AGRICULTURAL NOTES

By the County Agricultural Agent

Now is the time for the farmers to get their clover seed for next spring. It is true that clover seed is high, but it will remain so for at least three years yet, as it is estimated that it will be that long before Europe can once more provide its own seed. As seeding time draws nearer we will be apt to find clover seed both higher and harder to procure. It is urged that all farmers plant more clover and leguminous crops, and that the first cutting be made approximately a week earlier than usual, so that the second crop may have a better chance to produce more and stronger seed. There is no prospect for next year's clover seed to be cheaper than this year. From Feb. 3 to 12 inclusive will be held the 1920 farmers course at Madison. This course is so brimming full of information for the practical farmer that he may spend every minute to advantage. Feb. 3, is farm power day with special exhibits of machinery and multiple hitches. Feb. 4th will have a special soil exhibit. Another day will be devoted to the "grow your own feed" campaign. There will be exhibitions of grains and grasses, brood sows, farm lighting plants, power and sanitation, plant diseases, and destruction insects. In addition to this Mr. Humphrey will show the results of line breeding in dairy cattle. Are not all the present problems of the farmer correct here? It is the farmers' biggest week at Madison.

LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL LOSES CLOSE GAME

With the largest crowd of the season out to witness the basketball game last Friday evening the Kewaskum five lined up against the Rosendale five. The game started with a dash; every Kewaskum player played his part and with two assists in each case Fred Mohme had caged two field goals in less than one minute of play. The next ten minutes of play found the ball in Kewaskum's possession all the while; the Rosendale team was fast on the floor but the passing and team work of Kewaskum was so far superior to that of Rosendale that the opponents were lost and bewildered to see the ball escape their grasp occasionally and the play perfected by Mohme or Runte usually dropping the spheres through the net. Coach Spear appeared upon the floor several times early in the game to shift the position of his players and put in a new man occasionally in a desperate attempt to check the Kewaskum five. After about twelve minutes of play Rosendale was awarded a free throw which was made. Kewaskum more than made up for this however as it soon made two more field goals which made the score 15 to 1. Another free throw was awarded Rosendale which brought their count to 2. During the remaining few minutes of the first half Rosendale rallied a little and succeeded in getting three field goals to Kewaskum's one free throw which brought the first half to a close with a score of 16 to 8 in favor of Kewaskum. The second half began with Kewaskum getting the tip off at center and found the ball at Kewaskum's end of the floor. Evidently Rosendale's team realized it was outclassed and only hoped to keep Kewaskum's score as small as possible; this was evident in the fact that the second half found the entire Rosendale team at Kewaskum's end of the floor doing all in its power to keep Kewaskum from scoring. Only a very few minutes of play were necessary in the second half, however, to show that a new, unexpected, and nondefeatable element had entered the game the second half. The result was time after time the ball was taken from the hands of an unguarded Kewaskum player and placed upon Rosendale's free line. This meant a gain of one point every time as Rosendale's free thrower was very accurate. Two or three such plays put the Kewaskum team in a serious position. What was to be done? Should the players, an official, or some one else, stop the game to argue and debate with the referee? No that was not done. The Kewaskum team was at a loss what to do; what team would not be. The result was the team work of Kewaskum was broken up; the players shifted to a guarding position and attempted to keep the ball in their possession but they failed to play on Kewaskum's end of the floor enough. The close guarding kept Rosendale down to three field goals during the last half. In spite of the close guarding, team work and basket shooting of Kewaskum the free throws proved to be too many for them and found the final score 17 to 21 in favor of Rosendale at the close of the game.

Friday, Jan. 16 promises to bring back some of the old treats in basketball. Hepp's Stars will line up against Jack's Specials at 8:00 P. M. Don't fail to see them. The game between Menominee Falls H. S. and the local high school promises to be a good one.

THE STATE BOARD OF HEALTH WATER AND SEWERAGE

From your local officials and reports of one of our field men we are advised that Kewaskum is giving the water and sewerage project serious consideration as a development of the coming year. We regard this as a step of the utmost importance for your future growth and wellbeing. Nothing in the way of public improvements can equal these necessities, and public safety. As safeguards against fire and disease they will be worth many times their cost. No factor is of more importance than that of the public health, and the introduction of either or both of these systems is vitally concerned with the conservation of health.

A public water system and a sewerage system side by side come nearest to the ideal condition in any municipality, offering the best means of avoiding contamination of the water supply and other insanitary conditions caused by improper disposal of domestic wastes.

To the question, How shall our sewage be disposed of? there is but one answer: It must be so disposed of as not to endanger the lives of the inhabitants. A single typhoid fever patient may infect the source of water supply and cause an epidemic that may cause a loss of thousands of dollars. The cost of the illness of a single typhoid patient added to the value of a human life lost would pay for a sewerage system large enough for a community of five thousand people. Thus one year's loss to the citizens might equal the cost of such a system.

It does not follow from this that your town will suffer an epidemic of disease by failing to install a sewerage system. But it is a well established fact that the danger of typhoid fever and other water-borne diseases is ever present where a town has no system of sewerage. Cesspools are always a source of disease peril. It is in these that typhoid germs have their breeding ground. The germs, conveyed through underground watercourses, often reach the wells from which the community derives its drinking water.

With cesspools used for sewage disposal, the surrounding ground becomes saturated with the pollution. No town ought to deprive itself longer than necessary of the benefits of water and sewerage systems which might forever insure its people against the possibility of such dangerous conditions.

The cost to the average property holder of a system of water supply and sewerage is comparatively small when compared with the comforts and conveniences derived from them. With these modern facilities once installed and their benefits recognized, we are confident that no householder in Kewaskum would have them removed for many times the cost.

The installation of water works and sewerage in Kewaskum presents no serious constructional problems. The river near by has adequate flowage for carrying away the effluent from the treatment tank and will make an excellent discharge point. The soil in the village is largely clay and offers no obstacles in the way of excavation. The land slopes towards the river, our information indicates, and the lay of the ground is therefore such that no great depths need be reached in order to secure proper drainage. Whatever factors in construction need to be considered in planning water and sewerage works can readily be established by the engineers you have engaged.

There are approximately 160 public utility and a few privately owned sewer systems in the cities and villages of Wisconsin, and some 250 municipally owned water systems. The majority of the cities and many villages have sewerage systems but lack proper disposal means for the sewage, which they discharge without treatment into lakes or rivers. At the present time, however, the state laws are adequate to prevent such methods being adopted where new systems are undertaken, and the State Board of Health is authorized to demand only approved ways of handling and disposing of raw sewage. It is for this reason that the Legislature required that plans for all new systems of water supply and sewerage be first submitted to this Board for approval before construction may begin.

A considerable number of villages and small cities have recently constructed water or sewerage systems, or both, and in every case of sewerage some modern system of sewage disposal has been included. The number of plans introducing these public disposals has been included. The number of places introducing these public benefits is growing rapidly.

When Kewaskum enters upon a project of this kind, the State Board of Health will be pleased to lend its aid in whatever ways may be thought advisable.

KEWASKUM'S NEW $50,000.00 ALUMINUM FACTORY NOW IN COURSE OF CONSTRUCTION

The above is a picture of the new proposed Kewaskum Aluminum factory as drawn up by architects Leigh & Hunt of Milwaukee. The building will face north and south, running parallel with the Chicago & Northwestern railroad tracks. The part of the building visible in the picture is the west side and the south or front side. The new structure will be 183 feet long, 50 feet wide and two stories high, and will cost $50,000.00. The west and south sides will be built of red face brick, while the north and east sides will be of common white brick. The first and second floor will be of steel sash construction, and the roof will be composed of concrete, steel and pyrobar. John Stango, designer and contractor of Milwaukee will do the construction work. A large crew of men are at work daily putting in the foundation for the new factory under the able management of Robert Young of Milwaukee, who is a master mechanic, and understands his work very thoroughly. He has had 26 years of experience in that particular work. Mr. Young has been at work here since the second day of January, during which time the main footings of the wall have already been completed, and is at present shoring for the walls. Mr. Young, in an interview with one of the Statesman reporters, stated that if weather conditions will permit, everything will be in readiness to start the brick work in about a week, at which time over forty men will be employed. At the rate the work is progressing, it is expected that the new factory will be completed within a few months, and that the factory will be in full operation by June 1st, 1920. The building will be steam heated, heat will be furnished from the malt house by means of a large tunnel 4 feet wide and 6 feet 6 inches high will be built to the factory from the malt house underneath the railroad tracks. On the west side of the building a private side track will be built for loading and unloading purposes, said spur track will start from the north side of A. G. Koch's grain elevator. The new factory will be absolutely fire proof throughout and equipped with all the latest and best grade of machinery on the market, which will enable the company to manufacture some of the finest and best aluminum ware now in use, in large quantities and on short notice. When the new structure is completed, it will be one of the most modernly equipped and neat appearing aluminum factories in the state, barring none.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE KEWASKUM LIMITED MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE CO.

The nineteenth annual meeting of the Kewaskum Limited Mutual Fire Insurance Company was held in the Company's office on Thursday, January 15, 1920. Messrs. N. J. Mortes and John Brunner were re-elected directors for the term of three years.

The annual report shows that the company has had a very successful year; increasing over $6,000 in their assets with a decrease in losses. The company has saved its members thousands of dollars in premiums since its organization, by charging them 75 per cent of the adequate board or published rates. It has succeeded in meeting all of its liabilities promptly without levying an assessment, and has at present gross assets amounting to $44,698.13.

After the company's meeting the board of directors met and re-elected the following named officers, namely: A. L. Rosenheimer, President; N. J. Mortes Vice President; L. P. Rosenheimer, Treasurer; Joseph Schmidt, Secretary.

YOUNG COUPLES JOINED FOR LIFE

On Monday morning, Jan. 12, at 10 o'clock, the St. Bridget's church was the scene of a very pretty wedding when Miss Barbara Volm, daughter of Mrs. Leonard Volm, and a highly respected young lady of this vicinity, was united in marriage to Geo. Peter of Wayne, Rev. Ph. Vogt of this village performed the ceremony. The bride was attended by Miss Margaret Volm, cousin of the bride as bridesmaid, while Wm. Volm, brother of the bride acted as groomsmen. The bride was dressed in a white satin gown, trimmed with georgette crepe, and wore a white veil, and carried a white prayer book. The bridesmaid, wore a tan crepe de chine dress and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride with only near relatives in attendance. The newly weds left the same day for a short wedding trip to points of interest in the northern part of the state. Upon their return they will go to housekeeping on the groom's farm one mile north of Wayne, where they will be at home to their many friends after Feb. 1st. The Statesman extends best wishes for a happy married life.

Benjamin Brandt, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Brandt of the town of Wayne, was quietly married at Juneau to Miss Mina Goetsch of Juneau. The wedding took place last week Thursday, Rev. Corr of Juneau officiating. The newly weds left for a short wedding trip to parts unknown and upon their return will make their home at Clyman, Dodge county, after Jan. 15. Miss Goetsch is a graduate of the Juneau high school of the class of 1919. The groom is well known here having been employed as blacksmith for Jack Becker about a year ago. He for some time was employed at Juneau and recently purchased a blacksmith shop of Frank Kietzman at Clyman. His many friends here extend the couple best wishes for a happy married life.

