Three persons were killed and another critically injured in a head-on collision of an automobile and a truck on Highway 55, near the Wagon Wheel tavern early Sunday evening.

The dead are:
Mrs. George Nehrbass, 35, of West Bend.

Mrs. Jacob Gemendin, 74, her mother, also of West Bend.

S/Sgt. Elmer J. Haugen, 29, of Madison.

Jacob Gemendin, 83, husband of the dead woman, is at St. Joseph's hospital, West Bend, with a fractured skull. His condition is very critical and little hope is held out for his recovery.

Sgt. Haugen, a veteran of two years' service in Italy, was picked up in Milwaukee. He was hitch-hiking to Camp McCoy to be discharged.

The four were returning to West Bend from Milwaukee at about 6:30 p. m. when the car in which they were driving was struck by a semi-trailer truck driven by George Scott, 44, of Burlington, Ill., who is quite well known here.

The automobile was proceeding north on the highway and the truck, going south, collided with the car head-on. The top of the car was completely sheared off from the rest of the body, but remained upright in the middle of the road. All three were killed instantly.

Scott said he was blinded by the lights of an approaching car.

Victory Loan Drive Canvass of County Begun by Minute Men

For the eighth time, now in the victory loan drive, the six hundred minute men of the Washington County War Finance organization are canvassing Washington county from east to west, from north to south, from house to house, from farm to farm, to put Washington county over the top, Washington county's quota for sales to individuals in the victory loan drive is $971,000.00, virtually $1,000,000.00. This quota is broken up into quotas for each city, each village and each township, as shown boxed off separately on this page.

Each community field their minute man meeting on Monday night of this week. The minute men were given instructions for the drive and materials for the drive and now are out making their contacts. Washington county has an enviable record in war bond financing. In each and every drive, Washington county has gone over the top. Now, in this last and final drive—the victory loan drive—Washington county has a challenge to keep and retain this fine record for all time. As to whether Washington county goes over the top now is in the hands of the 28,000 men, women and children in Washington county who are the prospective purchasers of victory bonds in this final drive. Your minute man will make call on you. Be ready for him. Make your purchase as large as possible, for you are buying bonds—investing your money in the safest investment in the world—the United States of America.

All banks, post offices and savings & loan associations in Washington county are issuing agents for victory bonds. When your minute man calls on you, you can designate any of these issuing agents as the place you wish to purchase your bond. Your minute man will only ask for your subscription. You will then go to your own issuing agent and purchase the bond that you signified you would purchase when your minute man called.

In victory, there is still a job to be done. There are many reasons why victory bonds must be sold by your United States government. The treasury still needs considerable money for the following reasons:

1. Care of the wounded and rehabilitation of veterans.
2. Cancellation and termination of war contracts.
3. To prevent inflation.
4. Bringing the men home.
5. Maintaining the army of occupation.

The fighting is over, victory has been achieved; but the work of financing the aftermath of war is still a tremendous job.

Washington county in the past has won many honors in achievements in war bond selling. Washington county has been the first county in the state to go over the top in certain drives. Certain of the villages and townships have been the first in the state to go over the top. In this, the last drive—the victory loan drive—the biggest achievement that could be attained would be to oversubscribe our assigned quota by a greater percentage than any other county in this state. That can readily be done if every man, woman and child who is a logical purchaser of victory bonds will go all out in this last and final campaign.

Make the good news better: Buy More War Bonds.

Birth Data
Analysis of United States birth registration data revealed to Prof. Heriuf H. Strandkov, of the University of Chicago, that twins are more frequently born to Negro than to white women. Quadruplets, very rare among white births, occur more than twice as often among Negroes. There are four babies born at the same time to white mothers only once in every 570,196 confinements. Quadruplets are born to Negro mothers once in every 237,897 confinements.

Blooming Hats
It took clothes-ration points for an Australian girl to buy a hat. Knowing this, United States soldiers often brought to their dates special-made headpieces of fresh flowers. This custom, started by our troops, became the rage in hat-scarce Australia.

Progressive Century
The barometer and the thermometer were developed in the 17th century.

Heating Safety
One of the most notable innovations in safe heating is the wet base boiler in which water circulates under the ash pit. The fact that the boiler can be placed on a combustible floor is of interest in connection with the trend toward the basement-less house. In such houses it is often desirable to install the boiler on a wooden floor in a utility room or kitchen. Other safety features of modern boilers are foot-treadle door openers, ball-shaped, air-cooled handles and side shakers, making it easier to open and close doors.

Lucky Stones
Emeralds were once believed to be beneficial to the eyes and amethests were thought to prevent drunkenness, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica. The belief in lucky stones still exists.

Bath Banishes Blues
According to etymologists, the English word "bath" comes indirectly from a Greek word meaning "to drive sadness from the mind." Which goes to prove again that the classic Greeks were a modern people and that they knew the full value of bodily cleansing. Bathing frequently and thoroughly, and thus "drive sadness from the mind."

Plan Baths
If the man of the house has been accustomed to taking his daily shower in the morning, reserve this time for him. The children might bathe in the evening, allotting the time according to their ages and when they go to bed. The younger children might be bathed before dinner, older children later. Plan your own bath for whichever hour will give you the most relaxation.

