In a loose, see-saw battle in which the lead changed a number of times, Kewaskum nosed out their friendly rivals from Boltonville here Sunday in the last half of the ninth inning, 8-7. Although wide open play marked the game it was an exciting one for the many fans of both teams. The "close shave" allowed the Utensils to stay up with the leaders in the second half race.

The last inning was both good and bad for the Bolts. Trailing 6-5 going into the ninth, "Windy" Weiss lined out a well spanked home run with a mate on the bases to put Boltonville ahead, 7-6. The blow came with two out as some fans were already leaving the park. Behind by a run in the last of the ninth, the home club was in a bad spot but came from behind for the fourth time with 2 runs to pull out a victory. Tessar singled, Uelmen bunted and was safe when Weiss dropped the throw. Honeck laid down a drag bunt and with nobody covering in time he beat it out for a hit, scoring Tessar with the tying run and sending Uelmen to third. Honeck was caught off first and Schladweller fanned but with two out, Rinzel, who relieved Hausmann, uncorked a low pitch which went past catcher Bremser and allowed Uelmen to romp home with the winning tally. It was a heart-breaker for Boltonville to lose after their fine effort in the first half of the inning.

It was a close battle all the way with victory uncertain for any team until the last of the ninth. The Utensils garnered 19 hits to Boltonville's 8. Each team was guilty of six errors with Wilkens and Uelmen being chalked up with 3 apiece. Seven batters struck out on each side. "Butch" Theusch took hitting honors for the day with three bingles while Weiss' timely homer was the big feature of the affair. Marx, Kral, Tessar and Schladweller each connected for 2 hits for the winners.

A full day of baseball is in store for fans this coming Sunday with three games scheduled to be played on the local field. The big attraction will be the Utensils' first and probably only doubleheader of the season. Yesterday, two games will be played with Cascade, both for the price of one, with the first contest starting at 1:30 p. m. One of the games is a make-up, postponed game of the first half which was rained out. At a league meeting Monday night it was decided to play the doubleheader here. The Kewaskum Indians of the Brooks league also have a home game scheduled for Sunday and this contest will in all probability be played in the morning. So if you're a good ball fan, come out about 10:30 in the morning for the first game, bring your lunch and stay right there for the twin bill in the afternoon.

Aug. 1 to 4 Dates for County 4-H Club Fair

Plans for the 25th annual Washington county 4-H club fair to be held at the fair grounds at Slinger on Thursday through Sunday, Aug. 1 to 4, inclusive, are fast nearing completion according to the county board fair committee. This committee consists of: Harvey Dettmann, chairman, Farmington township; Emil Gauger, chairman, Trenton township; George Raebel, chairman, Richfield township, and E. E. Skalsky, county agent, secretary.

The county board annually appropriates $1000 to help defray a portion of the cost of holding the fair. Because of this financial assistance by the county, the fair is operated as a free fair. No admission charge is made for entering the grounds or for parking the cars.

Snaps Greater Shows to Provide Midway

Snaps Greater Shows, presenting numerous new and interesting shows and rides, will bring a large midway to the fair. This carnival is one of the largest and best operating in the state and provides the midway attractions at many of our larger fairs.

In addition, stars of WLS combined with home talent will provide entertainment during band concert intermissions.

- American Legion all girls' band—Friday evening, Aug. 2.

Entry clerks will remain on duty until 10:00 o'clock in the evening to accommodate those who cannot arrange to bring their exhibits to the fair during the daytime. Judging will start on Friday afternoon. In the main exhibit building foods and canning exhibits will be judged. In the livestock ring sheep, swine, colts, baby beef and dual purpose animals will be judged. Dairy cattle will be judged on Saturday starting at 10:00 a. m. and completed on Sunday afternoon when the larger purebred classes and the Holstein project sire calves will be led into the ring. 4-H demonstrations will begin Friday afternoon.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear husband and our dear dad, Clarence Merets, who passed away suddenly one year ago, July 25, 1945:

He has gone from his dear ones, his children and wife.

Whom he willingly toiled for and loved as his life:

Oh! that dear one how we loved him, Oh! how hard to give him up; Oh! God how mysterious and how strange Thy ways.

To take from us this loved one in the best of his days;

Yet again we hope to meet him When the day of life is fled; And in Heaven with joy greet him where no farewell tears are shed.

Sadly missed by his wife and children, mother, brothers and sisters.

Two hundred and eighty Washington county 4-H club members and friends representing 22 clubs of the 27 in the county enjoyed a leisurely picnic day at the West Bend city park Thursday, July 18.

The morning program included a nature hike with "Ranger Mac," state 4-H club leader, group games, softball and work with crafts.

Following lunch when each club group gathered to spread their own table, a short program was presented with Paul Cypher, president of the county leaders' federation, as chairman. Mr. Skalsky, Miss Broege and Mr. Weidman made short announcements about coming 4-H events. Louis Reich of Slinger led group singing ending up with "Hey, Bob-o-re-bob!" ### Indians Shut Out Mequon 6 to 0; Take Brooks Lead

The unbeaten Kewaskum Indians did it again Sunday in easy fashion, shutting out Mequon at the latter place, 6 to 0. With the win the boys took over undisputed first place in the Land o' Brooks league by virtue of Mayville's first defeat at the hands of Port Washington, Allenton, which has yet to win a game, will come here to meet the Indians this Sunday. Due to the local Kettle Moraine league team having a doubleheader here Sunday arrangements are now pending between Manager DeBer and League Director Martin Weber of Merton to play this game in the morning so as not to conflict with the two afternoon contests.

"Jimmy" Miller Takes Over Father's Tavern

On July 1 Roman "Jimmy" Miller took possession of the tavern operated by his father, Edwin "Murphy" Miller, in this village since July 1 of last year. Mr. Miller leased the tavern from the Kewaskum fire department, owners, for his son while the latter was still serving overseas with the army. "Jimmy" was just married on Wednesday of this week to the former Rose Schmitt, Route 3, Kewaskum. "Jimmy" got red because his unit was in charge of serving meals to the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt on the occasion of the late president's visit to North Africa for an All-I conference during the early stages of the Nazi defeat.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Miller have purchased the Math. Hacker property, including a substantial residence and about 1 1/2 acres of land just west of the West Bend Country club, near Big Cedar Lake. They will live there in retirement for the time being, following extensive improvements to the property.

