within a week. Mr. Keller died on Saturday, November 7, 1919. Louella was born in Kewaskum on August 5, 1903, and came to her present home about eight years ago. She leaves to mourn her early death her grief stricken mother, three brothers and two sisters, Harvey, Walter, Mildred and Leroy. The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock with services at the family residence. Rev. Ruepert of West Bend officiated. Interment was made in the Van Vechten cemetery.

WISCONSIN NEWS SOLD

The Wisconsin News of Milwaukee was on Tuesday of this week sold by Arthur Brisbane to Wm. Randolph Hearst. "There will be a reorganization of the company due to Mr. Hearst having taken over the controlling stock previously owned by Mr. Brisbane." M. L. Annenberg, business manager of the Wisconsin News, said on Tuesday. The change in the ownership of the paper, which arose out of the consolidation of the Evening Wisconsin, the Daily News and the Free Press, is the third within a period of one year.

NOTICE

The local stores will be closed on next Thursday, Nov. 27, (Thanksgiving Day) in the afternoon. People should make it a point to do their shopping in the forenoon.

WILL HOLD BIG BAZAAR

A bazaar will be held at the Public Library in this village on Thursday, afternoon and evening, December 11, for the benefit of the sinking fund of the Kewaskum High School. A fund which was started for the purpose of raising money and placing same on interest to be later used for the building of a most urgently needed new high school. The bazaar will be held under the management of the Kewaskum Woman's Club, who are putting in every minute of their valuable time in bringing same to a most successful conclusion. The Woman's Club, apparently is taking the lead in giving public entertainments and card parties for the benefit of this fund. The kind of social and public doings which was decided upon by the members of the Joint School District of the Village and Town of Kewaskum, at the annual school meeting last July. No matter how hard the ladies may work or how much time they may spend on the different entertainments they may see fit to hold during the winter months, they cannot do the work alone, they need and should receive the hearty and solid co-operation of each and every member of the school district. It is given for the benefit of the school, consequently it is given for the benefit of your child. All are therefore kindly asked to bring different articles to the bazaar. If you are at a loss in knowing what to do or bring, call on or phone Mrs. Karl Hausmann, president of the Woman's Club, who will gladly give you full particulars. Or if more convenient ask any member of the Woman's Club, who are ready at all times to give all the assistance necessary. Do not leave the work of raising money for the building of a new school house to a few, it benefits all both financially and educationally. So if you have not decided to give a helping hand toward the bazaar, make up your mind to do so and get busy at once. Dollars made now will save just that many dollars on your taxes later on. A warm lunch will be served. Watch the columns of the Statesman for the next two weeks in regard to further particulars of the bazaar.

WORNARDT-SCHLEIF WEDDING

On Thursday, November 20, at 2 p. m., at the parsonage at Campbellsport, Miss Linda M. Wornardt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Wornardt and Fred J. Schleif, two of the town of Auburn's most popular and well known people were quietly married. Rev. Wm. Zenk officiated. The attendants were Miss Rose Ferber, niece of the groom, as bridesmaid, and Walter Wornardt, as best man. The bride wore a dark blue serge suit with hat to match, while the bridesmaid was dressed in a beaver wool poplin with hat to match. The newly weds left the same day for a short wedding trip to points of interest in the northern part of the state. After their return they will go to house keeping on the groom's farm at Sunny Hillside in the town of Auburn, where they will be at home to their countless friends after January 1st, 1920. That their life on the sea of matrimony be full of sunshine and happiness, is the wish of the many friends of the newly weds.

TO GIVE BOX SOCIAL

A box social and miscellaneous raffle will be held at the East Valley School, District No. 10, located two miles northeast of New Fane, on Tuesday evening, Nov. 25, at 8 o'clock. Everyone is cordially invited.

RESIGNS AS AGRICULTURAL AGENT

Geo. A. Blank, who for the past two years was agricultural agent for Washington county, resigned his position this week. Mr. Blank will take charge of the Blank homestead near Grafton, where he has intentions of stocking his farm with pure bred Holstein cattle. The state department will appoint another agent to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Blank's resignation in this county.

MAIL YOUR XMAS PACKAGES EARLY

Residents of this village and vicinity are urged by Post master Geo. H. Schmidt to do their Christmas mailing early, in order to insure prompt and early delivery. During the past two years of war Christmas mails were light, but it is expected that this year it will be heavier than ever before.

IVES CASE NOW IN FULL SWING

The retrial of Raleigh A. Ives, a prominent business man of Fond du Lac, who is charged with the killing of Herbert P. Lochr, also of Fond du Lac on March 25, last, is now on trial at the court house at West Bend, Judge Martin L. Lueck presiding. Ives received his first trial at Fond du Lac during last spring term of court at which time the jury could not agree. The case was then transferred to Green Lake County, the defendant thinking he would not be given a fair trial there on account of a certain amount of prejudice existing among the citizens of that county, was successful in having his case transferred to Washington county. The case has caused quite a sensation throughout the state of Wisconsin, which made it some what difficult in securing a jury for the trial at West Bend. Monday and Tuesday of this week were taken up in empanelling a jury. On Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock the necessary number were drawn consisting of the following men:

John Schmidt, farmer, town of Wayne.
Chas. Goldbeck, farmer, town of Jackson.
Chas. L. Endlich, farmer, town of Addison.
Christ J. Thoma, farmer, town of West Bend.
George Koelsch, farmer, town of Polk.

Adam Beder, farmer, town of Polk.
Theo. Butz, farmer, town of Germantown.

John Portz, manager of grain elevator, Hartford.

W. F. Donath, farmer, town of Farmington.

Jos. M. O'Meara, insurance and real estate man, West Bend.

Arthur Esser, farmer, Hartford.

Henry Hiller, retired farmer, Farmington.

Mr. and Mrs. Ives and his parents are present in the court. Ives is being defended by Attorneys John F. Kluwin of Oshkosh, P. H. Martin of Green Bay and Roy Morse of Fond du Lac. The prosecuting attorneys are Dist. Attorney James Murray of Waupun, and Attorney H. E. Swett of Fond du Lac. Lawyers for the defense will try and prove that the killing was done in self defense and in a heat of passion.

The case is again drawing a wide interest, and the court is crowded to its capacity daily, by visitors who have come from far and near to hear the case.

LOCAL TEAM TAKES OPENING GAME

The Kewaskum Athletic Club Basketball team won its opening game of the season, at the Opera House last week Saturday evening, when they defeated the Wallace-Smith Co. team of Milwaukee by a score of 15 to 30. Even though the visitors suffered an overwhelming defeat as the score indicates, they were, nevertheless, a snappy and fast quintette of basketball players. The fact that they were out-weighted, was the cause of their not being able to run up a higher score. They put up a clean game and admitted that they had no chance of winning at any stage of the game, taking their defeat in a most sportsmanlike manner, in the hope that they may at some future time be given the opportunity of playing the local team again. The locals showed up far better than was expected. Every man in the team, including the substitutes, who were given a chance to play in the second half did remarkably well, no one proved himself to be the star player of the evening, all pulling about even stakes. One of the main features of the team was the basket shooting and team work. The individual playing which in previous years was frequently resorted to and which often times caused Kewaskum's defeat, was absent in last Saturday evening's game. With a few more weeks of good hard practice the locals will round themselves into a first class team. The large crowd that witnessed the game was well satisfied with the kind of ball the home team is playing this year, and are assured that it will take a very fast team to slip a winning score over them. They are also satisfied that Kewaskum will be treated to the best kind of basketball ever witnessed here. Tonight (Saturday) they will clash with one of the strongest teams in Fond du Lac county, the Laf-a-Lots of North Fond du Lac, a team composed of old star basketball artists, some of whom were former members of Co. E, the old Wisconsin National Guard team of Fond du Lac, which several years ago held the National Basketball championship. The Kewaskum quintette have practiced hard the past week, and are determined to come out victorious. Do not miss this contest for a game full of speed and sensational basketball play which can be looked forward to. Next week Saturday, the locals will put up with the strong Port Washington team on the home floor. This no doubt will be the last game played here, for the home team is scheduled to play out of town for a few weeks.

The lineup for to night's game is as follows: Kewaskum—Forwards, J. Tessar and August Bilgo, Guards, Walter Schaefer and Maurice Rosenheimer; Center "Spatz" Miller. Substitutes Harry and Carl Schaefer.

Fond du Lac—Forwards, Geldnich and Murray; Guards, Sage and Roble; Center, Zock.

BOX SOCIAL A GRAND SUCCESS

What proved to be a fast and exciting game of basketball, was played at the Opera House, last week Friday evening, when the Senior High School team settled arguments with the Junior team, the former winning by a close score of 27 to 30. The high school this year certainly is represented by a fast little team, and ought to experience no trouble in defeating any team of their size and weight. The box social after the game was well attended and enjoyed by all present. A neat sum of money was realized for the benefit of the high school team.

NEW FANE

Henry Firks returned home from Milwaukee Sunday.

Jac. Harter and wife spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Mertes.

Elizabeth Fellenz spent Wednesday with her sister, Mrs. Jac. Schiltz.

Ernst Ehnert and wife visited Monday and Tuesday at Milwaukee.

Mrs. Geo. Braun is visiting this week at Random Lake with her daughter.

Erwin Hess and Milton Ehnert left Sunday evening for West Bend where they have employment in the foundry.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Quandt were agreeably surprised last Friday evening, the occasion being their 20th wedding anniversary. The festivities were celebrated in Wm. Hess' hall. At midnight a delicious lunch was served. The Roden orchestra furnished the music.

