

Belles Troupe Trazed Fondy For Title

FONDY WINS TITLE
The Kewaskum girls' basketball team, coached by the late Coach J. H. Fondy, won the title of county champion by defeating the Belles of the Kewaskum-Moraine State Forest in a game played at the Kewaskum gymnasium on Wednesday afternoon. The Belles, who were undefeated in the season, were defeated by the Kewaskum team in a game which was played on a wet and foggy day. The Kewaskum team, coached by Fondy, won the championship by a score of 24 to 10.

Mrs. William Geidel Dies of Heart Attack

Mrs. William Geidel, 76, beloved farm resident of near Elmire, several miles north of Kewaskum, passed away of a heart attack at her home at 7:15 a. m. Sunday, Oct. 26. Her death occurred suddenly although she had been ailing for some time. Mrs. Geidel, nee Mina Heller, was born Sept. 16, 1865 in the town of Auburn. She was married to William Geidel March 25, 1884 at Elmire and the couple settled on the present home-stead. She was the mother of 14 children, six of whom predeceased her. Besides the widower, she is survived by four sons and four daughters, who are as follows: Oscar, town of Ashford, Martha (Mrs. Wm. Breseman), town of Wayne, Alfred, West Bend, Nora (Mrs. Ed. Vrecke), Sheboygan, Franklin on the homestead, Ella (Mrs. Mike Hallman), Fond du Lac, Richard, Sheboygan, and Oleda (Mrs. Alfred Nicolaus), West Bend, R. D. She also leaves two brothers, Fred Heller, Bonduel, and Herman Heller, Shawano, and a sister, Mrs. Julius Backhaus, Bonduel.

50th Anniversary of St. Lucas Church Ladies' Aid

Sunday, Nov. 2, will long be remembered by the present members of the Ladies' Aid society of St. Lucas Ev. Luth. church as a great day of jubilation. For this day marks the fiftieth anniversary of its existence. Fifty years ago in the month of October this society was called into being, and ever since has played an important role in church work, special attention being given the charitable institutions within the church.

Widely Known Farmer is Killed by Train Sunday

Oscar Weinhold, 57, farmer residing two miles west of Adell and a few miles east of Batavia, was instantly killed at about 10:30 a. m. Sunday when the car he was driving was struck by a southbound train of the Milwaukee road at a railroad intersection on the southern edge of the village of Adell. The victim was well known in this vicinity, especially in the territory east of Kewaskum and was a prosperous farmer.

Widely Known Farmer is Killed by Train Sunday

Mr. Weinhold was alone in the car and was returning home from church services when the accident occurred. Driving west on County Trunk A, he was intent apparently on the car immediately ahead of him and didn't see the train speeding toward him. The locomotive caught the car squarely and carried it along the track for 400 yards, demolishing it completely.

Widely Known Farmer is Killed by Train Sunday

Mrs. Weinhold had complained Sunday morning of feeling ill and had not attended church. The tragedy cast gloom over one of Adell's annual events—the fire department's chicken dinner held Sunday.

Widely Known Farmer is Killed by Train Sunday

Mr. Weinhold left three children (Mrs. Walter Trke), town of Sherman; Verna (Mrs. Otto Broetzmann), Random Lake; and Marvin (town of Sherman). He also leaves 13 grandchildren; six brothers, Adolph, Albert, Sheboygan; Eddie, Cascade; and Otto, Montana; and one sister, Mrs. Fred Schreiber, Plymouth.

Widely Known Farmer is Killed by Train Sunday

Deceased had been operating his 120 acre farm with the help of a hired man, Arno Hintz. Mr. Weinhold was born on the family homestead adjacent to the present farm in the town of Herman on Nov. 5, 1885, and would have been 55 years old next week. He was the son of August and Henrietta Weinhold. He attended schools of that community. He was a charter member of the Emanuel Lutheran church at Adell and at the time of his death was a member of the board of the church school.

Miss Ruth Heppie is Wed to Norman Held

In a quiet autumn wedding ceremony performed before the fireplace in the parsonage of the Evangelical Memorial church in Milwaukee at 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Oct. 25, by the Rev. M. J. Roehrdanz, Miss Ruth Heppie, popular daughter of Postmaster and Mrs. Frank Heppie of this village, became the bride of Norman Held, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Held of Batavia.

Miss Ruth Heppie is Wed to Norman Held

The bride is a graduate of the Kewaskum High school and also attended Northwestern college at Watertown. She is employed as a clerk in the post office in Kewaskum. The bridegroom, who graduated from the Random Lake High school, is employed in the office of the engineering department of the West Bend Aluminum company.

Miss Ruth Heppie is Wed to Norman Held

For her marriage the bride chose a navy wool dress of soldier blue with sheer blue accessories and wore a shoulder corsage of white roses and pompons. The bride's only attendant was Miss Mae Belle Corbett of this village, a close friend, who wore a brown and gold ensemble with matching accessories and a shoulder bouquet of white pompons.