Eggs Nutritious
Eggs help keep the body healthy. They make strong muscles and red blood. A child needs four to five eggs a week. An older person needs three to five eggs a week. Eggs may be eaten plain, or mixed in other foods.

Whip Soap Flakes
Whip your soap flakes in a little hot water with an egg beater and you will need fewer flakes and get better results.

Dramatically Styled Furs Have Look of Luxury and Distinction

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

THIS is a season of fabulous furs, distinguished by dramatic styling. It would seem almost as if miracles are being performed in fur manipulation. The regulation coats of the past, designed for the most part to keep you warm, are no more. A new era dawns in fur coat design, one that is breath-taking in luxury, in top-flight styling, in assured winter warmth and in all the finesses that women of fashion seek in fur coats.

Never a lovelier evening wrap could fancy picture than the exquisite stole of precious white Russian ermine shown in the magnificent fur revue presented recently in Chicago by the State street council. Note in the illustration herewith the superb grace and beauty of this enchanting evening wrap. The full deep cape at the back flows into wide front panels, which are heavily tipped with ermine tails. It is in such gracious modes as this that fur artistry reaches the ultimate.

The handsome coat illustrated at the right was also in the showing. This sumptuous model in black Russian Persian lamb brings a most important message in that it is high style this season to trim one fur with the same fur in striking color contrast. In this instance, natural gray Persian lamb is used in banded treatment about the wide bell sleeves of this very elegant black Persian coat. There is also a trend this season to trim one fur with another.

Smart Costume Suit

It's big news that the costume suit has returned to the fashion picture. The new note of elegance that prevails in current fashions is reflected in the revival of the old-time favorite that calls for a handsome two-piece done in quality-kind wool and choice fur trim with the thought in mind that it will, together with a wardrobe of intriguing blouses and various costume jackets and bodice tops of rich fabric plus versatile accessories, sum up to almost a wardrobe in itself. The good looking fine wool costume suit pictured, selected from a collection by Chicago Fashion industries, declares in favor of the new fitted tunic-coat version.

Ermine Accents Give Style Distinction to Costumes

There's news in ermine used as accent to the winter costume. Black suits are collared with ermine. Black satin gowns are belted in ermine and achieve outstanding style distinction. An ensemble of ermine that includes a hat with detachable wide cuffs will work magic in one's wardrobe as it is always in readiness to add glamour. A big bow of ermine is charming with the black evening gown.

ture, the list of fine peltry is most versatile. Coats of opossum, mouton, muskrat, raccoon, nutria and natural leopard have the look college girls want. Beaver is also high in favor and gray furs are very popular. The new "rage" among the younger set is daytime coats of white fur. Street furs stress mink of every type, which tunes right into the "brown" vogue that is sweeping the country. Mink-dyed muskrat makes a good showing too, while Persian lamb is a stand-by with women who like elegance without ostentation. Beaver has high fashion rank this season, and quite a little natural squirrel and seal are on the list.

The gorgeousness of evening furs baffles description. Rare platinum mink expresses luxury at its highest. Blond mink is charming and new looking. Fine black Persian lamb remains first choice with women of conservative tastes. Lovely white ermine, too, is scheduled for a busy social season. As to the dramatic coat silhouettes, they radiate a feeling of opulence as much as do the magnificent furs themselves, in that this season's coats are cut in such lavish lines as shown in the huge graceful sleeves with their wide and luxurious turn-back cuffs. There's grace and beauty too, in the generously-cut coat itself which often stresses a flare hemline. And as to lengths, it's the shorter types that major in the style parade. However, the full length models are not out of the picture. A smart model shown is a full length opossum sports coat.

You'll Need Plenty of Jackets and Skirts

A big vogue is on for the jacket and skirt costume. The fashion, besides being a most practical one, offers endless possibilities for a variety of costumes from the mix and match viewpoint. Something different this year in way of a fashionable skirt is the new wrap-around that comes in black, also in stunning bright colors. You get the jacket in a smart color contrast, orange with black, Mexican pink jacket with brown skirt, and so on. The blazer jacket is "tops" for practical wear, and the college girl buys this type first of all. Jackets in bizarre plaids or stripes vie with those made of plain fabric that play up one vivid color against another. The exciting new jacket theme this year is seen in the new corseway models in either narrow or wide wale. Their colorings are most attractive. New also are handsome little velvet jackets. The jacket and skirt costume is highly important.

Fabric Squares Are Used In Many Versatile Ways

You might like to know that you can buy patterns especially designed for making the beautiful fabric squares so popular this season into stunning blouses, skirts and a host of other items that will add to the glory of your wardrobe. It's amazing what you can do with these glamour scarves. There's real excitement in a gay dirndl skirt which you have made out of two colorful printed squares. Once you have begun you will want to keep on creating smart dress accents such as a charming blouse, contrast sleeves for a dress that needs uplift, and so on. You'll want to learn dozens of ways to use these squares and the instructions that accompany the patterns will help you to do just that.

Novel Fastening Made of Self Fabric Is New Note

An outstanding detail in present-day costume design is the novel fastening made of self-fabric that are used instead of buttons. Jackets in the newest suits are tied together with self-fabric cord or bows made of the fabric and used like ribbon. An especially unique fastening places a series of three little fabric covered buckles down the front of a jacket, the material drawn through, as in fastening a belt.

