

NEW MEXICO

"WHERE HISTORY BEGAN IN AMERICA"

(Editor's Note: This is another in the "Story of the State" series.)

By EDWARD EMERINE
WNU Features

LONG TIME LEADER . . . Since 1919, when he served as the youngest member of the historic convention which wrote the state's constitution, Thomas J. Mabry has been a leader in New Mexico. A native of Kentucky, he came to the territory in 1907. He studied law at University of New Mexico, practicing at Albuquerque since 1915. He served as district attorney, district judge, state supreme court judge and chief justice prior to his election as governor in 1946. He was inaugurated for his first term January 1, 1947.

It's a new land, a new state, the forty-seventh star in Old Glory. Soar over its primitive mountains and spiral down to a fine, modern airport at Albuquerque. Or drive over its smooth, newly oiled highways that are straight as arrows across the plains and serpentine in the mountains. Note the amount of building going on—every kind of construction—new houses, new stores, new airports, new irrigation ditches.

New Mexico is new, fast, progressive. It is a land of young men and brave hearts. It is twentieth century America at its best.

New Mexico is old—much older than the wrinkled Indian squaw who peddles trinkets at the Santa Fe station. When the Indians first came to the Southwest it still a secret that archeologists and ethnologists have been unable to learn.

But at the time William the Conqueror was invading England, the Indians were in their golden age of pueblo construction, which began in 900 A. D. and flourished for 300 years. Ruins of these immense community dwellings, often containing as many as 1,200 rooms, still may be seen—in New Mexico. Yes, history began in America long before Columbus was born!

Turbulent History.

The Spaniards first came in 1536, and in 1540 Coronado ruthlessly conquered the Indians, looted their country, wrote his deeds in blood. The first permanent white settlement was made at San Gabriel in 1598 by Juan de Oñate, a gentle and peaceful man. New Mexico had its first governor in 1699, and Santa Fe, the capital, was founded in 1610.

Larger and larger grew the volume of history. The Indians were finally crushed in 1692, and in that Spanish victory was lost the most precious records America ever had. The revolution of 1822 gave Mexico her freedom from Spain and opened the gates to commerce with the United States.

The trail was opened from St. Louis to far off Santa Fe and merchandise flowed westward, the returning wagons well filled with gold and other valuables. General Kearny entered Santa Fe in 1846 and took possession for the United States.

The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad reached the country in 1879 and opened it up to the world. Development was swift and in 1912 New Mexico became a state.

New Mexico is one of the Rocky Mountain states, and that which is out of mountainous is a lofty plateau, wildcats and antelope are found in the mountains, and jackrabbits, coyotes and prairie-dogs are common on the plains.

There was irrigation in New Mexico centuries ago, as evidenced by remains of ancient ditches. Dams are built now to hold the flood waters. Artesian wells add their flow to the thirsty land. Crops and orchards that could never survive with only natural rainfall now thrive in scores of New Mexican areas.

Farming and stock-raising are the main pursuits of the people. Among the crops grown are maize, cotton, corn, barley and oats. Vegetables and fruits, as well as alfalfa, have shown increases in recent years.

Source of Food. Many of the sheep fattened for market on Iowa and Nebraska farms came from New Mexico, where the Indians and whites raise them by the million! Add to that a million cattle and New Mexico becomes a source of food for a large part of America. Dairying is constantly expanding in the state and poultry is adding its wealth to the land.

Like all mountainous states, New Mexico is rich in mineral resources. Gold, silver, copper, lead, zinc and coal are among its important mine products. Potash, which was scarce and critical in the United States during World War I, now is mined in New Mexico, where there is an unlimited supply. Iron, salt, gypsum, clay, soda, ochre, mica, marble, molybdenum, tungsten, vanadium, turquoise, garnets, opals and other minerals are scattered throughout the state.

Within the past few years millions of people have become conscious of New Mexico's scenic and recreational attractions. Carlsbad Caverns has been made a national park. National monuments include Aztec ruins, Bandelier, Capulin mountain, Chaco canyon, El Morro, Gila cliff dwellings, Gran Quivira and White Sands. Bottomless Lakes, Conchas Dam and Hyde are state parks.

Lure Sport Fans. Winter sports areas, for those who like skiing, are Red river, Hyde State park, Big Tesuque, Sandia mountain, El Rito, Agua Piedra, McGaffey, Cedar Creek and Cloudcroft.

There are 18 different places where Indian pueblos may be seen, from Acoma to Zuni. Indian reservations include Jicarilla Apache, Mesquero Apache, Navajo and Southern Ute.

There are natural ice caves near Grant, natural hot springs, Kit Carson's cave, the oldest church in the United States at Santa Fe, Puye cliff dwellers and the Santa Rita open pit copper mines near Silver City in New Mexico, too, if the other sights fail to please!

"The Land of Enchantment," says the New Mexico state highway department. And so do thousands of others.

Cool Off With an Egg Julep!

Cool Refreshment

No summer menu collection is complete without a set of cool drink recipes. These tasty drinks are so handy and convenient to have for both family and company use, that each summer season should see us well armed with a new set of recipes. After you have decided on the different types of cool refreshments you will serve, see that you have all the ingredients on hand so they can be whipped together at a moment's notice.

Cool drinks fall in several categories. You should have several recipes which are really nutritious for the youngsters when they come in from play. Then, too, you should have another set of recipes that are tasty as well as nice to serve guests who may drop in afternoon or evening.

Cool drinks will be more of a success if they are served in frosty looking, decorative glasses. And don't forget the appeal of tinted ice cubes. Use harmless food color, if you like, or freeze bits of cherries, other fruit or mint sprigs with them. For iced tea or coffee, freeze the beverage itself into cubes so that the drink will not be too diluted when served.

