S. Army from the Kewaskum vicinity killed in action overseas during World War II.

The body was that of Lt. Delbert Backhaus, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Backhaus of the town of Auburn, residing several miles northwest of the village, who lost his life in combat in France on July 26, 1941. The train was late and did not arrive until 10:25.

CONGRING NAMED RED CROSS FUND DRIVE LEADER; PRECINCT CHAIRMEN ANNOUNCED

Appointment of Matt Congring Jr., West Bend, as chairman of the 1948 Red Cross fund drive in this area was announced last week by Stephen O. Meara, chairman of the West Bend chapter, American Red Cross.

In announcing the appointment, O. Meara disclosed the Red Cross fund campaign in the West Bend area will coincide with the national drive, extending from March 1 through March 15. Sluggin for the drive this year will be "It's Red Cross Time."

Drive Chairman Congring, following acceptance of his appointment, expressed high hope for the success of the campaign.

Both chairmen called attention to the fact that 1947 was a year of disasters, such as the Texas City explosion and the Maine forest fire, and pointed out that wherever there was suffering as a result of such disasters the Red Cross had gone into action.

"We can be certain that again in 1948 there will be a need for the many Red Cross services," Congring said, "and it is up to us to provide the funds needed to carry on this work."

Legion Beats Belles Second Time, 50-44

The Kewaskum Legion team won its fourth in a row and its second victory of the season over the Campbellsport Belles here Sunday night, 50 to 44, in a well played, close contest. Kewaskum now has won 8 games and lost 2 to gain a tie for second place with Grafton and Coarburg.

The two teams played an even game and the outcome was in doubt until the last quarter when the Legion spurted with a sudden burst of speed and accurate shooting to pull ahead to a safe lead. But in the closing minutes the Belles came back with a few points to narrow the final margin to 4 points.

Campbellsport's fine guards held two of the Legion's main scorers, Wayland Tessar and Krueger, down to 3 and 8 points respectively but this left openings for Honock and Bilgo to break through and pile up points. Bilgo came through with his high game of the season, pushing through 17 points to top all scorers. Honock, who replaced center Backhaus had another of his good nights and sparked the team with 15 markers. Guard Timler, besides doing a first rate guarding job, copied scoring laurels for the Belles with 12.

Hawaii Awaits Final Approval In Long Fight for Statehood

Island Territory Sees Culmination Of 50-Year Bid

By WALTER SHEAD
WNU Correspondent

WASHINGTON. — With its 50-year-old bid for statehood safely past the halfway mark, the Territory of Hawaii will make a concerted effort to become the 49th state during the second session of the 80th congress. The house of representatives approved Hawaii's statehood plea before the first session adjourned. Senate approval will be sought during the present session.

The machinery for making Hawaii the 49th state of the Union was contained in House Resolution 49, which was introduced by Joseph Farrington, territorial delegate, exactly 49 years after the territory was annexed to the United States as a territorial possession. In addition, other statehood bills were introduced during the first session of the 80th congress.

This is not the island's first campaign for statehood. The territory has been seeking recognition as a state ever since it was annexed to the United States. However, this is unquestionably the most ambitious campaign.

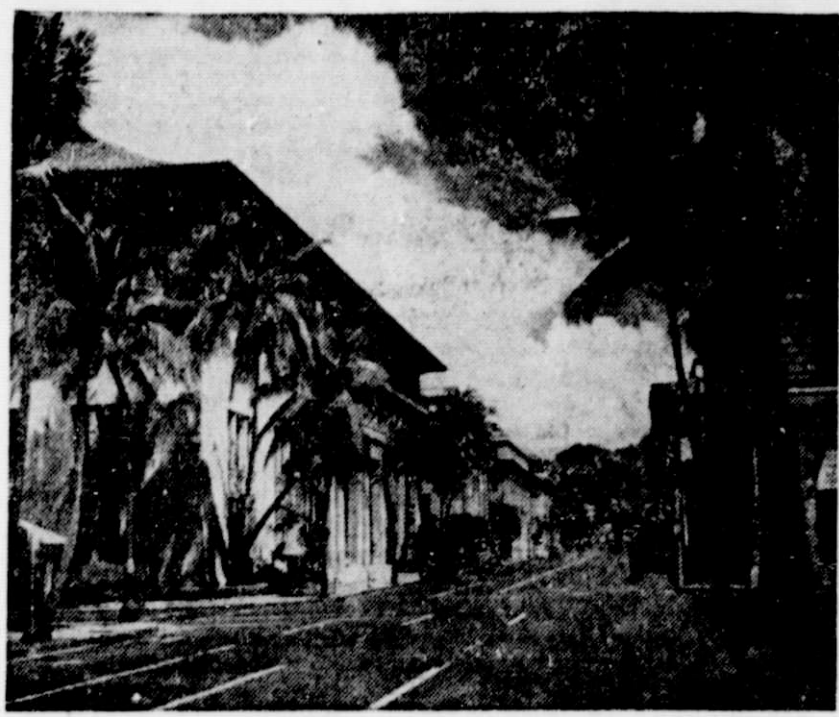

With "statehood now" as the rallying cry, Hawaii has carried on an active campaign in the islands as well as in Washington. To facilitate contacts with the national capital, a statehood committee, formed under chairmanship of Gov. Ingram M. Stainback, has operated Washington headquarters. In charge of this branch is George H. McLane, a tall, scholarly Californian who went to the territory six years ago for a temporary job and decided to remain.

