

Silent Motion for 'Ghost' Troops

Victory Parade

Top: This man, at a Laconia, N. H., ski manufacturing company, is smoothing a ski on a pneumatic drum. Right: With a new ski held in a bracket, this man is sitting on one end to test for flexibility.

Swift white-clad warriors, who are semi-invisible against snow and who swoop to attack on smooth, silent skis, are aptly described as "ghost" troops. Their means of motion—skis—have risen to the status of a war weapon. Throughout the nation plants are rushing production of this weapon which was once known only to sportsmen.

Top: Ski troopers in action during maneuvers in the Colorado Rockies.

Above: Civilian skis are generally given a natural wood finish. But army skis are whitened on the upper side so they will be harder to see against the snow. This worker is spraying a white non-reflecting camouflage paint on the "bedslats." Skis are new in warfare. During the Russian-Finnish war they came into prominence as a silent war weapon. The skier pictured here was caught in the snowy wilderness where heavy mechanical equipment was stuck.

Left: A plant employee forms a Victory sign with a new pair of skis that may help to bring victory. Originally most skis were imported from Europe where the sport originated. Today American manufacturers have developed a ski which is believed to be superior to the European model. The ski, pictured here, is cut from hickory boards and laminated. Below: A trooper emerges from his cave home on Mount Rainier, Wash.

A worker stacks "bedslats" on drying racks. Later they will be waxed. Ski harnesses are not attached by workers but by troopers.

Wearing their white camouflage uniforms, mountain artillery troops are pictured high in the Colorado Rockies during winter maneuvers.

Tradition Gives Lincoln Three 'Birthplaces' But Historical Research Establishes the Fact There Was Only One; It's Near Hodgenville, Ky.

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

ONE of the most famous of all newspaper cartoons, appropriate to the annual observance of Lincoln's birthday, was drawn by H. T. Webster while he was on the staff of the old New York World. It has become a Newspaper Classic, i. e., annually it is "reprinted by request." It is:

HARDIN COUNTY, KY., 1809

In this log cabin near Hodgenville, Ky., Abraham Lincoln was born on February 12, 1809.

Civil war. It was first photographed, apparently, for "The Campaign Document," in which William Lloyd Garrison, in 1864, told of the "Character and Public Services of Abraham Lincoln." But Thomas Lincoln did not build this cabin, and Abraham was not born there and never lived there. The last vestige of this cabin has disappeared.

The actual birthplace of Abraham Lincoln was a log cabin which, after many removals, now stands not far from its original site on Rock Spring farm on Nolin creek, 2 1/2 miles south from where the village of Hodgenville now is, in what was then Hardin and now is Laclede county, Kentucky.

A Romantic History. This cabin, which was the true birthplace of Lincoln, has a romantic history. It stood on a tract of 300 acres, known as the Sinking Spring farm, which Thomas Lincoln bought in December, 1808, for 66 2/3 cents per acre. Here little Abe Lincoln lived until he was four years old. Then his father abandoned the place because of litigation involving a flaw in the title and moved his family 10 miles northward to another farm of 30 acres on Knob creek, which he had previously purchased.

Several years later (two different dates, 1827 and 1835, are given for this event) a certain Henry Brother bought the Sinking Spring farm and lived in the Lincoln birthplace cabin for several years. There it remained during the term of Beveridge, who quotes J. T. Hobson's "Footprints of Abraham Lincoln" as his authority for the statement. Brother tore down the cabin and used the logs for firewood. The accuracy of this statement, however, is doubtful and, as will be seen later in this article, it has been refuted.

There seems to be good reason to believe that the cabin was still standing on its original site in 1860 when Lincoln was elected President. Soon afterwards it was purchased from the man who then owned the farm by George Rodman who moved it to another farm about a mile and a half from the Sinking Spring farm. There it remained during the term of the Civil War and after being used a number of years as a shelter for Negro families and as a tenant house, it was used as a school house in 1872 and 1873.

A certain John Davenport married the school-teacher and they lived in the cabin from 1875 to 1894, when it was bought by A. W. Dennett and moved back to its original site on the Sinking Spring farm. The cabin was not destined to remain on its original site long, however. Soon afterwards it was bought by Rev. J. W. Bingham who took it down and shipped the 143 logs in it to Nashville, Tenn., for a centennial celebration there. Next it was moved to Central park in New York city where it was on exhibition for a time and in 1901 it was exhibited at the Buffalo exposition. The next owner was David Greer, who stored it in the old Poffenhausen mansion in Long Island City, N. Y.