UNITED IN BONDS OF MATRIMONY

Miss Flossie Day, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Day of Hartford, was united in marriage to Dr. A. Carl Marth of Campbellsport, last week Friday. The ceremony took place at high noon at the home of the bride's parents with only immediate relatives and friends in attendance. The bride was very prettily dressed in a dark blue serge gown and wore a corsage bouquet. The couple were unattended. After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served to those present. The bride who is well known here as a graduate of Downer College of Milwaukee, later she attended the university at Madison, and for the past several years was engaged as teacher in the Hartford High School. The groom who is a former resident of the city of West Bend, is a graduate of the Marquette Dental College, Milwaukee. At the completion of his course from this institution two years ago, he began the practice of dentistry at Campbellsport, where he has been located ever since. The newly weds left the same day for a short wedding trip to Chicago and other points of interest. After their return they will go to housekeeping at Campbellsport, where they will be at home to their many friends after December 1st.

Those from afar who attended the wedding were: Mrs. Marth, mother of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Klumb and son Arthur of West Bend, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Day of Campbellsport, Mrs. De Volney Everett of Larchmont, New York, and the bride's grandmother, Mrs. James B. Day, Sr., of Hartford.

Last week Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of the bride occurred the marriage of Miss Clara Weingartner, daughter of Charles Weingartner, to Arthur Donath, both of here. Rev. Marx tied the nuptial knot. The bride, who was beautifully dressed in a silver gray suit and who wore a corsage bouquet of roses and chrysanthemums, was attended by Miss Nelda Miller, as maid of honor, who was becomingly attired in a navy blue suit. The groom was attended by Edwin Morgenroth. After the ceremony a dinner was served to only near relatives and friends. The newly weds will make their home in Bavaria, where the groom is assisting his father in cheese making. They will be at home to their many friends after December 1st. The young couple have the best wishes for a most happy and prosperous married life. Those who attended the wedding are as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Carmon Schultz and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Rob. Donath, Rev. and Mrs. Marx, Nelda Miller, Emma Firme, Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Morgenroth and son Edwin of Kewaskum.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the St. Michael's church at St. Michaels, last Saturday, Nov. 15, at nine o'clock A. M., when Rev. Beyer of that congregation pronounced the words that made Miss Emma A. Herriges, daughter of Hilliard Herriges of the town of Kewaskum, and Walter Stelplug of Milwaukee man and wife.

The bride wore a white silk georgette dress, draped with white crepe de chine and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. Miss Lydia Stelplug, a sister of the groom was bridesmaid, and was dressed in a white georgette gown trimmed with white braid and carried a shower bouquet of winter asters and pink carnations. Ed. Herriges, brother of the bride was groomsmen, while Masters Leon and John Feastel of Port Washington were ring bearers, carrying the ring in a white narrow ribbon. After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's father with only near relatives in attendance. The tables were decorated with winter asters over which suspended streamers of pink and white in the shape of an arch. The young couple left the next day for a wedding trip through the West. Upon their return they will make their home at Milwaukee, where the groom has employment as stenographer and mail clerk in the main post office.

At the German Reformed church at Elmore last Saturday, Nov. 15, occurred the wedding of Miss Ella L. Backhaus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Backhaus of the town of Ashford, to Mr. Christian Backhaus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Backhaus of the town of Kewaskum. Rev. Hartman of Elmore performed the ceremony. The couple were attended by Miss Isabelle Backhaus, as maid of honor; and Miss Amanda Gutjahr, as bridesmaid, while

ITEMS OF INTEREST FROM THE LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL

Map work is keeping the Seniors on the jump at present.

Adela Radke was enrolled as a Freshman on Monday.

The Juniors are evidently bent on rounding out their knowledge of Geometry; they have begun the study of circles.

Arnold and Jackie think a vocal rendition of "The Tumble-down Shack" in high C just the thing for developing lung power.

Our teachers are being bombarded by an avalanche of malignant glances. As in the case of postum—there's a reason. The report cards have just been distributed!

The Freshmen are being treated to a general review of all the material they have covered in Algebra. At this rate it is feared all traces of "greenness" will soon wear off.

A Thanksgiving program will be given by all the grade pupils on Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 26 in the high school assemblyroom. Program begins at 2:45. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The Ancient History class is also deeply interested in map work. Jackie, our amateur master of designing has produced several new and startling color schemes for map decorating purposes. We'll say the ancient Greek painters had nothing on him!

At a meeting of the Senior Class the following officers were elected: Class president, Aloysius Runte, Vice-president, Chester Perschbacher, Secretary and Treasurer, Marlin Schnurr. The newly elected officers were busily engaged in acquiring that important look.

The box social following the game on Friday night was a success both socially and financially. Everybody thought the boxes stunning. And if they were not sufficiently impressed with the exterior decorations those of the interior did the work. Everybody not present at the disposal of the contents certainly missed what the boys termed "some feed".

The boys in the Senior Civics class are having a hard time convincing the girls that Woman's Suffrage is entirely unnecessary and absolutely unnecessary to the welfare of the human race. One of the boys goes so far as to say that the minute women have a part in making laws he is going to leave for the happy hunting grounds. So long Fritz! Better get a round trip ticket.

The Kewaskum High School Team played the first real game of the season last Friday night on the home floor. The Seniors played opposite the Juniors, Sophomores and Freshmen, and won the game by a small majority. Our boys are surely worthy of all the boosting the home people can give them. They need support and the school invites everyone to be on hand Friday, Nov. 21st, to cheer them on to victory in their game against Mayville. The school yells have plenty of pep. Better come and convince yourself of the fact!

Otto Backhaus, Jr., acted as best man and Erwin Schultz as usher. The little Miss Alva Schaefer, a niece of the groom acted as ring bearer and flower girl. The bride was becomingly dressed in a white georgette dress over satin, and carried a bouquet of white carnations and ferns. The maid of honor wore a flesh colored satin dress and carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums. The bridesmaid was attired in a white crepe de chine gown and carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums. Miss Lila Petri of Wayne preceded the wedding march. After the ceremony, the newly weds together with only near relatives and friends repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where the occasion was celebrated in a most enjoyable manner with about forty guests in attendance. The home was prettily decorated with pink and white crepe paper. The happy couple will be at home to their many friends after Dec. 15th, on the groom's farm, one-half mile south of this village, where he is well known, being one of the town of Kewaskum's industrious and progressive farmers. The many friends of the young couple extend hearty congratulations and best wishes for a happy married life.

DRASTIC STEP IS PLANNED BY HINES

Rail Director Confers With Regional Aids at Chicago.

NO FREIGHT TRAIN EMBARGO

Passenger Service First to Be Cut to Save Coal—Then Would Follow Lightless Nights and Heatless Days in the Cities.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Elimination of hundreds of passenger trains from the nation's railroad schedules would precede any curtailment of freight shipments that might be ordered, Director General of Railroads Walker Hines declared on his arrival here. This action is a remote possibility, he indicated.

"The country has a reserve fuel supply on hand sufficient for 25 days, and the supply is increasing," he said. "Production of coal has increased 10 per cent since the first of November and is now 20 per cent of normal."

On reaching the city Mr. Hines rushed to the Blackstone hotel, where he tackled the problem of withholding coal from certain industries and possibly proclaiming national fuelless days and lightless nights.

Critical steps to solve the nation's fuel problem are necessary because of the delay of the representatives of the miners and the mine operators in getting together on a settlement of the coal strike in their Washington conference.

Mines Idle Until Dec. 1, Outlook. Reports from Illinois and Indiana coal fields were that the miners do not expect to be back on their jobs before December 1.

With this prospect of continued non-production, Chicago and the nation are supplied with only enough coal to keep going a limited period. Some coal men say the supply will last two weeks, some ten days and some only a week—all depending on the advent of real cold weather.

Mr. Hines was summoned hurriedly from Washington by Regional Director R. H. Ashton of the railroad administration and Chairman T. W. Proctor of the Chicago regional fuel committee. At the conference those in attendance besides Mr. Hines, Mr. Ashton and Mr. Proctor, were A. H. Holden, central western region; H. T. Hardin, eastern region; L. W. Baldwin, Allegheny; B. L. Bush, south-western; B. L. Winchell, southern; N. D. Mahler, Pocahontas, and George W. Reed, Chicago representative of Fuel Administrator Garfield.

Will Cut Passenger Service.

"Should a general embargo be placed it would result in a 40 per cent reduction of the present passenger train service," said Mr. Ashton, "although essential freight shipments will not be curtailed because the railroads are vital to the life of the nation and must be kept going. Unless the miners return to work within the next ten days, a fuel famine will be here," continued the regional director. Any such plan knows that somebody must stop using soft coal before it is too late.

"When you quit talking coal out of the ground and keep on burning it up at the old rate it will be only a short time until there will be no coal. That is the condition right now, and that is the condition that must be taken care of at once or there will be a coal famine."

Railroads Are Restricted.

The railroads have been ordered to discontinue the privilege of confining coal in transit which they have enjoyed since the national government took them over. Hereafter, the roads must make application to the fuel administration before they can take over coal in transit over their lines, according to information given out at the office of Chairman Proctor.

This puts them on the same basis as other coal consumers, although they will remain a preferred user of coal because of the importance of keeping up the movement of freight and mail services.

Extensive mining properties in Kansas are being state operated and proceedings have been requested against Ohio mines that will bring them under state control, along with the North Dakota lignite mines.

Workers Still Ignore Recall.

Except for North Dakota, Wyoming and some Alabama and West Virginia mines, production throughout the country was reported as not bettered since the initial day of the walkout. The workers generally were said to be disregarding the strike recall order dispatched by John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers of America, under order of the federal court, and to be awaiting an agreement by the operators' and miners' leaders at Washington.

Only from ten to twelve days' supply of fuel was available for railroads of the central western region, according to F. F. Clarity, assistant director of the area.

Egyptian Nationalist Is Dead.