All interests represented. The statehood committee, financed by funds appropriated by the territorial legislature, represents people of all phases of insular life, large employers, labor leaders, professional men and women.

Like most transplanted mainlanders, McLane is an ardent advocate of everything Hawaiian. He arrived in Washington with four packing cases filled with documents and a crusader's zeal for the cause of statehood.

Long known as "the crossroads of the Pacific," Hawaii is composed of 20 islands, of which nine are inhabited. The group extends for 390 miles from northwest to southeast and comprises 6,454 square miles.

Mountainous and volcanic in origin, the islands are the site of numerous extinct craters. Kilauea, noted for its "pit of eternal fire," which is located on the island of Hawaii, is the largest active volcano in the world.

METROPOLIS OF ISLANDS . . . Honolulu, the political and economic heart of the Hawaiian islands, is a thoroughly modern American metropolis in an exotic tropical setting. This is a section of Bishop street in the city's financial district. Some of the large sugar factors or agencies, transportation companies and insurance firms have their headquarters in these office buildings.

Discovered in 1778. The Hawaiian islands were discovered by Captain Cook in 1778, and it was during his second visit in 1779 that he met his death there. King Kamehameha brought the islands under one rule in 1791, and Hawaii became a constitutional monarchy in 1840. A revolution drove Queen Liliuokalani from the throne in 1893. At that time an attempt to secure annexation to the United States failed and a republic was proclaimed on July 4, 1894. By voluntary agreement, Hawaii was annexed to the United States as a territorial possession in 1898 through adoption by congress of the organic act which provides a government for the territory.

Most important industries on the islands are sugar, pineapple, shipping and tourism. Agriculture is making some strides, particularly in production of hogs, poultry and beef cattle. Fishing also is an important industry.

Hawaii bears all the federal taxes borne by other states and pays more taxes than do 14 of the states, proponents of the statehood plea maintain.

Both Will Benefit. Granting of statehood to Hawaii, McLane says, will result in numerous benefits to the United States. Statehood, he says, will confirm American hegemony in the Pacific; move our self-governing frontiers

2,200 miles westward; bind the strategically Pacific defense area more closely to the Union; send to congress men who have an immediate knowledge of the Pacific and her people; relieve the federal government of certain financial responsibilities, and discharge a moral obligation owed the islanders.

Hawaii, in turn, will get two senators and two representatives in congress.

'STATEHOOD NOW' . . . Miss Helen Monkusky, member of the Hawaii statehood committee staff in Washington, is shown with some of the literature being distributed in behalf of the territory's "Statehood Now" campaign.

gress in place of her lone non-voting delegate; elect her own governor instead of having an appointed governor; vote in a presidential election, a right now denied; automatically share in all federal grants for education, health, highways and other public improvements; administer her own affairs without the constant threat of a presidential veto or overriding by congress of local legislation.

The statehood bill, already approved by the house and now awaiting senate action, provides for holding a constitutional convention in the territory, at which a state constitution would be adopted and a government formed.

Hawaiians and other proponents of the statehood plea are pushing for final approval of the bill to culminate the long fight, during which the territorial legislature has asked for statehood 14 times.

Three Generations Of Teachers Work In Louisiana School

SHREVEPORT, La. — Representing an accumulated teaching time of 93 years, three "generations" of teachers have been instructing side by side for the past 13 years in the Homer schools in Claiborne parish.

Principals in the unusual teaching setup are Miss Belle Davidson, seventh grade teacher, with more than 48 years' experience; her pupil, Miss Mary Tooke, Spanish teacher, with 32 years, and Miss Tooke's former pupil, Miss Eula Linton, sixth grade teacher, with 13 years.

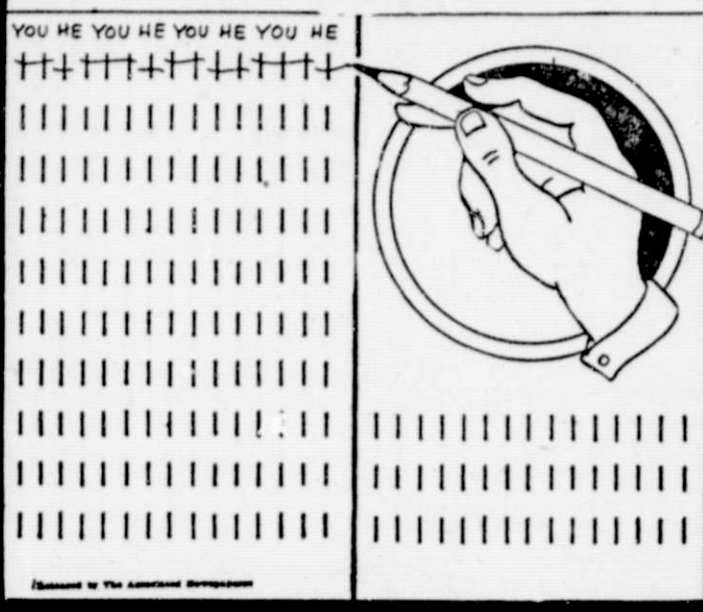

Before her entry into the Homer school, of which she is a graduate, Miss Belle, as she is familiarly known, taught a year in the Athens school, also in Claiborne parish. Throughout her career she has taught the seventh grade, with exception of one year in which she also taught part of the sixth.

