

$7,953.34 Collected in Red Cross Drive; Goal Exceeded by Far

Kewaskum Village One of First in Nation to Report Over Top

Final results of the 1949 Red Cross campaign for the West Bend Chapter area were tabulated on Tuesday afternoon, Mar. 29, and on the basis of all but a few scattered returns still to be received, Robert E. Engelke, chairman of the drive, pronounced the drive an unqualified success.

At the time of tabulation on Tuesday, a total of $7,953.34 had been received by the local headquarters, Engelke reported. This amount exceeds by $2,734.84 the original quota of $5,218.50 set by the chapter as its goal at the time of the drive's beginning.

Commenting upon the successful termination of the drive, Engelke paid special tribute to "Pat" Miller, chairman of the drive in Kewaskum, Miller's area, according to Engelke, was one of the first in the nation to report itself over the top in the campaign.

Engelke also praised the local West Bend chapter highly, and said that it was the 12th in the state to top its quota. He added that the drive as a whole was a success mainly because of the "combined efforts of all of the solicitors who gave so unflinchingly of their time in behalf of the drive."

Press of duties in compiling last minute statistics prevented Engelke from issuing a personal statement at this time thanking all who contributed to the campaign fund. He stated however, that he intends to find time within the next week to issue such a statement.

Townships in the chapter area, together with the amounts each contributed to the fund are listed below. Also listed are the villages and the city of West Bend, together with the totals they contributed:

REFERENDUMS, SCHOOL Supt., SUPREME COURT OFFICES TO BE VOTED

Interest in Tuesday's election has developed in the referendum questions, state and county superintendent of schools offices, and the race for Justice of the supreme court.

An inducement for a large vote is seen in the fact West Bend and Washington county have a fellow citizen, Circuit Judge Edward J. Gehl, as one of 12 candidates in the state seeking election to the post of supreme court justice to succeed Marvin B. Rosenberry.

The 11 other candidates are J. Henry Bennett, Viroqua attorney; County Judge Marshall Peterson, Racine; Anthony E. Madler, Madison, counsel for the state department of agriculture who resigned to enter the race; Municipal Judge Elmer D. Goodland, Racine; William Osborne Hart, Baraboo printer, who has run for state office several times on the Socialist ticket; Peter F. Leuch, Cedarburg, Milwaukee attorney and former Milwaukee city clerk; Thomas R. Anlie, Madison, former Progressive representative; Mortimer Levitan, Madison, assistant attorney general; Harold E. Stafford, Chippewa Falls, former district attorney and former president of the state district attorney's association; J. Ward Reeter, Madison, former supreme court justice now counsel for the public service commission; Earl J. O'Brien, Milwaukee attorney.

The following will be candidates for state superintendent of schools: Paul L. Kaiser, former Dodge county supt. of schools; George E. Watson, Wauwatosa supt. of schools; Quincy V. Doudna, Stevens Point, dean of administration at Central State Teachers college; Arthur W. Jorgenson, Columbus, with the veterans' guidance center at the University of Wisconsin; Earl M. Hancey, Milwaukee, history instructor at Washington High school; Emil W. Zollmer, Wisconsin Rapids, principal of Wood County Normal school; Edward D. Ludwig, Badger, a University of Wisconsin student; Howard G. Williams, Mukwonago, principal of Lloyd Street school, Milwaukee; Jay W. Packard, Portage, former Columbia county supt. of schools; Alfred R. Schumann, Milwaukee, principal of the Oakwood State Graded school of Milwaukee county.

Voters will also have an opportunity to cast their ballot for county judge, with Judge F. W. Bucklin being unopposed for the post. They will also ballot on the candidacy of Harry D. Sheski, Slinger, who is unopposed for county superintendent of schools.

Included on the ballot will be two state referendum questions—one asking whether the state constitution should be amended to allow the state to provide housing for veterans and the other asking if the state should be permitted to tax federally owned land through constitutional amendment.

KOCH ATTENDS NEW BARN CLEANER DEMONSTRATION

August E. Koch of A. G. Koch, Inc., Kewaskum, returned recently from Ft. Atkinson where he attended a training school and demonstration on the new Jamesway "dustless" gutter cleaner. Many dealers from the surrounding area made the trip to see this unusual piece of farm equipment and to become familiar with its operation and installation.

Koch explained that this novel type of cleaner requires no cross gutters and may be installed in barns where gutters are of uneven length. In the average barn—29 cows, for example—the job is done in about ten minutes as against an hour or more by means of hand shoveling.

Well, all we have been reading about "push button" farming seems to be coming true in a very practical sense.

IN MEMORIAM

In fond and loving remembrance of our beloved husband and father, Joe Kohler, who passed away two years ago, March 20, 1947.

We are sad within our memory, Lonely are our hearts today, For the one we loved so dearly, Has forever been called away.

We think of him in silence, No eye may see us weep; But many silent tears are shed, When others are asleep.

Sadly missed by his wife and children.

