FRENCH OCCUPY GERMAN CITIES

Frankfort and Darmstadt Entered on Orders From Marshal Foch.

NO RESISTANCE IS MET

Government Issues Statement Saying Drastic Action Was Made Necessary by German Offensive in Ruhr District.

Mayence, April 6.—French troops entered Frankfort and Darmstadt at 5 o'clock Tuesday morning, encountering no resistance from German government forces in those two cities.

Paris, April 5.—All officers and soldiers on Easter holiday leave have been ordered to join their units immediately, and the local police in the various cities of France have been instructed personally to inform those on leave to return without delay.

France has four classes of men—those from 1916 to 1919, inclusive—still under arms, or about 700,000 men. No other class has been recalled and no effort made to increase the effective besides the cancellation of all leaves.

The British government will decline to co-operate in the occupation of Frankfort, Darmstadt, and other German cities, according to the London correspondent of the Petit Parisien, but will, he says, "favorably follow the action of France, realizing the importance of the situation."

Paris, April 6.—The attitude of the French government in the present German crisis is defined and explained in a note.

After reiterating that the government has no hostile designs towards Germany, desiring, on the contrary, the resumption of normal relations with that country, and expressing realization of the difficult situation of the Berlin government, the note declares that the German government has given way to pressure by the military party, "not fearing to infringe the imperative and most solemn stipulations of the Versailles treaty."

The note continues: "The sequence of facts follows: 'The first request for permission for the entry of extra troops into the Ruhr district was made just after the insurgent movement by the military party on March 15. It was renewed from Berlin on March 17, in the name of the legitimate government by Von Haniel, who had remained in Berlin with the consent, at least implied, of the insurgent government.'"

"All information from the allied missions, and again, the day before yesterday, from the high commissioners at Coblenz, does not cease to show that German military intervention is uncalculated for by the situation, and it would be attended with the gravest dangers from the point of view of security both for the population and the men in the field."

The note then points out that if the German government had carried out this disarmament clauses of the treaty there would have never been the Kapp insurrection nor the Red army in the Ruhr district, and remarks that articles 42 and 44 are such an indispensable safeguard that article 1 of the Franco-Anglo-American convention defines as a casus foederis those dispositions insufficient to assure the protection of France. It concludes: "The situation created by the abrupt offensive of the German troops in the Ruhr obliges the French government today to consider military measures the execution of which cannot be deferred. The sole object of these measures is to bring Germany to a due respect of the treaty: they are exclusively of a coercive and precautionary character."

The views of the allies are not yet made known; the various premiers are now on vacations and have not answered M. Millerand's telegram.

Maj. Gen. Wood Runs Second and Lowden Third—Close Race in Democratic Contest.

Detroit, Mich., April 6.—Returns in the presidential primary election from 1,167 out of 2,421 precincts in the state, including Detroit complete, give: Republican: Johnson, 103,780; Wood, 52,483; Lowden, 33,208; Hoover, 20,774; Pecking, 7,510.

Returns from 906 precincts, including Detroit complete, give: Democratic: Hoover, 11,126; Edwards, 10,003; McAdoo, 8,050; Bryan, 6,890; Palmer, 5,646.

The Detroit city vote complete (319 precincts out of 308 in Wayne county), give: Republican: Johnson, 69,004; Wood, 14,343; Hoover, 12,550; Lowden, 11,000; Pecking, 2,770; Simpson, 557; Poindecker, 380.

Democratic: Edwards, 7,142; Hoover, 4,977; McAdoo, 3,633; Palmer, 3,009; Bryan, 2,524.

Wood's greatest strength on the face of the incomplete returns seemingly was in the upper peninsula. There 125 precincts out of 257 gave him 10,742; Johnson, 8,011, and Lowden, 4,611.

Detroit, Mich., April 6.—Senator Hiram Johnson of California has been declared the presidential choice in Michigan.

Throughout the state the senator and Leonard Wood ran fairly close for the Republican choice, but in Wayne county (Detroit) Johnson went with such smashing strides that his totals put him in the lead.

McAdoo polled a relatively large vote in Wayne as against Bryan, who is probably second choice in the state.

Governor Lowden of Illinois ran a bad third throughout the state, although he crowded Wood for second place in Detroit. Hoover, as a Republican candidate, was lost in the state, but ran a close fourth to Lowden. Pershing and Poindecker were out of the running.

The vote for Wood and Johnson was close in most localities throughout the state.

JAPS SEIZE CITY OF VLADIVOSTOK

Occupied Port After Eight Hours of Severe Fighting—All Slavs Arrested.

ENEMY TAKEN BY SURPRISE

Revolutionists Escape into the Hill Country—Mikado's Commanders Act After Yanks Under General Graves Leave.

Vladivostok, April 6.—Japanese troops on Monday occupied Vladivostok, after eight hours of severe fighting in all parts of the city.

The Japanese Imperial flag is flying in the place of the Russian ensign from all government buildings.

Some of the officials of the revolutionary contingent have been arrested and deported. All Russians have been disarmed.

Throughout last night the Japanese fought with rifles, machine guns, grenades and small artillery in all portions of the city.

Their incessant firing met little opposition, as the Russians were taken by surprise, the Japanese moves toward occupation having been unexpected by the party in power.

Many Russians escaped into the hill country behind the city, whence they had come two months ago when the all Russian government of Admiral Kolchak fell before the attacks of a revolutionary party.

Early Monday the Japanese launched their attack in the Korean quarter, which they occupied. Later they marched Korean and Russian prisoners, tied together with ropes, through many of the streets of the city.

The last of the American expeditionary force under Brig. Gen. William S. Graves left Vladivostok April 1. A few hours subsequent to their departure a proclamation was posted throughout the city stating Japanese troops would not evacuate Siberia at the present time.

The proclamation warned all inhabitants against any unfriendly attitude on the part of the Russian population. The tenseness of the situation had increased hourly since that time until the clash today.

Russian revolutionary forces took control of Vladivostok early in February after having made a night raid upon the city.

Recent advices from the far East have indicated the Japanese were concentrating their forces along the Ussuri railroad north of Vladivostok and the Chinese Eastern railroad in Manchuria.

MAY GET WAR BONUS

House Body Favors Passage of Bill to Aid Soldiers.

Money Not to Be Raised by Bonds, but by Luxury Sales Tax—Details, but Not Worked Out.