Miss Ruth Heppie is Wed to Norman Held

Rollin Peters of Batavia, a friend of the bridegroom, acted as best man. After the ceremony a dinner was served to the bridal party at Karl Ratzsch's, Milwaukee. Mr. and Mrs. Held are at present residing with the bride's parents and will be at home after Nov. 15 in the apartment above the Marx IGA store in this village.

Miss Ruth Heppie is Wed to Norman Held

SHONTOS-RAUCH
Miss Bernice Rauch, daughter of Wm. Rauch of Campbellsport, R. D., near Elmire, was joined in marriage to Alex Shontos, Jr., son of the late Alex Shontos, Sr., of Gary, Ind., in a nuptial service performed by the Rev. C. Flueckinger in the Salem Reformed church parsonage at Wayne at 2 p. m. Thursday, Oct. 23.

Miss Ruth Heppie is Wed to Norman Held

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Kullmann of Wayne, brother-in-law and sister of the bridegroom, attended the couple as best man and matron of honor. The bride was attired in a blue street length dress and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Mrs. Kullmann wore an aqua street length dress and her flowers consisted of white and yellow pompons.

Miss Ruth Heppie is Wed to Norman Held

Following a wedding supper at the Rudolph Kullmann home Mr. and Mrs. Shontos left on a honeymoon trip to Indiana and Illinois. They are now at home at 1422 W. Wisconsin avenue, Milwaukee, where the groom is employed as a mechanic.

50th Anniversary of Marriage Celebrated

Mr. and Mrs. William Lueke, respected residents of Random Lake, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday although the wedding date was not until Wednesday of the past week, Oct. 29. The celebration was held Sunday in order that relatives from other cities could attend. Mr. Lueke is a native of Kewaskum and he and his wife are cousins of Mrs. Anton Backhaus of this village.

50th Anniversary of Marriage Celebrated

On Sunday afternoon at their home at 3:30 o'clock the couple renewed their marriage vows before the Rev. G. Kanies, pastor of the Immanuel Lutheran church of the town of Scott, who also addressed the couple. A wedding dinner was served to about 75 guests at 6 o'clock and the evening was spent in reminiscing and entertainment. The celebration was for the near relatives but on Wednesday the couple held open house from 2 to 5 p. m. for relatives and friends.

50th Anniversary of Marriage Celebrated

Mr. Lueke was born near Kewaskum 73 years ago. His wife, nee Emma Staeger, is a native of Town Scott where she was born 70 years ago. The two were married at the Town Scott Lutheran church on Oct. 29, 1891, by the Rev. C. M. Otto. Their attendants were Mrs. August Staeger, formerly Anna Klug; Mrs. Anna Lilje, formerly Anna Ramei; August and Charles Staeger. Mr. and Mrs. Staeger were not present for their golden wedding because of the latter's illness.

50th Anniversary of Marriage Celebrated

Mr. and Mrs. Lueke have two sons, Walter and Arthur, of Town Scott; a daughter, Frona (Mrs. Louis Mertens) of Milwaukee, and four grandchildren, Arlene, Judith and Myrtle Lueke and Beverly Mae Mertens. All of the above were present at the anniversary observance.

50th Anniversary of Marriage Celebrated

The couple made their home on a farm in Town Scott after their marriage, now occupied by their son, Arthur, and family. Later they purchased the Wm. Row farm in the same township, now owned and operated by their son, Walter, and family. In February, 1933, they retired and moved to the new home they had erected in Random Lake, where they reside since.

50th Anniversary of Marriage Celebrated

Our congratulations and best wishes for many more years of healthy, happy wedded life are extended to the couple.

Navy's Muscle Man

Designed to make the American sailor the most physically perfect sea fighter in the world, the U. S. navy's physical education program got off to a fine start when Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox appointed Lieut. Commander Jas. J. Tunney, U. S. N. R., to head man. Already the program is showing wonderful results. These pictures take you to the naval operating base at Norfolk, Va., when Tunney gave his personal attention to the program. Right—Lt. Tunney arrives at office.

The youngster standing in front of Tunney can now proudly boast he "put 'em up" to the undefeated heavyweight champion of the world.

Tunney (left) prescribes for the "bay window" acquired by a rookie sailor, who will soon become "streamlined."

Swimming is a required part of the recruit's training. This item on the curriculum meets with unanimous approval.

UPS AND DOWNS . . . Lt. Comdr. Tunney supervises one of the exercises of his program here. Instructors are college trained physical experts who will carry out the new program inaugurated by Tunney at the various naval training stations.

Leading the morning exercises which are part of the daily drill schedule, Tunney goes through all the exercises himself before asking his charges to do them.

Tunney watches Uncle Sam's new sailors turn out, make up their beds and put all their gear in order.

Toads Unnerve City
The city of Ansonia, Conn., has become a sleepless and unnerved town because toads have returned there and are now playing an encore, which the citizens thought was wiped out several years ago. Fifty thousand dollars was spent on a dewatering project in an effort to keep the toads out, but heavy rains refilled the pond basin and made it a breeding place. The toads soon learned about it and the city is again plagued.

