Minor Traffic Accidents Past Week

Minor traffic accidents were reported during the past week in which those involved luckily escaped injury.

Schmidt of this village, operator of the Washington county police system, escaped injury Monday when the auto he was driving made the curve atop the Barton hill in the village of Barton and entered the curb and rammed into a car. Howard was traveling north on Highway 100 and was on his way home at the time. Three cars were involved in the accident. The front fender was damaged, the front top received a scratch, and the body was scratched in places from the contact with the car.

Young people escaped injury last Wednesday morning, New Year's day, while enroute home after their New Year's eve when a car driven by Harold Krueger of Auburn in some manner left the highway and turned over on Highway 100 just south of the swamp located 2 1/2 miles south of Kewaskum. Drivers in the Krueger car were Kathleen Schaefer and Patti Schaefer and Roger Bilgo, all of this village. The latter two are pupils in Kewaskum High school. The left side of the auto was damaged and one wheel was knocked off. Passing motorists righted the car and it was driven under its own power.

A car driven by Walter Werner of this village was damaged last Saturday morning when it left the highway and ran into a ditch, where it overturned several times, on Highway 100 north of Dundee. The accident resulted in the driver turned out to be stopped on the highway and a car ran off the shoulder of the highway. The car was alone in the car, and his way to Plymouth to pick up the two had intended to go to Fond du Lac to offer blood to the hospital. Leo Zacho, confined at St. Agnes hospital and in need of a transfusion. The front fenders, headlights, and radiator grill were damaged. The car narrowly missed one of the large trees and Werner was forced to escape injury.

Automobiles driven by Otto Stenschke of this village, and Mrs. Stenschke of this village, and Mrs. Stenschke of Fond du Lac, collided at the intersection of Fond du Lac street at about 1:32 p. m. last Saturday. Stenschke also was in that city to see his blood for young Zacho, also confined at the hospital. Both cars were damaged, Stenschke's to such an extent that he had to leave it in that city and return home by train.

NEW SERIAL STORY BEGINS IN TODAY'S ISSUE

It is always gratifying to offer readers of the Statesman a good serial story. Our latest fiction release, "Hawk in the Wind," which begins in this issue, is a gripping good yarn by Helen Topping Miller. The author is favorably known for her "Whispering River," "Storm Over Eden," "Let Me Die Tuesday" and "Blue Marigolds."

"Hawk in the Wind" is the story of a young man and his daughter, Marian, who have a hard time of it with unscrupulous enemies in the Carolina mountains. The serial is a welcome departure from the usual love story, containing action, intrigue and romance in an exceptionally fine serial.

At a well attended meeting of the Winnebago Council of the League of American Wheelmen, held at the Republican House here in Kewaskum last Friday night, the following officers were elected, according to Victor T. Broome, Fond du Lac, president of the Wisconsin Division of the L. A. W.: President—Duane Clendening, Oshkosh.

Vice president—Virginia "Pat" Lorenz, Kewaskum.

Secretary—Harriet Thernansen of Neenah.

Treasurer—Mrs. Ivy Broome, Fond du Lac.

Directors—Wm. Fuller, Oshkosh, for three years; F. J. Rueping, Fond du Lac, for two years; Louis Pierron, Milwaukee, for one year.

The last named of the directors, Louis Pierron of Milwaukee, was elected by virtue of his active membership in the Kettle Moraine Bike Hike club, of which he is a charter member, and because of his having been an active member of the L. A. W. state division executive personnel during the organization's heyday (the Willie and Walter Sanper days).

The Kettle Moraine serves as a connecting link between the Milwaukee county group and the Lake Winnebago group. So it was thought that this first regular meeting of the Winnebago Council should be held in Kewaskum, the gate-way town, which accommodated the Milwaukee L. A. W. members, of which there was a good delegation in attendance at the meeting.

One of the things accomplished at the meeting was the passing of a resolution to the effect that the clubs of a bike path built around Lake Winnebago, one of the most ideal locales for bicycle touring in the state it was adopted as a council project.

The trip ideal from Winnebago Council viewpoints takes one over the beautiful Kettle Moraine bike trail from Milwaukee through the Manitowish Lake area past Long lake to the Fourth St. road of Fond du Lac, which terminates at Dotville. From Fond du Lac the rider circles the lake to Oshkosh from which he continues to Ripon and thence to Green Lake.

Millers Attend Home Furnishings Market

First viewing of 1941 All-American home furnishings were seen by Edw. E. Miller and Fred Miller, buyers for Miller's Furniture stores of Kewaskum, when they arrived at the International Home Furnishings Market in Chicago this week. Mrs. Edw. E. Miller also attended the show part of the time and visited with relatives while in Chicago.

The market is presenting the newest creations of 2,000 lines of home furnishings and is featuring more American made goods than has been shown for years, according to preview reports received by Millers.

Merchandising and style trends are reported to have been revolutionized in some sections of the home furnishings industry with American modifications of period patterns and a simplifying of the modern to give it a comfortable, livable appeal.

Modern design trends that have been swinging toward a definite nationalized style during the past year burst forth in full blossom at this market.

The Floor Covering association revealed an unexpected revision of plans during a recent meeting when they disclosed that many new patterns will be introduced, a move which has not been anticipated due to factories being tied up with back logged orders.

Millers surveyed completely the newest in styles and decorative charm and returned to help you with your home furnishing problems.

Kewaskum, smallest town in the Rivers circuit, has one of its topnotch teams. Hartford was the team's fifth straight victim by a score of 37-24 in the game played here Sunday night before another fine crowd. The victory kept Kewaskum right on the heels of league leading Menomonee Falls.

The contest was knock'em down and drag'em out affair. In fact it was one of the roughest we've ever seen, largely as a result of the referee-failing to call the fouls close enough. The battle got off to a good start but became "dirty" and by the final quarter all the players were pushing, tripping, hanging on or fouling in some way. At one time a near fist fight broke out. If the referee would have called all the fouls there wouldn't have been any men left to finish the war. Only 10 fouls were called on both sides where there should have

THE GARDEN HOSE AND THE FIRE

(As suggested by Mr. Roosevelt's comparison of his proposed aid to England in which he said that if your neighbor's house were on fire you would gladly lend him your hose and not charge for it.)

Scene: Any community. Characters: Jones and Smith. Jones (knocking on Smith's door)—Help! My house is on fire! Smith—Well, well, I feel I ought to give you all aid short of . . . Jones (alarmed)—Now don't tell me you will give me all aid short of a hose! Smith—No, I guess everybody's tired of that gag.

Jones (as the fire spreads)—Please do something! Look at those flames!

Smith—Now, take it easy. You know my position in an emergency such as this. I figure that this is my fire as well as yours. My theory has always been . . .

Jones—Never mind all that now. Have you got a hose?

