POPPIES TO BE WORN SATURDAY, MAY 23; WEAR A FLOWER

Saturday, May 23, is Poppy Day and all citizens are urged to buy and wear one of the little red memorial flowers made by disabled veterans of the first World War in honor of the men who have given their lives for America. The poppies will give everyone an opportunity to contribute to the welfare of the disabled veterans and their families and the families of the dead, and brighten their hospital or convalescent days. The poppy sale in Kewaskum is being sponsored by the local post of the American Legion and this year the Boy Scouts will conduct the sale of the flowers from morning until night on the streets of the village. Poppy Day gives us a privilege to pay a small part of our debt to the brave boys who went overseas in the first war—a debt we cannot fully pay. Generous contributions are needed for those who gave for you. Wear a poppy Saturday.

Commencement Exercises at High School Next Wednesday Evening

Class of 28 Seniors, 17 Eighth Grade Graduates to Receive Diplomas During Program; O. W. Neale of Stevens Point Teachers College to Deliver Address

Twenty-eight members of the 1942 senior class of the Kewaskum high school and seventeen eighth grade graduates will receive their diplomas at the commencement exercises to be held in the public school auditorium next Wednesday evening, May 27, at 8 o'clock. The senior class contains 18 girls and 10 boys, who will bid farewell to the high school. The class is smaller than last year's group of 30 graduates by two students.

O. W. Neale, director of the School of Rural Education at the Stevens Point State Teachers college has been engaged to deliver the commencement address of the evening. Since the greater part of Mr. Neale's efforts are directed toward the improvement of the rural schools in Wisconsin, his message should be one of vital concern to all parents and friends of this year's graduating class.

Highest averages for four years of high school work were attained by Gladys Baumgartner and Dolores Mae Stoffel. Only .32 of one percent separated the averages of these fine students. Gladys is valedictorian and Dolores Mae salutatorian.

Parochial School Closes With Picnic; 5 Graduates

The Holy Trinity Parochial school closed on Tuesday with a picnic on the school grounds. The graduates of the eighth grade class of 1942 are: Marie Felten, Eileen Metz, Harold Perkins, Lloyd Smith and Alan Stoffel. The class colors are blue and white. The motto is "For God and Country." The graduates will receive holy communion in a body at 10 o'clock mass on Sunday. The diplomas will be awarded at the services at 7:30 p. m. Sunday evening following the sermon delivered by the pastor, Rev. F. C. La Buwi.

Final tests were given at the beginning of this week. At the picnic Tuesday races were run and games were played. Winners in the races were as follows: running race, first and second grade boys, Richard Buntjer; running race, first and second grade girls, Mildred Wallenfels; three-legged race, third and fourth grade boys Allan Schoofs and Merlin Voim; show race, third and fourth grade girls, Joan Miller; potato race, fifth and sixth grade boys, Anthony Vorpahl, balancing book on head, fifth and sixth grade girls, Adeline Vorpahl; wheelbarrow race, seventh and eighth grade boys, Alan Stoffel; one-legged race, seventh and eighth grade girls, Elizabeth Seales.

The boys and girls scrambled for pennies in the grass. If the 62 youngsters didn't find the 100 pennies it is hoped they increase and multiply and will be in full bloom next year at this time. The baseball game was played between the upper grade girls and boys. The score was 7-0 in favor of the boys. The girls will do better next time. The volley ball game was played by the girls—Father La Buwi's team and Sr. Amanda's team. Who won? Score 2 games to 1. Ice cream was served to all the children before leaving school.

The winning name was drawn for the apron with the $5.00 in the pocket. The children sold chances on this apron. John Schoofs drew the slip from the sack. The number was 373. Rev. La Buwi was the fortunate winner. Congratulations, Father.

The school Sisters and pupils wish to express their appreciation to the Kewaskum Evening Woman's club for the first aid kit presented to the school.

USO Solicitors Here Have Drive Underway

Washington county's crew of USO solicitors swung into action this week after a full week of mobilization by the part of Co-Chairman Basil I. Peterson and Judge F. W. Bucklin, and though it is quite early in the drive to be able to report any substantial amount as having been returned, returns are coming in already.

Each solicitor has been armed with an individual receipt book and will be all set to do business when he or she makes their calls. In this connection, all residents of the county can help ease the job for the people who are doing the soliciting by seeing to it that they are in a position to see the solicitor when he calls.

The co-chairmen, who have been attending meetings throughout their districts for the past ten days, report remarkable enthusiasm on the part of the workers who have been present at the meetings. In one township in the county, forty-seven letters were sent out inviting the people to come to a meeting, and forty-seven attended, a rating of 100%.

As reports come in from the various boys from Washington county in camps throughout the nation about the valued service being carried out by the USO everywhere, one cannot help but feel that there is really a way that each can do his bit. The welfare of these soldier and sailor boys is a very important factor in the successful conduct of the war, and the people of the nation can do their part to maintain the morale of the armed forces by contributing to their recreation.

"Pledge" Program to be Inaugurated in Schools

J. C. Buckley, co-chairman of education of the War Savings Staff of Washington county, is inaugurating a "pledge" program in all schools throughout the county. The school children will not stop their regular purchase of U. S. War Savings stamps this summer during their vacation.

All students will be given the opportunity of signing the following "pledge":

TO EVERY SOLDIER, SAILOR AND MARINE WHO IS FIGHTING FOR MY COUNTRY

For you there can be no rest. For me there should be no vacation from the war. I can play to help win the war. I therefore solemnly promise to continue to buy United States War Savings bonds and stamps throughout my summer vacation and until our victory is won.

This pledge is on an attractive red and white card, 6x11 inches. The students will retain the pledge card, take it home with them as a visual reminder of the obligation they have assumed toward their country's fight for victory.

Every school throughout the county has in the past few months regularly placed on sale war savings stamps. A very fine job has been done by the students. Their dimes and their quarters have bought many a bullet, many a gun to stop the Axis.

