

Legion to Observe Memorial Day With Parade and Program

Mayor Clyde Schloemer of West Bend to Speak; Parade to Get Under Way at 8:45 A. M.

Kewaskum Post No. 884, American Legion, will again sponsor an excellent parade and program on Memorial day, Friday, May 30, in commemoration of the dead of all wars. All persons of the community are respectfully invited by the local post to show their respect toward the purpose of this commemoration by attendance and participation in the services.

The parade will get under way at the high school at 8:45 a. m. and all those planning to participate are asked to be in line before that time. Reason for the early starting time is that the band could not be obtained later because of another Memorial day engagement. Flags will be distributed to all children who take part in the parade.

The route to be taken is from the high school south to First street, then east to West Water, south to Main, west to Fond du Lac avenue and north to the Legion clubhouse where the program will be held on the lawn. Folks watching the parade along the streets will be given time to assemble at the clubhouse before the program begins.

Mayor Clyde J. Schloemer of West Bend will be the main speaker at the program. The fine West Bend high school band will feature the parade and will also render selections during the program. The program will be conducted about 9:15 a. m. and in case of inclement weather, the parade will be omitted and the program held in the high school auditorium at 9:15.

Kewaskum to Have Team in Rainbow Loop; Open Sunday

Kewaskum will be represented by two baseball teams this summer. Besides the Kewaskum Utensils of the Kettle Moraine league, the village will also have a team in the Rainbow loop, composed of eight teams. The Rainbow league team will be made up of younger players and those not used by the Utensils club.

Opening games have already been played but Kewaskum does not open until Sunday when they play at Newburg. "Pussy" Dreher, who last year ran a junior team in the Land O'Brooks league, will manage the Rainbow outfit. Fifteen players are out for the team.

Pat Weinreich Bride of Willard E. Heise

Miss Patricia Weinreich, daughter of the Charles Weinreichs of Fillmore, became the bride of Willard E. Heise of the town of Scott, Route 1, Kewaskum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin C. Heise, in a 7 o'clock candlelight ceremony performed by the Rev. Winston Wernicke in St. Martin's E. & R. church, Fillmore, on Saturday evening, May 17. The couple exchanged vows before an altar decorated with flowers and lighted by candelabrum.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a lovely gown of white marquisette, lace trimmed, with a long train and short puff sleeves. Lace trimming on her fingertip veil which fell from a crown of ribbon and orange blossoms, matched that of her gown, and long gloves completed her attire. Her flowers were Madonnalilies and lilies of the valley centered about a gardenia corsage.

Miss Doris Friedeman as maid of honor, wore a gown of yellow marquisette with three-quarter length sleeves. She carried a powder puff bouquet of white carnations centered about a yellow iris. In her hair she wore a crown of yellow maline and carnations. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Norbert Heise and Miss Cinderella Hecker, wore gowns like that of the maid of honor, Mrs. Heise in orchid and Miss Hecker in aqua. Their powder puff bouquets matched their gowns. Little Mary Pilschoning served as flower girl in a white taffeta gown. She wore a head band of maline and carried a colonial bouquet.

The groom was attended by Norbert Heise as best man, Clayton and Vernon Weinreich ushered.

A wedding dinner was served in the church parlors and later the newlyweds greeted a large number of friends at a reception at the Weinreich home. Following their return from a northern Wisconsin honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Heise will take up their residence at Beechwood. The groom is engaged in farming and butchering at Batavia. Mrs. Heise was employed at the Pilschoning Gift Shoppe, West Bend, before her marriage.

Let us therefore be present to hear their confession of faith, and at the same time to refresh our memory.

KEWASKUM RANKS 11TH IN STATE IN SALE OF SEALS

In a report just received from the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association, it shows Kewaskum ranking 11th among 25 villages in the state with populations ranging from 700-900 with a per capita seal sales contribution of 23.3 cents. Kewaskum's Christmas seal sale total was $209.50. This was the largest amount that has ever been received for such a sale in the village. All citizens of the village who contributed in the campaign by purchasing seals are to be complimented for the part they played in its success.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Ida Garbisch, who passed away two years ago, May 15, 1945. Two years have passed and gone. Since one we loved so well, Was taken from our home on earth, With Jesus Christ to dwell, The flowers we place upon her grave May wither and decay, But the love for her who sleeps beneath Shall never fade away. Sadly missed by her four surviving children.

With a barrage of 14 hits, the Kewaskum Utensils walloped Belgium, 12 to 4, in the opening Kettle Moraine league game played on the home field Sunday. Kewaskum sewed up the victory with a big, 8-run attack in the 6th inning.

"Six" Marx pitched the full game for the Utensils and gave up 8 hits, walking 8. He shut out Belgium in every inning but the 7th, his only bad inning. The losers scored all 4 of their runs in this inning on 4 hits and a walk. The hits included a double and a triple. An error, single by Held, and triple by Marx gave Kewaskum its first 2 runs in the second. The Utensils better than batted around in the giant 6th, 11 men getting a chance to hit. The 8 runs were scored on 5 hits, a walk and 2 errors. Paul Kral led off the inning with a single and on his second trip to the plate in the same frame he banged out a long home run over the left fielder's head that rolled to the school far out in the field. Kewaskum's final 2 runs came in the 7th on 3 hits and a sacrifice.

Wayland Tassar and Barney Frost took hitting honors with 3 singles a piece. Antoine, Pron and Voskuil each connected for 2 bingles for Belgium. Kewaskum knocked Belgium's harler, Voskuil, out of the box in the big 6th and he was replaced by Gritzmaecher.

Mrs. Andrew O'Connell and Mrs. Orton Wals and children of Plymouth spent Thursday at the Miles Shea cottage on Long lake.

Mrs. Margaret Mitchell and Carrie Sullivan of Fond du Lac spent Sunday with friends here.

Tommy Twobig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Twobig, fell from a tree while at play at Horace Mann school, cutting a gash in the back of his head.

George Shaw is employed at the Earl Morgan cheese factory near Sheboygan Falls.

Mrs. Mary Browne, who has been seriously sick at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Twobig, is able to sit up.

Dr. and Mrs. G. J. Twobig and children of Kell, Mr. and Mrs. John Twobig and family and Laura May and Patricia Twobig of Fond du Lac, Mr. and Mrs. David Twobig and children, Campbellsport, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Niederoh and children of Eden were dinner and supper guests at the Geo. Twobig home on Mother's day. Other callers were Mrs. John J. Peseh of Campbellsport, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Scholl of Milwaukee and Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Browne, Dundee.

Mrs. Wm. Hovey, Mr. and Mrs. James Foy, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Hovey attended funeral services for Mrs. Thomas Smith held Wednesday from St. Joseph's church, Fond du Lac, Rev. H. G. Riordan officiating. Burial took place in St. Mary's cemetery, Springfield, her former home. Mrs. Smith was Mayme Hovey before marriage.

John Burns, Bob, and Leo Twobig spent Thursday in Fond du Lac.