400 County Dairymen at Holstein Breeders' Meet

More than 400 Washington county dairymen and members of their families attended the annual summer meeting of the Washington County Holstein Breeders' association which was held on the Herbert Lepien farm, Hartford, Route 3, last week. The principal speakers on the program were Charles C. Braze, president of the state Holstein-Friesian association and Glenn Householder, fieldman of the national association. Mr. Householder stressed the importance of size and type, especially udder formation in the dairy herd. He well illustrated his talk with demonstrations of animals from the Lepien herd. This method of comparing animals with the perfect type, said Mr. Householder, is known as herd classification. Animals ranking fair or better are eligible for registration, and sire calves can be recorded only from those ranking good or better. This method gradually eliminates animals of poor body conformation from purebreds.

5 Editors to Be Judges in Dairy Menu Contest

The emergency dairy dinner contest sponsored by the Kewaskum Statesman in co-operation with the Wisconsin state fair and the Wisconsin Press association will be judged by five newspaper editors. Names of the editor judges will be announced next week.

Purpose of the contest is to concoct a dairy dinner that will be in accord with the present day food shortages, and still be a dinner which will appeal to the average working man. If it is to appeal to a man's appetite it was deemed necessary that the final judges be men—and no one likes to eat any better than the average newspaper publisher.

The winner in the contest will receive a $100 wardrobe and three pair of nylon hose with 27 pair of nylons to go to the nine other winners.

Send your entries to "Dairy Menu Contest," 235 Washington building, Madison 3, Wis. The contest closes on Aug. 8 at midnight.

GIRLS' SOFTBALL NOTES

We chalked up another victory when we played against Silver Creek on Thursday night, July 15. The score at the end of the game was Kewaskum 27, Silver Creek 5.

Our next game will be played at Boltonville Sunday afternoon, July 25. Boltonville has one of the better teams in the league and it will take some real playing for us to win the game.

See you next week with more scores. M. Bartel, Ass't. Sec'y.

FRED MILLER ELECTED

The Washington county chapter of the reserve officers' association was organized at West Bend Monday and elected as officers for one year: Willard H. Harb, West Bend, president; Attorney Leroy J. Gonring, West Bend, vice-president; and Fred J. Miller, Kewaskum, secretary-treasurer. Committees will be appointed at a later date to carry out the chapters' program of activities.

Lack of moisture and a late spring have slowed up gardens in Wisconsin, reports R. J. Holvenstot, Bayfield county agent.

Kathleen Norris Says:

Justice for the Baby

Bell Syndicate—WNU Features.

"Between now and your wedding day try to build up between Sylvia and Karl a friendship that may solve all this with no separation between you and the child at all."

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

FIVE years ago I wrote you about my expected college baby," writes Frances, from an Arkansas town. "This baby was the result of a winter of recklessness, I see that now. But I had joined a free thinking group in college, and the thought that a woman is not privileged to have a child and raise that child, without the farce of a few words pronounced over her and some man by a justice of the peace, was ridiculous to me. Your advice was to have the baby privately, and give it out for immediate adoption, but I loved the thought of a child all my own, and determined to go home for the summer, acknowledge my baby openly, and try to persuade a supposedly open-minded circle of family and friends that things have changed and the old narrow law against so-called illegitimacy is outgrown.

"Well, some of the circle saw things my way and some didn't. My dearest girl friend stuck to me and adored Sylvia, who is an exquisite child, now nearing five. My mother was wonderful, quiet and sympathetic, anxious for me to get in touch with the baby's father, which was out of the question, but helpful all through. Certain cousins and aunts turned up their noses. I got a good war job, made lots of money, and could do everything for Sylvia. My father died a few months after I got home, and Mother lived with me. Mother wanted me to tell people that the baby's father had been killed at Iwo Jima, but I wouldn't lie.

"Jane, my friend, married, and her husband didn't like our friendship. I would never have believed that anything would change her, but the stubborn narrow man she married managed it. They have two children; he doesn't even want them to play with Sylvia.

"Well, here's the present problem. What nobody but myself even knew was that Sylvia's father was married when I met him; I did not know it until we had been lovers for some time. He and his wife came to our town a few weeks ago; they are childless, and they want Sylvia.

"Meanwhile, I have fallen truly in love with Karl, an engineer who is going to Norway for three years. He thinks it unwise for us to take the baby, and would be glad to have me give her over to her father. The question in this that nobody takes into account is my feeling for my beautiful, affectionate little girl; we have never been parted, she depends on me, and her possessive 'mummy' is always on her lips.

"Her father will stand no half-measures. She must go to him unconditionally. She must not see me again, and believe, as she grows older, that she is his wife's child. I am torn two ways, agonized by this decision. The man I want to marry is in every way my ideal—strong, quiet, tender and wise. He is half-Norwegian, and the prospect of life at a great construction plant in his father's country sounds good to me. Only about Sylvia is he adamant. We will have other children, he says, and he will never love her as he does them.

A CHILD'S FUTURE

Frances has a peculiarly difficult problem. She is about to be married to an engineer. They will go to Norway where he has a contract lasting several years. Everything would be splendid excepting for Frances's illegitimate daughter. The child is now five, and very cute and lovable. Frances has been able to care for her since she was born. Karl, Frances's fiance, doesn't want the child. He wants Frances to surrender Sylvia to her father, who is willing to take her, as he is married and childless.

This would seem to be a practical solution, but Frances doesn't like to be parted from her daughter, nor is it likely that Sylvia would be happy away from her mother.

Miss Norris replies that the child's happiness and future should be the first consideration of her mother. In the present situation, goes on Miss Norris, it would probably be better to try to build up friendship and affection between Karl and Sylvia, so that he may be willing and even glad to take her to Norway.

"What is the best way out of this for us all?"

The best way out, Frances, was very possibly your surrender of the baby before you ever saw her face. If she is what you describe, charming and lovable, some adopted mother and father would all this time have been giving her a child's right, love and security. It was your decision that deprived her of this, and put you in today's position, with today's hard choice before you.

Whatever you do, there is pain in it for you, and in the solutions you suggest there seems to be small consideration for the child. Long ago she should have been placed beyond the reach of these disturbing and upsetting changes.

A married man who could have a love affair with a college girl doesn't sound too safe a guardian, and the wife who knew herself cheated will not make too loving a mother. Why not place this small girl with some kindly woman for—say a year, marry your Karl and go to Norway. Make him so loving and efficient a wife that he will want, some day, only to make you happy. When you get your child back, once in your home, Sylvia will make her own way.

Her own father and his wife seem to me unfit guardians. It would be a super-human wife indeed who could truly love the child of her husband by a younger woman. She has never had children, and would not understand Sylvia, nor his fatherly indulgence of Sylvia. Steer clear of them entirely, and between now and your wedding day, try to build up between Sylvia and Karl, friendship that may solve all this with no separation between you and the child at all.

Since you are independent enough to face the age-old crisis of Sylvia's birth five years ago, face this one too, always keeping in mind that nothing else matters except that the child shall be presently established in a loving and permanent home, with a chance to forget the wrongs and changes that have upset her babyhood.