PRESIDENT, TRUSTEES, CLERK CONTESTS TO BRING OUT BIG VOTE

As the spring election date, Tuesday, Apr. 5, draws near, interest is at fever pitch in the village. It is the main topic of conversation and excitement is mounting due to the fact that there will be hot contests for the president, trustee and clerk offices here. More so than we have ever seen before some candidates are really out advertising and campaigning, and a very large vote is foreseen.

Main interest is in the contest for village president or mayor. The incumbent, Chas. Miller, will be strongly opposed by L. N. Peterson, who has been out working and has a campaign committee backing him as can be seen by his ad on page five. A hotly contested race looms for this office.

Another exciting contest should develop for the office of clerk. Carl F. Schaefer, incumbent, is not a candidate after serving in that capacity for many years. There are two aspirants for his position. They are William Martin, a distributor for the Shell Oil Co., and Nic. Puerling, a head bookkeeper at the Kewaskum Dairy Co., a former infantile paralysis victim.

A wide open race looms for the three trustee positions. Two incumbents, Lester Dreher and H. B. Rosenheimer, will be candidates for re-election. The third incumbent, Arnold Martin, is not a candidate. Opposing Dreher and Rosenheimer will be two newcomers, George Hansen and Morris Hammer, and a former office holder, Dr. F. E. Nolting. Much hush campaigning has been heard this week concerning the trustee offices.

All other village officers are unopposed. They are John Marx, treasurer; Joseph Mayer, assessor; E. M. Roemane, supervisor, and L. W. Bartelt, justice of the peace.

The polls in the village will open at 9 a. m. and close at 5:30 p. m.

HOLY TRINITY PARISH TOPS $800 CHARITY DRIVE QUOTA

Collections in the Milwaukee Archdiocesan Catholic Charities drive, that opened Sunday, Mar. 27, were taken up in Holy Trinity parish following the masses on the opening morning. The initial collections were very liberal and the parish went well over the top of its $800 quota, again making Kewaskum among the first in the archdiocese to exceed its quota. More subscriptions came in during the week and others are still to be made.

ST. KILIAN DOUBLES ITS CHARITY QUOTA

Subscriptions in St. Kilian's parish at St. Kilian for the Archdiocesan Catholic Charities fund were taken up Sunday, Mar. 27, after both masses in the school hall. Again the result was marvelous. Liberal subscriptions put the parish quota of $600.00 way "over the top" shortly after the early mass. And most generous subscriptions helped to double the quota. All subscriptions were in cash.

Speed your Cooking with Pressure Pans (See Recipes Below)

Quick Meals

IF YOU'VE EVER come home at five o'clock after an afternoon of club activities, have you wondered how to get a roast on the table and a meal cooked to completion within the hour?

The solution to this problem lies in cooking the meal in one of those efficient utensils known as a pressure cooker or pressure pan. In an hour, and in many cases, less time, you can have a steaming hot meal with meat, vegetables and potatoes on the table for a hungry family. All this can be accomplished with no more previous preparation than marketing.

Foods cooked under pressure cook quickly because the steam is held within the utensil. Food values are saved, too, so you can serve more healthful meals to the family. And, if you're a busy homemaker, you can save hours of time in the preparation of foods which usually take three or four hours to cook.

All of the recipes given today use meats that take long cooking time under ordinary circumstances. Use the directions carefully and follow the manufacturer's directions for using whatever kind of cooker you have.

THE RECOMMENDED pressure for most dishes including meats is 15 pounds. Study your cooker to see how this is obtained and maintained.

*New England Boiled Dinner (Serves 4)

- 1 1/2 pounds ham shank
- 1 cup water
- 4 small potatoes, peeled and halved
- 4 small onions, peeled
- 1 small turnip, peeled and sliced
- 4 medium carrots, scraped
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper

Place ham and water in cooker. Adjust cover, exhaust air and bring pressure to 15 pounds. Cook for 20 minutes. Reduce pressure and open cooker. Add prepared vegetables and pepper. Adjust cover, exhaust air and bring pressure again to 15 pounds. Cook for five to eight minutes, depending upon size of vegetables. Cool and open cooker and serve at once.

CANNED TOMATO sauce added to a pot roast gives you a wonderfully rich and economical gravy, as in the following recipe:

Savory Pot Roast (Serves 6-10)

- 3 1/2-4 pounds pot roast of beef (chuck, round or brisket, boned)
 - 1 clove garlic
 - Salt and pepper to taste
 - 2 tablespoons drippings
 - 1 (8-ounce) can tomato sauce
 - 2 tablespoons cornstarch
 - 1/4 cup cold water
- Rub the cut surface of the meat with cut surface of garlic clove. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Brown in the pressure cooker in the drippings. Add canned tomato sauce. Close cooker and exhaust air. Bring pressure to 15 pounds and cook 1 1/2 hours to the pound.

LYNN SAYS: Pressure Cookers Have Many Uses

It's amazingly quick to make custards in the pressure cooker. Simply pour the custard mixture into small, heat-proof cups and set on the pressure cooker rack with a little water at the bottom. Cook for 2 minutes at 15 pounds pressure.

Molds are now available for puddings that fit right into pressure pans. They steam puddings perfectly and swiftly.

Fish which cooks quickly and best at high temperature is right at home when prepared in a pressure saucepan. A small amount of water or tomato sauce is placed at the bottom of the cooker to provide just enough moisture for proper cooking.

