

Malinda M. Schmidt, Miss Schoofs Brides

Miss Malinda M. Schmidt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Schmidt, village, and Clemence G. Kudek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jac. Kudek, R. 3, Kewaskum, were married in a ceremony performed on Saturday, Oct. 25.

The bride wore a slipper satin gown styled with a full train trimmed with lace. Her fingertip veil, which was held by a crown of beaded pearls, was trimmed in back to match her gown. Her flowers consisted of white roses.

Mrs. Joe Kudek, sister-in-law of the groom, served as matron of honor. She was attired in a fuschia gown of taffeta with which she wore a matching headpiece. She carried white and red carnations. Mrs. Raymond Broecker and Miss Betty Jeske, friends of the bride, attended as bridesmaids. They wore gowns of blue and pink taffeta respectively with matching headpieces and carried yellow and pink carnations. The little flower girls, Shirley and Janette Kudek, nieces of the bridegroom, wore frocks of white taffeta with matching headpieces. They carried white carnations.

The groom's brother, Raymond Kudek, attended him as best man. Raymond Broecker, friend of the groom, and Robert Schmidt, cousin of the bride, were groomsmen.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents and in the evening a large crowd of people attended a wedding dance in the Kewaskum Opera House.

After a brief wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the couple will reside in Kewaskum. Both the bride and groom are employed at the Kewaskum Utensil company.

VITRANO-SCHOOLS

Holy Trinity church, Kewaskum, was the scene of a wedding ceremony read by the Rev. F. C. La Bui at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning, Oct. 25, in which Miss Catherine Schoofs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Schoofs, R. 2, Kewaskum, became the bride of Anthony Vitrano, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Vitrano, 1812 N. Pulaski street, Milwaukee.

The bride's gown of white satin featured a long train, lace sleeves and lace bodice over satin. Her fingertip veil, edged with satin, was held by a Dutch crown trimmed with pearls and beads. She carried a shower bouquet of white mums and pompons.

For her bridesmaids, the bride chose her sister, Mrs. Gregor Nigh, as matron of honor, while Mrs. Frank Waranka and Mrs. Carl Slesar were bridesmaids. The matron of honor wore a gown of yellow moire taffeta. She carried a cascade bouquet of lavender mums and pompons and wore a headpiece to match. The bridesmaids were attired in yellow moire taffeta and they also carried bouquets of yellow mums and pompons with which they wore head pieces to match.

Gregor Nigh was best man for the groom, with Frank Waranka and Carl Slesar serving as groomsmen. Francis Schoofs and Ralph Schoofs ushered the guests to their places.

A dinner and reception for relatives and friends of the couple in the Holy Trinity church parlors followed the service. Later the newlyweds left on a honeymoon trip to Atlanta, Ga. After their return from the South they will be at home in Milwaukee after Nov. 8.

The bride, a graduate of the Kewaskum high school, had been employed as a waitress in Child's restaurant at Milwaukee. The groom graduated from Lincoln high school, Milwaukee, the Milwaukee State Teachers college and Shrivensham university (A.U.C.), Shrivensham, England. He holds a position as mailman in Milwaukee.

KUEHL-HOEPNER

In a two o'clock taffeta ceremony read by the Rev. Herbert Lemke before an altar decorated with palms, ferns, pompons and candleabra in St. John's Lutheran church, Lomira, on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 25, Miss Ruth La Verne Hoepner, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max J. Hoepner, Lomira, R. 1, was joined in marriage with Roger A. Kuehl, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kuehl, Kewaskum, R. 2.

Mrs. Lloyd Erdman attended her sister as matron of honor. Mrs. Jacob Kuehl and Mrs. Wesley Kuehl were the bridesmaids. The bride was given in marriage by her nephew, Calvin Scherger, W. T. 3/c, of Norfolk, Va.

The bride wore a gown of white slipper satin, its sweetheart neckline trimmed with seed pearls and bugle beads. The gown was fashioned with a full skirt, long train and tight fitted sleeves which came to a point. Her fingertip veil was fastened on each side to clusters of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white chrysanthemums and pompons.

The matron of honor was attired in a rose tuff taffeta gown fashioned with puffed sleeves and sweetheart neckline. The full skirt was trimmed with a narrow ruffle and gauntlets. She carried an arm bouquet of white and pink pompons, pink roses and pink chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids

Kiwianians Rank High in District in Attendance

Psychological testing was the subject of an interesting speech given local Kiwanians by E. C. Karmgard of the Personnel Laboratory of Milwaukee on Monday evening.

Benefits derived from testing individuals to determine occupations to which these individuals are and are not suited were stressed in Mr. Karmgard's speech.

A vocational guidance fund was started at the meeting. The vice-president urged the members to visit the Boy Scout meeting place in the basement of the village hall, a result of the Kiwanis club's activities.

The secretary advised the members of the excellent attendance ratings of the local club attained as shown in the Wisconsin—Upper Michigan district bulletin. In July the Kewaskum club ranked 14th in the district. In August the Kewaskum club moved up to 9th place in the district.

