

Staral, Snyder Win Over Kuhaupt, Otten in Primary Tuesday

Holtebeck Beats Opponents Easily; Goodland Wins, LaFollette Loses in State; Democrats Make November Ballot

Two incumbent county officers were defeated for nomination in Tuesday's primary election and a third won out over his opponents on the Republican ticket. All other candidates were unopposed for nomination.

Anton P. Staral, Barton school principal, defeated incumbent county clerk Louis Kuhaupt. Staral polled 3,082 votes to 2,409 for Kuhaupt. Fred Rutz, West Bend, ran a weak third with 767 votes. Kuhaupt had served as clerk for eight years. Incumbent district attorney G. E. Otten lost by a large margin to Arthur Snyder, Hartford. Otten received 2,496 votes with Snyder getting 3,674. In his defeat Otten failed to carry his home city of West Bend. Theo. Holtebeck, incumbent assemblyman, won easily as he polled more votes than his two opponents together. Holtebeck was given 2,317 votes as compared to 1,376 for John Cleary, Hartford, and 1,216 for Albert Bandle, West Bend.

Delbert J. Kenny, West Bend, candidate for governor, carried the county but ran a poor third in the state. Gov. Walter Goodland won the GOP nomination for a third term by defeating Ralph M. Immel, Madison, by slightly over 29,000 votes in the state balloting. Werkmeister and Amath were a weak fourth and fifth. Robert LaFollette, incumbent U. S. senator, was beaten by Jos. R. McCarthy, Appleton, in the state this ending the long LaFollette political dynasty in Wisconsin. Perry J. Stearns was a poor third. John E. Martin, incumbent attorney general, and the only other candidate opposed on the state ticket, won out over Dieterich and Runge.

On the state Democratic ticket former Mayor Daniel W. Hoan of Milwaukee, was nominated for governor in an easy victory over Stanley Fajkowski, Milwaukee. On the county Democratic ticket all the write-in candidates polled enough votes to qualify for places on the ballot in the November regular election. Ollie Lechen, West Bend, candidate for sheriff, got the most votes, 254. The write-in candidates needed 110 votes to get a spot on the general election ballot and polled far more than that number.

The main interest in both this village and the county centered on the GOP slate. In Kewaskum a fairly light vote was cast, a total of 213 ballots being marked. Of this number 159 ballots were Republican and 14 Democratic.

The first return in this county, a partial one, was turned in by the village of Kewaskum. The local election board was also first in the state with the state returns for the second straight time and Kewaskum's returns were the first of any precinct in the state to be broadcast over the Milwaukee Journal radio station.

Following are the complete election results for Washington county and the village of Kewaskum:

Placings Announced in County Judging Contest

In the countywide judging contest held Thursday, Aug. 8, the following placings are announced in order of rating:

DAIRY CATTLE JUDGING—William Schroeder, R. 4, West Bend; Donald Schellinger, R. 2, Hartford; Thomas Zuern, R. 2, Hartford; Glenn Peters, R. 5, West Bend; Clifford Bauer, R. 2, West Bend; Thomas Brault, R. 2, Hartford; John Schroeder, R. 4, West Bend; Robert Frey, R. 2, Hartford; James Esselman, R. 2, West Bend.

SWINE JUDGING—James Esselman, R. 2, West Bend; John Schroeder, R. 4, West Bend; Tom Zuern, R. 2, Hartford; Robert Frey, R. 2, Hartford; Glenn Peters, R. 5, West Bend; William Schroeder, R. 4, West Bend; Clifford Bauer, R. 2, West Bend; Thomas Brault, R. 2, Hartford; Donald Schellinger, R. 2, Hartford.

CROPS JUDGING—Clifford Bauer, R. 2, West Bend; Glenn Peters, R. 5, West Bend; William Schroeder, R. 4, West Bend; Thomas Zuern, R. 2, Hartford; Donald Schellinger, R. 2, Hartford; Robert Frey, R. 2, Hartford; John Schroeder, R. 4, West Bend; James Esselman, R. 2, West Bend.

Classes of livestock were judged at the county asylum, Decorah farm dairy, and Schroeder dairy. Crops judging was conducted at the West Bend high school.

Glenn Vergeront, extension dairyman of the University of Wisconsin, acted as official judge in the dairy division and gave the participants valuable pointers on selection of dairy animals.

Selected to participate in the judging contests to be held at the state fair were William Schroeder and Thomas Zuern, dairy judges, and Robert Frey, livestock judge. Of particular interest was the fine work of the younger boys who rated high. Some of these boys will make very fine judges in future years.

K-M All-Stars Beaten by Lakes Stars, 12-5

Pounding four pitchers for 19 total bases, the Northern Division Lakes all-stars defeated the Kettle Moraine league stars 12 to 5 under the lights at West Bend Tuesday night.

The K-M team was by no means the strongest that could have been picked out of the league. Each team was allowed to send two or three players and nearly all of the starters in the game were from the last place teams in the circuit. Some teams failed to send their best players. The K-M stars did not have their best lineup in the contest until the last innings.

Kewaskum was represented by "Mix" Marx and Paul Kral. Marx, a pitcher, played center field the first five innings and Kral caught the last three innings.

"Jiggs" Wenzel, Hartford, starting pitcher, was given credit for the win while Leroy Hausmann, Boltonville, was charged with the loss. However, Hausmann turned in the best performance of the four K-M hurlers. Other Kettle Moraine pitchers were Richards, Cascade, Schultz, Glenbeulah, and Schramm, Campbellsport. Other Lakes pitchers were Sorpent, Mayville, Gun, Jackson, and Kissinger, West Bend.

The K-M managers poured in a steady supply of subs, 26 in all. The Lakes managers used only 13 players. The losers collected nine hits while the Lakers banged out 14.

GAMES THIS SUNDAY

Kewaskum at Campbellsport
Sheboygan at Random Lake
Adell at Glenbeulah
Boltonville at Sheboygan Falls
Plymouth at Cascade
Belgium (bye)

After spotting the losers 3 runs in the first inning, Kewaskum slugged out an easy 9 to 3 victory at Sheboygan Falls Sunday behind the 5-hitting "Mix" Marx. The win was the Utensils' fourth in five games this second half.

An error, single and Klausner's home run in the first frame gave Falls 3 runs. These were the first and last as Marx shut them out with only 3 more hits in the next 8 innings. Kewaskum got the runs back in short order and went ahead in the third to stay. Paul Kral took batting honors with 3 for 4. Marx struck out 10 batters. The pitchers got 13 hits off the opposing pitchers, a right hander and left hander.

This Sunday the going will be a lot tougher when Kewaskum goes to Campbellsport to tackle the undefeated Belles. The hard hitting Belles shut out the Utensils in their first meeting here, 4-0 behind the fine chucking of Chuck Schramm. Kewaskum will have to be at its best to stand a chance of an upset. A large crowd of fans from both sides is expected.

One Man Loses Life, Three Others Hurt in Crash Near Here

One Milwaukee youth is dead and three others from that city were injured as the result of an auto accident on Highway 55 north of Kewaskum, just over the Washington county line, at about 10:45 p. m. Saturday.

Critically injured were Herbert Greshbach, the driver, who suffered a head injury, and Myron Janczak, 23, who received a head injury and a leg fracture. Janczak, who was the most seriously hurt, died at St. Joseph's hospital, West Bend, early Tuesday night of his injuries. Bruce Schneider, 25, and William Cieplinski, 21, suffered other and bruises and other lesser injuries.

County officials were called to investigate and Sheriff Koth reported the four youths were enroute north on a fishing trip. The car went out of control on a curve, went into the ditch, rolled over, tore down a telephone pole guide wire and tore out about 65 feet of fencing. An ambulance was called and the men were taken to the hospital at West Bend.

Taverns, Restaurants Must Roll Back Prices

OFA wishes to make the following announcement. Ceiling prices must be posted in all retail stores, restaurants and taverns.

With reactivation of price control, charts showing ceiling prices of foodstuffs, meals and beverages must be posted conspicuously in retail outlets and no alterations may be made on the charts, OFA warned.

Merchandise pricing charts required by maximum price regulations 339 and 380 are still in force. They cover a variety of goods, including men's suits, infants' wear, shoes, furniture and other items.

Restaurant prices must be rolled back to those of June 30th, 1946 under the new price control act.

To compensate restaurant operators for increases in costs of foodstuffs a pricing formula has been provided by the OFA. It permits prices higher than June 30th level under specific circumstances. Within six days after a new menu item is first served, restaurant must file cost and margin data with their price control board.

Prices for new menu items, which have been filed must be maintained for 60 days after which time, if foodstuff prices have increased, price relief may be applied for.

Restaurants not filing within the required time are in violation of the act and subject to prosecution. Cost and margin records must be retained for inspection by the OFA and liquor, malt beverages, tobacco products, candy and gum must be excluded from both cost and sales data since they are not considered raw food. Only food items can be included in the cost and sales data.

COONHUNTERS MEET HERE

A meeting of the Washington County Coonhunters' association was held at Joe Eberle's place last Thursday evening with a goodly number of members present. The business included plans to hold two coonhound field trials this fall, probably in September and October.

We hereby wish to thank the members of the Kewaskum fire department and also the neighboring farmers who assisted in extinguishing the fire on our farm. Your help was greatly appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Laubach

—Math. Bath and family, Louis Bath and son Louis and Mike Bath attended the wedding of Bernice Stein at Milwaukee Saturday.

BRUESSEL BABY BAPTIZED

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Bruessel Jr. of the town of Kewaskum was baptized Sunday in Holy Trinity church by the Rev. F. C. LaBowl. She received the name Carol Ann and sponsors were Allen Reinhold and Mrs. Albert Reindl.

