Cathy Lewis, who had been ill most of the summer, was ordered off at least the first few "My Friend Irma" broadcasts by her doctor, whereupon husband Elliott Lewis pared his air schedule to two shows, 'Gregory Hood," on Mutual, and the role of "Frankie Remley" on the Phil Harris show. Joan Banks stepped in as substitute for Mrs. Lewis opposite Marie Wilson.

Those semi-documentaries are growing more and more popular. Eagle-Lion has one coming up, "He Walked by Night," based on a case in the Los Angeles police department files, which will star Richard Basehart and Scott Brady.

After a cross-country trip, Ted Malone reported that the radio personage the most people asked about was Eloise McElhone, the firebrand of "Meet the Girls." Recently, when the show moved to Hollywood and she stayed back in New York, the public demanded her return till she gave in. And she was chosen in the first place because "she looked so sweet!" To the women who ask if that little wasp hates men becau had a beau-she has plenty! She's pert, pretty, and no man-hater.

Professor Claims Popcorn Is Whitest When It's Black

CHAMPAIGN, ILL - A University of Illinois professor says that black popcorn pops up the whitest. B. L. Weaver contends that "African Dynamite," a variety of popcorn is one of the whitest poppers. He said wet popcorn makes a loud noise but doesn't get anywhere. Popcorn that is too dry scorches and does little else. Weaver just completed a thorough study of popcorn.

Hero Loses $50 In Attempt To Rescue Suicide Victim

Stripping off his clothing, Whitehead jumped to the rescue. Unable to locate the man, he made his way back to the bridge and dressed. Then he discovered

After completing his first western, "Black Velvet," Howard Duff hung up his spurs in preparation for his next film, an untitled documentary-type picture about an international gang of thieves, his fifth in little more than a year.

American history will bob up all over the air this season. "Cavalcade of America" presents it on Mondays on NBC; Sundays, "Carnegie Hall" brings Dr. Frank Black, soloists and commemoration of an historical event, with Gene Hamilton's commentary and appropriate music. And there'll always be historical sketches on other programs, of course.

According to the Motion Picture Herald's poll of movie theater operator's, the number one star of tomorrow is Jane Powell of "A Date With Judy" and "Luxury Liner." Cyd Charisse is second, Ann Blyth third. Robert Ryan, only man in the first ten, is fifth. Those men who run our theaters really know what they're talking about, too, as polls of the past prove it.

After five years as a blonde on the screen, Marilyn Maxwell turned brunette to co-star with George Raft and William Bendix in "Race Street." She says she'll wait to see what the fans think before deciding to turn back.

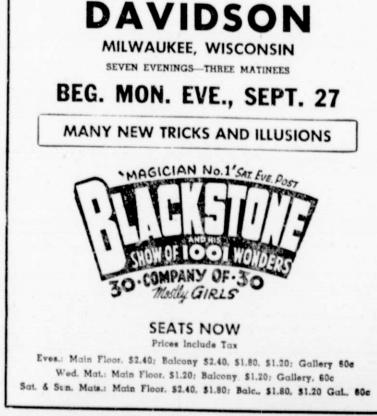

Listening to an announcer's description of the California climate on the 1928 Rose Bowl game broadcast, Ken Carpenter decided to move to California. He'd been in advertising. There were no openings in that field-so he became a radio announcer. His first full-network job was another Rose Bowl game, in 1934. In 1935 the Bing Crosby program made him an actor.

Inflated Receipts

WHEN theatrical managers get together to talk about their "stupendous successes" there is always a bit of harmless deception attempted in the matter of boxoffice receipts. The late William A. Brady very cleverly provided for this exercise by instructing his traveling managers to add $300 to the true sum when they telegraphed him the box-office revenues. Thus, a $1,000 house appeared as $1,300 on the telegram he showed his competitors.

One night a manager wired: "Theater burned last night. No performance. Receipts, $300."

A corpulent lady stepped on the scales outside a small-town drug store, not knowing they were out of order. The indicator stopped at 75 pounds.

An inebriated gentleman emerged at that moment from the corner tavern. He looked at the lady and then at the weight indicator. "My gosh," he marveled, "she's hollow!

Dinner Invitation

"Mother, dear," said the recent bride via telephone, would you and dad and junior like to come over for dinner next Sunday?"

"We'd love to, darling," replied mamma. "Should I bring anything along?"

"Well," sighed the brand-new housewife, "if you want to, you could take along a roast and some gravy and baked potatoes."

Poor Spelling

"I can never forgive her," said the professor as he read the note left by his daughter explaining that she was eloping with a local boy. "Why, dad, we did the same thing," replied the mother reprovingly.

Indian Troops Invade Hyderabad, Endanger Country's Shaky Peace; Russia Confuses Crisis in Berlin

-By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer-(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

INVASION: Hyderabad

Events in India were a far cry from the days when Mohandas Gandhi's philosophy of passive diplomacy prevailed among the affairs of that sub-continent.

Indian troops, strongly supported by armored units, had invaded the princely state of Hyderabad (see map) whose Moslem ruler-called the Nizam-had refused to join with the other Indian dominions even though Hyderabad's population is predominantly Hindu.

THAT WAS THE whole story. The Nizam and his small, compact Moslem court would not agree to follow the other Indian princely states in acceding to the Dominion of India which was established last year.

