MATRIMONIAL EVENT OF WEEK

At the St. Matthew's church at Campbellsport, on Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock occurred the marriage of Miss Agnes Becker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Becker of Campbellsport to Peter J. Hilbert of Ashford. Rev. B. J. performed the ceremony. The bride was dressed in a white silk crepe de chine gown and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and smilax. Her veil was prettily arranged in cap effect. The bridesmaid, Miss Loretta Kadinger of Lorima was attired in blue crepe de chine and carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations. Little Miss Agnes Stoffel, a niece of the bride, was flower girl and wore a dainty dress of pink Jap silk and carried a basket of pink and white sweet peas. Leo Becker, a brother of the bride, served as best man. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, only relatives being present and at 12 o'clock a four course dinner was served to a company of forty-five. The dining room was decorated in pink and white. During the afternoon the bride and groom left on a wedding trip to points of interest in the southern part of the state, planning to be away a week. On their return they will reside on a farm near Campbellsport, where they will be at home to their many friends after Dec. 15. The groom, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hilbert of Ashford, is well known in this community, having been employed as clerk at the L. Rosenheimer store, he is a veteran of the world war, having served with the military police in Paris.

This Means You

When you get up with bad taste in your mouth, a dull tired feeling, no relish for food and are constipated, you may know that you need a dose of Chamberlain's Tablets. They not only cause an agreeable movement of the bowels, but cleanse and invigorate the stomach and improve the digestion.

OLD TIME PIECE MADE OF WOOD

A clock made almost entirely of wood is on display in the window of the R. W. Bayley & Co., jewelers and with the working parts of the old time piece in plain view makes an interesting exhibit. The clock is the property of Clarence Frey of this city, and was secured from a local resident several years ago. In 1795 the clock was made and it has been in operation approximately 46,656 days or 1,065,750 hours or 65,745,000 minutes and is still in working condition. The gears, wheels, etc. are all of wood and the piece is indeed a rare old relic of the early days.—Beaver Dam Citizen.

SHOOTING AFFRAY IN GERMAN-TOWN

Last week Saturday Washington county experienced the most shocking tragedy in its history, when Albert Redmer, a wealthy farmer, aged 30 years, became temporarily insane and shot his wife four times, wounded his brother-in-law, Herman Behling, and then ended his own life by firing a bullet into his brain. The tragedy occurred shortly before dinner. Mrs. Redmer aged 44, had a bullet in her breast, two in her head and one in her arm, she was hurried to the Deaconesses hospital, Milwaukee, where she died Sunday morning. Mr. Behling was shot in the back, but was only slightly wounded. According to a statement made by Sheriff Peters, the young man was heavily dressed, and the bullet spent most of its force penetrating the clothes. It is reported that the shooting was the result of a family quarrel, which started on Saturday morning. It is also reported that Redmer had threatened to kill his wife several times during the last month. When questioned, Behling states that he and his sister were ready to leave the farm for South Germantown, for a load of coal, when Redmer appeared from the barn in the rear of the home. Walking up to his wife, he slipped a .32 caliber revolver from his pocket and began shooting, the first bullet struck his wife near the right temple, the second in the mouth, when she fell to the ground, he fired two more shots into her breast and the other into her left arm. Behling, who heard the shooting run to his sister's aid, when she approached the scene, Redmer remarked: "I'll get you too" and fired a bullet into his back, while the latter had turned away to make his escape succeeding in reaching his neighbor's home Jacob Duxheimer, where Sheriff Peters was notified. Upon the arrival of the sheriff, Redmer was found dead in his home with a bullet in his right temple. An inquest held Saturday evening, a verdict of attempted murder and suicide was returned. Mr. and Mrs. Redmer were married ten years and are survived by one daughter five years old.

ATTENTION MEMBERS OF THE G. U. G. GERMANY

Each and everyone is urgently requested to attend the next meeting of the Kewaskum Verein No. 39 of the G. U. G. G. on Nov. 22, 1920, for nomination of officers for the coming year. The meeting will be held at the meeting hall during the winter months meeting will start at 8:30 sharp.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE AT THE REFORMED CHURCH, ELMORE

At the Thanksgiving service next Thursday at 10 A. M. the choir will present "Part II of the cantata 'Die Stadt Davids'" by Chas. Gabriel. The members and the friends of the congregation are cordially invited to attend this service.

RED CROSS MEMBER-SHIP DRIVE AT HAND

During the year of 1919 plans for the far-reaching projects of the Red Cross were embryonic. To the people in general the work had symbolized war-time patriotism. Many however, had sufficient vision to realize that peace-time patriotism is perhaps greater because it is farther-reaching and at the same time closer to the home and more enduring. The Red Cross chapters with this vision went out into a program which expressed this patriotism—a service in right living for their community as a whole.

The year 1920 has seen the successful carrying out of these programs of nursing, social service, recreation and community betterment in general, so that, as we come to the Roll Call this year, it is with a sense of the Red Cross program having proved itself.

The peace-time program of the Red Cross is no longer a plan. It is an established fact. We are seeing all about us the concrete, successful results of a year's working of this program. The Red Cross organization has come to stay as an integral part of every community life.

The Four Roll Call of the American Red Cross has for its primary object that of enrolling members. It is an annual event to give to the people an opportunity to renew their allegiance and support through membership. Every American citizen should be glad to so express his or her vote of confidence in such an organization. The history of its past achievements is a guarantee of its service in the future. No other organization is so well equipped to meet the needs of a time of disaster and no community which has been thus served ever forgets what the Red Cross meant to it at that time.

No apology need be made for the solicitation of memberships. The appeal which the Roll Call embodies is the cause of the people, and that fact is so apparent now that everybody will realize that it is to the interest of each and every one to respond. Everybody can well afford a membership in the American Red Cross.

Everyone Should Renew Their Membership in the American Red Cross.
Because the American Red Cross is prepared to meet any disaster caused by fire, flood, storm or epidemic.
Because the Red Cross is establishing Health Centers in co-operation with other health agencies for health information and instruction.
Because the Red Cross is building up the country's nursing resources.
Because the Red Cross is developing a finer type of American citizenship.
Because the Red Cross is still serving the Army, the Navy and all ex-service men.
Because the Red Cross is answering Humanity's call by continuing its relief work in other countries.
The Kewaskum Branch of the American Red Cross will soon organize a recreation and other health agencies for health information and instruction. The first meeting will be held very soon. The work at first will consist of circle and song-games, a reading club and other things to be made for a permanent organization of girls and young women along club lines.

SAVING THE FARMERS' TIME

Electricity is one of the most valuable features available on the farm today, because it saves time and labor and because it brings to the farm home all the modern comforts and conveniences that belong to the modern home anywhere.

Electricity furnishes the safest means of lighting, also, combined with the elements of comfort, convenience and splendid efficiency. Let's consider the time-saving features for a moment. There are a dozen jobs about the farm that ordinarily take the time of one or two persons, jobs that a small, electric motor will do, maybe with the assistance of some one, maybe just by itself. We heard recently of a man on a big middle-west farm who used a half-horsepower electric motor to run a feed grinder. This man grinds seventy-five bushels of barley an hour with this grinder run by electricity. Compare this with loading the grain into a wagon, driving off to town to the mill with it, having it ground and then hauling it back to town to compare it, even, with going to town to haul a load of ground feed home.

Then this same man used this motor to run his hay fork and would unload a load of alfalfa in five minutes. This is saving! It's saving! In these days of little labor and eight-hour days, and it is modern machinery such as electric equipment which is going to save the day if it is to be saved. Pumping water, running the washing machine, churn, grindstone, fanning mill, cream separator, every operation, done with an electric motor means labor saved—and time. It means more hours for work that just has to be done by hand. Any farm can have electricity nowadays. There are small electric plants especially designed to provide electricity for the farm. They will run with little attention and will furnish electricity twenty-four hours a day, the year around, rendering a mighty valuable service to the farm family.

Why Move to the City

Modern conveniences need no longer belong only to those who live in the city. Delco-Light transforms the farm home by making possible the most up-to-date and modern conveniences. Bright electric lights, dependable electric power, a complete bathroom, hot and cold water at the turn of the faucet—all made possible by Delco-Light.

