The Wisconsin Beagle club will hold its 24th annual American Kennel club licensed four day field trial at Kewaskum starting next Thursday, Sept. 26, and continuing through Sunday, Sept. 29, and possibly Monday, Sept. 30, The annual A.K.C. specialty bench show in with the trial will be held on Saturday evening in the Kewaskum high school auditorium beginning at s p. m. This year's events are expected to be the biggest and best ever held. Dogs from many states besides Wis.

County Trunk D. town of Scott. consin are entered. One beagle man boygan, county, at 4.12 p. m. Sunday from New York has sent word that he will fly from New York to Milwaukee with his dogs to enter the events and will arrive here Tuesday. Headquarters for the beagles will again be at Joe Eberle's kennels. Mr. Eberle, who serves as president of the club, says that the big difficulty will be in finding rooms and meals for the dog owners. Anyone who can spare a room for a few days is urged to contact Joe.

The beagles will be run on cotton on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 27 and tail rabbits in the swamps and woodlands surrounding the village for four beginning at 9 a. m days and if necessary because of the large entry or bad weather the trial will continue for five days. A beagie image trophy will be awarded for first the Rural School" by Jerold C. Buck- week with Mrs. Romaine's parents ley, supervising teacher. His presenta- before going to Madison. place win in each of the six stakes.

By BAUKHAGE News Analyst and Commentator

Washington, D. C. WASHINGTON. - Mary Condit- vicinity slaughtered.

Smith, a young Washington society girl, visiting diplomatic friends in China, and a 'leven-year-old boy in a little town on the Erie Canal both were keeping diaries at the turn of the century.

Mary, alone in her room in the American legation in Peking on June 11, 1900, slipped on her pink silk dressing Baukhage gown, sat down and wrote: "The telegraph was broken last night. We have no more communication with the outside world; our world is this dangerous Peking."

That same day, though it was really the day before, according to the strange tricks Old Sol plays as he pushes the clock around while he marches westward and paradoxically reaches the Far East-that same day, Monday, June 11, a boy in the fifth grade of the High street school painfully inscribed this entry in his book:

"It rained this A. M. Two more weeks and we'll be free from this School of Misery." (The next day it is of record that he broke the crank of his "wheel"-bicycle to you.)

The boy's name appears at the head of this column and what he horse; at dinner, rice, horse and wrote isn't important, but just 46 jam. years later he was to read Mary's diary. She had gone to her reward long since but not until her diary became a book and she had become Mrs. Hooker, a colonel's lady.

White Man's Prestige Slipped to Low

As I read this fascinating story, told in simple, boarding-school English, those awful days when the foreign colony in Peking lived in the daily horror of massacre during the Boxer rebellion, became very real.

Today the fires of civil war are spreading in China. Voices are being raised, demanding that our marines be withdrawn. American prestige has fallen almost as low as it history. was when Mary Hooker in her diary told the dramatic story of the Boxer history when Americans, along with

> "In some cases," says the diary, "the Christians thought it better to be roasted in their houses than try to escape." (She herself had decided that she might as well be massacred in her pink silk dressing gown with a pink bow at her neck as in her golf clothes.)

On the 19th of June, the Chinese government offered to give legation nembers their passports and escort them and their families to the port. There was a division of opinion as to whether to trust the Chinese. In the evening the German minister started to confer a second time on the question when he was murdered in the streets.

The situation grows worse

HOUSING:

Fear New Obstacle Having trimmed commercial construction and tightened allocation of materials to speed up the veterans' emergency housing program, Housing Expediter Wilson W. Wyatt feared a prospective labor shortage as a new obstacle to the rapid erection of dwellings. Revealing his apprehensions in is August report on the vet housing situation, Wyatt indicated that the government would strive to head off the latest bogeyman with an intensive recruiting and apprentice training program. Despite a pickup in new building

Although G.M. has $8,000 more employees on its payroll than in 1941, production is about half, Wilson said. Tests on relative jobs have shown that worker productivity is about 80 per cent of the prewar rate. Refusal of employees to extend themselves, a high absenteeism rate, inexperience and a large turnover partly due to the ease in collecting unemployment compensation all have contributed to the inefficiency, Wilson declared

Method of Paying Off Insurance Compensation

There has been considerable confusion as to the method of payment of insurance. The original law provided that the insurance policy would not be paid in one lump sum. The amendment approved on August 1, 1946, however, gives the beneficiary the privilege to elect within two years the refund life income settlement in which event an appropriate adjustment will be made to take into account the payments already drawn by the beneficiary.

It is the duty of the Veterans' administration to notify beneficiaries who are eligible for this privilege by registered mail some time before August 1, 1947.

Those who are eligible should study all plans carefully. While the lump sum payment may seem advisable at the time, future needs must be considered. In many cases it will be to the beneficiary's benefit to receive the monthly payments, for from three to twenty years.

This is a matter that should be handled by each individual according to his needs. The local Red Cross will be glad to go into the various plans. Before determining which method of payment to accept, it would be well to consult the Red Cross as well as banker or other party who is well informed on the various merits of each plan.

