

$100,000 Court House Addition is Approved by the County Board

The Washington County Board of Supervisors concluded its annual session with the highway tour last Wednesday, the seventh full day of the November meeting. The usual routine resolutions and reports by various department heads occupied much of the time spent in session. E. M. Romaine, Kewaskum, is chairman of the board.

Approval was given to an appropriation of $100,000 for an addition to the court house, which will include a new county jail. No information could be obtained as to when the construction program would be undertaken, but reports were that the project has been stamped "rush."

Plans and specifications have not been prepared as yet, but there were indications that they will be put on the drawing board almost immediately in the hope that actual construction can start next year.

A resolution calling for the appointment of a second county nurse was defeated by the board.

Other appropriations approved included $20,000 for repairs, furniture and farm improvements at the county home and hospital; $3,000 for sidewalk repairs on the courthouse square; $50 for a motion picture projector for the county agent, and $1,292 to pay the costs of the defense of Sheriff Ray Koth and Deputy William Johnson in the lawsuit instituted by Robert Reynolds, Milwaukee, a former Kewaskum tavern and hotel keeper.

In the county board elections held Thursday morning Michael Goring Sr. of West Bend was elected trustee of the county hospital committee for three years, replacing Harry Heppie of Hartford.

Mrs. Kenneth Pike of Hartford was re-elected to the health committee for a term of one year, and Carl Schaefer, Kewaskum, was named to the pension board for a three-year term.

The veteran service commission had all of its members, Oscar Schloemer and Leo P. Gell of West Bend, and Edwin Helm of Germantown, re-elected. Geo. Kolb was re-elected county service officer over his opponent, Julius J. Kuhn of the town of West Bend. The election resulted in a rearranged highway committee. Members are Wm. Kuhn of the town of Germantown, chairman, and Harvey Dettmann and Joe Jaeger of West Bend. Formerly George Sell of Hartford was chairman of the committee with Kuhn and Jaeger as members.

The preliminary reading of the county budget took place on the second day of the session, with a net county tax levy $7,666.32 higher than last year. The budget was approved at the final meeting Wednesday morning.

On the application of L. S. Drickson to change the name of Benck's lake northeast of Barton to Lake Lenwood, the county board expressed no objections. The request for a change of name to Lake Lenwood must be approved by the State Geographic society.

On the recommendation of the salary committee, raises were given to deputy officers in the various county departments, such as deputy county clerk, deputy register of deeds, etc. Increases were also voted for clerical help. No salary boosts were voted for elective officers.

County Superintendent of Schools M. T. Buckley received an annual salary increase from $3,500 to $3,540; the county nurse's salary was increased $180 annually; Highway Commissioner Arthur Becker received a boost from $4,000 to $4,200, and Veterans Service Officer George Kolb will be paid $3,120 annually in 1949 as compared with $3,000 this year. Kolb also receives a $600 traveling allowance annually.

ROOF FIRE AT BORBCHERT CHEESE FACTORY LAST WEEK

The Campbellport fire department was called out about 4 p. m. to the Borbchert cheese factory on County Trunk V, at Five Corners, to extinguish a fire on the roof started by a faulty chimney last Tuesday.

Two spots on the roof had already burned through to the roof boards when the department arrived. Previous efforts of the occupants to put out the fire held the blaze to these two spots. Damage was estimated at about fifty dollars for the replacement of burned shingles.

CHESTER WRIGHT OF NAVY SERVING ABOARD DESTROYER

Chester Thomas Wright Jr., 19-year-old apprentice, U.S.N., son of Chester R. Wright, formerly of Route 1, Kewaskum, is serving aboard the destroyer USS Hugh Purvis, cruising in the Mediterranean Sea as part of the Sixth Task Fleet.

Mediterranean duty will afford the ship's personnel an opportunity to visit many of the countries of Europe and Africa.

County Medical Society and Auxiliary Meet Here

New projects are being added this year to the work list of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Washington-Ozaukee County Medical Society. For over ten years the auxiliary has been giving gift subscriptions to Hygeia magazine to the schools and hospitals of the two counties as a health education project; each member donating a six month subscription to two schools in her county. Thirty-eight schools in Washington and Ozaukee counties are receiving gift subscriptions this year. And this year, following the leadership of their state organization, the women will also work on nurse recruitment, mental health, and child guidance clinics.

At a joint dinner meeting with the County Medical Society at the Republican Hotel in Kewaskum last Thursday, the auxiliary's new president, Mrs. R. G. Edwards, Kewaskum, reported four new nurse recruits from Kewaskum High school's class of 1949. The auxiliary's recruitment program will be carried out in West Bend, Hartford, and Allenton schools in the near future, and will probably include conducted tours of hospital training schools in Milwaukee.

West Bend doctors' wives active in the auxiliary this year are Mrs. R. H. Drissel, president-elect; Mrs. Wm. A. Nielsen, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. K. T. Bauer, program committee, and Mrs. M. E. Foley, Hygeia chairman. Mrs. R. S. Fisher of Allenton is archives chairman for both the county and the state auxiliaries.

Guest speaker at the joint meeting of doctors and wives was Dr. J. K. Karr of Milwaukee. His subject was "Diabetes," Nurse recruitment and Christmas philanthropies will be on the agenda for the December meeting of the auxiliary to be held in Hartford.

Final Appeal Made in Hospital Drive

The hospital advisory building committee, which has been functioning for the last two years in an effort to raise $100,000 among the people of this community to help pay for a new wing to St. Joseph's hospital, West Bend, this week is sending out a final appeal, as a result of which it hopes that the goal will be exceeded.

In a letter being sent out, the committee points out that the original goal of $100,000 was missed by about $15,000 and expresses the hope that at least $25,000 can be raised in order that the community will "go over the top" in its avowed pledge of a year ago to help the sisters at the hospital pay for the new addition by accumulating the sum of $100,000.

Contributions, the letter points out, should be sent to St. Joseph's hospital, West Bend. The hope is expressed that the people of the community will be imbued with the true fervor of Thanksgiving and Christmas, and will help the sisters to share that spirit by submitting contributions and so "give them new courage."

The hospital debt, it is disclosed, is now $426,600, due to the fact that the monthly payroll alone is $6,000, other costs are up, and because the hospital hesitates to raise rates charged patients, a step which would help the institution to equalize expenses.

The letter, in full, is as follows: "As the year draws to a close, we have Thanksgiving day and Christmas day bringing to our attention our own good fortune (if such we have had) and also the needs of others.

"If you have had a good year and can afford to be generous toward serving servants of humanity, may we respectfully urge that you remember the sisters of St. Joseph's hospital.

"Their operating expenses have increased to the point where the payroll alone is $6,000 a month. Other costs are on the up and up, so that they have not been able to reduce their debt to the extent they should. They have not raised rates to the point of equalization and hesitate doing so.

"THE DEBT is now $426,600.

"Recognition on your part will please the sisters and give them new courage.

"We are taking the lead in this matter on our initiative because we missed our goal in the campaign of a year ago. A reminder is being sent out to the industries and to such others as are so situated to enable them to lend a hand.

"This community has always been proud of its record in 'going over the top'—exceeding the set quota in all worthy fund campaigns.

"We missed the hospital goal by $15,000, and yet the hospital is to all intents and purposes our very own, rendering a service to all alike, and every citizen every day of his life is a potential beneficiary of that service. So to do it up right we ought to make it good measure and go over the top by raising a good round $25,000.

Gertrude Pagel Wed to Harold Schlosser

Married in Holy Trinity rectory, Kewaskum, by the Rev. F. C. LaBauw at 2 p. m. Saturday, Nov. 20, were Miss Gertrude Pagel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pagel, R. 4, West Bend, and Harold Schlosser, son of Mrs. Jenny Schlosser, Kewaskum.