Washington, April 5.—Definite agreement to report out a soldier aid bill was reached by the house ways and means committee. The decision came on a resolution offered by Representative Longworth, Republican, of Ohio, which provided that legislation for the benefit of the ex-service man would be framed but no bonds or bond issues would be authorized to raise the necessary revenue.

The cash required under the measure, the resolution further provided, is to be raised through taxes on luxuries or a sales tax. The vote on the resolution was 15 to 6.

The provisions of the bill remain to be worked out, but discussion in the committee indicated that it will follow the lines of a cash bonus and extension of vocational education to all former soldiers.

The task of working out the details of the bill was left to five subcommittees which were agreed on by the Republican and Democratic leaders on the committee.

Members of the committee were not prepared to say what would be the amount of the cash bonus, but it was indicated that it would be less than the $1,500 a day for each day served, as recommended by the American Legion. The cost therefore would be less than $2,000,000,000, it was said.

REVOLT IN GERMANY ENDS

They will not be considered rebels if fighting ceases throughout the district by noon today.

The compromise proposals made by the Berlin government have been accepted by the workmen's general conference at Essen, and thus the Ruhr revolution is ended.

The commander of the communist troops before Wessel gave assurances to the conference for the strict observance of the agreement.

The general strike throughout the Ruhr district has been ordered called off.

CHAPTER XI.—Continued.

Bert Morrison's confession had, however, set up another very insistent train of thought in Irene's mind. She realized that Bert, with all her show of cynicism and masculinity, was really a very womanly young woman, with just the training and the insight into life that would make her almost irresistible should she enter the matrimonial market. And Bert and Dave were already good friends; very good friends indeed, as Irene suspected from fragments of conversation which she had dropped from time to time. Although she never doubted the singleness of Dave's devotion, she sometimes suspected that in Bert Morrison's presence he felt a more frank comradeship than in hers. And it was preposterous that he should not know that Bert might be won for the winning. And meantime...

Another winter wore away; another spring came rushing from the mountain passes; another summer was upon them, and still Irene Hardy had not surrendered. A thousand times she told herself it was impossible, with her mother to think of—and always she ended in indignation over her treatment of Dave. It was outrageous to keep him waiting. . . . and somewhere back of her self-indignation flitted the form—the now seductive form—of Bert Morrison.

Irene Hardy chose to be frank with herself over the situation. She had not doubted the sincerity of her attachment for Dave Elden; but, had she experienced such a doubt, the entry of Bert Morrison into the drama would have forever removed it. In fairness she admitted that things could not continue as they were. If she continued to trifle with Dave Elden—Yes, trifle. She would be frank. She would not spare herself. She had been trifling with him. . . . She would lay her false pride aside. In the purity of her womanhood, which he could not misunderstand, she would divest herself of all convention and tell him frankly that—that—

She was not sure what she would tell or how she would tell it. She was sure only that she would make him know. At the very next opportunity. . . .

It came on a fine summer's evening in late July, while Dave and Irene drifted in his car over the rich rippling prairies.

Everywhere were fields of dark-green wheat, already beginning to glimmer with the gold of harvest; everywhere were herds of sleek cattle sighing and blowing contentedly in the cool evening air. Away to the west lay the mountains, blue and soft as a pillow of velvet for the head of the dying day; overhead, inverted islands of brass and copper floated lazily in an inverted sea of azure and opal; up from the southwest came the breath of the far Pacific, mild and soft—and gentle.

"We started at the wrong end in our nation building," Dave was saying. "We started to build cities, leaving the country to take care of itself. We are finding out how wrong we were. Depend upon it, where there is a prosperous country the cities will take care of themselves. We have been putting the cart before the horse."

But Irene's eyes were on the sunset; on the slowly fading colors of the cloudlands overhead. Something of that color played across her face, mellowing, softening, drawing as it seemed, the very soul to cheeks and lips and eyes. Dave paused in his speech to regard her, and her beauty rushed upon him, engulfed him, overwhelmed him in such a poignancy of tenderness that it seemed for a moment all his resolves must be swept away and he must storm the citadel that would not surrender to siege. . . . Only now could he hold her, could he press down the accelerator until the steel lungs of his motor were drinking power to their utmost capacity and the car roared furiously down the stretches of the country road.

It was dusk when he had burnt out his violence, and, chastened and spent, he turned the machine to him back gently to the forgotten city. Irene, by some fine telepathy, had followed vaguely the course of his emotions; had followed them in delicious excitement and fear and hope. She sensed in some subtle feminine way the impulse that had sent him roaring into the distances; she watched his powerful hand on the wheel; his clear, steady eye; the minute accuracy with which he controlled his flying motor; and she prayed—and did not know what or why she prayed. But a color not at all of the dying twilight lit her cheek as she guessed—she feared—she hoped—that she had prayed that he might forget his line resolves—that his heart might at last outrule his head. . . .

In the deepening darkness her fingers found his arm. The motion of the car masked the violence of her trembling, but for a time the pounding of her heart would not allow her speech. "Dave," she said, at length. "I want to tell you that I think you—that we—that I—Oh, I've been very selfish and proud—". Her fingers had followed his arm to the shoulder, and the car had tilted to a standstill. "I have fought as long as I can, Dave. I—I always wanted to—to lose, you know; and now—I surrender."

Elden lost no time in facing the unpleasant task of an interview with Mrs. Hardy. It was even less pleasant than he expected. "Irene is of age," said Mrs. Hardy bluntly. "If she will, she will. But I must tell you plainly that I will do all I can to dissuade her. Ungrateful child!" she exclaimed, in an outburst of temper, "after all these years to throw herself away in an infatuation for a cow puncher when there are men like Mr. Conway!" "Conway!" interrupted Dave. "He has the manners of a gentleman," she said, in a tone intended to be crushing. "And the morals of a coyote," Dave returned hotly. "O-o-o-h!" said Mrs. Hardy, in a low, shocked cry. That Elden should speak of Conway with such disdain seemed to her little less than sacrilege. Then, gathering herself together with some dignity: "If you cannot speak respectfully of Mr. Conway you will please leave the house. I shall not forbid you to see Irene; I know that would be useless. But please do not trouble me with your presence."

When Dave had gone Mrs. Hardy rang up Conway's number. "Oh, Mr. Conway!" she said. "You know who is speaking? . . . Yes. You must come up tonight. I do want to talk with you. I—I've been insulted—in my own house. By that—that—Elden. It's all very terrible. I can't tell you about the telephone."