CHICKEN SUPPER WELL RECEIVED

The chicken supper and bazaar given by the ladies' aid of the Ev. Peace congregation at the Sunday School hall at the church on Tuesday evening proved to be a remarkable success, socially as well as financially. The committee in charge worked hard, to bring this event, the first of its kind for this congregation, to a most successful conclusion, and the large crowd that attended, together with the large amount of donations not only from members of the congregation, but others as well gave ample proof that their untiring efforts were not spent in vain. The chicken supper was certainly delicious and heartily enjoyed by all. The apron sale, and a large number of smaller articles which were raffled off was a grand success. Too much credit cannot be given to the society of the congregation in the successful manner the event was brought to a successful climax, and they have every reason to feel proud of the bazaar and the splendid work done. All who attended speak in the very highest terms of the manner in which they were so ably taken care of. The bazaar and chicken supper will long linger in the memories of those who attended. The committee charge desire to express their sincere thanks to all those who so liberally donated toward the supper and bazaar which had a telling effect on the success of same, and further wish to thank all those who attended same.

LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL WINS OPENING GAME

The basket ball game at the Opera House last Friday evening between the Lamira and the Kewaskum High Schools proved to be a real game. Lamira had some advantage as her center was the taller and could easily get the "tip-off"; as a whole the Lamira team was the larger. As only one foul was called, the game was a close one before, stage fright and shaky knees were very noticeable in the early part of the game. The excellent and close guarding of the opponents accompanied by their accurate basket shooting put Kewaskum on the short end of a 9 to 2 score early in the game. A good thorough drubbing seemed to be in store for the locals. After a few minutes of play however, the novelty of the game slowly disappeared and the Kewaskum team's machinery began to operate. Several attempts for field goals proved fruitless yet enough good points were made to find the first half close with an 11 to 8 count in favor of Lamira. Kewaskum entered the second half with a dash and soon caught a veld goal; Lamira scored a little later and thus regained its three point lead; Kewaskum scored again soon but was counterbalanced again when the opponents succeeded in caging another. Kewaskum scored two baskets in rapid succession a few minutes later and thus gained a one point lead. During the remaining minutes of play both teams put forth every possible effort and displayed some real basket ball. Several times the visitors had possession of the ball and it seemed they would score; they were guarded closely however, that their attempts to shoot were few and occasionally came far from the goal. The local guards not only succeeded in breaking up the opponents plays but regained the ball time and again and succeeded in working back into Kewaskum's territory from which two more field goals were made, thereby winning the game for the locals with a 15 to 20 score. The locals journeyed to Oakfield Friday to meet the fast high school team there. Some of the home players have colds and the team is therefore not in the best of condition. Coach Dupece expects a hard battle but has faith in his team that their fighting spirit to the last minute will bring a victory.

HOT BREEZE FROM LOMIRA

The following article appeared in this week's issue of the Lamira Review:
"LOCALS LOSE FIRST GAME"
"The local high school basketball team journeyed to Kewaskum Friday evening and were defeated by a score of 16 to 20. The local team was playing against hard opponents, who were coupled with a few bum decisions by the Kewaskum referee took the pep out of our boys, consequently, it would have mattered little how the boys would have played, they would have lost or got a licking. In the first half the locals outplayed the Kewaskum boys and were ahead as the whistle was blown for time. However, in the second half the Kewaskum crowd beat the locals and the boys were in danger of being knocked down or dragged out. We hate to say things against our neighboring village Kewaskum but a number of basketball fans showed poor sportsmanship, a fact that we hope to show them when they play here sometime next December."

A MUCH NEEDED INTERNATIONAL EVENT

Peerless among expositions the International Live Stock event at Chicago the first week of December has during the past twenty years afforded an annual spectacle of animal life that has attracted several hundred thousand visitors from all over the United States and Canada with a generous representation from Europe and the Southern Hemisphere. Its primary purpose is to stimulate interest in live stock husbandry and promote food production; incidentally it has been Chicago's greatest drawing card, combining not only a gigantic live stock display but a score or more of conventions of live stock associations whereat the policy of these organizations is formulated. No other event attracts as many visitors to Chicago, people with substantial purchasing capacity, as the "International."
Twenty years ago the live stock interest in the United States was decadent. Interest infused by the International Live Stock Exposition excited a prompt revivifying influence the valuable seed stock of the United States was not only preserved, but reinforced by generous importations from Europe, where American breeders, animated by a common purpose, purchased the best that the market offered. Today the herds and flocks of the United States are second to none.
The International Live Stock Exposition is more essential to the welfare and progress of the industry now than at the period of its inception. War-period drain has put the industry in a position whose recuperation, hampered by financial stringency, is imperative. In that emergency the United States fed the world; under new conditions the live stock industry must address itself to the task of replenishing the herds of over 100,000,000 people and without the stimulation afforded and interest created constantly by the International Live Stock Exposition this will be impossible. The display of animal life at Chicago, November 27th to December 4th, is the tonic influence of one of America's greatest industries.

KILLED BY AUTOMOBILE

While returning from school to his home, James, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Schnoenberger of St. Lawrence, was instantly killed when he was struck by an automobile last week Thursday. James in company with Vernon Elsing and Edward Schweder, school mates were riding on a wagon, and when they jumped off, they landed directly in the path of a Pierce Arrow car, owned by a party at Fond du Lac. Vernon Elsing was also struck and suffered a fractured leg. Schnoenberger was about seven years of age and is survived by his parents and two brothers.

LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL AUTUMN FESTIVAL A HUGE SUCCESS

With weather conditions favorable and the hall beautifully decorated in autumn leaves, crepe paper, pumpkin faces, bearing an autumnal effect, the Autumn Festival and Bazaar given by the members of the St. John of God congregation in the M. W. A. hall at Boltonville, Sunday and Monday, Nov. 14 and 15, was a grand success far beyond expectations. The hall in which a number of booths had been placed, such as gents' booth, ladies' booth, flower garden booth, candy stand, fortune merry-go-round, was greeted on both evenings with a large crowd that taxed the capacity of that large building. At three o'clock Sunday afternoon, which marked the opening of the event, Rev. Beyer delivered an address of welcome, which was very impressive and much appreciated by all present. In the evening, the guests were entertained with a program rendered by the St. Michael's choir, and vocal solos by Beatrice Fickler, a duet by Catherine and Inzille Gonnering which were well rendered and greatly enjoyed by all. At 6 o'clock the guests were treated to a delicious chicken supper. On Monday evening, the following program was rendered: "A Slight Misunderstanding", a one act comedy presented by the following cast of characters: Primes Himes, Harold Riley, Wm. Riley, Beatrice Fickler and Alice Ryann. "Jovial Country Judge", a one act comedy. Cast of characters: John Thull—(Judge), Mich. Rodenkireh—(Defendant), Mich. Thull—(Servant). Vocal solos by Beatrice Fickler, Catherine and Inzille Gonnering. Duet by Norma and Nora Gonnering. All of the above mentioned programs were well coached and rendered showing plainly the amount of work and time that was spent in preparation. After the program the following articles were raffled off and won by the following people: 1. A rocker, value $25.00—Albert Uelmen. 2. $10.00 gold piece—Ed. Wiszkiren. 3. Barrel of flour—Ed. Fickler. 4. $10.00 gold piece—Tom Carpenter, Racine. 5. 1 cord of maple wood—Carl Gruendeman. 6. Holstein heifer—Bertha Ghuro. 7. $10.00 in merchandise—F. Becker. 8. 50-lb. box longhorn cheese—Herman Backhaus. 9. 10 bushels of wheat—Frank Siebenaler. 10. Victrola—Oscar Koepke. 11. $10.00 gold piece—A. T. B. Schacht. 12. percolator—Ruth Bolton. Cement mixer—John C. Solms, Fredonia. A luncheon, consisting of sauerkraut and vienners was also served after the program. All told the bazaar in every respect proved to be a tremendous success, especially so when one stops to consider that the St. John of God congregation consists of twenty families only, who are directly responsible in bringing the event to a successful conclusion, which in itself is remarkable and hard to surpass. Too much credit cannot be given them for their untiring efforts, in making the festival a grand affair. The committee in charge wish to express their sincere thanks to all those who so willingly donated valuable articles, and for the kind assistance offered and to all those who attended the bazaar, and to the M. W. A. Camp of Boltonville for the donation of their hall. Roden's Novelty orchestra furnished music throughout Monday evening.