LADIES' GUILD PROGRAM The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies Guild of Peace Ev. and Reformed church was held Thursday afternoon in the church parlors. An Ascension-day program was held and members from neighboring parishes were guests. Rev. Brown of West Bend spoke and a social hour followed the program.

BARBER SHOP CLOSED I wish to notify my patrons that my barber shop will be closed all week during the first week in June. Please arrange accordingly.

Red Cross Drive Is Incomplete

Reviewing the progress made thus far in the 1947 fund campaign, R. S. Grogan, chairman, reported some areas over or near their quotas. Included were the town of Barton where Mrs. William Jansen and her assistants completed their rounds and exceeded the quota last week, and the town of Kewaskum, chairmanned by Albert Seefeldt, who reported that their quota would be reached or exceeded by this week.

Farmington township reported about half its quota Monday. Trenton and Wayne are optimistic over their prospects, while reports from the townships of West Bend and Jackson are still too incomplete to give a clear indication of the progress being made.

Kewaskum village is setting a good pace but reports are scarce. In Barton and Jackson the results of the few collectors who have reported are very encouraging but many additional contacts remain to be made.

Grogan Comments "Let me say," said R. S. Grogan, "that we want to finish this drive as soon as possible. I want to acknowledge and thank publicly all those who are helping in this splendid cause. Especially do I appreciate the co-operation of those farmers who despite the lateness of the spring and hence their planting, are nevertheless getting out among their neighbors and are finding the response generous. The average farmer is just about the busiest citizen in the county at this time of the year and is again setting a fine example."

West Bend Responds For West Bend, Robert Stoltz, city chairman, reported that industry and employees are contributing generously, according to a report by Harold Schatz, industrial chairman. Walter Kratz, business chairman states that business men are doing their full part as usual. Miss Edna Schloemer and Mrs. Fred Mantel, co-chairmen for residential contributions and their assistants are making good progress but many contacts have not been completed, hence there is nothing definite to report.

Lower Quota for 1947 Although the activities and expenses of the West Bend area chapter are not declining, the total quota for this year is only half of last year because reserve funds from over-subscriptions during the war years are being applied against this year's expenses. Steven O'Meara, chapter chairman explained. He pointed out that Milwaukee again won national recognition for completing its drive quickly and for exceeding its quota. "We can do equally well in proportion," O'Meara commented.

4 Tri-County Teams in Tourney Here Saturday

The four leading teams in the Fox River Tri-County conference will meet in a baseball tournament Saturday, May 24 on the Kewaskum field with Kewaskum, champions of the conference as hosts. Teams entered are Kewaskum, Lomira, Campbellsport and North Fond du Lac.

Kewaskum won the Tri-County title again this spring with a record of 7 wins and 1 loss. The team won 7 in a row until Tuesday when they were upset in the final game at Campbellsport. Following Kewaskum in the standings are Lomira, second, Campbellsport, third, North Fondy, fourth, and Rosendale, last.

In the opening tourney game at 9 a. m. first place Kewaskum will meet third place Campbellsport. In the second contest at 9:45 second place Lomira plays fourth spot North Fondy. At 1:30 p. m. the morning losers play for third place and at 3 p. m. the morning winners will face each other for the championship.

Kewaskum won first place and the trophy last year. The tournament is sanctioned by the W.I.A.A.

Boy Scout Camp-ree at Barton May 24-25

All plans are set for a big Boy Scout camp-o-ree of the Moraine district which is to be held Saturday and Sunday in Otten's park, Barton. Arrangements were completed at a meeting of the district scouts held in the Barton park hall last Wednesday night. Signs on Main street will indicate the route to the camping grounds. Alfred Homuth of Barton is chairman of this year's event and it is his desire that the setting be as natural as possible.

The camp-o-ree will officially start at noon Saturday and immediately upon arrival, scouts will register by troops. All Boy Scouts must present a written permit from their parents. Scouts must bring their camping equipment, and a supply of food for three meals.

Saturday afternoon will be devoted to camp building and related activities. Original ideas are encouraged and boys will be free to express themselves in order that the camp-o-ree will be as real as if the boys were on a hike. "Let the boys have real camping," said Al and he meant it. Provision has been made for first aid treatment, a supply of fresh milk to be delivered on Sunday morning, and plenty of pure drinking water.

Sunday morning the boys will be permitted and encouraged to attend church services. On Sunday afternoon interesting contests are planned for the various troops after which camp will be broken.

Of special interest will be the camp-fire ceremony to be conducted by Lloyd Schaefer Saturday evening. The following scouts will assist Homuth with the program: Judging, Howard Pausman; publicity, A. P. Staral; projects, Curt Collins; flag ceremony, Jake Schneider Jr.; registration, G. A. Lehner; camping, Al Larson; camp-fire ceremony, Lloyd Schaefer.

Aleman Proves A 'Good Neighbor' Mexican President's Visit Boosts Friendly Relations

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator.

WASHINGTON—Despite the fact that relations between the United States and some of our sister republics to the south have degenerated considerably since the inventor of the "good neighbor" policy died...

When he was through, senators, representatives and the packed galleries couldn't stop applauding even after el Presidente had disappeared. Applause burst out again and again for almost everybody as they passed up the aisle.

From the rostrum of the house of representatives, Aleman said that "nearly 300 million people living side by side in this hemisphere are concerned not only with assistance to ward off foreign aggression, but also with the efforts to overcome the dangers of poverty and despair in the difficult years of peace."

Confusion Prevails At News Conference
We newsmen had our own "hasta la vista" later that afternoon in Blair-Lee house, a part of the twin residences turned over to visiting dignitaries for a press and radio conference which came near being chiefly a photographic contest.

At last the tall smiling figure, flanked by secret service men, appeared. He sat at a table. The newsmen crowded around him, completely cutting off the cameras.

Finally the newsmen were pushed back and the cameras set to work. Some of the reporters were pushed clear out of range and I saw one helpless, hapless gentleman wedged tightly between the bar and the backs of three husky Mexican pressmen.

The photographing continued. The photographers in front wouldn't stop. The newsmen cried, "Enough!" One reporter, reversing the ancient proverb sighed, "One word is worth a thousand pictures."

Now the government is offering surplus sleeping bags for sale. If this is the form-fitting army model, it should be easy to convert it into a dandy girdle, strait jacket or golf bag.

Little news was brought out beyond what Aleman had said to congress or what was in the joint statement concerning loans for Mexican industrial and agricultural development. But there was one, last question: "What impressed you most on your visit, Mr. President?"

Mexico Embarking On Six-Year Plan
Mexico still has some credit previously approved by the Export-Import bank which she hasn't used.

More will be needed to carry out Aleman's six-year plan, which includes increased irrigation and power facilities—two TVA's will be constructed, Mexican style.

The joint statement also indicated that the two presidents were working out an arrangement to stabilize exchange which would permit Mexico to buy American dollars when she needs them to buy American goods, and sell them back when she can spare them.

