COUNTY AGRICULTURAL COLUMN By County Agent M. Button

Club Work

In these days when our rural population is being depleted by the rush of our boys and girls to the factories of the cities, we must do all we can to keep their interest on the farm and farm life. Factories are advertising short hours with big wages and every inducement to the boy and girl to come to the city. We as farmers must combat this by advertising our advantages to keep our boys and girls on the farm.

To do this the Co. Agt. is pushing club work. He asks the cooperation of the boys and girls, their parents, and their teachers. Let's all get together and make this a banner year for club work in Wash. Co.

We will have no distribution day this year in pig club work. Members of last year's pig club will send in their names to the Co. Agt. to be listed as club members again this year. New club members will send in their names to the Co. Agt. together with the statement as to what breed of pig they desire. The Co. Agt. will then notify him where he can get his pig.

In case the new club member does not want to pay cash for the pig he may go to his local banker and secure money interest free for a period of one year. Every bank in the Co. is back of this movement.

The rules of the Washington County pig club are as follows:

1. Any boy or girl under 13 years of age is eligible for membership.

2. The pig selected may be a Duroc Jersey, Poland China, Chester White, or Berkshire.

3. The pigs are to be purchased at weaning age at a price of $20.00. As far as possible these are to be purchased from club members of the year.

4. When possible these are to be shown at the county fair.

The fair association offers the following prizes: 1st. place, $6.00; 2nd. place, $5.00; 3rd. place, $4.00; 4th. place, $3.00; 5th. place, $2.00; 6th. place, $1.00.

NOTICE

The members of the Wash. County Duroc Jersey Breeders' Association have voted to offer the same prizes as the fair association to the winners in the Duroc exhibit of the boys and girls 1920 pig club.

The winners will receive the following prizes: 1st. $12; 2nd. $10; 3rd. $8; 4th. $6; 5th. $4; 6th. $2.

The fair association gives half of this, the Duroc breeders the other half.

E. J. Schaefer, Secretary.

NEW HIGHWAY MAPS ON SALE

The new highway map, which is a great improvement over all former highway maps issued for tourists has just been completed. The map shows the complete state trunk highway system, including the additions made in 1919, and other principal highways. The State adjoining territories in Illinois, Iowa, Michigan and Minnesota is shown on eight separate map sections. One of the new features, and which certainly marks a great improvement is the distance finding table, by which one can see at a glance the distance via the state trunk highway system between any two of 80 principal distribution centers. The maps are now on sale by the Superintendent of Public Property at Madison, Wis., for 25 cents each, five for one dollar, in greater quantities at a still lower cost.

Let Mrs. Mary Graves Tell You Her Poultry Raising Experience.

"Three years ago I bought an incubator, this year I've made money. Rats stole my baby chicks. Didn't know until a friend gave me a cake of RAT-SNAP. Next morning found two dead rats in hennery. Keep finding them. Suddenly they disappeared altogether. It's the only sure rat killer. Take Mrs. Graves' advice. Three sizes, 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold and guaranteed by Hy. B. Ramthun and Edw. C. Miller.—Adv.

CALL TO CITIZENS

Citizens' Mass Meeting at the Village Hall Monday evening, May 24, 1920, at 8 o'clock. Discussion on the water works and sewerage question.

ST. KILIAN

Grube Berg of Auburndale spent Monday here with relatives.

Oscar Berg of Edgar visited with the Kilian Strobel family Monday.

Jos. Strachota of Kewaskum is doing some cement work in the village.

Miss Tillie Lehner of Chicago is visiting with the And. Bonlander family.

Chas. Buss and son Oris of Kewaskum were callers in our burg Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Laura Flasch left Tuesday for Milwaukee where she will remain for some time.

Kilian Strobel and sons Ray and Leo and daughters Rose and Sophia spent Sunday with the Rev. Peter Flasch at Fredonia.

Miss Theresa Boegel is visiting with her sister, Mrs. Gebhardt Strobel at Milwaukee.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schmitt spent Sunday at Beaver Dam, where they visited the former's sister, Mrs. J. Mayer, who is seriously ill.

While enroute from Milwaukee to Fond du Lac, Sunday afternoon, John Blum, Geo. Heisler, Don Goring, J. Nisius had a narrow escape when the driver, Mr. Blum lost control of the car which ran down an embankment of ten feet just below the hill near Robt. Fritz's place. Heisler and Nisius received minor bruises about their bodies, while Blum and Goring escaped injuries. The car was badly damaged.

Up to this time he has spent all his life on the farm. He has learned the cultivation of soil, the rotation of crops and the mill and one other thing necessary to the successful operation of the farm. His value to the farmer can not be estimated and oftentimes should the lad depart for the city, it is necessary for the farmer to try and replace him by some fellow who is inexperienced, which results in a loss of time, production and money. Quite often such action is a detriment to the young man as well as to the farmer. For when he gets to the city he finds that things are not just as he had them pictured. He is required to start in on a job at the bottom of the wage scale and he has worked his way up to a responsible position, he becomes discouraged and settles down to a very ordinary life of meager means without the possibilities of the independent life which were afforded him had he remained on the farm.

Now the thing which has in most cases taken the farm boy to the city is the promise of more pleasure, more comfort and more convenience in his living condition as well as the promise of more pay and better advancement. While the convenience of electric light and power, of running water, a modern bathroom and labor saving devices of all kinds have been installed on the farm it is found that the boys are much more content to stay and carry on the work for which their early training has fitted them. A great many farmers, heads of families in which there are several boys, have realized this and have given their farms these modern conveniences. They have been repaid by having their boys stay with them instead of going to the city.

CHAUTAUQUA WELL UNDER WAY

The week of June 7, 8, 9, 10, will go down into history as one of the greatest and best show weeks known to Kewaskum. The Acme Chautauqua System of Des Moines, Iowa, will be here with the greatest program ever assembled in the instrumental, vocal and dramatic line. It will be a week of real entertainment, one in which all of us will be given an opportunity to get away from the strain of our every day worries and cares. There will be eight shows during the afternoons and evenings, presented by four different companies whose ability for entertaining are of a joyous inspiration and elevating mental stimulation. Besides you will find good fellowship not alone with your neighbors and friends, but also with the entertainers, for the Acme people do not look upon their audience as mere spectators, but as their friends and guests, presenting their programs with a wholesome smile of friendship and a human touch and handclasp. They are offering their shows at the old prices of admission, and have made preparations for 1920 as the year of a bigger, better and more costly show than ever before, playing to packed houses wherever they chance to be. The local committee in charge have reported that the ticket sale is far beyond expectations, some of the members having already sold their quota, which is a sure guarantee that at the end of the last week before the Chautauqua takes place, the entire lot of season tickets will be sold out. Anyone desiring information in regard to the sale of the tickets or further particulars on the Big Community Chautauqua can receive them by consulting with any of the members of the committees mentioned in our last week's issue. The performances will take place under a large new three-pole khaki tent, absolutely rain proof. The tent requires a lot 80x100 feet, and a clear space without trees, 55 x 80 ft.

