Kewaskum, West Bend Kiwanians Meet Here

Kewaskum, youngest club in the Milwaukee division of Kiwanis International, played host to West Bend. Its sponsoring club, at a model meeting in the Peace church parlors here Monday evening, the West Bend club conducted the meeting and furnished the entertainment. Lester Schutt, its president, presided. Twenty-six members of the Kewaskum club and 50 guests were in attendance.

The charter membership roll of the Kewaskum club numbers 22, and they, with the West Bend men, introduced themselves following the dinner which was served by the ladies of the church. Lowell N. Peterson of the Kewaskum Utensils Co., president of the new club, read congratulatory messages from the international office and others, and told of the events leading to organization of the club.

Clyde L. Bartman, lieutenant governor of the Milwaukee division, welcomed the Kewaskum club into international, and Pres. Schutt appointed a charter night committee, headed by Clyde Schloemer, to work with the Kewaskum committee on a program for presentation of the charter to the Kewaskum club in the near future.

Entertainment was furnished by Kiwanian Fred Steffan of the North Milwaukee club, staff artist of the Wisconsin Kiwanis bulletin and the Milwaukee Sports Review. After telling and illustrating a number of cartoon stories he used his easel and crayon to draw caricatures of the officers of the Kewaskum club and of George Hood, West Bend. The latter was auctioned off to a West Bend Kiwanian for a sum of $4 which was added to Kewaskum's fund for boys' and girls' work.

A regular meeting of the board of directors of the Kewaskum club was held Wednesday evening. The meeting was called to order by Pres. Peterson. The board decided that no delegates would be sent to the international convention in Chicago this year. It was recommended that, in order to lessen confusion at the weekly meetings, a system of collecting $5 each month from each member be instituted to cover payment of meals and dues for one month. Charter night expense will be extra. Collection for guests' meals will be made at each weekly dinner.

The president appointed a house committee as follows: Dr. Leo Brauchle, chairman; L. S. Spielmann and Myron Penschbacher.

Lightning, Fire Destroy Dundee Church Steeple

Lightning which struck an 8 by 8 ft. wooden cross atop the steeple of Trinity Lutheran church at Dundee at 12:45 p. m. Wednesday started a fire which destroyed the 80-foot tower or spire and caused an estimated $7,000 loss.

While Dundee residents fought the blaze with chemicals, Campbellport and Beechwood fire departments rushed to the scene and saved the remainder of the church building. The loss was covered by insurance.

Three persons, including George Wittkopp, Plymouth funeral director, were in the church when the bolt struck shortly before the funeral service of Mrs. Amelia Krueger. With the help of neighbors the funeral director removed the body, which was lying in state, as the flames spread through the steeple. The funeral was held in the Campbellport Lutheran church.

Rev. Walter Strohschein, pastor reported that splinters of wood from the large cross fell 200 to 250 feet, when the lightning struck.

Assisting the two fire departments were men and equipment from the state forest reserve at Kettle Moraine park.

Fireworks, Doings in Village Park July 5

For the first time in many years, Kewaskum will have a big display of fireworks this year over the Fourth of July holiday week end. The fireworks, which will be sponsored by the businessmen of Kewaskum, will be held in the village park. The display will be held on Saturday evening, July 5, instead of on the 4th to avoid interference with the West Bend fireworks display on the Fourth.

The Kewaskum fire department will also operate their refreshment stands in the park the same night so that all those in attendance can have a sort of a picnic and good time before and after the fireworks display. The firemen will be in charge of the affair.

The fireworks will be shot off on the west side of the river, across from the park proper, where there is ample space and out of danger of the people. People witnessing the display will take their places on the large hill on the east side of the river, which affords all an excellent view. In case of rain the display will be held the following night, Sunday, July 6.

The village board recently put in force an ordinance banning the shooting of all fireworks in Kewaskum by children and grownups alike over the Fourth. Instead the village and businessmen joined together by donating large sums to give the public a real mammoth fireworks display and a safe one.

Colorful Lumberjacks Revive Old-time Sport of Log Birling

Roleo To Highlight Holiday Fare for Two Communities

WNU Features.

Twin cities usually are bitter rivals, but Escanaba and Gladstone, two enterprising port communities on Little Bay de Noc in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, believe that more can be gained by cooperation.

The two cities, seven miles apart, are each staging big celebrations during the Fourth of July week this year, but they are coordinating their programs so that their major attractions will not conflict, thereby enabling residents of Gladstone and Escanaba to attend each other's festivities.

Gladstone is staging a postwar revival of the national lumberjack roleo, which will attract woodsmen from the Great Lakes, Pacific coast and Canadian timber regions to compete in the pioneer American sport of log birling and other lumberjack sports.

Log birling, or log rolling, the old-time lumberjack say, was originated by Paul Bunyan, mythical demigod of the Northwoods, who, it is said, birlled three weeks and three days with Satan before he was able to give the devil a ducking. Escanaba, prominently mentioned in Longfellow's poem, Hiawatha will present its Hiawathaland Festival, which will be featured by a historical spectacle which will depict the community's history since the days of the Indians.

Revive Early Days.

Escanaba was founded in the early sixties when a railroad was built from Negaunee to the Lake Michigan port to haul the iron ore from the Upper Michigan mines to the lower lake furnaces. The exciting pine lumbering days in the Escanaba region also will be portrayed in the colorful pageant. In addition, the festival will feature yachting, parades, bait and fly casting, tennis, boxing, trapshooting and other sports contests.

From its origin in casual contests between river-driving lumberjacks as they ran the logs downstream to the mills every spring in the early logging days, the sport of birling made gradual progress through the stages of inter-camp and inter-company competitions, until by 1898, it had reached a position of such importance that a world's championship tournament was held. That first "roleo" was staged in connection with the Lumbermen's Exposition at Omaha, Neb., in September of that year. Tom Fleming of Eau Claire, Wis., won the title from a group of the best birlers in the Middle West.

FALLING OFF A LOG . . . It's an exciting bout of wood, water and calked boots when lumberjacks compete in the log birling matches of the national roleo. The postwar revival of the sport is scheduled at Gladstone, Mich., July 4-6. Picture shows Joe Connor of Cloquet, Minn., and Jim Herron of Kelso, Wash., as they competed in the 1941 championship match at Gladstone, with Herron winning.

The second tournament was staged at Ashland, Wis., another early day lumbering center, in 1900. The third and fourth world's events were held in Ashland in 1901 and 1902. Al Stewart won in 1900; Tom McLone in 1901, and Fleming made a comeback to regain the title in 1902.

Resume Championships.

From 1902 until 1914, although numerous contests were held in various parts of the country, none of them was rated as a championship event. In 1914 and 1915, however, two tournaments were held at Eau Claire, Wis., which have become known as the fifth and sixth world's championships, and which were won, respectively, by William Delaney now of Coeur d'Alene, Ida., and Eddie Gleason of Marinette, Wis. Nine more years passed without a championship meet, and then the event was staged at Eau Claire and was won by Joe Madwayosh, tall Sioux-Ojibway Indian lumberjack of Cloquet, Minn.