New Use for Phone
If the socks of one Manorville, N. Y., man aren't being darned as well as they used to be, the New York Telephone company is to blame. Assigned to investigate a complaint about recurring static a repairman on one of the company's party lines discovered that a housewife in one of the homes served by the line had acquired the habit of removing the receiver from the hook and using it as a darning egg in mending socks.

Kitty Cat
"My worst sin," she sighed, "is vanity. I spend hours every day admiring my beauty."
"That's not vanity," her friend replied. "That's imagination!"

Thought Reversed
A man in South Carolina, who was saved from conviction for horse-stealing by the powerful plea of his lawyer, after his acquittal by the jury, was asked by the lawyer:
"Honor bright, now, Joe, you did steal that horse, didn't you?"
"Now, look a-here, judge," was the reply, "I allers did think I stole that horse, but since I hear'n your speech to that 'ere jury, I'll be dog-goned if I ain't got my doubts about it."

True Answer
"Do you know, Tennyson, the poet?"
"Can't say I do."
"What! You've never read his immortal verse?"
"That isn't what you asked. Yes, I've read his verse."

Justice
"The judge had to let that deaf man go."
"Why?"
"The law says you can't convict a man without a hearing."

Enough Said
"I notice he always speaks well of himself."
"Yes; he says that his friends will tell the bad about him."

And when Delilah cut Samson's hair, he became mild as a lamb. Can you understand it?
"Well," said little Tommy reflectively, "it does make you feel 'shamed when a woman cuts your hair."

Good Business
"Don't you love to see the young couples spooning in the park?"
"I certainly do. I sell easy-payment furniture!"

THE PAPERS OF PRIVATE PURKEY

Dear Ma.—
I got your clipping about 200,000 jeeps two be released by Christmas and you are no more anxious about me being one of them than I are. I wish I had helped out more at home so I could claim somebody was dependent on me without laughing. I have checked and double checked to see if I couldn't dig up some evidence of what a help I was to you and pop but I did not have no luck to speak of.

All I could get down on paper was these three cases:

1.—Once about three years ago when pop was sick ten days I took care of the furnace and chipped in about $4 to help pay family expenses. (This is subject to error. It may have been $4.50, but I kept no papers.)

2.—In 1938 or 1939 I forget witch when he was on a auto trip we had a blowout and I did not let you and dad get out and change the tire. I did it myself.

3.—Last year the radio went on the fritz just when you and dad wanted to hear some favorite program and I fixed it for you. Also I went to the delicatessen store for you a couple of times when dad was two tired.

I do not think this is enuff to get the army to send me home as a dependency case, so if you can't k of anything let me know and you better make out a affidavits and have it sworn by a notary public as the officers is very suspicious.

The paper says some units will lose 30 per cent of their men through releases but if all the boys in my unit who are trying to get out are successful mine will lose at least 99 per cent. Otto Bixby's folks have dug up evidence that he is over 28 years old and that they put him down as 26 because they lived two years in Brooklyn witch don't count.

Otto also says his family is suffering without him as his mother can't carry up coal and wood three flights like she used to. He also says his sister has arthiritus and can't mow the lawn, wash the fliver and do all the washing and ironing. Altogether his being away from home leaves the family in a awful fix he says.

Another boy in my outfit says he is needed right away at home as two new saloons have opened up near his house and his old man is less a help than ever. I am still trying to get out on the ground I am a hardship case and two new things happened by way of evidence this week. First I had two front teeth pulled the same day that we had steak for dinner. If that ain't a hardship I don't know what is. Next I am inoculated so many times that to look at me you would think woodpeckers had been working all over me. And Nellie Petersen ain't wrote me in over a hole week all of witch makes me feel more like a hardship case than ever.

Of course if I was married I could get out of the army in the Christmas releases and I am now convinced that early marriage is a good thing for every boy. Not that I would be such a heel as to get married to dodge the draft, but I just wish I had got married to a nice girl four or five years ago when I had some fine chances. If I had my life to live over again I would get married by the time I was 18 and no later.

If I was anywhere near 28 I might stand a show of getting out, but unless you made a mistake in the berth certificates there is no hope that way. Could you check up all over again and be sure. I always used to hate to think of being as old as 28 or 30 but after a year in an army no age seems so swell, in fact with the world as cockeyed like it is today I would have no complaint if I was 50.

Well this will have to be all for now and do not worry as I am beefing just because it feels good and life in an army is not so bad when you get used to it.

Vanished Men

INSTALLMENT EIGHT

Finlay receives an anonymous letter suggesting that the six men were not drowned as reported. Suspicion prevails that Isadore, rich fur man, has made a gold strike and aims to keep prospectors out of the country at any cost. The three men start out on the Nottaway for the Hudson's Bay post. They visit Isadore in his magnificent home. He sends Finlay a note saying she is in trouble and asking him to meet her.

"Somehow I knew you'd come!" She gasped his hand.

Warm with color from her long paddle, she was even lovelier than he had remembered her. "Could any man have refused to come after such a letter?"

"Yes, knowing what you do, most men would have been afraid. They wouldn't have trusted me."