Next week's meeting will be held at 6:15 Monday, Nov. 3, in the Republican hotel and will feature a speech by Special Agent Robert L. Reitmair, furnished by the Milwaukee office of the F.B.I. His speech will be on the training program of the F.B.I.

CIGARET DROPPED IN CAR IS CAUSE OF COLLISION

When he attempted to retrieve a cigarette which dropped in his car as he was driving along Highway H one half mile south of Kewaskum Friday morning, Eugene Keller, Kewaskum, swerved to the left side of the road and into the path of a National Dairy Products Corp. truck driven by Joseph Freunderdorfer of Milwaukee. Keller, who is employed at Hartford, was on his way to work. Freunderdorfer applied his brakes but was unable to stop and crashed into the front of the Keller car, the impact throwing his truck 20 feet. Both machines were damaged. Keller's practically beyond repair. Neither driver was seriously injured although Keller suffered a painful eye injury.

wore gowns with moss green velvet bodices and lime green faille taffeta full skirts, fashioned with gauntlets. They carried arm bouquets of orange pompons and yellow chrysanthemums. The attendants wore bonnets with a plume to match their dresses.

A dinner served to 160 guests in the Legion hall, Lomira, was followed by a reception there lasting until 9 p. m., after which a wedding dance was held at Paul's hall, Theresa.

The young couple will be at home after Nov. 1 on the groom's farm.

Burglars Loot Three Campbellsport Places

In an early morning raid on five business establishments in three Fond du Lac county villages Friday, burglars stole an estimated $1,100 to $1,300 in cash and merchandise.

Places looted were Lueder's jewelry store, Kleinhaus Implement company and Buechel Implement company at Campbellsport; Halffmann garage at Pipe village, and Schneider Hardware store at Silca. All places were forcibly entered.

Several rings and watches were stolen from the Lueder's store. Loss was estimated at between $500 and $600. At the Kleinhaus store the burglars escaped with between $500 and $600 in cash, two portable radios and other merchandise. At the Buechel place two tires valued at $32 were stolen and the place was ransacked.

Four storage batteries, worth $17 each were removed from the Halffmann garage. At Silca $15 in cash, guns and bullets were taken. An attempt to jimmy open a safe was unsuccessful.

Sheriff John Hardgrove believes the burglars to be the same who in recent months have been raiding establishments in several counties. Recently three places in Eden were burglarized.

MISS PHIPPS IS BRIDE OF FORMER DUNDEE BOY

Miss Winona Phipps and Kermit R. Krueger spoke marriage vows in a candlelight ceremony at the Salem Evangelical Reformed church in Plymouth at 6 p. m. Saturday. Services were performed by the Rev. Herman Schmidt. Miss Phipps is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas P. Phipps, 223 South Milwaukee street, Plymouth. Kermit is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Krueger, former Dundee merchants, now residing at 12 Spring St., Plymouth. Relatives of the couple comprised the bridal party.

The bride chose her sister, Miss Kathryn Phipps, as maid of honor and had the bridegroom's sister, Miss Joan Krueger, as her bridesmaid. Two cousins of the bride, Carol Schroeder and Leroy Phipps, served as flower girl and ring bearer respectively.

Stewart Hand was the best man. Frank Conger, a cousin of the bride, was the groomsmen and ushers were two uncles of the couple, August Krueger and Thomas Phipps.

Miss Carol Pfang sang "Because," during the nuptials.

A reception was held at Stark's at Crystal lake. Relatives and friends attended the affair.

When Mr. Krueger and his bride return from a secret honeymoon they will reside on Route 2, Plymouth, where the bridegroom has his own farm. The former Miss Phipps was a waitress at the La Claire restaurant.

Badger Firemen Vote Mid-Winter Meeting, Banquet to Kewaskum

Annual Convention Held at Germantown Sunday; Vote Tournament to Gratton; Officers Re-Elected

The annual convention of the Badger Firemen's association was held last Sunday at Germantown in Boyung's hall. Chiefs and delegates from 15 volunteer departments gathered there in business sessions and to discuss the many problems of modern fire-fighting methods, etc.

Departments represented at the convention included Adell, Barton, Cedarburg, Germantown, Gratton, Kewaskum, Menomonee Falls, Jackson, Mequon, Random Lake, Saukville, Thiensville, Slinger, Town of Milwaukee, and West Bend.

Delegates from Kewaskum included Chief Harry Schaefer, Clarence Bungen and Jos. Schwind.

The morning session opened with the singing of "America," and was then called to order by Pres. J. Feutz. Memorial services were conducted for the deceased firemen during the past year and also for those who passed on years ago, the list of the deceased members having been filed with the secretary.

Open discussion was held on the question of unusual fires during the year as experienced by organizations of the association, question of solicitation of new members, and other topics of interest to the volunteers in modern fire-fighting methods.

The members were again given the assurance that capable instructors from the firemen's training schools would be in the field to visit each department on their premises to give first-hand information and instruction on modern fire-fighting methods on their own home apparatus.

Following the afternoon session, a resolution was adopted to have the secretary send a letter of condolence to the family of the deceased member. A resolution also was adopted to extend a vote of thanks to Chief Art. Schmidt and the Germantown fire department as congenial hosts to the volunteers assembled, and to the Boyungs for the very fine dinner served.

