WASHINGTON COUNTY NURSE WRITES

By Miss Olive Sewell

Dear Intelligent: March 21, 1920. Fellow Office-mates: Warsaw, Poland. "The above includes the County Superintendent, his able office assistant, the Supervising teacher and the County Agent.

For the past two weeks at least, I've been saying to myself "there is one letter that must be written at once," but the "fat case" continued to lengthen itself out until now, four weeks after taking leave of all of you, I am for the first time gathering together enough inspiration and ambition, to really do myself and myself justice.

We were four days in New York getting "vise'd" and tallered and equipped. Four of the much-hat, wettest, most disagreeable days of my existence. For some now incomprehensible reason I've always labored under the delusion that New York is a city much to be admired, but my present recollection of the last bit of the U. S. A. that I looked upon were painful to say the least. I hadn't the tiniest little pang of regret when we took the boat to France.

It was a Holland American steamer, the New Amsterdam, and sported a very appropriate name. I had a well-looked Peter Struyvis in the lounge. Just before sailing, I had taken a bad cold and my last dose of anti-typhoid serum and was hardly in my usual good health. Added to my indisposition were two cabin mates who were painfully and quite obviously seasick most of the way across, so I found it expedient to spend most of my time and take most of my meals on deck. However, I missed no food neither going up or coming down but I'll have to admit there were times when I didn't hanker for a menu card. The trip was deadly dull, and deadly calm. The ocean was like a big lake.

Cora, Countess of Stafford and Sir Harry Lauden were among the notables on the ship, and departed at Plymouth. We departed at Boulogne-Surmer after a ten day voyage and took the express for Paris. Boulogne is extremely unattractive, and we arrived in a French mist so we were doubly glad that our stay was short.

En route to Paris, we passed through Amien and a small section of the invaded territory. Very little has been done by way of restoration. They are waiting no doubt for the summer invasion of school teachers from Wisconsin.

EDUCATIONAL FILMS AT OPERA HOUSE

"HOW LIFE BEGINS" The story of how new plants and animals come into existence will be shown by the Wisconsin State Board of Health at the Opera House Tuesday, May 4, at 4 P. M. for school children only. This film, the production of some eighteen months of work on the part of Mr. Geo. E. Stone, A. E. in collaboration with Prof. J. A. Long, Ph. D. of the University of California, gives with scientific accuracy the methods by which new plants and animals come into existence. This complex subject is presented simply, clearly and in a most fascinating manner.

The authors show that, from the very lowest forms up to the highest, life comes only from life. All individuals arise only from other living creatures of their own kind. This film does more than merely present scientific facts; it shows their relation to human life, and leaves in the mind of the observer a lasting inspiration. Recognizing the value of this picture as providing a basis for right thinking and right living, its exhibition has been given by the War Department of the Government in every camp and cantonment, not only in this country, but in France as well. It is also being used by the War Work Councils of the Young Men's Christian Association, by the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and by other national and international organizations.

"THE END OF THE ROAD" At the Opera House on Tuesday evening at 7:15 o'clock, May 4, Free Children over 14 unless accompanied by parents are prohibited to attend. The story of a motion picture drama prepared by the War Department Commission in Training Camp Activities: This production is in seven reels and requires an hour and a half to show. Every moment of that time is filled with human interest. Into the main story have been woven supplementary scenes and incidents, each drawn from actual life, and each with a bearing upon a possible crisis in the lives of certain types of American girls. The fundamental idea of the film is educational, but quite inevitably, it contains a definite trend throughout towards the moral inspiration which follows any exposition of film examples and standards of living contrasted.

LOCAL MEN PURCHASE ICE HOUSE

Otto Backhaus, who for a number of years supplied the business places and private homes with ice, disposed of his ice house in this village, together with this year's ice harvest to a number of business men from the village. Mr. Backhaus has accepted a position as patrolman on the state highway between Kewaskum and St. Michaels, and for that reason was unable to deliver any more ice this summer. The men involved in buying the ice house are: Adolph Backhaus, Frank Hepps, John Stellpflug, John Marx, Philip McLaughlin, John Van Blarcom, Jos. Eberle and S. C. Wollensak. From all appearances, the private homes this summer will be without ice as it is thought by the new owners that there is only enough ice harvest to supply the owners with the necessary amount of ice used by them.

LEAP YEAR DANCE DRAWING NEAR The Leap Year dance to be given by the Royal Neighbors of this village on May 8th, is drawing near. The Royal Neighbors are doing everything in their power to make this, the second dance of its kind pulled off by this organization, the most enjoyable and gala event ever staged by them. Past records show that they have always been successful in reaching the goal in whatever they undertook to do, and there remains no doubt that they will attain that point, if weather conditions will permit and not disappoint them in this year's event.

SAVES TIME AND LABOR Albert Knoepke, Moccasin, Montana, says: "I would rather quit the ranch than do without Delco-Light. It saves at least 14 hours per week in labor, at a cost of approximately $1.25 per month."

