Legion Wins Two, at Hartford, Hustisford

The Kewaskum Legion won two games on the road last week. On Saturday night in one of the most exciting games of the campaign, they nosed out Hartford by one point, 57-56, and Wednesday evening at Hustisford the Legion came through with a 53-41 victory.

The two wins give the Legion a tie for third place with Cedarburg in the Land O' Lakes. Each has won 6 and lost 2 games. Random Lake holds first with 10 and 1. Grafton and Meno Falls are tied for second with 6 and 2.

Kewaskum won a hard earned victory on Hartford's spacious floor. After trailing throughout the tussle, the boys came from behind with a last quarter rush to top. The Legion trailed 27-18 at the half. In the fast, rough and red-hot last quarter Kewaskum passed Hartford late in the game and took a 2-point advantage with seconds left. Deis of the losers swished in a one hander as the final horn sounded. W. Tessar poured in 20 points for the winners and Krueger dumped in 12. R. Wenzel matched Tessar with 20 points.

After being held, 13-15, at the quarter Kewaskum went to work on Hustisford in the second period there Wellmeyer, the Legion led, 26-19 at the half and from there on was never headed although Hustisford came within catching distance a couple of times. The team missed many shots in the very small, low hall. W. Tessar again copied scoring honors for the Legion with 15 points. Honock was hitting the hoop and was right behind with 14, while Bilgo hit for 12. The diminutive Roessler, a whizz from the corners, took boss honors with 14 for Hustisford.

The Rivers team played against Rubicon at Hartford Saturday night. The boys gave the strong, second place Rubicon five a real scare before going down under a 32-24 defeat. Rubicon has won 11 and lost only 2. Recently Rubicon beat the local cagers bad here. Rubicon led by one point, 12-11, at the intermission and the teams were tied, 25-15 at the third quarter's end. Dave Backhaus scored 11 for the losers, while Hauser led the winners with 9.

MRS. JOHN GATZKE Mrs. John Gatzke, 79, nee Emma Hafemann, of the town of Auburn, died at 6:15 a. m. Friday, Jan. 23, at her home after ailing for the past three weeks. She had been seriously ill for many years. Mrs. Gatzke was born July 2, 1877, in the town of Mitchell, Sheboygan county. She lived in that township until her marriage to John Gatzke, which took place Feb. 5, 1903, at Trinity Lutheran church, Dundee. The couple settled in the town of Auburn, where Mrs. Gatzke spent the remainder of her life. Her husband predeceased her on July 29, 1939.

Seven children were born to the couple, one of whom died in infancy. Surviving are Edwin, Norbert and Walter, all of the town of Auburn, Hilda (Mrs. Wilmer Janssen) and Elsie (Mrs. Milton Muench) of Town Scott, Gretchen (Mrs. Armond Stoffen) of Barton. She also leaves 11 grandchildren, three daughters-in-law, three sons-in-law, one sister, Mrs. Frank Rahm of Campbellsport and three brothers, Henry Hafemann of Town Mitchell, William Hafemann of Libertyville, Ill. and Carl Hafemann of Kewaskum.

Mrs. Gatzke was a member of the Ladies' Aid of St. John's Lutheran church, New Fane, the members of which attended the funeral in a body. The remains were in state at the residence from 1 p. m. Sunday, the Miller Funeral home of Kewaskum in charge, until 1:30 p. m. Tuesday when services were held from the home to St. John's Lutheran church at 2 o'clock. The Rev. E. J. Zanow officiated and burial was in the parish cemetery. Pallbearers were Delmar, Elroy and Walter Gatzke Jr., Vernon Muench, Bernard Hafemann and Henry Hafemann.

Bernard Horn, David Bartelt Take Brides

Peter Horn and son Claire, village, were to Sheboygan Saturday to attend the wedding of their son and brother, Bernard D. Horn of Milwaukee, and Miss Doris Voelker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Voelker of Sheboygan.

The wedding took place at 10:30 a. m. Saturday. The couple was attended by the bride's sister, Charlotte, and her gentleman friend. Dinner was served and a reception held at the Foeste Hotel in Sheboygan for about 200 relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Horn will reside in Milwaukee, where the groom is employed.

BARTELT-ANSELM Mr. and Mrs. August Bartelt Sr., village, have received word from their son, David, Madison, announcing his marriage to Miss Ruth Anselm of Wild Rose, Wis. The couple was married on Jan. 19 at a Lutheran church in Iowa. No further details were received by the parents. David and his bride are students at the University of Wisconsin.

Hights Knock Rosendale Out of First-Place Tie

Kewaskum and Brandon rode the Tri-County standings in first place after Friday's games. A three-way tie for the lead between Kewaskum, Rosendale and Brandon was broken when Kewaskum knocked off Rosendale, 42-34, here. Brandon whipped Lomira to maintain a tie with the Indians, and Oakfield upset Campbellsport.

John Tessar led Kewaskum's team with 16 points as the Indians turned back the serious threat of the Dales before a large, howling crowd. Madison was high for the Dales with 11 points. On Friday night the Hights played at Campbellsport. Next Tuesday they take on the powerful North Fond du Lac Orioles in a return contest here. North Fondy trounced the Indians there last week. Next Friday the team goes to Lomira.