Goat Farming Offers Profitable Sideline

Easy to Feed and to Handle on Small Space

While there are nearly six million goats in the United States, less than 500,000 of them are milk goats. Milk goats offer a source of revenue to the small diversified farmer. Practically immune to disease and costing less than $3 a month to feed in winter, their addition to a project is worth consideration.

A cup of grain, handful of hay and a pinch of salt, together with a small lot for pasture, should produce 1,500 quarts of milk a year—milk that is in great demand by hospitals. Free from TB, with about twice as much iron as cow's milk, a naturally homogenized and easily digested goat's milk offers considerable opportunity to the small or large farmer.

A large milk goat will weigh from 120 to 150 pounds, and will produce three times more milk than a cow for her size. Good cottage, American and other cheese may be produced from goat's milk as well as a quality butter.

The most popular breeds at present are Toggenburg, Saanen, Rock Alpine and Nubian. Goat's meat, or Chevan, is a healthy, tasty food. The goat has four stomachs, usually has on hand at least one day's food requirements, and the missing of a meal is often beneficial. Like any other animal, goats will respond to proper feeding practices. Contrary to public belief, goats do not eat tin cans. Female goats are free from "goat odor." It is not recommended, however, that the male be kept near the house, or in cities.

Goats are becoming big business in American farming.

Improved Machinery Feed Crop Blower

This crop blower elevates chopped hay or cut straw, silage, threshed grains, shavings or other bedding materials to any desired height with a minimum of labor.

The blower shown above, manufactured by Papee Machine Company, Shortsville, N. Y., will put away a big load in short order with little or no hand labor.

Artificial Chicken Insemination Tested

Scarcity of quality roosters of some desirable characteristic can be overcome by the application of artificial insemination.

As one rooster can service 70 hens a week by this method of reproduction, it becomes of commercial importance within the industry.

Artificial insemination is also proving valuable in hybrid and cross breeding and in what would otherwise be forced or individual matings, or for hens kept in laying cages.

Other advantages are that older males may be used, a distance, rapid flock improvement made and that much of the disease danger is eliminated.

Control Sheep Ticks

A new method of killing tick and lice on sheep by the use of rotenone dust was announced recently by Cornell University. This sheep dusting powder is composed of rotenone, pyrax and motor oil. One quart of oil was used to 100 pounds of dust to hold the dust clouds down.

The dust is applied by means of a spray, or blower—power blower if available. The sheep are allowed to move through a chute, where they receive the dust direct.

Beef Plasto
A method of converting beef tendons into a tough plastic was developed by the University of Illinois. Tendons are trimmed from carcasses, shredded and tossed into glue vats. Acid breaks up the tissue, a chemical removes unwanted parts, leaving a cloudy, gelatinous liquid. It is then processed, tanned. Basic interest in the research was discovery of new stitching material for surgical use. It can be made into threads, shoe soles, or waterproof coating.

Plug Shakers
When refilling salt and pepper shakers that have corks in bottom, or which have fallen inside, remove the cork and discard. Then paste muffle paper over the hole. Or use adhesive tape.

Fires Costly
Every day in the U. S. there are 1,800 fires, 28 deaths caused by fire in 1,000 homes, 130 stores, 100 factories, 7 churches, 7 schools and 3 hospitals.

Bike Passenger
You invite disaster when you carry another person on your bike.

Dustless Duster
To make a "dustless" duster, immerse a large square of cheesecloth in a basin of strong, hot soapsuds. Let it soak for a while, then wring out and dry. When the cloth becomes soiled, it can be washed and retreated.

Defeated Nation
For the first time in modern history Japan is a defeated nation and for the first time in all history foreign soldiers will tread the ancient soil of Nippon.

Clever Washcloth
Here's a clever way to use up those left-over slivers and scraps of toilet soap. Put them into a small Turkish towel bag when taking a bath; this bag full of soap can be put into the tub and you'll have wash cloth and soap in one.

Cleaning Diamonds
To clean diamond rings, cover them with wood alcohol and let stand for five minutes. Remove and polish with white tissue paper.

Hanging Trousers
Best way to hang trousers is upside down using a hanger with clips.

Neighbors Will Appreciate Garden Gift Basket

(See Recipes Below)

Garden Gifts

Now that we once more have peace all over the world, we all ought to start our good neighbor policy right at home. Lots of little friendly gestures that mean so much have been forgotten during the war, but they should be reinstated.

Something that all of us with a garden can do is to share with a neighbor. There are probably lots of things that you yourself cannot use that would be welcomed by a neighbor. Send a basket of garden vegetables or fruit, all dressed up with fancy wrappings and ribbon, and see what a friend you can make. Incidentally, include a lemon or two to make it handy for the home-maker to season either fruit or vegetables.

Another gift that will be welcome is a set of your favorite recipes, with or without a basket of garden produce. Every woman has a few choice dishes which her friends have asked for, and it makes for more friendliness to be generous with the instructions.

Here are some brief suggestions which I'd like to pass on to you, particularly for vegetables:

If you find yourself short of salad dressings for a tossed salad, sprinkle 2 or 3 tablespoons of oil on the individual salad then squeeze lemon juice generously over this, salt to taste and toss the salad lightly.