Conway called early in the evening. Mrs. Hardy had heard the bell and bustled into the room. She had not yet recovered from her agitation, and made no effort to conceal it. "Come into my sitting room, Mr. Conway. I am so glad you have come. Really, I am so upset. It is such a comfort to have some one you can depend on—some one whose advice one can seek, on occasions like this. I never thought—"

"There, there," he said. "You must control yourself. Tell me. It will relieve you, and perhaps I can help." "Oh, I'm sure you can," she returned. "It's all over Irene and that—that—I will say it—that cow puncher. To think it should have come to this! Mr. Conway, you are not a mother, so you can't understand. Ungrateful girl! But I blame him. And the doctor. I never wanted him to come West. It was that fool trip, in that fool motor."

Conway smiled to himself over her unaccustomed violence. Mrs. Hardy must be deeply moved when she forgot to be correct. He had readily surmised the occasion of her distress. It needed no words from Mrs. Hardy to tell him that Irene and Dave were engaged. He had expected it for some time, and the information was not altogether distasteful to him. He had come somewhat under the spell of flattery. Mrs. Hardy's opinion, her words of praise fell very gratefully upon him. Flatterers are seldom proof against their own poison.

"Yes, I have studied human nature," he admitted. "The most interesting—and the most profitable—of all studies. And I know that young couples in love are not governed by the ordinary laws of reason. That is why it is useless to argue with Irene—sensible girl though she is—on a subject like this. We must reach her some other way."

"The way that occurs to me is to create distrust. Love is either absurdly trustful or absurdly suspicious. There is no middle course, no balanced judgment. In the trustfulness of love little virtues are magnified to angelic qualities, and vices are quite unseen. But change that trust to suspicion, and a hidden, sinister meaning is found behind the simplest word or act. We must plan two campaigns. One, which I have already suggested, and one, if that should fail, to cause Elden to distrust Irene. No, no," he said, raising his hand toward Mrs. Hardy, who had started from her seat, "there must be no vestige of reason, except that the end justifies the means. It is a case of saving Irene, even if it must pain her—and you—in the saving."

"It's very dreadful," Mrs. Hardy replied. "But you are very thorough; you leave nothing to chance. I suppose that is the way with all big business men."

"You can trust me," Conway assured her. "There is no time to be lost, and I must plan my campaigns at once." (TO BE CONTINUED.)

NEW SOURCE OF TURPENTINE

Tree in Central India to Be Looked To for Supply of Really Good Quality.

Turpentine oil and rosin are already being produced on a commercial scale in India by the distillation of pine resin. A new source of supply, which, though comparatively small, may be valuable, especially for Indian use, has now been found in frankincense or olibanum. This material is obtained by the natives by making incisions in the stems of Boswellia serrata, a tree widely distributed throughout the dry zone forests of Central India. The resinous substance which exudes from the cuts contains a kind of turpentine, a rosin and a gum.

Investigations of the methods of separating these constituents in a marketable form have been conducted since 1912 by the forest authorities in India in co-operation with the Imperial Institute, and the results have been published recently in a report by R. S. Pearson, forest economist, and Puraz Singh, chemical adviser, at the Forest Research Institute, Dehra Dun. The general conclusion reached, based on the results of numerous trials, is that the turpentine oil is equal to good quality American turpentine oil.

Antiquity of the Emerald.

The emerald has been known since early times both in Europe and in certain parts of the Orient, where its attractive color and rarity have endowed it with the highest rank. Its name may be traced back to an old word which appeared in Greek as smaragdus, mentioned in Greek by Theophrastus 300 B. C.

in opening her home to him as she had done; absurd as the hypothesis seemed, still there was the hypothesis that Mrs. Hardy saw in Conway a possible comfort for her declining days. He had no doubt that her vanity was equal to that supposition, but he had done her less than justice in supposing that she had any directly personal ambitions. Her ambitions were for Irene. She had hoped that, by bringing Conway into the house, by bringing Irene under the influence of a close family acquaintanceship with him, that young lady might be led to see the folly of the road she was choosing. She had hoped that he would be the successful suitor for Irene. And Conway's heart leaped at the confession.

"I suppose I need not conceal from you," he answered, "what my hopes have been. It is reasonably safe to judge a daughter by her mother, and by that standard Irene is one of the most adorable of young women."

"I have been called attractive in my day," confessed Mrs. Hardy, warring at once to his flattery. "Have been" said Conway. "Say rather you are. If I had not been rendered, perhaps, a little partial by my admiration of Irene, I—well, one can scarcely give his heart in two places, you know. And my deep regard for you, Mrs. Hardy—my desire that you shall be spared this—threatened humiliation, will justify me in using heroic measures to bring this unfortunate affair to a close. You may trust me, Mrs. Hardy. Irene is—you will forgive me, Mrs. Hardy, but Irene is, if I may say it, somewhat headstrong. She is—"

"She is her father over again," Mrs. Hardy interrupted. "I told him he should not attempt that crazy trip of his without me along, but he would go. And this is what he has brought upon me, and he not here to share it."

Mrs. Hardy's tone conveyed very plainly her grievance over the doctor's behavior in evading the consequences of the situation which his headstrong folly had created.

"She is set in her own mind," Conway continued. "We must not openly oppose her. We must adopt other tactics."

"You are very clever," said Mrs. Hardy. "You have been a student of human nature."

Conway smiled pleasantly. Little as he valued Mrs. Hardy's opinion, her words of praise fell very gratefully upon him. Flatterers are seldom proof against their own poison.

"Yes, I have studied human nature," he admitted. "The most interesting—and the most profitable—of all studies. And I know that young couples in love are not governed by the ordinary laws of reason. That is why it is useless to argue with Irene—sensible girl though she is—on a subject like this. We must reach her some other way."

RHINE CITIES ARE SEIZED BY FRENCH

Foch Orders Occupation of Frankfurt and Darmstadt.

NO RESISTANCE IS SHOWN

Proclamation Gives Strict Rules for Civilians and Threatens Punishment—Thanks Are Placed at Strategic Points.

Paris, April 7.—The United States government has addressed a note to France protesting against the occupation of Frankfurt and other German cities. It is learned upon highest authority. The note is understood to be framed in the clearest possible terms.

Mayence, April 7.—French troops entered Frankfurt at five o'clock in the morning, finding only a small German force, left there to afford police protection for the people. The occupation of the city was a mere military march and was not attended by any fighting.