LUTH. CONGREGATION ENGAGES NEW PASTOR

Last Sunday, April 25th, Rev. H. J. Barth of Cleveland, Wis., delivered a trial sermon at the services in the Ev. Peace church, with the view of being accepted as pastor of the church. At a meeting held after the services by the members of the congregation, they unanimously decided in favor of engaging Rev. Barth as pastor of the church and to his congregation. He is a born citizen and comes to this village with the best of recommendations. Following the eloquent sermon he delivered at the services he made a very good impression upon the members. His recommendations show him to be a man who will exert every inch of power he possesses for the welfare and upbuilding of the church. About seven years ago he was pastor of the Ev. Peace church at Filmore, which position he held for over six years, when he took charge of the parish at Menomonie Falls, here he remained for nine years, after which he moved to Cleveland, Wis., where he preached the doctrine of the church ever since, having charge of two congregations. Rev. Barth is a man of a friendly disposition, pleasant and very interesting to listen to, he is married and has a family of four children. Rev. Mohme, who resigned his position as pastor of the church several months ago, will deliver his farewell sermon on Sunday, May 9th, and expects to leave the following day for his new home in the town of Herman, Sheboygan county, where he will take charge of the parish there. In his departure from the Ev. Peace congregation, as well as the village of Kewaskum, loses a man of noble character, a man who most thoroughly understood his business as pastor, a man who was certainly loyal to the teachings of the church and to his congregation. He was one of those characters who took pleasure and pride in building up the congregation, in which work he was very successful. During the seven years of his work here he increased the membership of his congregation from about eighty to one hundred and forty members. He made it a point to keep in close touch with the members of the congregation, whom he had at heart, and whom he was at all times ready to assist, not only in the hour of need, but otherwise. The same attitude he took toward public affairs, always ready to boost for all that was in him and willingly upheld the principals to further the cause of progress and to assist, not only in the hour of need, but otherwise. It is with regret that the congregation and the citizens of the village of Kewaskum lose such a trustworthy man, and all express the sincere wish that prosperity, happiness and success will ever attend him and his family. It is as yet not definitely known when Rev. Barth will move to this village as the vacancy caused by his departure from Cleveland has not yet been filled.

JUDGMENT In the case of the Farmers' Mercantile Company of Kohlsville vs. Norman Kleinhans held in Judge Olvin's court Thursday afternoon, judgment was awarded the plaintiff in the sum of $100. The case originated from the fact that the defendant's entered into a contract with Kleinhans last May to make cheese in their factory near Kohlsville. Shortly after, judgment was made in the factory with the result that a quantity of cheese was spoiled and the company held back the pay of the cheesemaker amounting to $170. As the plaintiff was under age when the contract was signed, the Judge held that the contract was void. The defendants were represented by O'Meara & O'Meara of West Bend and the plaintiff by Duffy & McGalloway of Fond du Lac.

LUTH. CONGREGATION PLAINTEXT WINS

COUNTY AGRICULTURAL COLUMN By County Agent M. Button It is not too early to think about emergency hay crops. There are several of these last minute crops that are adapted to Washington county conditions. Probably the best of these are peas and oats or oats alone. Sudan grass and millet are also good and if interested in these call your county agent about them. Peas and oats grown in combination always have been considered a standard plant in hay crop, although either of these may be used alone, a combination of the two is really better and should be used where both can be grown successfully. The combination will usually yield better than either alone, more easily harvested than peas alone, because the oats support the peas, and in addition peas are more easily cured when grown in combination. The two may be seeded at the same time using 1 1/2 bushel of each to an acre. Medium seed oats such as No. 1 or Ped. No. 5 give very good results and the Wis. Pea Green Pea, the Canadian Field Pea, or the Scotch Green Field Pea are among the best varieties to use. Cutting should begin when the oats are in the milk stage. The peas will then be just starting pod. Delaying longer than this will produce a strawy hay that is less palatable. Well cured pea and oat hay is nearly equal to red clover hay in its digestible protein.

U. S. SHIPS TO CURB MEXICO

Plea of American Agents in Southern Republic Is Answered.

WAR VESSELS START AT ONCE

Citizens Resident in the Country Call on the Government for Protection

Washington, April 26.—Three American warships have been ordered into Mexican waters.

Because of the ominous situation brought about by the widespread revolt against the Carranza regime, American vessels were dispatched to Mexican ports to protect the lives and property of Americans and other foreigners in that country.

Secretary of State Underhill Colby, acting upon a request from American consuls in several parts of Mexico, announced that vessels would be sent south immediately.

Subsequently, the navy department, presumably at the direct instigation of the department of state, announced that the destroyer McCauley and the cruiser Salem had been directed to proceed south from San Diego to the Pacific Mexican ports of Topolobampo and Mazatlan.

The request came from Mazatlan and Topolobampo, on the Pacific coast, and Frontera, on the Gulf coast.

Details as to the requests of the American agents were not made public. Advises said that 350 Mexican federal troops with two cannon had arrived at Mazatlan, but there have been no reports of disturbances there or at the other two ports.

Advices received here by Gen. Salvador Alvarado, representative of Sonora, said that Col. Rodolfo Gall, a former federal commander in the state of Tamaulipas, defected a Carranzista force under Gen. Rosalbe Rodriguez at Linares and that the federalists retreated toward Monterrey.

Mexico alone protested against the landing of American marines in Guatemala to protect foreigners during the recent revolution there, according to advices from Guatemala City.

Donkeys, April 26.—Gen. Ignacio Pesqueira, president of the supreme military court of Mexico, said to have been appointed military governor of Sonora, was arrested by United States officers as he stepped off a train here. A woman, said to have been brought here by Pesqueira from Mexico, was detained.

Pesqueira's arrest was said to be in connection with bringing the woman into the United States and transporting her here from Laredo, Tex. Pesqueira is married. One of his nephews, Robert Pesqueira, was financial agent for the Carranza government at El Paso.

General Pesqueira is from one of the most widely known and wealthiest families of Sonora. He has vast cattle and mining interests.

The young woman detained with Pesqueira gave her name as Maria Rodriguez of Mexico City. This was the second time she had accompanied United States officers on trips to the United States, according to a statement General Pesqueira made.

General Pesqueira showed no hesitancy in answering questions concerning his relations with the woman, whom he had known since 1914. He said: "I was questioned and answered: 'Yes, why not?'"

