

Kewaskum to Send 30 to Badger Firemen's Meeting, Banquet Sun.

Don't play with matches Sunday because there won't be any firemen in town. Menomonee Falls firemen will be hosts to the departments of the Badger Firemen's association at the mid-winter meeting and banquet that afternoon and evening and Kewaskum will be represented almost 100 per cent. Thirty of the thirty-two members of the local department have signified their intention of attending the banquet and will make the trip in a chartered bus which will leave the fire house at 3:30 p. m. Last year's annual meet and banquet was held in Kewaskum.

In the afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock visiting chiefs, their assistants and delegates will attend an association business meeting which will be held in the Menomonee Falls firemen's hall. Matters of general interest for the welfare of the association will be discussed.

At 6 p. m. sharp the big banquet will get under way at the new St. Mary's Catholic school auditorium, where a delicious country style dinner will be served by the Ladies' society of the parish. Weather permitting, the attendance is expected to be one of the largest in the history of the association. Covers will be laid for more than 300 guests. Musical numbers will be rendered during the dinner. Following the banquet there will be an entertaining program, including several speakers.

The executive board of the association and Chief Arnold Droege and staff of the Menomonee Falls department are in charge of the program arrangements and banquet.

Wayne Couple Hurt as Car Skids on Icy Road

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Jaeger, residing on Route 3, Kewaskum, in Wayne Center, suffered injuries on Sunday in an accident due to the icy condition of County Trunk W. one and one-half miles south of Wayne. Jaeger operates a barber shop in Wayne.

Jaeger, 41, the driver, suffered a bump on the head. His wife, 31, sustained what at first was believed to be only bumps and body bruises but her injuries became serious later and she was taken to St. Joseph's hospital, West Bend, Tuesday in Miller's ambulance. It is reported she is suffering from a fractured skull and probable internal injuries.

The accident resulted when Jaeger's auto skidded on ice and after leaving the highway on the left side rolled over a wire and stone fence and came to a stop in a nearby field right side up. The sides, top and front end of the auto were badly damaged.

Ice on the curve at the intersection of North Main and Eighth streets in West Bend caused an accident Tuesday afternoon. A car driven by James Gauer, Milwaukee, skidded into one driven by Mrs. Mike Kohn of Kewaskum. Damage to the cars was not heavy and no one was injured.

The front end of a 1948 Chevrolet driven by Ivan Buss, R. 3, Kewaskum, was damaged when it struck the side of a truck at an intersection in West Bend last Friday. The truck was not damaged and no one was injured.

Autos driven by Charles A. Fandrich, West Bend, and Allen Tessar, Kewaskum, figured in an accident last Thursday morning on Hwy. 55, two blocks north of County Trunk "D," near the Lighthouse ballroom. The drivers escaped injury but there was some property damage to the cars.

According to the sheriff's report, Fandrich's auto was traveling north on 55 when the driver slowed up to make a turn to the right into a driveway but changed his mind and brought his machine to a stop on the highway. Tessar's car, traveling north, skidded on ice and struck Fandrich's in the left rear. The accident was unavoidable.

L. Rosenheimers and Son, Bette Searles on Trips

Mr. and Mrs. Lehman P. Rosenheimer left Sunday to spend the remainder of the winter vacationing in the South.

Their son, Lehman L. Rosenheimer, in company with Elmo Rosenheimer of Jackson, left last Thursday on a vacation trip to Aspen, Colo., and Sun Valley, Idaho. The publicity office at Aspen sends word that Lehman L. Rosenheimer arrived there last Friday and adds that there has been no blizzard in Aspen, although almost daily they get two to six inches of snow with sunshine in between. The Southern Rocky Mountain Ski association jumping championship, sponsored by the Aspen Ski club, will be held in Aspen Jan. 30. The publicity office also includes a "plug" that Aspen in all seasons has year round appeal—with accommodations, activities and facilities to please every guest and suit every budget.

Miss Bette Searles, village, along with relatives from Wisconsin Rapid, left Thursday morning for Key West, Fla. where they will spend the next two weeks vacationing.

BUCKLIN GIVES KIWANISANS HISTORY OF STATE, COUNTY

Local Kwanians became history students for a little while Monday evening when Judge F. W. Bucklin of West Bend gave a history, briefly and geographically, of Wisconsin and then followed with an account of earlier days in Washington county.

The judge spoke of difficulties encountered in road traveling, of land purchases in old Washington county (mentioning one particular sale of one-third of an acre for $608.00), of county seat disputes, of the division into Washington and Ozaukee counties, and of troubles connected to getting records to West Bend.

Minutes of early meetings were read. Many remarks found in these old records proved interesting, especially regarding low taxes and the establishment of so early a period of a poor farm.

Annual Meeting of Kewaskum Mutual

The annual meeting of the Kewaskum Mutual Fire Insurance company was held in the company's office on Thursday morning, Jan. 20. Secretary Theodore R. Schmidt reported at the meeting that the company had written the largest premium volume in its history. The net premiums written were $121,638.56 and the net losses paid were $45,818.05. The admitted assets of the company on Dec. 31 were $307,748.25 and the surplus to policyholders was $168,149.69. The company has over 10,000 policyholders in Wisconsin with $33,555,831 insurance in force. A license has been received from the Minnesota Insurance Department to write insurance in that state.

Theodore R. Schmidt, August E. Koch and George H. Schmidt were re-elected directors for the term of three years each. Other directors are L. P. Rosenheimer, M. W. Rosenheimer, Peter J. Haug and Carl P. Schaefer. The following officers were re-elected: L. P. Rosenheimer, president; M. W. Rosenheimer, vice-president; Theodore R. Schmidt, secretary-treasurer and general manager.

Landmann Represents Boy Scout Council in Chicago

Leo J. Promen, Fond du Lac, president of the Badger Council, Boy Scouts of America, and Paul Landmann, Kewaskum, southeast district vice chairman and chairman of the council advancement committee, officially represented the Badger Council in Chicago Tuesday, Jan. 25, in the setting up of the "Wampum Conference."

Committees will be made up of councils of region 7 which consists of the states surrounding the Great Lakes. The conference will be held in June at College Camp, Lake Geneva, Wis. for men interested in scouting finances. The regional committee, of which Promen and Landmann are a part, is called the "committee of 200" and they will assist in making plans for the third year's outstanding training feature.

Held last year was the Hoe Down, special training for scouts and in 1947 the "We-E-Ka-How" training for cubbers. In the two previous events some 2400 men and women participated. At the "Wampum" conference there were about 800 selected scouts of region 7.

At a 6:30 p. m. district dinner meeting of the southeast district of the Badger Council Scouters held last Tuesday at the Central hotel, Hartley, officers were elected and Paul Landmann was elected vice-chairman of the district.

47 ATTEND ANNUAL FOUNDERS DAY DINNER OF WOMEN'S CLUB

The Kewaskum Women's club held its 26th annual Founders Day dinner at the Republican Hotel Saturday evening, Jan. 22. The dinner was attended by 47 members and guests.

Following the meal there was community singing led by Elmer Schabo. The remainder of the evening was spent in playing cards.

Prizes for bridge went to Mrs. Schultz, Mrs. L. P. Rosenheimer, Mrs. Annie Laurie Smith, Mrs. R. G. Edwards, Mr. C. Rose and Mr. L. Rosenheimer. The sheephead prize went to Ray Schaefer, Mrs. R. Schwartz and Wilmer Falk won prizes for court whist. Gin rummy honors went to L. P. Rosenheimer, C. Sparks, and Mrs. Billy Schaefer.

During the evening moving pictures were taken of the group by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Landmann.

HUGE CROWDS ATTRACTED TO SHOWING OF NEW CHEVROLET

The first showing of the new 1949 Chevrolet at Honeck's Chevrolet garage last Saturday drew a very large number of visitors. K. A. Honeck Jr. reported this week that people went through his show room almost continuously Saturday and many more came to see the new model Sunday, Monday and throughout the week. Honeck stated that the comments of the people indicated they took an excellent reaction and were tremendously affected with the 1949 model.

OFFICERS ELECTED BY K-M SPORTSMEN'S ASSOCIATION

At the regular meeting of the Kettle Moraine Sportsmen's association of Kewaskum in the Legion Memorial building Monday night officers were elected for the next year. All of the current officers were re-elected for another term. They are Herbert Backhaus, president; Carl Backhaus, vice-president; Charles Miller, secretary; and Marvin A. Martin, treasurer. Following the meeting lunch was served.