Jimmy Durante at Yale

Jimmy Durante was a guest at the Yale commencement exercises the other day. The Yale classic festivities coincided with the opening of Jimmy's latest movie "Two Sisters From Boston" in the college town. Both Yale and the picture people made the most of it. No result was announced officially, but observers say Yale lost another close one.

Believe it or not, the class of 1913 adopted Durante. And in one of the class costumes "The Schnozzle" paraded in the traditional commencement parade, did his stuff at the annual ball game and was photographed being welcomed by Pres. Charles Seymour of Yale and Mrs. Seymour, a distinction not recorded by the photographers in the case of Trygve Lie, secretary of the United Nations, and many notable Americans present for honorary degrees.

Proving that by the scale of cocky values existing in this screwball age there is no limit to how far a radio celebrity and Hollywood star may go.

News that Jimmy Durante would be a Yale commencement figure drew out greater crowds than any commencement in years and there are those who insist that the closing line of the famous old Yale theme song was rendered "For God, for Country and for the Schnozzle."

"I never realized then Yale scouts was even watchin' me," said Jimmy. "I admit I never stopped Harvard or Yale, but on the other hand I kept Notre Dame from getting on the Yale schedule.

"I was always a Yale man at heart, even when I belonged to the University of Hard Knocks and my body to good old Crossley Ratings. Blue is my favorite color and I'll see that it gets a break in television.

"I was out out to be a college man, but in my youth I could never get much practice in punting and drop kicking on account of them low ceilings in Greenwich village night-eries. My first words as a baby were 'Boola Boola.' I was christened James but my folks called me Elihu for short. And I was shorter than most kids.

"Yale was in my blood, I could feel it thumping there, but not getting nowhere. Maybe it was on account of the good blocking by Harvard and Princeton.

"I wanted the higher education but I was particular. I said it's Yale or nuthin' with me. Yale lost that one too!"

CAN YOU REMEMBER—

Acqu back when you took it in the right spirit if somebody offered you a dollar?

And when packing a picnic box with cold meats was no problem whatever?

Love and Flagpoles

America must be getting back to normal. A couple were married on top of a flagpole the other day.

Marshall Jacobs, a professional flagpole sitter and Yolanda Cosmar, the girl of his choice, went through the wedding ceremony of the year at Coshocton, Pa. The wedding numbers were announced as "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" and "I Love You Truly." We would have recommended "Don't Fence Me In" and "Upsie Daisie."

Evidence of a return to daftness in this country is most comforting. And we needed a demonstration of true and unswerving love and devotion. When a bride goes up to the top of a 176 foot flagpole for her man that is it.

Why America Is Great

"I have seen magnificent universities in America. I have seen its wonderful laboratories and its museums of which old European culture would be proud, and I have also seen Lions' club luncheons where full-grown men, imitating lions, roared upon command. It is a curious country." —Iva Ehrenburg, visiting Russian writer.

What this country needs is a good five cent dollar.

"Times Square Ticket Agency Robbed"—headline.

It's about time.

General Eisenhower says three big factors made victory in Europe possible. He fails, however, to mention the number one factor that broke Hitler down: The way the Yanks said, "Oh yeah, to Adolf's mike addresses!"

What puzzled many radio addicts was that the Bikini broadcast went through without any commercial.

And in case you ask what prospect could perhaps sponsor it, how about one of those washing powders that "cleans-up everything in a flash?"

We wanted to hear somebody announce "The performances of this atomic bomb are its own and do not necessarily reflect those of this station."

Veterans SERVICE BUREAU

EDITOR'S NOTE: This newspaper, through special arrangement with the Washington Bureau of Western Newspaper Union at 1616 Eye Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., is able to bring readers this weekly column on problems of the veteran and serviceman and his family. Questions may be addressed to the above Bureau and they will be answered in a subsequent column. No replies can be made direct by mail, but only in the column which will appear in this newspaper regularly.

Books Available for Vets

More than a million text books acquired from the War Assets Administration will be distributed by the Library of Congress to accredited colleges and universities for use of veteran students. Veterans' administration has announced.

Veterans' administration has transferred to the library sufficient funds to cover the cost of handling and mailing the books which were formerly used by the army and navy college training programs. It is estimated that the surplus books will save the Veterans' administration approximately $3,000,000 in its veterans' school program and is expected to relieve somewhat the serious text-book shortage.

Each school will set up its own distribution system to assure that only veterans will obtain the books after requisitioning the books they need from lists supplied by the Library of Congress.

Questions and Answers

Q. Our son who was almost our sole support served 30 months in the armed services. He was in the service for 18 months before we received an allotment. Is there any way we can get this allotment for the first 18 months he was in the service? We were as much dependent then as we were when the allotment was granted. — Reader, Staples, Mich.

A. It would depend upon when your son made request for an allotment. If he made no request and the money was not deducted from his pay, then there is no chance to get it. If he made the request, the money was deducted and for some reason you did not receive it, you can collect it. Suggest you write your son and ask when he made his request for the allotment.

Q. My son has been in service since January, 1945. He has been overseas since August, 1945. I need him at home to help me after his father as he is not able to work. We are farmers. When will he be eligible for discharge? He was an 18-year-old draftee. — L. Mc., Scottsboro, Ala.

A. Your son apparently has only about 9 points as of September 2, 1945, so unless for some reason he is discharged sooner I would guess he will have at least another year to serve under present regulations. If you can prove dependency or hardship which has occurred since he entered service, it may be that he could be discharged for these reasons. However, he must ask for that discharge from his commanding officer.

Q. My son was discharged in October after 30 months in service. He was a flight officer in the air corps and has his battle stars, oak leaf cluster, etc. Now he would like to get into the Reserves. Do they accept flight officers? What will be the best way to go about getting in? — Mrs. M. F. O., Denver, Colo.

A. At the moment, the answer is that flight officers are not acceptable, but by the time you read this the army may have issued new regulations providing for acceptance of the flight officers into the reserve. The matter is pending now with the authorities. Suggest you keep in touch with your local army headquarters.

Q. My son recently enlisted for three years in the army. There are three of us in the family, the son, myself and mother. There are no brothers or sisters. We are very much alone and my son is the sole support. We are both afflicted with angina pectoris. Is there one to whom we can appeal not to send my son across for overseas duty? My reason is that if either of us should expire, the remaining one could be get a discharge to come home and care for the other one? — Mrs. W. T. B., Brookhaven, Miss.

A. In the first place, the son was not forced to enlist for three years, and he can provide family allotment for you if he wishes. If he wishes to obtain a discharge using his family as a hardship case, he should take it up with his commanding officer. There is no one to whom you can appeal about the overseas exemption since he cannot be half-in and half-out of the army.

