GAMES THIS SUNDAY Plymouth at Kewaskum Adell at Belgium Canby at Boltonville Cascade at Random Lake Sheboygan Falls at Sheboygan Glenbeulah (bye)

In a tight pitchers duel before a large crowd of fans on the local field, Sunday between 'Mix' Marx and Schultz, the Kewaskum Utensils nosed out Glenbeulah, 4 to 3. The victory was Kewaskum's third straight in league play and kept the team in a first place tie with Campbellport. Each team has won 3 games and lost none.

Marx struck out 17 Glenbeulah batters, 11 of them in the first four innings. Marx shut out the opponents for six innings and they were helpless before his slants until the seventh. 'Mix' also led his mates to victory at the plate with four hits in five times at bat, one of them being a triple. Schultz, losing pitcher, also hurled a fine game and was the hero for his team. He fanned 12 Kewaskum hitters and gave up 10 hits, besides connecting for two hits in three trips. Marx gave up seven hits.

After 2 1/2 innings of shutout ball, Kewaskum broke the ice in the third frame with a 3-run splurge. Uelmen walked, Bath sacrificed and was safe on the pitcher's error. With two on R. Marx and Prost whiffed. Held singled to score both runners. Then H. Marx singled Held to third and the latter scored the third run on Kral's single a minute later. The Utensils led, 2-0, until the seventh when Glen garnered his first marker when Gunn singled, took second on Uelmen's error, went to third on a wild pitch and romped home when Prost erred on Rafter's grounder.

Still trailing 3-1, Glenbeulah came from behind in the ninth to tie the score with 2 runs. Knowles singled and Wiffer was safe on an error by Prost. Gunn sacrificed both runners and they scored on a single by Mooney. Errors were directly responsible for 2 of Glen's 3 runs. The score didn't remain tie for long as Kewaskum came through in the last of the ninth to win with none out. Marx singled and took second on a wild pitch. Kral immediately singled to push Marx across with the winning tally. Although winning, the Utensils were below average in fielding and hitting.

This Sunday Kewaskum faces the acid test and will have to be at its best to win. The team will tackle Plymouth on the local field. Plymouth is also undefeated to date and has been picked by many as the strongest club in the league. Up to now the Utensils have been playing tail end teams but Sunday they must face one of the top-notchers. Plymouth has a veteran, all-around good nine but Kewaskum is keyed for this game and expects to give them a hard battle. Hal Koopman, with his sizzling fast ball and assortment of curves, will be on the rubber for the visitors with Honeck or Marx opposing him for the locals. This ought to be a dandy.

County Vets' Association Completes Organization

With the formal adoption of articles of association on Monday evening, May 27, at a meeting at Goring's resort, Washington county war veterans completed final organization of the Washington County Veterans' association.

The meeting was attended by approximately 125 armed forces veterans, including four World War I vets. As outlined in the early stages of the associations formation, the county veterans have joined forces to promote and take an active part in the civic and patriotic affairs of townships, villages and cities of the county.

Atty. Stephen O'Meara, temporary chairman, opened the Monday evening meeting and introduced Atty. Arthur Snyder, Hartford. Snyder gave a brief resume of the purpose of the organization, stating the group would be non-partisan, that it would not be a fraternal nor a social group, and had no intentions of encroaching upon Legion or VFW posts in the county.

Circuit Judge Edward J. Gehl was present at the meeting and congratulated the veterans on the interest they are showing in the promotion of civic governmental affairs. He stressed the point that the continuation of good government is dependent upon the veterans' support, interest, and participation in the various government units of the county. Judge Gehl admonished the veterans of the need of avoiding conflict between various veterans' organizations in order to avoid spending collective energy in useless bickering.

Temporary officers were elected who will serve until permanent officers can be elected at a meeting to be held in June. Those elected were: Stephen O'Meara, West Bend, president; Leroy Wauterlin, Germantown, first vice-president; Al. Theusch, Kewaskum, and St. Michaels, second vice-president; George E. Kircher, Barton, secretary, and Robert Riley, Hartford, treasurer. Membership in the association is open to all veterans of the armed forces of the United States residing in Washington county.

On Sunday Miss Schief was surprised by her sisters, Mrs. Wm. Klein, Mrs. Roy Meyer and Mrs. Howard Meyer at the Schief home here. The bride-to-be was presented with a gift of furniture.

Police Officer Harvey Lemke Dies at West Bend

Harvey H. Lemke, 47, better known as 'Jim,' a member of the West Bend police force for the past 18 years, died last Friday, May 24, at St. Joseph's hospital in that city of a heart ailment.

A lifelong resident of West Bend, he was made assistant to the chief of police in 1930. Through his long association with the police department in our neighboring city, 'Jim' became well known by residents of Kewaskum.

Mr. Lemke is survived by his wife and three sons among other relatives. Funeral services were held from the Schmidt funeral home in West Bend on Monday. Masonic rites were held at Washington County Memorial park followed by burial there.

100 Scouts Expected at Moraine District Camporee June 1-2

Two Patrols From Kewaskum Will Attend Event at West Bend A preliminary check early this week revealed there would be about 100 Boy Scouts of Barton, Campbellport, Kewaskum and West Bend in attendance at the Moraine district camporee June 1 and 2. The event will be held in the West Bend city park in the area near the Boy Scout cabin.

F. J. Gilbride, camporee clerk, revealed that he had received registrations from two Campbellport patrols with a total of 15 scouts, one from Barton with nine boys, six West Bend patrols with over 40 scouts. Registration blanks had not been received from the Kewaskum troop but two patrols were expected from there and the registration of about 20 scouts from another West Bend troop was anticipated. Senior scouts of West Bend will act as staff aides.

The Moraine scouts, believing that the outdoor life of scouting is a very important part of a well rounded scout program, decided on the camporee for a part of the year's activities. A camporee is a program of camping overnight on an organized basis by means of which scouts learn and demonstrate their ability to practice scoutcraft and campcraft. By means of actual doing, observation and demonstration, it provides the means to better scout knowledge and appreciation of the art of camping out of doors.

The camp will open at noon Saturday with 2:30 p. m. set as registration deadline and assignment of camp sites. Planning of and preparation of their own meals is a part of the camporee and 5:30 to 7 p. m. opening day, has been set for the supper hours. A retreat ceremony is scheduled for 7:30 with a campfire program to follow at 8 o'clock and taps will sound at 10 p. m. Sunday's program starts at 6:30 a. m. with reveille, 7 to 8:30 for breakfast and from then to 12:30 p. m. has been set for the scouts to attend Sunday school or services in their respective churches.

The afternoon will be spent in project participation with 4:15 o'clock set as camp breakfast and checking out. Unit Scoring All units participating in the camporee will be under the eyes of judges at unknown intervals and patrols will be ranked on their point accumulation. Points will be earned on such points as use of camp site, equipment, food, safety and sanitation, program and activities, organization and leadership, etc. Awards will be presented to winning patrols.

The camporee staff has extended a cordial invitation to parents and friends of the scouts to visit the camporee any time during the two days.

U. of W. Freshman Courses are Offered at West Bend The city of West Bend has been selected as one of approximately forty cities in the state where the freshman year of the University of Wisconsin will be operated this coming year. It has been announced by L. H. Adolfsen, director of the extension division of the university. This is in keeping with a policy recently adopted to relieve, to some extent, the pressure on the housing situation at Madison.