General Pesqueira said his family lived in the Arispe district of Sonora and that he is the father of nine children.

Washington, April 27.—More than a dozen sugar refiners met here with Howard Flagg, assistant to the attorney general in charge of the high cost of living campaign, to discuss ways and means of increasing the sugar supply.

The conference was behind closed doors and in advance of the meeting Mr. Flagg would not add to his previous statement that the purpose was to discuss "the whole sugar situation." It was understood, however, that the question of sugar prices, if taken up at all, would be discussed in its relation to the obtaining of adequate stocks to meet the public demand.

FAIL TO END STRIKE

Deadlock Develops at Grunau's "Peace" Meeting in Chicago.

Overtures to Halt the Tieup Were Rejected Without Ceremony and Gathering Adjourned.

Chicago, April 24.—Peace overtures in the rail strike were rejected unceremoniously by the rebel switchmen after an exciting session in a mass meeting called by John Grunau, insurgent leader. Absence of representatives of the railroad from the conference was the chief stumbling block in the way of a compromise.

Grunau's very obvious hint that a motion for a vote on the advisability of continuing the strike was in order was greeted with silence.

One impromptu speaker then proceeded to ask Mr. Grunau what guarantee the men would have of recognition, restoration of seniority rights, precedence over strikers near them.

Several squads of policemen were scattered through the hall to preserve order, but there were no radical demonstrations. Hecklers in the gallery were silenced by strikers near them.

Grunau opened the meeting by asking if any representatives of the railroads were present. He received no answer. He then read a telegram from Washington outlining the position of the labor board with regard to the "rebels."

He hesitated as he read a clause in the message to the effect that the men must return to work before they could be granted a hearing. But the strikers heard the ultimatum quietly.

When he asked for suggestions a hush fell over the meeting. The motion that the chairman awaited did not come. A motion to adjourn followed and 4,000 men shouted "aye" simultaneously.

EIGHT OF FAMILY ARE SLAIN

Eight-Months-Old Child Only One Alive on Farm at Turtle Lake, N. D.

Turtle Lake, S. D., April 27.—Eight persons were found dead at the farm home of Jacob Wolf, three miles north of here, the victims of a mysterious murder. The dead:

Jacob Wolf and his wife; their five daughters, Bertha, aged thirteen; Edna, eight; Mary, ten; Lydia, five, and Martha, four, and Jake Hofer, who was employed on the farm.

Indications are that the crime was committed in the kitchen of the Wolf home and that the weapon used was a hatchet. The bodies of the mother, three daughters and the hired man were thrown into the cellar by the slayer or slayers, and those of the father and two daughters put in a cowshed and barn and covered with hay.

The only member of the family that escaped was the youngest child, a baby eight months old. The child was almost famished, indicating that the murders had been committed at least twenty-four hours before.

HIGH COURT HITS HARD COAL TRUST

U. S. Supreme Tribunal Orders Dissolution of Big Companies.

GOVERNMENT WINS BATTLE

Jurists Sustain Government's Contentions Firms Violated "Commodities Clause" of Commerce Act—No Decision on Dry Law.

Washington, April 28.—The federal government won its antitrust suit against the Reading company and affiliated coal companies in one of the so-called anthracite coal cases.

By a vote of 4 to 3 the supreme court sustained the government's contention that the companies violated the "commodities clause" of the interstate commerce act, and ordered dissolution of the companies.

The Reading and Central of New Jersey railroads, the court decided, must dispose of stock ownership, respectively, of the Philadelphia and Reading coal and iron company and the Lehigh & Wilkes-Barre coal company.

Justice Clarke rendered the decision for the majority, while Chief Justice White, in a minority opinion joined by Justice Holmes and Justice Brandeis, said the minority was in favor of accepting the opinion of the lower court dismissing the government's suit.

Associate Justices McReynolds and Brandeis did not participate in the decision. Justice McReynolds was attorney general during the time the government prosecuted the suit, which was instituted in 1913.

Another of the so-called anthracite coal cases, that against the Lehigh Valley Railroad company and affiliated rail, coal production and sales companies, is pending.

The court set aside Oklahoma supreme court decrees denying judgments to sixty-seven Choctaw and Chickasaw Indian citizens in that state who sought a refund of $10,000 collected by Love county officials as taxes on land allotted them under a treaty. They claimed the lands were exempt from taxation under the treaty.

The court also set aside Oklahoma supreme court decisions dismissing a suit brought against Carter county officials to secure the reimbursement of taxes paid by Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians on land granted them.

The supreme court failed again to hand down a decision on the constitutionality of the prohibition amendment and the enforcement act.

The Massachusetts state income tax law imposing a tax on trusts administered in other states was held constitutional by the supreme court.

TO OPPOSE BRITAIN

England's Tyranny in East Must End, Says Turks.

Britain Will Get Control of Dardanelles and Will Rule Large Part of Asia Minor.

Munich, April 27.—The command is going throughout the Moslem world, (Revenge upon England! British tyranny in the East must end!)

"An entente has been reached between the Russian soviet government at Moscow and the rebel Turks, the aim of which is to check British imperialism in the East."

These statements were made here by Dr. Nazim Bey, former Turkish minister of instruction, who, through secret channels, appears to be in close contact with developments in Turkey and with activities throughout the Mohammedan world.

Nazim insists that the secret agreement between the Turkish government and Britain, signed in April, 1913, is neither a "fake" nor a "piece of Turkish national propaganda," as it officially has been branded in Paris and London.

He asserts the treaty exists and its existence will be proved when the time comes, and that when the allies make public their treaty with Turkey it will be found that Britain has succeeded in forcing the terms of her secret treaty with Turkey into the formal pact between the allies and the sultan's nation.