For her marriage the bride chose Miss Marilyn Flasch, West Bend, as her maid of honor, while Miss Lois Averill, also of West Bend, attended as bridesmaid. Louis Heisler Jr., Kewaskum, served as best man for the bridegroom and Richard Hafemann, Campbellport, acted as groomsman.

The bride was attired in a white satin gown fashioned with a sweetheart neckline. Her lace trimmed fingertip veil fell from a Dutch seed pearl headpiece. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums centered by an orchid.

The bridesmaid of honor wore a satin gown of teal blue with a bustle effect on the full skirt. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. The bridesmaid was dressed in a gold satin gown identical to that of the maid of honor. Her flowers also consisted of a bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

Following the nuptial service a wedding dinner was served to 40 guests at the Republican Hotel, Kewaskum, and later a reception for 250 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents. In the evening a large crowd of relatives and friends attended a wedding dance at the Lighthouse ballroom.

After a honeymoon trip to an undisclosed destination, the young couple will be at home after Nov. 28 in Kewaskum. The bride, a graduate of the West Bend High school, is employed in the office at Gehl Bros. Mfg. Co. in West Bend. The groom, who is engaged in the trucking business here, graduated from Kewaskum High school.

"SPARKY'S" EXCITING MONTH

Ruth Eichstedt, "Sparky," Kewaskum drum and bugle corps majorette, has had an exciting month in baton twirling.

On November 4th Ruth had to go to Radio City in Milwaukee for television talent show tryouts. Out of twelve who tried out, three won in this preliminary contest of which "Sparky" was one.

Ruth twirled at the Elks club on November 5th for a Milwaukee women's society.

November 11th "Sparky" got a letter from the National Baton Twirlers' association which deemed her a great honor. The association is putting out a book called "Who's Who in Baton Twirling" which will be made up of biographies and histories of the nation's baton twirlers. Ruth's history of twirling is to be in the first edition. This book will be placed in the public libraries of every major sized city in the United States including the library found in the capital city of each state.

November 20th "Sparky" appeared on the television talent show in Milwaukee which was called "Television Try-outs."

WOMAN FIRST SEES BROTHER HERE TIME IN 25 YEARS

Henry Holschen, 58, a brother of Mrs. Arthur Eichstedt, Kewaskum, and son of Henry Holschen, Milwaukee, came from Spokane, Washington, to visit with his father, sister and family.

Mr. Holschen has been an engineer for the Great Northern Railroad company for thirty-eight years. Most of the time he travels from Spokane to Wenatchee, Wash. and back again.

The last time Mrs. Eichstedt saw her brother was in 1919, which was twenty-nine years ago.

He arrived in Milwaukee Saturday morning where his father, the Holschens and Eichstedt families gave him a hearty welcome.

ADOLPH ENGELMANN IS INJURED IN COLLISION

An accident occurring on Nov. 19, resulted in injury to Adolph A. Engelmann, 32, Campbellport, on Highway 84, one-fourth mile east of Pillmore. The other car involved in the collision was driven by Erroy B. Christensen, 28, Route 2, Kewaskum. Christensen was entering the highway from a driveway when he was hit by the car driven by Engelmann. Engelmann continued down the highway after hitting Christensen and rolled over.

SHEEPSHEAD RESULTS

Last Thursday's winners in sheephead at the tourney held at Louis Heisler's tavern were: 1st, R. Kudak, 35-6-38; 2nd, F. Dorn, 38-2-26; 3rd, R. Miller, 32-9-32; 4th, A. Hawig, 38-6-32; 5th, A. C. Bartel, 35-8-29; 6th, E. Hahn, 22-15-6.

Next week's Thursday tournament will be held at "Jimmie" Miller's tavern.

Schedule for Mobile X-Ray Units in County

The State Board of Health will bring two mobile x-ray units to the county for two weeks free service beginning Monday, Dec. 6, and continuing through Dec. 17.

This is a big opportunity for every adult in Washington county. At no charge at all it is now possible to take a simple test which will tell if tuberculosis is present or not. But every person should want to know this about himself. County Nurse Gladys Salter says that only ten out of every thousand x-rays show signs of tuberculosis. The ten who do show signs can immediately take treatment and the disease can be checked.

A report of the x-ray will be sent to the individual about three weeks after it is taken. It will only take a few minutes of the individual's time. West x-rays show not only lung conditions but also the size and shape of the heart.

The schedule showing date, place and time is as follows:

Mon., Dec. 6—Boltonville, Modern Woodmen hall, 1:00 to 3:30 p. m.

Tues., Dec. 7—Kewaskum, Kewaskum Utensil Co., 10:00 a. m. to 12:00 and 2:00 to 4:30 p. m.

Thurs., Dec. 16—Open Center, Richfield, Laubheimer garage, 1:00 to 3:30 p. m.

Fri., Dec. 17—Open Center, Richfield, Laubheimer garage, 9:00 a. m. to 12:00.

Deer Hunter Doings

The Statesman has had news from some of the local deer hunters who invaded the north woods the past week, a number of whom have already returned home. But due to the fact that the writer was laid up in bed most of this week and was unable to make contacts, and because the season is still open though Monday, Nov. 29, and the majority of hunters are still up north at this writing, it is impossible to bring you a more complete list. However, we hope to have more news of our ninnyrds in next week's issue. Here's the dope we have so far:

Everette Taylor, Kewaskum, and his brother, Allen Taylor, of Waller's lake were among the first successful hunters home. They hunted in Florence county. Allen bagged a 6 point, 160 pound buck early Saturday morning while Everette had his good luck Sunday, when he shot an 8 point, 170 pound deer. They were back home already Monday night.

Marvin Martin, Albert Sommerfeld, Desmond Smith and Donald Koepfle spent the week end hunting in Monroe county but failed to bag a deer.

Ray Vetter and a party of friends hunted in Clark county and Ray came home with his buck.

Another party included David Korth, son Gilbert and brother. We have no word from them.

Some Wayne hunters in quest of a deer include Frederick Menger, near Wisconsin Rapids; George Krieser, near Watono, and G. W. Forester, near Solon Springs.

We are told Byron Bunkelmann and Dr. Leo Brauchle, along with Leo Vyyan and other hunters from Milwaukee formed a hunting party but no report has been received of their success. Willard Prost and Carl Volm left last Thursday with a party of Campbellport hunters for Mercer.

Earl Dreher, W. Faber and F. Wesenberg formed another hunting party but no further word has been reported. Melvin Klein and George Brath of Wayne and Roland Ruppinger of Kewaskum were to Hayward deer hunting. They each brought home a buck on Thursday.

There were many other hunters we could mention but because we do not have the complete parties we will withhold this news until the hunters have all returned next week. Help us along. We want to publish the news of as many as possible but we cannot do this unless you let us know, so let's hear from you hunters.

LEGION SKAT TOURNAMENT

Kewaskum Post No. 384, American Legion will sponsor a skat tournament at the clubhouse Sunday afternoon, Nov. 25, at 1:45 p. m. Admission $2.15 per person. All skat onkenen are requested to attend.

NEWLY RENOVATED ST. LUCAS CHURCH TO HOLD DEDICATORY SERVICES

The long awaited time for the dedicatory services of St. Lucas Ev. Lutheran church, Kewaskum, has finally arrived. To celebrate the occasion three services have been arranged for Sunday, Dec. 5. The first service, English, is to begin at 8:45 a. m., the second service, in the German language, is at 10 a. m. Pastor Gerhard Pieper of Fond du Lac, the sub-visitor of the conference, will be the guest speaker. Another service in the English language shall be conducted at 8 p. m. Pastor Fr. Brandt of Appleton, the 1st vice president of the Northern Wisconsin district, will be the guest speaker.