Keeping the Boy on the Farm

One of the farmer's most difficult problems has been the keeping of the boy on the farm. It seems to be human nature that as soon as a boy arrives at the young manhood period, the city appeals very strongly to him. All while he is attending the country school he hears all sorts of stories about the good time folks are having in the city. During the summer vacation period, his city cousin comes out to spend a few days on the farm and tells him all about the amusements going on back home, and the conveniences he has in the city which the farm lad is deprived. All these rumors tend to excite the curiosity of the country lad and by the time he reaches about twenty years of age he has decided to desert the farm, go to the city, enjoy life and above all make lots of money in a short time.

Up to this time he has spent all his life on the farm. He has learned the cultivation of soil, the rotation of crops and the mill and one other thing necessary to the successful operation of the farm. His value to the farmer can not be estimated and oftentimes should the lad depart for the city, it is necessary for the farmer to try and replace him by some fellow who is inexperienced, which results in a loss of time, production and money. Quite often such action is a detriment to the young man as well as to the farmer. For when he gets to the city he finds that things are not just as he had them pictured. He is required to start in on a job at the bottom of the wage scale and he has worked his way up to a responsible position, he becomes discouraged and settles down to a very ordinary life of meager means without the possibilities of the independent life which were afforded him had he remained on the farm.

VILLAGE FIRE PROTECTION CRITICIZED

J. E. Kennedy, State Fire Inspector of New Lisbon, Wis., was in the village this week on his annual tour of inspection. Mr. Kennedy found conditions in general, toward the prevention of fire fairly good, with the exception of a few places, one of which he wishes to make particular mention through the columns of this paper, and which is most dangerous and offers every invitation for a fire that may result in the heavy loss of property and possibly lives, namely: the city hall. Upon his inspection of the basement of the building he found same in a very bad condition. He also urges that the Village Board at once see to it that same is taken care of, and the same with the electric wiring of the village hall, which is not up to the government ruling. The inspector also calls attention to the fact that a number of citizens of the village who are users of gasoline do not comply with the law, and unless they do, the danger of fire hazard will become more serious day after day. He calls attention to Section 1946-1, Statutes of Wisconsin, Chapter 228, Laws of 1907, that all users of gasoline are hereby ordered to cease and permanently refrain from storing, handling or keeping any gasoline in excess of five gallons, except: (1) either in an approved underground tank buried not less than two ft., distant ten ft., or more from any building, and equipped with standard pump, (2) or in a substantial, metal storage tank, housed in a separate building of fire-proof material, and equipped with a fire extinguisher on top and bottom, and located twenty-five feet or more from any other building on the premises.

LAWRENCE MURPHY HAS A CLOSE CALL

Lawrence Murphy of the town of Erin, breeder of pure bred Holstein cattle, had a very close call from death or at least serious injury, Wednesday morning about seven o'clock, when he was attacked by one of his bulls. Mr. Murphy had gone to the barn to feed his stock, and was standing near an open door. The bull was also in the barn and becoming enraged started for Mr. Murphy. The latter was too surprised to be able to get out of the way of the animal and was pushed out of the open door and a bull's head struck him on the head.

He endeavored to crawl away, but was rolled a number of feet by the animal, until he was able to crawl under the door of a machine shed, where the animal was unable to get at him. It was feared to remain there until his cries were heard by other members of the family, who immediately came to his assistance and drove away the enraged animal.

Mr. Murphy was then removed to his home and Dr. Sachse was notified at once. Upon examination it was found that Mr. Murphy was suffering from a dislocated knee and numerous bruises and cuts, as a result of being dragged along the ground and being thrown through the fence. This is the first time Mr. Murphy has ever been attacked by one of his cattle and was entirely unable to account for the actions of the animal. However, he has ever since, been congratulating himself that he did not receive more serious injuries as a result of the accident.—Hartford Press.

HOW TO PREVENT FIRES ON FARMS

All Conflagrations, Except Those of Incendiary Origin, Can Be Avoided.

GOOD POINTS TO REMEMBER

Preventable Loss of Millions of Dollars Worth of Agricultural Wealth Annually in Various Sections of Country.

Millions of dollars worth of agricultural wealth is destroyed annually by fire in the United States.

The Sort of Catastrophe Which Care Can Prevent.

origin, are preventable, summarizes the points which the farmer must keep in mind, as follows:

All matches are a possible source of danger.

Smoking or striking matches in barns or stables should be prohibited.

Endangers Life.

Pouring gasoline or kerosene on a smoldering fire endangers life and property.

Open-flame lights should not be used in a garage or other building containing a gasoline engine or stored gasoline.

Never test for gas leaks with a burning match.

Every open fire should be watched until it is out.

Fire attracts children; children cause many fires.

Metal Container for Rags.

All rags should be kept in a metal container with air-tight metal cover.

The floor beneath stoves should have metal covering.

The fire hazard should be considered in locating new buildings.

Woodwork should not come in contact with any chimneys.

Remember that responsibility for fires rests on individuals.

Farmers' Bulletin "Fire Protection and Fire Fighting on the Farm," just released by the United States department of agriculture, will be sent to anyone addressing a request to the department at Washington, D. C.

UNLEDGERED INCOME IS BIG

Three Essentials, Food, Fuel and Shelter Do Not Appear on Farmer's Balance Sheet.

The farmer, unlike most men in other lines of work, has two kinds of income, one his regular cash income, the other an income that is almost never measured in dollars and cents.

Food, fuel, and shelter are three essentials of life that go to make up the part of the farmer's balance sheet. These are the things that lend safety and stability to farm life; that enable the farmer to tide over bad years and hard times that would be ruinous if he had to pay cash for everything that he eats. In the case of the man on the small farm, this unledgered income is often of as great importance to the farm family as the cash income, say farm management specialists of the United States department of agriculture.

CLEAN BEDDING IS HELPFUL

Filthy Floor in Hen House Always Soils Eggs Because Fowls Carry Dirt Into Nests.

Clean bedding on the floor of the henhouse helps to keep the eggs clean in the nest. A filthy floor always soils the nests because the hens carry the dirt into the nests when laying and get it on the eggs.

SUITABLE SOIL FOR ALFALFA

Land Where Crimson Clover or Cow-Peas Has Been Turned Under Is Most Excellent.

Land where crimson clover or cow-peas has been grown for several years and turned under in a green state, is suitable for alfalfa when given a dressing of manure just before seeding.

Reason for Poor Fruit.

When poor fruit is produced there is a reason. Aim to find out by a careful study of the trees and conditions what the reason is and try and remove the cause.

Life of Fruit Trees.