310 at Mid-Winter Banquet of Badger Firemen's Ass'n Here

About 310 firemen, chiefs, honorary firemen and guests attended the 6 o'clock banquet at the close of the annual midwinter meeting of the Badger Firemen's association held in Kewaskum Sunday. Approximately 60 chiefs and delegates of the 15 member departments were in attendance at the afternoon meeting held in the American Legion Memorial building. The banquet was held in the Holy Trinity church parlors. Both events were successes almost beyond expectations.

Nearly all of the association departments were represented at the banquet by sizable delegations, a number of the departments coming in chartered buses. Barton, with 33 firemen present, probably had the largest representation. There were groups almost equally as large from Random Lake, Cedarburg, Mequon, Thiensville, Grafton, Jackson, Germantown, Town of Milwaukee and Saukville, West Bend, Monomonee Falls and Slinger also were well represented. Adell was the only member not in attendance.

At the business meeting, the Newburg fire department was granted admission to the association by unanimous vote, bringing the total number of member departments to 16. All departments were represented at the meeting except Adell. Silent tribute was paid to the memory of the late Chief William Lange of Mequon who died last fall. He was one of the association's most active workers and supporters. Officers of the association presided at the meeting. They are George Feutz, Slinger, president; George Arnbruster, Cedarburg, secretary; and Ernest Schneider, Cedarburg, treasurer.

President Feutz also acted as master of ceremonies at the banquet. The main speaker was Chief Edward E. Wischer of the Milwaukee fire department, who gave a very dynamic, enthusiastic and received talk. Contending that fire departments should not be forced to buy their own equipment, Wischer said the liberal in allotting funds for the purchase of fire apparatus.

If firemen are forced to buy their own equipment, he said, they should be permitted to levy a tax for that purpose from the community they serve similar to taxes imposed to meet the requirements of school districts. He also urged upon local governments the paying of expenses of delegates to firemen's conventions. Wischer told of the forcible methods he used in Milwaukee in demanding equipment when it is needed and said departments in the smaller communities should do the same. He complimented the smaller fire departments for the splendid work they do in voluntary fighting fires with a lack of sufficient equipment and water and the use of old, outmoded trucks and equipment, and in most instances without pay.

Following a very delicious banquet served by the ladies of Holy Trinity congregation which all of the many firemen enjoyed immensely, entertainment was also provided. The renowned, popularly known Blatz quartette of Milwaukee sang seven or eight numbers and made an outstanding hit with their excellent renditions of both serious and smelly songs. They were called back to the microphone repeatedly for encores by the hand claps, whistling and even table pounding of the firemen. Sylvester "Tiny" Terlinden, Kewaskum's popular accordionist, also entertained with a number of selections and also received a thunderous ovation. The firemen joined in community singing.

The host Kewaskum department wishes to thank the Holy Trinity congregation for use of the church parlors, the ladies of the Altar society, American Legion, Charles Palt and St. Michael's church society.

MOVIE "MONEY AT WORK" TO BE SHOWN AT LEGION MEETING Entertainment for the next monthly meeting of the American Legion, Feb. 9, will consist of a new sound motion picture entitled "Money at Work" produced for the New York Stock Exchange by the March of Time. Past moving, dramatic, informative, the movie tells how the dollars of the thrifty go to work in industry, how the New York Stock Exchange serves investors, business, our entire economy. It is a "must" picture for the well informed.

THANK YOU We wish to express our thanks to all who sold tickets and helped to make the March of Dimes benefit dance given by the townships of Kewaskum and Wayne at the Wayne hall Wednesday, Jan. 21, a success. The dance netted $150. Thanks also are extended to the deputy who was in attendance. The Committee

Local Trailer-Truck is Struck by Train

A trailer-truck owned by William F. Schaefer of Kewaskum, and driven by Alex Kudek, also of this village, was struck by a Soo line train at a crossing in Allenton at about 4 p. m. Saturday, according to a report from Sheriff Ray Koth's office.

The truck had been rerouted over a side road when a fire hose employed in the fire at the Hetzel garage in Allenton, which burned to the ground, blocked the highway. The truck halted on the tracks when the car ahead of it stopped, and the trailer part of it was smashed by the train. The cab was untouched and Kudek was uninjured.

The train proceeded on its way after a short delay. Extent of the damage to the trailer was not determined.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Give Meals Company Manners (See recipes below.)

Company for Dinner

"I just don't feel like I can entertain now that food prices are so high," said a friend of mine to me recently. Actually you can do so, I explained to her, if you serve less expensive food but dress it up, company style.

There's pot roast, for instance, which, done to succulence and tenderness, and garnished with stuffed prunes or spiced crab apples, leaves nothing to be desired.

Or what about a meat loaf? Now there's a good old-fashioned meat dish that can be dressed up beautifully with a fluting of mashed potatoes and served with parsleyed carrots and glazed onions.

Short ribs of beef? Yes, indeed, there are few meat dishes that can come up to it in tastiness.

Desserts can be made that are very inexpensive, but, put in a mold, they have "company manners." Here are menus to fit the smallest of purses, but they all have style and class.