Miss Gutschentritter Weds Theo. Zuern Jr

Miss Beatrice M. Gutschentritter, daughter of the Edward Gutschentritters of Route 2, Kewaskum, became the bride of Theodore W. Zuern Jr. on Wednesday, Aug. 7, in St. Michael's church, St. Michaels. The groom's brother, the Rev. Alexander Zuern, performed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a midnight summer satin and marquisette dress, train. A double fingertip length net veil, lace edged, fell from a half hat of lace, satin and orange blossoms. She carried rubrum lilies, gladioli, a prayer book and rosary.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Loretta Reschlein, was her matron of honor. She wore a white satin and bouffant dress with a peach headress and peach accessories and carried a bouquet of gladioli and asters with marine and peach ribbon.

The groom, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Zuern Sr. of Route 1, Slinger, was attended by his brother, Louis, as best man. Ushering were Vincent and Clarence Gutschentritter.

A dinner and supper for the immediate family was served at the Kewaskum Opera House. Following a wedding dance the couple left on their honeymoon. Upon their return they will reside on the groom's farm near Slinger. Mrs. Zuern was formerly employed at the Amity company in West Bend.

GIRLS' SOFTBALL NOTES

The big game is over and Kewaskum came out on top. Last Sunday afternoon Filmore was defeated by us, 13-8, so now we're in first place. As usual Charlotte did a good job of pitching. Both sides had quite a few errors but we managed to be on the winning side when the game ended.

We have two more games to play. One is with Beechwood, which will be played here the 22nd, and the other is with Adell. The date of that game has not as yet been decided upon.

See you next week.

Kewaskum Juniors Win 2 Games, Lose 1 During Week

The Kewaskum Indians, unbeaten leaders in the Land o' Brooks league until a week ago Sunday, lost their second game in one week under the lights at Port Washington Thursday night, 7-4. Loose play accounted for the defeat. The team played again on Sunday at West Bend and trounced the Benders, 10-4. The third game of the past week was played Wednesday night under the lights at West Bend. In this game Kewaskum again defeated the Benders by the close score of 3-2.

Local Farmers Win in County Barley Contest

Washington county topped all counties in the state in the number of entries in the county barley contest which was sponsored by the State Brewers' association. There were ninety-three such entries and these exhibited bushel samples of their crop at the fairgrounds on Friday, Aug. 9. George Briggs, agronomy specialist of the College of Agriculture, judged the entries. Winners were as follows:

1st—Joe Matenaer, Route 1, West Bend.

2nd—Louis T. Opsenorth, Route 3, Kewaskum.

3rd—Sylvester G. Strupp, Richfield.

4th—George Kibbel Jr., Route 2, Kewaskum.

5th—Andrew J. Pick, West Bend.

6th—Ambrose A. Wiedmeyer, Richfield.

7th—Adam Schaefer, Route 3, Hartford.

8th—Elmer Ebling, Route 1, Richfield.

9th—Ed. Ritterbusch, Richfield.

10th—Nicholas S. Stoffel, Route 2, Kewaskum.

11th to 20th places—Ambrose Klink, Route 2, Hartford; Harlin Kannenberg, Rockfield; Arthur Esser, Route 2, Hartford; Jerome Vogt, Route 5, West Bend; Mrs. Anna Bohan, Route 1, Hartford; Merlin Herther, Slinger; Frank Brugger, Richfield; George Frank, Route 2, Hartford; Wilmer Frost, Route 2, Kewaskum; Edwin Wiedmeyer, Richfield.

During the noon hour all present were treated to a luncheon made possible through the courtesy of Thiel's mill at Slinger, Roseheimer Maltting company, Kewaskum; Lithia Brewery, West Bend, and the West Bend Maltting company, West Bend.

The samples of barley receiving the first eight awards in the county contest are being entered in the state barley contest to be shown at the state fair.

Thousands of People Jam Village Park for Home-coming Picnic

Picnic One of Biggest Ever held Here; Beautiful Parade, Fine Music and Acts are Highlights; Many Cash, Merchandise Prizes Given

In spite of cloudy and somewhat cool weather, thousands of people lined the streets for the monstrous parade and jammed the village park for the big veterans' homecoming picnic Sunday. The event was one of the biggest of its kind held here and drew one of the largest crowds ever to be in Kewaskum. People from near and far, many of them veterans, and Legionnaires, came to have a high old time and make the affair an outstanding success.

The highlight was the beautiful parade, the finest ever witnessed here. Outstanding musical organizations in the parade included the famed Beaver Dam Legion band, Fond du Lac drum and bugle corps and majorettes, crack Horicon drum and bugle corps and majorettes, Sheboygan Sons of Legion drum and bugle corps and Random Lake high school band. Large groups of veterans and Legionnaires from West Bend, Campbellsport, Random Lake, Theresa, Lomira and Kewaskum marched in the long parade. Other units included police escort, Legion colors and firing squad, majorettes, firemen, Hitler specialty, 49 engine, Spanish-American vets, clubs, scouts, barber shop quartet, ponies, floats and children's floats and specialties. The parade drew much comment and was highly praised by all who saw it.

Cash prizes were awarded for the best musical organization, best veterans' representation, floats and other specialties in the parade and winners were as follows:

Best musical unit—Horicon Drum and Bugle Corps.

Best representation in parade—Random Lake Legion post.

Large floats—1st, Mauthe lake float; 2nd, girls' softball team.

Children's floats—1st, Kidnapped float; 2nd, Red Cross float.

Bikes and buggies—1st, Cynthia Landmann; 2nd, Isabelle "Sis" Miller; 3rd, Scooters.

Specialties—1st, Mehring boys pony and cart; 2nd, midget band; 3rd, bridal party.

The judges stand was located at the front of the Holy Trinity school grounds. Judges of the floats, etc. were N. W. Rosenheimer, Mrs. Charles Miller and August Koch. Judges of the musical units were Albert G. Hron, Clifford Rose and Mrs. Elwyn Romaine.

In the park afternoon and evening concerts by the champion Beaver Dam band, the singing of the state championship Hi-Lo barber shop quartet, performances by "Marie's Animals," a trained dog show, singing by a girls' duet, and games, amusements and entertainment of all sorts were enjoyed. The singing of the quartet and acts by "Marie's Animals" were very good and much applauded by the huge crowds.

The picnic broke up quite early in the evening because some concessions were sold out. Shortly after the awarding of prizes after 10 p. m. people began leaving the park. One beer stand was sold out already in the afternoon and the other was out of beer and closed shortly after 10 p. m. Many outside Legionnaires took advantage of the local Legion clubhouse and spent part of the day there. The event will be remembered a long time as a good one and a great success. The Kewaskum post wishes to thank everyone who helped make it so.

Over $500.00 in valuable merchandise prizes were awarded and the lucky winners are listed below:

1. Electric refrigerator—Mrs. E. Schneider, 2722 N. 34th St., Milwaukee.

2. Barton DeLuxe electric washer—Donald Uelmen, Campbellsport.

3. Radio-phonograph—Doris N. Peetri, West Bend.

4. Kewaskum aluminum ware—John B. Pick, West Bend.

5. Rembrandt exclusive ladies' hand bag—A. C. Kieckhafer, West Bend.

6. Lawn mower—Elmer Boettcher, R. 2, Kewaskum.

7. Tire and tube—John B. Pick, West Bend.

COURTESY TO CRIPPLES

A man managed to board a street-car the other day, after a hot chase. On regaining his breath, he said, jokingly, to the conductor, "Suppose, I'd slipped and lost a leg—what then?" "Oh," answered the conductor, with unwonted politeness, "you wouldn't have to do any more running then: we always stop for a nfan with a crutch."

Missing Parts

"That absent-minded Professor Schmalz has left his umbrella again. He'd leave his head if it were loose!" observed the waitress. "That's true," said the manager. "I just heard him say he was going to Switzerland for his lungs."

Kind of Heavy

Gallant Guest (to hostess as they walk toward the table)—And may I sit on your right hand? Hostess—No, I'll have to eat with that. You'd better take a chair.

Contortionist

Little Robert (reading a book)—Was Robinson Crusoe an acrobat? Mother—I don't know. Why? Robert—Well, it says here that he sat down on his chest when he finished working.

Social Outcast

Postmaster—I'm sorry, but I can't cash this money order for you unless you have some identification. Have you some friend in camp? Private—Not me. You see, sir, I'm the bagler.

PAYING OFF

The timekeeper on a road job borrowed $2 from one of the workers to buy a few drinks. He promised to repay the money on payday. Payday came and the worker found his pay check made out for $2 more than he figured was due him. He made inquiries. "Oh, that," said the timekeeper, "is to pay you back the $2 you loaned me!"

Some Cooking

An American soldier, billeted in England, didn't like the way the food was cooked at a local inn. He barely touched the plate that was set down before him. The waiter was indignant. "Aren't you ashamed to be wasting food that way?" he chided. "Don't you know that food will win the war?" "Could be," allowed the American, "but who's going to get the enemy to eat here?"

Union Baseball Up Again

The fight to unionize baseball has flared up again, with the Pennsylvania state labor board accepting jurisdiction in the Pittsburgh baseball club's case. Casey at the bat may yet be there with a union card as well.

Unionized baseball intrigues us. We are tired of the old patterns in the national game and yearn for such items in the box scores as "out at first under checkoff rule" . . . "left on bases; stockholders, 7; directors, 5" . . . "forced at third by jurisdictional dispute."

The game has become too smooth and peaceful. Gone are the old days of brawls and fireworks every inning. What may be needed are some flashy interludes where the pickets overturn some automobiles in the outfield, where a game is called on account of tear gas or where some Petriello of the national fame orders a team to use four players at first, and put on extra shortstops at night games.

It seems to us that modern ball players lack the martial spirit. There is too much friendliness and goodwill on the field. Can you imagine Phil Murray taking a third called strike with nothing more than a scornful look?