ANOTHER WAGE BOOST JUST BEFORE ELECTION PREDICTED

WASHINGTON. - The middleroad course of economics to which the Truman administration has veered since congress closed has a sharp left turn ahead. Watch for another wage increase program to be put forth within 60 days-before election This is augured behind the recent price increases directed by the Price Decontrol board. While price controls have been restored on meat, subsidies have been abandoned on dairy proceeds; coffee is up 10 to 13 cents a pound; mechanical refrigerators, $10 to $12 for smallest sizes; canned fruit, 1 to 7 cents: lamb, 5 cents: automobiles, margarine, trucks, tires, oil, cotton-whatnot.

Now the decontrol board went on the air after its first action and pleaded it could not have been done otherwise. This was the intent of congress in the new OPA law, it claimed too glibly. Indeed, Agriculture Secretary Anderson publicly mourned some of the OPA necessities, and OPA Administrator Paul Porter wept officially about others. The administration's attitude on prices has been: "Gosh, how we hate to increase them, but congress made us." After all official handkerchiefs are filled and hung out for public drying, however, the administration seems far from dejected at the hope that the price increases will get production necessary to sustain life-which was the real intent of congress.

WAIT AND SEE' TACTICS

Crowding the mourners' bench, the CIO reconnoitered its economics and decided ostensibly to wait to see how these things work out before pressing demands for another wage hike. That is, all did excepting the largest CIO union, the auto workers, who announced they wanted more money, the amount "depending on the success the Truman administration meets in its attempt to roll back the cost of living These developments are political, but not in any way economic. The theory of the price increases is that these will draw goods from hiding and black markets and thus cause prices to drop in the end-the end being forecast as coming when the goods come out to the public. This is sound, because as soon as competition is restored in goods, they are bound to be cheaper. The auto workers therefore are trying to crowd the game again by putting in for another raise before the price increases have accomplished price decreases, an economic stratagem which would leave their wages up as prices fell later (as they already had a 20 per cent wage increase this spring and auto production still lags Furthermore, there is no chortage of money among consumers today. We have many troubles, but purchasing power is not one of them. To increase wages again this year (as the leftists of the administration want) might or might not help to cause an administration victory at the polls in November, but there is certainly no other economic justification for it. Our trouble has been a lack of production, a shortage of goods amidst plentiful purchasing power. If we got production, the very accomplishing of the fact would do more to hold prices down than the administration can do with OPA. decontrols or possibly a shotgun. When you can buy cheaper across all foreigners reached their nadir. History repeats.

The Empress Tzuhsi, a reactionary, encouraged the activities of the Boxers and other groups whose chief purpose was to cleanse China of the "foreign devils." It is only fair to say that China had passed through a period during which the occidental powers had exploited her to the hilt.

Attacks on foreigners, especially missionaries, began in 1899, but as Mary Hooker records, "the diplomats and people in general put these things down to the usual spring riots which yearly seized Peking

By June and July of 1900, however, the foreigners found themselves besieged in Peking. As late as June 7 Mary's diary reports:

"Mr. Pethick . . . forty years a resident of China and an intimate friend of half the political leaders, knowing their weaknesses by heart, urges the minister to state to Washington the situation as it is, but all to no avail."

Three days later, as I mentioned, the foreign colony "had no communication with the outside world." The next day's entry states:

"Such intense excitement! This afternoon the Japanese Chancellor of the Legation went down to the railway station in the official legation car to see if there was any sign of troops. Returning by the principal gate, he was seized by the Imperial (Chinese) troops, disemboweled and cut to pieces."

the street, you will not pay demanded prices. INFLATIONARY STEP

But to increase wages generally again would only let us leap further along the inflationary road we have been perilously traveling. It would re-duplicate the experience earlier this year, when the auto workers first got a wage increase which forced a price increase, resulting now in their effort to seek another wage increase which will cause another price increase, and so on-a process in which labor never catches up but destroys the value of its own wage. In that process the unions can destroy themselves, making their own dollars which they have stored up in large re--or the savings of the individual chasing power, and finally worth nothing Far wiser would it be for labor to attack the price problem by going to work and producing. Thus it could make its existing wage worth more and more by restoring the competitive markets, without which a free capitalist economy cannot work. This was the intent of congress. To strike or slowdown, or wander off work is to increase its own burden by adding to the shortage of goods and services. To demand more money is to force prices ever higher and higher to the breaking point. The auto workers are therefore measuring their demands to the extent least likely to accomplish their aims-"the success of the adminis production to hold down prices and roll them back.

As for the move of the left-leaners within the administration to build up now a case for more vages before election, it is clearly a step designed to promote further inflation increasing purchasing power again when there is already too much to handle

Federal Funds Will Aid Building of Hospitals

IF YOU live in one of the more than 1,000 counties in the nation in which there is no hospital, or where there is no adequate hospital, there is a chance, if you and your fellow citizens get together on the proposition, to get a new hospital at reduced rates-with the federal government paying a third of the cost. For President Truman has signed the Hill-Burton bill, the national hospital construction act, which sets up a potential total of $1,125,000,000 for a five-year hospital construction program. But do not get excited and rush down here to Washington in the belief that one of these hospitals can be picked out of a hat

No Funds Available Now

Only 3 million dollars of this fund, of which the government's share is 375 million dollars at the rate of 75 million dollars a year for five years, has been made available by the 79th congress. This congress was a cautious congress. It considered, and probably rightly, that before any of this money should be made available, surveys should be made to determine how many governmental units could or would put up the necessary twothirds cash to build a hospital. This survey, they opined, would take no more than 3 million dolars. So that much money is available for use of the local units of government. It will be up to the 80th congress, which convenes January 3 of next year, to put up the money called for in the new law. So it will be some time next year before the money is made available. Probably building construction costs are too high now, anyway.