March of Dimes Nears End; Final Plea Made

Speaking before the West Bend Rotary club Monday, R. D. Rice, West Bend, general chairman of the Washington county March of Dimes campaign, pointed out that the 1948 drive officially comes to an end Monday, Jan. 23, and deplored the fact that the county is lagging far behind in contributions this year, compared with what it has done in previous years.

Rice urged his fellow Rotarians to take the lead in an all-out effort to make the 1949 campaign the biggest and best ever undertaken in Washington county. He intimated the drive could still be a success if the citizens of Washington county put their shoulders to the wheel during the few days left for fund raising purposes.

"When Jan. 31 has passed," the chairman emphasized, "we will know just how well prepared and equipped we will be for the hot polo months of summertime. Let us not forget that this drive must produce results sufficient to provide care for all those who may be stricken during the next 12 months' period."

The county March of Dimes chairman appealed to the people of the county to send in voluntary contributions to him at the earliest possible moment and to make those contributions as generous as possible—more generous than in previous years, if at all possible.

Coin collectors, he added, will remain in stores and public places throughout the county until the last possible moment for the convenience of the public and in an effort to make the drive the success expected of it.

"A heavy responsibility rests on the shoulders of everyone in our community," Rice said. "That responsibility is to see to it now that every possible aid can be given to all our boys and girls, and adults as well, should infantile paralysis strike at our homes."

"We hope we may escape this year, but hope alone is a fool's weapon. We know greater contributions to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis are needed in its fight to help where polio has stricken, to help those who were stricken in prior years, and to carry on the important research which eventually will erase infantile paralysis from the list of dangers facing our children."

What applies to the National Foundation pertains equally as well to the Washington county chapter, Rice said. He disclosed the county chapter "is in a bad way" because its treasury is depleted. "It just hasn't any more funds," he said.

In a statement for publication in this week's county papers, Rice reminded that only three days are left to live up to the responsibilities he listed. His appeal to the readers of this newspaper is:

"Give to the March of Dimes. This year give 50 per cent MORE to this great cause."

Rice was hopeful that activities under way in some communities of the county would give the 1949 March of Dimes a much needed boost.

Among those benefit events for the polo fund is a basketball doubleheader Sunday, Jan. 30, at the McLane school gymnasium in West Bend, when the powerful West Bend Benders of the Badger State league will tackle the Green Bay Packers quintet, featuring such stars as Tony Canadno, Ted Fritsch, Andy Uram, and others. This game will start at 8:30 p. m.

The Bender-Packer game will be preceded by a regulation Land o' Rivers contest at 7:15 p. m. between the fast coming West Bend Lithias and the strong Mesquin five. All gate receipts will be turned over to the March of Dimes, the Bender management has informed Rice.

The West Bend Accordionists will furnish music between games and between halves of the Bender-Packer game, and the Bender management has indicated a number of "surprises" may be in store to interest young and older fans alike. Rice will be in attendance and it is expected several other widely known dignitaries will be present.

Another basketball doubleheader will take place Sunday afternoon, Jan. 30, at Turner hall, Fillmore, the proceeds of which will be devoted specifically to aiding Hilton Rieck and his sister, Mrs. Adalia Landvatter, two Washington county polio victims. This twin bill will feature games at 1:45 between Jackson and the Fillmore Turners and at 2:45 between the Fillmore and Waubesa Old Timers. No admission will be charged, but donations of 50 cents will be received.

In another event, the public is being invited to attend the annual Jackson village and town party at the Jackson village hall Saturday, Jan. 29, at 8 p. m. Dancing, card playing, and refreshments are on the program. The Slinger square dance group will stage a public square dance Saturday evening, Jan. 29, at Roth's hall in that village, and the public is invited to attend. The proceeds will go to the

The Kewaskum Indians were clipped by Cedarburg there Sunday night to the tune of 59 to 47. The setback was the fourth place Indians' fourth of the campaign. Cedarburg's up and coming young team played a classy ball game in turning the trick. The Kewaskum-Cedarburg Land o' Lakes tilt was cancelled because of the slippery roads.

It was Cedarburg all the way as that team forged ahead in the first quarter and increased its margin the rest of the contest. The score was 13-10 at the end of the initial period but in the second quarter the winners built up a lead, tallying 18 points as compared to the Indians' 11. This resulted in a 31-21 score at the intermission. At the finish of the third quarter it stood at 45-30.

The Cedarburg scoring was quite evenly divided between seven players, except for sharpshooting guard Frank who whipped in 17 points. His total was almost equaled by Augie Bilgo, the Indians' leading scorer, whose six buckets and three free tosses netted 17. Forty personals were called, 23 of them on the losers, who lost two men on five fouls.

Last Thursday night the Indians had a game scheduled with the Milwaukee Mercurys but only half of the team showed up, the rest of the squad reportedly having an auto accident enroute here. So to give the fans on hand a game, two Kewaskum players, Honeck and Allen Tessar, teamed up with what there was of the Mercurys and played against the rest of the local team, beating them 65-52. Teichman and Schaefer scored 23 and 20 points respectively for the winners. In the preliminary the Kewaskum Rivers team defeated a weak Fillmore Turners squad by a decisive score.

PLAY AT LOMIRA SUNDAY

This Sunday the Kewaskum Lakes five will play an afternoon game at Lomira against the cellar holders. The Indians looked Lomira here in the first meeting between the two but the Indians did not have Volght, one of the same top scorers, in the lineup that night. He'll be there Sunday. The Rivers team has no game scheduled on Sunday. The following Sunday the Grafton teams come here.

ASSEMBLYMAN HOLTEBECK NAMED ON TWO COMMITTEES

Alex L. Nicol, Sparta, newly elected speaker of the assembly of the Wisconsin legislature, has named Washington County Assemblyman Theodore Holtebeck to two committees of that body. Holtebeck will serve on the committee on elections and the insurance and banking committee. The assemblyman is starting his third term in the legislature.

MARRIAGE BANNES ANNOUNCED

The first announcement of the bans of matrimony for the bridal party of Carroll W. Haug, Kewaskum, and Rosemary P. Comfort of San Gabriel, Calif. was made in Holy Trinity church last Sunday.

March of Dimes
At the time the newspaper went to press, a new bid to be received by the school district conducted by the Board of Education of the Land o' Lakes was a dance held last week Wednesday by the towns of Kewaskum and Waubaesa at Schneider's hall, Wayne Center, in behalf of the March of Dimes.

State Purchases Hagner Indian Mounds Near Here

Purchase by the state of the largest part of a tract in the town of Farmington containing what is known as the "Hagner Indian mounds," was reported last week by Clyde T. Smith, state forest supervisor for southeastern Wisconsin, whose headquarters are at Mauthe lake state park, a few miles northeast of Kewaskum.

The purchase, comprising about 20 acres, according to Smith, was made in December from Harry Jaeger, West Bend, for a consideration of $1,000. The state hopes to convert the area this year into an archeological and historical Indian mound public park, Smith said.

Eliza Perschbacher, Village Native Dies

A heart attack proved fatal to Miss Eliza M. Perschbacher, 84, Sunday afternoon, Jan. 23, at the Methodist Home for the Aged, 929 N. Eleventh st., Milwaukee, where she had resided for the past 10 years.

The deceased was born at Kewaskum July 24, 1864. She resided there with her parents until the death of her mother when she and her father, the late J. N. Perschbacher, moved to West Bend. Later she moved to Milwaukee and upon the death of her brother, John, 10 years ago, moved to the Methodist home there.

Miss Perschbacher was the last surviving member of a family of eight children. She is survived by four sisters-in-law and a number of nieces and nephews.

A nephew, the Rev. H. J. Perschbacher, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Three Rivers, Mich., officiated at the funeral services in the Froemming-Boecker Funeral home, Milwaukee, Tuesday afternoon, and at committal services later in Union cemetery, West Bend. Six nephews acted as pallbearers.

BLIND GIRL IN MUSICALS AT KEWASKUM KAFE SUNDAY

Forrest "Speed" Survis, accordion teacher from West Bend, will bring one of his pupils, Miss Grace Klesinger, a blind girl from that city, to the Kewaskum Kafe for a musicale starting at 7 p. m. and lasting an hour or more on Sunday, Jan. 30. Other musical selections and singing will also be featured. Although totally blind, Miss Klesinger learned to play the accordion and is already playing popular music after only 10 lessons.

COUNTY BOARD ENDORSES GEHL FOR SUPREME COURT

The Washington County Board of Supervisors, meeting in special session ended last week, has gone on record by formal action, endorsing unconditionally the Honorable Judge Edward J. Gehl, West Bend, circuit judge, as candidate for the office of justice of the supreme court of the state of Wisconsin to succeed Chief Justice Marvin B. Rosenberry.

