Infantile Paralysis Annual Drive Jan. 15-31

The annual campaign for funds to fight infantile paralysis will be conducted in the North Washington County chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis from Saturday, Jan. 15, to Monday, Jan. 31, inclusive, according to Michael I. Goring, West Bend, chairman of the North Washington County chapter.

Chairman Goring points out that although the citizens of this and every community throughout the nation have been vigorously taxed to support the war effort and have purchased war bonds liberally they also have the highest earnings and income on record and should be willing to contribute generously to the great humanitarian war against infantile paralysis.

In fact, he urges more liberal contributions on the part of the public this year than in 1943, revealing that the North Washington County chapter has come to the financial aid of several families during the past year in which cases of infantile paralysis developed in this community. This financial help was used to provide much needed medical aid.

"For the nation's future fight infantile paralysis now" is the slogan of this year's campaign, Chairman Goring declares. He will release further details concerning this year's drive in this newspaper next week.

Street Light Resolution Adopted by Village Board

Kewaskum, Wis., Jan. 3, 1944

The village board of the village of Kewaskum, Wisconsin, met in regular monthly meeting with President Miller presiding and the following members present: Trustees Docs, Honeck, Martin, Nolting and Sell. The minutes of the previous regular meeting were read and approved as read.

RESOLUTION NO. 1

BE IT RESOLVED, by the Village Board of the Village of Kewaskum, Wisconsin, that the field inventory of street lights in the Village of Kewaskum, as recently taken by the Wisconsin Gas & Electric Co., and whose billing will be changed to meet and agree with the field inventory, is acceptable to us and that future billing to agree with the field inventory is approved by us.

Motion was made by Honeck and seconded by Martin that the resolution be adopted. On roll call all members voting "aye," the resolution was adopted.

Motion was made by Nolting and seconded by Sell, that the following street lights be changed from 250 C. P. to 400 C. P.: two on West Water St. north of Main St., two on First St. north of Railroad St., and West Water St. and one on the east end of Second St. Carried.

Motion was made by Martin, seconded by Sell and duly carried, that the following bills be allowed and paid, as recommended by the finance committee:

Need 302 More Blood Donors for Coming of Mobile Unit Jan. 13-14

Up to Wednesday 233 blood donors had signed up for the Red Cross mobile unit which will be in West Bend next week Thursday and Friday at the high school gym. Chairman of the Red Cross blood donor service, R. J. Stoltz, said that another 302 citizens would be necessary to fill up the two-day quota. Inasmuch as this community has always met its obligation in supplying a full schedule of blood donors for the mobile unit, Atty. Stoltz feels confident that we will do it again next week. However, new donors are needed in addition to those who have given before.

This is one branch of military service in which any person in normal health can enlist. In fact, any person between the ages of 18 and 60, weighing 110 lbs. or more, can share his or her blood with our fighting men all over the world. Those between 18 and 21 require the consent of a parent or guardian.

Donating is painless and has no harmful after-effects. The body quickly restores the blood given. The large number of people who come back and donate a second, third and several times indicates that it is not painful or harmful. Once a person donates a pint of blood, he or she will do it again and again as long as his doctor or Red Cross doctor permits.

Proper precautions are taken at the mobile unit where doctors and registered nurses check temperatures, pulse, hemoglobin and blood pressure of every individual. One requirement, however, is that a donor refrain from eating any foods during the four hours prior to making the donation. It is not harmful to the donor but the plasma will be clotted and unsuitable for use.

Giving blood is unique among all war-time contributions. Never before have we been able to save such a high percentage of wounded men. It is the one great chance for life that is ours to give them. In 1944 we must face the solemn fact that a large number of American men will be in combat. Casualty lists will be high. Will there be enough plasma and will it be there when they need it? Our answer means life or death for thousands of men.

Concrete evidence of the great importance of the blood donated to the American Red Cross was supplied from the other side of the world by the case of an American soldier seriously wounded by the Japanese while on a long range bombing mission in China.

He was immediately given first aid treatment by his fellow crew members, but arrived back at a U. S. base in a state of severe shock from loss of blood. Word of the soldier's injury had been radioed to the base and the returning bomber was met at the air field by an ambulance equipped with the ready-to-use kits of dried plasma.

If people in the United States could truly realize the value of this plasma there would be waiting lines blocks long at Red Cross stations, was the comment of Major Joseph H. Boyes of Los Angeles, Calif., the army medical officer in charge of the ambulance that met the plane.

If you are one of those who have avoided giving blood because of a mistaken fear, why not ask one of those who has given several times? It's really very easy and is carried on only by competent personnel. Telephone 1, or 252, West Bend, and register now for any hour between 2 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. on either Jan. 13 or 14. Send your blood to war and save a life!

SNOW FINALLY ARRIVES AFTER WARM, DRY WEATHER

Snow, the first fall in more than a month in this vicinity, blanketed this section Wednesday morning when about 2 1/2 inches fell. Another light snowfall Thursday morning added about a half inch more on the ground. The ground had been bare practically all season up to this time. The snow was needed as the ground was exceptionally dry and farmers were beginning to worry about next year's crops. In the town of Ocochea, it is reported, some farmers wells ran dry and they were forced to haul water from neighbors. The only harm caused by the snow was the resulting slippery highways and it spoiled the kids' ice skating, which had been perfect up to this time. Unseasonably warm weather marked the advent of the new year. Driving was made very hazardous by a heavy fog on Monday and Tuesday mornings. Following the snow the mercury dropped to from 10 to 12 degrees below zero early Friday morning.