Menu I.
Yorkshire Steak
Seven-Minute Cabbage
Glazed Carrots
Tossed Salad
French Dressing
Cocoa Sponge

You'll enjoy this Yorkshire Steak as much as roast of ribs if you'll make it this way:

Yorkshire Steak.
(Serves 6)
1½ pounds chuck steak, cut 1 inch thick
1 recipe Yorkshire Pudding
Season steak with salt and pepper, place in a greased baking dish or roasting pan in which meat fits the bottom. Brown in a hot oven for 5 minutes. Make recipe for the pudding; pour over the crowned steak. Reduce heat and bake until the meat is tender.

Yorkshire Pudding.
(Serves 4-6)
¼ cup flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
2 eggs
1 cup milk
¼ cup hot beef drippings

Sift together the dry ingredients. Add beaten egg yolks. Add milk and mix well. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into a shallow dish containing the beef drippings. Bake in a fairly hot oven for 30 minutes. Cut in squares and serve around the meat.

Cocoa Sponge.
(Serves 4-6)
1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
¼ cup sugar
3 tablespoons cocoa
¼ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
3 egg whites
¼ teaspoon salt
Salted almonds

Soften gelatin in cold water. Combine sugar and cocoa. Scald milk; gradually add to sugar mixture, mixing constantly. Add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Add vanilla extract. Chill until syrupy. Beat with rotary beater until fluffy. Beat egg whites into cocoa sponge, and beat until mixture holds its shape. Pour into a mold which has been rinsed with cold water. Chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with almonds.

Almond Sauce.
Beat egg yolks, sugar and salt; add milk. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until mixture coats the spoon. Cool. Add almond extract and nuts.

Menu II.
Pork Roast with Spley Sauce
Sweet Potatoes
Cinnamon Apples
Cabbage-Pineapple Slaw
Brussels Sprouts
Whole Wheat Biscuits
Frozen Orange Cream

Menu III.
Tomato Juice
Savory Meat Loaf
Green Peppers Stuffed with Corn
Browned Potatoes
Orange Rolls
Grapefruit Salad
Apple Betty with Hard Sauce or Chocolate Souffle

All the items in the above menu are extremely inexpensive, and even if you are busy they are easy to prepare.

Season to please your family. It is not economical to prepare foods which do not go over with the family.

When you have to make substitutions, choose foods that are the same kind such as cabbage or spinach in place of lettuce; another fruit for a fresh fruit.

Strange Sentiment
The florist's new assistant picked up the phone and listened attentively as he heard the order.
"The ribbon must be extra wide," the man was saying, "with the 'Rest in Peace' on both sides, and if there is room, 'We Shall Meet in Heaven.'"
There was a sensation when the flowers arrived at the funeral. True, the ribbon was extra wide, but the inscription it bore read: "Rest in peace on both sides, and if there is room, we shall meet in heaven."

Oh My!

Clerk—For what?
Mortimer—No, two.
Clerk—Two what?
Mortimer—Yup.

All Out of Focus
An elderly man went to his optometrist's office very worried.
"Say, doc," he said, "these glasses you gave me are no good at all. Everybody who looks through them tells me they can't see anything."

Storm Facts Set Right

Col. Jason Z. Penniman, a survivor of the famous eastern blizzard of '88, has been too indignant over comparisons of recent snowstorms with it to speak calmly, has succeeded in regaining his composure sufficiently to get a few things off his chest. "More flurries than our roodier snowfalls!" declared the colonel. "Nothing beyond a thin covering of light flakes! Any survivor of the blizzard of '88 would have been glad to have brushed away the highest drifts on Manhattan Island with his hat."

"The blizzard of '88 was a blizzard. It had zero weather, terrific gales and more snow, no matter what the incompetent and uninformated weather bureau says. I don't care what the weather man says about more snow on the level in this peeve storm. None of it was on the level in '88, and four dozen stalwart men who went out to measure it were never heard of again. Their instruments were later found in a snowdrift 75 miles north."

"In New York a bronze eagle, weighing 28 pounds, atop the Grand Union Hotel, was blown clear across Brooklyn and later found buried under six feet of snow on the roof of a bath house at Coney Island. A cigar store Indian near Niblo's Gardens got caught in an ice floe and was later found in the lobby of Barnum's Museum miles away. A marble statue of Daniel Webster that was away uptown for that era got turned completely around in a sudden gust and ice cracked the base."

"A farmer milking a cow in a shed on a farm where the Commodore Hotel now stands got bricked in cream. He started for his cottage 100 yards away but was buried in snow before he made it. The cow was in a perfect state of preservation that July, but it took time to get the ice off. Why I felt so cold for years after that blizzard that ten years later I went to the Klondike which seemed to me like a summer resort."

Special Delivery Letters
Ex-King Michael of Romania, Dear Mike:

What a break you got in getting kicked out! Not to have to go on being a king anywhere on earth these days, especially in the Balkans, oh boy! I bet it was like getting a last minute pardon after what looked like a life stretch.

It seems only yesterday that your picture was a rotogravure special. You were just a scared looking kid who seemed always to be asking "Where's popper this time?" Most of the time you couldn't figure whether the old gent was a king or a traveling man and you must have had a tough time as a child understanding whether you were to succeed to a throne or a sleeping car. The old gent abdicated so often that the Romanian throne was the only one in the world that had to be fitted with metal slots with the words "Occupied" and "Unoccupied."