Bank Reports Another Successful Year; One of Strongest in State

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Bank of Kewaskum was held Thursday, Jan. 13, with a large majority of stockholders being present either in person or by proxy.

Reports submitted by M. W. Rosenheimer, president, and Paul Landmann, cashier, disclosed that the bank had another very successful year and that a substantial sum was again added to the capital structure of the bank for the protection of depositors and stockholders. The Bank of Kewaskum now has a capital of $100,000.00, surplus of $150,000.00, and undivided profits and reserves of $79,531.80, a total of $329,531.80. This places the Bank of Kewaskum in the position of being one of the strongest banks in the state of Wisconsin.

Following the reading of the reports the stockholders re-elected all of the directors, namely M. W. Rosenheimer, M. W. Rosenheimer, Paul Landmann, Peter J. Haug, and M. L. Melster.

The directors met immediately after the stockholders' meeting and re-elected the following officers: M. W. Rosenheimer, president; M. W. Rosenheimer, vice-president; Paul Landmann, cashier.

Due to the large increase in the volume of business, the Bank of Kewaskum added Wayland Tassar to its staff of employees, which includes Lois Koch, Mrs. Evelyn Krueger, Mrs. Betty Ann Giese and Mrs. Loraine Slesar.

Wiley Will Support Bill for New Post Office Here

Protesting that the overcrowded post offices in many Wisconsin cities are "bursting at the seams," Senator Alexander Wiley, Republican, announced recently that he would support legislation appropriating $3 million dollars to buy sites and prepare plans for new post offices where they are most needed.

The post office department reported that 121 Wisconsin cities are eligible for new post offices should the legislation providing the funds be passed. Among the places named as eligible is the village of Kewaskum.

The bill for the $2 million dollars passed the senate last year but failed to get by the house of representatives because, it was said, it arrived too late. Senator Wiley now is contacting the senate and house public works committees to see reintroduction of similar legislation.

Things have a way of working out for the best and giving you renewed faith in people—people like Marty Stone, who fancied himself a pretty hard-headed business man, and Doc Howell, who found that Marty's heart was softer than his head, but who couldn't cure the lump in his own throat.

FROM my small office I can see anyone who passes through the wide front doorway before he can see me. In that brief period I can size up a prospective customer, and that's how it was with Fred Miller.

He was small and frail-appearing. There was nothing spectacular about him except his tie, but it was an eye-catcher. Like a nervous monkey, he batted his eyes rapidly to adjust them to the semi-gloom of the garage. I had time to catalog him as a cinch for a lot of extras.

Seeing me in the office, he came over hesitating at the door until I said, "Come on in." I stood to shake his thin hand.

He had blue eyes that were deep-set in his orbits; they hung on mine like those of a dog that isn't sure of a kick or a caress. The flesh beneath them sagged into pouches, and his face was deeply lined. He had the unwholesome pallor of a man who spends a great deal of time in doors.

"What can I do for you?" I asked.

"Why," he said, "I want to buy a car."

"So do a thousand other people in this town," I reminded him.

"I know. That's why I'm here now. I want to get on your list for a future delivery."

Even as I told him it would be at least two years before he'd get his car, the way thing were moving, I was remembering things that I had heard about him—how his home had been broken, how his wife had taken their boy and gone out to the coast.

"Here's something Fred wanted you to have," I told him. His eyes were so full he could hardly find the door handle.

It was said that Miller had agreed to some fantastic alimony if only she would let the boy come to him for at least a part of the year. He had some sort of minor post in one of the government agencies in town; I knew it couldn't pay very much. I didn't see how he would be able to pay me the price of a new auto, but two years is a long time and much could happen in the interim. Anyway, I could always sell a new car. So I felt around in my desk and finally came up with the list. "What kind do you want? Coupe? Sedan?"

"A coupe, please."

"With or without wheels?"

Fred smiled, tentatively. He wasn't sure whether or not he was supposed to laugh.

"I'd like wheels, of course," he answered.

"Want to put something down?"

"Yes, I'd like to. How much do you require?"

"Suit yourself. Even if you give me the full purchase price, it won't bring your car any sooner."

He nodded. "Fair enough. I'll leave you two hundred."

I took the bills and gave him a receipt. Then I asked if he had a trade-in.

He looked startled. "No, Mr. Stone, I haven't. Is it necessary to have one?"

"Oh, no. Not absolutely necessary." A trade-in is still nice to have, though, for there is money in those used cars.

"I don't really have a car at all," he explained. "That's why I want this one. My boy will be coming to visit me every summer and he's getting pretty big now." His eyes lit up, talking about the kid. "In two years he'll be eighteen and he'll want a car. This is no town for a boy if he has to walk everywhere or depend on others for transportation. I plan to have a nice auto for him when he's ready for it."

"Yeah, yeah. That'll be fine." There was something holding back in him when he talked about that kid, and it made me uncomfortable. As though he might talk about him the rest of the day if he had any encouragement. But I wasn't giving him any.

"We'll see what we can do," I said, and stood up.

He arose immediately. "You're busy," he was apologetic, "and I've taken so much of your time."

"Not at all," I said, "come in and see me again."

"Oh, I will," he answered, "you'll get so tired of seeing me around you'll want to throw me out. By the way,

"Doesn't seem to worry him. Can you tell me why?"

Neither of us knew then, but we got the answer later.

When his car was being unloaded at the railway dock, I called him. Most of my customers like to be on hand to get a first glimpse of the car for which they have waited so long. After awhile, he showed up, and I was shocked at his appearance. He was walking slow and easy, like the old man he looked to be. His cheeks were hollow, his sunken eyes deeper than ever. The pouches below them hung away down.

But he was surely happy about the car. I told him it would take a couple of days to get it into shape for delivery.

"Good enough," he said, "I expect the boy over about then."

I never saw Fred again.

Doc let me know. He called me. "Come on over, will you, Marty?" I knew from his tone it was important so I hung up and went right away. He was sitting in his private office.

When I came in, he pushed a bulky envelope across the desk to me. It was addressed to me in an unfamiliar hand. Opening it, I found a two-thousand-dollar insurance policy with me as the beneficiary. The name of the policy holder?

Fred A. Miller!

I showed it to Doc. "Yeah," he said, "Fred died last night. Natural causes, yet he could have lived a lot longer. Only eventually he would become an invalid, and his son would want to take care of him. On the other hand, he could duck out now and leave the lad something. I guess he chose to have the boy remember him as something other than a sick old man."

I could see the picture. But you just don't know what to say in such cases. So I guess I sounded a little irrelevant when I said, "Cars have gone up, Doc. This two thousand won't cover it now."

Doc looked as though he were disappointed in me. He pulled out his check book and picked up a pen. "Well, I want that boy to have that car, Martin. How much is the difference?"

"Put that stuff back, Doc," I said, "you don't have a corner on soft hearts and softer heads."

He grinned then. "I want to share it, at least."

After old Fred had been decently tucked away—and it was amazing how many friends the old boy had—I called the kid over to the garage. Doc and I led him to the car.

"Here's something Fred wanted you to have," I told him. His eyes were so full he could hardly find the door handle. "And here's another thing he told us to give you."

He took the slip of paper I handed him, and I was glad he couldn't read it right then. He only nodded; he couldn't talk, although twice he tried. He put the car in gear and backed out.

Doc and I stood on the sidewalk to watch him drive down the street. About a block away, he pulled over to the curb and stopped. My guess was that he couldn't see through the tears that must have been tumbling down his cheeks. After all, he was only a kid.

I shoved my hands into my pockets and looked at my feet, not talking. For a minute, Doc didn't say anything, either. Then: "What was that you gave him?"

My tone was defensive. Hadn't Doc treated Fred for nothing? "You really didn't think I could keep that policy, did you?"

Doc's voice was sort of soft and strange when he finally answered.

"Fred sure knew a soft-hearted sucker when he saw one, didn't he?" He turned and started. "Now I'm going down to the office and see if modern medicine provides anything for a lump in the throat."

mountains, Fred Miller crept into our conversation.

Doc thought it a shame the way his wife treated him. "That woman milks him for every cent he can get. He owes everyone, including me."

I thought about all the times I had seen Fred down at the club. Now it costs money to belong, and if one gets into the games very often, that's expensive, too. Fred didn't stack very high with me right then, because I couldn't see how he could be broke and keep up the activities I had observed. I guess Doc read my thoughts.

"Don't be too hard on Fred, Marty," he said. "You may not know it, but he isn't down there at that club every night just for fun. He has a sort of job, assistant to the steward. I rather suspect he lives on what he makes there, and sends his regular salary check out to the wife, for that boy." He watched the road for a few moments before continuing. "Fred is not at all well. If he would take it easy, get a lot of rest and stop drinking, he might last a long time, but—rarely talked about his patients, I figured he thought he had said too much already."