Smith—My good man, I may not have the hose that is required for a job like this, but I have studied my hose situation very carefully. I know what my hose requirements are, and in a situation such as this . . .

Jones (urgently)—I'll need about 50 feet.

Smith—If you will bear with me a moment, I should like to outline my policy on . . .

Jones—Have you got 50 feet of hose?

Smith—I am in a position to state that by the end of next July I expect to have 100 feet of . . .

Jones (as the flames reach the second story)—This fire won't last that long!

Smith—One can never be sure about a thing like that. It might end very soon. On the other hand, it might spread until my own premises are consumed. In that case . . .

Jones (desperately)—All I want to know is have you got 50 feet of hose?

Smith—I have 50 feet of hose . . .

Jones—And don't tell me it is on order!

Smith (as the flames break through the Jones roof)—My goodness! That's quite a fire you have there, isn't it? It's almost a total emergency.

Jones—That's what I've been trying to make clear. Where's that hose?

Smith—You mean completed hose, actually on the premises?

Jones—Of course.

Smith—Well, that's different. All I have at the moment is a 35-foot length. But by April . . .

Jones—May I have the 35 feet at once?

Smith—Certainly. This is no time to be legalistic.

Jones (Grabbing the hose)—Thanks very much.

Smith—By the end of six months I can let you have 100 feet of hose per week and . . .

Jones—This will be all I'll need.

Smith—Don't worry about any charge for that 35 feet. I'm lending it to you. It's a sort of mortgage plan.

Jones (as the roof falls in)—Never mind the details. All I want now is one assurance.

Smith—What's that?

Jones—That you're not giving me every aid SHORT OF WATER!

Operate for Gall Bladder Inflammation

By DR. JAMES W. BARTON

WHEN a patient has an attack of acute gall bladder trouble with severe pain in upper right abdomen going over into the shoulder it has been the custom to wait until all symptoms have disappeared before operating. This would appear to be wise when we think of how "low" these patients are in spirits aside from the exhausting results of the attack.

TODAY'S HEALTH COLUMN

It comes then as a surprise when we learn that physicians and surgeons today are advising early operation in acute inflammation of the gall bladder as they believe that less damage to the patient's general health results from operation than allowing a severe or repeated attack to affect the general health.

Dr. F. Glenn, New York, in Surgery, Gynecology and Obstetrics, Chicago, records the histories of the 219 patients with acute cholecystitis (inflammation of the gall bladder) who have been treated at the New York hospital in the last six years.

Early operation is not difficult, there was not a greater number of complications, nor was the death rate higher than for ordinary or chronic gall bladder diseases.

Dangers of Delay. Dr. Glenn states that as the outcome of an acute inflammation of the gall bladder cannot be predicted (even as in acute appendicitis), delay in operating may lead to dangerous complications which greatly increase the difficulty of operation and increase the death rate also.

The younger the patient undergoing operation, the better the chance of an uneventful recovery and good result from operation.

From his observation of these 219 cases, Dr. Glenn recommends that patients with disease of the gall bladder and bile tubes or ducts undergo operation as soon as it is known that this disease is present unless the general condition of the patient is such that further medical treatment should first be given.

Facts Regarding High Blood Pressure

THERE was a time when the first thought when a patient had a temperature was to give a drug—acetanilid, phenacetine, quinine, or other—to reduce the temperature. Today, the physician takes the temperature and pulse as usual but searches around to find the cause of the temperature. If the temperature gets very high, he may give some drug to reduce it slightly but he knows that the rise in temperature shows that nature is putting up a fight against some invader.

It would seem that the time has come for patients and physicians to take the same stand about blood pressure. A patient learns that his blood pressure is a little above normal and wants to take medicine or follow a diet to bring it down.

Dr. Edward Weiss of Philadelphia in "Practical Talks on Kidney Disease," says:

"Let us take the example of a middle-aged man who has been turned down by a life insurance company because of high blood pressure. He goes to his physician and demands to know the blood pressure figures; on each visit to the physician he waits with anxious concern to hear the latest reading and frequently has ideas of 'stroke,' 'heart failure,' or 'Bright's disease in the back of his mind.'"

Why Nature Raises Blood Pressure. Now, what about high blood pressure? As a matter of fact, nature has raised the blood pressure because it was necessary to raise or increase it due to some condition present in the body. This condition may be a real or organic condition such as hardening of the arteries, or it may be some condition such as eating too much or worrying too much. It is possible that some infection is present which is giving the body processes more work to do and the blood pressure increases accordingly.

All that is necessary in many cases is smaller meals, more rest and relaxation, and not bothering to have the blood pressure taken more than two or three times a year.

QUESTION BOX

Q.—Could you suggest any sort of ear plugs to keep noises from preventing me from sleeping? I am having a great deal of trouble.

A.—Rubber ear stoppers used by swimmers to keep water out of the ears can be purchased in most drug stores. Absorbent cotton helps to some extent. A special wax which you can mold yourself to fit in ear canal likewise can be purchased in some stores.

By LEMUEL F. PARTON

(Consolidated Features—WNU Service.)

NEW YORK.—Joseph C. Grew, ambassador to Japan, got his start by crawling into a cave and getting a half-nelson on a tiger. No wonder he isn't afraid to talk back to Foreign Minister Matsuoka and to tell him that "The American people are firmly determined in certain matters."

About that tiger. Just out of Harvard, the young Bostonian headed for Singapore, to piece out his sheepskin with a tiger skin. He hunted big game for two years in southern Asia, engaging in a great deal of jungle milling before he found the open door in China—the entrance to the tiger's cave which was his gateway to a distinguished diplomatic career.

When the tiger story was published, it caught the eye of President Theodore Roosevelt, but it was a later bear story which really stirred his interest. Young Mr. Grew took three straight falls from an angry bear. Naturally, T. R. saw in that the makings of a diplomat. Cables the next day routed the bear-wrangler and tiger-tiller into a lifetime career in diplomacy, starting a post with the Egyptian consulate-general at Cairo.

He was paced steadily on up through posts at Mexico City, Petrograd, Berlin, Vienna, Copenhagen and Bern. He is rounding 60, 36 years in the diplomatic service, tall, erect, weathered, graying. His durable career typewriter has come along with him down the years, and on it he raps out his terse reports to the state department. Bear-wrangling, diplomacy and this and that has left him with only one good ear, but it serves to register a bigger ear than most diplomats get with two.

Mrs. Grew is a granddaughter of Commodore Perry, who opened Japan to the western world—or vice versa. Living with them at the embassy is their daughter, Mrs. Cecil Lyon, with her two children.

VERNE MARSHALL was born and grew up in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and for 26 years has been editor of the Cedar Rapids Gazette.

He likes to stay put, and believes the U. S. should do same.