Bought by Collier. In 1906 Robert J. Collier bought the Sinking Spring farm and presented it to the Lincoln Farm association, "a patriotic organization formed by American citizens for the purpose of preserving as a national park the farm on which Abraham Lincoln was born." The president of this association was Joseph W. Folk, governor of Missouri, and its trustees were a group of distinguished citizens, including Mr. Collier, who also bought the Lincoln cabin. The logs were shipped to Kentucky, accompanied by a guard of honor sent by the state, for a homecoming celebration in Louisville and then taken to the Lincoln farm.

"The cabin, I am reliably informed, originally stood near the spring," writes Barton. "After its first removal, it was reerected on the top of the slope leading up from the spring. When it was taken down for exhibition purposes, this site was marked by a post; and when the

In it he devoted a chapter to each of the seven men who, according to the different versions of the whispered legend, "was the real father of Abraham Lincoln." By careful analysis of all the evidence available, as well as the so-called evidence, he disproved the claims advanced for each one, and established the fact that Thomas Lincoln was the "real father."

THOUGH Rise (pronounced Ree-suh) Stevens has sung five seasons with the Metropolitan Opera company, radio can claim her in a way; she made her first public appearance as a singer on the "Sunday Morning Children's Hour," produced by Milton Cross. In 1935 she was a semi-finalist in the Metropolitan Opera Auditions of the Air, was offered a contract—and refused; felt that she wasn't ready for it. Paramount signed her for "The Count of Luxembourg"; when it was delayed, she was asked to appear opposite

RISE STEVENS

Bing Crosby in "Going My Way?" in which she sings several operatic arias. Describing her, people say: "Really, she's not a bit like an opera star!"

When Johnny Longden, the jockey who rode Count Fleet to victory in the Kentucky Derby, visited the set of United Artists' "The Hairy Ape," he brought along a good luck token. To William Bendix, the male star, and Alfred Santell, director, he gave the shoes the great horse wore in the race, as a lucky piece on the opening stretch of their shooting.

J. Carroll Naish saved a marine's life the other day on the screen. Naish is in "Gung Ho!"; Universal's film based on the book written by Capt. W. S. LeFrancis, USMC. The script writers had the captain die in their version of the story, instead of being wounded and decorated, as happened in real life. But Naish played the captain so brilliantly that the script was revised.

Gary Cooper, who rose to film fame as a strong, silent man, sings on the screen for the first time in "The Story of Dr. Wassell." The song, "Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition," was spotted by C. B. DeMille for the picture on publication.

The new Sinatra picture has no title so far, but it's under way; George Murphy, Adolphe Menjou and Gloria De Haven have been signed for it by RKO; Wally Brown and Alan Carney, comedy team, will appear as stooges to Murphy.

Eleanor Powell's dancing partner for the grand finale of "Sensations of 1941" recently arrived in Hollywood; she's "Starless Night," is five years old, and is rated by her owner, Capt. William Heyer, as the finest dancing horse he's ever trained.

Virginia O'Brien, noted for her "dead-pan" portrayals, will change her screen personality in her new picture, "Dear Barbara," which MGM is producing with Susan Peters in the lead. In the picture Frank Morgan will play a character similar to that of his telegrapher in "The Human Comedy," which won him praise from the critics. Jimmy Durante and Margaret O'Brien also have important roles.

Dennis Day, singing star of Jack Benny's radio show, has been signed by RKO to a contract calling for his appearance in two films yearly. While still unknown, Day followed Kenny Baker as the singer on "The Benny program, and almost overnight became a top attraction. Acting roles on the air show helped him along, and first thing he knew he was in pictures.

The latest "March of Time," exclusive film material which reached America on the last plane out of Sweden before air travel there was suspended, shows how the Swedish people, living in precarious peace, are meeting the pressure of Nazi threats with growing defiance.

ODDS AND ENDS—There's a rumor that Greta Garbo's next picture will team her with Charles Boyer for Universal... Ginny Simms has mailed Valentine cards to servicemen who have appeared on her program... The role of Stanley, the circus store proprietor on the Burns and Allen show, is played by Bill Wright, who co-starred with Al Pearce for years in the "Eb and Zeb" comedy series... Don Ameche, too busy in pictures to follow the "Hud's New" show to New York, acted as master of ceremonies at a feast at a Hollywood restaurant for his three young sons, Ronny, Tommy and Lonny... Loreta Young eats six meals daily to gain weight.

