County Holstein Breeders Sponsor Ir. Sire Project

The leading agricultural industry fo Wisconsin and particularly for Washington county is dairying. For a long time Washington county has been re cognized as one of the progressive dairy counties in the state. Breeders of state-wide and even national fame can claim Washington county as their home. The past has been colored with many accomplishments in dairy herd improvement work, but local dairy leaders know that continued progress can not be made without the develop-

The members of our 4-H clubs and Future Farmer chapters are the flower of our farm youth. The future rests upon their young shoulders and in order to help insure advancement for the dairy industry of Washington county, the local Holstein Breeders' association has taken a forward step with the inauguration of a youth program. This program, which undoubtedly will become an annual affair, will be known Breeders' sire calf project. The project this year includes only Holsteins because, as yet, there are no other breed associations organized in the county.

Mow Curing of Hay Meet

More than 350 farmers from Washington county gathered at the Elmer Casper farm near Rockfield and the Louis T. Opgenorth farm, Route 3. Kewaskum, on Friday afternoon and evening to study installations on these farms for mow curing of hay.

E. E. Skaliskey, county agricultural agent, under whose direction the meetings were held, pointed out the advantages to Washington county's dairy industry the results from a better quality hay through the mow curing program to be tried on these and other farms in the county. This method of hay preservation, Mr. Skaliskey said, will conserve the leaves and other protein-rich part of the hay crop almost always lost in the former methods of hay drying. Furthermore, the green color including the carotine of the hay is retained making it a more palatable and nutritous feed.

About the middle of July result meetings will be held on the same farms giving those in attendance an opportunity to observe the results of this method of hay preservation.

The principal advantage that veterans have over other citizens is that service in the armed forces, up to a maximum of two years, is credited toward the three-year residence requirement. This applies generally to all citizens over 21 years of age who have served at least 90 days in the armed forces and who have been honorably discharged therefrom. Veterans also enjoy a 90-day priority in filing ap-plications for settlement on public land classified for that purpose. Any veteran of World War II under 21 is entitled to the same rights under the homestead laws as those over 21 who may be veterans of this or other conflicts. Residence requirements of such minors will be suspended until six months after their

Moreover, homestead claims of veterans of World War II, initiated prior to their entrance into the service, are protected against forfeiture during the period of their service and for six months thereafter. Such veterans who are honorably discharged and because of physical incapacity due to their service are unable to return to the land, may make proof without further residence, improvements and cultivation.

Go North, Young Man. By far the greatest opportunities for obtaining title to and establishing homesteads on public lands lie in Alaska. This territory covers an area of 586,400 square miles, roughequal to one-fifth of that of the United States. More than 90 per cent of the territory is under the jurisdiction of the department of the interior. The major portion is still open to settlement under the homestead laws. But, while the chances in Alaska are undoubtedly vast, there are many difficulties to be overcome. Considerable progress has been made in developing the territory on a stable basis, but it is still no place for the fainthearted. Those with sufficient financial backing and with courage and tenacity may reasonably count upon success in the long run, but without these essentials veterans and others would be wise to look twice before they leap. Much also depends upon the wise selection of land, as to quality and accessibility. Many misconceptions about Alaska have been dissipated as a result of the war. Many who have seen service there have been fascinated by its picturesqueness, and impressed by its obvious possibilities. The territory has largely lived down its old and undeserved reputation as "Seward's icebox" - a reputation that was pinned on it by the critics of Secretary of State Seward who negotiated the territory's purchase from Russia in 1867. To speak of the climate of Alaska is as misleading as to speak of the climate of Europe, or of Asia. The climate varies widely from that of southeastern Alaska, where it is of the Aleutian islands.

Servicemen and women get pointers on Alaska land settlement from Commissioner Fred W. Johnson, general land office. Left to right: Pfc Richard Bean, U. S. army, (Newport, N. H.), Chief Warrant Officer Joseph D. Joiner, U. S. navy (Atlanta, Ga.), and Yeoman 1/c Mildred H. Dietrich of the WAVES (St. Nazianz, Wisc.), learn of chances for future on public lands administered by the interior department.

