

'Em Last'—That's Number One Rule Nation's 32 Million Automobile Drivers

Out of thousands of miles of service, these tires were rejected at inspection station because of:

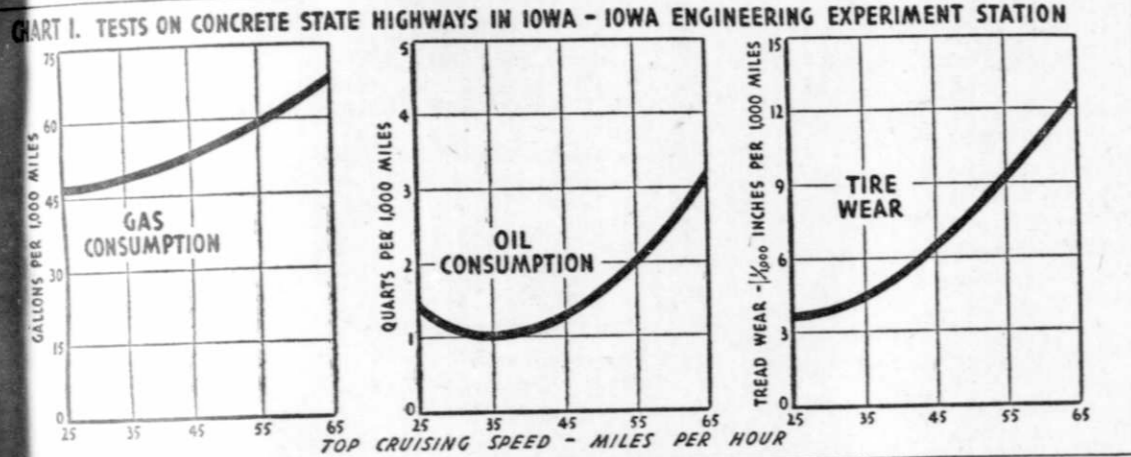

1. Excessive wear.
2. Excessive side wear.
3. Excessive front end.
4. Excessive rear end.
5. Excessive camber.
6. Misalignment.
7. Loose and badly worn tie-rod ends, king pin bolts, drag links and bushings.
8. Camber error and loose front end.
9. Excessive side drag.

Periodic inspection, proper care and adjustment would have increased the service of any of these tires by thousands and thousands of miles. The driver who neglects his tires today will soon become a pedestrian.

and oil consumption of your car. During the past years a nervous condition hit the majority of the drivers in the U.S.A. This was noticeable in their attempt to get between two points in the shortest time possible. They sped from one place to another without fully realizing that a moderate speed will get them to their destination, most of the time, in as short a time as if they roared on down the road.

Every 5,000 miles or so cross-switch your tires to increase total mileage. If your wheels are correctly aligned and balanced, the cross-switching will add miles and miles to each tire's life.

At a 65-mile per hour top cruising speed, as compared with 40 m.p.h., gas consumption was more than 30 per cent high-as possible. But the time will soon come when you will be thinking about having your tires recapped or retreaded.

If you are one of those fortunate persons whose application was approved by your local tire rationing board, then a few suggestions may prove valuable. Recapping, which is vulcanizing a tread surface onto a partially remaining tread, and retreading, which means stripping old tread off the tire and vulcanizing with a new tread and replacing it onto the casing, is done with the greatest of economy and safety when the following rules are remembered:

er. Yet the average gain in speed was only 15 miles an hour, as the faster driver had to slow down more frequently, and with greater abruptness.

Oil consumption increases at an even greater rate than gasoline consumption when the speed was stepped up to more than 35 miles per hour. Almost four times as much oil is used at 65 m.p.h. than at a 40-mile top cruising speed. The difference is even greater when a car is equipped with an oil filter.

1. Transportation of executives, engineers, technicians and workers to and from work essential to the war effort.
2. Transportation of produce and supplies to and from the farm if applicant does not have a truck or other means of transportation. In other words, applicant owning automobile may get retreads.

ON BECOMING OLD

Now that the span of life has been lengthened and the average is now about 66 years of age, it can be seen that there are more older individuals in proportion to the general population than at any time in the world's known history. This means that many men past 65, active mentally and physically, are being "retired" from their positions in industry.

What is going to become of these individuals physically aside from any financial considerations? Many of them are going to become "old" almost immediately because they are removed from their every-day habits of life. Some of our older folk are wise in that they have prepared themselves previously to meet their day of retirement by some definite daily occupation or hobby.

