Miss Myrtle Strachota became the bride of Albert A. Krcelj at 9:30 a. m. Saturday, May 7, at St. Kilian's church, St. Kilian. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Marie Strachota, St. Kilian. The groom is the son of Albert F. Krcelj, N 53rd st., Milwaukee. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John B. Reichel.

The bride wore a gown of candle-light ivory satin, featuring a jewelry neckline and a draped sash around the hipline with the ends of the sash trailing gracefully over the full circular train. Long, fitted sleeves with points at the wrists completed the gown. Holding the French illusion fingertip veil was a band of matching satin with orange blossoms on either side. She carried a spray of calla lilies. The bride wore a strand of pearls, the gift of the groom.

Mrs. Wm. F. Rieckert of Cincinnati, Ohio, a cousin of the bride, was the honor attendant. She wore a mint green taffeta dress fashioned with a square neckline. Gauntlets of the same taffeta completed the costume. She carried ivory roses with a spray of the same flowers in her hair. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Paul Kohl of Menomonee Falls, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Ray Groose, sister of the bride, wore identical gowns of pale yellow taffeta and carried tallman roses. The same flowers were worn in their hair.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Orville Strachota, Charles A. Krcelj, Milwaukee, brother of the groom, served as best man. The ushers were Alois Vietor, Kewaskum, and Anthony Matejka of Milwaukee.

The bride's mother wore a beige gardenia suit with navy blue accessories and a navy blue picture hat, accented with a spray of delicate pink flowers. Her corsage was of variegated carnations. The groom's maternal and paternal grandmothers wore like corsages of pink sweetpeas and roses.

The soloist, Mrs. Amelia Becker, Woodland, rendered several selections including "Ave Maria," "On This Day" and "Mother Dearest."

A wedding breakfast was served at the Linden Inn, Big Cedar lake, and an afternoon reception was held at the same place.

For her going away outfit, the bride wore a dachia gabardine suit with brown beaded trim. Her accessories were dachia and pepper green. She wore an orchid corsage.

After a honeymoon to Canada, the young couple will reside at 1414 N. Humboldt avenue, Milwaukee.

KRUEGER-KOBER

Miss Bernice Kober, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christ Kober Jr., R. 1, Kewaskum, became the bride of Norman Krueger, son of the Wm. Kruegers, R. 1, Lomira, in a nuptial ceremony read at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, May 7, in the St. Lucas Ev. Lutheran church, Kewaskum, by the Rev. Gerhard Kaniess. The church choir sang during the service.

The bridal gown of white taffeta was styled with a square neck and long train and with it she wore a fingertip veil. The flowers consisted of white carnations surrounding white roses with showers and ribbons of forget-me-nots.

The bride was attended by Mrs. Richard Krueger, a sister-in-law of the groom, as matron of honor. She wore a gown of white satin fashioned with a sleek-fitted bodice with a graceful gathered skirt. Her flowers were white carnations with showers and ribbons of sweetpeas. The bridesmaid, Miss Priscilla Enderle, cousin of the groom, was attired in a plain gown of orchid taffeta with a peplum. Miss Norma Dallego, cousin of the bride, junior bridesmaid, wore a gown identical to that of the bridesmaid, only blue in color. Their flowers consisted of yellow carnations with yellow ribbon.

The flock of the flower girl, Betty Kober, sister of the bride, was of white maise taffeta fashioned with puff sleeves and lace trim. She carried white carnations fashioned like those of the bridesmaid.

Richard Krueger was his brother's best man, while Delbert Horning, cousin of the groom, was groomsmen. Ushering were Vernon Krueger and Marvin Auchtung. William Kober, brother of the bride, was junior groomsmen.

A 5:30 o'clock dinner was served to 60 guests at the Kewaskum Opera House and a reception and wedding dance were held there from 8 p. m. to 1 a. m. for 150 guests.

Following a wedding trip to northern Wisconsin, the newlyweds will be at home on the farm of the groom's parents where he is employed. The bride, a graduate of Kewaskum High school, was employed at the Gamble store, Kewaskum, before her marriage.

School Wins Ratings at Waupun Music Fest

The music department of the Kewaskum Public school traveled to the city of Waupun for the 1949 music festival on Saturday, May 7. After the tournament was over and the results announced the group came home with some good ratings and received much musical educational value from the day's experiences.

The band results are as follows: 1. Concert Contest, class C—Third award with the judges' comments: "Solid sounding band, good attempts at dynamic contrast!"

2. Sight Reading, class C—Third award with the judges' comments: "The band has many very young players; they are showing good promise."

3. Parade, class C—Second award with the judges' comments: "Cadence very good. Very commendable appearance."

The girls' glee club result was: 1. Concert Contest, class B—"Second award with the judges' comment: "Nice quality, blend and balance."

It should be mentioned that both the band and glee club entered in a higher class this year. Last year the band played in class D, but this year played in class C. The glee club sang in class C last year, but entered in class B this year. Thus the music and competition is keener and stiffer, but the musical experience is greater.