Commodity War Boom

With food ranking equally in importance as a vital war material with the stuff of which planes, tanks and guns are made, little wonder that America is witnessing a great boom in commodities. Commodity exchanges, principally those in New York and Chicago, are hectic spots these days. The following series of photos give you an idea of how business is done on the exchanges, where the lift of a trader's eyebrow may mean another penny more on your pound of drip-grind, or an extra dollar on the suit you're going to buy.

FUTURISTIC . . . When it comes to wool, you can't pull any of it over the eyes of these brokers on the New York Wool exchange. They buy the sheep's overcoat sometimes even before he has grown it.

These men are cotton brokers on the New York Cotton exchange. They are seated at the trading ring during an intermission.

ROUND FIGURES . . . The bidding ring at the New York Cocoa exchange. It is very calm and dignified, with no fanfare or "fireworks."

THE PIT . . . View inside the Board of Trade building, in Chicago. Trading in this particular market is confined to corn, winter wheat, oats, barley, rye and hay.

Here is the big board in the Cocoa exchange, New York.

Successful Search
When a telegraph company was unable to locate the mother of a soldier in the Far East, the Home Service chairman of the Dillon County, S. C., Chapter began a search that lasted 72 hours over a wide area—from Bellingham, Wash., back to Charleston. The mother, Mrs. Nancy Hood, was then officially informed of her son's death—the first soldier from South Carolina killed in action in the Japanese conflict.

Protection for New Floors
It is wise to apply the first coat of shellac on the floors of a new building just as soon as the floors are laid. Stairtreads and all exposed woodwork can be similarly protected. Then the floors and stairs, covered with building paper, will have protection against grease and paint spots resulting from the further finishing of the building. After all the other finishing has been done, the final coats of shellac or varnish can be applied.

"I'll teach that boy to tell lies." "I wouldn't do it now, dear; wait and let him hear the one you tell when you come in late tonight."

Improvement
Tattered and bandaged, the applicant was appealing for a separation order.
"My life ain't safe, sir," he pleaded. "She's bin throwing things at me ever since we got married."
"And only now, after twenty years, are you seeking the court's protection," said the magistrate skeptically.
"Well, sir, her aim's getting good!"

"Why don't you join our club, old man?"

COSMETICS AND WAR
Now we know the government is over extending itself. It is trying to make women give up powder, rouge, perfume and other cosmetics for the duration. It has the notion that a woman will abandon her makeup, war or no war.

Alcohol and other products needed to win the war are being used in toilet preparations and the WPB announces that the girls must choose between their complexions and the all out war effort. Only a federal bureau could doubt the answer to that.

Milady will cut down on sugar, take out a ration card for soups, give up pastries and even, if necessary, patch her girdle, but give up her facial cream and rouge . . . never!

She will put the car in storage, shop by bicycle, carry home her bundles, cut out meat and take orders on skirt lengths, but toss away that skin lotion . . . don't be a goon!

She will forget luxuries, economize on her groceries, give up the country house, go barelegged and even scrap the electric refrigerator, but leave her cheeks as nature made 'em . . . awahhhhh!

Not even for national unity will she go around with a shiny nose and not all the coordinators in the world can make her forsake her beauty creams.

"If this be treason, make the most of it," she says as she applies her cleansing cream, follows it up with a powder base and adds a final coat of calamine.

Uncle Sam may apply priorities to steel, rubber, coal, oil and what have you; he can tell the country how far it can go with ships, shoes and sealing wax, but he is shouting up a drainpipe when it starts bearing down on mascara.

Our Inquiring Reporter questioned a number of ladies on the matter. Of Miss Phoebe Gooper, stenographer, he asked: "Have you read the WPB orders on cosmetics?"

"No, and don't tell me about 'em," she replied. "I want to ignore 'em with a clear conscience."

Mrs. Chester Zink, a modiste, was asked: "Are you aware that every time you rouge your cheeks you are cramping the war effort?"

"Mister, the government is going to have some awful cramps in this war then," she declared.

"Do you think your face is more important than a bomber?" the reporter asked a woman who did not give her name.

"No," she replied candidly, "but if I ever came out without any makeup on you couldn't tell me from a bomber."

WAR
Jack Huff could wear no cuff, His wife could wear no frills; And so between them both, you see, They saved on clothing bills.

Metal swivel chairs, waste baskets and ash trays are on the list of things banned by the WPB and possibly this is the first move to eliminate arm chair generals and bureaucrats in general.

OUTLINE FOR LIVING
Elmer Twitchell says he is driving to town in the car he hasn't got, on the tires he can't obtain to shop for the things he can't get. If he gets time he is going to see his architect about the alterations that can't be made on the house the WPB won't let him build.

YOU SAID IT
There's no other torture like it, And your blood with anger stews. At the length of the commercial When you're waiting for THE NEWS!

—Clayton Spicer.
"The Goldrush" was a silent film. For the revival Charlie has put in a little talk. Not much, but enough for most any movie. It's a delight to watch this film, with just a little talk where talk is helpful. It convinces us that if 70 per cent of the talk in the modern talkies could be cut out, the improvement would be terrific. And the writers, actors and directors would be forced to provide action.

"Careless Seen In Normandie Fire."—Headline.
Not really!

Now that there has been another fire on the Normandie the question naturally arises whether the workers are men with acetylene torches or acrobats with burning brands.

Shad are reported plentiful in the Hudson river. We have never seen a Hudson river shad, so far as we know, but it is our notion that it must be a type that is highly sophisticated and a little annoying.

CHICK BROODING MEETINGS

Two chick brooding meetings were held in Washington county on Friday, May 22. At these meetings the feeding, care, management and housing of young chicks and pullets was discussed. J. B. Hayes of the poultry department of the College of Agriculture was present to lead the discussion.

The morning meeting was held on the Joe A. Kauth farm, Rockfield, Route 1, (German township) about one mile northeast of Rockfield at 10:00 o'clock.

The afternoon meeting was held on the Geo. Pamperin farm, Allenton, Route 1.