To make a good, old-fashioned cole slaw, add the following amounts to 2½ cups of shredded cabbage: ¾ teaspoon salt, 1½ tablespoons sugar, 6 tablespoons coffee cream, and 3 tablespoons of lemon juice.

In making pickled beets, cook the beets first, then slice and cover with equal parts of lemon juice and water. Add sugar to taste, and slices of sweet onion, if desired.

Now that fall has come, we can start turning our attention to heartier foods again. Cabbage is a good vegetable to use because it is coming in season:

Stuffed Cabbage.
(Serves 5 to 6)

- 3 tablespoons uncooked rice
- 1 pound ground beef
- 1 egg well-beaten
- 2 tablespoons minced onion
- 2 teaspoons salt
- ½ teaspoon pepper
- 8 medium to large cabbage leaves
- 2½ cups canned tomatoes
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 4 tablespoons sour cream
- ½ teaspoon salt

Cook rice in boiling salted water until tender. Drain and rinse. Mix rice, ground meat, egg, onion, salt and pepper. Steam cabbage leaves in ½ cup water for 10 minutes. Fill leaves with meat mixture (½ cup to each leaf), fold leaf over meat and

Green Tomato Fritters.
(Serves 6)

- 1½ cups flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- ¾ cup milk
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 egg, well beaten
- 6 green tomatoes, sliced ½ inch thick

Beat egg, add to milk. Mix flour, baking powder and salt. Combine with liquid and mix to a smooth batter. Sprinkle sliced tomatoes with salt and pepper. Drain on absorbent paper and dip in batter. Fry in deep fat until golden brown. Other raw vegetables may be prepared in this way.

Strongest Textile Yarn Known

Soon to Become Available to Civilians

by ELIZABETH MacRAE BOYKIN

One of the most spectacular war-born fibers is soon to be widely available on the civilian market. This is called fortisan, a cellulose yarn derived from cellulose acetate said to be stronger than any textile yarn yet known to man. It's light in weight, has no bulk, shrinks less than 1 per cent, is resistant to moths and mildew, isn't affected by atmospheric changes.

This man-made miracle fabric had many uses during the war, notably as a parachute fabric for flares. It was used also for release valve cords for barrage balloons, for shroud lines, for parachutes, for airplane targets.

Now with peace, it is expected that fortisan will be used widely for curtains and drapery materials, for upholstery fabrics, for shower curtains. It doesn't take much to imagine what a boon and blessing

Lynn Says:

Refrigerate Your Foods: Refrigeration is necessary to most foods not only to preserve their appearance and palatability, but also to prevent food spoilage.

In most cases, temperatures of 40 degrees will take care of the situation. This temperature is best maintained.

Meat, milk, vegetables and fruits are extremely perishable and should be refrigerated immediately. Root vegetables do not need as low as 40 degrees and may be kept out of the ice box. Bananas need never be refrigerated.

Keep all foods covered except meat. Cover it lightly with waxed paper.

Fruit needs chilling, not freezing.

The crisper or open dish or even paper cartons are excellent for keeping eggs in the refrigerator.

Meat needs the coolest place in the refrigerator—right under the freezing unit. Bacteria multiply very rapidly unless it is well protected.

fasten with a toothpick. Arrange in saucpan, add tomatoes, bring to a boil, then simmer gently for 1½ hours. Mix flour, sour cream and ½ teaspoon salt to a paste; remove cabbage balls to a dish and stir sour cream and flour mixture into tomatoes. Bring to a boil quickly and pour over cabbage rolls and serve.

Green Tomato Mincemeat Pie.

- 1 peck of green tomatoes
- 1 quart sliced apples, fresh or dried
- 1 pound seedless raisins
- Salt
- 1 pound suet, chopped
- Cinnamon, nutmeg, cloves
- 2½ pounds brown sugar
- 3 lemons

Wash tomatoes. Cut in small pieces. Sprinkle with salt. Let stand overnight. Drain. Add sufficient water to prevent sticking. Cook 30 minutes, stirring frequently. Add lemon juice, grated rind and white of 1 lemon, cut in small pieces. Add apples, suet, raisins and sugar. Add spices to taste and a few grains of salt. Simmer slowly, stirring frequently, until tomatoes and apples are tender and flavors are blended. Pack in freshly sterilized jar and seal. Line a 9-inch pie pan with pastry and fill with 2½ cups of the tomato mincemeat mixture. Cover top with pastry, flute edges and bake in a 425-degree oven for 35 to 40 minutes.

For that Starry-Eyed look, rest your eyes! Cover them with a pack of cotton saturated with eye lotion, or a mild skin freshener. Just drift and dream for a few minutes. Then clever makeup and clever "making with the eyes" to capture his heart!

Take My Word

For It!

HANDBOOK OF PRACTICAL ENGLISH

Q.—Is there something wrong with the expression, "I didn't use to do it"? My English class really wants to know.

A.—Use to, in the meaning of "accustomed at some time in the past," is not sanctioned. The only form recommended is "used to." Your sentence, then, would have to be recast: I used not to do it. But it is awkward at best in the negative. In the positive, however, it is quite proper: I used to live in New York; we used to go to the same school; she used always to spend her vacations with us.

Q.—Whenever I read that, "The meeting was in charge of Mrs. John Doe," I suffer a mild nervous breakdown! The meaning is, of course, that Mrs. Doe had charge of the meeting. Can't you DO something?

