Old Industry Revived in Neighboring Tropics; Transportation Biggest Problem as Countries Lack Rails and Roads; U. S. Grows Rubber in Miami.

In this crucial year of 1943, Latin America will have contributed more than 50,000 tons of natural rubber to the United States war industry stockpile, according to estimates compiled from official sources. In 1944, natural rubber production south of the Rio Grande will have doubled, or perhaps exceed 100,000 tons. At the same time U.S. horticulturists announced success in growing the Hevea rubber tree in the experimental station at Miami, Fla.

Fourteen American republics, besides British Guiana and Trinidad, have signed agreements with the United States, calling for a substantial increase in the cultivation and collection of natural rubber. These nations are Bolivia, Brazil, Colombia, Costa Rica, Ecuador, El Salvador, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, Mexico, Nicaragua, Panama, Peru and Venezuela. In Brazil alone, about 50,000 workers have been recruited for the purpose of extracting the milky sap from wild rubber trees.

In order to get natural rubber out of trackless jungles and remote places, new transportation systems making use of donkeys, canoes, steamboats, airplanes, human carriers, etc., have been organized. Medical stations along the routes a close call as he ex- have lessened, but not eliminated, amines a shrapnel the hazards which threaten every man who works in the jungles.

The natural rubber needed by United States tanks, airplanes, jeeps, artillery, etc., must be extracted from wild and cultivated trees scattered over an area encompassing hundreds of thousands of square miles.

In order to protect rubber harvesters against fevers, animals, and nsects, the Latin American countries, aided by United States government health officials, have created modern sanitary centers, where preventive medicine is taught and treatment given to rubber collectors and Once Rubber Center.

Brazil forests, of course, yield most of this hemisphere's present supply of natural rubber. There, in the Amazon valley, natives first found the gummy substance that plays such an important part in nodern war. Before seedlings of 'Hevea Braziliensis' had been exported from Brazil and exploited commercially in the Dutch East Indies and the British Malay Straits Settlements, the Brazilian industry enjoyed a heyday. In order to market their natural rubber, Brazilian promoters had built the costliest railroad in the world. When rubber was a Brazilian monopoly, it fetched as high as three dollars per pound. However, not even in its balmy days did Brazil produce as much rubber (42,400 tons) as it is contributing in 1943 to a United Nations victory. According to the co-ordinator of Brazilian economy, Joao Alberto Lins de Barros, Brazil in 1943 will produce 45,000 tons of natural rubber; and 1944's estimates call for 75,000 tons.

The future holds even greater America's largest country. That is because commercial plantations, similar to those in the Orient, are well on their way to production, and it is anticipated that by 1945 these plantations will yield more rubber than the millions of wild rubber trees in the Amazon valley produce at present.

Some Brazilian rubber is transported by airplane from jungle depots to the Atlantic port of Belem, whence it is shipped northward. With the exception of eight or ten thousand tons which Brazil requires for domestic industry, the entire production is exported to the United States.

Among South American rubberproducing nations, Ecuador ranks tal rubber trees further to improve The figures of 1942 production have not been announced, but in 1941, when Brazil produced 17,500 tons, Ecuador yielded 1,500

Indians Want Beads.

The Yumbo Indians, a source of rubber workers in the Ecuadorian forest, are not attracted by money in any form. On the other hand, they covet colored beads and machetes. The Ecuadorean Development corporation understands native tastes and is now supplying the Yumbos with trinkets and useful articles, like scissors, razors, salt, mirrors, and even rifles.

Colombian forests are already all trans-shipped by the same airplanes which supply the workers with their needs.

In Colombia, rubber exploitation is supervised by a committee made up of representatives of the Colombian government, the United States embassy, and the Rubber Reserve corporation.

A service of floating hospitals and dispensaries has been organized to ing with look after the rubber workers in the trees.

Colombian jungles. This is in cooperation with the Institute of Inter-American Affairs in Washington which aids local authorities in the work of hygiene and sanitation. The same procedure has been followed in other countries.

Last February an agreement between the United States and Peru provided that South American republic with an airway system for transporting rubber from the forests to river and seaports.

By the end of 1944 it is expected that Haiti will be producing 10,000 tons of natural rubber per annum, which will be marketed by SHADA (Societe Haitiano-Americaine de Developpement Agricole), an organization set up by the governments of the United States and Haiti. One hundred thousand acres have been sown with "cryptostegia," a rubberrapidly. Thousands of Haitians have ported the quality of the latex compared favorably with East Indian. In this promising test-tube rubber plantation are growing more than 2,000 Hevea from Haiti, Puerto Rico, Mexico and the East Indies. For a tree whose natural habitat s in the region of the equator, the Hevea's endurance and adaptability to temperate climate has amazed scientists. Periodic measurements have shown that its early growth has been as rapid in Miami as in Haiti and Mexico. Its resistance to cold weather has been incredible, surviving temperatures as low as 28 degrees. Like many northern trees it has been found to shed its leaves in winter, reducing frost danger and making it particularly well-suited to Florida cultivation.