Berlin, Nov. 19.—Djalal Ferid Bey, former leader of the Egyptian nationalists, is dead. (Ferid Bey, who had been staying in Berlin, arrived at Geneva, Switzerland, early in spring. He was reported to be spreading religious and political propaganda throughout Egypt and India.)

MAY ACT WITHOUT U. S.

ALLIED POWERS PLAN PEACE LEAGUE WITH AMERICA OUT.

Quasi Organ of Lloyd George Says Other Nations Must Go Ahead—Same View in Paris.

London, Nov. 19.—Commenting upon reservations to the Versailles treaty by the United States senate and President Wilson's threat to withdraw the pact, the Chronicle, which is supposed sometimes to reflect the views of Premier Lloyd George, says: "Unless the league is to fall altogether, other nations must go ahead for some years without America's participation, and we hope they will promptly decide to do so."

"Great Britain and France have been very anxious not to hurt American susceptibilities and there is no foundation for the rumor suggesting they have addressed representations to Washington regarding reservations. In justice to our own peoples and Europe, however, we cannot delay in getting to work with the league."

"If the senate action stands," says C. A. McCurdy, M. P., "it knocks the bottom out of the league as security for the world's peace. We shall have to find our security in other ways and Austen Chamberlain may be faced with the painful task of once more revising our naval and military estimates and this time in an upward direction."

Paris, Nov. 19.—Regardless of the American government's attitude, the peace treaty of Versailles will be put in force, according to the prevalent view here following receipt of the report that President Wilson might withdraw the treaty from the United States senate.

Whatever happens, the feeling in French circles is that France cannot meet the German plenipotentiaries again and French opinion is that Italy and Great Britain have a like feeling.

WALES ARRIVES AT GOTHAM

Prince Is Thrilled at the First Sight of New York's Sky-Line.

New York, Nov. 19.—The prince of Wales landed at the historic Battery, where a few weeks before he had been preceded by Albert, king of the Belgians, and drove to the city hall amid cheering throngs. At the city hall he was welcomed by Mayor Hylan and by Secretary of State Hugo, who presented him with a magnificent American silk flag.

After his official reception the prince drove to Grant's tomb and then boarded the British battle cruiser Renown, which was anchored in the North river, and will be his headquarters during his stay in New York.

The prince had his first view of New York when his special train pulled into Jersey City, and at sight of New York's skyline he exclaimed: "I have never seen anything so wonderful in my life."

WILSON VEToes RATE BILL

Measure to Restore Commerce Body's Pre-War Rate-Making Power Is Killed.

Washington, Nov. 19.—President Wilson vetoed the bill restoring to the interstate commerce commission its pre-war rate-making power. Chairman Cummins of the interstate commerce committee, author of the bill, said it was not likely that any attempt would be made to pass the measure over the president's veto as the rate-making powers of the commission would be restored when the roads were returned to private operation January 1.

Legislation authorizing creation of an equipment trust to reimburse the government for $400,000,000 spent for locomotives and cars during federal control of the railroads was passed by the house and sent to the president for approval.

FIND GOLD AT MURDER SCENE

Authorities Investigating at Hoopston Turns Up Two Large Pots of It.

Duquoin, Ill., Nov. 19.—During a search by officers at Hoopston two large pots of gold coins are said to have been found on the premises of Sabina Cummings, who was mysteriously murdered ten days ago. Sheriff Knox and State's Attorney Leverage left hurriedly by motorcar on receipt of a telephone message conveying this information. On the body of the aged recluse was found following the murder, nearly $2,000 in currency. About $20,000 is still missing.

KILL WOMAN WHEELING BABE

Mrs. Jessie Vea of Davenport, Ia., Struck Down by Auto, but Infant Escapes Injury.

Davenport, Ia., Nov. 19.—Mrs. Jessie Vea, aged thirty-six, was killed instantly when struck by an automobile as she was wheeling her two and one-half year old baby across 14th street. The child was not injured.

Clash With Police in Cairo.

Cairo, Nov. 19.—Nationalist demonstrators collided with the police. The officers used their revolvers, wounding two of the manifestants. The crowd later set the police station on fire.

HOUSE PASSES ESCH RAIL BILL

Measure Extends Governmental Guaranty for Six Months After Return.

O.K. 'D BY VOTE OF 203 TO 159

Democrats Make Passage of Measure a Party Issue to Be Carried into the National Campaign of 1920.

Washington, Nov. 19.—On virtually a party vote of 203 to 159, the house passed and sent to the senate the Esch railroad reorganization bill. Final action came after six days of continuous debate.

The Democrats made the passage of the measure a party issue as a protest against the section which continues the guaranteed operating income of the railroads for six months after the termination of federal control. It was openly declared by the Democratic leaders that this issue will be carried into the national campaign of 1920.

A motion by Representative Sims of Tennessee to recommit the bill with instructions to strike out the guaranty sections was defeated by a vote of 203 to 159.

The measure goes to the senate, but it will not be taken up there until the regular session in December.

An effort was made without success to cause the house to reverse the action of the committee of the whole in rejecting the arbitration plan of the original Esch bill and substitute for it the Anderson-Sweet scheme approved by organized labor. The labor forces again showed their supremacy, the amendment being approved by a vote of 253 to 112.

The bill as passed provides for the owners of the roads to their owners, extends the governmental guaranty for six months after the return, authorizes the railroads to borrow funds from the government, extends present rates unchanged by the proper authorities, and broadens the authority of the interstate commerce commission in many respects, including control over the issuance of securities.

Substantially all amendments made in committee of the whole were approved by the house.

Special objection was made to the provision for "a fair return upon the value of the property" on the theory that this seemed to imply the recognition of validity of watered stock. Those favoring the rule of rate making insisted it was necessary in order to establish the credit of the railroads.

SEC. GLASS WILL TAKE TOGA

Recognizes Wilson's Wishes—Roper Mentioned as His Successor.

Washington, Nov. 18.—At the request of President Wilson, Carter Glass, secretary of the treasury, has decided to accept the appointment as United States senator from Virginia. After receiving the appointment from Gov. Davis of Virginia, Mr. Glass asked the president what his wishes were and Mr. Wilson replied that he would like Mr. Glass to accept. Secretary Glass has consulted with members of the senate who told him that there was no particular need for him to take the oath as senator for a week or more. Meantime he will continue to serve as head of the treasury department. At the White House it was said no successor to Mr. Glass had been decided upon and that the president's mind was open. The name of Daniel C. Roper, commissioner of internal revenue, was added to the list of those being discussed as probable successors to Mr. Glass.

FIND SEVEN FROZEN BODIES

Believed a Whole Austrian Battery Perished in Alpine Trench in Stevio Pass.

Geneva, Nov. 15.—The frozen bodies of several Austrian artillerymen, perfectly preserved, have been discovered by St. Bernard dogs in an Alpine trench near the summit of Stevio pass, about 10,000 feet above sea level. It is believed that a whole battery was buried in the deep snow. Searching parties already have uncovered seven bodies.

New Orleans Papers Raise Price.

New Orleans, Nov. 18.—Three daily newspapers of New Orleans will increase subscription rates from 15 to 20 cents a week, according to announcements, because of the increased cost of white paper. The States and the Item, afternoon papers, will raise the street price from two to three cents a copy.

Butter Kills One; Four Are Ill.

West Salem, O., Nov. 19.—Mrs. Sarah Haverstock is dead and two other women and two men are seriously ill at an Ashland hospital as a result of eating poisoned butter at a dinner given by the dead woman at her home.

Trains Collide; Conductor Killed.

Harlan, Ia., Nov. 19.—William Johnson of Carroll, Ia., conductor, was killed in a rear-end collision of two freight trains on the Chicago & Great Western railroad near here. The caboose and five cars were smashed.

CORNEILLE MERTENS

Corneille Mertens, labor delegate from Belgium, has charged in a meeting of the international labor conference that the Japanese government has attempted to prevent workers from organizing labor unions, and that Japan's method in choosing labor delegates to the present conference "violated the provisions of the peace treaty and the right of free association." Other labor delegates have protested from time to time against the method of representation in the conference.

KEEPS CHICAGO DRY

COURT RULING DASHES HOPES OF THE WETS.

War-Time Prohibition Act Is Held Constitutional by Federal Judge Carpenter.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—Federal Judge George A. Carpenter upheld the constitutionality of the war-time prohibition law and the Volstead enforcement act in the case brought by Hannah & Hogg asking that District Attorney Charles F. Clyne and Collector of Internal Revenue Julius F. Suietanka be enjoined from enforcing the dry measures.

Judge Fitzhenry of Peoria concurred in the opinion.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 15.—Judge Walter Evans in federal district court, in effect for the second time held war-time prohibition unconstitutional, sustained an attack upon the constitutionality of the Volstead enforcement act and granted an injunction restraining Elwood Hamilton, collector of internal revenue for Kentucky and District Attorney W. V. Gregory from interfering with the sale by two Louisville distillers of their "floor stock" of tax paid whisky.

The government immediately took an appeal to the United States circuit court at Cincinnati and announced its intention of asking the higher court for a writ of superseades, which would have the effect of staying the injunction.

Washington, Nov. 15.—Enforcement of war-time prohibition will not be interfered with by injunctions against the act, granted by courts in Rhode Island and Kentucky. It was stated at the internal revenue office today. Appeal of the government to the Supreme court makes the injunction ineffective, it was held.

WILSON RECEIVES THE PRINCE

President, Propped Up in Bed, Hears Stories of Britain's Experiences Since His Arrival in America.

Washington, Nov. 15.—President Wilson, propped up in the great mahogany bed in which Baron Renfrew, later King Edward VII, slept when he visited Washington in 1899, greeted the grandson of that British king, in Albert Edward, prince of Wales. The prince was taken to the president's sickroom after he had had tea with Mrs. Wilson, Miss Margaret Wilson and Mrs. Francis B. Sayre.