'GOOD NEIGHBOR' Warns Aggressors

can spare them. In wartime, when she was selling us more than she was buying, she built up a supply of dollars. But now she's buying more from us than she's selling to us.

What did it add up to? Good sense between good neighbors who want to continue to be good customers. Mexico is farther to the left politically than we are, but it is by no means one hundred per cent socialist.

RECORD OUTPUT
Farm Productivity Increases

CHICAGO—Measured on a volume basis, farm output in recent years has been 30 to 35 per cent higher than the 1925-29 average, according to an article in the Northern Trust company's monthly publication. The gain, it is pointed out, was recorded despite a decline of 10 per cent in the number of farm workers.

Loans Hit New Record
Loans made by the nation's banks in the second half of 1946 increased more than $4,000,000,000 to a total of $36,150,097,000, the largest since the end of 1930.

More Toothaches in East
For some reason, not at present clear, people in the East suffer from tooth decay about twice as often as people in the West and Southwest.

Raising Cabbage
Two essentials in growing cabbage, cauliflower and broccoli are an early start and uninterrupted rapid growth because of being pushed with applications of nitrogen through side-dressings of poultry droppings or of nitrate. Plants that are not well on the way to maturity when warm weather comes rarely succeed well; this is true even of cabbage, but much more so of the others. The best setting month is March.

Red Spiders
Red spiders develop and multiply much more rapidly in warm, dry weather than they do in a cool, moist period, and generally they do not cause very much damage to strawberry plants in cool weather. These pests on strawberries may be controlled by dusting the plants with ordinary dusting sulphur, preferably in warm weather because the kill is greater.

Americans Read Papers
A Twentieth Century Fund survey shows that Americans read more newspapers than the people of any other country. Before the war, circulation was sufficient to provide one paper for every three persons and the number of Sunday papers equaled the number of families. Today more than 40 per cent of people over ten years old buy newspapers.

Standing Arduous
Because sunlight is bent, or refracted, in passing through water the visual world of fishes is much different from that of human eyes, according to the Better Vision Institute. The earth's horizon, instead of appearing flat, to a fish's eye is tilted nearly upright. The setting sun seen by human eyes as dipping below the water in the distance, appears to the eyes of fishes as still high in the skies.

Cockroach Control
Cockroaches, which eat almost anything and leave a distinguishing odor on anything they touch, can be controlled by applications of either a ten per cent DDT powder or sodium fluoride in their hiding places. A five per cent DDT spray on the underside of table tops, drawers, refrigerators and shelving is a supplementary treatment.

Veterans' SERVICE BUREAU

EDITOR'S NOTE: This newspaper, through special arrangement with the Washington Bureau of Western Newspaper Union at 1616 Eye Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., is able to bring readers this weekly column on problems of the veteran and serviceman and his family. Questions may be addressed to the above Bureau and they will be answered in a subsequent column. No replies are made direct by mail, but only in the column which will appear in this newspaper regularly.

Leaves From Training

Veterans' administration is urging G. I.'s now in school who expect to continue courses in the summer during the summer to notify VA regional offices as soon as possible so there will be no delay in their subsistence checks.

A veteran may choose between requesting leave of absence or interrupting his training during the period between the spring and summer terms. If he should choose to take leave, his request should reach his VA regional office at least 30 days before the end of the current semester so that it may be handled properly. This leave is not granted automatically but only upon request and in the amount that has accrued to his credit. The veteran's period of entitlement then is reduced by the number of days leave approved but he will continue to receive his subsistence payments without interruption.

Leave of absence accrues at the rate of 2 1/2 days a month during the time the veteran is pursuing his education. He must have sufficient leave accumulated to cover the period between the spring and summer terms in order to qualify for subsistence checks during the period. So VA warns that veterans who fail to request such leaves in sufficient time will receive subsistence checks only until end of the spring term.

Questions and Answers

Q. My husband was in the navy about a year, with his mother listed as a dependent. He came home and we were married. He never turned me in as a dependent so after about five months I sent in the necessary papers and received my allotment check for that month and the next month. He was discharged the month I received the second check. Neither payment had anything deducted from his check ($45). Now I want to know if there is anything I can do to get the government's part of the allotment for the months before I made application?—Mrs. J. R. M., Wichita, Kas.

A. Since your husband did not list you as a dependent and since no deductions were taken from his check, apparently there is nothing you can do.

Q. I have a son in service upon whom I am dependent. I am a widow and my health is bad. I would like to know if I can get hospital care and how to get it?—Mrs. L. M., Ozark, Ala.

A. The army does not provide hospital care for parents of servicemen. Suggest you contact your local welfare agencies.

Q. I work for Veterans' administration office in St. Louis and they tell us here that we cannot join the American Legion or any other veterans organization if we work for VA. I am a veteran with three and a half years service and it seems to me that I should not be barred from a service organization just because I work for the government. Can you give me any information about this order?—G. L. S., St. Louis, Mo.

A. You probably misunderstood, since there is no such order insofar as Veterans' administration is concerned. VA previously announced its policy concerning veterans organizations and its employees. In a statement issued last March it said: "It is neither the desire nor the intent of VA to interfere in the private lives of employees or infringe upon their personal liberties. It is the desire merely that employees should not engage in activities of service organizations to the point where they might be charged with showing favoritism in their official acts toward any particular organization. While not prohibited, it is considered of doubtful propriety and an exercise of bad judgment for an employee of VA to hold elective or appointive office in a service organization which is recognized by VA for the presentation of claims. Employees should not serve on committees of service organizations when the committee deals in matters pertaining to functions of VA." So there is no bar to holding membership in a service organization.

Q. My son was in training for more than three years in Camp Polk, La., but never went across because of his age and because he was not of a robust nature. He has a small leather shop in Meeker, Colo., and is desirous of expanding his business but does not have necessary funds. Can he get a government loan?—N. B. Q., Vernal, Utah.

A. Your son, if he has a discharge other than dishonorable, is entitled to make application for a business loan under terms of the G. I. Bill of Rights.

Q. Can you tell me the deadline set for reinstatement of national service life insurance? My policy has lapsed and I understand there is a date fixed beyond which reinstatements cannot be made.—J. K. L., New London, Conn.

A. Veterans' administration says World War II veterans have through August 1, 1947, to reinstate their national service life insurance policies, usually without a physical examination if they execute the necessary application and certify they are in good health as they were when the policy lapsed.

THE FICTION CORNER

THEN IN TRIUMPH

By Frank L. Parke

THERE were cars in front of the house. Four of them. And two more in the drive. Clifford Oslow cut across the Drake's lawn and headed for the back steps. But not soon enough. The door of a big red cabriolet opened and a woman came rushing after him. She was a little person, smaller even than Clifford himself. But she was fast. She reached him just as he made the gap in the hedge.

"You're Mr. Oslow, aren't you?" she panted. She didn't wait for a confession. She pulled out a little book and a pencil and held them under his nose. "I've been trying to get your autograph all week," she explained. "I want you to get it for me. Just drop the book in a mailbox. It's stamped and the address is on it."