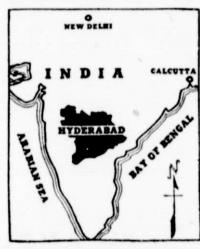

The Nizam, often called the richest man in the world, and the only surviving heir of the great Mogul empire, wanted to rule an independent hyderabad.

Whether he could have succeeded in doing that, even if the dominion government had not opened hostilities against him, is questionable. Hyderabad is completely landlocked and has no access to the sea except was quite evident. Their purpose by courtesy of the states surrounding it. All of its imports and exports, therefore, must pass through India.

THE restraint shown by the people of the southern tier under the deliberate goading of Henry Wallace is a reproach to the manners of the rabble of the cities up North.

The southern people, contrary to the slanders of a small element of envious inferiors in the City of New York, are, day by day, the politest that we have. Their superficial manners are pretty and almost fearsome as they mask an alacrity to fight for cause, and their patience is seen to be majestic under PEGLER dire provocation.

Parson Smith is an orator of enormous gas and effrontery and, like Wallace, he delights to stir them up. He is said to be a Jewbaiter. His distrust of most any other people seems almost as wild. and he is a frantic enemy of communism.

His arguments and assertions would be no more unreasonable or untruthful than Bubblehead's have been.

Yet if he did try to emulate Wallace here the steady, highly civilized northern people would riot and might burn down most of a couple of big cities. Not to put a pretty look upon it, Smith would be lynched for trying to exercise his constitutional right to speak his mind.

A campaign waged on distortions and evasions must come to a misshapen conclusion. Dewey will be elected (Russia willing) and will come under heavy punishment right away for failing to tackle evils which are due only to the selfishness and stupidity of the people themselves. Naturally, he will try to cure these troubles by scolding the Democratic party. He will be thinking of 1952 when he will have to go back to the people like some bum mooching five dollars for a cup of java, asking for re-election.

mand for farm products and the fact that farming is more prosperous than ever before in its history, is there a continual and rapid decrease in farm population?

The bureau of agricultural economics in answer to that question told this reporter that the basic reason is simply that there are too many farmers. As a matter of fact, the farmers can do the job they are doing with many less farmers than to the room. there are today.

Actual farm population of the country as of January 1 this year was 27,439,000 which is a decrease of three million since 1940. So in seven years there was a migration of three million persons away from the farms and to the cities.

Even so, there are still more than enough farmers to do the gigantic job of production which has been asked of the farmers of the nation. for one out of every three adult persons who live on farms has either a part-time or full-time job in the cities and towns.

In 1944 which was one of the peak years of farm production there were only 25,630,000 persons living on farms, the main reason being that the young men had gone to war.

There simply isn't room enough or work enough on the farms to take up the population born on farms. Farm population would double itself in a generation. The birth rate in the rural areas is 19.1 as compared to 17.1 in urban areas to every 1.000.

For three decades, technological development, increased yields per acre despite rapid population increases of the nation as a whole and consequent increased demands for more food, have brought about a trend of migration away from the farms. And were it not for the higher standard of living brought about the advent of electricity and othe er conveniences on farms, this migration would be even more rapid than it is today.

Machine and power tools, better housing and schools, the automobile-all have been a deterrant to prevent this out-farm movement, but it hasn't been enough and the simple fact remains that the nation still could do with fewer farmers and still produce sufficient quantities of food to feed the country and part of the world.

Even back in 1930 when there were not many jobs in cities, one out of seven farmers went to the cities to work. In 1940 one out of five farmers worked in cities and towns and as pointed out above, today one out of three adults make their living or part of it working off the farms. While this migration has been mostly from the smaller and less economically prosperous farms, even on large commercial farms and the better family-size farms the ratio of adults working in the cities holds good. . . .

Cabinet Post

Many of the political dopesters here say that the next secretary of agriculture, if Governor Dewey is elected, will be Congressman Clifford Hope of Kansas, chairman of the house agricultural committee. Probably standing head and shoulders above Congressman Hope as a statesman is Sen. George D. Aiken (Rep., Vt.), who will head the senate agricultural committee in the 81st congress, and who is author of the new long-range farm bill. But Senator Aiken is too independent and too liberal.

This column predicts the next secretary of agriculture, provided, of course, Dewey is the choice of the people, will be someone like Milton Eisenhower, president of Kansas State college and brother of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower.

Farm Co-ops Grow

Despite fights being made on farm co-ops by some politicians, membership in the past year has increased by 400,000 to 5,436,000 members according to the co-op re-search and service division of the farm credit administration. Business of the 10,125 co-ops increased 16 per cent to $7,116,000,000 for the year. Sixty per cent of the business was in the 10 states of California, Minnesota, Illinois, Iowa, New York, Wisconsin, Ohio, Missouri, Indiana and Washington. . . .

Civil service employment in the federal government has edged back over the two million mark. Along in 1943 or 1944 at the war's peak it was a little over three million but liquidation of wartime agencies and appropriation slashes have brought t down. Senator Byrd of Virginia protested to the post office depart ment its increase of 43,784 in personnel in the last six months. But postal officials say it's a matter of increased business and that its force of 503,834 persons will handle 43 billion pieces of mail this year.