Asthmatic Children Yield to Treatment

When a physician investigating the cause of asthma in 329 cases in children is able to find the cause in 252 or over 75 per cent, it must be admitted that asthma has now passed the place where it can be called an incurable disease. Today, physicians, while giving the usual treatment for attacks, are patiently trying to learn the cause in each individual case.

Supper Social

The simple suppers at which a crowd gathers are pleasant for their warm friendliness, for the cozy talk which they inspire. They are especially easy to give if you plan to have each of your friends bring a dish for the supper—a pot luck, as it were.

This Week's Menu

- Pot-Luck Supper
- Russet Half Shells
- Fresh Asparagus
- Endive, Grapefruit, Strawberry Salad
- Raisin Bread
- Lemon Pie

*Recipes Given.

*Russet Half Shells. (Serves 8)

6 medium-sized Idaho bakers
1/2 cup hot milk
2 tablespoons butter
Salt and pepper to taste
1 large onion, chopped and cooked in butter until tender
12 small pork sausages

5 1/2 to 6 cups (or more) flour
6 tablespoons melted shortening
1 1/2 cups seedless raisins

Pour the granular yeast into the cup of lukewarm water, add the softened yeast and 3 cups of flour. Mix well, then beat until smooth. Next add the melted (not hot) shortening and enough flour to have the dough cling together in a ball. Add the raisins which have been covered for a few minutes with very hot water, then dried in a cloth, and dusted with flour. Knead the dough thoroughly, adding only enough flour to avoid stickiness. Let dough rise in a covered, greased bowl in a moderately warm place (82 to 84 degrees) until doubled. Fold the dough down and let rise about 1/2 hour, then divide and shape into two loaves. Place in greased bread pans and brush tops with melted shortening. Let rise until doubled. Bake about 50 minutes in a moderately hot oven (375 to 380 degrees). If desired, brush tops with honey just before taking from the oven.

Salmon Loaf. (Serves 25)

4 cans salmon
1 quart fresh bread crumbs
3 cups diced celery
2 ounces butter
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon onion juice
1 teaspoon lemon juice
8 eggs
1 quart scalded milk
1 40-ounce package frosted peas
2 quarts medium white sauce

For an in-the-season, centerpiece note, besides its economical aspects, try this: A long, low, shallow bowl in pottery or glass such as you may have used for relishes, if large enough, use a snow-white cauliflower banked with parsley, eggplant, radishes or tomatoes.

Laundrying Tips: With soap one of our prime, do not waste items, you will want to make the most of every scrap of soap you have. Save the small soap scraps from the bathroom and kitchen, put them in a soap shaker so you will make use of them in washing dishes.

OVER 50? Constipated?

Most of us find that age and living habits bring on occasional bowel-ineasiness. These spells of constipation, with aggravating gas, may cause restless nights. ADLERIKA can help you face the future more cheerfully. Its ingredients attract to the bowels extra moisture which softens packed wastes and assists in comfortable bowel action. ADLERIKA helps to leave your bowels refreshed and clean. Next time constipation and gas threaten your comfort, try ADLERIKA. Druggists have it.

Honed in Life

For having destroyed the Spanish fleet in Manila Bay on May 1, 1898, George Dewey received a score of honors and decorations, among them being his promotion to the rank of full admiral, the third in the history of the United States navy. Congress also passed a law permitting him to remain on active duty for the rest of his life and he was even discussed as a possible presidential candidate.

SOIL EROSION TERRACE DEMONSTRATION

A soil terracing demonstration was held on the Henry Lepien farm on Thursday, April 29. The Henry Lepien farm is located about four miles southwest of Hartford.

THE CALYX ORCHARD SPRAY

The codling moth control begins with the calyx orchard spray. To be most effective this spray application should be made as soon as late blossoming varieties have dropped most of their blossoms; calyx should be finished before many calyx cups have closed. The calyx cup usually closes within three to five days after the petals have dropped. A delay in the application of this spray, or its omission, usually results in poor worm control for the prevailing season.

The calyx spray must be carefully applied. Operators should see that the power sprayer is developing a fine mist and should not stint on the amount of spray material used. When applying the spray it is well to make sure that the tops, tips, and the inside of the trees are well covered. It is advisable to spray the tops of the trees more heavily than the bottom branches.

SPRAY MATERIALS TO USE: 2 1/2 lbs. of lead arsenate; 2 gallons of 2% lime sulphur; one-half lb. of soybean flour (this serves as a sticker); 100 gallons of water.

Spray all apple, cherry and plum trees; also currants, gooseberries and raspberries.