The present church building was built in the year 1913 and dedicated in February, 1914. The erection of the building at that time, including everything was $15,000.00. To renovate and redecorate now cost $25,000.00. The following renovations were made: a complete new electric wiring system; a new oil-burning heating system, requiring, according to state law, the re-cessing of all radiators in the church auditorium; modern plumbing facilities, including a kitchen with sinks, cupboards, and a modern kitchen stove; kvadrators, new cement floor in basement, the entire basement plastered, a complete redecorating of the church auditorium and its anti-rooms, new carpeting and linoleum, insulation of the entire building, and numerous smaller improvements.

All in all, the changes have beautified and modernized the building so that it can compare with a new structure.

To further celebrate the occasion a ham dinner has been arranged for Dec. 5. Serving is to begin at 11:30 a. m. The public is invited.

Mrs. Harry Koch Chairman of Christmas Seal Sale

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the American Legion has taken over the 1948 Christmas seal sale of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association. Mrs. Harry Koch has been chosen chairman for the seal sale campaign.

The age-old attempt of children to catch a glimpse of Santa on Christmas Eve was the inspiration for the pleasure on the 1948 Christmas seal. The seal features a small blond boy in red pajamas sitting on the floor,

Members of immediate families were guests on Saturday and Sunday nights. Those present at a 6:30 o'clock supper on Saturday night were: Mr. and Mrs. Roger Stahl, Terry and Sue, Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Bunkelmann, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dubben, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hieken, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kraemer and Virgil, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Liermann, Nancy and Albert Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Alex Laubach, Edward and Lucille, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Schoetz, Mr. and Mrs. George Standish, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Meyer and Darwin, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Rantthun, Elmer Jr., Judy and Jimmy, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Kraemer, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Hieken and Robert.

Lakes, Rivers Cagers to Open Play Sunday

Kewaskum's representatives in the northern division of Land o' Lakes and Land o' Rivers basketball leagues will open the 1948-49 season on Sunday evening, Nov. 28, on the home floor with the Random Lake team coming here to pry off the lid. Random Lake is defending champion in the Lakes circuit and has the same team this season. Random also have a strong Rivers five which will tackle Kewaskum's juniors in the initial game at 7:15 p. m. Kewaskum's teams also have practically the same players back and hope to be strong contenders.

The Lakes loop will be composed of nine teams with each club playing a 16-game schedule. New teams are the Plymouth A. C., Fond du Lac Eagles and Lomira Lions. All three have strong teams and will greatly strengthen the league and competition. The Rivers circuit will be made up of 10 teams and each club will play an 18 game schedule. New teams are Random Lake and Slinger. The season in both leagues will close Sunday, March 6, followed by the play offs.

Fond du Lac has no home floor and will play all of its games away. Byron Bunkelmann will again serve as manager for Kewaskum. Kewaskum played with Campbellport just for practice last Wednesday night with no scores being kept.

County Reserve Corps Meets in Kewaskum Mon.

The Washington county unit of the organized reserve corps will meet Monday night, Nov. 29, in the American Legion clubhouse, Kewaskum at 7:30 p. m. The subject of the meeting will be "Methods of Instruction," led by Capt. Myron E. Hildebrand, CAC reserve instructor. A film entitled "Military Training" will be shown.

It is expected that proposed assignments of reserve personnel in this area will be announced at this meeting.

After the meeting the Washington county chapter of the reserve officers' association will hold a short business meeting, followed by serving of refreshments.

All reserve officers and enlisted men as well as all ex-servicemen and members of the air force reserve are invited to attend this meeting.

KIWANIS CLUB TO SEND $25 YULE GIFT TO CHILD CENTER

High school students, under the direction of Elmer Schabo, again provided the Kiwanis club's program Monday evening. Allene Ramthun, Irene Kaniess and Marlon Cudnoski sang "All the Things You Are." Melvin Kluever played a piano solo, "Always." Gary Guy Searies then gave a humorous declamation, "The Waltz," followed by a portrayal of "It's the Men" from the school's recent operetta. Floyd Stautz concluded the program with cornet solos, "Home on the Range" and "Santa Lucia."

The club board of directors met on Monday and, along with other business transacted, approved sending a contribution of $25 from the club's vocational guidance fund for the Wisconsin Child Center (formerly the state school) at Sparta, Wis., to help guarantee a Merry Christmas for the 350 dependent and neglected children there.

Yes, it's Miller's at Kewaskum for quality home furnishings at most reasonable prices. Open daily until 8 p. m. Free deliveries. 202123—adv. 9-6-48

Mother-in-Law—A puzzle full of cross words. Some men owe everything to their mother. Others owe most to uncle. Pedestrians should be seen and not hurt. That run-down feeling is often a consequence of jay-walking.

Pay Heed To Highway Signs And 'Stick Around' While

Signs and signals are among the biggest helps to safe driving, the National Safety Council says. They give drivers warning of the dangers that lie ahead. But they are worthless unless seen and obeyed. The safe driver will follow these signposts: 1. Give signs, signals and markings the same respect you would a traffic officer. Here's one place you may lose if you cheat. 2. Reduce speed and be on guard when you see a diamond-shaped sign (this shape carries a warning) or a round sign (this signifies a railroad crossing is ahead). 3. Come to a complete stop at an eight-sided octagonal sign. This shape means only one thing—stop! 4. Know what an oblong sign says. This shape carries regulatory messages such as speed limit. 5. Heed the cross-buck sign at railroad crossings. If there is a flasher or wig-wag, wait until it stops operating before crossing. There may be another train you can't see. 6. Watch for the signs of life even on familiar roads. Three-fourths of the drivers in fatal accidents lived within 25 miles of where the accident took place.

If you—like millions of others—are pondering the Christmas present problem, a local dealer has a handy answer. He will have Christmas gift cartons of cool, mild Camel cigarettes and pound tins of flavorful Prince Albert Smoking Tobacco. Both these items come festively dressed for the holiday season and make ideal gifts for your smoking friends. The Camel carton contains 200 mild, flavorful Camels, while the Prince Albert container is chock-full of mellow smoking joy that has made Prince Albert the country's largest-selling tobacco. Both gifts require a minimum of fuss, due to the unique space provided for your personal Christmas greetings. (Adv.)

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS New Crisis Appears in Germany As Russ Threaten Berlin Airlift; Rent Control Extension Proposed

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

EDITOR'S NOTE: While opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.

AIRLIFT:

Morally defeated in their efforts to make good the blockade of Berlin, the Soviets were brewing up a new batch of trouble to keep American planes out of the skies over the German capital.

The Russian military administration in Berlin charged that foreign planes had flown illegally over the Soviet zone of Germany and threatened to force such planes down if it ever happened again.

T HAD all the earmarks of a desperate, last-ditch attempt to keep the U. S. airlift from succeeding in its mission of supplying food and fuel to Germans inside the blockaded zones. American officials weren't having any of it. In a brittle reply to the Soviet letter, Brig. Gen. C. K. Gailey stated that if any Americans were injured as a result of a plane's being forced down the full responsibility would rest on Soviet shoulders.

THE RUSSIAN letter, received from Lt. Gen. G. S. Lukyanenko, chief of staff of the Soviet military administration, asserted that "foreign aircraft not bearing identification marks of nationality" had flown over Soviet territory both within and without the international air corridors.

His missive concluded with a flat, two-point threat of Red intentions in the future:

1. SOVIET air patrols would force down all unidentified aircraft over the Berlin zone.

2. SOVIET air patrols would force down all foreign aircraft appearing over the Soviet zone outside the limits of the air corridors and greater Berlin.

The incident was tabbed as "the latest crisis in the Berlin situation, but in comparison to the other crises that have come and gone since the truce in a teapot. It seemed to convey the impression that the Russians were losing their grip—that they couldn't even foment a real, hot crisis any more.