I forgot about Fred after that until one fine summer day I found that the next car on my list was for him. But I was dubious about the deal. After all, I was in business to make money; there were a lot of names after his that would be a great deal better business. It looked like Fred Miller was about to get the go-by, at least for a little while.

Then that same day I twisted my knee and had to go to Doc's office to get it wrapped. Climbing the well-worn stairs, I met Fred coming down. He looked just about all in, and very sad. I thought to myself: "Oh well, what can I lose?" and told him about the car.

His face broke into a million wrinkles as he smiled. "That's fine," he said, "That's good. The boy will like that." He went on down the steps with a lot more life to his tread. I went on up to Doc's.

Just to make conversation, I asked him what was wrong with Fred. His answer was a lot of names after his that would be a great deal better business. It looked like Fred Miller was about to get the go-by, at least for a little while.

and federal authorities in an intensive new investigation of the disease, launched under government auspices at a 16-state conference in Washington, D. C.

Characteristics of the malady, as observed in most outbreaks, include loss of weight and appetite, diminished milk production, abortion, fever, and a thickening and inflammation of the animal's skin. So far, no drug treatment has been successful, and there is still no definite information on the cause of this disease.

For Quick Cough Relief, Mix This Syrup, at Home

Here's an old home mixture your mother probably used, but, for real results, it is still one of the most effective and dependable for coughs due to colds. Once tried, you'll swear by it. It's no trouble at all. Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments until dissolved. No cooking is needed. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.

Now put 2½ ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle, and fill up with your syrup. This makes a full pint of splendid cough medicine, and gives you about four times as much for your money. It keeps perfectly and tastes fine.

And you'll say it's truly excellent, for quick action. You can feel it take hold swiftly. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages. Thus it eases breathing, and lets you sleep.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well-known for its quick action on throat and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if not pleased in every way.

OF ONE MIND

THE bond of affection between the village ne'er-do-well and his lank, red hound seemed even deeper than the ordinary man-dog comradeship. They were constantly together, prowling in the woods occasionally, but for the most part, idling in front of the general store.

A villager said to the master one day, "Jake, that ain't a pretty dog; he don't seem any account. What makes you like him so much?"

Jake pondered a moment, looking into the hound's sad, upturned eyes. Then he replied: "This dawg not only don't fuss at me when I git a notion to be wuthless, but he jes' goes along an' be's wuthless too."

Don't Mention It
College Student (upon parting from his professor, feelingly): Sir, I'm indebted to you for all I know.

Professor: Pray don't mention such a trifle.

HE KNEW

Customer: "Have you a book called 'Man, the Master of Women'?"

Clerk: "Fiction department on the other side, sir."

Patriot
A young American-born boy of an immigrant family informed his teacher one day, "If my father tries to whip me again, I'll run away."

"But, Tony," objected the teacher, "your father has the right to punish you if you are bad."

The boy threw back his head proudly. "I'm a citizen of the United State," he declared, "an' no foreigner's gonna lick me, you bet."

FAIR ENOUGH

A man of six feet eight inches applied for a job as a life guard.

"Can you swim?" asked the official.

"No, but I can wade to beat the devil."

Should Settle It

A small trader in a Chicago suburb had been trying for months to collect an overdue bill. But all his pleas and threats were completely disregarded. As a last resort, he sent a tear-jerking letter, accompanied by a snapshot of his little daughter. Under the picture he wrote: "The reason I must have my money!"

A prompt reply enclosed a photo of a voluptuous blonde in a bathing suit labeled: "The reason I can't pay!"

BANG - BANG!

The producer was planning a war movie. "This will be the extravaganza to end all extravaganzas," he exuded. "I'm going to use full armies—4000 men on one side and 5000 on the other."

"A total of 9,000 extras in one movie," exclaimed the director. "How can we afford such an extravaganza?"

"Easy," replied the producer. "We'll use real bullets!"

Aggrieved

Judge: "Have you anything to say before I sentence you?"

Defendant: "Only that I'm not guilty and that I object to being identified by a fellow who had his head under the bed clothes all the time I was in the room."

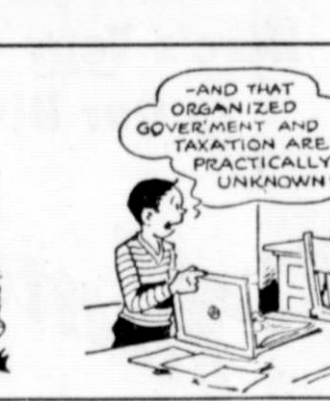

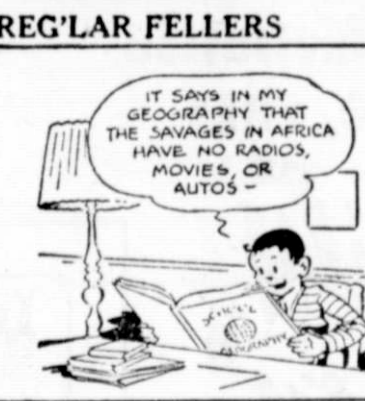

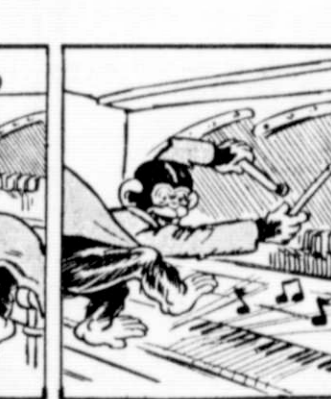

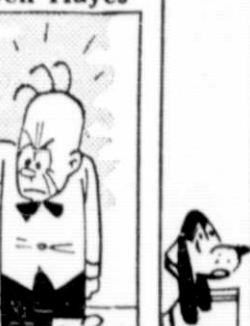

Atten - shun!

Corporal: "Why did you salute that truck driver?"

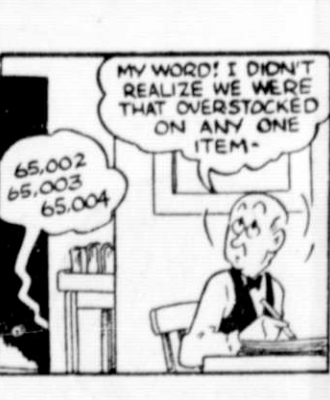

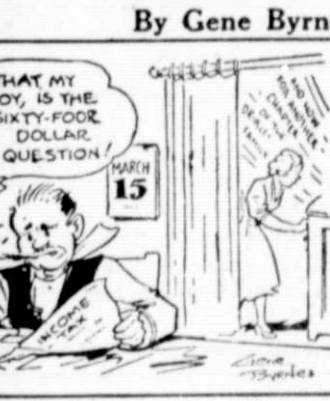

Rookie: "Don't be so dumb! That's no truck driver; that's General Hauling."

WAYNE, Schneider's hall—Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 3, 1:30 o'clock. Speakers: Dr. B. A. Bosch, extension veterinarian — "Animal Diseases — Their Prevention and Control;" Walter Wilcox, farm management specialist — "Farm Prices and Agricultural Production Outlook;" timely farm movies — E. E. Skalsky.

JACKSON, village hall—Tuesday evening, Feb. 3, 8:00 o'clock. Same program as above. This meeting is being combined with a farm bureau meeting of Jackson and Polk townships, and any farmer and members of the family are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served by the Jackson and Polk farm bureau organization.

HARTFORD, Hartford city hall—Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 3, 1:30 p. m. Speakers: C. J. Chapman, soil and fertilizer specialist — "Commercial Fertilizer and Soil Building Programs for Washington County;" J. B. Hayes, extension poultryman — "Poultry Flocks, Their Care and Management;" Motion pictures on a timely topic.

HUBERTUS, Hanson's hall—Wednesday evening, Feb. 3, 8:00 o'clock. Same program as above. This meeting is being sponsored by the Richfield township farm bureau who will serve refreshments at the close of the meeting.

Here is a program of four worthwhile farmer meetings. The programs will be of interest to the ladies as well as to the men. Plan to attend the meeting most convenient to you.

DE-HORN CALVES EARLY

Caustic potash, if properly used, does a neat, clean dehorning job on young dairy calves. This is a much safer and more human way to dehorn cattle than to remove them with a saw after they have obtained much of their growth.

