JULIUS FLEISCHMANN, WEST BEND, IS KIWANIS SPEAKER

A lot of good common sense flowed from the lips of Julius Fleischmann of West Bend, as he addressed the Kiwanis club Monday evening on the constitution of the United States. His subject was of outstanding importance, preceding the national holiday, Memorial day, and coming at a time when a true knowledge of what America offers her citizens can help combat the threat of Communism.

Mr. Fleischmann suggested children from the first grade on up be taught U. S. constitution and history. Citing cases, he strongly warned of the alarming lack of knowledge that exists in America about America. The speaker concluded his speech with a history of our country's government.

Further plans were announced to the club by Marvin Martin about the club's sponsorship of the boys' baseball team in the Land o' Puddles league.

Picture

A guy named Duke Nalon, driving a be-wheeled, 550-horsepower piece of lightning called the Novi Mobil Special, designed by big Bud Winfield, is going to win the 500-mile Indianapolis speedway race this Memorial Day. That is the pre-race prognosis of automotive expert Tom McCahill, automobile test-expert for Mechanix Illustrated magazine. McCahill ifs no ifs and purrs no per-haps. That's how it's going to be, he says. He bases his prediction not only on the excellence of the Novi Special but also on his theory that Nalon would have won the race last year if, because of a half-way mark refuelling error, he hadn't run out of gas only 21 seconds behind and gaining fast on the eventual winner, Mauri Rose, in the closing drive of the classic. Photo at right shows race car engineer Bud Winfield (center) with his team of crack drivers, Rex (Lead-foot) Mays (left) and Duke Nalon.

Concerning the driver of the winning car, McCahill says, "I pick Nalon because he has all the guts in the world." In 1947 Nalon whiled away his time the night before the 500-mile go by racing on a midget track while all the other drivers in the morrow's event were home going batty with nervousness.

To an automotive engineer, photo at right is a picture of a masterpiece—the front-wheel drive assembly and universal of the custom-built Novi Special. The two Novi companion cars that Nalon and Mays will drive are 100 per cent custom built, right down to the magnetos. They represent an investment of close to half a million dollars for designer Winfield. Below, Winfield shows Tom McCahill some of the chassis details of the Novi Special. Although that skeleton chassis might look as if it were a long way from the race track, actually the car is only a few hours from completion. In the race car business, this machine is considered an almost-ready-to-run car. Anyway, Duke Nalon will win the 500-mile Indianapolis race—it says here somewhere

Seen with Paramount director Billy Wilder, she will appear in "Sunset Boulevard," with Erich von Stroheim, another oldtimer favorite.

EX-NAZI PILOT . . . A former pilot in the German luftwaffe and machine-gunner in World War II, Karl H. Gebert now is in the U.S. army. He was taken from Abilene, Tex., to Germany by his parents when he was 12. War came and he went into the German air force. He was captured by the Russians.

QUEEN . . . Doris Zart, 15, is shown after she had been installed as queen of the annual Brooklyn botanical gardens cherry blossom exhibit. The cherry blossom setting was emblematic of the occasion.

"URGE" TO KILL . . . Diane Allen, 13, confessed to Will county, Illinois, police authorities that she drowned a young boy playmate in a shallow stream in Joliet. Diane told police she simply "had an urge" to drown the boy—an urge which struck her while they were picking flowers.

PRIZEWINNER . . . Arthur Miller, 33, playwright, was awarded the coveted Pulitzer prize for distinguished efforts in the field of the theater. His now famous play, "Death of a Salesman," won him recognition.

SUCCESSOR? . . . With news of retirement of Gen. Lucius D. Clay as military governor of the American zone in Germany, a likely successor was John J. McCloy, shown here. McCloy was reported reluctant to leave his present job.

MIRROR Of Your MIND

Bad Moods Will Hurt Digestion By Lawrence Gould

Do your moods affect your digestion?

Answer: Yes, writes Dr. R. Bilz in a German medical journal. "A mood always occurs simultaneously on the physical and psychological level."

your belief in your "luck"—which at bottom means your childish confidence in your parent's power to protect you from the consequences of your folly.

Is recklessness based on fear? Answer: Yes. Most frequently the urge to "flirt with danger" represents an effort to avoid the shame of being thought a coward.

Is having been "tight" an excuse for rudeness? Answer: Only in the degree that the person you are asking to excuse your bad behavior will accept the fact that you have rude impulses which you are able to control when you are sober.