Not that the affair was to be taken lightly. In an atmosphere charged with hostility it wouldn't take much more than the intentional destruction of one American plane to touch off a serious conflict.

CONTROL:

On Rents

One of the promises that President Truman made to the people during his campaign tour was that he would secure an extension of rent controls.

And scarcely had the startling election day passed before a concerted rent control effort was being brought under way by the Democrats. Rent Director Tighe E. Woods announced that he would ask the new congress not only to extend but to strengthen the present rent control law.

HE SAID he would ask congress to extend the rent law for 12 months past its present expiration date, March 31, and to close what he considers three big loopholes in the present act.

"The shortage of rental housing is more serious today, especially in the smaller communities, than it was a year ago," he declared.

In addition to extending and buttressing the present law, Woods indicated that he probably would propose that congress give him new authority to restore controls, or impose them for the first time, in areas that may be boomed by new defense activity.

These are the changes he will ask:

1. EVICTION CONTROLS—Restore federal control over evictions. Now evictions are left to local courts. The result, Woods said, is a serious black market in rents.

2. TREBLE DAMAGES—Give the rent director power to sue rent violators for three times their overcharge. Now only the tenant can bring such suits. This means that landlords usually get off with simple repayment of the overcharge.

3. CRIMINAL SANCTIONS—Provide jail terms and fines for convicted violators. This would give the rent director a weapon to back up his orders.

Woods was confident that the new Democratic congress would receive his proposals cordially, and most sources on Capitol Hill confirmed that belief.

Strides Made in Production of Electricity

While the output of electricity has more than doubled in the past eight years and has been rising to new record heights for each successive month, the unit cost to consumers is less than before the war. In a recapitulation of strides made by the industry, an article in the November issue of "Business Comment," bulletin of the Northern Trust company, states that power

Piano Perilous

More evidence has turned up that the 150-year-old White House needs a thorough going-over from stem to stern; Margaret Truman's grand piano almost fell through the floor. Margaret made the discovery when she returned to the White House and found the piano sitting lopsided in her room on the second floor. One leg of the piano had gone through the floor.

LUCIUS CLOBB

On Election Polls

Lucius Clobb, elder statesman and political pollster of Pasco county, gave a strained expression as he opened the frosted glass and chicken wire door of Mayor Ryerson Buckle's office. "Hornum and a variety of congratulations," he said. "Mighty glad to see you overhurling the same old hole in that chair seat. That upstart Clem Gropper that the opposition put up as a candidate sign you run a poor race, didn't he?" "You mean," snapped Rye Buckle, "the upstart that you were running around the county winding your horn would win the election hands down? You and your scientific barber poll. Ha!" The mayor snorted indignantly. "Now, Rye," said Mister Clobb with some dignity, "you shouldn't talk like that. I voted for you. Or I would've if I hadn't missed in the voting booth and blown out the candle so I couldn't see where I was making an X. Turned out that I didn't get an X in any one of those dang'ed circles."

"And what about your (yuk) barber poll?" he asked. "Well, now that what I thought was a genuine scientific poll from which I thought sure I could predict the outcome of the election, I was so blamed oblivious that I didn't see anybody notice."

"Then how in the name of Harry could you get any opinions?" Mister Clobb combed his whiskers reflectively. "That's why I called it a barber poll," he said. "Day after day I set in Ebenezer Snook's barber shop and watched people get haircuts. I figured I had a system."

"When a man come in and said to Eb, 'Clippers all around, Eb,' I figured him for a Democrat. And anybody who come in and asked to have the sideburns left on—well, what could he be but a Republican? I thought they'd vote according to their haircuts."

"Heavy of the system was that it didn't involve no subtle unknown quantities like the quick shifts of a man's opinion or his deep currents that flow beneath a man's conscious thinking?"

"Yeah, a beautiful system, Mr. Clobb," sighed the mayor in a more kindly tone. "I'm kinda sorry it didn't work out right."

"Thanks, Rye," murmured the elder statesman, and his whiskers twitched. "It was beautiful. A beautiful system."

INDICTED:

Thomas

Red-fighting Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R., N. Y.), chairman of the house un-American activities committee, was in hot water, and it was making his neck as red as the political complexion of any Communist he had ever pointed a finger at.

AFTER two months of ominous rumblings to the effect that something dire was in store for the GOP congressman who had caused the administration so much trouble by shouting that the government was employing Communists, the news broke: Thomas was charged by a federal grand jury of conspiring to pad the payroll of his congressional office.

The indictment accused Thomas and his former secretary, Miss Helen Campbell, of conspiring to maintain fictitious employees in Thomas' office so the salaries paid to these persons could be diverted into Thomas' bank account.

At his Allendale, N. J., home, Thomas growled, "I have nothing to say at this moment." But he would have an opportunity to speak when his trial got under way, probably in January.

Meanwhile, it appeared certain that the spectacular Communist spy investigation which held the national spotlight last summer now was dead as a month-old red herring.

Kicked Back

Miss Helen Campbell, ex-secretary to Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R., N. J.), is involved with the congressman in a federal grand jury indictment on charges that he "induced" her and another employee to "kick back" their salaries to him.

Woman of the Year

For "eminent achievement" in the field of commerce and industry, 70-year-old Dr. Lillian M. Gilbreth (right) was honored by the American Woman's association as the nation's "Woman of the Year." Mrs. Fanny S. Sweeney presents the award. Dr. Gilbreth is the mother of 12 children and grandmother of 18.

CHINA WAR:

Panic

In Nanking, Peiping, Shanghai and other terrorized cities along the China coast the words on the lips of all foreigners was "when will the Communists come?"

And the Chinese themselves, torn with indecision, doubts and mob violence, were wondering the same things. People were trampled to death or injured. Police fired on the rioters. The evacuation of Americans from China was being carried out hastily but efficiently.

In north central China the position of the Nationalist forces was growing worse hourly. Suchow and Pengpu were reported virtually isolated by Communists. The Yangtze river was feared open to a Red crossing that would expose Nanking.

THE WHOLE economic structure of the Chiang Kai-shek government appeared to be crumbling and sliding into a Red ruin in the wild miles along coastal China. Value of the gold yuan plummeted downward.

The question was not only, "when are the Communists coming?" but "how long will the central Chinese government last?"

This appeared to be the great, all-consuming crisis in Chiang Kai-shek's decade-long struggle to maintain a spark of life in the Chinese republic. But the cold, smothering wind of Communism was blowing strong.

RED TROOPS had taken control of Manchukuo, former National stronghold in the North, and that victory appeared to be the key which the Communists could use to sweep down into the vital areas of China itself.

For Chiang and his woefully weak Nationalist government the past 12 years had been nothing but an agonizing battle against imperialism—from the Japanese Fascistic brand beginning in 1937 to the Communist type which presents the current peril.

REBUILT:

By Stassen?

In the clear, bitter post-election light the Republican party turned upon itself in a fury of self-examination and didn't like what it saw.

MOST OF the top-level influential party members wanted to see some changes made, and most of them seemed to think that Harold E. Stassen was the man to make them.

As a result, the former governor of Minnesota, now president of the University of Pennsylvania, may be assigned the job of rebuilding the GOP for the 1952 presidential campaign.

STILL licking their wounds, GOP leaders were urging the youthful Stassen to lead a movement to shape the party along more liberal lines. These party liberals were planning to meet with Stassen for a "brass tacks" discussion of a party reconstruction.

Stassen was refusing to comment on the reports that he might step in as general contractor for the reconstruction job, but it was a known fact that he was being swamped with requests, many of them from Republican bigwigs, to undertake the task.

I THINK the situation calls for some reflection," was the only comment the man who had been defeated by Governor Dewey for the GOP presidential nomination would make.

