

Sharpening the Eyes of the Army and Navy With Lenses

Listen, my children, and you shall hear of a little cog in this great defense program machinery of ours that plays an unspectacular, but vital, role in the whole defense setup. It is the manufacture of optical instruments for our armed forces. It was thought that the U. S. would be up against it when the supply of German optical glass was cut off, but American glass manufacturers came through with a product every bit as good. The optical division at Frankford Arsenal in Philadelphia, where some of these photos were taken, now has a staff of 200 persons.

On the bridge of the mighty battleship, North Carolina, Rear Admiral Olaf M. Hustvedt and his executive officer, Comdr. A. G. Shepard (left) hold binoculars as they observe the effects of the firing tests at sea.

The lathe machine at the left is used for centering lenses and grinding the edges through with the optical center. Right: Looking for flaws in parts of binoculars as they are assembled.

The girl at left is cleaning optical elements that will later be assembled into a battery commander's telescope. Right: Two pretty maids check on finished prisms and lenses.

Field binoculars in actual use. A soldier is spotting aircraft during maneuvers. He tells his partner what he sees and the partner speaks into a wireless phone to relay the information to headquarters.

False Teeth Ancient
False teeth date far back into Asiatic civilization. Ever the Babylonians of the Fifth century before Christ are believed by some authorities to have used white pebbles strung on copper wire. These weren't very utilitarian but looked much better than the customary gap. The Ceylonese were using bits of sea shell more than 500 years ago, and the Japanese of 300 years ago were wont to carve a sea shell to resemble uppers and lowers.

'Borrowed Timers'
Near Ellensburg, Wash., a group of 15 people live, who have been "given up" by doctors, and they call themselves "Borrowed Timers." Many of them, according to their doctors, should have died from one to four years ago. Since 1936, when the colony was started, not one has died. They live on a 40-acre farm and are self-supporting. The idea originated with Guyer D. Thomas, who is now president of the colony.

REASON
"I don't see why you refer to this place as a 'one horse town.'"
"Because everybody — almost — seems to have a car, I've only seen one horse since I've been here."

Musical
"I don't like the stage manager," said the soubrette petulantly. "He's always making us learn some new popular song."
"What of that?" asked the first comedian.
"Oh," answered the soubrette, "I hate a man who puts on so many airs."

Simply Ripping
"Are you the manager?" snapped the man who strode angrily into the laundry. "Then what about this week's washing?"
"We've disatched all orders, sir," replied the manager soothingly; "may I remind you that we specialize in quick service?"
"Quick service!" snorted the customer, as he produced a shirt with half its tail missing. "Well, this certainly looks as if you've been in a tearing hurry."

Careful Lad
A small boy from the city went over to a farmer's house with his father. On the steps was a large dog barking.
"Don't be afraid, little boy," the farmer said, "A barking dog never bites."
"I know that," the boy replied, "but I don't know just when he is going to stop barking."

IMPROVEMENT?
"He married a widow."
"Well?"
"He says he's got her wishing her first husband could see the sort of man she has now."

Getting Even
Husband — That beefsteak isn't cooked to suit me.
Wife — Well, cook it yourself. You didn't marry a cook.
Wife (in the middle of the night) — Get up, John, I think there are burglars in the house.
Husband — Get up yourself; you didn't marry a policeman.

For you to make

ENTERTAINING'S a joy when you've a beautiful crocheted dinner cloth to set off your fine china! Make this heirloom cloth in string. It's filet crochet that has a clear chart to follow.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS
Salt meat requires longer boiling than fresh. Put it into cold water, quickly bring it to a boil, then let it simmer.
Leftover stock from cooked vegetables contains valuable minerals and vitamins. Save it to use in soups, stews, and sauces.
Always keep perfume in a dark place. Daylight will affect every odor differently, according to its formula. In extreme cases perfume turns bright red as soon as it has been exposed to the sun.
A tablespoon of granulated sugar mixed with the fat or meat drippings of a pot roast gives the roast a brown color and adds flavor to the stock and gravy.
When using a double boiler, the food will cook more quickly if the water in the outer vessel is salted in the proportion of a fourth of a cup of salt to one quart of water.
A siphon of charged water is an excellent fire extinguisher as the carbonic acid gas in the water helps to stifle the flames. The siphon can be tilted, and the fluid will carry to a considerable height such as the top of a blazing curtain.

Dampness often comes up through cracks in cement floors. To stop the cracks, chisel them to between a quarter and one-half inch wide, then fill them with hot tar. Specially prepared commercial cement can also be used.
Photographs that have become soiled may be made to look like new by washing them with a piece of white cotton wadding dipped in cold water. Do not use colored cotton wadding and never use soap, soap powder or ammonia — just cold water.

OOPS!

Believe it or not, on the radio the other night a commentator had spent most of his time discussing the rubber crisis, and had ended with the words "Rubber is one of our greatest needs," when the announcer went into his eulogy of a cigar.