Veterans have the same preference accorded to them by the homestead laws of the United States. In addition, where lands are newly opened or restored to homestead entry veterans will be granted a preference right of application for a period of 90 days before the lands become subject to application by the general public. In addition to homesteading in Alaska, on sites limited to 160 acres, any adult citizen of the United States, whose employer is engaged in trade, manufacturing, or other productive industry in Alaska, or who is himself engaged in such business, may purchase one claim, not exceeding 5 acres, of nonmineral land at $2.50 an acre, but for not less than a minimum of $10. An applicant for such a tract is required to pay the cost of the survey. Any citizen of the United States after occupying land in Alaska as a homestead or headquarters in a habitable house not less than five months each year for three years may purchase such tract, not exceeding five acres, if nonmineral in character, at $2.50 an acre, but for not less than a minimum of $10. Such an applicant is not required to pay the cost of the survey. Fur Farming and Mining.

Fur farming has been carried on in the territory for a sufficiently long period to demonstrate that the raising of such fur animals as minks and blue foxes is profitable. This is especially true in southeastern Alaska and along the general coast line where fish, a basic fur animal food, may be procured cheaply Certain areas of Alaska are admirably adapted to the production of fur of good quality, and there is plenty of room for expanding this | California. industry. There are hundreds of licensed fur farmers in Alaska, the majority of whom are raising minks and blue foxes, although some silver foxes are raised in captivity. Mineral resources are known to be large and varied, and there are undoubtedly large and rich mineral areas still unexplored. Notable evidence of this has been disclosed by extensive searches for war-needed metals and minerals by the geological survey and the bureau of mines. A large part of the territory's natural mineral wealth consists of gold, silver, mercury, antimony, tin, coal, copper, iron, lead and platinum. There also may be considerable oil reserves in some parts of the country, but to what extent remains largely to be seen. Transportation is, of course, a prob-

Since Alaska, a natural scenic wonderland and sport fisherman's paradise, is expected to grow in importance as a vacation land and as a goal for tourists, there will undoubtedly be great opportunities for veterans and others who desire to go into businesses catering to the tourist trade. Tourist facilities are comparatively meager, especially in many picturesque localities off of the beaten path.

However, here again, those contemplating the establishment of such businesses should do so with their eyes open. It must be remembered that in many places in Alaska the tourist season is short, and that the permanent population of the territory is normally less than 100,000 persons, or about one-eighth of the number of persons living in Washington, D. the frozen wastes of the Arctic | Those who choose Alaska as their circle and the fogs and williwaws future homes should do so with caution. There is little doubt that ultimately Alaska is destined to become an important crossroads at the top of the world. It is a natural way station on air lines to Asia and eastern Europe.

But Alaska itself, as well as those who settle there, will be better off if it has an orderly and stable development. It is hoped, for the benefit of all concerned, that sudden rushes of hordes of people with getrich-quick ideas but with no sustained interest in healthy growth, may be avoided.

Dam Projects Could Create A Million Jobs

Material Makers as Well As Actual Construction Workers Would Benefit

Jobs for thousands of skilled and unskilled workmen will be created in every part of the country when congress approves plans and provides funds for building more than 400 irrigation and power projects in that two-by-four backyard! . . . proposed by the bureau of reclamation in its $5,000,000,000 postwar inventory.

Although these proposed irrigation and power projects will be located in the 17 western states, where the bureau of reclamation since 1902 has been responsible for the conservation and wise use of water resources, their construction will cre- camps and liver pill signs, they ate job opportunities from Maine to make the best scenery on earth!

Behind every man on the construction job there will be one or more helpers who may be thousands of miles away. An employment analysis of the bureau's postwar inventory reveals that of the 4,250,-000,000 man-hours of labor required to construct all the projects about 1,650,000,000 man-hours will be required at construction sites.

Materials from 31 States.