Barton was voted the place for the annual convention for 1918, while Gratton was awarded the annual 1918 summer tournament to be held in June. Kewaskum was given the nod for the annual mid-winter meeting and banquet to be held in January of 1918.

The volunteers re-elected the following as their officers for the ensuing year, namely, John Feutz of Slinger as president, Ernst Schneider of Cedarburg as vice-president, Geo. J. Armstrong of Cedarburg as secretary-treasurer.

4-H Clubs of County Plan Achievement Nite Program

4-H club members, leaders and parents of Washington county will observe their annual achievement night program at 8 p. m. Nov. 5 in the McLane school gym, West Bend.

An achievement night committee consisting of Del Wanless, Mrs. Gwen Daluge, E. E. Skalskey, Mrs. H. E. Esselman, Mrs. Julius Wegener, and John Kopp met during the month of September to plan the program for this event.

Of particular interest will be the movie "Where the Road Turns Right." This 4-H movie is a tribute to volunteer leaders. It was developed from 11 winning entries chosen from 609 submitted by local leaders of the nation in the contest conducted last year. Leading parts were assigned to two boys and two girls selected from 1,346 entries in a movie talent search. The story centers around two loyal volunteer leaders, Mr. and Mrs. Allison.

With their son Bob's scrap book as focus, they weave into the picture all the club has done for their Bob and his childhood sweetheart, Cathy; for the crippled neighbor girl, Mary Lou; for Tommy Watson with his father's some problem, and for the whole community of Avondale.

Those who have seen this picture recommend it very highly and it will be a special inspiration to volunteer club leaders, both adult and junior, who forward the 4-H program.

Three short talks will be given by outstanding club workers in the county. Recognition will be given members and leaders who have successfully completed their year's work. Outstanding club members will receive special awards.

Achievement night is a very important event during the club year. It serves as an inspiration to club members to further accomplishments, not as an end in itself. It is one way in which people not associated with club work can learn of the accomplishments of club members. Friends of club work are invited to attend.

Kewaskum Upsets Big Green Lake Grid Team

In a non-conference football game here, Kewaskum's grid team gained a hard fought 46 to 32 victory over a big, rugged Green Lake six Saturday afternoon. Green Lake has a fine record for the season. The small Indian team was more than a match for their big opponents for three quarters of the game as their speed and vicious tackling handicuffed the Lakers.

However, the visitors rallied in the last quarter to all but overtake the local team after the second stringers had been put into the game. But the rally was stopped as big Ed Koepke intercepted a lateral pass in the final minute and scampered 50 yards for the winning score. It was Koepke's second long run as he had "scraped up a fumble to run 70 yards in the first quarter for a score.

McElhatton made the longest run of the day as he intercepted a short pass in his own end zone and ran the length of the field to score. Staehler, who missed the last game because of an injury, outdistanced the Green Lake defenders on a kickoff that he gathered in and returned 70 yards behind vicious blocking for a score.

The Indians ended the season when they played at Brandon's homecoming Friday afternoon. Kewaskum and Brandon are tied for second place.

Tuesday, Nov. 4, the annual football banquet for the boys and their fathers will be held in the high school gym.

$2 Per Family Asked in Cancer Fund Drive

Letters asking an average contribution of $2 per family for the American Cancer society's fund will be mailed over the signature of each town and village chairman to all householders this week end. D. J. Kenny, West Bend, county cancer drive chairman, announced earlier this week.

In the cities of Hartford and West Bend funds for the society will come from contributions to the Community Chest, he said. Bearing the names of honorary committee members for each township and village, the letter reads: "We folks of the..... are being asked to raise just a little money for the cancer fund. I'm sure all my neighbors will help in a cause that hits so close to home. Two dollars per family will easily reach our quota.

"Latest 1917 figures show one person of every five dies of cancer. That is terrible. Our cancer fund will do two things:

"First, provide research toward finding a cure.

"Second, provide information on cancer so that people will get early medical care. Today cancer can be cured only if caught early enough.

"Our cancer committee is made up of your neighbors. Doubtless we could make a house to house canvass. But wouldn't that be a waste of time when we need only a couple dollars per family? You don't need to be sold on the good the cancer fund will do, and certainly every family can afford at least one dollar.

"Please slip your contribution in the enclosed envelope. I know you'd give it to me if I called to see you and this method will save time for both of us.

State Senator Seeks Rain-Producing Fund
State Sen. Theodore Pruett of Oklahoma announced plans to seek a $100,000 annual appropriation from the state treasury to finance "production of rain during periods of drought."
Pruett said his proposal is no joke. Dry ice, he asserted, has been proved a "probable" rain-making agent.
The veteran state legislator and attorney is considered a champion of farmers in western Oklahoma where droughts were serious this year.
He released copies of a bill which he plans to introduce in the legislature in 1949.
The act would specifically set forth that any artificially-produced rain would be considered "an act of God upon which no claim for any damages can be predicated."
That would relieve the state of liability in case a state-financed rain caused a destructive flood, said Pruett.
The state board of agriculture would be authorized to enter into a contract with the federal government or individuals for use of planes to distribute dry ice over clouds.