UPON RECEIPT OF THE APPEAL BY LETTER, GIVE IT YOUR IMMEDIATE ATTENTION.

Do not let it slide to be forgotten. Act at once. The children of Germany are expecting help from you.

MUST KEEP ROADS FREE FROM SNOW

The board of supervisors of every county in the state have received a letter from the Wisconsin State Highway Commission directing them to enforce the law, to have all towns, villages and cities keep their roads, ways and alleys open for travel during the winter months. The letter reads as follows:
"You will note under Section 1317-6 (c) that if the town, village, city or county fails to keep any portion of the State Trunk Highway system open for traffic, if in its opinion public interest demands the road be kept open. Fifty per cent of the cost of such work may be assessed against the unit of government in which the snow is actually removed.
"If there is any road in the county of sufficient importance to require it being kept open during the winter months for motor vehicles, it should be selected by your board at the annual meeting and the necessary appropriations made to purchase the equipment required and to pay for the work. If action along this line is not taken at this time the Commission will undoubtedly receive numerous petitions for snow removal on Trunk Highways at a time when it will be too late for the county to provide the necessary funds and equipment.
"No petition can legally be presented to the Commission until either the town, village, city or county has failed to keep the system open, and, of course, no person can assume that they have failed until snow has accumulated to such a depth as to interfere with traffic."

A Good Cough Medicine for Children

Mrs. J. W. Phillips, Redon, Ga., phoned to J. M. Floyd, the merchant here, for a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and she had bought a bottle of it at his store recently and that it was doing her children so much good that she wanted to keep up the treatment. You will find nothing better for coughs and colds in children or for yourself. It keeps the cough loose, expectation easy and soon frees the system from the cold.

DRAMATIC CLUB ENTERTAINS

The entertainment given by the St. Bridget's Dramatic Club at Wietor's hall, Wayne, on Thursday evening, was a most pleasing, as well as interesting and enjoyable affair. The work done by the members who took part in the program was excellent and showed what really can be accomplished by a cast if they so desire. Everyone present enjoyed the entertainment immensely, and hope that the Club will soon be in line to present another of these pleasing entertainments. The St. Bridget's Dramatic Club can well feel proud of the success they have made as royal entertainers. Due to the large crowd that attended, many had to be turned away for lack of space in the hall, the club decided to hold the entertainment again the following evening, Friday, to allow all to have a chance to see same.

TO RAISE FUNDS FOR STARVING CHILDREN OF GERMANY

Washington county has joined in the state-wide movement to raise funds with which to purchase food for the starving children of Germany. A meeting was held at the First National Bank at West Bend last Thursday, the object being to organize for the purpose of raising $8,000. Ben. C. Ziegler, who has been appointed county chairman, called this meeting and a large number of business men and professional men responded to his call. It was decided to send a personal letter to every person who owned a car at the recent election, asking them to make a cash contribution of at least one dollar each. In each letter there will be enclosed a blank upon which the donor can write the amount of his or her contribution and sign his or her name. An envelope, directed to one of the two treasurers—Chas. F. Leins of West Bend and John G. Lieven of Hartford—will also be enclosed, for use in mailing the contribution. The local committee expects to get a letter to every voter—man and woman—in the county, and hopes that not a single appeal will be in vain. Washington county has repeatedly done its full share during the war. It is expected that it will do its duty in this most worthy of causes—the saving of lives of thousands upon thousands of Germany's starving children.

When we consider that we are living in the land of plenty no one ought to refuse to make a donation for these starving children. All reports we get from Germany are to the effect that the children are dying by the thousands for want of food. There is a crying need for immediate help. All moneys collected will be placed at the disposal of Herbert Hoover, who will see to it that the children get the needed food. Quite a number of us will receive these appeals for help have already given some thing, possibly through churches and other organizations, but it is not asking too much of us just to make a donation. Almost daily men, women and children spend sums many times greater for amusements and luxuries, getting pleasure for a fleeting moment. How much greater will be the pleasure when we realize that we are saving the life of a little child—a child, alas! ways the object of our most tender solicitude? A dollar is but a drop in the bucket in this great land of ours—but it is a drop that we can afford to turn a deaf ear to the appeal of the starving children, so give cheerfully and liberally. If you feel that a dollar does not pinch you then give two, and if you are financially able to do so, give five or ten. The Lord loves a cheerful giver.
The drive to raise $8,000 (the county's share of what is to be collected in the state) will start Nov. 21. If you know of no reason why you should be thankful on Thanksgiving Day, just consider that your children are not in such a pitiful plight as are the children of Germany, and you will realize quickly why you ought to be thankful. Let your dollar be your Thanksgiving offering, proving by deed that you are really thankful and that you are considerate for the welfare of others not as fortunate as you are, and particularly considerate for the children of Germany.

Upon receipt of the appeal by letter, give it your immediate attention. Do not let it slide to be forgotten. Act at once. The children of Germany are expecting help from you.

MUST KEEP ROADS FREE FROM SNOW

The board of supervisors of every county in the state have received a letter from the Wisconsin State Highway Commission directing them to enforce the law, to have all towns, villages and cities keep their roads, ways and alleys open for travel during the winter months. The letter reads as follows:
"You will note under Section 1317-6 (c) that if the town, village, city or county fails to keep any portion of the State Trunk Highway system open for traffic, if in its opinion public interest demands the road be kept open. Fifty per cent of the cost of such work may be assessed against the unit of government in which the snow is actually removed.
"If there is any road in the county of sufficient importance to require it being kept open during the winter months for motor vehicles, it should be selected by your board at the annual meeting and the necessary appropriations made to purchase the equipment required and to pay for the work. If action along this line is not taken at this time the Commission will undoubtedly receive numerous petitions for snow removal on Trunk Highways at a time when it will be too late for the county to provide the necessary funds and equipment.
"No petition can legally be presented to the Commission until either the town, village, city or county has failed to keep the system open, and, of course, no person can assume that they have failed until snow has accumulated to such a depth as to interfere with traffic."

A Good Cough Medicine for Children

Mrs. J. W. Phillips, Redon, Ga., phoned to J. M. Floyd, the merchant here, for a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and she had bought a bottle of it at his store recently and that it was doing her children so much good that she wanted to keep up the treatment. You will find nothing better for coughs and colds in children or for yourself. It keeps the cough loose, expectation easy and soon frees the system from the cold.

PAINS NEARLY DOUBLED ME UP

Nothing Helped Me Until I Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Wyandotte, Mich.—"For the last four years I have doctored off and on without help. I had pains every month so bad that I would nearly double up. Sometimes I could not sweep a room without stopping to rest, and everything late upset my stomach. Three years ago I lost a child and suffered so badly that I was out of my head at times. My bowels did not move for days and I could not eat without suffering. The doctor could not help me and one day I told my husband that I could not stand the pain any longer and sent him to the drug store to get me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and threw the doctor's medicine away. After taking three bottles of Vegetable Compound and using two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash I could do my own housework. If it had not been for your medicine I don't know where I would be today and I am never without a bottle of it in the house. You may publish this if you like that it may help some other woman."—MRS. MARY STENDER, 120 Orange St., Wyandotte, Mich.

Awful Sick With Gas

Eatonc Brings Relief

"I have been awful sick with gas," writes Mrs. W. H. Person, "and Eatonc is all I can get to give me relief. Acidity and gas on the stomach quickly taken up and carried out by Eatonc, then appetite and strength come back. And many other bodily miseries disappear when the stomach is right. Don't let sourness, belching, bloating, indigestion and other stomach ills go on. Take Eatonc tablets after you eat—see how much better you feel. Big box costs only a trifle with your druggist's guarantee."