"But I'm a mind reader, as I told you. And I'm worried about you, Lise Demarais."

"You're also a brave man." There was a look in her blue-black eyes that started his blood singing. "Let's sit down. It's a long story."

She threw herself on the sand, offered him a cigarette from a silver case and lit one herself. For a time she smoked, clasping her knees while she gazed straight before her under brows like black brush strokes on her transparent skin.

His eager gaze moved from the dark cloud of her long bob and the brilliant eyes to her round throat.

"I don't know why I should have turned to you in my trouble," she began, "unless it's because you're in great danger yourself. Don't you realize they won't let you finish this survey—won't let you leave this country?"

"Forget the survey! I know Tete-Blanche is after us. I saw him at the head of the lake. We'll take care of him. I came here to learn why you've got to leave Isadore's place and when."

"I was frantic when I wrote you. It must have sounded delirious and strained but I was desperate. I'd just had a terrible scene with Jules. He men start out on the Nottaway for the Hudson's Bay post. They visit Isadore in his magnificent home. He sends Finlay a note saying she is in trouble and asking him to meet her.

"No, I think he wanted to search you—learn who you were. I was so afraid something would happen. I wanted to warn you. Then I saw that hideous Tete-Blanche. After you left Jules struck Corinne for drinking that wine—struck her in the face. He was like a madman."

"Nice fellow! Of course he knows he can't last long at this game. Already six men who have entered this country have disappeared. The police men?"

"Six men?" she gasped. "I've heard of only two!"

"Six prospectors have disappeared and two men have been wounded." Finlay smiled significantly.

"Your limp, that night!" she suddenly cried, her eyes wide with understanding. "You—you were wounded in the leg on the way here?"

"Yes." "They ambushed you on the Nottaway! But you're all right? Oh, they'll stop at nothing! Do you understand now why I've got to get away?"

"Yes. What was Tete-Blanche doing there that night?"

"I don't know."

"Well, don't worry, we'll have you safe at Matagami by August."

She gave a deep sigh. For a space they smoked in silence while Finlay's thoughts were busy with the mysterious plane. Then he glanced at her. She was smiling at him through curious eyes.

"Charming gossip we're having on my bathing beach on this lovely July day!" she said ruefully.

Her mood had suddenly changed. The compelling charm of her drove from his head all thoughts of Isadore. A beautiful girl sat beside him, desirable, baffling. And in her slow smile was veiled challenge.

"You swim here often?"

Her eyes were busy with a trim moccasin toying with the sand. She raised them and her lip curled. "Fishing for an invitation to join the beautiful mermaids? If you are, you're distinctly not invited. We usually swim in our scales, you know."

She flung herself around, facing him, and impulsively took his hand. "What children we are!" she cried. "This is the second time I've ever talked with you, Garry Finlay, and I'm babbling like a sub-deb at her first big dance."

"I never met one but I'm sure I'd love sub-debs." He leaned toward her. "Do you know how lovely you are and—how dangerous?" he said.

A warm undertone of pink pushed up over her neck and cheeks. She seemed suddenly confused. "It's growing late! I've got to go!" She was on her feet. "You'll take me to Matagami when I write? How can I thank you for daring to come? Oh, it's like a reprieve from a death sentence! I want to dance and sing!"

She stood beside her canoe grasping her paddle. Her voice quavered: "Au revoir! Very nice and reckless man!" Her eyes danced dangerously.

"When you send word, I'll come!" he said, thickly. He slid her canoe into the water, turned and with a quick movement had her in his arms.

With a swift catch of the breath she flung back her dark head and smiled up at him. He kissed her hair and eyes and responsive mouth. "You sorceress!" he choked. "You've bewitched me! Courage, midnight eyes! I'll take you to Matagami. Good-by, Beautiful!"

She gave a low laugh as her arm tightened on his neck. For a moment returned his kisses, then breaking away, leaped into the canoe and paddled off. Reaching the point, she blew a kiss with her hand and passed from sight.

His pulses drumming, Finlay stood at the edge of the water, groping for his mental balance. With her charm and changing moods Lise Demarais had played on his senses as a musician on a harp, run the gamut from laughter to tears. The hard-boiled Garry Finlay had been planted in her hands as a willow sprout, but in the end she had left him wondering whether she was sincere or a consummate actress.

At the thought he glanced up and down the beach. The shore was deserted. Still under the spell of the girl who had paddled away, he started for the spruce point to meet the Peterboro. Again he felt her arms on his neck, her warm lips, looked into the dancing depths of her eyes. "Acting? What's got into you, Garry Finlay? That girl is straight as a spruce. She's in trouble and frantic to get away and I was the path out. Emotional, of course! Doesn't care a damn for me, but when I lost my head she just couldn't help being human. But she's gorgeous—enchanting!"

He had reached a stretch of shore piled with boulders and had cut back into the bush where the walking was easier when the brittle snap of a dry stick stopped him in his tracks. His body stiffened while his right hand moved under his shirt to the stock of his .45.

"What's that?" he muttered.