Sponsors for local hospitals, under the bill, may be states, cities, counties, towns or other public governmental agencies, or private nonprofit hospitals. States will share in the federal grants in aid on the basis of their needs, which will be ascertained through the ratio their per capita income bears to the national average. Other factors determining the amount apportioned to each state will be population and value of products.

Dr. Hoge Will Rule Actual administration in the surgeon-general's office will be in the hands of Dr. Vane Hoge, who has been with the Public Health service for 18 years. Dr. Hoge is a native of Waynesburg, Pa., and a graduate of Jefferson Medical school in Phila> delphia Dr. Hoge has had several years experience in clinical work and in research, and for 10 years has specialized in hospital administration, and so has an excellent background as administrator of the new act. While his office expects much increased activity in hospital construction as a result of the federal grant of $1 for $2 of local money, he declared that there was no basis for estimate on the number of new hospitals or additions which may be constructed as a result. He advised local communities not to wait for the state health agency to come around to visit governmental units wanting a new hospital but urged them to get busy themselves, determine their needs, their potential power to raise the necessary amount for construction and maintenance, and then to go to the state agency themselves.

While President Truman declared to him. "Jordan," he said, "I want into it. If I did I'd despise myself. that the construction of hospitals and related facilities, such as health centers, was excellent, he said it was only the first step in the five-point national health program. The main reason why 40 per cent of the counties in the nation have no hospitals is that they cannot afford them, as the income of the citizens is not sufficient for construction or maintenance. These counties are mostly in rural areas. So health insurance which would cover both medical care and hospitalization would be one way to maintain hospitals in poor counties on a paying basis. That's the argument of many health experts and social science experts here. The Presi-dent's message last November advocated such insurance.

Guadalcanal, Hollandia, Mar.us, Tarawa, Kwajalein, Iwo Jima, Okinawa-all were but spots on a map of the Pacific (a large-scale chart at that) until American soldiers, sailors and marines battled and bled there on their long march to victory in World War II.

By dint of sheer manpower, many of them became bases hacked out of the wilderness of the jungle. Now, only a year after the war clouds have cleared, many of them are creeping back to their jungle vastness Guadalcanal, site of America's first major land stand against the Jap invaders, has slipped back into obscurity. British civil officials once more rule the Solomon Island bastion and far-famed Henderson Field is quiet except for an occasional plane.

Airfield Disappears.

The remorseless jungle is reconquering the big airfield hacked out by the Americans at Buna, New Guinea

Few signs of conflict remain on battle - scarred Kwajalein. Developed as a major base in closing days of the war, it also served as an advance base for the atomic-bomb tests.

At Tarawa, one of the costliest battlefields of the Pacific, a small navy garrison maintains the air base, but it may be decommissioned soon.

The name, Leyte, where Gen. Douglas MacArthur kept his pledge to return to the Philippines, is kept alive by the navy, which maintains a major base there. The bay teems with activity, an airfield, air depot, hospital, radio station and naval repair yards being located there.

Manila Is Shambles.

Manila, most dramatic battleground of the war, still is in shabby ruins. Army trucks and jeeps wind through the streets, past heaps of rubble cleared from the thoroughfares and gaunt frames of oncebeautiful buildings. Tourists gaze in awe at the maze of rubble in the Walled City; historic battlesite.

Waves lap the wrecked and rusting landing craft which litter the shoreline at Iwo Jima, a volcanic stepping stone in the march to Tokyo. The American flag still flutters from Mount Surabachi, for a small garri-

Come to find out, the black objects were boll weevils, and the theory is that they migrated from the wardrobe of Senator Claghorn, making "It's a Joke, Son" on an adjacent stage.

> A CBS "Academy Award" rehearsal is a good place to study film stars. Joseph Cotten goes through his script holding his glasses, never wearing them. Douglas Fairbanks Jr. chews gum vigorously, stuffs cotton in his ears if shots are to be fired. Humphrey Bogart draws intricate doodles-and Henry Fonda tele-phones his wife every hour.

David O. Selznick's "Little Women" cast is pretty well lined up, with Jennifer Jones, Shirley Temple, Bambi Linn and Diana Lynn playing the four girls, Ann Revere as the mother, and the English actor, Philip Friend, making his debut as the love interest.

FOND MEMORIES . . . The romantic allure of Pacific isles is drawing many ex-servicemen back to the land of palm trees, coral beaches and hula girls. The navy itself has discharged nearly 10,060 sailors at Pacific bases because the men decided not to go home after war's end.