KEEPING HEALTHY

The Liver, Most Vital to Health

By Dr. James W. Barton

BECAUSE the liver has so many different jobs to do and the liver means so much to our general health, we should all try to remember that it is the largest organ in the body and contains about 25 per cent of all the blood.

One of the jobs of the liver is manufacturing bile which breaks up fats for digestion. It is an antiseptic destroying harmful organisms and a natural purgative preventing constipation.

Another important job is the manufacture by the liver of a substance needed by the blood. Aside from the bile killing harmful organisms, the liver cells themselves filter out poisons from the blood.

long it takes the liver to remove all the dye from the blood. Recently research workers, investigating two common ailments—gallstones and ulcer of the stomach and the first part of the small intestine (peptic ulcer)—took a tiny piece of the liver from these patients for examination under the microscope and found that in only 6 to 7 per cent was the liver in a normal, healthy condition.

As the liver is really the "chief" of most important organ in the body from the health standpoint, we should all try to keep it active and healthy by two simple methods: First, cutting down on fat and rich foods; and, second, keeping the liver in an "active" condition by bending exercises, keeping the knees straight.

At McGill university, Montreal, some years ago, research workers showed that squeezing the liver by bending exercises or deep breathing caused the liver to do its various jobs completely and in less time.

HEALTH NOTES

The economic cost of heart disease is staggering in terms of loss of life, absenteeism, disability, loss of gainful employment, and care and treatment programs.

It has been found that insulin—which reduces the sugar in the blood, brings on sleep and increases the appetite—is more effective in restoring the alcoholic patient to normal than any other method.

Today, because of knowledge of how to treat once fatal diseases such as diabetes and pernicious anemia, the life span has been extended from 47 to 68 years since the beginning of the century.

Research workers, investigating gallstones, ulcer of the stomach and peptic ulcer, recently took a tiny piece of the liver for examination under the microscope and found that in only six to seven per cent was the liver in a normal, healthy condition.

While the passing of blood is but one symptom of cancer of the generative and urinary parts, it is one of the early signs and gives the patient a chance for successful treatment. Formerly, patients and, sometimes, physicians were lulled into false security by thinking that when the bleeding stopped, the progress of the underlying cause also stopped. But such is not the case.

One of the substances manufactured by the body tissues is histamine, a factor associated with asthma, hay fever and other allergic symptoms, including hives. For this reason, what are known as anti-histamine drugs are used in the treatment of hives.

When a pain occurs in the lower right-hand side of the abdomen and "remains" in the appendix region for an hour with shifting elsewhere, call a physician without any delay.

FIRST AID to the AILING HOUSE by Roger C. Whitman

Building A Basement Room

Question: We have a project in mind and I am able to do the work myself if I have a little help. We want to dig out a basement under the kitchen; we have two rooms under the house already. Have you any leaflets on tiling out the drain, and footings for concrete blocks? After the basement room is completed, we plan on a kitchen sink and cupboards. Have you any leaflets on plumbing for a kitchen?

Answer: Those are all rather large subjects, and I do not have any leaflets to cover them. If there is a good public library in your town, you should find handbooks on plumbing and piping on file. Other sources of information are the publishing house of Theodore Audel & Company, 49 West 23rd St., New York; also the Popular Mechanics Magazine, 200 East Ontario St., Chicago. The Portland Cement Association, 33 West Grand Ave., Chicago, can supply bulletins on concrete work around the house.

New Gasoline Process

The nation's transportation industries, worried by the current gasoline shortage, have been assured of an abundant supply of liquid fuel at reasonable cost when sufficient plants are placed in operation to use a new synthetic process from natural gas. However, this source of supply is not expected to be widely used for several years.

FREED FROM HARSH LAXATIVES Kellogg's All-Bran

"I used to take laxatives regularly—until I started eating KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN daily. That was 22 years ago. ALL-BRAN still keeps me regular!" Clarence M. Smith, 3204 St. Paul Avenue, Madison, Wis. This is just one of many unimpeachable letters. If you suffer constipation due to lack of bulk in the diet, eat an ounce of ALL-BRAN daily, drink plenty of water. If not satisfied after 10 days, send the empty carton to Kellogg's, Battle Creek, Mich. Get DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK! Buy today.