HERE ARE several nutritious drinks which will make a big hit with the children.

'Egg and I' Julep.
(Serves 10)

3 eggs, beaten
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 cups orange juice, strained
1/2 cup lemon juice, strained
Crushed ice
Club soda

Blend eggs, sugar and salt. Add fruit juices. Shake or beat until the sugar is dissolved. Pour over finely cracked ice and fill glasses 1/2 full. Add club soda slowly. Serve promptly.

Chocolate Banana Milk Shake.
(Serves 6 to 8)

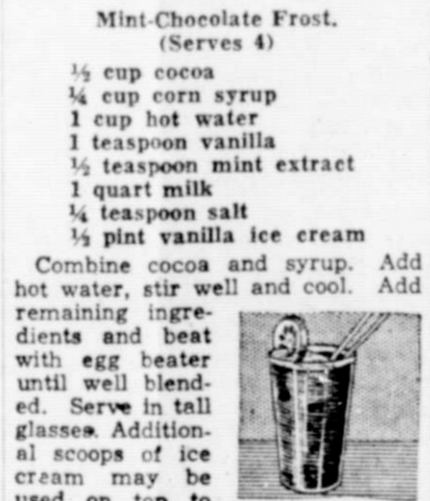

4 sieved large, ripe bananas
4 cups milk
1/2 cup chocolate flavored malt drink
Ice

Press the bananas through a sieve, then combine them with the milk and chocolate flavored malt drink. Use a shaker or tightly covered jar. Add ice. Shake well and serve at once.

Mint-Chocolate Frost.
(Serves 4)

1/4 cup cocoa
1/4 cup corn syrup
1 cup hot water
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon mint extract
1 quart milk
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 pint vanilla ice cream

Combine cocoa and syrup. Add hot water, stir well and cool. Add remaining ingredients and beat with egg beater until well blended. Serve in tall glasses. Additional scoops of ice cream may be used on top to give the effect of a soda.

LYNN SAYS:

Hints for Better Cooking
Never wash berries until just before they are used. To keep the juice in strawberries, wash the berries before removing hulls. The best way to wash them is to float them in a pan of water and lift out gently. Repeat the process until the water remains clear.

Oranges and lemons will squeeze more easily if they are rolled against the table until they are slightly soft. If they are too hard to roll, heat them slightly.

Peaches will not darken when they are peeled and cut ahead of time if they are immersed in a bowl of half milk and half water. When ready to use, rinse them off with clear, cool water.

Fish, fowl and meat salads will have better, peppier flavor if the meat is marinated in a small amount of french dressing before tossing together with other ingredients.

Never discard leftover bacon. Sprinkle it in muffin batter for a welcome change to the hot bread or toss it in with salad greens.

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENUS

Beverage

Chocolate Malted Milk.
(Serves 1)

1/2 cup chilled milk
2 tablespoons chocolate syrup
1/2 cup carbonated water
Chocolate or vanilla ice cream

Add milk to syrup slowly, stirring constantly. Pour into tall glasses. Add carbonated water and stir well enough to mix. Add ice cream and serve at once.

RECIPES WITH their main ingredient as fruit juice or a combination of them are given here. These come under the guest beverage classification but also may be served the family when you want to give them a special treat.

Cranberry Pineapple Ale.
(Makes 6 cups)

1 pint cranberry juice
2 1/2 cups pineapple juice
1 1/2 cups ginger ale
Cracked ice

Combine fruit juices with ginger ale. Add ice and serve, well chilled.

Frosted Ginger Ale.
(Makes 6 1/2 glasses)

1/4 cup light corn syrup
1/4 cup sugar
1 cup hot water
5 whole cloves
1 stick cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon allspice
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1 1/2 cups orange juice
1 cup grapefruit juice
3 1/2 cups ginger ale
Ice

Boil together syrup, sugar and water for 5 minutes. Add spices and let stand 1 1/2 hours. Strain through several thicknesses of cheesecloth. Add fruit juices and chill. Just before serving add ginger ale and pour into ice filled glasses.

Orange Lime Fizz.
(Serves 4)

2 cups orange juice
1/2 cup granulated sugar
12 sprigs mint
4 tablespoons lime juice
1 1/2 cups carbonated water
Ice

Heat 1 cup of orange juice to the boiling point. Add sugar and mint which has been chopped. Cool, cover. Strain and add remaining orange juice and lime juice. Just before serving add carbonated water and ice.

Ambrosia.
(Makes 6 quarts)

4 cups apricot nectar
4 cups orange juice
1 1/2 cups lemon juice
1/2 cup lime juice
1 cup powdered sugar
4 quarts carbonated water
Ice

Combine juices and sugar and stir until latter is dissolved. Just before serving add the carbonated water and pour over ice.

To cut hard-cooked eggs readily, use a fine wire or a sharp knife dipped in cold water to prevent the yolk from sticking.

To cut meats for salad, use a pair of kitchen shears in place of a knife. You will be able to work much more quickly.

Bacon should be placed in the skillet before the unit is heated. Cook slowly, pouring off the fat as it accumulates.

To remove pinfeathers from fowl, a pair of tweezers is very satisfactory.

Wilted vegetables do not cook tender. Wash them in cold water and freshen in refrigerator.

Cool foods which have been cooked before storing in refrigerator. They may be cooled quickly by placing in a large container and keeping the cover off.

Chicken, fish and pieces of meat may be floured evenly if they are shaken in a bag to which flour has been added.

In cooking a pot roast, use only enough liquid to prevent sticking; and be sure to let it simmer, never boil.

Santa Fe, Nation's Oldest Capital City, Has Hectic History

Santa Fe was founded in 1610 by Don Pedro de Peralta who built the palacio for a fortress, laid out the plaza and planned a walled city. He called it La Villa Real de la Santa Fe de San Francisco de Assisi, which means Royal City of St. Francis of Assisi.