Lillian Day, author of "My Best Girls," which has succeeded the "Battle of the Sexes" on the air, writes expertly of young girls. To gather material, she attended an appearance of Frank Sinatra, sitting among the bobby-sock brigade.

For the duration Bing Crosby is asking his fans, except those in the armed services, not to ask for his picture. The NBC and Paramount star decided to curtail his mailing list—reason, paper shortage and overworked mail clerks.

Let Hearts Be Gay on Valentine's Day!
(See Recipes Below)

Cupid's Share

Hold on to your heart! Here comes Cupid ready to do tricks to your heart on Valentine's Day! It's time for a party with cute Dan Cupid reigning on a mighty throne.

February's a short, short month but with plenty of opportunity for party-giving. You can have a Lincoln's or Washington's Birthday party, or you can be extra gay and colorful with a Valentine's party. These should be extra popular this year with the pepped-up pace of romance. If anyone in your crowd is about ready for a shower or wedding you might take the cue from Valentine's day and make Cupid's decorations your theme.

Pink-and-white or red-and-white are the gay color schemes and you can carry these out in both food and decorations. A simple but dramatic table picture is seen in the picture in today's column. Three large, red valentine boxes are set on their side in a row to form the main interest for the table.

If you would rather carry this out in flowers, get a nice centerpiece of red-and-white flowers. But have a heart, somewhere along the way. If you have a valentine mold make a valentine cake or jelly mold and work out an arrow with a pastry tube or, if the cake is iced you might even put on an arrow made out of red paper.

Here is a luscious salad that takes it easy on rationed foods:

Molded Raw Cranberry Salad.
(Serves 6 to 8)

- 2 cups raw cranberries, ground
- 1 envelope orange gelatin
- 1 cup chopped celery
- 1/2 cup chopped nuts
- 1 cup granulated sugar
- 2 cups water
- Juice of 1 lemon

Lynn Says

Play Games, Too! Nothing's nicer than having fortunes told at a Valentine party. If you can't afford a professional, have someone dressed as a gypsy, arm her with a heavy glass crystal and booth, and let her go to town. Letter games are fine for starting off a party. Give each guest a letter to tie around his neck as he enters, and as others appear, let each one dash around to others to make up words. When words are formed, guests appear in front of a person who takes down their names. Prize goes to person appearing in most words.

Novel idea for a scavenger hunt which needn't take you outdoors. Select about 10 guests and make them have something unusual. For example, have a man with two unmatched socks, a girl with two different colored hair bows, someone who wears his watch on the left arm, a girl with two different colored earrings, etc. Everyone is provided with a list of what he knows what to look for. As he finds the person, he writes down the name. The one finished first gets the prize.

Afternoon Tea Can Mean Just Tea Or Supper, Too, If You Wish

By ELIZABETH MacRAE BOYKIN
The word "tea" is bandied about pretty freely—to mean every sort of a meal from a ladylike afternoon hour of leisure to a hearty supper in the manner of Arnold Bennett's five pottery towns of England and the Little Ministers of Scotland. Actually in America the afternoon tea never has taken much hold—maybe because not enough people have enough leisure in the sag of the afternoon. On the other hand, many Americans have for their evening meal just such a tea as is served by Bennett's English families and Barrie's Scotch folk. But we usually call it supper, even if we serve tea. In these times, when most of us are skipping the rowdy-dow merriment of gayer days, this supper-tea is a friendly idea for an evening of entertainment. Gather family and friends around the table for an unpretentious but heartening meal. Doesn't matter whether it's served at midnight or at twilight—the fare

Lynn Chambers' Point-Saving Valentine Party Menu

- *Molded Raw Cranberry Salad
- *Heart-Shaped Chicken Sandwiches
- Beverage
- Strawberry-Rhubarb Tarts
- *Recipes Given

Pour 1/2 cup water in a bowl. Add gelatin to water. Add 1 1/2 cups water and sugar and stir until dissolved. Add lemon juice. Set aside to cool. Grind raw cranberries, chop nuts and celery fine. Add these ingredients to gelatin. Place salad in one large or several individual molds and let jelly until firm. Serve with lettuce or greens.

