

Thiensville Drubbed by Legion, 74 to 32

Thiensville, the team that gave first place Random Lake a very close run recently, was soundly trounced by the Kewaskum Legion in a Lakes game here Sunday, 74 to 32. The win gave the Legion a record of 7 wins and 3 losses to date and the team is tied for third with Menomonee Falls and Cedarburg. Random Lake still holds first with 10 and 2 and Grafton second with 8 and 3. In the preliminary Sunday the Kewaskum Rivers five won over Mequon. No figures on the game were turned in.

Table with columns for player names and scores for Thiensville and Kewaskum. Thiensville scores: Boesch, f, 1-0-4; Darrow, f, 2-2-3; Ehlers, c, 4-5-1; Hahlbeck, g, 2-0-2; Hennings, g, 2-0-1; Stowell, g, 0-0-3; Peterson, g, 1-1-4; Brunner, g-f, 0-0-1. Kewaskum scores: W. Highs Whip Belles, 41-10; Nosed Out by North Fondy

Because it has lagged far behind drives of previous years, particularly that of 1947, the 1948 March of Dimes has been extended through Feb. 14 on a nationwide basis, it was announced this week by B. D. Rice, West Bend, general chairman of the campaign for the Washington County chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

March of Dimes Drive Extended Thru Feb. 14

Officially, the drive was to have been conducted during the period of Jan. 15-30. Checks from only 15 individuals had been received by Rice Monday of this week as contributions to the 1948 polo fund, he reported. He added this was only about a quarter of the number of individual contributions received by him over a similar period during the 1947 March of Dimes.

He added this was only about a quarter of the number of individual contributions received by him over a similar period during the 1947 March of Dimes.

Much of the poor results of the 1948 campaign thus far is blamed to severe cold weather, snow, and generally bad weather conditions experienced all over the nation during the greater part of Jan. 15-30, the dates of the drive, and this led to extending the drive.

During a week of collections at the West Bend and Meerman theatres, patrons contributed $302.60 to the March of Dimes. This contrasted with $133.57 contributed at the theatres last year.

Atty. F. H. Ackerman, March of Dimes chairman for the village and town of Jackson, reported the Jackson community held its annual March of Dimes party at the village hall Saturday and that it was considered a success because over 150 persons attended to play cards and dance to the music of the Hop brothers. The party netted $127.90, a check for which has been turned over to Rice, Ackerman reported. He added the committee in charge wants to thank all who attended for their generous contributions.

Checks totaling approximately $460 have been received from 11 West Bend women's organizations but no men's groups have as yet responded to the appeal for funds.

A report of over $70 donated by the pupils of the McLane school in West Bend—the largest amount ever contributed to the March of Dimes by that school—makes it appear children are more possible to the great need for funds to combat polio than are adults.

Approximately $30 in behalf of the fund was raised in a novel way Friday and Saturday by the Beacon restaurant at West Bend. Persons buying coffee with meals and lunches there those two days contributed their nickels and dimes to the March of Dimes instead of the Beacon's cash register.

A report on the contributions from the basketball doubleheader staged at the McLane school last Thursday will be made public later.

Chairman Rice appeals once more to the public for contributions to the March of Dimes and reminded that half of the funds contributed go to the National Foundation, with the remaining 50 per cent going to the chapter's treasury.

The annual winter meeting of the Washington County Holstein Breeders' association will be held Tuesday evening, Feb. 20, in the court house at West Bend. The meeting will begin at 8:15 o'clock. A worthwhile program will be presented and officers will be elected.

All placements for sire calves will be by drawing. There will be two divisions; younger members will draw for the younger sire calves, and older members will get older calves.

All calves considered are to be moved that week. Each calf will be tested for Bang's and vaccinated for shipping fever. It is essential that parents of project members come to this meeting to sign the project contract.

The Washington County Civil Service Commission, of which Newton W. Rowan is chairman, announced this week that it will conduct an examination for the purpose of compiling an eligible list for appointments of three county traffic patrol officers.