It is still called "The Ancient City" or "The Ancient City of Holy Faith."

In 1680 the Indians of the northern Pueblos revolted and attacked the town. The Spanish colonists who were not killed sought refuge in the Palace of the Governors where they faced a siege. The colonists were eventually forced to flee to El Paso del Norte. For 12 years the Indians held Santa Fe, living in the palace.

In 1692, De Vargas, newly appointed governor of the province, marched into Santa Fe peacefully and came to terms with the Indians.

De Vargas left but returned a year later with a statue of the Virgin. Pausing on the spot where Rosario chapel now stands, he made a vow that yearly homage would be paid to "La Conquistadora," meaning "Our Lady of Victory."

And since that day, each year without omission, this vow is fulfilled in the streets of the Royal City with an event known as the De Vargas Procession.

ABOUT OUR PRESIDENTS
LINCOLN and DOUGLAS, both candidates for the Presidency in 1860, were also rivals for the hand in marriage of the same lady, Mary Todd. CALVIN COOLIDGE took the Presidential oath of office twice within one month. LINCOLN and CLEVELAND each furnished a substitute soldier in the Civil war. THEODORE ROOSEVELT lost the sight of one eye as a result of a blow struck during a boxing bout in the White House. BENJAMIN HARRISON was succeeded in the office of President by the man (Grover Cleveland) who had preceded him in the same office.

Dairy Farmers! SALES NOT SURPLUS! ... DO IT WITH ADA IN JUNE!

Wisconsin dairy farmers are determined not to run the risk of price-wrecking surplus. United in their own American Dairy Association, they're out to expand markets and build sales for cheese, butter, milk, ice cream, evaporated and powdered milk with:

NATION-WIDE ADVERTISING... tempting the millions to buy more dairy foods! Advertising in magazines, newspapers, on the radio and billboards!
MERCHANDISING... working with retailers to sell more dairy foods!
RESEARCH... finding new ways to sell more dairy foods!

Dairy farmers get all this in their sales-making ADA program—supported by payments of one cent per pound of butterfat, or its equivalent, in June. Collections are made at dairy plants. All dairy farmers have a part in ADA. All benefit. Do your part! Pay once a year, get action all year.

Your dairy plant will make the ADA deduction in June!

WHY IS "REDDY KILOWATT MILK" BETTER MILK?

IT'S CLEAN! No misgivings about cleanliness when that tall cold glass of good wholesome milk comes from a farm which uses fast, clean milking machines and where spotless cans and other utensils mark the presence of a "Reddy-on-the-spot" dairy water heater.

IT'S SAFE! Good milk keeps safe and wholesome longer when it is defended by an electric milk cooler which cools milk quickly and keeps the bacteria count down to a safe level. Declare "total war" on bacteria with an efficient electric milk cooler.

IT'S PROFITABLE! Faster and cleaner modern electrical equipment not only builds up your milk check by providing better quality milk but saves as much as 2 1/2 hours of chore time every day according to the average estimate of satisfied milking machine users.

FOR BETTER MILK DO IT the modern ELECTRIC WAY

Milk coolers... dairy water heaters... milking machines... water systems... sterile lamps.

Albuquerque Venture is Successful

Vet Cooperative Provides Homes at Reasonable Cost

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Service, 1616 Eye Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

(This is the fifth of a series describing how American ingenuity is helping to solve one of America's biggest problems—the G.I.'s No. 1 headache—the housing shortage.)

WASHINGTON.—As congress prepares for the home stretch, some veterans' organizations are promising that lifting the rent and construction controls will start such a rash of construction that everybody's housing problem will be solved. Others say that would be the knell to any kind of a veterans' housing program.

Rep. Jesse Wolcott of Michigan, who wrote the bill modifying restrictions passed by the house, is told by the veterans that they wanted no priorities, but houses. His bill, he thinks, will make the latter possible.

Opponents claim the opposite—that two and a half billion dollars worth of building applications for higher priced construction has been built up as a backlog. With restrictions off, opponents say chances for cheap house-building will go with the wind. At this writing, the senate has not yet said its say.

Meanwhile, some veterans are getting houses on their own.

Drawing for Homes Climaxes Project

For example, a few weeks ago in Albuquerque, N. M., a man put his hand into a hat and pulled out a house. It happened on a bright sunny Sunday, when the New Mexico Housing Cooperative association held a drawing for the first house completed under its new building program.

There were 58 members of the housing association who had a chance to move into that first house—the 58 people who were paid-up members. They gathered on the sandy lot where the house stands. There were more than 200 persons, counting sweethearts, wives, kids and friends, attending the drawing.

The lot is on Arvada avenue in northeast Albuquerque. You can see the desert from there and the purple mountains rising in the distance. The house is a single-story bungalow in Spanish style with a low-pitched roof like so many of the homes you see in the Southwest. It is made of concrete block, covered with white stucco.

The drawing was a gala affair. The people, dressed in their Sunday best, perched on the piles of lumber or sat on the hoods of automobiles to watch the association's president, M. E. Holly, place the 58 slips of paper in his hat. Assistant City Manager Arthur Stanton drew the first name—Deward E. Lee.

There were whistles and shouts of congratulation. By coincidence, it happened that Lee had been the first man to put up his money to buy stock when the association was organized. Real poetic justice that he should get the first house.

The drawing continued. All 57 remaining numbers were drawn. The name drawn second was to get the second house completed, to the third name drawn went the third house, and so on.

Soon each association member would have a house similar to the Lee's—a comfortable five-room bungalow with hardwood floors, steel casement windows and an attached garage. Lee said he couldn't possibly have bought the place if it hadn't been for the co-op. It cost him $6,350, complete with lot.