Providing a minimum of thirty students are enrolled, the West Bend Board of Education has agreed to provide space and general assistance in carrying on the college work, which will start with the fall semester opening Sept. 23, 1946.

The course to be offered in West Bend will be those of the freshman year in the fields of English, history, mathematics, foreign language and a possibility of science and engineering drawing. Credits earned in these courses, which will be taught by regular faculty members of the University of Wisconsin, carry full credit at the university and will also, upon request, be transferred to any other accredited university or college which the student may later desire to attend.

Prerequisite for enrollment in the West Bend center is the same as that at Madison which consists of high school graduation and recommendation for admission to the university by the high school principal or superintendent. Students planning to attend the West Bend center this fall are urged to submit their application for admission at once. Blanks for this purpose are available at the West Bend high school or vocational school office.

Additional information may be had at any time by calling either the West Bend high school or vocational school office.

Outstanding County 4-H Safety Speakers Chosen

Audrey Peters, 15-year-old member of the Badger Boosters 4-H club, last Wednesday evening captured the title of outstanding 4-H safety speaker of Washington county at a contest held at McLane school, West Bend. Twenty-two contestants from all areas of the county competed in the contest.

Audrey will represent Washington county at a district contest to be held at Lake Geneva on June 14, in connection with the district 4-H leadership camp. She reports that she has spent months collecting material and preparing her speech entitled "Tractor Safety."

Phyllis Indermuehle, Jackson, member of Jackson Happy Hour 4-H club, was selected as second place winner. Other placings were: third, Mary Jane Lohka, Myranore 4-H club; fourth, Arlin Praederlich, Victory Center 4-H club; fifth, Hazel Janz, Welcome 4-H club; Erma Kurtz, Slinger Happy Workers, and Viot Bruendl, Pleasant Hill Troopers.

Mrs. Jack Reynolds, West Bend, and Miss Catherine Miller, speech teacher at West Bend high school, judges of the contest, found it difficult to choose the outstanding speeches and speakers as everyone showed a lot of work on preparation and practice for the contest.

The three winners will each receive an award of an expense paid trip to the district 4-H leadership camp at Lake Geneva. Two of these awards have been given by the First National Bank of West Bend and the other by the Wisconsin Gas & Electric company serving this area.

The names of the other contestants and the clubs they represent are: Doreen Arnold, Victory Center; Eugene Fay, Boltonville; Pearl Wagner, Welcome; June Lemke, Pleasant Hill Troopers; Frank Falter, Pleasant Hill Troopers; Donald Psek, Happy-Go-Lucky; Betty Lange, Trenton Rangers; Clara Mae Miller, Cedar Valley; Eugene Sawyer, Welcome; Marion Plam, Boltonville; Esther Kuyntz, Kohlsville Pioneers; Marjorie Mayer, Slinger Happy Workers; Dorothy Volkman, Cedar Valley; Betty Krentzfeldt, Victory Center; Florence Fiek, Happy-Go-Lucky.

Naturalization Deadline for Vets, Foreign Wars For the benefit of those veterans of the armed forces, the following information regarding naturalization of alien members is quoted by George A. Kilib, county service officer.

The special law which permits veterans of World War II, who have served in the armed forces between Sept. 1, 1939 and Dec. 31, 1945, to become naturalized citizens in a much shorter time and without the usual fee, will expire Dec. 31, this year.

Many alien members of the armed forces now serving or already discharged have not yet applied for the benefits under the special law. It is suggested that those who come within the provisions apply not later than Dec. 1, so their applications may be processed before the expiration deadline set by law. The law permits naturalization of qualified persons even while they are serving outside the United States.

Kewaskum All-Around Champs in Tri-County

In winning the championship in the Tri-County baseball tournament held on the local athletic field last Saturday, Kewaskum high school made a clean sweep of all the athletic championships in the conference this year. Kewaskum won all five of the athletic titles in the conference.

Last fall the Indians started off the school year by winning the Tri-County football championship. Kewaskum then went on to win the basketball title and also the championship in the district basketball tournament at North Fond du Lac at the close of the cage season. This spring the school won the baseball title in the conference in losing only one game and copped their fifth title Saturday in the conference baseball tourney here by shutting out Campbellport in the opening morning game, 8-0, and easily defeating Lomira in the finals in the afternoon.

FOOD WASTED HERE WOULD SAVE MILLIONS OF LIVES Former President Herbert Hoover, who is making a special study of the food and famine situation in Europe at the request of President Truman, stated recently that if we can help these people until the fall harvest, the worst of the famine crisis will be averted. If we tilt our bowls and lick our platters clean for the next few months, the seemingly impossible can be achieved.

But it takes everybody to do it! The waste of food may look small in each home, but multiply it by the 34 million homes in the United States and you can imagine the tremendous total. This food for all campaign cannot be a success with the co-operation of a few. It's not a "let George do it" or "my little bit won't count" proposition. It's a year campaign, and it's mine, on a voluntary basis. Great Britain has already returned to war menus of dark bread and less fats, Canada and South American countries are co-operating.

America has never failed in the past and we cannot fail now. This time we do not have dollars and cents at stake but human lives—millions of lives that may be saved if we are only willing to share.

GIRLS' SOFTBALL NOTES With the help of some new equipment we've added to the old, and with some very good practices behind us, we're going to do our best to win our first game. Without much chance to recuperate from the first game, our second game of the season will be played on the school grounds Saturday, June 1st, at 2:00 p. m. The visiting team will be Silver Creek.

At a recent meeting after practice, we were issued our uniforms. Both managers will sport blue and gold manager's jackets. We've also added a "batgirl," Shirley Keller, to our organization.

See you next week when we'll give you the results of the first two games. M. Bartelt, Ass't Sec'y

"ROLL OVER, PET" . . . Terrell Jacobs, noted lion tamer, has one of the big cats do his stuff. He once appeared with 150 animals in one of Johnny Weismuller's "Tarzan" pictures.

AT THE CIRCUS

Lion Tamer Has 538 Stitches Where Big Cats Clawed and Bit

By AL JEDLICKA
WNU Features

There is no doubt that the lion reigns as the king of beasts, says Terrell Jacobs of Barnes Brothers circus, which opened its summer swing in the Chicago stadium. On the question Jacobs, who has broken over 500 beasts in 25 years, is even led to philosophize a little.

The lion is king, says Jacobs, because the Creator made him to be king by supplying him with a great bony mane underneath his neck which prevents other beasts from ripping his jugular vein while he claws them to pieces.

Expert that he is, Jacobs has had his close calls in the cage and he can show 538 stitches on his body to prove it. Where the scarred flesh is depressed, that's where he was bitten, and where it's jagged, that's where he was clawed.

No less than 54 wounds were inflicted up in Minneapolis, Minn., where a leopard, frightened by the collapse of a wall of the arena, leaped from its stand and mauled Jacobs around before it was driven off. On another occasion, one lion came at him in Peru, Ind., and three others joined in to clamor atop of him before one cat came to his rescue and snapped at its attackers.

"No, it wasn't any case of loyalty," he adds. "The rescuer just saw a good chance to rip into some of the others it didn't like."

