

Kathleen Norris Says:

Three Wishes for My Child

Bell Syndicate.—WNU Features.

Betsy, rather fat, not particularly pretty, and not as smart as Pat, is nevertheless into everything, popular everywhere, laughing herself, and keeping everyone else laughing.

By KATHLEEN NORRIS
PROBABLY if you could do one thing for that baby of yours it would be to make him rich. Oh, yes, I know what you're going to say! That riches do not mean happiness, that character and charm are what count and so on. But if a letter arrived this morning saying that Uncle Harold had died leaving each of your three children a quarter of a million, you'd not only feel tremendously excited, elated and grateful, but every friend and neighbor you have would envy you.

Second, mothers like their girls to have beauty. All girls are nice-looking these days, what with their fine athletic young bodies, their brushed hair and clean skins and their make-up. But there is no mother who doesn't like to have it said, "Nancy's exceptionally lovely, Anna, where'd you ever get such a glamour girl!"

Third comes a bunch of advantages: travel, cleverness, charm, magnetism, music, sports, languages, intelligence. We all want our children to have just as much of all these as we can pack into their lives.

I remember years ago sitting watching youngsters in a horse show, in an extremely exalted social atmosphere. One beautiful girl about 18 years old had the world at her feet. She was rich, she was cultured, at least to the extent of being able to jabber impressively about foreign embassies, junior league dances, one's school days in Paris, one's presentation in London, one's acquaintance with half the prominent folk of the world. She came up to show us her horse's blue ribbons; she was easily the most conspicuous figure in the show.

Becomes Bitter Woman.

Well, that was 20 years ago. She is a bitter, talkative, self-assertive woman now, always on the defensive. She has been married twice and divorced twice; neither one of her children is in his mother's custody. I think it would be hard to find a more unhappy woman.

Disposition is the priceless treasure in this world. To be born with a cheerful, forgiving, philosophical disposition is to be born with something worth the gold of Golconda, or the beauty of the Queen of Sheba. Everywhere in the world there are women spreading service and happiness like so many smaller suns. Not particularly pretty women, not women who spend fortunes upon the tint of their cheeks or the color of their lips. But radiantly useful, confident, generous-hearted women, who are busy keeping homes places of content and comfort, who are laughing off slights and disappointments, who are planning a glorious tomorrow for the boys who come home. Women with happy natures.

You see the tragedy of this paradox illustrated sometimes in the lives of small sisters or brothers. Clever Patricia, with the curls and the star-sapphire eyes, is a discontented, sensitive, jealous little thing, always wanting Betsy's things, or imagining that someone dislikes her. Betsy, born of the same parents, rather fat, not particularly pretty, and not as smart as Pat, is nevertheless into everything, popular everywhere, laughing herself and keeping everyone else laughing, eager, friendly, radiantly interested

Some Wives Skip War Job During Husband's Leave

Servicemen's furloughs sometimes cause absenteeism among wives working in war plants. "Wives of men in the armed forces usually are given preference for employment if they are qualified and there is a vacancy for their service," says a bulletin by the National Metal Trades association after a survey. "One objection to their employment is that on the furlough of their husbands they absent themselves

THE CHEERFUL OUTLOOK

Having everything that a girl could desire — beauty, health, athletic skill, intelligence, money — does not necessarily foreshadow a happy life. Miss Norris points out. Often women who had everything in youth become selfish, bitter and frustrated in middle life. They seek happiness by changing husbands, by travelling, by lavish spending. But they can't be happy—their nature is too self-centered, too proud, too chronically discontented and critical for them ever to be satisfied.

On the other hand, there are many women who are not particularly pretty, not very clever or accomplished, who by their natural good natured charm make everybody happier. They are the wives and mothers who reap a rich harvest of affection and respect in their later years.

While a woman's attitude toward life seems to be set in babyhood, yet there is much a mother can do for her daughter to try to turn her toward the way of true happiness, as Miss Norris explains in this article.