During her tenure in Homer, the school has been housed in two buildings, both at the same location. She commenced teaching at the age of 16 and now holds an A. B. degree from Louisiana Polytechnic institute at Ruston and a master's degree from University of Arkansas.

J. T. Gibson, president of the Claiborne parish school board, is a former pupil of Miss Davidson, as are Miss Marion Dorman, music teacher, and Miss Maggie McCasland, fifth grade teacher.

No Longer Will Cows Graze In Heart of Wisconsin City

LANCASTER, WIS.—For the first time in 58 years, no cow is grazing in the heart of this city, of some 3,000 population.

The Winkler sisters, Crissie and Etta, have sold the last of a long line of cows that have roamed about the family pasture, only four blocks from the Grant county courthouse, since 1890. Last of the herd was Betty, a Guernsey cow that has been the pet and milk provider for the sisters for the last seven years.

The sale, they admit, was made with reluctance and only because they are growing too old to care for Betty. Insisting that the cow was "like one of the family," the sisters said they couldn't bear to put her in some other farm herd, so they sold her to a packing plant.

If Betty were put in another herd, she'd just break through a fence and come trotting home, the sisters be-

Even Weathermen Insist on Blondes

BALTIMORE.—Weathermen prefer blondes. At least those who make weather recording instruments do. Engineers explain that hair is used in humidity recorders. Mounted in strands like the strings on a banjo, it functions as the moisture sensitive element of the instruments. But it must be blonde hair. Brunette and red tresses are too coarse.

VERMILLION, S. D. — Six men students, two of whom are married, have been listed as baby-sitters with the student employment service at University of South Dakota. The Rev. R. E. HOW IT STARTED
 PEACH MELBA (referring to the dessert). This term was originated by the great French chef, Escoffier, in compliment to the famous singer, Madame Nellie Melba, who often dined at the Savoy hotel in London, where Escoffier was chef.
 SUB-ROSA (meaning secret or confidential). Sub-rosa literally means "under the rose," and is derived indirectly from Greek mythology. The story is that Cupid gave Harpocrates, the god of silence and reticence, an open rose as a bribe not to tell of the amorous pranks of Venus. Ever since, the rose has been a sign of silence and secrecy.
 UNIFORM comes from the Latin "uniformis," meaning "one form or shape." Uniforms are so called because they are all alike.

STOP USING HARSH LAXATIVES
 Try Lemon in Water—it's good for you
 The juice of a lemon in a glass of water, when taken first thing on arising, is all that most people need to insure prompt, normal elimination. No more harsh laxatives that irritate the digestive tract and impair nutrition! Lemon in water is good for you!
 Generations of Americans have taken lemons for health—and generations of doctors have recommended them. They are rich in vitamin C, supply valuable amounts of B1 and P. They alkalize, aid digestion.
 Not too sharp or sour, lemon in water has a refreshing tang—clears the mouth, wakes you up. It's not a purgative—simply helps your system regulate itself. Try it 10 days.

 An unusual custom prevails among the Apa Tanis, a tribe of 20,000 living in an isolated section of the Himalayas. When two men are engaged in a personal quarrel, such as over a debt or a woman, they are allowed to kidnap members of each other's family and imprison them in a private stockade until a settlement is reached.

INTEGRITY. All speakers stressed the fact that food today is the most important ingredient of the American foreign policy. What happens in Europe and other parts of the world, they asserted, depends upon the American food production program as much as any other single thing.

The subject of soil conservation received special emphasis as the remaining productive top soil is the only means of maintaining an efficient and full food production program.

Increased production of all kinds is probably the only way to stop inflation declared J. W. Burch, agricultural director of the Missouri university. A member of the English Parliament described how his country is endeavoring to step up its food production program.

TRACHEITIS HAMPERS POULTRY PRODUCTION

At one time the term "roup" was used to describe a common disease of chickens. Now we know that at least six diseases can cause similar symptoms such as swollen eyes, nostril discharge, and breathing distress. These include fowl pox, infectious coryza, infectious bronchitis, fowl pest, fowl cholera, and laryngotracheitis.

Infectious laryngotracheitis is possibly the most serious of these "hard-to-breathe" diseases. Usually affecting birds more than six weeks old, it spreads rapidly, with an average death loss of 20 percent. In virulent outbreaks, 60 percent of affected birds may die. Most commonly seen in young pullets and laying flocks, the plague is caused by a filterable virus.

Birds suffering from laryngotracheitis assume a sitting position, raising their heads, with wide-open beaks to take in air. Breathing causes rattling, gargling, or cawing sounds. Often the comb turns blue before death.