EXTENSION CONFERENCE HELD IN WEST BEND

A district meeting of agricultural and home economics extension workers was held in West Bend on Thursday, May 21. About 10 southeastern Wisconsin counties were represented. The meeting was held in the recreation rooms of the Wisconsin Gas and Electric company building.

The meeting gave extension workers an opportunity to talk over wartime extension programs and to discuss farm and home plans to further the war effort.

Cordial thanks are extended to the Wisconsin Gas & Electric company for the use of the meeting rooms.

POULTRY MASHES RICH IN ALFALFA LEAF MEAL

A new trend in the formulation of poultry mashes is indicated in analyses made at the state feed and fertilizer laboratory since the government limited the amount of vitamin A which can be used in these products.

The trend is towards including more alfalfa and alfalfa leaf meal in the poultry mashes to insure ample amounts of carotene, a component which converts into vitamin A in the body, according to the state department of agriculture.

In this way feed mixers are endeavoring to help conserve supplies of vitamin A for war uses.

SOYBEANS FOR SEED PRODUCTION 1942

Yes, soybeans can be grown as a cash crop in Wisconsin this year and help the nation with more home produced oils, an acre producing from 75 to 225 pounds of oil. The government guarantees $1.60 a bushel for all No. 2 soybeans of acceptable varieties of the 1942 crop.

In producing these soybeans the high points in their production are the following:

1. GET VARIETIES THAT ARE EARLY enough to fully ripen and those that are acceptable for their high oil content. These varieties are Manchou No. 3, or Mukden, and the Manchu 606.

 2. For best results soybeans can be put on ground good for corn or grain or on new breakings, having them take the place of corn preferably in the rotations. Yields will vary from 12 to 20 bushels.

3. They will RESPOND TO LIME AND GOOD FERTILITY. If commercial fertilizers are added they should not come in close contact with the seed.

4. Plant at about CORN PLANTING TIME. It being preferable to prepare the ground about corn planting time, then to wait three to ten days later to kill young weeds rather than to plant on very weedy ground and before some of the weeds are controlled.

5. INOCULATION makes larger yields, improves the quality of the soybeans and helps restore nitrogen. Maybe the eye cannot see the difference but the soil will know it.

6. ROW PLANTING GIVES BETTER YIELDS THAN SOLID PLANTING on poor or weedy soils. Put rows far enough apart to accommodate the available cultivators. Solid planting will be satisfactory on heavy soils where weeds are few or where they can be controlled by good seed bed preparation previous to seeding.

7. PLANT SOYBEANS SHALLOW—from 1 to 1 1/2 inches deep. Thirty-five to 65 pounds per acre will be required for row plantings, depending upon width between rows, and for SOLID PLANTING MOST FARMERS USED 2 BUSHELS PER ACRE. For row planting drop 6 to 10 soybean seed to the running foot, the greater number on heavy soils.

8. When the soybean plants are 2 to 6 inches high, on clean fields, soybeans can be worked by rotary hoe, weeder or harrow, killing many weeds without injury to the soybean plants. Weeders are sometimes used on lighter soils when plants are 6 to 10 inches high.

9. Harvesting by combine is simplest and most satisfactory. Leaves will all drop off from plants if desirable early maturity varieties are used, before combining will be feasible.

Holy Name men from Ozaukee, Washington, Dodge and Columbia counties will gather at the Schwartz Park, Hartford, on Sunday afternoon, June 14, at 2:00 p. m. to take part in an impressive outdoor rally.

Plans for this gathering are in the hands of Rev. Henry Stehling, pastor of St. Kilian's parish, Hartford, and Dr. R. O. Klink, president of the Hartford Holy Name society. They are being assisted by a local committee, and also by the spiritual directors of the district, the Rev. Ralph Altstadt, Cedarburg, and Rev. F. F. Weis, Rubicon, together with the district directors, John J. Oberst and Dr. J. A. Mudroch.

The sermon at this rally will be preached by the Rev. Donald Miller C. S. R., Oconomowoc. All Holy Name men in these four counties comprising the 14th and 16th Holy Name districts, are urged to make plans to attend this rally. Announcement of the rally was made by Al Wietor, president of the Holy Trinity church Holy Name society, at the smoker held in the school hall Sunday evening and a large number of members of the local society plan to attend.

COUNTY REPUBLICANS MEET; ELECT OFFICERS, DELEGATES

The spring meeting of the Washington County Republican members was held in the rear of the Orrin Klassen tavern at West Bend on Friday evening, May 22, at 8:00 p. m.

Each and every Republican who is interested in the party welfare in the county was asked and urged to be present at this meeting.

The meeting was called by County Chairman John E. Dickinson for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year and for the election and appointment of delegates to the Republican state convention to be held at Wausau on July 10.

Since this is an election year and all county officers as well as the Sixth District Congressional Wisconsin State officers are to be elected, it was expected that Friday's meeting would be well attended by Republican members of Washington county.

GRADUATES' PROBLEMS DISCUSSED THIS WEEK BY PROMINENT EDUCATOR

This week the Statesman is proud to give its readers a syndicated three column factual and inspirational article on the problems of the 1942 graduate by Willard E. Givens, executive secretary of the National Education association.

The high school graduate of 1942 faces more problems in a changing world than any graduate in many a decade. Mr. Givens has tried to give inspiration to youngsters by discussing those problems in a sane and sensible manner. Kewaskum citizens are urged to read the story so they may be better qualified to discuss those problems with youngsters in their families or other graduates of their acquaintance.

Special thanks are expressed to Rev. Beck, Miss Charlotte Romaine, soloist, Mrs. E. Romaine, organist, the pallbearers, drivers of cars, for the many beautiful floral offerings, to the traffic officers, Millers who had charge of the funeral, all who helped in any way and all who showed their respect by attending the last rites or calling at the funeral home.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Soviets Break Nazi Lines at Kharkov To Relieve Pressure on Kerch Front; U. S. Army Takes Over All Air Lines; Lower Wage Brackets Face Income Tax

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.) (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Pierre Laval's position grew more difficult as the United States in practical effect ceased to recognize Vichy control over Martinique and other French possessions in the Western hemisphere. Immobilization of French warships at Martinique followed conferences between American representatives and the resident French high commissioner. Above (center) is shown Laval with M. Cathala, (left) his minister of finance and M. Paul Marion, secretary of state.