GETTING A NEW TIRE

Q.—What can I do for you?
A.—I want three new tires.
Q.—(sharply)—You want what?
A.—Two new tires.
Q.—(severely)—How many?
A.—(meekly)—One!

Q.—What's your full name?
A.—Luke Z. Woggle.
Q.—How old?
A.—About two years.
Q.—You're older than that!
A.—Oh, I thought you meant the age of my old tires.

Q.—What kind of car is it?
A.—Pretty good except for the rubber.
Q.—I mean what make?
A.—It's a flivver.
Q.—Are you a doctor, nurse, military officer or veterinarian?
A.—No, but in this emergency anything can happen to me.
Q.—Do you use your car exclusively for delivering ice, coal, wood or oil?
A.—No, it only LOOKS that way!

Q.—Is it used to transport farm products?
A.—No; those apples have been on the floor for three months.
Q.—Do you use it in garbage collection?
A.—No; the kids mess it up that way.
Q.—How many people in your family?
A.—Six.
Q.—What is your wife's maiden name?
A.—Jennie.

Q.—Where are you employed?
A.—Say, am I here to get a new tire or some new life insurance!

Q.—We've got to be careful to conserve rubber. It's important to be sure you are the sort of person who would get the most out of a tire. Got to know your background.
A.—I'm a special case. My wife's relatives live with me and they all demand transportation in my car.
Q.—It's not a bus!
A.—That's what you think!

Q.—From all the facts, I do not think we can classify you for a certificate above the rate of D-12.
A.—What's the top class?
Q.—A-3.
A.—Never mind a new tire. I'll settle for a tire patch and a used inner tube!

I've very often heard it said
That doughy generals die in bed;
That, far from the repugnant strife,
They, fluffed in feathers, part with life.

But, looking over Hitler's list,
And at the ones the Russians miss!
I've come to the conclusion sad
That Nazi generals die "in bad."

The Indoor Hat-Wearers' League
We are glad to hear that Bill Knudsen works with his hat on. "It helps me think," he says. We are a charter member of the League of Indoor Hat Wearers, and have stood for much criticism through the years. We wore our bonnet as a boy editor of the New Haven Register. We wore it constantly on the copy desk of the old Globe. We have never taken it off at work since. To remove it for a minute means a complete stoppage of thought and confidence. It is good to know that a man like Mr. Knudsen belongs to our club.

Mickey Rooney is now a married man and it makes millions of Americans suddenly feel old. It is difficult to imagine that Mickey, the Number One Kid of the Movie World, now has to bring home groceries, help hang pictures and do his part in selecting new wall paper.

We hear that Mickey may now play the judge in the Judge Hardy series, with Louis Stone playing the kid part.

Ima Dodo got one of those sugar ration stamps the other day. But she says she put it in her coffee and it wouldn't even dissolve.

Married to a Tree
The Hindu believes it is unlucky to marry a third time. Therefore a man who has had two wives, and wants to marry again, first goes through the ceremony of being married to a tree, which becomes his third wife. Then he marries his chosen bride. The tree is draped in yellow cotton and a sari (the principal robe of a Hindu woman) is placed beside it. Water is then poured round it three times. The customary screen is erected between the "bride" and bridegroom, and the usual bridal necklace is placed round a branch of the tree. Immediately after the ceremony the tree is cut down and burned, and the bridegroom marries the woman of his choice.

Card Currency
Playing cards served as the first paper money ever issued in North America. When French troops in Canada mutinied in 1685 because their pay had not arrived, the governor wrote a money value on playing cards, signed them and paid off the men. This "pay-off" currency remained in circulation for almost a century.

County Agent Notes

FERTILIZER AND CORN BORER MEETINGS HELD IN RICHFIELD AND HARTFORD THURSDAY, MARCH 5

Many questions are asked each year about the use of commercial fertilizers. Farmers want to know what kinds of fertilizers to use; at what rate should they be applied; will different fertilizers produce the same results; will it pay them to buy commercial fertilizers for their corn, grain and hay fields?

To help farmers obtain the best answer to these and many other fertilizer questions, I held two meetings on Thursday, March 5. They were as follows: Thursday afternoon, 2:00 o'clock, Dickel's hall, Richfield; Thursday evening, 8:00 o'clock, Hartford high school gymnasium, Hartford.

Professor C. J. Chapman, soil and commercial fertilizer specialist of the College of Agriculture, was present to discuss our soil needs. He also showed several reels of movies showing results obtained from the use of different kinds of fertilizers.

In addition to the above mentioned talk, a movie was shown by A. L. Piller of the State Department of Agriculture on the European corn borer.

FRUIT GROWERS WILL HOLD ANNUAL MEETING IN JACKSON ON THURSDAY, MARCH 12

The annual meeting of the Washington County Fruit Growers' association will be held in the Jackson village hall on Thursday, March 12. The morning session will begin at 10:00 o'clock with association announcements. The business meeting will follow. At 11:00 o'clock C. L. Kuehner of the College of Agriculture will speak on pruning, fertilization and variety selection of the orchard and other small fruits.

