List Features by Fifty Indians For Firemen's Picnic

Only two more weeks before the Kewaskum firemen's annual picnic to be held in the Kewaskum park on Sunday, July 13, afternoon and evening. The big feature will be the appearance of 50 Menominee Indians from the Menominee Indian reservation at Keshena, located near Shawano. The famous Menominee All-Indian band of 25 to 30 pieces will play and 12 big additional dances and acts will be staged, including a genuine Indian pow-wow and real Indian wedding. The band will be led by a beautiful Indian girl drum majorette. The entire performance by the Indians and admission to the park are FREE!

The pow-wow will be led by Indian Jim Wolf of Neopit, who with bucks and squaws will put on the native dances. The pow-wow will feature about 10 Indians all in buckskins and war paint, etc. The wedding ceremony will be a real Indian wedding in which a young buck and squaw will be married. The wedding will be performed in full view of those in attendance. Besides the wedding 11 native dances will also be put on. The dances are as follows:

1. Friendship Dance.
2. Snake Dance.
3. Pipe Dance.
4. Squaw Dance.
5. Harvest Time Dance.
6. Southwind Dance.
7. Brave Man Dance.
8. Squaw Dance.
9. Fish Dance.
10. Feather Dance.
11. Forty-nine Dance.

The Indian band is managed by James G. Frechette of Keshena, Indian council chairman and one of the principal leaders of the tribe. The director of the band is Angus F. Lookarood, who has played with many famous bands.

The picnic will get underway with a mammoth street parade at 12:45 p. m. containing bands, floats, etc. More floats are wanted for the parade and all businessmen and others are urged to enter one. Those desiring to enter floats should contact Frank Heppes as soon as possible. Besides the Indian band the Kewaskum Community band will also participate in the parade and play in the park. During the afternoon and evening a grand picnic will be held, including games, amusements and concessions of all kinds for young and old.

Fifteen big merchandise prizes will be awarded in the evening at the park. Tickets are now being sold for 25c, which entitle the holder to a chance on the prizes and admission to the dance to be held in the opera house in the evening. The Wisconsin Aces will supply modern and old time music for the dance. Plan now to attend this event and tell your friends. The firemen guarantee all that they will be royally entertained. Be sure and bring the kiddies—they'll like the Indians. And remember, admission to the park and parking are FREE.

Sinclair Agency Here Discontinued by Dogs

Norbert Dogs, local agent for the Sinclair Refining company since 1931, has discontinued in business and in a transaction completed last week sold his trucks to Leo Rohlinger of this village, the new proprietor, who had been a driver for Dogs the past eight years. Rohlinger has taken in his brother-in-law, Gregor Hall, of West Bend as a partner and these two men will operate the business in the future. Hall also was a driver for Dogs since last October.

Mr. Dogs' reason for going out of business was his health, being unable to stand truck driving any longer after many years in that capacity. He is undecided at present as to the future but with his family will continue to make his residence in the village. Mr. Dogs wishes to express his thanks and appreciation to his many patrons for their liberal business and friendliness during the past ten years and hopes they will continue to patronize the new agents, who will conduct the business in the same good service as before.

WORK STARTED ON NEW VILLAGE LOCKER PLANT

Work was started Monday on the new refrigerated locker plant and meat market to be erected on the L. Rosenheimer lot located at the rear of Miller's Fond du Lac avenue furniture store by Sylvester Harter, proprietor of Harter's Market. The business will be conducted under the name of Kewaskum Frozen Foods when completed in fall. Digging for the foundation has been completed and erection work is now under way. It is another of the new buildings going up in our little city. Watch next week's Statesman for large announcement ad and write up on the new plant.

PARKING LANES PAINTED

Employees of the village were at work the past week on their annual job of repainting the parking lanes and crossing zones on Main street and part of Fond du Lac avenue. The lanes again were painted in bright yellow and stand out very plainly. Motorists are urged to park their vehicles in line with the parking lanes.

REPAIR VILLAGE STREETS

Workers of the Washington County Highway Department spent a couple of days this week repairing the black-topped streets in the village. Some of the roads were plowed up, graded, rolled and a new coat of blacktop material was added. On others in better condition only the holes were filled up.