TRUCK COLLIDES WITH AUTO

An accident took place at 11:30 a. m. Tuesday, Jan. 4, on Highway 55 on a curve at Kuhnberg when a truck driven south by Ervin Butzla of Route 2, Kewaskum, collided with a car driven north by Charles E. Hynter of Pearson. Hunter and his wife were taken to a Milwaukee hospital for treatment of injuries, the extent of which were not learned.

TRUCK DRIVER IS GRANTED PERMIT CHANGE BY STATE

Earl Streen, Campbellsport, R. 3, has been granted an amendment to his contract motor carrier license without public hearing, the state public service commission at Madison announced.

The change authorizes him to haul supplies from points with a 35-mile radius of his residence in the town of Auburn to farms in the towns of Auburn and Ashford in Fond du Lac county and Kewaskum in Washington county.

The commission will order a hearing on the change if interested parties file objections within 30 days.

Village Team Loses to High School, West Bend

In a rough game in the local gym Sunday night, the West Bend Alumni company basketball team gained revenge for an earlier defeat by upsetting Kewaskum, 33 to 29, in a close contest. At no time in the game was one team more than a few points ahead of the other. The Benches were strengthened considerably since meeting the locals the last time. Miller of Kewaskum took scoring honors with nine points. Bob Monroe and Weinert shared the high scoring for the winners with eight points apiece.

In another close game Tuesday evening the village team or alumni lost to the Kewaskum high school five, 28 to 24, in a practice tilt. The villagers played a very clean game against the High. In both games the team missed their regular center and rebound ace, Fred Dorn, who was ill with the flu. The alumni led at the half, 14-12, but the Highs came back in the second half, built up a lead in the last quarter and were not to be denied. The taller school team was led by their six foot, three inch center, Dav. Bartlett, who dropped in 17 points alone. Honeck paced the losers with 11 points.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

Crude, or natural, rubber has been defined as a substance found as liquid latex in many types of trees and plants and being characterized by the physical qualities of stretch, bounce, and impermeability to water.

In 1939 crude rubber was the most important single commodity imported into the United States on a dollar basis.

A small test plot of land in a Pacific Coast experimental project last year produced at the rate of 30 pounds of rubber per acre from Russian dandelion.

'Master Mentalist' Finds Thought Reading Easier Than Addition; Challenges Skeptics

Dunninger Denies 'Supernatural' Aid, Credits Telepathy

By ALBERT J. PUGNER Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Arithmetic was tough for Joe Dunninger. So he found an easy way to get the answers. He just read them from the minds of his teacher and classmates.

This was fun, so after school Joe tried reading others' minds. He soon found out, says he, that if a person would concentrate upon any simple question for a second, he could tell exactly what that person was thinking.

Today, 35 years later, Joseph Dunninger is still reading others' thoughts on the radio, over the telephone, and, previously, on the stages of America and most foreign countries.

After relating how he discovered his thought-reading ability, Dunninger, a tall, solid man with receding hair and searching eyes, emphasized:

"There is nothing supernatural about my work, and I am not a fortune teller."

Those are the words with which he usually opens his weekly performance before a visible and radio audience. A few seconds later he calls from his desk on the stage:

"Someone is thinking of Harriet. Will that person please rise?"

A woman in the audience rises. Dunninger asks her: "Have we ever met before, madame?"

"No," she answers.

"Very well," continues Dunninger. "You are thinking of a Harriet Davis. Her address is 6217 South Campbell street. Is that correct?"

"Absolutely," gasps the woman. Dunninger calls out, "I seem to get a word that looks like Baylor. It seems to be a university."

A military officer stands up. "Is that your thought, sir?"

The officer nods and Dunninger calls out with great emphasis: "Do you swear that I have prearranged nothing with you and that you have not revealed this information to anyone in the audience?"

"I do, sir," answers the officer.

"Very well," says Dunninger. "You are thinking of Baylor University in Waco, Texas. You studied there, and now you are thinking of the course you took. Chemistry and pre-medical. Is that right?"

"It certainly is," answers the officer.

Judges Check Show. Carefully watching these strange proceedings are three judges seated near Dunninger. They are usually famous persons such as U. S. Sen. Hattie W. Caraway, Paul Whiteman, Judge Edward R. Koch of the New York Supreme court, and John A. Zellers, president of the Advertising Club of New York, all of whom have acted as observers on the program.

Recently, Maj. Lenox Riley Lohr, president of the Museum of Science and Industry, former general manager of the National Broadcasting company, acted as a judge and assisted Dunninger in what was described as "the greatest long distance mental telepathy experiment ever attempted."

Major Lohr, seated next to Dunninger in Chicago, Ill., telephoned Congressman William A. Rowan in Washington, D. C. He asked Rowan to select any volume of the Congressional Record, and then select any three words on any page of that volume.

"Tell Mr. Rowan to put his finger on a word—any word," instructed Dunninger. Major Lohr relayed the message. Dunninger quickly wrote something on a large white sheet of paper. "Now the second," he continued, and immediately wrote again. "And the third," he concluded.