The materials needed for reclamation work, of which such basic products as iron and steel, cement, electrical equipment and supplies, foundry and machine-shop products, and lumber are of primary importance, must be obtained from widely separated sources. Much of this material and equipment will come from the 31 states outside the arid and semiarid regions of the west. If funds are made available for construction of all the projects, bureau officials estimate that more than 450,000 men could be put to work the first year, less than half of these at construction sites. At peak employment in the second or third year almost 1,000,000 men could receive pay envelopes in dif-ferent parts of the country as a result of this mighty effort.

Agricultural and industrial enterprises in the West will help to support and give homes to servicemen and others who have expressed their desire to settle on irrigated farms. Of the 2,000,000 westerners in the armed forces, it is estimated that 265,000 will want to return to the land. Veteran legislation, authorized and pending, gives servicemen priority of settlement on bureau of reclamation projects. On some projects public lands will be open to homestead entry.

As of June 30, 1944, the remaining public lands — exclusive of areas acquired through purchase by the government for resettlement, submarginal land administration, military, or other purposes-consisted of 37.567,096 acres outside of grazing districts, 130,669,351 acres within grazing districts, or a total of 168,236,447 acres. Some portions of the west, in fact, have not yet even been surveyed by the government, as indicated by this diagram showing the ratio of unsurveyed areas in these states.

After returning from service

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

TOW long must we put up with my husband's postwar disillusionment and discontent?" writes Mrs. Harry Kling of Chicago. "He came back four months ago, and after the first delight at having him home again, honorably dis-charged, it has been nothing but difficulty and gloom. He was always a well-balanced man, affectionate, steady and contented. He is now nervous, critical, or—worse than all darkly silent for hours. He has gone back into his old firm of claim adjusters, and is making good money, with good prospects ahead. But I can't stand this sort of home life much longer. No harmony, no conversation, no plans, no fun. He is 35, I am 32; our daughters are 5 and 3.

"Harry wants to give up our comfortable apartment, where I have a part-time maid, break up all our pleasant associations, upset the girls' schooling-they go to all-day nursery schools-and move to the country. He has his eye on a sprawling farm 35 miles out, house in bad repair, 52 acres partly cultivated, tenant house of three rooms—the farmhouse has about seven rooms, electric light fixtures and plumbing 40 years old, and everything imaginable in the way of refrigerator, telephone, gas stove, linoleums, curtaining, painting, yet to be done Here he proposes we live for years -perhaps forever. I adore my husband. I have not loved any other man since I met him, at 20, but do you think it wise to pull up all scientific weapon in our power for our roots simply because he has been ourselves. That honor and charity emotionally and nervously upset by the war? Won't he outgrow this in time? Wouldn't it be wiser to wait, for the girls' sake and for all our sakes?"

My answer to this is, my dear Mrs. Kling, don't make the mistake of thinking that this fearful war, some of whose phases have ended, is like any other war that ever was. After peace negotiations with the powers of savagery and lawlessness are signed, sealed and delivered, we still have a titanic job ahead of usservice folk and civilians alike. This postwar job will not only be to preserve world peace, it will be to preserve world sanity.

A Shattered World.

It will not be only to keep a few hundred thousand depressed and mentally affected men sane; it will be to keep us all sane. This war has bitten too deep into the equilibrium of humanity; too much that is unthinkable and unbearable has happened. Europe will be peopled by millions of folk who have known what it was - for weeks, months, years—to be homeless, hungry, desperate. The sacred thing that is a man's right to work, to love, to serve his family, to build his home—has been outraged and destroyed.