The caustic method should be used when the calves are 6 to 10 days old. Before applying the caustic potash, remove all hair growth over the horns button. Then moisten the caustic pencil and rub it on the horn button with a circular motion. Keep the caustic wrapped in paper to protect the hand. When the skin over the horn softens, enough caustic has been applied. Next apply a ring of vasoline around the horn. This is merely as a protection preventing some of the caustic potash from getting into the eyes. This method of dehorning causes little pain or discomfort to the calf.

CONSERVATION DEPT. HAS SUPPLY OF TREE SEEDLINGS

Farmers wishing to purchase evergreen seedlings and transplants are urged to do so in the near future as the supply of such young trees is exceedingly limited. All seedlings and transplants must be purchased from the Wisconsin Conservation Department at Madison. Order blanks may be obtained from the agricultural extension office at West Bend. Orders may be for either 500 or 1000 trees.

These trees are primarily for forest planting including farm wind breaks. They are not suited for ornamental planting.

Varieties available of the hard wood include black locust, white ash, American elm.

Evergreen varieties include: jack pine, 2 years; Norway pine, 2 years; white pine, 3 years; Norway pine, 4 years; white pine, 4 years.

MUCH INTEREST SHOWN IN WEED CONTROL MEETING

More than seventy-five weed sprayer operators, township weed commissioners, canning factory fieldmen, farmers and others attended a meeting on weed control and power weed sprayer construction, held in the Jackson village hall, on Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 25. Speakers included County Agricultural Agent E. E. Skalsky, who outlined the Washington county weed control program for 1949, and O. I. Berge, agricultural engineer of the College of Agriculture, who spoke on the construction and adjustment of power sprayers.

Approximately 100 power sprayers will be used during the coming summer to prevent the spread of such noxious weeds as Canada thistle, wild mustard, perennial sow thistle and other bad weeds.

The Wisconsin College of Agriculture recently gave recognition to the effective control program for noxious weeds being carried out in Washington county in its news letter on agricultural news entitled "Round the State."

4 Years After Discharge or After July 25, 1947, whichever is later: Veterans may initiate educational rights under GI Bill, and/or Public Law No. 16 (vocational rehabilitation).

10 Years After End of War: Spouse or minor children of veterans are entitled to preferred right of application for 90 days before general public may apply for homestead entry on public lands reopened for settlement.

15 Years After Discharge or 15 Years After June 22, 1944 (whichever is later): Appeals may be made for review of discharge.

For persons who enlisted or re-enlisted on or after Oct. 6, 1945, and before Oct. 6, 1946, under provisions of the Armed Forces Voluntary Recruitment Act of 1945 (Public Law No. 190), July 25, 1947, is NOT the "end of the war" as it affects entitlement to certain GI Bill benefits. That date will not occur FOR THEM until the expiration of the first period of enlistment or re-enlistment (or extension thereof) under that act.

"End of War" for this purpose to be fixed by proclamation by the President or joint resolution of Congress. Indefinitely: Surplus property priority can be exercised as long as WAA has surplus items for sale.

Indefinitely: Job-finding assistance through veterans' employment service in public employment offices.

Lifetime: Insured veteran may change type of converted NSLI, reduce amount of coverage, change beneficiaries, apply for waiver of premium if totally disabled for six consecutive months. After converted insurance is in effect for one year, veteran may apply for loan or cash surrender.

Lifetime: Hospitalization, medical and dental treatment, domiciliary care, out-patient treatment, prosthetic appliances for veterans having service-connected disabilities, available to eligible veterans.

Lifetime: Application may be made for disability compensation (pension); but compensation or pension at "wartime rates" is based upon service between Dec. 7, 1941 and July 25, 1947.

2 Years After Death of Veteran: Dependents may apply to veterans administration for burial benefits.

5 Years After Death of Veteran in VA Hospital: Dependents may claim lump-sum payment of any compensation or pension withheld during hospitalization of the veteran; also personal effects of the deceased.

Any Time After Death of Veteran: Eligible dependents may establish

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Record Budget Given to Congress; Acheson Confirmation Predicted; British Say Israel Menaces Peace

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.

RECORD BUDGET: Asked of Congress

President Truman, presenting a proposal for the largest peacetime budget in U. S. history to the congress, was greeted with the expected reaction. Democrats applauded, Republicans instantly demanded deep slashes in recommended outlay. It became evident quickly that the fight on adoption of the budget would be carried out strictly along party lines.

THE PRESIDENT declared it would take 41 billion, 858 million dollars to run the government right for the next year. And the punch line was that half of every American tax dollar would be spent to hold back the Communist tide in the world.

On a party line basis, approval of the budget was assured, assuming, of course, that the Democrats hold fast. The President had a comfortable majority in both houses and there should be no difficulty in getting his proposal adopted.

But the 41 billion-plus figure wasn't all. Mr. Truman served notice he will ask more funds later to supply arms to non-Communist nations, a step which would push the budget even higher.

THE ONLY possible bar to approval of the Truman budget was public reaction to the plan to finance with 50 cents of every American dollar anti-Red activities abroad.

Already thoughts are turning to the 1950 congressional elections and congressmen whose senses were not completely lulled by the 1948 Democratic sweep, may want to sound out the public sentiment on the high expenditure program. If that is the case, public opinion may be the final factor in adoption of the budget.

PALESTINE: Toil And Trouble

The British lion was roaring at a gnat. In a prepared statement, the English government declared that Palestine developments are "gravely threatening world peace."

Coupled with the dither was a report that Ernest Bevin, British foreign secretary, had offered to resign because of his Palestine policy and that Prime Minister Attlee had refused to accept the resignation.

THIS WAS instantly and emphatically denied. All these developments came as Israel formally filed with the U. N. security council at Lake Success a complaint that the British were fomenting an "artificial crisis" over Palestine by troop movements and various actions just as negotiations were about to open with Egypt.

The British foreign office statement warned that the security council has been "losing control over events" and said it had a reason to fear new Jewish violations of the cease-fire orders in the Holy Land area.

Meanwhile, the critics of British policy in the Middle East prepared to demand that Secretary Bevin explain how it happened that five RAF planes were shot down by the Israelis near the Palestine border. Britain's air ministry asserted all five planes were shot down while flying over Egypt.

IT COULD NOT be denied that the situation was difficult. Broken down to its basic essentials, it is a condition where one people must, or have been told they must, give way to the infiltration of another people—the Jews moving into Palestine and the Holy Land area, the Arabs moving out. It has never been a secret that British sympathies, for whatever reason, lie with the Arabs and John Bull looks with jaundiced eye on the partition action and the influx of the Jews. But the United States and some other nations have sided with the movement to return the Jews to their homeland, and thus the stalemate.

It may yet require organization of action by a United Nations police force to settle the affair.

TRAILER DEMONSTRATION

Huge Exhibit Planned at Chicago Show

Desirability of life in a trailer coach will be demonstrated to Americans when manufacturers from seven states and three countries exhibit their models at the 1949 trailer manufacturers' association show in Chicago starting February 18 and continuing through February 27. The display will be housed in the International amphitheatre.

AIR LIFT:

Bananas for Ailing. An emaciated 14-month-old German girl munched bananas flown in by the American air lift to help save her life.

The child, according to officials, was ill with a rare intestinal ailment. She weighed only 100 pounds and her doctors say she can get nutrition only from bananas. She is in a German hospital in blockaded Berlin.

Truman's Flag

Here is the silk flag which was presented to President Truman at his inauguration January 20. It is held by Lucy E. Notaro, civilian employe, and Brig. Gen. Hugh B. Hester, commander of the Philadelphia Quartermaster depot. The flag was made in the embroidery section of the depot.

ACHESON: Should Make It

General belief was that Dean Acheson would be confirmed by the senate as secretary of state. Named by President Truman to succeed George C. Marshall, Acheson is certain to be taken over the hurdles in public hearings on his appointment.

Protege of Justice Felix Frankfurter and former intimate and employe of Franklin D. Roosevelt, intimate with and former employer of Alger Hiss, Acheson must inevitably be reminded of these facts by some of his interrogators.

On the other hand, he can point to a long and distinguished record of public service in which his loyalties have never been questioned. But in view of the current spy hunt in Washington and Acheson's connection with some of its principal figures, it would be little less than a miracle if his appointment were to be unquestioned.

According to the record, Acheson began his state department career with an attitude sympathetic to Russia—that is, to the extent that he believed the United States should do everything possible to get along with the Russians. But, since the Yalta and Potsdam, observers report that attitude has changed and he is now one of the most determined anti-appeasers.

The ghost of Franklin Roosevelt will walk and the echoes of the Yalta and Potsdam parleys will rustle as the Acheson hearings progress. But with Truman supporters firmly in the saddles, there is little doubt of Acheson's final confirmation.