One of Stassen's promises when he dropped out of the presidential nomination fight at Philadelphia last June was "to work toward strengthening the liberal viewpoint within the party."

MILLIONS DEAD:

Legally Now

The United Nations has made public a projected world convention for declaring dead the millions of refugees, soldiers and other persons who disappeared between 1939 and 1945 under circumstances suggesting "death as a consequence of events of war, of racial, religious, political or national persecution."

It is aimed to solve such problems as inheritances, adoption of children and remarriages.

Millions of dollars in property, including substantial European industries, are affected by the inability to obtain international recognition in cases of World War II missing persons now, according to Oscar Schachter, acting director of the department of legal affairs.

Many of the survivors have come to the United States, and the issue has presented a headache to surrogates' courts throughout the nation. An estimated eight million to 12 million persons were missing as a result of war in Europe alone, excluding the Soviet Union.

The U. S. Vice Presidency Called an 'Unimportant' Job

By BAUKHAGE

News Analyst and Commentator.

WASHINGTON.—Just what are the thoughts of a vice president of the United States between the time of his election and the time he walks in and makes his opening address to the United States senate?

"There can be great judges, great governors, great senators, great representatives and great presidents. A vice president may move into the presidency and be a great President. A great man may be vice president, but he can't be a great vice president, because the office in itself is unimportant. In my judgment, the four most potent offices in the nation are: The President, the speaker of the house, the majority leader of the senate, and the chief justice of the United States."

These were the remarks of former Vice President Garner as quoted by Bascom Timmons in his book, "Garner of Texas."

When "Cactus Jack" gave up the speakership of the house to accept the vice presidency, Dewey during the night after his own nomination, conferred with party leaders and came up with Warren's name for the vice presidency. I don't know whether Mr. Garner was any more reluctant to accept the vice presidential nomination than was Alben Barkley. Or than Governor Warren was, in accepting the Republican vice presidential nomination, for that matter.

Warren, in particular, put up a lot of sales resistance. Dewey during the night after his own nomination, conferred with party leaders and came up with Warren's name for the vice presidency.

Warren at first refused, but accepted after Dewey promised to give him cabinet status and administrative duties, if elected. As Dewey put it, he wanted Warren to have a "full partnership" in helping to run the government.

Party loyalty was Alben Barkley's reason for accepting the job. He has been a hard worker in politics for 43 years. As senate Democratic leader for the past 12 years, he has faithfully steered administration programs through the upper house. Until the GOP captured the senate in 1946, his power and prestige were immense.

He probably will be asked to attend cabinet meetings as former Vice President Garner was asked by Roosevelt. Before Garner accepted, he made an agreement covering three things:

"In the first place, in order to serve the President and the country in that capacity, I did not feel I should make a public statement. I also suggested that we agree during my term in the vice presidency and association in the cabinet that I would not make any recommendation for public office unless I was asked for a recommendation.

"The third part of the agreement was that I would not make any recommendation as to national policy unless I was asked."

President Harding had extended a similar invitation to his vice president, Calvin Coolidge, who didn't have to worry about the first part of the Garner agreement. According to the record he was not heard at these meetings, and at many of them he was not even seen.

Vice President Dawes respectfully declined the invitation to attend cabinet meetings. Curtis attended very seldom.

Garner Didn't Get Far Out of Touch

When Garner heard Mr. Dewey's statement regarding his conception of his running mate if he were elected, the sage of Uvalde said something to the effect that most of the time when he was vice president, he was so worried that the Republican senators would put something over on him in case of a tie vote that he never dared to get more than a block away from the Capitol steps.

While it is quite true that the vice president of the government, his chief function is presiding over the senate and casting a vote like any other member of the upper house in case of a tie.

If he were too closely associated with the executive branch of the government he might fail in his really important role, that of rallying support for administration measures in his own party and doing what he can to keep the majority party as favorably inclined to the White House as possible.

Most vice presidents with a sense of humor have been careful not to take themselves too seriously. Vice President Marshall (under Wilson) made a considerable contribution to the climate of Washington by indulging in wisecracks and offering a sharp contrast to Wilson's less frivolous utterances.

Mr. Garner took a somewhat similar line when he said at the end of his first term: "The job is delightful. I like it. But it is entirely unimportant."

GREAT GRAPE GLUE

By MARY K. CHEATHAM

Agnes was so thrilled over her new home that she didn't realize what a menace the grape arbor would prove to her newly-found happiness, until it challenged her to the supreme test.

WHEN they bought the house, Agnes hadn't thought much about the grape arbor. She knew it was there, of course, but it was spring and the tendrils were just beginning to green out along the back walk. Now, it was summer, and the vines were heavy with purple clusters.

"Boy! Isn't that something?" said Greg, at breakfast. "Our own vineyard, right in our own back yard. And if there's one thing I like to eat, it's fresh, homemade grape jelly."

Agnes felt a twinge of misgivings, but even then, she failed to recognize the arbor for what it was—a menace to her marriage.

"Guess I'll have to make some," she answered, with just a shade of doubt. "I'll go out and pick the grapes right after I get you off to work."

"Fine," beamed Greg, swallowing the last of his coffee. "Mom always makes it with pure grape juice and sugar. Better call her if you have any trouble."

"Oh, I'll manage," answered Agnes, smiling with a great show of confidence. "After all, I learned to cook, didn't I?"

"Sure did, Hon," agreed Greg, reaching for his hat. "Got to run along, now. Good luck with the jelly."

They exchanged their usual after-breakfast bride-and-groom kiss, and Greg hurried out the front door. When the breakfast dishes were carefully cleared up, Agnes took a dishpan and approached the arbor. It was pleasant there. Working in the sunshine, to the busy humming of bees, she felt the lightness come back into her heart.

After all, anybody could learn to make jelly. Dew lay heavily upon the purple globules, as she placed them, bunch by bunch, in the dishpan. She breathed deep of their winey fragrance, and smiled in her new sense of ownership.

"Making jelly?" called her neighbor, across the back fence. "Those grapes always did make the best jelly!"

"Going to try it," Agnes called back. "I've never made any before, but I have a good cookbook, and I think I can do it all right."

"It's easy," said the neighbor. "I never bother with a cookbook, myself."

Back and forth, Agnes gazed, from picture to spoon, from spoon to picture, until both seemed to blend into one. At it is point, she thought the mixture had neared the jelling stage, but her eyes ached so from their intentness, she was no longer certain whether two drops had really run off the spoon, or she had really imagined it. Better cook it a little longer, she thought, to be sure. Slightly after the time specified, she poured the jelly into the hot glasses. Not until then did she relax. Her nerves, she realized, had been pounding like trip hammers.

As she tidied the kitchen, Agnes gazed with pride at the glasses on the utility cabinet. Her first jelly! It looked a trifle dark, but then liked to twit her about her conversations with the girls.

"Why don't you use commercial pectin?" asked Lucille, when Agnes had confided her failure. "Then you can use the short-boil method, and it's practically fool-proof."

"Because Greg's Mom doesn't," Agnes answered crossly. "It's got to be the long-boil method or nothing."

"Fiddlesticks," concluded Lucille. "Buy the pectin, and come to the card club tomorrow afternoon."

But Agnes shook her head stubbornly. "No old grape jelly," she said, "is going to stand in the way of my wedded bliss."

She went at it again the next morning with great determination. This time, she was careful not to overcook the boiling mass. Jubilantly, she poured it into the glasses. "There," she thought, setting it to cool. "Just let my fine Gregory find fault with that!"

She put on her frilliest apron, and smiled at Greg over the dinner-table. This time, when he plunged his spoon into the glass, he did not have to pull. The jelly trickled off the spoon in a ruby stream.

Greg grinned, uncertainly. "Wonderful stuff for pancakes," he said. With great restraint, Agnes checked the most amazing desire to throw something. After all, it wasn't Greg's fault he had a stupid wife!