Barren wastes of ashes and ruins words for what we have to do for our men now. Teaching, helping, will be wearily searched and combed by vaguely wandering hordes — children whose first experience of life was fright, fear, hunger. Women who have looked upon death, death in the mass, heaped hundreds of innocent women

PACIFIC:

New Campaign

Under heavy attack in the northern portion of their empire, the Japs face equally heavy pressure in the south, with Allied forces under command of Gen. Douglas Mac-Arthur moving into northern Borneo in a drive to conquer the island that easily could be the prelude to a campaign against the Indies and Rich in oil and rubber and possessing good ports and airfields for part in the discussions abroad, a thrust to the west, Borneo was overrrun by the Japs early in 1942 while the Allied cause in the Pacific still remained paralyzed after Pearl Harbor. With Jap shipping coming under increasing U. S. air and sea pressure, Borneo's value to the enemy has been sharply reduced, and Allied invasion forces met only meager opposition as they moved inland in the mountainous country. Though only lightly defending the comparatively communicable coastal regions, the Japs did fire the extensive oil installations located there in an effort to prevent their use by the Allies for future operations. Flames from the storage tanks and wells could be seen for

VETS CARE: Legion, V.F.W. Critical

Stung by the American Legion and V.F.W.'s ringing denunciation of the veterans administration bureau, congress moved to look into the whole question and give ear to the comprehensive program outlined by both service organizations for efficient functioning of the department.

With a spokesman declaring that the liberated country. Not directly the bureau may eventually have to included in the Moscow parley and handle the cases of 18,000,000 G.I.s, long at loggerheads with the Reds creation of a deputy administrator ference in Poland, the exiles under Gen. Though criticizing the overall operal crop year, Kansas undertook the harvest of 215,000,000 bushels of erations of the bureau, the American Legion and V.F.W. particularly rapped vet hospital care, charging that 47 per cent of the institutions now give inadequate treatment and citing instances of abuse in some centers. To relieve conditions, the organizations proposed increasing bed capacity; boosting wages; allowing authorities more leeway in securing help and supplies; more intelligent segregation of patients to speed glut resulting from the freight car recovery, and replacing army with

"Sunny Side Up"...

Following perfection of wirebound egg cases, "sunny side up" will soon be the new breakfast order of G.I. Joe overseas. Real eggs in the shell will take the place of powdered and canned eggs on the menu.

To ship eggs in the past in the shell took up too much shipping space and also gave trouble because of their fragility and need of some sort of refrigerating or cooling process en route.

During the last few months, however, the quartermaster corps has been experimenting in shipping increased numbers of shell eggs overseas, with its subsistence laboratory striving to engineer interior packing and an egg case that would have a combined strength and resiliency two years, there has been a notice to absorb shock and keep the eggs able drop in the number of new from breaking.

A huge system is being initiated whereby farmers throughout the country will have their eggs picked up daily, carried in refrigerated trucks to egg centers where they are candled and packed.

OPA:

Farm Prices

Passed by the senate as part of a bill extending OPA for one year, a provision requiring that farm producers be granted cost plus profit headed for rough treatment in the house, with Pres. Harry S. Truman joining to oppose the amendment.

Drawn by Senators Wherry (Neb.) and Shipstead (Neb.) and adopted by a 37 to 30 vote, the cost-plus pro-vision stipulates that "it shall be unlawful to establish or maintain against the producers of any livestock, grain or other agricultural commodity a maximum price . . which does not equal all costs and expenses (including all overhead expenses, a return on capital and an allowance for the labor of the producer and family) . . . plus a reasonable profit thereon."

While President Truman described the provision as bad and hoped the house would knock it out, other critics declared that it would create confusion by replacing the present parity formula, scaling farm prices according to general costs. Countering this argument, Senator Wherry said the provision would apply if parity prices failed to meet expenses.

SUGAR:

Set Quotas

Though distribution of sugar through the first five months of 1945 exceeded that for the same period in last year, the War Food adminis-tration fixed rigid quotas for government and civilian users for July-August-September, with the home front obtaining 10,000 less tons than and Joseph E. Davies, President Truman's special emissaries to at present.

From January through May, distribution of sugar totalled 2,955,906 short tons compared with 2,747,543 last year, it was revealed.

Reflecting criticism that the impending sugar pinch has resulted from loose allocations of the commodity in the face of over-optimism over supplies, figures showed that as of June 2 raw sugar stocks amounted to 275.746 short tons compared with 442,234 last year, the beet inventories totaled 374,052 short tons as against 465,222.