Champion Farmer McKINLEY Uses Firestone CHAMPION GROUND GRIPS
AND HE GETS UP TO 100% MORE EFFECTIVE CLEANING
62% MORE DRAWBAR PULL · 91% LONGER WEAR

More than Seven Million Pounds of Produce! That is the production record Champion Farmer H. L. McKinley (on tractor), and sons Don, Phil, Hal and Keith (not shown) made last year on 1100 acres of rich farmland near St. Ansgar, Iowa. Their record includes 2 1/2 million pounds of potatoes from 135 acres, and a nearly equal poundage of choice cabbage from 100 acres. The McKinleys keep their soil highly fertile by a five-year rotation and the application of 170 tons of fertilizer annually. An extensive steer and hog feeding program turns corn and roughages into cash, and builds additional fertility in the soil. The farm is highly mechanized. All eight tractors roll on Firestone Tires.

ECONOMY-MINDED farmers like Champion Farmer H. L. McKinley find costs go down when they use Firestone Champion Ground Grips.
Tests show that Firestone Champion Ground Grips clean up to 100% more effectively, pull up to 62% more, last up to 91% longer, and roll smoother over highways.
The reasons are simple. The curved bars cut deeply into the soil. Mud falls easily and cleanly from the tapered openings between the bars. Because the traction bars are connected, they're stronger, they have more tread rubber to push into the ground and pull. This extra tread rubber also lengthens tire life . . . makes tires roll smoother.
Although judged best by leading farmers everywhere, Firestone Champion Ground Grips cost no more than ordinary tractor tires. Specify the "Champion" when you order your new tractor, or when you buy replacements for your tires. See your nearest Firestone Dealer or Store today.
Listen to the Voice of Firestone every Monday evening over NBC.

Any item mentioned in this ad in a combination offer is available to the purchaser individually and separately at the regular price.

THIS SKYLINE DOUBLE DUTY GRINDER HAS YEAR 'ROUND USE

You can cut ensilage and fill silos, chop baled or loose hay, and then grind all grains including ear corn with the Skyline All Purpose Grinder.

The large 33" Rotor with 3 cutter knives makes the Skyline capacity above comparison with ordinary mills. Any two glow motor will produce more than enough power to run it. New improved feed collector and two way bag filler.

SKYLING SILES—Grind or chop your ensilage and fill your silos with money-making feed. Your Skyline Grinder will handle anything from high protein forage crops to the heaviest sorghums or corn fodder.

GRINDING FEEDS—Anything from barley to ear corn. Size of screen determines fineness of finished product. A perfect feed mill for all types of grain.

CUTTING ROUGHAGE—Converting buffer butts or fodder into affable roughage is accomplished easily with the Skyline. In fact, it will chop it faster than two men can feed it. (15,000 lbs. per hour).

CHOPPING ALFALFA—Skyline will chop alfalfa to any degree of fineness and its capacity is governed only by the size of screen used. Without screen it will chop 12,000 to 15,000 lbs. per hour, and do it easily.

Compact, the Skyline Double Duty Grinder can be moved through an ordinary barn door. Sturdy, it is engineered to last a lifetime. Mighty, its hourly output is truly amazing—15,000 lbs. of baled hay, 4,500 lbs. of ear corn, etc.

Shell Your Corn Faster, Easier

with a MCCORMICK-DEERING CORN SHELLER

The McCormick-Deering No. 30 Corn Sheller is designed for the farmer with a medium acreage to do his own shelling at minimum cost. For capacity of 100 to 150 bushels of shelled corn per hour, it can't be beat.

Run the No. 30 with a 1-pow tractor or 5 to 10 h. p. engine. A wide variety of equipment combinations are available.

Simply designed and sturdily built, it will meet the needs of the farmer who shells corn for sale at the elevator, or the livestock feeder who has his own feeding requirements.

Get the complete story on the McCormick-Deering No. 30 Corn Sheller from us now. Or ask about the 1-hole hand sheller model.

Dewey Casts Eye Toward Presidency

New York Governor Stands High in Public Estimation

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator.

WASHINGTON.—Last week we looked at some of the contenders for the Republican presidential nomination. This week it is the New York governor's turn.

More than one person who has tried to talk about or write about Thomas Edmund Dewey has complained of the difficulty of this task. There doesn't seem to be any one place to begin or end.

Several simple declarative sentences can be written about the ambitious governor of the State of New York.

For instance, he is ambitious. Everybody admits that. His friends approvingly, making it a sort of copy-book virtue; and Dewey has taken the copy-book to heart, not merely in regard to ambition, in general, but in attempting to justify a specific ambition, one we all heard some time or other in our youth: "every American boy has a chance to be president." Dewey has taken that seriously.

His enemies look upon Dewey's ambition as Brutus looked upon Caesar's.

I'm afraid that wasn't as simple or declarative a sentence as I intended. Let's try this again: Thomas Dewey is not a hail-fellow well-met (I doubt if anybody will deny that).

Thomas Dewey once was chosen as one of America's 25 best dressed men. I think anybody who has seen him will say that was a justifiable choice.