The president laughed heartily at the vivid and humorous account the prince gave of his experiences since his arrival on the American continent.

TRAINS CUT IN COAL CRISIS

Drastic Regulations of Nation's Transportation Lines in Effort to Conserve Fuel.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—Suspension of 40 passenger trains by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad is a forerunner of heavy reductions in service due to the coal strike. The last hope of averting drastic regulations of the nation's transportation fled with the news that miners were not returning to work in force. The cut in trains, the second since the strike, brings the total suspended to 108.

Belgian Cabinet Quits.

Brussels, Nov. 19.—The Belgian cabinet has tendered its resignation. King Albert asked the members of the ministry to continue in office until the results of Sunday's elections are definitely known.

Little Hope for Steamer.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 18.—Owners of the steamer John Owen, several days overdue at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., from Duluth, with a crew of 22, hold little hope for the missing vessel cast ashore in a terrific storm.

Idaho to Arrest All I. W. W.

Boise, Idaho, Nov. 18.—Orders were issued Saturday by Robert O. Jones, state commissioner of law enforcement, for immediate arrest of all members of "that outlaw organization," the I. W. W., found in Idaho.

GERMANY IS ON VERGE OF REVOLT

Danger of a Nationalistic Reaction Precipitated by Marshal Von Hindenburg.

HEARING FORCED TO ADJOURN

Hefferich Refuses to Answer Questions of Investigating Committee—Is Fined 300 Marks, Whereupon He Leaves the Room.

Berlin, Nov. 17.—Immediate danger of a nationalistic reaction in Germany, and probable bloodshed, has been precipitated by Field Marshal von Hindenburg's arrival in Berlin.

Barbed wire barricades thrown across the Wilhelmstrasse and other important thoroughfares prevent further demonstrations aroused by Field Marshal von Hindenburg's presence in Berlin. This is the first time this step, which frequently had been taken against Spartacists, has been taken against monarchists.

The aged former war leader's presence here has strengthened immeasurably the political backbone of the nationalists and militarists, and one of the results has been the sensational breakup of the hearing of the parliamentary subcommittee investigating peace possibilities during the war.

Former Vice Chancellor Hefferich, who has been the nationalists' spearhead against the investigating committee, refused to answer certain questions from Deputy Cohn, saying he insisted on availing himself of his legal rights as a potential accused and that he would refuse to answer any questions put to him.

The committee took a recess to deliberate the matter. On reconvening, it ordered Herr Hefferich to answer. He refused again, and was fined 300 marks (875), whereupon Herr Werthmuth, nationalist, arose and announced his resignation as a protest against the committee's action. He left the table and Vice Chairman Goethel took charge in the midst of a heated squabble. Deputy Cohn shouted:

"For me, Hefferich is not a witness, but an accused."

Herr Hefferich jumped up and cried:

"Then I cease to be a witness and will leave the room."

Sniffing action to words, he plucked up his papers and started out. Voices of approval broke forth from the spectators, especially the newspaper men.

Herr Goethel threatened to throw out the newspaper men and clear the room of all spectators, and finally he shouted:

"The hearing has adjourned."

He did not fix a date for reconvening. Count von Bernstorff and others counseled the committee to break off the hearings at this time and get General Hindenburg out of town first. They warned that otherwise there was great danger of a nationalistic coup which would be answered by the left with a general strike and would result in civil war, a new revolution.

It is understood the committee will not attempt to resume its hearings for a fortnight at least.

Maximilian Harden denounced the government's tactics as playing directly into the hands of the nationalists.

WILSON OUT FOR FIRST TIME

President is Wheeled About White House in a Chair—Is Full of Fight.

Washington, Nov. 18.—President Wilson was taken downstairs in a wheel chair today and rolled out on the White House lawn near the south portion, where he basked in the sunshine for a short time. This was the first time he had left White House since his return from the western tour during which he was taken ill. Those who saw the president said he seemed bright and cheerful and apparently was "full of fight" as the result of the senate action on the peace treaty.

NO ROOM FOR RADICALS

Constitution of New Farmers' Organization Adopted—Members Call It Strongest Union on Earth.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—The constitution of the National Federation of Farm Bureaus—the "farmers' union"—the strongest union on earth, the members say, was adopted with amendments by the federation and, according to the members, "the constitution leaves no room for radicals, such as are found in some of the labor unions."

Customs Bar Up Against Germany.

Paris, Nov. 18.—The French and Belgians have established their customs barriers on the Franco-German and the Belgo-German frontiers.

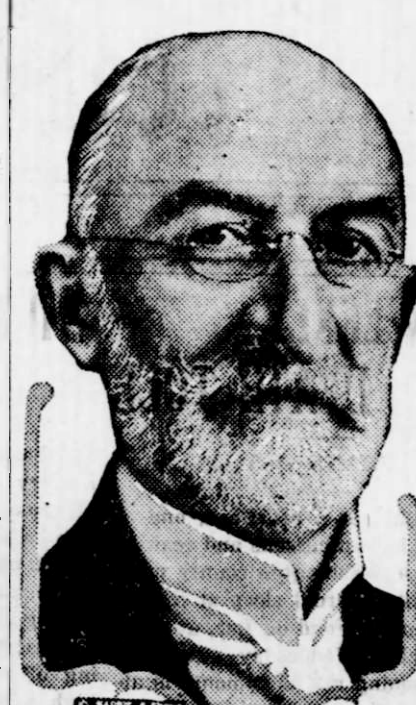

Farmers Catch Safe-Blowers.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 19.—A farmers' posse captured the three safe-blowers who tried to crack the safe in the Palmyra State bank. They gave their names as William Carter, George Williams and William Gray.

Six Killed at Grade Crossing.

Philadelphia, Nov. 19.—Six Hog Island shipyard workmen were killed and nine injured when a motortruck on which they were riding to work was struck by a train at a grade crossing near the yards.

HEBER J. GRANT

President Heber J. Grant of the Mormon church is on a tour of the East where he is visiting branches of the church. He succeeded the late Joseph F. Smith about a year ago. President Grant, though he has had three wives and is himself the product of a polygamous marriage, declares that polygamy is a dead issue now in the church. He believes that the reason for Utah's general freedom from labor unrest is that the Mormon religion makes its adherents contented.

GEN. YUDENITCH QUILTS

RUSSIAN CHIEF RESIGNS COMMAND OF "WHITE" FORCES.

Is Succeeded by Estonian Commander and Saved from Internment—Kolchak in Retreat.

London, Nov. 18.—Gen. Yudenitch has resigned the command of the northwestern Russian army, according to a special dispatch to the Daily Mail from Helsingfors. General Laidouer, commander in chief of the Estonian army, has succeeded him.

It is said that the change is not connected with the failure of his offensive, the object being to avoid internment of the Yudenitch army on entering Estonia.

Reval, Estonia, Nov. 18.—The position of Gen. Yudenitch's army, it has become known for many days, has become more serious. His statements about future operations have been made to hide the real situation from the public, according to information reaching Reval. The disorganization of his army is daily more evident. The Yudenitch forces are crowded together in a small space near Yamburg.

A week ago Gen. Yudenitch inquired as to what Estonia would do if he were obliged to cross the Estonian frontier. The answer was that he might take over his hospitals and supplies, but that his troops must disarm.

London, Nov. 17.—The capture of Omsk by Russian soviet forces, unofficially denied in advices through Scandinavia yesterday, is reasserted in a bolshevik communique received by wireless from Moscow today. Severe street fighting preceded the capture and more than 1,000 prisoners were taken by the bolsheviks. It is declared. The Kolchak forces retreated eastward in disorder, says the statement, which also claims the capture of Yanovsky from the all-Russian troops.

D'ANNUNZIO EXTENDS RULE

Gains Control of Dalmatian Coast—Joined by Admiral—To Occupy All of Istria.

Fiume, Nov. 18.—Gabriele d'Annunzio's latest exploit appears to have made him master of the entire Dalmatian coast.

It secured the adherence to his side, of Admiral Millo, commander of the Italian occupation forces in Dalmatia, thus giving d'Annunzio a continuous command from the Austro-Italian frontier line north of Fiume, southward to Ragusa, just to the north of Cattinjo, covering all the approaches to the Dalmatian coast.

Four warships, including a dreadnaught and four torpedo boat destroyers, have been added to the d'Annunzio naval command, giving him a formidable weapon with which to maintain his present position.

It is announced d'Annunzio will occupy all of Istria, including the sections former Minister Tittoni proposes shall comprise an independent state.

U. S. Gets Back Oil Lands.

Washington, Nov. 19.—The government, by an opinion in the Supreme court, won its fight to have canceled patents for 6,000 acres of California oil land valued at $10,000,000 alleged to have been obtained through fraud by the Southern Pacific company.

Farmers Catch Safe-Blowers.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 19.—A farmers' posse captured the three safe-blowers who tried to crack the safe in the Palmyra State bank. They gave their names as William Carter, George Williams and William Gray.

Six Killed at Grade Crossing.

Philadelphia, Nov. 19.—Six Hog Island shipyard workmen were killed and nine injured when a motortruck on which they were riding to work was struck by a train at a grade crossing near the yards.