Darmstadt was entered shortly afterward by French forces. The German government garrison of that city had left at midnight to avoid contact with the French and this morning was six miles east of the city.

General Degoutte has issued a proclamation to cities and towns within the area to be occupied, declaring French troops have crossed the Rhine to compel the Berlin government to respect its agreement with the allies and assuming there is no hostile intent toward the people of that region.

Promises to Withdraw.

The proclamation says the French troops will withdraw as soon as German government forces have evacuated the neutral zone and declares no one will be affected by the presence of the French as long as order is maintained.

At 5:20 in the morning French tanks entered Frankfurt. They were followed by a battalion of sharpshooters and a company of engineers, and these troops occupied strategic points and the railroad station. Half a dozen tanks were posted near the station and the barracks and another force was stationed near police headquarters and the post office. These troops held the important entrances to the city until nine o'clock, when a battalion of chasseurs derailed at the station.

Stirring Scenes at Mayence.

Paris, April 7.—French soldiers occupying the German cities of Frankfurt-on-Main and Darmstadt, 16 miles south. Forces commanded by General Degoutte, which have been holding the Mayence bridgehead, were ordered forward by Marshal Foch following the efforts on the part of the French government to induce the Berlin government to withdraw its forces from the neutral zone along the eastern bank of the Rhine, where they had been ordered to disperse communist units. That for the last fortnight has conducted a revolt in the Ruhr valley.

Germany Must Pay Bill.

Stirring scenes at Mayence are described by Henry Bidou, military correspondent of the Journal des Debats, in a telegram to his paper. He says that during the afternoon troop activity began and soon auto trucks and field kitchens began moving eastward, accompanied by Moroccan troops with machine guns.

Chief interest in the situation, as evidenced by newspapers here, is whether the allies will support France and to what extent. This query was put to Premier Millerand by the Echo de Paris last night, the premier answering:

"England was victorious, and so was France. I am confident everything will work out perfectly."

Asked who would pay the expense incident to occupation, M. Millerand replied:

"Why, Germany, obviously, since it was she that by her acts obliged us to resort to coercion."

Notifies Charge d'Affaires.

Premier Millerand formally notified Dr. von Mayer, the German charge d'affaires of the action of the French government in ordering the advance and informed him that as soon as there had been complete evacuation of the neutral zone by the German troops the French would occupy the cities they had been ordered to occupy.

Marshal Foch had a conference with Premier Millerand. Later the premier received Hugh C. Wallace, the American ambassador.

ITALY BACKS FRENCH MOVE

Cabinet Decides to Extend Moral Support, but Won't Be Party to Invasion.

Rome, April 7.—Popolo Romano says that at a cabinet meeting the government decided to extend to France Italy's moral support in the French occupation of Frankfurt and other German cities. The cabinet agreed, however, that under no circumstances would Italy be a party to any military measures against Germany, the newspaper says.

Grain Elevator Burns.

Superior, Wis., April 7.—Fire of unknown origin destroyed the Secular & Bishop grain elevator here. The elevator was filled with grain.

BRIEF INFORMATION

An estimate of the total wheat production for western Canada for 1919 is 100,225,000 bushels.

For the convenience of parents of infants a combined rocking chair and cradle has been patented.

A substitute for imported edible gelatine is being made from a seaweed in the Philippines.

MANY REBELS KILLED

THREE HUNDRED REDS DIE IN GERMAN BATTLE.

Government Troops Lose 200 Men in Fierce Clash in the Duisburg District.

Berlin, April 7.—The reds lost 300 killed in fighting with government troops near Polkum, southwest of Hamm, Westphalia, according to a dispatch from Hamm to the Lokal Anzeiger.

Two armored cars and one flying squadron participated in the action, the dispatch says.

The government forces have lost 200 men killed in fresh fighting in the triangle formed by Duisburg, Dortmund and Essen, according to official information. Except in this triangle quiet gradually is being restored in the Ruhr district. Reichswehr forces entered Essen from two sides of the town.

The progress of the German troops into the Ruhr region was chronicled in the following official statement:

"The action of the police forces in the industrial region is proceeding according to plan. Regular troops are present north of Bottrop, Westphalia, which has not yet been occupied. The clearing action is also progressing east of Dortmund, which the 1st detachment of Dortmund, which the 1st detachment has just entered and where it advanced against considerably stronger detachments of red guards on the Leim-Kannenberg. In the Herten district the Wickedale railway station has been stormed by red guards, as were also the Admiral and Gluckauf mines. Dortmund. At Essen the Krupp provision department was robbed."

The exploits of the communist brigand, Max Hoelz, who has recently been holding up towns with the aid of an armed gang in five automobiles, have become so audacious that the Saxon government has decided Hoelz must be crushed by military measures. Troops have been sent to capture him.

LOOKS FOR END OF STRIKE

Lewis Declares Troubles Over Mine Wage Contract Will Be Adjusted Soon.

New York, April 7.—The situation in the bituminous coal fields of Kansas, Illinois and other states, brought about by the dissatisfaction of the miners with the new wage contract, "will be satisfactorily adjusted within a few days," John L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers, declared here.

Until he has received reports from the various districts, Mr. Lewis declined to make further comment, except to state that he did not believe the situation serious.

Other union officials, however, declared the trouble was due to an inadequate wage award made by President Wilson's bituminous coal commission to the day men employed in the soft coal fields. The day men, it was pointed out, were given only a $1-a-day increase, or 35 cents less than the 27 per cent advance awarded other workers.

JOHNSON PILES UP BIG LEAD

Latest Returns Show Californian Nearly 50,000 Votes Ahead of General Wood in Michigan.

Detroit, Mich., April 7.—Senator Hiram W. Johnson is piling up a bigger and more decisive victory over Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood in the Republican counties in which he campaigns and figures from industrial centers outside Detroit come in.

With 1,428 precincts out of the state's total of 2,421 accounted for, the candidates stood as follows:

Republican—Johnson, 117,456; Wood, 73,222; Lovden, 38,208 and Hoover, 37,523.

With 1,250 state precincts, including most of Wayne reported, the vote for Democratic candidates stood as follows:

Edwards, 54,472; Hoover, 51,535; McAfee, 34,767; Bryan, 28,927.

MUELLER CABINET NEAR END

German Ministry, Scarcely a Week Old, Approaches Collapse as French Army Approaches.