The New Mexico Housing Cooperative association developed from the idea of Veteran Paul Robinson, a tall rawboned engineering graduate of build houses for themselves might solve the problem for other veterans. He took this idea to Max Kaslo, who operates the local veterans' referral center. Robinson also talked to Virgil Judy, local housing expediter.

The idea clicked. Interested veterans got together; drew up a constitution and by-laws; filed papers of incorporation.

Community Aids Vet Enterprise

As word got around, the Albuquerque community pitched in to help. A local architect donated his services on the first house and pledged to provide blueprints, floor plans, et cetera at special rates for subsequent houses.

A concrete block manufacturer furnished the blocks for one dwelling; a landscaping firm offered to do the landscaping without charge; an awning company contributed the awnings.

Other business firms wished the association well; promised to sell it materials at reduced prices. But the contributions and reduced prices don't apply to any single house. They are to be prorated among all houses, so that each association member will benefit from the savings.

So far the association has the second and third houses almost completed; the fourth about half-finished.

Membership has swelled to 75, and because the association feels that a new house in Albuquerque means a vacant house for rent or sale eventually, the membership isn't limited to just veterans.

Association operations are flexible. A person may become a member by buying one share of stock for $100. (This is credited toward his house.) He may buy more than one share of stock if he wishes, although he is not permitted more than one vote.

Each member buys his own lot and has the privilege of selecting the design of his own house. However, the house cannot be any bigger than 1,200 square feet (around average size), and construction must meet FHA standards and building code requirements. Members can have the co-op build for them, or they may merely purchase the materials through the organization.

All labor is paid for, but members can reduce the cost of their houses by working on their own or other houses under construction. If a plumber who is working full time on other jobs spends Saturdays doing plumbing work on one of the cooperative houses, he will be given credit at the standard plumbers' pay for the hours he works. Quite a few members have done this, but most of them are men with office jobs, anxious to pitch in and get the houses built.

When they work on the project, they are assigned as laborers and receive credit at laborers' pay. There are a few unaccustomed blisters and callouses, but they enjoy the novelty, and houses are going up fast.

M. E. Holly, president of the Albuquerque, N. M., Housing Cooperative association, reads the name of the lucky veteran who will occupy the first house constructed by the organization.

'FLYBOYS' OF THE FUTURE—These Philadelphia youngsters listen avidly as Victor J. Farm Land Prices Soar; Portal Claims Outlawed

PORTALS CLOSED:

Back Claims Denied

Almost six billion dollars in back claims for portal-to-portal pay was erased from the books when President Truman put his signature on congressional legislation designed to relieve employers, as well as the government, from such claims—now and in the future.

Although he opposed the wishes of organized labor and overrode an appeal for a veto by Secretary of Labor Schwelmbach, the President emphasized that he was certain that it was not the intent of congress to nullify past gains made by labor.

Explaining his reasons for signing the bill, he said, "Businessmen will be able to plan with assurance for full production and price reduction. This will be of real value to labor and management in a continued high level of employment."

At the same time he repeated his plea to business for lower prices and requested congress to take immediate steps to increase the statutory minimum wage from 40 to at least 65 cents an hour.

TOO MUCH SMOKE:

Can't See Stars

The nation's dusty city is getting just too smoky, duped and crowded for the U. S. naval observatory, which is getting ready to move to a more sylvan neighborhood.

Because big cities radiate heat, which is bad for delicate astronomical instruments, the new location for the world-famous observatory must be no nearer than 25 miles to any metropolitan area. Officials estimate that it will take about eight years to find a site, put up the necessary buildings and install equipment.

In addition to providing the nation with the world's most accurate time checks, the observatory warns the radio industry of sun spot activity, puts out almanacs, supplies data on tides, phases of the moon and sunsets and sunrises, and figures out calendars.

FLU STOPPER:

New Mold Tested

A possible cure for influenza may be forthcoming from a newly discovered green and black soil mold, according to an announcement by the Society of American Bacteriologists.

So far, although there are preventive vaccines for flu, no specific cure has been developed. Not yet tested on humans, the mold is said to have shown a curative effect on chicken embryos and mice with influenza.

There is one hitch, however. The mold-bearing earth, according to the two scientists who made the discovery, was one of numerous samples which came to them from all over the world. Just where that particular bit of dirt came from they do not know.

Dentists Are in Pain, Too

Pity the poor dentist when he sneaks in behind your teeth with that savage little drill and tries to unseat the top of your skull.

Chances are his feet hurt. And his back aches. And his legs are weary. That, at least, is the contention of Northwestern university school of dentistry, which is starting to teach its student dentists to work sitting down—on a specially constructed stool.

A standing dentist is of no more advantage to the patient than a sitting dentist, the school asserts. If dentists can be brought to a sitting position, the university believes, their professional lives will be extended by five years.

FARM LAND:

Prices Go Up

Continuing the steady trend upward begun early in the war, farm real estate prices are nearing a level double the average for the 1935-39 period, a survey by the U. S. bureau of agricultural economics shows.

During the year ending March 1, farm real estate prices rose 12 per cent for the country as a whole. That figure is compared with a 13 per cent rise for the corresponding period in 1946, 11 per cent in 1945 and 15 per cent in 1944. Fifty-six per cent of the recorded sales in the past year were for all cash, it was revealed in the survey.

OUTMODED DEFENSE:

Rockets Far Ahead

Ever-improving rocket weapons already have rendered obsolete the best anti-aircraft guns of the army and navy, Paul W. Martin, an ordnance expert, has asserted.

The big strides made in development of rapid-firing automatic, radar-directed guns have been far outstripped by atomic energy and guided missiles, he said.

Three important features of a good defense were cited: A long-range detection system; a defensive rocket to intercept the enemy missile, and destruction of the enemy missile at a safe distance.