It seems to us evident that the modern baseball player needs protection. He is too prone to taking a third strike philosophically instead of blaming it on the front office. He is too inclined to lose a pennant with a shrug of the shoulders instead of with a protest that he is being crucified by management.

Union rules will level off rewards. There is no reason why a man who can sock homers every day should get more than a fellow worker who does his best but can't poke one out of the infield. Hits and runs are not the proper measure for rewards. All men are created equal, and beyond that it is just luck, rhythm and box scores.

Robert Murphy who is doing the union organizing in baseball, is a Harvard man. This puts Harvard one up on Yale and Princeton, but we hear Yale may soon demand a 40-hour week for golfers, while Princeton will ask for the four-day week for horseshoe pitchers.

Batter up! And, remember, a fair division of the profits or else.

OMIGOSH!

"Take It Easy. Avoid Accidents" has been formally adopted as a slogan in the war against auto accidents, and stickers are being issued to be pasted on windshields. All of which makes us giggle. "Take It Easy" lacks punch, but even if it were a good slogan a windshield sticker would be about as effective against auto accidents as a harp solo against the atomic bomb.

Death and slaughter rule the road—At laws the goofy drivers snicker; So up and at the killers all—We'll fight 'em with a windshield sticker!

They beat the green, defy the red; They run folks down with yeils of "Quicker!" "Quicker!" So let us act decisively—The cry is "Forward . . . with a sticker!" . . .

Veterans SERVICE BUREAU

EDITORS NOTE: This newspaper, through special arrangement with the Washington Bureau of Western Newspaper Union at 1616 Eye Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., is able to bring readers this weekly column on problems of the veteran and serviceman and his family. Questions may be addressed to the above Bureau and they will be answered in a subsequent column. No replies can be made direct by mail, but only in the column which will appear in this newspaper regularly.

Self-Employment

Approximately 360,000 veterans have received more than $118,000,000 in readjustment allowances for self-employment under provisions of the G. I. bill as of the end of the fiscal year June 30, the Veterans administration has announced.

These self-employed veterans were engaged in farming, independent businesses or in trades or professions. The vast majority of such veterans are engaged in agricultural activities and the remaining enterprises vary from operation of a shoe repair establishment to the practice of medicine or law.

These allowances are available to veterans engaged in full-time self-employment for profit, and if their net earnings for a given month are less than $100, they are paid the difference between the net earnings and $100. The period for which a veteran is entitled to allowances depends upon his length of service in the armed forces, the maximum being 10 1/2 months if the veteran has over 9 1/2 months of service to his credit.

Questions and Answers

Q. My son has been in the army almost 4 years, spending 31 months overseas. He came back to the states in February, 1946, suffering from a bad mental condition. He is now in jail charged with burglary. Military authorities won't act on the civil laws. He has employed a lawyer and asked for a doctor to check him over. He pled guilty at the preliminary hearing. He has enlisted back in the army for three more years. His bond is $750, but he is unable to furnish bond and is in jail until the superior court meets in August. He is my sole support. My father is 115 years old, I am 56 and in poor health unable to work. He made an allotment for support. Will it stop while he is in prison? Where can I apply for help for my son? — H. N., Columbus, Ga.

A. I am afraid I cannot give you much help. Your son's attorney should know what is best for him to do. The army says that while a serviceman is in the hands of the civil authorities he is considered away without leave. After three months all allowances are cancelled. Should he be convicted, he will be discharged from the army.

Q. I was in the army 19 months and want to get some information about my discharge, since it is a Section 8. How can I go about getting the $20 a week as I have been out of employment most of the time and the discharge keeps me from getting any decent jobs? — J. F. W., Harrisburg, Mo.

A. Section 8 of the basic army regulations covers a multitude of sins and discharge under that section is neither honorable nor dishonorable. If you received a "blue" discharge would suggest that you write to the office of the adjutant general, war department, Washington 25, D. C., and ask for a review of your discharge. Or you may apply to the nearest office of the Veterans administration and explain to them under what conditions you were discharged and they might waive the discharge since it was made at the convenience of the government.

Q. I am a World War II veteran discharged with service-connected disability and am drawing 100 per cent compensation. I am receiving medical care from my local doctor. Are my wife and daughter also entitled to medical care? — C. R. B., Arab, Ala.

A. No.

Q. How may one go about getting alimony from a veteran who is on retirement pay when she is not sure of his whereabouts? Must she have an attorney and take it to court or can it be settled out of court? — Mrs. L. P., Chattanooga, Tenn.

A. This man is a civilian, out of the army, if he is a veteran and this is a legal case, so advise you consult an attorney.

Q. I was a widow of a Spanish war veteran and I remarried. Could I receive my pension back again if I were to divorce the man I am married to? — R. P., East Peoria, Ill.

A. No. The law says that the pension right of a widow is terminated upon her remarriage and such right may not be revived.

Q. My son, a captain, was killed in action. He was a fighter pilot and was not main support and allotted part of his pay to us. I want to inquire if we would be eligible for a pension. — M. K., Wheatland, Wyo.

A. Both you and your husband are surely entitled to a pension if you were dependent upon your son. Suggest that you apply immediately to the Veterans administration sub-regional office at 1720 Carey avenue, Cheyenne, Wyo., and am sure that you would be entitled to $25 each per month.

Q. Will you please advise me where I may obtain a certified copy of my service record? I was discharged at Camp Shelby, Miss., last December. — M. J. F., Huntsville, Ala.

A. The war department says you cannot obtain a certified copy of your service record. You can, however, get a copy of your discharge papers which are supposed to contain all information necessary. Write to the office of the adjutant general, war department, Washington 25, D. C.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Eat With Relish If You Put Up Own Pickles, Chili

After you wash jars for canning, sterilize them by pouring hot water to fill, then empty water from them and set the jars inverted on a clean towel until ready to use.

Your family won't go without those tasty pickles, chili sauces and catsup if you put up your own supplies this summer and fall. We don't know what market conditions will be for these products during the next year, but if you have your own you won't be a slave to market conditions.

Most canning budgets will permit putting up some relishes because as a general rule, they do not require too much in the way of sweetening. If these recipes prove too generous in quantity, cut them in halves or quarters and follow instructions.

I'm including old favorites in pickles and relishes which I'm sure will add much to your personal eating pleasure during the winter. It's easy to make pickles because they have enough vinegar and spices so that you will not have to worry too much about spoilage.

Sweet Mixed Pickles.

2 medium-sized heads cauliflower
2 quarts tender waxed beans
2 quarts small green beans
4 chili peppers
2 quarts tiny green cucumbers
4 large cucumbers
1 quart small white onions
1 gallon vinegar
4 pounds granulated sugar
4 small pieces horseradish root
1 tablespoon whole cloves
1 tablespoon pepper corns
1 tablespoon celery seed
2 tablespoons ground cinnamon
4 bay leaves

Prepare and wash all vegetables, cut wax beans into one-inch lengths, leave green beans whole. Dice cucumbers, cut peppers fine. Place beans, peppers, onions and cucumbers into enough cold salted water (1/2 cup salt to one gallon of water) to cover. Let stand overnight and drain. Separate cauliflower into small pieces. Cook 10 minutes in boiling water. Drain. Cook beans 10 minutes in boiling water, drain.

Boil sugar, spices and vinegar for 10 minutes, add vegetables and cook for another 10 minutes. Let stand until cold. Pack vegetables into sterile jars and fill with hot vinegar-spice mixture. This will make about 10 pints of pickles.

Our wartime shortages of catsup and chili sauce have made many homemakers determined to have a plentiful supply of their own. Besides, what's better than the fragrance and superior taste of these

Fine Wall Papers Use Aquatint For Quality Look in Rooms

By MARION ATKINS

Forecasting what may be considered a definite trend, the new aquatint wallpapers (Katzentbach and Warren) reveal a feeling for delicacy and quiet charm. In free and impressionistic design, these new papers are printed in ink by a process similar to the old "aquatint engraving" and have the subtle muted tones that make these old engravings such important collector's items.

These new papers are printed on sheets and sold by the roll, six sheets to the roll, and are prettily used as wall "pictures." There are six prints: "Blue Ridge" showing red-coated hikers riding to the hounds over rolling countryside, a lovely paper for hall or den; "Sund Morning" pictures a stylish belle in her surrey, going to church, a paper well chosen for the dining room or bedroom; "Flower and Grass" and "Meadow" are two widely spaced flowers and grass-

12 Dutch Stencils For Decorative Use

TULIPS, hearts, flowers, fruits, borders and other motifs, large and small—even the dove of peace with an olive branch are included in this set of twelve Pennsylvania Dutch designs for stenciling.

Use them for cupboard doors, furniture and small articles. Be as gay as you like with bright Dutch blues, reds and yellows. You can paint them over and have a new design at your slightest whim.

Household Hints

To remove dust from wall paper, wipe with a soft wall brush or soft cloth. Hard rubbing will streak and roughen the paper.

Tip on painting: Don't overload brush, dip it one-third its length, and keep the can about half full.

It is easier to iron dresses and blouses in this order: sleeves, back, front and collar.

Heavy roof paint applied to inside of metal gutters will prevent rusting for a long time.

Sandpaper is useful in cleaning suede shoes. After a thorough brushing, go over them lightly with fine sandpaper, then follow with a cloth which has been moistened with vinegar.

Drab-looking flower pots can be brightened by going over them with ordinary wax crayons.

Late fall is regarded as the best time to do house painting, for by then the long summer sun has removed all moisture from the wood.

One of the best home ways to BUILD UP RED BLOOD

If you lack BLOOD-IRON
You girls and women who suffer so from simple anemia that you're pale, weak, "dragged out"—this may be due to lack of blood-iron. So try Lydia E. Pinkham's TABLETS—one of the best home ways to build up red blood—in such cases. Pinkham's Tablets are one of the greatest blood-iron tonics you can buy! At all drugstores.