Application blanks and qualification information may be obtained from County Clerk A. P. Starn. Applications must be on file by 5 p. m. Monday, Feb. 16, at the office of the county clerk.

Veterans' SERVICE BUREAU

EDITOR'S NOTE: This newspaper, through special arrangement with the Washington Bureau of Western Newspaper Union at 1616 Eye Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., is able to bring readers this weekly column on problems of the veteran and serviceman and his family. Questions may be addressed to the above bureau and will be answered in a subsequent column. No replies can be made direct by mail, but only in the column which will appear in this newspaper regularly.

Would Increase Benefits

With President Truman's new budget containing a proposal for slightly more than six billion dollars for veterans' benefits, a reduction of approximately three-quarters of a billion under the present fiscal year, a flood of new bills calling for more appropriations for veterans were introduced early in the second session of the 80th congress.

These bills included one to provide an increase in present veterans' benefits and removal of the three-year limitation on G.I. insurance; disability and death benefits to reserve personnel on active duty; renewal of G.I. insurance for an additional five years; extension of veterans' benefits to members of the civil air patrol who performed submarine patrol duty; allowances for feeding of seeing-eye dogs given to blind veterans; priority for veterans to purchase surplus residential real property; free distribution of blank ammunition to veteran organizations for funeral services; hospitalization for World War I veterans who were in the occupational forces, and numerous other measures.

Questions and Answers

Q. I was drafted July 27, 1944, from my position as an aeronautical engineer at Langley field, Hampton, Va. My boss at the field had asked for a deferment for me, but hadn't heard from Washington when I had to go to the reception center at Ft. George G. Meade, Md. He wrote a letter for me to take to the commanding officer asking him to hold me for 10 days. At the end of 10 days I had been approved by the NACA and was honorably discharged and put in reserve. The question is am I entitled to any benefits in any way? I am still working at Langley field. — K. W. G., Hampton, Va.

A. Since by any stretch of the imagination you were in service only 10 days you would not be eligible for any G.I. benefits, since the law requires at least 90 days on active duty unless released prior to that time for physical disability on a medical discharge. Even had you served the 90 days, your release for your own convenience to take a priority job would cancel some of the benefits, such as mustering out pay.

Q. I have been home from overseas now almost two years. During all that time I have been in an army hospital taking treatment for a tropical disease I contracted in the South Pacific. I have not been discharged, so can't go to a veterans' hospital. I am sick and tired of the atmosphere around this army hospital and on top of that they are not doing me any good. Isn't there any way I can get out of it and at least go to a private physician for treatment? — A. J. H., Buffalo, N. Y.

A. You are in a tough spot. Insofar as I can find out from the army there is nothing you can do about it. The army certainly can't discharge you if you are sick. If the army doctors decide they can't do you any good you would go before a disposition board, be certified to Veterans' administration and then retired on pension. However that's up to the army doctors. If you are well enough to obtain a furlough so you could go home you might consult a private physician.

Q. We are very worried about our son. He spent several months in the hospital after he came home from overseas and finally was discharged from the army and now is drawing a disability pension from Veterans' administration. While his disability does not keep him bedfast and he is able to be up and around he is in a continually depressed condition and very morose. We were wondering if he could get into the vocational rehabilitation program. We have heard they do wonders for some veterans. Can you tell us the requirements and how to get into the work? — Mr. and Mrs. J. J. L., Muscatine, Iowa.

A. From your description of your son's condition and disability we believe he would be eligible to get into the vocational rehabilitation program if he can indicate a real need for this rehabilitation to overcome his disability handicap. Suggest that you contact your nearest Veterans' administration office for advice on where to apply for this training.

Q. Could you tell me where to write to find out about my son's insurance? He was in the navy and his wife got a divorce while he was in the service and he remarried again and I have never heard from him since he did remarry. I want to know if his insurance has been left to his children or to this last wife he married. I feel there has been foul play. — K. S., Douglas, Wyo.

A. Suggest that you write directly to the insurance division, Veterans' Administration, Washington, D. C. Be sure to give your son's full name.