Again there was a movement in the brush somewhere in front of him. Finlay slipped behind a spruce, his eyes stabbing the surrounding undergrowth. Then, from his rear, came a sound in the scrub and he flattened under the low branches.

"So it was acting after all!" A wave of remorse chilled him like a bitter wind as he lay beneath the overhanging boughs. Surrounded as he knew he must be—caught in Isadore's trap—the men who hunted movements—his thoughts hung to the girl who had so lightly led him to this.

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON
(Consolidated Features—WNU Service.)

NEW YORK.—William Cullen Bryant once engaged in a fist-fight in City Hall park with James Gordon Bennett, as the culmination of a violent political argument. Others of our poets have occasionally mixed in politics, held political jobs or died in battle, but the tradition has held that they are cloistered folk, not to be taken too seriously in matters of any great moment.

Steps Down From Ivory Tower to Aid His Country

Archibald MacLeish, one of the best of contemporary American poets, and librarian of congress, has been asked to accept the administration of the new Washington agency called the Office of Facts and Figures. He and his agency will try to get reason, if not rhyme, into the daily outpouring of un-related and sometimes contradictory statistics of national defense and foreign policies. In Juvenal's line, "That poet seems to be capable of walking a tight rope . . . all with the power of a magician."

There was quite a buzz of opposition throughout the country when Mr. MacLeish was made librarian of congress, three years ago. There was, however, some precedent for poets in government jobs and in politics, as well as on the firing line. There was Eugene Ware, topical versifier, who held down a good job in the pension department, about 30 years ago, and did it well. Then there was shaggy old Walt Whitman, in the same department at a time when the government seemed to need tight-rope walkers and magicians, to say nothing of poets, even more than it does now.

Gen. William Haines Lytle was a poet and politician—the author of "I Am Dying, Egypt, Dying," of school-boy recitation fame. He became a colonel of the Tenth Ohio Volunteers and died leading a charge at Chickamauga. As to poets in general coming to the aid of their country, there may be cited John McRae, who wrote "Flanders Field"; Joyce Kilmer and Rupert Brooke. Each gave his life.

Mr. MacLeish is, like his predecessor, Eugene Ware, somewhat of a topical versifier, but a much better poet. He frankly teams up poetry and propaganda—always for democracy as a faith and not as an institution.

On his graduation from Yale in 1915, he grooved into a business career by his parents, and was surprisingly good at that too. Disregarding his parents' warnings that there were "no gold mines on Parnassus," he knocked off and made his career as a poet—on up to and beyond his winning of the $1,000 Pulitzer prize for his poem "Conquistador" in 1933. During the current war years, he has driven a sharp lance against our pre-war artificers of literary lace-work and their companionate wanderers in foggy introspection. He was born in Gloucester, Ill.

Those houses built like silos in the back yard of the Museum of Modern Art in New York are the development of a quite similar blend of art and utility devised by their creator, R. Buckminster Fuller, back in 1929.

He first made them to live in, and they were to be standardized, and sell for about $3,000 apiece. His Dymaxion unit of today is not only a domicile, but it is adapted to use for defense housing, air raid shelters or troop barracks, or may be used as a beach or guest house.

Mr. Fuller is acutely aware of whether she was sincere or a consummate actress. At the thought he glanced up and down the beach. The shore was deserted. Still under the spell of the girl who had paddled away, he started for the spruce point to meet the Peterboro. Again he felt her arms on his neck, her warm lips, looked into the dancing depths of her eyes. "Acting? What's got into you, Garry Finlay? That girl is straight as a spruce. She's in trouble and frantic to get away and I was the path out. Emotional, of course! Doesn't care a damn for me, but when I lost my head she just couldn't help being human. He had reached a stretch of shore piled with boulders and had cut back into the bush where the walking was easier when the brittle snap of a dry stick stopped him in his tracks. His body stiffened while his right hand moved under his shirt to the stock of his .45.

"What's that?" he muttered.

Again there was a movement in the brush somewhere in front of him. Finlay slipped behind a spruce, his eyes stabbing the surrounding undergrowth. Then, from his rear, came a sound in the scrub and he flattened under the low branches.

"So it was acting after all!" A wave of remorse chilled him like a bitter wind as he lay beneath the overhanging boughs. Surrounded as he knew he must be—caught in Isadore's trap—the men who hunted movements—his thoughts hung to the girl who had so lightly led him to this.

Wilhelm Kube, Nazi Gauleiter for the former White Russian Soviet Republic, setting up the "new order" in the wake of the armies, issues his first decree. It warns religion to concern itself only with religion and says, "Pastors who interfere with politics will be arrested or expelled from White Russia."

Herr Kube was an early and violent foe of the Christian religion. As head of the Province of Brandenburg Department, in 1933, he ordained Germany's first pagan Christian mass with a new religious pantheon.

Walking Lighthouse

In a wonderful world there are many queer professions, but ranking high among the strange ones is that practiced by a Chinese coolie living in Chungking.

At night he can be seen walking around the dark streets with a lighted candle measuring some eight inches stuck in the top of his skull. In return for a small fee he will guide you to your destination.