The entire rubber reserve has sprung from seeds, many of which were sown nearly two decades ago. After sprouting from seedbeds the young trees were transplanted into deep depressions near the water-taproducing plant that grows very | ble so the tap roots could find permanent moisture.

department of agriculture is enthusiastic about the progress made by the Americas in combating rubber plant diseases. The South American leaf blight, he said, is being conquered by development of diseaseresistant trees. These hardy trees in turn are being crossed by hand pollination with high-yielding Orien-

Victory over the leaf disease is a great forward step in the hemisphere's rubber expansion program, said Dr. Brandes.

On one of the Ford plantations in Brazil, a million trees fell victim to its ravages, but it was observed that a few full, leafy canopies of healthy trees stood out sharply against a background of pest-ridden neighbors. This meant that the blight, carried from tree to tree by wind-blown spores, had not infected them. They were immune.

Scientists then bud-grafted the immune tops to other trunks and produced a high-yielding, disease-resistyielding two tons of rubber daily, ant plant. The work of developing the resistant tree by the system of cross pollination is an arduous task, but it is ultimately the best solution to the problem. It is being done on a large scale in Brazil, where lies the hemisphere's greatest potential supply of latex.

Meanwhile horticulturists at the Federal Plant Introduction Garden, Miami, Fla., have been experiment-white latex tapped recently was a welcome sight to the botanists who had cared for them so long.

Experts have found that trees grown from selected East Indian | mild cleaner applied with a damp seeds in the Florida garden has produced a higher yield of latex in general than miscellaneous Hevea from other tropical lands. Experiments in hand pollination have been tried with marked success to determine its possibilities.

Two methods of tapping have been tried-the half spiral every other day, and the full spiral, every three or four days. The half spiral has proved most desirable, enabling workers to retap over the old scars every seventh year. As in most rubber trees a purer and slightly increased flow of latex is found toward the lower trunk.

Technicians do the tapping here. Two grooves are cut into the tree with a regulation tapping knife—an oblique cut to start the flow of latex and a vertical channel cut to guide it to the spout which empties into a glass receptacle held to the tree by a wire holder. In the wellequipped laboratory of the Introduction Garden the chemist coagulates the latex with ascetic acid. -It is then rolled, washed and dried, and the samples sent to Washington for Operation of the station at Miami has been generally overshadowed by other steps taken to relieve the rubber shortage in the United States.

Much publicity has been given to the effort to bring the guayule shrub into cultivation in the Southwest A variety of chemical compositions have been exploited for their rubbery characteristics. And, of course, there is the government's vast syn-"home-grown" rubber | thetic rubber program, utilizing oil and grain.

A FRESH START

Do you remember your grammar school days and the thrill you always felt at the beginning of a new school year, when you had a brand new pad of paper, new pencils—and probably a new gingham dress with a crisp white collar your mother knew wouldn't stay clean for two minutes? It was the thrill of starting all over again, although you didn't know it then. Childhood's starry-eyed happiness in new adventures is unmarred by the knowledge that the past is always with us, that "a fresh start" means accepting the past realistically, just as the Viola of this letter will have to do.

lost hope of ever having children, cleanness of body and soul. Her officer believes her to be everything a woman should be; self-controlled. principled, high-minded.

He's a gentleman, sure that he'll tures. always know what's right, and do it, and be admired for it. He has a wonderful mother, not rich, but everyone says that she brought up her five children well. Mark adores her, and I suppose she would be wild if she knew the truth about me, and do her best to break up our marriage.

"But this is what I want to know," the letter ends. "Have I any right to marry any man, knowing about all these experiences I have had, and knowing that there won't be children? If I tell him, he may say that it won't make any difference, but I'll always feel that it does. Isn't there any such thing for a woman as living down the past and starting fresh? For two years I've been exactly what I seem to be, a responsible private secretary to a big man. living with a woman friend, acting with great discretion, absolutely on the square. business mine is of his." The truth is, you do see, Viola, and that's why you're writing me. And my advice to you is that you tell Mark everything, break your engagement and send him back to the service in a few weeks absolutely free of any tie to you. If, when he comes back, he still wants you, it will be after he has had time to think things over, and after you have had time, too. It would not be fair to him to let him marry you unknowing

His Admiration Impossible. You say it "may not make any difference" to him. It will make a very great difference. hard road back. Meanwhile, you other girls-but what's the use of telling you, in the high-tide of youth and courage and confidence, that the first yielding to passion isn't by any means the last, that the plot complicates and the price goes higher and higher, and that your capacity for loving, for happy marriage, for the real fulfillment of your womanhood can be sacrificed in these giddy young years and doesn't come back?

THEN Director King Vidor began telling Brian Donlevy about Ellis Island, the day Brian did his first scenes for "America," he replied "Bet I know more about Ellis Island than you do." Seems that in 1911 he returned to the United States from Ireland with his mother; unaware that she had to pay a head tax before being re-admitted, she'd spent all her money. A phone call to her husband in Sheboygan Falls, Wis., would have settled the matter. But as she had a hot Irish temper, she insisted on arguing with all the officials. "So they put us in a corner and ignored us until Mother cooled off," said Donlevy. "That was two days later!"