She sighed, wearily, but that evening, too, had a defensive overcast. Unmollified, she accepted the unexpected apology in Greg's goodnight kiss. "Honey," he said, "you know I don't care a hoot about those old grapes."

The following day was hot, but Agnes doubled her hours at the kitchen stove. The warmer she became, the greater grew her resentment. "Why," she asked herself, "did we ever have to buy a house with an old grape arbor!"

Batch after batch she cooked, alternating between syrup and gum. Somehow, she just couldn't get it right. Grimly, she poured the last sticky mess into the glasses. Not waiting to clear the kitchen, she marched upstairs and threw herself across the bed.

"Only a silly bride," she said, "would cry over not being able to make jelly." But the tears soaked into the pillow all the same and, discouraged and exhausted, she fell asleep.

"Incidentally, not one of the sons finished high school, for they all had to work in their middle teens. Their father often was absent from home for long periods. They feel no resentment; they want him to be comfortable. But they don't want him around. Does this sound utterly wrong and heartless?"

"Your father-in-law is reaping what he has sowed. He is physically cared for, well fed and comfortable. Your own household goes on more smoothly and happily without that additional burden. With four children, a garden, tenants, meals and housework, you have plenty to do. Rise above the maddening interference of your friends, to whom Gramp evidently is making an appeal. If you can get your doctor to say that Gramp is far better off where he is, keeping to meal hours and controlled by the routine of an institution, by all means, let it be that way, a usable weapon."

But whether you get that or not, assume a firm attitude, saying to everyone with mild sympathetic amusement that poor Gramp would not be happy anyway and is really an institution case now. Let it go at that.

KATHLEEN NORRIS Care of the Aged

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

FRANCES CARSON of Seattle writes me a variation of an age-old problem. This is a part of her letter.

"Seven years ago, when my husband's mother died, we moved into the old family home with his father, saving ourselves a high rent and giving our three children welcome space and a garden to play in. Frank's father was then 60. He never had been a good husband or a good father."

Everything about the house was run down and there were many bills—over $2,000 in all. Old Mr. Carson had had a slight stroke. When he had done anything at all, he had been a chemist and used the entire third floor of four rooms and bath as his laboratory.

"For more than five years I took care of the house, my father-in-law, three boys and finally a baby girl. Frank and I cleared up bills by plenty of sacrifice and hard work."

"All this time, Gramp, as the children call him, was an irritable and trying burden. His breakfast had to be carried upstairs to him and he wanted his dinner at four, believing in eating only two meals a day. He was very ugly with the children and they avoided his company. That laboratory upstairs was a constant menace."

Has Second Stroke.

"A year ago Gramp had a second slight stroke. Giving him the impression that it was merely for observation, we got him into a home. We have left him there. Twice he has taken taxis and come home and twice Frank and Billy, one of the other brothers, have taken him back. It has made us sick with compunction and worry, but we have been firm.

"Meanwhile," Frances' letter goes on, "I have put the top floor in spick-and-span order and rented it furnished for a sum that wonderfully helps out our crowded budget. If Gramp came back, there would be no other place to put him, I don't care my rent and have to let him once more reduce the top floor to confusion and disorder."

"But meanwhile, also, our friends have taken it upon themselves to plead Gramp's case. After all, he is partially disabled. After all, he is old. Can't we, they argue, put up with a little extra work and inconvenience for the sake of an old man who was once rich and prominent? Even our minister has spoken gently and gravely to both Frank and me."

"These good friends, of course, can't see the daily weariness and strain of it," Frances concludes her letter. "Mine are fine boys, but constant criticism and nagging upset their nerves, as they do mine."

Sons Had to Work.

"Incidentally, not one of the sons finished high school, for they all had to work in their middle teens. Their father often was absent from home for long periods. They feel no resentment; they want him to be comfortable. But they don't want him around. Does this sound utterly wrong and heartless?"

Later a lumberjack's axhead flew off and narrowly missed his head. Dick is not superstitious, but he didn't hang around to see if he would be lucky a third time.

Radio Row folks at Toots Shor's the other evening stared and then stared again when they saw a large sombrero with a familiar face beneath it. The face belonged to Arthur Godfrey. He was trying to make his guest, Gene Autry, feel at home.

ODDS AND ENDS—Louis Hayward, currently appearing in Columbia's "A Crooked Mile," wants to make a film like "Ladies in Retirement" with his former wife, Ida Lupino. That was their last one together. . . . Alan Young returns to the air in January with his own show, but will continue with the Jimmy Durante show. . . . Herb Sheldon has made a series of screen shorts for Universal.

When Jack Carson registered for the elections he gave his occupation as actor and cattleman. He's an actor, all right—but on his ranch he has one lone bull calf!

Edmond O'Brien's marriage to Olga San Juan took place on a Sunday evening. Next morning he was working in love scenes with Viveca Lindfors for "Somewhere in the City," and she was having wardrobe fittings at another studio.

Wanda Cantlon, Lucille Ball's stand-in in "Sorrowful Jones," has been added to "A Mask for Lucretia." Lucille spent a lot of time coaching her. Since then Wanda has played leading roles in three westerns.

Soft-Hearted Bartender Sponsors Children's Hour

HOBOKEN, N. J.—Now it's a saloon with a children's hour. The place is run by one Parky Radigan, who has a soft spot in his heart for the neighboring kids.

He hates to see those children's television programs going to waste in his place," he says, "don't get to see television. They're too young to drink."

Heroic Motorman Who Lost Legs is Told of Amputation

BOSTON, MASS.—Alphonse J. McDonald, 31, heroic motorman who lost both legs trying to stop a runaway trolley car, has been told for the first time about the amputations.

The Rev. Lawrence Brock made his daily visit to the hospital and just as he was leaving he grasped McDonald's hand and said: "There's one more thing I want to tell you before I leave until tomorrow. We all believe you have won your fight for life."

PEP SKIT
A hilarious pep skit was presented to the student body before the basketball game last Friday. The sophomores assisted by Miss Stathas, sponsored it. As the curtain opened, Irene Kainess, Diane Leonardelli, and Pat Perkins, Diane Leonardelli, and Pat Perkins were on the stage dressed in sweatshirts, slacks, bonnets, and carried canes. They sang new songs which glorified Kewaskum's fighting spirit. After these they led the student body in cheering and singing the school song. A short talk by Mr. Mitchell on the prospects of his team ended the pep rally. The skit was narrated by Joan Miller. —khs—

SEASON OPENER
Coach Ernie Mitchell's "Indians" opened their cage season Friday at Sheboygan Falls. The team tried their hardest but bowed down to a fast-breaking Falls team—38-25. Coach Mitchell was more or less trying to find the right men to fill in the two vacancies on the first string. Scoring for Kewaskum was as follows:

	PG	FT	FP
J. Tessar	5	9	2
J. Wink	9	1	4
B. Dreher	2	2	1
J. Koug	9	1	2
L. Kempf	9	9	0
L. Keller	2	1	0
E. Krueger	3	9	0
	1	2	3
Kewaskum	5	3	6
Sheboygan Falls	8	12	11

"B" GAME
The "B" teams lost their first game to Sheboygan Falls. Many players saw action in the tussle. The score by quarters:

	1	2	3	4	T
Kewaskum	6	4	5	9	15
Sheboygan Falls	6	14	11	3	34

ON THE BEAM
The Indians came back from their defeat Friday to knock Cedar Grove flat, 71-34 when it seemed that everybody "got into the act" when it came to scoring. "Doc" Mitchell used every one of his reserves in this one-sided contest. The boys were "hot" and the individual scoring was heavy while the crowd was treated to a show of fine marksmanship and fine floor play. If the Indians continue this pace there will be no doubt about this year's Tri-County championship.