Knew What Was in Danger.
A couple of dinkies were digging a hole in hard ground under a sidewalk. One down in the half-finished hole, held a small iron pipe upright upon the end of which the other pounded with a large sledge in order to loosen up the dirt. The sledge wielder swung the heavy tool rather recklessly and it looked as though he might miss at any moment and strike his comrade's head. Just below, a passing white man muttered: "Better be more careful, Tom, or you'll bring that sledge down on Andy's head."
"All right, boss," replied the sledge swinger. "Ah'll be more careful; dis am de only sledge we got."—New York Post.

Harvest Time

This is the climax of the perfect year. The winter's cold, the promise of the spring. The summer days, which joy and gladness bring. All find fruition and fulfillment here.

WEALTH WAITS THE GARNERING

To every man there will come his daily bread in answer to his daily prayer, though it come from the milling of wheat or be the salmon caught at the falls of the Spokane, without let or hindrance from any power of earth. If there is food in plenty in one region, as by the fall of an avalanche down a mountain, it will certainly seek consumption in another region. And this the American boy and girl owe to the good Providence and to the brave men who made this country one and have kept it one. It is too much the blindness of our time to speak as if such a simple business as daily food came to us as a matter of course. There is, indeed, a careless habit in which Americans often speak, as if, because they are Americans, they have everything without so much as asking for it.

Fourth of July orators and street-corner braggarts alike talk of the natural products of this country almost in the tone of the emigrants who expect to pick up a doubloon upon the sidewalk. One is tempted to ask such braggarts why the country did not produce such wealth 100 years or 200 years ago.

Why was Dakota then a desert? Why were the hills of Alabama only a hiding place for a few thousand Creek Indians? Why did they not forge the iron under their feet? Why did not the Trojans in western New York pick from their trees the peaches and the pears such as have been growing there this autumn?

The answer is this: All the wealth of America comes to her from the work of her men and women. The victory which yields it is their victory. It is the victory of spirit conquering matter. It comes in the daily miracle of daily life, where children of God, led by God, taught by God, alive in his life and fellow workers with him, carry out his designs and subdue the earth.

It is neither sensible nor grateful to speak of teeming granaries, of increasing trade, of new mines, of all of iron or of gas as if those things were wealth in themselves. They are only wealth when man strikes the rock and its waters flow. And this man must be not the savage man who cares only for his own present appetite. It must be man, the child of God, seeking a future better than today, determined to bring in a nobler age than that which he lives in.—Edward Everett Hale.

SEEK A THANKFUL HEART
No Possible Gift Could Make for More Happiness Than That Precious Possession.

If a man were to pray for one thing above all others, it seems to us that he should pray for the gift of a thankful heart. There are no clouds that can hide the blue of God's skies from whoever shall have within him a thankful heart. There are no sorrows that can cloud the soul of such a man. He goes singing on his way in storm as well as in fair weather. No beam of evil has the power to bring a man from him. Bitter and enger are we all to ask gift and favor not only from our fellow men, but from the Great Father, as well. But, when our gifts are in our hands we are quick to forget. We are at vast trouble to ask, but we seem to have no time to be thankful. And if we shall take the time to think, we shall see that there is always something for which to be thankful.

Poor in Thanks.
The people to be envied are not those who have the most, but those who are thankful for the most. The poverty that is intolerable is to have nothing you are thankful for, and many a daughter of a millionaire is poor in that sense. To be poor in thanks is to be poor indeed.

MODES FOR FORMAL EVENING WEAR

There is no getting away from the fact that there is an all-pervading glitter in the displays of dresses for formal evening wear. It is a much bespangled mode and the only thing that saves it from being tawdry is the discrimination that designers use in choosing color according to the amount of spangled surface in the dress, and in toning down colors with black. Only in all white, all black or combinations of the two, they allow themselves dresses entirely covered with sequins. But when colored sequins are used they appear in panels or triangular borders with black, or sapphire blue sequins with black satin and lace, or henna sequins with dark brown net or satin. Heads also help out in this frosty sparkle that has settled on winter apparel—and they have made their appearance even on street clothes.

In the midst of so many dazzling rivets an evening gown that is quite without sparkle is likely to achieve much distinction. There are to be found among the displays beautiful silks or metal tissue dresses, veiled with black or brown or gray net. The nets are embroidered with narrow ribbon flowers or little festoons of silk floss. Then there are beautiful black chintilly dresses unadorned except for grids of artificial flowers or a corsage of them. Keeping them company, there are handsome velvet gowns mostly in black, dark brown or dark blue. A magnificent example of the velvet gown appears in the picture on the left. A few beads pick out the lines of the embroidery on the bodice, but silk floss gives sufficient brightness to the embroidery that covers the back and reappears on the front of the skirt.

Ribbon and velvet in a contrasting color make the odd decoration on the velvet frock at the right. This is a simple but very original design, in which narrow ribbon fringe and narrow ribbon, outlining and joining the curious leaf motifs present something entirely new. It has a lace-like border with a pretty chemise of georgette and is made in bright blue velvet.

At the Ribbon Counter

BUYERS in throngs are making their holiday pilgrimages to the ribbon counters just now, looking for suggestions for gifts. There is a long list of handsome and dainty articles made of ribbon on display, with bags of many kinds maintaining their place as the favorite. Shopping bags, containing more yards of ribbon than any other one of the innumerable things that are made of it, for these bags are more decorative and more serviceable than almost any other kind. Their richness appeals to women and their individuality, purchasers pick out the style of bag they like, select the ribbon and mounting that pleases them most, choose a proper lining and put them together in a way to suit themselves. If they need any coaching those who sell the ribbons are there to help them out.

Three handsome bags as shown in the picture are fine examples of ribbon work. Plain satin and metallic brocaded ribbon are used for the bag at the left of the group. It is made by gathering the brocaded ribbon along its edges and sewing these gathered edges in a panel of the plain ribbon. For decoration a heavy silk or tinsel cord is applied in a loose knot and sewed fast to the bag with invisible stitches, the ends of the cord finished as pictured.

A curved instead of a straight mounting is used for the bag at the right. Celluloid and metal mountings come in a variety of colors and designs. Plain ribbon with a floral embroidered design makes this pretty bag and the same ribbon is fastened into a conventional rose surrounded by rose leaves, that is set at the center of the bag. Its handles are made of narrow but heavy fawn ribbon. The remaining bag is a dignified affair in black and silver brocaded ribbon gathered about a disk of narrow silver ribbon and has a silver mounting suspended by a silk cord.

The ribbon counters display their usual array of dainty lingerie boxes and rosettes, garters, hair ribbons, sachet bags, covered hangers and shoe trunks, ties, corsage flowers and bouquets, and besides these personal belongings there are many beautiful furnishings for the seeker after gifts.

Butterfly Bouquet Cap.
There is a lovely butterfly bouffet cap. It is made with chiffon butterflies, dully wired and made of brilliant colors, over each other. Under them are fastened the softest little cotton strings, that fasten under the chin.

Sneezes and Stockings.
As yet most of the shoes that one sees are high-heeled pumps, some with long and fever with short pumps. Many of them are still light in tone, with tan and gray suedes being most popular. Lace stockings or those with dropped stitches are very much to be seen. Possibly they are making their last appearances before the days get too cold to accommodate them gracefully, for, with skirts as short as they are, woolen stockings will surely be more in demand than ever.

WOMEN NEED SWAMP-ROOT
Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it. Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease. If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased. Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are often times symptoms of kidney trouble. Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions. Get a medium or large size bottle immediately from any drug store. However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. RADIUM'S USE IN SURGERY

Its Rays So Powerful That They Can Destroy the Useless or Diseased Tissue.

The use of radium in hospitals is becoming more and more demanded by the medical profession. The scientific American, in telling of its medical and surgical uses, explains that it is a tool and not a medicine. The radium gives off three rays, known as the alpha, beta and gamma rays. The first, about 85 per cent of the total ray force, can be stopped by tissue paper; the second will penetrate 35 millimeters of lead, while the third has a vibration similar to the X-ray. This ray is the one used in surgery. The rays are sent into the body, and so powerful are they that they can penetrate to a great depth, and there destroy the useless or diseased tissue. As the good tissue has a greater resistance than the bad, the highly skilled operative can bear the gamma rays on the afflicted part until they begin to destroy the good tissue, when the treatment must stop.