KEWASKUM LOSES TO SCHLEISINGERVILLE

Last week-Saturday evening the local A. C. basket ball team went to Schleisingerville, where they met defeat in a one-sided contest by a score of 14 to 44. Slinger has a good team, a group of real basket ball artists; every one of them is a perfect basket shooter, and a very clean group of players, it was a game in which not a foul was made on either side. The Slinger aggregation has splendid team work which, no doubt accounts for the good record they have established thus far this season. The local boys are well satisfied with the treatment accorded them while there, and say that the clean sort of rooting that burst forth from the large crowd of enthusiastic fans, who had come from far and near to witness the game is hard to beat anywhere. The local team was handicapped, being forced to play the game with a broken lineup, only one forward, Jack Tessar was able to accompany the team. Maurice Rosenheimer will be out of the game for some time on account of a broken finger which he received several weeks ago. Harry Schaefer was substituted to take Morry's place at forward in which position he is not used to playing. This undoubtedly accounts for the overwhelming defeat. The team regrets very much that they were in no position to give the Slinger boys and their fans a better article of basket ball. The Slinger team will play here on Sunday evening, Feb. 15th.

Tonight (Saturday), Jan. 17th, the locals will put up with the strong Waldheim Specials of Milwaukee, one of the best teams in that city, composed of some professional players. Our boys are practicing hard, to bring this year's basket ball season to a successful conclusion, and expect to give the Milwaukee team a run for their money. Game called at 9:15 o'clock. Next Sunday, Jan. 25th our boys will meet the Oshkosh By-Gosh squad on the local floor. The Oshkosh team recently defeated the strong Sheboygan team at Sheboygan and later lost to New London by a score of 24 to 26. New London held the state amateur championship for two years.

The local city girls team will go to Milwaukee Monday evening where they will play the Boston Store girls at the Palace hall.

BANK OF KEWASKUM HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

The directors and stockholders of the Bank of Kewaskum held their regular annual meeting last week Thursday afternoon in the bank parlors. At which time the following officers were elected: President—A. L. Rosenheimer; First Vice-president—Moritz Rosenheimer; second Vice-president—George Petri; Cashier—B. H. Rosenheimer; Assistant cashiers—N. W. Rosenheimer, Miss Helen Remmel and Maurice Rosenheimer. The following directors were elected: A. L. Rosenheimer, Moritz Rosenheimer, George Petri, B. H. Rosenheimer, N. W. Rosenheimer, Art. Koch and Otto E. Lay. The reports of the officers showed that the bank is in a very flourishing condition. The capital stock is $40,000, and the surplus and undivided profits amount to $45,000, with a deposit of over $850,000.00. The bank of Kewaskum is one of the strongest banks in the state. It has a stockholders total individual resources of about $5,000,000.00, which is indeed a very creditable showing for a bank in a village the size of Kewaskum.

COUNTY LISTENING POST

By the County Superintendent

The flag floats over all the schools of this county. It stands for liberty, kindness, justice. It is dishonoring that flag if every boy and girl in those schools does not get a square deal. Do not salute that flag in the morning unless you pledge yourself to the duty of doing your best for them that day. Teaching is like football, hit the line hard; don't foul and don't shirk, but hit the line hard.

The Richfield Teachers' meeting was attended by two town chairmen, Peter Becker of Richfield and Jac. Leicht of Germantown. They took part in the discussions and stayed the entire day. We often wonder why more men and women do not drop in at these meetings.

A big teachers' meeting with big men with big ideas is planned for the last Friday in February. Those on the program are Prof. Cheever of Milwaukee, Miss Mabel Bush of the state department and Principals McLane, Haverson, Snyder and Dupe. If you doubt our choice of adjectives in describing these speakers come to the convention and be convinced. A constitution for the Washington County Teachers' Association will be adopted at this convention and officers will be elected for the next two years.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Raymond Casper was absent from school Monday.

The Junior English class is reading the "Old Mouse".

A reading circle has been organized by the students of the high school.

The Ancient History class is giving a series of outside reading reports.

Dempsey was absent on Tuesday. His chariot having come to grief Monday.

The Algebra class is working with the addition and subtraction of fractions.

Raymond's initials sure do indicate his hobby: R. Q. (argue). Ask Nathan for particulars.

Chicka has it that the shortage of paper doesn't seem to interfere with the length of our lessons.

Barber had a general walkout one day this week. It differed from other walkouts in that it wasn't called by him.

The Commercial Geography class is studying the continent Africa. That chapter was particularly suitable for Monday, we think.

The H. S. pupils were sorrow stricken by the enforced vacation of Monday forenoon. The low temperature made it inadvisable to remain in the assembly room.

Have you ever heard the new Hawaiian guitars? They come in the shape of finger nail files and are very popular with us. The only drawback is the excessive amount of trimming up they require.

GRAMMAR ROOM

The Seventh grade has begun the study of American History.

The Reading Circle work is taking up the spare time of most of the pupils in our room. Quite a number of book reports have been given.

The following have been neither absent nor tardy the past month: Ekna Quandt, Erwin Radtke, Marvin Martin, Elizabeth Quade, Dorothy Dana, Miriam Schaefer, Myron Perschbacher, Lorinda Meinecke, Florence Grove, Edward Brandt, Norbert Becker.

INTERMEDIATE NOTES

Pearl Buss has enrolled in the third grade.

Edwin and Eldon Meinecke withdrew from school last week.

The following pupils were neither absent nor tardy during the past month: Marc David Rosenheimer, Maude Hausmann, Lucina Martin, Elvoren Becker, Rosella Haug, Bernice Perschbacher, Nettie Klatt, Grace Krahn, Irene Backhaus, Norma Knoebel, Ray Perschbacher, Ralph Kohn, Henry Rosenheimer, Allen Miller, Wesley Haug, Reuben Schaefer, Elizabeth Lay.

PRIMARY ROOM

Adeline Meinecke was dropped from our enrollment last Thursday. She will attend school in the town of Farmington.

The following were neither absent nor tardy during the fourth month: Lloyd Hron, George Koerbie, August Koch, Harris Palk, Elizabeth Martin, George Schmidt, John Louis Schaefer, Elroy Hron, Henry John Lay.

The Best Cough Remedy.

When a druggist finds that his customers all speak well of a certain preparation, he forms a good opinion of it and when in need of such a medicine is almost certain to use it himself and in his family. This is why so many druggists use and recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I. B. Jones, a well known druggist of Cubrun, Ky., says: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family for the past seven years, and have found it to be the best cough medicine I have ever known."

Was Going Down-Hill

Mrs. Bergman's Friends Were Worried, but Doan's Brought Remarkable Recovery From Kidney Complaint.

"I couldn't sit down without putting a pillow behind my back," says Mrs. Oie Bergman, 629 Pennsylvania St., Gary, Ind. "When I bent over it felt as though somebody had stuck a knife right into my back and I would often fall to the floor. The kidney secretions made me get up four and five times a night. There would be only a small amount, which would burn so that I would almost scream. Before long my body bloated and my feet were so swollen that I couldn't wear my shoes. My skin looked shiny and when I pressed it down it left a dent. I had chills and fever. Sometimes I would sweat so that I could fairly wring the water out of my clothes. Everybody said I was going down-hill fast. In two months I lost fifteen pounds and was discouraged. By the time I had finished three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills I was entirely cured and I have enjoyed the best of health ever since."

PISO'S

WHEN SPRING SEWING OCCUPIES YOUR TIME

Among many other things that absorb the attention of home dress-makers, busy with spring sewing, there are negligees to be provided for hours of leisure. Now is the best time for making these luxurious and inspiring frivolities of the wardrobe. Gay new spring materials are here, and the business of sewing is in hand. January and February ought to see underthings for the family and negligees, housedresses, service clothes for the housewife, about disposed of. Certainly the pretty negligees should not be overlooked.

Negligees are usually in two garments, that is an underslip and a coat, or trousers and coat. These styles are about equally popular and the trousers women or patterned after those of men. Sometimes a long skirt is so draped as to suggest trousers and in any case these picturesque suits are fascinating. In the picture trousseau of crepe-de-chine have double frills of narrow knife plaiting about the ankles. The coat is much like a short kimono and it is edged with wide lace. A silk cord and tassel is suspended from the coat at each side, falling from a small bow of ribbon. These tassels and cords have no particular reason for being where they are, except to look pretty; they do add to the grace of the coat by weighting it. There is no attempt to follow the style that inspires a negligee with fidelity to the original. The Chinese cord and tassel idea is used along with very pert little ribbon bows having an American flavor, and ribbon rosette with long ends at the front.

Such sensible things as the combination undergarment for a little girl, shown in the picture, must share attention with beautiful negligees in the spring sewing. The body and knickers are cut in one, the former gathered into an elastic band at the knee or on a straight hand that buttons. Neck and short sleeves are finished with button-holes stitching over the edges of small scallops, and the same garment is made with lower neck and sleeveless for midsummer wear. The weight of the muslins used varies, too, according to the season for which the combinations are made.

Coats Stylish and Practical

It used to be that, to call a garment "practical" was about equivalent to calling it "commonplace," but that day has gone by. More and more the intangible element of style is demanded and commands a very tangible and substantial return in money.

The two coats shown in the picture above will first catch the eye because of their smart style and then will bear study as thoroughly practical. The suppleness of the season's coatings makes it easy for designers to do unusual things, as in the coat shown at the left of the picture, where odd cupidlike extensions are set in at the sides and the body of the coat is joined to a deep yoke with many rows of machine stitching. Everything in the model is on a generous scale, even the handsome buttons are extra large. The very wide muffer collar wraps about the throat in the coziest manner possible. In a less flexible material these ideas could not be carried out.

Weaving Ribbons.

Many ribbons are woven of as many as 12 colors on looms which turn out only about two and a half yards in a day. These ribbons are seen in the most interesting designs, frequently of ancient and barbaric inspiration. Those showing the human figure are really considered by far the smartest. Egyptian figures, heads intermingled with lotus leaves and other historic and entertaining little scenes, are cleverly shown. The brocaded ribbons are fashioned more or less on the same lines as the brocades, in brilliant shades, overlaid with swirls of the metal, either gold or silver.

Lovely Lingerie.

"All white" is the latest decree as to the color of the lingerie for the bride's trousseau. Mud, net, lace are the materials most in vogue now. Embroidery is much in demand. The new silhouette forecasts something new in the way of corsets. Lacy, ruffled "undies" are to be had, delighting many a feminine shopper.

CURE HAY WELL BEFORE BALING

Can Be Kept Indefinitely Without Danger of Heating if Properly Treated.

AIR CIRCULATION IS NEEDED

Crosswise Method of "Cording" Prevents Air Spaces From Being Covered and Insures Ventilation Through Pile.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
Baled hay that has been thoroughly cured in the barn or stack before baling can be stored indefinitely without danger of heating, say specialists. It may be piled so that the bales fit very closely together. Hay haled from the windrow and cock, however, unless very well cured, is likely to heat more or less in storage. Sometimes the heating becomes so intense that the hay becomes severely damaged or even unmarketable.

Lessen Danger of Heating.