Cats Are Not Loyal

Cracking his whip and firing his 38 revolver, Jacobs enters the huge circular cage to get the roaring and snarling cats to climb up onto their stands and sit, and then clamor down to be down in a cluster before him. While shaggy "Sammy" walks a tight-rope and rolls a barrel to him, "Sheba" rises on her haunches to follow Jacobs in a ponderous walk.

Born to the circus, the stocky, muscular Jacobs is the coolest person in the house when he steps into the cage. Precisely because of the danger which confronts him with each performance and the prime importance of headwork in handling beasts, he must remain cool to assure his own safety.

Young Ones Easily Injured

When it comes to taming lions and tigers, headwork plays the chief role, Jacobs says. By studying the antics of a cat, a trainer can obtain a knowledge of his peculiarities and then strive to counteract them. For instance, when Jacobs first sought to teach a lion to roll a barrel to him, the cat would slide off the sloping end and upset it. Failing to get the animal to push the barrel ahead, Jacobs then fastened an angle iron flange around the center to cut into the dirt and hold it straight. In that way, the lion was taught to keep an even count.

In training lions, Jacobs starts

American Circus Is 100 Years Old

The great circuses of America are on tour again, just as they have done for more than 100 years. And again they include equestrian exhibitions, gymnastic and acrobatic performances, with variety added by the quips and fooling of the clown.

The modern circus dates from the close of the 18th century. Traveling circuses were heard of before 1830 in both England and America, and after 1850 assumed great dimensions. Among the earlier ones were Hengler's, Sanger's, and Barnum and Bailey's. Col. William F. Cody (Buffalo Bill) and his Wild West show traveled all over the world and gave performances before the crowned heads of Europe.

Now a Big Business

The construction of permanent circuses known as coliseums and hippodromes has given new life to the circus, furnishes a variant on the itinerant show of enormous dimensions which moves about the country on special railway trains. Barnum and Bailey's circus is still in existence, and along with Barnes Bros., Besty's, and others, continues the grand tour every summer. The 1948 season is expected to be one of the biggest in history, since most circuses were unable to travel during the war years. Wild animals, most of them trained to perform for the crowds, continue to be the foundation of most circuses.

Buffalo Bill Born 100 Years Ago

William F. Cody, the colorful scout and showman who became world famous as "Buffalo Bill," was born in Scott County, Iowa, in 1846, 100 years ago. He died in 1917, and is buried near Denver, Colo. Cody began his career in 1866 as a rider for the Pony Express, later joining the Union army as a cavalry scout during the Civil war. During the construction of the Union Pacific railroad across the plains west of Omaha, he contracted to furnish the laborers with meat. Known throughout the West, Cody had a ranch near North Platte, Neb., and later went to Wyoming where he helped establish the Shoshone irrigation project. The town of Cody, Wyo., is named for him. Most people will remember Cody, however, for his great Buffalo Bill's Wild West show. A parade always preceded each showing, with Cody riding at the head of it, his long white hair about his shoulders.

Barnum Built 'Greatest Show on Earth'

The man who is reputed to have said that there was "a sucker born every minute," and who lost a million dollars himself, gave America its first great circus. He was Phineas Taylor Barnum, who was born at Bethel, Conn., in 1810. His first venture in the show business was the exhibition of a Negro woman who claimed to be 167 years old. He ran small shows in the South, and established Barnum's museum in New York in 1841, where he exhibited Gen. Tom Thumb, the famous midget. He made a huge fortune as manager of Jenny Lind, the singer, but lost one million dollars when he went bankrupt at Bridgeport, Conn. He managed to start again, however, and in 1871 established his "greatest show on earth." His circus, which eventually became Barnum and Bailey's, toured the United States annually and even visited Europe.

Passage of Housing Bill Spurs Building Program; Hoover Asks World to Join in Famine Fight

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of "Wisconsin Statesman" and not necessarily of this newspaper.

FAMINE: Hoover Reports

Back from his globe-girdling famine survey, former Pres. Herbert Hoover called for additional voluntary food conservation on the part of Americans and also declared that the co-operation of Russia and South American states would greatly assist in tiding hungry areas over the critical pre-harvest period. Though stating that he saw no instances of actual starvation on his global whirl, Hoover was quick to add that available food supplies were at a dangerous low in many countries and famine would result if supplies were not replenished. Even after trimming requests of some countries, Hoover declared that over 14 million tons of food were needed until the next harvest, with the United Kingdom requiring 4,000,000 tons; France, 1,750,000 tons; Germany 1,375,000 tons; Italy, 775,000 tons; Poland, 540,000 tons; Czechoslovakia, 290,000 tons; Belgium, 200,000 tons; Greece, 175,000 tons; Yugoslavia, 150,000 tons; Spain, 140,000 tons; Austria, 125,000 tons; the Indian subcontinent, 1,800,000 tons; and China and Japan, 875,000 tons each.

In asking Russia to share some of its surplus grain and calling upon South American countries to ship up deliveries, Hoover said the U. S. shipment of 450 million bushels of wheat during this crop year is an unparalleled achievement. In all, the U. S. is expected to provide 4,225,000 tons of cereals; Canada, 2,300,000; Australia, 825,000; Argentina, 1,275,000; Russia, 300,000; plus lesser amounts from the United Kingdom, Brazil, Burma and Siam. Hoover's announcement of world food needs followed close upon the department of agriculture's prediction that continuing drought in the Great Plains states would cut winter wheat production by 80 million bushels under the April 1 estimate. The crop now is set at 747,875,000 bushels.

DIPLOMACY: On Dollar Basis

Having used its great material resources to balance the scales for allied military victory over the axis, the U. S. now is acting to employ its tremendous wealth for the stabilization of political conditions abroad to promote free exchange between nations. Popularly known as "dollar diplomacy," the administration's first open application of the policy in the postwar period was to Poland and China, where Communist influence has been strong and shaped to serve Russia's political and economic interests.

In the case of Poland, the U. S. suspended a $0 million dollar credit to the Soviet-sponsored Warsaw government on charges that it had violated its pledge to increase freedom of movement within the country. First, the U. S. said that the government had censored an American reporter's dispatch regarding a critical speech made by a Peasant party leader, and second, it had failed to publish terms of the U. S. credit providing for political freedom in Poland.

Taken back by the U. S. action, the Polish embassy in Washington declared that it could categorically deny that any censorship existed in Poland, and explained that the terms of the loan had not arrived in Warsaw in time to permit their publication up to the time of the U. S. credit cancellation.

Meanwhile, Gen. George C. Marshall was given full control over a proposed half billion dollar loan to China in his efforts to weld the Nationalist and Communist forces together into a central government and create a unified country.

HOUSING: Get Going

Welcoming final passage of the veterans' housing measure designed to push construction of 2,700,000 new homes by 1947, Housing Expediter Wilson Wyatt cheerfully exclaimed: "The program now can be thrown into full gear." Worked out by house and senate conferees, who labored to draw up a common bill from two different pieces of legislation, the measure represented a victory for the administration forces in that it provides subsidies of 400 million dollars to increase the production of building materials. Earlier opposed by the house, the subsidies later were approved on the strength of administration arguments that such payments would boost the flow of construction supplies without increasing the cost of new homes.