Record Slaughter

A new record for slaughtering of cattle and calves was set during April in all federally-inspected plants in the country. Hog killings were lower, however, reports the department of agriculture.

Cattle killed reached the all-time high during April of 1,203,137 head, compared with 714,860 for the same month a year ago. Calves slaughtered numbered 678,440, compared with 445,049 in April, 1946.

Hogs killed dropped from 3,857,972 to 3,615,746, and sheep declined from 1,735,882 last April to 1,328,589 this year, lowest since 1939, the department reports.

Q. A man in soldier's uniform, carrying an honorable discharge, has been soliciting funds in this county for a veterans' hospital. We believe that he is acting without authority. Has anyone authority to solicit funds for any veterans' hospital?—Mrs. E. M., Philadelphia, Pa.

A. No one is soliciting funds for veteran hospitals as such, although funds often are solicited for organizations working for veterans in the various hospitals. The person making the solicitation should carry papers showing that he has been authorized by an organization.

Q. I have tried to borrow money from a local bank in order to enter business, but have been refused. I was in the army three years with a good record. Will you advise me how I can secure the loan?—E. M., Ohio.

A. Banks are generally rather liberal in making loans. However, when loans are made to enter any business, the banks must be assured that the veteran has a fair chance of making a success of the business, that he knows the business and is honest and willing to work to make a go of it.

NEW NARCOTIC:

A synthetic narcotic called demerol, called more dangerous than heroin by Federal Narcotic bureau, is flowing in illicit channels and endangering all drug addicts. Doctors have been warned by the U. S. Public Health service to use extreme care in prescribing this powerful drug, which has a "definite place in medicine, but is highly habit-forming." Heroin was hitherto regarded as the most dangerous of all drugs.

For Time Lost

A "reparations" payment of $10,000 was authorized by the Colorado state legislature to be paid to Loren Hamby, Denver, who served six years in prison after he was "wrongfully" convicted of murder.

Hamby was presented with the $10,000 check by Gov. Lee Knous and passed it on immediately to his mother, who had fought unceasingly to get him pardoned.

Veterans' SERVICE BUREAU

EDITOR'S NOTE: This newspaper, through special arrangement with the Washington Bureau of Western Newspaper Union at 1616 Eye Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., is able to bring readers this weekly column on problems of the veteran and serviceman and his family. Questions may be addressed to the above Bureau and they will be answered in a newspaper column. No replies can be made direct by mail, but only in the column which will appear in this newspaper regularly.

Delay in Checks

Approximately 223,174 persons are employed by Veterans' administration, of which about 61 per cent are veterans. Of the male employees, 87 per cent, or 121,528, are veterans. Of the female employees, 17.2 per cent, or 14,414, now are veterans, widows of deceased veterans or widows of disabled veterans. About 78,000, or 35 per cent, of the personnel is engaged in medical service to veterans.

Q. I am the mother of a soldier and haven't heard from him or his wife for over a year. I am asking how I could get in touch with the allotment place nearest to Seattle, Wash., since I don't know her address. She said it was only a one-hour drive from her home to Seattle. How would you suggest I try to locate her as I don't know in what direction she lives or her postoffice. I have asked the Red Cross to locate her but they don't seem interested. As the last I heard from my son he was in Marysville, Calif. Could you give me the correct address of these different places there?—Mrs. C. M., Richmond, Mo.

A. It would seem that your best bet would be to locate your son and through him, your daughter-in-law. If you have his serial number, suggest you write to the Bureau of Enlisted Personnel, Office of the Adjutant General, Washington 25, D. C., giving his full name, serial number and any other information you have concerning him, and ask for his correct address.

Q. I have a buddy who served in the Canadian army during the war. Is it true that he is eligible for benefits of the G.I. bill?—J. A. F., Waterloo, Ind.

A. Yes, the G.I. Bill, as amended in December, 1945, makes its benefits available to citizens of the United States who served in World War II with Allied forces provided they have not applied for and received the "same or similar" benefits from the government for whom they served. So your buddy would be eligible for the G.I. Bill benefits unless he received a "rehabilitation allowance" from the Canadian government. VA has ruled that the rehabilitation allowance of the Canadian government is similar to the American readjustment allowance even though this country provides for a larger allowance in the case of the individual veteran.

Q. I was married to a soldier in November, 1946. I see our marriage record to him but he never overseas before receiving it. It has been two months since, and he's never gotten it yet. Is there any way he can make out an allotment to me without a marriage record? Will I get an allotment from the time we were married or from the time the papers are filled out? Can his parents receive an allotment besides his wife, if it is taken out of his salary?—Mrs. E. J., Buffalo, Mo.

A. There should be some evidence of your marriage. So if you cannot get another copy of your marriage record, obtain a statement from the minister or other official who performed the ceremony, or a copy of your marriage license and send it to your husband. You will receive the allotment from the time the army starts deducting the money from his pay. His parents can receive money direct from your husband, if he so desires, but to obtain an allotment they must be dependent upon him. If you do not receive your allotment you might write to the Office of Dependency Benefits, 4300 Goodfellow Blvd., St. Louis 20, Mo.

Q. A man in soldier's uniform, carrying an honorable discharge, has been soliciting funds in this county for a veterans' hospital. We believe that he is acting without authority. Has anyone authority to solicit funds for any veterans' hospital?—Mrs. E. M., Philadelphia, Pa.

A. No one is soliciting funds for veteran hospitals as such, although funds often are solicited for organizations working for veterans in the various hospitals. The person making the solicitation should carry papers showing that he has been authorized by an organization.

Q. I have tried to borrow money from a local bank in order to enter business, but have been refused. I was in the army three years with a good record. Will you advise me how I can secure the loan?—E. M., Ohio.