RUSSIAN FRONT: Nazis Seek Oil

With the rich oil fields of the Caucasus as the prize, Nazi and Russian Red army fighters locked forces in a combat which before the summer's end may determine the war's outcome.

Principal theater of the Nazis' newest conquest effort was the Kerch peninsula, gateway to the Soviet's farflung oil possessions.

While the Russians admitted that a German breakthrough into the Kerch defenses had caused a withdrawal to new positions, the Soviet communiques reported that the new line was being held in good order and that a heavy toll was being taken of the attackers.

Balancing this news was a report that Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's armies further north had broken through the first German defense lines around the industrial city of Kharkov and were preparing for an invasion of the city itself. Success of the Kharkov offensive would mean that the German move toward the Caucasus would be forestalled.

Regarded as a grand dress rehearsal for the major Nazi spring offensive when drier ground permits greater movement, the present battles offered a test of the best arms which Axis and the United Nations could muster. German air concentrations were reported the heaviest of any used thus far in World War No. 2. Russian mechanical equipment included triple-turret American tanks and the latest design planes.

INCOME TAXES: More Will Pay

Prospects that a single person making as little as $9.62 weekly and a childless married couple whose income is $23.08 a week or more will have to file income tax returns were seen in the action of the house ways and means committee in voting to lower the exemptions for married persons to $1,200 a year from the present $1,500 and for single persons to $500 from $750.

Allowances for children and other dependents would be left at $400. More than 8,000,000 persons, it was estimated, would be added to the present fold of 17,000,000 Americans who file income tax returns.

Taxpayers could take comfort from the fact that the committee voted to retain the present 10 per cent earned income credit for earned income up to $14,000 a year. For example, a person earning $1,200 a year is permitted to deduct $120 from the amount which would otherwise be subject to the normal tax provision, provided his income is derived from wages or salaries.

MARTINIQUE: Warships Immobilized

As French warships at Martinique were being immobilized, the United States came closer to its goal of completely neutralizing French possessions in the Caribbean sea.

While Vichy France had issued a note covering the situation, American representatives indicated they were "doing business" with Adm. Georges Robert, high commissioner of the French West Indies.

SHIP BUILDING: Good News Ahead

"All around the clock, seven days a week" is the rate at which Uncle Sam's ship production machine is being utilized, it was disclosed by War Shipping Administrator Emory S. Land.

Good news for the future was held forth in the admiral's statement that the nation's shipyards will turn out 15,000,000 tons of new vessels annually after 1943 and will continue that pace "as long as necessary."

Stepped-up tempo of ship building was indicated by Admiral Land's report that workers are turning out cargo vessels at the fastest pace in history.

To offset the rising toll of ships sunk by Axis submarines, the Maritime commission authorized bids for construction of an undisclosed number of wooden barges for use in coastwise trade.

At the same time President Roosevelt ordered quick construction of 100 additional submarines to double America's undersea hitting power.

PETICOAT ARMY: To Serve Overseas

Enlistment of 150,000 American women between the ages of 21 and 44 for non-combatant service with the regular army anywhere in the world was authorized when the senate passed a bill creating the women's auxiliary army corps. The house had previously approved the measure.

The corps will be uniformed. Pay in the ranks will be $21 the first four months and $30 from then on. Members of the corps must be in good health, unimpeachable character and have no dependents. A WAAC company, according to present plans, will comprise 250 women and four officers.

It was intimated that the first task of the corps would be in the aircraft warning services. Some of the duties would include jobs as clerks, teletype operators, switchboard, telephone or telephone operators and messengers.

Duties in other branches of the service would include pharmacists, dietitians, hostesses, laboratory assistants, laundry workers and stewards.

GAS WARFARE: Fresh Warning

Following Prime Minister Churchill's warning to the Axis on gas warfare came a further assertion that Germany for this type of combat.

A report by the chemical expert of the ministry of economic warfare pointed out that gasproof shelter accommodations were available for only 40 per cent of the population of big German cities. Nazi precautions have concentrated on large-scale shelters rather than on individual protection, as in Britain. Only a portion of the German people own gas masks, the report stated, while in Britain all the people possess them.

The British expert declared that Italy's situation is even worse than Germany's.

POPE PIUS: Pleads for Peace

The voice of Pope Pius was raised in an appeal to the world's leaders to conclude a peace "on principles of justice and moderation, even if it does not seem to correspond to aspirations." The pontiff, however,

In 1934 he was co-operating with the department of the interior in conservation work and in reshaping the depressed economy of the Monzonella valley.

In 1935, he organized and directed a section of the division of subsistence homesteads, engaged in a wide range of similar governmental projects and worked a night shift in which he took a law degree from Georgetown university, in 1937. In January, 1941, Governor Van Wagener of Michigan made him secretary of the state administrative board at a time when corruption had been prevalent in the $22,000,000 state purchasing budget. He cleaned that up nicely and was appointed executive secretary of the Michigan unemployment compensation commission. This job was a stepping stone to his new post in which getting the right man in the right job is as important as getting the right shell in the right gun.

POPE PIUS: "Peace with Justice."

acknowledged that "there is no immediate hope of peace."

Addressing the world by radio on the 25th anniversary of his consecration as a bishop, the pope said: "We well know how in the state of things today there would be little probability of success in formulating detailed proposals for a just and honorable peace. But we make this appeal today with greater insistence in view of the menace of greater destructive weapons."

The pope then urged statesmen to miss no opportunity to make a "peace of justice and moderation."

AUSTRALIA: Planes Strafe Japs

New Allied blows against Ambon, former Dutch naval base, and Rabaul, New Britain, gave strength to warnings by United Nations leaders that the battle of the Coral sea has not brought an end to the peril facing Australia. The assaults upon Japanese bases to the north were intended as at least partial insurance against all-out invasion.