Madwayosh repeated his victory the following year in an eight-day tournament held in Bodin's Brownstone bowl at Washburn, Wis. This was also the scene of the 1926 tournament, at which little Billy Girard of Gladstone, Mich., won the title of "King of the White Water." In 1927 the tournament was begun at Duluth, Minn., and completed at Washburn, where Wilbur Marx, then a 16-year-old Eau Claire high school youth, won the laurels from the old-time river men. Tournaments were held intermittently at Washburn, Cloquet and Ashland during the next several years, Marx retaining his title until the world's tournament was revived in 1937 at Escanaba after a depression-period lapse.

Collegian Is Victor.

Joe Connor of Cloquet, Minn., University of Minnesota forestry student, won the title from Marx in 1937, but returning to Escanaba in 1938 he lost to Jimmie Herron, Puget Sound boom man from Kelso, Wash.

Again the roleo died, only to be revived by the sister city of Gladstone in 1941, when Herron retained his title after defeating Connor in the final match. Gladstone put on the roleo again in 1942, with Jimmy Running of Eau Claire winning the title. World War II put a damper on birling, however, and the event was discontinued until its revival this year. Even now women have taken up birling. The national women's champion is Mary Malott of Bloomer, Wis., who is returning to Gladstone in July to defend her title.

Like the river men of old, birlers wear calked-boots, flashy flannel shirts and staggard pants when engaging in a birling match. Three 12-foot logs, with diameters of 14, 16 and 18 inches, are used. The two contestants start on the biggest log, take position on either end of the timber, and at a signal from the referee they begin to tread at a furious pace in an effort to throw each other off. Two falls out of three decide the match.

Amazing skill is developed by the birlers. Some can skip rope on a log while it is turning. The national women's champion is Mary Malott of Bloomer, Wis., who is returning to Gladstone in July to defend her title.

'GIVE HER SNOOS, BOYS!' . . . The old battleries of the lumberjack will resound during the national lumberjacks' roleo at Gladstone, Mich. Typical of the furious, plunging style of the log rolling competition is this match between Jim Herron and Lowell Girard of Gladstone, Mich.

NO BULLFIGHTING

Vets Can Learn Hair-Styling Abroad

WASHINGTON. — Ambitious former G.I.s can study hair-styling in Paris, diamond-cutting in Holland, oxyacetylene welding in England, forestry in New Zealand, watch-making or hotel cookery in Switzerland—all under the G.I. bill of rights and with the approval of Veterans' administration.

The educational program in foreign countries was instituted a year and a half ago after VA decided it would be a means of promoting international relationships. Accordingly, such students were offered the same benefits they would receive if attending college in the United States—a $65 or $90 monthly subsistence allowance depending upon whether they are single or married, free books and tuition fees up to $500 a year.

At last reports, 1,395 veterans were studying abroad with government assistance, according to J. C. Smith, chief of the VA foreign education division. More than 1,200 educational institutions in 71 foreign countries have been placed on the accredited list. These include 258 in Canada, 30 in Mexico, 26 in China, 30 in India, 17 in Japan and Korea, and 10 in Russia. Approval of 11 colleges in Germany and three in Austria was suspended on request of the war department because of housing, food, clothing and other shortages.

Although VA has approved foreign study in hairstyling and other diverse fields, it has refused to aid:

A former marine who wants to go to Canada to get seasoning in ice hockey.

A former soldier, 60 per cent disabled, who applied to go to England to learn to be a soccer coach.

An Idaho veteran who wanted subsistence payments and tuition while conducting his own research in rubber in Central America.

A veteran in Mexico City who sent the agency a bill for $2,785 for a bullfighter's outfit complete in cape and sword, and explained that he wanted on-the-job training in the bull ring.

Furthermore, Smith says, no flight schools, no on-the-job training courses and no specialized training or education for disabled veterans have been approved in foreign countries.

Maggie Proves Tough as Mayor

SOAP LAKE, WASH.—"A woman can take care of this one-horse town," insisted Mayor Maggie Waltho after firing the town marshal and taking away his station wagon. "I'll be the marshal until a better one comes along."

"Maggie the Mayor," an ebullient woman who is no lightweight official by any standards (270 pounds), is the key figure in a lively little "one-horse town" controversy which has aroused as much interest as the discovery that water from nearby Soap Lake tastes like it sounds—but won't make suds.

When Mrs. Waltho announced that she had asked for Marshal James Rigas' resignation, Rigas' wife retorted that it was all because he had confiscated 10 punchboards at two taverns.

The mayor denied the charge, reporting that she had asked for the resignation a month previously "for reasons I felt were justified. I didn't announce it then because I thought he should have an opportunity to find other employment without publicity."

"In a fourth class town, what the mayor says goes," Mrs. Waltho insisted. "And it's the town marshal that goes this time."

Asked if she would carry a weapon in her new capacity as mayor-marshal, she retorted: "If necessary, I'll carry a shillelagh."

The mayor's pay is $3 "twice a month." Mrs. Waltho won't draw the marshal's $200 monthly salary.

Just in case any of the boys around town get out of hand, a deputy county sheriff is always around town on Saturday nights.

Woman's World Look Pretty Summer Mornings By Wearing Lovely Brunch Coat

By Erta Haley

IF YOU feel a bit lazy and not quite up to doing your work when you get up on these lazy summer mornings, then it's time to start on a grooming schedule which will bring you up with a start.

I'm not going to advocate anything too strenuous to follow, but I'd like to suggest an outline of activity which is guaranteed to make you feel better when you get up.

Although you may not like to exercise, it's a good idea to take a few bends just to wake you thoroughly. Don't let this be a mere whim or fancy, but make it a definite number of bends or turns such as 15 or 20 and stick to it for just a week to show yourself how much better you feel. Then you won't want to give it up.

Follow that by a tepid bath or shower, and when that is done give your hair a designated number of strokes to make it shine like sunlight. Apply conservative make-up and then step into fresh, clean clothes that have been well pressed. Top this off with a cheerful brunch coat of seersucker, glazed chintz or any other attractive cotton, and see if you aren't ready to whip anything that might come your way.

It's work, you say. Well, that's one way of looking at it, but there's another one which is more pleasant and easy to take. Let's say that you are creating a luxurious feeling for yourself, that you are taking things easily and pampering yourself, and it won't seem like a bit of work. I guarantee you.

Brunch Coats Are Easy to Make

If you have three or four of the most attractive brunch coats you can dream up to step into every morning, I know you'll want to go through the little routine I've just suggested. And is there anything more fun than making yourself attractive clothes? I'm certain any group of women would sound a chorus of "no's" to this question.

You'll notice I'm suggesting that you sew your own, and the reason for this is that I've just come from a tour of shops and they are putting their best fabric forward, and at very reasonable prices, too. You actually can make up two or three brunch coats for what one would have cost you ready-made several months ago.