Fish and meat casserole may be cooked in a pressure pan if placed in a heat-resistant dish and set on the rack covered with water. If a brown top is desired, place the casserole under broiler for a few minutes, after removing from the cooker.

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU

- *New England Boiled Dinner
- Waldorf Salad
- Crusty Rolls
- Chilled Berries
- Beverage
- Cookies

*Recipe Given

Cool cooker, following manufacturer's directions, and open. Remove meat to serving platter. Mix cornstarch to a smooth paste with water and add to tomato sauce in cooker. Season as desired. Stir over low heat to a clear rich gravy.

Ham with Escalloped Potatoes (Serves 4-5)

- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 1/2 tablespoons flour
- 1 1/2 cups milk
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1 small onion grated
- 1 tablespoon fat
- 2 pounds ham slice, cut in serving pieces
- 5 medium potatoes, peeled and sliced

Melt butter, blend in flour, add milk, salt and pepper. Stir constantly and cook until smooth. Add onion. Brown ham until golden brown in pressure pan, then remove from cooker. Place potatoes in bottom of cooker and cover with white sauce. Lay ham on potatoes. Adjust cover, exhaust air, and bring to 15 pounds pressure. Cook 12 minutes. Cool cooker, and serve meal at once.

DOES THE FAMILY like meltingly delicious spaghetti? Here's the easy way to cook it.

Spaghetti with Meat Sauce (Serves 6)

- 2 tablespoons salad oil
- 1 pound ground beef
- 1 clove garlic, chopped
- 1 No. 2 can tomatoes
- 1 (8-ounce) can tomato sauce
- 2 medium onions, chopped
- 1 teaspoon chili powder
- 1 green pepper, chopped
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 (8-ounce) package spaghetti
- Parmesan cheese

Combine all ingredients except cheese in pressure pan. Adjust cover and exhaust air. Bring to 15 pounds pressure and cook for 12-15 minutes. Serve over cooked spaghetti, topped with cheese.

Wiener Schnitzel (Serves 6)

- 2 slices veal round, cut 1/2-inch thick
 - 4 tablespoons flour
 - Salt and pepper
 - 1 teaspoon paprika
 - 1 cup sliced onions
 - 1/2 lemon, sliced thin
 - 1 cup sour cream
- Cut veal into serving size pieces and dredge in flour mixed with salt and pepper. Heat cooker, add oil and paprika. Brown pieces of veal on both sides. Add onion and saute slightly. Place a slice of lemon on each piece of veal. Add sour cream. Adjust cover, exhaust air and bring to 15 pounds pressure. Cook 15 minutes. Cool cooker and serve veal, garnished with parsley.

The pressure pan may be used just as any other kettle for sauces, dressings, etc. without the cover. If you want to cook several different kinds of vegetables at the same time in a pressure pan, select those which require the same cooking time.

To soften cereals properly and to bring out their full flavor, use the pressure pan. It saves time. Many of the pressure pans can be used for processing fruit and vegetables for canning. Follow directions.

Soups and chowders which require lengthy cooking time are easily prepared when cooked under pressure. Their flavors, as well as nutrients are saved because they do not escape in the steam. When fresh fruits are cooked under pressure, the cooker should be cooled very quickly under the cold water faucet.

Steamed breads such as brown bread or Boston brown bread are easily prepared in a pressure pan. The dough is placed in a buttered pan or mold and set on the rack with water.

MIRROR of your MIND

Some Executives Need 'Yes Men' By Lawrence Gould

Do minor executives favor "yes-men"?

Answer: That mainly depends upon how sure they are that they can go on holding down their own jobs. For a person with a "sense of insecurity" will usually have so strong a craving for moral support that he'll surround himself with people who will tell him how good he is and—possibly without realizing it—will be unfair to a subordinate who dares to question his decisions. But the fellow who is sure of himself (and he's generally headed toward promotion) will be glad to be told when he's wrong if it is done politely.

But since people with such conflicts do not understand themselves, they cannot picture the real motives of their characters, and because they're too neurotic to be capable of love, they can't describe love accurately.

Is "make-believe" bad for children?

Is the urge to write neurotic?

Answer: Yes, when it is overwhelmingly strong, asserts Dr. Edmund Bergler in the Psychoanalytic Review. Except in the case of people who write mainly for a living, the urge to "creative writing," especially fiction, is a way in which the writer manages to ease the tension of his own neurotic conflicts.

Answer: On the contrary, some make-believe is necessary for a child's emotional development, and whether encouraged by their elders or not, children always indulge in some degree of "pretending." A child forced to face the fact that he is powerless to make his wishes come true and forbidden to console himself by gratifying them in his imagination would be overwhelmed with terror and frustration. But as any child is given a chance to taste the thrill of actually doing things for himself, his interest in make-believe fades.

KEEPING HEALTHY

Residual Goiter Symptoms

By Dr. James W. Barton

A FEW years ago I was examining a heavyweight wrestler and noted the changed expression on his face, particularly the bulging eyes. I immediately thought a goiter was present; yet, when I took his heart rate, it was normal. I told him that I thought he had a goiter, but that, as his heart rate was normal, I was mistaken. He laughed and stated that he had had a goiter, but had undergone an operation the previous year and seemed to have lost his nervousness and rapid heart beat. His eyes bulged less, but were still too prominent.