Men 21 Must Register For Service Tuesday

Draft to Take 34 From County in July; June Quota of 63 Left Last Saturday

Next Tuesday, July 1, the Washington County Selective Service Board No. 1, along with other selective service boards in the state and nation, will conduct a second registration of Washington county young men who have reached the age of 21 years since Oct. 16, 1940, and who are eligible for military training under the selective service and military training act of 1940. Estimates indicate that there will be approximately 20,000 men registered Tuesday in the state, according to State Director Walter J. Wilde.

All of the registration for this county Tuesday will be done at the courthouse in West Bend, beginning at 7 a. m. and continuing until all those present up to 9 p. m. are registered. The number of young men to register in the county is not known but the total is not expected to be large. The provisions of the selective service and military training act of 1940 requiring certain men to present themselves for and submit to registration read as follows:

"Except as otherwise provided in this act, it shall be the duty of every male citizen of the United States, and of every male alien residing in the United States, who, on the day or days fixed for the first or any subsequent registration, is between the ages of 21 and 35, to present himself for and submit to registration at such time or times and place or places, and in such manner and in such age group or groups, as shall be determined by rules and regulations prescribed hereunder."

Men required to present themselves for registration will not be paid for performing such obligation nor will they be paid travel allowance or expense. The registration will take place in the draft board office on the third floor of the county courthouse. All questionnaires are now in the hands of registrants, the last group being mailed June 19. A total of 3,397 questionnaires were sent out.

After having just completed fulfilling a quota of 65 men for selective service for the month of June the local board was notified last week by state selective service headquarters at Madison that it will be called upon to supply 24 selectees for induction in the July quota. These 24 will be inducted on Thursday, July 24.

The June quota of 63 selectees left by bus from the courthouse square in West Bend at 7:30 a. m. last Saturday for the North Richards street induction center of the U. S. army in Milwaukee. Lester Christ Froh left from Sheboygan to join the group in Milwaukee and Harold Day Brown was ordered to report to a local board in Mitchell county, Ia., for induction. This filled the county quota of 65 men.

This was the largest group yet to leave the county. They assembled at 6 a. m. and were given necessary information by the board, who selected Elmer Earl Albright, West Bend, as leader of the group and Daniel Michael Zettel, Barton, as assistant leader. In Milwaukee 54 of the 63 men were accepted for military service, the other nine being rejected. They were among 175 selectees accepted for the army at Milwaukee that day. Out of the county group Helmut Lubitz Jr. was the only one from Kewaskum accepted.

Local Firemen Receive Course of Instruction

At the regular meeting of the Kewaskum firemen held in the fire house last Thursday evening the members of the department were given a course of instruction in firemen's training. This firemen's school was started this year by the Badger Firemen's association, of which Kewaskum is a member. The instructions are given by three specially trained men well qualified for the work who visit each department in the association twice a year or more if possible. Many other associations throughout the state and nation hold similar schools for firemen.

Training is given on forcible entry and minor extinguishment, ladder practices, hose practices, salvage and overhaul, first aid and inspection practices. Instructors in the Badger association are Asst. Chief Ed. E. Wischer, Captains Nic Muenzenberger and Alvin Radke of the Milwaukee fire department, all of whom were here on Thursday. These men have charge of the drill and training school for the Milwaukee department. Present also were E. E. Schneider and George J. Armbruster of Cedarburg, vice-president and secretary-treasurer of the Badger association. At the first school in Kewaskum talks and demonstrations were given on inspection, care, laying and packing of hose.

WHAT! NO NEW AUTO MODELS?
There is talk of discontinuing any changes in automobile models during this year, but the decision should not be made except as a last resort. Few things will break down the modern suspension of their ancient right to trek down to the annual auto show and see how many gadgets have been shifted.

There is a limit to sacrifice. And it may be reached when you ask Americans to go through a whole year in which even the windows in automobiles open the same way they did before.

You can get Gus Q. Citizen to give up many things in a crisis without a squawk. He will give up meat, cut down on fuel, and if necessary climb into a uniform to defend his country, but when you ask him to take calmly the news that Detroit will turn out sedans with the humps and bulges unchanged, you're taking a chance on insurrection.