INDIANS LOSE AGAIN

For the second time Kewaskum High was defeated in baseball. The latest victor by a fairly large margin was Lomira, who battled their way to six runs while keeping Kewaskum down to one. The Lomira Red Lions have a good team and the fast ball of their pitcher, Ronald Stern, struck out 14 men. Kewaskum played a good game, but due to a string of errors on Kewaskum's part, Lomira scored the runs that gave them command of the game.

Utensils Win Opener, Rivers Entry Beaten

The Kewaskum Utensils got off to a flying start in the Land o' Lakes northern division in the season's opener here Sunday when they easily trounced Granville, 9 to 2.

"Mix" Marx, veteran moundster, whizzed along in mid-season style as he set down Granville with 6 bingles. He knocked off 12 opponents on strike. He didn't give up a walk.

On the other hand the Utensils had a field day at bat, pounding the ball hard for 14 safeties off two Granville twirlers, Batzler and D. Hacker. Batzler gave up 12 hits, striking out 7 and walking one. Hacker allowed 2 hits and a walk. Leading Kewaskum's hit parade was "Deany" Baumhardt, a newcomer to the lineup, who lined out 2 singles in 4 trips. Other big contributors to the victory were Paul Kral and Norm Held with 2 for 5. "Fritz" Dorn's double also was the only extra base blow for the home club. Helping the Utensils' cause was the poor support given the Granville pitchers. Ten errors were committed by their mates.

Kewaskum was first to hit pay dirt with 2 runs in the 2nd frame. Granville tied the count with 2 in the 4th but that was the end of the trail for them. The Utensils added 1 in the 4th and another in the 5th, climaxing the game with a big 5 run spurge in the 8th on 6 hits, a walk and error.

WEST BEND 5; KEWASKUM 1

It was a sad story in the opening encounter for the Honeyek Chevrolts in the Land o' Rivers loop. The Rivers entry played at West Bend and was set down by the Lithias, 5 to 1.

It was a case of just too much Kugler, who pitched one of his hottest games for the Lithias. He was very stingy with the base hits, giving up only 5 and striking out 11 batters. Five Kewaskum batters reached base on walks off Kugler.

"Hetty" Backhaus toiled on the hill for the losers and also hurled a good game. He gave up 3 hits, striking out 7 Lithias and passing one.

Pacing the West Bend attack was shortstop Sauer, who slashed out 3 hits in 4 journeys to the plate. Miller connected for 2. Kewaskum's 5 safeties were divided between Kral, Petermann, Backhaus, Joe Miller and Luettke.

The local nine's long run was scored in the 7th on Miller's single, stolen base and Luettke's bingle. The Lithias tallied 1 in the 2nd, 1 in the 5th and 3 more in the 8th.

COLORADO SKIING FILM SHOWN TO KIWANIS CLUB

Breathtaking beauty of famed Colorado scenery was combined with fast moving action in a motion picture presentation made to the Kiwanis club Monday evening of a sport not unfamiliar to Wisconsinites—skiing.

The thrill-a-plenty, skill-a-plenty demonstration of this exciting winter sport was made in Aspen, Colo. The film was presented by Lem Rosenheimer, who not so long ago spent an enjoyable vacation in Aspen.

Yes, the correct word in the preceding paragraph is "skiff" and not "spill" for this demonstration was made to a large degree by experts. Their ability with the curved, waxed boards was truly magnificent.

Dr. R. G. Edwards reported to his fellow club members at this meeting on results of the tuberculosis chest examinations which were made a few months ago. The report gave added emphasis to the need for such examinations in our community.

Theatre Project Rumored

A much discussed subject of street and parlor talk in the village is a proposal to erect a 500 seat theatre at the George Brandt property recently acquired with other adjoining lands by the Bartlett Realty company. It is to be proposed as a community enterprise and to be financed through sale of stock.

Here is an opportunity for Kewaskum and community populace to all join in together for a common cause, which they have been outstanding for in other instances.

It can be well assumed that just about everyone wants a show house in Kewaskum. It has been most successful in smaller and less prosperous communities, and therefore there should be no reason why it shouldn't be here. Let's hope so.

Why should we have a show house? Well, here are just some of the many reasons.

- 1. It will greatly relieve the dire need for entertainment and recreation for our minor children.
2. It will serve as an added and convenient place of entertainment for all, young and old.
3. It will attract people to retire in Kewaskum.
4. It will attract people to work here and to purchase homes, buy lots, and build homes in Kewaskum.
5. It will help put us on the map as a thriving growing community.
6. It will make us more proud of the community in which we live.
7. It will bring more business to Kewaskum from surrounding and other communities which directly or indirectly benefit everyone.
8. It should be an excellent investment for local capital.
9. It will give people other things to talk about.

Undoubtedly there are other reasons that favor this project, but this is at least some of them. Such a project will not affect taxes and should be no burden to anyone. This should prove a very lucrative proposition with many advantages to all. Let's all get behind this and push.

White Mice Serving In Chemical Tests

Insecticide Shower Evaluates Formulae

An old-style phonograph rigged up to give a revolving shower bath to a white mouse is helping test new chemicals for effectiveness in stable fly control. The mice are pinch-hitting for dairy cows in making the tests, says the U.S. department of agriculture.