Longevity in fruit trees is greatly to be desired, but how often they have passed their prime at twenty-five years and begun to go back!

LOSSES IN SPINACH SHIPMENTS REDUCED

Careful Handling and Packing Are Most Essential.

Decay and Deterioration in Transit Caused by Development of Slimy Soft Rot Can Be Checked by Lower Temperatures.

Losses in spinach shipments can be greatly reduced by careful handling in harvesting and packing and by effective refrigeration in transit, according to specialists in the bureau of markets, United States department of agriculture, who have been investigating the subject.

Reports show that some of the principal spinach shipping sections of the country are suffering considerable loss from decay and deterioration in transit caused by the development of slimy rot. This decay develops rapidly in transit when temperature conditions are favorable, say the bureau men. It starts at places where the leaves have been bruised or wounded and it very frequently follows attacks of blight or other field diseases. Other causes of deterioration in transit are yellowing and wilting of the leaves. Prompt handling and shipment at a low temperature largely reduce losses from these causes.

That shipments of spinach arrive in better condition when crushed ice is used in each package than without the ice is shown by test shipments made from Austin, Tex., by the bureau of markets during the last two years. Where ice was used in these shipments, practically no soft rot had developed when the spinach was removed from the car, while comparable shipments without ice had developed 89 per cent. Three days later the spinach had developed only 13.9 per cent of soft rot while that shipped without ice had developed 28.3 per cent. These shipments were made in freight or express refrigerator cars, the bunkers of which were lined in the regular way.

When barrels are used the investigators found that several layers of crushed ice scattered through the barrel are needed, a large layer being placed on top of the spinach next to the barrel head. Holes bored in the bottom of the barrel provide drainage. Shipments in baskets or crates carry with a layer of crushed ice in the center of the container and another layer on top of the spinach just under the cover.

Test shipments made to determine the effect of washing spinach before shipment showed that washing has an unfavorable effect on its keeping qualities. On removal from the car at destination, unwashed spinach showed practically no soft rot while washed spinach showed 5.5 per cent. Three days later the washed spinach had developed 24.8 per cent while the unwashed had developed only 5.7 per cent.

LARGE PROFIT IN SPRAYING

Increase of 69 1/2 Bushels Per Acre Secured in Demonstration in Pennsylvania County.

Several potato-spraying demonstrations have been conducted by farm-bureau members in Carbon County, Pa. One demonstration, in which the cost of spraying was $15.00 an acre, gave the following results: Sprayed, 252 bushels per acre; unsprayed, 182 1/2 bushels per acre, an increase per acre of 69 1/2 bushels. With potatoes worth $1.50 per bushel, the net profit was $88.25 per acre.—United States Department of Agriculture.

THRIFTY CONDITION OF SOWS

Animals Should Not Be Forced to Get Along on Little or Nothing and Raise Big Litters.

What sows demand is to be kept in strong, thrifty condition as a result of good feed and management if they are going to produce uniformly large litters from year to year. Although they will take care of themselves about the best of any animal on the farm, if given the chance, they should not be forced to get along on little or nothing and at the same time be expected to raise large litters.

MOST CATTLE ARE DEHORND

Even Heifers Equipped With Fighting Paraphernalia Are Discriminated Against.

All the market-topping cattle which are sold at the largest live stock terminals are dehorned nowadays and even heifers equipped with such fighting paraphernalia are now discriminated against by the buyers.

Kill Any Stray Dogs.

Kill stray dogs that worry the flock. The present decline in sheep raising is due largely to the menace of stray dogs.

Supplies Summer Pasture.

Sudan grass, when used for pasturing milk cows, is not only as good as other pastures, but is equal to a silage, grain and alfalfa hay ration.

PRETTY DRESS FOR JUNE BRIDESMAID

A PRETTY and conservative dress shaped piece of tucked net. The three-quarter length sleeves are finished with pointed flounces of net edged with narrow Irish lace and the girde is made of wide satin ribbon. For a bridesmaid the girde will be in the color used for the underslip and will be pretty if finished with a large flat blossom made of the ribbon. There is nothing prettier or more practical than taffeta in light, flower-like colors for bridesmaids' dresses and they are enchanting when quaint styles are chosen for them and scarfs or fichus of tulle worn with them. It is in her maid's frocks that the American bride follows the lead of fancy. There is nothing like taffeta for freshness and sprightliness. Sometimes it serves as a foundation for much airy tulle drapery and flowers simply belong to it, possessing kindred charms. There is every chance of success when taffeta is chosen for bridesmaids and the gay frock at the wedding begins its journey along the priurose path of festivities and parties.

Hats for Summer Wear

MILLINERS and millinery departments are featuring now displays of hats made for midsummer wear and calling attention to the distinctive character of this headwear. The spring hat makes its appearance very early, helping to beguile us with thoughts of bright and balmy days that usually lag far behind their cheerful harbinger.

The new displays for summer wear include hats for all occasions as may be gathered by a glance at the millinery pictured above. Here are street and dress hats with an example of a sport model. The most unusual hat in the group is made of plain and of broadened georgette with slipper straw and piping braid contributing the unexpected but effective touches in its composition. The crown is of plain georgette with three rows of piping braid stitched about it, the brim of broadened georgette, built up with several rows of slipper straw about the edge and at intervals on the straw, small, flat, feather ornaments traverse the width of the brim. One can imagine this handsome, semi-dress affair in any of the fashionable colors, but it needs no imagination to conclude that this is a difficult hat to make, an example of painstaking and beautiful artistry for which one must be willing to pay the price.

A soft hat made of hem-stitched silk shirred to a flexible foundation represents the sort of sports hat that is making itself at home everywhere. For the off-the-face brim and lower part of the crown the silk is shirred in close rows. What milliners call a "light" nose is made of folds of silk and posed at the front. A handsome tailored model of Milan has a crown of georgette. It is a clever off-the-face shape, spirited and becoming and is snarilly trimmed with a wing at the right side. Bearing it company as a representative of the great company of street hats there is a small, high-crowned sailor shape, with brilliant slipper straw applied to it—one of many such substantial looking and snappy models.

waistlines, several instances where the skirt is whipped out in different ways, and some skirts that are dipped quite short. There is a beaded black dinner gown, for example, that is upward pointed at the sides to the knee joint. Colorines are diverse, though in some of the elaborate gowns the Egyptian note is strong, with its red, black and green.

Square Necks, Short Sleeves. Square necks and short sleeves put in an appearance.

By Mary Graham Bonner

THE PLATYPUS.

"I don't believe any creature is just like me," said Mr. Platypus.

"I am," said Mrs. Platypus.

"I mean outside the family," said Mr. Platypus.

"Then you should have said what you meant in the first place instead of wasting all this valuable time," said Mrs. Platypus.

"Why is the time valuable and why shouldn't I waste it?" asked Mr. Platypus.