While most goiter symptoms disappear after removal of the thyroid gland, there are some cases in which the symptoms persist—much to the disappointment of patient and surgeon.

Patients who have undergone an operation for removal of the thyroid gland to rid themselves of nervousness, rapid heart beat, sweating and bulging eyes, often retain some or all of these symptoms which are, therefore, called residual symptoms. Just what causes these symptoms to remain never has been definitely proved. In studying 33 patients (in whom the action of the thyroid gland apparently was normal) at intervals ranging from two and a half to ten years after the removal of the gland by surgical operation, it was found that 31 retained symptoms even after all this time. The bulging eyes were the only true sign or symptom that could be directly attributed to thyroid disturbance.

What, then, was the cause of the other residual symptoms? The other symptoms—nervousness, rapid heart rate, sweating—were attributed to other factors present in the make-up of the patient, to the emotional effect of the disease and operation, or to other causes aside from thyroid disease and emotional disturbances.

HEALTH NOTES

When there is not enough juice manufactured by the thyroid gland or the pituitary gland, excess fat will accumulate. But it can easily be seen how a worried or frustrated person may sit with a box of candies or rich food available and continue to eat to make up for his frustration. Thus, obesity (overweight) largely is a compensation for worry or frustration.

If you see an epileptic about to have an attack try to catch him before he falls and help him to bed, a couch or even onto the floor. Put a folded handkerchief between his teeth or a narrow eraser which he may keep in his pocket or at his bedside. Don't force a spoon or hard, wooden object between the teeth. Free any tight clothing, especially neckwear. Turn him over on his back if he is face downward and let the attack run its course until he awakens. Then he should sleep if he desires.

The main cause of hardening of the arteries (loss of elastic tissue in the walls of the blood vessels) is believed to be infection—teeth, tonsils, gums, sinuses, gall bladder or large intestine. An infection poisons the blood, which is carried by the blood vessels to various parts of the body. This poisons inflames the lining of the blood vessels which affects the elastic coat.

The birth of an infant weighing over 10 pounds was found, in recent research, to be a warning that the mother may develop diabetes later. If the baby's weight at birth is 13 pounds, the chances are almost two in three that the mother will have diabetes eventually. Thus, the mothers of very large babies should never permit themselves to become overweight, remembering the warning that overweight is often a forerunner of diabetes.

Reds May Hit Iran

THE REAL TRUTH about the Soviet cabinet shakeup is that no British or American observer really knows what's going on inside the Kremlin—and this includes our super-secret military intelligence men as well.

The iron curtain around the Kremlin is almost impenetrable, and all the speculation as to what the Molotov-Vishinsky shift means was nothing more than mere speculation.

There was a time when the United States was able to get reasonably accurate inside-Kremlin information from the Czechs and the Poles but since the Czech Communist purge and the tightening up in Poland, those sources have dried up.

However, if past precedents are any criterion, the Russians will not take the north Atlantic pact lying down. They are more than likely to move—and may move in the opposite direction.

That is behind feverish American plans to fortify Iran, also behind U. S. Ambassador John Wiley's frantic cables from Teheran. He seems convinced the Russians will move there next.

"S.O.B." User Rebuked

The vice-president of the United States isn't advertising it, but he once participated in a severe note of censure of a congressman who used the same S. O. B. initials recently used by the President of the United States.

The vote of censure was taken against Rep. Thomas L. Blanton, Democrat of Texas. Passed unanimously by the house of representatives when Alben Barkley was a member, the resolution stated:

"Whereas Thomas L. Blanton . . . inserted in the Congressional Record, a letter which was indecent, obscene, vulgar and vile;

"Whereas the said Thomas L. Blanton . . . has offered an indignity to the house and to the people represented by the membership in congress . . . for which he deserves the severest rebuke and drastic censure, therefore be it

"Resolved that the speaker of the house is hereby directed to summon him to the bar of the house and deliver to him its reprimand and censure."

The obscene matter which Blanton had inserted in the Record on Oct. 22, 1921, was a letter written by Millard French, an employee in the government printing office, addressed to George H. Carter, public printer. The letter contained the abbreviation S. O. B.

Narrowly Escaped Ouster
Nevertheless, Blanton escaped being expelled from congress by only an eight-vote margin. A total of 283 congressmen voted to expel him.

Among those in congress at the time were such close friends of President Truman as James F. Byrnes, later Truman's secretary of state; Tom Connally of Texas, now chairman of the senate foreign relations committee; Speaker Sam Rayburn, and Vice President Barkley.

All the above voted to expunge Blanton's S. O. B. abbreviation from the record but none of the above opposed the resolution of censure, though they did not vote to expel.

The attack against Blanton was led by the late Rep. Frank Mondell of Wyoming and Nicholas Longworth, late speaker of the house, also now deceased. Mondell, urging that Blanton be expelled, said: "Anyone uttering in public anywhere the words placed in the Congressional Record by the member from Texas should be subject to fine and imprisonment. While we cannot repeat the words which form the basis of this charge, it can be said that they are unseemly, foul, vile, filthy, profane, blasphemous, and obscene."