The old phonograph was one that played wax cylinder records. The test mouse is confined in a screen cage that replaces the old record holder. The mouse is rolled around several times under a sprayed solution of the new chemical, and then is rolled under an air stream until dry. The test comes the next day in another cage with 20 stable flies. If as many as four of the flies succeed in attacking the mouse without being driven off or poisoned, the chemical is not regarded as worth a full scale test on a cow. This is the first time white mice have been used in just this kind of experimental work.

Federal entomologists are searching actively for a spray that will protect animals from attack by stable flies and other blood-sucking flies and mosquitoes. Recent experience has proved abundantly how profitable it is for farmers to protect cattle from the torment of "fly time" and thus avoid the summer slump in milk production and gains in weight of animals on pasture.

This search calls for trials of hundreds of chemicals. Many of these are new synthetics.

Soil Protection

Pelting rains may be a soil destroyer rather than a farm blessing unless your land has a protective "umbrella" over cover crops.

Beating rains on bare land break the surface soil into small particles. These particles quickly fill the surface of the surface soil. The surface forms a hard crust. Water cannot soak in. Instead, it runs over the surface. The farm land then suffers a double loss. It loses needed moisture for crops and it loses valuable top-soil.

The Middle West soil improvement committee suggests these steps for protecting your soil and giving your crops better use of the rains you get:

1. Use a cropping system that gives your soil as continuous cover as possible throughout the year.
2. Thick-growing grasses and deep-rooted legumes give the best cover.
3. Small grains following corn help keep the land protected.
4. If winter wheat or rye is not feasible, a good covering can be had by mashing down corn stalks or soybean tops.

Legumes like alfalfa and sweet clover prevent washing away of soil. Their prying taproots open the soil so rain soaks in and is held for crops. Legumes well fed with phosphate and potash fertilizer add life-giving organic matter.

Land Should Be Turned Under for New Legumes

When corn is to follow first year sweetclover, it is advisable to get the ground turned under before the new growth of the legume removes too much moisture from the soil.

This tip comes from D. L. Gross, Nebraska university extension agronomist. He advises, however, not to plow under the clover before new crown shoots get to a length of four to six inches. Earlier plowing may not kill the legume.

Selection of Dogs Shouldn't Be Hasty

When it's time to replace old Shep with another farm dog or a good ratter, farmers are advised that it will pay them to study up on the dogs before making a final choice.

Most dog literature is of more interest to the professional breeder than to the farmer interested in getting the right dog for the right job. The 111 recognized breeds of dogs are divided into six groups

How It Started . . .

It is believed that the cross-country race, the steeplechase, got its curious name from the custom of horsemen racing across the country toward a goal marked by some tall and conspicuous object, such as a distant church tower or steeple.

Bloomers—voluminous female garments of a bygone day—got their name from Amelia Jenks Bloomer, who fought for emancipation of women's clothing and the wearing of trousers by women.

FEMALE PEACE ORGANIZATION WOULD . . .

Why Not Let the Ladies Take Over UN's Job?

. . . SOLVE THE GROMYKO PROBLEM PRONTO

By H. I. PHILLIPS

LET THE GAL'S TAKE OVER!

Sen. Margaret Chase of Maine proposes that the women of the world form their own United Nations or other peace organization. Why not? Even if they didn't get peace the fighting would be easier on the eye. An international debate never loses anything through being photogenic. The men have had their chance at bringing world peace and have sliced every shot, Senator Chase declares. We agree. This harassed world would feel better if it knew that its future was in the hands of somebody who could at least bake a cake.

No matter how deep the planet's faith in those men delegates ever got there was always the realization that they really didn't know how to replace a lost shirt button.

It seems to us that the men might well be called off the peace job and the women sent in. In four years the men haven't even made anybody turn around and look at them. Not a delegate has had a song written to him. There hasn't been a heartthrob in a carload.

U. N. has no glamour. For one person who can name the head of the organization, 1,000 can name the young woman who was Miss Somebody's Beer for 1948.

If the women formed a peace organization, took over U. N. and sent the men home to look after the kids, put out the cat and do other things not subject to the veto, the peace movement would immediately acquire immense affection and devotion. Maybe what the world needs is a League that can be whistled at!

We can see swift results. A female U. N. would get a bigger play in all the newspapers and magazines. It would probably make the cover of Life. It would even make television, which is the ultimate goal these days. Whenever interest in the organization tailed off the delegates could be photographed in beach attire or endorsing a girdle.

A woman's United Nations would solve the Gromyko problem pronto. There has never been a time when one woman could veto 1,000 other women and live.

What can men do when the world is ornery? Nothing. But in a showdown the women could get what they want merely by flashing a two-word message to all women everywhere: "Stop cooking!" And they could follow that up with an order to the girls to refuse to answer the universal question, "Where did you put the aspirin, Nellie?"

To cap it all they could say, "Not a bed will be made or a sock washed until the armies of the earth disband."

Gangway for the ladies! They will know the right perfume. And if, by any chance, they muddled things up even more, the muddle would at least have that certain something.

CUFF STUFF

President Truman threw out the first ball at the opening of the baseball season in Washington. It was a Blair House twister with alternating altitude and depth, and everybody can now understand why he feels control is so mandatory to the American system.