Sometimes I think it a mistake that we do not choose our clothing for home wear with as much care as those with which we go out calling. Yet, I've seen dozens of husbands and children tell their wives and mothers when they look pretty or make a special effort to be attractive about the house, so it isn't because attention is lacking. After all, our own families are most important to us, so we should seek their approval as seriously and carefully as that of those whom we see and care about to a much lesser extent.

If you are the average seamstress, it should take about three to three and one-half hours to make a brunch coat with a sewing machine.

To dreary morning tasks.

Any woman can allow herself this much time once a week, and in less than a month she will have several attractive breakfast coats at very little expense.

Most of the coats either button down the front or have a wrap-around effect that makes them easy to sew, easy to get in and out, and also easy to launder. Many tie around in back, eliminating button sewing, or they may overlap and take just one or two large buttons to fasten at the waist.

Select Suitable Style.

Attractive Color
You will find any number of attractive styles from which to choose one most becoming to yourself. The same is true of color, as great variety is available currently. Any little details which you want to add to make the coat more attractive will make it more of a pleasure to wear.

Quaker Inspired

Inspired by Quaker britches of old, Frances Sider designed this petite bathing suit of cotton pique in a yellow print. It has a draw-string top with a black cording tie, and the same black cording points up the "britches." Fullness at the bloomers and the gathered fullness at the top accentuates a tiny waist.

Select the color and print or style of fabric in keeping with your activities. When your mornings are crammed full of activity, you'll enjoy one of the gay plaids or checks which are suitable for busy days. Or, you might select one of the more tailored, classic models when you are exceptionally busy.

On the mornings when you are more sedentary, go for the pretty-pretty housecoats and add a bit of eyelet or lace trimming around the sleeves or collar. This should never be too frilly, but your clothes should be made interesting by being in a different style.

Sewing Tricks Help In Saving Time

Now that pinking shears are back on the market, it's the wise home sewer who invests in them to save time in finishing seams. If you are making a housecoat of cotton, use the pinking shears as you cut the pattern from the material and you will have a finished edge that does not ravel after seams are sewed. If you are experienced enough in sewing, it will not be necessary to baste every seam before finishing it on the machine. Otherwise, it is actually a time saver as you can try the garment on before putting in the permanent stitches.

Flattened seams will be required throughout most of the garment, so this should offer little difficulty in sewing. Any other type will be explained on your pattern.

Trimming will add some time to the sewing of the garment, and these should be basted before sewing on the machine to make certain they will lie correctly.

I can't emphasize too greatly the importance of pressing the garment frequently during the sewing process. Have the board and iron ready to use constantly, as this will make sewing easier and do away with so many of the common errors.

Another trick is to try the garment on after seams are put in, and in this way you can change them before too much work is done, if it is necessary to make adjustments. A skirt marker will be of big help in deciding the hem line of you have no one to help with that.

Home-Made Dresses

For your dressiest dresses, choose pure silk or crepe. The prices on ready-made garments are exorbitant, but if styling is carefully done at home, these fabrics may be made into attractive dresses at about a third of what they would cost all done up.

The princess coat with capelets is making fashion news these days. Attractive models in navy are ideal for warmer weather wear.

Look for soft colors in ensembles and dresses—beige, gray, avocado and bamboo greens, dawn blue. These are livened by sunflower, primrose and apricot yellow.

Fashion Flashes

Light topped suits are very popular and offer a new feeling in clothes. Now you can choose two attractive colors instead of one for yourself.

You'll notice a new richness in cottons of the season, both in quality and in perfection of design. There are luscious undersea prints, exquisite embroidered batistes, smart satin-striped chambrays, jungle florals and artistic scribble prints.

Champagne is one of the season's newest and most exciting colors. You'll find it for tailored daytime wear in suits as well as in the evening fashions. It's cool and crisp looking.

There's lots of little girl influence in fashions of the season. You'll see it cropping up in such things as little girl collars and ties, tiny little waists, gamine slim skirts, wide, flange, shoulder treatment, as sashes.

ABOUT OUR PRESIDENTS

THEODORE ROOSEVELT, contrary to popular belief, was not the commander of the Rough Riders in the Spanish-American war. Leonard Wood was in command. Roosevelt was second in command.
NO PRESIDENT has ever resigned his office, but Vice President Calhoun resigned in 1832.
GROVER CLEVELAND was the first President to be married in the White House.
GEORGE WASHINGTON had a carriage that was canary colored and decorated with cupid.
JAMES MONROE was the shortest President of the United States. He stood 5 feet 4 inches tall.

Thief, Now 'Christian' Repents for Old Debt

DAVENPORT, IOWA. — "I have spent several years in the army and am now a true Christian," a former Davenport man wrote in sending $1 and a letter of apology to his old grocer from whom he stole bread 10 years ago to feed his hungry family. "I committed the theft because my family was poor and we could not afford enough food," the repenter wrote.

Cat Catches Rats, Now Nurses Them

ONECO, ILL.—When Brownie, a 4-year-old cat, caught three baby rats, she didn't dispose of them in the customary manner. Instead, she is feeding them, along with her own four kittens, about three weeks old. The kittens and the baby rats, about the size of mice, are strange bedfellows in an improvised nursery set up in a box in the Becker store here.

Pulp Magazines Have Kinship With Classics

MEADEVILLE, PA. — "Super science" pulps have a kinship with the magic element found in some Greek epics and dime romances owe a debt to the ancient tales of love, students in a "great books" course at Allegheny college discovered. To test a student's argument that the pulps and classics have a lot in common, the instructor assigned them as required reading.

Gems of Thought
 ONE of the illusions of life is that the present hour is not the critical, decisive hour. Every day is the best day in the year.
 Life doesn't consist of the abundance of things you possess, but in grasping your many opportunities of being of service to others.
 Unlike other things, words gain with every weighing.

High bacteria count often robs the dairy farmer of hard-earned profits. Wise modern farmers keep bacteria count low by using the protective, controlled temperatures of electric milk cooling. The uncertain temperatures of old fashioned ice or well water cooling entails more expense and more labor. Modern electric milk cooling is one of the most important contributions to the dairy profits and progress.

U.S., Russia Fight Diplomatic Battle

'Truman Doctrine' Termed Preventive Against Conflict

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator.

WASHINGTON.—There is no imminent danger of war between the United States and Russia.

You've heard that before, and as far as I know, it is true.

There is a diplomatic struggle going on between the two countries, the scope and importance of which few people realize.

When I say "important," I mean important in all senses but one—human life—in which a real, shooting war is important. Certainly involved are the other two factors in the trinity of rights to which Americans believe they are heir—liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

This has been clear to observers in Washington whether they merely look with their eyes at the external evidence, or scent with news-noses the currents which are wafted over transoms and under the big oak doors of the sanctum sanctorum of the sanctissim.