WRONG IDEA OF THE BLIND

Statesman, Afflicted With Loss of Sight, Tells Good Story Bearing on the Subject.

Representative Schall, member of the house of representatives from Minnesota, is blind, and has been for ten years. During this time he says that he has discovered that the seeing world has strange ideas as to the limitations of the blind; that it seems to think because a man can't see he can neither hear nor feel, and is a strange, detached piece of human mechanism that is not to be reckoned with directly, but through the guiding hand. Not long ago Mr. Schall was returning from his home in Minneapolis to Washington, accompanied only by his small son Douglas. The first morning they appeared in the diner the waiter assigned to their table inquired of young Douglas: "Son, what does your father want?" "Why, ask him," quickly replied the child, "he knows what he wants. As for me, bring me pancakes and sausage and chocolate!"

WISCONSIN STATE NEWS

Couderay—The Omaha road has just opened up Ojibwa station and placed an agent in charge. This station is located near the Chippewa river in the southern part of Sawyer county. The town is new and is backed up by the Wisconsin Colonization company. This concern has placed over 400 settlers in the southern part of this county during the last three years. The town of Ojibwa is an ideal place for the location of a town, being in a section where the land is very good and on the river where water power can be utilized for all manufacturing purposes.

Green Bay—County school superintendents received such poor pay that they are quitting their jobs and going into other work. This was the statement made by State Sup't. of Schools Cary to the Brown county board of supervisors in his plea that the superintendents of the county schools be paid a salary of at least $3,000 a year. Not only are the superintendents poorly paid, but the same applies to the rural teachers and the clerks employed by the county, he said. He declared that city school teachers and supervisors in many instances received better pay.

Stevens Point—The revision committee of the board of Normal school regents has recommended expenditure of more than $320,000 for the state Normal school at Stevens Point for 1921-1923. Construction of a training school building at a cost of $284,000 is the largest single project proposed, the next largest being the building of a model rural demonstration school, at a cost of $16,000. An appropriation for an athletic field is listed at $12,000 and $9,000 has been designated for remodeling the library.

Sheboygan—Fifty-two farmers north and west of Plymouth on the former lines of the Eastern Wisconsin Telephone company are protesting against the advance in rates recently inaugurated and have sent a petition to the Wisconsin Rate commission at Madison by special messenger for relief. About 400 telephones are affected and if the petition is not granted there is talk of tearing out the telephones and starting a new company. Rates were recently increased from $1.25 to $1.75.

Merrill—A sheep claim amounting to $683 was filed by O. Londo of Tomahawk with the county board. The amount is for 55 killed sheep, 5 injured sheep and 6 ewes. Londo claims a unknown dog attacked his sheep. A committee appointed under the provisions of the statutes appraised the sheep at $440 and recommended that $352, or 80 per cent of the appraisal value, be awarded Londo. The county board is withholding action on the claim.

Madison—After fifteen years of effort on the part of the state, negotiations have been completed to take the American Refractories Co., operating the quarry in the state park at Devil's Lake, out of the park limits. The company is to remove its equipment on or before Jan. 1, 1922. The state paid the company $75,000 for its 65 acres of property at Devil's Lake. All buildings and improvements go to the state. In addition to cash payment, 57 acres outside the park limits is conveyed to the company.

Madison—Dr. J. P. West, in charge of the area test for the state department of agriculture, reports that during the month of October in Barron county, six inspectors tested 11,621 head of cattle on 632 farms. There were only 41 reactors, being .35 of 1 per cent or less than 4.10 of 1 per cent. This is considered a remarkable showing of freedom from tuberculosis among the cattle in Barron county.

Milwaukee—Mrs. John P. Hume, wife of the state chairman of the democratic party, and vice-president general of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, died at her home here. The immediate cause of her death was heart trouble. Besides her husband, she is survived by a daughter and a son, and by her mother, Mrs. Mary Cronan.

Stevens Point—The sum of $164,559.56 will be available from the state and federal government for two highway projects in Portage county in 1921. The Portage county board of supervisors makes an appropriation of $83,417.15 to cover the county's share of the cost.

Madison—Over $500,000 will in all probability be spent in Dane county during 1921 for road work and the paying off of deficits from the present year. Of this amount the county will furnish $142,835.86, the balance being supplied by the state and federal highway commissions. The municipality tax levy will be comparatively high.

Madison—H. L. Russell, dean of the college of agriculture of the University of Wisconsin, was recently elected president of the Association of American Colleges and Experiment Stations. This recognition is said, by officials here, to be an honor that reflects the position in which the Wisconsin school is held by other institutions.

Sheboygan—The bodies of Privates Bastian Ippel and Bernard J. Manthey, who died in the world war, arrived here from New York. Military funerals were held for both.

Superior—Owing to the lack of funds public school teachers of Superior will receive no more pay until the middle of January, and then they may receive only a portion of what the board of education owes them, according to a decision reached by the board.

Green Bay—Door county's annual potato export is on in full swing. Several vessel loads have been shipped from Sturgeon Bay and the Green Bay and Western railroad daily brings out half a trainload.

Madison—Only in a few communities of the state will muskrat trapping be allowed this fall, according to the conservation department. The rapid disappearance of fur-bearing animals as the result of the high prices is the cause for the closed season. Muskrat and mink are protected in every county of the state until Nov. 21, 1921, except in Waupesa and Winnebago counties, and in the townships of Bloomerfield and Poyssippi in Waushara county where the season is open from Nov. 15 to March 31. The same order of the commission protects does and fawns, allowing only the killing of bucks with horns not less than three inches long, from Nov. 21 to Nov. 30.

Birchwood—One of the most unusual freaks of nature that has come to light in Dane county is the birth of a set of triplets to a Holstein cow on the Nels Tilleen farm near Menomonie in the town of Red Cedar. The first calf weighed 84 pounds, the second 42 pounds and the third 61 pounds. Their total weight was 187 pounds. The mother is a 2 year old heifer. The occurrence is bound to attract wide attention among animal husbandrymen, being a great rarity.

Appleton—Lawrence college will receive a gift of $200,000 from the General Educational board if it can raise an additional $400,000 among its friends. It was announced following a joint meeting of the boards of trustees and visitors at which it was decided to accept the offer. The $400,000 is to be raised by quiet solicitation so far as possible, but if this method fails to raise the entire sum, a general public campaign is to obtain the remainder may be attempted, it was said.

Manitowish—The first year of the county management of the county fair, which was last year taken over by the county, netted $6,300, according to a report filed with the county board. There is a cash balance of $8,300 on hand after all expenses were paid and it is probable that no appropriation will have to be made for the 1921 fair by the board. Over $6,000 was expended last year for permanent improvements of the grounds.

Oshkosh—Two formal and definite movements are launched in Oshkosh looking towards a reorganization of the municipal government. One movement, which had its inception largely among workmen on the South Side, is for wiping out the present commission form of government and returning to the old aldermanic form.

Merrill—The county of Lincoln spent $225,000 more during the last year than during any former twelve months. The total expenditure was $692,391.15 of which $325,264.95 was spent for highways, highway machinery and buildings for the latter. Orders for the county's poor run up to $40,212.73 despite increased wages.

Merrill—Lester Nelson, who escaped from a fire on Oct. 4, in which five of his brothers and sisters perished, left the hospital. Even the wound on his hand healed without any special treatment.

Merrill—During the last year thirty-seven mothers in Lincoln county drew a pension under the state law from the county. The total pension amounting to over $3,000. Thirty of the mothers receiving the pension were in the city of Merrill. One mother had eight children under the age of 14 in her care, another seven, another six, and another five.

Merrill—The area cleanup of bovine tuberculosis which Lincoln county has begun under the state's jurisdiction has covered the towns of Somo, Wilsop, Tomahawk, Skanawan, Harrison and King, and in several days the towns of Birch and Rock Falls will have been finished. Out of a total of 3,391 cattle there have been but ten positive reactors.

Superior—R. D. Socon, for the last seven years superintendent of the state employment bureau here, has been appointed factory inspector for the northern district under the industrial commission of Wisconsin. He has succeeded Clarence Otto, Beaver Dam, while R. J. Harmon has been made superintendent of the employment bureau.