San Remo, April 27.—Through the Turkish treaty Great Britain gets: First—Palestine. Second—Mesopotamia. Third—Caucasus, with the ports of Batum and Baku.

Fourth—The Baghdad railway. Fifth—Control of the Dardanelles. Sixth—Sole rights to the Suez canal through the capture of Egypt and the Turk recognition of the protectorate. Seventh—Protection of the Mussulman empire through maintaining King Hejaz of Arabia.

POLICE KILL MASTER THIEF

"Man in Black Silk Mask" Slain in Chicago Police Station—$85,000 Worth of Goods.

Chicago, April 27.—Harry J. James, man of a dozen aliases, gentleman and business man, scientific burglar, "Raffles" and robber de luxe, remembered by a score of Chicago residents as "The man in the black silk mask," died when a policeman's bullet bored through his brain. He was shot in a sensational battle with a dozen officers at the town hall police station.

Immediately afterward the police, investigating James' affairs, came upon these things: A private warehouse on the first floor of 2214 North Clark street. The contents of this warehouse were appraised by Capt. John McCarthy at $85,000. A secret chamber in the basement of this warehouse, in which was found a collection of oriental rugs appraised roughly at $50,000. An address book carried by James, in which were listed nearly 700 names and addresses of prospective victims from Lake Shore drive to Evanston. Also the discovery that James was wearing a pair of trousers bearing the tailor's inscription, "Senator Lorimer, 1011."

POST IS ACCUSED OF ILLEGAL ACTS

Is Cited Before the House as an Aid to Aliens.

PROBE CONDUCT IN OFFICE

Declared That the Assistant Secretary of Labor Misused His Authority in Dealing With Radicals Slated for Deportation.

Washington, April 28.—Charges that Louis F. Post of Chicago, assistant secretary of labor, had violated the law "in behalf of aliens who have contempt for this government and who are trying to overthrow it" were made before the house rules committee by Chairman Johnson of the house immigration committee.

Mr. Johnson was the first witness at the investigation into Mr. Post's conduct in handling deportation proceedings against radical aliens. He was followed by Representative Hoch of Kansas, whose resolution looking toward the possible impeachment of the assistant secretary is before the committee. Mr. Post was not present.

Chairman Johnson presented a report of committee investigators, prepared by W. A. Blackwell of Seattle, Wash., which reviewed many score deportation proceedings in which Mr. Post was said to have canceled deportations recommended by immigration inspectors and the immigration bureau.

Acted With Rapidity. The report, according to Mr. Johnson, showed the assistant secretary followed "for a time the opinion of Secretary Wilson" that membership in the communist party was ground for deportation, but that he later "changed his mind" and ordered many communists freed.

"Mr. Post called for cases," declared Johnson, "to be sent him at the rate of ten per day, these cases going over the heads of the commissioner general of immigration and the law clerks of his bureau, and without having received his signature, were ordered canceled by Assistant Secretary Post."

Chairman Johnson declared "the public is not seeing red without a reason."

"It is seeing its laws violated by public officials," he declared, "in behalf of aliens who have contempt for this government and who are here trying to overthrow it, and who are in league with similar revolutionists throughout the world, whether they call themselves socialists, bolsheviks, communists or anarchists; or whether they contribute dollars to the 'cause' or throw bombs for 'the cause'."

"Neither these aliens nor their revolutionary notions are needed in the United States, and if necessary congress should clean out any executive department that encourages these aliens, or indorses their ideas. Personally I cannot believe that Secretary Wilson knows what sort of 'boring from within' is going on within his department."

Urges "Showdown"

Representative Hoch declared his resolution did not involve any "political or partisan consideration," but he added "there should be a showdown in a situation which has become intolerable."

"Many hundreds of aliens, taken for deportation under the law against alien anarchists, have been turned loose," he continued, "Among them are not only aliens taken in the so-called 'raids,' but scores of aliens taken under individual arrest all over the country, because of their known activities. A number of times it has been charged on the floor of congress, by both Republicans and Democrats, that by his actions Mr. Post has practically nullified the law."

After reviewing the anarchist exclusion law of 1918, Mr. Hoch declared "it seems to have been administered almost entirely, if not entirely, by Assistant Secretary Post."

He said the report of the investigators of the immigration committee showed that 38 aliens arrested as anarchists were released by Mr. Post without awaiting the record of evidence to support the charge.

In hundreds of other cases, Hoch asserted that Post canceled deportation warrants, recommended by immigration inspectors, examiners and Commissioner General Caminetti. He said also that many aliens arrested for deportation had been released without bond pending hearing, although "by the law under which the department is now operating, I find no authority for release without bond."

Buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy before leaving home. As a rule it cannot be obtained when on a hunting, fishing or other trip. ## Make the Most of Your Tractor Power

A TRACTOR will do better and more work if it operates machines and implements especially designed for tractor operation instead of horse machines. A horse plow is inconvenient to use with a tractor, whereas a self-lift power plow works with it like a one-unit machine. The same is true of harrowing. Horse harrows are all very well for harrowing with horses, but when it comes to tractor operation they are not quite as convenient as they might be.

The International Leverless Disk Harrow was designed especially to meet the need for a rugged, efficient disk harrow that could be managed by the tractor operator without difficulty or inconvenience, working as a one-unit outfit. The gangs are set by merely backing the tractor, the operation being automatic. They are straightened by the simple act of pulling a cord tied to the tractor seat, this operation also being automatic, so the operator doesn't have to stop for the wet spots or go around, but straightens the gangs by a jerk on the cord—and rolls across like a wagon.

Tractorize your harrowing just as you have already tractorized your plowing—get tractor equipment to work with your tractor. Get an International Leverless Disk Harrow—from us.