Kathleen Norris Says:

In the Looking Glass

Bell Syndicate.—WNU Features.

"Make home heaven. Make it simpler, smaller, if you like, but create about your self and your own people a stronghold of security."

IF, ONCE A YEAR, say, you could look right into your husband's mind and see exactly what he is thinking of you, what would you see?

Certainly it would be a stunning shock.

You might see that for some years he has been saying to himself, "if she doesn't stop that whining poor talk, one of these days I'll walk out on her."

He might say, "Why does she always have to knock my family in that delicate, pleasant way? Why does she always sneak in some little dig at mother, and remind me that Sally's first husband divorced her? Sally's happy now, and mother's always kind to us. It gets me all nettles to have my wife always—always—always finding some mean little thing to say about them."

Or it might be, "All right, go on running up big bills, go on complaining that you can't have what other women have, and I'll break down someday and tell you just how sweet and comforting and companionable my little office sweetheart is."

Unfortunately, since we can't look into each other's minds we go on year after year, sometimes, hurting each other, in little ways or big ways. You hate to tell your husband where he fails you, it hurts his feelings so deeply, it hurts his pride. He hesitates to tell you where you fail him; he wants to, he means to, but the right moment never comes, and so time goes by, and he grows set in his annoying little habits, and you grow set in yours.

Find Out What's Wrong.
It is a wise woman who determines to discover these defects for herself. Only a very stupid one refuses to admit that she has her faults, her irritating ways, her tiresome limitations. More than ever that in some way you fail your family and your friends, that there is something disagreeable that they all agree upon when they dissect your character, the next thing is to find out what it is.

Always being late with everything? Always talking poor? Always meeting him with the worst of the day's news? Always wishing things were different? Always in debt? Always critical of his family? What is it that those who love you, wish to goodness you would change?

The reason I write of this universal situation is because so many homes are trembling now on the brink of trouble. More than ever before in our national history people are nervous, some without cause, some with cause. Men have come back from the war shattered in spirit; strikers are hard on strikers and employer; business, housing, buying conditions are not normal and not apt to become normal for some time. Constant reminders of the cold and starvation overseas make our hearts heavy and our own security seem something of which to be almost ashamed.

This bad time can be and will be weathered, but not without a demand for new heroism upon every

Daughters Lack Confidence in Parents' Fairness
Dating heads the list of subjects about which the generations always seem to be at cross purposes. The girls say that their parents object most to their going with boys of different nationalities, to their having "steadies," to their going out in cars and to mixed parties. These are all matters on which young girls certainly need parental advice and guidance. Then why won't they accept it and profit by it? One reason is that too many parents fail to build a friendly give-and-take relationship with their daughters from childhood on. The parents are often too bossy, giving the child no chance to present her side. Daughter, consciously or unconsciously, stores up resentment against this one-sided handling of her problems so that by the time she is old enough to attract the boys she is so certain her parents will make dictatorial rules about dates that she refuses to confide in them.

HAVEN OF HAPPINESS

There are many small causes of friction even in the happiest families. It may be that the wife nags and whines. She may be dull and lifeless, even if she fulfills all her duties faithfully. Some women are extravagant and demanding. Others are always comparing their state with someone's else.

Many husbands seldom or never mention these wifely traits that so annoy them. They try to go along, realizing that their own faults may be pretty hard to endure too. If every wife could look into her husband's mind once a year, says Miss Norris, she probably would be surprised and startled at what she would discover.

During these trying postwar years, when nerves are still tense, little irritations grow into serious quarrels. The divorce courts are full of husbands and wives who got on each other's nerves. It is every wife's duty, counsels Miss Norris, to try to make her home as pleasant as she can. It should be a little haven of happiness in a distraught world.

wife and homemaker and mother. It is upon us women that the heaviest responsibility falls, and in our hands lies the cure. We must stop hoping for men to change, conditions to change, costs to go down, paychecks to go up, and determine to change just one thing, ourselves. Change from nagging to pleasantness, from debt to solvency, from disagreeable criticism and sulky silences to that amiable, confident equanimity, that is the very essence of peace at home.

Stronghold of Security.
Make home heaven. Make it simpler, smaller, if you like, move it to less expensive quarters, cut out many of the things that you feel today you cannot do without, but create about yourself and your own people a stronghold of security, and begin the process by asking yourself just what, if you had a chance from the outside, you would want changed.

There are no days in which to be coldly reasonable, and expect reasonableness from others. These are days of desperate crisis; we are living through a time of psychopathic strain that already has broken us down into thousands of neurotics, thousands of cases of mental collapse. Not all of these are in our base hospitals; many of them are at family breakfast-tables, or selling their children in shops, or teaching our children in schools. The old world cannot suffer the fevers that have racked her for five years without having to face a long convalescence.

So take hold of your own problem and reduce it not only to safety and sanity, but to happiness and harmony as well. There may have to be many changes. But make the first one in yourself.

Aluminum Wear

Heavy "cast" aluminum vessels are made by pouring the molten metal into castings or forms. "Stamped" aluminumware is stamped from sheets of the metal and then pressed into shape. It comes in three grades—light, medium and heavy.

The heavier the aluminum, the more durable the utensil. But, too, heavy aluminum wastes fuel. Thin, lightweight aluminum is less expensive and lighter to handle, but it also dents and bends more easily.

WORLD WAR I BRIDES

World War II Brides

MARKED CONTRAST. . . Foreign girls were wooed and won by American soldiers in both world wars but, as the above pictures attest, there was a marked difference in the brides of two generations. Photo (1) shows a group of American soldiers in World War I's army of occupation entraining at Coblentz, many bringing back wives and children. Girls like those shown in photo (2) won the hearts of American servicemen in World War II, the picture showing typical war brides ready to embark for the U. S. In contrast to their sister war brides of a quarter century ago, World War II brides show every evidence of modernity. Photo (3) shows joyous wives of ex-G.I.s obligingly posing on the railing of a transport in typical Hollywood style, although minus the finishing touches. Longer duration of World War II resulted in larger families for G.I.s and their foreign brides. Larger than ordinary is the family of Arthur Smith of Greenville, N. C. Mrs. Smith is shown in photo (4) arriving from England with her four children, two of which were by a former marriage. An Italian girl "fell hard" for Joseph Cianciotto of Rochester, N. Y., and they were married in Italy. Mrs. Cianciotto "fell hard" for him again when her war bride ship docked in New York, as photo (5) attests. Even modern modes of transportation were utilized in reuniting G.I.s and their foreign brides, photo (6) showing a group of war brides arriving in America by airliner.

'LIKE FATHER, LIKE SON'

Statistics Show Equal Foreign Marriage Rate for Both Wars

Influx of war brides to all parts of the United States leads to the general impression that G.I.s serving overseas during World War II were more addicted to marrying foreign girls than were their doughboy fathers of World War I. From the British Isles, France and Germany, even from far-away Australia and the Philippines, have come bride ships transporting war wives to America to join their former G. I. husbands.

The common impression that the average G.I. of World War II was more inclined to take a foreign wife than was his counterpart of World War I is contradicted in statistics compiled by Metropolitan Life Insurance company.

Records indicate that there were about 52,500 marriages with foreign girls during World War II, compared with an estimated 4,000 to 5,000 during the war of a quarter century ago. Records for war marriages at that time are very incomplete.

Despite the increased number, however, the foreign marriage rate of the two generations of servicemen is practically equal.

Blood Test Used To Fix Maternity In Animal World

CHICAGO.—An equine parallel to Hollywood's recent series of paternity disputes was reported by the American Veterinary Medical association.

The investigation described by the veterinary authorities was made by two French veterinary scientists and was believed to be the first practical application of blood grouping to determine parentage in horses.

The problem was to determine which of two mares, "Fanny" or "Clairette," was the mother of a colt named "Robert." Serum tests showed that Fanny's blood belonged to group "AB," Clairette's to group "A" and Robert's to group "O."

Statute Books Contain Many Outmoded Regulations

Ancient blue laws continue to gather dust on New Jersey statute books.

A person who drives a horse while intoxicated—the driver, that is, not the horse—is subject to a fine of from $2.50 to $10 and 30 days' imprisonment, according to one of the outmoded laws.

Another law authorizes magistrates to order a ball and chain to be placed on the leg of any tramp tried as disorderly persons.

Englishwoman Appeals for Aid To Find Dog

Under the impression that her Scotch collie may have followed American soldiers to the U. S., Miss Barbara Witty of London has appealed to the American Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals for help in finding him.

Miss Witty, who offered a $1,200 reward for return of the five-year-old dog, said he was "like my child since he was a puppy." The dog disappeared while she was in South Wales in an area where American troops were quartered.

After pointing out that the soldiers had the habit of "enticing dogs to their camps, where food was plentiful," she added that some dogs found their way aboard ship when the troops returned to America.

Miss Witty said she is prepared to come to this country to identify the dog. It "would recognize me at once," she added.

Soil Termed Great Laboratory For Production of New Drugs

Soil not only is the source of life-supporting food but also is a great laboratory in which are produced many new-found drugs for curing diseases of man and beast against which even good nutrition cannot prevail, according to Alden Stahr and Dr. Boyd Woodruff in an article in Capper's Farmer.

"These are the so-called miracle drugs, first of which was tyrothricin," says the article. "Then came penicillin, used extensively during the war, followed by actinomycin, streptomycin, clavacin and gamma-galactin. Others have been discovered and more are in prospect."

Among the things scientists have seen and identified, Stahr and Woodruff point out, are: One-celled plants, molds, green plants, animals, protozoa, worms and nematodes. And these soil inhabitants do more than provide fertility to the soil. In their struggle for existence, many of them throw off waste products and create chemical substances which are deadly to disease germs. Thus a very special strain of species of fungi yielded penicillin, which shared the credit with blood plasma and the sulfa drugs in greatly reducing the wound mortality rate in World War II as compared with the First World war.