Baukhage

Thomas Dewey is a small man—in stature. (The jokesters have done the best they can with that joke but it's worn by now.) Standing in a small group with Dewey you aren't particularly conscious of his height—or lack of it. When he looks at you he can look hard enough to make you feel that you are almost seeing eye to eye, literally, I mean—not necessarily figuratively.

Tom Dewey is a hard worker; he is 45 and, like Taft, was a good student. When it comes to generalities—Dewey is more difficult to describe.

There is one thing, however, that emerges clearly when one examines Dewey's career. It follows a very definite curve which he undoubtedly plotted a long time ago and which will take the boy from Owosso, Mich., all the way into the White House if he is permitted to follow it.

Frequently he has had to pause in his upward course but he always manages to start over again where he left off, and continue in the same direction. He lost his first bids for the gubernatorial and presidential nomination in 1938 and 1940, respectively, but he tried again for the governorship in 1942, and was carried into office on a landslide that ended 20 years of Democratic control. That carried him along to the next milestone and he became automatic contender for the presidency in 1944. The revolt against the New Deal which put the Republicans back into power in New York wasn't strong enough to overcome the Roosevelt popularity so Dewey had to mark time until the next time—which is now.

However, there is no use leapingfrogging the nomination, which is the issue at the moment. There is the usual controversy over the results of Dewey's western trip, which ended in August, but his managers, with confident optimism, announced on his return that his first-ballot strength at the convention would register at least 400 out of the 547 votes needed to nominate him.

Taft Might Hinder Dewey's Possibilities
However, the results of the more recent Taft journey might mean a double setback for Dewey if what is claimed is correct; namely, that Taft not only strengthened himself but strengthened Republican prospects, generally.

The reason for this is that the men who pull the strings in the Republican party have no great affection for Dewey. If they thought they were due for an easy victory they would be likely to push him aside regardless of his vote-getting ability. In other words, while the insiders want a man who can get the popular vote, they would rather have somebody whom they are entirely sure is the man, even if he isn't as popular—as long as he has edge enough to pull through.

While no formidable "stop Dewey" movement is evident—the fact that Taft tossed Warren of California a whole bowl of roses, took occasion to at least mention Stassen—and found no occasion to notice the existence of the governor of New York—seemed to indicate that there might be some concerted effort in the future on the part of the serious contenders. And, of course, there are always the favorite sons whose supporters always hope against hope to get together in a "stop Dewey" effort.

One thing about Dewey, however, is that he appears to be able to build as he goes. That is, up to the present, he has gained in velocity without having to reach too far back for his prestige.

Dewey's opponents point to what they call a "blank" record as governor. The Democrats say that about all he did was to cash in on a number of progressive steps taken by his predecessors clear back to Al Smith. While it is true that he has increased his political stature, moving steadily and steadfastly toward his goal—the White House—he has at the same time been accused by his opponents of leaning over backwards to avoid doing or saying anything that might prove an obstacle toward that goal.

This thought was put into concrete form in a recent resolution passed by the New York state Industrial Union council (the official CIO body which represents all the CIO unions of New York) at Saratoga Springs in September, which read: "We accuse Governor Dewey of permitting his personal ambition to take precedence over the best interests of the people of New York."

I don't mean to imply by this that Dewey counts too heavily on the CIO vote. Although he has created a considerable aura of progressivism about himself, some of his backers are very conservative and financially-powerful individuals.

There is one characteristic revealed in Dewey's career which may be forgotten as his record as an executive eclipses his achievement as a prosecutor. It must be remembered that more than once he has sacrificed a highly lucrative position for the pure joy of criminal prosecution. First, when after making a good record on the staff of the United States district attorney, he postponed returning to private practice in order to prosecute Municipal Court Judge Hunstler, without pay, for the American Bar association; then, when he accepted the position as deputy district attorney at $16,000 a year to go after Dutch Schultz, Lucky Luciano, et al.

He is quoted as saying once that he would rather prosecute criminals than eat.

THOMAS E. DEWEY
His Ambitions.

HEARTS IN THE HIGHLANDS... Four killed members of the royal Scots guard are shown performing the celebrated Highland fling with swords at the Silver Lining festival which was held at the "cockpit" in London's famous Hyde Park. Festival was a tribute to London's 50,000 voluntary workers in the national savings movement.

NEWS REVIEW

Rough on Reds: Byrnes; AFL Overrides Lewis

MEMOIRS:

No Patience

James F. Byrnes, who, when he was secretary of state, was a veritable personification of "patience on a monument" in his dealings with Russia, stepped down from his pedestal and announced that it was time to start slugging.

In his published memoirs, "Speaking Frankly," Byrnes proposed that the U. S. reply to Russia's "obstructionism" on atomic energy and German peace treaty agreements with "better and more" atomic bombs and a decision to drive the Red army out of Germany, by force if necessary.

Exponents of the "get tough with Russia" policy now have a sturdy champion in the former secretary of state, who resigned last January because of ill health.

Byrnes presented a 10-step "course of action" for restoring peace, basis of which must be the conclusion of a satisfactory German peace treaty. At the same time, he contended that the plan of action conceivably could lead to World War III if Russia refused to co-operate.