And then she was gone and Clifford was standing there holding the book and pencil in his hand. "Never mind," she shouted from the car, "mailing the pencil!" He stuffed the autograph book in his pocket and hurried up the steps. There was a lot of noise coming from the parlor. Several male voices all going it at once. A strange woman's voice insinuating itself every now and then. And Julia's voice, rising above the babble, clear and kindly and very sure.

"Yes," she was saying. And, "I'm very glad." And, "People have been tremendously generous to me." She sounded tired, though. Clifford leaned against the ironing-board while he finished the sandwich and the coke. He left the empty bottle on the table, snapped off the kitchen light and pushed easily on the hall door. The hall light was on and someone Clifford didn't know was pacing the carpet across from the parlor. But it was only three short steps to the rear stairs. He didn't make it.

Someone who babbled incomprehensibly at him grabbed him by the arm and bounced him along the hall and into the parlor. "Here he is," somebody shouted. "Here's Mr. Oslow!"

There were half-a-dozen people there, all with note books and busy pens. Julia was in the big chair by the fireplace, looking plumper than usual in her new green dress. She smiled at him affectionately but, it seemed to him, a little distantly. He'd noticed that breach in her glance many times lately. He hoped that it wasn't superiority, but she was desperately afraid that it was. She looked, he saw, as tired as she had sounded.

"Hello, Clifford," she said. "Hello, Julia," he answered. He didn't get a chance to go over and kiss her. A reporter had him right against the wall. How did it seem to go to bed a teller at the payment booth down at the gas company and to wake up the husband of a best-selling novelist? Very startling, he told them. Was he going to give up his job? No, he snapped, he wasn't. Had he heard the news that "Welcome Tomorrow" was going to be translated into Turkish? No, he hadn't.

And then the woman came over. The one whose voice he'd heard back in the kitchen where he wished devoutly he'd stayed. "How," she inquired briskly, "did you like the story?" Clifford didn't answer immediately. He just looked at the woman.

He had stopped going the rounds six months before. On the bottom was his earliest one. The one he wrote when Julia and he were first married. The one whose people both of them loved with in the two years during which he labored over it. "How's Vincent coming along?" Julia would say. "He's got the house built," Clifford would tell her, "but I can't think of a valid way for him to get the Gleason acre he needs for pasture."

Yes, Clifford was a writer then. Large W. And he kept on thinking of himself as one for many years after, despite the concerted indifference of the publishers. Finally, of course, his writing had become merely a gesture. A stubborn unwillingness to admit defeat. Now, to be sure, the defeat was unquestioned. Now that Julia, who before a year ago hadn't put pen to paper, had written a book, had it accepted and now was looking at advertisements that said, "over four hundred thousand copies."

Julia, Clifford sighed. Well, the utter miserableness of his failure wouldn't be permitted to steal one ounce from her merited pleasure in her own accomplishment!

He picked up "Welcome Tomorrow" and opened it, as he opened every book in the middle. He read a paragraph. And then another. He had just started a third when suddenly he stopped. He put down Julia's book, reached over to the shelf and tugged out the dusty manuscript of his own first effort. Rapidly he flipped over the crisp pages. Then he began to read aloud.

"FROM his own manuscript he read: 'The water was high above the fence-top. Beyond on the hill the cattle covered. Vincent stood, silent and stricken, beside the ruin of his farm.'"

Clifford put the manuscript on the table on top of the book. For a time he sat quietly inspecting the crease of his trousers. Then he put the book in his lap and left the manuscript on the table and began to read them, page against page. He had his answer in ten minutes. And then he went back downstairs. A couple of reporters were still in the parlor. "But, Mrs. Oslow, naturally our readers are interested," one was insisting. "When," he demanded, "will you finish your next book?"

"I don't know," she answered easily. Clifford came across the room to her, smiling. He put his arm around her and pressed her shoulder firmly but gently. "Now, now, Julia," he protested. "Let's not quibble with the young man!" The reporter looked up. "Mrs. Oslow's new novel," Clifford announced proudly, "will be ready in another month." Julia turned around and stared at him, quite terrified.

tive of this city and the husband of . . . The second floor rooms might have been vacant, but Clifford took no chances. He kept on going until he reached his study at the back of the attic. He snapped on the light over the table and dropped into the chair before it. He put Julia's book right in front of him, but he didn't immediately open it.

Instead he squirmed back in the chair and looked about him. The room was familiar enough. It had been his for over eighteen years. The table was the same. The print of the Jones flagship was the same. And the old typewriter was the one he had bought before Julia and he were married.

There hadn't been many changes. The fireplace had been re-bricked. And the radio was a recent gift of Julia's. And stacked all along the bookcase were the manuscripts of his novels. His rejected novels. On top was his latest one, the one that LITTLE did Richard Basehart suspect, when he left Zanesville, Ohio, that some day the whole town would rise up and honor him. Son of the editor of the Times-Signal, nephew of a mayor, he left town when he was 20, headed for a theatrical career. Got it, too; his seventh play on Broadway was "The Hasty Heart." He got the Critics Award, Hollywood grabbed him. And his new picture, Eagle-Lion's "Repeat Performance," took him back home for a spectacular

When Bing Crosby arrived in New York he planned to do one of his shows at Harkness hospital, for wounded veterans. The telephone strike made that impossible, so he ruled that his studio audiences must consist only of wounded men.

In a poll conducted by the inter-council committee on Christian Family Life, "The Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet" and "The Aldrich Family" were cited as radio programs "which most exemplify the best in family living."

"The Second Mrs. Burton" has come up with something new in daytime serials; each Wednesday afternoon some well-known woman who is an authority in her field speaks on her subject. Experts on child care, marital relations, budgets, all the problems that beset women today are presented, as a public service feature. On May 28 Elice Stapleton, who has worked out budgets for 30,000 individuals and companies, will talk as "The Second Mrs. Burton" is a story of marriage and divorce, the feature is highly appropriate.

Elisha Cook Jr., of RKO's "Born to Kill," has a fine system. He makes four pictures a year, spends the rest of his time hunting and fishing in the High Sierras, where he has a small farm. While at work he stays with friends in Hollywood, and his wife runs the farm. They're living as they like to live right now, instead of waiting till they're old and gray to do it.

On June 2 Al Jolson will air "The Jazz Singer" on the Radio Theatre program on which he recently did "Alexander's Ragtime Band." In case you're too young to remember, that was the picture that helped make movie history—and Al. Hardened movie critics who didn't believe that talking pictures would ever succeed came to sneer, and remained to applaud, thanks to Jolson.

Said Janis Paige to Michael North, "Bob Hutton married Cleatus Caldwell, Martha Vickers' hairdresser got hitched, Angela Greene announced her engagement and Otto Kruger celebrated his 25th wedding anniversary while we all were making 'Love and Learn'." Said Michael, "I just finished 'The Unsuspected'—Joan Caulfield broke her jawbone, director Mike Curtiz' wife went to the hospital, and Audrey Totter had two impacted wisdom teeth pulled—so look at the title before you go into a picture!"