At noon a free luncheon will be served.

Immediately following the noon luncheon movies showing all steps in the control of orchard insects and pests will be shown. This sound picture was prepared during the past year by a large chemical company and is the best film of its kind ever made. All persons interested in fruit growing should see this picture.

H. J. Rahmlow, secretary of the Wisconsin Horticultural society will also be present and give a good fruit discussion. During the morning session separate programs for the fruit growers and their wives will be held. Anyone interested in apple and fruit culture is invited to attend. The program will have points of much interest to all.

REPAIRING INTERIOR SILO WALLS

The two farm building meetings held on Friday of last week in Hartford and Jackson were well attended. Many worthwhile suggestions concerning the location of farm buildings, the use of various kinds of materials in their construction or repairs, and on the best types of ventilation systems were given to those in attendance.

Many farmers were much interested in the suggestions given by L. O. Hanson of the Portland Cement association for repairing the chipped-out and acid eaten interior walls of older concrete silos. Here are the suggestions:

1ST STEP: Clean the inside wall of the silo by using a wire brush. In fact more than one brush may be worn out by doing a good thorough job. All loose concrete must be removed. Farmers may find it easiest to do this as they take the silage out of the silo. The silage can be protected by spreading a canvass or old gunny sacks over it. This will save the climbing of high ladders which would be needed if the silo were empty. A very complete cleaning is absolutely necessary.

2ND STEP: The interior wall of the silo must be damp when new plaster is to be applied. Moisten with a broom or with a spray. Do this at least one hour before new plaster is to be applied. Apply moisture more than once if necessary.

3RD STEP: Prepare a cement plaster according to the following mixture: 1 part cement; 2½ parts medium sand (screened); one-tenth part of hydrated lime (the lime must be slacked before using). The same formula for larger amounts would read one bag of cement, two and one-half bushels of medium sand and ten pounds of hydrated lime.

Apply the materials to the parts in need of repairs. Do not apply more than one-half inch thickness at a time. If more is needed, apply after the first materials have had a chance to set.

4th STEP: The fourth and last step is very necessary for a successful job, and that is to keep the cement plaster damp. This can best be done by applying a mist spray with a hand or a power sprayer. Keep the wall moist for at least 5 to 7 days. A good repair job which is well done should last many years.

BARLEY AND CASH CROP MEETING HELD AT ALLENTON FRIDAY

Barley and cash crop growers from Washington county were invited to attend this one-day farm institute meeting at the Hess hall beginning at 10 a. m. and bring in a 1-quart sample of barley, soybeans, canning peas or other seed they wanted analyzed to determine its fitness for planting.

An exceptionally strong speaking program was presented. Among the speakers were George M. Briggs, R. E. Vaughn and E. J. Delwiche of the College of Agriculture; also F. A. Cummings of the Milwaukee Grain Exchange. Barley and canning pea discussions were presented in the morning. Other cash crops were on the afternoon program.

The Farmers Mercantile company and the Ray Jonas elevator, both of Allenton, co-operated with County Agricultural Agent E. E. Skalsky in holding this meeting. They donated valuable prizes which were distributed by drawings at the beginning of each hour beginning at 10:00 a. m.

EVER-NORMAL GRANARY WHEAT FOR FEED OFFERED FOR SALE

To get production of dairy and poultry products and to make additional storage space available for 1942 grain crops, the United States Department of Agriculture is offering for sale approximately 100 million bushels of commodity credit wheat, according to Galdo Schroeder, Washington county AAA chairman.

The AAA ever-normal granary principle of storing reserves for future need is being fulfilled as this wheat reaches market. Ever-normal granary wheat will be sold at 85 cents per bushel, or the commodity credit sales price for corn per bushel at point of delivery, whichever is higher.

Mr. Schroeder indicated that producers may order this wheat through their local dealers or direct from regional offices of the Commodity Credit Corporation through the Washington County AAA office. Dealers who wish to purchase ever-normal granary wheat for resale as feed will be eligible for deliveries upon receiving certification from their local AAA office, according to procedure set forth by the department of agriculture. All sales of bulk wheat will be on the basis of an agreement, protected by a bond, that the wheat will be ground and used as feed or fed to livestock or poultry as whole wheat. The Washington County AAA committee has been designated to check compliance with the regulations.

TRANSFER PFC WERNER BRUHN TO UNKNOWN BASE

In a letter received the past week Miss Elsie Bruhn was informed that her brother, PFC Werner Bruhn, who had been stationed with the 53rd regiment at Fort Bragg, N. C., had been transferred to an unknown base, probably on some foreign shore. PFC Bruhn wrote that his destination was a military secret and that his mail should be sent to Los Angeles, Calif., from where it would be sent to him. He is a son of Herman Bruhn of this village.