Damage from heating may be greatly lessened and sometimes entirely obviated by storing the bales on edge, allowing an inch or two of air space between them. When bales are piled flat the air is excluded and heating is likely to occur, whereas leaving an air space tends to prevent heating by inducing circulation, which cools the hay. The first layer of bales placed in a barn should be placed on edge, and the second and every alternate layer should be placed on edge and crosswise. This crosswise method, or "cording," prevents any of the air spaces in the tier from being entirely covered and insures ventilation through the entire pile. The heated air works up around the edges of the bales and the cooler air enters from the sides and bottom.

Methods of Storing.

When bales that have been laid flat on their sides begin to heat it becomes necessary to move the bales and pile them in the manner just described. If there are any indications of heating when the hay is put into the barn, or if the hay grows has any doubt about the hay keeping, it is best to pile the bales crosswise on edge, rather than take any risk, even though this method of storing wastes more or less storage space. Cases are on record in which hay growers, usually beginners, have baled hay from the windrow and cock, and because it spoiled in the mow, owing to improper storing, have become convinced that baling from the field was not a success, not realizing that the fault lay in the manner in which the hay was stored.

ICE SHOE MADE ADJUSTABLE

Creepers Arranged for Attachment to Horseshoe to Prevent Horse From Slipping.

The Scientific American in illustrating and describing an adjustable ice shoe, the invention of W. H. Norris of Nashville, Tenn., says: The object here is to provide an adjustable ice shoe or creeper arranged for convenient attachment to a horseshoe and the hoof, and designed to prevent the animal from slipping when walking on icy or slippery roads. Further, to provide a shoe which may be readily adjusted and secured in position on a horseshoe and a hoof. For the purpose use is made of auxiliary toe and heel calks mounted on caps fitting the ordinary toe and heel calks of the horseshoe, and means for connecting the caps with each other within the opening of the horseshoe, and means for connecting the caps with each other around the hoof. An inverted plan view of the shoe or creeper is shown in the engraving.

HOGS ECONOMICAL FOR MEAT

Animals Produce More Flesh for Given Quantity of Feed Than Either Cattle or Sheep.

Hogs are economical when it comes to converting feed into meat. They thus produce more flesh for a given quantity of feed than cattle or sheep. Farmers cannot afford to buy meat if it is at all possible to raise hogs on the farm. And there are very few farms where hogs cannot be raised to advantage, at least enough for the home meat supply. If pains are taken to provide grazing crops.

This is a favorable time to start. By preparing land and getting ready to sow crops for grazing farmers may take thought for the morrow.

By beginning with breed sows it does not take long to raise enough hogs to make enough meat for the ordinary family. But the feed should be available and the pasture prepared before a start is made.

Many Insects Undescribed.

Upwards of 350,000 distinct species of insects have been described, the majority of which are, in some way injurious, and at least as many more remain undescribed.

Capacity of a Silo.

The capacity of a silo containing 44 feet of silage would be figured as follows: One-half of 16 equals 8; 8 by 8 by 3.1416 equal 884.67 cubic feet. This would be 190 tons of silage.

ECONOMIC VALUE OF RAT EXTERMINATION

Indiana Counties Wage Intensive War Against Pests.

People Not Yet Easily Aroused to Fearful Menace of Rodents and Importance of Ridding Country of Little Animals.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Twenty-eight Indiana counties have waged intensive war against rats, in co-operation with the United States department of agriculture, through the bureau of biological survey. A special day was set apart for this purpose, at which time, according to the official casualty list, 57,100 rats "went west." Complete figures are not available, but estimates are to the effect that several hundred thousand rats ended their earthly careers on "rat drive day."

The economic value of rat extermination is considerable, especially to the farmer, as a single rat will easily destroy one bushel of corn a year and at the same time officiate as a special messenger for the spreading of disease. Rats are very prolific, producing from six to ten young in a litter and more than six litters a year, a fact which makes the rat a most formidable enemy. Notwithstanding the enormous loss directly traceable to them, people are not yet easily awakened to the fearful menace of these pests and the importance of ridding the country of them. Recommendation has been made by the agricultural authorities that the governor of Indiana appoint a special "rat day" each year, in order that this campaign may be annually continued. During the recent campaign Knox county led in the total number of rats killed, the inhabitants of this territory slaughtering 10,000 of the marauders.

IMPROVEMENT IN MARKETING

Margin Can Be Cut if Producers Will Work Together—Uniform Product Is Favored.

A. D. Wilson, chief of the agricultural extension division of the University of Minnesota, holds that the price margin between the producer and consumer can be cut down if the producers in every community will work together sufficiently to produce a standard product of good quality and in quantities large enough to let it be marketed in carlots. "Improvement in marketing," he says, "must be along the line of reducing the labor and expense required in getting the products from the farm to the consumer. One of the things which tends to reduce this cost is to have produced in a community a large quantity of a uniform product." The marketing of co-operative creamery butter is cited by Mr. Wilson as an illuminating illustration of the truth of his premises.

ERADICATION OF BLACKHEAD

One of Most Difficult of Poultry Diseases to Contend With—Freezing Weather Helps.

Blackhead is one of the most difficult of diseases to eradicate and since occasionally other poultry becomes affected, it is well to carefully plow up all poultry runs, whitewash fences and houses, and have all feeding vessels burned or boiled. Freezing weather is an aid in stamping out the disease, but it is best not to try to raise turkeys the following year, if the disease has been very bad on the farm. In beginning with a new flock another year, be very sure of your eggs or breeding stock and that they come from a place that has not been infected.

WINTER SHELTER FOR STOCK

Suitable Protection Is Most Desirable to Prevent Loss From Sudden Severe Spells.

Shelter is highly desirable during winter. Animals may survive very sudden and severe weather; they generally do. But these sudden spells always cause a loss to the feeder when the animals are exposed to the weather.

WASTE TIMBER USEFUL FUEL

Dead and Dying Trees Should Be Used for This Purpose and Ashes Saved for Fertilizer.

On account of the scarcity of coal there will probably be a large amount of wood used as fuel this winter. Use all the waste timber, dead and dying trees for this purpose and be sure to conserve the ashes for garden fertilizer. They are rich in plantfood, particularly potash.

Will Not be One Day Without PE-RU-NA

This Lady TELLS Her FRIENDS

Mrs. Mary Fricke, 507 Bornman St., Belleville, Ill., is just one of the many thousands of ladies throughout the country who, after an agony of years, have at last found health, strength and vigor in PE-RU-NA.

Her own words tell of her suffering and recovery better than we can do it: "I suffered with my stomach, had awful cramps and headaches so I often could not lay on a pillow. Saw your book, tried PE-RU-NA and got good results from the first bottle. To be sure of a cure I took twelve bottles. I have recommended PE-RU-NA to my friends and all are well pleased with results. I will not be one day without PE-RU-NA. Have not had a doctor since I started with PE-RU-NA, which was about fifteen years ago. I am now sixty-three years old, hale, hearty and well. Can do as much work as my daughters. I feel strong and healthy and weigh near two hundred pounds. Before, I weighed as little as one hundred. I hope lots of people use PE-RU-NA and get the results I did." An experience like that of Mrs. Fricke is an inspiration to every sick and suffering woman.

If you have catarrh, whether it be of the nose, throat, stomach, bowels, or other organs, PE-RU-NA is the remedy. It is not new; it is not an experiment. PE-RU-NA has been tried. PE-RU-NA has been used by thousands who once were sick and are now well. To prevent coughs, colds, grip and influenza and to hasten recovery there is nothing better.

PE-RU-NA will improve the appetite and digestion, purify the blood, soothe the irritated mucous linings, eradicate the waste material and corruption from the system. It will tone up the nerves, give you health, strength, vigor and the joy of living. Do what Mrs. Mary Fricke and thousands more have done—try PE-RU-NA. You will be glad, happy, thankful.

YOU NEED NOT SUFFER FROM CATARRH

But You Must Drive It Out of Your Blood.

Catarrh is annoying enough when it chokes up your nostrils and air passages, causing difficult breathing and other discomforts. Real danger comes when it reaches down into your lungs. This is why you should at once realize the importance of the proper treatment, and lose no time experimenting with worthless remedies which touch only the surface. To be rid of Catarrh, you must drive the disease germs out of your blood. Splendid results have been reported from the use of S. S. S., which acts on the catarrh germs in the blood. Old Oliver Onken Realizes He Is the Captive, and Not the Victorious Capturer.

"My son-in-law, Luther Stacker, doesn't amount to anything at all, and yet, paradoxical as it sounds, he is a bowling success in his chosen specialty," related old Oliver Onken. "He sings a squealing tenor, he can second the motion all right, and will be as useful as anybody else to count on when the cholera breaks out. He might possibly do well managing a small farm. In short, he has never really accomplished anything except to keep better dressed than I can afford to, and by that means maintain a higher standing in the community than I enjoy. Just how he manages it I do not exactly understand, but somehow he keeps right on putting it over me. I cannot kill him, and he will not leave. When he broke into the family I thought I was getting a son-in-law, but now it looks painfully like my son-in-law has got me."—Kansas City Star.

CONVERSATION

This business of conversation is a very serious matter. There are men that it weakens one to talk with an hour more than a day's fasting would do. Mark this that I am going to say, for it is as good as a working professional man's advice, and costs you nothing: It is better to lose a pint of blood from your veins than to have a nerve tapped. Nobody measures your nervous force as it runs away, nor bandages your brain and marrow after the operation.

AS A TONIC

Milwaukee, Wis.—"For the last twenty years I have used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery at times, as a general tonic, with excellent results. One bottle in the spring and one in the fall are usually sufficient. It has given me added strength and endurance and has greatly aided me in following the strenuous life of a freight handler. I have also found Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets very beneficial and mild in action."

Cough Cured. "I feel it my duty to write this. Four months ago I was a very sick woman. I could not lie down in bed, but had to sit up in my chair night and day, had an awful cough. I had two doctors and they said I must cough like that until spring. But I got some of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and began to take it and I then wrote Dr. Pierce for advice, and, thank the Lord and Dr. Pierce's medicine, I am cured of the cough. In one week after I started to take the medicine I began to cough less and in a few days I had gone down to about one hundred and thirty pounds. I now tip the scales at one hundred and sixty-six and one-half pounds. I don't feel the need of any more medicine but I shall always keep the 'Discovery' in the house."

A BLOOD PURIFIER. Cured Inflammatory Rheumatism. "I feel it my duty to write a testimonial in behalf of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, for the sake of suffering humanity. A year ago this past winter I suffered with inflammatory rheumatism. I suffered about five months and then began the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. After taking five bottles of the above named medicine, I was completely cured. I have not been troubled with rheumatism since."

WISCONSIN STATE NEWS

Markesan—Charged with the murder of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Nettie Duffles, Dr. John Frawdenberg of this city, was served with a warrant signed by William Perry, brother of the dead woman. Mrs. Duffles was the fifth member of the family who, it is asserted, died under baffling circumstances. Shortly after her death last November an inquest was begun. Dr. C. H. Bunting, professor of pathology at the University of Wisconsin performed an autopsy and removed affected organic and tissues for laboratory investigation, this resulting in the finding of mustard gas in the bladder.