"The soil," conclude the writers, "is so complex a mixture that there must be many other healing agents found in it. Many of man's 2,000 diseases still are unconquered. Most prevalent of all, of course, is the common cold, which causes more economic loss and discomfort to people than any other disease and, weakening the system, paves the way for more serious ailments."

Many From Australia.
From the Pacific area came 10,000 war brides, 85 per cent of whom were from Australia. Another 10 per cent are from New Zealand and 5 per cent from other countries, particularly the Philippines.

Age of war brides varies considerably, with marked concentrations in the late teens and early twenties.

Just as personnel of the armed forces was recruited from every state in the Union, so will these wives and children of ex-G.I.s settle in every part of the country.

They stood in front of the jeweler's shop. Said she, coaxingly: "Darling, look at that lovely diamond ring."

The teacher was trying to get the pupils to understand the conjugation of verbs.

"When I say 'I have, you have, he has,'" she explained, "I am conjugating the verb 'to have.' Do you understand?"

They did.

"Very good. Now listen carefully. 'I love, you love, he loves.' What is that?"

Up shot little Tommy's hand. Tommy was a firm enthusiast.

Said he: "It's one of those triangles when someone gets shot!"

Costly Job in Lives

In human life, the costliest engineering job of modern times was the 138 miles of the Central Railway of Peru between Callao and Oroya which took 12 years and was completed in 1893.

Starting at sea level and crossing the Andes at 15,865 feet, the line required the building of 65 tunnels and 67 bridges. Due to accidents and disease, 11,000 of the 13,000 workers died during its construction.

Veteran Senator Winds Up Long Career
Defeat of Wheeler Marks Passing of Able Legislator

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Service, 1616 Eye Street, N.W., Washington, D. C.

There was something rather pathetic about it to me when I heard the President say two words that marked the obituary of a long career. The terse reply was made at a presidential press-radio conference when a reporter asked Mr. Truman if he cared to say anything about the senatorial primary in Montana in which Burton K. Wheeler was defeated by Lief Erickson.

There was nothing more that the President could say. He already had endorsed Wheeler with that remarkable loyalty that he has for his friends—a virtue which easily may go down in history as one of his faults.

Wheeler gave the freshman senator, Harry Truman, his first opportunity to show his mettle by letting him bat for him as chairman of the important Interstate Commerce committee. Truman made good, and a warm friendship developed.

But even presidential aid couldn't save Wheeler. The other day I was looking over the autographed photographs with which Harold McGrath, superintendent of the senate radio gallery, had decorated the walls.

It was just about the time that things began to look back for the senator. We commented on the senators we had known who had ended long careers in defeat.

Of course, Sen. George Norris was the classic example. Five terms. Then he was replaced by an anti-Roosevelt man, Sen. Kenneth Wherry.

Senator Norris' closest contender for the longevity record in recent years was Ellison S. Cotton, Ed. Smith of South Carolina, violently anti-New Deal. He was defeated by a pro-Roosevelt man the year after Norris lost out.

Up on the radio gallery wall is a picture of Henry Ashurst, the senator whose tongue fairly dripped epigrams. He came to the senate when New Mexico was admitted to the Union. That was 1912. He left in 1940, serving five terms, plus five years.

The year 1940 was a bad one for veterans—besides Ashurst, William King of Utah left us, having served since 1917, and Lynn Frazer of North Dakota, who came to Washington in 1923.

Senator Wheeler served only four terms, but his vivid personality made it seem longer. He made many enemies. Many people disapproved of his isolationism and some of his other views most thoroughly.

But there are many, even among his detractors, who respect him for his integrity, for his ability as a legislator, something which perhaps is understood in Washington better than elsewhere, and also because they consider his pacifism sincere.

I remember a conversation I had with Jerry O'Connell, former representative who tried to take Wheeler's seat in a campaign somewhat similar to the one which brought victory to Erickson. Jerry was pretty sore. He had a copy of the Anaconda Standard in his hand as well as a clipping. The clipping was a report of one of Senator Wheeler's campaign speeches, made early in his career. I can't remember the phraseology, but the general idea (expressed by Wheeler) was that if the Anaconda Standard, which was supposed to represent the sentiments of the big copper interests, ever praised Wheeler, it would be a sign that he was no longer worthy of the support of the people of Montana.

O'Connell read that to me. Then he picked up his copy of the Standard, and read from it some very kind words for Senator Wheeler.

However, I think it would be grossly unfair to say that Senator Wheeler ever "sold out," even figuratively, to any interests, so far as I know, he is as sincere today as he was when he made his first fight on whatever issue had a side unpopular enough to attract him.

In February of 1935 I had a long interview with Senator Wheeler. I have the yellowing clipping before me. It is illustrated with a huge photograph (more picture than text) showing Wheeler, his fist clenched about to drive it into his palm—a favorite gesture. I remember when the picture was taken.

Here are two paragraphs from the story: "Last autumn (remember this was written in February, 1935), citizens of Montana sent the same young man to Washington as a senator for his third term with the largest majority ever given a candidate by the Mountain State."

A decade passes and new voters grow up. "Wheeler (I observed this in the same interview) came back to his office in the Senate building with the pictures of the high mountains and the deep valleys of his adopted state on the walls, and a victory measured in the same magnificent dimensions. His hair is a little thinner than it was but he can wake the echoes with the same thunder he released when he first arrived. He is still up and at 'em. And the higher they fly the more anxious he is to make them fall."

Wheeler, Norris, Ashurst—they, too, flew high.

Matron Upsets Solon's Aplomb

Matron Upsets Solon's Aplomb

It was during the day and night senate sessions on OPA. The senate recessed at 6 p. m. to continue deliberations at 8 p. m. Republican Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, bitter OPA opponent, and Mrs. Bridges went to a restaurant for dinner. Coming out, they were caught by a sudden sharp rain storm.

The dapper, white-linen-clad senator had a passing cab, and he and his wife piled in. Before they could shut the door (and in accordance with Washington's group riding) a huge and very damp Labrador retriever bounded in, landing in the senatorial lap.

The dog was followed by his corpulent mistress. Some moments elapsed as the quartet arranged themselves in the cab's back seat. The dog continued to snuggle and drip on the white linen suit.

Suddenly the corpulent lady, glancing sharply at the senator, said: "Why, you're Senator Bridges, aren't you?"

Bridges, pleased to be recognized, nodded graciously.

"Well," said the lady, jerking the scowling canine away from the Republican senator, "I'm a registered Democrat!"

Schwelienbach Years for West There's a persistent rumor that Labor Secretary Schwelienbach would like to desert the Potomac for Puget Sound. That's not hard to understand since heavy pressure is being exerted to make drastic changes in the labor department and since Schwelienbach is as popular as he is in his home state.

In 1934, when he was running for the United States senate, Lew Schwelienbach carried every county of the state—the first time this ever had happened.

Vicariously, as shown in the recent resounding success of his brother, Edgar Schwelienbach, in winning the Supreme court justiceship of the state—his popularity persists today. Edgar Schwelienbach, almost unknown outside

Individual Approach Farm Plan Stresses Local Aid

Individual Approach Farm Plan Stresses Local Aid

Increased responsibility for conserving land resources is placed upon local farm and ranch owners in the 1947 agricultural conservation program, it is revealed in details of the new plan announced by department of agriculture.

The personal aid phase represents the only change from the 1946 program. For the first time, the program allows up to 19 per cent of county conservation funds to carry out a practice not included in the list approved by the government for the various states.

The balance will go toward carrying out conservation practices selected by farmers and committees from the approved list.

Costs 300 Million Dollars. Authority for the 300 million dollar program is granted by congress under the agricultural appropriation act of 1947. The money is authorized to assist in carrying out soil building practices, soil and water conservation or the harvest of grass and legume seeds and to pay administrative costs of the program.

"Success of the program depends upon farmers and other committeemen who together work out plans for individual farms," said Dave Davidson, director of the field service branch, production and marketing administration.

Stress Local Angle. Davidson explained that greater emphasis on the local approach should help farmers make some needed shifts from practices which were necessary for quick wartime production to those of greater long-term soil building value.

Operators of some four million farms took part in the 1946 program, or about two-thirds of the total. The area of these farms included almost three-quarters of the nation's cropland.

Peace Talks Liberalized; G. I.'s Get Furlough Pay

PEACE PARLEY: Open Discussion

Smaller nations won't be required to discuss any question pertaining to the peace treaty drafts for Germany's former European satellites at the Paris peace conference in a surprise concession by Russia.

The Russian action followed Greece's demand that the conference be allowed to consider any item which relates to a just and durable peace. After hearing Yugoslavia and the Ukraine of the Soviet bloc attack the proposal, Russian Foreign Minister Molotov advanced his compromise.

By offering the opportunity for thoroughly discussing the treaty drafts, his plan would permit the molding of a sound peace, he said.

AUTO PRODUCTION: Race Drop

Up to a postwar production record of 312,576 units in July, output of cars and trucks threatened to take another slide this month as strikes at supplier plants cut down the flow of essential materials to booming assembly lines.

Because a walkout of 80 tool and die workers at the Dura division of the Detroit Harvester company in Toledo, Ohio, affected shipments of door handles and interior hardware, Studebaker was compelled to lay off 4,000 employees and Hudson 12,000.

RED CROSS: Continue Work

German war prisoners stood to benefit as the International Red Cross committee, meeting in Geneva, Switzerland, authorized the collection of $3,750,000 from affiliated societies and governments for relief work up to 1950.

Humanitarian in its motives and recognizing no distinction in race, color or creed, the IRCC record of achievement during the war was especially noteworthy. The IRCC revealed that its activities included maintenance of a 27 million card index for 15 million prisoners of war; 900,000 inquiries to regiments regarding missing soldiers; visits by 420 IRCC delegates to POW camps in 56 countries to check on conditions, and safe delivery of 107 million letters or postal packages.