Put Health Into Menus With Vitamins Plus

Crisp greens give you plenty of vitamin A, B and C. Assemble them in your salads and get plenty of health insurance-you don't need points to shop for these.

What's the pep appeal of your meals these days? It should be better than ever before with spring vegetables dotting the markets colorfully in greens, vellows and reds. Many vitamin and mineral laden fruits are just coming into season so you homemakers should have no trouble getting your quota of two fruits, two ing. vegetables and a citrus fruit into your family's diets. Remember vitamins and minerals work hand in hand to give your body health and to keep it in good workable order. Most vegetables have many of both minerals and vitamins. It is interesting to know that greens (lettuce, parsley, watercress, turnip greens, etc.) are rich not only in iron that makes for good, rich blood, but also in vitamin A which promotes good health of skin, eyes, and keeps you buoyant and full of energy. The greens get a nice big star for being rich in Vitamin C, necessary for health of teeth and bones, and for quick healing of

Don't be surprised when the greens come in for a nice share of honors for vitamin B2 also. That's the vitamin necessary for normal nutrition.

Easiest way to keep most of the RKO expects "The Robe," done in vitamins intact is to serve the vegethat it is hard to get away sentfully. Don't let either of them soak in water or stand uncovered in the refrigerator -the vitamins seem to evaporate quickly, especially in the case of vitamin C, so easily lost by cooking or leaving exposed to air.

> Keeping vegetables well refrigerated insures at least a good degree of vitamin preservation. Keep them covered, too!

Arrange your crisp raw fruits and vegetables attractively. If you'd like to have some fun, really, then take out the old geometry text, and follow some patterns you find therein -- they're fine inspiration for attractive appearing vegetable and fruit

Lynn Says: Fresh as a Day in May: So will be your foods if you keep them properly refrigerated. Desserts to cool you off and keep your appetites unjaded, if they're to be frozen, belong right in the freezer. Meats and fish are safest kept right under the freezer in a meat-keeper if you have one.

Milk, cream and beverages are stood alongside the freezer unit. Custards, puddings, butter and staples fill the middle section nicely, are easy to get at.

Leftovers, foods prepared ahead, salads, some fruits and berries are well refrigerated when kept on one of the lower shelves. The humidor or crisper means just that for it keeps those fresh fruits and vegetables crisp and well refrigerated.

The storage bin at the bottom of the refrigerator is usually nonrefrigerated, and gives splendid storage to cereals, crackers and extra beverages.

fairly good quality hay. Such hay oar be fed to dairy cattle in liberal am ich concentrates which are hard to corn slage and a higher protein content can be maintained in the ration. The use of government feed wheat or brewers' grains will help supply a fair mount of protein in the dairy ration. of protein Farmers Lying near cac ning factories may be able to purchase pea vines. They make an excellent livestock feed. Abrupt feeding change, for livetock should be avoided. Dairy men should continue feeding some .f the accustomed hay, silage, and grain cheese production is now more than for a few weeks after cattle have be n turned on pasture.

U. S. Pledges Bombs to Japan's Heart; Allies Break Axis Mountain Defenses As Drive for Tunis and Bizerte Speeds; Russ-Nazis Locked in Caucasus Battle

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.) Released by Western Newspaper Union.

American arms, ammunition and equipment were a potent factor in stepping up the fighting strength of French armies aiding the Allied cause in the Tunisian campaign. Above, Gen. Henri Giraud (center), French high commissioner of North Africa, is seen inspecting U. S. war equipment sent for French army use.

VENGEANCE:

For Jap Executions

Stern punishment for the Jap military leaders responsible for the execution of American fliers captured after last year's raid on Tokyo was promised by President Roosevelt, who said the United States would "hold personally and officially responsible" all those who participated in these crimes and bring them to justice.

That the Japs' barbarity was a confession of their vulnerability to sitions. air attack was clear. This was underscored by Tokyo broadcasts threatening to execute American fliers captured on future raids over Japan.

The reply to such threats was given by Maj. Gen. Henry H. Arnold, commander of the air forces, who told his fliers:

"Let your answer to their treatment of your comrades be the destruction of the Japanese air force, their lines of communication, and the production centers which offer them the opportunity to continue such atrocities."

To this Maj. Gen. James H. Doolittle, who led the Tokyo raid a year ago added: "Soon our bombers will be there again, striking at the heart of Japan until the empire crumbles and they beg for mercy.'

RUBBER:

Showdown on Oil Use

Rubber continued to be a controversial subject as William M. Jeffers, rubber director, came to grips with Robert P. Patterson, undersecretary of war, and Harold L. Ickes, petroleum administrator, in a dispute over the use of gasoline in the synthetic production program.

Patterson, supported by Ickes, charged in a statement that Jeffers weakening American air strength against the Axis by reducing combat supplies of high octane gas for the benefit of the civilian synthetic rubber manufacturing

Still at odds with Elmer Davis, OWI director, over publicity releases on the rubber program, Jeffers briskly took on his two new opponents declaring that their charges called for investigation to bring out the true facts to the public.

PACIFIC:

U. S. Fliers Busy

From the Aleutians to New Guinea, American airmen continued their assaults on Jap airfields, shipping and ground installations.