Warships and transports were reported at these bases, waiting the arrival of sea-borne plane reinforcements before moving into the Coral sea area for a rendezvous with the invasion ships scattered by recent American sea victories.

Harassing air attacks by Allied bombers on both the east and west fronts of the Jap invasion bases sank and damaged enemy merchantmen, set fire to docks and destroyed planes in Jap-held air-dromes.

Washington: The striking of a new medal for award to members of the army, navy, marine corps or coast guard distinguishing themselves by meritorious achievement while participating in an aerial fight was authorized by President Roosevelt.

New York: The army and navy need 13,500 dentists, according to government officials and they will be drawn immediately from the 71,500 dentists now practicing in the United States.

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON Associated Newspapers—WNU Features.

NEW YORK—Possibly there will be a touch of Sweden's "middle way" in Paul V. McNutt's new man power commission which is recruiting skill and brains for war production. An unlooked-for appointment on the board is 36-year-old Wendell Lund, Michigan-born son of Swedish immigrants, representing the Labor Production division of the WPB, succeeding Sidney Hillman in this capacity.

Man-Power Board Appointee Rose to Heights on Pluck

Mr. Lund emerges as a new and powerful figure in the war-labor lineup. Impressive in physical bulk and with a record of achievement to match—a record quite remarkable for his years. Citizens of Swedish birth or ancestry have been cheering for their Wendell Lund for quite a few years and picking him as the most likely to succeed in the domain of useful public service. He is the son of Dr. C. A. Lund, Lutheran minister of Escanaba, Mich., president of the Augustana synod of Lutheran churches.

Wendell Lund won the Michigan state high school oratorical contest and was graduated at head of his class, at the age of 16. Getting through Augustana college, he worked as a laborer in a flooring mill and foreman in a railroad tie yard. On Saturday nights, he worked in a store and earned $5 a week editing college publications. Again he was graduated at the top of his class. He took his master's degree at Columbia university and snatched a doctor's degree from Princeton in a brief two years.

One hardship which the farmer shares with the rest of the producers, is the difficulty of getting the tools he needs to produce with, when munitions have the first call. That is the thing that is causing the most headaches in Washington right now.

There is the question of farm machinery; of fertilizers and sprays, of transportation from the farm to the primary market, from there to the processor and finally into distribution.

And another bottleneck which backs right up to the barn and the sty is the lack of processing facilities. I understand that if the pig crop now in the making proceeds at the present rate there will not be enough square feet of killing space in America to handle the hogs when they come in. Some of you will recall that in 1924 embargoes had to be placed on certain slaughterhouses to keep the pigs from piling up at their doors.

However, there is more experience stored up in Washington heads than there was then and greater ability, equipment and incentive to make use of it.

One thing that is being done is to get the farmers to begin feeding their hogs earlier so that the peak period of slaughter can be flattened out and all the pigs won't come to market at once.

Experts who have studied the situation say that the farm labor problem is by no means insoluble. It exists but it is going to be licked with the help of women, school children and part-time help from men in the small towns in rural communities who are willing to close up shop and help with the peak load at harvest time. This has already been done in some communities—fruit picking, for instance.

On the whole, the prospects are that the farmer will be much better off than he was after the last war. Then he took his extra money, made down payments on more land, mortgaged what he had to buy still more and when the depression came lost everything. There are no signs of a land-buying boom now. The farmer, once bitten, is twice shy, he has begun to lay away this extra cash for the rainy day that he, of all people, knows is coming.

Farmers have already made rainy day payments to the tune of $5,000,000. This is the amount reported by the Federal Land banks as the amount which can be used in the future to apply to their long-term installment loans. Every farm over a series of years has its "rainy days" in which income falls below normal or in which the farm family has reverses of one kind or another. These rainy day funds are bound to prove helpful in many ways, and, as President Roosevelt said, those who comply with the suggestions for paying off debts and curtailment of installment buying "will be grateful that they have done so when this war is over."

When A. G. Black, governor of the Farm Credit administration, saw that this year's crops were proving to bring more money in than they have for many years he began selling this "rainy day" idea to the borrowers. They were sold to the tune of $5,000,000. Some farmers have already paid up four or five years' installments on their long-term loans. They will be sitting pretty if rainy days come. "Farmers sometime wonder," says Governor Black, "whether, in these days in which they are being urged to buy war bonds as a patriotic duty, they should lay aside funds with the Federal Land banks with which to meet their own private debts. Well, remember that the Federal Land banks invest the funds received from future payments in government securities. The farmers realize that they are accomplishing not one but two things in placing their cash in the future payment fund—they provide for their own security and stop payment of interest on that part of their loan equal to the funds deposited. They have the assurance that the money in the interim will be working for Uncle Sam."

"Buy bonds of course," says Governor Black, "but also reduce your farm mortgage indebtedness while you have an opportunity."

1917—1942 Concepts of War

How does it feel to register for the second time? When the men from 45 to 65, especially those near enough the top of the bracket who have served in the first World War, went to the school house and signed their registration card, they did it with quite a flourish. Of course they knew they would probably never be called for military service but just the same it gave them a sort of a "we did it before we can do it again" feeling. They felt, if the feelings of one of them who is making these observations are typical, as if there was quite a lot of fight in the old dog still.

But any one of them who paused to reflect a moment must have realized what a wholly different attitude many of the boys of 1942 have compared with the draftees or the men who enlisted in 1917. A quarter of a century ago America had only the quaintest conception of war. It was based chiefly on romance. It had little or nothing to do with the experiences soldiers in previous wars had encountered, still less of the experiences they themselves were to encounter, such as for instance trench warfare under sustained bombardment or aerial attack.

To the men of 1917 fighting a war was, besides being a patriotic duty, more or less of a sporting thing. But the writings and the teachings of the last 20 years have served to root out the idea that war is a chivalrous thing. To many of the modern generation it seems contemptible and patriotism doesn't appear to be involved.