A.—Strictly speaking, Mrs. Doe is in charge of, or has charge of the meeting. Also, the meeting is in the charge of Mrs. Doe; or the meeting is in Mrs. Doe's charge. But the form "the meeting is in charge of Mrs. Doe" has become so firmly established in the American vocabulary that I doubt whether a B-29 block-buster would even budget it.

It is thus that idioms are born, and, as it often happens, today's grammatical error is tomorrow's good usage. English is like that.

Q.—I am uncertain whether my use of "incredulous" was a slip of the pen, or merely a throw-back to days when "incredulous" was proper in the meaning of "incredible." However, that usage, say the dictionaries, has been obsolete since 1800—hey, what am I saying?

Bell Syndicate.—WNU Features.

"Colby, you're wrong," says J. W. of Paso Robles. "You recently spoke of 'the incredulous theory' . . . Teh, tch, tch. Really, it's incredible!"

New Way to Treat Post Poles With Chemicals

Scientists of the U. S. department of agriculture have developed a method by which farmers and other users of wood-lot trees can introduce chemicals into the sap stream of the wood to increase the length of service of fence posts, bean poles, garden stakes, and other utility poles.

The method is neither difficult nor expensive to use. The fresh-cut saplings are simply allowed to stand in a wooden tub or trough containing the right amount of chromated zinc chloride, zinc chloride or copper sulfate (bluestone) in solution, for a period of about six hours or until they have taken up the required amount of chemical. Tops of the saplings are supported by leaning them against a tree, building, or other support.

One pound of either of the chemicals dissolved in a half gallon of water will treat 1 cubic foot of wood, or the equivalent of a sapling which measures about 4 inches at the base and is about 30 feet tall.

Best results are obtained when the saplings are treated immediately after cutting from the stumps.

Overpopulation Problem For Fertile Cebu Island

Cebu island, taken by Yank forces, has several distinctions besides its rank as ninth in size among the 7,000-odd islands of the Philippine chain, says the National Geographic society. Its chief town, Cebu, was built on the site of the first Spanish settlement in the islands, and served as capital of Spain's new territory from 1565 to 1571. Including its related islands, Cebu, before the present war, constituted the most crowded province in the Philippines.

Lying between the islands of Bohol and Leyte on the east, and Negros on the west, Cebu stretches its 120-mile length from the Mindanao sea on the south to the Visayan sea on the north. Greatest width is about 20 miles. The area is a little less than that of Delaware.

Provincial administration extended to many near-by islands, among them the Camotes group to the east, Mactan off the east coast, and Bantayan, lying to the northwest. Total provincial population was about 1,068,000.

Fertile valleys yielded tobacco, sugar, cotton, rice and abaca (so-called "Manilla hemp"). Coconut groves fringe the shores. Despite good soil and mild climate, Cebu was rated a "poor" island, and its people found living difficult. Thousands went to neighboring Negros for seasonal jobs in the cane fields and sugar mills. Migration of land settlers to Mindanao island was aided by the government.

Chief items entering trade were abaca fiber, cotton fabrics, sugar, pottery, and native wines. Sponge fishing was important. Roads skirt the east and west coasts, and serve as trans-island links. A railway connected the city of Cebu with east coast communities.

Clutter and disorder around you while you work make you feel tired, even if you don't realize it. See whether you have good work centers for each kind of job, so arranged that you can route your work to save steps. Make a list of the tools you need in each center. Then get into the habit of putting each tool back in place after you use it, and don't let articles that have nothing to do with the job remain where you are working. For example, leaving the ironing board and iron around when you're finished with them. Keep the floor clear to avoid having to shift things out of your way.

Home Working Conditions Should Be Comfortable

Do you use your energy and muscles correctly? Are your working surfaces the right height so you don't bend over them as you work? Sink, ironing board, washboard and tub? You can raise the level of the dishpan by standing it on a varnished or painted rack or inverted pan in the sink. You can put blocks under the legs of the table, and make a stand for a portable washing tub. You can adjust most folding ironing boards to suit the comfort of the person who irons. In some cases stationary washstubs can be raised. All such changes make your work easier and cut down fatigue.

Do you have good light and ventilation where you work? If you don't, you will feel more tired at the end of the day. A room that is too hot or too cold or noisy may tire you when you work in it. If your tired state is due to long working hours, it will pay you to shorten the time for each task if you possibly can. Have you studied your various jobs to reduce the time for doing them and the number of arm motions made and steps taken? Do you wear suitable clothing for work? A plain, short, washable dress, or a overall apron, or slacks, and low-heeled shoes? So little a thing as a slipping shoulder strap or your underwear may tire you. Use shoulder tapes and be free of this constant and tiring annoyance.

Qualifications for Army Commissions

The typical young midwesterner with a college education has had a 50-50 chance of becoming a commissioned officer, while men with no more than a high school education have had the same chance of becoming sergeants but only one chance in four of being commissioned.

These facts were revealed by studies made before last July 1 by Prof. Robert J. Havighurst, of the University of Chicago, and Miss Mary Russell, who report in the current issue of the School Review.

Taking as the object of their study a typical midwestern county-seat town of 6,000 population, with a fair proportion of industrial workers, the writers found demonstrated in a new way the truth that a high school education is practically essential to advancement in present-day American life, whether civilian or military.