Deloit—Mrs. Adolph Anderson is near death in a hospital here suffering from burns received in an explosion of kerosene which she was using to start a fire in the kitchen range at her home. Her husband was painfully burned in extinguishing the fire which had spread and was threatening to destroy the house. Mrs. Hans Anderson also suffered burns received in smothering the flames in her daughter-in-law's clothing.

Manitowoc—In spite of the fact that increases amounting to $30 per month have been granted in the past eighteen months the city firemen are back with a petition to the council asking for a further increase of $20 per man per month. The matter has been referred to the committee on fire and police. It is expected that should an increase be granted the policemen will file a similar request.

La Crosse—For the second time in six months Louis Ruelh, detective for the Milwaukee road, was found guilty of murder. Ruelh was charged with second degree murder for shooting and killing Fred Zunker on March 18 last in the local railroad yards. He swore that he shot in self-defense. Since his acquittal at the first trial, Ruelh has been working for the Milwaukee road at Winona, Minn.

Madison—Dist. Atty. Roman Heilman and Chief of Police Shaughnessy, Madison, have hit upon a new method of stopping the automobile speeding in Madison and Dane county. They propose to not only fine the driver of the speeding car, but lock up the car for a given time, probably for as many days as the number of miles the car is going above the speed limit.

Green Bay—Joseph Schneider, New Franken, Brown county, has added new laurels to the county by winning the state two-acre corn growing contest and has been awarded a purebred bull calf as a prize by the Wisconsin experiment association, it was announced. Schneider raised 120 bushels of golden glow corn on each of the two acres he planted.

Eau Claire—Eau Claire is to have a sixth bank. Water street business men have applied to Madison for a charter to establish a bank on Water street and most of the stock has been subscribed. The Eau Claire State bank will open for business here within a few weeks, making Eau Claire's fifth banking institution.

Kenosha—Charles Halberstadt was ground to death beneath the wheels of a railroad train after he had crawled under the gates at a crossing. The body was hit by a limited, which carried it some distance, and cut it to pieces. The victim was a prominent baker.

Kenosha—Fire early destroyed a large ice house at Powers lake, near this city. The damage is estimated at $60,000. The place had a storage capacity of 80,000 tons of ice and had been partially filled. It is suspected that the blaze was of incendiary origin.

Rhineland—Oneida county, of which this city is the county seat, gained more than $1,000,000 in new capital during 1919, according to figures just made public. Of this amount $450,000 is invested in timber or timber products.

Merrill—The Cloverdale Dairy farm owners tried the experiment last summer of raising sunflowers for ensilage, planting 16 acres. The ensilage is coming out in fine shape and is proving excellent feed for their dairy stock.

Racine—Members of the Racine fire department will, beginning Feb. 1, have one day off in three. With new men added to the department the membership will be increased from forty-seven to fifty-three.

Neenah—Automobilists will have to traverse the bridges at a speed of eight miles per hour or under or be subject to fine, according to a ruling of the city council.

Madison—Reports that the headquarters of the American Society of Equity and the Wisconsin branch of the American Society of Equity were to be moved from Madison to Milwaukee were denied by Wisconsin President J. N. Tilton.

Sheboygan—Thousands of chickens, pigeons, guinea pigs, cats and rabbits were placed on display on the opening day of the annual show of the Sheboygan Poultry and Pet Stock association. Entries are from all parts of Wisconsin.

Rhineland—Under auspices of the Rhineland Woman's club, a class in citizenship has been formed here for the instruction of women voters. Supt. M. V. Boyce of the Oneida Co. Training school has been engaged as instructor.

Neenah—This city's actual fire loss during 1919 was but $72. The total damage by fire was $2,013.35, but all but the sum given was covered by insurance. The department responded twenty-six calls during the past year.

Chilton—George C. Hume, Chilton, is a candidate for judge of the Third Wisconsin circuit court, opposing Judge George W. Burnell, the incumbent, and Daniel McDonald, Oshkosh. The circuit comprises Calumet and Winnebago counties. Mr. Hume was formerly a newspaper man. His father was long editor of the Chilton Times. The candidate has been county judge and district attorney. The election occurs April 6.

La Crosse—"If deportation is a solution for the unrest in this country Judge Gary of steel trust fame, the big five packers and other trust magnates ought to be the first to go," declared James Thompson of La Crosse in an address here to the Citizens Corporation league. Thompson is being pushed as a candidate for United States senator at the next election. He ran against Senator Lenroot in the last election.

Ladysmith—A newly formed corporation, known as the Flambeau River will have charge of the building of a large dam near Park Falls, at the junction of the Flambeau and Turtle rivers, to be built soon. It is estimated that this dam will cost over $500,000 and the reservoir will cover about 1,800 acres of land.

Tomah—The Wisconsin railroad commission granted the petition of the Ontario and Milton Telephone Co. of Monroe county to increase rates after Jan. 1, 1920, but refused to consider an increase of salary for the general manager as necessary at this time. The commission also suggested a less expensive method in keeping the company's books.

Sheboygan—Postal authorities are investigating the theft of $77.71 in currency from an insured and registered envelope which was sent by the Bank of Sheboygan to Henry J. Stover, a member of Troop M, Eleventh U. S. cavalry, Calexico, Calif. The package was returned to the postal authorities here as unclaimed. The contents had been pilfered.

La Crosse—There are several thousand barrels of 2.75 per cent beer in the vaults of local breweries which will not be decolozed at this time despite the decision of the United States supreme court with regard to that drink. Local brewers will await the outcome of another action to test the legality of the Volstead act.

Curis—An unsuccessful attempt to rob the depot at this station resulted in "Virgil" East, 18, being wounded twice by gunfire who escaped. The bandits waited until after the evening train had passed through and then attacked Veach. Veach saved the company's money by tossing it into a waste paper basket.

Marinette—Two deaths occurred within a few minutes in the home of R. Pepper, a Grover farmer. Miss Anna Pepper, his daughter, who had been ill with tuberculosis, died unexpectedly. When the mother, Mrs. Anna Pepper, was notified, she swooned and passed away in a few moments from the shock.

Superior—Snow shoes, skis and dog teams are being used by census enumerators of the Tenth district covering 14 of the northern counties of Wisconsin. One of the dog teams is in use in the region about the Apostle island, according to M. V. Silverthorn, in charge of the district.

Janesville—Phillip H. Korst, for twenty years actively engaged in the management of the Janesville Electric company, in the capacity of manager, has resigned. Harold L. Geise, Chicago, for several years member of the Wisconsin railroad commission will fill the vacancy.

Racine—Vrofeneacia Moresco, carrying a baby in her arms, was freed in municipal court on a charge of polygamy. She admitted having three husbands. She will be placed under the supervision of a probation officer, the judge believing that she was ignorant of the laws of the land.

Madison—Frank McCormack has been promoted to chief examiner by the industrial commission to succeed L. A. Tarrell, who resigned Jan. 1, and Harry A. Nelson, Waukesha, has been appointed to the staff of examiners, according to announcement just made by the commission.

Madison—Dr. A. S. Loevenhart, professor of pharmacology and toxicology at the University of Wisconsin, was elected president of the national pharmacological society at the annual convention of federated American societies for experimental biology, held in Cleveland.

Rhineland—The new electric power line from this city to Crandon, being constructed by the Rhineland Light & Power Co., will be completed about Feb. 1.

Madison—The Madison municipal waterworks system returned to the general fund a profit of $50,000 in 1919, according to the annual report of the superintendent, L. A. Smith. Operating expenses amounted to $110,000 and operating revenues were $160,000.

Racine—The city of Racine will after Jan. 16, make a refund of $240 to every person who on July 1 was granted a license to sell liquor for the year 1919-1920 and for which each paid $500. The majority of saloons will close Jan. 16.

Manitowoc—The only bridge on the Northwestern railway between this city and Two Rivers was burned and made necessary the making up of a train at this city for Milwaukee to take place of the one which leaves Two Rivers each Sunday for the South.

Rhineland—Through the efforts of the Advancement association a large summer camp for boys will probably be located on one of the lakes near this city next spring. There are two girls' camps in Oneida county, both close to Rhineland.

CHIEF EXECUTIVE AND W. J. BRYAN CLASH ON LEAGUE

Sharp Differences of Opinion May Result in Split in Democratic Party.

WILSON FOR POPULAR VOTE

Strongly Advocates That the People Should Cast Their Ballots on Peace Treaty—"Commoner" Would Compromise.

Washington, Jan. 8.—A direct, sharp difference of opinion between President Wilson and William J. Bryan over whether the League of Nations should be made an issue at the coming election marked the Jackson day deliberations of the Democratic party chiefs.

President Wilson, in his message read to the diners, said that the "clear and single way out" was to submit the question to the voters as "a great and solemn referendum."

Mr. Bryan held that the Democratic party could not go before the country on the issue, because it involved a delay of fourteen months, and meant success only if the Democrats captured a two-thirds majority of the senate.

PRESIDENT WILSON'S LETTER.

Congratulating the party upon the opportunity offered to be of service to the country in the matter of the League of Nations, inasmuch as its "ideas best fit it for the task of leadership in such a work," the chief executive wrote practically as follows:

"The United States enjoyed the spiritual leadership of the world until the senate of the United States failed to ratify the treaty by which the belligerent nations sought to effect the settlements for which they had fought throughout the war."

"It is inconceivable that at this supreme crisis and final turning point in the international relations of the whole world, when the results of the great war are by no means determined and are still questionable and dependent upon events which no man can foresee or count upon, the United States should withdraw from the concert of progressive and enlightened nations by which Germany was defeated and all similar governments (if the world be so unhappy as to contain any) warned of the certain consequences of any attempt of a like iniquity, and yet that is the effect of the course the senate of the United States has taken with regard to the treaty of Versailles."

"We Are Still at War."

"Germany is beaten, but we are still at war with her, and the old stage is reset for a repetition of the old plot. It is now ready for the resumption of the old offensive and defensive alliances which made settled peace impossible."

"Without the covenant of the league of nations there may be as many secret treaties as ever, to destroy the confidence of governments in each other, and their validity cannot be questioned. None of the objects we professed to be fighting for has been secured or can be made certain without this nation's ratification of the treaty."

World Peace Depends on U. S.

"The question is whether this country will enter and enter wholeheartedly. If it does not do so the United States and Germany will play a lone hand in the world. The maintenance of the peace of the world and the effective execution of the treaty depend upon the whole-hearted participation of the United States. I am not stating that the United States is the only nation which has sufficient moral force with the rest of the world to guarantee the substitution of discussion for war. If we keep out of this agreement, if we do not give our guarantees, then another attempt will be made to crush the new nations of Europe."

Believes People Desire Ratification.

"I do not believe that this is what the people of this country wish or will be satisfied with. Personally, I do not accept the action of the senate of the United States as the decision of the nation. I have asserted from the first that the overwhelming majority of the people of this country desire the ratification of the treaty and my impression is that that effect has recently been confirmed by the unmistakable evidences of public opinion given during my visit to seventeen of the states."

"I have endeavored to make it plain that if the senate wishes to say what the undoubted meaning of the league is, I shall have no objection. There can be no reasonable objection to interpretations accompanying the act of ratification itself. But when the treaty is acted upon, I must know whether it means that we have ratified or rejected it."