Catherine McLeod faked piano playing so successfully in "I've Always Loved You" that most people thought she was actually playing. So she's teaching Robert Paige to do the same thing on the organ in Republic's "The Outcast."

ODDS AND ENDS—For a scene in "The Wallflower" Janis Paige wore a swim suit that glowed under water. . . . Dana Andrews is the first yachtsman on the West coast to arrange installation of a ship-to-shore telephone on his boat, an 80-foot ketch. . . . Alan Ladd, who acquired a fine tan in Arizona, bought a sunlamp when he got home, the better to keep the tan with. . . . Walter Slezak is costarred in two RKO pictures, "Born to Kill" and "Rifflaff."

Eight-year-old Bud Abbott Jr., son of Lou Costello's partner on the NBC show, is studying to be a quiz kid. He listens to "Quiz Kids" on the air, reads the encyclopedia, and aims at competing with Joel Kupperman.

Like many of us, Fannie Brice doesn't know how she cooks. "You just use a dab of this and a pinch of the," she said, when asked for her recipes by a magazine. Now her secretary takes notes while Fannie uses dabs and pinches.

"I haven't," he mumbled, "had an opportunity to read it yet. But I'm going to," he promised. And then came a sudden inspiration. "I'm going to read it now!" There was a copy on the desk by the door. Clifford grabbed it and raced for the front stairs.

Labor Efficiency Is Major Factor for Locker Plants
An examination of income and expense records of a large group of cold storage locker plants for 1944 and 1945 shows a close relationship of net income per locker to several income and expense items. Total expense per locker was much less with the large plants than with the smaller plants. On average, for each 100 lockers increase in size of plant, the expense per locker was 36 cents less in 1944 and 34 cents less in 1945. Net income per locker increased by 23 cents in 1944 and by 22 cents in 1945 for each decrease of $1 expense per locker. The need for efficient use of labor can be seen by the relation between the processing income expressed as per cent of labor, expense per locker and the net income per locker. Those plants which were able to recover a high percentage of the labor cost from processing

How It Started

BROADCLOTH—The name was originally given to a kind of cloth which was two yards wide, and when it was being woven two weavers had to sit at the loom to fling the shuttle across it. Now the name is used for a fine, plain-woven cloth, irrespective of its width.

LAND OFFICE BUSINESS—Meaning extensive, rapid business, so-called from applicants rushing to land office when new territory is open to settlers.

WHITE FEATHER—As a symbol of cowardice. This comes from the old cock-fighting days. No gamecock has a white feather; it indicates a cross-breed in birds, so the white feather became a symbol of cowardice.

Sunday the weather man diahed out an ideal day and the word was play ball. The St. Michael's team of the Rainbow league was beaten in their first league contest at Batavia by a score of 7-5. The Saints pitcher, Uelmen, hurled great ball for 5 1/2 innings, when he hurt his arm throwing a curve ball and had to retire from the game. Next Sunday the Saints will play their first game on the home diamond against the Barton nine. Your support at these games will give the team the needed moral.

The St. Michael's softball team of the Dairyland league opened the season on the home diamond on Sunday by whipping Kirehbyn by a score of 5-3. The St. Michael's baseball teams will sponsor a benefit dance at St. Michael's on next Thursday evening.

Everybody is invited. Music will be furnished by Al's Melody Kings. Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Otten, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Otten of Barton spent Friday evening at the John Roden home.

Kidneys Must Work Well

For You To Feel Well. 24 hours every day, 7 days every week, never stopping, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus food, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination, sometimes with that something is wrong. You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, rheumatic pains, getting up at night, swelling.

Why not try Doan's Pills? You will be using a medicine recommended by the country over. Doan's stimulate the function of the kidneys and help them to flush out poisonous waste from the blood. They contain nothing harmful. Get Doan's today. Use with confidence. At all drug stores.

DOAN'S PILLS

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Serve Crabmeat Party Loaf for Luncheon

Spring Luncheons

Now that spring housecleaning is over and we are proud of our shining, spic and span homes, it's time to return obligations for luncheons which have piled up within the last several weeks. There is truly no season during which it's more fun to entertain than these lusciously warm days when garden foods are plentiful.

If you want to carry luncheons off successfully, plan light in-season foods. Use sufficient fruits and vegetables to keep the menu seasonal, and let your table decorations carry out the theme.

Lamb chops and chicken, asparagus and strawberries, and a few other foods are reigning favorites. Around them you can build a luncheon menu that will be both eye-appealing and tasty. Plan to do most of the cooking ahead of time so you won't be ruffled by the time the guests begin to come in.

If you want to serve a nice meat dish you might like to start off with a stuffed lamb chop, follow it with a tomato aspic or tossed salad and asparagus, then top off with strawberries and cream.

Stuffed Lamb Chops, 4 double-thick lamb chops, 2 canned peaches, 1 cup crushed pineapple, 1/2 cup soft bread crumbs, 1/4 cup butter or substitute.

Broil lamb chops in skillet on both sides. Toss together finely chopped peaches, pineapple, bread crumbs and butter. Pile on top of chops which have been placed in a casserole. Bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven for 20 minutes.

Asparagus Vinaigrette. (Serves 4)

3 tablespoons vinegar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon paprika, 1/2 cup salad oil, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 1 tablespoon chopped pickle, 1 tablespoon minced chives, 1 bunch asparagus (1 pound).

Combine seasonings, add vinegar and salad oil. Beat until thick and smooth. Add remaining ingredients and let stand for 1/2 hour. Clean asparagus and cook in boiling salted water until tender. Heat sauce and serve over asparagus.

A luxury luncheon for special guests uses both chicken and ham in the main dish. However, you can keep the rest of the luncheon cost down by serving simply a tossed salad and a rhubarb compote for dessert.

Chicken DeLuxe. (Serves 4)

4 thick slices ham, 4 breasts of chicken, cooked, 4 tablespoons melted butter, 4 tablespoons flour, 2 cups rich chicken stock and milk combined, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, Whole sautéed mushrooms.

Arrange breast of chicken on top of ham slices. Melt butter, blend in flour and seasonings, then add chicken.

Asparagus takes on extra glamour when served with a white sauce, crowned with grated hard-cooked eggs.

To use asparagus as a luncheon dish with first quality protein food, wrap several asparagus stalks, cooked, in thin slices of boiled ham, which has been made tasty by grating some American cheese into it.

Asparagus becomes a gourmet's delight when it is cooked until tender but still green and placed over a toasted English muffin topped with a broiled slice of ham or Canadian bacon. Pour over this a well-seasoned hollandaise sauce.

Green garden peas need little but sensible cooking to make them delectable. If you want to try something new, serve them with fresh sautéed mushrooms.