In New York, he becomes the organizer and director of the No Foreign War Committee, which puts him in the opposite corner to William Allen White, the other sage of mid-western newspapering, who heads the Committee to Defend America. Not that Mr. White wants war, but their ideas are so opposed that they already are pumping large-caliber editorials at each other.

Mr. Marshall lost one war. For his courageous anti-graft campaign in Cedar Rapids, he was awarded the Pulitzer prize, on May 4, 1938. But while the cheers were still echoing, the Iowa Supreme court, the next day, knocked out his graft charges against 31 persons. He kept on slugging, however, and is highly esteemed in those parts as a self-starting, hard-hitting editor.

He was in London in 1911, writing for the London Chronicle, returned home and later left his newspaper desk for a stretch of machine-gunning in the big war. He didn't like it and now says enough is enough. He is the father of six children.

NO CUSTOMER who ever dropped in at Jacques De Sieyes' Fifth avenue perfume shop for a spot of "fleur d'amour" would ever have thought of the elegant M. De Sieyes as a fighting man. But that's the way it is with the French—elegant, but tough, on occasion. M. De Sieyes was a flying ace in the World war, lost a leg, was wounded five times and is now looking for a return engagement as he serves as the personal representative of Gen. Charles De Gaulle, to rally the "free French" in this country. Just now, with three other members of General De Gaulle's American committee, he gives vehement assurance that the present political machinations of the Nazis will consolidate France and steel it for final resistance.

M. De Sieyes was a classmate and intimate friend of General De Gaulle at the St. Cyr military academy. They lost touch with each other during the World war and M. De Sieyes has not seen his old friend since he left Paris in 1920. But he called the general when the latter made a new base in London and issued his stirring appeal for the support of free Frenchmen throughout the world, pledging unchanged loyalty. The result was his personal representation of the general here.

He fought in the artillery, but it was as an air combat pilot that he lost his leg. He was secretary of the French embassy at Washington, before establishing his New York perfume importing business at 730 Fifth avenue. He is a brother of Jeanne De Sieyes, president of the French-American Banking corporation, of New York. He married an American girl and they have three children.

Auto Quiz No 10
Answers

1. c. clear. Note that this question refers to fatal accidents. Most of us have learned to fear snow, rain and fog, and we drive accordingly. There are many minor mishaps in such weather, but because few of us drive at high speeds under these conditions, fatal accidents occur more rarely than one would suspect.

2. f. 720 feet. As speed is increased, the car requires an increased turning radius. This radius increases as the square of the speed. Thus, when speed is doubled, the safe turning radius is quadrupled; when speed is tripled the safe turning radius is nine times longer. An appreciation of these facts will explain many accidents on curves.

3. c. high. Under any other conditions this would be considered a driving error. Using the gentler gear maintains the light friction which exists between the tires and ice, mud or clay. Be sure, however, that you engage the clutch with all possible care and slowness.

Thanks A Lot

No customer intentionally writes an overdraft. But occasionally when the old bank balance gets low it's easy to draw a check for more funds than you have on deposit. But there is one sure way to avoid overdrafts and that is by carrying a larger balance in your checking account. It leaves a greater margin of safety, it increases your credit standing and enables you to make "deals" when you have money on hand. For your cooperation—many thanks.

German Airforce Aids Italy in Attacks Upon British Forces in Mediterranean; Munitions Production and Shipbuilding Are Vital Spots in U. S. Defense Work

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

INVASION: England Cautious

In contrast to the cheerful, bomb-laden Christmas holiday, London was glum the first days of the New Year. The Nazi airforce had "concentrated" the City of London, that district in the central section of the metropolis where financial houses are located.

Thousands of incendiary bombs were dropped. Hundreds of roaring fires were out of control at the same time. The losses were estimated in millions of pounds and the dead could not be counted. Three days later a man wandering into the section asked a policeman the way to Paternoster Row, famous for centuries for its bookshops. The bobby replied: "There is no Paternoster Row, sir."

Mostly the British feared an attack through Ireland. Earlier warnings that the Axis thrust into the Balkans might only be a winter sortie and not a full-scale attack, were being taken seriously.

The actions there were being watched with interest. Germany moved 300,000 troops through Hungary and into Rumania. The Germans were posted along the border of Bulgaria where it was freely announced that as soon as they were in position and the time was ripe, an advance would be made on Salonika, Greece.

Bulgaria was belligerent in talk, but made no move to mobilize for defense or call upon Turkey and Russia for aid. Russia, however, countered the action by lining the border of Rumania with Soviet divisions. The Germans abruptly shifted a part of their force to sit opposite them.

It looked like the real thing. But experts didn't believe it. They believed Hitler was merely protecting his rear in the Balkans in preparation for the attack on England, much as he had protected his flanks when he took Norway before the drive into France.

Later came reports that German air squadrons were proceeding to Italy to aid Mussolini's fliers in attacks upon British bases in Libya and on the British fleet in the Mediterranean. It was also believed that the Germans might be used in Italy's campaign against the Greeks now raging in Albania.

Neutral Ire

Ireland is the weak point in the British defense and its ports are no further from Germany than were the ports of Norway. Like Norway, too it has long stretches of unprotected coastline. During January and February, conditions will be favorable for a German attack—the tides will be small, the nights long and the fogs thick to cover embarkation of troops.

It is estimated Hitler must establish a bridgehead of at least 50,000 troops, not counting losses, to start an invasion. Losses in such an operation are estimated at three times the number landed, so Der Fuehrer would have to start off with 200,000 troops for the landing alone. If Britain held bases in Eire, the loss estimate would be even greater, and even then the movement might not be successful. But Ireland remains neutral and aloof.

Otherwise on the war front: In Libya, fighting now on Italian territory, the British Egyptian army said it could take the important harbor of Bardia whenever it chose.

Manila reported that it had learned on good authority that 12 German raiders were being armed and supplied in Japanese harbors. A mysterious raider, which ran up the Japanese flag but which Australians said was German, fired on the tiny island of Nauru, a former German possession in the Pacific.

The Greek army continued to fight amid snow and cold for the port of Valona in Albania. It was apparent their forward movement had slowed down but Athens said it would be resumed as soon as weather let up. Meanwhile there was sharp fighting. Mussolini landed troops by air and transport. Four heavily loaded transports, however, ran into a British submarine in the Adriatic. All transports were sunk.

Reports of Germans entering Italy through the Brenner pass were denied in Berlin. But the rumors

DEFENSE: Full Speed Ahead

As soon as President Roosevelt's "Big Four"—Knudsen, Hillman, Stinson and Knox—can get industrial plants working at capacity turning out munitions, look for an acceleration of ship building in cargo carrier classes. Washington is beginning to be alarmed at a quiet survey which showed that if Britain should fall, the Axis powers would have ship building capacities in conquered nations six times larger than U. S. capacity.