Elmer Twitchell is among those horrified by the prospect and he has written the following appeal to the President:

"Dear Franklin: "If you want the morale of America kept intact, do something at once to stop this idea of no changes in auto models during the emergency. Year after year, through floods, fires, dust storms, quakes, strikes, erosions and depressions, no matter what happened to the country, automobile models came out every season full of changes. The more trouble, the more changes. And the people of America are not going to feel that everything is all right if cars come out next fall with the starting button right where it is today, and with the gear shift not lowered, raised, hidden or camouflaged in any way.

"I think I could stand news of an American reverse in battle better than I could endure the sudden realization that the ash trays in our limousines were to be left as in the 1941 models, and that nobody had decided on a new type of bumper.

"Franklin, if we are to come through this great crisis okay, don't prevent those auto makers from monkeying with the gadgets, color schemes and front ends. It's little things like that that undermine confidence, kill causes and lose wars.

"Of course I want the auto industry to concentrate on defense, but it must make a few changes in the limousine and roadster models if we are to remain a happy people. See that the least they do is to keep shifting the doorknobs.

"Yours for unity and a harder search for the starting button every season,
—Elmer Twitchell."

And we think Elmer is right. If the President doesn't do something, congress should.

Lawn and Pasture
Although it is generally assumed that Kentucky bluegrass is a native of Kentucky, such, in fact, is not the case. When Daniel Boone led his intrepid pioneers into Kentucky, his spear of the handsome bluegrass met their gaze. Like most of our valuable grasses, bluegrass was brought to America from the Old world by early colonists.

Bluegrass is now widespread in America and has great value both as a lawn grass and for pastures. It is seldom actually sown in pastures, since, because of its creeping underground stems, it is practically certain to appear anyway in good pasture land. Lawns everywhere (except in very dry regions) are seeded to bluegrass and white clover, the bluegrass germinating quickly and forming a thick rich growth while the clover is becoming established. The name "bluegrass" was first, presumably, applied to Canada bluegrass which has a bluish foliage, and was later transferred to the Kentucky species which is actually a lush, deep green.

Another important immigrant from the Old world is Redtop. This is a beautiful grass and very widespread, being found everywhere in the United States. It is said, as a result of experiment, that no other grass will grow under as great a variety of conditions as Redtop and that it is the best wet-land grass among the "tame" species. Redtop will grow in soils deficient in lime; it is strongly drought-resistant; it is a vigorous grower and will form a good turf in a very short period of time. A recent government bulletin says of Redtop that: "Its chief uses are (1) as a wet-land or sour-land hay crop; (2) as a part of pasture mixtures under humid conditions, especially on soils other than limestone; (3) as a soil binder; and (4) as an ingredient in all hay mixtures which are to be fed at home."

The grass most used for lawns and pastures in the South is Bermuda grass, particularly on clay and loamy soils. It does not seed readily in humid regions and is therefore commonly planted by pieces of root-stalk. Several varieties of Bermuda grass are recognized, the most valuable of which, agriculturally, is the Brazil Giant Bermuda with its rich blue-green foliage.

CARPET GRASS
A grass which is especially adapted to sandy or sandy loam soils, especially on lands with a high water table, is the so-called Carpet grass, also known as Louisiana grass. On lands of this nature it will occupy the land in pure growth, especially under heavy continuous grazing. Moreover, it will produce good crops of seed even where it is heavily grazed. Government experts say that "over much of the area in which it grows, carpet grass is more valuable than any other perennial grass yet known, for permanent pastures." It does best under conditions of abundant heat and moisture and where such conditions prevail it provides pasture from May to November.

A meadow grass which comes on early in spring and remains late in the fall, thus supplementing native pastures, is Meadow fescue, sometimes called English bluegrass. Its leaves are bright green in color and very succulent, and it also makes a very good quality of hay if permitted to ripen. It is said that for wet soils, few grasses are the equal of meadow fescue. Its habit of flourishing in late fall after early frosts have killed the native grasses, makes it valuable to stockmen since it reduces by some weeks the period of dry feeding.