DESTRUCTION: Nothing to Chance

Destruction would be certain... there would be nothing left to chance if military scientists perfect their newest idea of a guided missile. This would be no "ordinary" guided missile. Instead, it would be one that would identify its target from a picture, then attack it.

That's no fantastic dream of the men who plan the weapons of war. A hint of its imminence was contained in a "glossary of guided missile terms" made public by the federal research and development board.

The glossary's reference to the subject was terse, saying merely this: "Guidance, homing, active—A system of homing guidance wherein the source, for illuminating the target, and the receiver are carried within the missile."

Here was the general idea: A guided missile (it could be a rocket or merely a pilotless plane) is fitted with a television set and a picture of the intended target—perhaps an aerial photograph of a city. The missile is launched in the general direction of the target. When it arrives at a point when the pattern of the picture matches what its television "eye" sees, the missile "homes in" on the target.

That's an over-simplified description because thousands of complex electronic actuating computing devices must make instantaneous and accurate reckonings; link the "eye" and the "brain" of the missile to its controls, and relay back to the base from which the missile was launched information on where it is and what it "sees."

Man's ingenuity in developing destructive devices apparently has not yet reached its zenith.

CHAIN STORES: Food Dollar Chart

Despite the prevalence of many convictions to the contrary, consumers who lay a dollar down on the counter of a chain store gets food that costs an average of 83 cents.

This leaves 17 cents to the chain with which it must pay all its incidental expenses and 10 cents of this, or about three-fifths, goes out in wages to employes of the chain.

IN PAYING 17 cents to the chain the customer thus lays out that amount for the chain's combined wholesale and retail services. After the 10 cents goes to employes, the remainder is allocated in this manner: one and one-half cents for rent and maintenance; two cents for warehousing and cartage; a little over one cent for shrinkage, spoilage and theft, and one-half cent for advertising. This leaves from one to one and one-half cents net profit to the chain, less income taxes of one-half to one cent.

These figures were developed in the latest in a series of price studies by the family economics bureau of the Northwestern National Life Insurance company.

The survey disclosed that individual markups vary widely, of course, within the store, being much higher than the general 17 per cent average on perishable items like fresh fruit and vegetables, and much lower than average on very competitive staples like sugar.

ACCORDING TO the study report, the average food chain markup before the war was 22 1/2 cents—a third greater than today. Today's far greater dollar volume per store, and therefore per employe, is mainly responsible for the lower handling costs per dollar of sales.

Should either prices or total volume shrink materially, the cent or so profit margin per dollar would vanish quickly and "red ink" would take its place.

Before the war, the farmer received an average of 40 cents of the consumer's food dollar and 60 cents went for processing, canning, shipping, wholesaling and retailing. Today the farmer gets 53 cents per dollar and 47 cents covers all the various steps in processing and distribution.

LONGER LIFE: Science Has Key

If parents would insure long lives for their progeny, they must marry young.

DR. I. A. LANSING of the Washington university school of medicine, St. Louis, reported to the Gerontological society of New York the discovery of a mysterious chemical, called X, which seems to time how fast a human being grows old. "X" is something that parents transmit to their offspring and it is set like a clock, either for long or short life.

The age clock was found in rotifers, but a little human evidence was sighted. Rotifers are microscopic water bugs, swimming with long lashes that make them look like whirling dervishes. The setting of the X-clock in rotifers depend on how early they mated.

IT APPEARS, Dr. Lansing stated, that the amount of X stuff in a fertilized egg sets the clock. When there is little X, the rotifer lives long. As parents get older, the eggs contain more X and life is shorter. He also said that the mysterious stuff also regulates growth—as the volume of X increases, growth stops.

The human evidence is indirect, Dr. Lansing said. A study by Dr. Louis Dublin, showed a tendency for children of young parents to live longer than those born later. And it must be remembered, humans come from eggs.

New Air Postcard

If the companies refuse to cooperate, it was suggested the government-owned steel plants would be erected. That does sound like a long step toward nationalization of industry. But other observers, both those who consider the idea fatal to free enterprise and those who believe in such government-run ventures as the Tennessee Valley Authority, consider it more of a threat than a promise.

In that connection the recent controversy behind the iron curtain which had finally leaked out in specific and detailed form is interesting. One document consists of reports of a three-day conference of Soviet economists held last May, the other is a study of Russian economy during World War II, by a member of the all-powerful politburo. Both documents attack the theories of Eugene Varga, internationally known Russian economist and former director of the World Institute of Economics in Moscow.

Those 'Anxious' Russian Leaders. This controversy, according to Walter Lippman, may be the real basis of President Truman's Kansas City statement that there were "certain leaders" in Russia who were "exceedingly anxious" to reach an understanding with the United States. Even if the row among the economists wasn't the inspiration for the President's GRATITUDE: Bear Has None. Gratitude is where you find it. That certainly must be the conviction of Alex Anderson, Chicago zoo visitor who discovered the truism when he set about feeding an European female brown bear. Anderson climbed over a four-foot guard rail, fed the bear a piece of bread. The bear took the bread, then grabbed Anderson's right hand, bit off three fingers. Help came, drove off the bear.

Washington Digest Is U.S. Going Socialist? It's World-Wide Argument

By BAUKHAGE, News Analyst and Commentator.

WASHINGTON—As congress sharpens its teeth for the "True-Deal" program (The "true being for Truman), some of the gentlemen who have watched things go on behind the scenes in Washington for a long time (maybe too long) have a habit of blinking and saying in hushed voice—

"Say, is America going socialist without knowing it?" Long before the November election a number of European Statesmen, editors, professional politicians and others who are backing the various socialist and socialistic-inclined governments, including Britain's, were getting really worried lest a probable Republican victory should make an emphatically capitalistic America less sympathetic toward left-center regimes.

The Truman upset caused them to whoop with joy. After they read the President's state of the union message on January 5, and after his appointment of Dean Acheson as secretary of state, they pulled out a chair on the left side of the international table, expecting him to sit right down and join them.

BAUKHAGE

What was probably as much wishful thinking as anything else caused the official Socialist party organ of France to hail the administration program as definitely socialistic. Most of the rest of the French press took about the same view, even to the somewhat belatedly, pro-capitalistic Figaro which said the message was "close" to socialism.

The same view was taken by the left-wing press in other European countries—I'm not counting the Communists who merely rang the old propaganda changes). However, the independent Manchester Guardian, long known as the rock of liberalism and likewise as an outstanding voice in British journalism, took a different tone. The Guardian always has been exceedingly well informed concerning the United States and probably understands America as well as any foreign newspaper. It said:

"Mr. Truman's program is an indication that socialism is not the only path for the left. Its goal might be called the insurance state. Its method the deliberate shortening of the odds against the weak. But without abandoning the basically individualist way of life which is accepted as characteristically American."

Comment from the extreme right in this country, in congress and out, chose to see Skipper Truman charting a course for the Ship of State which veered far to the left of center, in fact headed straight for the rocks on which free enterprise, individual initiative, in fact all phases of capitalism, would be sunk without a trace.

That, however, was not the opinion of the majority of the Republican party, and, already signs are showing that it isn't the intention of the majority of the Democrats to let such a catastrophe overtake us, even if they think the Skipper would be willing to risk it, which they don't believe he is.

The alarmists point to the rather startling suggestion on the part of the President that the government study production with a view to offering loans to the steel and other industries for expansion of plants and increased production.

"We have rejected the discredited theory that the fortunes of the Nation should be in the hands of the privileged few. We have abandoned the 'trickle-down' concept of national prosperity. Instead, we believe that our economic system should rest on a democratic foundation and that wealth should be created for the benefit of all."

Whether or not the majority of the people have rejected that theory remains to be seen. There are still many people, who believe that no country can be prosperous unless it is strong at the top and that it cannot be strong at the top, that business and industry cannot prosper, unless free enterprise have the widest liberty possible. That capital should be encouraged by the incentive of profit to take risks and challenge competition. That government interference destroys the initiative which has made the country great. That once business is unshackled by federal bureaucracy, the benefits flow (not trickle) down and spread out to benefit the whole people.

The National Association of State Chambers of Commerce, one of a hundred business organizations testifying against a bill which would permit the TVA to build a new steam plant at Johnsonville, said:

"... this government cannot continue much longer to aid in the growth of tax-exempt or government-owned enterprises, thus narrowing the nation's tax base, without throwing greater burdens upon the remainder of the taxpayers and without gradually strangling free enterprise to death."

A resolution has been introduced to do away with the electoral college. The question now arises, what to do with the campus?