Bombs Take Heavy Toll A commander in the famed U. S. 21st bomber force in the Marianas, Col. Alfred F. Klaberer, estimated that 500, 000 Japanese had been killed in B.29 raids on Tokyo, with the possibility the figure might even be 1,500,000. "Look at Yokohama," he said. "One minute it is there and the next it has disappeared. I believe we killed 250,000 there."

bombs require the care of two or three people and the Japanese lack the per-sonnel to attend to the injuries, one 21st force medic opined the death rate must be enormous, Klaberer said.

SAN FRANCISCO:

Peace Force

With French delegate Joseph Paul-Boncour declaring that the conference was erecting "the keystone of the peace structure," the United Nations meeting in San Francisco moved to approve plans for the first international army, navy and air ernment in exile in London denied force in history. the authority of the Big Three to Directed by a military staff committee, with regional sub-committees throughout the world, the world peace force may draw on one-third because of alleged political inter- | of the U. S.'s present army and navy, American authorities recently estimated. All members of the United Nations will have to grant the international force free right of passage through their territory in the event of hostilities.

Use of the peace force will be subjected to the unanimous approval of the Big Five — the U. S., Britain, Russia, China and Franceand a majority of the security council of 11.

SHIPYARDS: Workers Needed

The rush of workers to peacetime obs is seriously impeding the construction as well as repair of war vessels, the navy revealed, with the situation equally serious in both west and east coast shipyards. With damaged vessels receiv-ing first call on facilities for repair, the building of new ships necessarily must await their fix-ing. With the Brooklyn navy yard in need of 5,000 additional workers at once, the new 27,000ton aircraft carrier Reprisal is five months behind schedule and the Oriskany is about half completed. Approximately 3,000,000 man days of work will be required on the super 45,000-ton flattop Franklin D. Roosevelt. Both east and west coast shipyards have been losing about 600 em-ployees a month in the shift to peacetime jobs, with the tight manower situation in the west reflected by the necessity to tow the famed flattop Franklin to Brooklyn for re-

PETS FOR G.I.S

Veteran war dogs no longer suitable for combat because of over age and not adaptable to scout duty are being assigned to army convalescent hospitals as pets and mascots for recuperating patients. If a hospitalized veteran soldier becomes attached to an individual dog, he may assume full ownership and take the dog home with him when he recovers and is released from the service.

Dogs given to the hospitals are those whose donors do not wish them returned, cannot be located or are willing to relinquish their claim to the dogs.

The dogs have undergone retraining by the quartermaster corps at its war dog training center at Fort Robinson, Neb., to remove all undesirable or aggressive traits acquired by reason of former training or combat duty. They have been given obedience training to reemphasize response to fundamental commands such as come, sit and WORLD-WIDE audience and hence a world-wide influence is claimed for the product of the Holly-wood studios. There is ample external evidence that this claim is not exaggerated. Indeed, it's only in the last few years that the public has become even dimly aware of how far-reaching the screen's influence really is.

And of course we of the industry itself are the last to learn these things. We can't see the forest for

Well, there are a few fundamentals that we can't get away from in evaluating the state of the world, present and future.

One of them is that if we're going to go on having wars all of us are going to suffer no matter who wins the victories.

Have you ever stopped to reflect that back in 1917 and 1918, when our country entered upon its first exalted crusade to make the world safe for democracy, nearly all of the present leading stars of motion pictures either were not born or were pretty young? There are some exceptions, of course.

Covering the Globe

Today they are serving the flag on all the far-flung fronts where duty has called them. They are flying airplanes, burrowing into foxholes, helping to man carriers, battleships, cruisers, destroyers, submarines. They're accomplishing dangerous missions with cameras, waging the deadly war of propaganda in which our American ideas and ideals are the high explosives.

Where are their children going to be 25 years from today?

Our statesmanship of today is America's legacy to its young men and women of tomorrow. Where is it going to lead us?

You might be surprised to realize how many toddlers cooing and gurgling in Hollywood nurseries today have a life and death stake in the answer to those questions.