Q. While I was in the service I overstayed my leave upon one occasion and the fact was entered on my army discharge. Can you tell me if this time is deducted from the time allotted me under the G.I. bill of rights for schooling? — A. L. C., Philadelphia, Pa.

A. No, it is not. Unauthorized leave time and any confinement period that may have resulted cannot be counted against you when computing the time you are entitled to attend school under the G.I. bill. Your training period is estimated according to length of service.

A YOUNG miss of three to eight is certain to adore this sweet little frock that can go to school or parties depending on the fabric. Try a lively striped cotton for instance with the stripes going this way and that.

Two Styles in Blouses
NOW'S the time to plan on some exciting new blouses for your spring suit. The two styles shown go together easily and have a choice of sleeve lengths — a wonderful way to pep up your winter wardrobe, too.

Pattern No. 1707 is for sizes 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8 years. Size 4, 1 1/2 yards of 35 or 40-inch.

Pattern No. 8248 comes in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size 14, bow blouse, 2 yards of 35 or 40-inch; round necked blouse, 1 1/2 yards for short sleeves, 2 1/2 yards for long sleeves.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Rub scuffed places on shoes with white of egg. The albumen sticks the scuffed leather down and helps prevent further peeling.

Closest lights should be above the door so that the full length of clothes will be completely illuminated.

Leather upholstery — and be sure it is genuine leather — can be best cleaned with ordinary saddle soap.

Use a pretty floral oilcloth runner on your teenager's dresser. This offers protection to wood underneath from such spilled liquids as perfumes and hand lotions.

The new glass blocks which have become popular as a building material are ideal for many things such as bath-rooms, bedrooms where you need light but not air, and kitchens. Glass blocks are claimed to be good insulation.

Men find that their coat pockets aren't quite deep enough to carry their thermos bottle. Sew a strip of one-half inch black elastic above the pocket just high enough that it may be slipped over the unprotected part of the thermos bottle.

In using a chisel be sure the work is clamped tightly to a vice, especially if you are working on a small piece. Chip in a direction away from the body.

To mend cracks in china dishes, boil milk in a stain-resistant utensil such as porcelain enamel. Place damaged dishes gently in the milk. Allow to remain a few minutes and the crack should be mended.

After nylons are washed, it is difficult to mate them. Before wearing nylons, take embroidery floss of different colors and put matching stitches on the tops of each pair of stockings, thus: One pair green stitches, another red, etc. Stockings are then easily matched.

Splendid Cough Relief Is Easily Mixed at Home

To get quick and satisfying relief from coughs due to colds, mix this recipe in your kitchen. Once tried, you'll never be without it. First, make a syrup by stirring 3 cups granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. A child could do it. No cooking needed. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup. Then get 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex from any drugstore. This is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well-known for its quick action on throat and bronchial irritations. Put the Pinex in a pint bottle, and fill up with your syrup. This makes a full pint of splendid medicine and you get about four times as much for your money. Never spits. Tastes fine. And for quick, blessed relief, it is surprising. You can feel it take hold in a way that means business. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and eases the soreness. Thus it makes breathing easy, and lets you sleep. Money refunded if not pleased in every way. Pinex Is Swift Acting!

WEED MEETING SHOWS IMPORTANCE OF 2-D SPRAYS

That there is much interest in weed control on the farms of Washington county was evidenced at a recent meeting on this subject held at the Jackson village hall. More than one hundred farmers were present to learn more about the use of 2-D, a relatively new selective weed spray.

It was pointed out by speakers at this meeting that 1945 will see a concerted drive against such weeds as wild mustard, Canada thistle, and other broadleaved weeds plentiful in this area of the state. The chief sprays to be used will be 2-D, Dow Selective and Snook, the latter two sprays to be used only on fields which are seeded with legumes.

The new spraying recommendations based upon observations of the past season will call for the application of relatively small gallons of spray per acre as compared to the 80 to 100 gallons of the more dilute spray used during 1944.