In addition to the subsidy provision, the new housing bill authorizes the government to increase home mortgage lending by one billion dollars, extends priorities and allocation power to channel materials into low-cost and medium-priced residences to December 31, 1947; establishes preference for vets in purchasing or renting new structures; gives the housing expediter broad authority to order changes in material pricing regulations, and empowers him to limit the export of lumber as long as scarcities exist in this country.

INDIA: Seek Compromise

As a result of the collapse in negotiations for Indian independence because of Moslem demands for a separate state, the British delegation's statement on further steps to be taken for resolving the deadlock was expected to provide a basis for compromise discussions.

In originally making its offer for Indian independence, the British government had declared that Moslem demands for a separate state should not block plans for freedom.

Taft Looms as 1948 GOP Hope

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator

Along about June of any election year, when a lot of simple souls are thinking about moonlight and roses, electric fans, and where to go for a summer vacation, a lot of longer range planners are wondering about next winter's coal supply, harvest time, and many other things a lot further away than the fly on your nose. Among these are the politicians.

It's a great time to lean back in a chair in the Senate office building or thereabouts, open another bottle of White Rock, light another seegar, and burble on about what's going to happen come November, and still more intriguing, prognosticate on presidential possibilities.

It's fun for the peacemakers because it's so easy for them to predict, in the light of what's happened right now, just what will happen then. It's still more fun for the old timers because they know that the voters who may not love you in the autumn often seem very paltry in the spring—and vice versa.

Since there isn't much use in speculating on who the Democratic presidential nominee will be, it's more interesting to talk about Republican possibilities.

Perhaps that is why, along about the middle of May, the heavy backers of Bob Taft began to be heard from. Up until then, most of the talk in the corridors was how Bricker was the No. 1 boy, and how Stassen mustn't even be mentioned above a whisper. Even Stassen's own men decided it was better for the young man from Minnesota to keep his head down so he wouldn't attract any lightning until he had found out whether his forums were more potent than the against-ems'.

Now it's getting to be more serious fun to talk about Taft. Taft wants to be President. He has wanted to be President before. He is pretty much master of the Republican organization, but even if he weren't, Bricker, his present friend and rival, is more "beatable," despite the good impression he made on his speaking tour before the last convention. . . . what with the leftist look in so many veterans' eyes.

Bricker has a staunch and solid conservative following. But it is a little too solidly conservative. Taft could hardly be called a radical. In fact, his political garden has never produced even a pale and lonely supporter prudently can point to many a constructively liberal measure which has had his blessing.

Only the other day, I was talking with an ardent administration official who has been battling for a measure badly battered by conservatives of both political stripes. I asked him if he could expect to retrieve in the senate a certain provision in his legislation, lost in the house.

"Oh, yes," he answered. "Bob Taft will go along on that."

And Taft has a good liberal record on such mass-appeal measures as housing.

The Republicans don't have to deal with the old-line bosses to the extent that the Democrats do and in two of the larger cities where the Republican machine is vital—Philadelphia and Cincinnati—everything would be jake so far as Taft is concerned. He, himself, is kingly in his home state organization . . . and Mr. Pew, who makes the Republican wheels go round in Pennsylvania, wanted Taft in '48 and '44. It is to be presumed he'll feel the same in '48.

This doesn't eliminate other brilliant possibilities, including Messrs. Stassen and Vandenberg.

Mr. Vandenberg has done a lot of the molding himself. This could work both ways. On the one hand, the energy and devotion with which Mr. Vandenberg has applied himself to foreign affairs, and the powerful influence he has exerted, have greatly increased his silhouette on the international horizon. On the other hand, these activities, both in quantity and quality, have taken him far afield from the usual political approach to a Republican presidential nomination.

It may be there is a niche in the making that would need a man of his proportion to fill but one Democrat said to me the other day: "Sometimes it looks as if Van would rather be right than President."

CASUALTIES:

Latest casualty lists for World War II released by the war department set the number of army battle deaths at 225,238 for all theaters, and total casualties at 948,412.

The difference of 723,174 between the total casualties and the total deaths represents 691,536 returned to duty, 16,273 currently carried as wounded

DESERT ROSE

By ROLLIN BROWN

Deputy sheriff Jim Doane sets out to track down a gang of robbers who had held up a train two days earlier. He follows their trail in the desert dust of San Loreto county until his horse dies from a rattlesnake bite. Then he travels on foot, seeking water, until he collapses. Three days later he awakens in a bed, having been picked up by four horsemen led by a girl. When he calls out for a drink of water, a tall man, Monte Garcia, enters. Later Jim meets Dolores Alvaro. He is charmed by her beauty. Garcia tells him that the house is close to Sand Wells, and that Jim was near the town when he fell in a coma. Jim thanks him, but points out that there is a warrant out for Dolores.

CHAPTER IV

"Yes?" asked Doane. "Well, that's beside the point. But my story isn't."

"You expect me to deny it, your story?"

"I expected you to—yes. I see you don't. Then why the first lie?"

For an instant something sinister flashed in the strange Spanish eyes; then Monte Garcia smiled suavely.

"It will be best if you do not call me liar," he said. "Not many men do."

"Maybe few have caught you lying."

"Ha! That is true." Then the smoulder came to the eyes again. "Lis'en, my friend. We have had your story; now we will have one of mine. Both true. You are ready to listen? Eh?"

"Shoot,"

"My story," began Monte Garcia, with a smile of a man of twenty years old. The first part of it. It makes me a young man, younger than you. But already I have skill with my hands. Always my hands are my fortune. They shuffle the cards, they deal. Jus' nineteen years old I am, but I manage a table in the Star La Rue Silver Palace, up in Maxmilla City. In these days many men come to the Silver Palace. It is legal in those days. You wish to hear this story, senor?"

Alvaro Family Was Evicted From Ranch

"Shoot, I said," mumbled Doane. Monte smiled slightly, and continued.

"It is legal, yes, yet this Star La Rue is not the man to care for things legal after all. Even in those days, the other way pays better. La Rue has one-two ranches of his own—an on the side, as you say, he buys cattle. Where do the cattle come from? That is not the question La Rue asks. You see? If cheap, he buys. Then one day he buys something more than cattle, but without greater price. You shall hear."

"Senor don Pío Miguel Alvaro has one splendid rancho, far down here, which La Rue see, and which La Rue want. Don Pío must sell cattle every year, to make profit. So Star La Rue comes to him, and says: 'Don Pío, I hear you have five hundred head of cattle to sell this spring. That true? All right. I will give you twenty dollars a head, jus' as they come—big, medium, or small. What do you say?'"

"Done!" says Don Pío swiftly.

"The price is high for those days. Ver' high. So Star La Rue, with his men all around him, draws papers for the deal an' tells Don Pío to sign. The papers are written in English, which Don Pío does not read ver' well. But then he is only selling cattle, an' the money has come to his han' already. A bill-of-sale is customary in an honest deal. So Don Pío puts his name there, an' other men with La Rue they sign."

"This rancho," says Mister La Rue after a while, "is a good rancho, Don Pío. I think I will like it, an' the price was cheap, considering that I also get all the stock. Don Pío, I will not hurry you to move from my rancho, but be gone in ten days."

"In ten days," continued Monte Garcia, "the men comes down from San Loreto an' forces Don Pío, his wife, an' his baby daughter from the house. Because he does not read English well, you see, Don Pío has signed one deed for his whole property, not a bill-of-sale for some five hundred head of cattle. Star La Rue's men are witnesses, an' each states it is certain Don Pío understood when he took the money. Now it would only seem he wanted to back out of the deal by lies, which is not allowable. Do you understand, my friend? All this happened long ago."