It looked for a while as if Moscow would be brutal enough to let you go on being king, but just when no escape seemed at hand you fell in love and went in for a capitalistic thing like engagement and marriage without the necessary Kremlin passports to a private life, and presto you were let out without even two weeks' notice and only small severance pay.

Congratulations, however, as it was a close call. Now you can love a fine young woman, marry her and sit around in a bathrobe, while the wife cooks some scrambled eggs, without bringing on international complications, threatening world peace providing Vishinsky nuts. What is more you can come home at night, kiss the wife and say "What's new, toots?" without being accused of warmongering.

You deserved it, Michael, my boy. Elmer.

SILVER LINING
On winter I am keeping score—The sky is dark
At half-past four,
But here's a thought
To warm the heart—
The season barely gets a start
Before the days
Start lengthening,
And later sunsets
Hint that spring,
Though distant,
Can't be far behind.
'Tis thus to gooseflesh
I'm resigned.

Henry Wallace says he may withdraw his candidacy at any time when he decides either major party takes a stand of which he can approve. This introduces for the first time in any ring a man's hat equipped with emergency exits and fire escapes.

In Russia's ousting of the King of Romania you have the first case of a modern leader thinking he could get anywhere without a "mike" at his elbow.

Need Running Water

Running water still is lacking in 3 per cent of the farm homes of the nation. Only 5 per cent of city homes lack running water. A farm family of five with a fair amount of livestock uses about 300 tons of water in a year if they have to pump and carry it by hand. If the farm had running water and electric pumps the same family would use probably twice as much water and have none of the effort of transporting tons of water by hand.

Ban American Comics

Authors, journalists and educators of New South Wales have asked their government to ban all comic strips from the United States and to impose severe restrictions on importation of short stories and articles. A deputation claimed that use of imported features was a serious drain on dollars and that newspapers were using this material in preference to local items at a time when Australian journalists were seriously affected by newsprint cuts.

A complete new production, with new costumes, will be seen when "Song of Norway," the musical triumph based on the life and music of Edvard Grieg comes to Milwaukee for a week's engagement beginning Monday night, February 2. This is the opera's fourth year and Producer Edwin Lester was anxious to present a fresh-looking production on this transcontinental tour.

Practical House Dress. START each new day with a song in this crisp house frock. Ideal for warm weather, too, with its brief sleeves and low neckline. Choose a brightly checked fabric or gay solid tone.

Adorable Two-Piecer. YOUR young daughter is sure to adore this pretty two piecer that makes her look so grown-up. The puff sleeved top has a cute flared peplum — the little gored skirt flares out so daintily.

Pattern No. 8145 is for sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36, 3 1/2 yards of 35 or 39-inch fabric.

Send an additional twenty-five cents for your copy of the Spring and Summer FASHION—our complete pattern magazine. Free pattern printed inside the book.

AROUND THE HOUSE

That murky appearance that comes overnight on mirrors during warm weather can be wiped off with a cloth dampened with ammonia. Then rub dry with a clean cloth.

Use unbleached muslin of heavy quality for pressing cloths. Edges may be left unfinished if desired. To be sure the cloth is lint free, boil the muslin cloth and rinse thoroughly.

Mix whitening and a little lemon juice into a clear paste. Use this as a cleaner for ivory or bone cutlery; and you'll be amazed with the results. Leave the mixture on a few moments, then rinse, and polish.

When wash cloths become old and faded, fold them over and cover with a casing of cretonne. Now you have a serviceable pot-holder.

If there's no room in the hem of your skirt for lengthening, try adding a width of ribbon around the waistline. Use a contrasting ribbon. Some of the newest dresses have contrasting waist interest, so you'll be right in style.

To sew a smooth bias seam, baste a piece of paper between the two edges.

Women Squelch Grippers; Put 'Em on Committees

Gripping doesn't go in Noel, Mo., and it's a women's organization—of all things—that's putting a stop to it.

"Every time someone growls about a situation," its leader says, "we put them on a committee to straighten it out." "Straightening it out" so far has meant turning the city dump into a public park, providing equipment for city tennis courts, instituting a sanitation and clean-up program, and installing several public drinking fountains.

Crunchy Bran Muffins Rich with Raisins

Tasty Kellogg's All-Bran and luscious raisins... m-m-m, there's a mouth-watering flavor combination!

2 tablespoons 1/2 cup milk
1 cup shortening 1/2 cup sifted flour
1/2 cup sugar 1/2 teaspoon salt
1 egg 2 1/2 teaspoons
1 cup Kellogg's All-Bran 1/2 cup raisins
Blend shortening and sugar thoroughly; add egg and beat well. Stir in Kellogg's All-Bran and milk. Let soak until most of moisture is taken up. Sift flour with salt and baking powder; stir in raisins. Add to first mixture and stir only until flour disappears. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full. Bake in a moderately hot oven (400° F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Makes 9 marvelous muffins.

3 Unions Block Labor Peace—Refuse Wage Boost Already Accepted by 19 Other Railroad Unions!

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Railway Firemen and Enginemen and the Switchmen's Union of North America, representing 225,000 railroad employees, have refused to accept the offer of the Railroads of a wage increase of 13 1/2 cents an hour.