Berlin, April 7.—The Mueller government, scarcely a week old, is approaching collapse as a result of the French occupation of Frankfurt, Darmstadt, Hanau and intermediate towns. Some of the cabinet members frankly admitted that only a miracle can save the ministry. In the eyes of the radicals it has lost the last shreds of prestige, while the militarists and conservatives are adding to national agitation the battle cry: "The fatherland is invaded; we have our best government to thank for this!"

If the present ministry fails, only one of the two extremes—militarists or radicals—seems capable of succeeding it.

BANK ROBBERS GET $8,000

Two Men Lock President of Kentucky Bank in Vault and Escape in Automobile.

Cave City, Ky., April 7.—Two men entered the People's bank here, locked President S. M. Caldwell, the only occupant of the banking room, in a vault and escaped in an automobile with $8,000.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

There is no great and no small To the soul that maketh all; And where it cometh all things are; And it cometh everywhere. —Emerson.

COMMON DISHES, WELL LIKED.

Some people like the crisp, snappy ginger cookies, white others like them tender. Here is a good one worth having in your card index:

Ginger Cookies.

—Take one cupful of molasses, one cupful of sugar, three-quarters of a cupful of shortening, one cupful of sour cream, two eggs, well-beaten, salt and ginger to suit the taste (two tablespoonsful of ginger gives a good ginger flavor). Add flour to roll. If the mixture is allowed to chill outdoors in cold weather or on ice in summer, it rolls with less flour and the cookies are much daintier.

Chicken Pie.

—For the small family who have had a meal of roast chicken, if the fowl is kept over for two days, a chicken pie will be enjoyed. Cut up the bits of chicken, add any gravy, using plenty of fat, if there is no gravy; make a white sauce, using the broth from the bones; for flavor add thin cream or milk; a slice of onion is an improvement, and it may be removed before the biscuits are placed. Have the deep dish half full of gravy and chicken and when boiling hot cover with small biscuit, made with baking powder as usual. Place in a hot oven and bake until the biscuits are brown. Serve hot from the dish in which it is baked.

English Cheese Cake.

—Prepare sour milk by heating slowly until a cupful of soft curd is formed. To the curd add one and one-half cupfuls of sweet milk, two well-beaten eggs, one-half cupful of sugar and one-half cupful of currants. Pour into a crust and bake until brown.

Cottage Cheese Salad.

—Take a pint of cottage cheese, add cream, salt, cayenne and paprika to season it well, half of a finely minced pepper and a tablespoonful of any good dressing. Mold in egg shapes, sprinkle with bits of green pepper and place in leaves of head lettuce. Serve with French dressing.

Fried Apples.

—Wash and core even-sized apples, without peeling. Cut in half-inch slices, dip in flour, sprinkle with a bit of sugar and fry in a little fat. Serve in overlapping rings around a chop plate of pork chops.

Tomato Toast.

—When there is an accumulation of slices of bread, moisten them with water and put into a hot oven. When crisp and hot, spread with butter and pour over well-seasoned tomatoes. This makes a nice luncheon dish.

A glimmer of sunshine, a sparkle of dew, A cloud and a rainbow's warning, Suddenly sunshine and glints of blue— An April day in the morning.

LAVOR SAVING DEVICES.

The average housekeeper has of necessity numberless duties and a wide call for her services. Any mechanical device which will conserve health, save time and energy is not an extravagance.

Every housewife must use judgment in buying the tool or device best adapted to her needs.

A cherry pitter is a most convenient device, but is used in a very short season, when cherries are ripe. For the ordinary housewife who must buy her cherries and who must be very economical, a cherry pitter could be called an extravagance, but a bread mixer, which is used twice or oftener in a week, a wheeled wringer which is used daily in preparing and clearing away the meal, saving steps and strength—these are economical labor saving devices.

A wire basket which is used for a dish drainer and can be set into a deep pan and the dishes sealed and left to dry in it is very convenient. This saves wiping the dishes.

Egg beaters that will work, wooden stirring spoons that never get hot, and do not scratch aluminum dishes, sharp paring knives, carving knives in good condition, all are essential working tools.

A spatula for use in creaming butter and scraping out mixing bowls, a cleaver and mince-mixer, egg whisks, kitchen scales, measuring cups and plenty of measuring spoons, steel wool to clean saucepans without scratching them, a small paint brush with firm bristles to use for greasing dishes, a pair of old shoes to use in cutting raisins, a knife sharpener, a pair of pliers and a putty knife, with a bunch of wooden skewers to use in cleaning corners too small to reach otherwise, are all handy. Some housekeepers like the little rubber plate scraper for cleaning plates ready to be washed. A detachable handle for hot plates is good; as is a card index for recipes, menus and household hints and a small step ladder. These labor saving devices are in the reach of a large majority of housekeepers. When electricity can be utilized in the home, house cleaning is mere play.

NEELIE MAXWELL

The Wolf Cry.

Timber wolves when separated raise their noses into the air and send out wireless calls that curdle the blood of every human and lesser animal within hearing. But the other timber wolves reply at once and work toward each other until the pack is united.

ADMIATION OF A GREAT POET.

Our genuine admiration of a great poet is a continuous undercurrent of feeling; it is everywhere present, but seldom anywhere as a separate excitement.—Coleridge.

It may be that you are mysteriously attacked by pain in back, (lumbago), or limbs, "neuragic" pains—shooting anywhere. Backache of any kind is often caused by kidney disorder, which means that the kidneys are not working properly. Poisonous matter and uric acid accumulate within the body in great abundance, overworking the sick kidneys. Perhaps you have become nervous, despondent, sick, feverish, irritable, have spots appearing before the eyes, bags under the lids, and lack ambition to do things. The latest and most effective means of overcoming such trouble, is to drink plenty of water between meals, and take a single Anurio (anti-uric acid) Tablet before each meal for a while, or until recovered. All druggists.

Coruna, Mich.—"I had been sick a long time with kidney and bladder trouble. Had backache all the time. I did everything, but could not find any relief. One day I saw an advertisement of Anurio (anti-uric acid) in the paper. I sent 10 cents to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for a trial package. The sample did me so much good that I got more from the druggist. I can't begin to tell what Anurio has done for me. I will always speak a good word for it. I can't be too grateful.—MRS. JULIA MONTFORT, Box 48.

A WORLD REBUILT

By the Golden Rule not by the rule of Gold

THIRTY denominations of the Church are uniting in a simultaneous campaign in the week of April 25th-May 2nd.