There is one thing that many people fail to understand. One has to live through war conditions to understand war. This understanding makes it possible, paradoxical though it may seem, for a normal person to adjust himself to the utterly abnormal conditions about him. To live under a code contrary to that which he has been taught; to bear up under discomfort, delay, suffering and danger. This factor evolves from a crowd psychology which produces a mass patience, self-reliance, courage and self-sacrifice.

Washington Outlook Farm Prospects Bright Despite War Restrictions

Experts See Co-operative Solution to Farm Labor Problem; Shortage of Tools Greatest Headache.

By BAUKHAGE News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Service, 1343 H Street, N.W., Washington, D. C.

As Washington takes a look ahead across the fields and pastures and dairy farms of the nation, the prospects for the farmer seem pretty good. He is going to have some tough problems but they aren't insoluble. And there are good times ahead. The ceilings on retail prices still leave room for price rises which will turn to the farmer's advantage.

Congress has yet to decide whether the point at which the ceiling on farm prices is to begin can be lowered to parity or whether it will be held at 110 as the law now holds.

Price Administrator Henderson is firm for the lower figure. Secretary of Agriculture Wickard has endorsed this view which the President set forth in his fireside chat. But congress will decide.

Meanwhile, behind closed doors the problem will be threshed out as to methods to be used when the lowered retail prices roll back through the processor right up to the barn gate.

This will be the point where the department of agriculture steps in with its technical knowledge and experience to supplement and probably to modify some of Mr. Henderson's ideas. For one thing cannot be forgotten: the farm products of the nation have still to be changed over to some extent from the things that are not essential to the war effort to the things that are essential to the war effort. This cannot all be done by the waving of a big stick; there must be left for the farmer a certain price motive for this change-over on his part. And how to keep prices up for the products needed and down for what isn't, is a complicated problem which cannot be settled entirely by an arbitrary system of retail price controls in a market of increased demand and limited supply.

One hardship which the farmer shares with the rest of the producers, is the difficulty of getting the tools he needs to produce with, when munitions have the first call. That is the thing that is causing the most headaches in Washington right now.

There is the question of farm machinery; of fertilizers and sprays, of transportation from the farm to the primary market, from there to the processor and finally into distribution.

At the present time, families are to be allotted five pounds of sugar per person for canning for the season.

A small town manual just issued by the department of commerce suggests that farmers within a community be organized into groups of four or five and agree not to drive to town without notifying other members of the group. This will conserve automobiles, tires and gasoline.

Effort Strengthened High School Graduates

Business, Industry and Farms Lure 1942 Students; Vocational Training Now Becoming Increasingly Important.

By WILLARD E. GIVENS

Executive Secretary, National Education Association.

When estimated that over one million boys and girls will graduate from high school this spring with their diplomas. In this same group of boys and girls, the youth of the country were figuratively being spoken to when a commencement speaker said to a group of graduates before him:

"There has been more history than you have read." The pages of history have been school graduates, boys and girls, will at once enter war-industries to help manufacture the guns and tanks and planes upon which the fighting men on far-flung battle fronts depend. The graduates may enter these industries at once, or they may enroll in one of many different types of training for more skilled service in the factories producing the material of war.

These training opportunities range from the elementary vocational schools where the simpler skills of the assembly line are acquired, to the technical and engineering schools of our great universities which are turning out recruits for highly responsible positions both in the armed forces and in industrial ranks.

The high schools themselves in many city school systems, and in some of the village schools serving farm areas, are equipped to offer a high grade vocational training. Some graduates who have taken non-vocational courses in high school will immediately begin such courses, if available, in the schools from which they have been graduated, or they will seek that kind of training in neighboring communities.

The federal government in June, 1940, appropriated $15,000,000 to equip and staff the rapidly ex-

Victory vs. Luxury

"John's older brother who finished high school in 1941 burned up the tires of his old jalopy on the highways at sixty miles an hour, either pleasure or business bent. John will ride a bus or walk to 'go places and do things.'" Susan who graduates in 1942 will find that permanents, fluffy evening dresses, silk and nylon hose were luxuries that her older sister of 1940 did not bequeath to her. Youth, like the rest of us, must sacrifice some of the refinements of existence, and before the struggle is over, may forego some of the necessities."

workers, electricians, ship carpenters, joiners and other skilled trades.

There is opportunity of some kind today for youth everywhere. All can join in the "great adventure" in some capacity. This is true for girls as well as for boys. Many girls are taking their places in the war industries. The great expansion of offices in Washington and other centers of administration of the war effort issue calls for typists, stenographers, clerks and secretaries. Many girls are enrolling in nursing courses which lead to direct or indirect service, for some of which officer's commissions are available in the armed forces.

The kinds of military work for girls to choose from are numerous, and announcements of further opportunities are expected from time to time.

Oftimes the impulse to seek service far afield is ill advised. There is also the home front. Whole states must be prepared to resist invasion from land, sea or air. Civilian defense is vital. First aid, air raid duty, auxiliary fire and police service must be manned and administered.

In hundreds of agricultural communities high school graduates will immediately lay aside their diplomas for cultivator handles and hoes. There is much truth in the slogan that "Food will win the war." The

PATCHING OF CRACKED PLASTER

SOME friends of mine are doing over an old farmhouse. Plaster on the walls is firmly attached to the lath, but is badly cracked. It would be a long job to replace all the old plaster with new, and even if it were not, plasterers in their community cannot be had because of nearby defense construction work. If much of the plaster were loose, they would have no option, with the alternative of covering the old walls with some form of wall-board. As it is, it seems to me that their simplest way out would be to fill the cracks with patching plaster, or with a similar material called "spackle." For a good job, a crack should be cut out and made wider at the top than on the surface, so that in hardening, a patch will lock itself into place. Before putting in a patch, the old plaster should be dampened to prevent water from being drawn from the patching compound. Narrow cracks can be filled at once to the surface, but wider cracks should be filled only three-quarters full. When this part of the patch has hardened, the rest can be filled and the surface smoothed. This will overcome any possible trouble from shrinkage. The job will be a long and tedious one, of course, but it is one that the owners can do themselves, and at their convenience. To replace the plaster of an entire room would make far more of a mess, and be much more disturbing. This patching method, for instance, need not injure the floor finish, which with a complete plastering job would probably be badly defaced.