After the resolution of censure was voted, Blanton was called before the speaker's rostrum, where Speaker Fred Gillet stated:

"I have been directed to censure you because, when you had been allowed by the courtesy of the house to print a speech, you inserted in it foul and obscene matter . . . and that disgusting matter was transmitted as part of the proceedings of the house to thousands of homes and libraries throughout the country to be read by men and women, and, worst of all, by children. In accordance with the instructions of the house and as its representative, I pronounce upon you its censure."

As Blanton left the floor of the house he collapsed in the corridor, struck his head on the marble floor and had to be assisted to his office.

Post-Election Notes

Sen. Kenneth H. Wherry won re-election last fall with the help of a $26,785 election campaign fund, of which he himself put up only $1,500. His general election campaign cost only $25,192.92. Contributions to Wherry's campaign fund included $5,000 from the Republican national senatorial campaign fund, headed by Delaware's ex-Senator John Townsend, the Du Pont heirloom. The Du Ponts put up the biggest contributions.

IF ADULTS TOOK ADVICE GIVEN KIDS . . .
Howya-Doon Tells How Grownups Should Behave
... THEY'D GET GOUT, RHEUMATISM, ULCERS

By H. I. PHILLIPS

HOWYA-DOON, ADULTS?

The influence of a new radio character called "Howdy-Doody" on the kiddies is the talk of the amusement world. Howdy-Doody is a puppet on the program of Bob Smith, and, he has come close to taking over the American home at 5 p. m. daily. Howdy manages to work in a lot of pleas for the small fry to clean their plates, mind their health and otherwise behave themselves, and we think it might be a good idea to introduce a similar character for influencing the grownups.

Our character would be an adult puppet called "Howya-Doon," and would operate along the same pattern, as follows:

SMITH—Well here's your friend Howya-Doon, the friend of all grownups, again, folks. Golly, how nice it seems to be with you adults once more! I hope you've all been very nice adults and behaved yourselves in every way. Howya-Doon, did you clean up your plate today?

HOWYA-DOON—Aw gosh, I certainly didn't. I'm not that crazy, Mr. Smith.

SMITH—I thought not. That's fine. What happens to adults who lick their platters clean.

HOWYA-DOON—They get gout, indigestion, stomach acidity, rheumatism, double chins, heartburn and everything. Gee, their diet gets all shot to pieces. Mr. Smith, and they get fat and their clothes look awful on 'em.

SMITH—Right. So what is the proper way for grownups to behave at meals?

HOWYA-DOON—Aw, that's easy, Mr. Smith. They do just what I do, lay off any kind of food that tastes good!

SMITH—Anything that appeals to the taste, eh?

HOWYA-DOON—Sure. If it's appetizing, it's no good. All nice grownups who want their children to be proud of them will just go for carrots, beets, spinach and things like that.

SMITH—If by chance you get something on your plate that tastes swell and that isn't fattening, is it okay to eat it all?

HOWYA-DOON—Aw, no! A good little adult always carries a calory chart and makes himself pretty miserable figuring up the calories in everything he eats. I hope all you grownups do this.

SMITH—So do I, Howya. And now it's time to show the movies. We've got some wonderful ones that are right down the alley for grownups. They are from the American Medical association and show what happens to adults who enjoy eating and lead happy lives. But first, did you brush your teeth this morning?

HOWYA-DOON—Aw, sure, I took my uppers and lowers right out of the glass of water where I put 'em each night and gave 'em a good stiff brushing.

SMITH—And what else did you do that all good grownups should do?

HOWYA-DOON—I put my hot-water bottle and my liver pads away neatly after I got up and I made sure all the bottles in the medicine cabinet were in order.

SMITH—That's fine. And now we're going to introduce our new character Dub-a-Dub.

HOWYA-DOON—Who's Dub-a-Dub?

SMITH—He's the wonderful adult who never grunts, seems to enjoy life and ALWAYS BEHAVES SO HIS CHILDREN CAN BE PROUD OF HIM!

Ozzie and Harriet

Switch to CBS

By INEZ GERHARD

AFTER PRACTICING fancy ice-skating figures like mad at a local rink, Harriet Nelson talked the reluctant Ozzie into taking the family to Lake Arrowhead for winter sports, so that she could show off a bit. But they arrived to find the rink there covered with ten feet of snow. That suited Ozzie, who retired to their rooms and hated to drag him out in weather like this just for a stomach ache. Doctor says he'll be all right in a day or two."

Mr. Diggles took the handkerchief from the pocket of his grey alpaca coat and wiped his forehead. The moment he used to dream of years ago, was here at last. This would cost Dr. Price his practice. The city was, Dr. Price would never know he could have saved himself, if he hadn't made it so clear that a man who mixed prescriptions wasn't supposed to know about diagnosis. Dr. Price would never know what he'd done to himself when he told Mrs. White she might as well give the twins a chocolate soda as Diggles' Own Whooping Cough Mixture. Because of Dr. Price's new ways of doing things, no one bought Diggles' Ready Rheumatism Reliever now. Shots, it was, the doctor was giving for everything. Not prescriptions.