Liberators, Mitchells, Lightnings and Warhawks made 15 raids on the enemy at Kiska, carrying the total of forays on this menacing Jap installation to more than 100 in the course of a single month.

In the Solomons, Yankee fliers battered Jap positions in four air raids, attacking Tonei harbor and Kieta and smashing at Kahili and Munda.

From Australia, Allied aircraft stroying enemy planes and straffing Jap base installations and occupied villages. Rabaul and Ubili, New Britain, the Saidor area of New Guinea and Laga on Timor island were the principal targets.

TUNISIA:

Nazis Counter-Attack

Fighting stubbornly to delay the inevitable day of reckoning, Axis troops sought desperately to prevent the Allied armies from further narrowing their last hold in Tunisia. On both the north and south fronts, German counter-attacks were followed by successful Allied thrusts that wrested mountainous terrain from the enemy and forced the Axis armies nearer to their last-stand po-

In the north, the British First army pushed southeast after repelling major enemy assaults in the Medjez-el-Bab sector, destroying more than one-third of the Nazi tanks opposing them.

In the north, General Montgomery's British Eighth army made important gains in the strategic hill country north and west of Enfidaville which brought it closer to Tunis.

Meanwhile, bombers of the Allied tactical air force kept up constant attacks against the few remaining Axis-held airfields.

RUSSIA:

Caucasus Front Active

Continuing to employ "strive at any cost" tactics, German armies in the Caucasus kept up full-scale tacks against the Russians in the Kuban delta despite heavy losses and lack of success in the early

Two objectives were included in the Nazi plans, military observers believed. One was to relieve Soviet pressure on the enemy's bridgehead at Novorossisk. The other was to build up the momentum of a drive that might be the prelude to a new Axis spring offensive.

As the fighting increased in intensity, the activity of the opposing air forces was stepped up. German communiques reported that the luftwaffe was straffing Red supply bases on the Black sea coast. Soviet communiques revealed that while Red airmen had broken up one enemy effort to ferry reinforcements across the Black sea to Novorossisk, the Germans had succeeded later in providing substantial reinforcements for their army in the Caucasus bridgehead.

POSTWAR FINANCE:

Congress Holds Reins

Voting to extend for two years the President's authority over the $2,000,000,000 currency stabilization fund, the house adopted an amendment designed to prevent the use of this money in the $5,000,000,000 international banking fund proposed by Treasury Secretary Morgenthau for a postwar world bank.

The senate had previously withdrawn the President's power to devalue the dollar while approving continuance of his power of the stabilization fund.

In effect, the house amendment introduced by Representative Reed made 10 forays in a single day, de- of Illinois gave congress control over the $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund and the proposed postwar banking fund. House leaders indicated that congress would provide funds for the latter, in the event it was

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

RUBBER: In addition to vast amounts of regular crops, Siberia will produce huge quantities of material for synthetic rubber this year, a Moscow report disclosed. REFUGEES: Spokesmen for the British - American conference in Hamilton, Bermuda, on the European refugee problem said that any large-scale rescue of Nazi-oppressed people seemed out of the question. EXCHANGED PRISONER: First American soldier freed from an Axis war prisoner camp is Alan Stuyvesant of New York, who was released from a camp near Rome after 10 months' imprisonment.

SECRECY: Former President Herbert Hoover in a public statement said "there can be no real justification for secrecy" at the Allied nations' food conference scheduled to open May 18 at Hot Springs, Va., adding that "no secrets exist RAF in North Africa, the British concerning the food situation in any air ministry announced. The tank country in the world."

SAILORS: More than 6,000 German naval personnel, mostly officers, arrived in Italian ports for assignments aboard Italian warships, according to reports received in London.

FEDERATION: Ezequiel Padilla, Mexican foreign secretary in a book published in New York wrote that a federation of American nations "is a pressing and imperative duty."

SURPRISE: Vice Adm. Jonas H. Ingram, commander of the United States Atlantic fleet, predicted "disagreeable surprises" for the enemy off the Brazilian coast soon, but did not amplify his statement.

"CAN OPENERS": Specially equipped 2-D Hurricane fighter planes, known as "can openers" and armed with two 40-mm. guns firing shells weighing 21/2 pounds each are being used as tank busters by the busters have proved very effective.

U-BOAT DAMAGE:

More Ships the Remedy

Calling submarine losses of United Nations' shipping "heavy but not disastrous," the Truman senate committee revealed that approximately 1,000,000 tons a month were sunk last year—or more than the total tonnage built by the United States and Britain combined in 1942. Adding that losses were reduced in the latter months of the year, the report declared: "The submarine menace can and will be effectively Most effective answer to the U-boat threat will be increases in new construction of merchant ships and escort vessels this year, the committee said. The report estimated that between 18 and 19 million deadweight tons will be built in 1943, compared with 8,000,000 tons last year.

Increased speed for newly constructed ships was promised through the building of new Victory models and the redesigning of Liberty ships to permit speeds of 15 to 17 knots compared with 11 knots for the present design.