Sharp words have tumbled over one another since the first verbal barrage, which was the Presidential message of March 12, 1947, sometimes described as embodying the "Truman Doctrine." May I remind you of a few of the barbed shafts in that message?

"The very existence of the Greek state is today threatened by the terrorist activities of several thousand armed men, led by Communists, who defy the government's authority at a number of points, particularly along the northern boundaries."

"One of the primary objectives of the foreign policy of the United States is the creation of conditions in which we and other nations will be able to work out a way of life free from coercion."

"We shall not realize our objectives, however, unless we are willing to help free peoples to maintain their free institutions and their national integrity against aggressive movements that seek to impose upon them totalitarian regimes. This is no more than a frank recognition that totalitarian regimes imposed on free peoples, by direct or indirect aggression, undermine the foundations of international peace, and hence the security of the United States."

"The peoples of a number of countries of the world have recently had totalitarian regimes forced upon them against their will. The government of the United States has made frequent protests against coercion and intimidation, in violation of the Yalta agreement, in Poland, Rumania, and Bulgaria. I must also state that in a number of other countries there have been similar developments."

"One way of life is based upon the will of the majority, and is distinguished by free institutions, representative government, free elections, guarantees of individual liberty, freedom of speech and religion, and freedom from political oppression."

"The second way of life is based upon the will of a minority forcibly imposed upon the majority. It relies upon terror and oppression, a controlled press and radio, fixed elections and the suppression of personal freedoms."

Strong words, those—all quoted from the Truman message.

Congress Follows Words With Action
Then came deeds. Congress implemented the President's message by authorizing the loan of three hundred million to Greece and one hundred million to Turkey.

Missions were sent at once to both countries.

The United States concluded with Britain arrangements for an economic merger of their respective zones in Germany regardless of Russian (and French) failure to go along.

Then came the expected coup d'etat in which the Communists, with the Red army backing them and the aid of the Communist-controlled secret police, took over the anti-Communist government of Hungary. Immediately there followed these steps:

A message of congratulation and support was sent to the Premier of Italy, Alcide de Gasperi, then in the process of forming a government without Communist co-operation and against Communist opposition.

Negotiations leading to the "unfreezing" of Italian property (including money) in this country were announced at the same time.

Hungarian credits here for surplus property supplies were cut off. There were indications that a loan earmarked for Hungary would be cancelled.

A Hungarian-Russian transport company was told that its planes no longer could fly over the American zone in Germany. Senator Vandenberg made his ringing speech in the senate declaring that Soviet pressure on Hungary demanded a trial before the forum of the United Nations.

The United States pressed for settlement of demands on Yugoslavia for planes shot down by Yugoslavia last summer.

These and other steps which undoubtedly will be taken before this article is in print, and still others in the making, are part of a vigorous foreign policy by which we mean to block Communist aggression wherever it appears in the world.

In other words we have undertaken a form of positive activity in the foreign field, the scope of which has never been paralleled in our history.

Supporters of this policy (the majority of congress) believe it is a preventive, not an aggressive step.

They do not believe it is a foreign policy which von Clausewitz, the German military authority, described as something the "extension" of which is war. They believe it can stop, will not start, military conflict.

Possible War Of Extermination
The policy is based on this theory, as nearly as I can absorb it from the people who know:

Unless economic conditions are restored to normal throughout the world, chaos will result, communism will engulf Europe, and eventually the clash between communism and democracy as we understand it, will mean war between Russia and the United States. Since it now is believed that Russia will have the atom bomb in from four to ten years (cf. report of the President's advisory commission on universal training), such a war would mean extermination, if not of the human race, certainly of civilization as we know it.

Granted this is true, the spread of communism in Europe (and elsewhere) must be checked now because:

If either France or Italy goes Red, Russia will not co-operate in a joint peace agreement for Germany and Austria. Without such agreement, Europe cannot be restored to normal. Chaos and communism will follow.

If Russia is stopped in her tracks—if we can prevent her from moving south into Greece, Turkey and the Middle East, and west of the line she holds at present from her German zone south through the Balkans to Greece, she will be forced to stop aggression in Europe; forced to co-operate with the western powers for her own preservation.

That as I understand it, is what some people call the "Truman Doctrine." It isn't quite fair to give it such an exclusive label when it never could have been put into effect without the seaman service of men like Vandenberg and the other bi-partisan support it has received.

This does not mean that we have "lost faith in democracy" or its ability to compete in a fair field with communism. It means we are going to see that a fair field is maintained; that Russia will not be permitted to create chaos or to draw on the type of force and terror she has used so far (latterly in Hungary), to enforce her way of life upon the world.

FAVORABLE FORECAST

Wheat Crop To Hit New Peak

WASHINGTON.—Despite the wet, cold spring, a record-shattering wheat crop of 1,409,800,000 bushels is indicated this year, according to the department of agriculture forecast based on conditions as of June 1. The inclement weather, particularly in May, was unfavorable for planting of some feed grains but wheat, the forecast pointed out.

The prospective wheat crop, largest on record, compares with 1,275,000,000 bushels forecast a month ago and 1,155,715,000 bushels harvested last year, a record up to that time. The 10-year average production is 843,692,000 bushels.

The government forecast showed the winter wheat prospect to be 1,093,071,000 bushels and 316,822,000 bushels for spring wheat.

SATIRE ON SCHOOL AID . . . Community groups of Springport, Mich., a village of 500 population, erected this display on the site of proposed new school, needed to relieve a 600-pupil load in facilities for 100, when they learned the state legislature had dropped plans for school building aid. Pictured in the "new school" is Mrs. William Porter teaching her class.

NEWS REVIEW

Sugar Rationing Halted; Retail Meat Prices Soar

IT'S OVER:

Sugar Is Back

For the first time since April 28, 1942, Americans, and especially housewives, could go shopping without ration coupons as the government called a halt to the rationing of sugar for households, restaurants and hotels.

Secretary of Agriculture Clinton Anderson announced the move, explaining that it was made possible by the appearance of larger supplies of sugar than previously had been thought available.

Price controls on sugar, as well as rationing of the product for industrial use will continue, however. All sugar controls are scheduled to expire October 31 unless congress dictates otherwise.

Three reasons which acted to bring about an end to sugar rationing were:

1. Allotment by the International Emergency food council to the United States of 350,000 tons of sugar from Cuba in addition to that which was allotted earlier in the year.

2. Presence of still more surplus sugar in Cuba, which will help cut down demands from other parts of the world.

3. About 200,000 tons of Javanese sugar now will be offered to world users.

UP AGAIN:

Meat Prices

Rapid, and in some cases unexplained, advances in the retail prices of meat have been reported from many sections of the country.

Some of the reasons offered for the price jumps were: Seasonal influences, higher feed costs, heavy foreign purchases. In a number of instances, however, packers admitted that they were puzzled over the sharp increase in retail prices.