Recommendations this year place the amount at figures ranging from 5 to 15 gallons per acre. Spraying the fields before the crops such as corn or other cultivated crops are planted is still being regarded as experimental and is not being recommended. Carrot fields can be sprayed with a solution known as Stoddard Solvent and thus eliminate most of the hand weeding.

Considerable time was given over to a discussion on the construction of homemade power sprayers. There are a number of companies who have the necessary equipment for sale. This is the most inexpensive way of holding a power sprayer. To do effective weed control work, there should be one power spray unit for each ten farms.

$1,822.70 Given to State Cancer Society by County

Presentation of a check of $1,822.70 to Mrs. G. L. Goodhart, Beaver Dam, state commander of the Wisconsin field army of the American Cancer society, and a certificate of appreciation to Dr. P. M. Kauth, West Bend, featured a dinner meeting of the Washington County Cancer committee in Trinity English Lutheran church at West Bend last Tuesday evening.

D. J. Kenny, county cancer committee chairman, made both presentations before an audience of 41 persons. The check represented the balance of the county's $4,000 quota for 1947, about $1,000 having been previously remitted. Guests at the dinner included representatives of the State Cancer society, members of the committee and their wives, representatives of the press, and members of the West Bend Red Cross chapter surgical dressings group.

High praise was given the township and village chairmen by Mr. Kenny for the excellent work they did in the fund and education drives. Kenny reported the drive went well over the quotas established for each township and village in the county, with the village of Kewaskum and town of Fremont showing the way by going 500 and 227 per cent over their quotas, respectively. He disclosed that over 65% of those people who were contacted by letter contributed during the campaign.

A special tribute was paid to county doctors for their part in the success of the cancer education phase of the drive. Over 75 talks were given to groups of various sizes during the campaign. Dr. P. M. Kauth was presented with a certificate in recognition of having delivered 19 talks to groups ranging in size from 25 to 250 people.

The highly successful fund drive exceeded its quotas to the extent that the committee already has on hand $2,300 toward the 1948 drive quota.

Other speakers included: Mrs. Stoddard, Mrs. A. G. MacMillan, state publicity director, and Dr. J. H. Russell, state director of the State Society, also Dr. Kauth.

Chairman Kenny revealed that this third phase of the drive will soon get under way with the preparation of roadways by women's groups throughout the county. Mrs. Victor H. Russell will serve as chairman of this program.

At the close of the meeting a film on cancer and the work of the cancer society was shown.

TWO VERY COSTLY CATTLE DISEASES

The two most widespread and costly cattle diseases in this country today are mastitis and brucellosis. Authorities estimate that these two diseases alone cost American cattle raisers $150,000,000 a year in reduced meat and milk production.

In some areas, more than 25 per cent of dairy herds are afflicted with mastitis. Yet, by proved precautions, in every farmer can help to bring this

Milwaukee delivered an interesting and instructive address.

After serving for three years as chairman of the Milwaukee County Red Cross chapter, Dr. Eagen was elected to the board of governors of the national Red Cross. His mission is to co-operate with chapters in this area. Together with other members of this board, he helps to coordinate the work of the 376 Red Cross chapters in this country.

He complimented the West Bend chapter for its excellent co-operation in the blood donor program and its many other activities during and since the war. He expressed the hope that our citizens would participate just as heartily in the current civilian blood donor projects.

At the meeting the various service chairmen gave their reports. Bing Crosby's recording of "Angels of Mercy" was rendered.

Mr. Kuehner, University of Wisconsin extension horticulturist, spoke on "Small Berry Culture" before a group of 25 Washington county homemakers and their husbands on Jan. 15 at the Hartford city hall.

Mr. Kuehner discussed in considerable detail the growing of strawberries, raspberries, currants, gooseberries, and grapes.

He particularly stressed the growing of varieties suited to Wisconsin climate. A few of the varieties which he mentioned were:

Strawberries—Columbia, Beaver, and Senator Dunlap, Chaska.
Red Raspberries—Latham, Chief, June.
Purple Raspberries—Sodus, Royal Purple.
Black Raspberries—Logan.
Blackberries—Eldorado.