"I am sure a platypus should have some rights in the world. He's a part of it."

"But a queer part," said Mrs. Platypus.

"You are as rude to yourself as you are to me when you say that," said Mr. Platypus, "so I don't mind."

"Oh of that," said Mrs. Platypus.

"Why is time valuable and why shouldn't I waste it if I want to?" asked Mr. Platypus.

"Because it is valuable, as the same time never comes again."

"Two o'clock comes every day at two o'clock and six o'clock comes every day at six o'clock, and eight o'clock comes every day at eight o'clock," said Mr. Platypus.

"But the eight o'clock of yesterday doesn't come back again. The time that has past doesn't come back again. That's what I mean," said Mrs. Platypus.

"Of course, I don't care if you waste the time, but some folks make a great fuss about time and whether it is wasted or not."

"Well, don't let us bother," said Mr. Platypus.

"Oh, all right," said Mrs. Platypus.

"I was saying," began Mr. Platypus.

"That I don't believe there are any other creatures like our family. Now I am a mixture of animal and fish and bird. I have a bill like a duck and my feet are web feet. My tail is queer and horny."

"I like to live by the sea or else in the forests. There is a good variety for you."

"Thank you," said Mrs. Platypus.

"I'm very, very old. When I'm pleased I rub my back on a rock. I dive very well, too."

"Now, some creatures, when they're pleased, laugh; others snifle, some jump up and down with joy. Some chuckle and some grunt and some snuff with pleasure."

"Some whistle and some talk cheerfully. All of these things are very usual to do. I wouldn't do them because they are so usual."

"It isn't every creature, as I said before, that can be fish and animal and bird at the same time. I can swim, and yet I enjoy the forests, as I said before, too."

"And as I'm so different from all other creatures I should behave differently."

"And so you," said Mrs. Platypus.

"Well," he continued, "if I were but a bird I would sing and do things like that."

"If I were but a fish I would swim and look at creatures out of my glassy eyes."

"If I were but a land animal I would walk about and get my food and become friendly with many men and women and children—if I were a friendly sort of animal."

"But as I'm a platypus and as even my name is different I must do everything in an unusual and interesting way."

"It strikes me that the most interesting thing I do is the way I show how joyful I am."

"And you show how joyful you are in the same way. It takes a creature with some brains to think of being cheerful in the way I am."

"Some creatures wouldn't think of rubbing their backs against a stone to show they were happy. It would never enter the heads of some creatures, if any."

"I can't imagine the creature they call a child for instance saying: 'Oh, goodie, I have a new toy. I am so delighted. I must at once find a rock and rub my back up against it to show how pleased I am.'"

"Ah, be thankful you're a platypus, as I am thankful, and let us rub our backs on yonder rocks."

Which, without another word, they did.

Why is sympathy like blind man's buff? Because it's a fellow-feeling for a fellow-creature.

A Geography Quiz.

I was holding an oral examination in my intermediate geography class one day, and asked, "What is the difference between the people of a state and those of a territory?"

Only one hand was raised and Donald said, "The people of a territory cannot sing."

This answer was puzzling to all; so I asked him to explain. Whereupon he said:

"The geography says that the people of a territory have no voice; so how could they sing?"

Barbed Wire Disease.

The name "barbed wire disease" as applied to certain war-stricken victims, is believed to have originated in Switzerland, and it applies to a very marked functional mental disorder. The symptoms, recognizable in most men confined more than six months behind barbed wire fencing, are severe in about 10 per cent of all prisoners. Increased irritability appears first, followed by diminished power of concentration, and there is much complaint of loss of memory of persons and places. Insomnia is a secondary symptom. Some prisoners have diminished eyesight, many grow suspicious. All tend to pessimism.

A Touch of Mischief.

There had been a difference of opinion in the preacher's family in which six-year-old Elizabeth thought she got the worst of it. So at prayer time she was unhappy and resentful toward the world in general and her own ministerial family in particular.

But she knelt at her mother's knee as usual and went through her usual evening petitions. Finally she prayed: "Oh, Lord, make all the bad people good."

Then as an afterthought she added: "And, God, if you can, please make all the good people nice."—The World Outlook.

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Catarhal Deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy.

HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. It cures an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, it causes a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reached and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing cannot be recovered. Many cases of Deafness are caused by Catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the Mucous Surfaces.

WISCONSIN STATE NEWS

Birchwood—The college of agriculture, University of Wisconsin, Madison, has endorsed the variety of corn developed by E. N. Buzzi of Cumberland, near here. Mr. Buzzi has been working upon a variety of corn for the last fifteen years and has successfully brought it to a point where it is capable of withstanding much cold and also has the properties of growing to a height of from 8 to 15 feet with several ears to each stalk. The corn was developed especially for this section of the state, where early frosts prevail.

Lancaster—Jack Green, negro, who shot and killed George Duncan, automobile mechanic, last November, was freed by a white jury when tried on a charge of murder. The negro and his two daughters, Deena, 14, and May, 19, were the only witnesses called. Green did not deny the killing, but pleaded justifiable homicide. He stated that Duncan, who is a married man and father of two children, had wronged his young daughter and that even after he (Green) had warned Duncan to stay away from the girl, Duncan kept up his relations with the child.

Why Some Dealers Sell Private Brand Roofing

Any responsible dealer can sell Certain-teed, but some dealers prefer to sell private brands. Why? Because competition is not possible—nobody else has their private brand for sale—nothing regulates in any way the profit that they can take on a private brand if you'll buy it. If they sell Certain-teed they must limit their margin of profit to a reasonable figure. They get enough, but they can't play the hog. Every reputable dealer has a free right to buy and sell it at fair prices.

Terrible Tortures From Itching Skin Diseases

No Sure Relief Until the Cause is Removed. When the blood becomes infected with millions of tiny disease germs that attack the skin, then the fiery irritation and intense itching will remain with you until these germs are removed from the blood. Genuine relief therefore, can only be expected from a treatment that goes right to the seat of the trouble, and strikes at its cause. Such a remedy, is S. S. S., the reliable old blood purifier that kills the germs of disease, and sends a new supply of rich red blood coursing through the veins. S. S. S. has been used successfully in some of the worst cases of eczema and other skin diseases. For valuable literature write to Medical Adviser, 108 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

Prosperous Martinique. The number of manufacturing industries in Martinique has been increasing although most of the plants are small. The factories in operation are 15 sugar factories, 114 rum distilleries, eight lime kilns, one factory for canning pineapples, one factory where chocolate powder and coco butter are made, one factory for alligator pastes, two ice factories, two forges and foundries, one copper shop, one tile, terra cotta and brick factory, 11 gaseous water factories and four printing houses. Strength in Faith. It is the man or the woman of faith, and hence of courage, who is the master of circumstances, and who makes his or her power felt in the world. It is the man or the woman who lacks faith and who as a consequence is weakened and crippled by fears and forebodings, who is the creature of all passing occurrences.—Exchange

Green Bay—Edward Tessmer, who escaped from the state reformatory here several years ago and was recently recaptured at Wausau and returned to the institution, has been pardoned by Gov. Phillips. Eau Claire—St. Patrick's Roman Catholic church is going into the motion picture business. A picture machine has been purchased to give shows in the auditorium of St. Patrick's school. Manitowish—The oldest singing society in Wisconsin, the Fring Saengerbund of Manitowish, will celebrate the sixty-fifth anniversary of its founding next month with a banquet and evening of music. In 1855 there came into the village and county large numbers of emigrants from Germany. One of their first united efforts was to organize a sabbath school with about 30 charter members, not one of whom is living. John Schuetz, who died last December, was the last charter member.