Contagious fowl pox may also cause much the same symptoms. In fact, a most searching examination of the birds, both before and after death, is necessary to recognize the right diagnosis—always a job for the experienced veterinarian.

Fortunately, science has developed efficient vaccines for preventing both laryngotracheitis and fowl pox—vaccines made from "chick-embryos"

Six diseases cause symptoms like this.

Since the vaccines contain the live virus of the disease, disaster may follow if they are used where a wrong diagnosis has been made. They should never be used in districts where the disease is no problem. Poultrymen should also remember that even though sick birds recover from "laryngo" or fowl pox, they may remain spreaders of the virus for a long time.

DPs Have Many Skills U.S. Needs

Useful Citizens Remain Idle In Displaced Person Camps

By BAUKHAGE News Analyst and Commentator.

WASHINGTON.—It's a strange thing about us Americans who grew up under a Declaration of Independence which states that we're all born free and equal, and a Constitution which is so scornful of blue blood that it specifically declares that "no title of nobility shall be granted by the United States; and no person holding any office of profit or trust under them shall, without the consent of congress, accept any present, emolument, office or title of any kind whatever from any king, prince or foreign state."

Nevertheless, come election eve, somebody always gets very excited about the ancestors of any prospective candidate for the office of president (or the office of dogcatcher, for that matter).

Baukhage

So I wasn't surprised to see a dispatch come over the wires saying that somebody, who says his grandfather was the brother of the grandfather of General Eisenhower, is in a displaced persons' camp in Denmark. Eisenhower, when questioned, says his ancestors came to America before the revolution and he has little or no information about the family in Europe. A good American answer, I'd say. And it serves to bring up the question of displaced persons in Europe, a matter with which the congress of the United States is mildly concerned at present. Not as much concerned, however, as Rep. William G. Stratton (Rep., Ill.) would like, since he has introduced a bill "to authorize the United States . . . to take its fair share in the resettlement of displaced persons in Germany, Austria and Italy, including relatives of citizens or members of the armed forces, by permitting their admission to the United States in a number equivalent to a part of the total quota numbers unused during the war years."

There are some 11 million persons who were enslaved, captured in war or thrown into concentration camps by the Nazis, who have been sent home and 850,000 others who, like the alleged relative of General Eisenhower and many who have escaped from under the iron curtain since the war, can never go home for fear of political persecution in Soviet-controlled countries where they would face slavery or death. Fifty per cent of these still in the camps are women and children. One-fifth are Jews.

Many DPs have skills and are only too anxious to use them. And there is room for them — or somebody — to take the place of the manpower which has been drained from the farms in the Middle West into factories. There are 95,000 DPs who are trained farm workers. Now, instead of producing food for others and easing the terrific strain on the American farms due to the shift in population, these DPs are eating at America's expense. I doubt if any American is hardhearted enough to say: "I am not my brother's keeper. Send 'em all back where they came from . . . to strengthen the sinews of the Communist dictatorship and live out their lives in slavery . . . if they are allowed to live at all."

Breaking down the DP census under the "agriculture" classification made by American officials, we have:

Table with 2 columns: Skill category and number of DPs. Includes Farmers (all types) 77,270, Agronomists 5,440, Lumbermen 704, Hunters, fishermen 723, Millers 1,191, Other agric. workers 10,699.

Many other skills are represented. Need any carpenters? More than 5,000 are in the camps; nearly 2,000 painters; altogether more than 21,000 trained in construction and maintenance. And so on.

No comment is necessary on the items: "Hospital attendants, 1,135; nurses, 4,057; physicians and surgeons, 1,783"; or, from the housewives' point of view . . . "Domestics, 22,066."

It isn't as if we had thousands of unemployed in this country, or that we weren't trying to increase production to feed and house our people.

It costs our army (that means you) $400,000 per day to keep these people semi-prisoners, growing up to be useless citizens by denying them freedom and hope. What does it cost our consciences?

Creed of Destruction

What is Communism, as exemplified by members of the Communist party in the United States? Some say it is a religion. Well, if the whirling dervishes are religious, so are the Communists. They are certainly as fanatically devoted to their creed. If the American people were a little more familiar with that creed, they would understand the Communists better, and it is to be remembered that that creed is more than an "I believe." It is a set of rules, and if you don't obey those rules, your life is in danger. Communists don't believe in punishment in a future life. Their motto is "do it now," and they do it.

My attention has been directed recently to one paragraph in the Communist bible, a resolution passed and accepted and integrated into the international. It explains just what you can expect of Communists when they join a club, a union or any international body. Expect no more of them; no less. This is the paragraph:

"There can be no question of the utilization of bourgeois governmental institutions except for the purpose of their destruction."

Many explanations have been offered as to why a normal, natural-born American should embrace communism. The reasons range all the way up and down the scale, and include everything from a broken heart to some hidden neurosis that makes other people nag their husbands, maltreat their wives, drink, kick the dog or jump into the river. But whatever the urge is, it has some strange effects on the patient.

Take, for instance, that one-time firebrand member of the "Wobblies," Elizabeth Gurley Flynn. Many of you recall the picturesque IWWs, "International Workers of the World," who flourished in the early 1900s. Miss Flynn played a spectacular part in the famous Mesabi range strikes of 1919 — her father was a miner.