Sheep fescue is a native of both the Old world and the New, being found along the Great Lakes and in the Rocky mountains. It is a bunch grass. It is adapted to the same general climatic conditions as is bluegrass and may be grown northward as far as any agriculture is possible. It does exceptionally well on poor sandy or gravelly soils and, although it is tough, it is nutritious and is eagerly eaten by sheep. Cattle, too, will feed upon it readily.

The usual rate of seeding per acre for grasses listed here is:
Kind Pounds
Kentucky bluegrass 14-18
Redtop 8-10
Bermuda grass 5
Meadow fescue 25-30
Carpet grass 5-10
Sheep fescue 25-30

For further information on grasses, send five cents to Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C., asking for Farmers' Bulletin No. 1254.

HOW NUTS BECOME WORMY
Did you ever, when you were a child, bite into a wild sweet acorn, only to find it harboring at its heart a fat, white, and wrinkled worm? These worms are the larvae of the snout beetle. The snout beetle is so called because its head is elongated into a snout which is sometimes long and curved. When the acorns or nuts are young and soft the snout beetle punches a hole in them with her snout, then deposits an egg in the hole. In due time the egg hatches into the worm which spoils the nut.

AMERICA'S FAVORITE TREE
The elm is probably the favorite tree of Americans, because of its symmetrical beauty, its hardiness, and its longevity. It blooms in the spring, long before the leaf-buds unfold, and produces a winged seed.

The growing of peppermint and spearmint, and the distillation of oil from these plants, are important industries in some parts of the United States, notably Indiana, Michigan, western Oregon, and Washington.

There is an old tradition that the luckiest sort of bride's cake is one baked in a ring—symbolic, like the gold band that is slipped on her finger for the first time at her wedding.

This cake brings luck to the guests, for it contains a ring, a coin and a key—signifying marriage, wealth and happiness to those who find them.

VICLAND OATS
Much interest has been shown during the past year by farmers in a new strain of oat called Vicland. This oat, grown for the first time in 1941 by farmers in southern Wisconsin, promises to be a very desirable variety. It is an early yellow oat. Maturing about as early as the States Pride variety and has about the same straw length. It is a good yielder under average conditions. Its outstanding advantage is rust resistance, and in those years when grain rust is plentiful it promises to cut yield any other Wisconsin variety by a reasonable margin. It is also resistant to the smut disease.

The following Washington county farmers have planted five or more acres of Vicland oats:
Luke Berres, Route 2, West Bend.
Ben Krause, Route 1, Jackson.
Reinhold Kressin, Route 1, Rockfield.
Edgar Miske, Route 2, Kewaskum.
Raymond Lepien, Route 1, Hartford.
Louis Opgenorth, Route 3, Kewaskum.
Guido Schroeder, Route 5, West Bend.

Should any one want to see this new strain of oat under field conditions the writer feels confident that you would be very welcome to see it at any one of the above mentioned Vicland growers.

HAVEY-SCANNELL WEDDING
Our Lady of Angels church was the scene of the marriage of Miss Laura Marie Scannell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Scannell, and Eldon Havey, son of Mrs. Jennie Havey, at 9 a. m. Wednesday, June 11. The Rev. Joseph J. Michels read the service and sang the nuptial high mass. Music was furnished by the church choir, accompanied by Mrs. John Rolt, the organist.

Mrs. Ray Wifler sang "Ave Maria" during the offertory. The chancel was decorated with pink and white peonies, ferns and white tapers. White starched net with a full ruffled skirt, fitted bodice and puffed sleeves was worn by the bride with a net fingertip length veil held with a Juliet cap. She carried a colonial arrangement of white roses. Miss Eileen Scannell, attending her sister as maid of honor, and the Misses Kathryn Havey and Rosemary Scannell, sisters of the bridegroom, and bride, as bridesmaids, wore identical floor length bouffant gowns of white point d'esprit with single scroll ruffles on the skirts and white net poke bonnets. Their colonial bouquets were of pink and white flowers. Joan Grimes, cousin of the bride, in a white net frock and carrying a colonial bouquet, was the flower girl. Clarence Graham served his cousin, as best man and the groomsmen were Wallace Wifler and Neil Carson. Ushers were Emmett Blackmore and Thomas Mullen. Fifty guests were entertained at dinner at Mrs. Groll's Coffee Shoppe, Fond du Lac. Mr. and Mrs. Havey, after a trip to Denver, Colo., will be at home at the bridegroom's farm July 1. The bride has been engaged as a teacher in the Sheboygan county schools for the last five years.