They are uniting because the task before the Church is too great for any one denomination; because there must be no duplication of effort; no waste.

These churches know that the world needs many things, but it needs Faith most of all.

They know that there can be no final solution of our economic problems that is not a spiritual solution, based on the teachings of Jesus Christ and His Golden Rule.

They have had the courage to survey the whole task, and to ask for a budget large enough to sustain (1) the work abroad, (2) the work at home including the church's part in the huge task of Americanization, (3) the colleges and (4) hospitals supported by the Churches, (5) the religious training of the young, and to provide (6) a living wage for the Church's ministers.

The budget is large in the aggregate; yet if each person who loves America would increase his contribution by only a few dollars the whole amount would be easily subscribed.

We face the task of rebuilding the world. Let the cornerstone be a strong and vital church in every American community; and the measuring rod by which the builders build must be the Golden Rule.

The INTERCHURCH World Movement of North America

The publication of this advertisement is made possible by the cooperation of thirty denominations.

Are You Happy?
To be happy you must be well. If you are frequently troubled with constipation and indigestion you cannot be altogether happy. Take Chamberlain's Tablets to remove these disorders. They are prompt and effective, easy and pleasant to take.—Adv.

How is Your Complexion?
A woman should grow more beautiful as she grows older and she will do so due to regular bowels, diet and exercise, and by keeping her face and hands in good condition. If you have a sallow, yellowish, or flabby complexion, it may be due to indigestion or to a sluggish liver. Chamberlain's Tablets correct such a disorder.—Adv.

CATARHAL DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.
We guarantee that if you have any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine, Circulars free. All Druggists sell.

Security Food Compound for Calves and Pigs

DIRECTIONS FOR PIGS
Make a slop by mixing one pound of Security Food in ten gallons of water. Add mill feed, ground feed, oil meal, tankage or any other hog food you may have, to make it a balanced ration. Continue mixing Security Food in slop for your shoats until a month or so before marketing them.
Growing hogs require lots of liquid to make rapid, healthy growth. They will drink much more Security slop than plain water, and even although the slop may be thin, feeding it will show you profits. The most successful hog grower is he who fits his hogs for market in the least time. To do this they must show growth every day, for even a few days without gain is liable to make runts.

Plymouth Self-Feed ENSILAGE CUTTERS

"Plymouth" Feed Cutters are the result of twenty-five years' experience and practical study of conditions and needs in the farm and dairy field. They embrace every advantage known to other similar machines, and many vital features which are original with us and can be had only in the "Plymouth Self-Feed." Below are some mighty strong points for you to think about before you buy a feed cutter:

AUTOMATIC SELF-FEED—This feature consists of a traveling feed chain, made of heavy iron slats securely riveted to a chain which passes over the lower feed roller. Throw the fodder into the feed box and the "Plymouth" does the rest.

DANGER-FREE SELF-FEED ROLLERS—Here's another strong feature original with the "Plymouth." It consists of four large rollers of cast iron. The traveling feed chain passes over the lower hind roller, just passing the lower front roller, which is six inches in diameter, and smooth. The two upper and lower hind rollers are ribbed. The 8 inch automatic roller at the top, to the rear, is a special feature of the "Plymouth." It acts as a lever or weight to keep the fodder passing through continuously, depending on its own gravity to keep the material going through without a hitch. Two coil springs serve to exert an even and steady pressure of the automatic roller as the volume of fodder increases in going through. The spring feature is entirely automatic, and is only to be had in the "Plymouth." It absolutely prevents clogging.

SICK WOMEN HEAR ME

You Can Be Free from Pain as I Am, if You Do as I Did.

Harrington, Me.—"I suffered with backache, pains through my hips and a such a bearing down feeling that I could not stand on my feet. I also had distressing symptoms. At times I had to give up work. I tried a number of remedies but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did me more good than anything else. I am regular, do not suffer the pains I used to keep house and do all my work. I recommend your medicine to all who suffer as I did and you may see my letter as you like. Mrs. MINNIE MITCHELL, Harrington, Me.

There are many women who suffer as Mrs. Mitchell did and who are being benefited by this great medicine every day. It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound contains no narcotics or harmful drugs. It is made from extracts of roots and herbs and is a safe medium for women. If you need special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass.

Nerves All Unstrung

"But Doan's Made Life Again Worth Living," Says Mrs. Harris

"I was in excellent health until my kidneys weakened," says Mrs. N. A. Harris, 1009 Indiana St., Neodesha, Kansas. "The kidney secretions burned like fire and passed so often I couldn't get a moment's rest. My back ached and for days at a time I was confined to bed. I was in a state of nervous wreck. Headaches and dizziness added to my distress. My sight blurred; limbs, hands and face were swollen and puffy sacs came under my eyes. I lost hope of being well again. Finally a neighbor brought me a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, and later I got several boxes. My troubles began to lessen and soon I could sleep all night and wake up refreshed and happy and life was again worth living. I am now a strong, healthy woman and owe my health and happiness to Doan's. Return to before me."

SIMPLE WAY TO TRANSFER BEES

Heddon Method Is Recommended as One of Easiest to Remove Insects.

USE SHALLOW CARRYING BOX

Success Depends Upon Getting Queen Into New Hive With Her Bees—Newly Hatched Queens May Be Used in Other Hives.

The following method of transferring bees from one hive or box to another is known as the Heddon short method; it is simple and practicable. For it you will need to make a shallow box carrying box, without cover, that will just fit over the old box live after the cover of that is removed. If your box hives are of different size, make a box to fit the smallest and use strips of wood to fill the open spaces when "drumming" the others. This box will resemble an ordinary super fitted with a bottom.

When Honey Is Coming in. Whenever honey is coming in, set the old box live to be emptied of its bees off from its stand and replace it with the new hive fitted up with frames and foundation. Face entrance of new hive same way. After lightly smoking the bees in the old box live, remove all or a portion of its cover and invert your carrying box over it. Now drum upon the sides of the old live until nearly all of the bees have gone up into the carrying box. Take this to the new live on the old stand and dump the bees in front of its entrance. You may drum the old live again for more bees, if necessary, but your success will depend upon your getting the queen into the new hive with her bees. Unless she goes with them they will not stay. Set the old box with its remaining bees a little way away from its original stand and face its entrance in another direction from that which it originally had. After three weeks the brood in this old box will have hatched out in care of what bees remained in and these may be drummed out in like manner and carried to reinforce the new hive. Smoke both lightly before making this addition and put a queen excluder in front of the entrance of the new hive if you do not wish any newly hatched queens to enter with the second lot of bees to dispute possession of the hive with their mother. Any newly hatched queens remaining outside the excluder may be used in other swarms or destroyed. If this work is done while the bees are at work in the fields, those abroad will return to the new hive upon the stand from which their old hive was removed and, if they find their queen there, will stay.