She helped organize the Communist party in America in 1920. Now she conducts a column "Life of the Party" in the party organ, the Daily Worker, published in New York, which follows the party line as a fox follows the aniseed bag or a rat follows the smell of cheese.

Creed of Destruction

In a recent column, Miss Flynn described a luncheon in honor of the "First Daytime Women's School" of the Communist party's Kings Highway section. Says she (note how Marxist favors even the simple arts of the housewife): "The luncheon which the women prepared themselves was so delicious it is evidence they are equally good Marxists and good cooks. How can I reduce under such temptation?"

Perhaps sensing that someone might reach for a grain or two of salt before perusing her observations further, she sounds a somewhat different note in another breath:

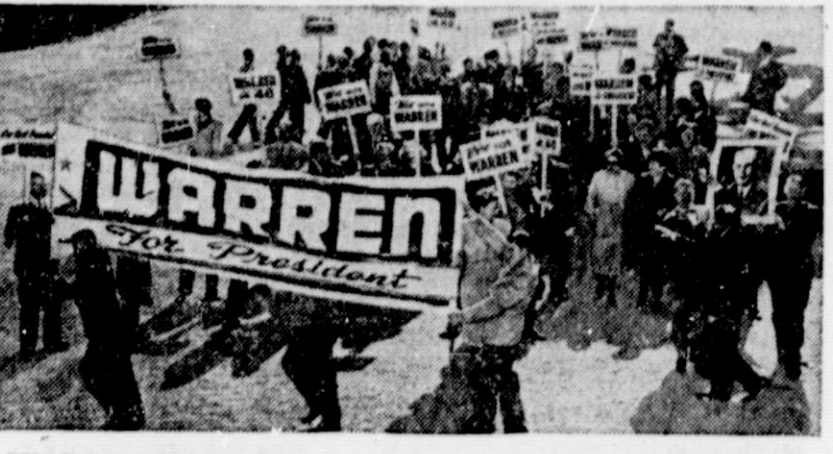

"The Communist party of New York affords us not only this wonderful opportunity (attending a big meeting) to meet together to memorialize the noble life of Lenin, but give us inspiration to be guided by his teachings."

BUMPER BABY CROP

Boom in Births Means Changes

Biggest boom of all right now is that which is expanding the U. S. baby crop to historic proportions. More than 26 million new babies have arrived on the scene in this nation since 1940, when the baby boom began. That is nearly 11 million more than had been expected on the basis of what has been considered the average yearly birth rate of the past, about two million. And this bumper crop has increased the total national family to more than 144 million souls—considerably more than even any government bureau had counted on. Last year more bundles from heaven arrived in the U. S. than ever before in its history, a whopping 3.37 million; and this year probably will measure up to approximately the same standard.

House Debates Tax Bill; Gandhi Is Assassinated

THEY'RE ROARIN' FOR WARREN . . . California's Republican assembly, meeting in Del Monte, recently approved a resolution to "go out and sell Gov. Earl Warren as the best man for president of the United States." The campaign to get the GOP nomination for Warren has been gaining momentum.

NEWS REVIEW

House Debates Tax Bill; Gandhi Is Assassinated

All signs pointed to an income tax cut of one kind or another this year as the house of representatives clanged the bell for the opening round of crucial, election-year debate on that much-belabored issue. Joseph Martin (Rep., Mass.), speaker of the house, started things off with the assertion that an income tax slash is in the bag. He conceded, however, that it might not run as high as the 6.5 billion dollars provided in the Knutson bill, now up for debate.

But in the end, he said, the Republican congress would override a presidential veto "of the tax bill we send to the White House."

In order to beat the veto that Mr. Truman might slap on the tax bill, however, the Republicans would have to line up a few Democrats to vote on their side to make the necessary two-thirds majority. And to bring enough Democrats around, it was thought, the senate Republicans would tone down the bill.

Rep. Robert Doughton (Dem., N. C.), ranking Democrat on the tax-fixing ways and means committee, pointed out the obvious fact that Republicans would have to trim the size of the cut to get anywhere. Otherwise, he said, congress will uphold the veto "and we will have no tax reduction at all."

As far as Knutson's 6.5-billion-dollar measure is concerned, GOP congressmen were touting it on the grounds that it would spur business, increase production and relieve the price-pressure on taxpayers in addition to leaving the government enough revenue for an 11-billion-dollar payment on the public debt in the next two years.

Democrats, of course, take the diametrically opposed view, holding that a tax slash that big would force the government to borrow money, threaten national security and hinder the European recovery plan upon which so much of the current phase of U. S. foreign policy is founded.

DEATH: Gandhi

Mohandas K. Gandhi, India's champion peace maker, patient saint, was dead at the age of 78—a victim of an assassin's bullets. He died barely two weeks after Hindus, Sikhs and Moslems alike, overjoyed at the possibility of peace that Gandhi's latest fast had prepared for their dominions, were shouting "Gandhiji ki jai" (long live Gandhi) in the streets of Delhi.