GARDENS LESSEN COST OF LIVING

They Will Return Abundantly in Proportion to Time and Effort Expended.

COMMERCIAL PLANTING CUT

Big Vegetable Gardeners See No Way of Obtaining Enough Labor to Conduct Usual Operations—Make All Plans Early.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

One way of reducing the cost of living is open to every man, woman and child who can get the use of an idle plot of ground. That way lies through the planting and cultivation of a home garden—a Thrift garden. War gardeners played their part in the great mobilization of resources in wartime—Thrift gardens now have their own big job in helping households to feed themselves.

The reasons for Thrift gardens are many and various. The same reasons that existed last year and the year before still are present. Thrift gardens will produce food where nothing otherwise would be produced, they will reduce family food bills, they will return abundantly in proportion to the time and effort devoted to them. But added to these reasons is another one peculiar to this year.

Less Commercial Planting. Reports to the United States department of agriculture indicate that the plantings by commercial vegetable gardeners will be materially reduced this year, because the commercial gardeners see no way of obtaining enough labor to conduct their usual operations. The commercial gardeners claim that they have paid high wages in endeavors to keep up production, but now have reached the point where the returns will not justify the continuance of this expense. At least, that is the report reaching the department of agriculture from seed merchants, whose operations at this season are being curtailed. The cost of labor is the most important factor in the cost of production. The care of a home garden is not hard work if the fitting of the land and the main part of the cultivation is done with horse-drawn tools. Plan the farm garden right, work it right, and it will prove the most profitable piece of land on the farm.

A Typical Home Garden—The Sort That Will Bring Health and Profit to the Tillers.

son are regarded as a good indication of what conditions will be a month or two from now.

If the reduction of commercial gardening becomes a fact, the obvious result will be fewer vegetables and higher prices. The logical remedy is a remedy, moreover, that will work no harm even if to the commercial acreage should be up to normal, as any surplus of fresh vegetables may be saved by canning, drying, and other means of conservation and the surplus kept so that it will be useful next fall and winter.

Many More Gardens Needed. Thousands of families learned the value of home gardens in wartime. United States department of agriculture specialists believe it essential that these families' interest be maintained and that other producers be added to the home-food producers.

"Now is the time to begin making plans for your 1920 Thrift gardens," these specialists declare. "First, locate a piece of suitable land; second, make your plan; third, get your seeds; fourth, start work at the earliest possible moment."

A request to the United States department of agriculture, Washington, D. C., will bring a booklet that will tell how to plan your garden, how much seed to buy, how to get the land in shape for cultivation, how to take every other step in the process of making your back yard or some other vacant lot help feed you.

WEEDS ARE VALUABLE ASSET

Noxious Plants Cut Down and Turned Under Excellent Fertilizer for Garden.

Weeds in the back yard or on that vacant lot next door are an asset to the gardener, for he knows, or should know, that these weeds, cut down and turned under in the garden plot, mean fertilizer for his soil. Turn the rank grass under with the wheel hoe and cultivate it once to destroy the growth. When manure is not procurable this green material is invaluable.

Corn Stalks for Bedding.

Corn stalks for bedding are greatly improved if run through the feed cutter. They absorb moisture better and the manure is more easily handled.

Better Not to Repeat.

In planning the garden it is well to keep in mind the old rule that it is better not to repeat the same crop where it grew last year.

Raising Orphan Lambs.

Orphan lambs need the same clean, careful feeding as a baby.

EFFICIENT PLANNING OF GARDENS FAVORED

Important to Make Cultivation Easy and Simple.

Plant in Long, Straight Rows and Cultivate at Least Once Each Week—Hardest Part of Work Performed by Horse.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Of several thousand farm women who answered a series of questions sent out by the extension service of the United States department of agriculture, 92 per cent had gardens and 56 per cent of the gardens were tended mainly by the women themselves. If this be universally true, it is important that the farm garden be planned so that the work of cultivating it will be simple and easy. All of the heavier work, such as plowing and fitting the land, should be done by men with the aid of a team.

The garden should be planted in long, straight rows and cultivated once a week with a horse, according to specifications.

The Long Rows in This Farm Garden Are Great Time and Labor Savers, Making Possible the Use of a Horse in Cultivation.

clialists. If this much is done by the men the work of the women will be materially reduced. The care of a home garden is not hard work if the fitting of the land and the main part of the cultivation is done with horse-drawn tools. Plan the farm garden right, work it right, and it will prove the most profitable piece of land on the farm.

FEED OF GREAT IMPORTANCE

Largest Single Item of Expense With All Classes of Live Stock—Labor Stock Varies.

With all classes of live stock feed is the largest single item of expense. There are many other items, however, which go to make up the total cost. Cost studies have usually shown that the gross cost of keeping a farm horse is made up approximately of 65 per cent feed cost, 15 per cent labor and 20 per cent other costs. The cost of producing milk is made up of about 50 per cent feed cost, 25 per cent labor cost and 25 per cent miscellaneous costs. With hogs 75 per cent of the total cost is usually feed cost.

These costs will, of course, vary, according to J. J. Falconer of Ohio State university. Purebred stock generally gets more time than grades. The method of handling the live stock, the arrangement of the farm for feeding, watering and care for the stock will affect the proportion of the total cost due to labor.

TEST SEEDS BEFORE SOWING

Essential Preparation Consists of Providing Apparatus and Knowledge of Methods.

Practically the only element in crop production that the farmer has completely under his own control is the planting of good seed.

It is important that farm seeds be tested before they are sown. Otherwise, a full crop cannot be grown even under the most favorable growing conditions.