A. Banks are generally rather liberal in making loans. However, when loans are made to enter any business, the banks must be assured that the veteran has a fair chance of making a success of the business, that he knows the business and is honest and willing to work to make a go of it.

LOCAL LEADERSHIP PROVES IT CAN SOLVE OUR PROBLEMS

WASHINGTON.—Newburyport did more about prices than Mr. Truman was able to do, or did. A flat 10 per cent retail cut is not fully feasible, no doubt, but the vital thing is the plan of a small town has risen to be considered a possible national pattern. Local leadership did something about a problem, where national leadership was unable to act effectively, but merely groaned about the deplorable situation.

The assumption of local leadership, indeed, has become something of a national political fact since the idea first was advanced in this column.

The New Deal trend toward greater and greater mass action through centralization of all responsibility for all living ills in a single authority, thus is being reversed by the people themselves. They have developed a tendency to take hold of living problems on a front they see and occupy, rather than wandering helplessly and helplessly behind leaders who think in terms of pressing One World buttons for global action on a universal front—buttons which never worked. The people, acting locally, are getting things started and getting things done.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

Now in the matter of juvenile delinquency, the federal government has been viewing with alarm. J. Edgar Hoover has been writing that parental delinquency is responsible, as it largely is. Certain conferences have been promoted and action planned, although all these steps seem to be little more effective in mitigating the problem, than when a certain First Lady thought the solution lay in the federal government appropriating more money for more playgrounds to be built by the city political machines for use by youth, without trying to cure the delinquency in playgrounds already in use.

When a national group of 800 socially-minded citizens met here to plan national action on juvenile delinquency, under auspices of the federal government, they raised only $2,300. Imagine this! A national plan of action drew enough interest from the chiefly interested to bring only $2,300. Naturally this was not published, although the papers wasted large space for the accumulated prophecies of the delegates about what they were going to do—prophecies which could hardly be fulfilled for $2,300.

Similarly when a juvenile delinquency branch of the justice department was opened here some four or five months ago to promote federal action against the social maladies of youth, not a federal dollar was available to subsidize the director, Miss Eunice Kennedy, arriving to find the office bare. She did not even have a desk. All they gave her was a telephone to solve the juvenile delinquency problem. Today, four months later, she still has received no appropriation. While the federal expenditures are running annually above 30 billion dollars, she has been given no money.

Not at all strangely, she is doing quite well. She has interested local bar associations, local civic workers, governors, mayors—all interested local groups—in a local approach to the problem. All she needed was to get someone locally to take hold. In "the jungle" (the stock yards area) of Chicago, an intelligent experimental system of meeting local youth social abuses has been instituted. She is working on one for Harlem to be put into effect this year. A committee of the local District of Columbia bar association has become interested here. The governor of New Jersey has called a state conference.

Thus at least someone is doing something about it, instead of just sitting around deploring. And without money!

Now these people interested in localizing the juvenile delinquency action realize no one can provide a button or a series of buttons to be pushed to cure the condition. No doubt much juvenile delinquency never can be cured. There always will be bad boys and girls among the general run. But these people feel that local surroundings and local personalities involved may best be understood by local investigation, and remedial steps therefore can best be taken by local leadership.

A coordinating federal information bureau, to let each community know what the other found and did, fits in with this new decentralized approach. Together they may get genuine remedial action on the home front, whereas all the rich government agencies (I think there are seven federal bureaus dealing with juveniles) have been able to do about it is to pour money down a deepening hole.

UNION STRATEGY

The main dish of the new Republican leadership is turning out to be something of an entree. The union reform legislation upon which the nation was supposed to rise or fall is attracting less and less sound and fury.

As the union leaders were scared out of the indiscriminate national wave of strikes in which they indulged themselves last year, except for telephones and coal, the legislation is not subject to critical current application.

EVIDENCE OF LETUP

Income and Output Hit Peak

WASHINGTON.—Although both the national income and the national output of services and finished goods rose to record peaks during the first three months of the year, there is evidence the boom is slackening, it is pointed out in a commerce department report.

Since the income and production are measured in terms of money, higher prices and higher wages were in part responsible for the showing.

The "gross national product," defined as "total output of final goods and services in the economy at market prices," was advanced to an annual rate of $209,000,000,000. This, said the department, approximated the peak recorded in the second quarter of 1945 when huge quantities of war material were being produced.

Also, it topped the fourth quarter of 1946 by $4,300,000,000, principally because of increased consumer spending, but nevertheless represented "the smallest quarterly gain since the bottom of the reconversion decline was reached in the first quarter of 1946."

National income reached a record total in the first quarter of this year at the annual rate of $180,500,000,000, an increase of $3,000,000,000 over the fourth quarter of 1946, the department said.

Income payments to individuals rose by $3,500,000,000 to an annual rate of $177,000,000,000. Wages and salaries accounted for the largest part of the gain, $2,600,000,000 at an annual rate.

Relief and social security payments and veterans' allotments also were up by $600,000,000, reversing their downward trend through 1946. Dividends, interest and net rents of landlords were down $500,000,000. Net income of business owner-operators was up $200,000,000.

A Home For Nellie

IT WAS Easter Sunday in New York. And the sun was shining. Laura Burton and Frank Harding had been to church and now they were part of the sleek crowd on Fifth avenue.

Laura held Frank's arm. To look at her you'd feel sure that she was happy. She was pretty and young and so well turned out. Successful young business girl, you'd probably have guessed. Or maybe even a young bride! And that, indeed, was the catch. Laura WAS a successful young business girl. But she wasn't a young bride! And yet right by her side was Frank Harding. And it was Frank with whom she was in love!

He could have been as far away as the North Pole, Laura felt. As far as matrimony, that is. He was nice to her. He took her to the theater, occasionally. He took her to the movies once in a while. He took her to dinner. But he was careful not to take Laura too often!