This is the same increase awarded 1,000,000 non-operating employees by an arbitration board in September, 1947. Agreements have been made with 175,000 conductors, trainmen and switchmen by agreement on November 14, 1947. Agreements have been made with 1,175,000 employees, represented by nineteen unions. But these three unions, representing only 225,000 men, are trying to get more. They are demanding also many new working rules not embraced in the settlement with the conductors and trainmen.

Incidentally, the Switchmen's Union of North America represents only about 7% of all railroad switchmen, the other 93% being represented by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and covered by the settlement with that union.

Strike Threat
The leaders of these three unions spread a strike baiter while negotiations were still in progress. This is not a secret vote but is taken by union leaders and votes are signed by the employees in the presence of union representatives.

When direct negotiations failed, the leaders of these three unions refused to join the railroads in asking the National Mediation Board to attempt to settle the dispute, but the Board took jurisdiction at the request of the carriers and has been earnestly attempting since November 24, 1947, to bring about a settlement. The Board on January 15, 1948, announced its inability to reach a mediation settlement. The leaders of the unions rejected the request of the Mediation Board to arbitrate. The railroads accepted.

What Now?
The unions having refused to arbitrate, the Railway Labor Act provides for the appointment of a fact-finding board by the President.

The railroads feel it is due shippers, passengers, employees, stockholders, and the general public to know that through-out these negotiations and in mediation, they have not only exerted every effort to reach a fair and reasonable settlement, but they have also met every requirement of the Railway Labor Act respecting the negotiation, mediation, and arbitration of labor disputes.

It seems unthinkable that these three unions, representing less than 10 per cent of railroad employees, and those among the highest paid, can successfully maintain the threat of a paralyzing strike against the interest of the entire country—and against 90 per cent of their fellow employees.

The threat of a strike cannot justify granting more favorable conditions to 225,000 employees than have already been put in effect for 1,175,000, nor will it alter the opposition of the railroads to unwarranted wage increases or to changes in working rules which are not justified.

A glance at the box shows what employees represented by the Engineers and Firemen make. They are among the highest paid in the ranks of labor in the United States, if not the highest.

Compare these wages with what you make!

Here is a comparison of average annual earnings of engineers and firemen for 1948 (proposed) and 1947. Also shown is what 1947 earnings would have been if the 13 1/2 cents per hour increase offered by the railroads and rejected by the union leaders, had been in effect throughout the entire year 1947.

'Year of Decision' Arrives for U.S.

America Alone in Struggle To Save Western Ideologies

By BAUKHAGE, News Analyst and Commentator.

WASHINGTON.—Cartoonists and others have titled 1948 "the year of decision." It is a pretty good title. The only trouble is that America's most important decision has already been made, and nobody seems to realize it.

In the current issue of the United Nations World magazine, the British historian and author, D. W. Brogan, has an article entitled "The British Shed No Tears for Their Lost Empire."

Baukhage

Temporarily, at least that much of the carefully-planned Soviet program failed. But new steps are being planned. A part of the pattern of communication is Communist alliance with the left-wing non-Communists.

That is where the Wallace third party fits into the Kremlin design. The Reds hope it will split and weaken the liberals in this country, increase the friction between them and the conservatives.

It is natural enough, today, when this world situation has changed to take pretty calmly the decline in the favored historical position of England.

Unless you are English. "And yet the people who ought to be doing the worrying are the Americans."

We are talking over here Britain left off, and the job is a bigger one than England faced. But the average person in this country will say in horror: "You talk like a Communist!"

When a British official in London said "every means short of war" would be used "by the British and American governments to keep Greece within their own strategic and ideological orbit."

There is a desperation about the attitude of these men who fought the lost battle against the Kremlin. They say there is absolutely no hope for Europe unless the Russians are driven back to their old borders.

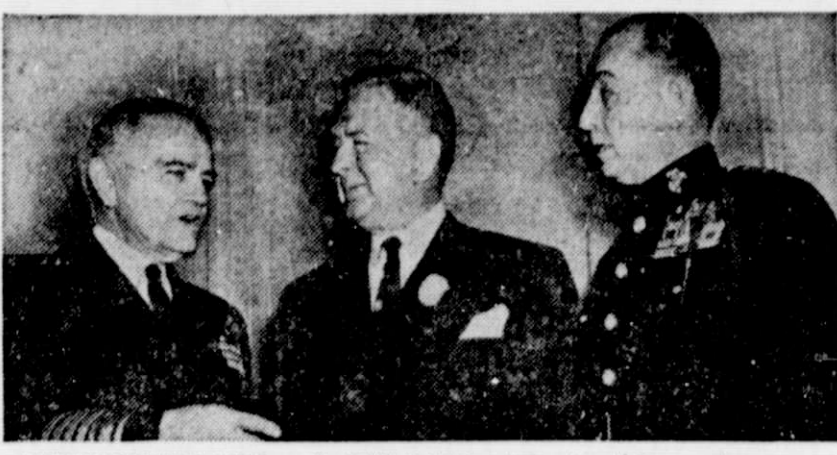

When the quotation of the London official which I mentioned, stating that the United States and Britain were committed to "measures short of war" came over the wires, I was reminded of the conversation with the former foreign minister.

He had said to me: "If the United States threatens to use force now, the Russians will pull out of Eastern Europe. They cannot afford war. But in a few years, mere threats will not suffice. The Russians then will be ready to fight."