KOHN HOME ON FURLOUGH BEFORE TRANSFER TO ALASKA

Pvt. Ralph Kohn, 15th Signal Service, Co. E, Fort Monmouth, N. J., surprised his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kohn, by arriving home Wednesday noon on a two-week furlough. In a pleasant call at this office we learned from Pvt. Kohn that following his furlough he will return to Ft. Monmouth, from where he expects to be transferred to Alaska. He expects to remain at Ft. Monmouth only two days before leaving for the west coast. Pvt. Kohn hopes to call on PFC Pirmin Kohler at Fort MarArthur, San Pedro, Calif. before heading north to Seattle, Wash. and boarding a ship for "somewhere in Alaska." Ralph was formerly stationed at Fort Richardson, Anchorage, Alaska, before coming to Ft. Monmouth.

Silhouette Combines Box Pleats With Long Torso

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

all-around box pleats below a deep hip yoke.

The costume shown to the right in the above illustration conveys the most welcome and highly important style news, that the bolero costume has returned in all its glory to the fashion picture. You will see boleros played up throughout the style program this season. In this case self-color eyelet embroidery elaborates the bolero jacket of a two-piece navy skirt costume. The bodice, softly draped at the top, is pink.

To the left above in the picture is shown a two-piece dress that uses a shantung weave, combining white, orange and brown in daring contrast. The separate skirt features box pleats from a hip yoke. Box pleats are really newer than side pleating. Eminent correct for a wartime "suit wedding" is the creamy beige sheer ensemble at the top right in the above illustration. The full-length coat looks like a dress but is really a wide pleated skirt seamed to a jacket top, with self-covered buttons down the front from neck to hemline. Finely pleated bowknits trim the four slot pockets that adorn jacket and skirt. The dress worn under this coat repeats the pleated skirt of the coat, while gathered bodice fullness develops from a deep yoke.

Generally speaking, the favorite silhouette is the long torso effect with some sort of pleated skirt. Also, there is much interest in slim wrap-around skirts and those which have slenderizing harem drapes.

Style Show Reflects Lowly Fabrics' Use

A preview of spring and summer styles held in Chicago recently showed the 18,000 buyers from 17 states that they were going to carry home an array of chambrays, calicos and denims in women's and children's fashions. For these lowly fabrics have come into their own because of the influence of war.

Style and practicability are still the theme in these fashions, for the designers have kept their eye on both national defense needs, and the desires of millions of women purchasers in stores throughout the nation. Dresses, garden costumes, play clothes and work uniforms—all have been styled by the designers to reflect the signs of the times.

Until manufacturers run out of twills and such fabrics which are fashioned into foundation garments, girdles are here to stay, despite the rubber shortage.

Priorities on tin and other defense needs have caused tie fastenings instead of hooks and eyes, zippers, buttons and clasps to be substituted. Everything in garments has taken on the practical atmosphere. Everything except the hostess coat which still remains silken and luxurious.

Now They Trim Your Hat To Match Your Blouse!

There is going to be a riot of frilly, frothy neckwear, and milliners are giving us something new in the way of hats that repeat the snowy lingerie accents. For instance, a wide brimmed straw or felt hat may be outlined with an organdy frill that repeats the frill used in the showy jabot. The jabot is one of the most important neckwear items featured this season.

Serve and Adorn

Besides serving industry, women will also adorn it. Trousered uniforms, made from denim and chambray, without trim or buttons, and with tight cuffs as accident preventives were noticed in a recent spring and summer style show.

Up in Studios of Style Designers

The Russian influence will be seen this spring—in shawls and blouses. The blouses are belted and full. Vivid print dresses will be worn with plain wool coats that pick up one of the colors in the print.

Slacks suits will have longer coats. Wear blouses with long, full sleeves and plunging necklines with your slacks, or a blouse in one of the garish huge prints now so fashionable.

LEAVES from Uncle Sam's Notebook

Convenient Farm Kitchens

If the farm wife and her family are taking over an already established farm and farmstead, the chances are that the kitchen will already be "fixed" and not subject, readily, to much re-planning. If, however, it is at all possible to build the kitchen according to plan, it will be thought upon it.

The choice and placement of kitchen equipment will be facilitated by having in mind the usual routine of kitchen labor. As a rule the preparing of raw food, cooking, serving, clearing away, and dishwashing will occur, day after day, in the order given.

WORK CENTERS IN THE KITCHEN

In a readable government bulletin dealing with farm kitchen equipment, the following pertinent paragraph occurs:

"The grouping of equipment, small as well as large pieces, into work centers is one of the most important and oftentimes one of the easiest things to accomplish in equipping a kitchen convenient. Equally important, but in some cases more difficult to bring about, is the relation of the work centers to one another and to the room as a whole. They should be so placed that the various activities in the daily routine go from one center to the next."