WAR PROFITS: Garsson's Kick Denying the war department's charge that it made excessive profits on war contracts, Erie Basin Metal Products, Inc., asked the U. S. tax court to bar the government's efforts to obtain a refund of $358,874.58 for the fiscal year ending November 30, 1943.

The company was an important unit in the Garsson munitions empire under scrutiny of the senate investigating committee headed by Senator Mead (Dem., N. Y.). Representative May (Dem., Ky.) was charged with having exerted his influence with the war department for awarding the combine war contracts and high army officers in Washington, D. FARM PRICES: Sharp increases in prices received by farmers for cotton, grains, meat animals, poultry and eggs and dairy products during the month ended July 15 raised the general level of prices received 26 points over the preceding month to 244 per cent of its 1909-14 mark.

This increase was the largest ever recorded for any single month and raised the index nine points above any previous month in the 37 years of record.

FURLOUGH PAY: In Bonds

G.I.s entitled to pay for unused furloughs will receive their money in bonds if the amount exceeds $50 under a bill approved by congress. Disbursements in securities was decided upon after the administration warned that payment in cash would have an inflationary effect.

To be issued in amounts of $25, the bonds will not be redeemed before five years, though they can be applied against U. S. government life insurance or national service life insurance before that time. In cases where excess sums do not total $25, payment will be made in cash.

RED CROSS: Continue Work

German war prisoners stood to benefit as the International Red Cross committee, meeting in Geneva, Switzerland, authorized the collection of $3,750,000 from affiliated societies and governments for relief work up to 1950.

Humanitarian in its motives and recognizing no distinction in race, color or creed, the IRCC record of achievement during the war was especially noteworthy. The IRCC revealed that its activities included maintenance of a 27 million card index for 15 million prisoners of war; 900,000 inquiries to regiments regarding missing soldiers; visits by 420 IRCC delegates to POW camps in 56 countries to check on conditions, and safe delivery of 107 million letters or postal packages.

THE OLD AND THE NEW

New World's Oldest City Stages Anniversary Fete

Moss-covered ruins of some of the first buildings in America stand picturesquely among modern structures, suspension bridges, spacious boulevards, fine hospitals and schools in the oldest city in the western hemisphere, Ciudad Trujillo in the Dominican republic, which on Sunday, August 4, observed the 450th anniversary of its founding.

As a highlight of the fete, a three-masted caravel, modeled after one of Columbus' ships, sailed up the Ozama river to re-enact the founding of western civilization's first permanent site. Wearing late 15th century costumes, sailors moored the ship to a replica of a tree used by Columbus' brother, Bartolome, when he founded the city in 1496.

The original city, named Nueva Isabella in honor of Spain's queen, was located on the south shore of the island which Columbus named Hispaniola. Hispaniola, second to Cuba in size among the West Indies, lies between Cuba and Puerto Rico in the Greater Antilles chain. Sharing the island with Haiti, the Dominican republic occupies its eastern two-thirds.

Long called Santo Domingo, the city was renamed Ciudad Trujillo (Trujillo City) in 1936 after President Rafael Trujillo, in gratitude for his efforts in reconstructing the city along modern lines after a hurricane in 1930 almost completely demolished the city.

Proud of their capital city's long history, the 2,000,000 people of the Dominican republic are even more conscious of its modernity and up-to-dateness. Ruins of the first hospital built in the Americas are a short distance from the sun decks of the city's ultra-modern tuberculosis hospital. The vine-covered arch of the first monastery in America offers an exciting contrast to the modernistic verandas of the Jaragua hotel, reputed to be the finest resort hotel between Miami and Rio de Janeiro. The Cathedral of Santo Domingo, another "first" in the Western hemisphere, is close to a long row of modern government buildings.

Wrecked by Hurricane. Two violent hurricanes striking 428 years apart each stimulated the community's growth. The first occurred in July, 1502, demolishing the few flimsy buildings of the six-year-old post. The second struck the Dominican capital in September, 1930, a few days after Trujillo became president.

Through most of the 16th century, Santo Domingo thrived as Spain's capital of the western world. Columbus visited it often, even ignoring a royal decree when he stopped there on his last voyage. In accordance with his wishes, he was buried there. Ashes of the great admiral now rest in the Cathedral of Santo Domingo, awaiting transfer to the Columbus Memorial Light-house, soon to be built on a high promontory just outside the city as a beacon for ships and planes.

Nobles seeking gold, scientists and explorers, rich, enterprising merchants, flocked to the new world's capital, making it a springboard from which new conquests were launched. Cortez, Balboa, Pizarro, Ponce de Leon, De Soto and others made it the starting point of important voyages of discovery.

Two centuries of decay followed capture of the settlement by Sir Francis Drake in 1586. Spanish interest was diverted to mainland mineral wealth. Internal quarrels, attacks by English, French and pirates thinned the colony to 500 people by 1735.

CHURCH TREASURE... Valued at five million dollars, the above church treasure was on display during Ciudad Trujillo's anniversary fete. Included are the original cross planted on the island by Columbus, an altar bell designed by Benvenuto Cellini, famous Italian artist, and other priceless items.

Habitual Offenders Found Among Deer

SALEM, ORE.—Habitual offenders can be found even among the deer population, Oregon Game commission believes.

Contending that farmers shouldn't blame an entire herd of deer for damage caused crops, the commission maintains most of the trouble comes from a few individual animals that acquire a taste for certain cultivated crops and thus become habitual offenders.

Bugs Seek Homes In Parking Meters

CORVALLIS, ORE.—Even bugs are suffering from the current housing shortage here and have sought refuge in the city's parking meters. When coin collectors reported finding more earwigs than money in the meters, city officials ordered all meters sprayed with DDT dust.

TREASURE OF THE SEA

BY George E. Walsh WNU, Release

THE STORY THUS FAR: The crew of a small sailing vessel in the Caribbean pick up Dick Jordan, adrift on a raft. Dick realizes he is among men who are virtually pirates. They come upon a drifting schooner.

CHAPTER VI

"Don't be sorry until you know what you're sorry for," she interrupted sharply. "I didn't say there was anything of value aboard. What Father says I'm not responsible for. He says a lot of crazy things."

"Then—then—"

"She wouldn't!" he snarled. "You wouldn't, eh? Well, y'little she-devil, I'll show ye. I'll bring it out of ye, an—"

"Hold on, captain," interrupted Dick, "she doesn't know anything about it. Let up on her! You promised not to make war on her. Settle it with me."

"Well, what d'ye know about it?" was the savage retort, as he turned from the girl to him. "Y'tell me or y'll go back in the water where we found ye. Pretty damn quick, too!"

Dick was struggling between a strong desire to twist the man's neck and the need of extra caution in playing his hand skillfully. The latter finally triumphed. He smiled good-naturedly.

"If you dropped me overboard, captain, you'd lose both treasure and those jewels. Now you don't want to do that."

Tucu growled impatiently, expending his wrath by glancing from one to the other with wicked, malevolent eyes. He spat viciously on the floor, and then exploded:

"I'll give y'untill tonight—sundown—to find out. If we ain't got the stuff by that time, y'got to find it for us—ye an' that witch! Y'get me? It's got to be found! I don't care how y'do it, so's it's done. If not we'll string the capt'n up by his thumbs 'til he remembers, an' ye an' this girl'll come next. If we can't do any better we'll y'e up in the cabin an' set the schooner afire. Then ye an' the treasure can go to hell together."

"And the smuggled jewels?" queried Dick, smiling.

Captain Tucu regarded him an instant in silence, and then shook his head. "I ain't sure there ever was any jewels," he said suspiciously. "I may give y'one more chance to prove it. Then—then—y'll wish y'd died on that raft. It would be much easier, I reckon, than the way ye'll go if y'disappoint me."

As the search proceeded, and nothing was found, the half-breed's temper grew short and surly. He kept the deck most of the time, his eyes on Dick, who was lashed to the foremast, or on Rose. Captain Bedford had been held a prisoner in the fo'c'sle where he had been subjected to certain third-degree methods of Tucu's invention; but the wandering mind of the demented man was a treacherous thing to depend upon.

Tucu Is Convinced There Is No Treasure

In time the old man's very willingness to talk of the hidden treasure disgusted them. In moments of what appeared returning lucidity, he promised to lead them to the spot. Eagerly following him they would come to a dark corner of the cabin or the crew's mess, and wait upon his words.

"It's in there," the captain said once, pointing to a locker. "I put it there to keep dry. Ye'll find it under the bottom."

After ripping up the bottom of the locker, they found nothing but emptiness. No treasure had ever been hidden underneath.

At another time he led them to a corner of the dark hold and whispered: "It's under them boxes. I hid it there so the rats couldn't find it."

They did find something under the boxes that aroused their curiosity—three small canvas bags filled with something that jingled. When they opened them they found them filled with sea shells and pebbles.

"He, he!" chortled Captain Bedford, thrusting a hand in one of the bags and lifting out a fistful of pebbles. "I told y'these were here. I got 'em off the submarine—wrecked on the reef—German loot, y'know. We'll divide 'em."

Dick, realizing that something had happened to bring matters to a head. "There ain't no treasure aboard. Y'made up that tale. Now we'll see if y'made up that one 'bout the smuggled gems."

Matters had certainly reached a climax. The crew under Tucu's orders were preparing to return to the lugger. Dick didn't quite understand what it meant until half an hour later two Caribs cut and neared holding him to the mast. He tried to extract from them some information; but they mutely disregarded him and conducted him to the small boat.

Ten minutes later he was rowed back to the lugger. All except two of the crew were abandoning the schooner. When Tucu and Black Bery came aboard the lugger, Dick's fear for his own safety was secondary to his dread that something terrible was about to happen to Rose.