Recently Elre became a free and independent republic. It seemed a little like the election of an American president by the electoral college, the shoutin' and shootin' has long since been over.

My belated wishes for 1949: if you want to go out at night, and you will promise to drive carefully, I wish you a nice baby sitter if you need one. For those who want to need one and don't as yet, I hope the need will be supplied this year.

The new congress still hasn't got over that surprised look. So many of them are surprised they're here.

SERVE CHERRIES IN DESSERTS THIS MONTH!
(See Recipes Below)

CHERRY FAVORITES

FOR A MONTH which is short, February has more than its quota of holidays. Just in case you're entertaining for even one of these, I've planned a number of popular desserts from which you can take your choice.

Youngsters and oldsters alike will enjoy colorful desserts whether they're for family dinner or a party. You may serve them ice cream, cake or pudding, or pie, if that's your favorite dessert, and it's bound to be a hit. Here are a number of top-notch cherry dessert recipes which may be used during this month or any other. Starting with a cherry pie filling, you'll find that several other desserts can be made from it. Filled cup cakes, cherry sundae topping or a cherry frozen pudding, all are made using the same, easy basic cherry sauce that is used for pie filling. The sauce may be stored in the refrigerator for later use or for quick snacks when company drops in to call.

YOU'LL FIND that canned cherries are convenient to use and somewhat lower in price than last year. The following recipes call for water-packed cherries. If you use those packed in syrup, reduce the sugar in the recipe to 1/4 cup.

All-Purpose Cherry Sauce

(Makes 2 1/2 cups)

- 1 No. 2 can red sour pitted cherries
 - 1/2 cup sugar
 - 2 tablespoons cornstarch
 - 1/4 teaspoon salt
 - 2 tablespoons butter
- Heat the drained liquid from the cherries. Combine sugar, cornstarch and salt. Sift into the boiling liquid and cook until thick and clear, stirring constantly. Remove from heat; add butter and cherries.

Cherry Pie

Fill an 8-inch baked pie shell with 2 1/2 cups of the all-purpose cherry sauce. Garnish with 3 tablespoons shredded coconut mixed with 1 tablespoon grated sharp cheese.

Cherry Sundae

(Serves 4)

1 cup all-purpose cherry sauce
1 pint ice cream
Prepare the cherry sauce. Divide the ice cream into 4 servings. Top each with cherry sauce. Serve sauce hot or cold.

Cherry Filled Cup Cakes

(Serves 4)

2 1/2 cups all-purpose cherry sauce
10 cakes
Prepare the cherry sauce. Cut off tops of cup cakes and scoop out centers. Fill with cherry sauce. Serve with vanilla-flavored whipped cream.

*Frozen Cherry Pudding

(Serves 6)

1/2 pint whipping cream
2 1/2 cups all-purpose cherry sauce
3 drops almond flavoring
Whip cream until stiff; fold in cold cherry sauce and flavoring. Pour into freezing tray of mechanical refrigerator and freeze until firm but not hard.

IF YOU'RE looking for other cherry recipes with which to celebrate any event, you'll like the following selection. The first is a delicious cookie:

LYNN SAYS:

Food Tricks Make Dishes Appealing
To broil pears, halve and core fresh fruit. Dip in French dressing and sprinkle tops with grated cheese. Broil until brown.

Use the tough portions of broccoli cooked and pureed, mixed with cream sauce and hard cooked eggs for a nice vegetable dish.

Spice apple sauce and serve it with a small scoop of ice cream and a few crisp refrigerator cookies for a simple dessert.

Try rice in place of bread crumbs in meat loaf for variety. Tomato soup or sauce may be poured over it while baking.

Pork sausage patties combine well with macaroni and sauerkraut for a warming one-dish meal. Bake thoroughly.

If you have some thin meat stock, cook it with yellow split peas for a hearty soup.

Aspic salad made with deviled ham and hard-cooked eggs, seasoned with chili sauce, takes on real distinction.

Cherry Dainties

(Makes 3 dozen)

- 1/2 cup sweet butter
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1 egg yolk
- 1 tablespoon grated orange rind
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 cup sifted flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Chopped nuts
- Candied cherries

Cream butter, add sugar and cream thoroughly. Add egg yolk, rind and lemon juice. Mix well; add flour and salt. Mix to a smooth paste. Roll into small balls, the size of marbles. Dip each in slightly beaten egg white and roll in chopped nuts. Arrange on greased baking sheet and press a piece of candied cherry in each cookie. Bake in a moderate (350° F.) oven until golden brown, about 12-15 minutes.

George Washington Cake

(Makes 2 9-inch layers)

- 1/2 cup shortening
 - 1 1/2 cups sugar
 - 2 3/4 cups cake flour
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1 teaspoon baking powder
 - 1/2 teaspoon soda
 - 1 cup sour milk or buttermilk
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla
 - 4 stiffly-beaten egg whites
- Thoroughly cream sugar and shortening. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with sour milk and vanilla. Fold in egg whites. Bake in 2 waxed-paper lined 9-inch pans in a moderate (350° F.) oven for 30 minutes. Put layers together and frost with the following frosting and garnish with maraschino cherries.

Twice-Cooked Frosting

- 2 cups sugar
- 1/2 cup water
- 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 2 egg whites
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Cook sugar, water and cream of tartar to soft ball stage (236° F.). Add salt to egg whites; beat until frothy. Place over hot water and gradually add sugar syrup, beating constantly. Continue beating until mixture forms peaks.

Cherry Pudding

(Serves 6-8)

- 1 quart hot milk
- 2 cups dry bread crumbs
- 3 tablespoons butter
- 4 eggs, slightly beaten
- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 2 1/2 cups red, sour canned cherries drained

Pour the scalded milk over the bread crumbs and mix with remaining ingredients in the order given. Pour into a greased casserole and bake in a moderate (350° F.) oven for 45 minutes or until set.

If you desire a sauce for the above pudding, use the cherry juice from the canned cherries, sweeten it to taste and thicken with 2 tablespoons of cornstarch mixed with the sugar. Cook until clear and serve warm or cold.

Thin pancakes spread with strawberry, raspberry or blueberry jam, then rolled and sprinkled with powdered sugar make a delightful dessert.

Slice liver in strips and cook it with celery, onions and Chinese vegetables. Season with brown and soy sauce and serve over Chinese noodles. It's delicious.

Did you know that a bit of curry powder in corned beef hash will put it in the elegant class? You can stuff green peppers with the mixture for a meal in one dish.

Simple supper dish can be made from shreds of leftover roast and diced cooked potatoes folded into white sauce, then baked in a buttered casserole with a topping of grated cheese or buttered bread crumbs.

For a delicious broiled meal, wrap slices of boiled ham around pineapple spears and dip in melted butter. Broil with peach halves for 15 minutes, turning to brown. Try sliced salami and mushrooms in your spaghetti if you want a dish of really hearty, spicy flavor.

GIVE ELIZABETH SCOTT a good death scene and she's happy. She didn't like the one in "Dead Reckoning". "It was only a three-line scene, and the dialogue was terrible," she explained at lunch the other day. "But I have a five-line scene in 'Bitter Victory,' and it was supervised by a famous doctor, so it's absolutely authentic."

ELIZABETH SCOTT

"Yellow-haired, with arresting beauty and a husky voice, Miss Scott is wonderful fun. She has been to sales, bought a rain coat and a pair of shoes. 'I love sales; when I was a poor young actress here in New York I couldn't have been dressed without them.' She says she may marry this year—if she can get time off from Paramount.

Orlando Martins, from the Basuto country in Africa and a favorite actor in London, has joined the "Hasty Heart" cast. Ronald Reagan, Patricia Neal and Richard Todd have the roles which were beautifully done on the New York stage by Richard Basehart, John Lund and Anne Burr. Basehart and Lund got Hollywood contracts as a result of their work.

When Ozzie Nelson's mother flew from New Jersey to Hollywood to spend her vacation with Ozzie and Harriet, her son was worried, for "Easy" was his mother's first plane trip. But she stepped off the plane in California fresh as a daisy. "This is the way to travel!" she told Ozzie enthusiastically.

Jane Wyman goes into "Man Running," to be made in England by Alfred Hitchcock. Acclaimed as 1948's best film actress because of her work in "Johnny Belinda," by London's Film Tribunal, she will use the $4,000 award to establish a scholarship at the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art. It is presented in the name of the cast and crew of "Johnny Belinda."

Before Bob Hope left for Germany for the holidays the cast and crew of "Easy Does It" gave him a present—a walking stick whose silver handle unscrews, revealing a test tube large enough to hold enough liquid refreshment for a long walk.