SEVEN IMPORTANT KITCHEN CENTERS

In order that the work which must be done in the kitchen may proceed with facility and dispatch, it is well to arrange equipment in such groups as are indicated below:

1. Raw food preparation center: This center will include the sink and worktable, where fruits and vegetables are washed and pared, and where utensils are filled with water for cooking. Here will be gathered, then, all brushes, knives, strainers, steppans, and similar tools and utensils used in such preparation, plus, also, a serviceable garbage can for the ready reception of waste products.

2. Cooking center: Here will be the range, surrounded by shelves or hangers to accommodate frying pans, griddles, large spoons, forks and ladles, salt, pepper and spice containers, and whatever may be needed for the seasoning of foods. Many such utensils can be hung on the wall if a sheet of zinc is placed to receive them, and the seasonings can be kept on narrow shelves above the range.

3. Serving center: At the serving center accommodation will be provided for china, glassware, silver, electric toaster and percolator; and for bread, crackers, cake and other ready-to-serve foods. Space should be allowed for the setting out of foods which are ready to serve.

4. Clearing-away and dish-washing center: These duties bring the housewife back to the sink. The china closet should be located near the sink but if this is impracticable a wheeled tray or table should be provided for the transportation of dishes to and from the sink.

5. Laundry center: Laundry work does not really belong in the kitchen, but if it must be done there, the necessary equipment should be so placed as to interfere as little as possible with the other work of the kitchen. A stationary tub can often be placed under a hinged drainboard of the sink, its cover serving as a work table. An ironing board should be folded into a wall cabinet, which may hold also irons, starch, soap, etc.

6. A dining center: A dining alcove may save many steps, especially if the family is small, or, lacking an alcove, dining equipment may be placed in a corner of the kitchen. It should be near the serving table and should face away from the sink and stove.

7. A social center: If the kitchen is large, space can be found for a comfortable chair and a small work table or desk where the housewife can mend, or read, or keep accounts—or even entertain a chance guest—while she keeps an eye on food that is being prepared.

If the kitchen is old and inconvenient, often a old and inconvenient kitchen is a source of despair to the housewife, because the cost of remodeling is prohibitive. Even in such a case, much can often be achieved by a re-arrangement of the furnishings and equipment, particularly if it is possible to refinish the floor and the walls.

For additional information, together with many suggestions for kitchen plans, send five cents to Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C., asking for Farmers' Bulletin No. 1513.

SOIL FOR ROSE CULTURE:

Roses are heavy feeders and must have rich soils if good results are to be obtained. The soil must be carefully prepared and heavily fertilized, the best fertilizer to use being cow manure. Composted manure is valuable, as are also well-composted leaves and straw.

USES FOR DEERHORN

Everyone is familiar with the use of deerhorn for knife handles, but not everyone knows that much gelatine is made from deerhorn.

SOURCE OF EIDER DOWN

The eider down of commerce is not plucked from the eider duck itself but is, usually, collected from the empty nests of the ducks. These nests are surrounded and sometimes covered with soft feathers.

THE QUILL PIG

The porcupine or quill pig has a coat consisting of, first, a short, soft under fur; second, long coarse hair, forming an outer fur; and, lastly, many strong, barbed spines, set loosely in its skin.

TO YOUR Good Health

by DR. NATHAN S. DAVIS, III

SCARLET FEVER

Scarlet fever is the most serious of the contagious diseases of childhood because it is often a severe infection and causes many deaths and because it may cause heart or kidney disease. It is probably caused by a streptococcus even though unlike diseases caused by other organisms of that type, patients who have once had it are usually permanently immunized against the disease. It is such a serious disease that the utmost precautions should be taken to prevent its spread even though the local quarantine regulations do not contain such provisions.

It has been shown that the large majority of children who have not had scarlet fever or who have not been immunized against it by repeated injections of the sterile toxin, and a fairly large proportion of adults are susceptible to the disease. Scarlet fever is primarily a throat infection with an organism, a streptococcus, that forms a toxin which causes the typical rash and the damage to the kidneys, which may enter the blood stream and infect the heart or may spread to infect the mastoid or other sinuses.

In a recent study of a large series of cases, it was found that at the end of a 28-day quarantine period, 63 per cent of the patients were carriers of an "hemolytic streptococcus" which was probably the one causing the disease. Modern methods for the control of scarlet fever should be adopted in all parts of the country. These include:

1. Isolation of the patient.
2. Dick tests on all contacts, including adults to determine their susceptibility to the disease.
3. Culturing of material from the nose and throat of all contacts on blood agar plates to determine whether or not they are carriers.
4. Take the temperature and inspect the throat and the upper part of the trunk of all contacts.

If the temperature and inspection lead one to suspect the imminence of scarlet fever, passive immunization may be produced by injecting at least 150,000 neutralizing units of scarlet fever antitoxin or of an adequate dose of convalescent serum (at least 40 cc.). One week after the passive immunization dose or as soon as a contact is found susceptible, active immunization with five graduated doses of scarlet fever toxin is begun. If the contact gives a negative skin test and a negative culture, he needs no treatment. All who are carriers, who have positive cultures, must be isolated and if also susceptible, must be immunized at once by the active method.