Chippewa Falls—Frank Harrington, 12, is near death in the hospital as the result of a fracture of his skull, accidentally inflicted by a boy chum. Frank was driving a cow home to his father's farm. The cow was balky and Frank's chum picked up a chunk of coal and threw it at the cow to speed her up. The cow had started to run, Frank followed, and the chunk of coal hit him squarely between the eyes.

Racine—Four members of the common council were brought to the city hall in the police patrol and under police guard to attend a meeting of the common council. There was no quorum when the meeting was called, and as important matters were to be transacted, Mayor Armstrong ordered the police department to haul the absentees into the council chambers.

Private Brands Are a Gamble

Where's the percentage for you in private brands anyway? You don't know what they will do for you. You don't know whether the little mills that made them know how to make good roofing or not. And even roofing experts can't tell much about roofing by just looking at it. But you know the Certain-teed reputation for high-quality products and for fair dealing. You know that Certain-teed Roofing is guaranteed. It's as easy as two and two. When you buy Certain-teed you know what you are getting. When you buy some private brand you don't. And don't forget that any responsible dealer can get Certain-teed for you quickly from a nearby Certain-teed warehouse or jobber. He gets it when he wants it and he gets what he wants. He can afford to sell you at a fair price.

Lift off Corns!

With your fingers! You can lift off any hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the hard skin calluses from the bottom of feet. A tiny bottle of "Freeseone" costs little at any drug store; apply a few drops upon the corn or callous. Instantly it stops hurting, then shortly you lift that bothersome corn or callous right off, root and all, without one bit of pain or soreness. Truly! No humbug!—Adv.

Certain-teed Products Corporation General Offices, St. Louis Offices and Warehouses in Principal Cities. Beware of the dealer who tells you he has Certain-teed, but tries to sell you a private brand. He probably wants a bigger profit.

ANNUAL TIME OF TROUBLE AS IT APPEARED TO HIM

Housecleaning Date May Change, but its Consequences Can by No Means Be Avoided. Housecleaning is one of the spring festivals that has no fixed date, being movable as the domestic calendar. It is observed in many places following the close of the Lenten season, when the first crocus has bloomed its welcome to the returning birds, which the grass shows green, and the sun mounts higher each day and the buds are puffed up with ambition to clothe tree and shrub in summer garb. It is close at hand, may be celebrated now as each domestic circle elects, and may be expected to show many of the characteristics of the olden days. Men should not grumble when the festival is in progress. They get the easiest part. They may have difficulty in locating what they want, but they are in it only part of the time; the home folks are there all the time. It is one time of the year when the men folks ought to smile.—Ohio State Journal.

Now is the Time to Get Rid of These Little Spots. There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as Othine—double strength—is guaranteed to remove these homely spots. Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength—from your druggist, and apply a little of it night and morning and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is a cream that more than one ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful clear complexion. Be sure to ask for the double strength Othine, as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

Genuine Compliment. "No," said the appreciative listener to the book agent; "I don't want the books. But I'll tell you what I will do. If you'll come around with some phonograph records of your fine talk about 'em, I'll purchase a full set."

Lucky is the man who loses his reputation—if it is bad.

A Hearsed Horse. The man hearsed the cab and instructed the driver to take him to his residence near the cemetery. On dismounting, he gave the caddy eighteen pence, his exact legal fare and no more. The caddy looked at the coins, slowly pocketed them, and said, pointing to the horse: "I've seen that white 'oss with the short tail?" "Yes," said the man, rather puzzled; "what of him?" "Oh, nothing; only I 'opas as he'll be the next time you're brought here as I'll be by a black 'oss with a long tail! Evenin', sir."—Edinburgh Scotsman.

Billions of Tons of New Fuel. For the production of cheap electricity, briquettes and certain by-products the government of Victoria is planning to develop immense deposits of brown coal, estimated to exceed 20,000,000,000 tons.

Another Quick Firing Pistol. An Alabama man has invented a pistol that is practically a miniature machine gun, as its cartridges are loaded into a chain of almost any length desired.

Teamster's Life Saved. "Peterson Ointment Co., Inc. I had a very severe sore on my leg for years. I am a teamster. I tried all medicines and salves, but without success. I tried doctors, but they failed to cure me. I couldn't sleep for many nights from pain. Doctors said I could not live for more than two years. Finally Peterson's Ointment was recommended to me and by its use the sore was entirely healed. Thankfully yours, William Haase, West Park, Ohio, care P. G. Reitz, Box 193."

Platinum. It would appear that there has almost ceased production of Russian platinum. In normal times 90 per cent of the world's output came from Russia, and the United States takes about one-half of the world's production. Nothing can be done for the Miss Nancy news. "Pick" for "pick" is one of them.

For Every Home

A table drink that refreshes, but leaves no after-depression—

Instant Postum

Much used nowadays instead of coffee as a breakfast beverage because of its similarity in flavor to coffee, but with entire absence of ill effect, since Postum contains no "caffeine."

Children Cry For

Special Care of Baby.

That Baby should have a bed of its own all agreed. Yet it is more reasonable for an infant to sleep with grown-ups than to use a man's medicine in an attempt to regulate the delicate organism of that same infant. Either practice is to be shunned. Neither would be tolerated by specialists in children's diseases. Your Physician will tell you that Baby's medicine must be prepared with even greater care than Baby's food. A Baby's stomach when in good health is too often disarranged by improper food. Could you for a moment, then, think of giving to your ailing child anything but a medicine especially prepared for Infants and Children? Don't be deceived. Make a mental note of this:—It is important, Mothers, that you should remember that to function well, the digestive organs of your Baby must receive special care. No Baby is so abnormal that the desired results may be had from the use of medicines primarily prepared for grown-ups. MOTHERS SHOULD READ THE BOOKLET THAT IS AROUND EVERY BOTTLE OF FLETCHER'S CASTORIA.