"Now," announced Dunninger, "I ask the judges to initial this paper the same sum to anyone who can disclose the translation of secret code messages that were entrusted to him by Harry Houdini and Thomas Edison. Both these remarkable men were interested in investigating the possibilities of spirit communication.

Dunninger also has a code message written by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, who was a deep and scholarly student of spiritualism and the world of the supernatural. No one has successfully received the messages from the three men, all dead for several years now.

White House Intimate. Ever since the brisk days of Theodore Roosevelt, Dunninger has been a frequent caller at the White House. The excitable and enthusiastic "Teddy" was so fascinated by the mind reader that he invited him back for several visits.

Calvin Coolidge was a bit irked, on the other hand, when Dunninger quoted verbatim from a private letter and sent. Coolidge never asked him to come again, at least.

JOSEPH DUNNINGER, who bills himself as the "Master Mentalist," sits at a desk before the studio audience during much of his program. Sometimes he writes on a slate, or draws symbols that come to him from his subjects' minds. The "Blue" on microphone refers to Blue network.

I have written on so they can identify it, and then to place it in an envelope and seal it."

Then Major Lohr asked Rowan by telephone to reveal the words. They were "Thanksgiving," "unanimous," and "consent." The envelope was opened. One of the judges read Dunninger's words. They were "Thanksgiving," "unanimous," and "consent."

The paradoxical Dunninger constantly insists that his work is not related to the supernatural and in the same breath relates that he has asked the United States navy to let him make our battleships invisible to the enemy. He's a magician, too.

When he gets bored reading minds, he might be found on a stage making an elephant or two disappear, sawing a woman into eight pieces, or, if the sawing makes her nervous, he'll just let her float in midair.

But thought reading occupies most of his time these days. According to Dunninger, this is how it's done:

"The sender must concentrate upon his thought. The receiver does not try to form a preconceived idea of what the thought will be, but keeps his mind open and then accepts the first impression without question."

"I usually vision a black slate and my impressions usually come in the form of white writing or images upon this slate."

Sometimes Dunninger uses real slates, as he did in Chicago when entertaining a group of 4-H youths at their 22nd annual congress. The "Master Mentalist" called a young farmer to the stage, handed him a piece of chalk and a large slate, then told the youth to leave the room and draw any symbol upon the slate.

This Time It's a Real Slate. Dunninger picked up another slate. Almost as soon as the youth had left the room the "Master Mentalist" drew a large dollar sign which he displayed to the audience.

The youth returned and held up his slate. On it was a dollar sign.

Dunninger hopes to try a variation of this feat with Walt Disney of Hollywood soon. He will ask Disney to draw Mickey Mouse, Donald Duck, or any other famous animated cartoon character. Dunninger, seated in another room, or possibly in another city, will try to read Disney's mind and reproduce the character.

"I am not an artist, but I believe I can reproduce a fairly clear likeness," he ventures. He probably will succeed. For although he says

Skeptics Amuse Him. Skeptics are constantly trying to explain Dunninger's work in terms other than telepathy. Sometimes this is a source of amusement, says he.

"Two or three men investigating my work apparently were passing notes to each other in the studio during one Sunday afternoon broadcast," Dunninger relates. "I kept receiving impressions of these notes. One note read: 'Dunninger walks down in the audience.' Another was: 'I'm a criminologist. I don't get this.' Some day I'm afraid I'll embarrass one of these investigators by reading his note over a nationwide hookup."

"My work cannot be explained except as telepathy, and my offer of $10,000 to anyone who can prove that I use confederates, employees, or stooges, still stands."

GAIL RUSSELL hasn't seen her brother George for two and one-half years; he's a bugler in the army, stationed in Alaska. As she's been a movie actress less than a year, he's never seen her on the screen, though her third picture, "The Uninvited," is now in the editing stage. So she's sending him all the glamour art of herself that she can lay her hands on, to prove to him that the spindly-legged junior in Santa Monica high whom he left behind him is really a movie actress now.

Dinah Shore's getting a new daddy—Charles Winninger of "Show Boat" fame, who'll be her father in the new picture, "Belle of the Yukon." Dinah will sing, Winninger will play a trombone, and Gypsy Rose Lee will—well, she'll be Gypsy Rose Lee.

All of the casualties on "Suspense," the CBS thriller, aren't confined to the script. When Orson Welles guest-starred recently, he broke his ankle as he entered the echo chamber, a box-like compartment used to give voices a ghostly quality.

Dame May Whitty stepped right out of her role as Pierre Curie's mother in "Madame Curie" to testify on juvenile delinquency before Senator Pepper's U. S. senate subcommittee on wartime health and education. They say she was just as delightful there as she is in the picture, especially when telling of her prewar experiences in London—country vacations for England's underprivileged children.

Sammy Kaye was the second Hollywood celebrity to back the "Dance With a WAC" program, which originated with film producer Charles R. Rogers. When Rogers was in Palm Springs on location for "Song of the Open Road" he arranged for the male members of his cast and crew to spend an evening dancing with the air WACs stationed at the army's desert transport command base.