New Bathroom

Question: The house on the farm where we live is 80 years old and in fair condition. We intend to put in an upstairs bathroom, but I am afraid that the tub, especially when it is being used, would be too heavy for the ceiling of the room below. Would there be any danger of its breaking through? How can the ceiling be strengthened?

Answer: If possible, put the bathroom in such a place that the weight of the tub will be carried by the bearing wall of the room below. If this cannot be done, the length of the tub should be across the floor beams so that several of them will carry its weight. Even so, the beams may need strengthening; get the advice of a good house builder on this point.

Sandy Concrete

Question: I am told that a sandy concrete floor should have a new topping applied. What thickness should it be? Can the sanding be stopped by painting? Can asphalt tiles be applied over painted concrete?

Answer: You are misinformed on the need for a new topping; for the concrete can be so treated that sanding will be stopped. By one method the floor can be painted; but it should be a kind of paint that is proof against the effects of the lime in the cement. There are several paints of this kind; some of them made with a rubber base. Ask your paint dealer about them. Asphalt tiles can be applied over the paint.

Floor Damaged by Sunlamp

Question: Can you advise what to do to a varnished hardwood floor that was damaged by a sunlamp? The rays apparently burned the varnish right off and have given the wood a coat of tan, or darkened it several degrees. How deep is the damage?

Answer: I doubt if the damage has gone much below the varnish. Try sandpapering the spot until you get down to clean wood. You can then touch up the spot with light coats of floor varnish, blending the edges. Finish, if desired, with thin coats of paste floor wax, each well rubbed after drying.

Blond Maple

Question: How should I go about changing a maple ditte to light, blond maple?

Answer: Remove the finish down to the bare wood by sandpapering, scraping, with liquid varnish remover or in any other way. Bleach the stain and color out of the wood with a prepared liquid bleach, which your paint dealer should be able to supply. Use it according to the directions on the container. Finish with a good quality clear lacquer.

Softening Paint Brushes

Question: How can I make a solution for softening hard paint brushes?

Answer: Dissolve a cup of trisodium phosphate or washing soda in a quart of hot water. For quickest effects, use this boiling hot. At a hardware store you can get a powder to be dissolved in water, intended for this purpose.

Colored Concrete

Question: In building a recreation room in a house that is under construction, we would like to have the floor of red concrete rather than natural color. Is this advisable? What should we use?

Answer: Color in concrete is very satisfactory, but you should be sure to use colors that are proof against the effects of lime and that will not fade. On request, the Portland Cement Association, 33 West Grand avenue, Chicago, will send you a bulletin on the coloring of concrete.

TO YOUR Good Health

by DR. JAMES W. BARTON
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

FOLLOWING A DIET

A man of 62 in good health had a hemorrhage from the stomach, was rushed to the hospital, and given two blood transfusions. The blood transfusions increased the richness of his blood and he left the hospital in 10 days feeling well and strong.

As he was leaving, he asked the surgeon about his diet. The surgeon had the nurse give him the diet list to be followed by ulcer patients but said that he expected to operate on him in a month's time.

"Why do I need an operation, now that my ulcer is healed? Will I not be safe from another perforation if I follow the diet?"

The surgeon told him in a matter of fact tone that he always operated on patients past 60 years of age who had a perforation of an ulcer. "If you were younger I might take a chance but I have found that practically all these cases past 60 have further perforations, and the transfusions become less successful each time and these patients die. By operation the affected tissue is removed and at this age they are not likely to grow a new ulcer."

"If I follow the diet will I be safe from perforation?"

"You would be safe if you followed the diet but nobody follows it completely, even if they try, because they find themselves at times where they cannot obtain the proper diet, and they eat improper food which brings on the hemorrhage."

The patient was so anxious to avoid operation that he faithfully followed the prescribed diet, increased his weight to normal, and the surgeon has told him he can take a few chances with his diet because it is now three years since he had the hemorrhage.

Why am I recording this? I am recording it because it shows that even after the age of 60 when an individual has not the resistance or rallying powers of former days, he can avoid perforation of ulcer with the necessity of operation by faithfully following what is called the ulcer diet anywhere, everywhere and always.

Calmness and Its Bodily Relations

When as a youngster I heard about someone dying of a broken heart I had in mind an actual break in the heart. When I became older I thought of a broken heart as just a figure of speech; that it meant that the heart, the spirit, was greatly bowed down by grief. And as a medical student I "knew" that the heart could not be broken by grief.

How wrong I was has been shown by the work of Prof. W. P. Cannon, who has shown that an individual who worries about his heart not only causes a functional disturbance of the heart, but can cause true or organic disease of the heart.

There is no doubt that infection can upset the mind—teeth, tonsils, gall bladder—as dramatically shown in the reports of a large mental hospital. Diseases of the heart, liver and kidneys can cause mental symptoms. That emotional disturbances can upset the mind and upset other organs and processes of the body is not so well known.

The Institute for Psychoanalysis, Chicago, has issued a booklet, "Psychoanalysis in Medicine," by Dr. Alfred E. Cohn, member of the Rockefeller Institute of Medical Research.

Dr. Cohn states that while physicians recognize the effects of infection and disease on the mind and body, they do not so readily recognize that emotional disturbance, of long standing or short, is the main or real cause of the symptoms present in many cases.

Into this class or category are individuals who through shock or continued strain develop sugar in the urine, perhaps diabetes, paroxysmal tachycardia (sudden rapid-beating of the heart) or irregular beating of the heart. "Cases of asthma in which attacks are clearly brought on by profound emotional disturbances seem to belong to this group."