It was a violent ending for the mahatma who all his life had preached an practised a philosophy based on an abhorrence of violence. A Hindu from Poona approached him during a prayer meeting and fired three shots into his body from close range.

To India and to India's Hindus to whom Gandhi had devoted his life, his death was a bitter experience and a shock that left the already turbulent sub-continent in an even more complete state of turmoil.

The Boxcar Set

So many people are using railroad cars for living quarters in Austria that they are interfering with the country's transportation system, according to U. S. military government reports from Vienna. The squatters don't go anywhere. They just live there. Now the Austrian government has begun a campaign to evict these individuals. Authorities expect to recover 300 freight cars that way.

Magnuson Heads VA Medics

As was forecast in this column several weeks ago, Dr. Paul D. Magnuson, noted orthopedic surgeon of Chicago, has been named to succeed Dr. Paul R. Hawley as chief medical director for Veterans' administration.

Announcement was made by Carl R. Gray Jr., new administration head of VA. Dr. Magnuson has been closely identified with Dr. Hawley in the reorganization of VA medical care and has been intimately associated with VA's department of medicine and surgery since its inception January 3, 1945. He played a large role in affiliating more than half of VA's 126 hospitals with Class A medical schools and in the establishment of VA residency training programs.

He is a native of St. Paul but has been professor of surgery and chairman of the department of bone and joint surgery at Northwestern university medical school in Chicago. His first position with VA was chief of the research and educational unit, then he was named acting chief of professional services.

Questions and Answers

Q. I would appreciate it very much if you would answer the following questions: (1) Can the dependents of a disabled war veteran who is in a veterans hospital be allowed so much money for dental and doctor bills when all we have to live on is his compensation? (2) Is a veteran's wife required to pay $15 or $20 a month for his keep in a veterans hospital when she has a family to keep and a home to keep up out of his compensation?—Wife of Veteran, Lewisville, Pa.

A. To No. 1.—Many times under mutual agreement between the veteran, his family and VA officials a part of his compensation is paid over to the dependents of the veteran where conditions warrant it. To No. 2.—The wife of a veteran in a VA hospital is required to pay nothing toward his support or keep while in the hospital.

Q. Will you please advise me if the Army and Navy union, a veterans organization, still is located in Washington?—H. L. B., Los Angeles, Calif.

A. Insofar as we can learn, the address of the Army and Navy union is Suite 328-338 at 152 West 42nd Street, New York, N. Y. It is possible they may have an office in Washington, but he is not listed and none of the veterans organizations knows of an office here.

Q. I am a World War II veteran. I had a $2,000 national service life insurance policy while I was in the service. Please tell me if I am allowed to increase this amount to $10,000 and also convert it.—J. P. C., Savannah, Ga.

A. Yes, it is not only permissible but desirable to do so, if your active service was between October 8, 1940, and September 2, 1945.

Q. There has been a question raised in the case of one of our friends, who was killed in the late war, over proof of his marriage to his wife. We were wondering if you could give us some information as to how to obtain this proof for the government since her claim is still not acted upon.—Mrs. T. J. W., Erie, Pa.

A. According to Veterans' administration, evidence for proof of marriage should be provided in the following order of importance: (1) A copy of the public or church record or marriage certified by the custodian of the record; (2) if that is not obtainable, a statement of the affidavit of the clergyman or magistrate who officiated; (3) if such affidavit is not procurable, by the production of the original marriage certificate accompanied by proof of its genuineness and authority of the person to perform the marriage; (4) by the affidavit of two or more eyewitnesses to the ceremony. In jurisdictions where common-law marriages are recognized, consideration will be given the affidavits of one or both parties to the marriage, supplemented by affidavits of two or more witnesses who know the parties lived together as husband and wife and were so recognized.

If you do not receive an answer, write to the office of the Adjutant General, Department of the Army, Washington, D. C. If in the navy, write to the Bureau of Enlisted Personnel.

Q. I am a veteran of World War II and am wondering if it is too late to sign up for the training on farming. Can you give me any information about it?—A. J. H., Bowersville, Ga.

A. No, it is not too late to sign up since you have until 1954 to complete your institutional on-the-farm training. Your best bet is to local information is to contact either your state agricultural college or your nearest Veterans' administration office for a list of approved schools in your state.

All in the Figuring

Laboriously, the little train of the branch railway chugged along its curving route. The coaches were old-timers and sultry hot, the seats straight-backed and hard. One of the passengers, irritated by general discomfort and the frequent and extended stops, complained to the conductor. "It seems to me," he concluded, "that for a train so sadly lacking in everything, your fare is outrageous." "Yes, sir," the conductor replied sympathetically, "It's high if you figure it by the mile. "But then," he continued with a smile akin to pride, "it's a powerful bargain if you figure it by the hour."

IT'S THE LAW

By CLARISSA LORENZ

MY HEAD was in the clouds that warm day in April driving up Broadway. The radio in my jalopy was tuned in on Tom O'Neill, my favorite voice of the year. I was listening to The Songshop Hour when the sharp blast of a whistle brought me down to this too, too solid earth. I'd driven straight through a red light.

As a big, burly traffic cop swaggered over to my battered coupe, my knees shook. I had a deep respect for law and order.