Another vegetable coming in quantity to the stores now is the green bean. Vary its serving to make it a constant delight.

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU

*Stuffed Lamb Chops, Fresh Peas in Cream, Lettuce with Bacon Dressing, Hot Biscuits, Strawberry Jam, Chocolate Chip Ice Cream, Beverage.

*Recipe given.

Rhubarb Compote. (Serves 4 to 6)

4 cups cubed rhubarb, 1 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon, 2 whole cloves, Juice, pulp and grated rind of 1 orange.

Combine all ingredients and place in baking dish. Cover and bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven for 40 minutes or until rhubarb is tender. Serve warm or cold with cream and crisp cookies.

A more economical luncheon, but one just as pretty, consists of this salad loaf done with aspic and crabmeat. This is delicious served with hot biscuits and topped off with pineapple sherbet with fresh strawberry sauce.

Crabmeat Party Salad. (Serves 6)

Part I: Aspic
2 tablespoons gelatin, 1/2 cup cold water, 2 1/2 cups hot consommé, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1/2 teaspoon white pepper, 1/4 teaspoon celery salt.

Soften gelatin in cold water. Add hot consommé, lemon juice, white pepper and celery salt. Stir until dissolved. Pour into an 8 1/2 by 4 1/2 by 2 1/2-inch loaf pan enough of the aspic to make 1/2 inch deep. Chill until firm. Place a smaller loaf pan or container within the 8 1/2-inch loaf pan; anchor firmly with weights or tie in place. Pour remaining aspic in the space between the two pans. Chill until firm. Remove inner pan by loosening aspic with a small knife. Chill for 10 minutes and fill center with the following:

Part II: Crabmeat Filling
1 tablespoon gelatin, 2 tablespoons cold water, 1/2 cup cream or top milk, 1/2 cup real mayonnaise, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon onion, minced, 1 1/2 cups crabmeat, flaked, 1 cup celery, chopped fine, 1/4 cup parsley, chopped fine, Tomato slices, Watercress.

Soften gelatin in cold water. Add cream and heat over hot water until gelatin is dissolved. Add real mayonnaise, lemon juice, salt and onion. Add crabmeat, celery, parsley and mayonnaise to gelatin. Pour into center of aspic mold and chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with slices of tomato and watercress. Serve with additional mayonnaise.

Variation: Pour aspic into ring mold, and crabmeat mixture into a smaller mold to fit in center of ring mold. Or, use chicken or tuna in place of crabmeat filling.

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Green beans cooked until tender may be served with a mustard sauce made by preparing a medium white sauce, adding to it leftover uncooked egg yolks for color and nourishment, and seasoning to taste with mustard.

Green beans take on a southern note if they are served with chili sauce seasoned with salt and a bit of oil to facilitate blending.

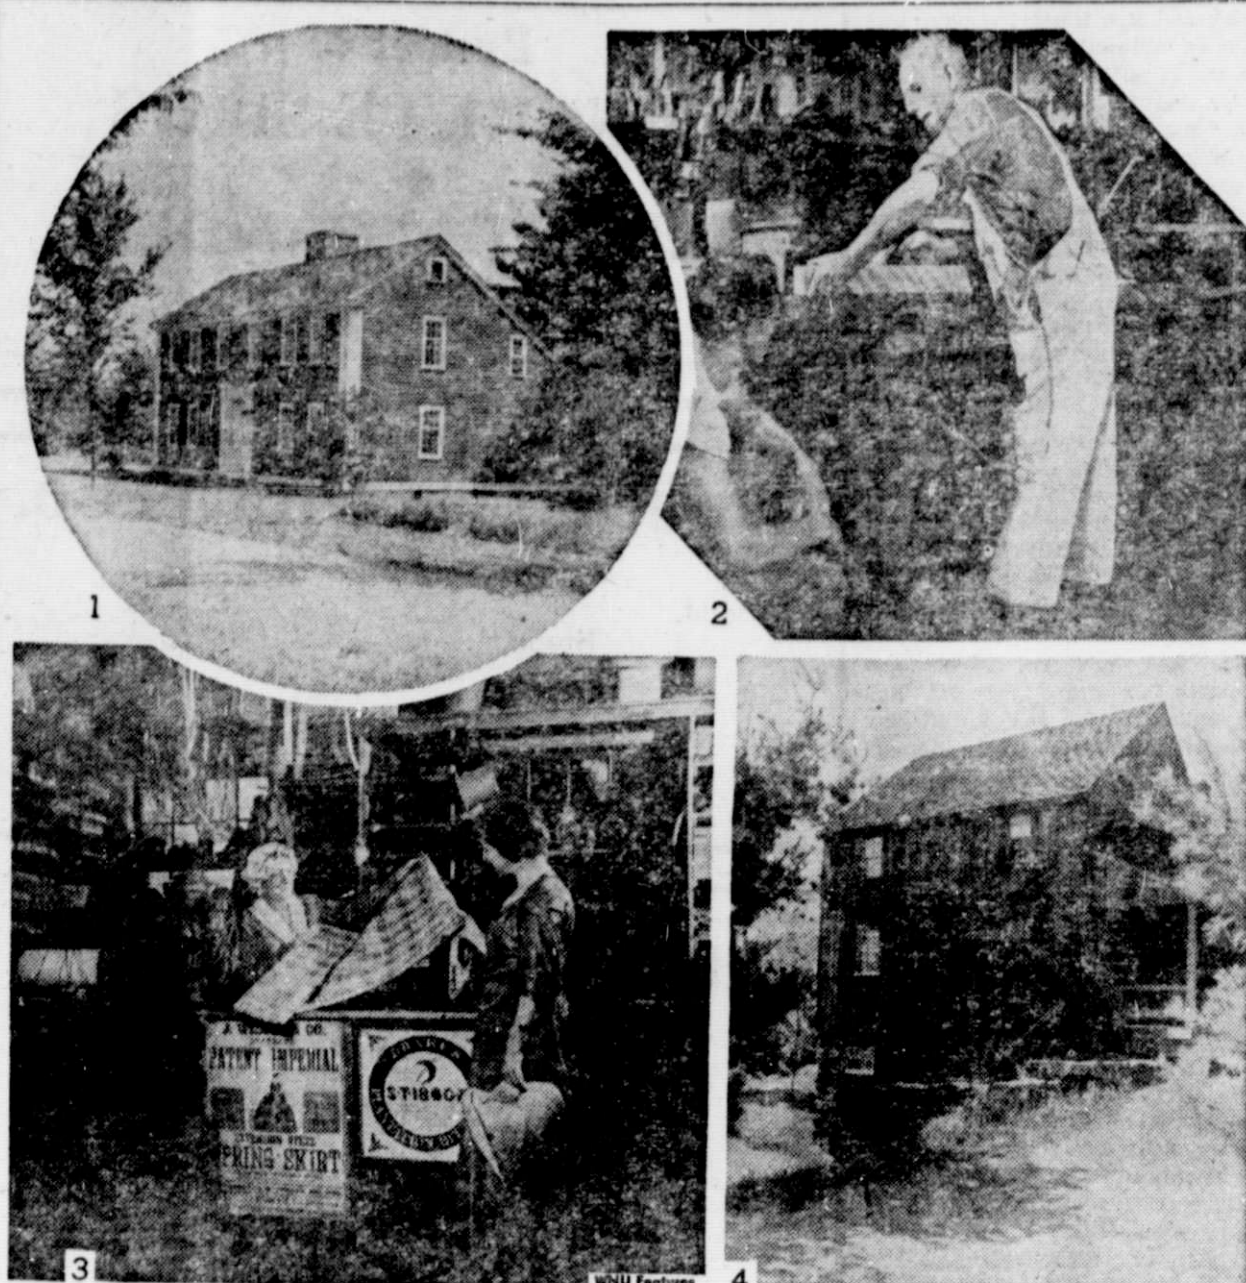

Leftover green peas are delicious mixed with bits of crisp crumbled bacon and a bit of heavy cream.