Q. I am a veteran whose total service was spent in the navy's V-12 program. Am I entitled to more education under the G.I. Bill of Rights? — J.C.K., Redwood Ark.

A. The VA has ruled that a veteran whose total period of service in the armed forces was spent in ASTP or in V-12, the navy college training program, studying medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine or theology is not entitled to any further education benefits under the G.I. Bill. The VA will rule upon the eligibility of other cases which come under V-12 headings.

Q. I've heard that enrollment in the Marine Corps institute is free, but because I expect to be discharged shortly I hesitate about taking a correspondence course to complete my high school training. If I'm discharged before completing the course, what happens?

A. A recently instituted policy permits Marines to continue courses through MCI which were started at least three months before discharge. They are allowed to continue studies for as much as one year after leaving service.

And Here We Have IDAHO

The Gem State

By EDWARD EMERINE
WNU Features

HERE we have Idaho—fabulous sunsets, lakes of gold and dreamy, purple mountains; a million stars in the dark blue sky and moonlight on the sagebrush; canyons and gorges, sand dunes and crystal lakes; stunted desert brush and towering pines; waterfalls higher than Niagara and gorges deeper than the Grand Canyon; snow 20 feet deep among the pines and spruce; farms and cities amidst nature's unspoiled loveliness; natural caves full of ice in the hot desert.

From the Canadian border on the north to the temperate Cache valley on the south, and from the frozen Teton peaks on the east to the warm Pacific winds in Boise valley, Idaho offers a variety of climate, topography and scenic wonder. It has miles of desert and formidable table lands, but it also has more lakes than man has ever counted. It has alpine peaks where the ice and snow never melt, and homes heated by water from natural hot springs.

No more interesting, romantic and pleasant area may be found on earth than Idaho. Yet from an automobile or train window it may often appear to be a rolling waste, lonely and cruel. Unfortunately the main highways and railroad tracks wander too far from rich and beautiful spots in Idaho, and those who would know the "Gem of the Mountains" must take the sideroads—and great will be their reward.

Idaho is a young state, with young and energetic people. They are not hampered by the heavy hand of tradition, nor restrained by the ghosts of their ancestors. Whether Basque shepherders, Mormon descendants, farmers from Nebraska, or recruits from the West coast states, the people of Idaho are living proof of Western friendliness and hospitality, Western progressiveness, and Western determination to harness nature's resources for the good of all.

The early history of Idaho is bound up with that of the states of Oregon and Washington, but its tradition and lore has borrowed much from the Mormons of Utah, the cattlemen of Wyoming and the miners of Montana. It drew from all its surrounding states and became the great melting pot of the Northwest.

Following the Lewis and Clark expedition, Idaho was the hunting and trapping paradise of early adventurers. Later thousands of persons crossed Idaho by way of the Oregon trail, following the Snake river through the desert. The ruins of thousands of wagons still remain, but the Oregon trail and one of America's greatest migrations added little to Idaho's development.

In 1859 gold was discovered in the Pierce City region and by the autumn of 1862 there were 30,000 persons near Lewiston. A greater discovery followed in the Boise basin, and within a year Idaho City had a population estimated at near 40,000. At the census of 1870, only 15,000 remained of the swarm of miners of the early '60s; but 200 million dollars in gold had been taken out of Idaho—the greatest record in history for a similar period of time.

It was the Mormons who founded Idaho's first permanent settlement in 1860. They believed they were in Utah when they called their village Franklin and made irrigation a fact in Idaho by building a canal three and a half miles long. They also established that year the first school for white children within the present boundaries of the state.

Agriculture made little headway, however, for the feverish industry of thousands exploring the earth for mineral treasures continued. Although the Idaho territory was created in 1863, more lustrous years were to follow. Rich gold strikes were made in the Salmon River and Florence areas, in Boise basin, in the Owyhee terrain, in the Coeur d'Alenes, and elsewhere. Boom towns were erected overnight, and the days were rich in murders and hangings, feuds and melodramatic camp that became a ghost town, a new community appeared, built solidly on the development of Idaho's great natural resources. Idaho settled down, at last, to build its kingdom.

The northern part of Idaho reclaimed logged-off land, to become one of the most productive areas in the West. "Idaho white pine" and plenty of it is the slogan of its lumbermen, and yellow pine grows broad and tall. Idaho's mines yield countless minerals, with more being discovered each year.

The Snake River valley and its drainage area has prospered under irrigation and reclamation, while lands beyond the irrigation ditches have been utilized for wheat and other grains. New irrigation projects are being opened, and Idaho's agriculture and livestock industries are thriving.

Idaho potatoes, famous all over the civilized world, are grown in desert soil enriched by centuries of sagebrush and other desert growth and touched by the magic of irrigation. Even cull potatoes are now utilized and made into industrial alcohol, or fed to livestock. Sugar

Wide Variety of Weather in Idaho

Many people who have never visited Idaho wonder about its weather. "It must be cold," they say, "it touches Canada." Others say, "it touches the desert." Actually, Idaho has as many kinds of weather as may be found. Snow may be several feet deep at Idaho City or Rexburg, while at Boise the ground is dry and the day warm. Likewise, when the thermometer has reached 105 at Boise, a jacket is welcome at Payette lakes.

Usually mild, Idaho weather may be rugged in parts of the state. Idaho Falls knows 40 degrees below zero, while Parma may have more than a little below freezing during the entire winter. In the northern part, or panhandle, Idaho has a wet climate, but warm winds from the Pacific temper the storms. Next to the Wyoming line, how-

ARNOLD WILLIAMS
Governor of Idaho
Governor Williams was born in Utah, but moved to Idaho in 1917. He was a member of the state legislature and lieutenant governor before becoming governor in 1945.

Northern Pacific railroad laid its rails across the Panhandle in 1880-'82, and the Union Pacific—Oregon Short Line—crossed the southern part of the state in 1882-'84. Its mines and forest were opened commercially, and Idaho was no longer a wild frontier.

When Idaho became a state in 1890 its valleys were soon homesteaded by sturdy stock from the Middle West. For each mining beets thrive and alfalfa grows luxuriantly. Cattle and sheep are fattened on rich pastures and in feed lots, and dairy herds are found everywhere.

Only recently has Idaho come into prominence as a playground and recreation spot for people who are weary of make-believe life in cities. It offers year-around skiing, hunting, fishing, swimming, boating and other sports. Pheasants, ducks and geese are plentiful. There are antelope, deer, elk and other big game in abundance to assure the sportsman of his kill. From dog races at Ashton when the snow is deep, to summer boating on Payette lakes or fishing in Pend d'Oreille, no other state exceeds Idaho in sports of the great outdoors.