Get out your heart-shaped cutter if you want to make sandwiches. For a simple children's supper party or for valentine refreshments for grown-ups, serve heart shaped sandwiches filled with chicken salad and garnish the platter with buttered beets cut in heart shapes. Strawberry and vanilla ice cream with little sugar cookies—a tiny motto candy heart placed in the center of each cookie—is effective.

This chicken sandwich spread may be prepared the day before it is used to fit in the day's schedule:

- *Chicken Sandwich Spread.
- 4 cups finely minced chicken
- 1 can pimientos, finely minced
- 1/2 cup pickle relish
- 1/2 cup grated onion, if desired
- Salt and pepper to taste
- Mayonnaise to moisten

Thoroughly mix all ingredients and store in refrigerator until ready to use. Cherries can make food decorative for any Valentine party whether they are used in cake or pie: Champion Cherry Pie.

Crust:

- 1 1/2 cups bread flour
- 10 tablespoons lard
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 5 to 6 tablespoons ice water

Sift flour and salt together, add lard and blend. Add ice water gradually and cool. Filling:

- 2 1/2 cups pitted sour cherries, drained
- 1/2 cup cherry juice
- 2 1/2 tablespoons fine tapioca
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon butter

Soak tapioca, sugar and salt in cherry juice and let stand while pastry is being made. Then mix well with cherries, add butter and put in pie tin. Bake pie for 10 minutes at 450 degrees then reduce temperature to moderate or 350 degrees and bake for 20 minutes. Turn off oven and let stand at oven temperature for 20 minutes before removing from oven.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

Tire life on rough gravel roads is about 40 per cent less than on smooth concrete pavements. This was proved by tests conducted by the Iowa State College.

Soap, if developed, is to be a growing factor in maintaining motor transportation. It has been estimated that 100 million pounds of soap will be required for one year's production of synthetic rubber.

Camelback, which gets its name because it originally had a hump in the center, is a growingly important product of the rubber industry. Over 20 million pounds of camelback are now being made monthly to recap tires.

Before the bar of justice on wife-brought charges of desertion, Mose Brown meekly admitted his guilt and offered nothing in extenuation except that the lady talked too much.

"That's no excuse for desertion, Mose," the court said. "The constitution guarantees every woman the right to talk all she wants to."

"Judge, I know it do. Only Lucy she never stop talkin'. She keep it up, mo'nin', noon, and night, till I just can't stan' it no mo'."

His mournful earnestness impressed the court. "She does?"

"Judge, suh," he said, "she don't say."

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Painted kitchen chairs often get a shabby look around the legs and rungs where shoes rest against them and the polish leaves a mark. Complete repainting of the chairs can frequently be avoided by giving these sections of the chairs a good soap and water washing. Dip a moistened cloth, sponge or brush into some soap jelly, or into thick suds and rub the soiled parts. Rinse with cloths wrung out in clear water, and dry with a soft, clean cloth.

Why not a spice bag to flavor that soup or stew? To make one, mix three sprigs parsley, six whole cloves, one bay leaf and a little thyme and tie them loosely in a small square of white cheesecloth. Drop the bag into the cooking mixture.

You can add a cute note to your skirt by cutting out musical notes from odd pieces of felt and sewing them around the hem. Or one applied on your sweater will make a nice conversation piece too.

If a small leak makes it impossible to use the hot water bottle in the regular way, try filling it with hot salt. You'll find it holds the heat even longer than water and will last a long time.

If it is difficult to make wallpaper stick to chimney, ceilings or walls, apply a coat of aluminum paint before papering. Then the wallpaper will not crack or come loose.

A sharp knife, rinsed in hot water, will do a good job of cutting cake and keeping neat cake and frosting edges.

Honey should be kept in a warm place in the kitchen. If it does granulate, place the container in a pan of hot water until it liquidizes.

Chicken fat saved from stewed chicken may be substituted for shortening in pie crusts, biscuits, spiced or ginger cookies or cake.

Mix plaster of paris with vinegar instead of water and it will not harden so quickly when you are filling in cracks and holes in plaster.

Rayon fabrics must be handled carefully when wet. When dry, rayon regains its strength.