"Where's Captain Bedford's daughter?" he demanded sharply.

"Where she wanted to be—aboard the schooner," replied Tucu, grinning.

"She's not going with us?"

"No."

"Is she alone?"

"She's got two o' my men to keep her company, an' that crazy father," leered the half-breed.

Dick frowned. The sea was rough and choppy, and the wind blowing half a gale. The threatened storm was rapidly approaching. The schooner was in no condition to striving to keep on their crests for better observation. A light twinkled out of the darkness, but he wasn't sure whether it came from the lugger or the schooner.

He conserved his strength as much as possible, swimming easily and treading water every time he was swept on the crest of a wave. From this pinnacle he had a wide glimpse of the sea; but the darkness now shut out everything, and neither the lugger nor the schooner was visible.

"I've missed it," he groaned once. "I should have been there before this."

In the midst of his bitter reflections his hand caught something that startled him.

It was a water-soaked rope! His mind nimbly leaped from despair to hope. He clutched eagerly at the mass of slimy ropes that he had been sea monster and slippery eels. Now they were life lines flung out to help him. They continued lashing and twisting were pleasant indications that they were real and substantial. He was not dreaming.

He began clawing at them, pulling himself from one mass of rigging to another. When his hands came in contact with a floating spar, and it bobbed up and nearly smashed his face, he laughed in glee instead of cursing. If he could crawl up the wreckage to the schooner's deck he would be safe.

Again and again the waves broke his hold and flung him back, jerking the ropes from his hands, and casting him hopelessly adrift; but a succeeding comber would restore them to him. He grew more cautious, climbing upward between waves, and holding on for dear life each time one swept over his head.

In this way he slowly pulled himself up the mass of wreckage until, between waves, he was out of the water. Then came the battering of his body against the side of the schooner.

Finally a giant wave carried him clear over the rail and dropped him heavily on the deck where he lay sprawled for some moments, gasping for breath, and groaning from the effects of the terrific struggle. The crests of the surging waves reached him even here, but they no longer had the power to use him as a battering ram. By clinging to a deck stanchion, he could resist them and recover his wind and strength.

When he finally raised his head and looked around the wave-swept deck, he had a queer feeling that all his efforts had been in vain. The schooner was abandoned, with him as the only living being aboard.

A little startled by his discovery, he began crawling in the direction of the cabin. If Rose and her father were aboard he would find them there, for the wet, slippery deck was no place for them, and they could not hope to navigate the derelict on such a wild night.

When he reached the head of the companion, a welcome ray of light came through the open door of the cabin, bringing joy and relief to his tortured mind. Rose was below with her father, watching, hoping, and praying or stoically awaiting their fate.

Another Ugly Battle For Rose and Dick

Dick staggered to his feet and started down the steps; but before he had taken one, sounds of a muted commotion halted him. Craning his head forward, he listened, peering intently through the murky gloom until his eyes came to a focus on something lying half across the threshold. With a little start of surprise, he recognized the body of one of the two Caribs left behind on the schooner.

A reddish clot of blood in the middle of the forehead told where a bullet had entered and brought his life to a sudden end.

From inside the cabin came the low, shifting sounds of a wordless conflict, with the combatants struggling back and forth in a deadly embrace, their breath coming in short, wheezy gasps.

Dick slipped down the few steps and stood astride the dead Carib. He blinked a moment under the strong light of the swinging cabin lamp before he took in the significance of the scene.

The second Carib had disarmed Rose, and with one powerful hand pinning her against the wall he was trying to encircle her waist with his free arm. With a growl of rage, Dick sprang at the brute, catching him by the neck, and with a jerk wrenched his head back. Then, looping an arm around the neck he pried the head backward until he could get a strangle hold on the windpipe.

The Carib was a big, powerful man, with a head as hard as a battering ram, and arms and legs as thick and solid as tree trunks. After the first shock of surprise, he struggled to shake his assailant from his back, grunting and blowing loudly. Dick's strength had been badly spent in the struggle in the water, and as they rolled and twisted over the cabin floor his own breath came in short, labored gasps.

In spite of his advantageous hold, he realized that the better of him. The bull-like neck rose and fell, emitting horrible gurgling sounds, but his strength showed no signs of weakening. The powerful muscles were working slowly and steadily, while Dick's were rapidly weakening under the strain.

Then, when it seemed as if his last ounce of strength had been used up, and his burly antagonist was still fresh and active, a sudden deafening crash shattered the stillness.

He then begins a fruitless search for the "treasure" supposed to be aboard. Dick talks him into a deal. Tucu is anxious to get the treasure and gets away. Rose is startled when she hears Dick's bargain.

Also in September William Cagney's "The Stray Lamb" goes into production, with Audie Murphy, the most decorated G.I., making his debut, unless Cagney lends him out to somebody else first. Murphy has been considering various film

SO LINDA DARNELL won out over Gene Tierney for the title role in "Forever Amber," and a lot of us are still protesting that 20th Century-Fox has made another bad mistake in connection with that opus.

Three hundred thousand dollars goes down the drains because of the first one—giving "Amber" to Peggy Cummins. Cornel Wilde remains as "Bruce Carleton"; Otto Preminger will direct, replacing John Stahl, who walked out before shooting came to a halt last spring. Come September the whole thing starts again—and this time it's got to be good!

LINDA DARNELL

James Cagney has been after him since last July. Following "The Stray Lamb," Murphy's booked for "A Lion Is in the Streets."

Wendy Day, 14-year-old daughter of Clarence Day Jr., who wrote "Life With Father," has been given a role in the picture based on the book and play. Irene Dunne and William Powell star; if the movie's half as good as the play it should get an Academy Award.

A perfect piece of casting—Claude Colbert and Fred MacMurray in "The Egg and I." That hilarious account of an adventure in raising chickens should be the year's best comedy, especially appreciated by all who've ever raised chickens.

When Harry Von Zell went into movies he swore he'd never play a radio announcer — "Standing in front of a mike and talking and giggling into it is not acting, as I see it." But Von Zell, who's featured in RKO's "Till the End of Time," did play a radio announcer in "How Do You Do?" However, he alibis himself; explains that he did more than just talk into a mike—he really acted.

That same "Till the End of Time" gave Guy Madison his big chance. His only other screen role had been in "Since You Went Away," in which he was the sailor who laughed at Jennifer Jones' bowling. Fans went crazy about him, and there he is, playing opposite Dorothy McGuire.

Mary Meade, who sat on an eight-foot champagne glass in Republic's "Earl Carroll Sketchbook," has been promoted. In "The Magnificent Rogue" she lies around in the sand, in a wispy bathing suit. But it's an advance in her career—she gets to speak a few lines!

The air's daytime serials are non-audience broadcasts, but if you're privileged to walk in on one, it's no shock (after the first few times!) to find a Broadway star in the cast. Margalo Gilmore's the latest recruit. On the stage, she has an important role in the smash hit, "The State of the Union." And on the air she's recently assumed the role of "Connie Wakefield" in "The Right to Happiness."

As a special concession to Wendell Corey, who had the week's starring role in "Goodbye, Again" at the Yardley, Pa., summer theater, the company omitted a recent Wednesday night performance. That made it possible for Corey to get to New York for his "McGarry and His Mouse," NBC air show. The concession wasn't hard to arrange—the owner of the theater is—Wendell Corey!

ODDS AND ENDS—Undiscouraged by what happened with "Forever Earnest," Jackie Coogan says he'll return to the air with his own show, he'll also return to the screen in "Terry and the Pirates," produced by Douglas Fairbanks Jr. . . . "So You're Having a Nervous Breakdown," a short, is now being made by Warner Bros. . . . Remember Dick Jones, the third "Hen" of "The Aldrich Family"? He's still in the army. . . . The typical day of a Hollywood star will be shown in the Columbia screen snapshot, "It's Tough to Be a Star." . . . Dennis Morgan tells it on his young daughter, Kirstin—she asked him what part of the cow makes the bottle!

Maybe it's going to develop into a series. In "Going My Way" Bing Crosby and Barry Fitzgerald were going priests. In "Welcome Stranger" they're co-starred as fishing doctors. What's next—shooting lawyers, perhaps?

Fanny Brice's "Baby Snooks Show" moves to a new day and time on CBS this fall. Beginning September 6, it will be heard Friday evenings at 8, EDT. New Yorkers will be glad to welcome Fanny back.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

TRIAL OF MIHAILOVITCH A PROPAGANDA STUNT
WASHINGTON. — The final defense of Mihailovitch, hero of the Chetniks, was little reported in this country. American popular interest in him waned when he was reported to have "admitted acts of collaboration" with the enemy during the war. Of such a character is our acute sense of justice. But in this case it has been successfully abused—and misled.

Mihailovitch spoke for four hours from notes he had made for 30 days, ending his speech at midnight with this final accounting from an anti-Nazi resistance soldier: "I had against me a competitive organization, the Communist party, which seeks its aims without compromise. It was faced with changes in my own government and accused of connections with every possible secret service, enemy and Allied. I believed I was on the right road and called on any foreign journalist or Red army mission to visit me and see everything. But fate was merciless to me when it threw me into this maelstrom (between the western democracies and Russia). I wanted much. I started much, but the gale of the world carried me away from my work."

BROKEN BY TORTURE
This is a Serbian soldier of resistance, far from the early time when he and the British alone were resisting the Nazis but Russia was not, speaking after clever Communist torture in a mockery of trials which could find a counterpart only in the Moscow treason trials for Russian propaganda purposes. The methods of torture which broke his mind have been frequently described in books available at our libraries (Ian Valtin's "Out of the Night"). Thus was the Slavic temperament and mind led to confess anything his captors wished for their purposes of propaganda in strengthening the disliked Tito government in Yugoslavia, and for effect upon people throughout the Balkans. (Our own house foreign affairs sub-committee says Tito was educated in Russia, was a soldier of the Red army and ruled Yugoslavia for the Communists by machine guns, although he had the voluntary support of only 15 to 19 per cent of his cities and "from 5 to zero" per cent of villagers and farmers.)