A contact who is susceptible but who has a negative culture, need not be isolated. All patients and all carriers must be quarantined until cultures made from the nose and throat are negative for the hemolytic streptococcus. When methods such as have been outlined were used in the care of scarlet fever patients in Evanston, Ill., the number of cases dropped from 188 in 1938 to 65 in 1939 and in a series of 117 consecutive cases there were no contact cases. Regulations similar to those adopted in Evanston on recommendation of Drs. Gladys R. H. and George Dick should be adopted by all local and state health departments that the number of cases of scarlet fever may be reduced at least proportionately in all parts of the United States.

QUESTION BOX

Send questions to Dr. Nathan S. Davis III, Winnetka, Ill. (Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.)

Q.—What would be the cause of pimples or sores in the ear? N. S. A.—Dirt or acne.

Q.—What is the most frequent cause of strep infection and what is the best corrective? F. E. A.—One of the many varieties of streptococci. Avoid people with colds and sore throats. Keep wounds or burns covered with sterile gauze. Use pasteurized milk and milk products.

Q.—I am troubled with pains in the back of my head. What could be causing them? A. B. A.—Any number of things; some most serious; others of little consequence. Your doctor must determine the cause and prescribe the treatment.

Q.—Does excessive nervousness lead to a noticeable shortening of life? Does it connect directly to any major disease? D. E. A.—No to both questions. It may be a symptom of goiter and several other diseases but it is not connected with any one.

This Golden, Fluffy Omelet Captures Interest (See Recipes Below)

Lenten Meals

Eggs, cheese, fish and vegetables—these are the foods that will be popular with the market basket during the next few weeks. If you are going to form the bases for your menu from these dishes cook them just as carefully as you do the meat that you use year 'round, for you can't take chances and let mealtime become dull or unattractive.

Point up fish and vegetables with lemon or other attractive sauces and flavorings. Serve your egg and macaroni dishes in attractive settings, with some carefully thought out garnish. Play up fruit and dessert numbers to lend interest to meals. Now, for some concrete help, I've chosen foods to fit the season. They're vitamin, mineral and interest-laden.

Macaroni Cheese Custard. (Serves 6 to 8)
1 package macaroni, cooked
2 eggs, slightly beaten
2 cups grated cheese
2 tablespoons onion, chopped
2 tablespoons parsley, chopped
1 pint milk, chopped
Salt and pepper
2 cups evaporated milk

Combine ingredients and pour into a buttered baking dish. Set in a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate (375-degree) oven for 45 minutes.

An appetite-satisfying omelet? You can't believe it? Well, this one is, because it's made with a cream cheese and chive mixture that makes the omelet heartier, and also keeps it from shrinking discouragingly the moment it comes from the oven.

"Cream Cheese Omelet." (Serves 6)
1/4 pound cream cheese with chives
3 eggs
2 tablespoons milk
Salt and pepper

Soften the chive cream cheese, blend in egg yolks one at a time. Add milk and seasonings. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into a well-buttered, heavy frying pan and cook over low heat until bottom begins to brown. Then place in a moderate (325-degree) oven until the top is dry and the mixture firm. Fold and serve.

Spinach Ring With Goldenrod Eggs. (Serves 8)
4 pounds spinach
1/2 cup salad oil
1 tablespoon salt
1/4 cup lemon juice

Wash and pick over spinach carefully. Place in kettle without adding water. Pour oil over spinach and mix thoroughly. Add salt and cook 8 to 10 minutes. Stir occasionally. Drain and chop. Add lemon juice and pack into an oiled 9-inch ring mold. Unmold on serving platter and fill with:

Goldenrod Eggs.
1/4 cup melted butter
1/4 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
Pepper to taste
2 cups milk
4 hard-cooked eggs

Blend butter and flour, salt and pepper. Heat mixture and add milk gradually. Stir after each addition of milk to make a smooth sauce. Separate egg yolks and whites. Slice whites and add to prepared sauce. Pour sauce into unmolded spinach ring. Press yolks through a sieve to top sauce. Garnish with paprika, parsley and lemon quarters.

A soufflé is a properly dramatic Lenten dish, but one which must be baked carefully if it is to come to the dining room at the peak of goodness. Select a cheese that will cook readily and smoothly, a dish that is in good proportion to the soufflé, and cook the mixture at a very low temperature so it can rise to its height slowly.

Cheese Soufflé. (Serves 6)
4 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons flour
1 1/2 cups milk
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of cayenne
1/2 pound processed cheddar cheese
6 eggs

Make a sauce of the butter, flour, milk and seasonings. When thick and smooth, remove from fire and add sliced cheese. Stir until cheese is melted. Add beaten egg yolks and mix well. Cool mixture, fold in stiffly beaten whites. Pour into a 2-quart casserole, bake 1 1/4 hours in a slow (300-degree) oven. Serve at once.