Mischa Auer's collection of pets is becoming a problem. He had 30 hens and a rooster, and recently received two dogs, a Newfoundland and a Yorkshire terrier. Wally Ford gave him the Newfoundland, which weighs about 200, and he named it Hedy. The terrier was Mary Astor's gift; it weighs a scant 2 1/2 pounds, and he calls it Tallulah. "Up in Mabel's Room" is his current picture.

Joan Davis and Jack Haley of the air waves are dashing from one picture studio to another these days. After Joan's appearance in "Around the World" RKO signed her for two pictures a year, and she's also under contract to Paramount for two. Jack Haley was originally all set for RKO's "Up in Mabel's Room," but had to drop out because of other picture assignments.

As chairman of the Malibu rationing board, Warner Baxter took over in the days of sugar distribution; he stuck through coffee and gasoline, but wanted to resign when he returned to the screen to star in "Lady of the Dark." He was persuaded to stay, merely appointing a temporary vice chairman, and completed his picture work in time to come back and face the canned goods situation.

It's the way things happen—to some people. The other night "Big Town" Director Jerry McGill went over to see his friend Fred Bethel, the "Here's to Romance" director, on broadcast night. He was much impressed with the looks and voice of Marcia Neal—and the result of that chance meeting is that Marcia has a part in McGill's new Broadway play, "Compromise."

ODDS AND ENDS—A national comic book publisher is trying to interest Fibber McGee and Molly in a monthly feature strip based on their amusing experiences. Cass Daley, who introduces the song, "He Loved Me Till the All-Clear Came," in her new picture, "Riding High," has received requests to sing it in five different languages for overseas broadcasts. They're riding Marlene Dietrich's legs for a scene in "Kismet" . . . Basil Rathbone brings a bottle of milk to the Mutual station studio in Hollywood and gives everybody in the cast a sip just before "The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes" starts—wants 'em to get their vitamins!

We're told that a factual account of what happened to the original Lord Haw Haw, British traitor who broadcast Nazi propaganda from Berlin, will be revealed for the first time in RKO's "Dangerous Journey," which stars Elsa Lanchester.

The first snow of New York's Radio Row fell in the script of the "Bright Horizon" serial, according to CBS' sound effects crew. The order came through and a messenger was sent tearing out for the necessary shovel and sand.

Kathleen Norris Says:

Hold Up Your End

Bell Syndicate—WNU Features.

"I fretted about being a household drudge, and that made George cross, and our children heard a great deal that was quarrelsome and unpleasant."

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

IF YOU are one of those women who feel that they have made a general mess of matters, that your life up to this point has been one long mistake, misunderstanding and failure, then remember that we can always start fresh from where we stand, that it is always possible to look our affairs honestly in the face, make a plan that includes everybody and everything, and begin again.

This is a good time to try it, because life just now is at a low ebb for us all. The incredible dreadful thing has happened; the world is at war, and all the money and all the manpower we have are smashing civilization to pieces on a score of battlefronts. Our hearts are sick with longing for our boys, with prayers for them; our home life is disorganized and changed. Nothing is as it was, and from buying a new car to buying three shirts for the new baby, we can't get what we want.

So, since things are bad, make them a little worse by getting your own problem ready for solution. We all hate to do it. We hate to pay old bills, to forgive old wrongs, to change old ways. We hate dullness, we Americans, staying at home instead of floating all over the highways; discussing brown points with our friends instead of cutting into great thick red steaks; putting up jam or fruitcake for Christmas instead of buying things in shops.

Good Credit Important.

But it's going to be that kind of a period, and believe me, it will be one of the most interesting of your life if you determine that in 1944 you will live well under your income, pay up your bills to the last penny and be able to face whatever the future holds confidently.

There is a family in our town that has paid off about three thousand dollars in petty debts in the last 18 months. They own their own home now, and while the big salaries go on they are planning to buy some modest bits of rentable property, so that when the war is over, if the girls marry and have babies, the older couple can offer them holidays in the old home, help them get started, and live themselves without money anxiety.

Yes, that's what these years might easily mean to you and yours, if you use them wisely. The woman of whom I write is one of the mothers whose boys won't come home; she is carrying a deep load of sorrow as she plans for the postwar world. "I wish I'd known," she said to me the other day, "that it was so simple to solve the money problem. We had plenty, all those years, for George never made less than about $50 a week. But I was younger, and extravagant, and the children needed so much. I fretted about being a household drudge, and that made George cross, and our children heard a great deal that was quarrelsome and unpleasant. They tried so hard to avoid trouble, to keep us friendly—I see that now."

"Just before Pearl Harbor, we began to talk divorce; we were all miserable and upset—looking back, it seems so sad to me, for if I could have Hugh back, just for a few hours, he'd never have one moment of unhappiness at home to remember. Our darling one boy, he was 18 just one week after Pearl Harbor and in the navy one week after that. He went away in January, was lost at Coral sea. For awhile it seemed to me as if I never could enter his room again, but now we've all shifted about, so that the association is slowly dying away."

War Makes Mother Wiser.

"Now there's plenty of money, for our girls of 18 and 16 are both in the production line, and I earn my

Get out of the quarreling habit.