New York capitalists and Hollywood movie stars have found in Sun Valley in the Sawtooth Mountains one of the world's finest recreation spots. In winter, skiing is the outstanding sport, with tobogganing and big game hunting following. In summer, the mountain streams nearby offer varieties of trout, the game fish of them all. Lakes and woods in the Stanley Basin afford boating, fishing, riding, hiking and camping.

Idaho is a state of mountains, valleys and deserts, with variety enough for everyone. The mountain ranges include Cabinet, Coeur d'Alene, Beaverhead and Bitter Root in the north; Salmon River, Sawtooth and Lost Rivers in the center of the state, and the Bear, Blackfoot and Snake River mountains in the southeast, with the Teton along the Wyoming line northward.

Shoshone Falls—46 feet higher than Niagara—pours its flood over a horseshoe-shaped rim in Snake River canyon. Twin Falls is another majestic right, and American and Salmon Falls are also attractive to visitors.

Idaho offers the unusual—the almost unbelievable—in scenic wonders. The deepest canyon on the North American continent drops almost 8,000 feet below the rimrock of the Seven Devils ranges of mountains. The Big and Little Lost rivers tumble down from mountain peaks to disappear into the porous volcanic desert, breaking into sunlight again as Thousand Springs in the Snake River gorge. Recent volcanic action is offered at Craters of the Moon, and Mount Borah, highest point in the state, carries coral limestone on its crest, lifted from the sea which was once three miles below.

The state of Idaho remains a part of the Great Northwest, rich in resources, sure of its future. The frontier spirit still lives in countless ways within its borders, ready to mount to thunderous zest in the development that seems sure to come.

SECRECY PREVAILS

Ships Regrouped for Second Atomic Test

By WALTER A. SHEAD
WNU Correspondent

HONOLULU, OPERATIONS CROSSROADS—With much attendant secrecy the target fleet in Bikini lagoon has been regrouped for the second atom bomb test scheduled for July 25. Although most of the correspondents have returned to the States, several made application to remain in Bikini during the interim so they could cover the arrangements being made for the second test. This request was refused by the navy, however, and all newspaper men were ordered to proceed to Kwajalein, where they were either transported immediately by air to the States or to Honolulu, or were housed aboard the press ship Appalachian.

In the meantime the Appalachian made a leisurely trip to Pearl Harbor where she underwent some minor repairs, and now is proceeding back to Bikini, where she is scheduled to arrive on B-Day minus 1, or July 24.

Nearest Center. It has been announced that ships nearest the bulls-eye of the second test will include the battleship Arkansas, the heavy cruiser Pensacola, the Jap battleship Nagato, the aircraft carrier Saratoga, the destroyer Mayrant, the submarine Pilotfish, the transport Falow and a tank landing ship.

It may be that the Pilotfish will be nearest the bomb burst, which, as has been announced, will be an underwater detonation. Other ships of the target fleet have been placed in various positions ranging up to 1,800 yards away from the blast.

The Arkansas, the Pensacola and the Nagato all were severely damaged as to superstructure in the first blast. The Pensacola particularly suffered heavy damage to her fire control; her stacks were blown off and her deck plates buckled. This correspondent went aboard the Pensacola after the first test and noted that her decks amidship were driven downward about 12 inches and with such force that steel supports beneath were driven through the steel deck plating like toothpicks through paper.

There is considerable speculation as to the coming report of the Military Evaluation board as to the efficacy of the atom bomb as an offensive weapon in naval warfare. If the board decides that future naval construction must meet the dangers of atomic blasts, then we may expect an entirely different warship of the future.

The experience of the first blast indicates that frepower exposed upon high superstructure is particularly susceptible to the heat and blast of atomic power. The speculation is that to meet this threat, future construction will use streamlined warships with low superstructures, enclosed as much as possible, looking something like a modern diesel locomotive with curved surfaces to deflect blast.

Installation of ventilation systems also will be given close scrutiny since it was learned that the blast in some cases, particularly aboard the Pensacola, entered the ventilation openings and followed the ducts below decks, breaking out at the weakest points, shoving through a bulkhead and smashing other obstacles in its way deep in the ship.

This was particularly noticeable in a comparison with the German ship Prinz Eugen, which has no ventilation system and depends upon row upon row of portholes for ventilation for its crew. Not a porthole was smashed and no damage done below deck, but she was admittedly much farther from the center of the blast than the Pensacola.

In reflecting upon the damage done to the ships in the first blast, the remarkable thing to this writer is that not a single live mine, bomb, shell, bag of powder or any other ammunition aboard any ship was exploded either by the heat or blast force of the bomb. Torpedoes on the Independence exploded due to a fire which finally exploded her powder magazine and her aviation

Rats Born in Defiance of Atomic Death

Despite deaths from radioactivity among animals aboard target ships in the Bikini atomic bomb test, the animal population remains almost stationary, reports from the USS Barleson, animal ship of Joint Task Force 1, reveal.

To offset the deaths from radioactivity, a litter of white rats was born aboard the USS Pennsylvania and the new arrivals were unaffected by the bomb. Originally there gasoline. But on most all the ships were placed live mines, bombs, shells were in guns or on loading apparatus, and each ship had a full load of ammunition. None of it was exploded and the safety gears which boarded the ships following the blast were careful in their examination.

Then the speculation goes to the use of lead lining against X-rays, rock wool or some other protection against heat, and concrete or some substitute against neutrons and other radioactivity.

Opinions Vary. There are two schools of thought as to the damage likely to occur to ship hulls from the underwater blast. Having in mind the fact that depth charges of presently used explosives have sunk or damaged submarines and heavily damaged destroyers and other lighter craft, one school declares that the atom bomb will play havoc with the target fleet and predicts that even capital ships closest to the blast will be capsized and sunk.

Others, however, predict that much of the force of the blast will be absorbed by the water and that, although there is danger of light ships capsizing, the larger ships will merely roll with the water and their heavier underwater armor will not be damaged. They predict the heavily armored ships will not suffer as much underwater damage as could be inflicted with a torpedo. This is all in the realm of speculation, however, and the navy remains mum about its own expectations.

In discussions aboard the Appalachian among scientists and off-the-record comment by naval officers, there is some reason to presume that the atom bomb as an offensive weapon against ships at sea is not as effective as other weapons. However, its effectiveness against naval bases would be devastating and a fleet without naval bases would be rendered impotent.

Atoll to Remain. This writer believes that Bikini atoll and its coconut groves will be there after the second test is over and even after the third bomb scheduled for November or later is detonated in hundreds of fathoms of water in the ocean outside Bikini lagoon. We do not expect any 100-foot waves nor 1,000-mile-an-hour wind although some wave may wash over the island. A 15-foot wave could do that.