Manslaughter, they called it. He wet his lips. Well, no one could expect Mr. Diggles to interfere with Dr. Price's prescriptions again. Not a second time.

Though it was so many years ago, he could feel the flush of anger that flooded his face remembering the day he'd called Dr. Price up, and suggested that maybe the heart medicine he ordered for Mr. Venables was too strong.

"I know what I'm doing. Just mind your own business, Diggles, and I can mind mine."

He looked again at the prescription. There was no mistaking the symbol and he'd fill it as it stood.

He reached for the bottle and removed the cork. Carefully, he measured out the prescribed dose.

MR. DIGGLES straightened suddenly, staring at the partly filled mortar. A feeling of nausea swept through him as he snatched it up and flung the contents into the sink. His hand, replacing the bottle on the shelf, trembled.

John Wayne may find himself wishing he were two people. He has signed to do one picture annually for Warner Bros., a contract to make three for RKO, a contract for Republic and an unspecified number for his own independent company.

ODDS AND ENDS Geraldine Brooks, of Warners' "The Younger Brothers," never will achieve her childhood ambition—she wanted to become a laundress. Health permitting, Fred Allen may do a five-week, quarter hour series for NBC next year, commenting a la Will Rogers. Dorothy Malone gave up attending classes at UCLA when she announced her forthcoming marriage, but said she did it "For the time being, anyway."

Dinah Shore turned down a disc jockey series.

MR. DIGGLES ON DUTY

By MARY WHITEFORD

Outside, the wind howled and flakes of ice made a cold noise beating the window pane.

Slowly, he walked toward the telephone. After all, just as many people swore by Dr. Price as trusted Diggles.

As he waited, listening to Dr. Price's telephone bell ringing, the shop door opened. Mr. Diggles put down the receiver and went to the front. Dr. Price was on the mat, stamping the snow from his feet.

"Diggles, will you let me see the prescription Mrs. Tompkins just brought in?"

"I was just trying to call you about it, Dr. Price. I felt there was

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS
Senate Debate-Curb Row Renewed; Rent Curb Bill Favors 'Home Rule'; Pit Walkout Slims Coal Stockpile

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

FILIBUSTER:

Truce Called

The long, weary talkathon in the U. S. senate was over—but the battle over the proposed curbs on senate debate was by no means at an end.

A compromise had been effected with the aid of GOP support, but the administration was committed to oppose the peace formula which had been adopted.

THE FILIBUSTER had continued 15 days over a proposed change in senate rules. There was no doubt that southern senators, who led the talkathon, had emerged victorious. The talkfest was staged to delay President Truman's civil rights bill, and it had done just that.

The provisions of the peace formula were:

1. Unlimited debate in the senate would be permitted only upon a motion to take up a rules change.

2. Debate on all other matters could be curbed by the "yea" vote of 64 of the chamber's 96 members.

Majority leader Scott Lucas (D., Ill.) attacked the compromise proposal as a "move to perpetuate the filibuster."

"Of course I'll oppose it," he told newsmen. "It's an effort to take the senate back 40 years."

MEANWHILE Truman Democrats were reported launching a new parliamentary move to clamp down on debate. The senate already had overturned a ruling by Vice-President Barkley that discussion to take up the proposed rule change could be ended if two-thirds of those voting desired. The vote over-ruling Barkley was 46 to 41.

Administration leaders hoped to find some way to another ruling and, if that could change as many as three votes, a Barkley ruling could be sustained.

Mr. Truman had proved he could win the presidency without support of the South, but it appeared it would be difficult to put through a legislative program without support of southern senators.

JOHN L. LEWIS:

Herald of Spring

To coal miners and coal-using industrialists of the nation the infallible sign of spring is neither the robin nor crocus—it is John L. Lewis' annual call for the miners to leave the pits.

LEWIS CALLED, and the miners heard and obeyed. More than 400,000 miners began a two-week layoff, ordered, Lewis said, as a memorial to miners killed and injured last year.

Skeptics were caustic. They saw another, more understandable reason for the work stoppage. The nation's huge stockpile of coal, some 70 million tons, was looming too large in the Lewis eye. Unless this stockpile were materially decreased soon, the president of the United Mine Workers would be in a less tenable bargaining position later on.

Another reason advanced for the layoff was miners' opposition to the appointment by President Truman of Dr. James Boyd as head of the U. S. bureau of mines. Advocates of this idea suggested Lewis' move was intended to intimidate a senate committee considering Boyd's appointment.

IF THAT WERE TRUE, the attempt was a dismal failure. On the second day of the walkout, the senate committee approved Boyd's appointment by a vote of 10 to 1—admittedly to show Lewis that its members would not be intimidated.

But the U. S. couldn't shrug off the Lewis move. Already 11 railroads had ordered 87,425 workers furloughed. Coal is a vital freight item for these roads. The payroll loss to the railroads alone would be at least five million dollars for the two weeks of idleness.