"What's the big idea, sister?" he bellowed.

"I'm sorry, officer, I said meekly. "I was late for school."

"Better be late than sorry," he said in an altogether different voice as he caught O'Neill's lush rendition of "Irresistible You." He jerked his head and smiled at the radio. "You know, that guy's not bad."

"He's simply super," I gurgled.

"He makes me all goose-pimply."

The blue eyes of the law flickered, then fell on the volume of Popular Melodies on the seat beside me.

"Music! What do you do for a living?"

"Piano teacher," I replied, "at Miss Follens Day School." I gave him a wan smile.

He pushed back his cap and wiped the moist, blond ringlets plastered to his brow. "Ever do any radio work?"

"That made me wince. "I just wish I had a dollar for every audience I've had."

"Pulled over," he ordered.

I obeyed with alacrity. At the curb I became volatile. Anything to stave off a ticket, I told him that radio was a snare and delusion for any ambitious young girl. I'd got nowhere. "Sorry, we have our own staff accompanist. . . . Sorry, nothing right now, but if you'll leave your name—"

He grinned, and it was like a burst of sunshine. He leaned against my car, looking at me as if I were a crossword puzzle. "Say, how about dinner tonight?"

You could have knocked me over with a feather. "Why, I don't believe—I began primly. "You see—"

If he thought I was a girl who could be picked up, even by a policeman . . .

"Okay, sister," he grunted. "I get it." Then his voice became official again. "Well, I'll let you off this time."

"Thank you, officer," I said.

"But don't let it happen again. Remember, I'm keeping my eye on you."

I looked at my watch: 8:45. I'd never make it by nine. Not when I had to pick up that daily cargo of seven squirming kids and convey them to the red brick building that was my prison five days a week. I sighed. Art is long and life is short, and didn't I know it. I'd probably go on teaching sassy brats five-finger exercises until the grave yawned. Especially now that Charlie had gone international on me. Corporal Charles Brent, No. 1 hell! When I got his bombshell of a letter two months ago, telling me coolly he'd fallen for one of those Aussies, I kissed all hope goodbye of every marrying an artist. Charlie played the bassoon before the Army made him play the bazooka.

Until today I thought he'd broken my heart. But that night in bed, when I tried to picture him, all I could see were a pair of sky-blue eyes, strong white teeth, and moist, blond ringlets under a policeman's cap. I felt a twinge of remorse at having snubbed him. What if he was just a traffic cop? Maybe something could still be done about it.

"But don't let it happen again. Remember, I'm keeping my eye on you."

Next morning I wore my new Easter bonnet, a pink, flyaway confection. On my radio O'Neill was giving deliciously with "Time Waits for No One." My heart went boom as I approached the crossing on Broadway. There stood my nice giant in a shaft of sunlight. I drove straight through the red light. At the blast of that tin whistle I jammed on the brake. He sauntered over, twirling his shiny toy.

"Well, sister," he said sternly, "if you're gonna make it a habit, I have to take steps. Let's see your license."

I looked at him in sheer dismay. O'Neill went crooning on, but my traffic cop seemed deaf this morning. "Make it snappy." So I fumbled in my imitation alligator bag and fished out the license folder. "Beryl Thompson," he read, and took down the number, name and address. handed it to me. "Here you are."

"You conceited goon," I told myself hotly, watching his broad back. "Serves you right."

The low ceiling depression that hung over me all that day was lifted at 5:35 when I got back to my room and found a message to call Mr. Burnham at the radio station. I flew to the hall phone.

"Be at the studio tomorrow night at 6:30 sharp," he said over the phone.

The next day I was on hand long before six. "It's a transcription program," Mr. Burnham explained. "Miss Miles, the studio accompanist, is out sick, and her substitute's having a baby."

"What's the program, Mr. Burnham?"

"The Songshop Hour. Studio B. Here's the music. You'll have plenty of time to run through it before O'Neill gets here."

"O'Neill? But he broadcasts mornings, doesn't he?"

"He records at 6 the night before."

AS THE green baize door of Studio B closed soundlessly behind me, I felt like turning cartwheels. A little before 6:30 a familiar voice broke up my practicing. "Hello, sister!"

I looked up, and my fingers began to prickle. There was my traffic cop, bareheaded and in shirtsleeves.

"Pardon the attire," he said with mock politeness. "I'm not supposed to wear my coat off duty."

"Are you Tom O'Neill?"

"Professionally speaking, yes."

He came over and began polishing with his hand the badge on his blue shirt, which read, "The Singing Cop." "Nobody knows about it except the gang here. I told 'em it had to be that way, or else. If the boys down at the station knew I was a crooning canary, life wouldn't be worth livin'."

"I sat still, looking slightly ga-ga. "Say," he said, his eyes twinkling, "that's a fine reception, considering that I flangled you a radio job."

"You did?" I gasped. "But Mr. Burnham said—"

He waved his big hand at me. "I know. When I heard about Miss Miles, I asked him to give you a try-out." He looked up at the clock. "Okay, beautiful. Let's try that old number, 'Why Don't You Fall in Love With Me?'"

I obeyed mechanically. As I said before, I have a deep respect for law and order.