But the test which has changed from a joint army-navy operation, about which so much stress was put, into strictly a navy show and which is probably costing about a half million dollars a day, likely will give our military men all the knowledge they will need to prepare for or against the atom bomb in the future. . . . If indeed there is any way of preparing against it.

Reporters Wary of Navy Precautions

Newspaper correspondents remaining for the second atomic bomb test, about 23 of them as compared to more than 100 at the initial show, likely have their tongues in cheek for this second test because of the over-buildup and extreme precautions taken by the navy in placing the newspaper men almost so far away that many of them missed the actual burst of the first bomb. Although nothing has been said were 150 goats, 150 pigs and 3,100 white rats placed aboard 22 ships of the target fleet. Deaths from radioactivity are continuing, according to reports from the Barleson. Loss of life among the animals already has exceeded the 10 per cent figure originally announced.

The little pig, found swimming vigorously toward land after sinking of the Sakawa, is presumed to be still alive.

AROUND THE HOUSE

Tins which are not badly stained can be polished well with brown paper that has been moistened in vinegar.

When washing hollow handled knives do not allow them to remain too long in water as this might loosen them.

Hang up towels to dry immediately after using them to prevent mildew. Never put a damp towel in the laundry bag or leave it in a heap on the bathroom floor.

To clean a soiled sponge, rub fresh lemon into it thoroughly. Rinse several times in lukewarm water.

Use old shower curtains to make aprons, bibs, place mats, or sash curtains for the bathroom.

Colored chenille spreads should never be washed with other cottons even if they are color-fast. It is important, too, that the machine or tub be well washed first, for lint from other cotton clings to the chenille tufts and gives them a dull look you won't like.

County Agent Notes

CORN BORERS WILL BE NUMEROUS

The initial survey of corn fields made by the state department of agriculture indicates there will be a heavy corn borer infestation this year. Favorable weather conditions at the time the adult moths were emerging from the hibernating quarters has resulted in numerous egg masses on the leaves of early planted corn. The first of these have already hatched and by now the borer is already well imbedded in the joints of the growing stalk. A second hatch of eggs is expected to take place about the middle of August. An examination of cornfields at this time will show the leaves perforated with many small holes by the newly hatched larvae. Also, as the tassels appear, they are infested with the borer.

In those sections of the state where hybrid seed corn is produced, two dustings by airplane of 5% wettable DDT dust is being applied just after the eggs of both generations have hatched. This dusting method is still in the experimental stage and as yet is not recommended where the corn plant is used as livestock feed.

CONTROL POTATO INSECTS

The big three insect pests of potatoes are the flea beetle, the leaf hopper, and the Colorado potato beetle. In addition to these pests, many other insects will affect growing potato plants but do only minor damage. The Colorado beetle and the flea beetle feed on the foliage of the potato plant. Control measures consist of applying a stomach poison. Apply a .75% rotenone dust on garden sized plots. For larger fields use a Bordeaux spray containing lead or calcium arsenate. The leaf hopper, being a sucking type of insect, is not affected by the above insecticides. They can, however, be readily controlled by the application of a 15% pyrethrum dust.

The use of DDT is still in the experimental stage on potatoes. For dusting use a mixture containing 2 to 5 percent of DDT plus a fungicide. In sprays dissolve two pounds of a 5% strength DDT in two gallons of water and dilute to 100 gallons of a fungicide spray. This is sufficient to spray one acre.

TOMATO HORNWORMS

Home gardeners will in the next few weeks find many insect problems. Perhaps one of the plants most subject to insect injury is the tomato plant. These plants are infested with a worm known as tomato hornworm. If there are only a few such worms affecting the plants, hand picking is about the best method of control. If more numerous, then dusting with crystals or rotenone dusts is recommended. The dusting operations should be done in the early morning when there is still dew on the plants.

Washington Not Always Glamorous

World's Greatest Capital Has Its Seamy Side Too!

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Service, 1616 Eye Street, N.W., Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON.—A boy joined the staff of a four-page paper of which he was one day to become editor. The office was a rattle-trap building whose notable characteristics, he later said, were "sewer gas, rats, dirt, overgrown rowdy newsboys who had to be held in check by a long whip and fire-arms," and it was "positively dangerous at times to go into the alley which they infested, leading to the composing room."

stitution. He will be remembered for his long campaign to give Washington a vote in congressional and national matters.

Rats Were Menace To City's Health

Some time ago I had occasion to mention the invasion of Washington by rats and how the city hired a modern Pied Piper who has done an effective, if silent, job. This was brought to my mind recently when I encountered a fat, black cat on my way to work early one morning. The cat had a guilty look, and I had a hunch he had spent the night in riotous living and was merely sneaking in to change his collar.

However, the cataclysm caused by the rat-invasion in which, believe it or not, a baby's hand was eaten, brought hasty action and I see that it was considered worthy of comment by experts, including the editors of the magazine of the American Museum of Natural History.

The campaign began when a case of typhus which is spread by fleas and mites on rats, was discovered. Traps set in the neighborhood caught a number of rats whose blood was typhus-infected. The United States Public Health Service got busy, shocked to learn that the scourge of Europe two centuries ago was a possibility right here in our fair capital.

An expert was called in. He first sealed up all points where commercial transportation entered the city. Then 300 traps were set up in the zone where the infection had been found. Five days later the traps were taken in and the area was thoroughly dusted with DDT, the insecticide which the army perfected.

Next red-squill bait was distributed. It kills rats, but not pets or children who might pick up the bait. In places where there was no danger to human beings the deadly "1080" was distributed. The campaign was successful. Meanwhile, a clean-up of potential rat-breeding premises was started with court orders to enforce it. Today Washington has a complete scientific rat-control program which will cost us about $75,000 annually.

However, it still leaves a few rats for energetic cats.

When People Vote, They Win

The June "Economic Outlook," published by the Congress of Industrial Organizations, contains an article entitled "When the People Vote—They Win." That might be interpreted in more ways than one. The article points out that an "off year" is so designated politically not only because the presidency is not at stake, but because the politicians and general apathy on the part of the voter has marked those elections in the past: 1938 (off) thirty million voters went to the polls; 1940 (on) fifty million votes; 1942 (off) twenty-eight million; 1944 (on) forty-eight million.

The CIO takes the attitude that what the people as a whole want is what they (the CIO) want, and that the people get what they want when they vote for it. They say: "Mass registration and mass voting is the best guarantee of liberal progressive government."