INDIVIDUAL STATISTICS

COUNTY HOLSTEIN BREEDERS VOTE TO HOLD 1949 SIRE SALE
At a meeting of the directors of the Washington County Holstein Breeders' association, it was voted to sponsor a 4-H and FFA sire sale for the coming year. The project and the sale will be conducted similar to the ones held during the past 4 years.

Holstein breeders are rearing some of their best sire calves for the project. Those wishing to consign calves should notify the county office, and 4-H and FFA members wishing to enroll in a project which has real merits and which can get them a reasonable profit, should plan now to enroll in this project.

The project will be limited to 25 boys approved by the county committee in charge. 4-H club members should discuss the project with their club leaders and enroll with the advice and comment of their leaders.

The sire calves will be allotted by a drawing at the time of the annual winter meeting of the association. The project is limited to boys under 21 years of age.

POTATO AND FORAGE CROP MEET AT ROCKFIELD DEC. 3
Washington county ranks well out in front as a producer of potatoes, grain, and forage crops.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Straub of Wauwatosa and Carrol Straub of St. Francis spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Straub.

Mrs. Marie Strauch and Mrs. Anna Heibler were at Milwaukee to view the remains of Joe Schlusser on Wednesday who had passed away of a heart attack.

St. Kilian homemakers had their first card club at the home of Mrs. A. J. Felix on Tuesday, with honors going to Mrs. Joe Flaseh, Mrs. John Felix, Joe Flaseh and Art. Weiland. Lunch was served and the next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Joe Flaseh on Nov. 30.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Schmitt, Verna Strobel of St. Kilian; Mr. and Mrs. Christ Mathies of Campbellport attended the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. John Buehler at Beaver Dam. Their four priest sons were officers at the solemn high mass honoring their parents. Mr. and Mrs. Buehler were the aunt and uncle of the former relatives.

Soup Makes an Easy Supper!
(See Recipes Below.)

Menu Short-Cuts

THERE'S shopping, cleaning, baking, decorating, wrapping Christmas presents and a hundred other things to do these days before Christmas. Where does one find time to plan and make meals?

Now is an excellent time to put menu short-cuts into operation. Plan to serve soups often, not as a first course, but as a main dish. Serve those casseroles, too, that whip together in no time and bake in half an hour or so without any watching or further attention.

Have foods that are hearty, and make certain there's enough for seconds or thirds because the family will be hungry now that appetites have been sharpened by cold weather.

HERE ARE some excellent soups which can easily take the place of a main dish at dinner.

Navy Bean Soup (Serves 6)

- 1 1/4 cups dried pea beans
- 2 quarts cold water
- Lamb bones
- 2 tablespoons salt
- 1 clove of garlic, peeled
- 8 to 10 peppercorns
- 1 bay leaf
- 4 sprigs parsley
- 1/2 cup minced onion
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1/4 teaspoon marjoram
- 2 cups canned tomatoes

Pick over beans, then wash and soak in cold water overnight. Drain; measure liquid from beans and add enough to make two quarts. Add to beans with lamb bones and salt. The next six ingredients in a cloth bag and add to water and bones. Cover, bring to a boil, then simmer for four hours until beans are tender. Remove bones and spice bag, then strain soup. Mash beans. Add any pieces of meat which cling to bones and the tomatoes. Reheat and serve hot.

SOUPS take long to cook, but, of course, need little watching, and thus they are such time-savers to have for meals. Here's another delicious, hearty soup:

Oxtail Soup (Serves 12)

- 1 1/2 pounds lean beef
- 2 oxtails, split
- 5 quarts cold water
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 1 large onion, diced
- 1/4 cup celery root, diced
- 1 tablespoon chopped parsley
- 2 tablespoons fat
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 3 carrots, diced

Cut oxtail into small pieces and fry lightly in fat. Cube the beef and add with oxtail to water and salt. Place in large kettle, cover and let cook slowly for about four hours. Add vegetables and cook for one hour longer, or until stock is reduced by half. Strain. Heat fat in skillet, add flour and brown slowly. Add one cup of the soup and then stir into remaining stock.

LYNN SAYS: Now's the Time to Get Ready for the Holidays

If you're buying fresh flowers, lengthen their life by spraying liquid wax on them. Be sure the leaves and petals are free from water before waxing.

Broken bits of cookies, rolled fine, should be kept in jars so they will be ready at a moment's notice to be rolled into a crust for pie. Use one of the ready-mix puddings for the filling and top with whipped cream or meringue.

Get out the glassware you're going to use for the holidays. Wash it in as hot water as your hands can take, use light suds. Rinse sticky milk glasses with lukewarm water and soda before washing.

Your linoleum will stay clean if you use one-half cup of soap flakes to two gallons of warm water for washing. Rinse, wax and then polish the floor, to keep it shining. Rinse silverware as soon as it comes off the table to prevent leftover food from tarnishing it. Or, place it in a dish of soapy water as soon as removed from the plates.

*Corn Chowder (Serves 6)

- 4 cups diced potatoes
- 2 cups boiling water
- 1 2" square fat salt pork
- 1 large onion, sliced
- 1 No. 2 can kernel corn
- 1 quart milk
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper

Cut salt pork into cubes and brown in a large saucepan. Add onion and cook until tender. Add diced potatoes and water; cover and cook until potatoes are tender. Add corn, milk and seasonings. Heat and serve garnished with a sprinkling of paprika.

Leftover meats are put to good use in these casseroles which will make easy work for you on these busy days before the holidays.

Noodles Neapolitan (Serves 6)

- 1/2 pound noodles, cooked
- 2 1/2 cups sliced chicken or ham
- 1 cup milk or cream
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup buttered bread or cracker crumbs

After noodles are cooked in boiling, salted water, rinse and drain them. Into a well-greased dish, place layers of noodles, then meat and repeat until all are used. Beat eggs, add milk, and pour over noodles and meat. Top with crumbs. Bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven for 25-30 minutes or until browned on top.

THE FRUIT puddings mentioned earlier need take no longer to make than the main dishes for the meal. Both of these recipes for desserts are nourishing and will be well received.

*Fig Pudding (Serves 6)

- 2 eggs, beaten
- 1 cup sugar
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 cup walnuts, chopped
- 1 cup figs, chopped

Beat eggs until light, then add sugar, sifted flour and remaining ingredients. Stir well and bake in a buttered casserole dish in a slow (325-degree) oven for 25 minutes.

Apricot Whip (Serves 6)

- 1/2 pound dried apricots
- 1/2 cup sugar
- Whites of 5 eggs
- 1/2 teaspoon lemon juice

Pick over and wash fruit. Cook in water, just enough to cover, until soft. Remove stones and put through strainer. Add sugar and cook five minutes. Beat egg whites until stiff and fold in fruit. Heap lightly in a buttered baking dish and bake in a slow (325-degree) oven 35 minutes. Serve with custard sauce or cream.

If you're making several different kinds of cookies, label their tins and jars so you can find each kind when you want them.

Crisp cookies should not be stored with soft ones or they will become soggy.

Jars of cheese kept on hand will be put to work easily, satisfying a horde of hungry guests who just drop in for a visit.

One fruit gelatin salad and one molded vegetable salad are good to have on hand for holiday week-ends for unexpected guests.

Snowy white table linens will stay white if you use plenty of hot water for laundering. If stored for any length of time, use dark blue or black tissue paper for wrapping to prevent their becoming yellowed.

Scour your baking pans before the holidays come, know what you have and where they are so you don't have to spend time looking for them when the cakes and cookies are already mixed.