VACATIONS:

Public Must Co-operate

Summer vacations by train for Americans remained a probability in spite of a ruling by the Office of Defense Transportation that no additional summer train service requiring the use of Pullman sleepng car equipment would be authorized. Rail officials expressed the belief that regular services would be sufficient to accommodate vacationists if the public is willing to accept inconveniences and co-operate by spreading travel throughout the week.

Only exception to the curtailment policy, the ODT stated, will be 'coach trains operated in the period between Saturday noon and Sunday midnight utilizing primarily commuter equipment otherwise idle in that period and additional trains of semi-commuter type operated on other days of the week within a radius of approximately 50 miles of a terminus.

All other requests for extra coach or parlor-car train service for daily, tri-weekly or week-end summer operations will be denied, the ODT in-

DRAFT:

Payrollers on Call

Probability that many of the 840,-000 draft-eligible men on government payrolls would be inducted into the armed forces was seen in the selective service's ruling that federal workers could not be deferred for occupational reasons except through examination of individual cases by a special presidential committee.

Up to the present, thousands of government workers had been given deferred classification as essential. Selective service announced that effective May 15, the 6,500 local boards must submit monthly to Major General Hershev, for transmission to congress, the names and numbers of federal employees classified as 2-A or 2-B, the classes of deferment for occupational reasons

POISON GAS:

British Ready

Prime Minister Churchill had warned the Nazis several times previously that the use of poison gas on any front would result in immediate retaliation by the British. Now he cautioned the enemy again, adding that he had received reports that "Hitler is making preparations for using poison gas against the Russian front."

WINSTON CHURCHILL

Munitions centers, seaports and other military objectives throughout the whole expanse of Germany, he said, would be the target of British gas attacks should the Nazis use this weapon against the Russians. Increasing Allied mastery of the air plus the fact that Britain had stepped up its chemical warfare preparations in the last year lent an ominous note to the British statesman's warning.

WAR BUILDING

With the completion of the major part of the building construction necessary for full-scale armament production, a shift of men and materials from construction to other fields is now under way, the department of commerce reported.

The department estimated a decline of 32 per cent in new construction in the first quarter of 1943 compared with the last quarter of 1942. New construction amounted to $2,200,000 in the first three months of this year.

AIR TRANSPORT

How air passenger and cargo transport service will be expanded after the war was indicated by the application of the Chicago and Southern Air Lines for a charter to operate post-war trans-Alaskan service from Chicago to Singapore and

The company had previously filed application to operate from the West Indies to New Orleans. The new service to Singapore and Batavia would establish the shortest route to the East Indies and West Indies.

$1,000 per night performance. The new president of Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey's swings in front after lifting his own baritone voice in song for many years. Robert Ringling was an operatic star, too. And good! "Why not?" his mother said when he started in the family business a few years ago. "He can't go any farther in opera.'

Taking the presidency of his family show, Ringling preserves a family tradition sixty years old and over. The seven Ringling brothers, of whom his father was fifth, rolled their first little acts out of Baraboo, Wis., in 1882. In an era of trusts they got the idea quickly, bought Barnum and Bailey's and finally merged it with their own.

Robert Ringling, for upwards of thirty years, watched their performances with no interest at all. Barring four years spent in hobbles after winning a high school football game at the price of broken hip bones, he went right on becoming a singer. He made his debut at twenty-five in Tampa, Fla. He sang all over Germany, and then with the Chicago Civic Opera. He had a repertoire, count 'em, of 194 roles, the best of them Wagnerian.

Since 1939 he has been chiefly with the circus. Age will hardly stop him. He is only 46, stocky, bespectacled, gray-haired and quiet. And certainly he isn't likely to find a bigger job. He heads up the vastest amalgamation of marvels, mastodons and muscularity man has ever seen.

He had reached the bench at 36, the youngest man ever appointed to such a court in all the British empire. Forty-nine now, he is recognized as one of the commonwealth's first scholars, historians and jurists.

These last three years he has been a member of Prime Minister Curtin's Labor government, and it is as minister of external affairs that he comes to the United States. This is not his first visit. A lecturer in philosophy and English, he has spoken often at various American universities.

school millionaires are finished. In proof he un-millionaired himself last February, gave his total interest in 17,000 acres of the storied Lorna Doone country to the National Trust. # Nation's Railroads Move 50,000 Troops Each Day

Special Surveys Decrease Cross Hauling; Developments Abroad May Force Unexpected Shifting of Troops.

By BAUKHAGE

News Analyst and Commentator. WNU Service, Union Trust Building | er. Thomas represented many peo Washington, D. C.

Recently I had to make seven consecutive week-end trips between Washington and New York-I left Washington after a late Friday broadcast and had to return Monday for one at noon. Not once was I able to get reservations for the return trip until at the last minute when some unused space was turned

If I groused a little too loudly over this, it may have been because didn't know then what I learned officially only the other day; namely, that "if the war department insisted in having all the Pullman equipment it could use, all the Pullman cars of the country would be carrying troops."

In other words, if Johnny Doughboy didn't step aside occasionally, we'd all use coaches or walk.