They might also add that if you want conservative government, you have to vote for it, too. In any case you can't get what you want unless you go after it. The "Outlook" prints a table showing how the vote shifted in certain districts in off-years. The table showed that when the vote fell off, it was the Democratic vote. Districts which swung from Democratic to Republican candidates in most cases shifted with a decrease in the total vote. "The Republican vote remaining relatively stable, while the Democratic vote dropped sharply."

Does this prove that Democrats are sleeper that Republicans, or that the Republican is a creature of habit?

War Profiteering Will Be Scandal

The juicy scandal uncovered by the senate war investigating committee in which "profiteering at its worst," as Senator Mead called it, was exposed, is, I fear, only the beginning.

Any moment I expect to hear an explosion in connection with surplus property. War breeds waste, and the cloak of patriotic endeavor as Samuel Johnson indicated even more bluntly, often covers skulduggery.

The same thing happened after the last war, and on a smaller scale, after all wars. But what is probably making people squirm all over Washington is the revelation of the fact that telephone wires were pretty generally tapped, and heaven knows what may be in the FBI files. It is a strange thing about the telephone. People have just come to take for granted that because you can't see anybody on the line, nobody is there.

I wouldn't be surprised to learn that telephone conversations with most of the government departments are being recorded right now. I have reason to believe that when the question of installing these recorders in the White House was brought up, it was flatly turned down to enforce it. Today Washington has a complete scientific rat-control program which will cost us about $75,000 annually.

The senate galleries were full. It was a scorching day and a filibuster was going on. The senate chamber is air-cooled. What caused the crowd? The heat or the stupidity?

Pretty Goldwyn Girl Georgia Lange (who visited Washington with her five pulchritudinous pals for "Kid From Brooklyn") stepped up to a newsstand and moved a paper-wedge off the face of the cover girl on the July Coronet. Why? I asked her. Because it was her face.

I never saw a purple bear, I never hope to see one—but I'd like to see that little silver-blue fellow, born recently in the Bronx zoo.

3.3 BILLION BUSHELS

Record '46 Corn Crop Forecast

WASHINGTON.—The largest crop of corn ever raised in the United States, and near record production of wheat and oats has been forecast by the department of agriculture. The department stated the current outlook for total crop production has seldom been surpassed. Except for 1942, the reported condition of all crops is the best in seven years.

Continued favorable weather is necessary to bring this prospect to realization. Indicated corn crop is 3,341,646,000 bushels, compared with the preceding record of 3,203,000,000 bushels harvested in 1944 and with 3,018,410,000 bushels in 1945.

Winter wheat crop of 857,163,000 bushels would be a record and although spring wheat promise is only 232,929,000 bushels, the total wheat harvest looks like 1,090,092,000 bush-

TRIP TO CAPITAL... Mrs. Evelyn Baker and Mrs. James Magee won a trip to Washington in a contest conducted by radio station KOTA in Rapid City, S. NEWS REVIEW

Truman Sets Jaw, Shows That Job Irritates Him

TRUMAN: Temper Short

Maybe it's hot weather, but President Truman's temper is considerably shorter than it used to be. This was evident recently when he spoke out at a press conference stating that John O'Donnell, a reporter, had spread "another lie." (Incidentally, O'Donnell once received an iron cross from F.D.R.) Other displays of irritability have been noticed by those close to him. Is it his health? No, says his doctor; it's just being President.

"I don't know of any President who kept so many appointments," said Col. Wallace Graham, the President's physician.

Mr. Truman wakes himself between 5:30 and 6:00 each morning, showers, shaves and dresses without the aid of a valet, and goes for a mile walk. He sometimes splashes in the White House swimming pool, but never plays golf or engages in any game more strenuous than pitching horseshoes. He may keep eight or ten appointments of 10 to 20 minutes each, see visitors, legislators, foreign diplomats, head a reception line and do some work in his office, all in an afternoon and evening. He sleeps soundly too.

But sometimes these days, he's a little irritable! Maybe he's just like the rest of us.

INVISIBLE DEATH: Surrounds Bikini

Some of the things that happened at Bikini atoll when the atomic bomb exploded are still a mystery, correspondents aver. The A-bomb rays, for instance, clung like a secret weapon or invisible death around that South Pacific area for hours and days—and even longer perhaps.

The blast of x-rays and invisible alpha, beta and neutron rays that hit ships from the atom bomb were more crippling than the blast that smashed down and the heat that wrecked some. One of the navy's "drone" ships, which went pilotless into the cloud and returned, was unsafe to approach for more than three days. It is believed that had there been pilots in the planes they would have been killed. Mice that flew into the cloud changed color. White mice became brown. Hair usually turns white or gray when exposed to radioactive rays. All the drones brought back evidence of extreme radioactivity in or near the cloud. This invisible ray attack was worst at about 15,000 feet altitude. The roof of X-ray is placed at about 2,000 feet, so the other rays were different.

So far the scientists have made no report. But newsmen are asking: "Could human beings have lived on airplanes and ships after the blast?"

COTTON: Crop Is Bigger

There were 18,316,000 acres of cotton in cultivation on July 1, or 3.2 per cent more than a year ago, the department of agriculture has estimated.

The acreage in cultivation July 1 and the percentage of the 1945 acreage, respectively, by states included:

Missouri, 310,000 acres and 116 per cent; Virginia, 20,000 and 105; North Carolina, 360,000 and 102; South Carolina, 950,000 and 98; Georgia, 1,235,000 and 98; Florida, 23,000 and 109; Tennessee, 600,000 and 99; Alabama, 1,510,000 and 107; Mississippi, 2,420,000 and 106; Arkansas, 1,660,000 and 107; Louisiana, 900,000 and 104; Oklahoma, 1,120,000 and 93; Texas, 6,350,000 and 104; New Mexico, 116,000 and 99; Arizona, 145,000 and 94; California, 359,000 and 113, and all other states, 18,000 and 99.

WHEAT QUOTA: To Europe Passed

The United States was ahead of its quota of wheat shipments to Europe in the first six months of 1946, Secretary of Agriculture Anderson reported a few days ago. He reported to President Truman that 50,000,000 bushels were shipped in June, bringing shipments for the year up to 397,000,000 bushels.

COAL LAND: Good For Farming

At Altoona, Pa., tests have shown that stripped coal fields, properly backfilled, are better farm land than before the coal was removed. It was the opinion of the state mine inspector that practically all of the land can be restored for agricultural purposes, either for cropping, grazing or planting orchards.

NO JOKE, SON... It's really Kenny Delmar, the "Senator Claghorn" of radio, who is waving $100 in Confederate money to get more Smoky Mountain music out of Sen. Claude Pepper, Florida, with a harmonica; Rep. J. Percy Priest, Tennessee, with a ukulele, and Sen. Glen Taylor, Idaho, with a guitar.