First of all, said Byrnes, the U. S. should ask the Big Five to call a full-dress conference of all nations on Germany "early in 1948." If Russia refuses to participate or if she boycotts the conference, the other nations should proceed without her.

Then comes the stinger which Byrnes advocates. If Russia refuses to sign the treaty and likewise refuses to withdraw Red troops from western Germany, other nations should ask the U. N. security council to order her out. And if Russia vetoes the security council order, then the U. S. must drive her out of Germany by force.

However, Byrnes is firm in his belief that the U. S. probably will not have to resort to warfare. He thinks Russia will withdraw her troops from western Germany upon completion of a peace treaty.

REFUGEES:

From Soviets

Streams of refugees are reported to be coming through Russia's iron curtain to the southeastern coast of Sweden.

Reason for their flight, they say, is that the Baltic lands where they made their homes, now under control of the Soviet Union, are being combed by the Russians for men and women to be deported to Siberia.

A secret transportation route out of the Soviet zone manages to spirit the refugees to Sweden. Cost for such a journey—2,500 German marks.

VANISHING AMERICANISMS

Party Line Heading for Doom

That chatty, friendly institution, the rural party line, the force which has bound farm residents together into communities and spread more news than Walter Winchell, is getting ready to bid farewell to the American scene.

It's in the cards. The party line will be replaced, eventually, by the unsuitable but efficient dial telephone exchange. That fact became apparent recently when a telephone and radio manufacturing firm announced development of a dial telephone exchange especially designed for the small community which has only 300 or 400 subscribers.

The new type of exchange, which will make dial phones economical for an operating company with as few as 40 lines, is termed unromantically a "community rotary exchange." Cost of installation will average about $100 a line, but the cost to an individual subscriber will be much lower than that because rural exchanges usually have from 4 to 10 parties on a line.

The unit will provide fully automatic service for individuals, private branch exchanges, 2, 5 and 10-party lines, as well as pay station service.

Major development is the circuit arrangement which completely separates toll from local service, thereby insuring the availability of lines for long distance calls, even though all local facilities may be busy.

MEMOIRS:

Belabor: Lewis Downed

"On this issue I don't think the federation has a head. I think its neck has just grown up and haired over."

Thus spoke John L. Lewis, he of the king-sized eyebrows, at the American Federation of Labor convention in San Francisco. The issue to which he so lustily referred was that of whether the AFL should vote to wipe out its 13 vice presidents, of which Lewis is one.

And despite Lewis' name-calling and hammy, mane-tossing histrionics, the AFL did vote to abolish its vice presidents in a move to make the entire federation eligible to use the national labor relations board under the Taft-Hartley law.

The action, which leaves only William Green, president, and George Meany, secretary-treasurer, as top federation officers, was taken in order to permit the AFL officers to sign non-Communist affidavits for AFL federal unions which have no national officers of their own. No union may have access to the facilities of the national labor relations board under the Taft-Hartley law unless their officers sign the affidavits.

Lewis previously had adamantly refused to sign the non-Communist affidavit on the grounds that he would be making a concession to the Taft-Hartley law, much reviled by labor.

REPARATIONS:

Germany Pays

European aid took a different turn with an announced plan by British and American military governments to dismantle 682 German industrial and war plants in their two zones for reparations.

Purpose of the move, slated to be carried out as swiftly as possible, is to expedite European economic recovery. Most of the factories are metal, chemical and electrical engineering, shipbuilding and power plants.

The announcement points up the problem, still not fully solved, of whether completely to destroy Germany's war potential by cancelling out her industrial strength, or to rebuild the German industry for peaceful production.

Obviously realizing the possible adverse effects which the dismantling of the plants might have upon the German people, the U. S. and Britain issued a joint statement emphasizing that they would consider suggestions from the Germans for substitution of equivalent individual plants.

TWO AND TWO:

Maybe this is why mathematics always was such rough going in school: The President's scientific research board has warned that instruction in common arithmetic is faulty in U. S. schools and must be improved if the country is to develop the large number of scientists it will need for security and advancement. The battle for competence in science probably is won or lost in the lower grades, the board says.

'I LIKE IKE'

While it has not yet exactly reached the "taking the country by storm" stage, the campaign to put Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in the White House continued to progress as the national headquarters of the Draft Eisenhower for President league announced its new slogan: "I Like Ike."

The league has ordered 20,000 lapel buttons bearing the slogan which it predicts will go over big.

Veterans' SERVICE BUREAU

EDITOR'S NOTE: This Newspaper through special arrangement with the Washington Bureau of Western Newspaper Union at 1516 Eye Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., is able to bring readers this weekly column on problems of the veteran and serviceman and his family. Questions may be addressed to the above Bureau and they will be answered in a subsequent column. No replies can be made direct by mail, but only in the column which will appear in this newspaper regularly.

Defective Hearing Aided

Veterans' administration has inaugurated a new program for the benefit of approximately 30,000 World War veterans who suffered hearing impairments during their service, in an attempt to help them overcome the handicap.

Eligible veterans may take advantage of this program whether they require medical attention to improve their hearing or whether they need rehabilitation to overcome the handicap of a permanent hearing impairment.