Before the "trial" of the Chetnik commander-in-chief, on our side up to December, 1945, his Communist party adversary Tito went to Moscow. With him he took his military leaders and the head of his secret police—the Ozana. A full military agreement was reached (Tito can contribute an army of 800,000 to any Russian cause) and a propaganda agreement for Mihailovitch.

This is the same Tito government which later informed our state department that the crimes of Mihailovitch, before the trial, had been judged to be "too great and terrible for any discussion"—or for American testimony. Its foreign minister had announced before the trial (May 11): "Mihailovitch will be shot."

The Russians took no chances on it. The three members of the "court" were officers from the Tito army, and members of the Communist party. The spectators hissed and booed statements, such as the truthful assertion of a defense attorney that the law under which the men were being tried was made up by the Communist government after the supposed "crimes" were committed. The verdict of death for Mihailovitch was cheered.

TRAVESTY ON JUSTICE
To call this propaganda farce by the name of trial is an accusation against justice. Mihailovitch fought largely under the supervision of the British mission against Nazis—but he did not fight for the Russians. This was his real crime. He fought for the British and Americans as well as his Serbs, but he did not fight for the Russians.

Mihailovitch was not "tried" in Belgrade. What was tried in Belgrade was Russia and communism. In evidence were her methods and techniques, her foolish attempt to ape Anglo-Saxon justice with a staged "trial" to create an Anglo-Saxon excuse for a Russian propaganda death.

RUSSIA BLOCKS PEACE
Joint efforts for peace so far have resulted in nullification of U. N. in a series of Russian vetoes, and adoption of our plan to get world approval for a Russian peace along the Danube and in Finland, together with $100,000,000 of reparations from Italy, in which she never set a war foot, and a denial of peace to Austria or Germany, as Russia wants. Who is making the peace? Russia. Out of all this, we get nothing, except the dwindling shadow of an ideal which Russia has long since vetoed.

Now Mr. Byrnes threatens wildly to go ahead and make the best kind of a peace with Germany he can (an occupied military peace without Russia) which was recently forecast in this column. Eventually he will come to making his own Anglo-American peace with the others also, because there simply is no other way, unless we wish to continue the foolish business of first providing and then rallying world support for whatever Mr. Byrnes whittles Russian demands down to. This is simply a new method of appeasement.

'White Swan' Design Embroidery Crochet This Pineapple Runner

5148 White Swan Motif

5039 Doily or Runner

HERE is an unusual and very handsome design to embroider on pillowcases, dresser scarves and guest towels—a white swan in a pool of green and white water-lilies. Use a satin stitch in white for the swan, outline the edges of the waterlilies in white buttonhole stitch, and do the center in shaded pink. Lily pads are buttonhole outlined in green and filled in with running stitch.

THIS attractive, showy 'pineapple' is ideal to use as a separate doily or combined in a runner made up of three or four of the 1½-inch squares. It's so easy to do—and will make a lovely buffet or table runner.

To obtain complete crocheting instructions for the Square Pineapple Doily (Pattern No. 5039) send 20 cents in coin, your name, address and pattern number.

Due to an unusually large demand and current conditions, slightly more time is required in filling orders for a few of the most popular pattern numbers.

With Our Servicemen

PFC. JOE MILLER DISCHARGED AFTER 14½ MONTHS IN ARMY
Pfc. Joseph M. Miller, son of Mrs. Margaret Miller, arrived at the home of his wife and daughter last Friday after receiving an honorable discharge from the U. S. army at 2 p. m. the same day at Fort Sheridan, Ill. In service 14½ months, Joe entered the armed forces May 22, 1945. He was inducted at Ft. Sheridan and was sent to Fort McClellan, Ala. for 18 weeks of training. Then he served at the following camps: Camp Adair, Oreg., Fort Ord, Calif., Fort Lawton, Wash., Fort Lewis, Wash. and back to Fort Lawton again. Joe left Fort Lawton on Aug. 1 and arrived in Milwaukee Aug. 4. He spent four hours at home and then reported at Fort Sheridan the same night. He was given a 3-day pass and spent from Monday through Wednesday with his wife and daughter before reporting back at Fort Sheridan to be discharged Friday. Pfc. Miller, wearer of the Victory medal, served in the infantry. Joe says he sure is glad to get back to Kewaskum.

PFC. GIESE HOME AFTER NINE MONTHS IN JAPAN; DISCHARGED
Pfc. Walter Giese, son of the Otto Gieses of Route 2, Kewaskum, arrived home Aug. 4 after receiving his discharge from the army the same day at Fort Sheridan, Ill. Walter arrived at Seattle, Wash. on July 24 from Yokohama, Japan. In service 15 months, he entered the army on May 5, 1945. He received his training at Camp Livingston, La. and went overseas on Oct. 24, 1945. He served overseas nine months, all of which time was spent in Japan. Pfc. Giese served in the infantry.

BACKHAUS DISCHARGED
David Backhaus, F 2/c, son of Mrs. Herbert Backhaus Sr., village, was discharged from the naval service at the U. S. Naval Personnel Separation Center, Great Lakes, Ill. on Monday, Aug. 5.

KIRCHNER IN GERMANY
Pfc. Orin E. Kirchner, son of the Oscar Kirchners, R. 2, Kewaskum, and husband of Mrs. Lorinda Kirchner, is now stationed at Donauworth, Germany. He has been overseas four months. His address: Pfc. Orin E. Kirchner 46044393, Troop B, 74th Constabulary Sqn., A.P.O. 178, c/o Postmaster, New York, N. Y.

COUNTY AGENT NEWS NOTES
TWO 4-D FIELD TESTS SHOW GOOD RESULTS IN CONTROL OF WEEDS
Present observations indicate that the proper use of 2, 4-D will control

Canada thistle in grain fields without damage to grain.
This is the conclusion reached by Henry Lutz, in charge of the seed and weed control work for the state department of agriculture. It is based on careful studies of results obtained in actual field tests made in the state.

Large grain fields, heavily infested with Canada thistles, were given a 2, 4-D application last June. Lutz reported. Recent checks show that the chemical was 100 percent effective in preventing the thistles from setting seed. The plants themselves also seem to have suffered serious damage. Re-checks of fields treated a year ago show that some thistles do come back the year after treatment, but are in a weakened condition, and Lutz believes that a second application of 2, 4-D would result in a complete kill.

Tests show that 2, 4-D has been very effective in the control of lawn weeds, when applied under proper conditions. Very good results have been obtained in the eradication of dandelions, and reasonably good results on plantain and other weeds. Use of 2, 4-D, however, is not recommended for bent grass lawns.

COMPLIMENTS HOLSTEIN MEETING

Below is a copy of a letter received from the Holstein-Friesian Association of America complimenting the recent Washington county Holstein breeders' meeting:
"My dear Mr. Skallakoy: It was very nice to have your co-operation on occasion of the very successful twilight meeting held at the Herbert Lepien farm last week. I have never addressed a more attentive audience. The arrangements which you made provided comfortable seating and good vision for the crowd. The lunch served following the meeting was one of the most delicious we sampled on the entire trip.
"Our breeders very much appreciate the co-operation which we get from the county agricultural extension service in Wisconsin. Your meeting was the second in attendance and I believe it was the best managed meeting from every angle that I participated in.

"Thanks a lot. If we can be of any service to your Washington county breeders, just give us the opportunity to serve.
Glen M. Householder, Director"

The Dodge county fairgrounds has been sprayed as a test and demonstration of weed control.

SIZE OF WASHINGTON COUNTY FARMS HAS INCREASED

Washington county farms have increased in size and decreased in numbers in the last five years. County Agent E. E. Skalkley has just received advance reports from the Bureau of Census of the Department of Commerce showing that the average size of Washington county farms in 1939 was 99 acres. By 1944 this average had grown to 103 acres for the 2,529 farms now listed for the county.

In response to the wartime calls for foods, Washington county farmers used 8,910 more acres for crop production in 1944 than 1940—153,146 acres now against 150,236 then.

Substantial increases appeared in the value of livestock in the county. In 1939 Washington county had less than $3,813,385 worth of farm animals. In 1944 they had increased in value to $4,916,159.

The total number of farms in Washington county decreased by 50 during the five-year period, from 2,609 in 1939.

THANK YOU for waiting for delivery of your NEW CHEVROLET We are doing our best to see that you get your new car as quickly as possible. Illustration of a man and a woman. Text: We want to thank our customers and prospective customers for your friendly patience while awaiting your new Chevrolet. We know it is a hardship to wait for needed transportation; but we believe you will understand that we, and Chevrolet, are as eager to deliver cars as you are to obtain them. Unfortunately, production so far this year is far under expectations. Chevrolet Motor Division sums up the situation thus: "Even though our rate of production normally exceeds that of any other manufacturer, we have been able to build, up to July 1, only 12.4 per cent as many cars as we had built up to that date in 1941. Production is still far below normal, because of frequent shortages of essential materials and parts. Strike after strike at the plants of our suppliers has seriously impeded our progress toward full production, and the cumulative effect severely hampers every manufacturing and assembly plant. In June we were able to build only 29.2 per cent as many cars as we produced in the same month in 1941." While production is restricted, so—in proportion—are shipments of cars to us. As production increases, we are assured of getting our proportionate share of the total—and as quickly as cars are received, we will speed deliveries to our customers. Remember—Our CAR SERVICE is your best CAR SAVER. Keep your present car "alive" until you get delivery of your new Chevrolet by bringing it to us for skilled service now and at regular intervals.