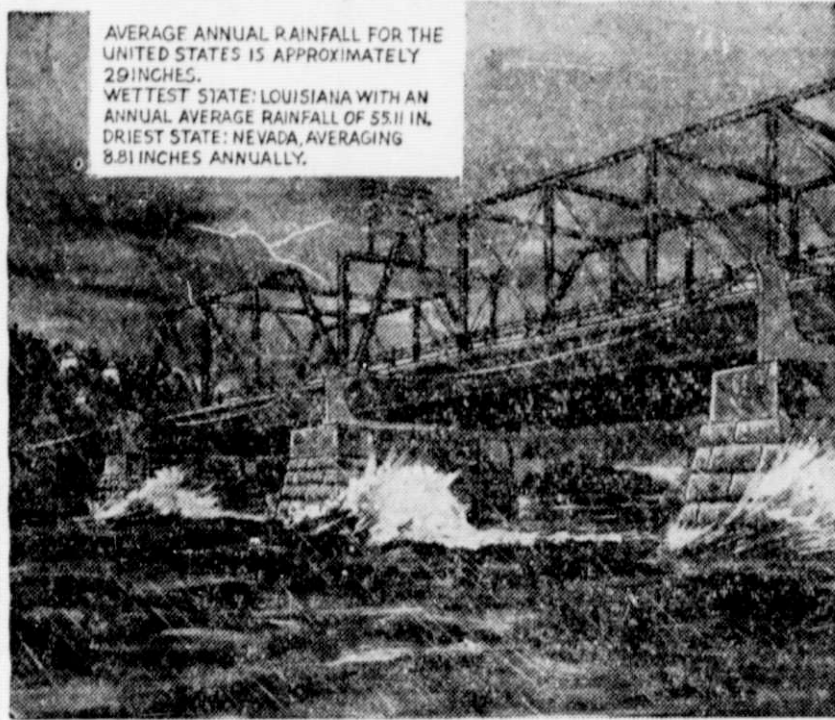

Keep relishes chilling in the refrigerator so you have them ready to serve with sandwiches or sliced meats.

HOW TO FIX IT

BY TOM GREGORY

NEVER ATTEMPT TO REMOVE THE SCREW END OF A BROKEN ELECTRIC LIGHT BULB WITH YOUR BARE HANDS. MANY PERSONS WHO HAVE TRIED IT CAME AWAY FROM THE TASK WITH GASHED FINGERS.

IT IS NO LESS DANGEROUS TO REMOVE THE BULB WITH PLIERS, INASMUCH AS BITS OF GLASS MAY FLY OFF INTO YOUR EYE.

SAFEST WAY IS TO TAKE AN ORDINARY CORK AND PRESS IT FIRMLY INTO THE BASE. YOU WILL FIND IT IS RELATIVELY EASY TO UNSCREW THE BULB IN THIS FASHION.

WHEN THE PLUG ON AN ELECTRIC CORD IS NOT IN USE ITS PRONGS CAN BE EASILY DAMAGED OR BROKEN. TO PREVENT THIS, SPLIT OPPOSITE SIDES OF A CORK AND FORCE IT BETWEEN THE PRONGS AS SHOWN. THE CORK CAN BE FASTENED TO THE CORD WITH A RUBBER BAND WHEN THE PLUG IS IN USE.

Italian Riviera Is Cheaper Than French

If you are confused on the "Riviera" shores of the Mediterranean, as between Italian and French this may help: The French Riviera begins at Marseilles and runs past the resort cities and towns of Cannes, Nice, Cap d'Antibe and Juan Les Pins to Monte Carlo. There begins the Italian Riviera, much less expensive than its French neighbor.

WANTED: COMMUNITY DIVIDENDS!

Sure, our town needs improving, but how? That's easy. If all the dollars that are spent in out-of-town trade were spent right here, our town's business would prosper and make our town a better place in which to live.

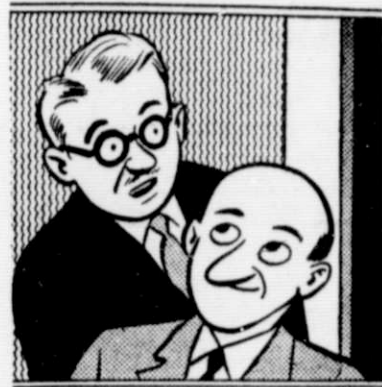

Good Excuse

LIKE many young couples, this one made the mistake of bringing Junior to the movies. The infant saw no reason why he should be quiet, but the manager did. "If you can't keep the kid quiet," the manager whispered harshly, "I'll have to ask you to leave." Promptly, the baby went to sleep. The movie went on and turned out to be one of those interminable, boring productions. The husband, shifting uneasily in his seat, finally nudged his wife. "Give Junior a punch," he moaned.

Two and Two Are Six
Julius Rosenwald, the financier and philanthropist, never took his success too seriously. "I could never understand the popular belief that because a man makes a lot of money he has a lot of brains," Rosenwald once said, and then told this story:
A certain man won a million dollars on number 14. When asked how he had figured it out, he said: "I had a dream in which I saw a great big 8, then the next night I dreamed I saw a great big 6, so I used my brains and figured that 9 and 6 is 14."

TOO MUCH COMPETITION

"I say, old chap, don't you ever take your wife out for a Sunday drive?"
"Nope. My car's getting old and I can't cope with both of them at the same time."

A Good Trick

The corporal was preparing to finger a recruit.
"Wash your hands," he said.
"Both of them?" asked the recruit.
After a moment's hesitation, the corporal said:
"No, just one. I want to see you do it."

MENTAL DELUSIONS

A visitor to an asylum asked an inmate his name.
"George Washington," was the reply.
"But," said the perplexed visitor, "last time I was here you were Abraham Lincoln."
"That," said the man sadly, "was by my first wife."

Between the Lines

The junior member of a law firm was sent out of town to try a criminal case. "Let me know immediately when a verdict has been reached," counseled the senior member.
About a week later, the senior partner received a telegram. "Justice has triumphed," it read.
"Without hesitation he wired back: "Appeal at once."

WORD OF WARNING

An inmate of the asylum approached the painter hard at work on the ceiling.
"Hey, mister, have you got a good hold on that brush."
"I think so—why?"
"Well, hang on tight—I'm going to move this ladder."

Nothing New

"In New York," he said, "we have a company that does nothing but answer phone calls for other people."
"That's nothing," replied the tired suburbanite with three teenage daughters, "I've been doing that for years myself."

Green Lake Admitted to Tri-County Grid League

Fox River Valley Tri-County principals, meeting last Wednesday night, voted to admit Green Lake High school for 1949 six-man football competition, rounding out a six-man circuit, and learned that Fond du Lac Senior High school officials would not stage the district basketball tournament in February.

In an attempt to accommodate expected record crowds for the state W. L. A. A. tournament elimination, held for the last several years at North Fond du Lac, it was voted to split the first two rounds of the meet between North Fond du Lac and Lomira and to hold the championship and consolation finals on a neutral floor.

No agreement was reached, however, on the site for the district final Tri-County principals and coaches will decide the floor where the title game will be held at a later date.

More than 20 Tri-County conference principals and coaches as well as representatives from Winneconne and Green Lake held their annual fall meeting at the Hotel Retlaw and met with Paul F. Neversman, Marinette, W. L. A. A. secretary.

F. L. Mossberg, Rosendale, told Tri-County men that he could not state whether his school would have football next year or not so Green Lake was admitted for next season's competition.

It was reported that Fond du Lac school officials notified the Tri-County conference that the Senior school floor "could not be made available" for the district tournament since the Fond du Lac school does not participate in the state tourney and since Fox River Valley games are scheduled during the time of the district meet.

Principal James A. Jones, North Fond du Lac, made the motion that two tourney sites be used for quarter-final and semi-final games. Probable North Fondy entries are North Fondy, Winneconne, Brandon, Rosendale and Green Lake. Probable Lomira tourney entries are Lomira, Kewaskum, Campbellsport and Oakfield.