What you and I must do is to try to acquire calmness of mind—satisfaction with life—through religion or philosophy so that emotional disturbances will not so greatly upset our mind and body processes.

QUESTION BOX

Q.—What causes a constant ringing in the ears?
A.—Ringing in the ears may be due to an ear condition, to cerumen (wax) in outer ear, and sometimes just the position of lying down as it affects the blood pressure.
Q.—What would cause my little finger to pain whenever I try to use it?
A.—The nerve has likely been damaged by infection—teeth, tonsils, etc.—or by some pressure.
Q.—Can a person's temperature go up when excited or nervous? What signs of improvement should a person look for who is suffering from tuberculosis?
A.—Temperature could go up by excitement by one half to one degree, not more. However, pulse and blood pressure could go up many beats or points. One good sign in tuberculosis cases is increase in weight, but there are occasional exceptions to this rule; less fatigue; less rise in daily temperature; X-ray findings.

PREPAREDNESS by the AMERICAN RED CROSS

Volunteer for Victory—offer your services to your Red Cross.

"WHAT can I do?" Now that we are at war, that is the question that every woman is asking herself. For those women who want to do a real job where they are urgently needed, there is the Volunteer Nurse's Aide Corps of the American Red Cross. One hundred thousand Nurse's Aides will help relieve the acute nursing shortage at home, according to Mrs. Walter Lippmann, who is the volunteer director of this Red Cross service. Trained nurses are daily being called for service with our armed forces.

A Volunteer Nurse's Aide performs many routine hospital duties and relieves the trained nurse for more technical work. She bathes and feeds patients, makes beds, takes temperature and pulses, assists in keeping records, does unsterile bandaging and attends to many details essential to a patient's comfort.

Eligible for enrollment are American citizens or friendly aliens, between 18 and 50 years of age, with the equivalent of a high school education and in good health. A Nurse's Aide must complete an 80-hour intensive training course; 35 hours of class room instruction and 45 hours of supervised practice on hospital wards. She also agrees to serve 150 hours per year without pay in hospitals, prenatal, industrial or other clinics and public health agencies. The standard first aid course is a requisite for the first year of service and the Nurse's Aide may be assigned to Emergency Medical Field Units set up by Civilian Defense, to speed to the aid of civilians, wounded in air raids or disasters.

More than 12,000 Volunteer Nurse's Aides are in training or already trained, but many more are needed. It is too late when the bombs fall or an epidemic strikes. Prepare now and help safeguard the nation's health. Contact your local Red Cross chapter for information as to nearest training facilities available.

If we wish to be free; if we wish to preserve inviolate those inestimable privileges for which we have been so long contending; if we mean not basely to abandon the noble struggle in which we have been so long engaged, and which we have pledged ourselves never to abandon until the glorious object of our contest shall be obtained—we must fight! Many high school graduates, such as these at the Hannah Penn, junior high school, York, Pa., will be able to take their places without much further training in the ranks of those who are planning to defend their communities from death dropping down during air raids.

provision of food stuffs and the use of foods dictated by modern knowledge of nutrition for both civilian and soldier are of vital importance.

Many of the opportunities may be seized without leaving home or community. The alert and eager high school graduate will look about him for unfilled places in the ranks, step in where he is best qualified and serve.

The student selected by fate for graduation in 1942 faces towering handicaps as well as opportunities. For many of these graduates, school days are ended. In any case, educational careers will be interrupted or diverted from original purposes.

The Test They Face.

Ambitions must be modified, new emphasis placed upon ideals and duties. The high school graduate of 1942 faces the severest kind of test which can be given to individuals—the test of flexibility, adjustment to untoward circumstances. This applies to the minor as well as to the major enterprises of life.

The contrast is still greater if we compare this generation with grandfather's as an illustration of change in our national life. To that elderly gentleman now toasting his slipped heels in retirement by the fireplace, Horace Greeley's advice, "Go West, young man," was an inspiration. There was an immeasurably wealthy West to conquer. Grandfather saw the finishing touches given to the world's greatest economic empire, as the ingenuity, energy, and determination of a New World, assembled from the tribes from the Old, trimmed off the last frontiers from the American wilderness.

Looking beyond the present strife, there is the citizen-in-the-making getting ready for the years ahead. Complete and final victory would be unavailing if we lost in peace what we had won in war. There is a tremendous task of reconstruction ahead of all the world. There is the rubble to clear away; but much more important there are new structures to take the place of the old.

The vision and capacity of today's youth will determine whether they live in the ruins of a past or in new edifices built upon the ideals of freedom and liberty.

The war is temporary. Civilization is permanent. Its maintenance on solid foundations is a long-time job. The more than a million young people who pass out of our high schools this spring are already hired on that job. They will fill it somehow, willy-nilly, poorly or well.

They are the next generation. As they look about them with a heart to assume the stern duties of today, they need not travel far nor hunt long. They can do no better than to look for the duty that is near, to fall in line and obey the command of the sergeant, "March."

William J. Hamilton, superintendent of schools, Oak Park, Ill., spoke on this problem which faced education:

"There is evidence that during the post-war period, conditions pertaining to the support of the public schools will not be improved. The demand for social security is already being given much consideration as the principal factor in the new social order and may supersede education in importance. . . public education will become involved in a confusing mass of legislation."

Concerning vocational assistance, L. H. Dennis, executive secretary of the American Vocational Association, spoke: "We have passed from the period of unpopularity in the field of vocational education into an era of popularity and this will be followed by an era of public pressure or demand for vocational training as a means of assistance in occupational adjustments. . . There is an increasing demand for a wider scope and a greater variety of occupational adjustment services (vocational training) for both youth and adults."

Yes, Uncle Sam wants you to eat healthfully in these times. In fact, it is the duty of everyone to do so. It is a simple matter. The meats and vegetables you buy contain many necessary vitamins and minerals. You must cook those foods properly, though, or you will waste valuable elements. Cook them carefully with the controlled heat of your electric range. Don't boil the vitamins out and pour them down the sink. Use low-temperature cooking. Your electric range provides for it.