Mr. Kuehner also stressed the importance of sufficient and proper pruning, considerable mulching, some method of staking and supporting the canes (in the case of raspberries) and controlling and checking diseases early.

trouble, in its many forms, can be corrected, in most cases, by Chiropractic.

Pressure (due to misaligned vertebrae) on the nerves supplying this mighty pump of the body prevents it from getting enough power from the brain to do its work. Weakness follows and disease is the result.

Chiropractic scientifically relieves this nerve pressure and the heart regains strength without a change of climate or the use of stimulants.

Agricultural Conservation Program for 1948 Underway

The 1948 agricultural conservation program is underway. County and community agricultural committees are now assisting farmers to take full advantage of the program. It's time for farmers to line up the conservation practices to be carried out during 1948, says A. John Cleary, chairman of the Washington County Agricultural Conservation committee.

The launching of the 1948 program is of significant importance to the folks who live in towns as well as the farmers of Washington county, says Mr. Cleary. In the first place the production from the farms in Washington county furnishes a substantial part of the wealth of the county. The sale of farm products accounts for much of the money to pay for gasoline, machinery, groceries, furniture, clothes, etc. This means more business for the merchants and dealers in the county.

Of even more importance, the chairman points out, is the fact that all people depend on the soil for most of their food and clothing.

For these reasons everyone has a direct interest in the 1948 agricultural conservation program, since the primary purpose of this program is to conserve and protect the soil.

Under the 1948 program, farmers of Washington county will be co-operating with the folks who don't live on the farm in a program to help assure continued abundant production of food.

"This program," the chairman explains, "will help keep the grocery shelves filled. It will help fill the ships with food for the hungry people overseas. It will help to make possible the abundant production we need at this time and assure continued abundance for future."

$12,000 More Added to Hospital Fund Drive

Approximately $12,000 in cash was received at St. Joseph's Community hospital in West Bend during the month of December as part of the $100,000 drive to help pay for the institution's new wing, it was reported from the West Bend headquarters of the citizen's committee in charge of the campaign to help pay for the new addition.

These contributions leave about $12,000 yet to be raised before the $100,000 goal is reached, it was reported. Optimism was expressed that the committee will before long realize the $100,000 objective to which it pledged itself when it was organized over a year ago.

Of the $12,000 received during December, approximately $7,000 came in as additional subscriptions from persons in this community who had previously contributed to the drive, it was disclosed, while the balance was money paid on pledges made during the campaign last spring.

The money was gratefully received by the sisters at the hospital, it was reported, since they were in need of it to pay obligations incurred in building the new wing, some of which are still outstanding.

Lincoln—His Spirit Is with the Ages

Martyr, Emancipator, Myth, Abe Is 'Builed Forever'

By BAUKHAGE, News Analyst and Commentator.

Like everything else in this political year, preparations for Lincoln's birthday in 1943 are chiefly a matter of scrambling through the Great Emancipator's writings to find a text for a highly-partisan outburst. But February 12 is the occasion for more than a barrage of political speeches.

To me Lincoln is real because he and my childhood conception of my grandfather are strangely blended. Both, like Merlin's Camelot, are builed forever because, to me, they never were myth rather than fact—a myth not of my own making, but handed down through two generations.

My mother, as a little child, "saw Lincoln" (like a man "sleeping," she thought) as he lay in state in Chicago. My grand mother stood beside her swathed in the heavy mourning veil of the day which she felt perhaps was as much for Lincoln then as it was for her soldier - husband who had given his life in the same cause. To my mother, staring at that coffin in Chicago, there always remained a confused impression of mourning for the man she thought was not dead, but sleeping, and the father she never had seen. Perhaps that feeling was imparted to me.

My mother described the scene to me. It was clearly etched in her memory like the rest of the strange heira which she took westward with her widowed mother from a little town in New York state (as a bride, my grandmother had pioneered the West with her young New York state farm-born husband).

Of course, the memories were blurred and blended, undoubtedly, with later repetition of the event, but the picture was clear, and I only wish I could repeat it in my mother's own words. The train that west, the arrival in the great city, the crowd about her as she advanced slowly with her mother into the great hall. Then the coffin which she did not know was a coffin for there was no such word in her tiny vocabulary.