Seed testing for practical results, says the United States Department of Agriculture, can be done much more easily than is generally believed. The essential preparation for making good seed tests consists of providing the simple apparatus necessary and of becoming familiar with the general purposes and methods of testing and the features of importance peculiar to tests of particular kinds of seeds. Ask the county agent, or write the Department of Agriculture for a bulletin.

GOOD TREATMENT FOR PIGS

Salt in Feed and Wood Ashes Sprinkled on Floor Is Recommended as Spring Tonic.

A simple treatment for pigs which become lame and off their feed, due to constipation through overfeeding or increase of damp, uncomfortable quarters, is to give salt in their feed and sprinkle wood ashes on the floor.

POULTRY NOTES

Take care of your setting hens, feed and water them regularly.

Perhaps the greatest drawback to turkey farms is the lack of range.

When the chicks have learned to roost it is much easier to protect them from mites.

Although ducks and geese are water fowls, they must have a dry, well-bedded house or shed to rest in.

Mites, lice and fleas are the prolific and everlasting root of most of the troubles of the poultry raiser.

GOOD STYLE IN SUMMER WRAPS

COATS and sweaters, for spring and summer wear, with very few exceptions in designs with few freakish or ungraceful models is high; that is, in color and form the new outer garments are artistic and pleasing and there are models for all personalities. The sweaters and sweater coats preserve the characteristics of sports garments, but have taken on additional dignity by using elegant materials and adopting the required lines. This fits them to play more than one role, for street dress with a sports dress flavor is among the things that have arrived to spend the summer with us.

A great many cape-like wraps, and modifications of the cape, are displayed for summer wear. These are long and have big collars, as a rule, some of them to be correctly described as blouses. A few have moderate collars of mousie furs; squirrel being a favorite. The liking for long capacious wraps has supplanted the winter. Even coats often emphasize the dominance of the cape by introducing the semblance of one in their composition. An example of this appears in the wrap shown above with a shallow yoke at the top, supporting a short cape, at the back that is merged into sleeves. Parallel rows of stitching and very large buttons call attention to this set-on cape and large buttons on the sleeves ask that they be not overlooked. The coat has patch pockets at the front and reaches within six inches of the bottom of the skirt. It is provided with a muffer collar, for which there is plenty of need in the mountains and on the shore. The handsome sweater coats of silk jersey or other silk weaves are displayed both in gray and in sedate colors. Even black is very smart this season in these coats and commands itself for wear with separate skirts on the street. The model shown in the picture is double-breasted and has equipped angora cloth for a wide convertible collar and deep border at the bottom in which pockets are formed at each side. A glidde of the material ends in long silk tassels.

Ginghams Return With Summer

MORNING dresses or utility dresses or porch dresses, as they are variously called, made of gingham, chambrays, percales and other cottons, have soared in price until they bring as much as wool or silk frocks did in previous days. The high cost of labor, more than anything else, has brought them up to the point where there is a very great saving in making them at home, and in addition to the saving there are other good reasons why mothers and daughters should do this work for themselves. Ordinary needlework ought to be a part of every girl's training and cotton house dresses or school dresses offer chances for learning what it is certain most women will some day need to know.

For the spring frocks there are such pretty frocks of gingham as those shown here, to lure her into learning how to use a needle. They could hardly be more simple, but they are neat and crisp looking and suggest all sorts of good times in summer weather. Such dresses are often made with gingham hats to match or hats of white organza or with a new silk lining which is very suitable for the purpose. But not all the new coats are models. Any number of three-quarter length frocks are no more than suit boxes. These very short coats are in long effects with flaring sleeves and usually have pretty colored linings which serve also to face revers and collars. Long or short, all coats are of comfortable width and retain a straight-line appearance.

Ribbon-Trimmed Etona. A cheerful touch for a navy serge made with Eton jacket is introduced in the use of cerise picoté ribbon which edges the skirt tunic and the lapped across jacket end, under which shows a white pique waistcoat. The turn-back cuffs and collar are also pique.

Julia Bottomley

The Newest Negligees. Chinese suggestions are worked out effectively in many of the newest negligee garments. One model recently displayed appeared to be an exact replica of the costume of a Chinese lady. It consisted of a plaited skirt and loose-fitting jacket of black satin, the latter embroidered in dull blues and greens.

Spring Coats. It is a matter of choice this year whether or not a coat is lined. The materials popular during the winter, deuvyn, peachbloom and similar weaves, are equally good for spring coats, sans lining or with a new silk lining which is very suitable for the purpose. But not all the new coats are models. Any number of three-quarter length frocks are no more than suit boxes. These very short coats are in long effects with flaring sleeves and usually have pretty colored linings

COUNTRY OF BEE KEEPERS

In Lithuania the Production of Honey Has Become an Important National Industry.

In Lithuania, when a bee stings a man he turns the other cheek. And almost literally, at that, because it is a sin to kill a bee, and no one ever commits that sin intentionally. As a result of their natural fondness for bees, Lithuanians, with the growth of their economic system, have developed bee raising from a general social custom to an important industry. Thousands of barrels of honey are exported from Lithuania annually.

Almost everyone in Lithuania has at least one bee hive. Sometimes they have thousands of swarms. But it is common even in the cities to have a man serve you midus that is made from the honey gathered in his garden hive. Midus, the national drink of Lithuania, is made from fermented honey.

NEEDED TO TALK OUT LOUD

Doughboy Might Have Had Right Idea, but Surely He Had Never Driven Mules.

Returning soldiers tell a good story of a mule driver in France. He was driving a four-mule team hitched to a ration wagon and, as he told the story, he lost his way in the night and mist and drove right through the American trench line, which was not continuous at that point, and started rumbling along an old road which led across No Man's Land. He had gone a few rods when a doughboy jumped out of a listening post and began to signal to him with both hands.