When very young his parents, apparently, had cut the top of his skull, inserted a candle which they held in position by sealing-wax, and sent him out on to the street as a guide to travelers.

Alien Officers

For many years in the British army, says Collier's, King Haakon of Norway has held the rank of colonel, Kings Christian of Denmark and Leopold of the Belgians have been colonels-in-chief and Emperor Hirohito of Japan has been a field marshal, a rank higher than that of a full general.

A Business and Professional Review of West Bend West Bend Consumers Cooperative

GEHL BROS. MANUFACTURING CO.

Manufacturers of Stokers, Hammermills, Silo Fillers

The rapidly increasing demand for their products throughout the country is being met here easily on account of their plant being well equipped with modern equipment for the manufacture of Silo Fillers, Hammer Mills and Stokers. Their years of experience coupled with the practical knowledge of manufacturing has won for them the recognition of the entire country.

It is one of our most flourishing industries and is fully worthy of more than passing notice at our hands for not only is it the leading concern engaged in its own particular field, but its industrial and domestic Stokers Silo Fillers and Hammer Mills, have gained a wide reputation for general excellence and are considered a standard product among the trade the nation over. Every successful business in the country, the ones that have endured year after year, started from small beginning and are built on an ideal. That has always included a self-imposed obligation to keep faith with the public by maintaining quality and service regardless of conditions.

This company started with such an ideal. Through good times and bad that ideal has never been violated. To it, subsequent success must be accredited.

This company gives employment to our people, always has at heart the best interests of the community and continually exerts its influence for the best interests of its home town.

This industry has become so much a part of the every day life of the people of this community that they have come to think of it as a matter of course. It might be well to pause and take into consideration what this manufacturing establishment really means to the city where it is located. Its removal from the local field would be disastrous, but its maintenance means the uninterrupted continuance of the encouragement of all in the community, and the onward march of industrial, commercial and social development of this part of the country.

In this business review we are pleased to compliment the management of Gehl Bros. for the efficient conduct of the problems of the factory in a most thorough manner. We predict for this modern establishment continued prosperity and a great future.

Amity Leather Products Co.

Amity Leather Products Co., 723 4th Ave.

One of the most substantial members of Washington County's industrial group is the Amity Leather Products Co. at 723 Fourth Ave. in West Bend. Not only does this firm maintain a payroll and plant in this district, it also provides one of the most important specialized services in this section. Firms of this type are the backbone of a community such as this one. The employees of this company are all local people and are able to take their place in the general civic scheme through the medium of their pay checks. Communities continue to grow because of the presence in them of firms of this type. They employ local people here regularly.

The heads of this concern are men of long and practical experience in this business. They are thoroughly conversant with its every detail and are considered an authority in all that pertains to the operation of a very modern establishment. They are of the foremost businessmen of the city and have aided in the development of this section. This establishment, at 723 Fourth Ave., phone 600, is not only well equipped and expertly operated, but it is also one of the essential features of the industrial and commercial organizations of the community and renders a service that is necessary to the onward progress of this part of the country.

A salute to firms that help build West Bend industrially naturally would have to include this ideal factory.

West Bend Lithia Company

The West Bend Lithia Co. in West Bend at 459 N. Main, phone 9, are brewers and distributors of Old Timers Beer, a favorite for many years.

They are doing their progressive share in the relief of unemployment as a number of local people are employed at the brewery and in the distribution of their famous beer.

It is made of the best of hops, best of barley and its rich, full-bodied flavor is made possible only because of its superior preparation and proper aging by brewers who are past-masters in the art of brewing. Every known modern and scientific method is employed to make this beer the best.

Lithia's Old Timers Beer made in West Bend is gaining wide favor by its uniform quality and when you order it you are assured of the beer that will always give you satisfaction. The water in this beer contains 4.266 parts of Lithium Carbonate, choice Wisconsin barley malt from Rosenheimer's Malt and Grain Co. in Kewaskum and home grown aromatic hops brewed in this healthful water produce an ideal product. Lithia Beer is made according to specifications of an old formula, yeast of purest culture is used. Lithia Beer is properly aged and comes to you thoroughly filtered and pasteurized.

The retailers are indeed fortunate to have such a progressive firm to serve them in the line of good beer for it adds in no little way to prosperity of this section of Wisconsin.

Union Greenhouse

Will Telegraph Flowers

As simple as a violet, as stately as a rose, and as luxurious as an orchid is the exclusive beautiful Union Greenhouse at 108 S. 9th Ave. in West Bend. An artistic achievement is this Floral Shoppe in its arrangements, both in point of beauty and efficiency. It is in deed a pleasure to be served by this modern up to the minute establishment, and whether it is for birthdays, weddings, anniversaries, memorials, or just a simple little love offering, you will find that the Union Greenhouse will deliver them artistically arranged and fresh from their own greenhouse.

We recommend them in this review of firms that believe in Washington County.