THIBADEAU WEDDING
In a simple but beautifully impressive ceremony performed at 9:30 a. m. Monday, June 16th, in the chapel of St. Mary's Springs academy, Fond du Lac, Miss Mary Murphy, a former student and graduate, became the bride of Raymond J. Thibadeau of Peshtigo, the Rev. Joseph Sczypurt of St. Mary's parish, Peshtigo, officiating at the service.

The bride wore a white silk vail dress with lace trim and long train. Her fingertip length veil was held with a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a crystal rosary, a gift of the groom, and a white silk missal from which hung streamers caught with lilies of the valley. Miss Elnora Nielschman as her attendant wore a floor length pink marquisette gown trimmed with lace, natural flowers adorning her hair. She carried an arm bouquet of pink roses and cornflowers.

Dr. Gordon J. Thibadeau of Fond du Lac attended his brother as best man while Patrick Hayes and Bruce Husman ushered. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Murphy of Fond du Lac and the granddaughter of Mrs. Mary Browne of Dundee, with whom she has resided since childhood. She is a former Peshtigo county teacher and has been engaged in teaching in the Peshtigo public schools. The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Thibadeau of Gillett, is engaged in business in Peshtigo where the couple will reside after a two week motor trip through Canada and the East. A dinner was served for relatives and friends at the Takodah clubhouse after the ceremony. Many parties in Peshtigo, Marinette, and Fond du Lac were given in the bride's honor during the last few weeks.

Tri-County Black and White Show a Success

The Tri-County Black & White show held at the county fair grounds at Slinger last Saturday was a successful event. The three counties, Ozaukee and Washington. It was the first show of this kind for any of the participating counties.

From early morning until almost up to the time the animals were led into the judging ring the breeders were busy washing and clipping their animals. The new livestock wash rack only recently completed, was given a good try out for as many as six head of cattle were being washed at one time.

The day's events began at eleven o'clock with a junior farmer livestock judging contest. Several classes of livestock were judged. Among the Washington county boys who received high scores when the final averages were figured up were Norbert Detman, Boltonville; Roland East, Rockfield, and Robert Mayer of Richfield. Each boy received a cash prize. This was followed by an adult contest.

Immediately after the noon hour luncheon a hoof trimming demonstration was put on in a very excellent way by Richard Stumbo of the state dairy-men's association. John Kuenzi of Colgate brought in his 2-year old herd sire for this occasion. Then followed the judging of the animals entered in the Black & White show.

The first class to be judged was that of helpers under two years. The purple ribbon (grand champion of class) was won by the Milwaukee County Institution herd on an exceptionally good type junior yearling heifer. In the young sire class the Milwaukee County House of Correction herd carried off the purple ribbon or top honors.

LEPIEN WINS RIBBON
Herbert Lepien of Hartford showed the grand champion in the young cow class. He was awarded the purple ribbon on his entry. In the aged cow class the Wickman herd of Cedarburg won the purple ribbon on a very good animal. Wm. Nehrbass of Rockfield placed second in this class.

The writer expects to publish the placings of all animals exhibited at the show in next week's issue of the local newspaper.

About 300 visitors attended the show and many favorable comments were heard concerning the excellence of the animals shown. The breeders of the three counties participating are to be complimented for the wholehearted cooperation they gave in making this event a success. The show took much time and made much extra work for all concerned, but as one exhibitor put it "it was lots of fun and well worth while."

A. O. Collettine of the College of Agriculture was the official judge. Robert Geiger, breeder for the National Holstein Breeders' association, helped plan the event and was ever ready to give advice and guidance where needed. Guido Schroeder was general chairman of this event.

To all who helped in any way to put the first Tri-County Holstein show over the top in a successful way, a cordial word of appreciation is extended.