Her mother let go the little girl's hand to move back her own heavy veil. Then the little girl remembered being lifted in the strong hands of the guard. About him she could recall only a blue tunic, shiny brass buttons and the smell of tobacco. Then the face of the "sleeping" man, and her mother's quiet tears.

(The body of the martyred President, as you know, was taken from the East Room of the White House to the capitol where it lay in state. Then it was carried across the country, pausing for homage in several cities until it reached Springfield, Lincoln's home.)

I repeated my mother's story after her death, as best I could on the air—and there were sequels. Letters—one from a lady in New England for whom the broadening had awakened memories — her father had been one of the Union soldiers chosen to stand guard at the catafalque in Chicago. It might well have been he who lifted my mother.

The soldiers who had been chosen for that honored duty were permitted to divide the gold-fringed drape that covered the coffin, she wrote me, and she consigned to me a fragment which I cherish.

There were many other letters. One from the niece of one of Lincoln's cabinet members, William Pitt Fessenden; another enclosing the announcement shown in the cut.

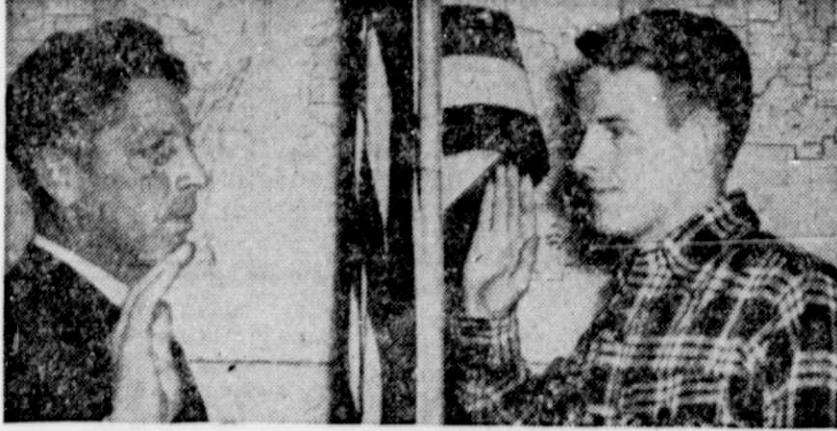

Those were two sequels to the story of the little girl and her weeping mother. I think the everlasting sequel can be read again and again in the story of America, as the story of Lincoln is projected far on into history. I think I have seen it projected in the crowds who come to Washington, avid with guidebook and camera to collect "souvenirs."

Only this week, the garrulous cab driver who carried me from Union station was full of a story of "Union Americans" who spent endless hours (according to his timing) at the Lincoln Memorial. The memorial remains a shrine for all visitors, native and foreign, a place where flippant chatter is stilled before that almost living replica warmed to life out of cold marble by the inspired hand of Daniel Chester French.

It lives as the spirit of Abraham Lincoln lives.

To the little child beside the catafalque, except for her mother's tears there was no mourning in that moment. Only something solemn, something important, something that touched old and young alike because it had in it the cosmic rhythm of the epic, and, as well, the simple, soul-touching melody of the folk song.

And I wonder if there was not some intangible, some eternal quality of what Lincoln did, or what his character has etched into the his-

NEWS REVIEW

Nazi-Soviet Pact Told; Too Much Aid: Hoover

The celebrated "cold war" has been enriched by another U. S. propaganda strike, probably the heaviest yet, against Russia. It took the form of official state department publication of captured German foreign office records revealing the extent and nature of Nazi-Soviet relations from 1939 to 1941, the period covered by the non-aggression pact between the two nations which ended when Hitler attacked Russia on June 22, 1941.

In the light of the U. S.-Russian wartime alliance, the Nazi documents, published in book form, tell a sordid story of secret agreements, global gambling with nations for stakes and the feverish fetish of political expediency which gripped the minds of German and Russian leaders before and during the war.