Pickled onions perk up green peas too. Add a dash of nutmeg for a different touch in flavor.

Chopped mint from your garden cooked with green peas will make the peas sweet, fragrant and delicious.

Saute uncooked rice with chopped green sweet pepper and onion and tomato paste. Add salt to taste and a generous amount of chicken broth.

Cover and cook over a low heat for one hour. Just before serving, add whole or chopped ripe olives.

SCENES FROM THE PAST... Constructed as a replica of an early New England town, Old Sturbridge Village contains many reminiscences of bygone days: (1) The Solomon Richardson house, built in Podunk, Mass., about 1748, is typical of the old "salt box" houses; (2) a veteran on-the-job trainee learns carpentry at the hands of a master carpenter in the old carpenter's shop; (3) most popular attraction in the village is the old Miner Grant store; (4) the old grist mill is situated in a pastoral setting.

PICTURE OF PAST

Unique Museum Village Depicts Life in Early American Town

Remember the country store that sold everything from red flannel drawers to Kickapoo Indian Sagwa? Or the blacksmith shop where the brawny smith pounded at his forge, or the old grist mill where a flour-covered miller ground the farmers' corn?

All these and many other reminiscences of bygone days are brought back to life in an unique outdoor museum of early American arts and industries at Sturbridge, Mass. Designated "Old Sturbridge Village," this museum is constructed as an early New England town, complete from corn crib to mansion house.

In little shops and mills, workers skilled in ancient crafts and occupations carry on work in the manner of their forebears. Thousands of exhibits, featuring authentic examples of early arts, utensils and tools, are on display in various buildings comprising the village.

As in all New England towns of colonial days, the center of Old Sturbridge Village is the elm-shaded common or green. Clustered around it are different types of dwelling houses and buildings related to community life. Most of these are actual old buildings which have been painstakingly dismantled and then re-erected and restored in the village. A few are replicas of ancient buildings existing elsewhere.

Most popular of all the village's exhibits is the Miner Grant store. Built during the American Revolution, it served as a country store in Stafford, Conn., for well over a century. It was moved 20 miles to the village and now on its shelves and counters is the disordered array typical of an old country store. In other parts of the store building are museum exhibits of early American pottery, brass and copper ware, cast iron cooking and laundering appliances, and early heating devices.

Old Homes Reconstructed. There are two dwelling houses in the village, while at least two others are projected for future construction. Both of the existing ones were built in 1737. One, built in 1737, has giant granite chimneys and huge stone fireplaces. It is furnished with antique furniture and all the accessories which were found in a New England farmhouse of its day. There is even a folding bed—a device usually associated with modern apartments, but actually as old as our country.

The other dwelling, built a few years later, came from the Village of Podunk, Mass. (Podunk is a real place and not merely the mythical hick-town of vaudeville and comic strip!) It is a type of house known in New England as a "salt box," since the rear portion of its roof slopes down from the peak to the ceiling level of the first floor, like the cover of an old-fashioned wooden salt box.

A third house, now in possession of the village, is to be moved to the common in the near future. Built in Sturbridge in 1787 by a prominent colonial citizen, Oliver Wight, this house will represent the country manor of early days, and will be furnished accordingly.

One-Room School Revived. A replica of an old brick, one-room school stands on the north side of the common. Destined eventually to be fitted with appropriate school desks and wooden blackboards, this building now houses an elaborate display of toys, dolls' and children's furniture, and mechanical toy banks.

A 147-year-old barn, containing magnificent hand-hewn timbers and floor boards, stands next to the salt box house. In it are displays of old farm tools and vehicles, including stage coaches and fire engines.

By far the largest structure in the village is the inn. This building has approximately 30 rooms, most of which are for the display of collections. The front portion, however, is arranged like an old tavern, with parlors, tap-room, a cage for the keeper of the keys and bedrooms—all, of course, for display only.

Among the museum exhibits, which occupy the basement level and most of the third story, is one of the most extensive collections of early lighting devices in the world, numbering more than 3,000 examples. It is not confined to American pieces, but traces the development of artificial lighting from the torch and pine splint down to the final inventions leading to modern methods of illumination. Elsewhere, in several related exhibits, are displays of mechanical household devices of the early 19th century, showing fantastically designed apple parers, meat choppers, sausage stuffers, washing machines and carpet sweepers. There are also several hundred examples of early wooden plates, bowls and cooking utensils used before metal or pottery wares were commonly available.

Grist Mill in Operation. Several other buildings are on roads that lead away from the common. One road winds along the shores of the mill pond to the grist mill, where a huge undershot water wheel turns and different kinds of flour and meals are ground in the ancient manner between revolving stones. Nearby is an old saw mill with an up-and-down saw. Up the road a few yards is a blacksmith's shop where smithing is actually carried on, and all the appropriate equipment, including an ancient "break" to shoe oxen, may be seen. In back is a wagon shed sheltering old vehicles, while across the road is a little white house containing collections of antique wrought-iron hardware and blacksmiths' work.

Elsewhere in the village are an old shoe shop, a cabinet shop and refinishing shop, a print shop with an old flat-bed press, a weave shop and a spectacle shop. In most of these, work actually is being demonstrated. There are also a gun shop and museum of weapons and firearms, and a carpenter's shop with a display of early wood-working tools.

The village is sponsored by Albert B. and J. Cheney Wells of Southbridge. They have created the project with the avowed purpose of displaying everyday things of America's past in such a way as to show what they imply — how they were made, how they were used, what the people and conditions of life were that made them necessary and influenced their design; above all, how virtues and ideals expressed in them can be applied to life and work today.

Organized as a charitable and educational institution, the village is open to the public from May to October. A minimum of four hours is required for a complete tour of the exhibit, but visitors may set their own pace and objectives, so as to enjoy the natural beauty of the village's setting as well as the exhibits themselves.