Pat will go on to her destiny of pride, loneliness, discontent. And Betsy will become one of those daughters, wives, friends, mothers, aunts, who draw about them an adoring, demanding, heart-warming family circle, building more and more happiness into this tangled web of life as she goes along.

Trend Shows in Babyhood.

There is not much we can do about it. We come to this life with sunshine or shadow in our way of looking at things, and even in a baby of two the trend of a lifetime can be discerned.

But we can do something. What you can do for your proud, pretty, selfish little girl is build about her a world of simplicity, humility, service. Try to show her how much of her future happiness in life depends upon herself, depends upon just how much goodness and unselfishness she can plant in her own soul. Point out to her the wreckage that is so often the life story of a beautiful, rich, independent woman, and the very real joy that fills the life of the wife and mother who may, indeed, say to herself that she can't cure the ills of the world. But that what she can do is keep these few who love her—this tired man, these children, this old father and mother, these friends, glad that she is alive.

Many a wealthy and beautiful woman never has heard anyone come home to say the things this humbler, more serene, more needed and beloved woman hears day after day.

"Mother, you're home, oh, goody! You take awful good care of your tired old husband, Mary. Nobody ever had a daughter like you, Mary. You do it, Mary — you bring it — you break the news to her — you cook it for us — you be there — you take care of me, Mother."