MODERN HEALTH TALKS

By ROBERT G. ROBERTS, D. C.

Questions about your health will be answered in this department.
Address your inquiry to this newspaper.

DIZZINESS

The most common cause of dizziness, or vertigo, are digestive disturbances, upset stomach, and abnormal conditions of the liver. There are, however, many other causes such as disease of the middle ear, Menier's disease, which affects the semicircular canals in the ear, eye strain, anemia, arteriosclerosis (hardening of the arteries), certain forms of heart and kidney diseases. Some brain conditions, nervousness, neurathenia, and nerve pressures in the upper cervical region also are factors. Excesses of alcohol and tobacco, and improper dietary habits will also produce this condition. Abnormally low blood pressure will nearly always produce vertigo. In order to prevent the occurrence of dizziness the primary cause must be determined and treated. But it is always well to feel that there is a certain amount of systemic toxemia present, and that various eliminative measures should be of value. The diet should be light—composed mostly of fruits, their juices, vegetables, both raw and cooked, milk and other dairy products, and possibly a few nuts, figs, raisins, and prunes.

Tea, coffee, alcohol, as well as rich foods, highly seasoned foods, spices and condiments are to be avoided.

Chiropractic and Physiotherapy can and does get at the causes of many of the above mentioned troubles—and thus many cases of dizziness can be permanently corrected.

Beware Coughs

from common colds

That Hang On

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

THE RIGHT TRACTOR FOR THE PARTICULAR JOB

THE proverbial Jack-of-all-trades was master of none. The modern world of science and technology passed him by.

The same principle applies to farm tractors. The tractor that does a wide variety of jobs unsatisfactorily can't possibly produce the greatest results at the least cost in any job.

But that's what the farmer—particularly the small operator—has got to do to meet postwar competition: he's got to produce the most food possible with the least effort and, consequently, at the lowest cost.

The farmer with 10 acres in truck crops needs one kind of tractor. The farmer with 100 acres in wheat alone needs another kind—or, as is usually the case, two or more different tractors. The tractor which does a good job on the Great Plains may be useless in the rice territory. And so it goes. Conditions of climate, the lay of the land, and the character of soils in the different parts of this vast country, together with wide variations in the nature of crops and the size of operations, combine to produce wide differences in the requirements for tractors. Harvester's policy is to meet all these requirements.

That is why Harvester's postwar line includes a great variety of Farmalls and other specialized tractors and attachments rather than a single tractor with a single system of tools. Every tractor in the line was developed after scientific research and testing under actual operating conditions showed the specifications needed for efficiency and economy.

Every Harvester-built tractor is the right machine for its particular job.

SNAPPY FACTS about RUBBER

Largest inflatable rubber units ever made (200 ft. long and 25 ft. high) were the pneumatic breakwaters used to control the waves on the beaches during the Normandy invasion.

The various raw materials used in the manufacture of tires came from 35 different states.

35.7 pounds of synthetic rubber are used up in driving a car 20,000 miles at 35 m. p. h. 61 pounds are used while driving the same number of miles at 50 m. p. h.

Camp Fire Girls Inviting All Jills Between 7 and 18 Years Old

Fun-Filled Program Aims At Development of Abilities And Rounded Personality

By MARY E. PENNOCK "So you're a Camp Fire executive," people say to me when I answer their "what do you do" query. "Let's see, aren't they little girls who light fires with only one match and fry eggs on hot rocks?" And I smile indulgently and have to admit that they have been known to do both things, but that those two examples hardly typify Camp Fire's activities. It's like saying that the Red Cross has "something to do with bandages, doesn't it?"

Camp Fire's field of activity is broad, seeking to give a girl an opportunity to try many things and so to find herself. The philosophy of the program is that girls "learn by doing," and if you were to glance through the "Book of the Camp Fire Girls," you would notice the long list (1,300) of things that girls may do to earn honors—notice

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE SEPT. 15 TO NOV. 30

Annual membership drive of the Camp Fire Girls extends from Sept. 15 to Nov. 30. Slogan this year is "There's Fun for Everyone in Camp Fire." A summary of the organization's aims: "Camp Fire Girls work for World Friendship. Their program is based on democratic ideals. It builds for happy home life, community service and better citizenship. Through seven life crafts, Camp Fire Girls have fun, make friends, and develop their skills and talents."

the word "do" not "know." These honors are grouped in seven different fields: home craft, health, camp, nature, business, hand craft and citizenship. Exploration into these fields has meant the discovery of a vocation to many girls. A star study session of her nature group at camp started one Minneapolis girl on a hobby that finally led her to the position of curator at New York's Hayden Planetarium.

We have no promises, take no oaths in Camp Fire, because we know that promises are sometimes broken. A girl expresses her desire to follow the Camp Fire Law, which is:

- Worship God
Seek Beauty
Give Service
Pursue Knowledge
Be Trustworthy
Hold on to Health
Glorify Work
Be Happy

The Camp Fire Law is really a philosophy of life, and a beautiful one. I think you will agree. A Camp Fire girl said to me recently, "Miss Pennock, the Camp Fire Law is so lovely it is almost like poetry."