Queen in New Hive. As said, the success of the method depends upon getting the queen into the new hive with her bees and, if you wish to make sure that you have done it, you can place a queen excluder before the entrance of the new hive before drumming and then watch to see that the queen is there after all, or nearly all, of the other bees have entered their new quarters. If your eyesight is keen, you may see her enter without delaying her by the use of an excluder.

APPLYING MANURE TO LAND

It Should Be Done as Fast as It Accumulates to Conserve Ingredients—Keep Flies Away.

By applying the manure as fast as it accumulates the danger of flies breeding in it will be reduced and much of the ingredients will be saved. But if it is not possible to apply for some time, store in a pile, keep dry and screen or put heliobene on it occasionally to prevent flies from breeding in it.

RIGHT CARE OF IMPLEMENTS

See that all implements are in condition to be of service when they are needed. On days when you cannot work in the field you may get the machines and implements in order.

DON'T FORGET THE KEY

From the Atlantic to Iowa and from Tennessee to Canada clover is the key crop in the rotation. Don't forget it!

BUSY SEASON FOR SHEPHERD

Whole Year's Success Depends Greatly on Percentage and Vigor of Lambs Saved.

Lambing time is the shepherd's busiest season, and the whole year's success depends largely upon the percentage and vigor of lambs born and saved. Warm quarters are necessary in cold weather. When lambs are coming rapidly, ewes may need to be watched day and night, to avoid unnecessary losses.

D. A. Spencer, sheep extension specialist at the University of Missouri college of agriculture, advises that the following preparations for lambing be made:

Quarters should be so arranged that ewes about due to lamb may be kept away from the other kinds of live stock to avoid injury that may be caused by horses and cattle, and to keep greedy hogs from devouring the young lambs. At this time, ewes need plenty of room. For ewes weighing an average of 150 pounds the shed space should provide about twelve to fifteen square feet each, unless the weather is cold, and ewes must be crowded closer to keep their quarters warm.

A movable pen four feet square furnishes the best place for a ewe and her lambs—until the lambs are one or two days old. The ewe is more sure to own her lambs, especially if she has twins, if they are kept in this sort of a pen until she and her lambs become thoroughly attached.

As lambing time approaches, the ewe should be penned at night where it is intended that she should lamb, and remain until her lambs are a few days old.

HANDLE BULL PROPERLY

The following are a few "don'ts" in connection with handling the bull:

- Don't underestimate him when young or keep him overfat when mature.
- Don't use him too heavily before he is mature.
- Don't tease him or allow children to play with him.
- Don't let him get the upper hand at any time.
- Don't let him realize his enormous strength.
- Don't keep him confined. Give him plenty of exercise.
- Don't trust any bull at any time. It is the "gentle" bull that does the damage.

PLAN LARGER CORN ACREAGE

Little More Than Required Under Ordinary Circumstances Should Be Planted for Feed.

Every farmer should plant a little larger acreage in corn than will be required under ordinary conditions to produce enough feed for his stock. One never knows what drought, excessive rains, insects, etc., may do. It can be disposed of profitably usually. More animals can be raised or bought to consume the surplus if you do not wish to sell fertility in corn.

CULTIVATION IN AN ORCHARD

Much Depends on Location, Climate, Soil and Lay of Land—Best in Irrigated Sections.

Whether the orchard should be cultivated each year depends very largely upon the location, climate, soil and lay of the land. In irrigated sections it is perhaps best to cultivate the soil every year. It is generally conceded to be better than to allow a sod to form.

GENERAL FARM NOTES

The Emden is a large white goose, but not so large as the Toulouse.

Alfalfa on every farm, and a silo with every barn, means prosperity.

A vegetable garden is an asset to farmers who expect to live as economically as possible.

No prospective breeder should assume that the work is easy if he expects to master the details and succeed.

Moles are not as easily poisoned as most other animals, and trapping seems to be about the only satisfactory method.

Young trees require the best of care and cultivation. Practice frequent cultivation during the summer, and plant a catch crop in July or early August.

More evergreens could well be raised on every farm. There would be a market for surplus trees in most communities for Christmas trees or lawn specimens.

If the finished product always looked as good as the pictures in the seed catalogue, how much happier some gardeners would be. Tested and tried varieties are always safest.

PRACTICAL COATS FOR SPRING WEAR

IN THE greater part of our country spring comes late and departs early to give place to summer; it is a brief interval, between the two seasons for which we must buy our clothes. Few women buy more than a hat and a coat for this particular period; and the coat is expected to make itself useful all summer, at least. One-piece dresses prove so useful to women generally that they have become as important as suits, which they replace a good part of the time. With the aid of a warm-giving spring coat they do all that a suit can do, and a little more on those raw days in March and April when there is little promise of warm weather in the air. The spring coat may easily die one over from winter to summer without any other addition to the wardrobe. In the new models in coats there are

Lovely Hats for Summer

SUMMER calls for women, in all the shops, to make ready for it. No matter what the weather man may do now the millinery shops are convincing—they are full of summery things for morning, afternoon and night, and in so great a variety of shapes and sizes that every face and every individual will find something to suit exactly. There is a great deal of lissere straw in the displays, much "toile creue" (a millinery oilcloth), satin, tulle, gay silks, shot taffeta, net, and chartruis lace. The list of materials used includes about everything we have known in millinery heretofore, and a few novelties—like hair-net cloth. A good many flowers, a great deal of embroidery in ruffles and silk, and an altogether colorful display make up the general impression one brings away from a tour of the shops.

Important to all Women Readers of this Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it. Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney or bladder disease. If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition. Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be dependent; it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine, will do for them. By enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Douchess County, N. Y., you may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase medium and large size bottles at all drug stores.—Adv.

WHAT PEEVED THE RECRUIT. Little Discussion He Had With Corporal Left Him Disgusted With Relief From Guard Duty.

A couple of recruits of the latest vintage, who had enlisted in the hope of being sent to the Rhine, were discussing the pros and cons of army life. "It ain't so bad," confided one. "Most of it is all right, but it's that blasted relief from guard duty that gets me."