The IHC Line
By the
INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER COMPANY

REPAIRS made for International implements and other farm equipment by the Harvester Company are the only repairs made from the original patterns. All others are copied from copies, and in this roundabout reproduction they may lose in correctness of shape, sharpness of detail, closeness in fitting, and quality of material. These repairs are made for Deering, McCormick, Milwaukee, Titan and other International-made machines.

Genuine IHC Repairs
Are Better in Quality
Fit Better and Wear Longer

The Harvester Company stands back of its machines. Be fair in the matter. Do not substitute imitation repairs for the genuine and expect best service. Repairs made by other concerns and marked "Made for" or "Will fit", are not genuine IHC repairs. They often lack weight, are not always correct in shape, are imperfectly finished, do not fit properly, or are made of inferior material. BRITISH TROOPS LANDED IN ERIN

MORE RIOTING IN ULSTER

Unionists and Nationalists Clash After Night of Terror—Soldier Killed and Shop Windows Smashed by Mobs.

Cork, Ireland, May 18.—Two thousand troops from England were landed at Bantry and immediately distributed throughout West Cork, where they will be stationed at points five miles apart.

Londonderry, Ireland, May 18.—Rioting between nationalist and unionist mobs was even fiercer than Saturday's fighting. Bottles, bricks and pistols were again freely employed by the combatants and many more shop windows were broken.

Groups of men and women in the unionist quarter of Fountain street and similar groups in the Sinn Fein quarter of Bridge street followed an exchange of party cries with stone and bottle throwing.

The other casualties included James McCafferty, aged 18, shot in the chest; District Inspector McDonagh, wounded in the head with a stone while leading a police charge.

PUBLIC WARNED OF RATE BOOST

PEOPLE MUST PAY FREIGHT

Problem of Billion-Dollar Pay Increase Up for Final Hearing of Wage Board in Session at Headquarters in Chicago.

Chicago, May 19.—Wage increases of more than $1,000,000 to railroad employees, with an advance of 58 per cent to the public in the cost of freight transportation service, were forecast at the first meeting of the United States railway board, now in permanent headquarters at Chicago.

The roads already are asking for a 28 per cent raise in freight rates to take care of the wage increases already granted, spokesmen for the roads declared. They will need another 30 per cent raise to grant the additional wage demands of the rail workers, the board was informed.

A statement of the railroads' side of the problem was made by E. T. Whitte, chairman of the conference committee of the Association of Railway Executives.

The entire board, appointed April 13 by President Wilson, was present. The members are: Henry Hunt George W. Hanger and R. M. Barton representing the public; Horace Baker, J. H. Elliott and William L. Park for the railroads; and Albert Phillips A. O. Wharton and James J. Forrester, for the employees.

Washington, May 19.—Railway and public service commissions in every state were called to the aid of the Interstate commission and the railroads to break the freight blockade.

The commission telegraphed the state agencies asking them to co-operate fully and to use all means in their power to alleviate conditions in their states.

The commission announced definitely that it did not contemplate holding hearings upon the appeal of the railroads for the government to use its emergency powers under the transportation act.

Members of the commission met with representatives of the railroads to discuss means of breaking the freight blockade. Officials declared the problem was of such magnitude that a solution might require more time than at first anticipated.

They were hopeful, however, that today on Wednesday would see a definite program for the movement of the vast volume of accumulated freight.

The railroads suggested several details to the commission for inclusion in its traffic plan. One of these was a general scheme for the movement of grain cars westward and coal cars eastward to meet current requirements.

Cars for food and perishables, however, would have full preference over all others under the railroad men's plan.

Meanwhile, more trouble for the railroads loomed in reports to the commission and the car service committee of the railroads. Several lines hitherto able to keep their tracks relatively clear, were reported as smooth under the avalanche of freight.

Chief among these was the Wheeling and Lake Erie. Numerous short lines were said to have felt the rent of the congestion violently within the last few days. Advance precautions by the short lines, however, have staved off a tieup for them several days, but its effect is now being felt, and only local shipments are moving, according to late advices.

The great need at the moment is to clear the tracks of nonessential shipments and open the way for the free movement of the necessities of life.

So great is the traffic congestion, according to reports, that there is immediate danger of wholesale closing of big industrial plants and the consequent cut in production.

Should the commission find, on the strength of reports laid before it by the railway executives, that the emergency justifies it, orders taking over virtually complete control of the movement of freight may be issued.

The first step would be the issuance of priority orders for shipment of coal for which there is crying need at many points, food and perishables. The use of cars would be limited to these commodities, but railroad men said they were more concerned with the problem of moving and unloading upward of 200,000 cars that have caused the congestion.

CONFEREES HIT SNAG

DEADLOCK OCCURS OVER THE PROPOSED MILITIA MEASURE.

Senate and House Committees Disagree in Spite of Former's Offer to Alter Bill.

Washington, May 19.—A deadlock on the army reorganization bill was reached by the senate and house conferees.

Senate provisions to reorganize the force caused the breach and the question will be brought before the house for a vote.

The disagreement, Chairman Wadsworth of the senate managers said, came despite an offer from the senate side to strike out the senate provisions for voluntary military training of youths between eighteen and twenty-one years of age.

Under the senate bill the National Guard would become part of the United States army as federal troops, not militia. The house conferees divided evenly on acceptance of the plan. Representative Kain of California, chairman, and Representative McKenzie of Illinois (Rep.), favored accepting the senate provisions, but Representatives Anthony (Rep.), Kansas, and Keut (Dem.), Alabama, refused their approval and the disagreement resulted.

The senate conferees offered to abandon the senate plan for voluntary military training was believed to forecast final elimination of training prospects for treatment later in a separate compulsory training bill being drafted by the house military subcommittee.

Self-Help. Individuals, communities and governments do not need much help from others, but they need to learn how to help themselves. Adversity is a blessing if it teaches the victim how to help himself. Development of initiative not only often helps one over the hill he is climbing but gives him ability to climb other and larger hills. The so-called tough luck is often a godsend when it gives one a better knowledge of his own resources and teaches how to be his own better use.—Ohio State Journal.

LOVE AND ADVENTURE IN AN UNKNOWN LAND

Every American youngster with red blood and an imagination has day dreams of traveling to a strange land; of finding there a fair maiden ignorant of the world; of bringing her home in triumph; of teaching her to live and love. And here you have the thrilling romance of such a man and maid—an American with "imagination, vigor and a laugh," and 18-year-old Princess He'en of Tau Kuan, Empire of the Yellow Sun, beyond the Great Wall of China, older than the Tower of Babel, hidden from the eyes of all the world.

Adventure! It's in every column of this strange journey on a strange quest through a strange land where the traders and thieves, despite their ancient blood-feud, are always in league against the traveler who would pass to the still stranger land of Tau Kuan, where a strange people worship the strange "Koreh," with its odor of wine and cinnamon and its sleep with dreams of bliss.