THE MINERS themselves stood to lose at least 68 million dollars in wages. In two states steps were taken to file unemployment compensation claims to take up the slack. But there was a big question whether the states would approve the claims, because so many states do not approve claims where loss of employment is caused by action of the claimant, himself—such as might be ruled to be the case in the voluntary walkout of the miners.

Meanwhile most miners' families prepared for a slim Easter. There would be little money to buy new bonnets or dresses.

"BIOLOGICAL WARFARE" BUGABOO

Germs as Weapons Potent but Exaggerated

James Forrestal, retiring secretary of defense, has broken an official three-year military silence on the use or discussion of the term "biological warfare" and in a formal statement characterized much that has been written about the potency of germ weapons as "exaggerated, fantastic or unduly spectacular."

ENGLAND:

Medical Mecca

England was a medical Mecca. The ministry of health had ruled that foreigners visiting Britain are entitled to all the free services of the national health service. Doctors, however, didn't like the idea and were seeking to eliminate foreigners from eligibility.

The word had spread. Persons from the French channel coast area were making day trips to southern England for treatment

Bottoms Up!

Attorney Carl J. Stephens of the Iowa farm bureau takes a swig of hog cholera virus in house of representatives in attempt to show virus was not dangerous to humans. A veterinarian declared Stephens, after drinking the virus, might be a cholera carrier for at least 19 days.

RENT CONTROL:

Home Rule Favored

The administration's legislative program was bogging down at every turn in congress.

Rent controls, vital to millions of Americans, were being prolonged, but not along lines desired by President Truman and his advisers.

THE HOUSE had passed a rent control measure, but fixed extension at 15 months, instead of the 24 the administration wanted, and provided for home-rule application, a factor opposed by the administration.

If the senate accepted this version of a rent control act, it would be well for all concerned in the nation to begin ascertaining views of their local rent control boards, for that's where authority to relax or continue rent controls would rest.

The bill, passed by a vote of 261 to 153 is now in the hands of the senate for action and administration forces are reported ready to renew their fight for more adequate rent curbs there. Action on a senate version of rent controls had been blocked by the filibuster.

CONCERNING local-opinion authority to do away with rent controls, Tigue Wood, federal rent administrator, expressed the opinion it might not work out too badly. He went as far as to say that "I would be willing to bet that 90 per cent of the 1,100 counties where we have rent control will not lift rent control under this amendment."

Many Americans would wonder about that, and hope the housing chief was correct in his views. If he were wrong, and the senate enacted the house bill as drawn, a grave housing emergency might be created overnight.

Wood, however, saw two essentials lacking in the house bill. He termed these as criminal penalties for landlords overcharging on rent, and authority to reconvert apartments in residential hotels.

STAFF OF LIFE:

Cost Probe Due

The housewife who had read that the price of wheat and flour had gone down, but who found bread prices remaining up, had company if she had begun to puzzle about the paradox.