 "We needn't go any farther," said the "king." "It's the same all the way along to the mouth—all overgrown as you see, all the way, right out to the 'white water' as they call it—which is four miles of shoal sand that is seldom deeper than two fathoms, and which a nor'easter is liable to blow dry for a week on end. Naturally it's a hard place to find, and a hard place to get off—and only two or three persons besides Sweeney—all of them our friends—know the way in. Tobias may know of it; but to know it is one thing, to find it is another matter. I could hardly be sure of it myself—if I were standing in from the sea, with nothing but the long palmetto-fringed coast line to go by. "Now you see it? I brought you here, because words—" "Even yours, dear 'king,'" I laughed. "—could not explain what I suggest for us to do. You are interested in Tobias. Tobias is interested in you. I am interested in you both. And Calypso and I have a treasure to guard." "I have still a treasure to seek," I said, half to myself. "Now, to be practical. We can assume that Tobias is on the watch. I don't mean that he's around here just now, for before we left I spoke to Samson and Erebus and they will pass the word to four men blacker than themselves; therefore we can assume that this square mile or so is for the moment 'to ourselves.' But beyond our fence you may rely that Tobias and his myrmdons—is that the word?" he asked with a concession to his natural foolishness—"are there. "So," he went on, "I want you to go down to your boat tomorrow morning to say goodby to the commandant, the parson and the postmaster; to haul up your sail and head for Nassau. Call in on Sweeney on the way, buy an extra box of cartridges, and say 'Dien et mon Drott'—it is our password; he will understand, but, if he shouldn't, explain in your own way that you come from me, and that we rely upon him to look out for our interest. Then head straight for Nassau; but, about eight o'clock, or anywhere around twilight, turn about and head—well, well, map it out on the chart at home—anywhere up to eight miles along the coast till you come to a light low down right on the edge of the water. As soon as you see it drop anchor; then wait till morning—the very beginning of dawn. As soon as you can see land look out for Samson—within a hundred yards of you—all the land will look alike to you. Only make the captain head straight for Samson, and just as you think you are going to run ashore—Well, you will see!"

anything more than the ship's cook, with the privilege of waiting upon me in the cabin at my meals. But of course he knew that I had quite another valuation of him, and as our eyes met I beckoned to him to draw closer to me. "Tom," I said, "I have found my treasure." "You don't say so, sar," "Quite true, Tom," I continued; "you shall see my treasure tomorrow; meanwhile read this note." Tom was so much to me that I wanted him to know all about the details of the enterprise we shared together, and in which he risked his life no less than I risked mine. Tom took out his spectacles from some recess of his trousers and applied himself to Charlie Webster's note, as though it had been the Bible. He read it as slowly, indeed, as if it had been Sanscrit, and then folded it and handed it back to me without a word. But there was quite a young smile in his old eyes. "The wonderful works of God," he said presently. "I guess, sar, we shall soon be able to ask him what he meant by that expression." Soon the long, dark shore loomed ahead of us. I had reckoned it out about right. But the captain announced that we were in shoal water. "How many feet?" I asked, and a boy threw out the lead. "Sixteen and a half," he said. "Go ahead," I called out. "Do you want to go aground?" asked the captain. For answer I pushed him aside and took the wheel. I had caught the smallest glimmer, like a night light, floating on the water. "Drop the anchor," I called. The light inshore was clear and near at hand, about one hundred yards away, and there was the big murmur and commotion of the long breakers over the dancing shoals. The tide was running out very fast, and the white sand coming ever nearer to our eyes in the moonlight; and Samson's light, there, was keeping white and steady. With the thought of my treasure and the "king" so near by it was hard to resist the temptation to plunge in and follow my heart ashore. But I managed to control the boy's impulse, and presently we were all snug, and some of us snoring below decks, rooked in the long swells of the shoal water that glistened milkily like an animated moonstone under the stars—old Sallor curled up at my feet, just like old time.

I woke just as dawn was waking too, very still and windless; for the greentinted nor'easter had changed its mind, and the world was as quiet as though there weren't a human being in it. As the light grew I scanned the shore to see whether I could detect the entrance of the hidden creek; but, though I swept it up and down again and again, it continued to justify the "king's" boast. There was no sign of an opening anywhere. Nothing but a straight line of brush, with man-the anchors up, and the engine started at the slowest possible speed. The tide was beginning to run in, so we needed very little way on us. I pointed out Samson to the captain, and, following the "king's" instructions, told him to steer straight for the negro. Samson stood there and called: "All right, sar. Keep right on. You'll see your way in a minute." And, sure enough, when we were barely fifty feet away from the shore, and there seemed nothing for it but to run dead aground, low down through the floating mangrove branches we caught sight of a narrow gleam starting inland, and in another moment or two our decks were swept with foliage as the Flamingo rustled in, like a bird to cover, through an opening in the bushes barely twice her beam; and there before us, snaking through the brush, was a lane of water which immediately began to broaden between palmetto-fringed banks, and was evidently deep enough for a much larger vessel. "Plenty of water, sar," hallowed Samson from the bank, grinning a huge welcome. "Keep a-going after me," and he started trotting along the creek side. Samson went trotting along the twisting banks, we cautiously feeling our way after him, for something like a quarter of a mile; and then, coming round a sudden bend, the creek opened out into a sort of basin. On the left bank stood two large palmetto shanties. Samson indicated that there was our anchorage; and then, as we were almost alongside of them, the cheery halloos of a well-known voice hailed us. It was the "king," and as I answered his welcome the morning suddenly sang for me—for there, too, was Calypso at his side. The water ran so deep at the creek's side that we were able to moor the Flamingo right up against the bank, and when I had jumped ashore and greeted my friends, and the "king" had executed a brief characteristic fantasia on the manifest advantages of having a hidden pirate's creek in the family, he unfolded his plans, or rather that portion of them that was necessary at the moment.

CHAPTER V.
Old Friends.
 Next morning I did as the "king" had told me to do. The whole program was carried out just as he had planned it. I made my goodbyes in the settlement, as we had arranged, not forgetting to say "Dien et mon Drott" to Sweeney, and watching with some humorous intent how he would take it. He took it quietly, as a man in a signal box takes a signal, with about as much emotion and with just the same necessary seriousness. "Tell the boss," he said—of course he meant the "king"—"that we are looking after him. Nothing'll slip through here, if we can help it. Good luck!" So I went down to the boat—to old Tom once more, and the rest of our little crew, who had long since exhausted the attractions of their life ashore and were glad, as I was, to "Hist Up the John B. Sall." Down in my cabin I looked over some mail that had been waiting for me at the post office. Amongst it was a crisp, characteristic word from Charlie Webster—for whom the gun will ever be mightier than the pen: "Tobias escaped—just heard he is on your island—watch out. Will follow in a day or two." I came out on deck about sunset. We were running along with all our sails drawing like a dream. I looked back at the captain, proud and quiet and happy there at the helm, and nodded a smile to him, which he returned with a flash of his teeth. He loved his boat; he asked nothing better than to watch her behaving just as she was doing. And the other boys seemed quiet and happy too, lying along the sides of the house, ready for the captain's order, but meanwhile content to look up at the great sails and down again at the sea. We were a ship and a ship's crew all at peace with one another, and contented with ourselves—rushing and singing and spraying through the water. We were all friends—sea and sails and crew together. I couldn't help thinking that a mutiny would be hard to arrange under such a combination of influences. Tom was sitting forward plaiting a rope. For all our experiences together he never implied that he was groves here and there stepping down in their fantastic way into the water. And yet we were but a hundred yards from the shore. Certainly "Blackbeard"—if the haunt had really been here—had known his business; for an enemy could have sought him all day along this coast and found no clue to his hiding place. But presently, as my eyes kept on seeking, a figure rose, tall and black, near the water's edge, a little to our left, and shot up a long arm by way of signal. It was Samson; and evidently the mouth of the creek was right there in front of us—under our very noses, so to say—and yet it was impossible to make it out. However, at this signal, I stirred up the still sleeping crew, and presently we had mind where it is. It is perfectly safe I assure you." "But are you sure, my dear? Wouldn't it be safer, after all, here in the house? How can you be certain that no one but yourself will accidentally discover it?" "I am absolutely certain that no one will," she answered, with an emphasis on the last three words which sent a thrill through me, for I knew that it was meant for me. "Of course, dad," she added, "if you insist—you shall have it. But seriously I think it is safer where it is, and if I were to fetch it, how can I be sure that no one—she paused, with a meaning which I, of course, understood—"Tobias, for instance, would see me going—and follow me." "To be sure—to be sure," said the "king." "What do you think, Friend Ulysses?" "I think it more than likely that she might be followed," I answered, and I quite agree with Miss Calypso. I certainly wouldn't advise her to visit her treasure just now—with the woods probably full of eyes. In fact," I added, smiling frankly at her, "I could scarcely answer for myself even—for I confess that she has filled me with an overpowering curiosity." "So be it then," said the "king," "and now to consider what our friend here graphically speaks of as those eyes in the woods." The "king" then made a determined descent into the practical. The woods, most probably, were full of eyes. In plain prose, we were almost certainly being watched. Unless—unless, indeed, my bogus departure for Nassau had fooled Tobias as we had hoped. But, even so, with that lure of Calypso's doubtless ever before him, it was too probable that he would not leave the neighborhood without some further investigation—"an investigation," the "king" explained, "which might well take the form of a midnight raid; murdered in our beds, and so forth."

That being so, being in fact almost a certainty—the "king" spoke as though he would be a much disappointed man otherwise—we must look to our garrison. After all, besides ourselves, we had but Samson and Erebus and their dark brethren of doubtful courage, while Tobias probably had command of a round dozen of doughty desperadoes. On the whole, perhaps, it might be best to avail ourselves of the crew of the Flamingo—"under cover of the dark," he repeated with a smile. While we had been talking Samson had long since been on his way with the word to Sweeney to look out for Webster, and as he had been admonished to hurry back it was scarcely noon when he returned, bringing in exchange a verbal message from Sweeney. "The postmarked party," ran the message as delivered by Samson, "had left the harbor in his sloop that morning. Yes, sar!" "Hal ha!" laughed the "king," turning to me. "So two can play at that game, says Henry P. Tobias, Jr. But if they haven't fooled him let's make sure that he hasn't fooled us. We'll bring up your crew all the same—what do you think?" "Under cover of the dark," I assented. The "king's" instructions to me were that I was not to show my nose outside the house. I must regard myself as a prisoner with the entire freedom of my study—a large, airy room on the second floor, well furnished with all manner of books, old prints, strange fishes in glass cases, rods, guns, pipe racks, curiosities of every kind from various parts of the world (TO BE CONTINUED.)