Steak, which sold for 70 to 80 cents a pound six months ago, was being listed as high as $1.25 in Scranton, Pa., and a dollar in New York. In Chicago, retail meat prices experienced a general increase of 10 cents or more on popular and scarce cuts in mid-June.

There was one bright prediction, however: When the autumn beef run begins, prices are expected to drop as much as 25 per cent.

HARSH WORDS:

Note to Russia

The United States has accused Russia of using threats and coercion to instigate the recent Communist coup d'etat in Hungary.

A strongly worded note to the Soviet union charged the Soviet commander in Hungary with violating terms of the Yalta agreement which guaranteed that liberated nations would retain their sovereignty.

Implicit, but not specifically stated, in the note was a warning that the United States will call for a United Nations investigation of the circumstances under which Hungary's democratic regime was overthrown and Communist rule installed.

Main proposal embodied in the protest was that the United States, Great Britain and Russia make a joint investigation of the political situation in Hungary. Russia previously rejected two earlier American requests for such a probe.

The U. S. position is that Hungary Premier Nagy was forced into exile and was compelled to resign in order to make way for the Communist seizure of power.

PUSHBUTTON:

Look, No Hands

"Pushbutton" automatic flight, a new field in aviation, was ushered in when a pilotless four-engine army transport plane landed at Wilmington, Ohio, after a 2,000-mile trip from Long Beach, Calif., during which no member of the crew touched the controls.

It was the longest flight of its kind to be completed wholly by means of the pushbutton automatic system, not to be confused with drone planes or remote control flight.

In the automatic flight set-up, all necessary flight data was fed electrically into a master control panel from within the plane itself.

Advocates Training

Dr. Karl T. Compton, chairman of commission on universal military training, told congress that plan for UNT was "conceived as a means of safeguarding liberty and not as a means of preparing for war."

Summer Fruits and Berries Tell Us That It's Jam Time

- LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU

 - Butterscotch Pudding
 - Beverage

To make jams or jellies, select ripe berries and pick them over carefully so you will have no sour or bitter taste in the jam. Wash the berries thoroughly before working with them.

Although it's the fruit or vegetable that keeps us going on the job from day to day with its vitamins and minerals, it's the luscious fruit jams, butters or conserves that lift meals from the humdrum to the elegant. So, homemakers, plan to add delight to next winter's meals.

If you need a further excuse to make them, you may consider them from an economy standpoint, for jam on the bread or roll will not take nearly as much of the expensive spreads. Fruits and berries, this season, are among the best, and are really very reasonable in price compared to what they have been previously.

When you make jam, jelly, butter or conserve, make a small batch. This takes less time and allows for less failure. Cooking in small quantity also saves the color of the fruit, and appearance is as important in jam as in its eating quality.

If you want some good spreads for next winter make fruit and berry butter, as these do not take as much sugar as some of the others.

Blueberry-Apple Butter.
2 quarts blueberries
2 quarts apple pulp
2 quarts sugar
1 tablespoon ground spices

Wash and slice tart apples. Add water to cover and cook until soft. Press through a sieve and measure. Boil apple pulp, blueberries, sugar and spices until thick. Pour hot into sterilized jars and process 10 minutes in a hot water bath.

Cantaloupe-Peach Conserve.
4 cups diced cantaloupe
4 cups diced peaches
6 cups sugar
4 tablespoons lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 cup blanched almonds
1/4 teaspoon salt

Cook cantaloupe and peaches together for 20 minutes. Add sugar and lemon juice; boil rapidly until thick. Add nutmeg, nuts and salt. Pour, boiling hot, into sterilized jars and seal at once with paraffin.

Elderberry Jam.
Wash, stem and measure, then slightly crush the berries. Add 2 tablespoons vinegar and 3 cups sugar to each quart of berries. Boil until thick and pour into hot sterilized jars. Seal at once.

Concord Grape and Plum Jam.
(Makes 10 6-ounce glasses)
4 cups prepared fruit
7 cups sugar
1/2 bottle fruit pectin

To prepare fruit, slip skins from 1 1/2 pounds fully ripe grapes. Bring pulp to a boil and simmer, covered, for 5 minutes. Remove seeds by putting through a sieve. Chop or grind skins and add to pulp. Pit, but do not peel, about 1 1/2 pounds of fully ripe damson plums. Cut into small pieces and crush thoroughly. Add 1/2 cup water, bring to a boil, cover, and simmer 15 minutes. Combine fruits.

Measure sugar and prepared fruit into a large saucepan, filling up last with water, if necessary. Mix well. Bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard 1 minute.

Remove from fire and stir in fruit pectin. Stir and skim by turns for 5 minutes, to cool slightly and prevent floating fruit. Pour quickly and top with paraffin at once.

Blackberry Jam.
4 1/2 cups prepared fruit
6 1/2 cups sugar
1 box powdered fruit pectin

To prepare the fruit: Crush completely, one layer at a time, about 2 quarts of fully ripe blackberries. If desired, sieve half of pulp to remove some of the seeds. Measure berries into large saucepan.

To make the jam: Measure sugar and set aside. Place saucepan with fruit over hot fire. Add powdered fruit pectin and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once stir in sugar. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat, skim, ladle quickly into glasses. Paraffin at once.

True marmalades are really soft fruit jellies, and are wonderful to use for spreads when lunch box problems come up during fall and winter. Have a few choice jars on hand to take care of the situation.

Cherry-Raspberry Conserve.
3 cups pitted cherries
1 cup chopped pineapple
1 cup raspberry pulp
4 cups sugar

Run cherries and pineapple through food chopper. Add raspberries which have been thoroughly crushed, and sugar. Heat slowly until sugar dissolves, then boil rapidly until thick. Pour into hot, sterilized jars and seal at once.

When you make jam or jelly, it's a good idea to check and prepare the jars in advance. Get some help with the fruit or berries, if it's at all possible. Have all ingredients measured out before you start cooking, as you will have to be right on the spot to watch out for scorching. With these tips in mind, the preparation will take on a simplicity you never dreamed possible.

Cherry Marmalade.
2 oranges
1 quart pitted cherries
4 tablespoons lemon juice
3 1/2 cups sugar

Run oranges through food chopper. Cover with water and boil until soft. Cool. Add cherries, lemon juice and sugar. Boil to jellying point. Pour into jars and top with paraffin at once.

Remove from fire and stir in fruit pectin. Stir and skim by turns for 5 minutes, to cool slightly and prevent floating fruit. Pour quickly and top with paraffin at once.

Blackberry Jam.
4 1/2 cups prepared fruit
6 1/2 cups sugar
1 box powdered fruit pectin

To prepare the fruit: Crush completely, one layer at a time, about 2 quarts of fully ripe blackberries. If desired, sieve half of pulp to remove some of the seeds. Measure berries into large saucepan.

To make the jam: Measure sugar and set aside. Place saucepan with fruit over hot fire. Add powdered fruit pectin and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once stir in sugar. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat, skim, ladle quickly into glasses. Paraffin at once.