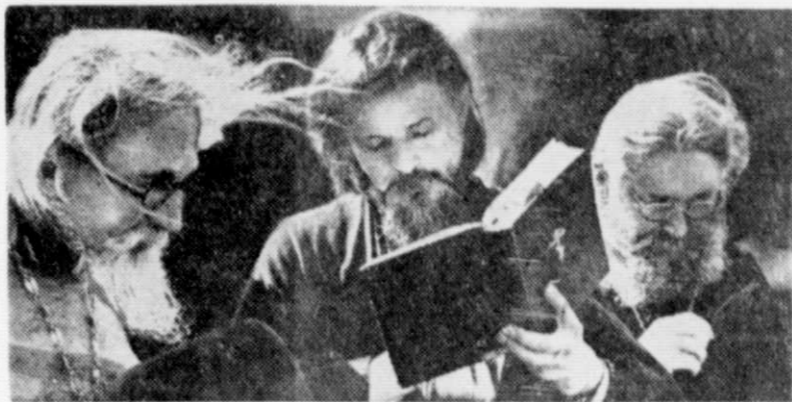

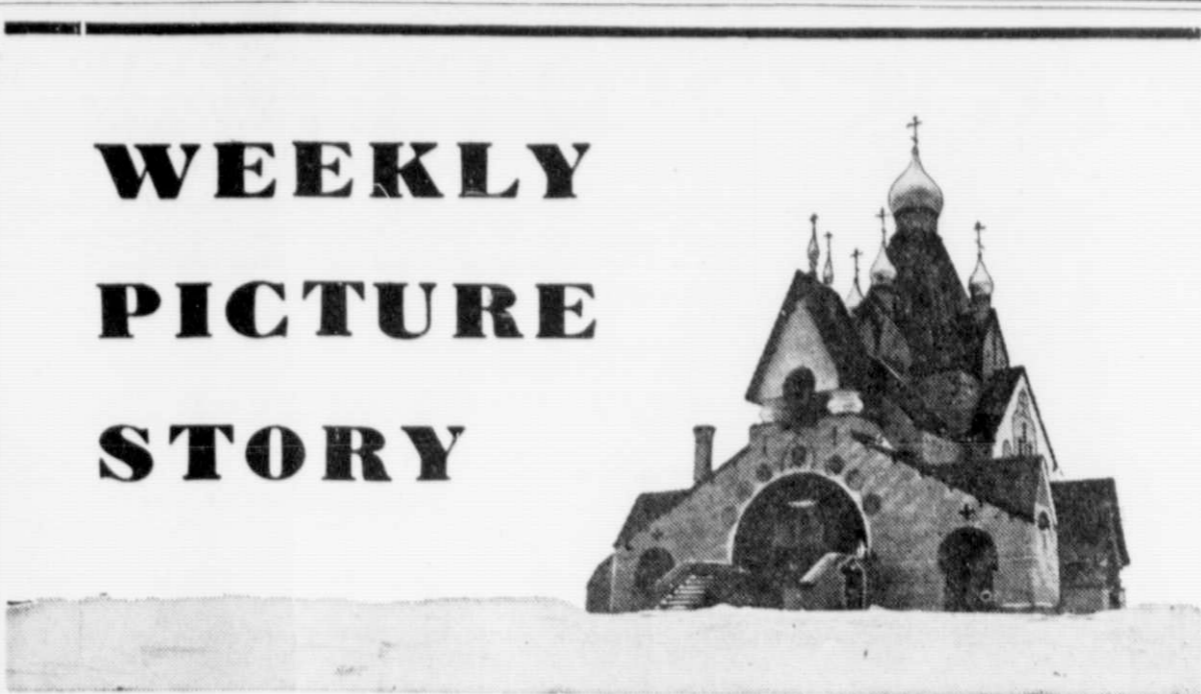

The senate of the United States was becoming interested, too, in this situation. And, a broad senate investigation into prices of bread—along with other things—was "ready to go," according to Senator Maybank (D., S.C.).

AS CHAIRMAN of the senate banking committee, he called on government agencies for latest data on prices—especially the spread between prices consumers pay and those farmers get for their products.

The chairman said the price investigation wants to know: Why are bread prices at their level in view of the wheat and flour price drops?

Why hasn't lard, soap and shortening prices fallen off more? American housewives also would like to have answers to those questions.

Haven for Refugee Monks...

Nine crosses, pointing upward from as many towers on the Russian Orthodox monastery near Jordanville, N. Y., stand as a symbol of freedom of religion for the monks and priests who recently have joined founders of the order of St. Job in this country after fleeing persecution in Communist-dominated Czechoslovakia.

The Russian Orthodox monks who founded the church 13 years ago, and the refugees who joined them last year succeeded in completing their edifice in time to celebrate their Christmas on January 7 in accordance with the Julian calendar upon which all feast days of that church are based.

Some of the refugee monks in these pictures asked that their names and their histories be guarded in fear of reprisals on their relatives still living in Communist Russia. But even that fear does not inhibit the fervor that continues to uplift them in their new sanctuary of freedom.

Youthful and aged alike, these seven of the refugee monks are shown at their simple dinner in the monastery. They, too, must remain anonymous to the public. The monks do all the work on the 600-acre dairy farm surrounding their monastery, living solely on the proceeds.

Bishop Seraphim Ivanov (bottom left) is the leader of the group of 14 monks who reached the monastery a year ago after being forced out of Czechoslovakia.

In the basement of the monastery (bottom right) the monks were able to set up their first church altar for their Christmas celebration. Here, one of the priests holds a relic of the order up for veneration.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—the risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are asked to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up at night, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body wastes. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

4-H TRACTOR SCHOOL GROUP TO MEET AT WEST BEND APR. 6

For the past four months a group of about 20 older 4-H boys have met semi-monthly, usually at a local implement dealer plant, for the purpose of learning more about the care, management and operation of farm tractors. Last Wednesday evening, the group met at the court house, West Bend. The program was under the supervision of H. A. Hammer, local Standard Oil representative. He was assisted by R. A. Hildebrandt, district fieldman of the Standard Oil company. Films on farm tractor care and on gasoline's amazing molecules were shown. The final meeting of the group will be held at the West Bend Implement company display rooms, Ray Schmidt, manager. The lesson to be presented will deal with trouble finding and correcting on tractors.

John P. Horlamus, Route 5, West Bend, has been in charge of the tractor schools, John was selected by the 4-H group of the county to attend the tractor leadership training school held at the university last fall. Others who assisted with the tractor school include Clarence Janz of Hartford, Edson Wulff, West Bend, Route 2, and Frank Falter, Route 1, West Bend.

The boys who have been in attendance appreciate the fine cooperation local implement dealers have given this worthwhile club project.

VOTE "YES" for State Veterans' Housing

Here is the opportunity to aid Wisconsin Veterans in need of housing WITHOUT raising taxes.

The money for Veterans' Housing is being raised by the special liquor tax—$9,000,000 has been collected and is waiting to be used for this purpose. If the referendum is defeated the money will be used for other purposes and what purpose could be more worthy than VETERANS' HOUSING. This amendment will bring additional housing into your community, easing housing for everyone.

Mark an "X" in the "YES" box under the question on the ballot and help the Wisconsin Veterans to obtain homes.

Shall Article VIII, Section 10 of the constitution be amended so that the state may appropriate money for the acquisition, improvement or construction of veterans' housing?