They Join for the Fun. Girls, of course, do not join Camp Fire because it is good for them—a "character building" agency. They join because it is fun, because it fills for them a need of belonging to a group. Together with from 6 to 20 other girls, they have an opportunity to do things which they cannot do alone. They make their own plans, run their own meetings. I have seen more than one president of an adult group who could learn something from a Camp Fire group president about parliamentary procedure.

These days, when we are all thinking so seriously about making democracy work, Camp Fire groups

New Benefits and Opportunities Offered by Army to Recruits

The current campaign to enlist recruits for the regular army is assuming large proportions, for the need is great. Generous inducements are being offered to make the army career in peacetime as attractive as possible. The men of our peacetime army are the "Guardians of Victory."

A Camp Fire Girl (left) is from 10 to 15. Through the seven lively crafts she becomes well equipped to handle varied situations. A Blue Bird is a junior member between 7 and 10 years old. Through a program of games, story-telling, simple hand craft and war service, Blue Birds learn to work and play with other children. They become reliable while having fun. are getting a first hand experience in democracy. "Workshops of Democracy" is a term that has been given to Camp Fire groups. Girls are not dictated to by their leader. They learn to examine suggestions and ideas critically, to think things through sensibly, to make their own decisions.

Credit to Volunteer Leaders. We who work professionally in Camp Fire take little credit for its accomplishments. All credit is due to the tireless and loyal devotion of its thousands of volunteer leaders and the men and women in each community who make up its local councils. They serve the girls of their community through the Camp Fire program because they believe in youth and because they, too, have fun. Do not think that all the benefits revert to the girls. A Minnesota guardian, telling what grand times she was having working with her group of Camp Fire Girls wrote, "My former classmates, now grown

Common Sense Will Kill the Common Cold

"It takes a week to cure a cold, but it cures itself in seven days, runs an old saw. Though medical research is finding effective anti-cold drugs, a cold is self-limiting and unless complications set in, the sufferer gets well anyway.

We know that the cause of the common cold is a filtrable virus, and that the virus is highly contagious. Theoretically, the fellow with a cold should isolate himself during the acute two-day incubation period. But most cold carriers consider themselves too "irresponsible" to stay home, and consequently the rest of us are doomed to inherit the virus and catch cold.

Specialists say that during the first stage of an acute cold local nasal treatment is of no value and may produce uncomfortable secondary reaction. The medical profession is anxious to help the layman choose proper medication; because of the hundreds available, most do more harm than good. It is unfortunate that the alkalinity of certain nasal preparations has been so extolled over the radio. It is now known that nosedrops should be slightly acid. Of the available liquid nasal preparations, antiseptics and silvers are often more irritating than helpful, while gargles are usually ineffective in killing or even inhibiting bacteria, according to an article in Coronet magazine.

Sulfas Drugs Useless. While the sulfas have little or no effect on the common cold virus, they are effective against many types of bacteria and consequently may — when sprayed or dropped into the nose—serve a useful purpose in preventing the spread and shortening the duration of infection after the first acute stage of the cold. But there's danger as well as miracle in the sulfas and even these preparations should be used by the layman only on the advice of a physician.

There are also a great many nasal inhalers on sale. Yet, only three of them contain a therapeutic ingredient which actually shrinks the nasal mucous membrane and promotes ventilation and drainage. Those inhalers which are advertised to the public often claim to make

The general comes to his new assignment from the gigantic office of dependency benefits, which he organized and headed, and which kept the innumerable records and made the payments to the 16 million dependents of our army of 12 million soldiers. General Gilbert is a 49-year-old Pennsylvanian and the holder of the distinguished service cross, the distinguished service medal, and the order of the Purple Heart. He is organizing a vast new recruiting organization, and some 600 recruiting stations are being established, not only in the United States but in all parts of the world where Ameri-

Redhead Is Much Esteemed by Hunters

One of the most widely distributed of American wild ducks is the Redhead. It closely resembles the canvasback, and is distinguished chiefly by its chestnut red head. It is abundant excepting on the north Atlantic coast. At this season, millions of these handsome birds are moving from Canadian breeding grounds to the southlands, where they spend the winter from Virginia to the Bahamas.

Abigail Burt, and all of the Balls of Massachusetts are their descendants. Edward Ball of Stamford, Conn., went to New Jersey with a party of New Englanders and assisted in building the town of Newark. The southern Balls of this country are well known. Col. William Ball was the first of them to land in this country, and settled in Lancaster county, Va., 1650. He was a direct descendant of William Ball of England, who was the great grandfather of George Washington.

White starch shows on dark fabric. If starching is necessary, tint the starch before using. For brown clothes, tint starch with coffee or tea. For dark blue clothes, use bluing in the starch. Or use the ready-tinted starch on the market. Another way to stiffen dark fabric is with a gelatin dip. Soften two tablespoons of granulated gelatin in a little cold water, then dissolve it in two or three quarts of boiling water, and let cool to lukewarm. Dip garment in the water, squeeze and dry.

Dust One

By ANEL C. JOHNS McClure Newspaper Syndicate. WNU Features.

THE strawberries were shipped in early. They were flat, heart-shaped. Pinkish red. The centers came out with the stem if Pattie wasn't careful.