Self-Defense Program

These days when the doctrine that "might is right" seems to be a boom, individuals as well as nations seem to need a self-defense program. The ideal technique of defense for the average man is jiu-jitsu. In this series of photos, made at the Bothern Gymnasium in New York, Lou Leonard, physical director, and Miss Swann enact the two attack and defense sequences.

1. She presses the arm back, grips his biceps with her right hand and shifts her right foot behind his right foot.

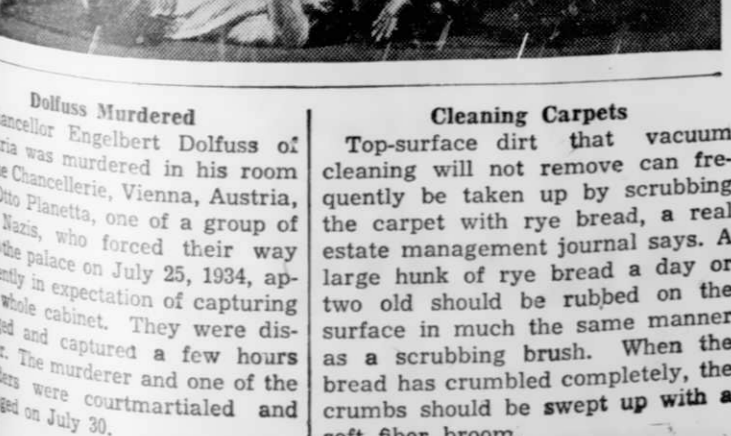

2. She presses the arm back, grips his biceps with her right hand and shifts her right foot behind his right foot.

3. She presses the arm back, grips his biceps with her right hand and shifts her right foot behind his right foot.

4. And down he goes, flat on his back. An opponent thrown with such force usually has the fight knocked out of him.

Continuing the backward motion, Miss Marlow's body rolls to the ground from a sitting position to a reclining one. Simultaneously the legs stiffen and the "attacker" takes a beautiful nose-dive.

Home Remedies Often Prevent Finding Cause

By DR. JAMES W. BARTON
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

WHEN you have a headache you may take aspirin, phenacetin, caffeine or other pain-relieving drug. In a short time the pain has "disappeared" or is so "dulled" that you are not in any distress.

Similarly you may get a pain in the stomach which you think is due to gas and a half teaspoon of baking soda may give relief.

Perhaps you have attacks of dizziness with nausea and vomiting.

Thinking this is due to sluggish liver and gall bladder, you take one or two teaspoons of Epsom salts.

Any itching anywhere in the body is treated with a solution of baking soda or the application of some ointment.

Some ache or pain in joints or muscles is treated by heat, together with some pain relieving drug.

Your physician is not likely to criticize any of the above methods of treatment except taking Epsom salts or other purgative for the pain in the abdomen. The abdominal pain might be appendicitis, and taking a purge is the cause of most deaths from this ailment.

In other words, the taking of a "home" remedy occasionally is not likely to do much harm or hide any underlying ailment. Where the harm does occur, however, is the taking of a drug regularly or often for some ailment because the drug relieves the symptoms for the time being.

Drug Obscures the Reason.
Why is the taking of a drug regularly likely to do harm? There must be some reason for the headache, the pain in abdomen, the nausea and vomiting, the intense itching. If a drug is taken regularly and relief obtained the cause of the ailment is not sought, and the condition may become progressively worse, even dangerous. Thus the headache may be due to anemia or high blood pressure, pain in stomach to ulcer, pain in abdomen to gall bladder disease, or constipation.

The point, then, is that while the use of home remedies "occasionally" should cause little or no harm symptoms which occur regularly or even irregularly but often should not be treated with pain-killing drugs. A visit to your physician and dentist to find the cause of the symptoms is the sensible thing to do.

Drug Addicts Not Physical Weaklings

ONE of the impressions of drug addicts many of us have, is that they are thin, undersized, pale individuals. And we are apparently justified in this belief because of the pale appearance and "hollow eyes" present in so many of them. It is only natural, therefore, that we think of them as becoming addicted to drugs because they are weak physically, even if not weak mentally.

It may come as a surprise, therefore, to learn that a study of the body build of drug addicts shows that they are not weak, delicate individuals but are of normal build.