Antigo—W. M. Bewick, county agricultural agent for Langlade county, has tendered his resignation as he has purchased with Charles McCandless a seed and feed business here. Mr. Bewick's resignation takes effect Dec. 1. His successor has not yet been named. Mr. Bewick has been county agent here for two years.

Wausau—M. C. Ewing, president of the Wausau Boy Scout council, has donated for the use of the Wausau Boy Scouts an eighty-five acre tract three and one-half miles north of the city.

Marinette—As a result of being struck by a stray bullet fired by an unseen hunter, Alfred Herman, 8, had three fingers badly mutilated while playing near his home at Beaver, Marinette county. It was necessary to amputate portions of three fingers on the boy's left hand.

Green Bay—Rural school children of Brown county are to be taught scientific farming along with the regular school courses for the rest of the winter. It was announced by County Agent Kavanagh.

Chippewa Falls—The total crop value of Chippewa county this year is $2,100,883 less than last year at the same time, a drop of almost 30 per cent, according to County Agent Southworth. The corn and potato crops were cut largely because of the long, dry summer.

La Crosse—The Gideons, in a one day campaign here, raised enough money to place a bible in every hotel room in La Crosse. Four hundred and twenty-five bibles have been ordered.

WHAT TO EAT.

A salad combination that is especially good and not very common, is: Tomato and Pear Salad.—Peel ripe, firm tomatoes and cut in eighths or quarters; cut ripe pears after peeling and coring into the same sized pieces. Alternate a section of pear and tomato making a flower-shaped design on heart leaves of lettuce. Place a spoonful of mayonnaise in the center and serve.

Tango Pear Salad.—Peel, halve and core ripe, juicy pears; cut the halves into slices without cutting quite through. Squeeze over them a little lemon juice to keep them from discoloring. Set these on heart leaves of lettuce and put a ball of seasoned cheese in the center of each half of pear. Pour over a delicately seasoned dressing and serve.

Scalloped Fish.—Pick any fish left from dinner into bits, carefully removing all the bones. Take a pint of milk, place in a double boiler, add a slice of onion cut fine, a sprig of parsley, minced fine, two tablespoonsful of butter, salt and pepper to taste; stir in two tablespoonsful of cornstarch, mix with a little cold milk; let all cook until smooth and thick, then take from the fire. Butter the sides and bottom of ramekins, put in a layer of fish, then a layer of cream sauce, then sprinkle over that buttered crumbs, then a layer of fish again; repeat and finish with buttered crumbs. Bake until well browned.

Braised Salmon.—Select a middle cut of salmon. Sprinkle with bits of salt pork the bottom of a casserole, add three branches of parsley, half an onion, half a carrot, cut in slices, set the fish on the vegetables, add two tablespoonsful of vinegar and one cupful of boiling water. Lay two or three small strips of fat salt pork above the fish, cover the dish and let cook one-half hour, basting three times with the liquid in the pan. Place the fish on a hot platter, strain off the liquid, melt three tablespoonsful of butter, add the same of flour and a scant half teaspoonful each of salt, paprika, then add the liquid from the fish and one-third of a cupful of cream. Stir until boiling. Serve the sauce in a bowl. Garnish the fish with parsley, slices of lemon and Saratoga potatoes.

Since tartare is very good to serve with fish and so is mayonnaise dressing to which has been added two tablespoonsful each of chopped capers, pickles, olives and parsley.

"Oh! for a new generation of day dreamers. They will not ask whether life is worth living—they will make it." They will transform the world into a "struggle for existence" into glorious effort to become that which they have admired and loved."

THE NUTRITIOUS NUT.

In spite of the literature to read upon the food value of various nuts, we still consider them largely as a relish or confection. They are much richer in food value than most fruits or vegetables and have a sustaining quality which vegetable foods lack.

Nuts may form a basis for soups, sandwiches, salads, dressing for game; fritters and puddings are made with nuts. With vegetables and fruits they make many combinations with nuts which make most palatable dishes. The following are quite worth trying:

Egg Plant With Peanut Stuffing.—Boil the egg plant until partly cooked, scoop out the inside leaving a wall half an inch thick. Chop fine the part taken out, and mix with equal parts of bread and peanuts. Fill the shells and bake half an hour.

Toiled and mashed chestnuts are good used as stuffing for fowl or any game. Cook them, after blanching, in the broth from the game, until tender. Drain, mash, add a spoonful of minced ham, a half-cupful of bread crumbs, a seasoning of salt and pepper and a dash of vinegar. Mix and moisten with melted butter, using four tablespoonsful; add the beaten yolks of two eggs, and stuff the bird several hours before baking so that the meat will be well seasoned.

Nut sandwiches, using pecans, peanuts, walnuts, hickory nuts, and in fact any sweet nut, minced and mixed with cream, a bit of salt and spread on buttered graham bread, are good enough for anybody.

Brussels sprouts are often served with nuts. Cook a quart of brussels sprouts in salted water, drain and put into a saucepan with two tablespoonsful of lard; add three-quarters of a pound of chestnuts which have been cooked until soft; simmer for a half hour until well seasoned. Serve with roast pork.

Cake From Bread Sponge.—Use two cupfuls of bread sponge, two-thirds of a cupful of butter, the yolks of three eggs, one teaspoonful of soda dissolved in two tablespoonsful of milk, half of a grated nutmeg, one teaspoonful of cloves. Mix well and add the last thing one cupful of stoned chopped raisins and the whites of the eggs beaten stiff. Let the mixture stand half an hour to rise, then bake in a moderate oven. This amount makes a good-sized cake, but it will keep well if kept well covered in a cake box.

Thousands of Happy Housewives in WESTERN CANADA

are helping their husbands to prosper—are glad they encouraged them to go where they could make a home of their own—have paying rent and reduce cost of living—where they could reach prosperity and independence by buying on easy terms.

Fertile Land at $15 to $30 an Acre—land similar to that which through many years has yielded from 20 to 40 bushels of wheat to the acre. Hundreds of farmers in Western Canada have raised crops in a single season worth more than the whole cost of their land. With such crops come property independence, good homes, and all the comforts and conveniences which make for happy living.

Farm Gardens—Poultry—Dairying are sources of income second only to grain growing and stock raising. Good climate, good neighbors, churches, schools, rural telephone, etc. give you the opportunity of a new land with the conveniences of old settled districts.

Another Royal Suggestion

Griddle Cakes and Waffles

From the NEW ROYAL COOK BOOK

THERE is an art in making flapjack pancakes, griddle cakes or waffles, call them what you will. But it is an art very easily and quickly acquired if you follow the right recipes. The secret, of course, is Royal Baking Powder.

Griddle Cakes
1 1/2 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
3 eggs
1 1/2 cups milk
1 tablespoon shortening
Mix and sift dry ingredients; add beaten eggs, milk and melted shortening; mix well. Bake immediately on hot griddle.

Waffles
2 cups flour
4 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups milk
2 eggs
1 tablespoon melted shortening
Sift flour, baking powder and salt together; add milk to yolks of eggs; mix thoroughly and add to dry ingredients; add melted shortening and mix in beaten whites of eggs. Bake in well-greased hot waffle iron until brown. Serve hot with maple syrup. It should take about 1 1/2 minutes to bake each waffle.

Made from Cream of Tartar, derived from grapes.

ACETYLENE LIGHTING SYSTEM

A most serious explosion of acetylene gas on July 19, 1920, at Split Rock, Wisconsin, which caused the death of three members of the family and caused excruciating suffering to two others, leads us to give a new warning on the installation of acetylene lighting systems.

The salesman may tell you that "explosions are impossible, and neither carelessness nor ignorance makes the machine dangerous." A machine so advertised caused the death of a young man in Kenosha county a few years ago.

When the system is properly installed and cared for, acetylene gives a brilliant, steady light. As electricity from central stations is not available, these lights are often installed in farm homes. People should realize that acetylene gas is highly explosive and that carbide is dangerous unless kept dry.