Can you remember away back when the flags in a college student's room did not include picket banners?

The Blair House, now occupied by the president as a temporary White House, has been piped for music from a corporation rendering this service to hotels and restaurants. Does this mean Mrs. Truman and Margaret are in an all-out move to discourage Harry at the piano?

Elm trees a half century old have been carted in from the countryside and planted along Fifth ave. We feel sorry for them. It's a little late in life to start afresh in New York. We saw one of the trees on a truck preparatory to planting and distinctly heard it moan, "New York is all right for a visit, but I'd hate to live there."

Italy Wants Colonies

PRESIDENT TRUMAN was sympathetic, but noncommittal, when five Italian-American congressmen braced him about the return of Italy's war-lost colonies in Africa. Led by thoughtful freshman Rep. Anthony Tauriello of New York, the White House callers contended that Italy's joining the Atlantic pact demonstrated her right to the colonies.

Rep. Anthony Cavalcante of Pennsylvania enlightened the proceedings with a charge that Great Britain was deliberately blocking a settlement of the issue.

"It will mean less Marshall plan spending in Italy if the colonies are returned, for the Italian government then will have an outlet for its surplus population, including 250,000 refugees who left Africa for Italy during the war," argued Tauriello.

"These people, many of whom are on relief, will be able to support themselves by farming in the colonies," he argued. "Also, Italian opposition to communism will be stiffened if the colony question is settled. As you know, before the Italian election last year, Russia favored the return of the colonies, but since then Russia has opposed their return under a United Nations trusteeship or otherwise."

"I will do anything I can to help the Italian people," repeated Truman. "But I cannot commit myself on this question. It is a world problem and the decision will have to be made by the United Nations."

Representative Tauriello and his colleagues—Peter Rodino (N. J.), Hugh Addonizio (N. J.), Gary Clements (N. Y.) and Cavalcante—all agreed that Truman couldn't dictate to the U. N.

"We understand your position," said the outspoken Cavalcante, a down-the-line battler for Truman domestic policies. "It's too bad Great Britain doesn't also live up to United Nations principles. Britain has been blocking the return of these colonies because she wants them for herself."

"If the United Nations government lets Britain get away with it, then all I can say is that we are not pursuing the international policy of moral right to all nations, great and small, on which the U. N. was founded."

Truman's Old Haunts

Seldom has President Truman had such a gay time as when he visited his old haunts in the senate on the anniversary of Roosevelt's death. He led a procession of senators and secret service men on to the senate floor. On the way, he ducked into the Vice-President's office and signed the register under Cardinal Spellman's name. Since Vice-President Barkley was out of town, Truman also scribbled a note to him on a scratch pad.

"Dear Mr. VP," he scrawled, "called to see you to get some advice—HST."

In the senate cloak room, the President took a squirt at the news ticker.

"They didn't have these here in my day," he remarked. Then, referring to Washington's newspaper strike, he added mischievously: "I'm not getting my newspaper at home. I'll have to read your ticker."

The President marched out of the senate chamber and peeked into Senate Secretary Les Biffle's office. Biffle was recuperating from the gripe at Bethesda naval hospital, so the President sat down and scribbled another note.

"Les," he wrote, "I wish you were here. I tried to see the VP—he was gone. Now you are out. What shall I do? Looks as if I'll have to consult with the senate—HST."

Not satisfied with just leaving a note, the President picked up the phone and called Biffle at the hospital.

"Hello, Les," he chirped. "I'm sitting at your desk, so I thought I would call you up."

The President chatted about Biffle's health, then hung up. At that moment, a call came into the office and Truman thought it would be a good joke to answer it. But he couldn't find the right button. When a secretary beat him to it, he pulled a wry face.

From Biffle's office, the President returned to the senate floor and took his former seat. There Florida's Sen. Claude Pepper placed a hand on his shoulder and joked: "Well, I hope you're going to vote for the program of our President."

"I sure would," chuckled Truman, "if I had a vote."

Labor Advises Truman President Truman got some straight-from-the-shoulder advice on the 1950 congressional elections the other day from two labor experts—Joseph Keenan, director of the AFL League for Political Education, and Lew Hines, AFL legislative representative.

The advice was: 1. Get outstanding, locally popular, liberal candidates to run against muckback Democratic congressmen in the primaries; 2. Do the same against G.O.P. muckbacks.

AROUND THE HOUSE

Dipping easters in melted paraffin before placing them under tables and chairs will keep them from coming loose so often.

When carpeting reaches all the way to the walls, use vacuum around baseboard frequently—moths love to lay eggs in such spots.

Use an old powder puff when applying shoe polish; it conserves useful cloth, does not smear fingers, and fits nicely into can for future use.

Try tomato juice to remove stains from washable materials.

Apply a thin coat of sealer to wire clotheslines to keep them from rusting and make them much easier to clean.

Wash fluffy pile bedroom slippers—using same method as for chenille robes, etc.—. Do not wring; squeeze gently and shake occasionally while drying; when dry, brush vigorously to bring up nap.

To give an illusion of greater size to a small room, paint one or more of the walls a different color; or, paint one wall and paper the others.

To squeeze that extra drop of juice out of a lemon, use an ordinary pair of pliers.