"I understand," Doane nodded stiffly, paused. "I can tell you other stories of the same kind. Twenty years ago this was a pretty lawless strip of country. But the past is past. Today is today, and things have changed. I'm one of the men that's helped to make that change."

"So?" said Monte, with a faint smile. "You are giving me a peek at your own hand, now, senor?"

"You know who I am," said Doane.

Monte smiled. "Of course. All along Mistaire deputy sheriff Doane. Telegrams through the railroad, if for no other reason. But my story is not finish." You wish to hear what follow, also? Eh?"

"Yes. Go ahead."

"Buen, then. An' the scene is still the same," continued Monte. "Still in Maxmilla City. Still I shuffle the cards, play the game, for I have a living to make, an' cards are the things I know best. Yet the time now is not long ago; maybe two-three years past, not longer. But there is change, as you know. Now gambling with the cards is no longer legal in this state. A new law has been passed. This makes difference in Star La Rue's Silver Palace. La Rue himself has changed—in the daytimes he is respectable, vice president of a certain Maxmilla City bank. Only on occasional nights—or when something happens—does he come to the Silver Palace, which operates now behind guarded doors without music or many lights. None the less, all kinds of men come there to gamble."

"There is one old man with a ver' bitter face who comes. He does not have much money, but he plays regularly. He likes my table sometimes. I think he is waiting for something. An' perhaps I have one better memory for the Spanish faces than another man. Anyhow, I know this of fellow—he is Don Pío Miguel Alvaro, once owner of the Rancho de los Tres Hermanos, down in this country. Usually he loses at the cards. But always he comes back, waiting for that something."

"Then one night it happens. It is luck! Senor Alvaro wins one thousand dollars. Half he puts back, wins again. Twice more. Loses. For an hour the play goes. But when the ol' man finally stands at his chair, he has broke the bank of Star La Rue's illegal gambling palace. It is twenty-five thousand dollars he has won!"

"Star La Rue is called. He comes like one animal. He gets the ol' man aside."

"Play once more," he says. "Play your luck once more—against me! At another table!"

"For one thing," says the ol' man firmly. "Down in San Loreto County you have a rancho, senor La Rue. It is called Rancho de los Tres Hermanos. I would like to wager against that rancho."

"There is much debate. For one thing the rancho is worth more than twenty-five thousand dollars. On the other hand, the old man is about to walk away with all the money he has won, or so Star La Rue thinks. So they compromise. The ol' man gives back to La Rue his winnings, to be kept no matter how the cards fall. That evens matters. The Rancho de los Tres Hermanos is put at stake on one matched draw of the cards."

By the time the hubbub had forced Flick to the Sand Wells scene in person there were no tracks. The bandits might not be tracking in Flick's own county, to be sure; but more likely in any one of the three adjacent counties, or another state. Wherever they were, the pressure was all on Flick.

Add to this the fact that Star La Rue had shamelessly given all of his private ideas on the Alvaro girl to the railroad officials, the sheriffs of other counties, and the two local county newspapers. With election time not distant, Sam Flick was rapidly winning the reputation of a sheriff that couldn't run down a young girl, who did what she pleased in his county—and it was plenty, in the rumors—and laughed at him. In the beginning, Flick had privately thought that there was something "gutless" in the fact that a man like La Rue couldn't settle private matters with a mere woman, a girl, without focusing all public attention on his own little stock-rustling case with such magnified significance. But Flick couldn't repeat this idea in public without the same reflection being doubly cast on his own character—and not for any little case of stock-rustling.

Eight days had passed since the night of the hold-up at Sand Wells, and the ninth dawned with equal lack of promise. The sheriff had been back from his own trip to Sand Wells for some forty-eight hours, returning by way of Maxmilla City. If he now took a posse into the desert he knew it faced failure; if he didn't, he failed before he began, with corresponding criticism. Flick's one hope was Doane.

Better than eight days now since Doane had left for the scene. Nothing had been heard from him. Nothing was known, except that he had ridden promptly north on the supposed trail of the fugitives. Doane was the very backbone of Flick's law enforcement, and in his secret heart Flick recognized the fact. It added to his helplessness. Day by day he had confidently expected Doane's return. In Sand Wells, he had confidently expected to see his deputy ride into the horizon at every turn. Such delay had meant just one thing to the sheriff at first: Doane had hit a hot trail, too hot to drop, hanging on alone. Doane might do a thing like that. Knowing his deputy, the only thing Flick didn't expect was utter failure.

The sheriff sat over his office desk—brooding, sweating, irritable. The hour was mid-morning, the ninth day.

"How are you, Sam?" Flick spun around, like a top. Stared a moment, and relaxed in his chair with an audible sigh.

"Well—Doane! Here you are at last!"

They shook hands, and Flick puffed: "Let's get to business. Things sure in a mess! What happened? Where are they? Who pulled the job? Was it that Alvaro girl?"

"Say, you haven't got an arrest up your sleeve, have you?"

"No," said Doane. His hand reached out and something hard dropped from the palm onto the smooth surface of Flick's desk. "No, Flick. No arrests. Just nothing, except—Well, there's my badge."

Flick stared at Doane for a long, long time. An unbelieving, stumped expression came over his red face.

"Your badge?"

"My badge," repeated Doane. "My resignation. I'm no longer a deputy sheriff in San Loreto county. I resign the position."

Flick's eyes grew. His face took a purplish cast.

"But, but—" he stammered. "You—you can't do that!"

"I already have," said Doane.

Flick's hands were grasping the edge of the desk so hard that the knuckles were white.

"I—I never thought I'd see you fail, Doane! Break! Quit!"

"And you haven't—yet!" said Doane, leaving.

STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO

By VIRGINIA VALE
WHEN Penny Singleton and Arthur Lake hit New York they just never stopped going; the stars of the movie's "Blondie" series and the CBS Sunday show are popular young people, and some of the season's nicest parties were given for them.

"I haven't seen anything of New York, really," said Penny. "And what do you think happened to me? I gave my clothes to the hotel valet to press, and I guess 'Dagwood' did my black crepe dress; it was pressed up and down instead of across, so now it's a lot longer than it was, and so tight that I look just like a sausage in it!" But with that cute face and wide smile, nothing could spoil her looks.

When you see Paramount's "The Imperfect Lady," look at the driver of the carriage in which Teresa Wright and Virginia Field ride. He's George Jenner, who was carriage footman to Queen Victoria for two years, 1892 to 1894, the period in which "The Imperfect Lady" is set. He met arriving foreign potentates and conducted them to Buckingham palace. So it's practically type casting.

"If at first you don't succeed, try, try again" and think of Ray Milland. The world seems to be his since he made "Lost Week-End," but he made three trips from London to Hollywood before he finally hit his stride as a film actor.

For a brief Shakespearean episode with Sonny Tufts and Michael Chekov in "Cross My Heart," Paramount rented a set from John Carradine which is reported to have purchased for $50. Paramount paid Carradine $400 a week.

When George Burns and Gracie Allen take their summer vacation—June 6 to August 29—Meredith Willson will carry on for the summer, with the King Sisters and Ben Gage.