And this force moving against the "political and economic religion of all sensible men" is moving not only in Europe. All along Russia's periphery, the red tide is rising against its frontiers.

The partisans were most successful in the countries nearest Russia, in territory where the Red army, in the guise of allies fighting a common enemy, gained a foothold which they kept when peace came, and which was used to put their trained stooges into power.

In Italy and France, they were unable to capture completely the partisan or resistance movements. But they did get a grip on both countries which neither France nor Italy dared throw off until the United States made a tacit condition of aid.

THEY WON'T LAND... In Philadelphia at a rally of the marine corps reserve, Gen. Clifton B. Cates (right), new commandant of the marine corps, took occasion to announce that no leathernecks are scheduled to land in Palestine.

Slump Possible: Truman; Cite Air Power Need

In this season of presidential reports to the nation the alarm bells were jangling for everything from the state of the entire world to the frayed condition of John Doe's back pocket.

And through his "Semi-Annual Economic Report of the President," Mr. Truman sounded the gong ominously on a new note: The impending peril of economic disaster in the U. S.

The nation's economy, he said, is operating on borrowed time and inflation-ridden Americans are operating on borrowed money in a situation flirting with depression.

Millions of persons in the low-income groups, his report pointed out, now are keeping the inflation carousel whirling by liquidating their savings, reducing their current savings and by extensive use of consumer credit.

"Such use of savings for current living expenses is an ominous sign for the economy as a whole."

Without stopping to consider any possible political aspects of the President's economic report, Americans could take it as a sober, realistic picture of what lies beneath the relative luxury in which many of them are existing now.

Exhaustive and complete, the economic survey presented figures notable in that they: 1. Showed for the first time that "real purchasing power" of the American masses—basic factor supporting U. S. economy—has declined 8 per cent since the first quarter of 1946, and that:

2. Millions of Americans are living on their savings accounts and reducing their savings. Almost one-quarter of all families and more than one-half of families earning less than $2,000 yearly "held no liquid assets in 1947."

Then Mr. Truman tied in these facts with his administration's proposed policy to beat the inflation rap. If inflation, he said, is "permitted to run its own course, it will break with destructive force."

And in order not to let it run its own course the President again urged adoption of his anti-inflation program—limited price and ration controls.

That, way, he indicated, lies a new, greater economic era for the U. S. embodying maximum employment and solid and lasting prosperity.

AIR STRENGTH: 'A-Day' 1953. How potent is it that the U. S. have implicit, efficient air force? Virtually a matter of life or death, thinks the President's air policy commission which recently reported on the status of the nation's air strength.

Immediate and substantial enlargement of the air force for "survival in the air age" was urged by the commission; and January 1, 1953, was set as "A-Day" or the ultimate date when the U. S. might consider itself relatively secure against atomic attack.

After "A-day," the commission intimated, it will be anybody's ball game as far as airborne atom bombs are concerned. "The air force is hopelessly wanting in respect of the future... when a

Q. Would it be possible to get a complete roster of names and addresses of my former outfit? There are about 130 men and officers. I have about 80 names and would like to complete the roster for a reunion of the 281st Signal Pigeon company while stationed at Fort Jackson, Columbia, S. C. Do you appreciate anything you can do. W. W. Joliet, Ill.

A. The office of the adjutant general is disposed to furnish lists or rosters or military units to other than historical or military organizations or associations. They have a rule against giving out these lists to individuals. For this reason it is difficult for this column to help you.

Q. I was a nurse in World War I. Since then I have married. My husband is not a veteran but he took up a homestead in 1913. I would like to know if I am eligible to take up a homestead.—C. M. D., Hobson, Mont.

A. It is hard to answer your question without knowing more facts. The bureau of land management of the department of interior says that only heads of families are eligible to file for homesteads.

Q. Our son was killed in action. Since his death his wife has been drawing a pension. She recently has been remarried and we wonder if my husband and I can draw the pension she was getting since I understand her remarriage will stop the pension for her.—Mrs. A. J. K., Baton Rouge, La.

A. No, you will not get the pension drawn by your son's widow. However, if you are dependent parents you are entitled to a pension in your own right, both you and your husband, for the death of your son. Suggest that you immediately contact the nearest office of Veterans' administration and explain your situation to them.

Q. My husband died while serving in the Illinois militia. Am I entitled to a widow's pension?—Mrs. R. H., Chicago, Ill.

A. You are not entitled to a pension since your husband did not see active wartime service.

Q. I am a war widow with one child. My husband was killed in action in September, 1945. My boy was then six months old. He will be three years old in March 1948. I recently remarried. I know that my pension stops the day I remarry. Will the allotment for my son stop also? I don't think it should, but would like to know for sure.—A. D. K., Freeport, Ill.

A. No. Your son's pension will not stop. It will continue until he is 18 years old or until he is 21 if he is in a school at an approved educational institution.

Q. Can you tell us where Veterans' administration has offices and hospitals in Maine?—Veterans Group, South Hope, Me.

A. The latest information in possession of this column indicated there are no veterans' hospitals in Maine at this time. However, there is a veterans' center located at Togus, near Augusta, and sub-regional offices located at Augusta, Portland and Bangor, and contact unit offices at Houlton, Lewiston, Machias, Presque Isle, Rumford, Sanford and Skowhegan. Other offices may have been established.