Bumper Crop Surprised? When I compiled a list of Hollywood babies born in 1944 and 1945 I was astonished. I'm not drawing any distinction where babies are concerned, but one can't name them all. This war has taught us that we are really and genuinely a democracy; that our army, navy, and marine corps represent the people and are in very truth the people. So, from the ranks of our professional artists, here goes: Alice Faye Harris and her hus-band, Phil, have two baby girls. Same for Betty Grable and Harry James. Orchestra leaders both, the fathers, and famous, too. Glamour boys. So's Dick Haymes a glamour He and Joanne Marshall Haymes greeted a new baby last

Girls and More Girls

My! Look at the baby girls in my list! Here's Ann Sothern with another; the father, Lt. Robert Sterling. Ken Murray comes along with boy. Good for you, Ken. Martha Raye and Nick Condos had a girl. So did Jean Rogers and Danny Win-

And what's this? Nancy Coleman delighted Whitney Bolton's masculine pride by presenting him with Veloz and Yolanda produced a son. Benita Hume and Ronald Colman countered with a daughter.

Here's Ruth Hussey and Lt. Bob Longnecker adding to the female population; also the Eddie Brackens. Donna King and Lt. James Conklin, the Bob Crosbys and the Gregory Pecks relieved the monotony-their babies are boys.

And so we come into 1945. Rita Hayworth and Orson Welles were the first big time Hollywood mamma and papa of the year, and theirs is a girl. Eleanor Powell and Glenn Ford countered with a boy. Maureen O'Sullivan and John Farrow promptly announced a feminine addition to their growing family, but Susan Hayward hit the jackpot with twin boys. Jess Barker's the father. The Jack Carsons added a baby daughter.

Looking Into the Future

What a responsibility rests upon these young Hollywood fathers and mothers of little ones brought into this disturbed world!

We hear on all sides that what the world needs and is crying aloud for is leaders. Leadership. That, I think, no one will deny.

Fathers and mothers of this day, if you don't want to go through a repetition of broken hearts, sorrow, maimed bodies, wrecked minds and nerves a generation from now, better be looking alive right now!

And 'Twas Ever Thus

I asked Gene Fowler how he was coming along with "Goodnight, Sweet Prince." He said, "We're at a complete standstill. I may have to sell the thing after all. Isn't it funny? It's like a man standing on a street corner selling $5 gold pieces for a buck and nobody will buy. I've had fabulous offers for it, but no-body is willing to take it free." He wants all the profits to go to the motion picture relief home. . . . Lana Turner now refuses to do bathing pictures for magazines. country.

A Door Is Opened

Metro has let in a fresh breeze since its younger set has taken over. Kids such as Esther Williams, June Allyson, Gloria De Haven, Van Johnson, Bob Walker, and Keenan Wynn haven't been trained in the uppity regions. You don't have to go through conniptions to get to 'em. You just lift the telephone and ask, "Will you do this or that?" They They're cooperative-yes, and grateful. And I must say, it's refreshing. Maybe that's the reason these kids became so popular.

Reconversion has begun and it ooks as if one prediction, made back when conversion had been accomplished with many an ache and groan, would come true. Then the experts predicted that reconversion would be easier than conversion.

Eighty per cent of the factories, we are now told by officials of the department of commerce, will not have to do a major reconversion job. This is largely because many industries now furnishing supplies to the military will continue to manufacture the same supplies for civiliansclothing, food, printing, electrical appliances-you can think of a whole lot of others yourself. It will be no great problem for the makers of such products to shift from one market to another-from Uncle Sam to John Q. Consumer.

Some industries whose present final product differs considerably from the civilian goods they make won't have such major difficulties either. It will please the ladies to learn that even the folks who have been making parachutes will have little or no trouble changing back to stockings. The nylon people simply have to change spools.