Some Hollywoodians recall when Victure Mature arrived 10 years ago, set up a tent at a traffic intersection and refused to budge till he got a movie role. Now he has finished playing "Samson" in "Samson and Delilah" (wait till you see him slay those Philistines with the jawbone of an ass!) and returns to Paramount to play opposite Betty Hutton in "Red, Hot and Blue."

Save all chicken wishbones! 20th Century-Fox and the Poultry and Egg National Board join in a promotion for "Chicken Every Sunday"; contestants send a wishbone and a letter explaining why they like chicken every Sunday, also tell of "a desired wish." Winner gets his or her wish. Three regional winners go to Hollywood, as guests of Celeste Holm and Dan Dailey.

When Steve Sekeley directs a A picture, he's Steve Sekeley on the cast and credit sheet; when he does a B, he's S. K. Seely. Wayne Morris ("John Loves Mary") had a tough holiday season; he had four wisdom teeth extracted. Patricia Neal has an interesting landlady—Mrs. Jean Acker Valentine, widow of the screen's "great lover." Chet Lauck and Norris Goff are auditioning actors for new characters in "Lum and Abner" . . .

Phil Davis, head idea and gag man on Ralph Edwards' "Truth or Consequences," has sold an "original story," "Moon over the Catskills," to George Jessel, to star Danny Thomas. It is a musical.

Jack Benny's first effort as a motion picture producer, "The Lucky Ticket," produced for Amusement Enterprises, is scheduled for February release. Benny has a nice cast—starring Dorothy Lamour, and Brian Donley.

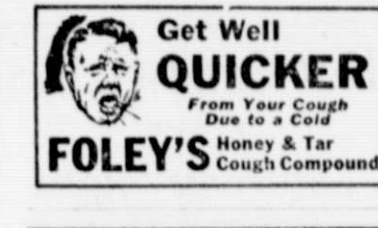

The bang of a pistol, the jingle of cowbells, the screech of a siren, etc., that you hear on the CBS "Spike Jones Show" are not ad-libbed. They are down on the music sheets, worked out with meticulous care by Eddie Brandt. John Payne longed to do a western; now he may be stuck in them. Pine-Thomas' "El Paso" gave him a role that was just what he had longed for years, and he did so well with it that he may star in another western for them.

EASY! EASY! Luscious Bran Muffins . . . with Raisins!

Tasty Kellogg's All-Bran and luscious raisins . . . a mouth-watering flavor combination!

- 2 tablespoons 1 cup sifted flour
- 1/4 cup sugar 2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 egg 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup Kellogg's All-Bran 1/2 cup milk

Blend shortening and sugar thoroughly; add egg and beat well. Stir in Kellogg's All-Bran and milk. Let soak until most of moisture is taken up. Sift flour with baking powder and salt; stir in raisins. Add to first mixture and stir only until flour disappears. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full. Bake in a moderately hot oven (400° F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Make 9 marvelous muffins.

ONE OF THE HAZARDS OF WASH-DAY AT HOME IS THE BUSINESS OF SHAVING SOAP FROM A BAR TO ENRICH THE WATER. INSTEAD OF ENDANGERING YOUR FINGERS BY USING A KNIFE, IN THIS PROCESS, IT IS CONSIDERABLY BETTER—AND SAFER—TO USE A BOTTLE CAP NAILED TO THE END OF A SHORT LENGTH OF BROOMSTICK. THE TOOL MADE IN THIS WAY NOT ONLY IS LESS LIKELY TO GASH YOUR FINGERS THAN A KNIFE, WOULD BE, BUT IT MAKES MORE SOLUBLE SOAP SHAVINGS.

USUAL METHOD OF KEEPING HOME PICKLED MEATS SUBMERGED IN A BRINE SOLUTION IS BY PLACING A BOARD OVER THE CONTENTS AND WEIGHTING IT DOWN WITH A STONE. A BETTER WAY IS TO ATTACH A WIRE BAIL UNDER THE RIM OF THE JAR OR CROCK AND USE A NOTCHED STICK FOR A COMPRESSOR, AS SHOWN. PRESSURE IS EXERTED ON THE BOARD BY SLIPPING THE WIRE INTO THE PROPER NOTCH. (NOTE ILLUSTRATION AT LEFT)

KEWASKUM HIGHLIGHTS

KEWASKUM VS. BELLES
The roughest game of the current season was fought last Friday, as sectional rivals Kewaskum and Campbellsport battled on the basketball court. Every time these two teams meet, the game is rough and wild, and Friday was no exception. Kewaskum emerged the victor, as was expected, with the scoreboard showing 41 to 31. Tessar was again high scorer of the evening with 17 points. Two Campbellsport team members were sent out on fouls, showing the intensity with which the game was played. No one from K.H.S. was sent out on fouls. The score by quarters was:

K.H.S. 11 17 30 41
C.H.S. 7 7 20 31
Individual scoring:
FG FT PF TP
Dreher 2 3 4 7
Kougl 2 2 2 6

Tessar 7 3 4 17
Krueger 2 0 0 4
Wink 0 2 0 2
Keller 2 2 4 6
Kempf 1 0 2 2

BEES
The Kewaskum Bees won their game with Campbellsport last Friday. High scoring honors went to Koepke with 8 points. The score stood at 25 to 12 at the end.
Score by quarters was as follows:
K.H.S. 3 10 15 25
C.H.S. 3 7 11 12

the team's morale was presented for the Rosendale game. A concert by the "Toot Tooters" was continually interrupted by Bob Fellenz who made special announcements, such as prediction on the game's outcome, and cheers by the boys in the front row. Several girls, acting as the mothers of the girls, sat on the sidelines on the stage adding their bits of humor to the skit. The "Toot Tooters" were some of the girls from the band. This was the 3rd offering of the newly organized pep club.

brakes on your car, warns Sylvester Naumann of the county sheriff's department.
"Unless you have had a very recent checkup on your brakes, you may not really have equalized braking power on all four wheels," he warned.
"When a driver approaches a curve too fast, friction between the tires and the pavement is overpowered and he feels a slide-away," it was pointed out. "Many motorists in this situation step on the brakes, the worst possible move, and they go over into the ditch. The time to slow down is before reaching the curve, not when rounding it."
On winter road surfaces, traction is reduced by the slipperiness of ice and snow. Braking efficiency is reduced because tires slide easily, especially if the tires are worn.
"When a motorist knows the roads are slippery, he should reduce speed accordingly," the sheriff warned. "When brakes are used, they should be applied with a light, pumping action, to keep the wheels from locking and to stop without serious skidding."
Lengthened distance between vehicles also was advocated by Sheriff Naumann as a safeguard against accidents.

JAN. 31 FINAL DATE TO FILE 1948 REPORTS FOR FARMERS
A. John Cleary, chairman of the Washington County Agricultural Conservation association, wishes to remind all farmers in the county that the final date for signing 1948 performance reports is Jan. 31, 1949. All receipts and other required evidence necessary for the approval of practices performed under the 1948 agricultural conservation program must be filed with the county AAA office, Security building, West Bend, on or before Feb. 15, 1949.

If there are any farmers who have lost their receipts, it will be necessary that they obtain a duplicate copy of the receipt from the dealer they purchased the material.

ASSEMBLY PROGRAM
At an assembly program last Tuesday afternoon, the entire student body and faculty were entertained by a quartette of Negroes known as "The Mississippians." The "Mississippians" won their audience with their care-free manner and style.
The quartette sang the spirituals as only Negroes can. This group presented such favorites as: "Just Got to Heaven and I Can't Sit Down," "Char-lot Coming," "Little Lisa I Love You," "Dry Bones" and "Old Man River."
At one point in the program the group's spokesman related how some of these old songs originated and how they tied in with the religious beliefs of the Negroes.

"BUT WE NEVER GAVE A THOUGHT TO THE WIRING!"

WHEN YOU PLAN FOR TOMORROW PLAN FOR MODERN WIRING
Down here at the electric company we hear from many disappointed folks who "forgot" about wiring when they planned to build a new shed. No matter how nice your plan looks on paper—you'll be mighty disappointed in the final result unless the wiring is so planned that "Reddy Kilo-watt" can work smoothly, efficiently, without costly and unnecessary interruptions. Remember that most folks use TWICE as much electricity as they did 20 years ago and that necessary later additions to your wiring may be costly.
ADEQUATE WIRING MEANS . . .
• Enough Circuits
• Enough Outlets
• Large Enough Wires to Do the Job
WHEN YOU SKIMP ON WIRING YOU SKIMP ON GOOD LIVING!

ASK YOUR ELECTRICIAN TO MODERNIZE YOUR WIRING.