Dr. R. R. Brown, in Public Health Reports, Washington, D. C., reports the results of his studies of 400 native white addicts following their admission to the United States penitentiary annex, Fort Leavenworth, Kan. Every case was definitely proved to be a drug addict, not just an "occasional" user of the drug. Measurements were taken of the unclothed patients and a record made of appearances.

It was found that these drug addicts were not of the weak, thin, undersized type, but were slightly above the average in both height and weight.

Under treatment at the institution, there was an average gain in weight of about 6½ pounds, after 5½ months.

What does the above teach us? The lesson for all of us is that the temptation to use drugs is not due to "gross constitutional weakness" of the body. It is something wrong in our character or makeup that makes us want to use a drug to put us in a dream state so that we do not have to face difficulties and trials.

QUESTION BOX

Q.—What causes mouth ulcers?

A.—If no infection of mouth, teeth, gums, etc., the ulcers may be due to some disturbance of stomach or intestine.

Q.—What is leukoderma? What is leukemia?

A.—Leukoderma is simply white spots on skin due to loss of pigment (coloring matter). It is not serious. Leukemia—a form of anemia—is increase in white corpuscles in blood, a serious condition.

Q.—What is the nutritional value of oleomargarine compared with butter?

A.—From Dr. Bogert's book, "Nutrition and Physical Fitness": Fat content of butter—85 per cent. Fat content of oleomargarine—83 per cent. Oleomargarine may be a butter substitute so far as flavor and fuel value go, but it is lacking in the valuable vitamin A which butter contains. Margarine may be a substitute for butter, provided plenty of green vegetables and whole milk is taken to supply the necessary vitamin A.

Windmill Vs. Electric Pump

QUESTION: Can you advise any preference for using a windmill for pumped by water as against the pressure system operated with a motor, particularly if it is necessary to generate my own current?

ANSWER: For efficient and continuous water supply I should prefer the electrically operated water pump. However, for economical water supply the windmill type of pump cannot be surpassed. The only drawback would be that when there is no movement of air for a long period of time, water will have to be pumped by hand or by an auxiliary electric pump.

Cypress Pickets

QUESTION: I have a number of cypress pickets which I intend to leave in a raw state. They are not dressed and consequently the surface is quite rough. I thought some kind of acid wash would rid the surface of the tiny splinters which produce the rough surface, and at the same time produce an interesting effect similar to sandblasting.

ANSWER: An interesting finish on cypress is obtained by using a plumber's blow-torch, charring the surface of the wood until it checks slightly across the grain. Then brush off with a fine wire bristle brush, first lengthwise and then crosswise until you get the desired shade. Another method is to wire-brush the surface until some of the soft fiber has been removed, leaving the hard grain raised. Finish by rubbing with steel wool.

Leaky Roof

QUESTION: My roof is composition shingles. A leak has developed somewhere in the middle, but I cannot tell exactly where. How can I locate it and stop it? In several places nails have pulled out. Should they be replaced?

ANSWER: The pulling out of nails in a composition roof is likely to lead to leaking, and this is the probable cause of the trouble. Nails that pull out may have gone into the joints between boards, or into split places. They should be replaced with other nails driven close by and into solid wood. A dab of roofing cement under the heads may help to hold them. It should be possible to locate leaks by noting shingles that are lifted or torn. A leak can often be stopped by sticking down the surrounding shingles with roofing cement.

Old, Rough Floor

QUESTION: Our house is old and the floors are badly worn and very rough and splintery. We cannot afford to spend much money on the floors, but neither do we want to have our rugs ruined. Could we make the floors smooth with putty? Or would you advise putting layers of newspapers underneath the rugs?

ANSWER: You can smooth the worst of the rough places with a heavy plane, which you may be able to borrow for a day or two. Putty is too brittle to be of any use for this purpose. You might, however, fill the deepest of the rough places with a mixture of sawdust, varnish and a little plaster of paris. Your idea of paper under the rugs is good, but it should be heavy building paper rather than newspaper, which would tear quickly.

Old Mahogany Bed

QUESTION: I have a very old solid mahogany bed, the wood of which has become very dry. Will you please tell me how I can remedy this? The bed is finished with a hard shellac, and I am wondering if a liberal application of lemon oil would penetrate through the shellac. It may be varnish.