Cherry-Raspberry Conserve.
3 cups pitted cherries
1 cup chopped pineapple
1 cup raspberry pulp
4 cups sugar

Run cherries and pineapple through food chopper. Add raspberries which have been thoroughly crushed, and sugar. Heat slowly until sugar dissolves, then boil rapidly until thick. Pour into hot, sterilized jars and seal at once.

Cherry Marmalade.
2 oranges
1 quart pitted cherries
4 tablespoons lemon juice
3 1/2 cups sugar

Run oranges through food chopper. Cover with water and boil until soft. Cool. Add cherries, lemon juice and sugar. Boil to jellying point. Pour into jars and top with paraffin at once.

Raspberry-Currant Marmalade.
2 quarts raspberries
1 quart currants
9 cups sugar

Measure berries and currants after stemming and cleaning. Crush currants. Cook slowly until juice flows freely. Add raspberries and heat slowly to boiling. Add sugar and stir until dissolved. Boil rapidly to jellying point. Pour quickly into hot, sterile jars and seal with paraffin at once.

Note: The currants are cooked longer than the raspberries because they are more firm and do not lose color as quickly as the more delicate fruit.

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Test for acid by tasting. If it lacks, add some lemon juice.

Fully ripe fruits make the tastiest jellies, but most of these have insufficient pectin to make jelly. It is best to use one-half ripe berries and one-half not-so-ripe ones.

If you like a spiced jelly, drop a bag of mixed spices into the juice while it is first cooking.

Use wide-bottomed pans for cooking the jelly so that the juice will cook quickly and not lose too much of its color while cooking.

To make mint jelly, use apple juice cooked with a few sprigs of fresh mint. Add a few drops of green coloring to the juice after it has been extracted.

If you do not have enough sugar to make jelly now, extract the juice from fruits and store it unsugared in jars (processed by hot water bath) until such time as you do have sugar.

It is unnecessary to buy the best quality fruit for jelly. The culls and overripe fruit are cheaper, and make as good a finished product.

THE FICTION CORNER 2 Seconds To Go! By NORMAN S. BORTNER

I WONDERED why I shouldn't let Carl Bullard drown. It wasn't that I hated him. He was a nice enough fellow. Just a boy, of course, and too sentimental and too soft and too rich. If only he hadn't married Constance, I'd have saved him in half a minute, but for that...

How could they ever know? I was quiet and still on the edge of the pier with my feet dangling in the cool water and a cigarette between my fingers. Behind me sat Carl Bullard's wife talking calmly with some of her guests, and behind her the shoreline of Carl Bullard's land stretched away serene and smooth to Carl Bullard's roomy house on the opposite side of Carl Bullard's cove.

And I stared down between my toes at Carl Bullard's white body in the water. He had looked straight at me as he went down. It was a queer, tortured, pleading sort of a look, as if he knew exactly what was happening to him and was trying to tell me with his eyes. He had opened his mouth to cry, shipped a full grasp of water into that boyish chest of his and gone down with hardly more than a ripple. Cramps, I guess. I'd seen the same thing before, but not so quick.

The cove was twelve feet deep at the end of the pier, and greenly translucent to the yellow, sandy bottom. It seemed almost too clear—too innocent—to kill a man, but I knew it was happening. I could see Carl Bullard's slow, convulsive thrashing. He was not yet half-way down. How long would it be before he touched the sand? Two seconds? Ten? But how eternally long a second can be...

Constance had warned him. Said it was too soon after lunch. Said he ought to wait a while. But he had laughed in that small-boy way he had and chucked her under the chin. And then he had run across the pier to jump in over my head. I could still feel the little breeze of his passing. It was cold on my wet back.

It was the chin-chucking, I think, that made me sit still while he sank. Constance was not a woman to be chucked under the chin. You wouldn't sing swing in a church, would you? That's what I mean. I'm a fine one to talk about churches, but that's what Constance does to me. Yesterday I saw her for the first time in three years, and it's worse with me now than it was then. A lot worse. Deeper. Not boy-and-girl stuff any more. Man and woman. And she's married to Carl Bullard.

How long would it be before he touched the sand? Two seconds? Ten? But how eternally long a second can be...

She would have married me if things had gone right. They hadn't, though. I thought a year in Buenos Aires—at an unbelievable salary—would give me my start. Instead of that, three years in Buenos Aires and an amazing bad luck at any and all forms of gambling gave me a taste for living and little to live on. Three years.

There had been letters between us, the first few months. "Gee, I miss you, Connie. Wish my year was up." "I miss you too, Aleck. Seems like a year already. Keep writing often."

BUT the letters slowed down after a while, and then stopped altogether. My fault, I know. I couldn't keep lying to her about the money. It was supposed to be saving it. It was well in my second year that I heard she'd been married. The news filtered down to me one way or another. I didn't mind, then. I had other diversions.

Three years is a long time. Almost as long as it was talking Carl Bullard to reach the yellow sand. He was near it, now, and not clearly outlined. Just a slow-moving blur. . . . Three years was enough to give me a lifetime's fill of everything Argentinian.

Somehow Constance heard I had come back, and she wrote to me. Just a friendly, welcome-back note. That meant she held no hard feelings. The boy-and-girl stuff was done with.

And yet I suddenly wanted to see her, talk with her. I found her here at the cove. She was still the Constance I remembered, if a little subdued, a little settled and satisfied. But there was something in her eyes, when she looked at me, that made me wish I'd never gone away from her. A glow. Not just friendliness. More than that. It was the glow in her eyes that kept me at the cove. I wouldn't have stayed at the Bullard place except for that.

A flock of guests as dull and chattering as guests always are. A husband who kept grinning at her like a gawky boy, and patting her arm and chucking her under the chin. The glow in her eyes—whenever she looked at me—made up for all of that.

I wanted to take my stare from Carl Bullard's body—now nearly on the sand—and look over my shoulder toward Constance. I wanted to see those glowing eyes again, meeting mine. But I didn't move.

Instead I thought of something very interesting. If I were to sit still only a little longer, the pier and the house and the cove—and a great deal more—would belong to Constance. She'd be wealthy, and with a glow in her eyes when she looked at that.

Three years in the Argentine for nothing, and three minutes on Carl Bullard's pier—for everything I wanted. Why shouldn't I let Carl Bullard drown?

IT'S STRANGE, when you're tense and still, how all your senses become sharp beyond normality. While I watched the greenish-white blur that was Carl Bullard, the feminine voices behind me, which before had been unintelligible, became clear and distinct. Constance talking to her guests. "That water looks so good," she said. "I wish I could go in."

"Why don't you, Connie? I wondered why you hadn't." "Sh-h. Doctor's orders." There was a pause. "Connie! You don't—?" "You might as well know now as later, I guess. . . . It'll be in December. Haven't you noticed the way I've put on weight?"

"Why, my dear, we had no ideal! But now I know why Carl has been so attentive. And that sparkle in your eyes, Connie. All the signs. . . . The sparkle in her eyes. The glow. Carl Bullard's body was on the sand at last, tumbling awkwardly, shapelessly.