Pattie shouldn't have bought them. But she couldn't resist. She had always brought home the first on the market since that time just after her marriage when Philip came home, smelling of gasoline. There was always hard grease on his hands and sometimes on his pugnosed face. He stopped at the table, as always, for a preview of what was cooking and said, "Shortcake! Spring must be here. Spring, when a young man's fancy seriously turns to thoughts of love if he's married to a gorgeous dame like one Patricia."

But that had been four years ago. And strawberries always reminded her of the days Philip went away in the mornings and came back to her in the evenings. Never too tired to dance.

Pattie loved the way they moved in union. Philip holding her a little tight, saying, "You're like the music, Baby. You make me know that, if I never have anything more, I've got everything right now. For you I clean carburetors, patch flats. Pump gas. Pour oil. There's a ritzy dame comes into the station about twice a week. She's a looker! But, Baby, you outlook her even in curlers and cold cream."

Did Philip still feel like that? That she outlooked the lookers who danced with him at the USO clubs on his week-end leaves? The lookers who worked in canteens, during their bit for the boys? The lookers who flirted?

He was sent with his crew to England and no doubt met new people with strange ways.

Fattie was glad she had been a camp wife. That she had followed her Philip around, put up in a jail for two weeks in Georgia because there were no rooms available. Even slept in the back seat of the car at a filling station when she arrived in a town too late to find quarters.

She was glad that she had been with him the night he was shipped. The sergeant had let her stay. She and four other wives who had little to say that they couldn't tell with the pressure of their cold fingers.

Philip had looked into her face, upturned in the moonlight, until the tears stood at her lashes and her throat hurt.

"You're beautiful, Baby. Even now. I hate going before he gets here but I can't be the chooser in this game. Be sure to send me a cable. It'll be tough over there, waiting. I know it'll be tougher here." It was horrible back in their house alone. She tried having the wife of one of Philip's pals live with her. But the girl was morbid. She doted on horrors, especially those of the war.

Philip had said, "Don't sit around fretting about me. Worry is bad. I'll take care of myself. If I see a blockbuster coming at me I'll run like the deuce. I want to come home and find you just the same." Well, she wasn't the same. She'd been in the maternity ward without him to stand by. She'd come through the measles and a hand that little Philip burned when he pulled the percolator off the stove. The neighbors helped her when she had a bad appendix that the doctor finally removed.

Philip said, "Don't ever forget me, Baby. I won't forget you. The going will never be so rough that that can happen. I'll think of you every day. All day. And dream of you at night. Everything I do will be for you and the little one."

But all of that had been so long ago. She couldn't bring Philip back as she used to. At first she could make him sit in his favorite chair. Could hear his voice above the radio talking without words. Just the rumble of his deep voice. But she couldn't hear his voice any more. She had forgotten how he looked sitting behind the evening paper.

Suddenly her hands trembled. She crushed a luscious berry between her fingers. She was frightened. If she couldn't recall here, where Philip had been, how could he remember her, where she had never been?

How could he keep in mind their simple pleasures when everyone worked to entertain him and thousands like him? Time blots out everything.

She had tried to keep her hold on Philip. She had sent him pictures of the baby every month. Anniversary pictures, she called them. And snapshots of herself too. Being careful to look her best; careful to smile with the wrinkles in her nose about which Philip had teased her.

Little Philip came in from outdoors. His pug nose was red with the cold of early spring. His hands were smeared with a red sucker and there was a ring around his rosy mouth where he had licked the stickiness. His cap was gone and his reddish hair was every which way.

"Tan I have one, Muzzer? Dunt one?" the little boy pleaded, standing on tiptoe to see better. Pattie looked down. She had seen that face before. But it was older. She gave him the biggest berry she could find. "And one for Daddy," she whispered.

Bonneville Dam Project Bonneville dam controls the water of the Columbia river for generation of power and improvement of navigation facilities. The highest single-lift lock in the world permits ocean-going vessels to travel upstream as far as The Dalles, Ore., 187 miles from the Pacific ocean. The army engineers, who constructed and operate Bonneville dam, also made provisions to perpetuate the Columbia river's famous salmon runs. Scientifically designed fish ladders provide easy passage over the dam to spawning grounds on the upper river and its tributaries.

Metal That Never Fires As a substitute for war-scarce tin, beryllium with copper and with other metals forms hard, extremely strong alloys for tools and dies. Because it gives off no sparks, it makes good safety tools and surfaces for workers in factories handling explosives. Outstanding is beryllium's use in aircraft instruments. A combination of 2 per cent beryllium and 98 per cent copper in precision springs has the virtue of not weakening, no matter how often the springs may be stretched. Hence beryllium's reputation as "the metal that never tires."

Textile Finishes Remain Textile chemists are creating new fibers and new finishes to go on old fibers. Formerly the starches, dyes, soaps and metallic compounds used for surface finishes in muslins, percales, organdies, damasks and cretonnes and also the crispness produced by oils and gums in chintz disappeared after a few washings; but the coming new finishes for these fabrics will remain almost indefinitely.

Check Cabbage Worms Cabbage worms and cabbage loopers must be checked immediately. Up until the cabbage heads are four inches through, use paris green, calcium arsenate, and cryolite. As your cabbage gets to eating size, change to a rotenone-bearing dust. Collards, brussels sprouts, cauliflower, broccoli, and kale should be protected with the same dusts and sprays.