If cheese is too soft to grate, soften it a little more in a warm place and press through a coarse strainer.

Purse mirrors placed under individual candle holders are attractive insurance against dripping or spilled tallow.

Unused marshmallows will stay fresh after the box has been opened if they are kept in the bread box.

Mix odds and ends of left-over paint together and use to paint under-side of porch, steps, clothes props, etc. Before putting air-tight cover on left-over paint, pour a little turpentine over the paint. This helps against "skinning" or drying out.

NIGHT

THANK God for night, with its great gift of sleep. More wonderful than all His gifts to men! For stars that walk the dreamways, and that keep their wide-eyed watch until dawn breaks again. Thank God for blessed silence down the land, More soothing than the drip of summer rain; For darkness, soft and cool as some dear hand Laid on a forehead feverish with pain.

Oh, only those who carry sleepless scars Can know how sweet sleep is that comes at last; And only the eyes that have looked long at stars Have learned night's secret as it marches past, Have learned to know how quiet God must keep To guide an earth through stars that men may sleep.

Star Dust STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO

JIM AND MARIAN Jordan had been in and out of small-time show business for several years when a $10 bet landed them on the radio. They were visiting Jim's brother in Chicago when Jim remarked that he and Marian could do a better job of singing than anyone on the radio program they were listening to; Jim's brother bet him $10 they couldn't. That was a lot of money to the Jordans then; they showed up at Station WIBO, and landed on the air. Five months later the radio job ended, and they went back to vaudeville. It was not until later that they became "Fibber McGee and Molly" in one of radio's top ranking radio series.

Dr. Henry Darlington, Rector of New York's Church of the Heavenly Rest, recently appeared as family counselor on "The Second Mrs. Burton." Listening to the singing commercials, he remarked, "If churches used a device as catchy as this, I could guarantee standing room only." No doubt he went home and asked the cook to try these seven delicious flavors.

Burt Lancaster is back in the circus; he finished "Rope of Sand" and headed for Louisville, Ky., and the Cole Brothers' circus, to do an acrobatic act with his former partner, Nick Cravat; will appear with it in 25 cities.

Howard "Sam Spade" Duff relived a scary experience when he and other members of the "Partners in Crime" cast were flying to Universal-International's location in Tuscon. The plane shook violently, and one engine went dead. Finally landed on the remaining three. When he was in the South Pacific during the war, Duff was in a plane that encountered severe headwinds, threatened to run out of gas. He admits that he was as scared as anybody else, but he took out some cards and started a poker game.

Claude Rains' radio show has been developing in his mind for some time, since he began recording tales from the Bible, acting as narrator and taking all the roles. The format worked so well that he has developed it for radio.

Bits of scrap lumber rarely go to waste if Allied Artists' Barry Sullivan sees them. The star of "Bad Men of Tombstone" haunts the studio lumberyard between scenes, takes bits of wood home to make toys of them.

The Fiction POACHERS OUTWITTED

IT HAPPENED that young Glen Lloyd was the only warden on duty when Chief Fred Mather received word that poachers were doing a wholesale business in moose meat up in Birchhill county. Glen was a rookie on the job. As yet he'd had no contact with either the hardships or the dangers of a north woods game warden. Chief Mather decided to use discretion. "You go up there and do some reconnoitering," he told the youth. "You'll find a base camp under a cliff near the headwaters of the Beaver. Make this your headquarters until Warden Loomis arrives. He'll tell you how to proceed." Chief Mather drummed with his pencil. "Don't take any chances, son. I've an idea that Moe Stanford's behind this ring. He's a bad actor."

Glen reached the base cabin two days later. The ground was covered with a six-inch fall of snow. Glen waited two days more and then decided to take matters into his own hands. Armed with his service pistol and a flashlight he concealed himself near the tote road on top of a ridge where the progress of the truck would have to be slow. It was bitterly cold and a brisk wind was blowing. Also there was the promise of snow in the air. Midnight came and went and Glen's spirits ebbed low. Cursing himself for delaying action, Glen was about to quit his hiding place when he heard distantly the roar of an automobile motor.

He waited until the driver was shifting gears for the final pull, then stepped out into the glare of the lights. He held his gun in one hand. The badge on his sheepskin coat was plainly visible.

Instead of stopping, the driver bore down on the accelerator. The truck roared straight at the warden. Glen stepped to one side, barely avoiding being hit, and as the heavy machine lumbered by he swung himself onto the running board. He clung there perilously for a moment, then something hit him on the head, he heard an angry curse, and went spinning of into space.

Fifteen minutes later he emerged on to the same tote road where it doubled back on itself. The lights from the truck were already sweeping up the incline.

GLEN CROUCHED behind a boulder, glad that the darkness was so intense. He waited until the truck had crawled by, then ran after it. He caught the tailboard and hoisted himself up. Two men were standing up front, leaning

Egypt's jigsaw puzzle

Ancient Egypt is being rebuilt. These are the first pictures of the most fabulous structures in the world's history, the palatial temples, monuments to the Sun God, built by Egyptian kings and queens at Karnak on the Nile river 4,000 years ago. Destroyed by an earthquake in 27 B. C., they now are being restored into what has become the world's greatest jigsaw puzzle. Hundreds of men are putting back into place stones, columns, statues, broken noses, thumbs and feet weighing anywhere from 100 pounds to 200,000 pounds. In the above photo is the Temple of Karnak, whose impressive columns—sentinels of a world wonder—remained upright bearing the supporting stones through the centuries.