My cigarette dropped into the water. I heard it hiss. And then I dived in without taking time to stand. Carl Bullard's grip nearly broke my arm. . . .

After we'd spent an hour together in his hotel room, this man and I, I was almost as nervous as he was. During that hour he had paced up and down, his hands shaking, his eyes glancing furtively to all corners of the room.

I don't need to tell you, do I, how ineffective a personality he was? You know, of course, that nervousness is fatal to a personality, yet nerve specialists tell me that three out of four persons "wear their nerves on the outside of their clothes."

Take the most successful person you know, the one with the most effective personality. Was not that person a serene person? Some men and women tell me that they are nervous because they were born nervous. I think the man who had the most calmness and serenity I have ever known, when I commended him upon these things, remarked that he wasn't born with them at all. He said he had to acquire them.

"Up till three years ago I was the most nervous person in the world," he told me. "Then an old doctor put me on the right track. He advised me, each night when the day's work was done to go home, take a leisurely hot bath, put on pajamas and get into bed for twenty minutes, not to sleep, but merely to relax all over."

That practice not only robbed him of nervousness, but made him much more effective in everything he did.

Veterans' SERVICE BUREAU

EDITOR'S NOTE: This newspaper, through special arrangement with the Washington Bureau of Western Newspaper Union at 1616 Eye Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., is able to bring readers this weekly column on problems of the veteran and serviceman and his family. Questions may be addressed to the above Bureau and they will be answered in a subsequent column. No replies can be made direct by mail, but only in the column which will appear in this newspaper regularly.

Payments to Beneficiaries

Veterans' administration is paying approximately 32 million dollars a month to almost 879,000 dependents of deceased veterans of all wars, according to recent announcement. Of this number, more than 45 per cent, or 396,000, are dependents of deceased World War I veterans and 41 per cent, or 363,000, are beneficiaries of deceased World War II veterans. Only 96,000 of the latter are results of service connected death, the rest being compensated in cases of veteran deaths not resulting from service in the armed forces.

The rolls also include 78,000 dependents of deceased Spanish-American war veterans, 19,000 from the Civil war, 2,345 from the Indian wars, 47 from the Mexican war and nearly 20,000 dependents of veterans who died in peacetime service.

Of the total number of dependents, 372,000 are widows, 261,000 children and 246,000 parents.

Living veterans receiving disability compensation or pension now number 2,328,000 and their benefit checks add up to approximately 114 million dollars per month. Of these, 1,736,000 are World War II veterans. The number of World War II disability claims filed per month has declined from a peak of 70,000 in September, 1946, to about 50,000 last month.

Questions and Answers

Q. Our nephew served in the army in peacetime. During the time he was in service he received an injury which at times incapacitates him for hard work. We were wondering if there is any provision for treatment for him or if he is entitled to a monthly allowance for his injury?—Mrs. A. J. H., Poplar Bluff, Mo.

A. Yes, there are certain rates of compensation provided for disability resulting from either injury or disease for veterans who served in peacetime, either in the army or navy. If he received a discharge other than honorable he would be entitled to make application to the nearest Veterans' administration office. They would determine his degree of disability, which likely would range from $10.35 a month for a 10 per cent disability up to more than $100 a month for total disability.

Q. There are six of us here in Honolulu, all Filipinos, educated in the schools here, who served with the Philippine army and later with the guerrilla forces in the Philippines against the Jap aggressors. There has been some talk that we may be eligible for some of the benefits which go to American veterans under the so-called G.I. bill. Can you advise us whether this is true?—Philippine contingent: Lankai, Honolulu, Hawaiian Islands.

A. You may be potentially eligible. Veterans' administration says out of about a million claimants who served with guerrilla forces, about 338,000 will be officially recognized for G.I. benefits. You either must have served with the U. S. armed forces as a matter of record or certification, or, if with guerrilla forces, your commander must have been an army, navy or marine corps officer or of the commonwealth army, recognized by and cooperating with the U. S. forces. There is a Veterans' administration office in Honolulu. Suggest you apply there for detailed information.

I read in your column recently something about the government returning interest charges on loans of World War I veterans on their bonus money. However, I am not sure I come within that category. To whom do I write to find out?—H. L. N., Charlottesville, Va.

A. Write to Mrs. E. M. Robinson, Chief, Adjusted Compensation Section, Finance Division, Veterans Administration Building, Washington, D. C.

Q. My husband was killed overseas in 1944. He was stationed with the eighth air force in England. I would like to know where I could write to find out where he is buried?—Mrs. A. H., Lewistown, Pa.

A. Write to Memorial Division, Office of the Quartermaster General, Washington, D. C.

Q. We have been reading about the crowded conditions in colleges. Our son is expecting to get his discharge sometime in September or October of this year. Will it be possible for us to enter him in school under the G.I. bill before he is discharged so that he could start right in school when he gets home?—Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McP., Hastings, Minn.

A. No. Your son must be a veteran and must have obtained his honorable discharge before he can make application for any benefits under the G.I. bill.

Q. My husband was in service for two years until the first of this month but was not sent overseas. He has reenlisted for three years. What I want to know is will he have to go overseas before he gets a discharge or will they keep him in the states for his three-year enlistment and will he have to serve his full time?—Worried Wife, Chillicothe, Ohio.

A. Your husband likely will have to go wherever he is ordered during his three year enlistment. He will have to serve his full time except time off for furlough.

Star Dust STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO

By INEZ GERHARD

WHEN JACK BEROH turns to "heart-to-heart hook-up" time on his NBC show, weekday mornings, it means something special to a child, a family, a community. For instance, Dennie Horan, a young boy in Dayton, Ohio, was very ill; his mother wrote Jack, who responded with a song and a plea to his listeners to comfort the lad—and more than 2,000 letters, along with many games and toys, went to the lad. The Ladies Sewing Circle of Senth Lake, Inlet, N. Y., received miles of yarn for lap robes for Jack. Never once has he failed to reach America's heart in behalf of a worthy cause.

When Judy Garland learned that "The Pirate" script called for her to pause in a crowd scene and pat the head of a beautiful baby she asked that the infant's role be played by Miss Liza Minelli—14 months old daughter of the picture's director, Vincent Minelli, and the star, Miss Garland. Liza joined the Screen Actors Guild and accepted the part. Gene Kelly co-stars with her mother.

Though film production is trimmed at many studios, Columbia Pictures has all its sound stages occupied. At Metro they're talking about making two pictures in 1948 starring Lauritz Melchior, who'll do "Luxury Liner" this summer with Jane Powell.

Jimmy Durante's received a new contract from Metro, and will head the cast of "You're Beautiful," in which, for the first time in his career, he'll win the girl. Before making that one, and after finishing "On an Island With You," he's planning to visit England and tour the British vaudeville circuits—but will the English public be able to understand him?