THE TOY BULLDOG

Mickey Walker, 45, Sure He'll Paint 'Real Stuff'

NEW YORK CITY.—Although he is 45 years old, he thinks that in about four years he'll be "doing the kind of painting called the real stuff." That's the way Mickey Walker, former welterweight and middleweight boxing champion of the world, looks at his art career.

It was five years ago that Mickey decided to take up the easel and start mixing the paints. He saw a movie based on the life of Gouguin in which a man in middle age left fame and fortune to become a painter in the south seas. Mickey decided to become a painter in the United States where he is known as "a tough little guy."

And what about his 45 years? Well, in Mickey's opinion age is the best thing that can happen to a man. It gives him some sense. He no longer wants to sit around in a night club, or think only of blondes and champagne. Age helps a man know what he can do—and ought to do.

Painting Not Like Writing. Mickey spends a lot of time now in the quiet atmosphere of his rambling Elizabeth, N. J., home, surrounded by canvases and shelves stocked with books. He paints and occasionally writes. But then he worries about his grammar—and remembers that he was kicked out of school for fighting when he was in the eighth grade.

Painting is different from writing, and Mickey is considered by critics as one of the outstanding contributors of primitives at the American contemporary artists' gallery, where he has had two exhibitions. One of his best collections were painted on his 50,000 mile USO tour through South America, Africa and India where he served as a master of ceremonies for a sports show.

Got a Scare Once.

One day he was painting on Victoria beach in Central Africa during that tour. He had set up his easel on the sand and started painting when all was quiet. He painted for a while when he sensed something and heard a twig snap. When he turned around there were about 2,000 natives standing there watching him, not saying a word. They turned out to be friendly, but curious.

Still taking it a little easy because of a touch of malaria he contracted while on the USO tour, Mickey is glued to his studio. He's serious about his painting. Some of these days it will make him some money, he feels.

Kills 820 Rats in 24 Hours

SACRAMENTO, CALIF.—Aided by a dog, two cats, a can of poison and a club, Adolph Bufo counted 820 dead rats after a hectic day and night battle. Bufo claimed the rats invaded his ranch in herds, gray droves of them. All day and all night he fought, aided by the cats and dog, meeting wave after wave of rats. He believes the rats were attracted to his ranch by the amount of feed he had, since the current feed shortage has been acute in this area.

Grass Skirt Causes Death

CANON CITY, COLO.—Norman William Mackey, age 14, donned a war souvenir grass skirt for play. Also, he seized a flaming torch and ran down the street. Suddenly the grass skirt caught fire. Two neighbors, Jim McDowell and Robert Wilson, grabbed the boy, threw him down, and managed to beat out the flames.

Unfortunately, the burns were more severe than was at first believed. Three days later Norman died.

Off We Go! AVIATION NOTES AIRPORT CHATTER

Miss Mayme Smith of Monroe, age 77, was the first passenger to alight from a plane at the new Lancaster, Wis., airport which has been opened by William Brewer, a pilot. Eight Omaha men, Lyle DeMoss, Leonard J. Bussey, Don Musgrove, Henry E. and Walter W. Wendt, Bennett Davis, Leonard Fletcher and Bert Robinson, have organized a hunting lodge some 400 miles from home, on Lake McCongahy, near Ogallala, Neb.

The Denver Chamber of Commerce, with an eye on the younger generation, plans to construct a 40-acre airfield for model planes only, with hard-surfaced runways and a control tower. Republic Aviation has leased for five years, with option to buy, the government-owned plant facilities and airport at Framingdale, L. I. Robert and Mildred Entriken, husband and wife, are students of George Smith and Paul Shimer at the Mount Holly, N. J., airfield and will soon be licensed pilots. Harris field, Cape Girardeau, Mo., has been leased by the city and operated by an airport board. Wynne, Ark., with a class two airport, expects to add further improvements costing $770,561 under the federal aid airport act.

AIR EXPOSITION AT DENVER

The first Denver international air show will be held at Stapleton airport August 24 and 25. Homer F. Torrey is board chairman for the show. Directors are Donald B. Robertson, Thomas P. Campbell, Robert S. McIvane, John R. McPhee and Harry Anholt. The air show is advertised as being under the direction of Steadham Acker, who is director of annual air carnivals at Birmingham, Ala., and Omaha, Neb., and who directed air shows at Denver before the war. All late planes and helicopters will be on display and the show will feature the usual air thrills.

Noted Kansas Airport

In a western Kansas town of only 523 residents can be found one of the best-known privately operated ports in the country. The town is Johnson, Kans., and the airport operator is Forest Walker. The Johnson flying club has 10 members, most of them farmers, who have over $30,000 invested in parts, hangar, etc.

WINGED BOXCAR... Fairchild packet cargo plane, which carries nine tons of payload at 200 miles an hour. The fuselage is 38 feet long and big enough that autos and trucks can be driven inside.

PARALYZED VET FLIES

At Brigham, Utah, Dean Larsen, a 25-year-old war vet of Wales, Utah, has successfully solved an air-plant even after 5 1/2 hours of instruction, even though he is paralyzed from his hips down. The Bushnell general hospital patient made a 10-minute flight in a hand-operated two-passenger plane, John C. Weir and Bill Rowe, his instructors, said. Larsen was wounded in Germany in 1945 when a 45-caliber bullet lodged in his spine.

Kerosene is a better fuel for the jet engine than gasoline because it contains more BTUs of heat per pound—21,000 to 20,300.

First of the national aircraft shows will be held at Cleveland from November 15 to 24; the second in Los Angeles in April, 1947.

In Iowa alone, aeronautics commission officials estimate that 8,500 farm folks are now flying.

There is an old Spanish proverb that says: "Make a bridge of silver for a flying enemy." Maybe the United Nations could get rid of France that way if they can't find any other.

These days, prices rise with the sun.

Non-skid rugs are forecast by Business Week. Anything to make life less rugged.

The tobacco plants in Maryland look as precise and prim as if they had been done up in curl papers each night.

CUT KITCHEN WORK WITH COLD RINSE
A quick rinse in clear, cold water! That's the secret of keeping bottles, glassware and other dishes used for milk spotless and shiny without a lot of hard scrubbing, say scientists of the college of agriculture. This simple "trick" is used daily by thousands of good dairy farmers and is just as valuable in the home kitchen.

When a bottle or glass of milk is emptied a thin, cloudy film remains on the surface. This film contains calcium and protein. Hot water causes the calcium and protein to "set" and form a hard substance known as "milkstone."

The same thing happens if the empty container is left exposed to the air. A quick rinse in cold water immediately after emptying will remove the film quickly and easily.