"Submit Treaty to People."

"We cannot rewrite this treaty. We must take it without changes which alter its meaning, or leave it, and then, after the rest of the world has signed it, we must face the unthinkable task of making another and separate kind of treaty with Germany."

gle way out is to submit it for determination at the next election to the voters of the nation, to give the next election the form of a great and solemn referendum, a referendum as to the part the United States is to play in completing the settlements of the war and in the prevention in the future of such outrages as Germany attempted to perpetrate.

No Moral Right to "Retreat."

"We have no more moral right to refuse now to take part in the execution and administration of these settlements than we had to refuse to take part in the fighting of the last few weeks of the war, which brought victory and made it possible to dictate to Germany what the settlements should be."

"The world has been made safe for democracy, but democracy has not been fully vindicated. All sorts of crimes are being committed in its name, all sorts of preposterous pervasions of its doctrines and practices are being attempted."

"This, in my judgment, is to be the great privilege of the democracy of the United States, to show that it can lead the way in the solution of the great social and industrial problems of our time, and lead the way to a happy settled order of life as well as to political liberty."

MR. BRYAN'S POSITION.

William Jennings Bryan, in that part of his address which had to do with the party's position on the League of Nations, said:

"A democratic president was the spokesman of the United States in the holding out to a war-worn world the hope of universal peace, and he brought back from Paris the covenant of a League of Nations that provides means for settling international disputes without a resort to force. He did the best he could, and succeeded better than we had any right to expect, when we remember that he fought single-handed against the selfish interests of the world."

"The Republican party, in control of the senate, instead of ratifying at once, or promptly proposing changes that it deemed necessary, has fiddled while civilization has been threatened with conflagration. It could have adopted its reservations as well five months ago as later, but it permitted endless debates while suffering humanity waited."

Compromise or Issue at Polls.

"The Democratic plan has been rejected, and we must face the situation as it is. We must either secure such compromises as may be possible, or present the issue to the country. The latter course would mean a delay of at least 14 months, and then success only in case of our securing a two-thirds majority in the senate."

"We cannot afford, either as citizens or as members of the party, to share with the Republican party responsibility for further delay; we cannot go before the country on the issue that such an appeal would present."

"The Republicans have a majority in the senate, and therefore can by right dictate to the senate's course. Being in the minority, we cannot demand the right to decide the terms upon which the senate will consent to ratification."

"Our nation has spent 100,000 precious lives and more than $20,000,000,000 to make the world safe for democracy, and the one fundamental principle of democracy is the right of the majority to rule. It applies to the senate and to the house as well as to the people."

"According to the Constitution, a treaty is ratified by a two-thirds vote, but the Democratic party cannot afford to take advantage of the Constitutional right of a minority to prevent a ratification. A majority of congress can declare war. Shall we make it more difficult to conclude a treaty than to enter a war?"

Should Raise Voice for Justice.

"What plan can a Democratic party have other than one that contemplates the popular election of those delegates who, in the influence they will exert, will be next in importance to the president himself?"

"And what policy can the Democratic party have within the League of Nations other than one of absolute independence and impartiality between the league members and the league?"

"If our nation's voice could at all times be raised in behalf of equal and exact justice between nations as the only basis of permanent peace; it should be raised in defense of the right of self-determination and in proclaiming a spirit of brotherhood as universal as the peace which we advocate."

"We have domestic problems also which offer an opportunity to render large service, and one objection to thrusting the treaty into the campaign is that it would divert attention from questions demanding immediate consideration."

ASPIRIN

Introduced by "Bayer" to Physicians in 1900

You want genuine Aspirin—the Aspirin prescribed by physicians for nineteen years. The name "Bayer" means the true, world-famous Aspirin, proved safe by millions of people. Each unbroken package of "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" contains proper directions for Colds, Headache, Toothache, Earache, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Rheumatism, Neuritis and Pain generally. Always say "Bayer" when buying Aspirin. Then look for the safety "Bayer Cross" on the package and on the tablets. Handy tin boxes of twelve tablets cost but a few cents. Drug-gists also sell larger packages. Aspirin is trade mark of Bayer Manufacture Monocrocinolide of Salicylic Acid

Good Field for Films. Several picture-producing companies have of late secured English estates for their work; and it is reported that the Outlands Lodge estate, of twenty acres, has been acquired by one of the oldest British film-making concerns. This lodge is a part of the former royal domain of Outlands, which was a veritable rendezvous of monarchs in time past. Henry VIII, Queen Elizabeth, James I and Charles I all stayed there at different times. Together with its historic traditions, Outlands Lodge has such an attraction as the remains of a subterranean passage, a relic which no doubt will be very useful to the film producer.

MANY CROSS THE GREAT DIVIDE

MRS. STEPHAN BROICHGANS

Mrs. Stephan Broichgans, nee Mary Reck, who was born and raised in West Bend, died at her home in Milwaukee on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, death resulting from apoplexy with which she was taken on Sunday. Mrs. Broichgans was born in West Bend on Jan. 30, 1854, and grew to womanhood there. In 1890 she married Stephan Broichgans, the couple making their home in Milwaukee. Mr. Broichgans died in 1904. Mrs. Broichgans lost her father during the Civil War, Mr. Reck falling in the battle of Cold Harbor. Her mother died in 1882. Surviving Mrs. Broichgans are three sisters, namely Mrs. Patrick O'Meara of West Bend, Sister M. Josephine of Bay City, Mich., and Miss Helen Reck of Milwaukee. Mrs. Broichgans funeral was held at Milwaukee Thursday at 9:30 o'clock under the auspices of St. Michael's church, interment was made in Calvary cemetery.—West Bend Pilot.

Mrs. Broichgans was well known here, and was an aunt to Edw. C. Miller and Mrs. Robt. Davies.

DEATH OF CHRIST GIESE

At 5:30 o'clock last week Thursday morning at the family residence occurred the death of Christ Giese, an old and highly respected resident of the village of Campbellsport. He had attained the age of 80 years. Death was due to old age. Deceased was born in Germany, and immigrated to America fifty years ago, settling on a farm near Campbellsport, of which he was the owner until the time of his death. Mr. Giese is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Albert Mielke of Fond du Lac; and Mrs. Albert Miller of Van Dyne; and three sons, William of Fond du Lac; and Frank and August of Campbellsport. Mr. Giese was an ardent church worker and was one of the founders of the German Reformed church at Campbellsport. The funeral was held at 1 o'clock from the family residence Sunday afternoon with services in the German Reformed church. Rev. Zenk officiated.

DEATH OF SIMON SOMMERS

Another one of the town of Kewaskum's pioneer settlers has been called to his final reward, namely, Simon Sommers, who passed away in death at his home one and one-half miles southwest of this village on Thursday evening, Jan. 15, at 11 o'clock, at the age of 77 years. Mr. Sommers had been in ill health for a number of years, and his death, although expected by his family circle, comes as a great shock to them. The funeral will be held on Monday morning, Jan. 19 from the family residence with services in the Holy Trinity church. Rev. Ph. Vogt will officiate. Interment will be made in the congregation's cemetery. A complete obituary will appear in our next week's issue.

DEATH OF MRS. FRED STORK

On Wednesday afternoon at about 5 o'clock, Mrs. Fred Stork, a former resident of this village, but of late years a citizen of West Bend, passed away in death at a hospital in Milwaukee. Mrs. Stork was taken to Milwaukee on Monday where she underwent an operation, which she stood well. Pneumonia, however developed, which is attributed as the direct cause of her death. The funeral will be held today (Saturday) at 2 o'clock P. M. from the family residence at West Bend. Mrs. Stork was a sister to Mrs. Herman Krahn of this village; and Attorney Henry P. Schmitt of Milwaukee.

And. Strachota and Martin Jaeger were business callers at Fond du Lac Monday.

Leo Uelsen of Campbellsport was busy taking up census in this vicinity this week.

Mrs. Philip Strobel attended the funeral of her sister-in-law at Milwaukee Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Jaeger were the guests of the And. Strachota family over Sunday.

John Klockenbush left for his home at St. Michaels after staying several weeks with the Anton Richart family. The Misses Rosina Ruplinger of Theresa and Anna Dalske of Marathon City are the guests of relatives this week.

We are glad to state that Miss Genevieve Beisler, who was operated upon at a Milwaukee hospital Tuesday, is doing nicely.

If you are looking for a royal good time, attend the dance at the Opera House on Sunday evening, Jan. 18th.

No Great Act of Heroism Required.

As a great act of heroism was necessary to protect a child from croup, no mother would hesitate to protect her offspring, but when it is only necessary to keep at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and give it as soon as the first indication of croup appears, there are many who neglect it. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is within the reach of all and is prompt and effectual.

—Today (Saturday) is farewell day for the old bar on which you probably lounged a number of times partaking of the refreshment that was sold to you over same, or after January 16, when Chap. 556 of the laws of 1919, known as the Mulberger act takes effect, all bars must disappear. A DOZEN GOOD REASONS WHY YOUR ENGINE Should Be An International

- (1) It does all kinds of work cheaper and easier than it can be done by hand.
- (2) It is backed by a Company that is in business to stay.
- (3) It is simple in construction and has few wearing parts.
- (4) It is a safe engine.—fuel is pumped to mixer, excess is returned to fuel tank
- (5) FOUR piston rings hold compression perfectly.
- (6) It is reliable.—you can depend on it to do your work when you want it done.
- (7) A farmer.—his wife or his boy can operate it with ease and safety.
- (8) It is economical.—it cuts your fuel bills in half because it operates on KEROSENE.
- (9) The flywheel keys are so protected that they cannot catch clothing.
- (10) Ignitor points are easy to get at.—easy to adjust.
- (11) All working parts are readily accessible and all are thoroughly oiled.
- (12) It can be equipped with speed reducing gear for operating small machines.—the small engines can be mounted on hand trucks, the large on horse trucks. Made in three sizes, 14, 3 and 6 Horse Power.

"No, Bill, I wouldn't take a thousand dollars for it."

THAT'S what users say about Delco-Light, the complete electric plant.

Levi Stout, Coffee Creek, Montana, says: "I would not take $2,000 for my Delco-Light if I could not get another."

Albert Knoess, Moccasin, Montana, says: "I would rather quit the ranch than do without Delco-Light."

Why are these men so enthusiastic? It's because Delco-Light, with its successful air cooling, its one place to oil, its kerosene burning engine and production of four kilowatt hours of electricity per gallon of fuel, gives them maximum service with minimum attention.

The experiences of more than 75,000 satisfied users prove these things to be true of Delco-Light.

Delco-Light brings to your farm or country home every comfort and convenience of the most modern and up-to-date city residence.

LEADERS RAP TREATY DELAY

National Committee Praises Stand of Wilson and Declares Republican Leadership in Senate Has "Contempt of the World."

Washington, Jan. 10.—The Democratic national committee awarded the party's 1920 national convention, at which a candidate for president will be chosen, to San Francisco.

After 27 votes had been cast, Kansas City and Chicago withdrew and the vote for San Francisco was unanimous.

Monday, June 28, was fixed as the convention date. Isadore B. Dockweiler of California, nominating San Francisco, made a proffer of a guaranteed fund of $125,000 for expenses, the free use of the municipal auditorium, seating from 15,000 to 18,000, and of additional funds for entertainment purposes.