First note on this line was sounded by Republican Rep. Hamilton Fish, from the President's own N. Y. district. Representative Fish has been a critic of the administration since 1932. In turn he has plenty of critics of his own and ran into a fury of angry words when he went calling on dictators in Europe in the summer of 1939, while an official delegate of congress to the Inter-parliamentary Congress in Norway.

WILLIAM RHODES DAVIS, international oil operator who, according to Verne Marshall, head of the recently organized "No Foreign War" committee, was bearer of a Nazi peace plan naming President Roosevelt as arbiter in 1939.

But Fish's warning on ship building has not been taken lightly. If a successful Axis would take advantage of such ship-building capacities, they could control the high seas within a short time, even if the American two-ocean navy already were sailing the briny deep.

500 Planes a Day?

Another plan which will not be cast aside lightly, was presented by pint-sized Walter Reuther, manager of the General Motors division of the C. I. O.'s United Automobile Workers. Presentation to President Roosevelt actually was by Philip Murray, C. I. O. chieftain, but the plan was Reuther's.

The proposal calls for activating 554,000 feet of existing automobile plants space in the Detroit area, which once belonged to such forgotten firms as Hupmobile and Graham-Paige. Reuther and Murray also maintained that there are thousands of skilled workers in the same area still waiting for jobs. Cited were lay-offs recently by Fisher Body, Chevrolet and Ternstedt.

Blue prints and tables submitted with the proposal were based on production of 150,000 planes a year, six months after it was put into effect. Only light craft and training planes would be made. The manufacture of heavy craft and bombers would be retained by the present aircraft industry.

The President handed the data to his Big Four. But even before that it had been examined privately by Undersecretary of War Patterson, who is charged with mobilization of industry. He was much impressed. It will be opposed by the aircraft industry.

There were indications too that the drive soon will be put in force to speed up defense by compelling plants manufacturing "non-essentials" to forego their schedules and "accept" war department orders.

THE ARMY: More Men Called

During the latter half of January more thousands of young men will be called for a year's army training, under the selective service law. The first call was in December and in virtually every one of the nation's 6,500 draft boards the quota was filled by youths who volunteered. In most local areas, however, the January call will, for the first time, take men who do not volunteer.

Altus G. Moore of Washington, D. C., is one man who advanced from private to major when the call came. He is a private in the capital police force. Called to duty, he took up his assignment as a reserve officer, major of infantry.

In St. Louis, Sergt. William Schneider was called into service with the Missouri National Guard. On the first day he was in camp he was tapped on the shoulder by an officer who demanded a salute. The officer was Lieut. William Schneider Jr., his son, just commissioned in the air corps.

TREMBLORS: In Eastern U. S.

Old Mother Earth has plenty to shiver about and the trembling was felt in the Appalachian mountain section from North Carolina to Canada, one of the sections of the world where earthquakes are most seldom felt. There was little damage and in many sections only a few people felt the shakes. Had it not been for scientific instruments thousands would not have known they had gone through the experience.

Changing Hands

FATEFUL YEAR: President Warns

The seventeenth month of the war opened against a sombre background. The year 1941 dawned with a general admission that before its close may come the decisive test, not only of the war, but also the American economic system.

America was given a grave report by President Roosevelt in a speech that took the joy out of New Year's celebrations. He said that the danger to the nation is the greatest since Jamestown and Plymouth Rock. He said if Great Britain was defeated the Axis powers would control Europe, Africa, Australasia and the high seas. He said that a victorious Axis would not hesitate to occupy South America and the United States would be living at the point of a gun. He said that already secret agents of these powers are operating in the Americas.

Before the President spoke, he had received univited advice from two sources. German and Italian dispatches said that if the President promised aid to Britain by permitting use of Irish ports by American merchantmen or giving Britain stranded German merchantships in U. S. harbors it would be viewed as intervention in the war. From a bloc of U. S. senators, among them Senator Wheeler (D., Mont.), came urgings that the President originate a movement for a "negotiated" peace.

He pledged that he would do everything in his power to keep the United States out of the war, declared there was not even the remotest thought of sending troops to Europe, called for defense production to the utmost, hinted it may be necessary to use machinery now engaged in manufacture of luxury goods to turn out armament, and forecast that the Axis powers would not win the war.

Reaction

Throughout the United States the speech was received with pledges of support on all sides, even from personal and political enemies of Mr. Roosevelt like former Gov. Alfred Smith, former Gov. Alf Landon, Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.); Senator Austin (R., Maine). But there was no enthusiasm among the totalitarian powers. Berlin was silent for 48 hours during which time Adolf Hitler went into seclusion and studied the document. Der Fuehrer then replied indirectly. He spoke to his army, not mentioning the name Roosevelt. But he promised his army a victory in 1941. He said God was on the side of Germany and "would not abandon those who were determined with courageous heart to help themselves."

Premier Mussolini was blunter. His mouthpiece, Virginia Gayda, said America already was in the war.

NAMES . . . in the news

Ousted—The Overseas Press Club in New York consists of newsmen who are or have been foreign correspondents for U. S. newspapers in the past. There are few active members abroad now, most are back home. The club dropped from its rolls George Sylvester Viereck, saying it objected to his bringing "bunheads and gestapo agents" to its meetings. Viereck, an American, is registered with the state department as the $500-a-month correspondent for a Munich newspaper.

Death—Daniel Frohman, 89, one of America's greatest theatrical producers, died in New York. Agnes Ayres, 42, star of the silent movies and leading lady to Rudolph Valentino, died in Hollywood.

Job—Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., 27, was graduated by the University of Virginia last June. Now he has a job as a lawyer with the New York firm of Wright, Gordon, Zachary and Parlin. He and five others asked for jobs through the firm's employment department. All were hired.

Sued—Gloria Jean, the 12-year-old film star, has been sued for $535,000. The action was brought against the child and her parents by a theatrical agent who said he "discovered" her and by terms of a contract is entitled to 10 per cent of her earnings.

Arrested—Lucienne Boyer, noted French night club singer, was arrested by German authorities in Paris charged with attempting to smuggle food into the occupied area and sell it secretly to actors and actresses.

Debut—Joan Morgenthau, 18-year-old daughter of the secretary of the treasury, had the unusual honor of a formal White House coming-out party. The President attended, shook hands with more than 500 guests, stayed up late and was on deck the next morning in his office ahead of most clerks.

Drop in Spring Pig Crop Predicted by Government

Rise in Pork Prices Considered Likely; Washington Correspondents Discuss 'Jitters' of War Rumors.

WASHINGTON.—"Pigs is Pigs"—that was the name of one of the funniest short stories ever written. Of course pigs "isn't" pigs. They "is" shoats and hogs and a number of other things including sausage and pork chops.