Cornflake Dream Bars. (Makes 40 bars)
First part:
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup brown sugar
1 cup flour

Second part:
1 cup brown sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup shredded coconut
1 cup cornflakes
1 cup chopped nuts

Blend butter and sugar thoroughly. Add flour and blend with fork or dough blender. Press mixture evenly and firmly into bottom of a shallow pan (9 by 13-inch pan). Bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven about 15 minutes or until delicately browned.

Beat eggs well, add sugar gradually and beat until light and fluffy. Add remaining ingredients and mix well. Drop by spoonfuls on top of previously baked crust and spread evenly. Bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven about 25 minutes. Cut into squares while still warm.

High 'Sound' Waves
Supersonic "sound" waves, or those which vibrate more than 20,000 times a second and are, therefore, inaudible to the human ear, can do such odd tricks as evaporize heavy oil, set fire to chips of wood, cook eggs without heating them and crumble glass into fine powder.

What's This?

It's 35 feet of intestines—6 or 6 times the length of your body, through which everything you eat must pass. Nature usually needs no help, but the wrong food, too much of it, can cause temporary blockage (constipation) with aggravating gas, headaches, listlessness or bad breath. ADLERIKA, with its 5 carminative and 3 laxative ingredients, relieves gas quickly and gets bowel action surprisingly fast. Ask your druggist for ADLERIKA.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action
Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—the risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

Grace, Simplicity and Purity Makes Greek Architecture Highly Valuable

By ELIZABETH MACRAE BOYKIN
On a trip recently, we passed through a neglected little village. There are some beautiful small old houses there—white clapboard they are, with fine white columned porches across the front... reflecting distantly their inheritance from ancient Greece. These little houses could have looked ridiculous, so modest were they, so inexpensive, so remote, in a way so presumptuous in their design. And yet they were beautiful, first because they were based on classic architectural forms that are consummately simple in conception and universal in appeal; second, because that unknown architect brought that most important gift of all—restraint—to his interpretation of noble Greek themes.

Those Greeks, again—what people they were! Their achievements have never been surpassed. To this day we go back to them for specific themes and inspiration. Nothing man has done before or since has topped the clarity and loft of their thinking. The purity of Greek architecture makes it adaptable for small as well as great buildings. The grace and simplicity of their ornament still awes and thrills us, still contributes our richest idiom of design detail.

Remote from today's life... is that what you are thinking? Ah no—we doubt that there is a home in America that does not draw upon the Greeks for some detail in its furnishing—the scroll motif in that rug or chintz or plate, the acanthus design on those silver spoons, the finish of that door, the molding on that mantel. Mankind surely have reached his great climax in the Greeks. But if we would learn from them, the lesson would be that all the beauty of their civilization stemmed from the grandeur of their thinking.

REV. KLAPOTKE HONORED AT FAREWELL BY CONGREGATION

Members of the congregation tendered a farewell to their pastor, the Rev. A. J. Klapotke, at the St. Michaels hall on Tuesday evening. They presented him with a sizable check. The school children put on a program and also presented the pastor with a nice gift. The choir rendered several selections. All wished Rev. Klapotke God's blessing and success in his newly appointed parish, St. John's at Raymond Kastner, who comes here from Johnsburg, for which he left on Wednesday. We hereby extend a hearty welcome to our new pastor, the Rev. from Hartford. In his farewell Rev. Klapotke told us about an interesting coincidence in his life which seems to have him follow up the parishes by the name of St. John and St. Michael. He was baptized and grew up in St. John's parish at Montello. After his ordination he was appointed to St. Michael's at Milwaukee; from there he was transferred to St. John's at Clyman; from there he came to St. Michael's and St. John's here, and now he again goes to St. John's at Johnsburg.

Clausen New Supervisor of West Bend NYA Project

Howard Clausen, formerly of the West Bend Aluminum Co., has been appointed to succeed Roy Schaefer as supervisor of the West Bend Vocational school National Youth Administration war industries project, according to announcement by Walter F. Eckers, NYA area director. Schaefer has accepted a position as an engineer for the Boeing Aircraft Co.

More than 20 youths between 17 and 24, inclusive, now are enrolled at the West Bend NYA shop, Eckers said. They have been selected for this national defense training from Port Washington, West Bend, Hartford and Kewaskum.

"The National Youth Administration now is functioning on a 100 per cent national defense basis," Eckers declared. "Enrolled for this intensified training are 5,169 Wisconsin youths, learning skills which will qualify them for jobs in war industries. Last year out of 12,000 placements, approximately 70 per cent went into defense industries. NYA trained youth now are going into private employment at the rate of 230 a week."

STATE INSPECTOR AT SCHOOL

Mr. Merriott, state inspector, and Mr. Buckley visited our schools last Thursday. The state provides for an annual inspection to see whether the schools keep certain standards in teaching, and ways and means of running of schools.