The complete rehabilitation course includes a series of hearing and speech tests, the selection and fitting of a hearing aid if indicated, auditory training, lip reading instruction and speech correction if necessary.

VA's department of medicine and surgery has contracts with the following institutions to give all or a part of the complete rehabilitation course:

- Institute for Speech Correction, Boston; Syracuse university, Syracuse, N. Y.; Vanderbilt clinic, Presbyterian hospital, New York City; National Hospital for Speech Disorders, New York City; City College of New York, New York City; Navy Aural Rehabilitation center, U. S. naval hospital, Philadelphia; Army Aural Rehabilitation center, Walter Reed hospital, Washington, D. C.; University of Virginia, Charlottesville, Va.; University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa, Ala.; Louisiana State university, Baton Rouge, La.; Cleveland Speech and Hearing center, Western Reserve university, Cleveland, Ohio; Ohio State university, Columbus, Ohio; and Indiana university, Bloomington, Ind.

Questions and Answers

Q. I dropped out of college last spring and owed Veterans' administration for a month's subsistence allowance which I was overpaid. So far I have neglected to repay the money. My question is may I register for college again this fall under the G. I. bill and then make some kind of arrangement for repayment to VA?—L. P. A., Falls City, Neb.

A. Veterans' administration has ruled that if you have owed the overpayment for more than 60 days you must arrange to repay the amount before you are eligible to register for school under the G. I. bill. If you have owed it less than 60 days you can register and then make arrangements for repaying the amount.

Q. I am a discharged veteran and am receiving disability compensation payments. I now am considering joining the national guard and understand I must give up my disability payments in order to enlist. May I apply for my compensation again some time in the future and will I still be eligible for other veterans benefits?—L. D., Albuquerque, N. M.

A. VA says the answer is yes to both questions. If you apply for re-enlistment in the future, however, approved awards will be paid from the date of your second application. If you enter training under public law 16 while you are in the national guard, you waive your right to receive the additional allowance paid to disabled veterans; all you will get will be $65 per month if you have no dependents or $90 if you have dependents.

Q. My husband is a veteran who has had three and one-half years of service. He is now working under on-the-job training. Could you tell me if he is insured under this on-the-job training?—Mrs. S. J. P., Norway, Mich.

A. The government provides no insurance for veterans who are taking on-the-job training.

Q. I am a veteran and would like to go to school under the G. I. bill to get some good out of the law. I don't know just what to study though. When I was drafted into the army they gave some aptitude tests and I showed pretty good on mechanics.—R. A. B., High Point, N. C.

A. Would suggest you contact your nearest Veterans' administration office and consult their advice and guidance service. If there is no such service in your nearest office, they can advise you where you can contact such a service. There are 650 such services in the country.

Q. While I was in France, shortly after the war ended, I mailed some film to the army post exchange for processing. What steps can I take to recover my film which was never returned to me?—N. G. U., Shreveport, La.

A. Write to the Quartermaster General, Depot Operations Branch, War Department, Washington, 25, D. C., for information about obtaining the film which you mailed to the army post exchange headquarters in France. Be sure to give your full name, former grade and serial number.

Q. Under normal circumstances, how long does a veteran have to wait before he can be admitted to a Veterans' administration hospital for care and treatment?—D. H., Pensacola, Fla.

A. If the veteran has a service-connected disability, he does not have to wait to receive hospitalization; if he has a non-service-connected ailment but is an emergency case, he also is admitted immediately. However, if he has a non-service-connected ailment that is not of an emergency nature, he must wait until a bed is available.

Star Dust

STAGE SCREEN RADIO
Released by WNU Features.

By INEZ GERHARD

THAT'S a nice deal that Henry Morgan, radio satirist, made with Screen Plays, Inc. They are producing "So This Is New York" for Enterprise Studios, and starring Henry—the deal is that he will receive $100,000 and a percentage of the profits for his screen debut. Well, after seeing him on the stage last summer in "The Man Who Came to Dinner," and hearing him on the air, I think he's worth it, especially if they give him his head. Virginia Grey plays his wife in this dramatization of Ring Lardner's "The Big Town"; she was excellent in the stage production of "Dream Girl."

Jane Wyman portrays the newspaper editor of a small town in Robert Riskin's "Magic Town." Big-town newspaper women have flocked to see this RKO picture. But—it's the small-town newspaper editors who will know if "Magic Town" is good.

Jack Carson's home in San Fernando Valley is nearing completion, with a swimming pool, bath house and steam room completed. But why a steam room? Carson's schedule calls for frequent sprints between "April Showers" at Warner Bros. and the "Village Store" at NBC—it seems unlikely that he's going to need any help in keeping his weight down!

Very few British juvenile players have been elevated to stardom—Freddie Bartholomew, Roddy McDowall, Elizabeth Taylor; not many. But if you've seen "Great Expectations" you must have noticed Anthony Wager, who played "Pip," the boy Edward Small tested him for the role of the boy in "Cagliostro," called his London office to sign the boy; now he's headed for Rome, where the picture is being produced. Orson Welles plays the man whom Wager plays as a boy.