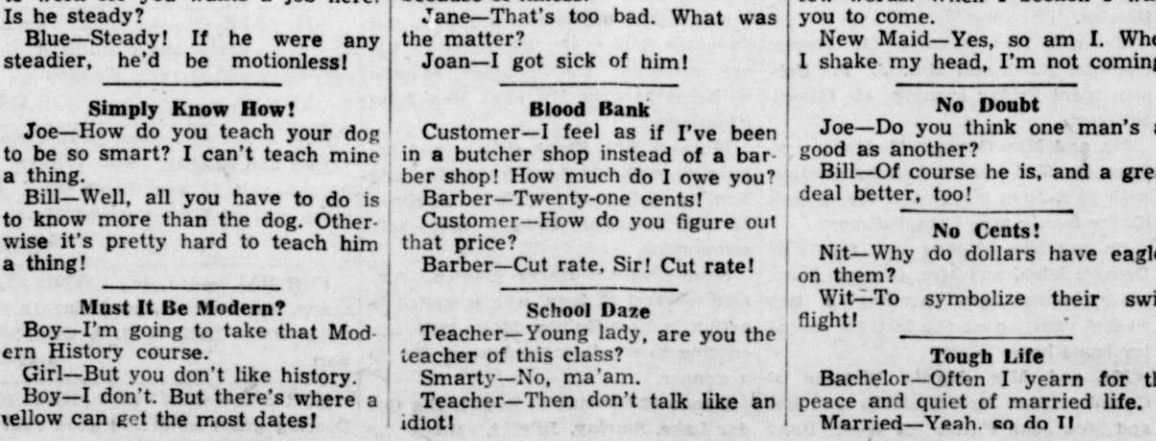

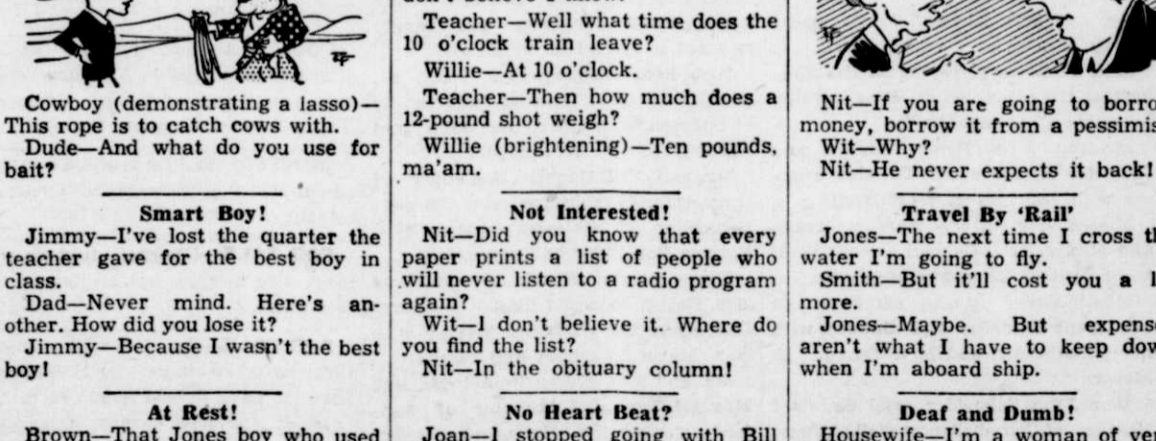

It is of such homely stuff as that that the heart's true ecstasies are made. If we can give our children that formula, beauty and wealth can be relegated to fifth place, tenth place, no place at all.

Brushing Good for Hair

Do you brush your hair each day? Brushing gives sheen, that "polished look," as well as removing dust and lint. It will not destroy the wave, if your hair is in good condition. Even the simplest hair dress will be attractive, says Ruth Current of North Carolina State college.

Do you wash your brush and comb after each shampoo? As a dandruff precaution, combs, brushes, pins and clips should all be washed each time.

Legislators' Salaries

For regular sessions, some 7,600 members of the 48 state legislatures receive annual salaries totaling no more than $4,900,000, says Collier's, which is 8 per cent less than the $5,310,000 paid to the 531 members of the Congress of the United States. While the average compensation for all state legislators throughout the Union is about $645 a year, their salaries range from $2,500 in New York to $150 in Connecticut and Kansas.

Voice Vibrations

Singing voices vary considerably in number of vibrations per second, or wave length, as exemplified by the following groups, each singing an octave apart. On the G note above the treble clef, voices of sopranos produce sound waves 1.4 feet in length; those of contraltos 2.8 feet; those of tenors 5.6 feet; and those of basses 11.2 feet.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

Latest government figures show that 80 per cent of the nation's war workers travel to and from their work jobs by automobile. Still an important reason why available tires have to be distributed cautiously.

B. F. Goodrich has created and is now beginning to produce an improved general-purpose synthetic rubber, the details of which must remain confidential until after the war. Introduction of a certain abundant natural material has developed a synthetic rubber that approaches natural rubber in characteristics during processing and has proven superior in large truck tires.

ATHLETE'S FOOT NEWS

"80.6% of sufferers showed CLINICAL IMPROVEMENT after only 10-day treatment with SORETONE"

Foster D. Snell, Inc., well-known consulting chemists, have just completed a test with a group of men and women suffering from Athlete's Foot. These people were told to use Soretone. At the end of only a ten-day test period, their feet were examined in two ways: 1. Scrapings were taken from the feet and examined by the bacteriologist. 2. Each subject was examined by a physician. We quote from the report:

"After the use of Soretone according to the directions on the label for a period of only ten days, 80.6% of the cases showed clinical improvement of an infection which is most stubborn to control."

Improvements were shown in the symptoms of Athlete's Foot—the itching, burning, redness, etc. The report says:

"In our opinion Soretone is of very definite benefit in the treatment of this disease, which is commonly known as 'Athlete's Foot.'"

So if Athlete's Foot troubles you, don't temporize with this nasty, devilish, stubborn infection. Get SORETONE! McKesson & Robbins, Inc., Bridgeport, Connecticut.

Committee Thanks Donors in Russian Relief Drive

Late in April teachers, individuals and various organizations received a letter from the committee on Russian Relief, appraising them that Washington county was to conduct another relief activity in the interest of the Russians in distress. That enterprise is completed.

The results obtained were most satisfactory. The old clothes donations included hundreds of men's overcoats and women's cloaks; boxes and boxes of children's underwear, dresses, sweaters, stockings and other wearing apparel. Then, too, schools, individuals, churches and organizations donated over 350 kits filled with a variety of articles at a cost of $285 apiece.

This success proves that the people do not tire of helping. Those in charge wish to express their appreciation for these donations and wish to thank those who assisted in packing cartons.