Not long ago the mail carrier probably stopped at your gate and asked a lot of impertinent questions about your plans for your porkers and the other day the department of agriculture finished reporting what the mail carriers reported to them. The result was the semi-annual Pig Crop report which said that there would be 10 per cent less little pigs going to market next spring than last.

Officially the Agricultural Marketing Service said this: "The downswing in hog production which began in the spring of 1940 continued through the fall and will continue at least through the spring season of 1941, the Agricultural Marketing Service reported today. The decline apparently has been at an increasing rate. The percentage decrease in the 1940 fall pig crop was greater than that of last spring, and the indicated percentage decrease for the spring of 1941 is a little greater than that for the fall of 1940.

"The fall pig crop of 1940 is estimated at 12.5 per cent smaller than that of 1939. The decrease in the 1940 spring pig crop was 9 per cent. The combined pig crop of 1940 is down 10 per cent from last year but the crop is the second largest since 1933.

"The indicated number of sows to farrow in the spring season of 1941 is 14 per cent smaller than the number farrowed in the spring of 1940.

"This information, from the December Pig Crop survey, is based upon returns from 160,000 farmers obtained in co-operation with the post office department through the rural mail carriers."

EXPECT PRICE RISE

Now according to past experience these estimates have proved to be pretty accurate and so the city folks can expect to have to pay more for their pork chops and the demand will probably exceed the supply.

Eventually that may apply to milk, too, but right now there are thousands of potential customers of dairy farmers who would buy if milk and milk products were cheaper. Efforts of the department to breed better cows is illustrated in the accompanying photograph. I wouldn't want to go on record as saying that the fine old Aberdeen-Angus that flourishes in my home state of Illinois would be flattered to learn that mixing promiscuously with the strange-looking critter in the picture with the enlarged collar button on the back of its neck, would improve their family tree—but it's a fact.

At least the Brahman cow has certain points which help an Aberdeen-Angus if it has to live down Texas way. It's cool in Scotland where the Aberdeen-Angus came from. It's hot in tropical Asia where hump-backed beauty originated. The Brahman has sweat glands in their skin which acts as a refrigerating system. And a little of that goes pretty well in the Gulf states of this country.

News Correspondents Discuss War Jitters

This is a story of chin-beards and war.

We have been going through some jittery moments in Washington lately with war and rumors of war all about us. In the midst of the confusion, little things, unimportant things which we remember years afterward but which never get into the papers or the history books stand out clear and sharp in our memories

GREEK CHILDREN

WASHINGTON.—One story which has not been told here is how a million young folks are helping Greece win the war. These children, members of a National Youth organization, are from 8 to 20 years old. They act as couriers, as aids to firemen, help the nurses and work at all sorts of jobs vacated by the men called to the front.

U. S. Investigates 'Middleman's Profits' in Food Sales

WASHINGTON.—Right now before the boom gets under way the government is going after one situation which is draining off money into one group and away from two others. Baukhage reports. The "two others" are the consumer and the farmer; and the one which is getting too much is the middleman: processors, packers and others.

like a lantern swinging on a dark night, like the eerie, night-mare sound of the first coyote call you ever heard on a lonely ride home, with the moon half hidden under the moving clouds.

I was sitting in the Press club on a recent Sunday evening. There were a couple of correspondents there but the place was almost deserted. A heavy set fellow carrying a walking-stick came in.

Of course we began heckling him a little. But he's equal to it. Leon Henderson is one of the New Dealers who has managed to hold his ground, winning hate from some, respect from others who disagree with him all down the line. I'll never forget one occasion in which he figured. I can't mention the names of the men present but they were all legitimate contenders for nomination of the presidency of the United States. And Henderson offered a 10 to 1 bet that none of them would be candidates. One, only, got furious and when it was his turn to speak, launched into one of his famous invectives against Henderson and all his works. It was a good show but Henderson proved right in the end. He won the bet.

TALK ABOUT CRANKS

Well, what we said to Henderson that Sunday night and what he said in reply wasn't particularly important until we got to talking about the cranks trying to see government officials with plans for saving the world.

Then somebody said to Henderson: "Have you met the man who is communicating with Mars?" Before he could answer, one of the cynical listeners who insisted that the administration was trying to get us into war, piped up: "I thought you folks were already in communication with Mars."

"No," Henderson answered, quick as a whistle, "we aren't trying to communicate with the god of war, we are trying to keep away from him." Mr. Henderson left. Representative Tinkham of Massachusetts came in. We greeted him. He said he'd been away.

Naturally the talk turned to beards. For Representative Tinkham has a famous beard. A fine wavy hirsute decoration that makes him look as friendly as some of the kindly animals you've seen with similar appendages. Beards are no longer the style. I often regret it and I have always believed that their absence was due to one of two things: moral cowardice on the part of those who fear to be different or, as in my own case, an inability to raise a crop of whiskers that would look like anything but a wheatfield in the dust bowl.

TINKHAM WELL KNOWN But Representative Tinkham is more than a beard. He is a Washington institution. When the government purchased a well-known apartment house in the capital, in which he has had his bachelor quarters for years, and turned the building into one of the alphabetical agencies, Mr. Tinkham stood on his legal rights and refused to move out.

There he remained among his trophies—heads of wild water-buffalo which he had outfaced in the jungles—lions that he had not only outbearded but beaded; tigers, elephants, tusks and all—and of course, his own much-photographed beard.

However, it is not merely the fact that Representative Tinkham has faced beasts in the jungle that has made him famous. He has faced opposition for his seat in congress since 1915 and has never been defeated. And he does it without making a speech. Perhaps he is successful because he has never made a speech. Like the growing of a beard, that method is different.

And Representative Tinkham has another distinction. He is a member of the opposition, if not the "loyal opposition" an opposition which he considers is based on loyalty—loyalty to his state and his nation. "It may be too late to keep us out of war," he said, "but I am going to fight to do it."

And with that he turned on his heel and with his whiskers waving like the defiant plume on the hat of Cyrano de Bergerac, he stalked out of our presence, the tails of the strange, half-length pea-jacket he wears for an overcoat, flapping in the breeze.

The Singer Sewing Machine company has been given one of the government "educational orders" for revolvers. If this keeps up we may be beating our knitting needles into bayonets.

The next step will be a self-carrying duck.

Gentlemen—The Navy!

The United States Navy is now 165 years old. When the current defense program achieves its goal, the U. S. Navy will be more powerful than any navy, or combination of navies, afloat!

The "mother" of the U. S. Navy was the "Hannah" (right), a Massachusetts schooner owned by Capt. John Glover, commissioned as a man-of-war in 1775. The schooner scored the first naval victory in the history of the American navy by capturing a British ship off Beverly, Mass., on Sept. 5, 1775.