AL. LUFF

Auto Wrecker, Buyer of Scrap Iron and Sells Auto Parts at 50% off

The management of this firm has always been interested in the growth and development of industrial and agricultural districts of West Bend and this section of Wisconsin, and believes in giving the farmers a square deal in every transaction, regardless of the size of the consignment of junk. They sell structural steel, plates, angle iron, piping I beams and used auto parts.

In making this review of the reliable business and wholesale markets of our trade territory we wish to take this opportunity of recommending the Al Luff firm on Hy. 33, phone 1019. They are a factor in giving West Bend the reputation of being a thriving city. We recommend them to all who have autos to wreck or junk for sale.

The West Bend Consumer's Cooperative is a place that has been helping the dairyman and farmer of this section by supplying him with his supplies at a right price. Whatever your requirements are in this line you can secure it here at a right price and you can be sure of quality. The Co-Op is at 351 Fourth Ave. and handles groceries, auto supplies, fuel oil, auto parts and insurance for every need. Phone 828. This place has become headquarters for farmers from all over a wide section.

At the outset the company realizing that a satisfied customer is the best influence for more business, determined to build for this establishment a reputation that would have the support of the entire trade. That they have succeeded is evidenced by the large amount of patronage that is received and the extensive territory that their activities cover.

They make a special effort to serve the farmer and are glad to give him any advice or information he desires on any subject pertaining to their line.

In thus serving the people, this place is doing a great community service. It is helping the farmers to keep their rightful place in the community by specializing in supplying all their feed, and supply requirements at all times, and in turn the people of this section have realized the important fact and have learned to depend upon this reliable concern for the greater part of their feed requirements. The stock is well selected and at all times very complete and is offered at prices which at once very clearly denotes real and true values.

Photographs live forever and tell the story. They are Memory Insurance. If life-like pictures are desired it is necessary to employ the services of an artist. Such is Mr. Rackow's Studios at 213 No. Main, phone 436W. Mr. Rackow has not gained ascendancy in this business in a day, but experience added to his natural ability has placed him in the forefront as an excellent photographer. Mr. Rackow has the newest Hollywood lighting photographic equipment. This equipment is equal to any metropolitan studio in the county. The lighting equipment has no glaring lights.

The Hollywood Studio has the facilities to do film developing and kodak supplies. In fact for every need in photography see them first. Get pictures for Christmas early and avoid the rush.

DON'T LET CONSTIPATION SLOW YOU UP

When bowels are sluggish—when you feel irritable, headachy and everything you do is an effort—do as millions of folks do. Chew FEEN-A-MINT, the modern chewing gum laxative. FEEN-A-MINT looks and tastes like your favorite gum—you'll like its fresh mint flavor. Simply chew FEEN-A-MINT at bedtime—sleep without being disturbed—next morning gentle, effective relief. You'll feel like a million, full of your old pep again. A generous family supply of FEEN-A-MINT costs only 10¢.

West Bend Savings & Loan Ass'n

(Buy Savings Bonds Here)

The country banker who said, "there is something about money, for it is the life of the nation," is right. Money is the life of the nation, and it is the life of the West Bend Savings & Loan Association. This association is a wonderful record of progress made during the last years. Many wonder how this association is able to pay prevailing dividends, that similar financial institutions distribute. It is because they operate very economically, are careful with their loans and collections, all loans being secured by first mortgages on residential property in West Bend and vicinity and Washington county, and for many years a substantial reserve has been built up and also practically all the funds are kept working. Officers are: E. W. Eberhardt, president; H. E. Peters, vice-president; August A. Moth, sec'y-treasurer; Lucy M. Bradley, asst. treasurer; Elroy Schmidt, asst. secretary; Henry M. Gehl, Wm. T. Leins, Dr. A. W. Albrecht, Henry C. Kaempfer, Frank L. Cosgrove, E. J. Altendorf, directors.

HOMECOMING FESTIVITIES

Homecoming activities started off with a bang with a pep meeting given Friday afternoon.

A bonfire and pep rally was held Friday night at the high school. Wayland Tessar was master of ceremonies. Speeches were given by Lloyd Petermann, Mr. Gibson, Mr. Rose and Mr. Rosenheimer. The cheer leaders led the student body in yells and the school song. The band played several lively marches. The pep rally was followed by a snake dance through town. A parade was held Saturday noon, starting at the high school. The parade consisted of floats made by various class organizations in the school. It was led by the band.

The exciting game between Campbellsport and Kewaskum started at 2:00 p. m. A large number of students and alumni were present. The uniforms of the band members added much color to the cheering section. Everyone went home happy after Kewaskum defeated Campbellsport in a hard fight.

The homecoming was climaxed by a dance held in the school gym Saturday night. The gym was gayly decorated with corn shocks and colorful autumn leaves. Music was furnished by Earl Etta's orchestra.

West Bend Beauty Salon

This is the Former Clara Mae Shop Now Owned and Operated by Lillian Powless

To the woman who wishes the advanced methods of beauty culture her desire can be attained at this establishment. Stop at 119 S. Main, phone 945. Here the style of a coiffure is considered too important a part of your appearance to be governed by some whim of the moment, and because of this the individual type is considered, and their work emphasized, youth in the younger woman and dignity and good grooming in the mature. Healthy hair is a necessary quality for a well appearing coiffure and at this shop unhealthy hair is treated after the quaint but successful methods of long ago days, the whole system being based on the correct use of tonic that stimulates and heals.