"Relief from guard duty!" ejaculated the other. "Man, you're cuckoo! There's nothing to be relieved from guard duty. It's being on guard duty that's hell."

"No," maintained the first. "It's the relief. Why, the other day they put me on guard for two hours, and it wasn't bad at all just standing around and watching the rest of 'em drilling and knowing that I didn't have to do it myself, but then when the time for relief came the corporal came up and gave me the devil."

"What for?" "Nothing. Nothing at all. I just couldn't remember where I'd left my rifle."

The property man scratched his head. "Don't see how you make that out, sir."

"Well," replied the stage manager, "when I get near either of them I always look out!"

HARDLY PAID FOR EXERTION. Small Sum Collected From Burglar Didn't Recompense John for His Disturbed Repose.

"John," she whispered, "there's a burglar downstairs."

"The deuce there is," exclaimed John, jumping out of bed. "I'll show him!"

He crept downstairs. There was the sound of a crash, a revolver shot and the sullen thud of men engaged in mortal combat. Then a window smashed and all was still. The terrified wife turned on the light and hurried into the hall.

"John," she called timidly. "All right, my dear," called John. "I found him. All he had was sixty cents."

PE-RU-NA Worth Its Weight In Gold

You cannot mistake the words of Mr. W. W. Northrup, of 908 Fourth Street, Sioux City, Iowa. He is enthusiastic about his present health and the merits of PE-RU-NA and wants everyone to know it. Here is a recent letter from him:

"PE-RU-NA is worth its weight in gold and then some. I used to think it only a woman's remedy but have changed my mind. I had a cough, especially in the morning. After using half a bottle of PE-RU-NA was much better. I would cough up chunks of phlegm and mucus, my eyes itched and bothered me. Judging from the symptoms given for you I assume it was catarrh. My stomach is in much better condition since using your medicine."

"Use this testimonial, if you wish. Don't hesitate to advertise the merits of PE-RU-NA." (Signed) W. W. NORTHROP.

DON'T WHINE IN SICK ROOM

Remember to Carry Cheer, Not Sympathy to Those Who Are Temporarily "Shut In."

Every one is called upon now and then to visit the sick room. Conditions surrounding the bedside visitations present a wide variation. There is one rule that holds good under all conditions, and that is to carry cheer and sunshine—not a long face, but a smile. If the patients are able talk to them of what is going on outside. Help them to forget themselves. A man who for over twenty years had been paralyzed was visited by a friend who was profuse in expressing his sympathy and regret at the sick man's helplessness. As he was about to leave, the afflicted man said, "Come again, won't you, but when you do please forget to tell me that you are sorry for me as every one tells me that. I've heard it every day for twenty years. Help me to forget it. Bring me a breath of the outside world. Flowers are always a gracious help in making the sickroom a place of cheer. A book or a magazine also helps."—Thrifty Magazine.

Rare Sugar Found in Honey.

Investigation of certain stores of crystallized honey found in various places in Pennsylvania where the bees had died from starvation led to the discovery of a quantity of rare sugar known as melezitose, which has been extracted and purified and placed at the disposal of the bureau of chemistry. The weekly news letter of the department of agriculture says that melezitose is one of the rarest sugars. Minute quantities of it have been available to men of science for many years, but the supply has been so small that it has not permitted of extensive experimentation. Now the United States department has several kilograms.

"There's a Reason"

WISCONSIN STATE NEWS

Milwaukee—Gov. E. L. Phillip has appointed a commission to go to the bottom of charges that exorbitant rents are being asked by landlords and leaseholders. This action was taken after a demonstration staged in this city by the tenants of two apartment buildings whose rents were raised from 30 to 70 per cent. If the findings of the commission warrant, the governor will possibly call a special session of the legislature to deal with the situation. The practice of "middlemen" getting leases on apartments and then boosting rents will be crushed, if possible. Complaints of the oppression are not confined to Milwaukee, but from several of the larger cities of the state.

Amberg—Streams in this vicinity have been swollen by the recent rains and melting snow. Bridges have been carried away, culverts washed out and roads greatly damaged. The bridge over the south branch of the Pike river was totally destroyed. The bridge was built on what is known as the old Stoddard dam. Four bridges east of town near the K. C. camps are also demolished and the roadway covered with water.

La Crosse—In an answer filed with the railroad commission of Wisconsin, the Wisconsin Railway, Light and Power Co. declares that, unless the city of La Crosse permits the installation of one-line safety street cars on the lines here, it will be compelled, because of financial burdens, to ask for 7-cent fares. The city filed an objection to the one-man type of cars, proposed to be installed here in May.

Watertown—By drilling a well six inches in diameter for a depth of 407 1/2 feet, drillers have completed an unusual contract at Beaver Dam. The drillers, Dowd and Malwitz say that it is seldom that such a large diameter is maintained to the entire depth of a well. A satisfactory flow of pure water was struck at the plant of the Badger Canning Co., where the shaft was sunk.

Appleton—Henry Stussy, Appleton, a native of Switzerland, was barred from becoming a citizen of the United States because he claimed exemption from the draft on the ground that he was not a citizen. An order barring him from citizenship was signed by Judge Edgar V. Werners of the circuit court on petition of George N. Daniel, son, naturalization examiner. Stussy had obtained his first papers, but surrendered them when his conscription number was called.

Madison—A. A. DuMez of Cashton, speaking before representatives of school boards from all sections of the state, declared himself as opposed to the granting of large increases to teachers. SALTS IF BACKACHE AND KIDNEYS HURT

Stop Eating Meat for a While if Your Bladder is Troubling You.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and laggard. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's uric waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water swells and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.—Adv.

With such crops come prosperity, independence, good homes, and all the comforts and conveniences which make for happy living.

Farm Gardens—Poultry—Dairying are sources of income second only to grain growing and stock raising. Good climate, good neighbors, churches, schools, rural telephone, etc. give you the opportunities of a new land with the conveniences of old settled districts.

How Diphtheria is Contracted
One often hears the expression, "My child caught a severe cold which developed into diphtheria," when the truth was that the child had simply left the little virus particularly susceptible to the wandering diphtheria germ. If your child has a cold when diphtheria is prevalent, you should take him out of school and keep him off the street until fully recovered, as there is a hundred times more danger of his taking diphtheria when he has a cold. When Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given it quickly cures the cold and lessens the danger of diphtheria or any other germ disease being contracted.—Adv.