Compromise

The present arrangement is said to be a compromise in recognition of essential civilian needs. At present, a million and three-quarter soldiers are being moved a monththat is 50,000 a day-in America's trains in official troop movements. This does not include the many men

There are, of course, movements of whole divisions with full equipment but these are the exceptions. As you have probably noticed if you travel very much, there are usually a few cars containing troops attached to your passenger train. This is the way most of the troops are transported-in small groups of 250 or less. However, that is a considerable addition to the regular passenger traffic.

It's said a soldier eats twice as much as he did in civilian life and that is one reason why food has to be rationed to civilians. But he travels a lot more in proportion to his normal civilian peregrinations. Perhaps He Gave also give Many a man saw his first big city Our Boys Idea of some first when he reached London or Cairo Mixed Marriages hand evi- or New Delhi. I know a pilot who dropped in at the airport here recently and had several hours waitover. When he was asked why he didn't cross the bridge and look the capital over, he said he'd never been in a big city and didn't want to get lost. The next thing heard from this particular was that he was in Calcutta.

Average Number

In the last war, the average number of moves made by a soldier were three. Here is a list of typical moves he makes in this war, drawn up by the Office of War Information:

1. To the induction center 2. To reception center

3. To replacement training cen-

4. To his particular branch of service 5. To big maneuvers

6. Return 7. To special training areas

8. To port of embarkation Special studies are made to cut down unnecessary cross-hauling but sudden developments abroad may force soldiers who are located near one port to be shifted to another far away. Or a special need for particularized training may arise and that may force men to be doubled back to desert or mountain for the specialized practice in snow or under a hot sun that new requirements make necessary. Maneuvers in the southeast and southwest, including the desert training areas of California, have sometimes required the moving in of as many as 300,000 men within a few weeks, equipment and all. Naturally, that disrupted a large part of passenger traffic for several weeks at a time.

Unessential Travel

Efforts are being made to cut down extra passenger travel by discouraging conventions, trade shows, big sports contests and other gatherings. One exception has been made, and that is the lecturer. Even the President saw fit to come out with a statement encouraging the continuation of the work of lecture bureaus. He expressed himself to Lowell Thomas, who traveled to and the maples. Then backyards Washington, on that subject-the are brilliant with the rambler roses plea for a good word for the speak- | and you know that spring is done.

There it was again-purely sentimental reasons! Would Victor grab that clue and go for them? He would ghie. You'll find I'll stand not. Instead he made them admit what we already knew, that they'd all wanted that church and had bid for it at the auction. But they were cagey. If any of them had come to the Head purposely to be present at the auction-the way Roddy announced he had that fatal nightthey were mighty quiet about it now.

Hugh Norcross tried to buy the church for Bessie. "My sister needs something to occupy her mind," he said. "We found that the Head was still a pleasant place to hurch again. "Saw a sail- come to," he went on hesitantly, one me quite close, too. I eye on his keeper. "Her nervousness was so much better, for one thing. The auction was fun, and here was a ready-made chance to get the makings of a gifte shoppe cheap."

> "I remember you said the old dump would make a good bonfire," Thaddeus Quincy chirped. "Didn't burn up the wrong building by mistake, did you, Norcross? Judy and I saw you scouting around last night, remember."

> "Stop it, Quincy!" Victor said sharply. Hugh had risen. _ "Sit down, Norcross. Perfectly understandable. You wanted to allay any fears that you were anxious to "What the devil are you insinuat-

"I'm afraid to go down there again by myself."

I couldn't go above the Gerrys. Hundred and fifty, didn't they bid, Judy?"

I said I thought so. "And you, Miss Kendall?"

"Me? Oh, uh, I didn't really want the old thing. Bid for the fun of it. Thought it would go cheap and I could watch the sunsets and play I was on a ship without gettin' seasick. I hate boats. But I didn't really consider buying it. Of course, if it went for a bargain-never could resist a bargain. Thought maybe my little niece, Gloria Lovelace, might like-"

"Gloria Lovelace, the movie star!" scoffed Bessie. "What would she do with a church?"

"Mighty sweet reformers," Lily said, proudly. "New publicity angle. Remember me tellin' you I have a lovely picture of her I wanted you to see? Remind me to show it when we get back. Gloria's my favorite niece, and a sweeter, lovelier little darl-"

"I'm sure she is," Victor interrupted. "You must show us that picture by and by. But right now I want to ask you to listen carefully, please. Mr. De Witt had sentimental reasons. Potter wanted a studio. Miss Kendall, a sea place to watch sunsets. The Gerrys', a bungalow. The Norcrosses, a gifte shoppe. And you, Mr. Quincy?" "Oh, I was there-in the doorway. Called in a bid, but stopped when I saw Judy Jason was determined to get the church. Didn't want to bid down Judy."

"That was kind of you, Quincy. Nothing whatever to do | Was it because you knew she'd buy it, anyway, for you?"

"For me?" Mr. Q. appeared to be nonplused. "See here, Quade, why should a cripple like me want an ark like this? I can see the sunsets

"Explain yourself, Quade," cried several voices. A man was entering the church.

We all looked around to see Uncle Wylie, who slunk into one of the Victor shook his head. "No maniac wrote the letter to Judy. I believe the person who wrote her that strange request is back of all this. Tell them, Judy, as you recall the contents, about the mysterious letter asking you to buy the Quaker church.'