Predict Car-Plane

Airplane designers prophesy a combination family car and plane for the not-too-distant future. Most commonly visualized is a three or four-passenger car-plane with removable wings which can be "checked" at the airport.

Predicted performance: 135 to 160 miles an hour cruising speed in the air, 50 to 60 miles an hour on the highway. Mass production would bring cost of unit within reach of the family pocketbook.

Boulders as Tombstones

Because it is forbidden to cut a gravestone or write a name or epitaph along the Yugoslav-Albanian border, relatives of deceased search for boulders which they imagine resemble the shape of their departed loved ones. These they place over the graves.

became the keynote for the interesting furniture group you see here. The top of the old desk was cut away and it was boxed in between book shelves. The padded stool was made of a box. The sketch shows how the applique colors were repeated in paint and fabric. The desk accessories also repeat these colors.

Men Hatch Eggs

Eggs of a special breed of duck in China are hatched by "human incubators," men who carry the eggs in nets around their waists. The first period of incubation is taken care of by the mother fowl, but for the last three days before the ducklings poke their beaks through the shells men carry the eggs.

This is supposed to improve the quality of the bird, which makes a famous dish known as "Peking duck."

"Joy," answered the lad.
"And the opposite of misery?"
"Happiness," said the pupil.
"How about woe?"
"Giddap."

A more perfect race, means a more souful race, a race having greater capacity for love.—Ellen Kay.

Perfume to Stench

Most stench bombs are filled with a fluid made from the dried roots of the valerian plant because the odor is believed to be the most offensive in existence. Yet people in the 16th century considered the scent of this root so fragrant that they used it to perfume their clothes.

Recognition Given to County Dairy Leader

William H. Grubbe of West Bend was among 16 dairy leaders from as many counties who received statewide recognition at the meeting of the Wisconsin Dairyman's association in Madison, Feb. 7.

Mr. Grubbe was presented with a framed certificate designating him as key dairyman for Washington county. The Wisconsin Dairyman's association plans to present a "county key dairyman" award each year to one farmer in every county that has nominated its choice for the honor.

The certificate was signed by Dean E. B. Fred of the Wisconsin College of Agriculture; Milton H. Burton, director of the State Department of Agriculture; B. R. Dugdale, extension fieldman for the Wisconsin Dairyman's association; and E. R. McIntyre, editor of the Wisconsin Agriculturist and Farmer.

The 46 farmers were honored for their herd improvement activities, good farm management, community leadership in dairying in particular, and their interest in building agriculture in general.

The county key dairyman program was developed by directors of the Wisconsin Dairyman's association in cooperation with the state and county extension service, the Wisconsin College of Agriculture, the Wisconsin State Board of Vocational and Adult Education, the five major breed organizations, and the Wisconsin Agriculturist and Farmer. Balloting for the nominations was conducted through the latter agency.

County Meeting to Plan 1944 Production Goals

It was announced by Raymond D. Lepien, chairman of the Washington County AAA committee, that a meeting on 1944 production goals will be held at the court house at West Bend on Feb. 15, for the purpose of launching a campaign for food production goals in Washington county.

Arthur Hamann, AAA fieldman, and representatives of the following will be invited to attend: county extension agent, office of price administration, vocational agricultural teachers, representatives of selective service, soil conservation service and farm security administration, home demonstration agent, farm organization leaders, superintendent of schools, chairman of county board, and community committeeman.

Mr. Lepien, chairman, indicates that part of the meeting will be devoted to developing plans for meeting 1944 production goals. Instructions will be given for executing the 1944 farm plan. OPA representatives will discuss the new method of preparing applications for agricultural gasoline.

It is expected that AAA community committeemen will combine the duties of assisting the farmers in making out their individual farm plans with that of helping them determine the amount of gasoline for farm uses for the 1944 crop year. Arrangements will also be made for committeemen to prepare the application for dairy feed payments for milk delivered in January.

We Salute..

Two Great Americans

As a Nation, we pause this month to honor two illustrious patriots—Abraham Lincoln, whose birthday anniversary is Feb. 12th—and George Washington, whose birth is observed on Feb. 22nd.

If Lincoln and Washington could give us a personal message this month it undoubtedly would urge us to go all-out for Victory . . . to buy more War Bonds . . . to accept sacrifices we are called upon to make willingly and without complaint.

Do YOU measure up to standards Lincoln and Washington might set were they alive in 1944?