No Vicious Pooch Holds Terror for These Meter Men

LOUISVILLE, KY. — That formidable old dog - bites - man routine which has plagued meter readers for years has been circumvented by employees of Louisville Gas and Electric company.

They have taken elaborate pains to maintain up-to-date records on the type of dogs and their viciousness, if any, at the 45,000 homes which they visit on their meter-reading rounds.

The gas and electric consumption sheet not only carries a memo on the amount of gas used but also contains a detailed report on the dog owned by the customer.

Special markings are used to indicate a nervous pooch, one which barks or one that quietly takes a bite out of the trousers.

Meter readers insist the chart method has proved satisfactory. As proof, they cite the fact that only 13 bites were reported during the past year.

Cost of 'Paying Off' After Election Rises

SPRINGFIELD, ILL. — Even the cost of "paying off" after every election has risen, insists Harry Eielson.

When Eielson was elected county treasurer in 1934, he gave 10,000 penny candy suckers to school children. In 1938, after he was elected Sangamon county sheriff, he gave nickel candy bars to each of Springfield's public and parochial school pupils. Elected city commissioner in 1943, he paid off by handing out dimes to the youngsters.

At the city election this spring Eielson was named mayor, a $5,200 a year job. Now, "just following a custom," he is distributing $2,875 in quarters to 11,500 children.

'Baby Sitting' Given Professional Status

HARRISBURG, PA. — "Baby sitting" finally has attained the status of a profession. William R. Douglas, chief of the state division of private employment agencies, announced that all bureaus now supplying couples with baby-sitters come under jurisdiction of the employment agency act of 1941. Baby sitters will be regulated through issuance of licenses and posting of bonds.

Learn to Dance

New Steps are Easy

THERE'S nothing mysterious or difficult about the new dances. They all break down to a few basic patterns which anyone can learn at home by following simple diagrams.

You can learn to dance by following the directions and footprint diagrams in our booklet No. 37. Send 25 cents (coin) for "How to Do the Latest Dance Steps" to Weekly Newspaper Service, 213 West 17th St., New York 11, N. Y. Print name, address, booklet title and No. 37.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

A good way to detect dry rot in wood is to insert a pocket knife into the board. If it penetrates very easily it is almost a certainty the wood is infected.

Silver tableware tarnishes more quickly if it is not thoroughly rinsed of soap suds.

If the shoulderline is the attention-getter of your new suit, why not make it more attractive with beaded embroidery? This is especially becoming to matronly women.

When cutting flowers, slant the stems. This gives your posies longer life.

Add a little milk to the water in which potatoes are cooked. Helps to keep them white and improves taste.

The inside of an oven can be covered with aluminum paint, provided all traces of dirt and grease have been removed. Benzine or gasoline may be used to cut the grease, but be absolutely sure there is no blaze near.

A man was walking down the street carrying a beautiful cat.

Someone stopped him and asked him how much money he wanted to sell the cat.

The cat owner replied: "$10,000."

"Why that's preposterous--$10,000!" the man exclaimed.

A few days later the would-be purchaser again ran into the cat owner and, upon asking about the cat, learned it had been sold.

"Sold?" inquired the would-be purchaser. "For how much?"

"For $10,000."

"Cash?" cried the skeptic.

"Well, not exactly," said the owner. "I got two $5,000 dogs in exchange."

HARSH LAXATIVES UNNECESSARY?

Millions Find Healthful Fresh Fruit Drink Gives Them All the Laxative Aid They Need

Don't form the habit of depending on harsh, griping laxatives until you've tried this easy, healthful way millions now use to keep regular.

It's fresh lemon juice and water taken first thing in the morning--just as soon as you get up, the juice of one Sunkist Lemon in a glass of water. Taken thus, on an empty stomach, it stimulates normal bowel action, day after day, for most people.

And lemons are actively good for you. They're among the richest sources of vitamin C, which combats fatigue, helps resist colds and infections. They supply vitamins B₁ and P, aid digestion and help alkalize the system.

Try this grand wake-up drink 10 mornings. See if it doesn't help you! Use California Sunkist Lemons.

FALSE TEETH

Changing his community to a program of balanced farming earned for M. P. Moore, Senatobia, Mississippi, election to the Champion Farmers of America in 1944. On his 15,000 acres he pioneered soil conservation methods, proved that feed crops can be grown, and showed that properly managed rundown land will profitably support livestock. On fewer acres he grows as much cotton as under the one-crop system, and on the acres removed from cotton, raises feed for hundreds of cattle. The purebred Polled Herefords on his Circle "M" Ranch are among the best. For four consecutive years his auction prices have set new world records. His many tractors are equipped with Firestone Ground Grip tires, and he says that the new Firestone Champion Ground Grip is the best tire he has ever used.

NOTE: Write to The Firestone Tire & Rubber Company, Akron, Ohio, for booklet "M. P. Moore, Champion Farmer."

Champion Farmer Moore Uses Firestone CHAMPION GROUND GRIPS

M. P. MOORE
Circle "M" Polled Hereford Ranch
Senatobia, Miss.

THERE are four sound reasons why men like Champion Farmer Moore are putting their tractors on Firestone Champion Ground Grips:

- (1) they clean up to 100% more effectively;
- (2) they pull up to 62% more;
- (3) they last up to 91% longer; and
- (4) they roll more smoothly on the highways.

The extra high, curved, connected traction bars make this superiority possible. Shaped like a pyramid, they cut into the soil with a sharp, cleaving action. Mud falls from them freely because the space between the bars is wider at the shoulders than near the center of the tread. The bar connections brace and strengthen the tread and give the tires a powerful "center bite" in the very heart of the traction zone. The tires roll smoothly because the curved, connected bars are in continuous contact with the highway.

It will pay you to insist upon Firestone Champion Ground Grips for your tractor. They cost no more than ordinary tires.

Ferana Farms having been sold, we will dispose of entire herd consisting of 71 registered and 9 high grade Holstein dairy cattle. Herd consists of 51 milk cows, 5 heifers due in July, 5 bred heifers, 10 open heifers, 6 calves, 3 serviceable sires, 28 cattle are official calf hood vaccinated. Herd composed of animals of Ormsby blood lines. Foundation females purchased from Pinehurst Farms, Sheboygan Falls; Edwin J. Buechel, Sheboygan, and Lake Park Farm, Sheboygan. Females were all mated with noted sires, including a Wisconsin state champion, second highest priced bull in 1945 Sheboygan county sale, and 1st prize winner at Ozaukee county fair, 1946. In addition to these sires some of cows were bred artificially to noted sires. Herd has been in D.H.L.A. test since 1930. Herd average past year on 32 cows was 11,742 lbs. milk, 294.1 lbs. fat. There are a number of cows in herd producing over 500 lbs. butterfat. Herd was officially classified for type April 1, 1947. Six classified "very good," 20 "good plus," 10 "good." No cow in herd over 7 yrs. old. This sale offers a fine opportunity to get foundation stock of popular blood lines. Catalogues available by writing Ferd Ansay or Nick Didier, Belgium.