I did. I'm sure I knew it practically word for word. They made me repeat it all over again. They appeared entirely surprised. "And sent you the money!" Lily piped. "How much, dearie?" But before I could say anything Victor retorted: "Enough, so that she bought the church, as you all know. Had some over. Quite a

"If we could see that letter-" Hugh began. Did he know it had been destroyed, that he dared ask for it? "Yes, the letter, though I don't see what that's got to do with killin' Roddy Lane. You keep the rest of that kale, honey," Lily ordered, catching her long string of tiny mixed beads on Albion Potter's coat button as she leaned across him and breaking it, as usual, in the undoing. "She's going to," Victor cut in quickly. "Put it away with the letter, didn't you, Judy? The police will want to examine both of them." Victor was pretending the mystery letter was still safely concealed in my bureau drawer. He didn't want them to know I'd discovered it was gone. But the person who'd taken it would know. I had to say something. "Near together," I said. "I-I put the money in my stocking at first, but after what's happened I wishoh, I wish I could give it back. If one of you wanted me to do you the favor of buying the church, for goodadmit it, so we won't connect it up with all these horrors." Nobody stirred. After a moment, Uncle Wylie asked in a strangled voice, "Judy, does Nella know about this? "No," I answered. "But she's dying to find out. She couldn't understand how I had $300 to plank down at an auction when she had to advance me my fare to the Head, and I don't blame her. I wanted to tell her, only the letter impressed si-"So you put the moneyletter?"

"Well, it's in the other-" I stopped. He couldn't want me to tell them exactly where it was, of course. Just to hint to the thief who'd swiped the letter that he'd overlooked the money, and that I'd overlooked his taking the letter.

"Wherever you mean," Victor added pointedly, "I hope it's in a safe place. If the police can identify those bills it will help."

Lily whispered: "Tell him, Judy, and the police won't never see 'em. I think he sent the letter himself. So there!"

Uncle Wylie hurried out of the door, without a word to anybody. The rest of us were all talking at once. They asked me so many questions I was afraid I'd mix up Victor's plans and I did so desperately want to help him. He saw the position I was in and drew me aside as the group broke up and started outdoors again. "Any place I could watch your bedroom door, Judy?" "There's the storeroom."

"Fat chance, anyway. Don't think he'll fall for the trap. Those bills weren't from all over the United States by chance and without sequence.

"Another thing. Lily Kendall did bid a lot. She was in almost at the | covering. finish. She's got it in for-" But I didn't have a chance to tell him what she'd hinted about the Pirate's Mouth just then, for the minister boomed, linking his arm with Victor's and dragging him out of the church: "Well, back I go to the inn. Got to get that sermon done some time. And after the police come-" I pounced on Victor as he disen-gaged himself. "Please, Mr. Quade. I've got to find my bag. That confounded key is in it." "Well, I'll be trotting along after the others," De Witt said. "Where did you leave it?" Victor sounded impatient. "I think it's important, just now, to see who makes a dive for your room. I'd hopedthat storeroom-" "But it's in the basement. Only take a minute. I'm-I'm afraid to go down there again by myself." "Oh, all right. Only let's hurry. You're sure you left it there?"

I was sure. But I was extremely doubtful if it was there now. I told Victor how I'd left it near the chest when I tried to fiddle open the lock.

He told me to stay on the stair and let him hunt around. Certainly the bag wasn't in sight. He opened the chest, looked behind it, and then into a rickety closet, where a few old hymn books were piled on some shelves. Nothing doing.

I knew he was impatient about the old key, and so was I. "Never mind. It'll turn up." "How does it happen the $500 wasn't in it if you left it right after the auction?" he asked. "Because I took it out after the sale. Right down here, too. Put it in my-my hose. I never make a practice," I said with some hauteur. of carrying large sums in my handbag. A sneak thief-good heavens! What was that?"

Cracks in Varnish

Question: Why should tiny cracks have developed on my furniture? My piano and dining-room furniture have these all over. These cannot be from low temperatures, for in cold weather I keep my heat at about 76 degrees. Also, I have pails of water on all the radiators. How can the furniture be refinished?

Answer: Cracks of that kind are very fine and usually only on the surface of the varnish. The cause is in sudden changes of temperature. Seventy-six degrees is rather high for ordinary living conditions, and when everything is heated to that temperature, the cracking appears when the temperature drops, as would be the case at night, or on the opening of a window. The damage can be overcome by light rubbing with fine sandpaper, to be followed by wiping with turpentine to remove the dust, and then applying a thin coat of varnish.

Loose Windows Question: Our windows are very lose in their frames. How can they be tightened? Answer: The room side of the groove in which the sash slides is formed by a strip of molding that is nailed to the window frame. This strip can be taken off and replaced to press more tightly against the sash. When windows are loose, by far the best cure is to put on metal weatherstrips of the kind that fits into groves cut in the edges of the ness' sake say so. Come out and This not only stops all ratsash, tling, but keeps out drafts and dust. For good results these strips should be put on by specialists, who have the necessary tools.