This is no travel guide-book. The characters are not automatons. The hero is sophisticated and very human. The heroine is unsophisticated and very unhappy. And there's no chaperon in this story. Also, for good measure, there's an Arab maiden, whose "lips are red and her robes but veils." "What would you do?" is a question you will ask yourself more than once, be you man or woman reader.

CHAPTER I

The Wait

There was a quiet urge in her veins that took her to John Levington. It was a gray-faded night in spring, and she refused to turn back. John held her hands in his, and could not see as real the great beauty of the world. He had been writing verses as usual when she came to his door, and the gentle lines were as always of her, his Mary, his unattainable. Now the flame that he loved shone forth in her. She threaded her destiny with his. In the dim, dusty hallway outside his door, he found her arms about his neck, and that springtime evening flowered in their kiss.

Mary would not go back. Her family, the proper Martins, had estranged her when they refused to receive the man of her choice. The fact that his verse had once appeared in print served only to whet their disapproval. He could not make three hundred a year that way. They would have no more of him, and no further talk. A shilling new and silent electric had been brought to the porte-cochere, and long-lashed pearls appeared on her dressing-table. These gifts and their bland object were only a storm from Mary. When she had looked her mother from the room and had lain under the door to think and read, the spring twilight had found her, had touched her cheek and raised her from the rug. It whispered to her, and caused again the familiar tumult in her heart. John, her poet! Twilight pressed the barb of desire in her flesh; her thoughts were bitter-sweet. She admitted to herself that it was not his writing she wanted for he might not be a great poet, she felt her delicate praise of her eyes. All of that might fade some day. She loved him the most for their moments of silence. So, while the last robin of the day caroled outside of her window, and the soft dusk sank upon the trees and lawn, she obeyed her own heart, and went to him.

"I will work," he said, when they went gently down the stairs of the rooming-house.

"You will write, John," she said. "Yes, and work with my hands, too for wages. I can make a good deal." "Where shall we go now?" she asked.

Before another sunset they had forgotten the name of the saloon minister who had sanctioned their joy.

They went to a small Michigan town. John worked in a stove factory, and came home each night with grimy face and bruised hands, to a small house that was lit with happiness. The world was a place of beauty and tenderness and passion. John's day-labor was something to laugh at. He was strong, and his berchardates never suspected him of writing poetry. With his beloved he would go down-town on the summer evenings, carrying a basket, to buy groceries. They found delight in simple things in this small Dowagiac, Michigan. Their cottage was radiant with cleanliness. John grew robust from his work. His pale blue eyes shone with a light from within. He took lightly the mistakes that often cost him a day's wages. There was enough. To him the universe was overflowing with sunlight.

The police came, but went away, smiling and peaceless. Then the old butler from Mary's house came, and they kept him overnight, until he forgot his errand of malice, and found himself grasping the hand of John Levington when they parted. The butler lost his position, and later Mary's father came. Her mother also, but the mother remained in the railway station, refusing to set eyes upon the cottage. It would be enough to ride back to the city with her stilly daughter. Mr. Martin had sternly thought kindly words for his girl, and would not consent to remain in dinner, when John would be home. Mary told him an affectionate good-bye. Two silent parents returned to their mansion alone, and their eyes were blurred.

Mary's days were keenly and frankly lived. On Sundays John wrote verses. She remembered the night she had come to him, and laughed a little at that early idea of love, which had seemed so complete. Now she knew it had been but a guess at the wide-hospital, her eyes radiant with heaven's fever, and she never returned.

Of the four days that followed her death, John retained only certain glimpses of horror. A pink, puckered mouth, placed in his arms a moment and then taken away; black carriages waiting before the house, coachmen chosen from the village inebriates; potted geraniums crowded in the living-room to emphasize the hideous casement—these made him a shade in an unreal world, his home vanished. He ailed, and was silent. After the blackest of these days, he remained through the night on Cemetery hill, pacing bareheaded, crossing and recrossing the sacred earth that hid her.

He saw her as she had come to him a year before, with springtime trembling in her touch, soft May-fire in her eyes. To-night in the darkness, beyond the faded hyacinths of older sanctuaries, John Levington pressed his cheek to the grass, and his heart broke. He lived again the manner of her love, impatient and golden. His hands groped out upon the sod. He longed for her fragrant body. His prayer for death was unanswered—and the morning robins whistled and mocked.

September came again to Dowagiac, and John Levington was only a name there. Winter closed in, tightened, dragged past; and May arrived to loosen the rheumatism in the house of the untidy woman who continued to live next to a vacant house. Yet another September came, and the Levington baby was becoming an old and tiresome story. The city council withdrew in favor of an orphan's home. This would be all the same to little Con. But before they could send him away, his father appeared in town. John Levington had darkened. He was tanned about the eyes, and his former bench-mates found him silent. He was lean, almost gaunt, and the light in his eyes was dim and shifty. He had no more thought of verses. The tension at which he lived did not produce rhymes. He claimed his son and they set out together.

Con was soberly pleased. The fast and noisy train was a miracle. Best of all, he did not need to be undressed just at dark, which was the finest part of the day.

At the end of the alley was a high board fence. The older boys were always climbing over, but this was denied Con. What was on the other side?

60 PER CENT RATE BOOST IS IN SIGHT

Detailed Figures on Increased Demands Given Wage Board.

TO CLEAR UP FREIGHT JAM

Interstate Commerce Commission Reports Progress in Movement of Empty Box Cars for Grain Loading and for Coal.

Chicago, May 19.—Details of certain of the $1,000,000,000 wage increases demanded by the railway brotherhoods were submitted to the United States railroad labor board here.

The classifications covered by the figures submitted by E. T. Whittier, chairman of the conference board of railroad managers, included the wages paid before the war, during the McAdoo and Hines regime, and the present demands of passenger conductors, collectors, baggage-men and brakemen and of freight conductors, flagmen and brakemen.

Two Billion Increase. It has been estimated that to meet the billion-dollar increase in the cost of railroad operation in the last two years and the additional billion-dollar wage increase now sought will mean an increase of 55 to 60 per cent in freight rates.

The increases in the classifications presented ranged from 91 per cent to 148 per cent.

Some of the tabulations showed the following:

PASSENGER SERVICE.
	Pre-war wages	Present demands
Conductors	$1.50	$2.25
Collectors	1.25	1.75
Baggage-men	1.00	1.50
Brakemen	1.00	1.50

FREIGHT SERVICE.
	Pre-war wages	Present demands
Conductors	$1.40 to $1.50	$2.20 to $2.15
Brakemen	1.10 to 1.00	1.58 to 1.51

Overtime Pay Doubled.

Tabulations based on mileage rate of pay, monthly rate of pay and guaranteed monthly rates of pay also were submitted.