Try one of their finger waves. You may be assured that it will be properly done. No matter what you may wish, shampooing, hair cutting, scalp treatments, permanent waving, finger waving, facial or manicures, skilled operators will attend your needs.

HERDT BOWLING ALLEYS

504 N. Main — West Bend

Industrial leaders, efficiency experts and business men in general, have found from observation and careful comparisons that the employee or workman who takes systematic exercise and recreation is capable of rendering better service and producing more accurate work than one who takes none.

It was John H. Patterson, of National Cash Register fame, whose guiding genius and confidence in humanity made the model factory of the world at Dayton, Ohio. He spent millions in welfare work so that his employees would produce the maximum of efficiency in the work they were daily called on to do.

In the recreation building, elaborate equipment was installed so that both men and women could enjoy themselves. This keen judge of human mankind knew that bowling made people more efficient that it trains the eyes to a degree of accuracy not obtainable in any recreational pastime. All can engage in it, too. It isn't for a few star performers as in most sports. Women and young people find refined atmosphere here to meet their friends.

A professional service, the vital importance of which is rapidly becoming more and more recognized, is that of the optometrist. It is a service that has a great bearing upon the future of many people throughout the entire nation. Eyes being defective were one cause for rejections in the draft. This is a modern day science in which development has been rapid, and all the new discoveries of the science have been carefully followed by Dr. O. Runkel, registered optometrist. He received his training in one of the foremost schools and offers a service to the people of this section that makes it possible for everyone within this trading area to enjoy the proper attention to their eyes. He is open evenings by appointment. His practice has distinguished him throughout this region, and his excellent training, together with many years of practical experience, give him comprehensive knowledge of intricacies of his profession.

"Imagine me, steering a Destroyer!"

"And I've had two pay raises in only eight months! I'll say you can't beat Uncle Sam's Navy!"

YOU couldn't ask for a greater thrill than that which a fellow gets when he comes back home wearing a trim Navy uniform. The folks crowd around. They all want to know where you've been, what you've done. And man, do you have stories to tell!

GREATEST LIFE IN THE WORLD
You're proud. And you should be. For you've been leading the greatest life in the world. And it's a thrill to tell about it, too. A thrill to see the admiration in the eyes of the One and Only Girl as you tell about the first time you steered a Destroyer. Or handled a P.T. Boat at more than 45 miles per hour. Or stepped out in front of your shipmates to receive your first promotion.

And with that promotion came an increase in pay. And there were more to come. Second Class. First Class. And then Chief Petty Officer. Many might even go to Annapolis. Or to Pensacola with the flying cadets! Exciting? You bet, and fun too. Something doing all the time. Real h-m-m's stuff. Boxing. Baseball. Football. Swimming. AND MOVIES... previews, too!

LOOK WHAT THE U. S. NAVY AND NAVAL RESERVE OFFER YOU

- FREE TRAINING worth $1500. Nearly 50 trades and vocations to choose from.
- GOOD PAY with regular increases. You may earn up to $126 a month.
- EACH YEAR you are entitled to a generous vacation period, with full pay.
- GOOD FOOD and plenty of it.
- FREE CLOTHING. A complete outfit of clothing when you first enlist. (Over $100 worth.)
- FREE MEDICAL CARE, including regular dental attention.
- FINEST SPORTS and entertainment any man could ask for.
- TRAVEL, ADVENTURE, THRILLS—You can't beat the Navy for them!
- BECOME AN OFFICER. Many can work for an appointment to the Naval Academy or the Annapolis of the Air at Pensacola.
- FUTURE SUCCESS. It's easy for Navy trained men to get good-paying jobs in civil life.
- LIBERAL RETIREMENT-PAY for regular Navy men.

FREE TRAINING WORTH $1500

And all this time you're taking care of your future! The Navy said, "Pick a trade—we can make you an expert." And they gave you nearly 50 skilled trades and vocations to choose from: Radio expert, machinist, welder, aviation mechanic, dental technician, electrician—to mention a few.

Yes, training that would be worth $1500 to you in one year's time. Training that will assure you of a well-paid job in civil life. Yet you get paid while learning—get your keep and a complete outfit of clothing free.

Where else in the world are there such opportunities for thrill, for fun, for a future as in Uncle Sam's Navy?

ENROLL IN THE NAVAL RESERVE ... BE RELEASED AFTER THE EMERGENCY

The Secretary of the Navy has announced:—"All men now enlisting in the Naval Reserve will be retained on active Navy duty throughout the period of the national emergency, but they will be released to inactive duty as soon after the emergency as their services can be spared, regardless of the length of time remaining in their enlistment."

Remember—the regular Navy and Naval Reserve offer you the same travel, training, promotions, pay increases. Physical requirements in the Naval Reserve are more liberal.