WHEN JOHNNY COMES MARCHING HOME

We will always be indebted to our soldiers now going through the trials of war. The least they deserve when their fighting is done, is to be greeted at home by happy families in a position to help them back to civilian normalcy. If there are debts, quarreling or any other unpleasant conditions in the family, now is the time to get them straightened out. Don't wait until Johnny comes marching home to unburden your troubles on his shoulders which already have felt the weight of more suffering than most civilians will ever be subjected to.

$300 a month, too. We'll be independent when all this is over. But I wish I could have those lost years back, to share George's responsibilities better than I did, to keep expenses down, to keep home the happy place it might have been, instead of the scene of so much worrying and bickering. I wish I could see my boy just once, to tell him how much happier and wiser we are now!

Life is going to be changed for us all, make sure of that. We are not going to rejoice in an armistice as we did 25 years ago, and go back serenely to the old ways. It has to be a better world, now, a safer place for us all. We will have to assume some of the responsibility for making and keeping it so.

Thousands on thousands of women making big salaries today will be out of work. Taxes will soar, for we are counting on the care of a million injured men. Anything that you are buying on the installment plan will be badly wanted by someone else, and your failure to pay up promptly will mean that you lose it. To face postwar conditions with a load of debt, to start right in complaining and worrying when the boys come home, will mean being a bad citizen, an American who is dragging down the struggling nation rather than holding it up.

We can do our returning soldiers no greater service than to meet them with good news. The house is paid for; we've bought a little farm; we don't owe anyone a cent. We're all in good health, we've a pound of butter in the icebox, and we're all ready to enjoy the better times with you, when they come along.

Service Men Want Normal Life.

Our boys don't want to come home to any troubles or any complaining at all. They don't want to hear any bad news. They'll be tired and demoralized, and sick of troubles. The one thing we can do for them is to be normal, to have serenity and books, good table talk, confidence and affection waiting; to convince them that the towns to which they come home are the most prosperous and contented in the world.

Your share of that, however small, is very important. If you don't do your share, your soldier will have a right to feel badly treated, when he comes home.

So clean house. If the family is quarrelsome, get out of the quarreling habit. If there are unpaid bills, settle them. If there is grief to bear, remember that when he finds you quietly cheerful, more interested in the welfare of the living than in mourning for the dead, his own heart will feel an uplift; he will love you all the more.

Two brothers went out from the house next to mine two years ago; one came home last month. The whole family dreaded his home return; but after the first moment everything went smoothly, and his leave was a happy one.

"I found out what a dad and mother and sisters I've got," he told me. "Courage and faith and love like that are something to come home to!"

MEAT PROTEIN LIKED, OTHERS USABLE, TOO

Because of rationing many Wisconsin housewives are concerned with how to best share the available meat, how to cook and store it properly at home, and prevent any waste. They recognize meat as one of the seven basic foods we need daily, and if they cannot provide a serving of about one-fourth pound a day, look for a meat alternate of some kind.

Alice Bilstein, home demonstration agent, calls attention to the popular belief that hard work and exercise call for more meat because of extra muscular work. She explains that this is not true, for hard work calls for energy foods, the carbohydrates and fats. Protein, she suggests, is an expensive form of energy compared to the cheaper carbohydrate foods. "We cannot depend on the proteins from cereals and legumes exclusively, but when they are used in the meals with some animal protein foods, they are an excellent and inexpensive source of protein," she observes.

In order to make the meat you CAN get go the longest way, Miss Bilstein suggests cooking the different cuts correctly to get the best flavor, tenderness, and retain most nutritional value. Planning for the use of leftover meats stretches the supply. Leftover bacon can be added to muffins or eggs. Meat-and-potato hash is delicious when well made.

Meat extender dishes carry the meat flavor farther and are hearty eating. Ham bones give some meat and good flavor to baked beans, or when added to split pea or lima bean soup. Cereals can be added to stretch your ground meat in meat loaves. Tough pieces of meat can be tenderized by adding acids such as tomatoes, sour cream, or lemon juice.

To the People of this Community
THINK IT OVER

How about doing a little cold turkey thinking after you lay aside this newspaper tonight?
You've got a good job. The chances are there is someone else in your family, perhaps two or three, working. Your son or your brother—may be away at war.

This war must end sometime. Your whole family, your neighbors, are praying it ends soon and those fighting boys of yours will come home safely.
But will you be ready for whatever happens when peace comes? Will you have something laid away? We're all hoping there'll be jobs aplenty, jobs which mean making something for somebody's happiness and not for somebody's sorrow. That's where your War Bonds come into the picture. Sure, Americans own billions of dollars of War Bonds now, and before this 4th War Loan ends they will have put away billions more. But how about you? You're the one that counts. The bigger the pile of War Bonds you have when peace comes, the bigger chance you'll have to slip right into the post-war world you're dreaming about tonight.
So "Let's All Back the Attack."

THE EDITOR.

NOTES ON FUEL OIL
OPA has received reports that fuel oil is being burned at an excessive rate compared with the supply available, and for this reason it is imperative that each consumer watch his oil consumption to see that it is NOT above the maximum amount of the heating ration which should have been burned. It is expected that the actual consumption would be a great deal less. If the ration is being burned at this maximum rate, no reserve supply will be available to meet any unforeseen cold spells.
The percentages are being issued by the OPA to enable each consumer throughout the thirty-three states area under fuel oil rationing to properly budget his ration to last through the winter. A consumer need only compare his own percentage consumption with this figure to see how he is making out with his fuel oil ration this winter.