Well, he was here with her now. That was something. It was fun, being here with Frank, being jostled by the well-dressed crowd. It was fun—but it wasn't enough. It would end too soon—and there'd be nothing else. Why Frank might not even telephone to her again for days and days! And there'd be just office routine. And a few dull dates that were only a little better than staying home. And actually staying home and pretending that reading the newest magazines and listening to the radio was enough. Funny, when Frank was with her, reading or listening to the radio was quite enough. If Frank were with her—but that was the whole trouble!

"I didn't have a chance to get you a flower," Frank said, as they strolled. "Let's get one, now." They walked over to Madison avenue, found a flower shop and were going to turn in for a corsage, when—

"Look!" said Laura. And there, in with the flowers, on a moss carpet, were a whole flock of very young, very yellow baby chicks.

"They're darling!" said Laura. "Rather have one than a flower?" "Of course I would!"

But baby chicks were so inexpensive that Laura had one and flowers, too.

They took the little chicken to Laura's immaculately modern apartment. It walked on the beige carpet and scratched a bit. And for no reason they named it "Nellie." They fed it some of the prepared food they'd bought. And decided that having a little chicken for a pet was great fun.

It was great fun! For Laura, anyhow. She put the chick in her snowy kitchenette before she went to the office in the morning—and left a note for Carrie, who came in, afterwards, to be careful of Nellie. At ten o'clock Frank telephoned her.

"How's Nellie?" he asked. "She was fine, when I left this morning. When are you coming in to see her?"

"I thought tonight would be as good a time as any. No use letting her forget her foster father. What about a bit of dinner tonight. At Louise's, maybe?"

It was wonderful! Frank had never telephoned so soon after seeing her—had never made a date so promptly. Nellie? What of it. She'd be with him.

Frank got there at half past six. They spent nearly an hour sitting on the floor and playing with Nellie. They went to a movie after dinner and then Frank came in to see Nellie again!

"She was a cute little chicken. No doubt of that. So small and yellow! And she gave gentle little 'cheeps'—and even stopped those when you snuggled her in your hand. And the next day Frank called again!

And then there were other dinners. A whole flock of them. And Laura was happier than she had ever been in her life! It couldn't be all Nellie's attraction!

Nellie grew tall. She lost her baby pretiness, and her legs grew long and tiny feathers replaced her soft yellow fuzz. And as she grew taller she grew more friendly. Neither Laura nor Frank would have believed it possible. Nellie followed them the way a puppy might do.

It was grand having Nellie as a pet and Frank coming in so frequently.

AND then Nellie became ill! Not very ill, of course—but she seemed to mope and her eyelids drooped.

Laura and Frank took Nellie in a taxicab to a veterinarian. The vet didn't know too much about chickens. But he prescribed a change of food. "That chicken has got to have sunshine," he said. "Sunshine—and a place to scratch in the earth."

And Laura lived in a small apartment. And Frank in an apartment hotel!

There had to be a home for Nellie! That was certain. Without realizing that they might be open to ridicule, they began hunting for a house in the country. Luckily Laura's lease was up on the first of the month.

They finally found just the house they were looking for. White, with green shutters. And a beautiful garden—it needed fixing, of course, but Laura liked to work in a garden.

"I'm great in a garden," said Frank, unexpectedly. "I used to work in our garden at home. Things always grew for me."

Laura hadn't known that Frank had ever been in a garden! Laura signed the lease for the house. In a way she felt that she was burning an awful lot of bridges. All of her friends lived in town.

Laura and Frank went out to the new house every minute they had to spare. Frank painted. He made book shelves. He repaired the flagstone walk. He was wonderful!

The movers were ordered. On Saturday Frank came by to take Laura to a party. Then they were going to have a last dinner in Laura's apartment.

The party was fun. But Laura was a little sad. There still could be parties, even if she lived in the country but, somehow, she'd be so far away from everyone. As long as she saw Frank, that didn't matter—but if something should happen—if Frank didn't come to see her—

Frank opened the apartment house door with Laura's key, which she handed to him. Carrie had been listening for them, evidently, for she was at the door the minute it opened.

"My goodness!" she said. "I don't know how to tell you! But—but you got to know it. Nellie is dead! Yes, she just fell over!"

Nellie was dead! And, suddenly, Laura realized what it meant to her. She'd miss the little chicken, of course. But now she'd be all alone! And not even in town!

She started to cry. Frank put his arms around her. "Don't cry!" he said. "We can get other chickens."

"But—but—" she said, and couldn't go on. She didn't know how to say it. She wanted to ask: "Will you come, if there are other chickens? Was it Nellie you came to see?" She didn't say anything at all.

"After all, Nellie was only a chicken," he said.

"But I was going to move to the country—to make a home for—for Nellie," she sobbed.

"The country's fine," said Frank. "I can hardly wait to get there myself. I say, you know, I've been thinking about it, and I—well, what do you say, if we, well, get married and you make a home for me. That would suit me all right. How would it suit you?"

Laura wiped her eyes. And decided it would suit her just fine.

Butter-Making Points to be observed in good butter-making include use of only good, clean, rich milk from properly fed and cared for cows. Cleanliness of the cow and the milker is essential. Correct temperature for ripening the milk and for churning is necessary. Cream should be ripened at 65 to 70 degrees F. The churning temperature should be about 60 to 68 degrees so that butter will form in granules about the size of wheat grains in 20 to 25 minutes. When that stage is reached, stop churning, wash the butter with water of the same temperature, in two or three waters, until all milk is removed. Add about a tablespoonful of salt to each pound of butter and work enough to distribute the salt. Mold and wrap in parchment paper.