THE FICTION CORNER

WILL OF THE WIND

By WILLIAM BRANDON

MRS. HACKETT found her in the bedroom crying. She stood in the doorway and said grimly: "I came in to borrow some sugar, Sylvie. The door was open so I just walked in. Now what on earth's wrong with you?"

Sylvia sat up and dried her eyes. Her starched gingham skirt was wrinkled and her black hair was tangled and disordered. A curling strand of it hung down beside her nose like an ink stain. A pin had come out of her imitation lace collar and it had fallen down to catch in the red buckle at her waist. She said shakily, "Hello, Mrs. Hackett. Nothing."

Mrs. Hackett drew down the corners of her mouth. "Nothing, my foot. It's because of Chip wanting to pull up stakes and go to Canton. Isn't it? Of course it is."

Sylvia slapped the lock of hair out of her eyes. "I won't be a boomer's wife!" she flared. "I won't!" "Mm," Mrs. Hackett said sourly. "A boy's will is the wind's will. That's a poem. It's the truest thing in the world. Don't do no good to fight against it. Remember that and you'll have it easier."

"Why?" Sylvia wailed. "What did you do?" "Well," Mrs. Hackett said, "you can take it for what it's worth, Sylvie. It worked with Mr. Hackett, I know that."

"But what was it?" "Whenever he worked himself up to a pitch about cutting loose and chasing away some place after something he thought was better, I simply gave him his way."

Sylvia looked disappointed and puzzled. "Oh." "But," Mrs. Hackett said profoundly, "he didn't know it. I took him on a trip. Just a week or so. And I kept him on the jump every minute of it. I always liked little trips around, anyway. Well, by the time that man would get home again he'd be so tired of jumping around that he wouldn't have left for a pension. That," Mrs. Hackett said, "is something you find out about men, Sylvie. They like to start but they like getting back a whole lot more."

They were gone six days. Each day Sylvia had them up and driving at daylight and she kept on the job, circulating the sights at the next stop until late at night. She called upon Chip to stop often at roadside stands where she purchased carved ornaments and bumpy pottery.

She plied him with hot dogs, soft drinks and bad coffee. She was surprised and delighted at the glazed look that appeared in his eyes on the third day.

Mrs. Hackett came over the day after they returned. She said, "Well!" and paused expectantly, holding the cup of sugar in both hands. "He went back to work today," Sylvia said. There was a listless note in her voice. "He hasn't said anything about going to Canton for days."

"Mm! And what did he say when he got home?" She pursed her lips. "That he never thought it would look so good to him?" Sylvia nodded. She sat down on a kitchen chair and swung one foot and watched it pensively. "Just exactly," she said. "You won't even be able to get him to stir out of the house to a picture show for a month. I told you. Sylvia's will, that's the poem. They're all alike." She put the cup of sugar on the kitchen cabinet and looked at Sylvia and frowned. "But I wouldn't say you look so happy about it, Sylvie. But you're tired."

As PEGLER Sees It

By Westbrook Pegler

Nuisances Called 'Actors'

THE Thomas committee on Un-American Activities, the Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and Westbrook Pegler all suffer a self-assumed handicap in their earnest efforts to annihilate or vindicate the queer people of Hollywood who have struck political poses in recent years.

These fine Americans have allowed themselves to forget that an actor owes all his absurd importance to them, and, like a brattish child or, more aptly, a trained dog or walrus, is tempted to misbehavior by indulgence. As the late Percy Hammond so wisely asserted and often reiterated, the actor is incapable of manners by himself because the very vanity which accounts for his being an actor in the first place precludes consideration for the rights, comfort and opinions of others.

Hammond was one journalist who could cover the theatre without becoming implicated in it. He no more yearned to beat his lashes and dab his lips than to set a comedy to Lee and Jake, wherein he differed from some of his contemporaries and almost all of his successors.

Like a good city hall reporter who keeps his dignity amid the grossest scenes of democracy, and his virtue amid impurity, Hammond maintained toward actors, agents and producers the serene courtesy of one who knew he was better but saw nothing to boast in that.

COULD LEARN MANNERS. There was a gentleman, they unfortunately were not and for the lack of essential qualities never could be, although, by patient coaching and practice, some of the males could present a very deceptive counterfeited.

They could bow, say "Thank You" at appropriate points without prompting and use a finger bowl. This last test flunked many rich packers, trolley magnates and miners and their wives in those days. These actors also were superbly suave in the presence of lobster.

It shows not to be necessary to recall that actors were vagabonds in their original condition, with a notorious reputation for unchastity which, he it noted, they have maintained with proud bravado down to now. They danced and sang for the coins of favor, and the contrasts of a hard, uncertain life developed in them a mischievous impudence that amused the quality.

They were, in this respect, all one with the traditional court jester who got away with murder. In their place, actors are tolerable, even desirable, but they impose a strain on suffering when they step across the trough and become intimate with the public. This impertinence is not entirely their fault, however, for the line was wiped out when the stage died of a number of ills and hundreds of actors found themselves singing again and telling jokes in saloons as their forebears had in English and continental taverns two centuries ago.