"What's the matter?" shouted the driver.

"Hush!" said the doughboy in a low and agonized whisper. "You're headed straight toward the German lines. For God's sake turn around and don't speak above a whisper."

"Whisper, h—!" boomed the driver. "I've got to turn four mules around."

MOST PROLIFIC HYMN WRITER

Fanny Crosby Credited With the Composition of More than 6,000 Popular Religious Lyrics.

Fanny Crosby, the blind writer of more than 6,000 hymns, had an interesting if uneventful career, according to a recent sketch in "Along Broadway," musical magazine. She lost her eyesight when only six years old and 12 years later, at the New York Institute for the Blind, she met and fell in love with the blind musician, Alexander Van Alstyne. They were married and lived happily, Mrs. Van Alstyne afterward becoming a teacher at the institute.

Many of Fanny Crosby's best known hymns are to be found in the popular Moody and Sankey gospel hymn books. The simple earnestness and true religious spirit of her hymns make them as popular as ever. Some of the best, including "Jesus is Calling," "Only a Step to Jesus," "Come, Great Deliverer" and others have been sung by great artists and recorded for the phonograph.

Cured of Dropsy, Bronchitis and Erysipelas

Bronson, Mich.—"I wish to acknowledge the great benefit I have received from the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, thinking some one else may try it, and be cured as I have been. In 1871, I was so badly afflicted with bronchitis, dropsy and erysipelas that my doctor had given up hopes of helping me. I took Golden Medical Discovery and it helped me so I started for home, which was in Grand Ledge, Mich. I have taken Dr. Pierce's medicine several times since, especially while going thru middle life, and I always got relief. Then last spring I was taken with a lame back, both sides, in day-time but I could hardly stand it to be in bed all night; it was something new for me, I never have the backache. I got a bottle of the 'Favorite Prescription' and a vial of 'Pellets' and before I had taken half my backache left me and I haven't felt any more of it. "I recommended the 'Prescription' to my daughter-in-law and she has taken it and says it helps her. Building trades workers are leaving the city in numbers, some going to Rochester, Minn., another open shop city the contractors declare.

Racine—With hair as white as snow, made so by confinement in the state prison at Waupun for two years, George Hamilton, sentenced to a life term for the murder of Edward Warner in this city on Dec. 15, 1917, again occupies a cell in the county jail, where he denies the charge of murder and claims that he never saw Warner. Hamilton is soon to be arraigned in the Circuit court for a new trial. The belief is that he will be discharged, as the state attorney has no more evidence than at the first trial, and the Supreme court held it insufficient for conviction.

Racine—Mrs. L. C. Hahn became executrix of the estate of Theodore W. Johnson who died four years ago leaving an estate valued at $75,000 now worth $95,000. The property mostly personal was ordered turned over to Mrs. Hahn after Judge Michael Sheridan of Milwaukee had examined the final account of John D. Rowland, public administrator. Mrs. Hahn was named in the will as executrix and principal legatee. The will was refused to probate because of the claim that the signature was not Johnson's.

Superior—The first arrest for sale of denatured alcohol here, resulted in the sentence of Fred Smith to the Douglas county workhouse for three months, by Judge F. S. Parker of municipal court. Smith pleaded guilty to selling denatured alcohol in whiskey bottles. According to Detective William Mead, Smith purchased the denatured alcohol for $1.25 a gallon and retailed it in bottles at $2 a pint. A five gallon can and 15 pint bottles of alcohol were confiscated by the police.

Marinette—The convention for the Ninth district of the Wisconsin Federation of Women's Clubs will be held in De Pere May 27 and 28. Mrs. Joshua Hodgins, this city, will preside. Delegates are expected from Abnott, Antigo, Appleton, Crandon, De Pere, Dunbar, Green Bay, Kaukauna, Kewaunee, Marinette, Oconto, Peshtigo, Sturgeon Bay and Wabeno. The club at De Pere has prepared an interesting program of entertainment and a large attendance is anticipated.

Oshkosh—Teachers at the Oshkosh Normal school have not joined the American Federation of Teachers and indications now are that they will turn down the proposition. Efforts were meeting with fairly smooth sailing until a circular letter was received by the teachers in which there was a statement indicating that the Oshkosh Normal had federated. The teachers are up in arms over the wording of the letter.

Sheboygan—The Eastern Wisconsin Electric company has requested the common council to join it in petitioning the railroad commission to immediately put into effect in this city a new schedule of fares. The company proposes to raise the cash fare on city lines from 6 to 7 cents, but offset the increase by selling tickets at fifty for $2.50 or six for 35 cents, giving regular passengers a 5 cent fare.

Appleton—The ambition of the Rev. Father Wunibald, Capuchin monastery here, to return to the Caroline islands, from which he was driven four years ago by the Japanese, is about to be realized. Father Wunibald has been ordered to go to Germany and expects to be back on the Caroline islands within a few months.

Mantowoc—Miss Julia Steiner, 18 years old, of this city, is charged with concealing the death of her newly born infant. The girl was in the hospital for two weeks, being removed there when she became ill. Physicians who attended her said that she had recently become a mother.

Hurley—August Toniola and Celestia De Hurley, both of Hurley, have resolved to make another attempt at marriage. Toniola has been married once before and his wife now has her third husband. They have a family of seven. The man is 41 years old and the woman 31.

Janesville—Efforts to overcome the housing shortage here are being shown through the newly opened office of the building inspector, F. J. Blair. In three weeks licenses to build 24 dwellings have been issued. Most of the houses will cost between $3,000 and $8,000.

Beloit—The Rockford and Interurban railway again will file a petition for an increase in passenger rates from 2.6 cents a mile to 3 cents per mile and strike between Detroit and Janesville. The Wisconsin railway rate commission has just refused one request.