FARM BUILDING PERMITS

Under a recent federal order all farm construction work costing in excess of $500 will require approval and certification by the county board. Farmers who wish to start construction work must obtain an application form P-200 from the Federal Housing Administration, federal building, Milwaukee. The county extension office, construction work will be approved only if those cases where it can be definitely determined that the construction is necessary in the war effort.

"WARTIME FARMING DAY" TO REPLACE USUAL FIELD DAY

Wartime Farming day, devoted to the 1942 emergency problems of Wisconsin farmers and homemakers will replace the traditional Farm Folks' Field day at the University of Wisconsin this year.

This field conference will be held Saturday, June 13, on the University Farm near Madison, according to Noble Clark, chairman of the event.

"We're to meet the farm labor shortage, to make old equipment do, to meet the demand for more milk, food and eggs even though certain foodstuffs are scarce, will be the subjects on the program for Wartime Farming day," said Clark.

Chairman Clark added that the women's program will include victory gardens and ways of managing with less sugar.

Farmers will have their first chance to see the agricultural experiment station's new pen-type dairy barn on Wartime Farming day. Research workers are advocating that farmers solve the problem of housing larger dairy herds by constructing economical pen barns of home-sawed lumber.

Mr. Clark explained that whereas past field days have been largely devoted to new developments in research at the experiment station, this year's Wartime Farming day will present both new and old information from many sources—all directed to the single purpose of helping farmers with their all-out war effort.

Dean Chris L. Christensen of the College of Agriculture reports that southern Wisconsin county agricultural agents and home agents, by a near-unanimous vote, favored the new-type field day devoted to wartime problems.

COUNTY WHEAT FARMERS TO VOTE IN REFERENDUM MAY 2
Washington county wheat farmers' attention is called to the wheat marketing quota referendum to be held May 2, from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. The Triple A program office in the Bank of West Bend building, West Bend will serve as the place for voting in the referendum.

Each farmer engaged in the production of wheat for harvest in 1942 on a farm on which the normal production of the acreage planted to wheat of the current crop is 200 bushels or more, and on which the acreage planted to wheat is in excess of fifteen acres, who is entitled to share in the proceeds of the 1942 wheat crop as owner, landlord, or tenant, shall be eligible to vote. No tenant farmer who is eligible to vote is entitled to vote more than one vote in the referendum, even though he may be engaged in the production of wheat for harvest in 1942 on two or more farms, or states.

There shall be no voting by proxy or agent, or in any manner except the eligible voter personally depositing his ballot marked by him in the ballot box.

What marketing quotas will be in effect unless more than one-third of the farmers voting in the referendum throughout the nation oppose quotas on wheat.

Pledge Drive

place of work. The pledge they make confirms that arrangement. One does not replace the other. Everyone is asked to pledge—for the object of the pledge is to let your government know how much money will be raised through the purchase of U. S. War Savings bonds.

The question that most people will ask themselves is, "How much should I pledge?" In answering this several points come up. First, you are not asked to give anything, you are asked to invest money in your government—a privilege that few countries afford today. Second, the need is great. Money is needed to buy planes, ships, tanks and other implements of war. Third, the money is needed now.

"How much?" As much as you can possibly invest—all you can! Secretary Morgenthau says that he expects every American to invest at least 10% of his savings every month in U. S. War Savings bonds. Many can save more than 10% of their income. Today we must cut out the purchasing of luxuries and certain necessities and put that money to work by buying bonds. Pledge all that you possibly can.

When you sign the pledge, the government expects you to fulfill the obligation you incur, for the pledge form reads: "I will faithfully fulfill this pledge for the duration of the war or so long as I am financially able to do so." That is fair to you, for if for any reason you are financially unable to fulfill the pledge you are relieved of your obligation.

The important thing to remember in pledging is that the amount you say you will save in bonds is saved from income. The government does not want you to use your present savings, they want you to buy war bonds regularly out of your current income.

Remember that for every $3.00 you invest in Series E U. S. War Savings bonds you recover $1.00 in 10 years. That is based on 2 1/2% interest compounded semi-annually. You invest in the safest thing in the world—the United States government. U. S. War Savings bonds are available in the following denominations: $1.75, $3.75, $5.00, $7.50, $10.00, and $25.00. $50.00, $100.00 and $1000.00 respectively.

Be ready to sign your "pledge" when your neighbor Minute Man calls on you. Let's make Washington county 100%. Let's all pledge as much as we can.

The Campbellsport State bank closed its doors pending an investigation by a bank examiner of alleged considerable losses on unprofitable investments. An assessment of 200% on each share of stock to meet the alleged shortage of $100,000 in unbankable securities was recommended at the stockholders meeting of the bank by the examiner. F. J. Barber, president of the bank, whose whereabouts was unknown a few days, was at the meeting. He claims only $15,000 of shortage is unsecured by good collateral.