Photo at left shows 600 acres of precious granite that once formed the most fabulous temples in all history. Fifty years will be required to complete the temples destroyed by an earthquake before the Birth of Christ. Restoration is under direction of the Egyptian government's department of antiquities.

The Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago, headed by Dr. Richard Parker, has the task of recording all hieroglyphics inscribed on the remaining stones (right). All inscriptions are photographed; all clues are followed up with utmost care.

Some of the separate projects involved in the restoration are well under way. The Avenue of Sphinxes (below) is almost back to its original form of massive grandeur. The avenue served as the grand entrance for Egyptian kings and queens being carried up to the temple from their Nile boats.

Here, workers at the Temple of Karnak are leveling up the head of a ram-headed sphinx along the Avenue of Sphinxes. Breaks in the stones are matched in order to be certain that each piece is restored in its original position. How some of the gargantuan granite stones were cut, floated down the Nile and erected 4,000 years ago is still history's secret.

At left is shown a plan of the Temple of Karnak as it existed prior to 27 B. C. The restoration, when completed in another 50 years, will be exactly like this plan.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN RECEIVES FIRST BUDDY POPPY . . . President Truman is shown receiving the first Buddy Poppy of the 1949 sale from five-year old Keitha M. Smith, of the Veterans of Foreign Wars home for widows and orphans in Eaton Rapids, Mich. She visited the White House for the ceremony. The Buddy Poppy sale is conducted annually by the VFW to raise funds for rehabilitation work among needy veterans.

NO KLANSMEN, THEY . . . This striking view, so similar to many seen in the United States when the Ku Klux Klan was most active, would seem to be that of a group of klansmen marching along with the traditional lighted cross—but nothing could be further from the fact. These paraders took part in observance of Holy Week in Madrid and are members of the "brotherhood of silence." About 6,000 members took part in the solemn procession.

HAVING A "HIGH" TIME . . . Defying equilibrium, gravity and sundry other things which bar this sort of thing as a pastime for ordinary persons, Betty Fox, featured performer of the Barnes Brothers circus, is shown on a tiny platform extending from a 13th floor window of the Congress hotel in Chicago.

THIS BIRD HAS TABLE MANNERS . . . "Most any polly 'wants a cracker," but only Rebecca, a stickler for propriety, insists on a spoon with hers. Besides being adept at the table graces—including proper use of knife and fork—Rebecca can dance and is an excellent conversationalist. Her vocabulary is referred to as "interesting." Her home, appropriately enough, is a restaurant called the "Chatterbox."

AILING HOUSE

Linoleum Over Sub-Floor

Question: Can rubber tiling or linoleum be laid over just a sub-flooring and must it be perfectly solid?

Answer: Sub-flooring is usually very rough, and frequently it is put down with open spaces between the boards. A floor of this type is not suitable as a base for rubber tile, linoleum or any other type of floor covering. For best results a sheet of plywood or a hard fibreboard should be put down over the rough flooring to provide a smooth, rigid base for the floor covering.

Worn-Off Chromium Plating

Question: The rungs of my chromium kitchen chairs have become rusted. Is there any way I can clean them?

Answer: The best thing to do with worn-off chromium plating is to have it re-plated. If you can get the chairs to a neighborhood plating shop, you could have this work done. It would improve the appearance of the chairs very much. Cleaning off the rust can be done, but it will not restore the original appearance of the chairs. You can soften the rust with a rust-removing preparation, on sale in many auto accessories stores.

SUSPECT . . . George Albert Brennan, 17, trainee at Lackland air force base, San Antonio, Tex., was arrested in connection with the "lonely hearts" killings in Delaware. The youth told officers he took no part in the killing of two men.

CUPID'S TURN . . . Cupid has hit safely in the case of Johnny Groth, 22, sensational Detroit rookie outfielder, who is going to marry his sweetheart with whom he is shown here. She is Betty Stoll of Chicago, who was in the stands when Groth sparked his big league debut with two homers.

CONTESTS WILL . . . Screen extra Gloria Schumm will contest the will of the late Wallace Beery, screen actor, claiming he was the father of her year-old son. She said she would file a claim for $100,000 for support of the child.

FORLORN FIGURE . . . Joe DiMaggio, ailing New York Yankee outfielder, presents a forlorn figure as he sits in the Yankee dugout at the season's opening game. Joe has a heel spur that refuses to heal.

LITTLE COLONIALS . . . Ann Cole Kernodle, 3, and her brother John Robert Kernodle, Jr., of Burlington, N.C., were among the flower bearers to the president general at the opening of the 58th congress of the DAR.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS U.S. Seeks to Avoid Chinese War As Warships Flee Shanghai Trap; Reds Talk of Berlin Blockade End

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

BOUND FOR "HOT SPOT" . . . American marines wave from the U.S.S. St. Paul as they embark for trouble spots in China.