Celebrities crowd the Hollywood CBS Studio A backstage each Sunday at the Tony Martin show, and autograph hunters follow. Recently Tony entertained "Brown Bomber" Joe Louis, George Burns and Gracie Allen and their two youngsters. Tony's set to start making "Cashah" in August, at Universal International; it will be a sort of musical "Pepe Le Moko."

They've had to screen one sound man on "This Is Hollywood" from the studio audience, because they found him too interfering. Recently, when the script called for a crash and the sound of a falling body, Berne Surrey executed the crash and took the fall for the stars of the show, and the audience whooped with laughter. So Producer Frank Woodruff walked him in.

As soon as Ingrid Bergman opened in "Joan of Lorraine" on the New York stage last season the movie companies began a battle to snare Sam Wanamaker, who played opposite her. Producer Milton Spelling got him with a seven-year contract. His first screen assignment will be in a co-starring role opposite Lilli Palmer in United States Pictures' "Ever the Beginning."

The Cass County Boys, featured on Gene Autrey's radio show, have been cast for acting and singing roles as Smiley Burnette's barber-shop pals in Columbia's "Buckaroo From Powder River," which stars Burnette and Charles Starrett.

Claude ("Yearling") Jarman Jr. has been borrowed from MGM by RKO for a leading role in "Rough-Shod." Now 12 years old, he'll play a boy of 16 who's illiterate but accomplished in woodlore and trapping.

ODDS AND ENDS—Howard Duff, frequently heard in lead roles on "The Whistler," gets his first movie starring role in "Homicide." ABC's Professor Quiz plans to do his program in New York this summer, so he can attend to chores on his farm. . . . Two hours before his "Case Book of Gregory Hood" in the new adventure series, "The Voyage of the Scarlet Queen." . . . Eleanor Parker's crossword puzzle champion of Warner Bros. now—she completed 9 puzzle books while making "The Voice of the Turtle." . . . In her short screen career Virginia Christine has murdered four husbands.

James Stewart is returning to the stage next month, in New York. Frank Fay's going to take a vacation from "Harvey," which he has been starring in for two years. Following him will be no easy task, even for Stewart.

One hundred fifty Union cavalrymen fired carbines at the same number of Confederates, hidden in a gorge, for "The Man From Colorado," Columbia Technicolor special. Then they changed uniforms and became the Confederates.

Kills Cockroaches
The most practical material for combating cockroaches is either a 5 or 10 per cent DDT dust. The cockroach is killed by coming in contact with the dust, so every possible hiding place of the roach must be thoroughly treated. Make sure that all food and cooking utensils have been covered before you apply the dust. Then force it into the cracks, behind cupboards, wallboards, under sinks, and throughout cabinets.

Tea Roses
Ever-blooming in habit, giving you a floral display from early summer until fall, tea roses cannot endure cold and in all except the southern states must be protected in order to survive the winter. They bloom on shoots from the current season's wood and are ordinarily trained as low bushes, although there are some climbers in this group. In beds they should be spaced about 18 inches apart.

Food for Gods
Ambrosia—"food for the gods"—is a favorite dessert made with oranges. To make it, peel the orange and take the white membrane from the outside and between sections. Sprinkle the mouth sized bites of orange with sugar, if needed, and with shredded coconut. For a change, sliced bananas might be added to this dessert.

Causes Twilight
If there were no atmosphere over the earth's surface there would be no twilight. The absence of atmosphere would cause darkness to set in sharply at sunset; but with it, even when the sun is some distance below the horizon, the upper layers of air are illuminated and reflect light.

Safe Highways
On the showing that the desirable safe capacity of a 2-lane road is 3,000 vehicles a day on an annual average, there are now in the neighborhood of 14,000 miles which should be made 4-lane to be classed as adequate. This mileage is on heavily-traveled state routes.

Color Blind
Color blindness is 14 times more prevalent among boys than girls, a survey of New York school children discloses, according to the Better Vision Institute. Of 1,859 boys, 87 were color blind, but only 2 out of 2,193 girls had deficient color vision.

Latins Like Fluorescence
An electrical manufacturing company reports a heavier demand for fluorescent lighting per capita in South America than in the United States, due to building redesigning campaigns being pushed in every Latin city.

Coming Thing
A Twentieth century fund report estimates that television service will be available to 100 million people within the next five-year period, with annual sales at 3.5 billion sets a year and with total retail sales between 600 and 700 million dollars.

Tomato Cups
Tomatoes, which combine vitamin A and C value, make attractive cups for individual servings of chopped vegetables, such as cabbage, green pepper and celery. Many canned tomatoes hold their shape well enough to be used as cups.

Season Wood
Dry seasoned wood kindles more quickly and is easier to tend and regulate than wet or green wood. Drying wood for a short time is better than not drying it at all. To hasten drying, split the green logs into small sticks. Another disadvantage of green wood is that it leaves more creosote, soot and other deposits in the chimney than dry wood. Foresters say that if green wood must be used, it should be put on a hot fire.

Need Vitamin C
There is a daily need of vitamin C because the body can store very little of it. It has a special function to perform in keeping many of the body tissues healthy. Vitamin C is especially important in maintaining sound, healthy gums. A diet somewhat low in this vitamin for a long time brings about soreness of the joints and muscles, fatigue and loss of appetite.

Wide Roads
Motorists who think of American highways as typified by the Pennsylvania Turnpike or Davison Highway will be surprised to learn we have in the United States only 5,191 miles of 4-lane type, 736 miles of 5-lane type and some 300 miles of 6-lane. These 4-lane and upward roadways are only .015 per cent of the total rural mileage.

Merrill England
Bull and bear battling continued from the 12th century through the days of Shakespeare in an arena near the Globe theater, across the Thames from London. In the 12th century, too, horse racing took place in Smithfield, just northwest of the London wall, where a horse market was held.

Increase in Funds Spent For National Advertising

Nearly three billion dollars was spent in advertising in the United States last year. Of the 1946 total, 964 million dollars was spent in newspaper advertising, 489 million dollars in radio, 430 million dollars in magazines, 278 million dollars in direct mail, 178 million dollars in trade and business papers, 86 million dollars in outdoor ads, 36 million dollars in farm papers and 520 million dollars in miscellaneous advertising. Encyclopaedia Britannica reports in its 1947 Book of the Year.

The 1945 figures—860 million dollars in newspaper advertising, 400 million dollars in radio, 330 million dollars in magazines, 270 million dollars in direct mail, 107 million dollars in trade and business papers, 90 million dollars in outdoor ads, 29 million dollars in farm papers and 500 million dollars in miscellaneous advertising—show that more money was spent in '46 than in '45 in each of the divisions.

This was accomplished despite the problems of strikes, rising costs and general pains of reconversion, the article says. In addition, it is estimated that U. S. business contributed more than 100 million dollars in 1946 through its advertising space, time and service to the realization of such projects as safety, world trade, intergroup and interfaith understanding and proper use of atomic energy.