Filling the Coffee Cups of America

A half a billion pounds of the golden bean—coffee—come up from Latin America each year to the port of New Orleans, there to be ground, roasted and blended to make America's favorite "brew." Recognized as a morale builder, coffee is in great favor with military men, and our boys on land, sea and in the air look forward to that steaming cup. These photos take you to Coffee Town.

Picture Parade

Heavy bags of green coffee hang poised over the heads of the carriers in the great dockside coffee sheds in New Orleans, and then are dropped upon the head by four huskies.

Preparations are here being made for "cupping," in a New Orleans coffee firm, one of the steps in the grading and testing of coffee.

These coffee tasters sit at a circular table which revolves to bring them cup after cup of different varieties.

A coffee maker prepares a big pot of the age-old brew that has cheered savant and common man alike from time immemorial.

In an old French quarter coffee kitchen, coffee is poured with one hand while milk is poured with the other.

A young "car hop" gaily swings out to the rows of parked cars out to coffee for two brewed in the inimitable Coffee Town way.

Gar Fish Are Edible
Gar-Fish (known also as Bill-Fish and Needle-Fish), native of both temperate and tropical seas and fresh water, have bones of a pale, sea-green color. There are about 40 to 50 known species, some four to five feet long. They have long, silvery bodies and long, pointed, sharply-toothed beaks. Related to flying fish, they swim on the surface. The fish are edible but their green color deters people from eating them.

California Bird Refuge
Establishment of a new migratory bird refuge in the Sacramento valley of California has been authorized by the Federal Migratory Bird Conservation commission, and the Bureau of Biological Survey has been instructed to acquire the 11,406 acres involved by purchase or lease. The new tract will be known as the Sacramento Migratory Bird refuge and will be an important addition to the chain of refuges in the West.

OUR COMIC SECTION

"Papa insists that I wait until I am thirty before I get married." "In other words, he insists that you never marry."

"I get wonderful recipes over the radio," gushed the bride who was entertaining her family for the first time. "I got one for Egyptian stew and one for a never-fail stain remover this morning." "Which is this," asked little Willie, tasting the stew with which he had just been served.

"I can't think why I didn't accept Ronnie the first time he proposed." "That's easy: You weren't there."

A man was boasting of his strength, and how he had once felled an ox by a blow from his fist. "That's not bad," said a listener, "but I once saw a chap knock down a factory with one blow of a hammer." "Some Samson, that chap!" sneered the boaster. "No," replied the other. "He wasn't much of a chap to look at, but he was a swell auctioneer!"

A colored man who had achieved some success in the handling of mules was asked how he managed the difficult creature. "Well, sah," he replied, "when I see plowin' and the mule stops, ah jest picks up some soil an' puts it in his mouth to taste." "What makes you think that affects him?" continued the questioner. "I suah don't know," was the reply, "but I specs it makes him forget what he was thinkin' about."

"How much do you think Brown's worth?" "Are you asking about his efficiency or his financial condition?"

"Now, waiter," I said, "I've a gift for you. If you serve me a dinner nice"—And when I was finished I kept my word—I gave him some good advice.

"You say you lead a regular dog's life?" "Not a regular dog—no. It's a little pup of my wife's I take out airing every day."

Insects on Trial
Probably the longest trial in the history of the law against animals in France started in St. Julian in this town sought to contain species of insects and have them banished from the community, says Collin. The trial was abandoned after because the insects ignore summons to appear in court the fees paid to the court had put the town in a rupture.

Early Burglar Alarm
A very ingenious burglar protects the Chion in Kyoto, Japan, having erected as a military building in 1897. The reverberation by an intruder walking on wooden floor produce a noise birds twittering in the air.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Avoid quick freezing in your refrigerator. It wastes electricity.
Uncooked prunes or apricots finely chopped may be used in muffin batter to increase the mineral content.
Twine will tie bundles much tighter and will not slip when knots are made if it is dampened before using.
If woolen stockings shrink while washing, put them through the water again and while still wet put them on a stocking stretcher.
For a quick chocolate frosting, sprinkle sweet chocolate bits over a loaf cake when it is nearly done, and return to oven. The chocolate will melt into an even, thin frosting.
Place a hot-water bottle in the clothes basket when hanging out clothes in chilly spring weather. It will keep the hands warm.
Some housewives like to glaze the top crust of a pie. To get that effect, brush a mixture of egg yolk and two tablespoons of milk over the top quickly, just before putting it into the oven.