The KITCHEN CABINET
 "When one is in a pool of trouble, there is no possible good in splashing other people."—Huxley.
THRIFT IN LITTLE THINGS.
 It is in the little things and small wastes that multiplied by hundreds, make the great wastes in many homes. Example speaks louder than words, so if the house mother wishes to train maids or children to be thrifty, she must first be thrifty herself. It takes but a moment's thought to turn off the light when leaving a room, even for a short time, and the turning off of the gas from the range before removing a dish, should become second nature. How many women leave the soap floating in the dishwasher while washing the dishes instead of using the little economical soap shaker which holds even the tiny bits? The same habit is noticed when doing any cleaning about the home, soap floating in the scrubbing pail, instead of resting in a dish where it can be easily reached when needed. China and all crockery is so costly now that we must of necessity take care of the household supply. When washing dishes they are often nicked or broken by striking the handles of the pan; turn the pan so that the handles are in front of a little at the side, out of range when handling the dishes. Use triplicate dishes on one burner to save gas; the heat of the burner will cook three things in nearly the time used for one. "A stitch in time" and "a penny earned" are proverbs so well known that it is trite to mention them, yet we need to constantly remind ourselves that a nickle is the interest on a dollar for a year, and it is not parsimony to save, but something of which to be proud in these days of costly living. If making ginger bread, add a cupful of cold coffee instead of the boiling water; save the coffee and improve the cake. Cold coffee may be used in spice cake, in place of milk; thickened with gelatine and served with cream it makes a dainty dessert. A small bit of butter, too small to seem of use may be saved and when six small bits are added, one will have enough butter to season a dish of vegetables. "Let nothing be wasted," is a fine motto to have framed in our kitchens.

Announced by all the trumpets of the sky.
 Arrives the snow, and driving o'er the fields,
 Seems nowhere to alight; the whited air
 Hides hills and woods, and the heaven
 And veils the farm house at the garden's end.
 —Ralph Waldo Emerson.

GOOD THINGS FOR THE FAMILY TABLE.
 When a dish is both good and economical it is bound to be popular.
Liver Pie.—Cut calves' liver into strips using one pound, parboil five minutes in boiling water to cover, drain and roll in flour. Fry two slices of bacon until crisp, remove and cook the liver in the fat until brown. Carefully arrange the liver in a casserole, add two cupfuls of boiling water and stir until well blended. Cut the bacon into small strips and lay over the liver. Put five medium-sized potatoes and one small onion through the meat chopper and mix with three tablespoonfuls of salt. Spread this fat over the liver, pouring the water and fat over it. Cover and bake in a hot oven until the liver and potato are well cooked.
Bran Gems.—Mix together one cupful of flour, two cupfuls of bran, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, then add two tablespoonfuls of shortening, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, or molasses, one teaspoonful of salt, one and one-half cupfuls of milk and a half cupful of chopped raisins. Place in greased gem pans and bake in a moderately hot oven for twenty minutes.
Vegetable Chowder.—Take two cupfuls of corn, six medium sized potatoes, one onion, one green pepper and two tomatoes, put through the meat chopper. Brown one fourth of a cupful of sausage, add a tablespoonful of flour, then the vegetables, and a teaspoonful of salt, cayenne to taste. Add boiling water to barely cover and simmer gently for one hour. Add one cupful of milk and simmer until it is absorbed.
Lemon Apple Pie.—Take two cupfuls of chopped apple, one cupful of sugar, the juice and rind of a lemon, one egg well beaten, half a cupful each of water and rolled cracker crumbs. Bake in a two crust pie in a moderate oven.
Marshmallow Sauce.—This sauce may be used on any baked pudding like cottage pudding, but is nice with steamed cake. Mix one cupful of dark brown sugar with three tablespoonfuls of flour, add one and one-half cupfuls of boiling water, and cook until smooth; add two tablespoonfuls of butter, or less, and twelve marshmallows cut in quarters. Serve hot.

 It Was a Lucky Day for Mrs. Wietheolter When She Read About Doan's
 "I had such awful cutting pains in the small of my back and hips. I often had to cry out," says Mrs. Ernest Wietheolter, 650 Madison St., St. Charles, Mo. "The pain was knife-like and I couldn't turn in bed. In fact I was almost helpless. My feet and ankles swelled badly, my hands were puffed up and there were swellings under my eyes. I often got so dizzy I had to sit down to keep from falling and my health was completely broken down. The kidney secretions pained terribly in passage and in spite of all the medicine I took, I kept getting worse until I was a wreck. "By chance I read about Doan's Kidney Pills and bought some. After I had used half a box there was a change and I continued to improve; the pains, aches and swellings left and my health returned."

HAD CHRONIC BRONCHITIS FOR TWENTY-SIX YEARS NOW WELL AND HAPPY
 THIS IS WORTH READING
 The experience of Mr. E. J. Toupalek, 1438 Rose street, LaCrosse, Wisconsin, is chiefly remarkable on account of the length of time he was afflicted.
 He writes: "I have been suffering with chronic bronchitis for twenty-six years and every winter I would catch cold and become so hoarse I could not speak for six or eight weeks. I could get only temporary relief.
 "This winter I was taken with Grip and was in awful shape. A fellow workman advised me to take PE-RU-NA. By the time I had used three-fourths of a bottle, the hoarseness was gone, also that tired feeling. I am on my second bottle. Hereafter PE-RU-NA will be constantly in my house. It is the best medicine ever put up for the purpose."
 For any disease due to catarrh or catarrhal conditions, PE-RU-NA is equally dependable. Coughs, colds, catarrh of the head, stomach trouble, constipation, rheumatism, pains in the back, side and loins, bloating, belching gas, indigestion, catarrh of the large and small intestines, are some of the troubles for which PE-RU-NA is especially recommended.
 PE-RU-NA can be purchased anywhere in either tablet or liquid form.

TRY THIS FOR LIVER AND BOWELS
 Brew it at home yourself, save money and feel better right away.
 If you want a splendid, economical remedy for constipation, sick headache, dizziness and torpid liver, get a small package of Dr. Carter's K. and B. Tea today and drink a cup of your own brewing whenever you need it.
 This old reliable vegetable remedy has stood the test of time and is now more popular than ever.
 Keep a package in the house all the time and brew a cupful when you feel out of sorts, feverish or bilious. It always helps—promptly—and being mild and gentle, is just as good for children as for grownups.

PETER SCHROOTEN RE-ELECTED
At a meeting of the Road and Bridge Committee of Fond du Lac County, held at Fond du Lac on Thursday, Peter Schrooten of the town of Auburn, was again re-elected chairman of that committee.

"No, Bill, I wouldn't take a thousand dollars for it."

THAT'S what users say about Delco-Light, the complete electric plant. Levi Stout, Coffee Creek, Montana, says: "I would not take $2,000 for my Delco-Light if I could not get another." Albert Knoke, Coocasin, Montana, says: "I would rather quit the ranch than do without Delco-Light." Why are these men so enthusiastic? It's because Delco-Light, with its successful air cooling, its one place to oil, its kerosene burning engine and production of four kilowatt hours of electricity per gallon of fuel, gives them maximum service with minimum attention. The experiences of more than 75,000 satisfied users prove these things to be true of Delco-Light. Delco-Light brings to your farm or country home every comfort and convenience of the most modern and up-to-date city residence. Write, phone or call for catalog, prices and further details.

No Cure For The "Flu"

Also this dreaded disease ravaged the Country last year yet a cure has really not been found for it. Medical Authorities say another Epidemic will occur.

We urge everybody, the minute you feel a cold coming on, have fever or chills, dull aches or constipation, to take a THORO, CLEANSING, PURIFYING LAXATIVE.

Put the your feet in hot salt water, take a good big cup of HOLLISTER'S ROCKY MOUNTAIN TEA (warm), and go to bed for the night—chances are you will feel fine the next morning and it won't be so easy for the "Flu" or Grippe to get you.

RASCALS

Biliousness, Headache, Colds, Constipation, driven out with "Cascarets"

Why take nasty cathartics, sickening salts, or stomach-turning oils to drive these rascals out? Let gentle, harmless Cascarets remove the liver and bowel poison which is keeping your head dizzy, your tongue coated, your skin sallow, your breath offensive, and your stomach sour. Get a box of Cascarets at the drug store and rid your liver, stomach and bowels of the excess bile, poisons, and waste which are keeping you miserable. Cascarets never gripe, never sicken, never inconvenience. They cost so little and work while you sleep.—Adv.

Women From Girlhood Through Motherhood and Past Middle-Life

Twining, Mich.—"We have used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery as a general tonic medicine. When any of us didn't feel right we would use a bottle or two, and would be all right. When I was passing through middle life, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was my refuge in time of trial. I passed through that most critical time without any trouble. I live on a farm and do all of the work a woman has to do without any help and can walk four or five miles and not be any the worse for it."

"At the time my daughter was developing I gave her 'Favorite Prescription' and prior to that the 'Golden Medical Discovery' as she was a delicate girl, and it always benefited her."

"We have also used the little 'Pellea' with good results."—MRS. S. A. DOUGLAS, Route 2, Box 93.

Fond-du-Lac, Wis.—"When I was a girl going to school I got all run down and weak due to hard studying. About the time I was coming into womanhood I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it built me up in fine shape in just a short space of time. I also took it a few years ago during expectancy and it helped me wonderfully. I had comparatively no suffering and my baby was strong and healthy and has always been. 'Favorite Prescription' has done wonders for me. I think it is the only medicine for women of my age which is in delicate condition."—MRS. C. GUELL JR., 290 9th St.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a non-alcoholic remedy that any ailing woman can safely take because it is prepared from roots and herbs containing tonic properties of the most pronounced character. Send Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., ten cents for trial package of tablets.