Appeals to Women to Help Make Surgical Dressings
Now that the holidays are over, Mrs. D. M. Rosenheimer, local chairman urges the women of Kewaskum and community to turn over a new leaf in the new year by turning out again and helping with the Red Cross surgical dressings in the high school. To help rally more volunteers in this community to assist with the dressings and meet the quota, Mrs. Rosenheimer has submitted the following stirring verse, written by Jacqueline Keller, aged 12, of Appleton and reprinted in the Walworth Times:
HOW MANY SURGICAL DRESSINGS?
How many dressings did you fold today?
"A splitting headache kept me away!"
Even amid bursting bombs and gunfire,
On Guadalcanal they don't tire!
How many dressings did you fold today?
"Bridges was scheduled, I had to play."
Would fliers play cards on a P-38,
While the enemy fired with malice and hate?
How many dressings did you fold today?
"I'm giving a party," you say,
Not much entertaining for the duration,
We're fighting to keep a free nation!
How many dressings did you fold today?
"Tea dance today—tomorrow I may."
Tomorrow? Tomorrow may be too late,
Lives can be saved if you skip that date.
How many dressings did you fold today?
"Hear of the Smiths?" folks ask in dismay,
Two more large dressings might have saved the twins.
Help Red Cross, that's the spirit that wins!
How many dressings did you fold today?
Please help... where there's a will there's a way!

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Red Army Drives Toward Baltic Sea; Partisan Forces Ban Yugoslav Ruler; Allied Heavy Bombers Smash German Gun Installations in Northern France

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

PACIFIC JITTERBUG:—Doughboys on captured Makin island in the Central Pacific watch somber little native hula dance.

EUROPE:

Blast Rocket Guns

While U. S. and British troops battled the Nazis at close quarters in southern Italy, waves of Allied bombers rumbled over northern France to smash at German rocket gun installations.

Both on the U. S. Fifth and British Eighth army fronts in southern Italy, doughboys and Tommies engaged the Germans in hand-to-hand fighting.

Ban King

Charging that the war minister of the Yugoslav government-in-exile had made a "lasting" deal with the Germans.

Broz's communist backed Partisan forces forbade King Peter's return to the country until after the war.

Broz's action followed the attachment of U. S., British and Russian officers to his staff.

Further, Broz's political council canceled all treaties and international obligations of King Peter's government.

Discharge Pay To every vet discharged after 18 months of service overseas would go $500 under provisions of a bill passed by the senate.

Vets serving abroad for 12 to 18 months would be paid $400 and those less than 12 months, $300.

Russia: Match Wits Russian and German generals matched wits along an 800-mile front as winter fighting flared to major proportions in the east.

HIGHLIGHTS... in the week's news

RICE: This year rice production reached the highest level in history at more than 70 million bushels, 48 per cent above the ten-year average, 1932-42.

BOMBER: A new "super" bombing plane that is called better than the B-29, itself a new wonder, is now in production.

FORTUNE: The estate of Mrs. Charles Deering, widow of the former board chairman of the International Harvester company, will be distributed among six grandchildren.

PASTOR: The Rev. Charles Horwell, who drew nationwide attention last summer when he staged a 42-day "fast unto death," succumbed to a heart attack in Saugatuck, Mich.

FARM MACHINERY: The head of the WPB farm equipment division predicts that production of farm machinery in 1944 will fall about 10 per cent below the goals originally set.

SHUTDOWN: The Utah ordnance plant, Salt Lake City, has been closed down by the war department.

EGGS: So splendidly have American hens responded to the call for more production that eggs are coming into wholesale markets in greater volume than they can be sold or stored, dealers report.

GRAIN SHIPMENTS: Approximately 285 million bushels of feed grains will be shipped over the Great Lakes during 1944, if plans of the War Food administration are realized.

ANCIENT CALENDAR: A 30-day calendar, carved of red sandstone, through which 30 holes have been drilled, into which pegs could be fitted to record the day of the month, was located in an Amorite fortress in Palestine.

BOLIVIA:

New Government

First order of business on the new Bolivian revolutionary government's calendar was compensating survivors of the 19 striking tin miners shot by troops under direction of the ousted Gen. Enrique Penaranda last December.

As calm was restored in the country, U. S. withheld recognition of the new government, to determine whether it was a successful pro-Axis coup in view of the fact that the guiding light of the movement, Paz Estenssoro, was once locked up in connection with pro-Nazi activities.

U. S. interest in Bolivia centers around its rich tin and quinine resources, among the last left to the Allies following Japan's occupation of Malaya and the Indies.

STORAGE: Seek to Ease Glut With U. S. food storage facilities crammed, many meat packers have been selling pork products below ceiling prices or in carload lots at a discount.

Meanwhile, WFA extended its price support of $13.75 per hundredweight to 270 to 300 pound hogs, because, (1) packers have been buying bargains outside of the 200 to 220 pound support range and guaranteed weights have been piling up in the yards; (2) farmers have been sending 200 to 270 pounders off to market to get the $13.75 top.

THE last time a Yankee migrated into British parts and tried to make everybody happy he killed off all the knights of the Round Table and had his own goose cooked by Merlin.