Killing Tree Roots

Question: Having cut down a large tree, how can the roots be killed so that we can plant another? Answer: Roots can be killed with salt and by other means, but nothing could be planted until enough time had gone by for the chemical to be carried deep into the ground by the new growth. As an alternative, you hood who has a mechanical stumppuller and can do the job for you.

Galvanized Gutters Question: Will you advise me regarding paint for galvanized gutters two years, unpainted. We want to fore having this metal work painted along with the house.

Answer: After cleaning and rethe gutters and spouts with a good to ten days for this paint to dry. Follow with house paint.

Insulating a Cottage

Question: In building a one-story and attic wood cottage with four rooms and bath on the first floor, what kind of insulation (rock wool) would you advise? Could I do the job myself?

Answer: Use any one of the standard brands of rock wool, and since the house is in the course of construction, batts should be used. All the work can be done by yourself. Use batts with a vaporproof paper

Dry Rot Question: What is the cause of dry rot? What should be done to check and prevent it?

Answer: Wood exposed to continuous dampness stimulates a fungus growth in the wood, which turns it into powder. A thorough circulation of air or coating the lumber with a coal tar creosote or other chemical wood preservative will check the condition. All rotted wood the preservative.

Rust Remover

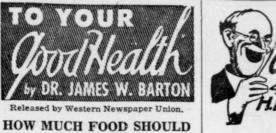

I take a rust stain from a silk slip? Answer: For your iron, soak the rust with kerosene, and rub with fine emery paper. At an automobile accessory shop you can get rust removing liquids that are very satisfactory. For the slip, you can use iron-rust soap, to be had at a drug

Cleaning Brickwork

Question: Carpenters burned tar paper in a new fireplace, and the bricks are black with soot. How can it be removed? Answer: Scrub with a thin paste of a scouring powder with water and ammonia. Rinse well. Interior Wall Colors

There is a very marked tendency among interior decorators to employ different shades, or even different colors, for interior walls of a single room, to compensate for the intensity of the natural lighting. Detailed information on this subject has been issued by the National Paint association, 1500 Rhode Island avenue, N. W., Washington. Other subjects are included, as, for instance, the effect of color in changing the proportions of rooms. This information quest to the association.

made up of one part protein-meat, eggs, fish, two parts fats-butter, cream, fat meats and four parts starches-bread, potatoes, fruits and vegetables. In calories this would mean about 400 of proteins, 800 of fats and 1,600 of vegetables and fruits daily for average man doing some work daily. This method of calorie measurement is still in use.

In an article on nutrition in the Journal of the American Medical Association, Drs. Eugene F. DuBois and William H. Chambers, New York city, state: The amount of heat given off by the resting man of average size (at complete rest and no digestion going on) is about equal to the heat of a 60-watt electric bulb or the flame of an alcohol lamp about one inch high. A man exercising hard equals the heat of 10 such lamps. As most of us are not at complete rest all of the time, nor are we working hard all the time, the amount of food needed will depend upon how much we rest and how hard we work. Thus one table of the number of calories needed by various trades is:

Men: Tailor, 2,600; bookbinder, 3,000; shoemaker, 3,100; cabinet-maker, 3,500 to 3,600; stone mason, 4,700 to 5,200; wood sawyer, 5,500 to 6,000. There are other trades such as moulders or foundrymen. stokers, molten metal workers and others where 6,000 calories are needed daily.

Women: Stenographer or office worker, 2,000 calories; seamstress with hand needle, 2,000; seamstress with machine, 2,100 to 2,300; bookbinder, 2,100 to 2,300; household worker, 2,500 to 3,200; washer-women. 2,900 to 3,700.

Facts About Acne, Pimples

Although the various methods of treatment help many cases of acne rain. Your best move will be to dig | (pimples), the actual cause of acne out the roots to a depth of two feet | is not fully known. Because it ocor so. The roots that remain will curs at or near the age of puberty, rot out and not interfere with the most physicians believe that acne is in some way connected with the may find someone in your neighbor- changes in the glands which causes boys and girls to emerge into men and women.

In the Journal of Clinical Endocrinology, Dr. Hamilton, Yale medical school, reports results in cases and spouts? They have been up for where he was able to bring on acne in certain individuals. He found put on the proper priming coat be- that giving the hormone or extract of the male sex gland to boys who had not reached puberty, some of them developed blackheads, pimmoving traces of rust, if any, coat pies, with and without pus formation. When the treatment with the quality red lead paint. Allow a week sex hormone was stopped, the pimples became smaller and disappeared. When given again, the pimples returned.

This does not mean that this gland extract is the only factor entering into the cause of acne as diet, heredity, and infection may also be factors. However, despite other factors, the pimples appeared only when the sex hormone was given. "There seems to be something in this male hormone substance that stimulates the sebaceous or oil glands of the skin."

For this reason, Dr. Hamilton suggests that as there is some relation between the thyroid gland-the master gland of the body-and the sex glands, there is logical reason for the use of desiccated thyroid gland extract in cases of acne at the time of puberty. The thyroid extract checks any excess of oil pouring out from the oil glands on the skin and stimulates the skin cells to a more normal activity. The thyroid extract stimulates all the body processes and therefore the skin.
