ROBINSON MAKES TOO WEAK TO PLEA FOR LEAGUE

Says Democrats Must Take "Issue Boldly" in Favor of Wilson's Stand.

FLAYS THE G. O. P. PLATFORM

Blames Republican Congress for High Cost of Living and Asserts the Presidency Cannot Be Auctioned.

Exposition Auditorium, San Francisco, June 30.-The Democratic party must make "the issue boldly" in faver of President Wilson's stand for the League of Nations in order that future generations may not be "born to a heritage of vengefulness and bloodshed," Senator Joseph T. Robinson. permanent chairman of the Democratic national convention declared in his address accepting the office to which he had been elected. "If the Republicans win, the small nations which obtained their independence through association in the war with the allies will be overcome by their recent enemies, and Europe will quickly collapse into its pre-war condition of oppression and threatened attarchy," Senator Robinson said. "If the delegates in this convention do their duty as our soldiers have done theirs, the voters of the nation will not fail them. If we make this issue boldiy we will win." Senator Robinson soundly flayed the Republican platform adopted at Chicago, as "an amazing jumble of ambiguities, inconsistencies, evasions, misrepresentations, 'straddles' and 'slanders.' "

Unfairness by the Republicans in charging the Democrats with unpreparedness was complained of by Senator Robinson, who also declared that Republican "boasts of economy" are an absurdity, and that the Republican platforms "frankly admitted that an early reduction of taxes is not to be

Synopsis. - John Levington. poet, visionary and impractical, and Mary Martin, the daughter of rich and worldly parents, hear the call of love and unite their lives. They go to a small Michigan city. where John finds work in a stove factory and on Sundays writes verses. The Martins try in vain to get the happy wife to leave her husband. Mary begins to breathe for two. John loses his job. He appeals in vain to the Martins. Mary goes to the hospital and never returns. Thus comes into the story Corneilus Levington. The father leaves town and the city farms out the child. After two years the father returns and takes his fittle son with him on his world wanderings. The father becomes the slave of a mysterious drug, koresh, with odors of wine and cinnamon, and returns with little on to die on his wife's grave. Con is again farmed out, grows up the underworld and is saved for better things by Andrew March. So much by way of introduction to hero of the strange adventures of "Yellow Men Sleep," These begin when Con takes by force a small leather sack from Chee Ming. the Chinese cook of an acquaint ance. This sack contains a Chi nese map of the Gobi desert, which is precious beyond price to Andrew Eighteen years before armed men in the Gobl had taken March's wife and infant daughter from him. Now he sends Con in search of them. On the voyage Con fin is Chee Ming a fellow passen, r. Chee Ming drugs Con and steals his map, but Con presses on toward Shan-sung. Con is shot by a poisoned dart, and while he is in consequent stupor his map is stolen. On the river boat to Peking he again sees Chee Ming, and realizes they are seeking the same destination. Con keeps faith with Andrew March and starts on his mission westward with a caravan. After weeks of difficult travel he reaches the little settlement of Shan-sung and reads instructions from Andrew March to the effect that Con has been made a federal agent to search out Chee Ming, who has brought quantities of koresh, a deadly drug, to San Francisco. At Shan-sung Con is unex-Americans press forward into the Flow of Language.

A colored preacher, one of the men who are never at a loss for words, was commending to his congregation one of the organs of the church, and this is how he did it: "The missionary bulletin of this church needs subscribers. It is young and unfinancial, but through the instrumentality of backbone and grit it will become an ideal. It was ushered into existence out of purely innocent contemplation of moral and religious good, which would, in all probability, result from carefully agitated principles of righteousness. The bulletin will be observed mingling in social convolutions to furnish with sheaves of harvests of those reasonable products common to social contingencies. The tone of the whole will be missionary work."

LAVENDER WOOL

By MILDRED WHITE.