New schedules for overtime pay per hour, as compared to the present rates, also were offered. The new schedule demanded in the passenger service was as follows:

	Present pay	Present demand
Conductor	1.50	2.25
Collector	1.25	1.75
Baggage-man	1.00	1.50
Brakeman	1.00	1.50

Move Empty Cars.

Washington, May 19.—Progress in the handling of the freight jam was reported by the Interstate Commerce commission, which announced that the movement of empty box cars for grain loading had begun in large volume westward from New England and the Atlantic seaboard.

Simultaneously a counter movement of cars for coal loading has been installed from the middle West to the coal-producing areas of the East.

These cars are being moved in solid trains under expedited orders, and their transfer is watched continually to avoid preventable delays, the commission said.

VOTE IN VERMONT IS LIGHT

Not Enough Ballots Cast in Primaries to Register Opinions of Voters.

Burlington, Vt., May 19.—The vote in the presidential preferential primary in Vermont was so light as to fail to register any opinion of the voters in the judgment of politicians, and there is no doubt the delegations from Vermont will go to the national convention with no strings on them.

General Wood, who was the only candidate to conduct any sort of campaign in the state, received a majority of the votes, but according to reports not one voter in twenty registered his opinion.

CHICAGO WORKERS STRIKE

Five Thousand Municipal Street Cleaners Demand Increase in Wages—Garbage Uncollected.

Chicago, May 19.—Virtually all of the 5,000 municipal street cleaners, garbage collectors, drivers and chauffeurs who threatened to strike for higher wages made good their threat on Monday by staying away from work.

Garbage remained uncollected. The situation menaces the city's health, and Mayor Robertson, health commissioner, has called a meeting to devise methods to protect the citizens.

KILLS SELF ON WIFE'S GRAVE

Alleged Slayer of His Spouse and Two Children a Suicide—Pursued by a Poss.

Greenville, Ill., May 19.—Harley O. Bousley, twenty-five years old, alleged murderer of his wife and two boy children, committed suicide over his wife's grave in Bethel cemetery, three miles east of here. Bousley shot himself in the right temple. He had been pursued for days by a posse.

Greenwood, Ill., May 19.—Harley O. Bousley, twenty-five years old, alleged murderer of his wife and two boy children, committed suicide over his wife's grave in Bethel cemetery, three miles east of here. Bousley shot himself in the right temple. He had been pursued for days by a posse.

Sneeze Reform.

Do you sneeze correctly? A learned doctor says a-choo! is wrong; that you should sneeze a-da! or a-dé! Try this on your organ.

Easily Told.

"How did you know her color was entirely natural?" "Oh, I told it at first blush."

Her Business.

"She is a woman who always goes to extremes." "That's odd, considering she's a medium."

The KITCHEN CABINET

We are done with little thinking. We are done with little deeds. We are done with petty conduct. We are done with narrow creeds. We have grown to men and women. And we've noble work to do. And today we are a people with a larger point of view.

THREE MEALS A DAY.

To begin the day, a little seasonal fruit is always appropriate, and strawberries are beginning to be abundant; nothing could be more appetizing than a dish of the fresh berries served around a mound of powdered sugar. The berries are not hulled and are eaten from the fingers, dipping the berry into the sugar.

A dish of my preferred cereal follows the fruit. Whole wheat soaked overnight and cooked until tender and gelatinous makes an ideal breakfast food and one which is both wholesome and inexpensive. Take the wheat from the granary or buy it at the mill; wash carefully after picking it over to remove any chaff and seeds, then soak and cook until tender. Serve with top milk. Enough may be prepared for several days to save time. This food is especially good for children.

If the main meal is served at night, the noon meal should be simple but nourishing. The following are only suggestions: Hot cheese sandwiches, a simple salad of lettuce or a dish of radishes and tender green onions, baking powder biscuit, gelatin with whipped cream, cookies, and tea. Another good luncheon menu is potato salad, either hot or cold, smoked herring, brown butter, and cocoa.

Another luncheon menu: Escalloped fish, cabbage salad, steamed brown bread, canned peaches or fresh fruit, macaroons and tea.

For dinner one may have broiled steak, a roast of some kind, a roasted or fricasseed fowl, a baked stuffed fish, broiled chops, veal cutlets or baked ham—a few of the good things from which to choose.

With the stuffed fish serve parsley potatoes, cauliflower with Hollandaise sauce, sliced cucumbers, a caramel custard and coffee with small cakes. With the broiled steak, baked potatoes, creamed onions, buttered carrots and lettuce salad; with an ice cream served with a sauce, either maple, caramel, or chocolate, and coffee.

Banana Custard Pie—Prepare a custard pie as usual and just before serving cover with sliced bananas (ripe ones), and finish with a meringue which is quickly browned in the oven. Chopped pineapple may be used instead of the banana and whipped cream instead of the meringue, if preferred.

REMARKABLE RECOVERY

Extraordinary Curative Power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I want to let you know what good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me. I had organic troubles and am going through the Change of Life. I was taken with a pain in my side and a bad headache. I could not get down, could not eat or sleep. I suffered something terrible and the doctor's medicine did me no good at all—my pains got worse. Instead of better. I began taking the Vegetable Compound and felt a change from the first. Now I feel fine and advise any one going through the Change of Life to try it. If it cured me after I had given up all hopes of getting better. You can publish this and I will tell any one who writes to me the good it has done me."—Mrs. MARGARET DANE, 743 N. 25th Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

It hardly seems possible that there is a woman in this country who will continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial after all the evidence that is continually being published, proving beyond contradiction that this grand old medicine has relieved more suffering among women than any other medicine in the world.

They used to call a man a "sport" when he bought an automobile

THAT was before the days when pretty nearly everybody owned one—or could, if he wanted to.

There was a lot of waste about motoring in those days. A man spent a lot of money on his car and never thought very much about what he was getting in return.

When a man buys a tire nowadays he has a pretty definite idea of what he expects to get out of it.

The dealer who sells him one that gives him less than he expects isn't likely to get any more of his business.

That's one of the reasons why we handle U. S. Tires—and recommend them to the motorists of this community.

The U. S. reputation for quality is not built on any one tire.

There is not one standard for large U. S. Tires and another standard for small ones.

Every tire that bears the name "U. S." is built the best way its makers know how to build it. The oldest and largest rubber concern in the world cannot afford to play favorites in seeking its public.

Come in and tell us what you are looking for in tires.

We can probably tell you whether you need a U. S. Nobby, Chain, Usco, Plain, or a Royal Cord.

Select your tires according to the roads they have to travel:

In sandy or hilly country, wherever the going is apt to be heavy—The U. S. Nobby.

For ordinary country roads—The U. S. Chain or Usco.

Suggestion for a Camping Trip. Buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy before leaving home. As a rule it cannot be obtained when on a hunting, fishing or prospecting trip. Neither can it be obtained while on board the cars or steamships and at such times and places it is most likely to be needed. The safe way is to have it with you.—Adv.