Resolutions indorsing the treaty of Versailles and denouncing an unpatriotic attitude of senators who would defeat it directly or by nullifying reservations were unanimously adopted by the national committee.

The "arrogant" Republican leadership of the senate was denounced as having earned the "contempt of the world" by throttling the treaty for seven months, and the senate was called upon to "quit playing politics" with the question of ratification.

Reviewing the legislative record of the two Wilson administrations and the manner in which the war was won, the resolutions also expressed gratification that the president was regaining health after a breakdown "due largely to his efforts for world peace."

Concerning the peace treaty the resolutions said: "We affirm our approval of the treaty of Versailles, and we condemn as unwise and unpatriotic the attitude of these senators who would defeat its ratification, either directly or by overwhelming it with reservations that are intended to and will have the effect of nullifying it."

"The failure of the senate Republican leaders to offer or permit consideration of interpretative resolutions that would preserve the general purpose of the treaty and so to permit its ratification condemns them to the criticism of the nation and to the contempt of the world."

The resolutions said that when the Democrats came into power in 1913 they found "the nation in a condition of comparative industrial and commercial depression" and with "the banking system in the hands of a few men at whose will panics periodically occurred."

"To remedy this condition," the resolutions continued, "the Democratic administration entered immediately upon a vigorous constructive program, adding that establishment of the federal banking system 'entitles the party to the everlasting gratitude of the country, while the farm loan banking system gave to our agricultural interests the relief long demanded by them.'"

Referring to the avowed objects of the country's participation in the war, the resolutions continued:

"A treaty to this end was negotiated, and for seven months it has been throttled by the misused Republican leadership of the senate, that is so arrogant that it even refuses to let the senators of its own party who desire to have the treaty ratified with certain reservations that seem reasonable to them to vote accordingly, and thus to make at least a start toward worldwide peace."

WILSON AND BRYAN BREAK

Commoner Urges Compromise on Treaty, While President Advocates Form of Referendum.

Washington, Jan. 10.—William J. Bryan split openly with President Wilson at the Jackson dinner here on the question of whether the Democratic party should make the League of Nations an issue at the next election.

The former secretary of state said he Democrats could not go before the country on the issue and that they must accept such compromises as may be possible.

President Wilson, in his message to the diners, had said that "the clear and single way out" was to give the election the form of a referendum on the treaty.

HOUSE OUSTS BERGER

BODY BY VOTE OF 328 TO 6 REFUSES TO SEAT SOCIALIST.

Three Republicans and Like Number of Democrats Voted to Seat the Wisconsin Man.

Washington, Jan. 13.—Victor L. Berger, Milwaukee Socialist, was denied a seat in congress for the second time in record time. In spite of a fight in his behalf led by Representative Mann of Illinois, only six votes were cast against a resolution refusing him the privilege of taking the oath.

The vote on the resolution, which was offered by Representative Dilling of Massachusetts, chairman of the committee which recommended Mr. Berger's exclusion last fall, was 328 to 6.

Those voting in the negative were Representatives Mann, Volght of Wisconsin and Harrell of Oklahoma, Republicans, and Sherwood of Ohio, Nelson of Mississippi and Griffin of New York, Democrats. Mr. Sabath of Illinois, Democrat, voted present.

The appeals in Berger's behalf were made on the ground that summary denial denying his constituents representation in the house incite, rather than suppress, radicalism.

Berger occupied a seat on the floor of the house during the debate, but was refused an opportunity to make a speech in his own defense. A request for unanimous consent for him to present his side of the case was made by Dalling, but was met by a chorus of objections.

Dalling, in urging Berger's exclusion, said that the situation was the same as before and that members of the house could not seat a man held to be disloyal to his country.

WORLD PEACE IS SIGNED BY 13

Allies and Germany Put Treaty Into Effect—U. S. Not Party to Ceremony.

GERMAN PRISONERS GO HOME

Signatures Put to Historic Document Fourteen Months After Armistice Went into Effect—Ceremony Occurs in French Foreign Ministry.

Paris, Jan. 13.—The treaty of Versailles, making peace between Germany and the 13 ratifying allied powers was put into effect at 4:15 Saturday afternoon, 14 months after the armistice went into effect, by the exchange of ratifications.

The entire ceremony, which took place in the hall of the clock at the French foreign ministry, was completed by 4:16.

Previously Baron Kurt von Lersner, head of the German mission, signed the protocol of November 1, providing for repatriation for the sinking of the German warships at Scapa Flow and to issue the carrying out of the armistice terms. The signing of this document occurred in the office of the minister of foreign affairs. Von Lersner affixed his signature to the protocol at 4:09.

The United States was not a party to the exchange of ratifications of the treaty.

Following the two ceremonies the documents were handed to French officials for deposit in the archives. The records will be printed on large sheets of quarto parchment paper and the seals of each plenipotentiary will be affixed with the signatures.

M. d'Arechly will go to Berlin to act as French chargé d'affaires there. Another immediate result of the ratification will be the repatriation of German prisoners of war.

Peaceful relations between Germany and the greater number of the nations engaged in the great war with her are established by the action at Paris. The peace treaty now goes into effect as between Germany and the thirteen powers that have finally ratified it.

Great Britain was the first of the five great powers represented in the supreme council of the peace conference to take such action, being followed in succession by France, Italy and Japan. The United States alone of the "big five" has not ratified the treaty.

CHARGE DENIED BY PERSHING

Writes House Committee That There Was No Wastage of Life on Armistice Day.

Washington, Jan. 13.—Charges made before a house investigating committee that lives of American soldiers were wasted in needless attacks on armistice day are denied in a letter from General Pershing, made public by Representative Fuller, Republican of Massachusetts.

General Pershing said the American forces were acting under general instructions issued by Marshal Foch to all allied commanders on November 9, 1918, and that orders for attacks were withdrawn as soon as possible after he was advised of the signing of the armistice. He also said statements that American troops were ordered to the attack while French divisions remained stationary were "wholly erroneous."

SIXTH LOAN NOT NECESSARY

Statement Shows Reduction of $759,622,840 in Gross Indebtedness of Country Since August.

Washington, Jan. 12.—If congress does not enter upon new fields of large expenditure or reduce taxes, Secretary of the Treasury Carter Glass announced the government will be able to meet its indebtedness without calling upon the country to bear another Liberty loan issue.

The secretary of the treasury prefaced this statement with an array of figures showing a reduction of $759,622,840 in the gross debt of the country since August 30, and correspondingly large reductions in the floating debt on loan certificates and unmaturing treasury certificates of indebtedness.

Trade Commission Before Senate Committee Quotes Martens on Purchases Despite Blockade.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Charges that Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, Russian soviet "ambassador" to the United States, and his secretary, S. Nuorteva, had asserted that they had had successful dealings with American meat-packing concerns in buying meats for soviet Russia, despite the blockade of that country, were made before the senate agricultural committee by William B. Colver of the federal trade commission.

The trade commissioner made his charges while explaining other allegations that employees of the commission were under fire as "radicals" and "bolshewists." He charged that former secret service officials at Chicago had "framed up" arrests of commission employees in an effort to create the impression that the commission was a "hothbed of bolshevism."

Reverting to the testimony at the agricultural committee hearings on proposed packer regulatory legislation, Mr. Colver charged that J. Ogden Armour of Armour & Co. had promised the committee to explain a corporation device which, the commissioner said, the packers adopted to conceal their ownership of the Chicago stock yards and had failed to do it.

"Their plan of successfully concealing the ownership of corporations reduces business in this country to a game of blind man's buff," Mr. Colver asserted. "Furthermore, it is absolutely successful as a method of preventing the commissioner of internal revenue from collecting income taxes and surtaxes. It is the absolute defeat of our revenue laws as it now stands, and there is need of a law to abolish it before the practice crystallizes in our business life."

Some of the persons who appeared before the committee opposing packer regulation, the commissioner charged, were direct agents of the packers.

SHOE PRICES TO STAND STILL

Manufacturers Give Assurances There Will Be No Increase for Next Five Months.

New York, Jan. 13.—Assurances that there will be no increase in the price to retailers within the next five months of shoes of standard last and workmanship were given by representatives of the leather shoe manufacturers in this district. But there is no likelihood of decreased prices in the immediate future because of high wages and the fact that high-priced leather is now going into the product of the factories.

DR. FREUDENBURG ARRESTED

U. S. AID SHOULD CEASE THIS YEAR

Hoover Says Europe Must Feed Victims of War.

CALLS SITUATION DESPERATE

Believes Austria is Doomed to Perpetual Poorhouse, but America Should Serve Notice Her Aid Will End With Year.

Washington, Jan. 13.—Herbert Hoover told the house ways and means committee that the United States should serve notice to the world that this government, after the immediate emergency, can no longer extend relief to Austria.

While it was the duty of the United States to come to Austria's relief this year, he said, European nations responsible for her downfall by the treaty terms should bear the burden thereafter.

"Through the political arrangements made by the treaty the agricultural area upon which Austria was dependent was taken away from her in Czechoslovakia and Serbia," Mr. Hoover said. "Austria cannot possibly obtain from her own resources more than enough food to supply her people for three months out of the year. It is difficult to know the solution. What was done was not on any American inspiration."

Doomed to a Poorhouse.

Representative Copley of Illinois interrupted to refer to a remark attributed to Mr. Hoover, that "Austria is doomed to a perpetual poorhouse."

"That is my firm belief," said Mr. Hoover. "The situation today is absolutely desperate."

"If a political situation is to be created that makes Austria the mendicant of the world it is not the United States that should be called upon for the perpetual charity," he added. "I think the United States should do this one time, with notice to the world that this is the last time, and that if other nations want to be responsible for maintaining the present political conditions then they should bear the responsibility."

Asks for $150,000,000 Fund.

Mr. Hoover appeared in support of the request of Secretary of the Treasury Glass for authorization for the use of $150,000,000 by the grain corporation for the purchase of food for the people of Austria, Poland and other European countries.

The former food administrator said that details of a plan by which food drafts may be purchased at American banks for forwarding to European individuals soon would be worked out. Under the plan an American relative of a person in Austria might purchase a barrel of flour at an American bank and forward the draft to Austria. Any profits in the sale of the flour will be turned over to the children's fund, of which Mr. Hoover is in charge. He said it was expected that from $5,000,000 to $8,000,000 would be handled monthly through the sale of these drafts, representing that much food sent to European countries.

"The situation is so improved now that all except a small portion of Europe will be able to feed itself," said Mr. Hoover. "So that with only $100,000,000 or $150,000,000 needed this year we are confronting only an echo of the situation which we had last year."

20 Billion Marks First Payment.

With the opening Saturday of the period during which Germany must pay her debts to the allies, it is announced that the commission on repatriation must fix the amount due by Germany before May 1, 1921.

In the meantime the commission will see that Germany carries out her obligations.

Until the amount of repatriation payments has been fixed Germany will have to deposit 20,000,000,000 marks in gold (at the present rate of exchange, about 2 1/2 cents, this would be approximately $500,000,000; $5,000,000,000 at the normal rate) or its equivalent in material, ships, securities and coal.