Ashland—Thirty thousand cords of pulp wood will be rafted across Lake Superior this season from Nijogon bay to Ashland. It will go to the pulp wood company at Appleton.

Grand Rapids—Abner Nash, well known Winnebago Indian, died on a farm near here. Nash was known to have been at least 95 years old.

La Crosse—Unable to find a residence to rent in this city, which has been his home for forty years, Frank E. Withrow and wife have solved the housing problem by purchasing a houseboat. The floating home, purchased at Winona, has five well appointed rooms and a fully equipped bath, with large screened porches at either end. With the craft anchored opposite the city, where telephone and electrical connections have been installed, Mr. Withrow announces his family will make it a winter as well as a summer home.

Neeah—Mothers of Neeah are to be organized to promote child welfare. Miss Carol Sweet, representing the Child Conservation League of America, is here to promote the work, which is expected to result in many innovations along child welfare lines.

Green Bay—Stockholders of the Oneida Motor Truck company of this city, at their annual meeting, authorized a new stock issue of $1,000,000 to permit increased production at the plant. The company now will increase its output to 200 trucks monthly.

URIC ACID IN MEAT CLOGS THE KIDNEYS

Take a Glass of Salts if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.—Adv.

Her Preference.

The man next door had a close-clipped mustache while father's face was smooth. And Mary Ellen looked on the neighbor with something akin to awe. Also a longing came into her heart. And one day she voiced it.

Father was getting ready to shave when Mary Ellen happened to come in to the room. She put out a protesting little hand. "Oh, daddy, don't shave," she begged. "I would like to have a whisker daddy."

A Worthwhile Job.

A pessimist and an optimist were discussing life from their different viewpoints. "I really believe," said the former, "that I could make a better world myself."

"Sure," returned the optimist. "That's what we are here for. Now, let us get to work and do it."—Boston Transcript.

How much should I give to make this a better world?

A CERTAIN man in New York filled out his income tax report.

It showed an income so large that his tax was 53%. And his total gifts to church and charity for the year were $148.

Think of it—thousands spent for luxuries and pleasure for himself; and $148 to leave the world a little better than he found it!

Most of us do better than that; but not so very much better.

Our average daily gift for all church causes is

- less than we spend for daily papers
- less than a local telephone call
- less than a third of the day's car fare
- less than 3 cents a day

No wonder that 80% of the ministers of America are paid less than $20 a week. No wonder that the church hospitals turn away thousands of sick people a year. No wonder that China has only one doctor for every 400,000 people. No wonder that every church board and charity society is forever meeting deficits, forever passing the hat.

It isn't because we are selfish; it isn't because we don't want to help. It's just because no one has ever put up a great big program to us, and asked us to think of the work of the church in a systematic businesslike way.

The Interchurch World Movement represents the united program of thirty denominations. They have surveyed their whole task, no business could have done it better.

They have budgeted their needs; no business could have a more scientific budget. They have united to prevent the possibility of waste and duplication. At least a million dollars will be saved by the fact that thirty individual campaigns are joined in one united effort.

And they come to the men or women who love America—to you—this week asking you to use them as the channel through which a certain definite part of your income can be applied to make this a better world.

Only you can determine what part of your income that should be.

It's a good time right now to answer that question. We're passing through the world just once; how much better will the world be because you passed through?

WASHINGTON COUNTY NURSE WRITES

they advance on Poland as the people here fear they may do, we would be in the midst of war again. Poor Poland, for the first time in centuries, she is openly flying her own flag speaking her own language, and ruling her own land. She needs and deserves all the support we can give her.

At present we are billeted in the home of the Countess. She was away on the Revira just after having completed this beautiful home and returned to find it requisitioned by the government for the use of the American Red Cross. It is quite a palace, extremely large and very beautiful. We are not yet assigned. There are rumors on being sent to a typhus hospital. We are enjoying life so really do not care when or where we go. I was out to dinner last night with an American officer at a cafe where we netted our own fish that we had for dinner. It was great sport, for me who had never before gone fishing at the dinner table. After dinner we went to a dance at an American Legation. (It sounds finer than it really was). We met many Polish men there and found many of them very fascinating for they speak many languages, are extremely interesting and interested, and some of them dress like musical comedy heroes but in spite of all their charms I do not believe I'd like one hanging around the house all the time.

Friday was Paluski's names day and a regular festival occasion for the country. Flags and soldiers were everywhere and a special Mass was held at the Cathedral formerly a Russian Mosque. Several of the girls attended but I was automobiling in a Ford at that time. By the way, should the league of nations fail, there is still one bond of sympathy that will hold us all together. In every country I've been in the first thing that has greeted my eye has been a little tin Elizabeth.

Every day that we go upon the street we see funerals. It would seem that most of Poland is dying. They are such sad looking processions. A priest in vestments walks ahead and the mourners behind the coffin. Just yesterday I passed a rough box on a wooden hearse without even a pall covering it. But at that, it was quite a pretentious procession as those things go, for the hearse was pulled by a horse while more commonly we see only a litter carried by two men.

A queer thing happened to us yesterday. A man fell in a fit directly ahead of us. His companions walked on and everyone else walked around him or over him, no one paying the slightest attention to him. In America it would have caused a riot.

Well speaking of West Bend, have you a County nurse? Also what is the news generally? I shall be glad to hear about it all. Greet all my friends for me when you see them. My very best wishes to you all.

Your friend, Olive Sewell.

How the News Was Learned.

It is not known just how the historians learned that Cortez discovered Mexico—whether some one told it on him or whether he broke down and confessed.—Nashville Tennessean.