High point of the hitherto secret dossier was the revelation that in 1940 Adolf Hitler and V. M. Molotov of Russia agreed that Britain and the U. S. must be excluded from Europe, Asia and Africa.

The book told also how, in 1940, Stalin had offered to join the German-Italian-Japanese axis if Hitler would give Russia a free hand in Finland, a military base near the Dardanelles and a dominant voice in the oil-rich Middle East. Then the documents show how Hitler, disdaining even to answer Stalin's proposition, ordered his armies to prepare "to crush Soviet Russia in a quick campaign."

One of the major factors which precipitated the German attack on Russia was the Soviet demand for dominant control of the Balkans. Hitler, who was as aware as any man of the political, economic and strategic value of the pivotal Balkan area, turned thumbs down on that Russian desire also.

Sum and substance of the state department's spectacular publication of the Nazi documents was little more than an emphatic indication of an already well-known fact: That Russia, with aggressive consistency, has been hungering for years for leadership in the Balkans, for pre-eminence in the Dardanelles, for expansion in Central Asia and for a free hand in Finland and Poland.

Value of the publication of these documents at this time is questionable, despite the flagrant anti-Russian propaganda they can and will inspire. State department's action obviously was aimed at rallying public support behind the Marshall plan, soon to come up for congressional action, but it also would serve to aggravate and inflame the already dangerously touchy "cold war."

Rubber Bill

Legislation to establish a permanent, government-regulated American rubber industry with a 675,000-ton annual capacity and a required annual production of at least 225,000 tons a year has been introduced by Rep. Paul Shafer (Rep., Mich.).

The bill refers throughout to the product in question as "American-made rubber." The word "synthetic," as the term for factory made rubber, is not mentioned.

HAPPY HOLIDAYS

This Won't Happen Again Until 1976

You like to have holidays fall on weekends? Then 1948 should be a year of great promise. Most of the major holidays this year will fall on Saturdays and Sundays, which is either good or bad, depending on how you feel about getting time off down at the old mill.

Sundays, whereon fall Washington's birthday, Memorial Day and Independence Day, aren't too bad because the government and most other employers observe the Mondays following as legal holidays and so extend holiday benefits to their employees.

But for the working man it's a rough shake when a holiday falls on a Saturday, for it doesn't bring Sunday holidays can happen only once every 28 years.

POLAR DATA:

Congressional sources have reported that Russian and American military planes have been competing at the top of the world for vital weather information with regular flights over the North pole.

The Soviet flights apparently are made from Siberia, while U. S. planes operate from Ladd Field, Fairbanks, Alaska. Russian planes also were said to be carrying out weather data flights over Alaska.

JUST a reminder; the annual competition for the Dr. Christian award closes February 29. The best script submitted will bring its author $2,000; fifty additional scripts will be bought for the program. Jean ("Dr. Christian") Hersholt urges competitors to write about things and people they know. "Natural, easy dialogue, clear-cut characters, true-to-life situations, few scenes, fewer sound effects—these are what count in successful radio plays," he says. "There must be doubt as to the outcome clear to the end."

School teachers are coming into their own, all of a sudden. When Joan Crawford finishes her next Warner Bros. starrer, "Until Proven Guilty," she will play a school ma'm in "The Story of a

Because Paul Lavalie is devoting all his time nowadays to the type of music he presents on "Highways in Melody" he turned down an offer to revive the delightful "Chamber Music Society of Lower Basin Street." Though it has been off the air for some years, many listeners still write Lavalie urging him to bring it back.

When Henry Fonda was not available for the radio version of "The Fugitive," Huntley Gordon was stuck for a leading man for the "Screen Guild Players" production. But only a few hours after his dilemma became known he got a phone call from a highly qualified volunteer, Gregory Peck, who like other stars, received no pay. Chet Lauck and Norris Goff have turned down guest appearances on television shows because of the long make-up sessions necessary to step into their "Lum and Abner" roles. Too bad they had to cancel their March of Dimes tour; Norris Goff's illness interfered. So he headed east for consultations with specialists, and was temporarily written out of the air show.