As an acknowledgment of, and security for, this portion of the debt, which is payable immediately, the German government will be forced to hand over gold bonds representing the full amount.

In addition to this sum of 40,000,000,000 marks in gold bonds immediately negotiable will be exacted and another sum of 40,000,000,000 in gold bonds, which the commission will negotiate only as it shall consider the financial condition of Germany warrants.

Wants No "Blood Money."

Washington, Jan. 14.—The United States, according to official information here, has rejected the apportionment of the 2 per cent of the gold to the ships to be taken from Germany in retaliation for having destroyed her ships at Scapa Flow.

The rejection, through Ambassador Wallace, was not in resentment or disdain, but merely on "principle," it was explained.

"Officials made it plain that the United States does not want anything in the way of 'blood money' from Germany, and that therefore there was no insistence that this government receive anything but the two submarines for show purposes and such indemnities as related solely to the indemnifications for ships and cargoes destroyed by German submarines.

State department officials were not much interested in the fact that Ambassador Wallace had politely declined the offer of 2 per cent. Some of them indicated that had the offer been 2.75 per cent, or any other figure, the result would have been the same.

Washington, Jan. 14.—Guy F. Allen of Somerset, Maryland, was nominated by the president to be assistant treasurer of the United States, vice Hand, resigned.

Qualities of Precious Stones.

Opals are in certain respects altogether peculiar among gem stones. Whereas other gems, such as the ruby, the emerald, and the sapphire, owe their colors to mineral elements by which the crystals are stained, the brilliant tints of the opal are due to its structure, ever so many minute cracks reflecting lights as diaphanous angles from their edges. An anorthic is quartz crystal of another variety, containing from 5 to 18 per cent of water.

Washington Questions Accuracy of Report of Ambassador Wallace's Words—Supreme Council Near End.

Paris, Jan. 13.—In the supreme council Hugh C. Wallace, the American ambassador, raised the question whether the council intended to limit the percentages previously adopted for the distribution among the allied and associated powers of the warship tonnage to be given up by Germany.

Receiving an answer in the affirmative, Ambassador Wallace informed the council that the United States, in that case, waived its claim to any part of this tonnage.

Serious consideration was given by the supreme council to a plan for the appointment of a committee of ambassadors to complete the details for the presentation and signing of the Hungarian peace treaty and to carry through the other unfinished business of the peace conference.

The decision, however, was left to the heads of the government of the principal powers.

The necessity for the return home of the Italian and British members of the council was advanced as the reason why another organization should be created. It is thought that the premiers now taking part in the conferences here—Clemenceau, Lloyd George and Nitti—will approve of the idea of creating the committee of ambassadors, as many questions likely to come up in future in connection with the execution of the various peace treaties will be diplomatic questions as well as peace problems.

Whether the American ambassador would be a member of the proposed committee has not been determined.

Hungarian Treaty Modified.

The council made a slight modification in the draft of the Hungarian treaty, dealing with the furnishing of coal by Hungary to Poland and Czechoslovakia. The document now is considered finally shaped. It already is in the printers' hands, and probably will be ready for delivery before the end of the week.

This probably was the last meeting of the supreme council, as at present organized. It is not likely to meet again unless the premiers delay action upon the proposed ambassadorial committee.

20 Billion Marks First Payment.

With the opening Saturday of the period during which Germany must pay her debts to the allies, it is announced that the commission on repatriation must fix the amount due by Germany before May 1, 1921.

In the meantime the commission will see that Germany carries out her obligations.

Until the amount of repatriation payments has been fixed Germany will have to deposit 20,000,000,000 marks in gold (at the present rate of exchange, about 2 1/2 cents, this would be approximately $500,000,000; $5,000,000,000 at the normal rate) or its equivalent in material, ships, securities and coal.

As an acknowledgment of, and security for, this portion of the debt, which is payable immediately, the German government will be forced to hand over gold bonds representing the full amount.

In addition to this sum of 40,000,000,000 marks in gold bonds immediately negotiable will be exacted and another sum of 40,000,000,000 in gold bonds, which the commission will negotiate only as it shall consider the financial condition of Germany warrants.

Quinone de Leon, Spanish ambassador to Paris, has been appointed to represent Spain on the executive committee of the League of Nations.

Wants No "Blood Money."

Washington, Jan. 14.—The United States, according to official information here, has rejected the apportionment of the 2 per cent of the gold to the ships to be taken from Germany in retaliation for having destroyed her ships at Scapa Flow.

The rejection, through Ambassador Wallace, was not in resentment or disdain, but merely on "principle," it was explained.

"Officials made it plain that the United States does not want anything in the way of 'blood money' from Germany, and that therefore there was no insistence that this government receive anything but the two submarines for show purposes and such indemnities as related solely to the indemnifications for ships and cargoes destroyed by German submarines.

The Cow Puncher

"MY NAME IS CONWARD." Synopsis—David Elden, son of a drunken, shiftless ranchman, almost a maverick of the foothills, is breaking bottles with his pistol from his running cayuse when the first automobile he has ever seen arrives and tips over, breaking the leg of Doctor Hardy but not injuring his beautiful daughter Irene...

CHAPTER III. Dave's opportunity came sooner than he had expected. After the departure of the Harrys things at the old ranch were as both father and son had predicted, very different. They found themselves on a sort of good behavior—a behavior which, unhappily, excited in each other grave suspicions as to purpose. The tension steadily increased, and both looked forward to the moment when something must give way.

Then the old man's horse came home. Dave saw it coming up the trail, not running wildly but with nervous gallop and many sidelong turnings of the head. As the boy watched he found a strange emptiness possess him; his body seemed a phantom on which his head hung over, as if it were a hat on a stick.

After the last rites had been paid to the old rancher, Dave set about at once to wind up his affairs, and it was not until then that he discovered how deeply his father had been involved. The selling of the cattle and the various effects realized only enough to discharge the liabilities, and when this had been done Dave found himself with a considerable area of unmarketable land, a considerable bundle of paid bills and his horse, saddle and revolver. He rode his horse to town, carrying a few articles of wear with him. It was only after a stiff fight that he could bring himself to part with his one companion. The last miles into town were ridden very slowly, with the boy frequently leaning forward and stroking the horse's neck and ears.

In the evening he walked through the streets of his little cow town. It snubbed him with its indifference. He became aware that he was very lonely. He realized that he had but one friend in the world; but one, and of her he knew not so much as her address. He began to wonder whether he really had a friend at all; whether the girl would not discard him when he was of no further use. Just as he had discarded his faithful old horse. Tears of loneliness and regret gathered in his eyes, and a mist haze of the twilight blurred the street lamps now glimmering from their poles. He felt that he had treated the horse very shabbily indeed. He wanted old Slop-eye back again. He suddenly wanted him with a terrific longing; wanted him more than anything else in the world. For the moment he forgot the girl and all his home-sickness and merely about the beast which had been so long his companion and servant and friend.

"I'll buy him back in the mornin'; I will, sure as h—l," he said, in a sudden gust of emotion. "We got to stick together. I didn't play fair with him, but I'll buy him back. Perhaps I can get a job for him, too, pullin' a light wagon or something." The resolution to "play fair" with Slop-eye gradually renewed his cheerfulness and he walked slowly back to the hotel. The men's sitting room now presented a much more animated picture than when he had registered earlier in the evening. It was filled with ranchers, cowboys and cattlemen of all degrees—breeders, buyers, traders, owners and cage earners, with a sprinkling of townspeople and others not directly engaged in some phase of the cattle business. Soon he was in a group watching a saucily dressed individual doing a sort of sleight of hand trick with three cards on a table. "Smooth guy, that," said someone at his side. The remark was evidently intended for Dave, and he turned toward the speaker. He was a man somewhat smaller than Dave, two or three years older, well dressed in town clothes with a rather puffy face and a gold filled tooth from which a corner had been broken as though to accommodate the cigarette which hung there.

THE KITCHEN CABINET THE DELICIOUS PRUNE. By doing and not by precept. There is no contagion equal to the contagion of life. Whatever we sow, that shall we also reap, and such thing sown produces of its kind—Ralph Waldo Trine.

The reason prunes have such a burden of disrepute to bear, is largely on account of the careless manner, in years past, that the average cook has served them. Now while they are coming up in price, they are better appreciated. The long soaking and slow cooking which our modern methods of cookery advocate, has proven that such treatment brings out the flavor and sweetness of the fruit.

Prune Whip Parfait—Take one-half cupful of stewed prunes, stoned and washed, one-half cupful of raisins seeded and simmered in water to soften, pinch of salt, eight marshmallows, cut up in half a cupful of cream and steamed in a double boiler until soft, then beaten until smooth. Into the marshmallow mixture whip the other ingredients and set the dish on ice to chill. When ready to serve, heap in small sherbet cups, pour over thick cream and sprinkle with pecan meats broken in bits.

Prune Patties—Take a half cupful of stewed, stoned and washed prunes, one egg yolk, add a pinch of salt, a bit of nutmeg, sugar to taste, a teaspoonful of flour and a half cupful of sweet milk. Mix and pour into pastry lined patty tins. Bake until a light brown; then spread the tops with a meringue using the white of egg beaten stiff with two tablespoonfuls of sugar. Brown.

Prune Roll—Take one tablespoonful of grapefruit juice, one tablespoonful of sugar, one teaspoonful of flour, two-thirds of a cupful of mashed prunes, one-third of a cupful of seeded raisins. Cover the raisins with half a cupful of water and simmer half an hour. To the prunes add the sugar and fruit juice, a pinch of salt and the flour mixed with a little cold water. Put in the raisins and cook the mixture until it thickens—about three minutes. Spread on biscuit dough that has been rolled very thin, fold and press the edges together and bake. Serve with cream.

SEASONABLE DISHES. Think as well as you can of everyone who is trying in these hard times to do his duty—to be brave, cheerful and useful. Let us not be among those "who wet their tongues like a sword and bend their bows to stoop their arrows, even bitter words." Kindness helps where criticism cannot.

A good baked apple is a welcome dish at any meal. The manner of serving it may be varied so that it never becomes commonplace. Apples Stuffed With Nuts and Raisins—Core five apples, being sure to remove all of the core. Take off the paring from half the apple. Put half a cupful of sugar and half a cupful of water into a saucepan; into this set the apples to cook, turning often until each apple is tender. Set them carefully into a baking pan. Fill the centers with one-third of a cupful of raisins and nuts chopped fine; add a little granulated sugar and bake in a moderate oven until well glazed. Serve with the syrup poured around them.

Vegetable Chowder—Take two thin slices of fat salt pork; cut into dice and fry out slowly. In a saucepan cover a half-dozen sliced potatoes with boiling, salted water, and when nearly done add the pork and one can of corn, the water in which the potatoes were cooked and milk enough to make the desired amount of chowder. If it seems too thin, thicken slightly with crumbled crackers. Serve hot with crackers.