Tears coursed down Mrs. Spaulding's cheeks. Keith was going to be married; after that fact there could be nothing. Her son was her world and he would leave her. Mrs. Spaulding could think of no happiness apart from his presence, while the thought of another ruling where she had ruled, sharing where she had shared, was bitter. For Mrs. Spaulding's love, in its absorption, was wholly selfish. Keith had dreaded to make his announcement, yet even before his mother's grief-stricken face it had been difficult to conceal the joy of his own. Babs was such a dear girl; he had known from the moment her clear eyes looked into his that all his mother's remonstrance could make no difference in the determination of his choice Babs, all unaware of opposition, knew only one code-to be happy and make others happy. This to her was the most beautiful thing in the world. So the coldness of Mrs. Spaulding's manner when Keith took her to call was due. Babs decided, to the slight indisposition which the son had explained prevented his mother from making the visit of acquaintance herself. The girl admired the pillared porch where Mrs. Spaulding frigidly received her, she admired the flower beds in the garden, but her lover's mother was indifferently unresponsive. The only sign of friendliness which, so Babs thought, Mrs. Spaulding exhibited, was when, as the girl was about to take her departure, she complimented her upon her soft wool sweater.

Keith, glancing anxiously into his sweetheart's face, was surprised to find there, not the disappointment he feared, but a certain light of pleasure. "You must be very happy in your lovely home. Keith." Babs had said. His mother's words were different

"So that simple little maid is your final choice, Keith?" she asked falteringly, unbelievingly. And though he turned away in disapproval, as time passed and his mother saw Babs more and more, her caustic thrusts against the girl became his constant pain.

Babs wondered at little at the frown between her lover's dark eyes and of late her own brows wrinkled in perplexity over his new and strange re-"Would she mind not wearing any more that big black hat? It seemed just a shade conspicuous to him." Babs laid the becoming hat aside, Notwithstanding all this subservience to her wish, Mrs. Spaulding's attitude, as her son returned one evening from his visit to Barbara, was most forbidding. "Did you find your sweetheart at home?" she asked mockingly, "Certainly Barbara was at home," Kelth replied. His mother shrugged her shoulders "She is so much with that DeVoe rson," the said.

For a moment the frown was very evident between the young man's astonished eres. "Why, Barbara has never mentioned her name to me," he said. "Probably not," Mrs. Snaulding smiled. "She may have the sense to know that the 'mention' would not be agreeable. I did not feel exactly honored last evening when Barbara brought her bizarre friend to our door as she dutifully stopped to inquire for my health." "It was-queer." Kelth's eyes were hent somberly on the ground as he strode along.

His gentle Barbara and Lucille De Voe, with her noisy companions, could meet on no common footing. He heted to be always questioning-disapprovlng; yet-"

"Barbara!" he burst out desperately, as she greeted him with her frank smile, "why do you go to see Lucille DeVoe? What do you find to like in that woman?"

Babs shook her head ruefully.

"You never will wait to let me tell you things," she sald, "You search out all my surprises. Do you remember the night that your mother admired my sweater? She liked the way it was made, but not the color. And so I thought-she's been having such a cold, Keith, and it's chilly on the porch evenings-I worried a little about her -you see, I love her, Keith, for your sake."

"Yes?" asked the young man, bewildered. "So I decided to make her a wonderbetween supset and moonlight. There ful lavender sweater. Lavender is 'conservative,' isn't it? Miss DeVoe offered to show me how to make it. I had bought my geranium one in her store. Miss DeVoe has the kindest heart. She walked with me the other evening over to your house so that she might be sure of your mother's size. And now the work is done."

Keith drew a long breath. "I knew you'd be pleased," the girl said, happily. "Shall we take it over now to your mother?"

And as Barbara made her offering, Kelth looked straight into his moth-"She went to Miss DeVoe for her lessons in knitting," he said. "Barbara wanted to please you with just the style of sweater you admired. Barbara, it seems, loves you, mother." "The shade is-conservative-isn't it?" Babs asked anxiously.

And all at once tears filled the mother's eyes and she bent and kissed the AUTOMATIC SELF-FEED-This feature consists of a traveling feed chain, made of heavy iron slats securely rivited to a chain which passes over the lower feed roller. Throw the fodder into the feed box and the "Plymouth" does the rest.