The main danger of explosion is at the generator. This tank should be installed in a separate, outside, well-ventilated and well-lighted building, not in the basement of a home, where an explosion is dangerous to lives and property, as in the case above cited. No artificial light or fire should be within fifteen feet of the generator. The use of candles, lanterns, lamps, match or other open light or flame in this generator house should never be permitted. In the sad case at Split Rock a lantern taken into the basement generated the explosion.

The generator should be charged by daylight only, at regular intervals, and never by a novice. The generator chamber should be thoroughly cleaned out first, and the residuum removed from the building.

The proper supply of fresh, clear water should then be put into the tank and the carbide container never filled above the mark designated, thus allowing more expansion.

The generator building should be heated by steam or hot water, if possible, never by a stove in the room. The room must be kept from freezing. The presence of pungent odors or a flickering, irregular flame or hissing sound at the burners means trouble, and should be investigated by one who understands the system.

Carbide should be bought in metal drums only, of not more than one

"NOW-A-DAYS"

says the Good Judge

A man can get a heap more satisfaction from a small chew of this class of tobacco, than he ever could get from a big chew of the old kind.

He finds it costs less, too. The good tobacco taste lasts so much longer he doesn't need to have a fresh chew nearly as often.

Any man who uses the Real Tobacco Chew will tell you that.

LANDIS TAKES BASEBALL JOB

Federal Judge to Head Control of the So-Called National Sport.

HIS SALARY TO BE $50,000

Sixteen Big League Teams Make Peace at Meeting at Chicago—Famous Jurist to Retain His United States Judgeship.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—The National and American baseball leagues settled their differences and agreed that Federal Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis shall represent them jointly in all interleague disputes.

Judge Landis accepted the position and told the magnates that he is ready to assume his duties at once. He will retain his office as federal judge and will receive a salary of $45,000 per year from the American and National leagues. An additional $10,000 per year will be allowed for traveling expenses.

The appointment of Judge Landis to the "biggest position in baseball" was the result of a joint National and American league meeting.

Judge Landis will be chairman of the baseball tribunal which will govern professional baseball. His appointment does not mean a defeat for the "loyal five," or a victory for the "big eleven."

WRANGEL ON FRENCH SHIP

U. S. Warships Rushed to Save Refugees From the Bolshevik—"White" Army Annihilated—People Flee on Foreign Vessels.

Washington, Nov. 17.—All available American warships in the Black sea are to be used to assist refugees in leaving the Crimea in advance of the Bolshevik armies. Authority for such use of the ships was given by the State and Navy departments upon the urgent recommendations of Rear Admiral McCully, commander of American warships in southern Russian waters.

It has not yet been determined where the refugees will be taken. At the State department it was said that at Sebastopol they might not be taken to Constantinople, but to one of the Greek islands in the Aegean sea.

Constantinople, Nov. 17.—Sebastopol fell to the Russian soviet forces at five o'clock Sunday evening after the evacuation plans had been fully carried out, according to word received here. General Wrangel, it is stated, was the last to leave, cheered by his troops.

General Wrangel, members of his staff, and M. Martel, French high commissioner at Sebastopol, were taken on board the French warship, Waldeck Rousseau and are expected to arrive in Constantinople today. The whole of the Crimea must be given up as lost by the Wrangel forces.

The Waldeck Rousseau and the other French and the American and British ships at Sebastopol did not leave that port until the Bolsheviks were within the walls of the city.

These ships, according to the foreign office advisers, were loaded to capacity with refugees and the remnants of General Wrangel's troops. Many refugees, however, were left behind, and these, it was said, probably numbered 100,000.

The fate of these refugees is causing great anxiety, as the American relief organization also has left the Crimea. The majority of the refugees have been dependent upon the American relief workers for their sustenance.

Officials here did not appear at all optimistic over the outlook and it seemed to their real belief that General Wrangel had failed, as did General Denikin, Yudenich and Admiral Kolchak.

Because of the Crimean developments and the junction effected recently by the Turkish nationalists and Bolsheviks and the occupation of Batum, the position of the Soviet regime in the Black sea territory was pointed to as stronger than it ever had been.

The reports indicated that only a few members of General Wrangel's staff had managed to escape. The staff as a whole, it was said, had been virtually wiped out, its members either being killed or taken prisoner.

Propaganda behind General Wrangel's lines had much to do with the collapse on the front, according to information reaching official circles here.

The Bolsheviks, it is declared, spread reports that General Wrangel was a reactionary and that his success would mean the return of the czarism and absolute monarchy, and distributed pamphlets and booklets to re-enforce these statements.

PERSHING LAUDS YANK $1,000,000 MAIL THEFT

Calls Armistice Day "Twentieth Century Independence Day."

General Says Interests of Nation Will Be Safeguarded by Great Citizen Army of Veterans.

By GEN. JOHN J. PERSHING. Washington, Nov. 13.—The second anniversary of Armistice day finds undiminished the appreciation of those who comprehended the meaning of the great victory achieved on November 11, 1918. This day will come to represent to the civilized world what Independence day means to Americans.

It struck the death knell of autocratic rule and reversed the doctrine that "might makes right." It marks a new epoch in history and establishes the dividing line between the old order and the new. In our own country the guarantee for good government lies in the awakening of the young patriotic citizens who constituted our military forces, and who, since the accomplishment of their sacred war mission, have returned to peace-time pursuits with a determination to keep ever before them the ideals for which they fought.

That the interests of the nation will be well directed and fully safeguarded by this great citizen army of veterans is beyond doubt.

In celebrating this "twentieth century independence day" we should pause in prayerful tribute to the memory of those young Americans and those sons of our allies who gave their lives to perpetuate our liberties. Their sacrifice was for us and our future and their purpose must remain our purpose.

Officials here did not appear at all optimistic over the outlook and it seemed to their real belief that General Wrangel had failed, as did General Denikin, Yudenich and Admiral Kolchak.

WRANGEL BEATEN BY POISON GASES

Thousands of His Troops Over-taken by the Fumes.

Soldiers Without Masks Fall to Ground Gasping for Breath—Surprise Completely Demoralizes "White" Army—Civilians in Panic.

London, Nov. 17.—How the Reds obliterated General Wrangel's Crimean army by the use of dense clouds of poison gases is related in graphic stories of soldier and civilian refugees in Constantinople which have been cabled to London.

According to these witnesses of the disaster to the anti-soviet army, General Wrangel was preparing to defend Sebastopol and make a last desperate effort to retrieve his earlier defeat.

When from the north and east yellowish fumes began rolling toward his lines. It was the first time that the Trotsky troops had resorted to the use of gas and it took the remnant of the Wrangel army completely by surprise. The troops, already demoralized by their first retreat, were without gas masks, and as many as could get away broke from the formation and fled in panic.

The demoralizing clouds overtook thousands, who fell gasping—an enormous number of casualties. As soon as the news of this sudden rout reached them, panic seized the civilian population and the large number of Red prisoners being held there. Fearing that the town was to be enveloped by the poison gases a revolution started which was rapidly developed.

The Red prisoners were liberated and they soon began attacks on the better disciplined nucleus of the remnants of General Wrangel's army which was falling back, fighting stubbornly. General Wrangel reached town Sunday morning and announced his intention of making a last stand for Sebastopol itself. The refugees say that he was then surrounded by a small group of officers and men who had remained loyal and he was personally conducting the defense of the city. But the local uprising rendered the defense futile.

When an American destroyer steamed out with the last batch of refugees, which have just reached Constantinople, other refugees, they said, were swarming toward a French boat, with sailors assisting the women and children but the gunners standing by without assisting in the defense of the port.

Refugees Flood Constantinople. General Wrangel's staff, the refugees say, made a united appeal to the officers of the allied warships in the harbor to shell the advancing Bolsheviks, but the commanders replied that it was impossible to act in the absence of orders from their respective governments.

The Crimean refugees are flooding Constantinople, taxing the accommodations of the city to their utmost limit. Many are suffering from exposure and wounds, the hospitals are overflowing, and the influx has caused a serious food shortage. American and French authorities are making splendid efforts at relief work as the pitiable sight is revealed of vessel after vessel arriving from Crimea, depositing hundreds of men, women and children, who are huddled miserably together on the docks awaiting shelter.