If you're interested in the career of a prospective Warner Bros. star, don't miss seeing Dorothy Malone in "Janie Gets Married"; she's one of eight players being groomed for stardom. She also has a leading role in "Cry Wolf," in which Errol Flynn and Barbara Stanwyck star.

Irene Rich, who makes her first film appearance after five years' absence from the screen in Republic's "The Angel and the Outlaw," owns and operates a 1,000-acre ranch near San Bernardino, Calif.

You'll see Ann Richards walk up a staircase, turn and go out of sight in "The Searching Wind." That was the last shot of the day, and the company ganged up on her; Director William Dieterle asked her to do it once more. So up the stairs and out of view went the blonde star. Then she came back, and found that while she was on her way up the whole company had quietly beat it.

Bill Edwards recently introduced his screen sed to his fiancée, Hazel Allen—took her to a Paramount projection room where "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" was being run off. And she confessed that she'd gone to see the picture some time ago, after a hard day at the doctor's office where she's an assistant, but couldn't remember anything about it; seems she slept right through it!

Frank Redick told this one at a "Crime Doctor" rehearsal. Two elephants at the zoo were crouched back to back. When a third elephant joined them he was told to go away because they were playing. Playing what, he asked. Why, book ends!

ODDS AND ENDS—Roland Cilex, whom Paramount imported from England to play Olivia de Havilland's mid-aged swain in "To Each His Own," returns to Hollywood to play her sister, Joan Fontaine, father in "The Emperor Waltz."

... Sterling Hayden's resuming his acting career at Paramount. ... Herman Goering's jewel-encrusted hunting knife now hangs on the wall of Alon's den. Evelyn Keyes lost so much weight when she had the flu that it cost Columbia plenty to remodel the clothes she wears in "The Tolson Story."

... Most of the "Cheyenne" cast got bit by sandbars during the first day's shooting out of doors.

Hal Peary, star of NBC's "The Great Gildersleeve," will rush to New York for a three weeks' vacation when his air show goes off the air after the June 9 broadcast. Then he'll return to Hollywood to do an other movie in the "Gildersleeve" series.

By special permission of the Los Angeles police department, Ann Sheridan may carry a pistol. She got the permit after her home at Encino was looted. She's also had "Peeping Tom" trouble.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

LOAN TO BRITAIN WOULD PROMOTE SOCIALISM

WASHINGTON.—The senate debate on the proposed loan to Britain has conspicuously ducked the fact that the British government is lavishly buying its way into socialism. Some of the senate newsmen, who are the senator's severest critics, attribute the void to the broad lack of knowledge among politicians of financial matters. They should charge it, instead, to the masking operations of the Attlee government. Not even the most learned financial authorities of the empire can ascertain how the Attlee treasury has taken over the Bank of England and the mines, or how it is proceeding now to take the cable and wireless companies, railroads, steel and whatnot. The operations have been covered with secrecy and confusion worthy of an Eisenhower invasion of Europe, in which false moves and rumors were used to conceal the real intent from the enemy.

Yet sufficient general evidence is available in the government bills proposed in parliament to piece together a general outline of the scheme. Each industry is being seized in a slightly different way. The government has steadfastly refused to announce a general policy. But the actions taken so far warrant the following conclusions:

The government is buying its nation with debt. It is purchasing industries by offering government stock or securities to private owners for their private stock and securities. The price paid is rarely divulged, but seems generally to be the current market value, or better.

GOOD PRICES OFFERED

The London Times analyzed the processes so far in an effort to offer some worthwhile advice to holders of railroad securities who may be next, and reached this conclusion: "Whatever method of nationalization is adopted, railroad stocks should be retained." In short, the Times concludes the government will offer at least the current market value or better for the railroads.

Only in the taking of the Bank of England did the government tell what it was really offering. Then it gave a 3 per cent government bond for stock, but guaranteed dividends until 1966 equal to what the Bank had paid in the past 20 years. In the purchase of the coal industry, alone did the treasury permit free sale of its substitute stock (there is a big debt in coal and operations have not been profitable). So the general conclusion is inescapable that the socialism of Britain represents the government issuing stock to the same people who held the private stock, at market prices, often promising them the same dividends, and in effect guaranteeing them against losses, while depriving them of influence in operations or the right to sell their stock.

This is an expensive operation. In effect, it transfers the debts of industry from private ownership to the people as a whole, making the treasury liable for success of the enterprises, atop all the war debts. How will it work out? Not a man alive can guess. Offhand you might reasonably conclude that if the industrial operations continue profitable, the government may break off in 20 to 25 years as contemplated. If business becomes unprofitable, the people in their taxes, will have to foot the bill—as well as the American taxpayers who are furnishing this proposed loan. Furthermore, it may be difficult for a labor government to promote profitable operations because such a government must be amenable politically to wage increases and increased operating costs for public service.

MANIPULATION POSSIBLE

But these simplest truths may not stand the test of time, because government can do anything. As it has let money rot, it can allow its special securities for each of these industries in years ahead to find levels less burdensome upon the treasury. Only imaginations unlimited can possibly conjure the limitless possibilities. Mr. Attlee's arrangers are keeping things that way. In the cables and wireless bill, there is no clear indication of prices to be paid for the involved holding company stocks. Apparently price is to be established by private bargaining between the treasury and holders of the stock.

Yet these astonishing and perplexing developments in socialism have caused remarkable little interest among the plegmatic British. The public likes to look at the surface of things (indeed has no opportunity to do otherwise in this instance) and on the surface fair exchange seems to be no robbery. What difference does it make if the stockholders get a government security of the same value and interest rate as their private stock? So say the British of all classes.

The best commentary is offered by one of the personal items on the front page of the Times. Before the war this classified column was studied with most interesting revelations. There has been none of these notes lately, but many are like the one which offered for sale a genuine prewar leather golf bag for "20 pounds or any offer." Imagine it! A second-hand golf bag offered for $80... or anything.

At such prices, and in its lavish buying of socialism, the few billions offered in the proposed loan cannot last long.

Household Hints

To avoid cutting the material when removing buttons, slide a comb under the button and cut the thread with a razor blade.

A light dessert is best after a full, substantial evening meal. Keeps you from feeling groggy the remainder of the evening.

Make a paste of cornstarch and rub into the grease or mud spot on the rug. When paste is dry, brush it out with swift, strong strokes. Grease and mud comes with it.

Have a place in the kitchen where you can sit down to do your work—and use it.

Fold household linens over the clothesline with hems together. Prevents their tearing in the wind.

A pretty decorative effect may be achieved by slipping pressed leaves under the cellophane cover of the lamp shade.

Equal parts of linseed oil and vinegar will remove ink stains from wool.

COUNTY AGENT NEWS NOTES

SPRAY NOW FOR MUSTARD CONTROL
Farmers interested in having grain fields sprayed for wild mustard control should file their requests with the county agent's office not later than June 1. Sprays for mustard control can be most effectively applied when the grain seeding is about four to eight inches high. With the present supply of moisture in the soil, it is thought that the first week in June will be about the right time for spraying fields infested with mustard. A charge of $3.75 per acre will be made. Since sprays can be injurious to young alfalfa or clover seedlings, however, such injury may not necessarily be extensive. Some injury is readily offset by increased yields in grain which is often one-third or more greater on sprayed as compared to unsprayed fields.