Washington's Cherry Trees Are Oriental, Not Japanese The cherry trees which bloom in Washington, D. C., every spring and lure thousands of visitors to the capital city are not Japanese after all. In fact, there is no such thing as a Japanese cherry tree. Actually, horticulturists report, they are the Oriental flowering cherry tree.

Back in 1909, the city of Tokyo sent a "good will" shipment of Oriental flowering cherry trees, especially bred in the imperial horticultural station at Okitsu, Japan, to Washington.

The first tree shipment was found to be blighted, and the trees had to be destroyed. A second was received during the winter of 1911-1912.

About 1,400 cherry trees now bloom in the tidal basin, about half the number originally sent. Many of the original trees have had to be replaced.

Star Dust STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO

months old, in a play her father was producing, but reached the ripe old age of five months before she had a real part. Later she had a Hollywood career as a child actress; in 1938 she arrived in New York and three days later landed a top radio role.

The nice round sum of $3,000,000 has been budgeted for Enterprise Studio's film version of Offenbach's "Tales of Hoffman." The romantic idyll of the 19th century will be modernized, given a cast of top names, and filmed in color.

The real reason why Cary Grant won't make his picture for Alexander Korda for at least another year is that he'll play the devil in it; as he's currently portraying an angel in Goldwyn's "The Bishop's Wife," Korda feels that a decent interval should elapse between the two assignments, so that we film goers may have time to adjust ourselves to the radical change in type.

Franchot Tone was tutored in Spanish for his scenes in RKO's "Homecoming" in which the co-stars with Shirley Temple and Guy Madison. He got along so rapidly that Director William Keighley couldn't understand it, until he learned that the coach had made recordings of all Tone's Spanish-language speeches, and the actor had spent his evenings listening to them.

Bill Lundigan and Dennis O'Keefe were facing each other for a scene in "Dishonored Lady"; Bill, playing a cowardly, amateur murderer, had a gun in his hand, but Director Robert Stevenson thought he handled it too expertly. "Be clumsy with it," he urged; "Don't hold the gun as if you knew how." "I can't very well," said Bill. "I used one to save my life on Tarawa." He did; he was with the Marines when they landed there, and his gun was almost part of his hand. It's John Loder he kills in the picture; Hedy Lamarr is suspected.

One reason for the popularity of "The Whistler" on CBS is the consistently excellent casting of the finest radio actors and actresses in Hollywood, not only for major roles but for minor characterizations as well. The cast reads like a who's who in radio acting. Charles Seel has been in eleven "Whistler" productions since September, Betty Lou Gerson in eight.

Jack Meakin, whose 25-piece band on "Summer-Bandstand" will replace "The Great Gildersleeve" this summer, sold his latest song to Republic Studios three times. It's "Out California Way." They bought it first as a theme for a western picture, then repurchased it to use as title for the movie—and bought it again to use in their picture, "The Hit Parade."

One of the toughest and longest motion picture fights ever filmed in technicolor is that between Larry Parks and George Macready in Columbia's "The Swordsman"; took five days to film, but will last only three and a half minutes on the screen.

Rudolph Cameron recently donned grease paint for the first time in veins for a character part in Rita Hayworth's technicolor musical, "Down to Earth."

ODDS AND ENDS... An airplane load of lilacs was flown to Hollywood for scenes in Paramount's "Dear Ruth"; lilacs don't grow there... "Suspense" will stay on the air Thursdays over CBS, continuing a sponsored run that began in December, 1943, and has never been interrupted... Cliff Edwards will use his "Tommy Carter" voice in another Walt Disney picture, "Fun and Francy Free." Following a romantic scene with Ronald Reagan for "The Voice of the Turtle," tall Eve Arden was radiant—it was the first time she hadn't had to take off her shoes so she could reach her lips!

Marian Shockley, of "Road of Life," holds a record for dashing from home to the broadcasting studio—she woke up, dressed and made the five blocks sprint in eight and a half minutes—had ninety seconds to spare.

When Joseph Cotten visited the set of "The Lady From Shanghai," Orson Welles tied a handana around his throat, slammed a straw sombrero on his head, and made him work—you'll see him leading a burro loaded with vegetables.

Biggest Nugget The largest gold nugget on record was found in 1869 in a rut made by a cart, only a few inches below the surface of the ground. The nugget was known as the "Welcome Stranger."

Lights Aided Auto Industry Development of efficient automobile lighting systems which provide motorists with safe seeing at night contributed greatly to the rapid growth in automobile ownership in the United States.

Big Return The cost of developing phenothalazine (used for removing internal parasites of livestock) was $10,000, but its estimated value in saving livestock each year is estimated at 10 million dollars.

Isolated Leprosy Bacilli Known to man for more than 4,000 years, leprosy was virtually a scientific mystery prior to the isolation of the leprosy bacilli by the Norwegian, Dr. G. A. Hansen, in 1874.

Oldest Building in Capital The home of the Marine Corps commandant, built in 1803, is known as the oldest building in Washington, D. C.

Best for Mayonnaise When the yolks are to be used in mayonnaise, eggs just out of the refrigerator are best. They make a smoother emulsion with the oil.

Emptying Vacuum Bag Dust won't be scattered all round if you sprinkle water on a newspaper before emptying the vacuum bag in the paper.

Misname Animal The animal called the slowworm or blindworm is neither slow nor blind nor is it a worm. It is a legless lizard.

Galloping Giraffes Giraffes, once known as "camelopards," can gallop at a rate of more than 30 miles per hour.

Wire Clothes Line To clean a wire clothes line, wipe it first with a cloth moistened in kerosene, then with a dry cloth.

Table Mark A stubborn white mark on a table top can be removed by rubbing with salt and salad oil.

Oysters Prolific An individual oyster can produce 85 million to 114 million eggs during its lifetime.