These Budget-Wise Recipes Will Make Meat Go Farther

A calavo served half shell provides a quick and satisfying way of rounding out menus on meat-saving days. The calavo also may be filled with creamed vegetable or fish or a salad and served as the main dish for a meal.

Well, those food costs still are climbing, according to latest reports, and most homemakers are having to tackle the menu problem with undiminished vigor.

There's first aid for all of you in these recipes today, for they'll keep the budget trim as well as furnishing savory meals.

There's no limit to how you may extend a meat—add a vegetable or two, fortify with rice, noodles or macaroni, or let the meat swim in cream sauce or delicious gravy. Any of these is guaranteed to add satisfied smiles to your diners.

Cabbage Roll-Ups. (Serves 6)
1 head of cabbage
1 pound ground lamb or beef
2 onions, chopped
1 cup uncooked rice
Salt and pepper
2 cups canned tomatoes
½ cup water

Cook cabbage until tender; drain and then carefully separate leaves from the stem end. Combine meat, onions, rice, salt and pepper. On each cabbage leaf place several tablespoons of the mixture, then secure with toothpicks.

Place the roll-ups in a greased casserole and add the tomatoes which have been mixed with water. Cook in a moderate (350 degrees) oven for one hour or until rice is tender.

Add cream sauce and pimiento to leftover veal roast as demonstrated in the following recipe, and you will have an excellent meat dish:

Veal à la King. (Serves 8)
½ green pepper, shredded
¼ pound mushrooms
3 tablespoons fat
6 tablespoons flour
4 cups milk
Salt and pepper
3 cups diced cooked veal
1 pimiento, diced

Cook green pepper and mushrooms in fat for eight minutes. Remove from fat. Add flour to fat and blend. Add milk and seasonings and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add green pepper, mushrooms and remaining ingredients and heat. Serve on toast, in bread croutades or patty shells.

English Hot Pot. (Serves 4 to 6)
6 potatoes, pared and sliced
1½ pounds lamb shoulder or breast
2 lamb kidneys
1 large onion, sliced
Salt and pepper
1 cup water
2 tablespoons butter, melted

Place half of the potatoes in a greased casserole, then add meat which has been cut into cubes. Cover with sliced onion, and season with salt and pepper. Add water. Place remaining potatoes on top, covering with meat completely.

Brush with melted butter. Place in a moderate oven (350 degrees) and bake for two hours.

Want to have company on a budget? You couldn't serve a prettier

LYNN SAYS:
Food Favorites Improve Your Menus

If you'd like something novel in a frozen persimmon sliced and served with calavo set on a bed of crisp greens. Rinse the persimmon and place in the freezing compartment of the refrigerator until firm.

Fit square of biscuit dough into muffin pans to form cups. Bake until golden brown, then serve as cases for creamed meat, vegetables or fish.

Peanut butter crumb topping for cup cakes or muffins is a favorite. Use two tablespoons of peanut butter with the same amount of butter and brown sugar, ¼ cup of flour and ¼ cup of bread crumbs. Mix well with fork until crumbly then use as topping.

Honey-nut snails will make a hit at any party. Roll out biscuit dough ¼ inch thick and cut in strips ¼ inch wide. Coil each strip to form a snail and seal edges well. Place on a greased baking sheet, brush with honey and sprinkle with chopped nuts, then bake.

Cranberry Meat Loaf. (Serves 12)
½ cup brown sugar
½ cup cranberry sauce
1 pound ground beef
½ pound smoked ham, ground
1½ pound ground fresh pork
¾ cup milk
¾ cup cracker crumbs
2 eggs
1½ teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons diced onion
3 bay leaves

Spread sugar over the bottom of a greased loaf pan. Mash cranberry sauce and spread over sugar. Combine remaining ingredients except bay leaves. Shape into loaf and place in pan. Put bay leaves on top of loaf.

Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) about one hour. Remove bay leaves before serving.

Pork, prepared Spanish style, is a favorite because of its savory seasonings as well as its color appeal. Vegetables go into the same dish with the meat.

*Spanish Pork. (Serves 6)

Flour
Lard
4 medium sized potatoes
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
2 cups tomatoes

1 green pepper
Salt and pepper

Have pork shoulder cut into 1-inch cubes. Dredge in flour and brown in hot lard. Place alternate layers of meat and vegetable in casserole dish. Pour tomatoes over all. Season and cook in a moderate oven (350 degrees) until meat and vegetables are tender, about 1½ to 2 hours.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Fold a dishcloth twice to form a square, then crochet a simple edge around it with bright thread. Presto!—a washable pot-holder or a cheery table mat.

Lettuce Not Have Any Of Those Odd Names

Vicar W. A. Gibson of Wimbledon's All Saints Church, just outside of London, has told his parishioners that there will be no more baptizing of children named after Hollywood film stars, race horses, greyhounds and battles.

"Already I have refused to baptize three girls because of such ridiculous names," he said. "One father wanted his child named Lettuce. I persuaded him to accept the good old-fashioned name of Mary."

"The majority of the names I take exception to are those borrowed from American film stars. It is un-English and un-Christian." He did not name the film stars.