GREAT WHITE FLEET . . . The world sat up and took notice of the growing power of the U. S. Navy when Theodore Roosevelt sent the Great White Fleet around the world in 1907. Above are five units of the White Squadron.

Yarn-Spinner, Ancient . . . "Shor" of an old salt spinning his salty yarn to shipmates aboard the old U. S. S. Richmond. In this respect the Navy has not changed much during the decades. Yarn-Spinner, Modern . . . Beneath the wing of one of the ship's fighting planes, the boys lend willing ears to the tall tales of a shipmate aboard the ultra-modern U. S. S. Saratoga.

GROWN UP . . . And here is a view of a few of the mighty floating fortresses of the modern United States Navy—our first line of defense. Look back at the picture of the tiny "Hannah" and make comparisons.

WINGS OF THE NAVY . . . From the deck of the aircraft carrier, "Ranger," we see the U. S. S. Saratoga and the U. S. S. Lexington, each with their covets of fighting planes on flight deck, gliding majestically through calm waters.

The launching of the frigate, "Fulton First" at New York, October 29, 1814, the first steam-driven warship in the world.

Crossing of Cattle

The late Maharajah of Mysore was the first to cross American milk cattle with the hump-backed Sinds cattle of India, according to cattle experts. He obtained a prize Holstein bull in Seattle and crossed him with a long-horned Sinds, which had established a record of 740 pounds of milk a year. The offspring produced more milk in two months than her champion mother had in a year.

Engineer Song Composer

A locomotive engineer who never played any musical instrument and doesn't "know one note from another," has just completed his first composition. Entitled "Will They Sing the Songs of Dixie Way Up There?" it has brought favorable comment from critics and a thousand copies have been published. The engineer is George Wall of the Cheyenne-Laramie run, of Laramie, Wyo.

A CHANGE IN THE MEAT COURSE
(See Recipes Below)

Meat makes the meal, especially when there are husky, hard-working men to feed. But for those busy scenes in the kitchen, thinking up a different and a flavorful dish for each day out of the week is no small task.

There are two ways to approach the problem. First, investigate some of the less-common cuts. You'll find them thrifty to buy because the demand for them is less.

Most of them are good flavor and easy to properly cook to serious rivals to more expensive cuts.

If you are buying pork, ask the meat dealer to prepare you a ham rolled sirloin roast. It's a variety cut not so well known as the pork loin roast but it has decided advantages. Two sections of the sirloin are boned and tied together into a solid roll of meat. The compact slices offer no obstructions to the knife, and are easier to a carver's prayer. The thick shoulder of pork is another of exceptional flavor. Have it roasted, still with spinach and meat it.

It's too soon for another leg of lamb, but a section of lamb breast can be rolled with a layer of sage. Slice off the meat as you would a jelly-roll; you'll have the most pinwheels imaginable. Lamb shoulder and lamb shoulder chops are two other not-so-well-known possibilities.

The second way to coax some variety into your meat dishes is to try new ways of flavoring cuts that serve often. If much of your meat supply comes from a frozen supply locker, this is your best bet.

Have pork chops cut double thick and stuff them with a tart mixture of sauerkraut and apple. Your guests will beam approval when you serve that combination. Or make your next ham loaf like an upside-down cake so that when you cut it out, there are rows of bright-dollar apricots across the top. Canned gooseberries as a relish with ham or beef, or canned Dalmatian plums with veal.

Pork Chops Stuffed With Sauerkraut and Apple.
(Serves 6)
Cut pork chops (cut 1-inch thick) 6 cup sauerkraut (drained) 1 cup tart, red cooking apple (diced) 1 cup sauerkraut salt 1 teaspoon salt 1
teaspoon pepper 1
tablespoons fat 2
cup sauerkraut juice 1
Have a pocket made from the outside of each chop. Combine sauerkraut with finely sliced unpeeled apple and stuff the chops with the mixture. Season them with salt and pepper and brown on both sides in hot fat in a heavy skillet. Add sauerkraut juice, cover, and finish the cooking in a moderate oven (350 degrees). Bake for 1 1/2 hours, and remove the cover during the last 15 minutes of baking to brown the chops.

Boneless Sirloin Pork Roast With Stuffed Apples.
Have the meat retailer remove the tenderloin and bones from two sirloin sections, reverse the ends, and tie the two boneless pieces together in a compact rolled roast. Season with salt and pepper and place with the fat side up in an open roasting pan. Make an incision to the center of the roast and insert a meat thermometer so that the center of the bulb reaches the center of the fleshiest part of the meat. Place the roast in a moderate oven (350 degrees) and roast until the thermometer registers 185 degrees Fahrenheit. Allow about 30 minutes per pound for roasting. Serve with rice-stuffed apples.

Round Steak, Western Style.

(Serves 6)
2 pounds round steak
2 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 medium onions (sliced)
1/2 lemon (sliced)
1 No. 1 can condensed tomato soup (1 1/2 cups)
1 cup water

Have round steak cut 3/4 inch thick. Spread with butter and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Arrange slices of thinly cut onion and lemon over steak. Dilute tomato soup with water and pour over steak. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 2 hours uncovered.

Rice-Stuffed Apples.

6 medium-sized baking apples
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 cup rice (cooked)
1 tablespoon butter
1/2 cup water

Wash apples and cut a slice from the top of each. Remove the cores and seeds and sprinkle the cavities with brown sugar. Mix cooked rice with melted butter and stuff each apple. Arrange them in a baking pan with the water in the bottom and bake for 1 1/2 hours, or until tender in a moderate oven (350 degrees).

Lamb Pinwheels.

(Serves 5)
Boned breast of lamb (about 3 1/2 pounds)
3/4 pound bulk pork sausage
2 tablespoons fat
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 small onion (sliced)
1 cup tomatoes (canned)
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce

Have the lamb breast boned, spread with bulk pork sausage, rolled, and tied or skewered into shape at the market. Wipe the meat with a damp cloth and dry. Then brown on all sides in hot fat. Pour off the fat in the pan, leaving 2 tablespoons only. Season the roll with salt and pepper. Add sliced onion, tomatoes and Worcestershire sauce. Cover tightly and cook very slowly until done, about 1 1/2 hours. Slice into pinwheels, using a very sharp knife.

Star Dust

STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO

By VIRGINIA VALE
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

IF YOU lived within a ten-mile radius of Priscilla Lane's home you'd be more than likely to encounter her at one of the neighborhood movie houses in that vicinity, and to see her afterward buttonholing the manager.

The "Four Mothers" star takes her movie-making very seriously, so she quizzes the men who make money by showing movies. "What do you think of that picture?" "Does it seem to be drawing?" "Do the fans here like that star?" That's the kind of thing Priscilla wants to know. When she's working she covers two or three pictures a week; other times she takes in four or five.