IN "A Foreign Affair" Marlene Dietrich's fans will see her as she looked in the days when she made her reputation, in a glamour role. She plays a night club entertainer, one-time friend of Nazi bigwigs, who falls in love with an American army captain of the occupation forces (John Lund). Later she becomes involved with a congressman (Jean Arthur) who is investigating troop morale. With these stars, and that story, giving all three a chance to do the things they do best, fans should love it. The day Marlene reported for work she was swamped with flowers, including sixty-four gardenias.

The men came out ahead last year on ABC's "Break the Bank." Quizmaster Bert Parks gave $11,000 to 34 men who appeared on the show, but 31 women collected only $3,329. The bank was broken 16 times, by 4 men and 12 couples, who averaged $2,675.62. And the record for winning the most money is held by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fowler, a 70-year-old couple from New Jersey.

There's a third bread-winner in the family of George Burns and Gracie Allen; 12-year-old Ronnie. Director William Perlberg saw the lad at his father's club, and put him into "An Apartment for Peggy," starring Jean Crain and Edmund Gwenn.

Robert Montgomery, permanent star of the new hour-long "Suspense" series on CBS, is maintaining his reputation of being a good trouper. While he is the star of the series, he has let it be understood that though a play may be good, if he does not feel that the lead is the right part for him, he will gladly take a supporting role and let someone else head the cast.

Rise Stevens, of the "Family Hour," was riding in a hansom with her 3 1/2-year-old son Nicky when a fan called "Hello, Miss Stevens." Nicky, who'd never heard that name, indignantly shouted back, "No, no! That's my Mommy!"

Admirers of Henry Morgan were just about to start passing the hat to raise money to sponsor his return to the air when it was announced that he would be with us again on ABC Thursdays. He is more popular than his rating shows.

Professor Quiz's rating has gone up two points, and his contract has been renewed for another year, so that lady in the balcony will be bobbing up throughout 1948. Quiz now ranks with the air's leading quiz programs.

Actresses come and go, but Dame May Whitty is here forever, we hope. She made her first screen appearance in 1914 in "Enoch Arden"; she will have a leading role in "Julia Misbehaves," a Metro, starring Greer Garson and Walter Pidgeon.

Brian Aherne has been devoting his spare time to building a fence at his ranch near Indio, Calif. The gate is worth going miles to see; it is made from parts of the teak-wood deck rails of the Queen Elizabeth, on which so many G.I.s carved their initials when the ship was a transport. The rails were replaced when the Queen became an ocean liner again.

Mutual's "It's a Great Town," broadcast, will be scheduled as a regular weekly feature, designed to point up the varied interests and personalities of this country. A Mr. and Mrs. radio team will tour the United States, to provide the basic broadcast formula for these programs. It is considered a definitely new idea in radio.

ODDS AND ENDS—Seems a bit early for such announcements, but Pat O'Brien has already been signed as Jimmy Duran's summer replacement on the air. Sportscaster Red Barber goes overseas soon to cover the winter Olympic games at St. Moritz. . . . Ralph Edwards' new contest, "The Walking Man," gives the lie to all the people who predicted that "Miss Husb" had sicken him of content forever. Gene Tierney and Rex Harrison will co-star in 20th Century-Fox's "Symphony Story." . . . Scenes for "Street With No Name" were made at the F. B. I. offices in Washington; William Kogelby directs.

They went up into Michigan, west to Wisconsin, down through Minnesota and Iowa and St. Louis to Memphis.

around that he wouldn't have left for a pension. That," Mrs. Hackett said, "is something you find out about men, Sylvie. They like to start but they like getting back a whole lot more."

Sylvia said doubtfully, "It doesn't sound like Chip would—" "Maybe he wouldn't. I'm the last person in the world to try to give folks advice, Sylvie. Nobody wants it and I guess everyone has to sew his own seam anyway. But Mr. Hackett says they're shutting down for a week for the millwright's gang, and if Chip was to spend that week in a car bouncing along from one place to another, without even a chance to catch his breath . . . Well, 'a boy's will is the wind's will,' and the wind can change in a minute."

YOU

WAS THIS THE MOST CHARMING WOMAN?

You can pick up almost any woman's magazine and read an article about the most charming woman that ever lived. One writer will select a movie actress like Ingrid Bergman. Another writer will point to the fact that the Duchess of Windsor is the most charming, magnetic woman. Imaginative writers go all the way back to Cleopatra in making their nominations.

It seems to me, however, that everything considered, the most charming woman who ever lived was not a movie actress, an Egyptian queen, or the heroine of a popular novel. She was instead a mild, middle-aged woman who lived in Paris around the middle of the Nineteenth century.

Her name was Madame Recamier, and although she left behind nothing but an exquisite legend "as of a rose that had bloomed for a while in a garden and vanished," men and women still praise her. The secret of Madame Recamier's charm was that she put herself always in the other person's place. "She was an enchanting listener," one of her admirers said. She was. She rarely spoke herself. But she did something far more important—she contrived to make you say bright and witty things.

She had tremendous tact. When you called at her home, she smiled graciously, made you feel more welcome than you'd ever felt anywhere before. She wasn't flowery or extravagant about it. It was the way she said what she said rather than the words she used. One of her friends, the great French author Sainte-Beuve, wrote on the day after her death, "She would have liked to stop everything at April—her heart remained at early Spring."