There are a number of other pre-dictions concerning the future of businesses, big and little, and one of them is that 40 per cent of the industries, although they won't do the business they are doing today with Uncle Sam as a customer, will have a bigger demand to meet than they had in the boom year of 1929. And this condition will continue, say the prophets of profits, for two or three years on the impetus of the present pent-up buying power of the nation. If we keep our heads meanwhile, there is no reason why the period of prosperity cannot be

But what about the other types of business which were expanded by war demands for products which won't have any civilian market? Well, our American business ingenuity and our native mechanical inventive genius, they tell us, are going to step into the picture again. Then there will be the natural evolution which will eliminate the below-average business man and establish a survival of the fittest.

Yankee Ingenuity

Then one day he made something he liked so well he didn't want to part with the idea behind it. so he decided to manufacture it himself. It was a popular-priced magnetic compass for use in steelahead of my story. Sherrill was a born inventor, although he didn't realize it and started off to study law. After two years at the University of Chicago he found that his hunger for the law was appeased, his hunger for three meals a day was not. He went to a splendid way of raising it and thus work managing a little neighborhood achieving exactly what the governshoe store in Chicago. Dumas Found Innkeeper To Be an Appeaser

Alexander Dumas, while traveling through England, stopped one night at a country inn for supper. Unfamiliar with the language, he tried to explain to the innkeeper in hesitant English that he wanted some mushrooms served with his meat.

Despite the dramatist's attempt, the latter did not understand. Finally in desperation, Dumas drew a picture of a mushroom on a slip of paper. With that the innkeeper smiled, nodded his head understandingly, and withdrew. Several minutes later, he returned with a good-sized umbrella.

POULTRY BLACK MARKET. WASHINGTON. - The black market in eggs and poultry is so bad that the War Food administration been quietly probing the poultry black market in the Delaware-Maryland area with startling results. Their findings will reach high into Delaware state politics and perhaps into the Washington headquarters of the War Food administration and OPA.

Already Clifford Shedd, Delaware WFA official, has lost the authority to release poultry for civilian consumption from the army's set-aside, but his chief in Washington, Gordon Sprague, says he is taking full authority for anything that might be found wrong with Shedd's administration. Sprague has taken over direct charge of all poultry releases, but claims that he knows of no irregular action by Shedd.

Meanwhile, black market operations along both the West and the East coast are so serious that legitimate poultry and egg dealers are being forced out of business. The situation in New England, New Jersey and North Carolina is especially bad.

Tim Stitts of the War Food administration told Congressman Anderson's food committee that OPA should suspend all price ceilings on eggs in an effort to channel eggs back into the legitimate market. This immediately caused dealers to hold onto their eggs for a

But what they did not know is to suspend or even raise the price ceiling on eggs. OPA, under the these ceilings without formal request from the War Food administration, and this request has never been made.

Finally, the WFA may be forced to freeze all eggs in storage, permitting the army to take what it wants of them and release the rest for civilian market. Hundreds of thousands of cases of eggs are in private storage this year while their owners play for an eventual price rise. The black market on those eggs which do not go into storage is so bad that while creameries in Minnesota cannot get eggs, eggs from Minnesota farms are going via illegal chan-

He found perfect expression for his anger in what he saw on the surface of the mahogany table.

Consider the service the public gets on those western railroads where some are bemoaning the parallel lines. It is much better than upon eastern roads which control a monopoly of travel. This is true of the buying of all goods or services. It is true of hotel accommodations, of buying cigarettes, of renting a house or buying a dress. If one power (government or private) owns all the business, or is in control of the operation for any reason, the public interests are not well served. Of course, they attribute our experiences to a shortage of goods or help. That is true, but the economic effect has been the destruction of competition. The consumer could be told what to buy and at how much. He could not get it

There was Nazi socialism in Germany, so fresh in all minds and so repugnant to all people. Then there is the socialism of Russia, covering all Stalin's industry (he uses communism only for the farms) and this is not popular in our labor. AFL certainly is against it. Look at the differences in wage scales between Russia and U. S. and you will see why. Recall the experience of labor now in trying to get pay raises out of our government, and you will appreciate why the working man may think he can get more out of a busi-