He would build 9-point Utopia in Postwar Canada. Twain he might have done even worse. It was a job to discourage all Yankee, but here comes a Down-easter with a program for making another batch of Britons "the happiest people on God's green earth."

CORN BORER: New Treatment Irked by the corn borer's damage, 23-year-old John Bell of Watseka, Ill., hit on the idea of curbing the pests by making the stalk of the plant distasteful.

GREAT BRITAIN: Migrations Planned Actual contacts of many Britons with the many parts of the kingdom's far-flung empire have aroused their interest to resettle in Australia, Canada, New Zealand and South Africa after the war.

TAX REFUNDS: Cash refunds will go to about 16 million taxpayers on their 1943 payments, when March 15 arrives, government experts figure.

GRAIN SHIPMENTS: Approximately 285 million bushels of feed grains will be shipped over the Great Lakes during 1944, if plans of the War Food administration are realized.

Who's News This Week

By Delos Wheeler Lovelace

NEW YORK.—When young Peter of Yugoslavia was hurried out of an English school after the assassination of Alexander nine years ago he was told he had a steady job.

Young Peter Would Not 'As Soon Be Beggar as King' royally is resentful at Partisan Chief Tito for making himself head of a home government, even a temporary government.

Tito boasts himself the more easily because young Peter quit Yugoslavia when the Germans crowded in. Rather he was urged out, an 18-year-old boy, by his generals.

Peter is 20 now, bony and a bit bow-legged as riding breeches made plain when he visited the United States last year. He is a long-faced, long-necked homely kid, not too prepossessing, but reportedly in dead earnest.

These days he is in Cairo, a nice jumping-off place for a fast trip home when that seems sensible. He could easily take a wife with him, at least a fiancée.

'Realistic' Attitude Marks Change in Allied Diplomacy

New Journey Into International Cooperation Combines Idealism and Realism; Step Away From Old Style Power Alliances.

By BAUKHAGE News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Service, Union Trust Building, Washington, D. C.

What kind of a man is Stalin? That question was put to President Roosevelt at the White House press and radio conference on the day of his return to Washington from Europe.

He was tanned, alert, cheerful, still pulsing with the consciousness of achievement. His answer, which came without a second's hesitation, I thought, was significant.

Stalin, he said, was a realist, just like himself. I am not particularly interested in the accuracy of that answer, either as an analysis of Stalin or self-analysis of the President.

On the whole, in the light of later pronouncements, use of that term seems a good omen rather than a bad one.

Mr. Roosevelt is committed to a plan for the postwar world which toward the ideal, rather than toward the old style diplomatic "realism" which is nothing but tooth-and-claw tactics behind a laundered facade of protocol.

THE last time a Yankee migrated into British parts and tried to make everybody happy he killed off all the knights of the Round Table and had his own goose cooked by Merlin.

CAPT. ROSENHEIMER FLIES PLANE HOME; PRESENTS WINGS

A big army bomber plane roaring over the village just above the rooftops shortly before dark last week Wednesday announced the arrival home of Capt. Lehman Rosenheimer, Jr., director of flying at the Carlisle Army Air Base, Carlisle, New Mexico. The thunderous noise of the bomber threw a surprise and scare into the populace and sent children running helter-skelter for shelter. Flying at great speed, the plane was over the village and out of view before anyone could see what was happening. After flying over Main street, Capt. Rosenheimer circled and again passed over town, nosed the plane up to a higher altitude and headed south. Capt. Rosenheimer was on a trip to Minneapolis on official business with a few other officers from Carlisle. He spent the week end with his folks here.

On Dec. 24, 130 aviation cadets and 10 aviation students of the Carlisle Army Air field received their bombardier wings. The wings were presented by Capt. Lehman Rosenheimer, director of training at that army air force bombardier school. The 25th AAF band at Carlisle furnished music for the exercises. Pvt. Bill Jensen of West Bend is a member of the band.

DRINK AND IMMORALITY AMONG SOLDIERS? LETTER EXPLAINS

A Kewaskum soldier stationed in Australia has sent a letter to this office and with it enclosed another letter written by some other soldier in that country which appeared in a U. S. paper there. The soldier requests that his name not be mentioned but that the letter be published. He writes, "I'm sure that our vicinity would like to read it, leave it sink 'in, and maybe wake some of the 'sleazy heads up."

Here's the letter:
Australia

Editor of the News:
Just what is the greatest trouble the army has with its thousands of men? You can probably think of many, many things that might be potential trouble spots, but I think that the greatest of these things is the fact that many of the men are unhappy. Unhappiness takes an awful drain of power out of a man.
Let's take a skilled man of any kind. When he's home with his family, he is happy and can turn out a pile of fine precision work. But, let's take this same man away from home and his family and see what happens. He may seem very happy, he may joke that at least he's away from the rule of his wife or sweetheart. But, is he happy? Probably not. If he's not happy he can't do his job to the best of his ability no matter how hard he tries.
I don't think that very many people actually realize how unhappy some of the servicemen really are, and the folks back home certainly don't seem to do much to help them. I realize that they don't realize that they aren't doing their level best to help the fighting men of this country, but, believe me they aren't.
How would you like to be away from all the people you know, your loved ones and the places you liked to go when you were back home? This alone may not seem too awfully bad, although it's bad enough. But add to this the fact that a fellow gets about three letters a week, and you've got a perfect case of an unhappy fellow. I'm in a position where I can see these things first hand and know just how it feels. Not three letters a week is rather low, as most fellows get at least one or two letters a day, but there are fellows that get only about three. I know for I'm one of those few. I get letters regularly from my folks, but that's about all. You certainly see who your real friends are when you're in the armed forces and away from home.