HEADACHE Often Caused by Acid-Stomach

Yes, indeed, more often than you think. Because ACID-STOMACH, starting with indigestion, heartburn, belching, bloating, flatulence, and gas, if not checked, will eventually affect every vital organ of the body. Nausea, vomiting, splitting headaches as a result of frequent occurrence as a result of this upset condition.

Take EATONIC. It quickly banishes acid-stomach with its sour-bloat, pain and gas. It aids digestion—keeps the stomach full of strength from every mouthful of food you eat. Millions of people are miserable with weak, sick and ailing because of ACID-STOMACH. Poison, created by partly digested food charged with acid, and absorbed into the blood and distributed throughout the entire system. This often causes rheumatism, biliousness, cirrhosis of the liver, heart trouble, ulcers and even cancer of the stomach. It robs its victims of their health, undermines the strength of the most vigorous.

If you want to get back your physical and mental strength—be full of vim and vigor—enjoy life and be happy, you must get rid of your acid-stomach.

In EATONIC you will find the very help you need and it's guaranteed. So get a big box from your druggist today. If it fails to please you, return it and he will refund your money.

RIVAL STYLES IN EVENING FROCKS

A review of lovely evening gowns made for the younger set, convinces us that many a fair lady intends to turn her back upon society this winter. Let us hope these frocks will all be comely and that society will be regaled with lines that are beautiful and skins that are fair; for society is going to have a chance to pass opinion upon backs unadorned. It is said that a beautiful back is the rarest of nature's gifts to fair women, and there is a fad for the almost backless bodice.

A conservative example of the style in an evening frock of shell pink, is shown above at the right of the two evening gowns pictured. Very wide moire ribbon, matching the net in color, constitutes what there is of foundation for the bodice and is featured in a sash with a wide Alsatian bow and long ends at the back, finishing the wide loose girde about the waist. The net is very full and draped over a soft silk underskirt in cascades that end in points at the bottom. Moire ribbon forms the foundation for the

THE MODERN FEAST PROVIDER

The modern day pilgrim, while retaining some of the principles of the first pilgrims, has enlarged his scope of activity. The spirit of freedom, equality and peace is being spread throughout the universe, and American democracy, it is to be hoped, is to be followed in spirit by the peoples of other nations. And then when the universal day of Thanksgiving comes, all the people will know and realize what it means to be an absolutely free nation. Our photo shows the pilgrim of today, emulating his forefathers who went forth as he did to secure his bird for the feast.

DAY OF UNIVERSAL PRAISE

For All Its Blessings the Nation Lifts Its Hands to the Lord in Grateful Thanks.

Such sentiment as is aroused by the great day whose yearly coming sounds the note of praise for multimillion souls, could not be set to poet's verse or framed in choral chant. Deep down where underlying are the sentiments that sanctify, reside the feelings centering in the day whose glad advent is tuned to thoughts of peace and praise to the one above from whose wide-open hands bestowments come, such as have never yet been known to other nations of the earth. Into the churches at the usual hour the worshippers will pour and from their doors, when comes the end of praise and song, will pass those worshippers again with loftier views and freer minds and with their souls tuned to the sentiments that are expressed from all the pulpits of the nation on the day on which the people offer their thanks to God.

For all the blessings to the land, this day the nation lifts its hands in humble praise; for all the blessings to the homes the land lifts up its eyes to God in gratitude; for all the signal signs of God's goodwill the land will give its praise in thought, in word, in act. Although the curtain of the future falls across the vistas and the prospect hides, no one has fear the land will not be free from all the harsh disorders of the earth, and saved to sanctify the world anew to the pleasant things of peace and lasting joy. For the bright prospect of the nation's use in the fast-crowding years to come, the people give their praise and in their prayers they lift their thoughts with faith to the Lord, who says in perfect peace he keeps the ones whose thoughts and hearts are stayed on him. For all his ways are pleasantness, his paths are peace, the psalmist says.

So for its cheer, for its gift of peace, so for the record of blessings felt and those in prospect yet, the people give their heartfelt thanks, making this day that sees other nations wrecked by the battle's effect, a day peculiar for its cause for praise. And thus, though sobered, will the cheer abound in myriad hearts on this great day for praise and giving thanks.

And beauty of the Near,
The greatness of the Commonplace,
The glory of the Here.
I'm thankful for man's high

His stalwart strength of soul,
The long look of his skyward eyes
That sights a far-off goal.
And so I feel to thank and bless
Both things unknown and understood—
And thank the stubborn thankful-

That maketh all things good.

HARVEST FESTIVALS OF OLD

Greeks and Romans Had Days of Thanksgiving for the Fruitful Gifts of the Earth.

Greece, in the months of August and September of each year, after the harvest had been gathered, celebrated the great feast known as the Eleusinia, or the feast to Demeter of the beautiful robe. Demeter, the great earth-mother, was the goddess of cornfields and harvests. Her daughter, Persephone, while gathering flowers one day, was kidnapped by Pluto. Demeter searched for her long by land and sea, and at last learned that her lost daughter had been married to Pluto, the dark specter of the underworld, and that she was now his queen in the realm below. But Persephone had eaten a pomegranate seed and could remain with her mother only part of the year. This made Demeter angry, and she left the gods and made her dwelling upon the earth. She taught Ceres, king of Eleusis, agriculture, how to plow, sow and reap. This feast was one of the grandest of the Greek festivals.

The Romans celebrated a harvest festival called the Cersalia. It took its name from Ceres, who was the Demeter of the Romans, and the feast was celebrated at some time in the month of October. Sacrifices of the best fruits and honey cakes were offered up in the temple. Processions were made to the fields by men and women dressed in white and crowned with oak leaves and popples. Ceres was represented in a chariot drawn by dragons, her head crowned with a garland of corn ears, and holding a basket of popples in her hand. This festival was a general holiday time.

Coming down to a more modern time, we read of thanksgivings in Holland and in England, the recollection of whose "harvest homes," perhaps, inspired the Puritans to inaugurate the custom in this country. The first Thanksgiving on American soil, according to the well credited chronicler, Edward Winslow, was held in 1621, 10 months after the landing of the Pilgrims, when, the crops being garnered, they felt spring up within their hearts a feeling of praise and thanksgiving. It lasted almost a week, and was participated in by King Massasoit and 50 of his braves, who were feasted and entertained for three days, the newcomers showing their guests their proficiency in arms, expertness in wrestling, etc. To show their prowess in turn, "the Indians went out and killed five deer, which they brought to the plantation and bestowed on the governor and upon Captain Miles Standish and others," a fine contribution to the feast.

Stock Raising in WESTERN CANADA

is as profitable as grain growing. Successes as wonderful as those from growing wheat, oats, barley, and flax have been made in raising Horses, Cattle, Sheep and Hogs. Bright, sunny climate, nutritious grasses, good water, enormous fodder crops—these spell success to the farmer and stock raiser. And remember, you can buy on easy terms

Farm Land at $15 to $30 An Acre

—land equal to that which through many years has yielded from 20 to 45 bushels of wheat to the acre—grazing land convenient to good grain farms at proportionately low prices. These lands have every rural convenience; good schools, churches, roads, telephones, etc., close to live towns and good markets.

If you want to get back to the farm, or to farm on a large scale than is possible under your present conditions, investigate what Western Canada has to offer you.

HIS SCHEME DIDN'T WORK LISTEN TO AMBITION'S VOICE

This Colonel Evidently Was Wise as to the Foxy Ways of His Junior Officers.

Desirable Companion May Fall to Call Again if She Is Not Accorded Recognition.

In the regular army it is one of the customs of the service, when at a regular army post, for the junior officers to call upon the senior officers. To comply with this custom without making the calls, the junior officer frequently waits until he knows the senior officer is away and then calls at his home and leaves a card. One night when I was stationed at a post in Texas, I saw the colonel down town and on my way home stopped at the colonel's quarters and put my card under the door. I was just leaving the porch when I noticed a car at the gate and on closer inspection I noted that the colonel was in the car and was awaiting me at the gate. He laughingly said: "Kind of late to make a call, isn't it, Lieut.?" This became one of the colonel's best stories, and to say that I was more than once embarrassed would be putting it mild.

Taxing the Millionaire.

Under the new scale of income tax imposed by the recent United States revenue bill every citizen in receipt of $150,000 or more a year must pay at least half of it to the state.

Mr. Henry Ford, for example, is said to have an income of $25,000,000 a year, of which the revenue authorities will claim between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000—a sum sufficient to keep 1,000 families in modest comfort forever.

But even Mr. Ford gets off lighter than Mr. John D. Rockefeller, who is reputed to have an income of $100,000,000 a year. Mr. Rockefeller's contribution to the treasury, it is said, will not fall short of $80,000,000 for the current year—a sum which represents 2,000 times his weight in gold.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected.

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview on the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease. It is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

When Cork is Driven in Bottle.

When a cork slides down inside a bottle it is very difficult to get it out—unless one has the necessary tools, and they are not always available, writes Victor H. Todd, in Popular Science Monthly.

A good way to extract it is to grease the neck of the bottle with vaseline, then hold the bottle under cold water.

When the bottle is as cold as possible spear the cork with a hat pin, or even shake it until it blocks the neck of the bottle and sets straight with the neck. Then gradually heat the bottle or pour hot water over it and the expanding air will generally force the cork out with a slight pop.