Buttermilk Bread—Take one and one-fourth pints of fresh sweet buttermilk, two tablespoonful of sugar, two teaspoonfuls of salt, one-half of a compressed yeast cake, with flour enough to make a stiff batter. Scald half a pint of sifted flour with the buttermilk, stir well and add sugar and salt. Dissolve the yeast in a little tepid water, and when the batter is lukewarm add the yeast. Beat well and set to rise in a warm place overnight. In the morning it should be very light and covered with bubbles of air, which break when the cover is removed. To the batter add six pints of flour, one teaspoonful of salt, a tablespoonful of fat and half a teaspoonful of soda; add water to form a smooth, stiff dough. Knead fifteen minutes, then set to rise in a temperature of 70 degrees. Cover closely. When light mold into loaves. Set to rise again, and bake as carefully as if it were cake.

SWITCH OFF! Put aside the Salts, Oil, Calomel, or Pills, and take "Cascarets."

Are you keeping your bowels, liver, and stomach clean, pure and fresh with Cascarets, or merely whipping them into action every few days with Salts, Cathartic Pills, Oil, or Purgative Waters? Stop having a bowel wash-day. Let Cascarets gently cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the colon and bowels all the constipated waste matter and poisons so you can straighten up. Cascarets tonight will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe, sicken, or cause any inconvenience, and cost so little too—Adv.

Dave learns lesson No. 2 from Conward. (TO BE CONTINUED.) WORDS TOO OFTEN CONFUSED Excellent Point Made in Emphasis of Difference Between "Training" and "Education."

The difference between training and education was well expressed by Dr. C. Stuart Gager in his address to the graduating class of the school of horticulture for women, when he said: "Cloth would be spun on hand looms today had no other factor been introduced into spinning than the instruction of daughters by mothers. This kind of instruction does not make for progress; it can never convert a trade into a profession. The spinning Jenny was not invented by a spinner, nor the wireless telegraph by a telegraph operator, nor the science of agronomy by practical farmers."

"Progress depends upon a fullness of preparation exceeding the limits of anticipated requirement in practice. That is why I have never liked the phrase 'teachers' training class. Only his revolver and a few cents remained. He gripped the revolver again. With that he was supreme. No man in all that town of new school in the ways of the West was more than his equal while that grip lay in his palm. At the point of that muzzle he could demand his money back—and get it. Then he laughed. Hollow and empty it sounded in the night air, but it was a laugh, and it saved his spirit. "Why, you fool!" he chuckled. "You came to town for to learn somethin', didn't you? Well, you're learnin'. Sixty dollars a throw. Education comes high, don't it? But you

Paris—Gambling clubs of Paris have never been so prosperous as they are now. Heaviest losers are men who made rapid fortune in the war. The games are for high wagers and it is reported that one man won 450,000 francs in one evening and lost it, together with another 10,000 next day.

The Successful Farmer
Raises Bigger Crops

and cuts down costs by investment in labor-saving machinery.

Good prices for the farmers' crops encourage new investment, more production and greater prosperity.

But the success of agriculture depends on the growth of railroads—the modern beasts of burden that haul the crops to the world's markets.

The railroads—like the farms—increase their output and cut down unit costs by the constant investment of new capital.

With fair prices for the work they do, the railroads are able to attract new capital for expanding their facilities.

Rates high enough to yield a fair return will insure railroad growth, and prevent costly traffic congestion, which invariably results in poorer service at higher cost.

National wealth can increase only as our railroads grow.

Poor railroad service is dear at any price. No growing country can long pay the price of inadequate transportation facilities.

FORMER CAMPBELLS-
PORT BOY SHOT

Edward B. Flanagan, a former resident of Campbellsport was shot through the jaw by Mrs. Edith Randall last Saturday afternoon in the Michigan apartments at Milwaukee, who then turned the gun on herself, inflicting two wounds which may prove fatal. Neighborhood gossip, mysterious letters and jealousy, is said to have led to the tragedy. Flanagan was shot through the lower jaw, the bullet entering his mouth and passing through his throat. Mrs. Randall shot herself twice just above the heart. An investigation made brought out the facts from Mrs. Flanagan that there had been ill feeling between the two families for several months, which supposedly grew out of mysterious written letters received by Mrs. Flanagan. Before this the two families were on friendly terms. A statement made by Mr. Flanagan at the Emergency hospital says that he could think of no reason for the shooting. The shooting occurred while Mr. Flanagan was returning home from a store where he had done some shopping. When he entered the building Mrs. Randall stepped out of her apartment and shot without warning. Mr. Flanagan ran up the stairs into his own apartment when he heard two more shots fired.

COPY OF LAW
REGARDING SNOW REMOVAL ON HIGHWAYS

This law is published upon the request of The County State Road and Bridge Committee so that the public at large and town officials may acquaint themselves with it.

Section 1317 (6) (a) Whenever a street, highway, or alley is maintained by any town, village or city, the town, village or city shall make every reasonable effort to keep said streets, highways and alleys open for all travel during the winter months, and shall use such means of accomplishing the necessary results as the statutes provide.

(b) Whenever any highway or street shall be maintained by the county, at either county or state expense, or both, such maintenance shall in no way impose upon the county the duty of keeping such highway or street free from snow and open for travel during the winter season. The removal of snow on said streets and highways shall be the duty of the town, village or city in which they lie, and the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection shall apply. Any county board may, at any meeting, provide that the county will remove snow during the winter season from any highway or street maintained by the county, in which case the county shall be responsible for the proper removal of snow to allow all customary modes of travel, and the cost of such snow removal shall be paid by the county out of such funds as the county board may provide by county tax or otherwise. At the discretion of the county board, the board may, by resolution, charge not to exceed fifty per cent of the cost of the removal of snow from any highway or street subject to county snow removal, to the unit of government in which said removal is performed. In no case shall the cost of snow removal under the provisions of this paragraph be charged to any maintenance funds received from the state. In case a county board, after adopting a road for snow removal, shall desire to relinquish the snow removal during the succeeding winter, it may do so by resolution, and snow removal on the said road or street shall revert to the control of the unit of government in which the same may lie, and the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection shall apply.

(c) If any town, village, city or county shall fail to keep open to travel during the winter season any portion of the state trunk highway system which the state highway commission shall determine the public interest demands should be kept open for travel during the winter season, the state highway commission may direct the county state road and bridge committee to keep such road or street open to travel during the winter season, and the cost of any such work shall be paid by the county out of any county funds which may be appropriated, and the county board at its next meeting shall provide for the payment of the same by the county tax or otherwise, and may charge not to exceed fifty per cent of the cost of such removal to the unit of government in which said removal took place. In no case shall the state highway commission order any section of the state trunk highway system kept open for travel in the manner specified in this paragraph unless the state highway commission shall have received a petition signed by at least (50) persons certifying that they would often travel with vehicles the portion of the highway in question in the pursuit of their ordinary avocations if it were open for travel during the winter season.

(d) Nothing in this subsection shall be interpreted to impose a penalty upon any town, village, city or county, the duty of making, passable for travel any portion of a highway, street, or alley during or after snow storms when the necessary work would impose an unreasonable public expense. The term "unreasonable public expense" shall be interpreted to mean an expense which in the opinion of the court is unreasonable in view of the public benefit which would accrue from making passable for travel the said portion.

KANE DECLARES

TO CHECK GOUGERS

Handicapped by Cooke's Refusal to Reorganize Wartime Fair-Price Board, He Says

ATTORNEY'S DUTY TO STOP
PROFITEERING, SAYS HEINZ

Prosecutor Has No Time to Answer Questions Concerning Action in Other Cities

With the housewives of this city clamoring for direct, vigorous action against the food gougers, whom they hold responsible for the undercurrent of their children's fanaticism, United States district judge declared yesterday he was powerless to check profiteering.

Mr. Heinz complained he was handicapped by the refusal of Cooke, formerly food administrator of Philadelphia, to reorganize the fair-price board. That of public duty, he said.

At Howard Heinz, attorney for Pennsylvania, Mr. Kane on that point in view with the PUBLIC LEADER, which last night Mr. Heinz said he was making every effort to have fair-price boards re-established, that would not relieve the federal authorities from their duty to stop profiteering.

The district attorney said that the Lever food-control law proved to be effective in cases of profiteering as distinct from profiteering, and that it would be extremely difficult to prove violations.

Mr. Kane acknowledges that price of meats, regarding which Robert M. Simmers, agent of the State Food and Dairy Department and government food and drug inspector, has given him a mass of evidence, he said, that "the prices of green vegetables are terrible."

Mr. Kane said that the price of a good man's suit is about as difficult as any other work that I know of.

by Federal Agents in Big Cities

INDICATIONS of the real punch behind the high cost of living were given yesterday by federal agents in many cities.

While Attorney General Palmer's committee that he intended to pay higher prices than those listed by word came from Chicago, St. Louis, quantities of foodstuffs by federal agents under the food control law. In Chicago 25,000 lbs. of coffee, and in Birmingham 100 barrels.

PROFITEERING

Mr. Kane on that point in view with the PUBLIC LEADER, which last night Mr. Heinz said he was making every effort to have fair-price boards re-established, that would not relieve the federal authorities from their duty to stop profiteering.

The district attorney said that the Lever food-control law proved to be effective in cases of profiteering as distinct from profiteering, and that it would be extremely difficult to prove violations.

Mr. Kane acknowledges that price of meats, regarding which Robert M. Simmers, agent of the State Food and Dairy Department and government food and drug inspector, has given him a mass of evidence, he said, that "the prices of green vegetables are terrible."

Mr. Kane said that the price of a good man's suit is about as difficult as any other work that I know of.

Fair-Price Boards Will Solve H. C. L. Problem, Says Administrator

TO AID PALMER

Cooke Reiterates Refusal to Return for Food Fight

Howard Heinz, food administrator of Pennsylvania, in an interview with the PUBLIC LEADER, last night, said he is in his power to induce the administrator to reorganize the boards, as requested by the state attorney general.

As his opinion, that the boards will be set up upon the high cost of living, it is with the state attorney general's system of food control.

Heinz's refusal of Jay Cooke, food administrator for Philadelphia, to return to this city from New York and reorganize the fair-price board here, Mr. Heinz expressed his determination not to assume that burden.

Mr. Cooke, in a talk over the telephone last night said he would return and ask me to assume his duties as food administrator.

War Is Over, Says Cooke

"The war is over," said Mr. Cooke, "I don't see why I should come back to the job of food administrator."

Heinz offered for that office during the war, but I can't see how I could get mixed up in it. If I would return and ask me to assume his duties as food administrator.

INFLATED CURRENCY

Who said H.C.L. FOR? Mr. Heinz said he was making every effort to have fair-price boards re-established, that would not relieve the federal authorities from their duty to stop profiteering.

LAST season's suit still holds together and we can half-sole our shoes. And you can still buy a big generous tin of the jolliest old pipe tobacco that ever came down the pike, without mortgaging the old homestead. Hooray!

Good old Kentucky is still growing Velvet's honest fragrant leaf. We're still ageing Velvet in the wood. Velvet's just as smooth and mellow and mild as it ever was. The quality's there and the quantity's there just the same.

Take the "cost" out of the "high cost of living" and what do you get? Why, "high living" of course. Well, sir, that's what Velvet does.

It's like Velvet Joe says:

"Anybody can tell you how much Velvet costs. But only yo' old pipe can tell you how much Velvet is worth."

There's goodness knows how many pipe loads in every tin of Velvet. Or if you want the mildest cigarette ever—there's 45 big ones in every tin.