The United States was showing the world that it planned no maneuvers which might create the situation for an "incident" leading to involvement in the Chinese war.

To the surprise of practically everyone, particularly the 2,500 Americans in Shanghai, the entire U. S. fleet fled suddenly from Shanghai, evidently having abandoned their current plans for evacuation of American nationals from the scene.

THE GOVERNMENT was sending some marines to Chinese troubled spots, but these were to do only sentry duty.

United States action came despite admittedly great provocation. The Chinese Communists, in their triumphant surge across China to Shanghai, had invaded the home of U. S. Envoy J. Leighton Stuart in Nanking and hinted he was to be held in custody.

Meanwhile, the Chinese Reds broadcast a demand for American and British officials to evacuate all their "aggressive forces" from China.

Already British warships had been fired upon and it was assumed American fleet elements had fled Shanghai in order to avoid any such predicament as was experienced by the British vessels.

THE COMMUNIST threat to Shanghai was increasing hourly and despite Nationalist desire to battle to the end, it appeared the city's plight was hopeless.

Communist victory in China would put all the western nations in a ticklish position. For, with the Reds in control of all China, those who opposed communism would be helpless and hopeless in event of a western-powers move to apply economic sanctions, if such a step should be taken.

THE FUTURE of labor relations in the industry was as confused as it was uneasy. Recent action by manufacturers in cutting prices of automobiles had brought accusations from labor that the reductions were only "token" cuts, and did not represent a fair action on the part of the manufacturers.

AUTO LABOR: Flareup Looms

The nation's coal mines didn't present the only likely flareup in labor-employe relations as bargaining time rolled around in various industries. Those who were in position to know held the opinion that it was an "uneasy peace" which hung over the automobile industry.

FARM PROGRAM: Who's Confused?

The administration's bold new farm program was becoming so muddled that even its proponents seemed to be less than certain of just what its purpose is, to say nothing of how much it will cost.

GROWN UP

Shirley Temple, one-time "Little Miss Marker" of movie fame, now is fully grown up. She recently celebrated her 21st birthday anniversary. The dimpled child screen star of more than a decade ago is the mother of a year-old daughter.

FROZEN FROG: May Yet Jump

Dr. D. L. Albasio, of Angels Camp, Calif., was keeping his entry in the annual frog jumping contest on ice—literally speaking. He has to, because his frog, Lazarus, has been frozen stiff for an estimated 1,200 years.

VACCINATION: Cow Turns Tables

The proverb makers will have to alter that one about the worm turning. This time it was a cow. In Delaware, Ohio, veterinarian W. R. Reed prepared to inoculate a cow on the farm of Ross Smith-ers.

CREDIT CONTROLS: Are Eased Again

Developments were shaving President Truman's demands for price control power further and further into the realm of absurdity.

THE FEDERAL reserve board, after looking the situation over, decided that installment buying controls could be lowered again safely. And this it did. It set out that on household appliances such as refrigerators, radios, electric washers, etc., the down payment would have to be only 10 per cent of the cost of the item, instead of the previous 15 per cent.

THIS ACTION brought both commendation and criticism. That element in the federal government which would recoup all the wartime controls for the President, was aghast at the action, terming it dangerous. Others who had watched prices continue their downward spiral—especially merchants who were facing a buyers' market and difficulty in moving goods off sales floors—saw the action as a boon to business.

SULLIVAN: Quits Navy Post

There was little else that John L. Sullivan, secretary of the navy, could have done but resign after the "multi-million dollar reprimand" he received from Defense Secretary Louis Johnson.

SULLIVAN, as navy chief, had gone ahead with plans to construct the 65,000-ton U. S. aircraft super-carrier, the United States, despite lack of congressional authorization for the project.

It was no particular secret that abandonment of the carrier and Sullivan's resignation were all a continuing part of the apparently hopeless fight to unify the nation's armed forces. The congressional act calling for such a step has never been carried out, and the navy's attempt to go ahead with building the huge carrier without any legal authority was another example of high-handed service tactics that have tended to make unification appear impossible of realization.

DEFENSE SECRETARY Johnson, commenting on Sullivan's resignation, said: "I regret very much that my old friend and colleague . . . has joined the aircraft carrier issue on personal grounds and I believe that he too will soon regret his action of today."

DAIRYMEN: Will Push Soles

According to the experts, milk prices would be tumbling again this summer, but American dairymen wouldn't be cheering about it. In fact, dairymen were getting set to launch a 1.5 million-dollar campaign to promote the sale of dairy products and, at the same time, wage war on oleomargarine.

Most dairy leaders were said to believe that a promotional campaign to boost consumption was the only way to check a nose-dive in milk and butter prices that has caught producers with their income down and their costs up.

In little more than seven months, according to a federal dairy specialist, dairy prices had dropped 33 per cent. Butter, which not long ago was at almost prohibitive prices, had dipped to the government support level. Milk prices also had been falling off a cent or two at a time on retail markets.

The federal specialist pointed out that domestic unemployment has contributed to the drop in consumption of dairy products.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Versatile Waffles Fit Any Menu! (See Recipes Below)

"AS LONG as I know how to make waffles, I can get together a good breakfast, a fancy luncheon or serve a glamorous dessert," said a new bride. This young lady was indeed on the right track; she had perfected one dish, and she could be certain that any occasion would be covered simply but adequately with it.