CLOTHES CLOSET REFUGEES

The case of the young New York man who lived in a clothes closet for 10 years and, upon his release, cried, "I want to go back in there. I don't like it outside," is not as unusual as you might think.

This department has come into possession of the fact that there are numerous such cases. Elmer Twitchell, for instance, has a nephew, Pastrami Twitchell, who has not only been in a closet for 10 years, but has resisted all efforts to entice him out. "He went in during Hitler's oratorical tirades over the mike. We nearly got him out this season, but he heard Vishinsky," Elmer explained. "Then he nailed up the door from the inside."

Other cases reported today, with statements by each follows: Thaddeus Swivelhead: "Yes, I have been living in the top drawer of an old dresser for five years. I crawled in because of the depressing war news all over the world. After a little while I heard that the war was over and that peace had been declared. I came out, read the newspaper headlines and leaped back in again. I'm no fool."

Asa Z. Boogle who has been living on a shelf in a basement pantry ever since 1943: "I climbed onto this shelf when the prices of everything began rising, with government controls helping very little. From time to time I peeked out and found things getting more unbearable. I am a fugitive from 75-cent cocktails, beer at 17-cents a glass, $4.50 steak dinners, 28-cent gasoline, shrimp cocktails at $1.10 a throw, 90 cents for watered soup, the $1.25 raw lambchop delivered on the butcher's block and people who call up to know what radio program I am listening to. Come out again? Why?"

H. K. G. Stuffinboox, who has been residing in a filing cabinet for ever so long: "If you wish to talk to me, climb in. I refuse to come out for anybody. I consider that I am a sane, wise and highly judicious fellow. You and all others who prefer the outside world in its present shape are nuts. "The location of my home and my place of employment was such that I had to use the subway for north and south travel and buses for east and west. Once in a while when I went to a theater I had to get a taxi. I lived in an apartment where everybody kept the radio on all night. A room across the hall was occupied by an opera star who vocalized all day. Every few weeks there was an elevator strike in the building. And in order to get to my job I had to cross nine picket lines. So I got into this filing cabinet and, mister, it seems paradise."

Jarvis P. X. Waffle, who has been living in an abandoned cello case ever since 1919: "I got in right after Woodrow Wilson announced America would make the world safe for democracy. I knew what that would mean. Now and then I get a pretty good line on what life is like outside this cello case and, boy, am I happy to be where I am! No flying saucer mysteries! No video comedians! No pop music! No radio jingles! No jackpots! They can't even get me interested in "Stop The Music!"

Jottings

There are so many daily changes in President Truman's cabinet that it is getting that band! There should be done to number the players or abolish the two platoon system in government.

"John L. Lewis Hopes to Avoid Strike."—Headline... Wanna bet?

Olympia flew to Churchill Downs by plane. It was just for practice. In his recent races the horse had trouble getting his landing gear down.

"Secretary of Commerce Sawyer administered the oats to his new chief aide, Cornelius Vanderbilt."—Journal of Commerce... Come, come, boys, the setup in Washington isn't getting that band!

"The psychiatrist said that the bank looter was clearly a victim of unbearable emotional conflicts coupled with a form of latent immaturity. The man attempted to establish an impression of importance, and in so doing got hopelessly into debt without the stability to correct this condition."—News.

Prayer in Pain

THE SHADOW over Gethsemane is deep. We can scarcely see the tortured figure under the moonlit olive trees. If Jesus' closest friends, in that hour, were strangers to his soul, we cannot dare to penetrate all the secrets of that fateful hour. Yet while we cannot know all, we can know enough; enough to support us in our own time of darkness and of pain.

Dr. Foreman

Mark uses very strong language to describe the state of Jesus' mind in Gethsemane. The two Greek words he uses, translated in the King James version "sore amazed" and "very heavy," are translated by the Revised Standard Version "greatly distressed and troubled," by Goodspeed, "distress and dread," by Moffatt, "appalled and agitated." As our hymn says,

"We know not how, we cannot tell What pains He had to bear."

Still, we do know of some of the burdens which weighed so terribly on Jesus' mind and heart that night.

Power of Darkness

ONE THING that must have troubled our Lord was lack of sympathy. Peter, James and John were comfortably asleep, evidently without the slightest notion of what he was suffering. But there was worse than lack of sympathy, somewhere in the dark city one of Jesus' supposed friends, the man called Judas, was even then slinking through the alleys with murder in his heart.