It's just human nature for anyone to want other people thinking of him at least a little, so naturally he feels pretty low when no one pays any attention to him. If the people back home don't write what can you think except that they aren't going to be bothered with writing anymore? After all, what will they ever get out of it? One of their pet excuses is that the servicemen don't have time to read. That's just a bunch of hooey. I've yet to see the man who doesn't have a chance to read a letter within a very few minutes after he receives it.

"Well," you say, "he won't bother to answer it, so why write?"
If he doesn't answer it he hasn't any right to kick about not receiving letters from home although generally it is hard to find time for letters. If a soldier wants to answer a letter he will find time to do so all right. Next comes the question of what's all in it? You say it's awfully dead around town. So what? We don't care what you write, just as long as we get those longed-for letters. You just can't realize how much it means to one to get a letter no matter what's in it. It shows that not everybody has forgotten you.

We hear a lot of loud mouths yelling about the drunkenness of soldiers and of the great immorality among them, but just remember

YOU ARE THE CHIEF CAUSE BECAUSE

(ONE). While we are living amongst filth, eat what we get, and like it (as incidents have happened to eat bully beef for six weeks) using our hands as forks and the containers as plates, using china cups and silver knives and forks. We aren't squealing about that. Why do we hear so much squeaking from you in regards to rationing?

(TWO). We love beer, wine and whiskey just as much as the next fellow, maybe even a little more. You walk into any tavern and have just what you want when you want it, then to top it off, if the glass is cracked along the rim, you beller and holler and throw the glass on the floor or at least make the barkeep give you another glass. Here we have our beer rationed. We are allowed seven ounces a day and darn glad to get that. We use cracked off bottles as our glasses. Oh, yes, sometimes we do cut our lips but we drink out of them regardless.

(THREE). The boys (4-F's) as we call them, are making all the money and having all the fun, drinking our liquor and having a decent place to do it. You may not realize it but we miss those spots we used to call home. Then to top it off they even steal our women.

It's really a low down trick when a 4-F goes ahead and usually out of his way to get some serviceman's woman. If we were home we'd put a stop to it, but seeing we're way over here (thanks for the help in keeping us happy), even if we had to use a two handed elm club.

The morale of the man in the service really drops when he has trouble with his women. You may as well give his quarters for a few weeks because he's not much good for military use.

I could go on and on like this for the rest of the night but I think this will give you quite a clear understanding as to how we feel. This war is a long way from over and if you don't quit your bellyaching and go to work you'll have a very good chance of seeing Hitler in the WHITE HOUSE.

Signed,
A Soldier from Australia

LT. JEANETTE KRAUTKRAMER, ARMY NURSE IN AFRICA, WRITES

A V-mail letter this week came from Lt. Jeanette Krautkramer of the army nurse corps, who is stationed in Africa. The letter is touched up with humor by Miss Krautkramer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Krautkramer of Route 2, Kewaskum. She writes:
December 19th.

Dear Don and Bill:
Thanks for the lovely card. Also want you to know that I have been getting the Statesman regularly and enjoying every bit that's in it.
We have had nothing but wind, cold and rain for the past few days but I have been very comfortable because I have no particular duties. Just eat, sleep and write letters.

There are four of us living in a board floored tent. Mother Nature has placed a dash of green between each board. (We can always depend on her to add a bit of plant life). We are all very thankful to General Electric, Uncle Sam and the Quartermaster for so kindly lending us a 20-watt light bulb to brighten up our neglected looking quarters. Heat is furnished by what-ever body heat we can possibly spare plus that from the 20-watt bulb. May I add, we have been slinging a bit of hot air strictly for heating purposes.
All kidding aside, I realize I am living in the lap of luxury in comparison to any enlisted man and many nurses and officers overseas.
Hope to be seeing you all soon.
Sincerely,
Jeanette

PVT. KLEINKE SENDS WORD FROM SOUTHWEST PACIFIC

Another letter via V-mail was received from Pvt. Marvin Kleinke, town of Auburn soldier stationed somewhere in the Southwest Pacific. Here's what he has to say:

Southwest Pacific
12/20/43

Don and Bill:

Thanks for the Christmas greetings, I wish you the same. I also received a copy of the Statesman today, dated Oct. 29th. I sure enjoy reading the interesting letters from the boys, especially from the East, or rather from here, the West. One thing I can say, the South Sea Islands aren't what they're cracked up to be. Ha! I haven't met anybody from the home town, although there are quite a few fellows from Wisconsin. Lee and Curtis (probably Lee Honeck and Curtis Romaine—Ed. note) aren't so far from here. I don't think I ever enjoyed ice cream so much in my life before as I did this noon. Haven't had any since sometime last February. We're getting fairly good food. I've gained in weight the last while. I guess it's time to sign off and hit the sack.

Regards to the boys,
Kleinke