Waffles may be varied in many different ways, and they can easily go from breakfast to luncheon to dessert for dinner or a party. No, not the same waffle, of course, but with a slight variation waffles really can do all these things.

Plain waffles with butter and syrup or honey are ideal for breakfast main dishes. Try pairing them with crisply browned sausages, crisply browned bacon strips, or ham.

For luncheon, vary the waffle, and serve with creamed eggs, chicken, tuna fish or mushrooms.

The dessert waffle is rich, and it may be plain, vanilla or even chocolate-flavored. Have you ever put together chocolate waffles with peppermint stick ice cream and passed the chocolate sauce? Yes, simple but very elegant! Or, how about crisp and golden brown waffles crowned with whipped cream and bananas? Yes, another favorite!

BASIC WAFFLES may be quickly and simply made from a pancake mix in the following manner:

- Quick Waffles (Makes 5 servings) 2 cups pancake ready-mix 1/2 cup melted shortening 2 eggs 2 cups milk

Place all ingredients in a medium-sized mixing bowl. Beat with a rotary egg beater until batter is fairly smooth. Pour batter into a waffle iron which has been heated. Bake until iron spots steaming.

Honey-Butter Sauce: Warm one cup liquid honey in the top part of a double boiler. Add to it 1/4 cup butter, 1/4 teaspoon of cinnamon and a dash of nutmeg. Serve warm.

Light and delicious oatmeal waffles have a nutty flavor all their own. Besides adding flavor, rolled oats make waffles high in the important B vitamins, protein and iron. They're excellent served with butter and syrup, along with crisp bacon. For a supper main dish, pair them with creamed eggs.

- Oatmeal Waffles (Makes 6 servings) 1 1/2 cups sifted enriched flour 3 teaspoons baking powder 1/2 teaspoon salt 2 eggs 1 1/2 cups milk 1/2 cup melted shortening 1/2 cup quick, rolled oats, uncooked

Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Add egg yolks until thick and lemon-colored. Add to milk, then blend in dry ingredients. Fold in melted butter and last, the stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into waffle iron and bake until steaming ceases.

Ice Cream and Waffles: Use dessert waffles, top with a scoop of vanilla ice cream and serve with sweetened, crushed strawberries or chocolate sauce and bananas.

Chocolate Chip Waffles: Stir into the batter, before baking, 1/2 cup semi-sweet chocolate chips.

Chocolate Waffle: Add to dessert waffle, 1/2 cup sugar sifted with dry ingredients. Fold in with butter, 1/2 squares, melted, unsweetened chocolate.

Orange Waffles: Fold in the dessert waffle batter, two tablespoons orange juice and 1 1/2 teaspoons grated orange rind. Serve with orange or pineapple sauce.

If batter spills on the iron, let it cook on before trying to remove it. When dry, it flicks off easily. When brown spots appear on the iron, from spattering fat, use a fine scouring powder, rubbed gently, to remove them. Keep waffle cords in good condition by putting them away without kinks and knots. Leftover kernel corn, cooked rice and blueberries may be added to waffle batter. One cup of any of these food items is folded in the waffle before baking. As soon as waffle cords begin to show wear, discard them and purchase new ones. They're inexpensive and will help avoid mishaps. In addition to butter and honey for waffles, serve corn syrup which comes in honey or sorghum flavor, as well as molasses or apple butter. To prevent the family from waiting in line for waffles, have one baked before the meal is announced. Keep extra waffles hot. To save butter used on waffles, place butter in the syrup while it heats and the waffle need not be buttered.

SPRING COMES TO ENGLAND Nature Gives Weird Vent to Vernal Urge

It was spring in England, and whimsy and fantasy were all around. For instance, cows got a license to kiss. A loveborn cat set fire to a house. A thief, no doubt actuated by the season, stole two dozen love birds. A swan, winging majestically up the Thames in search of a mate, plumped on a bridge at rush hour and piled up traffic for a mile. Everything, it seemed, was in a tizzy.

The Denham town council gave cows the kissing license. It ruled that it's all right for them to nuzzle over the fence, even if one partner is certified tuberculosis-free and the other isn't.

A Mirado pheasant, which usually lays eggs only in its native habitat in Formosa, laid six eggs.

At Uxbridge, Mrs. Edith Stalker saved her two daughters from a blazing bedroom. Firemen suggested that the family cat, bent on nocturnal lovemaking, had upset an oil lamp while trying to get out of the house. A mother and her daughter at Chesham were knocked out by gas fumes because a robin had built a nest in the vent pipe. The ministry of town and country planning decided a thing of beauty for spring would be a dove-colored telephone booth. It has promised to repaint those in the park.

PRAYER: Brings Rain

The greatest Italian drought in 30 years was causing grave concern in Rome. Because of it, electricity had been rationed throughout Italy. Then, the congregations of more than 400 churches gathered in their respective houses of worship and prayed for rain. And the rain came. Rome's meteorological office reported that rain fell in Rome, Seina, Florence and many other places.