Metro previewed "Flight Command" aboard an airplane in flight one evening recently; afterward, Bebell Monroe, president of Pennsylvania Central Airlines, predicted that pictures will be shown regularly on all commercial air lines within the next few years, as they are on ocean liners. Robert Taylor stars in "Flight Command," a naval aviation story.

We're to have "The Trial of Mary Dugan" again, with Robert Young in the leading male role. Remember when Norma Shearer made it nine years ago? Laraine Day will play "Mary Dugan." (You probably saw her in "Foreign Correspondent.")

Edward J. Peters, chief engineer of Paramount's air conditioning department, has perfected a new type of ice. He calls it "snow ice," and because it lasts almost one-third longer than ordinary ice and requires a third less time to produce, it may affect the commercial ice industry.

It was developed because Director Charles Vidor was shooting a scene in "New York Town" (Fred MacMurray, Mary Martin and Robert Preston co-starring); bright set lights striking ordinary transparent ice in water made the ice invisible to the camera. Vidor wanted the ice to show, to emphasize an important story point. Hence the new ice.

Hollywood's biggest variety show—Al Pearce and His Gang—takes nine microphones to get their Friday broadcasts on the CBS network. Carl Hoff's orchestra alone takes three; Pearce has one, and the rest of the cast another. Billy Gould gets a sixth one for his sound effects, and Wendell Niles has a booth, equipped with a microphone, of course, for his closing commercial. There's an audience applause microphone, so that we who listen may know how much those who are present are enjoying it, and when Bill Jordan and George Kent present their two-piano numbers the ninth mike is added to the engineer's problems.

Apparently quiz shows are as popular as ever with radio audiences—two new ones will take to the air shortly, over the CBS Pacific Network, "They're 'Don't Be Personal'" and "Talk Your Way Out of This One"—studio audiences will participate, and the winners will receive cash prizes.

Girls who have ambitions to act on the screen or on the air might take a tip from Lurene Tuttle; she never misses a Helen Hayes broadcast because she learns so much from Miss Hayes, and she studies Bette Davis' work in pictures—she says that when she worked with Miss Davis, the star gave her many valuable suggestions on the technique of acting. Now Lurene's learning still more from working with John Barrymore on the Vallee programs.

ODDS AND ENDS

"Here Comes the Navy," made by James Cagney and Pat O'Brien in 1934, is being re-released by Warner Brothers.
George Burns and Gracie Allen have renewed the pledge they signed a year ago to support a certain number of youngsters at Boyston, Neb.
Donald Crisp ends a six-month vacation with a role in "Winged Victory."
"Kitty Foyles" is the forty-second picture in which Ginger Rogers has been featured or starred.
Guy Kibbee got the title role in "Scattergood Baines" at the request of the author.

Four years ago James Stewart and Henry Fonda made a movie. It was called "Homer the Hungry." Fonda wrote, directed and shot it. They made it on Sundays, whenever they could get together, but it never was finished. For two years now a scene has been shot, though they've been promising their friends all this time that they would finish it and hold a private showing. The other day they decided to get it out and finish it. Now it's in the ash can; the film was mildewed.

New Silk Lingerie Fascinates With Its 'Dressmaker Touch'

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

It also answers to the call for black. Garments of black silk sheers profusely trimmed with fine black lace are featured throughout all lingerie collections of note. In this modish ensemble of gown and boudoir coat, the latter, as you will observe, is styled with a side drape finished off with a border of sheerest black lace. The gown underneath is also lace-trimmed. To add to this twosome, designers suggest a third "black beauty" (not illustrated) lace-lavished costume slip to wear under your newest black party dress of net, silk chiffon or lace.

EVERYONE should have a hobby. It is almost safe to say that the most alluring, the most all-prevailing hobby among the fair sex is that of acquiring a wardrobe of lovely lacy soft and silken lingerie. Certain it is that women's enthusiasm for pretty "undies," negligees and other flattering boudoir apparel needs no urge.

This is true of brides, debutantes, teen-age lassies, career women—in fact, everyone from girl to grandma, no matter how tailored and tweedy her exterior. When it comes to comfort, relaxation and self expression that innate love for the beautiful, it is in the touch and the wear of beguiling silken lingerie that most women feel the desires of their heart realized.

One of the most interesting gestures in modern lingerie styling is the dressmaker touch given to gowns and negligees. Many of them approach evening gowns in their technique and style. In fact, evening gown tactics are known to have been adopted to such an extent that in some instances frilled and lace-laden, ribboned "nighties" have actually gone dancing with onlookers being none the wiser. If you have ever visited an American silk industry exhibit, you would have noted that the emphasis on beguiling silken lingerie displayed in exquisite boudoir environs is more than impressive.

The fashion of giving dressmaker detail to boudoir apparel is happily stressed in the stunning twosome shown to the left in the illustration.

Black Lace Magic

By all means include a large and lovely chiffon kerchief with a three-inch lace border in your collection of evening accessories. You will find it effective in many ways. Tying gracefully from an embroidered pocket it adds infinite grace to your costume. Carry it in your hand nonchalantly or tuck it under your jeweled belt. These lovely lace chiffons designed by Burmel will add a decorative note to anyone's appearance if she is versed in kerchief technique. Worn as pictured, over a prettily groomed evening coiffure, you will take on the loveliness of a modern madonna. You can get these lace and chiffon whimsies in wicked black or angelic white. One of each would tune to every occasion.

Furs for Women Vary in Durability

Probably no other article of women's apparel is surrounded by quite the aura of mystery as are fur coats. Only an expert can tell anything about the quality of furs. The best average woman can do is to learn something of their wearing qualities and then select the type best suited to her needs. Among the most durable furs are beaver, fisher, mink, otter, and badger. Other pelts that wear very well are Alaskan seal, kolinsky, kimmer, martin, muskrat, Persian lamb, raccoon and skunk. If you are selecting furs to stand hard daily wear, you will find these most satisfactory. Less substantial, but not classed as actually fragile, are caracul, ermine, fox, leopard, lynx, marmot, nutria, squirrel, mole, chipmunk and kidskin.

Decorative Veils

Milliners are making a plaything of veils. They arrange them in whimsical fashion to add a sprightly touch to the hat. It's new to tie your veil under your chin in a butterfly bow. Then too, milliners depend upon veils to give a gay color touch.

Dress Has Ruffles

A frock to be worn by a young girl at parties is one of pale pink net made with seven full ruffles on the skirt and tiny, very full, puffed sleeves.

Tips Picked Up in World Fashion Centers

Don't hesitate to wear roses, carnations or carnations in your hair. For town and city wear, men's wear silk shirting and suiting fabrics are much in favor as blouses. If your figure is wider than you wish it were, it is more flattering to wear flowers near the center of the neckline instead of on the shoulders. And only if you are slim-waisted should you wear a corsage at the beltline.