Jesus well knew what was in store for him. He knew the Sannhedrin would call him a blasphemer, he knew what the Romans would do with him, once they got their hands on him. Worse than this must have been the tragic sense of failure.

"I would, but ye would not," he had said in tears to this very city; a city full of enemies who should have been his friends, of unbelievers who should have believed, a city he loved, but which had nothing for him but thorns and a cross.

All this was on Jesus' heart that night—and as many Christians believe, far more. One of the most profound Christian thinkers has suggested that the heaviest, most painful shadow on Jesus' white soul was the sense of guilt, not his own but for the sins of the world.

Blood and the Angel

SO JESUS PRAYED. Even in the cool spring night his forehead was covered with sweat, falling to the rocky ground like dripping blood. Never rose prayer from a more tortured heart. And what came of it? In one sense, the prayer was not answered. The cup did not pass from him, he must drink it to the last bitter dregs. The prayer did not remove the pain. Yet in a deeper sense, the prayer of Christ was fully answered. "Not as I will, but as Thou wilt," he breathed. The prayer that sets one's own will in line with the will of God, whatever His will may be, is the prayer that always finds answer. At the end, there was not release, but power. "An angel came and strengthened him."

What Prayer Can Do

JESUS "LEARNED obedience by the things which he suffered." (Heb. 5:8) We can share his lesson. The hour of pain is not the hour to begin praying; those who have not learned prayer before, will scarcely know how to pray in a time of agony. Yet the time of pain is not the time to give up praying. When the dark hour comes, Jesus did not throw aside his faith, he prayed more intensely than ever before. Prayer does not explain pain, much less explain it away.

Prayer does not always get rid of pain, even though in many cases the prayer of faith works cures where doctors fail. What true prayer does always is to set the one who prays in tune with the will of God even when that will is not as our own.

Prayer does not bring us all the answers to the riddles of existence. It does bring power to bear what God sends us. For God's answer to those he loves is not always escape, but it is always endurance.

Meditations

A little philosophy inclineth man's mind to atheism; but depth in philosophy bringeth man's mind about to religion.

—Francis Bacon

Connecticut granted a special charter to the first Knights of Columbus Society, March 29, 1882. It was founded in New Haven as a fraternal benefit association for Catholic men of St. Mary's church.

How It Started...

The superstitious custom of knocking on wood to ward off bad luck probably dates back to the time primitive man touched wood to apologize to the gods for a lack of humility.

The first "greenbarns" were persons in France who had to wear green horn-shaped hats to signify that they were bankrupt.

The common mark of X on flour bags originated in the gold rush days of California. It indicated the price, not the quality. Thus, a sack marked XXXX showed that the price was $40.

The New House

HERE Christ shall come, and here He shall abide. Our table shall be set for our great Guest; Our lamp be lit, our hearts be warm and wide; And here He shall find shelter, food, and rest.

And He will talk with us beside our fire, And He will walk with us through every task. We can confide each hope and each desire, No question be too great or small to ask.

Because He lives with us, is one of us, We shall take care no evil thing be heard; Because His ways are kind and courteous, We shall watch our ways, our every spoken word.

This is our new house, Lord, be Thou its Head; We gladly share its simple fare with Thee. Sit at our table, break and bless our bread, And make us worthy of Thy company.

Star Dust STAGE SCREEN RADIO

SANDY BECKER, the new "Young Dr. Malone" in the CBS daytime serial, started out to be exactly that, a doctor, to please his father. But his mother had always been keen about amateur theatricals; at a tender age he had appeared in a play with her. When he was eight he was making puppets and putting on shows at local church bazaars. So, when half way through pre-medical school, he abandoned the career of his father's choice and chose a branch of his mother's hobby, radio. He has hobbies of his own, sculpturing and sketching in winter, playing tennis or golf in summer, but baby-sitting with his son and daughter limits his free time.

Cathy Downs, who is featured in Allied Artists' "Massacre River," is knitting like mad, all because she posed in six knitted dresses for a fashion layout, liked them, and decided she could duplicate them herself.

The success of "Variety Time" has spurred RKO into speeding up production on a big-time vaudeville picture to be called "Make Mine Laugh." It will comprise a batch of new acts and a series of "Flicker Flashbacks" for old-time flavor.

Horace Heidt is planning a musical comedy to feature the youthful talent discovered on his "Original Youth Opportunity Program." It will be titled "The Kids Break Through," is tentatively scheduled for this fall on Broadway.