When Weather Is Sizzling, Try Mint Ade (See Recipes Below)

Refreshing Drinks

For a simple meal at home, for that brief stop in the afternoon when you want to relax and cool off, or for a light company snack, there's nothing quite like the cool, frosty drink. Whether you are a husky eater or a dainty snacker, you'll want to keep these refreshing recipes on file for these hot, summer months.

One woman I know keeps cool drink ingredients on a special cotter in the pantry so the beverages can be ready at a moment's notice. She also keeps dainty cookies on hand so there's always refreshments if company comes or if the children get especially hungry before dinner.

Glasses can be garnished with mint leaves, lemon or orange slices, puffs of whipped cream or marigolds. The rims may also be dipped in beaten egg white and a bit of sugar to give them that delightful, frosty look.

For beverages that add nourishment as well as sparkle, consider these milk, egg and fruit drinks. See that the children get some of them often.

Fruit Float, (Serves 4)

2 eggs, well beaten
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup raspberries or strawberries

Juice of 1 orange

Cracked ice
Combine eggs, salt, water, sugar and berries. Mix to dissolve sugar. Add orange juice and lemon juice. Beat or shake thoroughly. Pour into tall glasses half filled with cracked ice. Garnish with a few whole berries.

LYNN SAYS

Quickie Lunches: Broil liver sausage slices just slightly, serve with creamed lima beans, sliced tomatoes, fruit and milk and cookies.

Leftover ham can be creamed with peas and served with shredded carrot and raisin salad, peaches and cream and a beverage.

Don't forget a dish of garden vegetable soup makes a well-balanced lunch with toasted peanut butter or bacon and tomato sandwiches.

Pork sausage links are awfully good on baked potatoes with cream gravy. A light salad of lettuce, fruited gelatin and milk tops off the meal.

Spanish Rice can be made quickly and served with a few strips of broiled bacon, a chopped vegetable salad, floating island pudding and a beverage.

When you're serving frankfurters on a bun, spread the bun with mustard mixed with butter. Accompaniments: glass of tomato juice, hot or cold, a chilled mixed fruit salad and cookies.

Plan for Years, Not Months, Starting to Furnish Nursery

By MARION ATKINS

In the first excitement of the baby's arrival, it may be hard to resist the fluffy concoctions which too often prove entirely useless a few weeks after the baby's coming, and which seldom are easy to keep spotlessly fresh. The frilly basinettes with cascades of lace and ribbon, no matter how decorative, is better foregone for one that is easily kept fresh with laundering.

A friend when recently faced with this decision bought the largest undressed basinet on wheels which she could find. She padded it with cotton sheeting and made a floor-deep flounce of white sheeting attached to a draw string and fitted to the top of the basinet. For trimming she used the baby's monogram embroidered in creamy beige. The hood she covered in a quilted, washable rayon satin. The baby used this basinet for more than four months and it was kept spotlessly

Milk and Honey Nectar, (Serves 1)

1/2 cup mashed banana
1 1/2 tablespoons orange juice
1 1/2 tablespoons honey
1 drop almond extract
Pinch of salt
1 cup milk

Mash banana. Add fruit juice, honey, salt and flavoring. Mix well. When ready to serve, add cold milk and beat with egg beater. Garnish with whipped cream and serve immediately.

Pineapple Mint Punch, (Serves 6)

3 cups cold milk
2 cups cold pineapple juice
1/2 cup coffee cream
1/2 cup sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons lemon juice
Pinch of salt
12 drops peppermint extract

Combine all ingredients in a shaker or beat with egg beater until foamy. Pour into tall glasses half filled with cracked ice. Garnish with a mint sprig and serve immediately.

For the adult crowd, there are an entirely different set of beverages which are certain to delight. Both of these have coffee as a base. Do not use leftover-fruit-morning coffee, but make it fresh.

Brazilian Chocolate, (Serves 4)

2 squares unsweetened chocolate
1 cup strong coffee
5 tablespoons sugar
Dash of salt
3 cups milk

Add chocolate to coffee in top of double boiler and place over a low flame, stirring until chocolate is melted and blended. Add sugar to salt and boil 4 minutes, stirring constantly. Place over boiling water. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Heat, then beat with rotary beater until frothy. Cool. Pour over cracked ice and top with whipped cream.

Iced Coffolate, (Makes 1 quart)

1/2 cup ground coffee
6 cloves
1 1/4-inch stick of cinnamon
Dash of salt
4 cups milk
2 squares unsweetened chocolate
1/2 cup sugar
1 tablespoon flour
1 egg, well beaten

Add coffee, spices and salt to milk and heat in double boiler until scalded. Strain and return to double boiler. Add chocolate and heat until it melts. Mix sugar and flour and add gradually to chocolate and cook and stir until thickened. Then cook 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Cool slightly; pour over egg and blend. Chill. Pour over ice.

THAT AIN'T HAY
A dealer was arraigned on charge of delivering a load of hay without a weighing certificate. During the trial the prosecutor asked, "Has this man been out on bail since his arrest?"
"Yes," the defendant's lawyer replied. "On his own bail."
"That," roared the judge, "is the last straw!"

GOOD LOGIC
He—Do you believe in the hereafter? I want a kiss.
She—What's the hereafter got to do with a kiss?
He—That's what I'm hereafter.

"Your cough is much improved this morning," said the cheerful doctor.
"I'll take the credit," the irate patient replied. "I've been practicing all night."

BASEBALL UNIONS

Unionized baseball is now in the works. We may yet see the regular umpires replaced by the NLRB with Bob Wagner stepping into "Happy" Chandler's shoes and the battery for the day including J. Caesar Petrillo or John L. Lewis.

The next few years may bring a demand for the five-inning game!

Possible news from the baseball game of tomorrow:
CHICAGO, MAY 30.—Today's game with the Yankees was stopped in the third. Players on both teams refused to continue until they were granted the right to examine the company books.

PHILADELPHIA, JULY 2.—Following the walkout of the home team and the Boston team here yesterday both clubs were taken over by the government today. Connie Mack was carried out by four members of the state militia. President Truman promised the fans the balance of the season would see the best games of which the Democratic party is capable.

NEW YORK, JULY 15.—Before the game could get under way here today both club owners had to submit to a demand that no pitcher could be removed from the box without six weeks' notice, subject to immediate reinstatement unless sufficient cause shall be established in hearings before joint state and federal boards.

Large crowds were on hand to see the first contest played under the new union rules which entitle the batter to five strikes.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., AUGUST 10.—Fans who arrived here early to see the teams warm up were surprised to find that all pre-game practice had been abolished by the National Labor Relations board following a two-months huddle on union demands. The board upheld the players' contention that batting and fielding practice constituted capitalistic exploitation of the ball players, deprived them of spare time to which they were entitled as free men and was in violation of the Wagner act.

ST. LOUIS, MO., AUGUST 4.—The new rule, under which all the pitchers on any one ball club get full credit for any victory won by any one pitcher, went into effect here this afternoon.
Next week will inaugurate the newly won union concession under which no errors are publicly called or published.

BOSTON, AUGUST 22.—No game today. Contest called off on account of picketing.

INES TO BOBBY SOCKERS
"It is a sorry thing when the most publicized American girl is the one who wears a man's dirty shirt, a sagging shirt and socks bogging around the ankles. The hobby sockers are awful!"—James Monaghan's Flag.