Maybe you agree with thousands of fans who have written Smiley Burnette, protesting that the hat he wears in pictures is not in keeping with western fashion. Well, he says the old black chapeau not only fits in with his comic characterizations, but also it's a good luck charm given him by his grandmother when he started acting.

Shirley Temple defied superstition by removing her wedding ring before each scene of "That Hagen Girl" at Warners'. "Nothing's going to happen to my marriage," she declared, and explained that two hours after her wedding she took the ring from her finger, "just to prove that I had no sympathy with superstitious nonsense."

Frank Papp, NBC producer-director, has returned from a three-months' tour of Europe for World Church service. He made wire and tape recordings of interviews for a radio series to be produced by the Joint Religious Radio committee and broadcast over 500 stations. A 13-program series, composed of his interviews, will be distributed by the Joint Religious Radio committee.

Bob Hope has a nickname for each of the gang supporting him on his Tuesday night broadcasts. Vera Vague is "Our Gay Gal." And if you hear Bob break up in the middle of a script, it's usually "Our Gay Gal" who made him do it.

Take this for what it's worth—a prediction that two major show changes are expected before next option time; on one, a singer probably will bow out, leaving his show to a comic; on another, the whole program will change networks.

ODDS AND ENDS—An advertising budget of $100,000 has been set for "Intrigue," starring George Raft and June Havoc... Mel Torme goes off the air at the end of this month, we hear, unless something happens... In "Smoke Eat-ers," America's fire fighters receive a film salute; it's the new "This Is America" release... Jon Hall and Frances Langford celebrated their ninth wedding anniversary as they always do—at home and alone... Janis Carter never smokes in private life, but she has yet to appear in a picture that doesn't require her to do it.

A newcomer to NBC's "Amos 'n' Andy" show this season is Lassie White, an old-time minstrel man. White scored on the opener in the role of a druggist, creating a character who will attract a nationwide following (he hopes).

Dick Crenna, "Oogie Pringle" on "A Date with Judy," quit the disk jockey job he held on a Los Angeles station all summer to have more time for study at the University of Southern California this fall. He's a freshman.

THE FICTION CORNER

GOOD LOSER

By C. S. MONTAYNE

LUCY AMES could always tell when her husband drove in by the children's uproarious welcome.

Why, she wondered, did children always adore their fathers? Perhaps it was because fathers were not home all day, telling them to do this, not to do that.

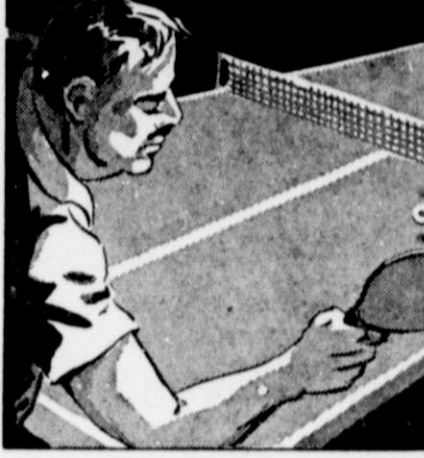

The children humored him. They purposely indulged his desire to win at whatever games they played, because they seemed to instinctively know how much it meant to him.

"Dinner ready?" They streamed in, Bill in the van, the children following. He caught Lucy by the elbows, and raised her for a kiss.

At the table there was a great clatter of crockery, voices. Bill telling about his trip, the children like trained stooges giving him leading questions.

to have him defeated? It was silly. And yet— They assembled in the playroom the next night.

It was brilliant table tennis. Hard fought, clean, clever. Twice Bill Junior seemed to have his father beaten.

Lucy wondered why young Bill failed to press his advantage—and then glanced at her husband's grimly set face.

Bill Junior chuckled. "Got some news for you. It's a secret for the time being, but I'll let you in on it if you keep your mouth shut."

"I won't say a word," Calvin promised. "What is it?" "I told me he's getting me a brand new bike the first of the month!"

Later, Lucy went from room to room making sure windows were not open too wide.

"That you, mother?" She sat down on the edge of the bed. Her son's hand slipped into hers.

"A good game, Bill." She squeezed his fingers before she released them. "Well played. I'm sorry you didn't win."

MORE LIGHT

AT NO EXTRA COST

CERTIFIED LAMPS GIVE
50 TO 100% MORE LIGHT

The CERTIFIED TAG on a portable lamp means that it has been built to CERTIFIED LAMP MAKERS' SPECIFICATIONS—105 provisions to insure electrical and mechanical excellence, superior lighting performance. It also means that you can expect to receive from 50 to 100% MORE useful light through use of patented diffusing bowls surmounted by flaring metal reflectors. Their function is the complete control of the light, putting it where you need it most: on the reading surface.

Only CERTIFIED LAMPS have the new and exclusive

Style . . . Beauty . . . Charm . . . More Light

You can add a new decorative touch to your home with these beautifully styled, exquisitely designed CERTIFIED lamps. They come in pottery, wood and metal bases—with lovely shades in many fabrics. You can depend upon CERTIFIED lamps to bring you beauty and MORE LIGHT at no extra cost.

Ask your dealer to show you a