NURSE EXAMS PUPILS

On Monday, Tuesday and Friday of this week the county nurse and her assistant examined the grade and high school students. Everyone's ears, eyes, throat and nose were checked, the weight and height taken, and the teeth examined.

PATRIOTIC PROGRAM

On Friday, Feb. 27, a patriotic program was presented to the student body by a group of student nurses. The program was opened with "Columbia the Gem of the Ocean," sung by Lucille Schoofs. Bernice Meyer took charge of the program. She talked about the great leaders of America such as financiers, generals, statesmen, inventors, etc. Ruth Keating spoke on the beauty of America and its opportunities, which was followed by "America, The Beautiful," sung by Dolores Mae Stoffel. Joy Zanow's topic was "Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness," followed by the song "I'm An American." Harriet Stoffel gave the "Heritage of America," followed by "America" sung by Dolores Mae Stoffel. Loraine Eberle talked about our democracy. The program closed with the playing of "Taps" by Dolores Mae Stoffel, salute to the flag, and assembly singing of the "Star Spangled Banner."

KHS WILL GO TO WEST BEND

On Monday of next week KHS students will go to West Bend. The students are going to see and hear the Wisconsin Symphony orchestra. They will leave at approximately 2:15. The program will last one and one-half hours. The buses will take the students down.

BAND ENTERTAINS BEFORE STUDENT BODY

On Thursday, Feb. 26, the Kewaskum high school band, under the direction of Mr. Furlong, gave a performance before the student body. The selections that were played were as follows: "Trombone Antics," "Juniors and Seniors," "Military Escort," "Loyalty" and "Marching Band."

The last selection that was played was the school song, and everybody joined in singing. The cheerleaders gave some cheers after the first three selections were played.

There are 25 members in the band, ten of whom play clarinets, three trumpets, four trombones, two saxophones, four drums, one baritone and one bass horn.

The program was in the form of a pep meeting preceding the basketball tournament at Slinger.

VENTRILOQUIST ENTERTAINS STUDENTS

On Tuesday, March 3, Ray Dittmore, a famous ventriloquist, appeared before the student body. He gave the students some information on the art of ventriloquism.

By animating his hand he created a little sailor boy whom he called "Muscles." He carried on quite a conversation and asked some one in the assembly for gum. Muscles became quite sick and was then put away.

His little boy Zeke (the dummy) was very amusing and carried on a conversation with Mr. Rose, who he claimed to have gone to school with.

He also told some of the students' fortunes. Everyone enjoyed the program very much.

BASKETBALL SEASON ENDED

Basketball is finished at K. H. S. for the year. We find the team with a season's record of 7 wins out of 17 games and a record of 4th place in the league. Statistics, however, tell a story which does not show in the won and lost column. This year's team scored 456 points in 17 games while holding their opponents to 407 points. Last year's team scored only 376 points in 18 games while the opponents got 405 points. The 1941-42 team averaged nearly 27 points per game as compared with 21 points per game in 1940-41.

Individual scoring shows Ttsar by far the highest scorer with 131 points, an average of 10.7 points per game. The only player to have a larger total in recent years was Kral with 229 points in 22 games for an average of 10.4 points per game. Last year's free throw average was 27.8% as compared with this year's

Jos. Welzjan, local barber, accidentally shot himself in the right foot with a .22 rifle while shooting sparrows, the cartridge being loaded with bird shot. Having the rifle close to his foot, the full discharge lodged therein. He is nursing a very sore foot but is able to take care of his barber duties.

Leo Husling, 32, cousin of U. S. Senator Paul O. Husling, was fatally injured at Campbellsport when kicked in the stomach by a horse. His father was with him in the barn and Leo collapsed at his feet after being kicked. At first Leo said it was nothing and his mother shouldn't be told but when the pain became unbearable a physician was called. He died an hour later of internal injuries. Rev. Sylvester Harter, son of Mrs. Kate Harter of here and cousin of Husling, read the requiem mass and Rev. Ph. Vogt was one of the assistants.

SAVE RUBBER—Uncle Sam Needs It

Every ounce of rubber saved by civilians goes into a war product. Proper care of your tires can increase their usefulness and make such saving possible. The United States Rubber Company, through its Car Owner's Creed, has issued this advice on tire preservation: (1) Wheels should be checked for balance frequently, since the greatest cause of "front end jitters" is unbalanced wheel assembly; (2) The most common form of misalignment is excessive "toe-in or toe-out" of the front wheels which scuffs away rubber. Check wheel alignment periodically; (3) When brakes are out of adjustment tread wear is uneven. Have brakes checked often by a dealer with up-to-date equipment; (4) Watch the pressure in your tires. Under-inflation, say U. S. Rubber engineers, can cut mileage 20%; (5) Inspect your tires and tubes regularly to locate troubles before they become serious. When cords are broken inside the tire you can't see them but they may cut the tube if not located; (6) Avoid sharp impacts with curbs or curb stones or other objects. Severe impacts may be absorbed by the tire but they are often deadly. Rim cuts kill tires.