Patric Knowles is going to let his rusty Spanish get even rustier from new on. In Mexico on location for RKO's "The Big Steal," he had a linguist disaster when he needed soap, asked a storekeeper for "Sopa"—and got a can of soup!

Van Johnson says he's through with radio; it makes him too nervous to face the mike. Meanwhile he is preparing for his first Western at M-G-M. "Outriders," and will be seen soon in "Scene of the Crime" and "Battleground."

Eleanor Parker reported at Warner Bros. recently to begin her role in "Chain Lightning," in which she will co-star with Humphrey Bogart. "Chain Lightning" will mark her first appearance before the cameras in two years.

The Fiction Corner MURDER BY TWO

By Richard H. Wilkinson

IT SEEMS to be universally presupposed," said Inspector Ben Odell, "that people who aren't in their own element are at a disadvantage."

"I'm thinking of the time Detective Sergeant Rod Upshur went up to Round Pond for his summer vacation. Rod was city bred and city raised. He worked on the police force of one of the country's largest cities. He didn't know a great deal about the country and country ways. But he knew human nature, and he was smart.

"Rod was staying at one of those summer camps and was having a pretty dull time, when Henry Graves, the owner, came to him with a request.

"There's been a drowning up the river a ways," he explained. 'Jed Thomas, the local officer, isn't so sure but what there's foul play. I know it's out of your jurisdiction, but we'd appreciate having you lend us a hand.' He smiled flatteringly. 'You see, your fame as a detector of crime is far reaching.'

"Jed Thomas, a farmer by trade, was congenial and willing to let Rod assume the entire burden.

"Fact is, Mr. Upshur, there's been a feud hereabouts. Between the Hallams and the Spencers. 'Well, sir, couple days back Herm and Punk Hallam come to me an' says they was bait diggin' in their lower pasture and suddenly they sees a boat with Pat Spencer in it come sweepin' around the bend. He was clear across the river, which is about 200 yards wide there, an' they claim he hit a submerged log and stuck. They claim he tried to push hisself off with an oar an' the oar slipped an' it an' him fell overboard. Well, sir, Pat can't swim an' he just naturally drowned.

"Jed Thomas drove Rod out to the Hallam farm and introduced him to Herm and Punk. They were big strapping fellows, smug, amused.

"I see," Rod remarked to Jed, 'that you recovered the oar Pat Spencer lost overboard.'

"Yep," replied Jed, and not too happily, 'I found it caught in some weeds along the bank about 15 yards downstream. I guess he musta lost it, just like Punk and Herm said.'

"Wait a minute," Rod said easily. 'Not so fast, boys. You two are smart all right. Too smart. So smart you made one awful blunder. Officer Thomas, I think you'll be safe in arresting these men and charging them with murder.'

PAT'S AND HERM'S mouths fell open. In fact, so did Jed's. Jed said: "Yuh mean, you know Pat didn't drown hisself?"

Ex-Seabee Gets Shirts Back After Four Years

PHILADELPHIA. — Four years ago Henry Beideman, then a chief petty officer in the Seabees, discarded on Manus island in the South Pacific a couple of shirts.

The other day Beideman, now an assembler for SKF industries here, picked up a wiping cloth.

On the tattered remnant—a shirt-tail—was Beideman's name, faded but still legible.

"O' course he did!" Punk Hallam said darkly. 'Listen, city jigger, you ain't comin' up here an' gettin' away with accusin' us o' murder. You ain't searin' us none. We got each other for witnesses.'

"Fine," said Rod. 'That makes me lie all the worse, because you both declare you saw Spencer fall out of the boat, first dropping his oar. No, I must confess I am a city man and the ways of the country are strange to me. However, any dumbbell would know after looking at that river and seeing that bend above here and knowing that there's a fast current, that an oar dropped overboard near the opposite bank, could never lodge in underneath along the bank on this side 15 feet from where we're standing. It would be two or three miles down stream by now.'

"For a minute, there was silence. The three men stared at Rod blankly. It took quite awhile for the announcement to penetrate. Officer Thomas fortunately, recovered first. He had a gun in his pocket and he got it out, just as Punk Hallam jumped at him. He had to shoot Punk through the shoulder, and would have done the same to Herm, apparently, had one more ounce of grey matter than his brother. He quit."