Don McNeill, with a two weeks' vacation coming up February 20, plans to head for Hollywood with Mrs. McNeill, his first visit since 1933. They will confer with motion picture executives on making a movie based on the popular "Breakfast Club," and will make a sentimental journey to San Francisco, to visit the little Spanish church where they were married in 1931.

Many lengthy conferences preceded the decision to use the record made by Mark Hollinger with Bing Crosby as Crosby's February broadcast. The same situation arose after W. C. Field's death, and the record was scrapped. But this time it was used, because so many of Mark's friends wished to hear the record, and because everyone was convinced that he would have wished it.

Viveca Lindfors spanned 350 years in one working day recently; completed her role of a modern girl in France in "To the Victor" and immediately reported for the role of Queen Margaret in the 17th century "Adventures of Don Juan."

ODDS AND ENDS—After two years of playing Mr. and Mrs. in "Rosemary," Betty Winkler and George Keane were married recently; Lamont Johnson was on the air in "Wendy Warren and the News" when his daughter Jeremy was born; raised to the hospital and heard the news there... Dick Hynes, who flies a plane from Palm Springs to Hollywood for his Thursday CBS show, is an authority on emergency landing fields, since logs have forced him down so often... Fred Waring has been appointed to the board of trustees of Pennsylvania State university; he organized his band when a student there.

He doesn't wear it at his Wednesday ABC broadcasts, but some time Alan Young may show up at a costume party in a Scottish costume—kilts and all—which is a family heirloom. It was handed down to Alan by Grandfather Young.

Word comes from London that Alexander Korda's "Mine Own Executioner," starring Burgess Meredith and Kieron Moore, has been included in every "Ten Best" list of British critics. Twentieth Century-Fox will release it here.

SIXTY COUNTY HOMEOWNERS AT SLIP COVER MEETINGS

Sixty Washington county homemakers attended sectional meetings on slip covers this past week in West Bend, Hartford, and Rockfield, conducted by Mrs. Gwen B. Daluge, home agent.

These meetings were a preliminary to a series of meetings to be held on actual slip cover construction in February.

At these meetings, purposes of slip covers, selection of fabrics for slip covers and proper measuring of chair were discussed.

Homemakers were advised NOT to make their own slip covers unless they had had considerable sewing experience.

In the choosing of suitable fabrics, Mrs. Daluge stressed purchasing a firmly woven cotton fabric without too much slizing, a material that is fully pre-shrunk, (unless the homemaker will shrink it herself before she makes it up), one which will hold its color against light and washing (generally a fabric marked "vat-dyed" is quite fast color or one which has the pattern well stamped through on the wrong side).

Examples of good material to be used for slip covers would be: certain cretonnes, gelets, drapery satens, percales, crash, denims, rep, tickings, whipcord, sailcloth, novelty fabrics, light weight canvas, and chevron.

In choosing the color and design of the fabric, Mrs. Daluge advised the homemakers to consider carefully the size of the furniture to be slip covered, the kind of a room in which it is to be used, and the color, pattern and fabrics of the other furniture in the room.

The following women have already definitely signed up for the other three all day classes on slip cover construction to be held in February: Miss Jeannette Horst, Mrs. Harold Lepien, Mrs. Harry Roemer, Mrs. Donald Roemer, and Mrs. Walter Frase of Hartford; Mrs. Irma Ollmann, Richfield; Mrs. Ervin Bales, Slinger; Mrs. A. Maaske, Newburg; Mrs. Alex Dahlinger, Mrs. Joe Reichert, Mrs. Wm. Kirchner and Mrs. Delbert of West Bend.

Travel's More Comfortable

When you go by GREYHOUND

It's grand to relax as you ride. And sometimes a balky engine, a worn tire, or weather conditions make relaxing while driving your car a difficult problem. Then it's time to travel easily and confidently, by Greyhound. You can give a thought to the money you save, too—thanks to Greyhound's ever-welcome low fares. And you go conveniently by Greyhound, from the heart of one community to the center of the next.