WISCONSIN STATE NEWS

Madison—At the midwest horticultural exhibition at Des Moines, Wisconsin took first place with its display of potatoes and sweepstakes in individual entries. Verne Atwood, Bruce, won first place for Green Mountains; C. G. Kuney, Three Lakes, took first for Triumphs; and Ed. Martinson, Conover, first for Cobbiers. J. F. Hauser won first for the best collection of potatoes exhibited by an individual. N. M. Blaine, Weyerhaeuser, took first, second and sweepstakes with his showing of rutabagas. Judges stated that it was the best display of roots they had seen in ten years. Wisconsin also took first for the best collection of roots, first on its display of vegetables, and first for the largest ever displayed in Iowa. Growers from Iowa, Illinois, Nebraska, Minnesota, South Dakota and Indiana competed against the Wisconsin entries. There were 3,500 entries at the exposition.

Darlington—The Lafayette County Medical society adopted resolutions that statements of account were to be sent out by each physician to every person who was in arrears and able to settle. If the account is not settled, the secretary of the society will again notify the delinquents. If not then settled, every physician in the county is to be notified that the account is worthless and no medical service thereafter will be available for anyone who gets on the "deadhead" list.

Ashland—What are expected to be practically the last winter logging operations in the immediate vicinity of Ashland will take place this winter on the Bad river reservation. Logging will continue on the Apostle islands for some time, and the John Schroeder Lumber Co., Milwaukee, which has perhaps the finest mill in northern Wisconsin at Ashland, recently purchased heavy timber holdings near Ontonagon, logs from which will be brought to Ashland.

Beloit—"MacJawn House," home of the first white settler of northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin, Stephen Mack, may be retained as a permanent historical landmark if the action of Beloit and Rockton residents is successful. Agitation to assure the retaining of the old stone house, a kingly mansion in 1837, has been started and the site, three miles south of Beloit, may become a county park.

Racine—John C. Burns, formerly manager of the Racine Country club, arrested three weeks ago in Chicago on a statutory charge in which a young Racine girl is the complaining witness, was arraigned before a court commissioner, waived preliminary examination and was bound over to the municipal court for trial, bail being fixed in the amount of $1,500, which Mr. Burns furnished in cash.

Wausau—F. B. Coon, teacher of agriculture in city schools and in charge of city garden work, announced in a report that 467 members were enrolled in thirty-six clubs. A summary of work shows that 329 children gave reports, which showed they produced $3,295.96 worth of supplies, made a profit of $2,076.80 at a total cost of $1,219.13, of which $610.49 represents their labor charge.

Baraboo—A genuine Rocky Mountain coyote which was sent to C. R. Tuttle from Colorado months ago, escaped from its cage. Mr. Tuttle gave chase with a rifle, and did not stop to inquire whether the laws of Wisconsin forbid the shooting of coyotes or not. His aim was to kill the coyote before the coyote killed him, and it took two shots to do it.

Peshigo—The Thompson Brothers' Boat company is erecting an addition, 60x64 feet, three stories high, to the west end of their boat plant here. In the past they have been obliged to close down during the winter and confine their building operations solely to the selling season. Hereafter they hope to operate continuously.

Merrill—Four children were badly burned, one perhaps fatally, when they were trapped in their burning home on a farm twelve miles from here. The father, Chris Larsen, a farmer, was on his way to the city when the blaze started. The mother was a considerable distance away milking cows.

Menasha—All public school teachers in this city have signed a petition presented to the school board for a $15 per month increase in salaries. The board will take early action on the petition.

La Crosse—Two freight cars, loaded to the guards with women's corsets, burned in a local railroad yard. The loss is about $25,000, it is claimed.

Racine—The McCord Manufacturing Co., Racine, has acquired the plant of the Racine Manufacturing Co. The latter now operates a large plant for manufacture of automobile bodies and accessories. It is said the factory will be enlarged and facilities extended.

Green Bay—For the first time the Brown county insane asylum is self-sustaining. The introduction of registered Holstein cows, and intensive cultivation of additional farm acreage adjoining the institution has made this accomplishment possible.

Superior—In Superior court Judge S. L. Perrin granted a peremptory writ of mandamus for restoration to their positions and back pay for the whole period while of duty in the suit of twelve members of the Superior police department. Judge Perrin held that their removal had not been in good faith, but was an effort to evade the law by discharging men without charges, or hearing the complainants, one of whom is a sergeant, one a detective and ten were patrolmen. They were discharged May 20 by direction of Mayor Faxter after the passage of an ordinance providing for cutting down the police force by fifteen men.

Beloit—Fairbanks, Morse and company of this city announced recently that they would build a $1,500,000 foundry here, equal to the largest in the world. Excavation work is expected to start early in the spring. The structure is to have 495,000 square feet of floor space, and will cover eleven acres. Some 3,000 men will be employed, bringing the total up to 7,000.

Wausau—Special efforts are being made to spread the organization of Boy Scout patrols throughout the county. In Wausau are several troops, the largest having a membership of 41. The purpose is to establish and maintain a county council with a skilled executive in charge to select and train scout masters. The movement is meeting with enthusiastic response.

Marinette—B. J. McKay, logging foreman for the N. Ludington Co., who was injured in the woods by a falling tree, has been awarded $3,400 by the state industrial commission a second time. On the first award, the insurance company appealed and the circuit court sent the case back to the commission for reconsideration. The commission found as it did the first time.

Chippewa Falls—The past summer has been a great season for watermelons and muskmelons, showing that Chippewa county is admirably adapted to the production of this succulent fruit. Garden sash growers and farmers had wonderful results from planting a few hills of watermelons this year. These vegetables grew and thrived almost without cultivation.

Madison—State wide interest in the matter of supplying hot lunches to school children has been aroused as a result of dictations establishing the relation between the poorly planned, cold noon meal and poor health and low scholarship on the part of the pupils. Barron county schools are working for a better record on the hot noon lunch.

Eau Claire—When the county board of Eau Claire assembled for the fall session, a notification from the state building inspector was read, in which the county poor farm building was condemned as beyond repair or remodeling. If it is not torn down and a new one rebuilt the institution will be closed by the state a year hence.

Green Bay—Joseph Nekelewicz and wife, Katie, of the village of Pulaaki near here, both over 70 years of age, were bound over for trial on the charge of arson after their preliminary hearing. The old couple are accused of having set fire to their residence in Pulaaki to obtain insurance money on it.

Green Bay—Voters stood by the commission council in a special election on the question of aldermanic vs. commission form of government. The vote was 2,390 for the commission and 1,683 for the aldermanic plan, a majority of 707. The bond issue of $45,000 for a site for a municipal dock was passed.

Kenosha—A new phase of the recent gambling house holdup case came up when Judge Tully announced that he would ask some other judge to hear the case of Samuel Jacobsen, charged with operating the gambling house.

Neenah—While ducks are wary in Lake Winnebago, thousands of birds rest on the river within the city limits, where it is against the law to molest them. Old hunters say the ducks are becoming "educated."

Antigo—John Mainville, who was acquitted of the charge of murdering Frank Parsons, still faces the charge of attempting to kill Mrs. Anna Lillie, Parsons' housekeeper. No date for the trial has been set.

Antigo—Fromm Brothers of Merrill were paid nearly $45,000 for 8,200 pounds of ginseng, the largest crop ever raised in the United States. The crop was harvested on a two acre tract.

Hurley—There has not been an arrest for drunkenness here since Nov. 1. Gambling has also been stopped under orders of the mayor.

Waupun—Work is under way clearing the site for the $100,000 factory for the Waupun Canning Co. The building will be four stories, with power house, warehouse, garage for ten trucks, office and two silos into which pea vines and cornhusks will be run.

Madison—Mrs. E. H. Van Ostrand was elected president of the Wisconsin chapter of the Service Star association at the closing session of the convention here. Mrs. Van Ostrand was one of the leaders in the movement to organize the war mothers of the state.

At All Drug Stores

OLD SORES, PILES AND ECZEMA VANISH

Good, Old, Reliable Peterson's Ointment a Favorite Remedy.

"Had 51 ulcers on my legs. Doctors wanted to cut off leg. Peterson's Ointment cured me."—Wm. J. Nichol, 40 Wilder Street, Rochester, N. Y.

Get a large box for 35 cents at any druggist, says Peterson, of Buffalo, N. Y., and money back if it isn't the best you ever used. Always keep Peterson's Ointment in the house. Fine for burns, scalds, bruises, sunburn, and the surest remedy for itching eczema and piles the world has ever known.

Backache only a Symptom

"It Seems as Though my Back Would Break."

This is a common expression among women, yet they toil on day after day heedless of the significance of this distressing symptom.

Backache is often a warning of some inward trouble that requires attention, and which unless relieved will sooner or later declare itself in more serious ailments.

If it is caused by female derangement Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is what you need. It quickly asserts its curative powers in all those peculiar ailments of women.

For more than thirty years this good old fashioned root and herb medicine has been restoring American women to health.

The Splendid Recovery of Mrs. Coventry

Newark, N. J.—"The doctor said I had organic trouble and treated me for several weeks. At times I could not walk at all and I suffered with my back and legs so I often had to stay in bed. I suffered off and on for eight years. Finally I heard that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was a good medicine, and I tried it with splendid effect. I can now do my housework and my washing. I have recommended your Vegetable Compound and Blood Medicine and three of my friends are taking it to their advantage. You may use my name for a testimonial."—Mrs. THERESA COVENTRY, 75 Burnett St., Newark, N. J.

Mrs. Hunt tells how it helped her Detroit, Mich.—"I was in a general run-down condition, was very nervous and tired, had backache and other troubles. I suffered for several years, was not able to work at times and tried doctor's medicine with no results. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised, and after taking it a short time I was much better. I am still taking it myself and giving it to my daughter, and am glad to recommend Vegetable Compound at any time."—Mrs. M. E. Hunt, 171 Davison Ave.