DANGER-PROOF SELF-FEED ROLLERS-Here's another strong feature original with the "Plymouth." It consists of four large rollers of cast iron. The traveling feed chain passes over the lower hind roller, just passing the lower front roller, which is six inches in diameter, and smooth. The two upper and lower hind rollers are ribbed. The 8-inch automatic roller at the top, to the rear, is a special feature of the "Plymouth." It acts as a lever or weight to keep the fodder passing through continuously, depending on its cwn gravity to keep the material going through without a hitch. Two coil springs serve to exert an even and steady pressure on the automatic roller as the volume of fodder increases in going through. The spring feature is entirely automatic, and is only to be had in the "Plymouth." It absolutely prevents clogging.

Don't Buy Private Brand Roofing

When you buy an unknown private brand of roofing you give the dealer, if he is unscrupulous, a chance to doublecross you.

In the first place, how do you know what quality of roofing you are buying? He may say that it is first-grade, because even an expert cannot tell the grade by just looking at it. Our thirdgrade roofing looks as good as any.

The chances are that you will get a medium or poor grade of roofing and pay a first-grade price for it. At least, an unscrupulous dealer with an unknown private brand of roofing can won's that on you if he wants to.

Don't Pay a Long Profit

In the second place, how much profit is the dealer taking on your transaction? There is nothing to stop his taking a good, long one if you'll buy. That's why some dealers would rather sell private brands than Certain-teed.

Any responsible dealer can sell Certainteed if he plays the game squarely. He gets a fair profit, but he cannot stretch it because so many dealers handle it and everybody knows the price.

Of course, you know what to expect from Certain-teed. It is highest quality, guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to weight, and completely shelters your property. That's a real buy.

Any reliable dealer can get Certainteed for you quickly from a nearby Certain-teed warehouse or jobber. He gets it when he wants it and he gets what he wants. He can afford to sell you at a fair price.

Certain-teed Products Corporation General Offices, St. Louis

Beware of the dealer who tells you he has Certain-teed, but tries to sell you a private brand. He probably wants a bigger profit.

Some Logical Reasons Why the

First Mortgage Real Estate Notes

We Offer are Stable Investments

They are safe at all times, during financial and business depressions, as well as in prosperous times. Our serial method of making a specified number of the notes payable annually or semi-annually reduces the outstanding indebtedness without releasing any of the security. The reduction of the loan is more than sufficient to cover any reasonable depreciation in the property mortgaged.

You will receive an unchanging income payable semi-annually. This income will be paid promptly and with no more trouble to you than cashing a check, regardless of where you

Your investment will run for a certain number of years and then mature. The date when the note matures will depend on your selection when investing.

The genuineness of each note is certified thereon by the Mercantile Trust Company, thus preventing forgery or over-issue. The Legal Department of this Company has examined and approved the title to the property securing the notes.

The property mortgaged has been personally inspected and appraised by experts in our employ. The loan in each case has been closely investigated and judgment passed upon the same by the officers and directors of the Mercantile Trust Company. If the loan is approved, we buy the entire issue of notes and then offer them for sale so as to be in a position to make other loans. Our profit is the commission charged the borrower.

You can invest $100, $500 or multiples thereof and are not required to confine your entire investment to any one issue.

As Trustee in the mortgages securing these notes we require that insurance of a specified amount and character be kept in force for the protection of the note holders, all policies being held by us.

In many instances the ground alone is valued at more than the total loan. We have sold these Real Estate Serial Notes to discriminating investors throughout the United States and foreign countries, including many banks Tire Problems Solved.

Did you ever think that some day some one would invent a device that would solve the Tire Problem? The "Maxotire" is the answer. Thousands are using "MAXOTIRES." Some, of course, with the first casing but many with the second, third and even the fourth. Surely, "MAXOTIRES" must be saving owners considerable money, time and eliminating grief, or there would not be such a great MAXOTIRE demand. No difference how much they save others, they will do you no good unless you USE MAXOTIRES. They will save you buying tires and tubes so often. You can wear your tires down to the last thread-often more than doubling the mileage.