Where Lies Arcadia? A correspondent speaking of his own way of celebrating the Pilgrim centenary would be for a lot of new pilgrims to get together and, like their forefathers, take ship and sail away from profiteering, labor troubles, rent raising, taxes and gramophones. All very well—but whither?—Boston Transcript.

Who Made the Sign? One day I went to a new grocery and the clerks were all busy, so the proprietor hustled up to me. He was extremely affable, so I had no hesitation in asking him who printed the sign in the window—it was poorly printed and some of the words were misspelled.

"Why?" he asked. "Whoever made it didn't know how to spell," I replied, grinning. "I made the sign," was all he said, but it was enough. I turned hastily away.—Exchange.

Refugees Flood Constantinople. General Wrangel's staff, the refugees say, made a united appeal to the officers of the allied warships in the harbor to shell the advancing Bolsheviks, but the commanders replied that it was impossible to act in the absence of orders from their respective governments.

The Crimean refugees are flooding Constantinople, taxing the accommodations of the city to their utmost limit. Many are suffering from exposure and wounds, the hospitals are overflowing, and the influx has caused a serious food shortage. American and French authorities are making splendid efforts at relief work as the pitiable sight is revealed of vessel after vessel arriving from Crimea, depositing hundreds of men, women and children, who are huddled miserably together on the docks awaiting shelter.

Where Lies Arcadia? A correspondent speaking of his own way of celebrating the Pilgrim centenary would be for a lot of new pilgrims to get together and, like their forefathers, take ship and sail away from profiteering, labor troubles, rent raising, taxes and gramophones. All very well—but whither?—Boston Transcript.

Who Made the Sign? One day I went to a new grocery and the clerks were all busy, so the proprietor hustled up to me. He was extremely affable, so I had no hesitation in asking him who printed the sign in the window—it was poorly printed and some of the words were misspelled.

"Why?" he asked. "Whoever made it didn't know how to spell," I replied, grinning. "I made the sign," was all he said, but it was enough. I turned hastily away.—Exchange.

WHEN A WOMAN IS NERVOUS—WORRIED

The lives of most women are full of worry. Men's troubles are bad enough, but women's are worse. Worry makes women sick. It pulls them down, and in their weakened condition they are subject to pains, aches, weakness, back-aches, headaches and dizzy spells.

Most women neglect their health, and for this they pay the penalty. Any woman will find that neglect does not pay. A little more attention to health would brighten up her life. If she asks her neighbors she finds that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription benefits a woman's whole system. It not only acts upon the troubles and weaknesses peculiar to women, but is an all-round tonic that braces the entire body, overcoming nervousness, sleeplessness, headaches, dizziness, and a run-down condition.

All druggists. Liquid or tablets. Ypsilanti, Mich.—"Motherhood left me with a bad case of neurine trouble. The doctor did not seem to help me. I heard of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it gave me relief at once. I took just a few bottles and was completely cured. I have wonderful faith in Dr. Pierce's medicine for women." Mrs. LUTHER JONES, 514 S. Hamilton Street.

First Impression.

A friend wearing a long "goatee" had come in and had been greeted by the man of the house who, with the pride of a father, lifted his little son in his arms and smilingly said: "Willie, this is Mr. Blank. Mr. Blank, isn't Willie a fine boy?"

Mr. Blank smiled, but his goatee shook forbiddingly in the boy's face, which was clouded with suspicion. In spite of his father's reassuring words, Willie only stared for a moment and then exclaimed, thinking hard of the wisp of hair on the caller's chin: "Don't you bite my fader!"—Columbus Dispatch.

Cuticura for Sore Hands.

Soak hands on retiring in the hot soaps of Cuticura Soap, dry and rub in Cuticura Ointment. Remove surplus Ointment with tissue paper. This is only one of the things Cuticura will do if Soap, Ointment and Talcum are used for all toilet purposes.—Adv.

Synopsis.—Never having known his father, and living with his mother on a houseboat on the Washburn river, Pearlhunter—the only name he has learned from her a part of the story of her sad life.

The girl caught the falling bow from his hand; drew the cello to her and deftly twisted the strings in tune.

"Next to the thrush song, that was the most wonderful thing I ever heard!"

than to him. "Like the low tones of the cello, though it always made him seem to sing. Long ago, when I was a child, he used to hold me in his arms and sing to me. He was a wonderful cellist before—"

ward him and laid her hand on his arm. "You're wonderful! I don't suppose anybody else in the world would do such a thing for folks like us—for strangers. Forgive me that I didn't thank you. It was all so marvelous! But I do, I do, over and over!"

"It's nothing," he said. "That was the best he could do, the utmost syllable he could muster."

"Anyhow," he said, as if continuing some previous remark—some remark he had doubtless been turning over in his mind, since he had let fall no word of it—"the first thing is to sell the pearl."

"I don't know how I am to go on," he blurted out, rather impudently, as he reflected afterward, for how was she to know that he had glanced into her room?

"The doctor says," she went on, "that the bullet broke a piece of skull, so that it presses on the brain. He thinks a great surgeon he knows might be able to raise that little piece of skull and make Daddy well. And that's what hurts me worst of all—that I can't have it done."

"I've never seen it," she said, "because you have no name but—Pearlhunter. I haven't any either—but—"

"You could let me read these books," she said. "You could do that anyway."

GREEK TROOPS SHOOT

SOLDIERS IN ATHENS FIRE ON ELECTION RIOTERS.

Gounaris, Former Premier, and Constantine Man, to Form New Cabinet.

Athens, Nov. 17.—Troops fired from a number of points on several occasions to disperse after-election trouble-makers.

Former Premier Gounaris, recognized as favoring the return of King Constantine to the throne of Greece, has undertaken the formation of a new cabinet, following the refusal of another ex-premier, M. Kallis, to attempt to form a government.

GOES IN ETERNAL MOURNING

Black Flags to Fly in Hungary as Reminder of "Peace of Humiliation."

Berlin, Nov. 17.—According to a dispatch received from Budapest, "eternal mourning" has been ordered in Hungary as a consequence of the "peace of humiliation."

The resolution provides that until the thousand-year-old realm is restored the black flag shall float continuously above all public buildings as a sign of national mourning.

JUST A LITTLE STORY—A TRUE STORY

TWO men met the other day after a separation of many years. One remarked the prosperous appearance of the other as the "other" noted the seedy appearance of his friend.

They exchanged experiences. The prosperous one claimed his prosperity due to early thrift and opening a savings account when he was a young man. His savings had started him in business and the habits acquired had guided him in later years.

The "other" had not saved. He had put off from day to day his first deposit and because he had not saved had been forced to watch opportunity pass him by. His watchword was "tomorrow" and tomorrow never comes.

Moral: Don't wait! Come to the bank NOW and make your first deposit—one dollar will open an account.

Warm—watertight—cleaned in a minute: that's the "U. S." Walrus. It's just one model in the big U. S. line of rubber footwear

A new kind of overshoe for farmers

The "U. S." Walrus: watertight as a rubber boot— as warm and easy to slip on as an arctic

THE combination you have always needed—something to keep your feet dry and warm and yet easy to slip on and off! Here it is—the new U. S. Walrus.

This new overshoe slips on and off easily over your leather shoes. Its warm, fleecy lining keeps your feet comfortable in the coldest weather. And its smooth rubber surface can be washed off as quickly and cleanly as a boot.

The comfort and convenience of this new overshoe are backed by real strength. Made by the oldest and largest rubber manufacturer in the world, the U. S. Walrus is built for the roughest wear. Its sole consists of five layers of the finest rubber. All other points where the strain comes are reinforced.

Ask your dealer to show you the U. S. Walrus. After you've worn them you'll realize why farmers everywhere are buying them.

Other types of "U. S." Footwear—built for rough service

U. S. Boots have the wear and comfort which the accumulated improvements of 74 years have given them.

U. S. Booties lace on over the sock like a leather shoe. You can wear them all day long in the wettest weather. Your feet will stay dry and comfortable.

There is a U. S. model for every need—arctics, rubbers, "overs." Every one has been designed by experts—every one is backed by over half a century of experience. Always look for the U. S. Seal—it means solid wear and long service for your money.