Centered in this group picture is a white silk satin nightgown with hand-sewn Alencon lace which yields to deep V-treatment with flattering shoulder bretelles of the same sumptuous lace. Its semi-princess lines resemble the manner of a party dress.

A new trend to modesty in silk night robes is the adorable gown shown in the inset. This empire nightgown of heaven blue silk crepe reveals a marked tendency to exploit light blues in lingerie fashions. This model has a pleated bosom oval neckline with a wide bordering of handsome lace about the hemline. The same lace repeated on the short waist achieves a quaint empire silhouette.

Shades of the Gibson girl! Here it is in modernized version as shown in the camisole-and-pantie set to the right in the group. This combination garment of pinkish mauve silk satin is trimmed with Alencon lace dyed to match. The camisole zips up the front and would fill a Gibson girl with envy.

You will enjoy a far happier, care-free spring and summer if you assemble your lingerie wardrobe in the "do it now" spirit that will leave more time for the spring sewing program just beyond.

FIRST-AID to the AILING HOUSE

Clogged Septic Tank.
QUESTION: About May, 1934, I installed a septic tank and drainage field for sewage disposal at my country home. Up to the present I have had no trouble. Now the toilet bowl is stopped up. The plumber took the cover off the tank and found a crust on the surface about 10 inches thick, which he said is due to lack of fermentation, caused by the tank being too low and not getting the heat of the sun. The plumber suggests raising the plumbing in the cellar and raising the tank to within 10 inches of the surface. Shall I follow the plumber's suggestions or shall I use the yeast cake suggestion of a neighbor?

ANSWER: The crust should be removed. It is an accumulation of grease and oil, which has solidified. A septic tank should be inspected every two or three years, and any substantial accumulation of grease removed. A grease trap between the tank and the kitchen drain will eliminate much of this trouble. If the septic tank has been operating satisfactorily for five years, I see no reason for raising it, as well as the plumbing. After removing the crust in the septic tank, if the toilet continues to be stopped up, it is quite possible that there is some stoppage in the pipe line that should be removed. Yeast cakes are used to stimulate the bacterial action in septic tanks. Six cakes are dissolved in tepid (not hot) water in a wash basin, then allowed to flow into the tank.

Painting an Attic.

QUESTION: What is the least expensive way of painting the walls of an attic which have never been painted? What can I do about the floor boards, which are warped in places? I would like to use linoleum.

ANSWER: You can get good satisfaction with a kind of paint made with casein; it comes as a paste to be thinned with water to the proper consistency. When dry and hard it is washable.

Before laying linoleum, your floor boards should be solidly nailed down and all raised edges and rough places should be planed off. Linoleum will wear quickly when laid on a rough or uneven surface. For long life and good wear the surface should be as smooth as possible.

Color of Doors.

QUESTION: In doing over our house we want to leave the oak trim around the windows and doors and the baseboards in natural finish. The doors are pine, and we cannot decide what to do with them; whether it would be best to grain the doors to imitate oak, or to finish them in enamel. What do you advise?

ANSWER: I certainly do not advise graining the doors in imitation of oak. The results at best would not be good, for an imitation is always cheap looking. It would be much better to enamel the doors. A small and inexpensive touch that adds greatly to appearance is to use glass doorknobs; these can be had at hardware stores.

Rock Garden.

QUESTION: The yard in back of us is three or four feet higher than ours, and being on a slant, dirt is always flowing down to the sewer. I want to improve the looks of this. I have quite a number of bricks and stones, and would like to build a rock garden against the slope, but have no idea of how to start. How do I go about it?

ANSWER: The important thing is to pile dirt and stones against the hill to prevent further washing away of the dirt and to protect the roots of any trees that may be nearby. Pile your bricks and stones along the foot of the hill, fill the crannies with dirt and set rock garden plants in them.

Soiled House.

QUESTION: The north side of my country house is very dirty; in some places almost black. The house was painted last year. Is this due to fall and winter storms? Would it be remedied by putting a wood gutter on the north side of the roof? ANSWER: If the soiling is from dirt, it should scrub off; use warm water with a cupful of trisodium phosphate or washing soda to the gallon dissolved in it. If this does not clean the paint, the soiling may mildew. If so, report the case to the maker of the paint. By all means put on gutters.

Sweating Icebox.

QUESTION: I have an old-fashioned icebox, which has recently begun to sweat on the outside. Why should it do this?

ANSWER: Sweating is due to the failure of the insulation in the icebox walls and doors. The effect is to chill the warm and damp air that comes in contact with it.

Sawdust.

QUESTION: I must insulate the kitchen ceiling of my old house from the unfinished attic overhead. Unable to buy special products, can I adequately insulate with four inches of sawdust between the attic floor beams?

ANSWER: I do not recommend sawdust as insulation in a house for several reasons; it attracts and holds moisture and becomes overrun with vermin and insects. Usual rock wool, which for economy you can get loose in bags to be put in place by the handful.

Miss Had Another Chance After the Final Good-By

The fellow threatened to commit suicide every time a certain girl turned him down. She refused him again the other night, and the next morning a messenger boy called with this note:

"Darling—By the time you read this, my body will be floating down the river. Life without you is not worth while. Shed no tears over me, but just remember that I have always loved you. Good-bye for ever."

The girl went white and nearly fainted. Then she noticed that the messenger boy was still there.

"What are you waiting for?" she asked.

"The man who gave me that note said I was to wait for an answer," said the boy.

Today's popularity of Doan's Pills, after many years of world-wide use, surely must be accepted as evidence of satisfactory use. And favorable public opinion supports that of the able physicians who test the value of Doan's under exacting laboratory conditions. You may suffer nagging back-ache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel weak, nervous, all played out. Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warn of disturbed kidney function. You may suffer nagging back-ache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel weak, nervous, all played out. Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won world-wide acclaim than on something less favorably known. Ask your neighbor!

How One Woman Lost
20 Pounds of FAT

Lost Her Prominent Hips
Lost Her Double Chin
Lost Her Sluggishness

Gained a More Shapely Figure and the Increase in Physical Vigor and Vivaciousness Which So Often Comes With Excess Fat Reduction.

Thousands of women are getting fat and losing their appeal just because they do not know what to do.

Why not be smart — do what thousands of women have done to get off pounds of unwanted fat?

Take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water first thing every morning to gently activate liver, bowels and kidneys—cut down your caloric intake—eat wisely and satisfyingly—there need never be a hungry moment!

Keep this plan up for 30 days.
Then weigh yourself and see if you haven't lost pounds of ugly fat.

Just see if this doesn't prove to be the surprise of your life and make you feel like shouting the good news to other fat people. And best of all a jar of Kruschen that will last you for 4 weeks costs but little. If not joyfully satisfied—money back.