War Vets and Street Signs
A sergeant, now stationed at Okinawa, wrote home asking for the street signs from the corner of Church street and Flatbush avenue near his home in Brooklyn. The city promptly took them down and sent them to him. Ex-Pfc. Oscar Purkey wrote in today to state that he understood perfectly the desire of the Brooklyn man. "I felt this yen for street signs, especially when the fighting was on. In the Battle of the Bulge I asked for the signs from the corner of Riverside Drive and Shubert Alley at once. That shows you how groggy I was," he writes.

PEACE AT LAST
The highest priced private in the world is James Lewis Triplett of Vallejo, Calif., who has just enlisted in the air service. He has a wife and ten children, the kids ranging from under a year to 9 years of age. To make provision for all these, Uncle Sam pays Private Triplett between $300 and $400 a month. This is not paying a man to serve his country, it is underwriting a needed rest and a little quiet.

Veterans' SERVICE BUREAU

EDITOR'S NOTE: This newspaper, through special arrangement with the Washington Bureau of Western Newspaper Union at 1616 Eye Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., is able to bring readers this weekly column on problems of the veteran and serviceman and his family. Questions may be addressed to the above Bureau and they will be answered in a subsequent column. No replies can be made direct by mail, but only in the column which will appear in this newspaper regularly.

New Vet Hospitals

President Truman has approved the construction of three new veterans' hospitals and the transfer of the site of another to immediately expand the VA medical service, according to an announcement by Gen. Omar N. Bradley, veterans' administrator.

The site for a tumor clinic of 600 beds at Hines, Ill., has been transferred to a site adjacent to Northwestern University at Chicago, so as to be in proximity to the medical school.

New hospitals authorized are a 500 bed general medical and surgical hospital in Indianapolis for eventual expansion to 1,000 beds; construction of a 1,000-bed general and surgical hospital in Boston and a new 500-bed general medical and surgical hospital in Omaha, near the Nebraska medical school.

Since Pearl Harbor, more than 325,000 World War II veterans have been admitted to veterans' hospitals, more than a third of these treated for service-incurred disabilities. Seven per cent are disabled from tuberculosis, 23 per cent from neuro-psychiatric conditions and 70 per cent from general medical and surgical disabilities.

Questions and Answers

Q. I would greatly appreciate if you would aid me in getting information about my husband, who was reported missing in action on Leyte from November 9, 1944, until February 5, 1945, when he was finally reported killed in action. I have received no details from the government as to what actually happened, and I have not received any of his personal effects so far. Also packages mailed to him after his death have not been returned. I thought if you would insert this question in your Veterans' Service Bureau column I might possibly be able to get some details from a veteran who happened to have gone through the action on Leyte and would know my husband. He was Pvt. Ross I. Sensibaugh, Company C, 21st Infantry, Mrs. Moema Sensibaugh, 2715 Pattee street, St. Joseph 38, Mo.

A. I would suggest that you write a letter addressed to the commanding officer of his company and also a letter to Casualty branch, Adjutant General's office, War Department, Washington 25, D. C. And I hope that some veteran will read your question and write to you.

Q. As we are parents of a son who served in World War I, and as we are Gold Star parents would like to be informed how to go about receiving a pension?—Mrs. R. A. W., Tannersville, N. Y.

A. Write or go to Veterans' administration unit office at Poughkeepsie or office at Albany.

Q. I would like to know why some young men in the service can get out on 6 months service and some on 8 months, while others are in 3 and 4 years and still serving.—Miss E. H., Gayville, S. D.

A. Some get out in less than two months as a matter of fact, mostly due to disability for physical ailment.

Q. My son has been in the army since September 11, 1944, and overseas for over a year with the 77th division and now with the 74th military government in Japan. We need him on our farm because our 16-year-old son can't carry the increased spring work alone and my husband and I can't do any more than we are doing. Is there any possible way to get our soldier son's release for his much needed help at home?—Mrs. R. E. H., Isaquah, Wash.

A. There are a good many thousands in your position, but there are still many thousand men in the service much more eligible for release than your son. However, if he can make out a hardship case, he should apply to his commanding officer for a release on those grounds.

Q. I entered the army in April, 1942. My father died and I was discharged August 20. I remained in four and a half months. Can I get the Bill of Rights?—A Worried Farmer, Bowman, Ga.

A. If you received an honorable discharge and had at least 90 days of active service you are entitled to benefits of the G. I. bill.

Q. My son died in Germany January 5, 1946. We want his body brought back to the USA and to have this done, who should we get in contact with? Will we have to bear any of the expense and do you have any idea when our boys' bodies will be brought home?—Mrs. E. C. R., Sanger, Texas.

A. Legislation is now before congress, providing for an appropriation and method of bringing the bodies of American soldiers, sailors and marines interred in military cemeteries abroad, to this country.

Q. A mother's son by her first husband was killed in World War II. Can she still draw his pension and the $10,000 insurance if she marries a second time?—Mother, Hickory Flat, Miss.

A. Yes, a mother may draw pension and insurance, if she is beneficiary, if the son was killed in action, as her second marriage does not destroy her status as a dependent. If a son is in service, however, the law presumes the mother is no longer to be dependent if she marries the second time, and hence she is not entitled to an allotment.

Child Will Be Happy Over a Lawn Chair

A PINT size lawn chair is great fun for children. It adds interest to any group of outdoor furniture and you will find that it is often used by grown-ups instead of an ottoman or for a place to put books and magazines.

The small chair shown here matches the adult-size chair and is made with a pattern that gives a complete bill of materials, large diagrams for cutting each piece and illustrated construction steps. The seat of the chair is about ten inches high and thirteen inches deep.

This lawn chair is made with pattern 253; and the adult-size lawn chair is pattern 259. Patterns are 15c each; both patterns to one address for 25c. Send order with name and address to:

18,000-Tube Calculator Cuts 100,000 Man-Hours

The fastest calculating machine ever developed is the new Electronic Numerical Integrator and Computer which has been under construction for two years at the University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia, says Collier's. Weighing 30 tons and occupying 1,500 square feet of floor space, the machine attains its incredible speed through an all-electronic operation which employs 18,000 tubes.

In its first demonstration, it made a computation in two hours that would have required at least 200,000 man-hours of work by expert mathematicians.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—the risk of exposure and strain—shows heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feet constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

WISCONSIN DAIRY FARMERS

TAKE Action IN JUNE!

To build public support... to protect dairy income... Wisconsin dairy farmers, through the American Dairy Association, are taking aggressive action in this business-building program:

- ADVERTISING... to build lasting demand for dairy foods at right prices.
- PUBLIC RELATIONS... to give dairy farmers a voice to the public in promoting understanding of dairy problems.
- RESEARCH... to develop the dairy industry and its products.
- MERCHANDISING... to spotlight dairy foods at the point of retail sale.
- PROMOTION... to insure your investment in dairying by creating public attitudes that will result in fair prices to dairy farmers for milk and cream.

This 5-point business platform is supported by dairy farmers in 36 States. In Wisconsin, plants purchasing milk or cream are cooperating with dairy farmers in collecting funds for this year-round program. They do so by making deductions of 1/2 cent per pound of all butterfat purchased June 1-30. Support your ADA for a stronger farm voice to America! Act with ADA in June!