ANSWER: Wood does not require treatment to preserve it, unless exposed to the weather or subjected to extreme moisture. Dryness in wood is desirable. Oils and polishes are used only to preserve the finish.

Log Cabin

QUESTION: The pine logs of my cabin have been shaved. How can I treat them for preservative and to retain their whiteness? Now, should logs season before being treated?

ANSWER: Two coats of spar varnish will be a preservative and will retain the light color for some time. However, the logs will darken with age, which cannot be avoided. One winter's seasoning should be enough.

Book

QUESTION: Is there a book that contains the information in your column?

ANSWER: The McGraw-Hill Book Company, New York city, publishes a book with the same title as this column, that is on general sale. It includes information on the general care of all parts of a house.

Oil-Spotted Walls

QUESTION: A lamp was moved around a room with the shade touching the wall in several places. The shade seemed to be oily, for there are oil spots on the wall where it touched. How can I get them out? ANSWER: The shade was evidently parchment with an oil dressing. Cover the spots with a paste made of fuller's earth and benzine. Allow to stand until dry and remove with a brush. Be extremely careful of fire when using benzine; for safety it can be made fireproof by mixing half and half with carbon tetrachloride.

BEAT KOHLER; TIE FOR SECOND IN FIRST HALF

Kohler was eliminated. Kewaskum and Kohler were also tied before their game. Had the locals lost they would have ended up fourth. These first half standings are combined with those of the second half at the end of the season to determine the final standings.

Honeck was in exceptionally fine form as he held the Kohler clubbers to six hits. The Sunday before Kohler shut out Campbellsport 4-0 for the latter's only defeat. Honeck established a season record by striking out 16 batters, topping his total of 15 the previous week against Gienbeulah. "Killy" whiffed 31 batters in the last two games. Except for that had inning again, the sixth, in which the opponents scored all three runs, Honeck had little trouble. He shutout Kohler in every other inning and allowed but three hits in the innings besides the sixth. In the sixth the visitors' three tallies resulted from an error, stolen base and three singles. All of Kohler's hits were singles.

Kewaskum put the game on ice by scoring six runs in the first four innings off Schmidt, to lead 6-0. Schmidt was relieved in the fifth by Holley after allowing seven hits. "Lefty" Holley gave up two hits and two runs in the last four frames. Theusch, H. Marx and Miller paced the winners' attack with 2 bingles apiece. Grafenstein and Visser were the only trouble makers for Honeck. Each got two hits out of three times at bat for four of their team's six. Kewaskum's next game will be played at Sheboygan Falls on July 6.

THE labor unions have made their demands upon the railways of the United States—and through the railways upon the PUBLIC. These demands are vastly larger in proportion than any they have ever made. The economical and efficient operation of the railways is vital to the nation's defense effort. Therefore, the Western Railways present to the public the following facts:

The labor unions representing engineers, firemen, conductors, brakemen and switchmen are demanding a 30 per cent increase in wages, amounting to 190 million dollars a year—although their present rates of pay are the highest in history.

Other unions representing a greater number of railway employees are demanding wage increases ranging as high as 95 per cent—averaging 47 per cent—and amounting to 580 million dollars a year—although their present rates of pay also are the highest in history.

Thus the wage increases being demanded by the labor unions amount to 770 million dollars a year, an average increase in excess of 41 per cent.

In addition, certain of these labor unions have demanded advances in their pay not included in the above figures, and more rules for the creation of unnecessary jobs.

The situation, then, is this: The total cost of complying with all the demands made would be approximately 900 million dollars a year!

The average weekly earnings of railway employees are now 15 per cent higher than in the peak year 1929, while the cost of living is 12 per cent less.

The demands of the railway labor unions are being made when the entire nation has just been asked to make a supreme effort for National Defense.

The railways cannot meet these demands without a great increase in the cost of transportation. They exceed by more than 700 million dollars the income that the railways had left after paying their annual expenses, taxes and charges in 1940.

The railways have a vitally important job before them. They need all their resources to continue adequately to serve you and contribute effectively toward the National Defense Program.
